15 baniah, Joseph; of Harim, Adna; of 16 Meraioth, Helkai; of Iddo, Zechariah; 17 of Ginnethon, Meshullam; of Abijah, Zichri; of Miniamin, of Moadiah, Pil-18 tai; of Bilgah, Shammua; of She-19 maiah, Jehonathan; and of Joiarib, 20 Mattenai; of Jedaiah, Uzzi; of Sallai, 21 Kallai; of Amok, Eber; of Hilkiyah, 22 Hashabiah; of Jedaiah, Nethanel. The Levites in the days of Eliashib, Joiada, and Johanan, and Jaddua, were recorded heads of fathers' houses: also the priests, ⁶in the reign of Darius the 23 Persian. The sons of Levi, heads of fathers' houses, were written in the book of the chronicles, even until the days of Johanan the son of Eliashib. 24 And the chiefs of the Levites: Hashabiah, Sherebiah, and Jeshua the son of Kadmiel, with their brethren over against them, to praise and give thanks, according to the commandment of David the man of God, ward against 25 ward. Mattaniah, and Bakkukiah, Obadiah, Meshullam, Talmon, Akkub, were porters keeping the ward at the 26 storehouses of the gates. These were in the days of Joiakim the son of Jeshua, the son of Jozadak, and in the days of Nehemiah the governor, and of Ezra the priest the scribe. 27 And at the dedication of the wall of Jerusalem they sought the Levites out of all their places, to bring them to Jerusalem, to keep the dedication with gladness, both with thanksgivings, and with singing, with cymbals, psalteries, 28 and with harps. And the sons of the singers gathered themselves together, both out of the ⁷plain round about Jerusalem, and from the villages of the 29 Netophathites; also from Beth-gilgal, and out of the fields of Geba and Azmaveth: for the singers had builded them villages round about Jerusalem. 30 And the priests and the Levites purified themselves; and they purified the people, and the gates, and the wall. Then I brought up the princes of Judah upon the wall, and appointed two great companies that gave thanks and went in procession; whereof one went on the right hand upon the wall toward the 32 dung gate: and after them went Hoshaiah, and half of the princes of Judah, 33 and Azariah, Ezra, and Meshullam, 34 Judah, and Benjamin, and Shemaiah, 35 and Jeremiah, and certain of the priests' sons with trumpets: Zechariah the son of Jonathan, the son of Shemaiah, the son of Mattaniah, the son of Micah, the son of Zaccur, the son of Asaph; 36 and his brethren, Shemaiah, and Azarel, Milalai, Gilalai, Maai, Nethanel, and Judah, Hanani, with the musical instruments of David the man of God; and Ezra the scribe was before them: 37 and by the fountain gate, and straight before them, they went up by the stairs of the city of David, at the going up of the wall, above the house of David, even unto the water gate eastward. And the other company of them that gave thanks went to meet them, and I after them, with the half of the people, upon the wall, above the tower of the furnaces, even unto the broad wall; and above the gate of Ephraim, and by the old gate, and by the fish gate, and the tower of Hananel, and the tower of ¹Hammeah, even unto the sheep gate: and they stood still in the gate of the guard. So stood the two companies of them that gave thanks in the house of God, and I, and the half of the ²rulers with me: and the priests, Eliakim, Maaseiah, Miniamin, Micaiah, Elieonai, Zechariah, and Hananiah, with trumpets; and Maaseiah, and Shemaiah, and Eleazar, and Uzzi, and Jehohanan, and Malchijah, and Elam, and Ezer. And the singers sang loud, with Jezrahiah their overseer. And they offered great sacrifices that day, and rejoiced; for God had made them rejoice with great joy; and the women also and the children rejoiced: so that the joy of Jerusalem was heard even afar off.

And on that day were men appointed over the chambers for the treasures, for the heave offerings, for the firstfruits, and for the tithes, to gather into them, according to the fields of the cities, the portions ³appointed by the law for the priests and Levites: for Judah rejoiced for the priests and for the Levites that ⁴waited. And they kept the ward of their God, and the ward of the purification, and so did the singers and the porters, according to the commandment of David, and of Solomon his son. For in the days of David and Asaph of old ⁵there was a chief of the singers, and songs of praise and thanksgiving unto God. And all Israel in the days of Zerubbabel, and in the days of Nehemiah, gave the portions of the singers and the porters, as every day required: and they sanctified for the Levites; and the Levites sanctified for the sons of Aaron.

On that day they read in the book of Moses in the audience of the people; and therein was found written, that an Ammonite and a Moabite should not enter into the assembly of God forever; because they met not the children of Israel with bread and with water, but hired Balaam against them, to curse them: howbeit our God turned the curse into a blessing. And it came to pass, when they had heard the law, that they separated from Israel all the mixed multitude.

Now before this, Eliashib the priest, who was appointed over the ⁶chambers of the house of our God, being allied unto Tobiah, had prepared for him a great chamber, where aforetime they laid the meal offerings, the frankincense, and the vessels, and the tithes of the corn, the wine, and the oil, which were given by commandment to the Levites, and the singers, and the porters; and the heave offerings for the priests. But in all this time I was not at Jerusalem: for in the two and thirtieth year of Artaxerxes king of Babylon I went unto the king, and after certain days asked I leave of the king: and I came to Jerusalem, and understood of the evil that Eliashib had done for Tobiah, in preparing him a chamber in the courts of the house of God. And it grieved me sore: therefore I cast forth all the household stuff of Tobiah out of the chamber. Then I commanded, and they cleansed the chambers: and thither brought I again the vessels of the house of God, with the meal offerings and the frankincense. And I perceived that the portions of the Levites had not been given them; so that the Levites and the singers, that did the work, were fled every one to his field. Then contended I with the ²rulers, and said, Why is the house of God forsaken? And I gathered them together, and set them in their place. Then brought all Judah the tithe of the corn and the wine and the oil unto the treasures. And I made treasurers over the treasures, Shelemiah the priest, and Zadok the scribe, and of the Levites, Pedaiah: and next to them was Hanan the son of Zaccur, the son of Mattaniah: for they were counted faithful, and their business was to distribute unto their brethren. Remember me, O my God, concerning this, and wipe not out my ⁷good deeds that I have done for the house of my God, and for the observances thereof.

In those days saw I in Judah some treading winepresses on the sabbath, and bringing in ⁸sheaves, and lading asses therewith; as also wine, grapes, and figs, and all manner of burdens, which they brought into Jerusalem on the sabbath day: and I testified against them in the day wherein they sold victuals. There dwelt men of Tyre also therein, which brought in fish, and all manner of ware, and sold on the sabbath unto the children of Judah, and in Jerusalem. Then I contended with the nobles of Judah, and said unto them, What evil thing is this that ye do, and profane the sabbath day? Did not your fathers thus, and did not our God bring all this evil upon us, and upon this city? yet ye bring more wrath upon Israel by ⁹profaning the sabbath. And it came to pass that, when the gates of Jerusalem began to be dark before the sabbath, I commanded that the doors should be shut, and commanded that they should not be opened till after the sabbath: and some of my servants set I over the gates, that there should no burden

20 be brought in on the sabbath day. So the merchants and sellers of all kind of ware lodged without Jerusalem once

21 or twice. Then I testified against them, and said unto them, Why lodge ye

1 about the wall? if ye do so again, I will lay hands on you. From that time forth came they no more on the 22 sabbath. And I commanded the Levites that they should purify themselves, and that they should come and keep the gates, to sanctify the sabbath day. Remember unto me, O my God, this also, and spare me according to the greatness of thy mercy.

23 In those days also saw I the Jews that

2 had married women of Ashdod, of

24 Ammon, and of Moab: and their children spake half in the speech of Ashdod, and could not speak in the Jews' language, but according to the language

25 of each people. And I contended with them, and

3 cursed them, and smote

certain of them, and plucked off their hair, and made them swear by God, saying, Ye shall not give your daughters unto their sons, nor take their daughters

26 for your sons, or for yourselves. Did not Solomon king of Israel sin by these things? yet among many nations was there no king like him, and he was beloved of his God, and God made him king over all Israel: nevertheless even him did strange women cause to sin.

27 Shall we then hearken unto you to do all this great evil, to trespass against our God in marrying strange women?

28 And one of the sons of Joiada, the son of Eliashib the high priest, was son in law to Sanballat the Horonite: therefore I chased him from me. Remember

29 them, O my God, because they have defiled the priesthood, and the covenant of the priesthood, and of the Le-

30 vites. Thus cleansed I them from all strangers, and appointed wards for the priests and for the Levites, every one in 31 his work; and for the wool offering, at times appointed, and for the firstfruits. Remember me, O my God, for good.

THE BOOK OF ESTHER.

1 Now it came to pass in the days of

1 Ahasuerus, (this is Ahasuerus which reigned, from India even unto Ethiopia, over an hundred and seven and twenty

2 provinces): that in those days, when the king Ahasuerus sat on the throne of his kingdom, which was in Shushan

3 the

2 palace, in the third year of his reign, he made a feast unto all his princes and his servants; the power of Persia and Media, the nobles and princes of the provinces, being before

4 him: when he shewed the riches of his glorious kingdom and the honour of his excellent majesty many days, even an hundred and fourscore days.

5 And when these days were fulfilled, the king made a feast unto all the people that were present in Shushan the palace, both great and small, seven days, in the court of the garden of the

6 king's palace; there were hangings of

3 white cloth, of

4 green, and of blue, fastened with cords of fine linen and purple to silver rings and pillars of marble: the couches were of gold and silver, upon a pavement

5 of red, and white, and yellow, and black marble. And they gave them drink in vessels of gold, (the vessels being diverse one from another,) and royal wine in abundance, according to the

6 bounty of the king.

8 And the drinking was according to the law; none could compel: for so the king had appointed to all the officers of his house, that they should do according to every man's pleasure. Also Vashti the queen made a feast for the women in the royal house which be-

10 longed to king Ahasuerus. On the seventh day, when the heart of the king was merry with wine, he commanded Mehuman, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha, and Abagtha, Zethar, and Carcas, the seven

7 chamberlains that ministered in the presence of Ahasuerus the king,

11 to bring Vashti the queen before the king with the crown royal, to shew the peoples and the princes her beauty:

12 for she was fair to look on. But the queen Vashti refused to come at the king's commandment by the chamberlains: therefore was the king very wroth, and his anger burned in him.

13 Then the king said to the wise men, which knew the times, (for so was the king's manner toward all that knew

14 law and judgement; and the next unto him was Carshena, Shethar, Admatha, Tarshish, Meres, Marsena, and Memucan, the seven princes of Persia and Media, which saw the king's face, and law, because she hath not done the bidding of the king Ahasuerus by 16 the chamberlains? And Memucan answered before the king and the princes, Vashti the queen hath not done wrong to the king only, but also to all the princes, and to all the peoples that are in all the provinces of the king

 17 Ahasuerus. For this deed of the queen shall come abroad unto all women, to make their husbands contemptible in their eyes, when it shall be reported. The king Ahasuerus commanded Vashti the queen to be brought in before
 18 him, but she came not. And this day shall the princesses of Persia and Media which have heard of the deed of the queen ¹say the like unto all the king's princes. So shall there arise
 19 ²much contempt and wrath. If it please the king, let there go forth a royal commandment from him, and let it be written among the laws of the Persians and the Medes, ³that it be not altered, that Vashti come no more before king Ahasuerus; and let the king give her royal estate ⁴unto another that is better than she. And when the king's decree which he shall make shall be published throughout all his kingdom, (for it is great,) all the wives shall give to their husbands honour,
 21 both to great and small. And the saying pleased the king and the princes; and the king did according to the word
 22 of Memucan: for he sent letters into all the king's provinces, into every province according to the writing thereof, and to every people after their language, that every man should bear rule in his own house, and should publish it according to the language of his people.

2 After these things, when the wrath of king Ahasuerus was pacified, he remembered Vashti, and what she had done, and what was decreed against her. Then said the king's servants that ministered unto him, Let there be fair young virgins sought for the king: and let the king appoint officers in all the provinces of his kingdom, that they may gather together all the fair young virgins unto Shushan the palace, to the house of the women, unto the custody of 5 Hegai the king's chamberlain, keeper of the women; and let their things for 4 purification be given them: and let the maiden which pleaseth the king be queen instead of Vashti. And the thing pleased the king; and he did so.

5 There was a certain Jew in Shushan the palace, whose name was Mordecai, the son of Jair, the son of Shimei, the son of Kish, a Benjamite; who had been carried away from Jerusalem with the captives which had been carried away with 6 Jeconiah king of Judah, whom Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon

7 had carried away. And he brought up Hadassah, that is, Esther, his uncle's daughter: for she had neither father nor mother, and the maiden was fair and beautiful; and when her father and mother were dead, Mordecai took 8 her for his own daughter. So it came to pass, when the king's commandment and his decree was heard, and when many maidens were gathered together unto Shushan the palace, to the custody of Hegai, that Esther was taken into the king's house, to the custody of Hegai, keeper of the 9 women. And the maiden pleased him, and she obtained kindness of him; and he speedily gave her her things for purification, with her portions, and the seven maidens, which were meet to be given her, out of the king's house: and he removed her and her maidens to the best place of the 10 house of the women. Esther had not shewed her people nor her kindred: for Mordecai had charged her that she 11 should not shew it. And Mordecai walked every day before the court of the women's house, to know how Esther did, and what should become of her.
 12 Now when the turn of every maiden was come to go in to king Ahasuerus, after that it had been done to her according to the law for the women, twelve months, (for so were the days of their purifications accomplished, to wit, six months with oil of myrrh, and six months with sweet odours, and with the things for the purifying of the women,)
 13 then in this wise came the maiden unto the king, whatsoever she desired was given her to go with her out of the house of the women unto the king's 14 house. In the evening she went, and on the morrow she returned into the second house of the women, to the custody of Shaashgaz, the king's chamberlain, which kept the concubines: she came in unto the king no more, except the king delighted in her,
 15 and that she were called by name. Now when the turn of Esther, the daughter of Abihail the uncle of Mordecai, who had taken her for his daughter, was come to go in unto the king, she required nothing but what Hegai the king's chamberlain, the keeper of the women, appointed. And Esther obtained favour in the sight of all them that looked upon 16 her. So Esther was taken unto king Ahasuerus into his house royal in the tenth month, which is the month Tebeth, in the seventh year of his reign.
 17 And the king loved Esther above all the women, and she obtained grace and favour in his sight more than all the virgins; so that he set the royal crown upon her head, and made her queen instead of 18 Vashti. Then the king made a great feast unto all his princes and his servants, even Esther's feast; and he made a ¹release to the provinces, and gave gifts, according to the ²bounty of the king.

19 And when the virgins were gathered together the second time, then Mordecai 20 sat in the king's gate. Esther had not yet shewed her kindred nor her people; as Mordecai had charged her: for Esther did the commandment of Mordecai, like as when she was brought 21 up with him. In those days, while Mordecai sat in the king's gate, two of the king's chamberlains, Bigthan and Teresh, of those which kept the ³door, were wroth, and sought to lay hands
22 on the king Ahasuerus. And the thing was known to Mordecai, who shewed it unto Esther the queen; and Esther told the king thereof in Mordecai's 23 name. And when inquisition was made of the matter, and it was found to be so, they were both hanged on a tree: and it was written in the book of the chronicles before the king.

3 After these things did king Ahasuerus promote Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, and advanced him, and set his seat above all the princes
2 that were with him. And all the king's servants, that were in the king's gate, bowed down, and did reverence to Haman: for the king had so commanded concerning him. But Mordecai bowed
3 not down, nor did him reverence. Then the king's servants, that were in the king's gate, said unto Mordecai, Why transgressest thou the king's command-
4 ment? Now it came to pass, when they spake daily unto him, and he hearkened not unto them, that they told Haman, to see whether Mordecai's ⁴matters would stand: for he had told them
5 that he was a Jew. And when Haman saw that Mordecai bowed not down, nor did him reverence, then was Haman
6 full of wrath. But he thought scorn to lay hands on Mordecai alone; for they had shewed him the people of Mordecai: wherefore Haman sought to destroy all the Jews that were throughout the whole kingdom of Ahasuerus, even the 7 people of Mordecai. In the first month, which is the month Nisan, in the twelfth year of king Ahasuerus, they cast Pur, that is, the lot, before Haman from day to day, and from month to month, to the twelfth month, which is the month
8 Adar. And Haman said unto king Ahasuerus, There is a certain people scattered abroad and ⁶dispersed among the peoples in all the provinces of thy kingdom; and their laws are diverse from those of every people; neither keep they the king's laws: therefore it is not ⁶for the king's profit to suffer 9 them. If it please the king, let it be written that they be destroyed: and I will pay ten thousand talents of silver into the hands of those that have the charge of the king's business, to bring it 10 into the king's treasuries. And the king took his ring from his hand, and gave it unto Haman the son of Hammedatha 11 the Agagite, the Jews' enemy. And the king said unto Haman, The silver is given to thee, the people also, to do with them as it seemeth good to thee.

12 Then were the king's ⁷scribes called in the first month, on the thirteenth day thereof, and there was written according to all that Haman commanded unto the king's satraps, and to the governors that were over every province, and to the princes of every people; to every province according to the writing thereof, and to every people after their language; in the name of king Ahasuerus was it written, and it was sealed with 13 the king's ring. And letters were sent by posts into all the king's provinces, to destroy, to slay, and to cause to perish, all Jews, both young and old, little children and women, in one day, even upon the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which is the month Adar, and to take the spoil of them for 14 a prey. A copy of the writing, ⁸that the decree should be given out in every province, was published unto all the peoples, that they should be ready against that day. The posts went forth
15 in haste by the king's commandment, and the decree was given out in Shushan the palace: and the king and Haman sat down to drink; but the city of Shushan was perplexed.
4 Now when Mordecai knew all that was done, Mordecai rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth with ashes, and went out into the midst of the city, and cried
2 with a loud and a bitter cry: and he came even before the king's gate; for none might enter within the king's
3 gate clothed with sackcloth. And in every province, whithersoever the king's commandment and his decree came, there was great mourning among the Jews, and fasting, and weeping, and wailing; and ⁹many lay in sackcloth
4 and ashes. And Esther's maidens and her chamberlains came and told it her; and the queen was exceedingly grieved: and she sent raiment to clothe Mordecai, and to take his sackcloth from off
5 him: but he received it not. Then called Esther for Hathach, one of the king's chamberlains, whom he had appointed to attend upon her, and charged him to go to Mordecai, to know what this 6 was, and why it was. So Hathach went forth to Mordecai unto the broad place of the city, which was before the 7 king's gate. And Mordecai told him of all that had happened unto him, and the exact sum of the money that Haman had promised to pay to the king's treasuries for the Jews, to destroy 8 them. Also he gave him the copy of the writing of the decree that was given out in Shushan to destroy them, to shew it unto Esther, and to declare it unto her; and to charge her that she should go in unto the king, to make supplication unto him, and to make request before him, for her people. And Hathach came and told Esther the words of Mordecai. Then Esther spake unto Hathach, and gave him a message unto Mordecai, saying: All the king's servants, and the people of the king's provinces, do know, that whosoever, whether man or woman, shall come unto the king into the inner court, who is not called, there is one law for him, that he be put to death, except such to whom the king shall hold out the golden sceptre, that he may live: but I have not been called to come in unto the king these thirty days. And they told unto Mordecai Esther's words. Then Mordecai bade them return answer unto Esther, Think not with thyself that thou shalt escape in the king's house, more than all the Jews. For if thou altogether holdest thy peace at this time, then shall relief and deliverance arise to the Jews from another place, but thou and thy father's house shall perish: and who knoweth whether thou art not come to the kingdom for such a time as this? Then Esther bade them return answer unto Mordecai, Go, gather together all the Jews that are present in Shushan, and fast ye for me, and neither eat nor drink three days, night or day: I also and my maidens will fast in like manner; and so will I go in unto the king, which is not according to the law: and if I perish, I perish. So Mordecai went his way, and did according to all that Esther had commanded him.

Now it came to pass on the third day, that Esther put on her royal apparel, and stood in the inner court of the king's house, over against the king's house: and the king sat upon his royal throne in the royal house, over against the entrance of the house. And it was so, when the king saw Esther the queen standing in the court, that she obtained favour in his sight: and the king held out to Esther the golden sceptre that was in his hand. So Esther drew near, and touched the top of the sceptre.

Then said the king unto her, What wilt thou, queen Esther? and what is thy request? it shall be given thee even to the half of the kingdom. And Esther said, If it seem good unto the king, let the king and Haman come this day unto the banquet that I have prepared for him. Then the king said, Cause Haman to make haste, that it may be done as Esther hath said. So the king and Haman came to the banquet that Esther had prepared. And the king said unto Esther at the banquet of wine, What is thy petition? and it shall be granted thee: and what is thy request? even to the half of the kingdom it shall be performed. Then answered Esther, and said, My petition and my request is; if I have found favour in the sight of the king, and if it please the king to grant my petition, and to perform my request, let the king and Haman come to the banquet that I shall prepare for them, and I will do to-morrow as the king hath said. Then went Haman forth that day joyful and glad of heart: but when Haman saw Mordecai in the king's gate, that he stood not up nor moved for him, he was filled with wrath against Mordecai. Nevertheless Haman refrained himself, and went home; and he sent and fetched his friends and Zeresh his wife. And Haman recounted unto them the glory of his riches, and the multitude of his children, and all the things wherein the king had promoted him, and how he had advanced him above the princes and servants of the king. Haman said moreover, Yea, Esther the queen did let no man come in with the king unto the banquet that she had prepared but myself; and to-morrow also am I invited by her together with the king.

Yet all this availeth me nothing, so long as I see Mordecai the Jew sitting at the king's gate. Then said Zeresh his wife and all his friends unto him, Let a gallows be made of fifty cubits high, and in the morning speak thou unto the king that Mordecai may be hanged thereon: then go thou in merrily with the king unto the banquet. And the thing pleased Haman; and he caused the gallows to be made.

On that night could not the king sleep; and he commanded to bring the book of records of the chronicles, and they were read before the king.

And it was found written, that Mordecai had told of Bigthana and Teresh, two of the king's chamberlains, of those that kept the door, who had sought to lay hands on the king Ahasuerus. And the king said, What honour and dignity hath been done to Mordecai for this? Then said the king's servants that ministered unto him, There is nothing done for him. And the king said, Who is in the court? Now Haman was come into the outward court of the king's house, to speak unto the king to hang Mordecai on the gallows that he had prepared for him. And the king's servants said unto him, Behold, Haman standeth in the court. And the king said, Let him come in. So Haman came in. And the king said unto him, What shall be done unto the man whom the king delighteth to honour? Now Haman said in his heart, To whom would the king delight to do honour more than 7 to myself? And Haman said unto the king, For the man whom the king de-8 lighteth to honour, let royal apparel be brought which the king useth to wear, and the horse that the king rideth upon,¹ and on the head of which a crown 9 royal is set: and let the apparel and the horse be delivered to the hand of one of the king's most noble princes, that they may array the man withal whom the king delighteth to honour, and cause him to ride on horseback through the street of the city, and proclaim before him, Thus shall it be done to the man whom the king delighteth to 10 honour. Then the king said to Haman, Make haste, and take the apparel and the horse, as thou hast said, and do even so to Mordecai the Jew, that sitteth at the king's gate: let nothing fail 11 of all that thou hast spoken. Then took Haman the apparel and the horse, and arrayed Mordecai, and caused him to ride through the street of the city, and proclaimed before him, Thus shall it be done unto the man whom the king de-12 lighteth to honour. And Mordecai came again to the king's gate. But Haman hastened to his house, mourning and hav-13 ing his head covered. And Haman recounted unto Zeresh his wife and all his friends every thing that had befallen him. Then said his wise men and Zeresh his wife unto him, If Mordecai, before whom thou hast begun to fall, be of the seed of the Jews, thou shalt not prevail against him, but shalt surely fall 14 before him. While they were yet talking with him, came the king's chamberlains, and hastened to bring Haman unto the banquet that Esther had prepared.

7 So the king and Haman came ²to
 2 banquet with Esther the queen. And the king said again unto Esther on the second day at the banquet of wine,
 What is thy petition, queen Esther?
 and it shall be granted thee: and what is thy request? even to the half of the 3 kingdom it shall be performed. Then Esther the queen answered and said, If I have found favour in thy sight, O king, and if it please the king, let my life be given me at my petition, and my people 4 at my request: for we are sold, I and my people, to be destroyed, to be slain, and to perish. But if we had been sold for bondmen and bondwomen, I had held my peace, ³although the adversary could not have compensated for the 5 king's damage. Then spake the king Ahasuerus and said unto Esther the queen, Who is he, and where is he, that 6 durst presume in his heart to do so? And Esther said, An adversary and an enemy, even this wicked Haman. Then Haman was afraid before the king and the 7 queen. And the king arose in his wrath from the banquet of wine and went into the palace garden: and Haman stood up to make request for his life to Esther the queen; for he saw that there was evil determined against him by the 8 king. Then the king returned out of the palace garden into the place of the banquet of wine; and Haman was fallen upon the couch whereon Esther was.

 Then said the king, Will he even force the queen before me in the house? As the word went out of the king's mouth, 9 they covered Haman's face. Then said Harbonah, one of the chamberlains that were before the king, Behold also,
 the ⁴gallows fifty cubits high, which Haman hath made for Mordecai, who spake good for the king, standeth in the house of Haman. And the king 10 said, Hang him thereon. So they hanged Haman on the gallows that he had prepared for Mordecai. Then was the king's wrath pacified.

8 On that day did the king Ahasuerus give the house of Haman the Jews' enemy unto Esther the queen. And Mordecai came before the king; for Esther 2 had told what he was unto her. And the king took off his ring, which he had taken from Haman, and gave it unto Mordecai. And Esther set Mordecai
 3 over the house of Haman. And Esther spake yet again before the king, and fell down at his feet, and besought him with tears to put away the mischief of Haman the Agagite, and his device that he had devised against the Jews.
 4 Then the king held out to Esther the golden sceptre. So Esther arose, and 5 stood before the king. And she said,
 If it please the king, and if I have found favour in his sight, and the thing seem right before the king, and I be pleasing in his eyes, let it be written to reverse the letters devised by Haman
 the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, which he wrote to destroy the Jews
 which are in all the king's provinces:
 6 for how can I endure to see the evil that shall come unto my people? or how can I endure to see the destruction of 7 my kindred? Then the king Ahasue-rus said unto Esther the queen and to Mordecai the Jew, Behold, I have given Esther the house of Haman, and him they have hanged upon the gallows, because he laid his hand upon 8 the Jews. Write ye also ⁵to the Jews, as it liketh you, in the king's name, and seal it with the king's ring: for the writing which is written in the king's name, and sealed with the king's 9 ring, may no man reverse. Then were the king's scribes called at that time, in the third month, which is the month
 Sivan, on the three and twentieth day thereof; and it was written according to all that Mordecai commanded unto the Jews, and to the satraps, and the governors and princes of the provinces which are from India unto Ethiopia, an hundred twenty and seven provinces, unto every province according to the writing thereof, and unto every people after their language, and to the Jews according to their writing, ¹⁰and according to their language. And he wrote in the name of king Ahasuerus, and sealed it with the king's ring, and sent letters by posts on horseback, riding on ¹swift steeds that were used in the king's service, bred of the ¹¹stud: wherein the king granted the Jews which were in every city to gather themselves together, and to stand for their life, to destroy, to slay, and to cause to perish, all the power of the people and province that would assault them, their little ones and women, and to take the spoil of them for a prey, ¹²upon one day in all the provinces of king Ahasuerus, namely, upon the thirtieth day of the twelfth month, ¹³which is the month Adar. A copy of the writing, ²that the decree should be given out in every province, was published unto all the peoples, and that the Jews should be ready against that day to avenge themselves on their enemies. ¹⁴So the posts that rode upon swift steeds that were used in the king's service went out, being hastened and pressed on by the king's commandment; and the decree was given out in ¹⁵Shushan the palace. And Mordecai went forth from the presence of the king in royal apparel of blue and white, and with a great crown of gold, and with a robe of fine linen and purple: and the city of Shushan shouted and ¹⁶was glad. The Jews had light and ¹⁷gladness, and joy and honour. And in every province, and in every city, whithersoever the king's commandment and his decree came, the Jews had gladness and joy, a feast and a good day. And many from among the peoples of the land became Jews; for the fear of the Jews was fallen upon them. ⁹ Now in the twelfth month, which is the month Adar, on the thirtieth day of the same, when the king's commandment and his decree drew near to be put in execution, in the day that the enemies of the Jews hoped to have rule over them; whereas it was turned to the contrary, that the Jews had ²rule over them that hated them; the Jews gathered themselves together in their cities throughout all the provinces of the king Ahasuerus, to lay hand on such as sought their hurt: and no man could withstand them; for the fear of them was fallen upon ³all the peoples. And all the princes of the provinces, and the satraps, and the governors, and they that did the king's business, helped the Jews; because the fear of Mordecai was fallen

4 upon them. For Mordecai was great in the king's house, and his fame went forth throughout all the provinces: for the man Mordecai waxed ⁵greater and greater. And the Jews smote all their enemies with the stroke of the sword, and with slaughter and destruction, and did what they would ⁶unto them that hated them. And in Shushan the palace the Jews slew and ⁷destroyed five hundred men. And Parshandatha, and Dalphon, and Aspatha, ⁸and Poratha, and Adalia, and Aridai, ⁹and Parmashta, and Arisai, and ¹⁰Aridai, and Vaizatha, the ten sons of Haman the son of Hammedatha, the Jews' enemy, slew they; but on the ¹¹spoil they laid not their hand. On that day the number of those that were slain in Shushan the palace was brought ¹²before the king. And the king said unto Esther the queen, The Jews have slain and destroyed five hundred men in Shushan the palace, and the ten sons of Haman; what then have they done in the rest of the king's provinces! Now what is thy petition? and it shall be granted thee: or what is thy request further? and it shall be ¹³done. Then said Esther, If it please the king, let it be granted to the Jews which are in Shushan to do to-morrow also according unto this day's decree, and let Haman's ten sons be hanged ¹⁴upon the gallows. And the king commanded it so to be done; and a decree was given out in Shushan; and they ¹⁵hanged Haman's ten sons. And the Jews that were in Shushan gathered themselves together on the fourteenth day also of the month Adar, and slew three hundred men in Shushan; but on the spoil they laid not their hand. ¹⁶ And the other Jews that were in the king's provinces gathered themselves together, and stood for their lives, and had rest from their enemies, and slew of them that hated them seventy and five thousand; but on the spoil they ¹⁷laid not their hand. This was done on the thirtieth day of the month Adar; and on the fourteenth day of the same they rested, and made it a day of ¹⁸feasting and gladness. But the Jews that were in Shushan assembled together on the thirtieth day thereof, and on the fourteenth thereof; and on the fifteenth day of the same they rested, and made it a day of feasting and ¹⁹gladness. Therefore do the Jews of the villages, that dwell in the unwall'd towns, make the fourteenth day of the month Adar a day of gladness and feasting, and a good day, and of sending portions one to another. ²⁰ And Mordecai wrote these things, and sent letters unto all the Jews that were in all the provinces of the king Ahasuerus, both nigh and

21 far, to enjoin them that they should keep the fourteenth day of the month Adar, and the fifteenth day of the same, 22 yearly, as the days wherein the Jews had rest from their enemies, and the month which was turned unto them from sorrow to gladness, and from mourning into a good day: that they should make them days of feasting and gladness, and of sending portions one 23 to another, and gifts to the poor. And the Jews undertook to do as they had begun, and as Mordecai had written 24 unto them; because Haman the son of Hammedatha, the Agagite, the enemy of all the Jews, had devised against the Jews to destroy them, and had cast Pur, that is, the lot, to consume 25 them, and to destroy them; but when the matter came before the king, he commanded by letters that his wicked device, which he had devised against the Jews, should return upon his own head; and that he and his sons should 26 be hanged on the gallows. Wherefore they called these days Purim, after the name of Pur. Therefore because of all the words of this letter, and of that which they had seen concerning this matter, and that which 27 had come unto them, the Jews ordained, and took upon them, and upon their seed, and upon all such as joined themselves unto them, so as it should not fail, that they would keep these two days according to the writing thereof, and according to the appointed time

28 thereof, every year; and that these days should be remembered and kept throughout every generation, every family, every province, and every city; and that these days of Purim should not fail from among the Jews, nor the memorial of them ¹perish from 29 their seed. Then Esther the queen, the daughter of Abihail, and Mordecai the Jew, wrote with all ²authority to confirm this second letter of Purim. 30 And he sent letters unto all the Jews, to the hundred twenty and seven provinces of the kingdom of Ahasuerus, 31 with words of peace and truth, to confirm these days of Purim in their appointed times, according as Mordecai the Jew and Esther the queen had enjoined them, and as they had ordained for themselves and for their seed, ³in the matter of the fastings and their 32 cry. And the commandment of Esther confirmed these matters of Purim; and it was written in the book.

10 And the king Ahasuerus laid a tribute upon the land, and upon the isles of the 2 sea. And all the acts of his power and of his might, and the full account of the greatness of Mordecai, wheremto the king advanced him, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the 3 kings of Media and Persia? For Mordecai the Jew was next unto king Ahasuerus, and great among the Jews, and accepted of the multitude of his brethren; seeking the good of his people, and speaking peace to all his seed.

THE BOOK OF JOB.

1 THERE was a man in the land of Uz, whose name was ¹Job; and that man was perfect and upright, and one that 2 feared God, and eschewed evil. And there were born unto him seven sons 3 and three daughters. His ²substance also was seven thousand sheep, and three thousand camels, and five hundred yoke of oxen, and five hundred she-asses, and a very great household; so that this man was the greatest of 4 all the children of the east. And his sons went and held a feast in the house of each one upon his day; and they sent and called for their three sisters 5 to eat and to drink with them. And it was so, when the days of their feasting were gone about, that Job sent and sanctified them, and rose up early in the morning, and offered burnt offerings according to the number of them all: for Job said, It may be that my sons have sinned, and ³renounced God in their hearts. Thus did Job continually.

6 Now there was a day when the sons of God came to present themselves before the Lord, and ⁴Satan came also 7 among them. And the Lord said unto Satan, Whence comest thou? Then Satan answered the Lord, and said, From going to and fro in the earth, and 8 from walking up and down in it. And the Lord said unto Satan, Hast thou considered my servant Job? ⁵for there is none like him in the earth, a perfect and an upright man, one that 9 feareth God, and escheweth evil. Then Satan answered the Lord, and said, 10 Doth Job fear God for nought? Hast not thou made an hedge about him, and about his house, and about all that he hath, on every side? thou hast blessed the work of his hands, and his

And the LORD said unto Satan, Behold, he is in thine hand; 7 only spare his life. So Satan went forth from the presence of the LORD, and smote Job with sore boils from the sole of his foot unto his crown. And he took him a potsherd to scrape himself withal; and he sat among the ashes. 9 Then said his wife unto him, Dost thou still hold fast thine integrity? renounce 10 God, and die. And when they lifted up their eyes afar off, and knew him not, they lifted up their voice, and wept; and they rent every one his mantle, and sprinkled dust upon their 13 heads toward heaven. So they sat down with him upon the ground seven days and seven nights, and none spake a word unto him: for they saw that his ¹⁰ grief was very great.

Or, Redeem me from the hand of the oppressors?

24 Teach me, and I will hold my peace:
And cause me to understand wherein I have erred.

25 How forcible are words of uprightness!
But what doth your arguing reprove?

26 Do ye imagine to reprove words?
Seeing that the speeches of one that is desperate are ¹as wind.

27 Yea, ye would cast lots upon the fatherless,

And make merchandise of your friend.
28 Now therefore be pleased to look upon me;

29 For surely I shall not lie to your face.

29 Return, I pray you, let there be no injustice;

Yea, return again, ³my cause is righteous.

30 Is there injustice on my tongue?
Cannot my taste discern mischievous things?

7 Is there not a ⁴warfare to man upon earth?

And are not his days like the days of an hireling?

2 As a servant that earnestly desireth the shadow,
And as an hireling that looketh for his wages;

3 So am I made to possess months of vanity,
And wearisome nights are appointed to me.

4 When I lie down, I say,
⁵When shall I arise? but the night is long;

And I am full of tossings to and fro unto the dawning of the day.

5 My flesh is clothed with worms and clods of dust;

My skin ⁶closeth up and breaketh out afresh.

6 My days are swifter than a weaver's shuttle,

And are spent without hope.

7 Oh remember that my life is wind:
Mine eye shall no more see good.

8 The eye of him that seeth me shall behold me no more:

Thine eyes shall be upon me, but I shall not be.

9 As the cloud is consumed and vanisheth away,

So he that goeth down to ⁷Sheol shall come up no more.

10 He shall return no more to his house,
Neither shall his place know him any more.

11 Therefore I will not refrain my mouth;
I will speak in the anguish of my spirit;

I will complain in the bitterness of my soul.

12 Am I a sea, or a sea-monster,
That thou settest a watch over me?

13 When I say, My bed shall comfort me,
My couch shall ease my complaint;

14 Then thou scarest me with dreams,
And terrifiest me through visions:

15 So that my soul chooseth strangling,
And death rather than these my bones.

16 ⁸I loathe my life; I ⁹would not live alway:

Let me alone; for my days are ¹⁰vanity.

17 What is man, that thou shouldest magnify him,

And that thou shouldest set thine heart upon him,

18 And that thou shouldest visit him every morning,

And try him every moment?

19 How long wilt thou not look away from me,

Nor let me alone till I swallow down my spittle?

20 If I have sinned, what ¹¹do I unto thee,
O thou ¹²watcher of men?

Why hast thou set me as a mark for thee,

So that I am a burden to myself?

21 And why dost thou not pardon my transgression, and take away mine iniquity?

For now shall I lie down in the dust;
And thou shalt seek me diligently, but I shall not be.

8 Then answered Bildad the Shuhite, and said,

2 How long wilt thou speak these things?
And how long shall the words of thy mouth be like a mighty wind?

3 Doth God pervert judgement?
Or doth the Almighty pervert justice?

4 ¹³If thy children have sinned against him,

And he have delivered them into the hand of their transgression:

5 If thou wouldest seek diligently unto God,

And make thy supplication to the Almighty;

6 If thou wert pure and upright;
Surely now he would awake for thee,

And make the habitation of thy righteousness prosperous.

7 And though thy beginning was small,
Yet thy latter end should greatly increase.

8 For inquire, I pray thee, of the former age,

And apply thyself to that which their fathers have searched out:

9 (For we are but of yesterday, and know nothing,

Because our days upon earth are a shadow:)

10 Shall not they teach thee, and tell thee,

And utter words out of their heart?

11 Can the ¹⁴rush grow up without mire?
Can the ¹⁵flag grow without water?

2 I will say unto God, Do not condemn me;
Shew me wherefore thou contendest with me.

3 Is it good unto thee that thou shouldst oppress,
That thou shouldst despise the ¹ work of thine hands,
And shine upon the counsel of the wicked?

4 Hast thou eyes of flesh,
Or seest thou as man seeth?

5 Are thy days as the days of man,
Or thy years as man's days,

6 That thou inquirest after mine iniquity,
And searchest after my sin,

7 Although thou knowest that I am not wicked;
And there is none that can deliver out of thine hand?

8 Thine hands have framed me and fashioned me
Together round about; yet thou dost destroy me.

9 Remember, I beseech thee, that thou hast fashioned me as clay;
And wilt thou bring me into dust again?

10 Hast thou not poured me out as milk,
And curdled me like cheese?

11 Thou hast clothed me with skin and flesh,
And knit me together with bones and sinews.

12 Thou hast granted me life and favour,
And thy ² visitation hath preserved my spirit.

13 Yet these things thou didst hide in thine heart;
I know that this is with thee:

14 If I sin, then thou markest me,
And thou wilt not acquit me from mine iniquity.

15 If I be wicked, woe unto me;
And if I be righteous, yet shall I not lift up my head;

³ Being filled with ignominy
And looking upon mine affliction.

16 And if my head exalt itself, thou huntest me as a lion:

And again thou shewest thyself marvellous upon me.

17 Thou renewest thy witnesses against me,
And increasest thine indignation upon me;

⁴ Changes and warfare are with me.
18 Wherefore then hast thou brought me forth out of the womb?

I had given up the ghost, and no eye had seen me.

19 I should have been as though I had not been;

I should have been carried from the womb to the grave.

20 Are not my days few? ⁵cease then,

And let me alone, that I may ⁶take comfort a little,

21 Before I go whence I shall not return,
Even to the land of darkness and of the shadow of death;

22 A land of thick darkness, as darkness itself;

A land of the shadow of death, without any order,

And where the light is as darkness.

11 Then answered Zophar the Naamathite, and said,

2 Should not the multitude of words be answered?

And should a man full of talk be justified?

3 Should thy boastings make men hold their peace?

And when thou mockest, shall no man make thee ashamed?

4 For thou sayest, My doctrine is pure,
And I am clean in thine eyes.

5 But Oh that God would speak,
And open his lips against thee;

6 And that he would shew thee the secrets of wisdom,

⁷ That it is manifold in effectual working!

Know therefore that God ⁸ exacteth of thee less than thine iniquity deserve.

7 ⁹ Canst thou by searching find out God?
Canst thou find out the Almighty unto perfection?

8 ¹⁰ It is high as heaven; what canst thou do?

Deeper than ¹¹ Sheol; what canst thou know?

9 The measure thereof is longer than the earth,

And broader than the sea.

10 If he pass through, and shut up,
And ¹² call unto judgement, then who can hinder him?

11 For he knoweth vain men:
He seeth iniquity also, ¹³ even though he consider it not.

12 ¹⁴ But vain man is void of understanding,

Yea, man is born as a wild ass's colt.

13 If thou set thine heart aright,
And stretch out thine hands toward him;

14 If iniquity be in thine hand, put it far away,

And let not unrighteousness dwell in thy tents;

15 Surely then shalt thou lift up thy face without spot;

Yea, thou shalt be steadfast, and shalt not fear:

16 For thou shalt forget thy misery;
Thou shalt remember it as waters that are passed away:

17 And thy life shall ¹⁵ be clearer than the noonday;

Though there be darkness, it shall be as the morning.

Yea, thou shalt search about thee, and shalt take thy rest in safety.

19 Also thou shalt lie down, and none shall make thee afraid;

Yea, many shall make suit unto thee.

20 But the eyes of the wicked shall fail, And ¹ they shall have no way to flee, And their hope shall be the giving up of the ghost.

12 Then Job answered and said,

2 No doubt but ye are the people, And wisdom shall die with you.

3 But I have understanding as well as you;

I am not inferior to you:

Yea, who knoweth not such things as these?

4 I am as one that is a laughing-stock to his neighbour,

A man that called upon God, and he answered him:

The just, the perfect man is a laughing-stock.

5 In the thought of him that is at ease there is contempt for misfortune;

It is ready for them whose foot slippeth.

6 The tents of robbers prosper, And they that provoke God are secure;

² Into whose hand God bringeth abundantly.

7 But ask now the beasts, and they shall teach thee;

And the fowls of the air, and they shall tell thee:

8 Or speak to the earth, and it shall teach thee;

And the fishes of the sea shall declare unto thee.

9 Who knoweth not ³ in all these, That the hand of the LORD hath wrought this?

10 In whose hand is the soul of every living thing,

And the ⁴ breath of all mankind.

11 Doth not the ear try words, Even as the palate tasteth its meat?

12 ⁵ With aged men is wisdom, And in length of days understanding.

13 With him is wisdom and might; He hath counsel and understanding.

14 Behold, he breaketh down, and it cannot be built again;

He shutteth up a man, and there can be no opening.

15 Behold, he withholdeth the waters, and they dry up;

Again, he sendeth them out, and they overthrow the earth.

16 With him is strength and ⁶ effectual working;

The deceived and the deceiver are his.

17 He leadeth counsellors away spoiled, And judges maketh he fools.

18 He looseth the bond of kings, And bindeth their loins with a girdle.

19 He leadeth priests away spoiled, And overthroweth the mighty.

20 He removeth the speech of the trusty,

And taketh away the understanding of the elders.

21 He poureth contempt upon princes, And looseth the belt of the strong.

22 He discovereth deep things out of darkness, And bringeth out to light the shadow of death.

23 He increaseth the nations, and destroyeth them:

He spreadeth the nations abroad, and bringeth them in.

24 He taketh away the heart of the chiefs of the people of the ⁸ earth,

And causeth them to wander in a wilderness where there is no way.

25 They grope in the dark without light, And he maketh them to ⁹ stagger like a drunken man.

13 Lo, mine eye hath seen all this, Mine ear hath heard and understood it.

2 What ye know, the same do I know also:

I am not inferior unto you.

3 Surely I would speak to the Almighty, And I desire to reason with God.

4 But ye are forgers of lies, Ye are all physicians of no value.

5 Oh that ye would altogether hold your peace!

And it should be your wisdom.

6 Hear now my reasoning, And hearken to the pleadings of my lips.

7 Will ye speak unrighteously for God, And talk deceitfully for him?

8 Will ye ¹⁰ respect his person? Will ye contend for God?

9 Is it good that he should search you out? Or as one ¹¹ deceiveth a man, will ye ¹² deceive him?

10 He will surely reprove you, If ye do secretly ¹³ respect persons.

11 Shall not his excellency make you afraid,

And his dread fall upon you?

12 Your memorable sayings are proverbs of ashes,

Your defences are defences of clay.

13 Hold your peace, let me alone, that I may speak,

And let come on me what will.

14 ¹⁴ Wherefore should I take my flesh in my teeth,

And put my life in mine hand?

15 ¹⁵ Though he slay me, yet will I wait for him:

Nevertheless I will ¹⁶ maintain my ways before him.

16 ¹⁷ This also shall be my salvation;

¹⁸ For a godless man shall not come before him.

17 Hear diligently my speech,

And let my declaration be in your ears.

18 Behold now, I have ordered my cause; I know that I ¹⁹ am righteous.

And let not thy terror make me afraid.

22 Then call thou, and I will answer;
Or let me speak, and answer thou me.

23 How many are mine iniquities and sins?
Make me to know my transgression and my sin.

24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face,
And holdest me for thine enemy?

25 Wilt thou harass a driven leaf?
And wilt thou pursue the dry stubble?

26 For thou writest bitter things against me,
And makest me to inherit the iniquities
of my youth:

27 Thou puttest my feet also in the stocks, and markest all my paths; Thou drawest thee a line about the soles of my feet:

28¹ Though I am like a rotten thing that consumeth,
Like a garment that is moth-eaten.

14 Man that is born of a woman
Is of few days, and full of trouble.

2 He cometh forth like a flower, and² is cut down:
He fleeth also as a shadow, and con-tinueth not.

3 And dost thou open thine eyes upon such an one,
And bringest me into judgement with thee?

4³ Who can bring a clean thing out of an unclean? not one.

5 Seeing his days are determined, the number of his months is with thee,
And thou hast appointed his bounds
that he cannot pass;

6 Look away from him, that he may⁴ rest,
Till he shall⁵ accomplish, as an hireling, his day.

7 For there is hope of a tree, if it be cut down, that it will sprout again,
And that the tender branch thereof will not cease.

8 Though the root thereof wax old in the earth,
And the stock thereof die in the ground;

9 Yet through the scent of water it will bud,
And put forth boughs like a plant.

10 But man dieth, and⁶ wasteth away: Yea, man giveth up the ghost, and where is he?

11⁷ As the waters⁸ fail from the sea,
And the river decayeth and drieth up;

12 So man lieth down and riseth not:
Till the heavens be no more, they shall not awake,
Nor be roused out of their sleep.

13 Oh that thou wouldest hide me in ⁹ Sheol,
That thou wouldest keep me secret,
until thy wrath be past,

That thou wouldest appoint me a set time, and remember me!

14 If a man die, shall he live again?

All the days of my warfare¹⁰ would I wait, rehearsal

Till my¹¹ release should come.

15¹² Thou shouldst call, and I would answer thee:

Thou wouldest have a desire to the work of thine hands.

16 But now thou numberest my steps:
Dost thou not watch over my sin?

17 My transgression is sealed up in a bag,
And thou fastest up mine iniquity.

18 And surely the mountain falling¹³
cometh to nought,

And the rock is removed out of its place;

19 The waters wear the stones;
The overflowings thereof wash away
the dust of the earth:

And thou destroyest the hope of man.

20 Thou prevailest for ever against him,
and he passeth; circumventest him ever

15. 15. 17 are men that speak of words

	12 Why doth thine heart carry thee away? And why do thine eyes wink?	And shall cast off his flower as the olive.
	13 That thou turnest thy spirit against God, And lettest such words go out of thy mouth.	34 For the company of the godless shall be barren, And fire shall consume the tents of bribery.
	14 What is man, that he should be clean? And he which is born of a woman, that he should be righteous?	35 They conceive mischief, and bring forth iniquity, And their belly prepareth deceit.
	15 Behold, he putteth no trust in his holy ones; Yea, the heavens are not clean in his sight.	16 Then Job answered and said, 2 I have heard many such things: 3 Miserable comforters are ye all.	9 Or, Weary-some

	17 I will shew thee, hear thou me; And that which I have seen I will declare:	4 I also could speak as ye do; If your soul were in my soul's stead, I could join words together against you, And shake mine head at you.
	18 (Which wise men have told From their fathers, and have not hid it;	5 But I would strengthen you with my mouth, And the solace of my lips should assuage your grief .
	19 Unto whom alone the land was given, And no stranger passed among them:)	6 Though I speak, my grief is not assuaged: And though I forbear, ¹¹ what am I eased?	11 Heb. what departeth from me?
2 Or, And years that are numbered are laid up &c.	20 The wicked man travaileth with pain all his days, ² Even the number of years that are laid up for the oppressor.	7 But now he hath made me weary: Thou hast made desolate all my company.	12 Or, shrivelled me

	23 He wandereth abroad for bread, saying , Where is it? He knoweth that the day of darkness is ready at his hand:	10 Mine adversary sharpeneth his eyes upon me.
	24 Distress and anguish make him afraid; They prevail against him, as a king ready to the battle:	10 They have gaped upon me with their mouth; They have smitten me upon the cheek reproachfully: They gather themselves together against me.

17 Although there is no violence in mine hands,
And my prayer is pure.

18 O earth, cover not thou my blood,
And let my cry¹ have no resting place.

19 Even now, behold, my witness is in heaven,

And he that voucheth for me is on high.

20 My friends scorn me:

But mine eye poureth out tears unto God;

21² That he would maintain the right of a man with God,

And of a son of man with his neighbour!

22 For when a few years are come,
I shall go the way whence I shall not return.

17 My spirit is consumed, my days are extinct,

The grave is ready for me.

2 Surely there are mockers with me,
And mine eye abideth in their provocation.

3 Give now a pledge, be surety for me with thyself;
Who is there that will strike hands with me?

4 For thou hast hid their heart from understanding:

Therefore shalt thou not exalt them.

5 He that denounceth his friends for a prey,

Even the eyes of his children shall fail.

6 He hath made me also a byword of the people;

And I am become an open abhorring.

7 Mine eye also is dim by reason of sorrow,

And all my members are as a shadow.

8 Upright men shall be astonished at this,
And the innocent shall stir up himself against the godless.

9 Yet shall the righteous hold on his way.
And he that hath clean hands shall wax stronger and stronger.

10 But return ye, all of you, and come now:

⁶ And I shall not find a wise man among you.

11 My days are past, my purposes are broken off,

Even the thoughts of my heart.

12 They change the night into day:

The light, say they, is near⁸ unto the darkness.

13⁹ If I look for¹⁰ Sheol as mine house;

If I have spread my couch in the darkness;

14 If I have said to¹¹ corruption, Thou art my father;

To the worm, Thou art my mother, and my sister ~~iniquity~~ iniquity man.

15 Where then is my hope?

And as for my hope, who shall see it?

16 It shall go down to the bars of¹⁰ Sheol,
When once there is rest in the dust.

18 Then answered Bildad the Shuhite, and said,

2 How long will ye lay snares for words?
Consider, and afterwards we will speak.

3 Wherefore are we counted as beasts,
And are become unclean in your sight?

4 Thou that tearest thyself in thine anger,

Shall the earth be forsaken for thee?

Or shall the rock be removed out of its place?

5 Yea, the light of the wicked shall be put out,

And the¹² spark of his fire shall not shine.

6 The light shall be dark in his tent,
And his lamp¹³ above him shall be put out.

7 The steps of his strength shall be straitened,

And his own counsel shall cast him down.

8 For he is cast into a net by his own feet,

And he walketh upon the toils.

9 A gin shall take him by the heel,
And a snare shall lay hold on him.

10 A noose is hid for him in the ground,
And a trap for him in the way.

11 Terrors shall make him afraid on every side,

And shall chase him at his heels.

12 His strength shall be hungerbitten,
And calamity shall be ready¹⁴ for his halting.

13 It shall devour the¹⁵ members of his body,

Yea, the firstborn of death shall devour his members.

14 He shall be rooted out of his tent wherein he trusteth;

And¹⁶ he shall be brought to the king of terrors.

15¹⁷ There shall dwell in his tent that which is none of his:

Brinstone shall be scattered upon his habitation.

16 His roots shall be dried up beneath,
And above shall his branch¹⁸ be cut off.

17 His remembrance shall perish from the earth,

And he shall have no name in the street.

18 He shall be driven from light into darkness,

And chased out of the world.

19 He shall have neither son nor son's son among his people,

Nor any remaining where he sojourned.

20¹⁹ They that come after shall be astonished at his day,

As they that went before²⁰ were affrighted.

21 Surely such are the dwellings of the unrighteous,

And this is the place of him that knoweth not God.

19 Then Job answered and said,

²⁰ Heb. laid hold on horror.

And break me in pieces with words?

3 These ten times have ye reproached me:

Ye are not ashamed that ye deal hardly with me.

4 And be it indeed that I have erred, Mine error remaineth with myself.

5¹ If indeed ye will magnify yourselves against me,

And plead against me my reproach:

6 Know now that God hath² subverted me in my cause,

And hath compassed me with his net.

7 Behold, I³ cry out of wrong, but I am not heard:

I cry for help, but there is no judgement.

8 He hath fenced up my way that I cannot pass,

And hath set darkness in my paths.

9 He hath stripped me of my glory, And taken the crown from my head.

10 He hath broken me down on every side, and I am gone:

And mine hope hath he plucked up like a tree.

11 He hath also kindled his wrath against me,

And he counteth me unto him as one of his adversaries.

12 His troops come on together, and cast up their way against me,

And encamp round about my tent.

13 He hath put my brethren far from me, And mine acquaintance are wholly estranged from me.

14 My kinsfolk have failed,

And my familiar friends have forgotten me.

15 They that⁴ dwell in mine house, and my maids, count me for a stranger:

I am an alien in their sight.

16 I call unto my servant, and he giveth me no answer,

Though I intreat him with my mouth.

17 My breath is strange to my wife, And⁵ my supplication to the children of my mother's womb.

18 Even young children despise me;

If I arise, they speak against me.

19 All⁷ my inward friends abhor me.

And they whom I loved are turned against me.

20 My bone cleaveth to my skin and to my flesh,

And I am escaped with the skin of my teeth.

21 Have pity upon me, have pity upon me, O ye my friends;

For the hand of God hath touched me.

22 Why do ye persecute me as God,

And are not satisfied with my flesh?

23 Oh that my words were now written!

Oh that they were inscribed in a book!

24 That with an iron pen and lead

They were graven in the rock for ever!

25⁸ But I know that my⁹ redeemer liveth, And that he shall stand up at the last upon the¹⁰ earth:

26¹¹ And after my skin hath been thus destroyed,

Yet¹² from my flesh shall I see God:

27 Whom I shall see¹³ for myself, And mine eyes shall behold, and not¹⁴ another.

My reins are consumed within me.

28 If ye say, How we will persecute him!

¹⁵ Seeing that the root of the matter is found in¹⁶ me;

29 Be ye afraid of the sword:

For¹⁷ wrath bringeth the punishments of the sword,

That ye may know there is a judgement.

20 Then answered Zophar the Naamathite, and said,

2 Therefore do my thoughts give answer to me,

¹⁸ Even by reason of my haste that is in me.

3 I have heard the reproof which putteth me to shame,

¹⁹ And the spirit of my understanding answereth me.

4 Knowest thou not this of old time,

Since man was placed upon earth,

5 That the triumphing of the wicked is short,

And the joy of the godless but for a moment?

6 Though his excellency mount up to the heavens,

And his head reach unto the clouds;

7 Yet he shall perish for ever like his own dung:

They which have seen him shall say, Where is he?

8 He shall fly away as a dream, and shall not be found:

Yea, he shall be chased away as a vision of the night.

9 The eye which saw him shall see him no more;

Neither shall his place any more behold him.

10²⁰ His children shall seek the favour of the poor,

And his hands shall give back his wealth.

11 His bones are full of his youth,

But it shall lie down with him in the dust.

12 Though wickedness be sweet in his mouth,

Though he hide it under his tongue;

13 Though he spare it, and will not let it go, But keep it still within his mouth;

14 Yet his meat in his bowels is turned, It is the gall of asps within him.

15 He hath swallowed down riches, and he shall vomit them up again:

God shall cast them out of his belly.

16 He shall suck the poison of asps:

The viper's tongue shall slay him.

17 He shall not look upon the rivers, The flowing streams of honey and butter.

19 For he hath oppressed and forsaken the poor;

He hath violently taken away an house, ² and he shall not build it up.

20 Because he knew no quietness ³ within him,

He shall not save aught of that wherein he delighteth.

21 There was nothing left that he devoured not;

Therefore his prosperity shall not endure.

22 In the fulness of his sufficiency he shall be in straits:

The hand of every one that is in misery shall come upon him.

23 ⁴ When he is about to fill his belly, God shall cast the fierceness of his wrath upon him,

And shall rain it upon him ⁵ while he is eating.

24 He shall flee from the iron weapon,

And the bow of brass shall strike him through.

25 He draweth it forth, and it cometh out of his body:

Yea, the glittering point cometh out of his gall;

Terrors are upon him.

26 All darkness is laid up for his treasures:

A fire not blown by man shall devour him;

⁶ It shall consume that which is left in his tent.

27 The heavens shall reveal his iniquity, And the earth shall rise up against him.

28 The increase of his house shall depart, His goods shall flow away in the day of his wrath.

29 This is the portion of a wicked man from God,

And the heritage appointed unto him by God.

21 Then Job answered and said,

2 Hear diligently my speech;

And let this be your consolations.

3 Suffer me, and I also will speak;

And after that I have spoken, ⁷ mock on.

4 As for me, is my complaint ⁸ to man?

And why should I not be impatient?

5 ⁹ Mark me, and be astonished,

And lay your hand upon your mouth.

6 Even when I remember I am troubled, And horror taketh hold on my flesh.

7 Wherefore do the wicked live, Become old, yea, wax mighty in power?

8 Their seed is established with them in their sight,

And their offspring before their eyes.

9 Their houses are ¹⁰ safe from fear, Neither is the rod of God upon them.

10 Their bull gendereth, and faileth not; Their cow calveth, and casteth not her calf.

11 They send forth their little ones like a flock,

And their children dance.

12 They ¹¹ sing to the timbrel and harp, And rejoice at the sound of the pipe.

13 They spend their days in prosperity, And in a moment they go down to ¹² Sheol.

14 Yet they said unto God, Depart from us;

For we desire not the knowledge of thy ways.

15 What is the Almighty, that we should serve him?

And what profit should we have, if we pray unto him?

16 ¹³ Lo, their prosperity is not in their hand:

The counsel of the wicked is far from me.

17 ¹⁴ How oft is it that the lamp of the wicked is put out?

That their calamity cometh upon them? That God distributeth sorrows in his anger?

18 That they are as stubble before the wind,

And as chaff that the storm carrieth away?

19 ¹⁵ Ye say, God layeth up his iniquity for his children.

Let him recompense it unto himself, that he may know it.

20 Let his own eyes see his destruction, And let him drink of the wrath of the Almighty.

21 For what pleasure hath he in his house after him,

When the number of his months is cut off in the midst?

22 Shall any teach God knowledge? Seeing he judgeth those that are high.

23 One dieth in his full strength, Being wholly at ease and quiet:

24 His ¹⁶ breasts are full of milk, And the marrow of his bones is moistened.

25 And another dieth in bitterness of soul, And never tasteth of good.

26 They lie down alike in the dust, And the worm covereth them.

27 Behold, I know your thoughts, And the devices which ye wrongfully imagine against me.

28 For ye say, Where is the house of the prince?

And where is the tent wherein the wicked dwelt?

29 Have ye not asked them that go by the way?

And do ye not know their tokens?

30 That the evil man is ¹⁷ reserved to the day of calamity?

That they are ¹⁸ led forth to the day of wrath?

31 Who shall declare his way to his face?

¹¹ Heb. lift up the voice.

32 ¹ Yet shall he be borne to the grave,
And ² shall keep watch over the tomb.

33 The clouds of the valley shall be sweet unto him,

And all men shall draw after him,
As there were innumerable before him.

34 How then comfort ye me ³ in vain,
Seeing in your answers there remaineth only ⁴ falsehood?

22 Then answered Eliphaz the Temanite, and said,

2 Can a man be profitable unto God?

Surely he that is wise is profitable unto himself.

3 Is it any pleasure to the Almighty, that thou art righteous?

Or is it gain to him, that thou makest thy ways perfect?

4 Is it ⁵ for thy fear of him that he reproveth thee,

That he entereth with thee into judgment?

5 Is not thy wickedness great?

Neither is there any end to thine iniquities.

6 For thou hast taken pledges of thy brother for nought,
And stripped the naked of their clothing.

7 Thou hast not given water to the weary to drink,
And thou hast withholden bread from the hungry.

8 But as for ⁶ the mighty man, he had the ⁷ earth;

And ⁸ the honourable man, he dwelt in it.

9 Thou hast sent widows away empty,
And the arms of the fatherless have been broken.

10 Therefore snares are round about thee,
And sudden fear troubleth thee,

11 ⁹ Or darkness, that thou canst not see,
And abundance of waters cover thee.

12 Is not God in the height of heaven?
And behold the ¹⁰ height of the stars,
how high they are!

13 And thou sayest, What doth God know?

Can he judge through the thick darkness?

14 Thick clouds are a covering to him, that he seeth not;

And he walketh ¹¹ in the circuit of heaven.

15 ¹² Wilt thou keep the old way

Which wicked men have trodden?

16 Who were snatched away before their time,
Whose foundation was poured out as a stream:

17 Who said unto God, Depart from us;
And, What can the Almighty do ¹³ for us?

18 Yet he filled their houses with good things:

But the counsel of the wicked is far from me.

19 The righteous see it, and are glad;

And the innocent laugh them to scorn:

20 Saying, Surely they that did rise up against us are cut off,

And ¹⁵ the remnant of them the fire hath consumed.

21 Acquaint now thyself with him, and be at peace:

¹⁶ Thereby good shall come unto thee.

22 Receive, I pray thee, ¹⁷ the law from his mouth,

And lay up his words in thine heart.

23 If thou return to the Almighty, thou shalt be built up;

¹⁸ If thou put away unrighteousness far from thy tents.

24 And lay thou thy ¹⁹ treasure ²⁰ in the dust,

And the gold of Ophir among the stones of the brooks;

25 And the Almighty shall be thy ¹⁹ treasure,

And ²¹ precious silver unto thee.

26 For then shalt thou delight thyself in the Almighty,

And shalt lift up thy face unto God.

27 Thou shalt make thy prayer unto him, and he shall hear thee;

And thou shalt pay thy vows.

28 Thou shalt also decree a thing, and it shall be established unto thee;

And light shall shine upon thy ways.

29 When they ²² cast thee down, thou shalt say, There is lifting up;

And ²³ the humble person he shall save.

30 He shall deliver ²⁴ even him that is not innocent:

Yea, he shall be delivered through the cleanness of thine hands.

23 Then Job answered and said,

2 Even to-day is my complaint ²⁵ rebellious:

²⁶ My stroke is heavier than my groaning.

3 Oh that I knew where I might find him,
That I might come even to his seat!

4 I would order my cause before him,
And fill my mouth with arguments.

5 I would know the words which he would answer me,

And understand what he would say unto me.

6 Would he contend with me in the greatness of his power?

Nay; ²⁷ but he would give heed unto me.

7 There the upright might reason with him;

So should I be delivered for ever from my judge.

8 Behold, I go forward, but he is not there;

And backward, but I cannot perceive him:

9 On the left hand, when he doth work,
but I cannot behold him:

¹⁷ Because I was not cut off before the darkness,
 Neither did he cover the thick darkness from my face.
²⁴⁸ Why are times not laid up by the Almighty?
 And why do not they which know him see his days?
² There are that remove the landmarks; They violently take away flocks, and feed them.
³ They drive away the ass of the fatherless,
 They take the widow's ox for a pledge.
⁴ They turn the needy out of the way:
 The ⁹poor of the earth hide themselves together.
⁵ Behold, as wild asses in the desert They go forth to their work, seeking diligently for ¹⁰meat;
 The wilderness yieldeth them food for their children.
⁶ They cut ¹¹their provender in the field; And they glean the vintage of the wicked.
⁷ They lie all night naked without clothing,
 And have no covering in the cold.
⁸ They are wet with the showers of the mountains,
 And embrace the rock for want of a shelter.
⁹ There are that pluck the fatherless from the breast,
 And ¹²take a pledge of the poor:

¹⁶ In the dark they dig through houses:
¹⁵ They shut themselves up in the day-time;
 They know not the light.
¹⁷ For the morning is to all of them as the shadow of death;
 For they know the terrors of the shadow of death.

4 To whom hast thou uttered words?

And whose spirit came forth from thee?

5 They that are deceased tremble

Beneath the waters and the inhabitants thereof.

6 Sheol is naked before him,

And Abaddon hath no covering.

7 He stretcheth out the north over empty space,

And hangeth the earth upon nothing.

8 He bindeth up the waters in his thick clouds;

And the cloud is not rent under them.

9 He closeth in the face of his throne,

And spreadeth his cloud upon it.

10 He hath described a boundary upon the face of the waters,

Unto the confines of light and darkness.

11 The pillars of heaven tremble

And are astonished at his rebuke.

12 He stirreth up the sea with his power,

And by his understanding he smiteth through Rahab.

13 By his spirit the heavens are garnished;

His hand hath pierced the swift serpent.

14 Lo, these are but the outskirts of his ways:

And how small a whisper do we hear of him!

But the thunder of his power who can understand?

27 And Job again took up his parable, and said,

2 As God liveth, who hath taken away my right;

And the Almighty, who hath vexed my soul;

3 For my life is yet whole in me, And the spirit of God is in my nostrils;

4 Surely my lips shall not speak unrighteousness,

Neither shall my tongue utter deceit.

5 God forbid that I should justify you:

Till I die I will not put away mine integrity from me.

6 My righteousness I hold fast, and will not let it go:

My heart shall not reproach me so long as I live.

7 Let mine enemy be as the wicked, And let him that riseth up against me be as the unrighteous.

8 For what is the hope of the godless, though he get him gain,

When God taketh away his soul?

9 Will God hear his cry,

When trouble cometh upon him?

10 Will he delight himself in the Almighty,

And call upon God at all times?

11 I will teach you concerning the hand of God;

That which is with the Almighty will I not conceal.

12 Behold, all ye yourselves have seen it; Why then are ye become altogether vain?

13 This is the portion of a wicked man with God,

And the heritage of oppressors, which they receive from the Almighty.

14 If his children be multiplied, it is for the sword;

And his offspring shall not be satisfied with bread.

15 Those that remain of him shall be buried in death,

And his widows shall make no lamentation.

16 Though he heap up silver as the dust, And prepare raiment as the clay;

17 He may prepare it, but the just shall put it on,

And the innocent shall divide the silver.

18 He buildeth his house as the moth, And as a booth which the keeper maketh.

19 He lieth down rich, but he shall not be gathered;

He openeth his eyes, and he is not.

20 Terrors overtake him like waters; A tempest stealeth him away in the night.

21 The east wind carrieth him away, and he departeth;

And it sweepeth him out of his place.

22 For God shall hurl at him, and not spare:

He would fain flee out of his hand.

23 Men shall clap their hands at him, And shall hiss him out of his place.

28 Surely there is a mine for silver, And a place for gold which they refine.

2 Iron is taken out of the earth, And brass is molten out of the stone.

3 Man setteth an end to darkness, And searcheth out to the furthest bound

The stones of thick darkness and of the shadow of death.

4 He breaketh open a shaft away from where men sojourn;

They are forgotten of the foot that passeth by;

They hang afar from men, they swing to and fro.

5 As for the earth, out of it cometh bread:

And underneath it is turned up as it were by fire.

6 The stones thereof are the place of sapphires,

And it hath dust of gold.

		24 ²⁵ If I laughed on them, they ²⁶ believed it not; And the light of my countenance they cast not down.

25 I chose out their way, and sat as chief,
And dwelt as a king in the army,
As one that comforteth the mourners.

30 But now they that are younger than
I have me in derision, Whose fathers I disdained to set with the dogs of my flock.

2 Yea, the strength of their hands, where-to should it profit me?

Men in whom ¹ripe age is perished.

3 They are gaunt with want and famine; ²They gnaw the dry ground, ³in the gloom of wasteness and desolation.

4 They pluck salt-wort by the bushes;
And the roots of the broom are ⁴their meat.

5 They are driven forth from the midst of men;

They cry after them as after a thief.

6 ⁵In the clefts of the valleys must they dwell,

In holes of the earth and of the rocks.

7 Among the bushes they bray;
Under the ⁶nettles they ⁷are gathered together.

8 They are children of fools, yea, children of ⁸base men;

They ⁹were scourged out of the land.

9 And now I am become their song,
Yea, I am a byword unto them.

10 They abhor me, they stand aloof from
me,
And spare not to spit ¹⁰in my face.

11 For he hath loosed ¹¹his cord, and afflicted me,

And they have cast off the bridle before
me.

12 Upon my right hand rise the ¹²rabble;
They thrust aside my feet,
And they cast up against me their ways of destruction.

13 They ¹³mar my path,
They set forward my calamity.
Even men that have no helper.

14 ¹⁴As through a wide breach they come:
In the midst of the ruin they roll themselves upon me.

15 Terrors are turned upon me,

¹⁵They chase ¹⁶mine honour as the wind;
And my welfare is passed away as a cloud.

16 And now my soul is poured out ¹⁷within
me;

Days of affliction have taken hold upon
me.

17 In the night season my bones are ¹⁸pierced ¹⁹in me,

And ²⁰the pains that gnaw me take no rest.

18 ²¹By the great force of my disease is my garment disfigured:

It bindeth me about as the collar of my coat.

19 He hath cast me into the mire,

And I am become like dust and ashes.

20 I cry unto thee, and thou dost not answer me:

I stand up, and thou lookest at me.

21 Thou art turned to be cruel to me:
With the might of thy hand thou perseestest me.

22 Thou liftest me up to the wind, thou causest me to ride upon it;

And thou dissolvest me in the storm.

23 For I know that thou wilt bring me to death,

And to ²²the house appointed for all living.

24 ²³Surely against a ruinous heap he will not put forth his hand;

Though it be in his destruction, one may utter a cry because of these things.

25 Did not I weep for him that was in trouble?

Was not my soul grieved for the needy?

26 When I looked for good, then evil came;
And when I waited for light, there came darkness.

27 My bowels boil, and rest not;
Days of affliction are come upon me.

28 I go ²⁴mourning without the sun:
I stand up in the assembly, and cry for help.

29 I am a brother to jackals,
A companion to ostriches.

30 My skin is black, and falleth from me,
And my bones are burned with heat.

31 Therefore is my harp turned to mourning,

And my pipe into the voice of them that weep.

31 I made a covenant with mine eyes;
How then should I look upon a maid?

2 ²⁵For what is the portion of God from above,

And the heritage of the Almighty from on high?

3 Is it not calamity to the unrighteous,
And disaster to the workers of iniquity?

4 Doth not he see my ways,
And number all my steps?

5 If I have walked with vanity,
And my foot hath hastened to deceit;

6 (Let me be weighed in an even balance,

That God may know mine integrity;)

7 If my step hath turned out of the way,
And mine heart walked after mine eyes,

And if any spot hath cleaved to mine
hands:

8 Then let me sow, and let another eat;
Yea, let ²⁶the produce of my field be rooted out.

9 If mine heart have been enticed unto a woman,

And I have laid wait at my neighbour's door:

10 Then let my wife grind unto another,
And let others bow down upon her.

11 For that were an heinous crime;
Yea, it were an iniquity to be punished
by the judges:

²⁶ Or, my offspring Heb. my produce.

And would root out all mine increase.
13 If I did despise the cause of my manservant or of my maidservant,
When they contended with me:

14 What then shall I do when God riseth up?

And when he visiteth, what shall I answer him?

15 Did not he that made me in the womb make him?

And did not one fashion us in the womb?

16 If I have withheld ¹ the poor from their desire,

Or have caused the eyes of the widow to fail;

17 Or have eaten my morsel alone,
And the fatherless hath not eaten thereof;

18 (Nay, from my youth he grew up with me as with a father,

And I have been her guide from my mother's womb;)

19 If I have seen any perish for want of clothing,

Or that the needy had no covering;

20 If his loins have not blessed me,
And if he were not warmed with the fleece of my sheep;

21 If I have lifted up my hand against the fatherless,

Because I saw my help in the gate:

22 Then let my shoulder fall from the shoulder blade,

And mine arm be broken from the bone.

23 For calamity from God was a terror to me,

And by reason of his excellency I could do nothing.

24 If I have made gold my hope,
And have said to the fine gold, Thou art my confidence;

25 If I rejoiced because my wealth was great,
And because mine hand had gotten much;

26 If I beheld ² the sun when it shined,
Or the moon walking in brightness;

27 And my heart hath been secretly enticed,

And ³ my mouth hath kissed my hand:

28 This also were an iniquity to be punished by the judges;

For I should have ⁴ lied to God that is above.

29 If I rejoiced at the destruction of him that hated me,

Or lifted up myself when evil found him;

30 (Yea, I suffered not my ⁵ mouth to sin
By asking his life with a curse;)

31 If the men of my tent said not,
⁶ Who can find one that hath not been satisfied with his flesh?

32 The stranger did not lodge in the street;
But I opened my doors to ⁷ the traveller;

33 If ⁸ like Adam I covered my transgressions,

By hiding mine iniquity in my bosom;

34 Because I feared the great multitude,

And the contempt of families terrified me,

So that I kept silence, and went not out of the door—

35 Oh that I had one to hear me!

(Lo, here is my ⁹ signature, let the Almighty answer me;)

And that I had the ¹⁰ indictment which mine adversary hath written!

36 Surely I would carry it upon my shoulder;

I would bind it unto me as a crown.

37 I would declare unto him the number of my steps;

As a prince would I ¹¹ go near unto him.

38 If my land cry out against me,
And the furrows thereof weep together;

39 If I have eaten the ¹² fruits thereof without money,

Or have caused the owners thereof to lose their life:

40 Let ¹³ thistles grow instead of wheat,
And ¹⁴ cockle instead of barley.

The words of Job are ended.

32 So these three men ceased to answer Job, because he was righteous in his own eyes. Then was kindled the wrath of Elihu the son of Barachel the Buzite, of the family of Ram: against Job was his wrath kindled, because he justified himself rather than God. Also against his three friends was his wrath kindled, because they had found no answer, and yet had condemned Job.

4 Now Elihu had ¹⁵ waited to speak unto Job, because they were elder than

he. And when Elihu saw that there was no answer in the mouth of these three men, his wrath was kindled.

6 And Elihu the son of Barachel the Buzite answered and said,

I am young, and ye are very old;

Wherefore I held back, and durst not shew you mine opinion.

7 I said, Days should speak,
And multitude of years should teach wisdom.

8 But there is a spirit in man,
And the breath of the Almighty giveth them understanding.

9 It is not the great that are wise,
Nor the aged that understand judgment.

10 Therefore I ¹⁶ said, Harken to me;
I also will shew mine opinion.

11 Behold, I waited for your words,
I listened for your reasons,

Whilst ye searched out what to say.

12 Yea, I attended unto you,
And, behold, there was none that convinced Job,

Or that answered his words, among you.

13 ¹⁷ Beware lest ye say, We have found wisdom;

God may vanquish him, not man:

14 For he hath not directed his words against me;

¹ Or, ought that the poor desired

³ Heb. my hand hath kissed my mouth.
⁴ Or, denied God.

¹⁴ Or, noisome woods.

¹⁵ Heb. waited for Job with words.

¹⁶ Or, say.

¹⁷ Or, Lest ye should say, We have found out wisdom; God thrusteth him down; not man: now he &c.

Neither will I answer him with your speeches.

15 They are amazed, they answer no more :
They have not a word to say.

16 And shall I wait, because they speak not,
Because they stand still, and answer no more ?

17 I also will answer my part,
I also will shew mine opinion.

18 For I am full of words ;

The spirit ¹ within me constraineth me.

19 Behold, my belly is as wine which hath no vent ;

Like new ² bottles ³ it is ready to burst.

20 I will speak, that I may ⁴ be refreshed ;
I will open my lips and answer.

21 Let me not, I pray you, respect any man's person ;

Neither will I give flattering titles unto any man.

22 For I know not to give flattering titles ;

Else would my Maker soon take me
away.

33 Howbeit, Job, I pray thee, hear my speech,
And hearken to all my words.

2 Behold now, I have opened my mouth,
My tongue hath spoken in my ⁵ mouth.

3 My words shall utter the uprightness of my heart :

And that which my lips know they shall speak sincerely.

4 The spirit of God hath made me,
And the breath of the Almighty giveth me life.

5 If thou canst, answer thou me ;
Set thy words in order before me, stand forth.

6 Behold, ⁶ I am toward God even as thou art :

I also am formed out of the clay.

7 Behold, my terror shall not make thee afraid,

Neither shall my pressure be heavy upon thee.

8 Surely thou hast spoken in mine hearing,

And I have heard the voice of thy words, saying,

9 I am clean, without transgression ;
I am innocent, neither is there iniquity
in me :

10 Behold, he findeth ⁷ occasions against
me,

He counteth me for his enemy ;

11 He putteth my feet in the stocks,
He marketh all my paths.

12 ⁸ Behold, I will answer thee, in this thou art not just ;

For God is greater than man.

13 ⁹ Why dost thou strive against him ?

For he giveth not account of any of his matters.

14 For God speaketh ¹⁰ once,

Yea twice, though man regardeth it not.

15 In a dream, in a vision of the night,

When deep sleep falleth upon men,

In slumberings upon the bed ;

16 Then he ¹¹ openeth the ears of men,
And sealeth their instruction,

17 ¹² That he may withdraw man from his purpose,

And hide pride from man ;

18 ¹³ He keepeth back his soul from the pit,
And his life from perishing by the ¹⁴ sword.

19 He is chastened also with pain upon his bed,

¹⁵ And with continual strife in his bones :

20 So that his life abhorreth bread,

And his soul dainty meat.

21 His flesh is consumed away, that it cannot be seen ;

And his bones that were not seen stick out.

22 Yea, his soul draweth near unto the pit,
And his life to the destroyers.

23 If there be with him ¹⁶ an angel,

An interpreter, one ¹⁷ among a thousand,

To shew unto man ¹⁸ what is right for
him ;

24 ¹⁹ Then he is gracious unto him, and saith,

Deliver him from going down to the pit,

I have found a ransom.

25 His flesh shall be fresher than a child's ;

He returneth to the days of his youth :

26 He prayeth unto God, and he is favourable unto him ;

So that he seeth his face with joy :

And he restoreth unto man his righteousness.

27 ²⁰ He singeth before men, and saith,
I have sinned, and perverted that which was right,

And ²¹ it profited me not :

28 He hath redeemed my soul from going into the pit,

And my life shall behold the light.

29 Lo, all these things doth God work,

Twice, yea thrice, with a man,

30 To bring back his soul from the pit,
That he may be enlightened with the light of ²² the living.

31 Mark well, O Job, hearken unto me :

Hold thy peace, and I will speak.

32 If thou hast any thing to say, answer
me :

Speak, for I desire to justify thee.

33 If not, hearken thou unto me :

Hold thy peace, and I will teach thee wisdom.

34 Moreover Elihu answered and said,
² Hear my words, ye wise men ;

And give ear unto me, ye that have knowledge.

3 For the ear trieth words,

As the palate tasteth meat.

11 Or, without inquisition

And God hath taken away my right:
6¹ Notwithstanding my right I am accounted a liar;
2 My wound is incurable, though I am without transgression.
7 What man is like Job,
Who drinketh up scolding like water?
8 Which goeth in company with the workers of iniquity,
And walketh with wicked men.
9 For he hath said, It profiteth a man nothing
That he should ³delight himself with God.
10 Therefore hearken unto me, ye men of understanding:
Far be it from God, that he should do wickedness;
And from the Almighty, that he should commit iniquity.
11 For the work of a man shall he render unto him,
And cause every man to find according to his ways.
12 Yea, of a surety, God will not do wickedly,
Neither will the Almighty pervert judgement.
13 Who gave him a charge over the earth?
Or who hath ⁴disposed the whole world?
14⁵ If he set his heart ⁶upon ⁷man,
If he gather unto himself his spirit and his breath;
15 All flesh shall perish together,
And man shall turn again unto dust.
16⁸ If now thou hast understanding, hear this:
Hearken to the voice of my words.
17 Shall even one that hateth right govern?
And wilt thou condemn him that is just and mighty?
18⁹ Is it fit to say to a king, Thou art vile?
Or to nobles, Ye are wicked?
19 How much less to him that respecteth not the persons of princes,
Nor regardeth the rich more than the poor?
For they all are the work of his hands.
20 In a moment they die, ¹⁰even at midnight;
The people are shaken and pass away,
And the mighty are taken away without hand.
21 For his eyes are upon the ways of a man,
And he seeth all his goings.
22 There is no darkness, nor shadow of death,
Where the workers of iniquity may hide themselves.
23 For he needeth not further to consider a man,
That he should go before God in judgement.
24 He breaketh in pieces mighty men ¹¹in ways past finding out,
And setteth others in their stead.

25 Therefore he taketh knowledge of their works;
And he overturneth them in the night, so that they are ¹²destroyed.
26 He striketh them as wicked men
¹³In the open sight of others;
27 Because they turned aside from following him,
And would not have regard to any of his ways:
28¹⁴ So that they caused the cry of the poor to come unto him,
And he heard the cry of the afflicted.
29 When he giveth quietness, who then can condemn?
And when he hideth his face, who then can behold him?
Whether it be done unto a nation, or unto a man, alike:
30 That the godless man reign not,
That there be none to ensnare the people.
31 For hath any said unto God,
I have borne chastisement, ¹⁵I will not offend any more:
32 That which I see not teach thou me:
If I have done iniquity, I will do it no more?
33 Shall his recompence be as thou wilt, that thou refusest it?
For thou must choose, and not I:
Therefore speak what thou knowest.
34 Men of understanding will say unto me, Yea, every wise man that heareth me:
35 Job speaketh without knowledge, And his words are without wisdom.
36 Would that Job were tried unto the end,
Because of his answering like wicked men.
37 For he addeth rebellion unto his sin,
He clappeth his hands among us,
And multiplieth his words against God.
35 Moreover Elihu answered and said,
2 Thinkest thou this to be thy right,
Or sayest thou, My righteousness is more than God's,
3 That thou sayest, What advantage will it be unto thee?
And, What profit shall I have, more than if I had sinned?
4 I will answer thee,
And thy companions with thee.
5 Look unto the heavens, and see;
And behold the skies, which are higher than thou.
6 If thou hast sinned, what doest thou against him?
And if thy transgressions be multiplied, what doest thou unto him?
7 If thou be righteous, what givest thou him?
Or what receiveth he of thine hand?
8 Thy wickedness may hurt a man as thou art;
And thy righteousness may profit a son of man.

12 Heb. crushed.

13 Heb. In the place of beholders

14 Or, That they might cause... and that he might hear

15 Or, though I offend not

9 By reason of the multitude of oppressions they cry out;
They cry for help by reason of the arm of the mighty.

10 But none saith, Where is God my Maker,

Who giveth songs in the night;

11 Who teacheth us more than the beasts of the earth,

And maketh us wiser than the fowls of heaven?

12 There they cry, ¹but none giveth answer,

Because of the pride of evil men.

13 Surely God will not hear vanity,
Neither will the Almighty regard it.

14 How much less when thou sayest ²thou beholdest him not,

The cause is before him, and thou waitest for him!

15 But now, because he hath not visited in his anger,

³Neither doth he greatly regard arrogance;

16 Therefore doth Job open his mouth in vanity;

He multiplieth words without knowledge.

36 Elihu also proceeded, and said,

2 ⁴Suffer me a little, and I will shew thee;
For ⁵I have yet somewhat to say on God's behalf.

3 I will fetch my knowledge from afar,
And will ascribe righteousness to my Maker.

4 For truly my words are not false:
One that is perfect in knowledge is with thee.

5 Behold, God is mighty, and despiseth not any;

He is mighty in strength of ⁶understanding.

6 He preserveth not the life of the wicked:
But giveth to the afflicted their right.

7 He withdraweth not his eyes from the righteous:

But with kings upon the throne
He setteth them for ever, and they are exalted.

8 And if they be bound in fetters,
And be taken in the cords of affliction;

9 Then he sheweth them their work,
And their transgressions, that they have believed themselves proudly.

10 He openeth also their ear to instruction,
And commandeth that they return from iniquity.

11 If they hearken and serve him,
They shall spend their days in prosperity,

And their years in ⁷pleasures.

12 But if they hearken not, they shall perish by ⁸the sword,

And they shall die without knowledge.

13 But they that are godless in heart lay up anger:

They cry not for help when he bindeth them.

14 ⁹They die in youth,
And their life perisheth ¹⁰among the ¹¹unclean.

15 He delivereth the afflicted ¹²by his affliction,

And openeth their ear ¹³in oppression.

16 Yea, he would have ¹⁴led thee away ¹⁵out of distress

Into a broad place, where there is no straitness;

And that which is set on thy table should be full of fatness.

17 But thou ¹⁶art full of the judgement of the wicked:

Judgement and justice take hold on thee.

18 ¹⁷Because there is wrath, beware lest thou be ¹⁸led away by thy sufficiency;

Neither let the greatness of the ransom turn thee aside.

19 ¹⁹Will thy riches suffice, ²⁰that thou be not in distress,

Or all the forces of thy strength?

20 Desire not the night,
When peoples ²¹are cut off in their place.

21 Take heed, regard not iniquity:
For this hast thou chosen rather than affliction.

22 Behold, God doeth loftily in his power:
Who is a teacher like unto him?

23 Who hath enjoined him his way?
Or who can say, Thou hast wrought unrighteousness?

24 Remember that thou magnify his work,
Whereof men have sung.

25 All men have looked thereon;
Man beholdeth it afar off.

26 Behold, God is great, and we know him not;

The number of his years is unsearchable.

27 For he draweth up the drops of water,
Which distil in rain ²²from ²³his vapour:

28 Which the skies pour down
And drop upon man abundantly.

29 Yea, can any understand the spreadings of the clouds,

The thunderings of his pavilion?

30 Behold, he spreadeth his light ²⁴around him;

And he ²⁵covereth the bottom of the sea.

31 For by these he judgeth the peoples;
He giveth meat in abundance.

32 He covereth his hands with the ²⁶lightning;

And giveth it a charge ²⁷that it strike the mark.

33 The noise thereof telleth concerning ²⁸him,

The cattle also concerning ²⁹the storm that cometh up.

37 At this also my heart trembleth,
And is moved out of its place.

2 Harken ye unto the noise of his voice,
And the ³⁰sound that goeth out of his mouth.

4 After it a voice roareth;
He thundereth with the voice of his majesty:
And he stayeth them not when his voice is heard.

5 God thundereth marvellously with his voice;
Great things doeth he, which we cannot comprehend.

6 For he saith to the snow, Fall thou on the earth;
Likewise to the shower of rain,
And to the showers of his mighty rain.

7 He sealeth up the hand of every man;
That all men whom he hath made may know it.

8 Then the beasts go into coverts,
And remain in their dens.

9 Out of ³the chamber of the south cometh the storm:

And cold out of the ⁴north.

10 By the breath of God ice is given:
And the breadth of the waters is ⁵straitened.

11 Yea, he ladeth the thick cloud with moisture;
He spreadeth abroad the cloud of his ¹lightning:

12 And it is turned round about by his guidance,
That they may do whatsoever he commandeth them

Upon the face of the habitable world:

13 Whether it be for correction, or for his ⁶land,
Or for mercy, that he cause it to come.

14 Hearken unto this, O Job:
Stand still, and consider the wondrous works of God.

15 Dost thou know how God layeth his charge upon them,
And causeth the ¹lightning of his cloud to shine?

16 Dost thou know the balancings of the clouds,
The wondrous works of him which is perfect in knowledge?

17 How thy garments are warm,

⁸When the earth is still by reason of the south wind?

18 Canst thou with him spread out the sky.
Which is strong as a molten mirror?

19 Teach us what we shall say unto him;
For we cannot order our speech by reason of darkness.

20 Shall it be told him that I would speak?

⁹Or should a man wish that he were swallowed up?

21 And now men ¹⁰see not the light which is bright in the skies:

But the wind passeth, and cleanseth them.

22 Out of the north cometh ¹¹golden splendour:

God hath upon him terrible majesty.

23 Touching the Almighty, we cannot find him out; he is excellent in power:
And ¹²in judgement and plenteous justice he will not afflict.

24 Men do therefore fear him:
He regardeth not any that are wise of heart.

38 Then the Lord answered Job out of the whirlwind, and said,

2 Who is this that darkeneth counsel By words without knowledge?

3 Gird up now thy loins like a man;

For I will demand of thee, and declare thou unto me.

4 Where wast thou when I laid the foundations of the earth?

Declare, ¹³if thou hast understanding.

5 Who determined the measures thereof, ¹⁴if thou knowest?

Or who stretched the line upon it?

6 Whereupon were the ¹⁵foundations thereof ¹⁶fastened?

Or who laid the corner stone thereof;

7 When the morning stars sang together, And all the sons of God shouted for joy?

8 Or who shut up the sea with doors,
When it brake forth, ¹⁷as if it had issued out of the womb;

9 When I made the cloud the garment thereof,
And thick darkness a swaddlingband for it,

10 And ¹⁸prescribed for it my ¹⁹decree,
And set bars and doors,

11 And said, Hitherto shalt thou come, but no further;

And here shall thy proud waves be stayed?

12 Hast thou commanded the morning since thy days began,

And caused the dayspring to know its place;

13 That it might take hold of the ends of the earth,
And the wicked be shaken out of it?

14 It is changed as clay under the seal;
And all things stand forth ²⁰as a garment:

15 And from the wicked their light is withholden,
And the high arm is broken.

16 Hast thou entered into the springs of the sea?

Or hast thou walked in the ²¹recesses of the deep?

17 Have the gates of death been revealed unto thee?

Or hast thou seen the gates of the shadow of death?

18 Hast thou comprehended the breadth of the earth?

Declare, if thou knowest it all.

25 Who hath cleft a channel for the water-flood,

Or a way for the lightning of the thunder;

26 To cause it to rain on a land where no man is;

On the wilderness, wherein there is no man;

27 To satisfy the waste and desolate ground;

Or that the wild beast may trample them.

24 He swalloweth the ground with fierceness and rage;
²Neither believeth he that it is the voice of the trumpet.
25 As oft as the trumpet soundeth he saith, Aha!
And he smelleth the battle afar off,
The thunder of the captains, and the shouting.
26 Doth the hawk soar by thy wisdom,
And stretch her wings toward the south?
27 Doth the eagle mount up at thy command,
And make her nest on high?
28 She dwelleth on the rock, and hath her lodging there,
Upon the crag of the rock, and the strong hold.
29 From thence she spieth out the prey;
Her eyes behold it afar off.
30 Her young ones also suck up blood:
And where the slain are, there is she.
40 Moreover the Lord answered Job, and said,
2 Shall he that cavilleth contend with the Almighty?
He that argueth with God, let him answer it.
3 Then Job answered the Lord, and said,
4 Behold, I am of small account; what shall I answer thee?
I lay mine hand upon my mouth.
5 Once have I spoken, and I will not answer;
Yea twice, but I will proceed no further.
6 Then the Lord answered Job out of the whirlwind, and said,
7 Gird up thy loins now like a man:
I will demand of thee, and declare thou unto me.
8 Wilt thou even disannul my judgment?
Wilt thou condemn me, that thou mayest be justified?
9 Or hast thou an arm like God?
And canst thou thunder with a voice like him?
10 Deck thyself now with excellency and dignity;
And array thyself with honour and majesty.
11 Pour forth the overflowings of thine anger:
And look upon every one that is proud, and abase him.
12 Look on every one that is proud, and bring him low;
And tread down the wicked where they stand.
13 Hide them in the dust together;

Bind their faces in the hidden place.
14 Then will I also confess of thee
That thine own right hand can save thee.
15 Behold now ³behemoth, which I made with thee;
He eateth grass as an ox.
16 Lo now, his strength is in his loins,
And his force is in the muscles of his belly.
17 He moveth his tail like a cedar:
The sinews of his thighs are knit together.
18 His bones are as tubes of brass;
His ⁴limbs are like bars of iron.
19 He is the chief of the ways of God:
⁵He only that made him can make his sword to approach unto him.
20 Surely the mountains bring him forth food;
Where all the beasts of the field do play.
21 He lieth under the lotus trees,
In the covert of the reed, and the fen.
22 The lotus trees cover him with their shadow;
The willows of the brook compass him about.
23 Behold, if a river ⁶overflow, he trembleth not:
He is confident, though Jordan swell even to his mouth.
24 Shall any take him when he is on the watch,
Or pierce through his nose with a snare?
41 Canst thou draw out ⁷leviathan with a fish hook?
Or press down his tongue with a cord?
2 Canst thou put ⁸a rope into his nose?
Or pierce his jaw through with a ⁹hook?
3 Will he make many supplications unto thee?
Or will he speak soft words unto thee?
4 Will he make a covenant with thee,
That thou shouldest take him for a servant for ever?
5 Wilt thou play with him as with a bird?
Or wilt thou bind him for thy maidens?
6 Shall the bands of fishermen make traffic of him?
Shall they part him among the merchants?
7 Canst thou fill his skin with barbed irons,
Or his head with fish spears?
8 Lay thine hand upon him;
Remember the battle, and do so no more.
9 Behold, the hope of him is in vain:
Shall not one be cast down even at the sight of him?

13 Who can ¹strip off his outer garment? Who shall come within his double bridle?

14 Who can open the doors of his face?

²Round about his teeth is terror.

15 His ³strong scales are his pride, Shut up together as with a close seal.

16 One is so near to another, That no air can come between them.

17 They are joined one to another; They stick together, that they cannot be sundered.

18 His neesings flash forth light, And his eyes are like the eyelids of the morning.

19 Out of his mouth go burning torches, And sparks of fire leap forth.

20 Out of his nostrils a smoke goeth, As of a seething pot and burning rushes.

21 His breath kindleth coals, And a flame goeth forth from his mouth.

22 In his neck abideth strength, And terror danceth before him.

23 The flakes of his flesh are joined together: They are firm upon him; they cannot be moved.

24 His heart is as firm as a stone; Yea, firm as the nether millstone.

25 When he raiseth himself up, the mighty are afraid: By reason of consternation they are beside themselves.

26 If one lay at him with the sword, it cannot avail; Nor the spear, the dart, nor the ⁴pointed shaft.

27 He counteth iron as straw, And brass as rotten wood.

28 The ⁵arrow cannot make him flee: Slingstones are turned with him into stubble.

29 Clubs are counted as stubble: He laugheth at the rushing of the javelin.

30 His underparts are like sharp potsherd: He spreadeth as it were a threshing wain upon the mire.

31 He maketh the deep to boil like a pot: He maketh the sea like ointment.

32 He maketh a path to shine after him; One would think the deep to be boary.

33 Upon earth there is not his like, That is made without fear.

34 He beholdeth every thing that is high: He is king over all the ⁶sons of pride.

42 Then Job answered the LORD, and said,

2 I know that thou canst do all things, And that no purpose of thine can be restrained.

3 Who is this that hideth counsel without knowledge?

Therefore have I uttered that which I understood not, Things too wonderful for me, which I knew not.

4 Hear, I beseech thee, and I will speak;

⁸I will demand of thee, and declare thou unto me.

5 I had heard of thee by the hearing of the ear;

But now mine eye seeth thee,

6 Wherefore I ⁹abhor myself, and repent In dust and ashes.

7 And it was so, that after the LORD had spoken these words unto Job, the LORD said to Eliphaz the Temanite, My wrath is kindled against thee, and against thy two friends: for ye have not spoken of me the thing that is right, As my servant Job hath.

8 Now therefore, take unto you seven bullocks and seven rams, and go to my servant Job, and offer up for yourselves a burnt offering; and my servant Job shall pray for you; for him will I accept, that I deal not with you after your folly; for ye have not spoken of me the thing that is right, as my servant Job hath.

9 So Eliphaz the Temanite and Bildad the Shuhite and Zophar the Naamathite went, and did according as the LORD commanded them: and the LORD ac-

10 cepted Job. And the LORD turned the captivity of Job, when he prayed for his friends: and the LORD gave Job

11 twice as much as he had before. Then came there unto him all his brethren, and all his sisters, and all they that had been of his acquaintance before, and did eat bread with him in his house: and they bemoaned him, and comforted him concerning all the evil that the LORD had brought upon him: every man also gave him a ¹⁰piece of money, and every one a ring of gold.

12 So the LORD blessed the latter end of Job more than his beginning: and he had fourteen thousand sheep, and six thousand camels, and a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand she-asses.

13 He had also seven sons and three daughters. And he called the name of the first, Jemimah; and the name of the second, Keziah; and the name

15 of the third, Keren-happuch. And in all the land were no women found so fair as the daughters of Job; and their father gave them inheritance

16 among their brethren. And after this Job lived an hundred and forty years, and saw his sons, and his sons' sons, 17 even four generations. So Job died, being old and full of days.

¹ Or, Happy	1 ¹BLESSED is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the wicked, Nor standeth in the way of sinners, Nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful. 2 But his delight is in the law of the LORD; And in his law doth he meditate day and night. 3 And he shall be like a tree planted by the streams of water, That bringeth forth its fruit in its season, Whose leaf also doth not wither; And ²whatsoever he doeth shall prosper. 4 The wicked are not so; But are like the chaff which the wind driveth away. 5 Therefore the wicked shall not stand in the judgement, Nor sinners in the congregation of the righteous. 6 For the LORD knoweth the way of the righteous: But the way of the wicked shall perish.	10 Now therefore be wise, O ye kings: Be instructed, ye judges of the earth. 11 Serve the LORD with fear, And rejoice with trembling. 12 ⁶Kiss the son, lest he be angry, and ye perish in the way, For his wrath ⁷will soon be kindled. ¹Blessed are all they that ⁸put their trust in him.	⁶ Some ancient versions render, Lay hold of (or, Receive) instruction others, Worship in purity. ⁷ Or, may ⁸ Or, take refuge
² Or, in whatsoever he doeth he shall prosper	2 Why do the nations ³rage, And the peoples ⁴imagine a vain thing? 2 The kings of the earth set themselves, And the rulers take counsel together, Against the LORD, and against his anointed, saying, 3 Let us break their bands asunder, And cast away their cords from us. 4 He that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh: The Lord shall have them in derision. 5 Then shall he speak unto them in his wrath, And ⁵vex them in his sore displeasure: 6 Yet I have set my king Upon my holy hill of Zion. 7 I will tell of the decree: The LORD said unto me, Thou art my son; This day have I begotten thee. 8 Ask of me, and I will give thee the nations for thine inheritance, And the uttermost parts of the earth for thy possession. 9 Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron; Thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel.	3 A Psalm of David, when he fled from Absalom his son. 1 LORD, how are mine adversaries increased! Many are they that rise up against me. 2 Many there be which say ⁹ of my soul, There is no ¹⁰help for him in God. [Selah] 3 But thou, O LORD, art a shield about me; My glory, and the lifter up of mine head. 4 I cry unto the LORD with my voice, And he answereth me out of his holy hill. [Selah] 5 I laid me down and slept; I awaked; for the LORD sustaineth me. 6 I will not be afraid of ten thousands of the people, That have set themselves against me round about. 7 Arise, O LORD; save me, O my God: For thou hast smitten all mine enemies upon the cheek bone; Thou hast broken the teeth of the wicked. 8 ¹¹ Salvation belongeth unto the LORD: Thy blessing be upon thy people. [Selah]	⁹ Or, to ¹⁰ Or, salvation
³ Or, tumultuously assemble ⁴ Or, meditate	4 For the Chief Musician; on stringed instruments. A Psalm of David. 1 Answer me when I call, O God of my righteousness; Thou hast set me at large when I was in distress: 12 Have mercy upon me, and hear my prayer. 2 O ye sons of men, how long shall my glory be turned into dishonour? How long will ye love vanity, and seek after falsehood? [Selah] 3 But know that the LORD hath set apart ¹³him that is godly for himself: The LORD will hear when I call unto him.	¹¹ Or, Victory	¹² Or, Be gracious unto me

⁴¹ Stand in awe, and sin not :
Commune with your own heart upon your bed, and be still. [Selah]

⁵ Offer the sacrifices of righteousness,
And put your trust in the LORD.

⁶ Many there be that say, Who will shew us any good?

LORD, lift thou up the light of thy countenance upon us.

⁷ Thou hast put gladness in my heart,
More than they have when their corn and their wine are increased.

⁸ In peace will I both lay me down and sleep:

For thou, LORD, ²alone makest me dwell in safety.

² Or, in solitude

⁵ For the Chief Musician; with the ³ Nehiloth.
A Psalm of David.

¹ Give ear to my words, O LORD,
Consider my meditation.

² Harken unto the voice of my cry, my King, and my God:

For unto thee do I pray.

³ O LORD, in the morning shalt thou hear my voice;

In the morning will I order my prayer
unto thee, and will keep watch.

⁴ For thou art not a God that hath pleasure in wickedness;

⁴ Evil shall not sojourn with thee.

⁵ ⁵ The arrogant shall not stand in thy sight:

Thou hatest all workers of iniquity.

⁶ Thou shalt destroy them that speak lies:
The LORD abhorreth the bloodthirsty and deceitful man.

⁷ But as for me, in the multitude of thy lovingkindness will I come into thy house:

In thy fear will I worship toward thy holy temple.

⁸ Lead me, O LORD, in thy righteousness because of ⁶ mine enemies;
Make thy way plain before my face.

⁹ For there is no ⁷ faithfulness in their mouth;

Their inward part is ⁸ very wickedness:
Their throat is an open sepulchre;

They ⁹ flatter with their tongue.

¹⁰ Hold them guilty, O God;

Let them fall ¹⁰ by their own counsels:
Thrust them out in the multitude of their transgressions;

For they have rebelled against thee.

¹¹ ¹¹ But let all those that put their trust in thee rejoice,

Let them ever shout for joy, because thou defendest them:

Let them also that love thy name be joyful in thee.

¹² For thou wilt bless the righteous;

O LORD, thou wilt compass him with favour as with a shield.

⁶ For the Chief Musician; on stringed instruments, set to ¹² the Sheminih. A Psalm of David.

¹ O LORD, rebuke me not in thine anger, Neither chasten me in thy hot displeasure.

⁴ Or, The evil man
⁵ Or, Fools

⁶ Or, them that lie in wait for me

⁷ Or, stedfastness

⁸ Or, a yawning gulf

⁹ Heb. make smooth their tongue.

¹⁰ Or, from their counsels

¹¹ Or, no shall all those

¹² Or, rejoice, they shall ever shout...

¹³ Or, and thou shalt defend them; they shall be joyful in thee

¹⁴ Or, the eighth

² Have mercy upon me, O LORD; for
I am withered away:

O LORD, heal me; for my bones are vexed.

³ My soul also is sore vexed:

And thou, O LORD, how long?

⁴ Return, O LORD, deliver my soul:

Save me for thy lovingkindness' sake.

⁵ For in death there is no remembrance of thee:

In ¹³ Sheol who shall give thee thanks?

⁶ I am weary with my groaning;

Every night make I my bed to swim;

I water my couch with my tears.

⁷ Mine eye wasteth away because of grief;

It waxeth old because of all mine adversaries.

⁸ Depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity;

For the LORD hath heard the voice of my weeping.

⁹ The LORD hath heard my supplication;

The LORD will receive my prayer.

¹⁰ All mine enemies shall be ashamed and sore vexed:

They shall turn back, they shall be ashamed suddenly.

⁷ Shiggaion of David, which he sang unto the LORD, concerning the words of Cush a Benjamite.

¹ O LORD my God, in thee do I ¹⁴ put my trust:

Save me from all them that pursue me, and deliver me:

² Lest he tear my soul like a lion,

Rending it in pieces, while there is none to deliver.

³ O LORD my God, if I have done this;

If there be iniquity in my hands;

⁴ If I have rewarded evil unto him
that was at peace with me;

(Yea, I have delivered him that without cause was mine adversary:)

⁵ Let the enemy pursue my soul, and overtake it;

Yea, let him tread my life down to the earth,

And lay my glory in the dust. [Selah]

⁶ Arise, O LORD, in thine anger,

Lift up thyself against the rage of mine adversaries:

And awake for me; thou hast commanded judgement.

⁷ ¹⁵ And let the congregation of the peoples compass thee about:

And over them return thou on high.

⁸ The LORD ministereth judgement to the peoples:

Judge me, O LORD, according to my righteousness, and to mine integrity

¹⁶ that is in me.

⁹ Oh let the wickedness of the wicked come to an end, but establish thou the righteous:

For the righteous God trieth the hearts and reins.

10 My shield is with God,
Which saveth the upright in heart.
11 God is a righteous judge, Yea, a God that hath indignation every day.

12¹ If a man turn not, he will whet his sword;

He hath bent his bow, and made it ready.

13 He hath also prepared for him the instruments of death;

He maketh his arrows fiery shafts.

14 Behold, he travaileth with iniquity; Yea, he hath conceived mischief, and brought forth falsehood.

15 He hath made a pit, and digged it,
And is fallen into the ditch which he made.

16 His mischief shall return upon his own head,
And his violence shall come down upon his own pate.

17 I will give thanks unto the LORD
according to his righteousness:
And will sing praise to the name of the LORD Most High.

8 For the Chief Musician; set to the Gittith.
A Psalm of David.

1 O LORD, our Lord, How excellent is thy name in all the earth!

Who² hast set thy glory³ upon the heavens.

2 Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings hast thou established strength.
Because of thine adversaries,
That thou mightest still the enemy and the avenger.

3 When I consider thy heavens, the work of thy fingers,
The moon and the stars, which thou hast ordained;

4 What is man, that thou art mindful of him?
And the son of man, that thou visitest
him?

5 For thou hast made him but little lower than⁴ God,
And crownest him with glory and honour.

6 Thou madest him to have dominion over the works of thy hands;

Thou hast put all things under his feet:

7 All sheep and oxen,
Yea, and the beasts of the field;

8 The fowl of the air, and the fish of the sea,

Whatsoever passeth through the paths of the seas.

9 O LORD, our Lord, How excellent is thy name in all the earth!

9 For the Chief Musician; set to Muth-labben.
A Psalm of David.

1 I will give thanks unto the LORD with my whole heart;

I will shew forth all thy marvellous works.

2 I will be glad and exult in thee:

I will sing praise to thy name, O thou ⁵ Most High.

3 When mine enemies turn back,
They stumble and perish at thy presence.

4 For thou hast maintained my right and my cause;
Thou satest in the throne judging righteously.

5 Thou hast rebuked the⁶ nations, thou hast destroyed the wicked, Thou hast blotted out their name for ever and ever.

6⁷ The enemy are come to an end, they are desolate for ever;

⁸ And the cities which thou hast⁹ overthrown,

Their very memorial is perished.

7 But the LORD sitteth as king for ever:
He hath prepared his throne for judgement.

8 And he shall judge the world in righteousness,

He shall minister judgement to the ¹⁰ peoples in uprightness.

9 The LORD also will be a high tower for the oppressed,

A high tower in times of trouble;

10 And they that know thy name will put their trust in thee;

For thou, LORD, hast not forsaken them that seek thee.

11 Sing praises to the LORD, which dwelleth in Zion:

Declare among the¹¹ people his doings.

12¹² For he that maketh inquisition for blood remembereth them:

He forgetteth not the cry of the¹³ poor.

13 Have mercy upon me, O LORD;
Behold my affliction which I suffer¹⁴

of them that hate me, Thou that liftest me up from the gates of death;

14 That I may shew forth all thy praise:
In the gates of the daughter of Zion,
I will rejoice in thy¹⁵ salvation.

15 The nations are sunk down in the pit that they made:

In the net which they hid is their own foot taken.

16 The LORD hath made himself known,
he hath executed judgement:

¹⁶ The wicked is snared in the work of his own hands. [Higgaion. Selah]

17 The wicked shall return to Sheol,
Even all the nations that forget God.

18 For the needy shall not alway be forgotten,

Nor the expectation of the¹⁷ poor perish
for ever.

19 Arise, O LORD; let not man prevail:
Let the nations be judged in thy sight.

20 Put them in fear, O LORD: Let the nations know themselves to be but men. [Selah]

Why hidest thou thyself in times of

² is hotly pursued;
³ Let them be taken in the devices that they have imagined.
3 For the wicked boasteth of his heart's desire,
And ⁴ the covetous renounceth, yea,
⁵ contemneth the LORD.
4 The wicked, in the pride of his countenance, saith, He will not require it.
All his thoughts are, There is no God.
5 His ways are ⁶ firm at all times;
Thy judgements are far above out of his sight:
As for all his adversaries, he puffeth at them.
6 He saith in his heart, I shall not be moved:
To all generations I shall not be in adversity.
7 His mouth is full of cursing and deceit and ⁷ oppression:
Under his tongue is mischief and iniquity.
8 He sitteth in the lurking places of the villages:
In the covert places doth he murder the innocent:
His eyes are privily set against the ⁸ helpless.
9 He lurketh in the covert as a lion in his den:
He lieth in wait to catch the poor:
He doth catch the poor, when he draweth him in his net.
10 ⁹ He croucheth, he boweth down,
And the ⁸ helpless fall by his stronger ones.
11 He saith in his heart, God hath forgotten:

Forget not the ¹⁰ poor.
13 Wherefore doth the wicked contemn God,
And say in his heart, Thou wilt not require it?
14 Thou hast seen it; for thou beholdest ¹¹ mischief and spite, to take it into thy hand:
The ⁸ helpless committeth himself unto thee;
Thou hast been the helper of the fatherless.
15 Break thou the arm of the wicked;
And as for the evil man, seek out his wickedness till thou find none.
16 The LORD is King for ever and ever:
The ¹² nations are perished out of his land.
17 LORD, thou hast heard the desire of the meek:
Thou wilt ¹³ prepare their heart, thou wilt cause thine ear to hear:
18 To judge the fatherless and the oppressed,
That man which is of the earth may be terrible no more.

11 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.
1 In the LORD put I my trust:
How say ye to my soul,
Flee ¹⁴ as a bird to your mountain?
2 For, lo, the wicked bend the bow,
They make ready their arrow upon the string,
That they may shoot in darkness at the upright in heart.
3 ¹⁵ If the foundations be destroyed,
What can the righteous do?
4 The LORD is in his holy temple,
The LORD, his throne is in heaven;
His eyes behold, his eyelids try, the children of men.
5 The LORD trieth the righteous:
But the wicked and him that loveth violence his soul hateth.
6 Upon the wicked he shall rain snares:
Fire and brimstone and burning wind shall be the portion of their cup.
7 For the LORD is righteous; he loveth ¹⁶ righteousness:
¹⁷ The upright shall behold his face.

12 For the Chief Musician; set to ¹⁸ the Sheminith. A Psalm of David.
1 Help, LORD; for the godly man ceaseth;
For ¹⁹ the faithful fail from among the children of men.
2 They speak vanity every one with his neighbour:
With flattering lip, and with a double heart, do they speak.
3 The LORD shall cut off all flattering lips,
The tongue that speaketh great things:
4 Who have said, With our tongue will we prevail;
Our lips are ²⁰ our own: who is lord over us?
5 For the spoiling of the poor, for the sighing of the needy,
Now will I arise, saith the LORD;
I will set him ²¹ in safety at whom they puff.
6 The words of the LORD are pure words;
As silver tried in a furnace on the earth, Purified seven times.
7 Thou shalt keep them, O LORD,
Thou shalt preserve them from this generation for ever.
8 The wicked walk on every side,
When vileness is exalted among the sons of men.

13 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.
1 How long, O LORD, wilt thou forget me for ever?
How long wilt thou hide thy face from me?
2 How long shall I take counsel in my soul,
Having sorrow in my heart all the day?
How long shall mine enemy be exalted over me?

Lest mine adversaries rejoice when I am moved.

5 But I have trusted in thy mercy;
My heart shall rejoice in thy salvation:

6 I will sing unto the LORD,
Because he hath dealt bountifully with me.

14 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

1 The fool hath said in his heart, There is no God.

They are corrupt, they have done abominable works;
There is none that doeth good.

2 The LORD looked down from heaven upon the children of men,
To see if there were any that did understand,

That did seek after God.

3 They are all gone aside; they are together become filthy;
There is none that doeth good, no, not one.

4 Have all the workers of iniquity no knowledge?
Who eat up my people as they eat bread,
And call not upon the LORD.

5 There were they in great fear:
For God is in the generation of the righteous.

6 Ye put to shame the counsel of the poor,
Because the LORD is his refuge.

7 Oh that the salvation of Israel were come out of Zion!

When the LORD bringeth back the captivity of his people,
Then shall Jacob rejoice, and Israel shall be glad.

15 A Psalm of David.

1 LORD, who shall sojourn in thy tabernacle?

Who shall dwell in thy holy hill?

2 He that walketh uprightly, and worketh righteousness,
And speaketh truth in his heart.

3 He that slandereth not with his tongue,
Nor doeth evil to his friend,

Nor taketh up a reproach against his neighbour.

4 In whose eyes a reprobate is despised;
But he honoureth them that fear the LORD.

He that sweareth to his own hurt, and changeth not.

5 He that putteth not out his money to usury,
Nor taketh reward against the innocent.

He that doeth these things shall never be moved.

16 Michtam of David.

1 Preserve me, O God: for in thee do I put my trust.

2 I have said unto the LORD, Thou art my Lord:

I have no good beyond thee.

3 As for the saints that are in the earth,

They are the excellent in whom is all my delight.

4 Their sorrows shall be multiplied that exchange the LORD for another god:

Their drink offerings of blood will I not offer,

Nor take their names upon my lips.

5 The LORD is the portion of mine inheritance and of my cup:

Thou maintainest my lot.

6 The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places;

Yea, I have a goodly heritage.

7 I will bless the LORD, who hath given me counsel:

Yea, my reins instruct me in the night seasons.

8 I have set the LORD always before me: Because he is at my right hand, I shall not be moved.

9 Therefore my heart is glad, and my glory rejoiceth:

My flesh also shall dwell in safety.

10 For thou wilt not leave my soul to Sheol;

Neither wilt thou suffer thine holy one to see corruption.

11 Thou wilt shew me the path of life: In thy presence is fulness of joy;

In thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore.

17 A Prayer of David.

1 Hear the right, O LORD, attend unto my cry;

Give ear unto my prayer, that goeth not out of feigned lips.

2 Let my sentence come forth from thy presence;

Let thine eyes look upon equity.

3 Thou hast proved mine heart; thou hast visited me in the night;

Thou hast tried me, and findest nothing;

I am purposed that my mouth shall not transgress.

4 As for the works of men, by the word of thy lips

I have kept me from the ways of the violent.

5 My steps have held fast to thy paths, My feet have not slipped.

6 I have called upon thee, for thou wilt answer me, O God:

Incline thine ear unto me, and hear my speech.

7 Shew thy marvellous lovingkindness, O thou that savest them which put their trust in thee

From those that rise up against them, by thy right hand.

10¹ They are inclosed in their own fat:
With their mouth they speak proudly.
11 They have now compassed us in our steps:

They set their eyes to cast us down to the earth.

12 He is like a lion that is greedy of his prey,

And as it were a young lion lurking in secret places.

13 Arise, O LORD,

² Confront him, cast him down:

Deliver my soul from ⁸ the wicked by thy sword;

14 From ⁴ men, by thy hand, O LORD,

⁵ From men of the world, whose portion is in this life,

And whose belly thou fillest with thy treasure:

They are satisfied with children,

And leave the rest of their substance to their babes.

15 As for me, ⁶ I shall behold thy face in righteousness:

⁶ I shall be satisfied, when I awake, with thy ⁷ likeness.

18 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David
the servant of the LORD, ⁸ who spake unto the LORD the words of this song in the day that the LORD delivered him from the hand of all his enemies, and from the hand of Saul: and he said,

1 I love thee, O LORD, my strength.

2 The LORD is my rock, and my fortress,
and my deliverer;

My God, my strong rock, in him will I trust;

My shield, and the horn of my salvation, my high tower.

3 I will call upon the LORD, who is worthy to be praised:

So shall I be saved from mine enemies.

4 The cords of death compassed me,
And the floods of ⁹ ungodliness made me afraid.

5 The cords of Sheol were round about
me:

The snares of death came upon me.

6 In my distress I called upon the LORD,
And cried unto my God:

He heard my voice out of his temple,

And my cry before him came into his ears.

7 Then the earth shook and trembled,
The foundations also of the mountains moved

And were shaken, because he was wroth.

8 There went up a smoke ¹⁰ out of his nostrils,

And fire out of his mouth devoured:

Coals were kindled by it.

9 He bowed the heavens also, and came down;

And thick darkness was under his feet.

10 And he rode upon a cherub, and did fly:
Yea, he flew swiftly upon the wings of the wind.

11 He made darkness his hiding place, his pavilion round about him;

Darkness of waters, thick clouds of the skies.

12 At the brightness before him his thick clouds passed,

Hailstones and coals of fire.

13 The LORD also thundered in the
heavens,

And the Most High uttered his voice;

Hailstones and coals of fire.

14 And he sent out his arrows, and scattered them;

¹¹ Yea, lightnings manifold, and discomfited them.

15 Then the channels of waters appeared,
And the foundations of the world were laid bare,

At thy rebuke, O LORD,

At the blast of the breath of thy nostrils.

16 He sent from on high, he took me;
He drew me out of ¹² many waters.

17 He delivered me from my strong enemy,

And from them that hated me, for they were too mighty for me.

18 They came upon me in the day of my calamity:

But the LORD was my stay.

19 He brought me forth also into a large place;

He delivered me, because he delighted
in me.

20 The LORD rewarded me according to my righteousness;

According to the cleanness of my hands
hath he recompensed me.

21 For I have kept the ways of the LORD,
And have not wickedly departed from my God.

22 For all his judgements were before me,
And I put not away his statutes from
me.

23 I was also perfect with him,
And I kept myself from mine iniquity.

24 Therefore hath the LORD recompensed me according to my righteousness,

According to the cleanness of my hands
in his eyesight.

25 With the merciful thou wilt shew thyself merciful;

With the perfect man thou wilt shew
thyself perfect;

26 With the pure thou wilt shew thyself pure;

And with the perverse thou wilt shew thyself froward.

27 For thou wilt save the afflicted people;
But the haughty eyes thou wilt bring down.

And who is a rock, beside our God?
 32 The God that girdeth me with strength,
 And maketh my way perfect.
 33 He maketh my feet like hinds' feet:
 And setteth me upon my high places.
 34 He teacheth my hands to war;
 So that mine arms do bend a bow of brass.
 35 Thou hast also given me the shield of thy salvation:
 And thy right hand hath holden me up,
 And thy ¹gentleness hath made me great.
 36 Thou hast enlarged my steps under me,
 And my ²feet have not slipped.
 37 I will pursue mine enemies, and overtake them:
 Neither will I turn again till they are consumed.
 38 I will smite them through that they shall not be able to rise:
 They shall fall under my feet.
 39 For thou hast girded me with strength unto the battle:
 Thou hast ³subdued under me those that rose up against me.
 40 Thou hast also made mine enemies turn their backs unto me,
 That I might cut off them that hate me.
 41 They cried, but there was none to save:
 Even unto the Lord, but he answered them not.
 42 Then did I beat them small as the dust before the wind:
 I did ⁴cast them out as the mire of the streets.
 43 Thou hast delivered me from the strivings of the people;
 Thou ⁵hast made me the head of the nations:
 A people whom I have not known shall serve me.
 44 As soon as they hear of me they shall obey me:
 The strangers shall ⁶submit themselves unto me.
 45 The strangers shall fade away,
 And shall come trembling out of their close places.

 And exalted be the God of my salvation:
 47 Even the God that executeth vengeance for me,
 And subdueth peoples under me.
 48 He rescueth me from mine enemies:
 Yea, then liftest me up above them that rise up against me:
 Thou deliverest me from the violent man.

19 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

1 The heavens declare the glory of God;
 And the firmament sheweth his handy-work.
 2 Day unto day uttereth speech,
 And night unto night sheweth knowledge.
 3 There is no speech nor language;
 Their voice cannot be heard.
 4 Their line is gone out through all the earth,
 And their words to the end of the world.
 In them hath he set a ⁸tabernacle for the sun,
 5 Which is as a bridegroom coming out of his chamber,
 And rejoiceth as a strong man to run his course.
 6 His going forth is from the end of the heaven,
 And his circuit unto the ends of it:
 And there is nothing hid from the heat thereof.
 7 The law of the Lord is perfect, restoring the soul:
 The testimony of the Lord is sure, making wise the simple.
 8 The precepts of the Lord are right, rejoicing the heart:
 The commandment of the Lord is pure, enlightening the eyes.
 9 The fear of the Lord is clean, enduring for ever:
 The judgements of the Lord are true, and righteous altogether.
 10 More to be desired are they than gold, yea, than much fine gold:
 Sweeter also than honey and ⁹the honeycomb.
 11 Moreover by them is thy servant warned:
 In keeping of them there is great reward.
 12 Who can discern his errors?
 Clear thou me from hidden faults.
 13 Keep back thy servant also ¹⁰from presumptuous sins;
 Let them not have dominion over me: then shall I be perfect,
 And I shall be clear from great transgression.

And in thy salvation how greatly shall he rejoice!

They imagined a device, which they are not able to perform.

me, and from the words of my roaring?

2 O my God, I cry in the day-time, but thou answerest not;
And in the night season, ⁸and am not silent.

3 But thou art holy,
O thou that ⁹inhabitest the praises of Israel.

4 Our fathers trusted in thee:
They trusted, and thou didst deliver them.

5 They cried unto thee, and were delivered:

They trusted in thee, and were not ashamed.

6 But I am a worm, and no man;
A reproach of men, and despised of the people.

7 All they that see me laugh me to scorn:

They shoot out the lip, they shake
the head, saying,

8 ¹⁰ Commit thyself unto the LORD; let him deliver him:

Let him deliver him, seeing he delighteth in him.

9 But thou art he that took me out of the womb:

Thou didst make me trust when I was upon my mother's breasts.

10 I was cast upon thee from the womb:
Thou art my God from my mother's belly.

11 Benot far from me; for trouble is near;
For there is none to help.

12 Many bulls have compassed me:
Strong bulls of Bashan have beset me round.

13 They gape upon me with their mouth,
As a ravening and a roaring lion.

14 I am poured out like water,
And all my bones are out of joint:

My heart is like wax;
It is melted in the midst of my bowels.

15 My strength is dried up like a potsherd;
And my tongue cleaveth to my jaws;
And thou hast brought me into the dust of death.

16 For dogs have compassed me:
The assembly of evil-doers have inclosed me;

¹¹ They pierced my hands and my feet.

17 I may tell all my bones;
They look and stare upon me:

18 They part my garments among them,
And upon my vesture do they cast lots.

the affliction of the afflicted;

Neither hath he hid his face from him;
But when he cried unto him, he heard.

25 Of thee cometh my praise in the great congregation:

I will pay my vows before them that fear him.

26 The meek shall eat and be satisfied:
They shall praise the Lord that seek after him:

Let your heart live for ever.

27 All the ends of the earth shall remember and turn unto the Lord:

And all the kindreds of the nations shall worship before thee.

28 For the kingdom is the Lord's:
And he is the ruler over the nations.

29 All the fat ones of the earth shall eat

And I will dwell in the house of the Lord ⁵for ever.

24 A Psalm of David.

1 The earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof;

The world, and they that dwell therein.

2 For he hath founded it upon the seas,
And established it upon the floods.

3 Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord?

And who shall stand in his holy place?

And the King of glory shall come in.

10 Who is this King of glory?
The Lord of hosts,

He is the King of glory. [Selah]

25 A Psalm of David.

1 Unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul.

2 O my God, in thee have I trusted,
Let me not be ashamed;

Let not mine enemies triumph over me.

3 Yea, none that wait on thee shall be ashamed:

They shall be ashamed that deal treacherously without cause.

4 Shew me thy ways, O Lord;
Teach me thy paths.

5 Guide me in thy truth, and teach me;
For thou art the God of my salvation;

On thee do I wait all the day.

6 Remember, O Lord, thy tender mercies and thy lovingkindnesses;

For they have been ever of old.

7 Remember not the sins of my youth,
nor my transgressions:

According to thy lovingkindness remember thou me,

For thy goodness' sake, O Lord.

8 Good and upright is the Lord:
Therefore will he instruct sinners in the way.

9 The meek will he guide in judgement:

32 A Psalm of David. Maschil.

1 Blessed is he whose transgression is forgiven, whose sin is covered.
2 Blessed is the man unto whom the LORD imputeth not iniquity,
And in whose spirit there is no guile.
3 When I kept silence, my bones waxed old
Through my roaring all the day long.
4 For day and night thy hand was heavy
upon me:
My moisture was changed ⁴as with the drought of summer. [Selah] 5 I acknowledged my sin unto thee, and mine iniquity have I not hid:
I said, I will confess my transgressions unto the LORD;
And thou forgavest the iniquity of my sin. [Selah]
6 For this let every one that is godly pray unto thee ⁵in a time when thou mayest be found:
Surely when the great waters overflow they shall not reach unto him.
7 Thou art my hiding place; thou wilt preserve me from trouble;
Thou wilt compass me about with songs of deliverance. [Selah]
8 I will instruct thee and teach thee in the way which thou shalt go:
I will counsel thee with mine eye
upon thee.
9 Be ye not as the horse, or as the mule,
which have no understanding:
Whose trappings must be bit and bridle to hold them in, ⁶Else they will not come near unto
thee.
10 Many sorrows shall be to the wicked:
But he that trusteth in the LORD, mercy shall compass him about.
11 Be glad in the LORD, and rejoice, ye righteous:
And shout for joy, all ye that are upright in heart.
33 Rejoice in the LORD, O ye righteous:
Praise is comely for the upright.
2 Give thanks unto the LORD with harp:
Sing praises unto him with the psaltery of ten strings.
3 Sing unto him a new song;
Play skilfully with a loud noise.
4 For the word of the LORD is right;
And all his work is done in faithfulness.
5 He loveth righteousness and judgement:
The earth is full of the lovingkindness of the LORD.
6 By the word of the LORD were the heavens made;
And all the host of them by the breath of his mouth.
7 He gathereth the waters of the sea
together as an heap:
He layeth up the deeps in storehouses.

Let all the inhabitants of the world stand in awe of him.

9 For he spake, and it was done;
He commanded, and it stood fast.

10 The LORD bringeth the counsel of the nations to nought:
He maketh the thoughts of the peoples to be of none effect.

11 The counsel of the LORD standeth fast for ever,
The thoughts of his heart to all generations.

12 Blessed is the nation whose God is the LORD;
The people whom he hath chosen for his own inheritance.

13 The LORD looketh from heaven;
He beholdeth all the sons of men;

14 From the place of his habitation he looketh forth

Upon all the inhabitants of the earth;
15 He that fashioneth the hearts of them all,

That considereth all their works.

16 There is no king saved by ¹the multitude of an host:
A mighty man is not delivered by great strength.

17 An horse is a vain thing for safety:
Neither shall he deliver any by his great power.

18 Behold, the eye of the LORD is upon them that fear him,

Upon them that ²hope in his mercy;

19 To deliver their soul from death,
And to keep them alive in famine.

20 Our soul hath waited for the LORD:
He is our help and our shield.

21 For our heart shall rejoice in him,
Because we have trusted in his holy name.

22 Let thy mercy, O LORD, be upon us,
According as we ²have hoped in thee.

34 A Psalm of David; when he ³changed his behaviour before Abimelech, who drove him away, and he departed.

1 I will bless the LORD at all times:
His praise shall continually be in my mouth.

2 My soul shall make her boast in the LORD:
The meek shall hear thereof, and be glad.

3 O magnify the LORD with me,
And let us exalt his name together.

4 I sought the LORD, and he answered me,
And delivered me from all my fears.

5 They looked unto him, and were lightened:

And their faces shall never be confounded.

6 This poor man cried, and the LORD heard him,

And saved him out of all his troubles.

7 The angel of the LORD encampeth round about them that fear him,
And delivereth them.

8 O taste and see that the LORD is good:

Blessed is the man that trusteth in him.
9 O fear the LORD, ye his saints:

For there is no want to them that fear him.

10 The young lions do lack, and suffer hunger:

But they that seek the LORD shall not want any good thing.

11 Come, ye children, hearken unto me:
I will teach you the fear of the LORD.

12 What man is he that desireth life,
And loveth many days, that he may see good?

13 Keep thy tongue from evil,
And thy lips from speaking guile.

14 Depart from evil, and do good;
Seek peace, and pursue it.

15 The eyes of the LORD are toward the righteous,
And his ears are open unto their cry.

16 The face of the LORD is against them that do evil,
To cut off the remembrance of them from the earth.

17 The righteous cried, and the LORD heard,
And delivered them out of all their troubles.

18 The LORD is high unto them that are of a broken heart,
And saveth such as be of a contrite spirit.

19 Many are the afflictions of the righteous:

But the LORD delivereth him out of them all.

20 He keepeth all his bones:
Not one of them is broken.

21 Evil shall slay the wicked:
And they that hate the righteous shall be ⁴condemned.

22 The LORD redeemeth the soul of his servants:

And none of them that trust in him shall be ⁴condemned.

A Psalm of David.

1 Strive thou, O LORD, with them that strive with me:

Fight thou against them that fight against me.

2 Take hold of shield and buckler,
And stand up for mine help.

3 Draw out also the spear, ⁵and stop the way against them that pursue me:

Say unto my soul, I am thy salvation.

4 Let them be ashamed and brought to dishonour that seek after my soul:
Let them be turned back and confounded that devise my hurt.

5 Let them be as chaff before the wind,
And the angel of the LORD driving them on.

6 Let their way be ⁶dark and slippery,
And the angel of the LORD pursuing them.

7 For without cause have they hid for me ⁷their net in a pit,
Without cause have they digged a pit for my soul.

And let his net that he hath hid catch himself:

⁹ And my soul shall be joyful in the LORD:
It shall rejoice in his salvation.

10 All my bones shall say, LORD, who is like unto thee,
Which deliverest the poor from him that is too strong for him,
Yea, the poor and the needy from him that spoileth him?

11 ² Uprighteous witnesses rise up;
They ask me of things that I know not.

12 They reward me evil for good,
To the bereaving of my soul.
13 But as for me, when they were sick,
my clothing was sackcloth:
I afflicted my soul with fasting;
And my prayer ³ returned into mine own bosom.

14 I behaved myself as though it had been my friend or my brother:
I bowed down mourning, as one that bewaileth his mother.

15 But when I halted they rejoiced, and gathered themselves together:

The ⁴ objects gathered themselves together against me, and ⁵ I knew it not;
They did tear me, and ceased not:

16 ⁶ Like the profane mockers in feasts,
They gnashed upon me with their teeth.

17 Lord, how long wilt thou look on?
Rescue my soul from their destructions,
⁷ My darling from the lions.

18 I will give thee thanks in the great congregation:
I will praise thee among ⁸ much people.

19 Let not them that are mine enemies ⁹ wrongfully rejoice over me:
Neither let them wink with the eye that hate me without a cause.

20 For they speak not peace:
But they devise deceitful words against them that are quiet in the land.

21 Yea, they opened their mouth wide against me;
They said, Aha, aha, our eye hath seen it.

22 Thou hast seen it, O LORD; keep not silence:
O LORD, be not far from me.

23 Stir up thyself, and awake to my judgement,
Even unto my cause, my God and my Lord.

24 Judge me, O LORD my God, according to thy righteousness;
And let them not rejoice over me.

25 Let them not say in their heart, ¹⁰ Aha, so would we have it:
Let them not say, We have swallowed him up.

26 Let them be ashamed and confounded together that rejoice at mine hurt:
Let them be clothed with shame and dishonour that magnify themselves against me.

27 Let them shout for joy, and be glad, that ¹¹ favour my righteous cause:
Yea, let them say continually, The LORD be magnified,
Which hath pleasure in the prosperity of his servant.

28 And my tongue shall talk of thy righteousness,
And of thy praise all the day long.

36 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David the servant of the LORD.

1 ¹² The transgression of the wicked ¹³ saith within ¹⁴ my heart,
There is no fear of God before his eyes.

2 For ¹⁵ he flattereth himself in his own eyes,
¹⁶ That his iniquity shall not be found out and be hated.

3 The words of his mouth are iniquity and deceit:
He hath left off to be wise and to do good.

4 He deviseth iniquity upon his bed;
He setteth himself in a way that is not good;

He abhorreth not evil.

5 Thy lovingkindness, O LORD, is in the heavens;
Thy faithfulness reacheth unto the skies.

6 Thy righteousness is like the mountains of God;
Thy judgements are a great deep:

O LORD, thou preservest man and beast.

7 How precious is thy lovingkindness, O God!
And the children of men take refuge under the shadow of thy wings.

8 They shall be ¹⁷ abundantly satisfied with the fatness of thy house;
And thou shalt make them drink of the river of thy pleasures.

9 For with thee is the fountain of life:
In thy light shall we see light.

10 O continue thy lovingkindness unto them that know thee;
And thy righteousness to the upright in heart.

11 Let not the foot of pride come against me,
And let not the hand of the wicked drive me away.

12 There are the workers of iniquity fallen:
They are thrust down, and shall not be able to rise.

37 A Psalm of David.

1 Fret not thyself because of evil-doers,
Neither be thou envious against them that work unrighteousness.

2 For they shall soon be cut down like the grass,
And wither as the green herb.

All thy waves and thy billows are gone over me.

8 Yet the LORD will command his loving-kindness in the day-time,
And in the night his song shall be with me,

Even a prayer unto the God of my life.

9 I will say unto God my rock, Why hast thou forgotten me?

Why go I mourning ²because of the oppression of the enemy?

44 For the Chief Musician: a Psalm of the sons of Korah. Maschil.

1 We have heard with our ears, O God, our fathers have told us,
What work thou didst in their days, in the days of old.

2 Thou didst drive out the nations with thy hand, and plantedst them in;
Thou didst afflict the peoples, and ⁶didst spread them abroad.

3 For they gat not the land in possession by their own sword,
Neither did they their own arm save them:
But thy right hand, and thine arm, and the light of thy countenance,
Because thou hadst a favour unto them.

4 Thou art my King, O God:
Command ⁷deliverance for Jacob.

5 Through thee will we push down our adversaries:

Through thy name will we tread them under that rise up against us.

6 For I will not trust in my bow,
Neither shall my sword save me.

7 But thou hast saved us from our adversaries,

And hast put them to shame that hate us.

8 In God have we made our boast all the day long,

And we will give thanks unto thy name for ever. [Selah]

9 But now thou hast cast us off, and brought us to dishonour;

And goest not forth with our hosts.

10 Thou makest us to turn back from the adversary:

And they which hate us spoil for themselves.

11 Thou hast given us like sheep appointed for meat;

And hast scattered us among the nations.

12 Thou sellest thy people for nought, And hast not increased thy wealth by their price.

13 Thou makest us a reproach to our neighbours,

A scorn and a derision to them that are round about us.

14 Thou makest us a byword among the nations,

A shaking of the head among the peoples.

15 All the day long is my dishonour before me,

And the shame of my face hath covered me,

16 For the voice of him that reproacheth and blasphemeth;

By reason of the enemy and the avenger.

17 All this is come upon us; yet have we not forgotten thee,

Neither have we dealt falsely in thy covenant.

18 Our heart is not turned back,

Neither have our steps declined from thy way;

19 ⁸That thou hast sore broken us in the place of jackals,

And covered us with the shadow of death.

20 If we have forgotten the name of our God,

Or spread forth our hands to a strange god;

21 Shall not God search this out?
For he knoweth the secrets of the heart.

22 Yea, for thy sake are we killed all the day long;

We are counted as sheep for the slaughter.

45 For the Chief Musician; set to ¹Shoshannim; a Psalm of the sons of Korah. Maschil. A Song of loves.

1 My heart overfloweth with a goodly matter:

2 I speak the things which I have made touching the king:

My tongue is the pen of a ready writer.

2 Thou art fairer than the children of men;

Grace is poured ³into thy lips:

Therefore God hath blessed thee for ever.

3 Gird thy sword upon thy thigh, O ^amighty one,

Thy glory and thy majesty.

4 And in thy majesty ride on prosperously,

4 Because of truth and meekness and righteousness:

And ⁵thy right hand shall teach thee terrible things.

5 Thine arrows are sharp; ^{or; be} The peoples fall under thee;

They are in the heart of the king's enemies.

6 Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever: A sceptre of equity is the sceptre of thy kingdom.

7 Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated wickedness:

Therefore God, thy God, hath anointed thee

With the oil of gladness above thy fellows.

8 All thy garments smell of myrrh, and aloe, and cassia; Out of ivory palaces stringed instruments have made thee glad.

9 Kings' daughters are among thy honourable women:

At thy right hand doth stand the queen in gold of Ophir.

10 Hearken, O daughter, and consider, and incline thine ear;

Forget also thine own people, and thy father's house;

11 So shall the king desire thy beauty: For he is thy Lord; and worship thou him.

12 And the daughter of Tyre shall be there with a gift;

Even the rich among the people shall intreat thy favour.

13 The king's daughter ⁷within the palace is all glorious:

Her clothing is inwrought with gold.

14 She shall be led unto the king ⁸in broidered work:

The virgins her companions that follow her

Shall be brought unto thee.

15 With gladness and rejoicing shall they be led:

They shall enter into the king's palace.

16 Instead of thy fathers shall be thy children,

Whom thou shalt make princes in all the earth.

17 I will make thy name to be remembered in all generations:

Therefore shall the peoples give thee thanks for ever and ever.

46 For the Chief Musician; a Psalm of the sons of Korah; set to Alamoth. A Song.

1 God is our refuge and strength,

A very present help in trouble.

2 Therefore will we not fear, though the earth do change,

And though the mountains be moved in the heart of the seas;

3 Though the waters thereof roar and be troubled,

Though the mountains shake with the ⁹swelling thereof. [Selah]

4 There is a river, the streams whereof make glad the city of God,

The holy place of the tabernacles of the Most High.

5 God is in the midst of her; she shall not be moved:

God shall help her, ¹⁰and that right early.

6 The nations raged, the kingdoms were moved:

He uttered his voice, the earth melted.

7 The Lord of hosts is with us; The God of Jacob is our ¹¹refuge. [Selah]

8 Come, behold the works of the Lord, ¹²What desolations he hath made in the earth.

9 He maketh wars to cease unto the end of the earth;

He breaketh the bow, and cutteth the spear in sunder;

He burneth the chariots in the fire.

10 ¹³Be still, and know that I am God: I will be exalted among the nations,

I will be exalted in the earth.

11 The Lord of hosts is with us; The God of Jacob is our ¹¹refuge. [Selah]

47 For the Chief Musician; a Psalm of the sons of Korah.

1 O clap your hands, all ye peoples; Shout unto God with the voice of triumph.

2 For ¹⁴the Lord Most High is terrible; He is a great King over all the earth.

3 He ¹⁵shall subdue the peoples under us, And the nations under our feet.

4 He ¹⁶shall choose our inheritance for us,

The excellency of Jacob whom he ¹⁷loved. [Selah]

48 A Song; a Psalm of the sons of Korah.

1 Great is the LORD, and highly to be praised,

In the city of our God, in his holy mountain.

2 Beautiful in elevation, the joy of the whole earth,

Is mount Zion, on the sides of the north, The city of the great King.

3 God hath made himself known in her palaces for a ³refuge.

4 For, lo, the kings assembled themselves,

They ⁴passed by together.

5 They saw it, then were they amazed; They were dismayed, they ⁵hasted away.

6 Trembling took hold of them there;

Pain, as of a woman in travail.

7 ⁶With the east wind

Thou breakest the ships of Tarshish.

8 As we have heard, so have we seen

In the city of the LORD of hosts, in the city of our God:

God will establish it for ever. [Selah]

9 We have thought on thy lovingkindness, O God,

In the midst of thy temple.

10 As is thy name, O God,

So is thy praise unto the ends of the earth:

Thy right hand is full of righteousness.

11 Let mount Zion be glad,

Let the daughters of Judah rejoice, Because of thy judgements.

12 Walk about Zion, and go round about her:

Tell the towers thereof.

13 Mark ye well her bulwarks,

Consider her palaces;

That ye may tell it to the generation following.

14 For this God is our God for ever and ever:

He will be our guide or: Elohim ⁸unto death.

49 For the Chief Musician; a Psalm of the sons of Korah.

1 Hear this, all ye peoples;

Give ear, all ye inhabitants of the world:

2 Both low and high,

Rich and poor together.

3 My mouth shall speak wisdom;

And the meditation of my heart shall be of understanding.

4 I will incline mine ear to a parable:

I will open my dark saying upon the harp.

5 Wherefore should I fear in the days of evil,

When ⁹iniquity at my heels compasseth me about?

6 They that trust in their wealth,

And boast themselves in the multitude of their riches;

7 None of them can by any means redeem his brother,

Nor give to God a ransom for him:

8 (For the redemption of their soul is costly,

And must be let alone for ever:)

9 That he should still live alway,

That he should not see ¹⁰corruption.

10 ¹¹For he seeth that wise men die,

The fool and the brutish together perish,

And leave their wealth to others.

11 ¹²Their inward thought is, that their houses shall continue for ever,

And their dwelling places to all generations;

They call their lands after their own names.

12 But ¹³man abideth not in honour:

He is like the beasts that perish.

13 ¹⁴This their way is ¹⁵their folly:

Yet after them men approve their sayings. [Selah]

14 They are appointed as a flock for Sheol;

Death shall be their shepherd:

And the upright shall have dominion over them in the morning;

And their ¹⁶beauty shall be for Sheol to consume, that there be no habitation for it.

15 But God will redeem my soul from the ¹⁷power of Sheol:

For he shall receive me. [Selah]

16 Be not thou afraid when one is made rich,

When the ¹⁸glory of his house is increased:

17 For when he dieth he shall carry nothing away;

His glory shall not descend after him.

18 Though while he lived he blessed his son,

And men praise thee, when thou doest well to thyself,

19 ¹⁹He shall go to the generation of his fathers;

²⁰They shall never see the light.

20 Man that is in honour, and understandeth not,

Is like the beasts that perish.

52 For the Chief Musician. Maschil of David: when Doeg the Edomite came and told Saul, and said unto him, David is come to the house of Ahimelech.

1 Why boastest thou thyself in mischief, O mighty man?

The mercy of God endureth continually.

2 Thy tongue deviseth very wickedness; Like a sharp razor, working deceitfully.

3 Thou lovest evil more than good; And lying rather than to speak righteousness. [Selah]

4 Thou lovest all devouring words, ¹ O thou deceitful tongue.

He shall take thee up, and pluck thee out of thy tent,

And root thee out of the land of the living. [Selah]

6 The righteous also shall see it, and fear, And shall laugh at him, saying,

7 Lo, this is the man that made not God his ³ strength;

But trusted in the abundance of his riches, And strengthened himself in his wickedness.

8 But as for me, I am like a green olive tree in the house of God:

I trust in the mercy of God for ever and ever.

9 I will give thee thanks for ever, because thou hast done it:

And I will wait on thy name, for it is good, in the presence of thy saints.

53 For the Chief Musician; set to Mahalath. Maschil of David.

1 ⁴ The fool hath said in his heart, There is no God.

Corrupt are they, and have done abominable iniquity; There is none that doeth good.

2 God looked down from heaven upon the children of men,

To see if there were any that did ⁵ understand,

That did seek after God.

3 Every one of them is gone back; they are together become filthy;

There is none that doeth good, no, not one.

4 Have the workers of iniquity no knowledge?

Who eat up my people as they eat bread, And call not upon God.

5 There were they in great fear, where no fear was:

For God hath scattered the bones of him that encampeth against thee;

Thou hast put them to shame, because God hath rejected them.

6 Oh that the salvation of Israel were come out of Zion!

When God ⁶ bringeth back the captivity of his people,

Then shall Jacob rejoice, and Israel shall be glad.

54 For the Chief Musician; on stringed instruments. Maschil of David; when the Ziphites came and said to Saul, Doth not David hide himself with us?

1 Save me, O God, by thy name, And judge me in thy might.

2 Hear my prayer, O God;

Give ear to the words of my mouth.

3 For ⁷ strangers are risen up against me, And violent men have sought after my soul:

They have not set God before them. [Selah]

4 Behold, God is mine helper:

The Lord is ⁸ of them that uphold my soul.

5 ⁹ He shall requite the evil unto ¹⁰ mine enemies:

Destroy thou them in thy truth.

And hide not thyself from my supplication.

2 Attend unto me, and answer me:

I am restless in my complaint, and moan;

3 Because of the voice of the enemy, Because of the oppression of the wicked;

For they cast iniquity upon me, And in anger they persecute me.

4 My heart is sore pained within me: And the terrors of death are fallen upon me.

5 Fearfulness and trembling are come upon me,

And horror hath overwhelmed me.

6 And I said, Oh that I had wings like a dove!

Then would I fly away, and be at rest.

7 Lo, then would I wander far off, I would lodge in the wilderness. [Selah] mighty

¹ Or, judge uprightly the sons of men	Do ye ¹judge uprightly, O ye sons of men? ² Yea, in heart ye work wickedness; Ye weigh out the violence of your hands in the earth. ³ The wicked are estranged from the womb: They go astray as soon as they be born, speaking lies. ⁴ Their poison is like the poison of a serpent: They are like the deaf adder that stoppeth her ear; ⁵ Which hearkeneth not to the voice of ² charmers, Charming never so wisely. ⁶ Break their teeth, O God, in their mouth: Break out the great teeth of the young lions, O LORD. ⁷ Let them melt away as water that runneth apace: When he aimeth his arrows, let them be as though they were cut off. ⁸ Let them be as a snail which melteth and passeth away: Like the untimely birth of a woman, ³ that hath not seen the sun. ⁹ Before your pots can feel the thorns, ⁴ He shall take them away with a whirlwind, the green and the burning alike. ¹⁰ The righteous shall rejoice when he seeth the vengeance: He shall wash his feet in the blood of the wicked. ¹¹ So that men shall say, Verily there is ⁵ a reward for the righteous: Verily there is a God that judgeth in the earth.	⁸ But thou, O LORD, shalt laugh at them; Thou shalt have all the ⁷ heathen in derision. ⁹ O my strength, I will wait upon thee: For God is my high tower. ¹⁰ ⁹ The God of my mercy shall prevent me: God shall let me see my desire upon ¹⁰ mine enemies. ¹¹ Slay them not, lest my people forget: ¹¹ Scatter them by thy power, and bring them down. O Lord our shield. ¹² For the sin of their mouth, and the words of their lips, Let them even be taken in their pride, And for cursing and lying which they speak. ¹³ Consume them in wrath, consume them, that they be no more: And let them know that God ruleth in Jacob, Unto the ends of the earth. [Selah] ¹⁴ And at evening let them return, let them make a noise like a dog, And go round about the city. ¹⁵ They shall wander up and down for meat, And tarry all night if they be not satisfied. ¹⁶ But I will sing of thy strength; Yea, I will sing aloud of thy mercy in the morning: For thou hast been my high tower, And a refuge in the day of my distress.	⁸ So some ancient authorities. The Hebrew text has, His strength. ⁹ According to some ancient authorities, My God with his mercy. ¹⁰ Or, them, that lie in wait for me. ¹¹ Or, Make them wander to and fro.
³ Or, like them that have not seen the sun ⁴ Or, Even as raw flesh, even so, shall fury sweep them away ⁵ Heb. fruit.	⁵⁹ For the Chief Musician; set to Al-tashheth. A Psalm of David: Michtam: when Saul sent, and they watched the house to kill him. ¹ Deliver me from mine enemies, O my God: Set me on high from them that rise up against me. ² Deliver me from the workers of iniquity, And save me from the bloodthirsty men. ³ For, lo, they lie in wait for my soul; The mighty gather themselves together against me: Not for my transgression, nor for my sin, O LORD. ⁴ They run and prepare themselves without my fault: Awake thou to ⁶ help me, and behold. ⁵ Even thou, O LORD God of hosts, the God of Israel, Arise to visit all the ⁷ heathen: Be not merciful to any wicked transgressors. [Selah] ⁶ They return at evening, they make a noise like a dog. ⁷ Behold, they belch out with their mouth; Swords are in their lips: For who, say they, doth hear?	⁶⁰ For the Chief Musician; set to ¹² Shushan Eduth: Michtam of David, to teach; when he strove with Aram-naharaim and with Aram-zobah, and Joab returned, and smote of Edom in the Valley of Salt twelve thousand. ¹ O God, thou hast cast us off, thou hast broken us down; Thou hast been angry; O restore us again. ² Thou hast made the land to tremble; thou hast rent it: Heal the breaches thereof; for it shaketh. ³ Thou hast shewed thy people hard things: Thou hast made us to drink the wine of staggering. ⁴ Thou hast given a banner to them that fear thee, ¹³ That it may be displayed because of the truth. [Selah] ⁵ That thy beloved may be delivered, Save with thy right hand, and answer ¹⁴ us. ⁶ God hath spoken in his holiness; I will exult: I will divide Shechem, and mete out the valley of Succoth.	¹² That is, The Lily of testimony. ¹³ Many ancient authorities render, That they may flee from before the bow. ¹⁴ Another reading is, me.

1 Or, *laugher*2 Or, *unto*3 Or, *Who will lead me &c.*4 Or, *Wilt not thou, O God, which hast cast us off, and goest ... hosts?*5 Heb. *salvation.*6 Or, *fainteth*7 Or, *a rock that is too high for me*8 Heb. *tent.*9 Or, *given an heritage unto those &c.*10 Heb. *is silent unto God.*11 Or, *as otherwise read, He shall be slain &c.*12 Heb. be thou silent unto God.

7 Gilead is mine, and Manasseh is mine; Ephraim also is the defence of mine head;

Judah is my ¹ sceptre.

8 Moab is my washpot;

² Upon Edom will I cast my shoe:

Philistia, shont thou because of me.

9 Who will bring me into the strong city?

³ Who hath led me unto Edom?

10 ⁴ Hast not thou, O God, cast us off?

And thou goest not forth, O God, with our hosts.

11 Give us help against the adversary:

For vain is the ⁵ help of man.

12 Through God we shall do valiantly:

For he it is that shall tread down our adversaries.

61 For the Chief Musician; on a stringed instrument. A Psalm of David.

1 Hear my cry, O God;

Attend unto my prayer.

2 From the end of the earth will I call unto thee, when my heart ⁶ is overwhelmed:

Lead me to ⁷ the rock that is higher than I.

3 For thou hast been a refuge for me, A strong tower from the enemy.

4 I will dwell in thy ⁸ tabernacle for ever: I will take refuge in the covert of thy wings. [Selah]

5 For thou, O God, hast heard my vows:

Thou hast ⁹ given me the heritage of those that fear thy name.

6 Thou wilt prolong the king's life:

His years shall be as many generations.

7 He shall abide before God for ever:

O prepare lovingkindness and truth, that they may preserve him.

8 So will I sing praise unto thy name for ever,

That I may daily perform my vows.

62 For the Chief Musician; after the manner of Jeduthun. A Psalm of David.

1 My soul ¹⁰ waiteth only upon God: From him cometh my salvation. or: 25

2 He only is my rock and my salvation: He is my high tower; I shall not be greatly moved.

3 How long will ye set upon a man,

¹¹ That ye may slay him, all of you, Like a bowing wall, like a tottering fence?

4 They only consult to thrust him down from his excellency;

They delight in lies: They bless with their mouth, but they curse inwardly. [Selah]

5 My soul, ¹² wait thou only upon God;

For my expectation is from him.

6 He only is my rock and my salvation: He is my high tower; I shall not be moved.

7 With God is my salvation and my glory: The rock of my strength, and my refuge, is in God.

8 Trust in him at all times, ye people; Pour out your heart before him:

God is a refuge for us. [Selah]

9 Surely men of low degree are ¹³ vanity, and men of high degree are a lie:

In the balances they will go up; They are together lighter than ¹³ vanity.

10 Trust not in oppression, And become not vain in robbery:

If riches increase, set not your heart thereon.

11 God hath spoken once, Twice have I heard this;

That power belongeth unto God:

12 Also unto thee, O Lord, belongeth mercy:

For thou renderest to every man according to his work.

63 A Psalm of David, when he was in the wilderness of Judah.

1 O God, thou art my God; ¹⁴ early will I seek thee;

My soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth for thee,

In a dry and weary land, where no water is.

2 So have I looked upon thee in the sanctuary,

To see thy power and thy glory.

3 For thy lovingkindness is better than life;

My lips shall praise thee.

4 So will I bless thee while I live:

I will lift up my hands in thy name.

5 My soul shall be satisfied as with ¹⁵ narrow and fatness;

And my mouth shall praise thee with joyful lips;

6 When I remember thee upon my bed, ¹⁶ and meditate on thee in the night watches.

7 For thou hast been my help, And in the shadow of thy wings will I rejoice.

8 My soul followeth hard after thee:

Thy right hand upholdeth me.

9 But those that seek my soul, ¹⁷ to destroy it,

Shall go into the lower parts of the earth.

10 They shall be ¹⁸ given over to the power of the sword:

They shall be a portion for ¹⁹ foxes.

11 But the king shall rejoice in God: Every one that sweareth by him shall glory;

For the mouth of them that speak lies shall be stopped.

64 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

1 Hear my voice, O God, in my complaint:

Preserve my life from fear of the enemy.

2 Hide me from the secret counsel of evil-doers;

From the ²⁰ tumult of the workers of iniquity:

13 Heb. *a breath.*14 Or, *earnestly*15 Heb. *fat.*16 Or, *I meditate*17 Or, *shall be destroyed; they shall &c.*18 Or, *poured out by*19 Or, *jacks*20 Or, through

3 Who have whet their tongue like a sword,
And have aimed their arrows, even bitter words:

4 That they may shoot in secret places at the perfect:
Suddenly do they shoot at him, and fear not.

5 They encourage themselves in an evil purpose;
They commune of laying snares privily;
They say, Who shall see them?

6 They search out iniquities; ¹We have accomplished, say they, a diligent search:
And the inward thought of every one, and the heart, is deep.

7 But God shall shoot at them;
With an arrow suddenly shall they be wounded.

8 ²So they shall be made to stumble, their own tongue being against them:

All that see them shall ³wag the head.

9 And all men shall fear;
And they shall declare the work of God, And shall wisely consider of his doing.

10 The righteous shall be glad in the Lord, and shall trust in him;
And all the upright in heart shall glory.

65 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm.
A Song of David.

1 ⁴Praise waiteth for thee, O God, in Zion:
And unto thee shall the vow be performed.

2 O thou that hearest prayer,
Unto thee shall all flesh come.

3 ⁵Iniquities prevail against me:
As for our transgressions, thou shalt purge them away.

4 Blessed is the man whom thou choos-
est, and causest to approach unto thee,

That he may dwell in thy courts:
We shall be satisfied with the goodness of thy house,
The holy place of thy temple.

5 By terrible things thou wilt answer us in righteousness,
O God of our salvation;
Thou that art the confidence of all the ends of the earth,

6 And of them that are afar off upon the sea:

6 ⁷Which by his strength setteth fast the mountains;

Being girded about with might:
7 Which stilleth the roaring of the seas, the roaring of their waves, And the tumult of the peoples.

8 They also that dwell in the uttermost parts are afraid at thy tokens:
Thou makest the outgoings of the morning and evening to rejoice.

9 Thou visitest the earth, and water-est it,

Thou greatly enrichest it;
The river of God is full of water:
Thou providest them corn, ⁷when thou hast so prepared ⁸the earth.

10 Thou waterest her furrows abundantly;
Thou ⁹settlest the ridges thereof:
Thou makest it soft with showers;
Thou blessest the springing thereof.

11 Thou crownest ¹⁰the year with thy goodness;
And thy paths drop fatness.

12 ¹¹They drop upon the pastures of the wilderness:

And the hills are girded with joy.
13 The pastures are clothed with flocks;
The valleys also are covered over with corn;

They shout for joy, they also sing.

66 For the Chief Musician. A Song, a Psalm.

1 Make a joyful noise unto God, all the earth:

2 Sing forth the glory of his name:
Make his praise glorious.

3 Say unto God, How terrible are thy works!

Through the greatness of thy power shall thine enemies ¹²submit themselves unto thee.

4 All the earth shall worship thee,
And shall sing unto thee;
They shall sing to thy name. [Selah]

5 Come, and see the works of God;
He is terrible in his doing toward the children of men.

6 He turned the sea into dry land:
They went through the river on foot:
There ¹³did we rejoice in him.

7 He ruleth by his might for ever;
His eyes observe the nations:
Let not the rebellious exalt themselves. [Selah]

8 O bless our God, ye peoples,
And make the voice of his praise to be heard:

9 Which ¹⁴holdeth our soul in life,
And suffereth not our feet to be moved.

10 For thou, O God, hast proved us:
Thou hast tried us, as silver is tried.

11 Thou broughtest us into the net;
Thou layedst a sore burden upon our loins.

12 Thou hast caused men to ride over our heads;
We went through fire and through water;
But thou broughtest us out into ¹⁵a wealthy place.

13 I will come into thy house with burnt offerings,
I will pay thee my vows,

14 Which my lips have uttered,
And my mouth hath spoken, when I was in distress.

15 I will offer unto thee burnt offerings of fatlings,
With the incense of rams;

I will offer bullocks with goats. [Selah]
16 Come, and hear, all ye that fear God,

1 Or, as otherwise read,

67 For the Chief Musician; on stringed instruments. A Psalm, a Song.

1 God be merciful unto us, and bless us, And cause his face to shine ⁴upon us; [Selah]

2 That thy way may be known upon earth, Thy saving health among all nations.

3 Let the peoples ⁵praise thee, O God; Let all the peoples praise thee.

4 O let the nations be glad and sing for joy:

For thou shalt judge the peoples with equity,

And ⁶govern the nations upon earth. [Selah]

5 Let the peoples praise thee, O God; Let all the peoples praise thee.

6 The earth hath yielded her increase: God, even our own God, shall bless us.

7 God shall bless us; And all the ends of the earth shall fear him.

68 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David, a Song.

1 Let God arise, let his enemies be scattered;

Let them also that hate him flee before him.

2 As smoke is driven away, so drive them away:

As wax melteth before the fire, So let the wicked perish at the presence of God.

3 But let the righteous be glad; let them exult before God:

Yea, let them rejoice with gladness.

4 Sing unto God, sing praises to his name:

Cast up a high way for him that rideth through the deserts;

His name is JAH; and exult ye before him.

5 A father of the fatherless, and a judge of the widows,

Is God in his holy habitation.

6 God ⁷setteth the solitary in families; He bringeth out the prisoners into prosperity:

But the rebellious dwell in a parched land.

7 O God, when thou wentest forth before thy people,

When thou didst march through the wilderness; [Selah]

8 The earth trembled, The heavens also dropped at the presence of God:

Even yon Sinai ~~trembled~~ at the presence of God, the God of Israel.

9 Thou, O God, didst send a plentiful rain,

Thou didst confirm thine inheritance, when it was weary.

10 Thy ⁸congregation dwelt therein:

Thou, O God, didst prepare of thy goodness for the poor.

11 The Lord giveth the word:

The women that publish the tidings are a great host.

12 Kings of armies flee, they flee:

And she that tarryeth at home divideth the spoil.

69 For the Chief Musician; set to 8 Shoshannim, A Psalm of David.

1 Save me, O God;
For the waters are come in unto my soul.

2 I sink in deep mire, where there is no standing:

I am come into deep waters, where the floods overflow me.

3 I am weary with my crying; my throat is dried:

Mine eyes fail while I wait for my God.

4 They that hate me without a cause are more than the hairs of mine head:

They that would cut me off, being mine enemies 9 wrongfully, are mighty:

Then I 10 restored that which I took not away.

5 O God, thou knowest my foolishness;
And my 11 sins are not hid from thee.

6 Let not them that wait on thee be ashamed through me, O Lord God
of hosts:

Let not those that seek thee be brought to dishonour through me,
O God of Israel.

7 Because for thy sake I have borne reproach;

Shame hath covered my face.

8 I am become a stranger unto my brethren,

And an alien unto my mother's children.

9 For the zeal of thine house hath eaten me up;

And the reproaches of them that reproach thee are fallen upon me.

10 When I wept, and chastened my soul with fasting,

That was to my reproach.

11 When I made sackcloth my clothing,
I became a proverb unto them.

12 They that sit in the gate talk of me;
And I am the song of the drunkards.

13 But as for me, my prayer is unto thee,
O Lord, in an acceptable time:

O God, in the multitude of thy mercy,
Answer me in the truth of thy salvation.

14 Deliver me out of the mire, and let me not sink:

Let me be delivered from them that hate me, and out of the deep waters.

15 Let not the waterflood overwhelm me,
Neither let the deep swallow me up;

And let not the pit shut her mouth
upon me.

16 Answer me, O LORD; for thy loving-kindness is good:

According to the multitude of thy tender mercies turn thou unto me.

17 And hide not thy face from thy servant;

For I am in distress; answer me speedily.

18 Draw nigh unto my soul, and redeem
it:

Ransom me because of mine enemies.

19 Thou knowest my reproach, and my shame, and my dishonour:

Mine adversaries are all before thee.

20 Reproach hath broken my heart; and I am 12 full of heaviness:

And I looked for some to take pity,
but there was none;

And for comforters, but I found none.

21 They gave me also 13 gall for my meat;
And in my thirst they gave me vinegar to drink.

22 Let their table before them become a snare;

And when they are in peace, let it become a trap.

23 Let their eyes be darkened, that they see not;

And make their legs continually to shake.

24 Pour out thine indignation upon them,
And let the fierceness of thine anger overtake them.

25 Let their 14 habitation be desolate;
Let none dwell in their tents.

26 For they persecute him whom thou hast smitten;

And they tell of the 15 sorrow of those whom thou hast wounded.

27 Add iniquity unto their iniquity:
And let them not come into thy righteousness.

28 Let them be blotted out of the book of ¹life,

And not be written with the righteous.

29 But I am poor and ²sorrowful:

Let thy salvation, O God, set me up on high.

30 I will praise the name of God with a song,

And will magnify him with thanksgiving.

31 And it shall please the LORD better than an ox,

Or a bullock that hath horns and hoofs.

32 The meek have seen it, and are glad:
Ye that seek after God, let your heart live.

33 For the LORD heareth the needy,
And despiseth not his prisoners.

34 Let heaven and earth praise him,
The seas, and every thing that moveth therein.

35 For God will save Zion, and build the cities of Judah;

And they shall abide there, and have it in possession.

36 The seed also of his servants shall inherit it;

And they that love his name shall dwell therein.

70 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David;
³to bring to remembrance.

1 ⁴*Make haste*, O God, to deliver me;
Make haste to help me, O LORD.

2 Let them be ashamed and confounded
That seek after my soul:

Let them be turned backward and brought to dishonour

That delight in my hurt.

3 Let them be turned back ⁵by reason of their shame

That say, Aha, Aha.

4 Let all those that seek thee rejoice and be glad in thee;

And let such as love thy salvation say continually,

Let God be magnified.

5 But I am poor and needy;

Make haste unto me, O God:

Thou art my help and my deliverer;

O LORD, make no tarrying.

71 ⁶In thee, O LORD, do I put my trust:
Let me never be ashamed.

2 Deliver me in thy righteousness, and rescue me:

Bow down ⁷thine ear unto me, and save me.

3 Be thou to me ^{7a}a rock of habitation, whereunto I may continually resort:

Thou hast given commandment to save me;

For thou art my rock and my fortress.

4 Rescue me, O my God, out of the hand of the wicked,

Out of the hand of the unrighteous and cruel man.

5 For thou art my hope, O Lord God:

~~Thou art~~ my trust from my youth.

6 By thee have I been holden up from the womb:

⁸Thou art he that took me out of my mother's bowels:

My praise shall be continually of thee.

7 I am as a wonder unto many;

But thou art my strong refuge.

8 My mouth shall be filled with thy praise,

And with thy honour all the day.

9 Cast me not off in the time of old age;

Forsake me not when my strength faileth.

10 For mine enemies speak concerning me;
And they that watch for my soul take counsel together,

11 Saying, God hath forsaken him:

Pursue and take him; for there is none to deliver.

12 O God, be not far from me:

O my God, make haste to help me.

13 Let them be ashamed and consumed that are adversaries to my soul;

Let them be covered with reproach and dishonour that seek my hurt.

14 But I will hope continually,
And will praise thee yet more and more.

15 My mouth shall tell of thy righteousness,

~~and~~ of thy salvation all the day;

For I know not the numbers thereof.

16 I will come ⁹with the mighty acts of the Lord God:

I will make mention of thy righteousness, even of thine only.

17 O God, thou hast taught me from my youth;

And hitherto have I declared thy wondrous works.

18 Yea, even ¹⁰when I am old and gray-headed, O God, forsake me not;

Until I have declared ¹¹thy strength unto the next generation,

Thy might to every one that is to come.

19 Thy righteousness also, O God, is very high;

Thou who hast done great things,

O God, who is like unto thee?

20 Thou, which hast shewed ¹²us many and sore troubles,

Shalt quicken ^{12a}us again,

And shalt bring ^{12b}us up again from the depths of the earth.

21 Increase thou my greatness,

And turn again and comfort me.

22 I will also praise thee with the psaltery,

Even thy truth, O my God:

Unto thee will I sing praises with the harp,

O thou Holy One of Israel.

23 My lips shall greatly rejoice when I sing praises unto thee;

And my soul, which thou hast re-deemed.

24 My tongue also shall talk of thy righteousness all the day long:

A Psalm of Solomon.

1 Give the king thy judgements, O God,
And thy righteousness unto the king's son.

2¹ He shall judge thy people with righteousness,
And thy poor with judgement.

3 The mountains shall bring peace to the people,
And the hills, in righteousness.

4 He shall judge the poor of the people,
He shall save the children of the needy,
And shall break in pieces the oppressor.

5 They shall fear thee while the sun endureth,

And ²so long as the moon, throughout all generations.

6 He shall come down like rain upon the mown grass:
As showers that water the earth.

7 In his days shall the righteous flourish;
And abundance of peace, till the moon be no more.

8 He shall have dominion also from sea to sea,

And from ³the River unto the ends of the earth.

9 They that dwell in the wilderness shall bow before him;
And his enemies shall lick the dust.

10 The kings of Tarshish and of the isles shall ⁴bring presents:
The kings of Sheba and Seba shall offer gifts.

11 Yea, all kings shall fall down before him:

All nations shall serve him.

12 For he shall deliver the needy when he crieth;

And the poor, ⁵that hath no helper.

13 He shall have pity on the ⁶poor and needy,

And the souls of the needy he shall save.

14 He shall redeem their soul from ⁷oppression and violence;
And precious shall their blood be in his sight:

15 And ⁸they shall live; and to him shall be given of the gold of Sheba:

And men shall pray for him continually;

⁸They shall bless him all the day long.

16 There shall be ⁹abundance of corn in the ¹⁰earth upon the top of the mountains;

The fruit thereof shall shake like Lebanon:

And they of the city shall flourish like grass of the earth.

17 His name shall endure for ever;
His name shall ¹¹be continued ¹²as long as the sun:

And men shall ¹³be blessed in him;

All nations shall call him happy.

18 Blessed be the Lord God, the God of Israel,

Who only doeth wondrous things:

And let the whole earth be filled with his glory.

A Psalm of Asaph.

1 Surely God is good to Israel,
Even to such as are pure in heart.

2 But as for me, my feet were almost gone;
My steps had well nigh slipped.

3 For I was envious at the ²arrogant,
When I saw the prosperity of the wicked.

4 For there are no ³bands in their death:
But their strength is firm.

5 They are not ⁴in trouble as other men;
Neither are they plagued like other men.

6 Therefore pride is as a chain about their neck;

Violence covereth them as a garment.

7 Their eyes stand out with fatness:
⁵They have more than heart could wish.

8 They scoff, and in wickedness utter oppression:

They speak ⁶loftily.

9 They have set their mouth ⁷in the heavens,
And their tongue walketh through the earth.

10 Therefore ⁸his people return hither:
And waters of a full cup are ⁹wrung out by them.

11 And they say, How doth God know?
And is there knowledge in the Most High?

12 Behold, these are the wicked;
And, being away at ease, they increase in riches.

13 Surely in vain have I cleansed my heart,
And washed my hands in innocence;

14 For all the day long have I been plagued,

And ¹⁰chastened every morning.

15 If I had said, I will speak thus;
Behold, I had dealt treacherously with the generation of thy children.

Thou castest them down to ¹de-struction.

19 How are they become a desolation in a moment!

They are utterly consumed with terrors.

20 As a dream when one awaketh;

So, O Lord, ²when thou awakest, thou shalt despise their image.

21 For my heart ³was grieved,
And I was pricked in my reins:

22 So brutish ⁴was I, and ignorant;
I was as a beast ⁵before thee. for: but

23 Nevertheless I am continually with
thee:

Thou hast holden my right hand.

24 Thou shalt guide me with thy counsel,
And afterward receive me ⁶to glory.

25 Whom have I in heaven but thee?

And there is none upon earth that I

26 My flesh and my heart faileth:

But God is the ⁸strength of my heart

I have made the Lord God my refuge,
That I may tell of all thy works.

1 O God, why hast thou cast us off for Why doth thine anger smoke against the sheep of thy pasture?

2 Remember thy congregation, which thou hast purchased of old,

Which thou hast redeemed to be the tribe of thine inheritance;

And mount Zion, wherein thou hast dwelt.

3 Lift up thy feet unto the perpetual ruins,

⁹All the evil that the enemy hath done in the sanctuary.

4 Thine adversaries have roared in the midst of thine assembly;

They have set up their ensigns for signs.

5 They ¹⁰seemed as men that lifted up
Axes upon a thicket of trees.

6 And now all the carved work thereof
together

They break down with hatchet and hammers.

7 They have set thy sanctuary on fire;
They have profaned the dwelling place of thy name even to the ground.

8 They said in their heart, Let us make havoc of them altogether:

They have burned up all the ¹¹syna-gogues of God in the land.

9 We see not our signs:

There is no more any prophet;

Neither is there among us any that knoweth how long.

10 How long, O God, shall the adversary
reproach?

Shall the enemy blaspheme thy name
for ever?

11 Why drawest thou back thy hand,

Forget not the ¹⁸life of thy poor for ever.

20 Have respect unto the covenant:
For the dark places of the ¹⁹earth are full of the habitations of violence.

Let the poor and needy praise thy name.

- 1 Give ear, O my people, to my ¹⁵law:
 Incline your ears to the words of my mouth.
 2 I will open my mouth in a parable;
 I will utter dark sayings of old:
 3 Which we have heard and known,
 And our fathers have told us.
 4 We will not hide them from their children,
 Telling to the generation to come the praises of the LORD,
 And his strength, and his wondrous works that he hath done.
 5 For he established a testimony in Jacob,
 And appointed a law in Israel,
 Which he commanded our fathers,
 That they should make them known to their children:
 6 That the generation to come might know them, even the children which should be born;

15 Or, teaching

Who should arise and tell them to their children:

7 That they might set their hope in God,

And not forget the works of God,
But keep his commandments:

8 And might not be as their fathers,
A stubborn and rebellious generation;
A generation¹ that set not their heart aright,

And whose spirit was not stedfast with God.

9 The children of Ephraim, being armed and carrying bows,
Turned back in the day of battle.

10 They kept not the covenant of God,
And refused to walk in his law;

11 And they forgot his doings,
And his wondrous works that he had shewed them.

12 Marvellous things did he in the sight of their fathers,
In the land of Egypt, in the field of Zoan.

13 He clave the sea, and caused them to pass through;
And he made the waters to stand as an heap.

14 In the day-time also he led them with a cloud,
And all the night with a light of fire.

15 He clave rocks in the wilderness,
And gave them drink abundantly as out of the depths.

16 He brought streams also out of the rock,
And caused waters to run down like rivers.

17 Yet went they on still to sin against him,
To rebel against the Most High in² the desert.

18 And they tempted God in their heart
By asking meat for their lust.

19 Yea, they spake against God;
They said, Can God prepare a table in the wilderness?

20 Behold, he smote the rock, that waters gushed out,
And streams overflowed;
Can he give bread also?
Will he provide flesh for his people?

21 Therefore the LORD heard, and was wroth:

And a fire was kindled against Jacob,
And anger also went up against Israel;

22 Because they believed not in God,
And trusted not in his salvation.

23 Yet he commanded the skies above,
And opened the doors of heaven;

24 And he rained down manna upon them to eat,
And gave them of the corn of heaven.

25³ Man did eat the bread of the mighty:
He sent them meat to the full.

26 He⁴ caused the east wind to blow in the heaven:

And by his power he guided the south wind.

27 He rained flesh also upon them as the dust,

And winged fowl as the sand of the seas:
28 And he let it fall in the midst of their camp,

Round about their habitations.

29 So they did eat, and were well filled;
And he gave them that they lusted after.

30 They were not estranged from their lust,

Their meat was yet in their mouths,

31 When the anger of God went up against them,
And slew of the fattest of them,

And smote down the young men of Israel.

32 For all this they sinned still,
And believed not in his wondrous works.

33 Therefore their days did he consume in vanity,
And their years in terror.

34 When he slew them, then they inquired after him:
And they returned and sought God⁵ early.

35 And they remembered that God was their rock,

And the Most High God their redeemer.

36 But they flattered him with their mouth,
And lied unto him with their tongue.

37 For their heart was not⁶ right with him,
Neither were they faithful in his covenant.

38 But he, being full of compassion, forgave their iniquity, and destroyed them not:

Yea, many a time turned he his anger away,

And did not stir up all his wrath.

39 And he remembered that they were but flesh:

A wind that passeth away, and cometh not again.

40 How oft did they rebel against him in the wilderness,

And grieve him in the desert!

41 And they turned again and tempted God,

And⁷ provoked the Holy One of Israel.

42 They remembered not his hand,
Nor the day when he redeemed them from the adversary.

43 How he set his signs in Egypt,
And his wonders in the field of Zoan;

44 And turned their rivers into blood,
And their streams, that they could not drink.

45 He sent among them swarms of flies,
which devoured them;

And frogs, which destroyed them.

46 He gave also their increase unto the caterpillar,

And their labour unto the locust.

47 He⁸ destroyed their vines with hail,
And their sycomore trees with⁹ frost.

48 He gave over their cattle also to the hail,
And their flocks to hot thunderbolts.

 But gave ³ their life over to the pestilence;

51 And smote all the firstborn in Egypt,
 The ⁴ chief of their strength in the tents of Ham:

52 But he led forth his own people like sheep,
 And guided them in the wilderness like a flock.

53 And he led them safely, so that they feared not:
 But the sea overwhelmed their enemies.

54 And he brought them to ⁵ the border of his sanctuary,
 To this ⁶ mountain, which his right hand had purchased.

55 He drove out the nations also before them,
 And allotted them for an inheritance by line,
 And made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tents.

56 Yet they tempted and rebelled against the Most High God,
 And kept not his testimonies;
 57 But turned back, and dealt treacherously like their fathers:

They were turned aside like a deceitful bow.

58 For they provoked him to anger with their high places,
 And moved him to jealousy with their graven images.

59 When God heard this, he was wroth,
 And greatly abhorred Israel:

60 So that he forsook the tabernacle of Shiloh,

The tent which he placed among men:
 61 And delivered his strength into captivity,
 And his glory into the adversary's hand.

62 He gave his people over also unto the sword;

And was wroth with his inheritance.
 63 Fire devoured their young men;
 And their maidens had no marriage-song.

64 Their priests fell by the sword;
 And their widows made no lamentation.

65 Then the Lord awaked as one out of sleep,
 Like a mighty man that shouteth by reason of wine.

66 And he smote his adversaries backward:

He put them to a perpetual reproach.
 67 Moreover he refused the tent of Joseph,

And chose not the tribe of Ephraim;
 68 But chose the tribe of Judah,
 The mount Zion which he loved.

69 And he built his sanctuary like the heights,
 Like the earth which he hath established for ever.

70 He chose David also his servant,
 And took him from the sheepfolds:

71 From following the ewes that give suck he brought him,
 To feed Jacob his people, and Israel his inheritance.

72 So he fed them according to the integrity of his heart;
 And guided them by the skilfulness of his hands.

79 A Psalm of Asaph.

1 O God, the ⁷ heathen are come into thine inheritance;

Thy holy temple have they defiled;
 They have laid Jerusalem on heaps.

2 The dead bodies of thy servants have they given to be meat unto the fowls of the heaven,
 The flesh of thy saints unto the beasts of the earth.

3 Their blood have they shed like water round about Jerusalem;
 And there was none to bury them.

4 We are become a reproach to our neighbours,
 A scorn and derision to them that are round about us.

5 How long, O LORD, wilt thou be angry for ever?
 Shall thy jealousy burn like fire?

6 Pour out thy wrath upon the heathen that know thee not,
 And upon the kingdoms that call not upon thy name.

7 For they have devoured Jacob,
 And laid waste his ⁸ habitation.

8 Remember not against us the iniquities of our forefathers:
 Let thy tender mercies speedily prevent us:

For we are brought very low.

9 Help us, O God of our salvation, for the glory of thy name:
 And deliver us, and purge away our sins, for thy name's sake.

10 Wherefore should the heathen say,
 Where is their God?

Let the revenging of the blood of thy servants which is shed
 Be known among the heathen in our sight.

11 Let the sighing of the prisoner come before thee;

According to the greatness of ⁹ thy power preserve thou ¹⁰ those that are appointed to death;

2 Before Ephraim and Benjamin and Manassah, stir up thy might,
And come to save us.

3 ³Turn us again, O God;
And cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

4 O LORD God of hosts,
How long ⁴wilt thou be angry against the prayer of thy people?

5 Thou hast fed them with the bread of tears,
And given them tears to drink in large measure.

6 Thou makest us a strife unto our neighbours:
And our enemies laugh among themselves.

7 Turn us again, O God of hosts;
And cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

8 Thou broughtest a vine out of Egypt:
Thou didst drive out the nations, and plantedst it.

9 Thou preparedst room before it,
And it took deep root, and filled the land.

10 The mountains were covered with the shadow of it,
And ⁵the boughs thereof were like ⁶cedars of God.

11 She sent out her branches unto the sea,
And her shoots unto the River.

12 Why hast thou broken down her fences,
So that all they which pass by the way do pluck her?

13 The boar out of the wood doth ravage it,
And the wild beasts of the field feed on it.

Upon the son of man whom thou madest strong for thyself.

18 So shall we not go back from thee:
Quicken thou us, and we will call upon thy name.

Where I heard ¹¹a language that I knew not.

6 I removed his shoulder from the burden:

His hands were freed from the basket.
7 Thou calledst in trouble, and I delivered thee;

I answered thee in the secret place of thunder;

I proved thee at the waters of Meribah. [Selah]

8 Hear, O my people, and I will testify unto thee:

O Israel, if thou wouldst hearken unto me!

9 There shall no strange god be in thee;
Neither shalt thou worship any strange god.

10 I am the LORD thy God,
Which brought thee up out of the land of Egypt:

Open thy mouth wide, and I will fill it.

11 But my people hearkened not to my voice;

And Israel would none of me.

12 So I let them go after the stubbornness of their heart,

That they might walk in their own counsels.

13 Oh that my people would hearken unto me,

That Israel would walk in my ways!

14 I should soon subdue their enemies,
And turn my hand against their adversaries.

15 The haters of the LORD should ¹²submit themselves unto him:

But their time should endure for ever.

16 He should feed them also with the ¹³finest of the wheat:

And with honey out of the rock should I satisfy thee.

82 A Psalm of Asaph.

 5 They know not, neither do they understand;
 They walk to and fro in darkness:
 All the foundations of the earth are moved.
 6 I said, Ye are gods,
 And all of you sons of the Most High.
 7 Nevertheless ye shall die like men,
 And fall like one of the princes.
 8 Arise, O God, judge the earth:
 For thou shalt inherit all the nations.

83 A Song, a Psalm of Asaph.

- 1 O God, keep not thou silence:
 Hold not thy peace, and be not still,
 O God.
 2 For, lo, thine enemies make a tumult:
 And they that hate thee have lifted up the head.
 3 They take crafty counsel against thy people,
 And consult together against thy hidden ones.
 4 They have said, Come, and let us cut them off from being a nation;
 That the name of Israel may be no more in remembrance.
 5 For they have consulted together with one consent;
 Against thee do they make a covenant:
 6 The tents of Edom and the Ishmaelites;
 Moab, and the ²Hagarenes;
 7 Gebal, and Ammon, and Amalek;
 Philistia with the inhabitants of Tyre:
 8 Assyria also is joined with them;
³They have holpen the children of Lot. [Selah
 9 Do thou unto them as unto Midian;
 As to Sisera, as to Jabin, at the river Kishon:

 They became as dung for the earth.
 11 Make their nobles like Oreb and Zeeb;
 Yea, all their princes like Zebah and Zalmunna:

 The ⁴habitations of God.
 13 O my God, make them like the whirling dust;
 As stubble before the wind.
 14 As the fire that burneth the forest,
 And as the flame that setteth the mountains on fire;
 15 So pursue them with thy tempest,
 And terrify them with thy storm.
 16 Fill their faces with confusion;
 That they may seek thy name, O LORD.

- 1 How ⁶amiable are thy tabernacles,
 O LORD of hosts!
 2 My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth
 for the courts of the LORD;
 My heart and my flesh ⁷cry out unto the living God.
 3 Yea, the sparrow hath found her an

 And the swallow a nest for herself,
 where she may lay her young,
 Even thine altars, O LORD of hosts,

 us to cease.
 5 Wilt thou be angry with us for ever?

For he will speak peace unto his people, and to his saints:

But let them not turn again to folly.

9 Surely his salvation is nigh them that fear him;

That glory may dwell in our land.

10 Mercy and truth are met together;
Righteousness and peace have kissed each other.

11 Truth springeth out of the earth;
And righteousness hath looked down from heaven.

12 Yea, the LORD shall give that which is good;

And our land shall yield her increase.

13 Righteousness shall go before him;
And shall ¹make his footsteps a way to walk in.

86 A Prayer of David.

1 Bow down thine ear, O LORD, and answer me;

For I am poor and needy.

2 Preserve my soul; for I am godly:
O thou my God, save thy servant that trusteth in thee.

3 Be merciful unto me, O Lord;
For unto thee do I cry all the day long.

4 Rejoice the soul of thy servant;
For unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul.

5 For thou, Lord, art good, and ready to forgive,
And plenteous in mercy unto all them that call upon thee.

6 Give ear, O LORD, unto my prayer;
And hearken unto the voice of my supplications.

7 In the day of my trouble I will call upon thee;
For thou wilt answer me.

8 There is none like unto thee among the gods, O Lord;
Neither are there any works like unto thy works.

9 All nations whom thou hast made shall come and worship before thee, O Lord;
And they shall glorify thy name.

10 For thou art great, and doest wondrous things:
Thou art God alone.

11 Teach me thy way, O LORD; I will walk in thy truth:
Unite my heart to fear thy name.

12 I will praise thee, O Lord my God, with my whole heart;
And I will glorify thy name for evermore.

13 For great is thy mercy toward me;
And thou hast delivered my soul from ²the lowest pit.

14 O God, the proud are risen up against me,
And the congregation of violent men have sought after my soul,
And have not set thee before them.

15 But thou, O Lord, art a God full of compassion and gracious,
Slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy and truth.

16 O turn unto me, and ³have mercy upon me;

Give thy strength unto thy servant,
And save the son of thine handmaid.

17 Shew me a token for good;
That they which hate me may see it, and be ashamed,
Because thou, LORD, hast holpen me, and comforted me.

87 A Psalm of the sons of Korah, a Song.

1 ⁴His foundation is in the holy mountains.

2 The LORD loveth the gates of Zion
More than all the dwellings of Jacob.

3 Glorious things are spoken of thee,
O city of God. [Selah]

4 I will make mention of ⁵Rahab and Babylon as among them that know me:

Behold Philistia, and Tyre, with ⁶Ethiopia;
This one was born there.

5 Yea, of Zion it shall be said, This one and that one was born in her;
And the Most High himself shall establish her.

6 The LORD shall count, when he writeth up the peoples,
This one was born there. [Selah]

7 They that sing as well as ⁷they that dance shall say,
All my fountains are in thee.

88 A Song, a Psalm of the sons of Korah; for the Chief Musician; set to Mahalath ⁸Leannoth. Maschil of Heman the Ezrahite.

1 O LORD, the God of my salvation,
I have cried day and night before thee:

2 Let my prayer enter into thy presence;
Incline thine ear unto my cry:

3 For my soul is full of troubles,
And my life draweth nigh unto ⁹Sheol.

4 I am counted with them that go down into the pit;

I am as a man that hath no help:

5 ¹⁰Cast off among the dead,
Like the slain that lie in the grave,
Whom thou rememberest no more;
And they are cut off from thy hand.

6 Thou hast laid me in the lowest pit,
In dark places, in the deeps.

7 Thy wrath lieth hard upon me,
And thou hast afflicted me with all thy waves. [Selah]

8 Thou hast put mine acquaintance far from me;
Thou hast made me an abomination unto them:

I am shut up, and I cannot come forth.

9 Mine eye wasteth away by reason of affliction:

I have called daily upon thee, O LORD,
I have spread forth my hands unto thee.

- 14 LORD, why castest thou off my soul?
Why hidest thou thy face from me?
- 15 I am afflicted and ready to die from

And mine acquaintance ³into darkness.
- 89 Maschil of Ethan the Ezrahite.
1 I will sing of the mercies of the LORD
for ever:
With my mouth will I make known thy faithfulness to all generations.
- 2 For I have said, Mercy shall be built up for ever;
Thy faithfulness shalt thou establish

I have sworn unto David my servant;
- 4 Thy seed will I establish for ever,

unto the LORD?
Who among the ⁴sons of the ⁵mighty
is like unto the LORD,
- 7 A God very terrible in the council of the holy ones,
And to be feared above all them that are round about him?
- 8 O LORD God of hosts,
Who is a mighty one, like unto thee,
O JAH?
And thy faithfulness is round about
thee.
- 9 Thou rulest the pride of the sea:
When the waves thereof arise, thou stillest them.
- 10 Thou hast broken ⁶Rahab in pieces,
as one that is slain; Thou hast scattered thine enemies with the arm of thy strength.
- 11 The heavens are thine, the earth also is thine:

The world and the fulness thereof,
thou hast founded them.

- 12 The north and the south, thou hast created them:

Tabor and Hermon rejoice in thy name.

- 13 Thou hast ⁷a mighty arm: Strong is thy hand, and high is thy right hand.

- 14 Righteousness and judgement are the foundation of thy throne:
Mercy and truth go before thy face.

- 15 Blessed is the people that know the ⁸joyful sound:
They walk, O LORD, in the light of thy countenance.

- 16 In thy name do they rejoice all the day:
And in thy righteousness are they exalted.

- 17 For thou art the glory of their strength:
And in thy favour ⁹our horn shall be exalted.

- 18 For our shield belongeth unto the
LORD; ¹⁰And our king to the Holy One of Israel.

- 19 Then thou spakest in vision to thy ¹¹saints,
And saidst, I have laid help upon one that is mighty;

I have exalted one chosen out of the people.

- 20 I have found David my servant;
With my holy oil have I anointed him:

- 21 With whom my hand shall be established;

Mine arm also shall strengthen him.

- 22 The enemy shall not ¹²exact upon him;
Nor the son of wickedness afflict him.

- 23 And I will beat down his adversaries
before him,
And smite them that hate him.

- 24 But my faithfulness and my mercy shall be with him;
And in my name shall his horn be exalted.

- 25 I will set his hand also on the sea,
And his right hand on the rivers:

- 26 He shall cry unto me, Thou art my father,
My God, and the rock of my salvation.

- 27 I also will make him my firstborn,
The highest of the kings of the earth.

- 28 My mercy will I keep for him for evermore,
And my covenant shall ¹³stand fast with him.

- 29 His seed also will I make to endure
for ever,
And his throne as the days of heaven.

- 30 If his children forsake my law,

38 But thou hast cast off and rejected,
Thou hast been wroth with thine anointed.

39 Thou hast abhorred the covenant of thy servant:

Thou hast profaned his crown even to the ground.

40 Thou hast broken down all his hedges;
Thou hast brought his strong holds to ruin.

41 All that pass by the way spoil him:
He is become a reproach to his neighbours.

42 Thou hast exalted the right hand of his adversaries;
Thou hast made all his enemies to rejoice.

43 Yea, thou turnest back the edge of his sword,

And hast not made him to stand in the battle.

44 Thou hast made his brightness to cease,
And cast his throne down to the ground.

45 The days of his youth hast thou shortened:

Thou hast covered him with shame. [Selah]

90 A Prayer of Moses the man of God.

1 Lord, thou hast been our dwelling place
In all generations.

2 Before the mountains were brought forth,

Or ever thou ¹hadst formed the earth and the world,
Even from everlasting to everlasting, thou art God.

3 Thou turnest man to ²destruction;
And sayest, Return, ye children of men.

4 For a thousand years in thy sight
Are but as yesterday ³when it is past,
And as a watch in the night.

5 Thou carriest them away as with a flood; they are as a sleep:
In the morning they are like grass which groweth up.

6 In the morning it flourisheth, and groweth up;
In the evening it is cut down, and withereth.

7 For we are consumed in thine anger,
And in thy wrath are we troubled.

8 Thou hast set our iniquities before thee,

Our secret sins in the light of thy countenance.

9 For all our days are passed away in thy wrath:

We bring our years to an end as ⁴a tale that is told.

10 The days of our years are threescore years and ten,

Or even by reason of strength fourscore years;

Yet is their pride but labour and sorrow;

For it is soon gone, and we fly away.

11 Who knoweth the power of thine anger,
And thy wrath according to the fear that is due unto thee?

12 So teach us to number our days,
That we may get us an heart of wisdom.

13 Return, O LORD; how long?
And let it repent thee concerning thy servants.

14 O satisfy us in the morning with thy mercy;

That we may rejoice and be glad all our days.

15 Make us glad according to the days wherein thou hast afflicted us,
And the years wherein we have seen evil.

2 I will say of the LORD, He is my refuge and my fortress;
My God, in whom I trust.

3 For he shall deliver thee from the snare of the fowler,
And from the noisome pestilence.

4 He shall cover thee with his pinions.
And under his wings shalt thou take refuge:

His truth is a shield and a buckler.
5 Thou shalt not be afraid for the terror
by night,

Nor for the arrow that flieth by day;
6 For the pestilence that walketh in darkness,

Nor for the destruction that wasteth
at noonday.

7 A thousand shall fall at thy side,
And ten thousand at thy right hand;
But it shall not come nigh thee.

8 Only with thine eyes shalt thou behold,

9³ For thou, O LORD, art my refuge!
Thou hast made the Most High thy

10 There shall no evil befall thee, Neither shall any plague come nigh thy tent.

11 For he shall give his angels charge
over thee,
To keep thee in all thy ways.

12 They shall bear thee up in their hands,
Lest thou dash thy foot against a stone.

13 Thou shalt tread upon the lion and

The young lion and the serpent shalt thou trample under feet.

14 Because he hath set his love upon me,
therefore will I deliver him:

I will set him on high, because he hath known my name.

15 He shall call upon me, and I will answer him;

I will be with him in trouble:
I will deliver him, and honour him.

16 With long life will I satisfy him,
And shew him my salvation.

92 A Psalm, a Song for the sabbath day.

1 It is a good thing to give thanks unto
the LORD,
And to sing praises unto thy name, O
Most High:

2 To shew forth thy lovingkindness in the morning,
And thy faithfulness every night,

3 With an instrument of ten strings,
and with the psaltery;

With a solemn sound upon the harp.

4 For thou, LORD, hast made me glad through thy work:

I will triumph in the works of thy hands.

5 How great are thy works, O LORD!
Thy thoughts are very deep.

6 A brutish man knoweth not;

Neither doth a fool understand this:

7 When the wicked spring as the grass,
And when all the workers of iniquity
do flourish;

It is that they shall be destroyed for ever:

8 But thou, O LORD, art on high for evermore.

9 For, lo, thine enemies, O LORD,
For, lo, thine enemies shall perish;
All the workers of iniquity shall be scattered.

10 But my horn hast thou exalted like
the horn of the wild-ox:
I am anointed with fresh oil.

11 Mine eye also hath seen my desire on Mine ears have heard my desire of the evil-doers that rise up against me.

12 The righteous shall flourish like the 13 They that are planted in the house of

the LORD

Shall flourish in the courts of our God.

14 They shall still bring forth fruit in old age;

They shall be full of sap and green:

righteousness in him.

with majesty;

The LORD is apparelled, he hath gird-
ed himself with strength:

The world also is established, that it cannot be moved.

2 Thy throne is established of old:
Thou art from everlasting.

3 The floods have lifted up, O LORD,
The floods have lifted up their voice;
The floods lift up their ⁵waves.

4 Above the voices of many waters,
The mighty breakers of the sea,
The LORD on high is mighty.

5 Thy testimonies are very sure:
Holiness becometh thine house,
O LORD, for evermore.

94 O LORD, thou God to whom vengeance
belongeth,

Thou God to whom vengeance belongeth, shine forth.

	All the workers of iniquity boast themselves, 5 They break in pieces thy people, O LORD, And afflict thine heritage. 6 They slay the widow and the stranger, And murder the fatherless. 7 And they say, ¹The LORD shall not see, Neither shall the God of Jacob consider. 8 Consider, ye brutish among the people: And ye fools, when will ye be wise? 9 He that planted the ear, shall he not hear? He that formed the eye, shall he not see? 10 He that ²chastiseth the nations, shall not he correct, Even he that teacheth man knowledge? 11 The LORD knoweth the thoughts of man, ³That they are ⁴vanity. 12 Blessed is the man whom thou chastenest, ¹O LORD, And teachest out of thy law; 13 That thou mayest give him rest from the days of adversity, Until the pit be digged for the wicked. 14 For the LORD will not cast off his people, Neither will he forsake his inheritance. 15 For judgement shall return unto righteousness: And all the upright in heart shall follow it. 16 Who will rise up for me against the evil-doers? 97 THE LORD reigneth; let the earth rejoice;

Let the multitude of isles be glad.

2 Clouds and darkness are round about
him:

Righteousness and judgement are the foundation of his throne.

3 A fire goeth before him,
And burneth up his adversaries round about.

4 His lightnings lightened the world:
The earth saw, and trembled.

5 The hills melted like wax at the presence of the LORD,

At the presence of the Lord of the whole earth.

6 The heavens declare his righteousness,
And all the peoples have seen his glory.

7 Ashamed be all they that serve graven images,

That boast themselves of idols:
Worship him, all ye gods.

8 Zion heard and was glad,
And the daughters of Judah rejoiced;

Because of thy judgements, O LORD.

9 For thou, LORD, art most high above
all the earth:

Thou art exalted far above all gods.

10 O ye that love the LORD, hate evil:
He preserveth the souls of his saints;

He delivereth them out of the hand of the wicked.

11 Light is sown for the righteous,
And gladness for the upright in heart.

12 Be glad in the LORD, ye righteous;
And give thanks to his holy ² name.

98 A Psalm.

1 O sing unto the LORD a new song;
For he hath done marvellous things:
His right hand, and his holy arm, hath wrought salvation for him.

2 The LORD hath made known his salvation:

His righteousness hath he openly shewed in the sight of the nations.

3 He hath remembered his mercy and his faithfulness toward the house of Israel:

All the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God.

4 Make a joyful noise unto the LORD, all
the earth:

Break forth and sing for joy, yea, sing praises.

5 Sing praises unto the LORD with the harp;

With the harp and the voice of melody.

6 With trumpets and sound of cornet
Make a joyful noise before the King,
the LORD.

7 Let the sea roar, and the fulness thereof;

The world, and they that dwell therein;

8 Let the floods clap their hands;

Let the hills sing for joy together;
9 Before the LORD, for he cometh to judge the earth:

He shall judge the world with righteousness,
And the peoples with equity.

99 The LORD reigneth; let the peoples tremble:

He ³ sitteth upon the cherubim; let the earth be moved.

2 The LORD is great in Zion;
And he is high above all the peoples.

3 Let them praise thy great and terrible
name:
Holy is he.

4 The king's strength also loveth judgement;

Thou dost establish equity,
Thou executest judgement and righteousness in Jacob.

5 Exalt ye the LORD our God,
And worship at his footstool:
Holy is he.

6 Moses and Aaron among his priests;
And Samuel among them that call upon his name;

They called upon the LORD, and he answered them.

7 He spake unto them in the pillar of
cloud:

They kept his testimonies, and the statute that he gave them.

8 Thou answeredst them, O LORD our God:

Thou wast a God that forgavest them, Though thou tookest vengeance of their doings.

9 Exalt ye the LORD our God,
And worship at his holy hill;
For the LORD our God is holy.

100 A Psalm ⁴ of thanksgiving.

1 Make a joyful noise unto the LORD,
⁵ all ye lands.

2 Serve the LORD with gladness:
Come before his presence with singing.

3 Know ye that the LORD he is God:
It is he that hath made us, ⁶ and we are his;

We are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.

4 Enter into his gates with ⁷ thanksgiving,
And into his courts with praise:

Give thanks unto him, and bless his name.

5 For the LORD is good; his mercy
endureth for ever;

And his faithfulness unto all generations.

5 Whoso privily slandereth his neighbour, him will I destroy:

Him that hath an high look and a proud heart will I not suffer.

6 Mine eyes shall be upon the faithful of the land, that they may dwell with me:

He that walketh in a perfect way, he shall minister unto me.

7 He that worketh deceit shall not dwell within my house:

He that speaketh falsehood shall not be established before mine eyes.

8 Morning by morning will I destroy all the wicked of the land;

To cut off all the workers of iniquity from the city of the LORD.

102 A Prayer of the afflicted, when he ³is overwhelmed, and poureth out his complaint before the LORD.

1 Hear my prayer, O LORD, And let my cry come unto thee.

2 Hide not thy face from me in the day of my distress:

Incline thine ear unto me;

In the day when I call answer me speedily.

3 For my days consume away ⁴like smoke, And my bones are burned ⁵as a fire-brand.

4 My heart is smitten like grass, and withered;

For I forget to eat my bread.

5 By reason of the voice of my groaning My bones cleave to my flesh.

6 I am like a pelican of the wilderness; I am become as an owl of the waste places.

7 I watch, and am become Like a sparrow that is alone upon the housetop.

8 Mine enemies reproach me all the day; They that are mad against me do curse by me.

9 For I have eaten ashes like bread, And mingled my drink with weeping.

10 Because of thine indignation and thy wrath:

For thou hast taken me up, and cast me away.

11 My days are like a shadow that ⁶declineth;

And I am withered like grass.

12 But thou, O LORD, ⁷shalt abide for ever;

And thy memorial unto all generations.

13 Thou shalt arise, and have mercy upon Zion:

For it is time to have pity upon her, yea, the set time is come.

14 For thy servants take pleasure in her stones,

And have pity upon her dust.

15 So the nations shall fear the name of the LORD,

And all the kings of the earth thy glory:

16 For the LORD hath built up Zion,

He hath appeared in his glory;

17 He hath regarded the prayer of the destitute,

And hath not despised their prayer.

18 This shall be written for the generation to come:

And a people which shall be created shall praise ⁸the LORD.

19 For he hath looked down from the height of his sanctuary;

From heaven did the LORD behold the earth;

20 To hear the sighing of the prisoner;

To loose ⁹those that are appointed to death;

21 That men may declare the name of the LORD in Zion,

And his praise in Jerusalem;

22 When the peoples are gathered together,

And the kingdoms, to serve the LORD.

23 ¹⁰He weakened my strength in the way;

He shortened my days.

24 I said, O my God, take me not away in the midst of my days:

Thy years are throughout all generations.

25 Of old hast thou laid the foundation of the earth;

And the heavens are the work of thy hands.

26 They shall perish, but thou shalt endure:

Yea, all of them shall wax old like a garment;

As a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shall be changed:

27 But thou art the same,

And thy years shall have no end.

28 The children of thy servants shall continue,

And their seed shall be established before thee.

103 A Psalm of David.

1 Bless the LORD, O my soul;

And all that is within me, bless his holy name.

2 Bless the LORD, O my soul,

8 The LORD is full of compassion and gracious,
Slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy.

9 He will not always chide;
Neither will he keep his anger for ever.

10 He hath not dealt with us after our sins,
Nor rewarded us after our iniquities.

11 For as the heaven is high above the earth,
So great is his mercy toward them that fear him.

12 As far as the east is from the west,
So far hath he removed our transgressions from us.

13 Like as a father pitieth his children,
So the LORD pitieth them that fear him.

14 For he knoweth our frame;
He remembereth that we are dust.

15 As for man, his days are as grass;
As a flower of the field, so he flourisheth.

16 For the wind passeth over it, and it is gone;
And the place thereof shall know it no more.

17 But the mercy of the LORD is from everlasting to everlasting upon them that fear him,
And his righteousness unto children's children;

18 To such as keep his covenant,
And to those that remember his precepts to do them.

19 The LORD hath established his throne in the heavens;
And his kingdom ruleth over all.

20 Bless the LORD, ye angels of his:
Ye mighty in strength, that fulfil his word,

Hearkening unto the voice of his word.

21 Bless the LORD, all ye his hosts;
Ye ministers of his, that do his pleasure.

22 Bless the LORD, all ye his works,
In all places of his dominion:
Bless the LORD, O my soul.

104 Bless the LORD, O my soul.

O LORD my God, thou art very great;
Thou art clothed with honour and majesty.

2 Who coverest thyself with light as with a garment;
Who stretchest out the heavens like a curtain:

3 Who layeth the beams of his chambers in the waters;
Who maketh the clouds his chariot;
Who walketh upon the wings of the wind:

4 Who maketh ¹winds his messengers;

5 ²Who laid the foundations of the earth,

That it should not be moved for ever.

6 Thou coveredst it with the deep as with a vesture;
The waters stood above the mountains.

7 At thy rebuke they fled;
At the voice of thy thunder they hasted away;

8 ³They went up by the mountains,
they went down by the valleys,
Unto the place which thou hadst founded for them.

9 Thou hast set a bound that they may not pass over;
That they turn not again to cover the earth.

10 He sendeth forth springs into the valleys;
They run among the mountains:

11 They give drink to every beast of the field;
The wild asses quench their thirst.

12 By them the fowl of the heaven have their habitation,
They ⁴sing among the branches.

13 He watereth the mountains from his chambers:

The earth is satisfied with the fruit of thy works.

14 He causeth the grass to grow for the cattle,
And herb for the ⁵service of man;
That he may bring forth ⁶food out of the earth:

15 And wine that maketh glad the heart of man,

⁷And oil to make his face to shine,
And bread that strengtheneth man's heart.

16 The trees of the LORD are ⁸satisfied;
The cedars of Lebanon, which he hath planted;

17 Where the birds make their nests:
As for the stork, the fir trees are her house.

18 The high mountains are for the wild goats;

The rocks are a refuge for the ⁹conies.

19 He appointed the moon for seasons:
The sun knoweth his going down.

20 Thou makest darkness, and it is night;
Wherein all the beasts of the forest do creep forth.

21 The young lions roar after their prey,
And seek their meat from God.

22 The sun ariseth, they get them away,
And lay them down in their dens.

23 Man goeth forth unto his work
And to his labour until the evening.

24 O LORD, how manifold are thy works!
In wisdom hast thou made them all:
The earth is full of thy ¹⁰riches.

25 Yonder is the sea, great and wide,

O give thanks unto the LORD; for he

For his mercy endureth for ever.

2 Who can utter the mighty acts of the LORD,

Or shew forth all his praise?

3 Blessed are they that keep judgement,
And he that doeth righteousness at all times.

4 Remember me, O LORD, with the favour that thou bearest unto thy people;
O visit me with thy salvation:

5 That I may see the prosperity of thy chosen,

That I may rejoice in the gladness of thy nation,

That I may glory with thine inheritance.

6 We have sinned with our fathers,
We have committed iniquity, we have done wickedly.

7 Our fathers understood not thy wonders in Egypt;

They remembered not the multitude of thy mercies;

But were rebellious at the sea, even at the Red Sea.

8 Nevertheless he saved them for his name's sake,

That he might make his mighty power
to be known.

9 He rebuked the Red Sea also, and it was dried up:

So he led them through the depths,
as through a ² wilderness.

10 And he saved them from the hand of him that hated them,

And redeemed them from the hand of the enemy.

11 And the waters covered their adversaries:

There was not one of them left.

12 Then believed they his words;

They sang his praise.

13 They soon forgot his works;

They waited not for his counsel:

14 But lusted exceedingly in the wilderness,

And tempted God in the desert.

15 And he gave them their request;
But sent leanness into their soul.

16 They envied Moses also in the camp,
And Aaron the ³ saint of the LORD.

17 The earth opened and swallowed up Dathan,

And covered the company of Abiram.

18 And a fire was kindled in their company;
The flame burned up the wicked.

19 They made a calf in Horeb,
And worshipped a molten image.

20 Thus they changed their glory
For the likeness of an ox that eateth grass.

21 They forgot God their saviour,
Which had done great things in Egypt;

22 Wondrous works in the land of Ham,
And terrible things by the Red Sea.

23 Therefore he said that he would destroy them,

Had not Moses his chosen stood before him in the breach,

To turn away his wrath, lest he should destroy them.

24 Yea, they despised the pleasant land,
They believed not his word;

25 But murmured in their tents,
And hearkened not unto the voice of
the LORD.

26 Therefore he lifted up his hand unto
them,

That he would ⁴ overthrow them in the wilderness:

27 And that he would overthrow their seed among the nations,
And scatter them in the lands.

28 They joined themselves also unto ⁵ Baal-peor,

And ate the sacrifices of the dead.

29 Thus they provoked him to anger with
their doings;

And the plague brake in upon them.

30 Then stood up Phinehas, and executed judgement:

And so the plague was stayed.

31 And that was counted unto him for righteousness,

Unto all generations for evermore.

32 They angered him also at the waters of ⁶ Meribah,

So that it went ill with Moses for their sakes:

33 Because they were rebellious against his spirit,

And he spake unadvisedly with his lips.

34 They did not destroy the peoples,
As the LORD commanded them;

35 But mingled themselves with the nations,

And learned their works:

36 And they served their idols;

Which became a snare unto them:

37 Yea, they sacrificed their sons and their daughters unto demons,

38 And shed innocent blood, even the blood of their sons and of their daughters, Whom they sacrificed unto the idols
of Canaan;

 41 And he gave them into the hand of the nations;
 And they that hated them ruled over them.
 42 Their enemies also oppressed them,
 And they were brought into subjection under their hand.
 43 Many times did he deliver them;
 But they were rebellious in their counsel,
 And were brought low in their iniquity.

44 Nevertheless he regarded their distress,
 When he heard their cry:
 45 And he remembered for them his covenant,
 And repented according to the multitude of his mercies.
 46 He made them also to be pitied
 Of all those that carried them captives.
 47 Save us, O LORD our God,

 For his mercy endureth for ever.
 2 Let the redeemed of the LORD say ^{so},
 Whom he hath redeemed from the hand of the adversary;
 3 And gathered them out of the lands,
 From the east and from the west,
 From the north and ¹ from the south.
 4 They wandered in the wilderness in a desert way;
 They found no city of habitation.
 5 Hungry and thirsty,
 Their soul fainted in them.
 6 Then they cried unto the LORD in their trouble,
 And he delivered them out of their distresses.
 7 He led them also by a straight way,
 That they might go to a city of habitation.
 8 Oh that men would praise the LORD for his goodness,
 And for his wonderful works to the children of men!
 9 For he satisfieth the longing soul,
 And the hungry soul he filleth with good.
 10 Such as sat in darkness and in the shadow of death,
 Being bound in affliction and iron;
 11 Because they rebelled against the words of God,
 And contemned the counsel of the Most High:
 12 Therefore he brought down their heart with labour;
 They fell down, and there was none to help.
 13 Then they cried unto the LORD in their trouble,
 And he saved them out of their distresses.

14 He brought them out of darkness and the shadow of death,
 And brake their bands in sunder.
 15 Oh that men would praise the LORD for his goodness,
 And for his wonderful works to the children of men!
 16 For he hath broken the gates of brass,
 And cut the bars of iron in sunder.
 17 Fools because of ² their transgression,
 And because of their iniquities, are afflicted.
 18 Their soul abhorreth all manner of meat;
 And they draw near unto the gates of death.
 19 Then they cry unto the LORD in their trouble,
 And he saveth them out of their distresses.
 20 He sendeth his word, and healeth them,
 And delivereth them from their ³ destructions.
 21 Oh that men would praise the LORD for his goodness,
 And for his wonderful works to the children of men!
 22 And let them offer the sacrifices of thanksgiving,
 And declare his works with singing.
 23 They that go down to the sea in ships,
 That do business in great waters;
 24 These see the works of the LORD,
 And his wonders in the deep.
 25 For he commandeth, and raiseth the stormy wind,
 Which lifteth up the waves thereof.
 26 They mount up to the heaven, they go down again to the depths:
 Their soul melteth away because of trouble.
 27 They reel to and fro, and stagger like a drunken man,

31 Oh that men would praise the LORD
for his goodness,
And for his wonderful works to the 32 Let them exalt him also in the assembly of the people,

And praise him in the seat of the elders.
33 He turneth rivers into a wilderness,
And watersprings into a thirsty ground;
34 A fruitful land into a salt desert,
For the wickedness of them that dwell therein.
35 He turneth a wilderness into a pool of water,
And a dry land into watersprings.
36 And there he maketh the hungry to dwell,
That they may prepare a city of habitation;
37 And sow fields, and plant vineyards,
And get them fruits of increase.
38 He blesseth them also, so that they are multiplied greatly;
And he suffereth not their cattle to decrease.
39 Again, they are minished and bowed down
Through oppression, trouble, and sorrow.
40 He poureth contempt upon princes,
And causeth them to wander in the waste, where there is no way.
41 Yet setteth he the needy on high from

the LORD.

108 A Song, a Psalm of David.

¹ My heart is fixed, O God;
I will sing, yea, I will sing praises,
even with my glory.
2 Awake, psaltery and harp:
⁴ I myself will awake right early.
3 I will give thanks unto thee, O LORD,
among the peoples:
And I will sing praises unto thee among the nations.
4 For thy mercy is great above the
heavens,
And thy truth reacheth unto the skies.
5 Be thou exalted, O God, above the
heavens:

And thy glory above all the earth.
6 ⁵ That thy beloved may be delivered,
Save with thy right hand, and answer
⁶ us.

7 God hath spoken in his holiness; I will exult:

I will divide Shechem, and mete out the valley of Succoth.

8 Gilead is mine; Manasseh is mine;
Ephraim also is the defence of mine
head;

Judah is my ⁷ sceptre.

9 Moab is my washpot;

⁸ Upon Edom will I cast my shoe:
Over Philistia will I shout.

10 Who will bring me into the fenced city?

⁹ Who hath led me unto Edom?

11 ¹⁰ Hast not thou cast us off, O God?
And thou goest not forth, O God, with our hosts.

12 Give us help against the adversary:
For vain is the ¹¹ help of man.

13 Through God we shall do valiantly:
For he it is that shall tread down our adversaries.

109 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

1 Hold not thy peace, O God of my praise;

2 For the mouth of the wicked and the mouth of deceit have they opened against me:

They have spoken ¹² unto me with a lying tongue.

3 They compassed me about also with words of hatred,
And fought against me without a cause.

4 For my love they are my adversaries:
But I give myself unto prayer.

5 And they have ¹³ rewarded me evil for good,
And hatred for my love.

6 Set thou a wicked man over him:
And let ¹⁴ an adversary stand at his right hand.

7 When he is judged, let him come forth guilty;

And let his prayer ¹⁵ be turned into sin.

8 Let his days be few;
And let another take his office.

9 Let his children be fatherless,
And his wife a widow.

10 Let his children be vagabonds, and beg;
And let them seek their bread ¹⁶ out of their desolate places.

11 Let the extortioner ¹⁷ catch all that he hath;

And let strangers make spoil of his labour.

12 Let there be none to ¹⁸ extend mercy
unto him;

Neither let there be any to have pity on his fatherless children.

13 Let his posterity be cut off;
In the generation following let their name be blotted out.

But persecuted the poor and needy man, And the broken in heart, to slay them.

17 Yea, he loved cursing, and it came unto him;

And he delighted not in blessing, and it was far from him.

18 He clothed himself also with cursing as with his garment,

And it came into his inward parts like water,

And like oil into his bones.

74 They that fear thee shall see me and be glad;

Because I have hoped in thy word.

75 I know, O LORD, that thy judgements are righteous,

And that in faithfulness thou hast afflicted me.

76 Let, I pray thee, thy lovingkindness be for my comfort,

According to thy word unto thy servant.

77 Let thy tender mercies come unto me, that I may live:

For thy law is my delight.

78 Let the proud be ashamed; for they have overthrown me ⁷ wrongfully:

But I will meditate in thy precepts.

79 Let those that fear thee turn unto me,

⁸ And they shall know thy testimonies.

80 Let my heart be perfect in thy statutes; That I be not ashamed.

5 CAPH.

81 My soul fainteth for thy salvation:

But I hope in thy word.

82 Mine eyes fail for thy word,

While I say, When wilt thou comfort me?

83 For I am become like a ⁹ bottle in the smoke;

Yet do I not forget thy statutes.

84 How many are the days of thy servant? When wilt thou execute judgement on them that persecute me?

85 The proud have digged pits for me,

Who are not after thy law.

86 All thy commandments are faithful: They persecute me ⁷ wrongfully; help thou me.

87 They had almost consumed me upon earth;

But I forsook not thy precepts.

88 Quicken me after thy lovingkindness; So shall I observe the testimony of thy mouth.

6 LAMED.

89 For ever, O LORD, Thy word is settled in heaven.

90 Thy faithfulness is unto all generations:

Thou hast established the earth, and it abideth.

91 ¹⁰ They abide this day according to thine ordinances;

For all things are thy servants.

92 Unless thy law had been my delight, I should then have perished in mine affliction.

93 I will never forget thy precepts;

² Or, That

³ Or, Horror

⁴ Or, That I have kept

⁵ Or, The LORD is my portion, have I said; that I may observe &c.

⁶ Or, established

⁷ Or, with false-hood

⁸ Another reading is, Even they that know.

⁹ Or, wine-skin

¹⁰ Or, As for thy judgements, they abide this day

For with them thou hast quickened me.

94 I am thine, save me;

For I have sought thy precepts.

95 The wicked have waited for me to destroy me;

But I will consider thy testimonies.

96 I have seen an end of all perfection;

But thy commandment is exceeding broad.

MEM.

97 Oh how love I thy law!

It is my meditation all the day.

98 Thy commandments make me wiser than mine enemies;

For they are ever with me.

99 I have more understanding than all my teachers;

For thy testimonies are my meditation.

100 I understand more than the aged, Because I have kept thy precepts.

101 I have refrained my feet from every evil way,

That I might observe thy word.

102 I have not turned aside from thy judgements;

For thou hast taught me.

103 How sweet are thy words unto my ² taste!

Yea, sweeter than honey to my mouth!

104 Through thy precepts I get understanding:

Therefore I hate every false way.

NUN.

105 Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, And light unto my path.

106 I have sworn, and have confirmed it, That I will observe thy righteous judgements.

107 I am afflicted very much:

Quicken me, O LORD, according unto thy word.

108 Accept, I beseech thee, the freewill offerings of my mouth, O LORD, And teach me thy judgements.

109 My soul is continually in my hand; Yet do I not forget thy law.

110 The wicked have laid a snare for me; Yet went I not astray from thy precepts.

111 Thy testimonies have I taken as an heritage for ever;

For they are the rejoicing of my heart.

112 I have inclined mine heart to perform thy statutes,

For ever, even unto the end.

SAMECH.

113 I hate them that are of a double mind; But thy law do I love.

114 Thou art my hiding place and my shield:

I hope in thy word.

115 Depart from me, ye evil-doers;

That I may keep the commandments of my God.

116 Uphold me according unto thy word, that I may live;

And let me not be ashamed of my hope.

117 Hold thou me up, and I shall be safe, And shall have respect unto thy statutes continually.

118 Thou hast set at nought all them that err from thy statutes;

For their deceit is ³ falsehood.

119 Thou ⁴ putttest away all the wicked of the earth like dross:

Therefore I love thy testimonies.

120 My flesh trembleth for fear of thee; And I am afraid of thy judgements.

DAV.

121 I have done judgement and justice: Leave me not to mine oppressors.

122 Be surety for thy servant for good: Let not the proud oppress me.

123 Mine eyes fail for thy salvation, And for thy righteous word.

124 Deal with thy servant according unto thy mercy,

And teach me thy statutes.

125 I am thy servant, give me understanding;

That I may know thy testimonies.

126 It is time for the LORD to work; For they have made void thy law.

127 Therefore I love thy commandments Above gold, yea, above fine gold.

128 Therefore I esteem ⁵ all thy precepts concerning all things to be right; And I hate every false way.

PE.

129 Thy testimonies are wonderful: Therefore doth my soul keep them.

130 The opening of thy words giveth light;

It giveth understanding unto the simple.

131 I opened wide my mouth, and panted; For I longed for thy commandments.

132 Turn thee unto me, and have mercy upon me,

As thou usest to do unto those that love thy name.

133 Order my footsteps in thy word; And let not any iniquity have dominion over me.

134 Redeem me from the oppression of man:

So will I observe thy precepts.

135 Make thy face to shine upon thy servant;

And teach me thy statutes.

136 Mine eyes run down with rivers of water,

Because they observe not thy law.

TZADE.

137 Righteous art thou, O LORD, And upright ⁶ are thy judgements.

138 Thou hast commanded thy testimonies in righteousness And very faithfulness.

¹ Or, Thou through thy commandments makest

Because mine adversaries have forgotten thy words.

140 Thy word is very ²pure;
Therefore thy servant loveth it.

141 I am small and despised:
Yet do not I forget thy precepts.

142 Thy righteousness is an everlasting righteousness,
And thy law is truth.

143 Trouble and anguish have ³taken hold on me:
Yet thy commandments are my delight.

144 Thy testimonies are righteous for ever:
Give me understanding, and I shall live.

פ קוּחַ.

145 I have called with my whole heart;
answer me, O LORD:
I will keep thy statutes.

146 I have called unto thee; save me,
And I shall observe thy testimonies.

147 I prevented the dawning of the morning, and cried:
I hoped in thy words.

148 Mine eyes prevented the night watches,
That I might meditate in thy word.

149 Hear my voice according unto thy lovingkindness:
Quicken me, O LORD, ⁴according to thy judgements.

150 They draw nigh ⁵that follow after wickedness;
They are far from thy law.

151 Thou art nigh, O LORD;
And all thy commandments are truth.

152 Of old have I known from thy testimonies,
That thou hast founded them for ever.

ר רֶשֶׁת.

153 Consider mine affliction, and deliver
me;
For I do not forget thy law.

154 Plead thou my cause, and redeem me:
Quicken me according to thy word.

155 Salvation is far from the wicked;
For they seek not thy statutes.

156 Great are thy tender mercies, O LORD:
Quicken me according to thy judgements.

157 Many are my persecutors and mine
adversaries;
Yet have I not swerved from thy testimonies.

158 I beheld the treacherous dealers, and ⁶was grieved;
Because they observe not thy word.

159 Consider how I love thy precepts: Quicken me, O LORD, according to thy lovingkindness.

160 The sum of thy word is truth;
And every one of thy righteous judgements endureth for ever.

שׁ שִׁין.

161 Princes have persecuted me without a cause;

But my heart standeth in awe of thy words.

162 I rejoice at thy word,
As one that findeth great spoil.

163 I hate and abhor falsehood;
But thy law do I love.

164 Seven times a day do I praise thee,
Because of thy righteous judgements.

165 Great peace have they which love
thy law;

And they have none occasion of stumbling.

166 I have hoped for thy salvation, O
LORD,

And have done thy commandments.

167 My soul hath observed thy testimonies;

And I love them exceedingly.

168 I have observed thy precepts and thy testimonies;

For all my ways are before thee.

ט טָאָו.

169 Let my cry come near before thee, O
LORD:

Give me understanding according to thy word.

170 Let my supplication come before
thee:

Deliver me according to thy word.

171 Let my lips utter praise;
For thou teachest me thy statutes.

172 Let my tongue sing of thy word;
For all thy commandments are righteousness.

173 Let thine hand be ready to help me;
For I have chosen thy precepts.

174 I have longed for thy salvation, O
LORD;

And thy law is my delight.

175 Let my soul live, and it shall praise
thee;

And let thy judgements help me.

176 I have gone astray like a lost sheep;
seek thy servant;

For I do not forget thy commandments.

120 A Song of Ascents.

1 In my distress I cried unto the LORD,
And he answered me.

2 Deliver my soul, O LORD, from lying lips,

And from a deceitful tongue.

3 What shall be given unto thee, and what shall be done more unto thee,
Thou deceitful tongue?

4 Sharp arrows of the mighty,
With coals of ⁵juniper.

5 Woe is me, that I sojourn in Meshech,
That I dwell among the tents of Kedar!

6 My soul hath long had her dwelling
With him that hateth peace.

7 I am for peace:
But when I speak, they are for war.

121 A Song of Ascents.

1 I will lift up mine eyes unto the mountains:

From whence shall my help come?

2 My help cometh from the LORD,
Which made heaven and earth.

3¹ He will not suffer thy foot to be moved:

He that keepeth thee will not slumber.

4 Behold, he that keepeth Israel
Shall neither slumber nor sleep.

5 The LORD is thy keeper:

The LORD is thy shade upon thy right hand.

6 The sun shall not smite thee by day,
Nor the moon by night.

7 The LORD shall keep thee from all evil;

He shall keep thy soul.

8 The LORD shall keep thy going out and thy coming in,

From this time forth and for evermore.

122 A Song of Ascents; of David.

1 I was glad when they said unto me,
Let us go unto the house of the LORD.

2 Our feet ²are standing Within thy gates, O Jerusalem;

3 Jerusalem, that art builded
As a city that is compact together:

4 Whither the tribes go up, even the tribes of ³the LORD,

For a testimony unto Israel,

To give thanks unto the name of the LORD.

5 For there ⁴are set thrones for judgment,

The thrones of the house of David.

6⁵ Pray for the peace of Jerusalem:

⁶They shall prosper that love thee.

7 Peace be within thy walls,

And prosperity within thy palaces.

8 For my brethren and companions'

sakes,

I will now ⁷say, Peace be within thee.

9 For the sake of the house of the LORD
our God

I will seek thy good.

123 A Song of Ascents.

1 Unto thee do I lift up mine eyes,
O thou that sittest in the heavens.

2 Behold, as the eyes of servants look unto the hand of their master,

As the eyes of a maiden unto the hand of her mistress;

So our eyes look unto the LORD our God,

Until he have mercy upon us.

3 Have mercy upon us, O LORD, have mercy upon us:

For we are exceedingly filled with contempt.

4 Our soul is exceedingly filled

With the scorning of those that are at ease,

And with the contempt of the proud.

¹ Or, Let him not suffer... let him not slumber that &c.

² Or, have stood

⁴ Or, were

⁵ Or, salute ye Jerusalem

⁶ Or, May they

⁷ Or, speak peace concerning thee

124 A Song of Ascents; of David.

1 If it had not been the LORD who was
on our side,

Let Israel now say;

2 If it had not been the LORD who was
on our side,

When men rose up against us:

3 Then they had swallowed us up alive,
When their wrath was kindled against us:

4 Then the waters had overwhelmed us,
The stream had gone over our soul:

5 Then the proud waters had gone over our soul.

6 Blessed be the LORD,

Who hath not given us as a prey to their teeth.

7 Our soul is escaped as a bird out of the snare of the fowlers:

The snare is broken, and we are escaped.

8 Our help is in the name of the LORD,
Who made heaven and earth.

125 A Song of Ascents.

1 They that trust in the LORD
Are as mount Zion, which cannot be moved, but abideth for ever.

2 As the mountains are round about Jerusalem,

So the LORD is round about his people,
From this time forth and for evermore.

3 For the sceptre of wickedness shall not rest upon the lot of the righteous;
That the righteous put not forth their hands unto iniquity.

4 Do good, O LORD, unto those that be good,
And to them that are upright in their hearts.

5 But as for such as turn aside unto their crooked ways,
The LORD shall lead them forth with the workers of iniquity.
Peace be upon Israel.

126 A Song of Ascents.

1 When the LORD ⁸turned again the captivity of Zion,
We were like unto them that dream.

2 Then was our mouth filled with laughter,

And our tongue with singing:

Then said they among the nations,
The LORD hath done great things for
them.

3 The LORD hath done great things for
us;

Whereof we are glad.

4 Turn again our captivity, O LORD,
As the streams in the South.

5 They that sow in tears shall reap in joy.

6 Though he goeth on his way weeping,
⁹bearing forth the seed;
He shall come again with joy, bringing his sheaves with him.

⁸ Or, brought back those that returned to Zion

⁹ Or, bearing the measure of seed

127 A Song of Ascents; of Solomon.

- 1 Except the LORD build the house,
They labour in vain that build it:
Except the LORD keep the city,
The watchman waketh but in vain.
2 It is vain for you that ye rise up early,
and so late take rest,
And eat the bread of toil:
For so he giveth unto his beloved ¹sleep.
3 Lo, children are an heritage of the LORD:
And the fruit of the womb is his reward.
4 As arrows in the hand of a mighty man,
So are the children of youth.
5 Happy is the man that hath his quiver full of them:
They shall not be ashamed,
When they speak with their enemies in the gate.

128 A Song of Ascents.

- 1 Blessed is every one that feareth the
LORD,
That walketh in his ways.
2 For thou shalt eat the labour of thine
hands:
Happy shalt thou be, and it shall be well with thee.
3 Thy wife shall be as a fruitful vine,
in the innermost parts of thine
house:
Thy children like olive plants, round about thy table.
4 Behold, that thus shall the man be blessed
That feareth the LORD.
5 The LORD ²shall bless thee out of Zion:
And ³thou shalt see the good of Jerusalem all the days of thy life.
6 Yea, thou shalt see thy children's children.
4 Peace be upon Israel.

129 A Song of Ascents.

- 1 ⁵Many a time have they afflicted me
from my youth up,
Let Israel now say;
2 ⁶Many a time have they afflicted me
from my youth up:
Yet they have not prevailed against me.
3 The plowers plowed upon my back;
They made long their furrows.
4 The LORD is righteous:
He hath cut asunder the cords of the wicked.
5 Let them be ashamed and turned backward,
All they that hate Zion.
6 Let them be as the grass upon the housetops,
Which withereth afore it ⁶groweth up:
7 Wherewith the reaper filleth not his hand,
Nor he that bindeth sheaves his bosom.
8 Neither do they which go by say,

The blessing of the LORD be upon you;
We bless you in the name of the LORD.

130 A Song of Ascents.

- 1 Out of the depths have I cried unto thee, O LORD.
2 Lord, hear my voice:
Let thine ears be attentive
To the voice of my supplications.
3 If thou, LORD, shouldst mark in-iquities,
O Lord, who shall stand?
4 But there is forgiveness with thee,
That thou mayest be feared.
5 I wait for the LORD, my soul doth wait,
And in his word do I hope.
6 My soul looketh for the LORD,
More than watchmen look for the morning;
Yea, more than watchmen for the morning.
7 O Israel, hope in the LORD;
For with the LORD there is mercy,
And with him is plenteous redemption.
8 And he shall redeem Israel
From all his iniquities.

131 A Song of Ascents; of David.

- 1 LORD, my heart is not haughty, nor mine eyes lofty;
Neither do I ⁸exercise myself in great matters,
Or in things too wonderful for me.
2 Surely I have stilled and quieted my soul;
Like a weaned child with his mother,
My soul is with me like a weaned child.
3 O Israel, hope in the LORD
From this time forth and for ever-
more.

132 A Song of Ascents.

- 1 LORD, remember for David
All his affliction;
2 How he swore unto the LORD,
And vowed unto the Mighty One of Jacob:
3 Surely I will not come into the ⁹taber-

Nor go up into ¹⁰my bed;
4 I will not give sleep to mine eyes,
Or slumber to mine eyelids;
5 Until I find out a place for the LORD, ¹¹A tabernacle for the Mighty One of Jacob.
6 Lo, we heard of it in ¹²Ephrathah:
We found it in the field of ¹³the wood.
7 We will go into his tabernacles;
We will worship at his footstool.
8 Arise, O LORD, into thy resting place;
Thou, and the ark of thy strength.
9 Let thy priests be clothed with right-

11 The LORD hath sworn unto David in truth;
He will not turn from it:
Of the fruit of thy body will I set upon thy throne.

12 If thy children will keep my covenant
And my testimony that I shall teach them,
Their children also shall sit upon thy throne for evermore.

13 For the LORD hath chosen Zion;
He hath desired it for his habitation.

14 This is my resting place for ever:
Here will I dwell; for I have desired it.

15 I will abundantly bless her provision:
I will satisfy her poor with bread.

16 Her priests also will I clothe with salvation:
And her saints shall shout aloud for joy.

17 There will I make ²the horn of David to bud:
I have ³ordained a lamp for mine anointed.

18 His enemies will I clothe with shame:
But upon himself shall his crown flourish.

133 A Song of Ascents; of David.

1 Behold, how good and how pleasant it is
For brethren to dwell together in unity!

2 It is like the precious oil upon the head,
That ran down upon the beard,
Even Aaron's beard;

That came down upon the ⁴skirt of his garments;

3 Like the dew of Hermon,
That cometh down upon the mountains of Zion:

For there the LORD commanded the blessing,
Even life for evermore.

134 A Song of Ascents.

1 Behold, bless ye the LORD, all ye servants of the LORD,
Which by night stand in the house of the LORD.

2 Lift up your hands ⁵to the sanctuary,
And bless ye the LORD.

3 The LORD bless thee out of Zion;
Even he that made heaven and earth.

⁶Praise ye the LORD.
Praise ye the name of the LORD;
Praise him, O ye servants of the LORD:

2 Ye that stand in the house of the LORD,

In the courts of the house of our God.

3 Praise ye the LORD; for the LORD is good:

Sing praises unto his name; for it is pleasant.

4 For ⁷the LORD hath chosen Jacob unto himself,

And Israel for his peculiar treasure.

5 For I know that the LORD is great,
And that our Lord is above all gods.

6 Whatsoever the LORD pleased, that hath he done,

In heaven and in earth, in the seas and in all deeps.

7 He causeth the vapours to ascend from the ends of the earth;

He maketh lightnings for the rain;
He bringeth forth the wind out of his treasuries.

8 Who smote the firstborn of Egypt,
Both of man and beast.

9 He sent signs and wonders into the midst of thee, O Egypt,

Upon Pharaoh, and upon all his servants.

10 Who smote ⁸many nations,
And slew mighty kings;

11 Sihon king of the Amorites,
And Og king of Bashan,

And all the kingdoms of Canaan:

12 And gave their land for an heritage,
An heritage unto Israel his people.

13 Thy name, O LORD, endureth for ever;
Thy memorial, O LORD, throughout all generations.

14 For the LORD shall judge his people,
And repent himself concerning his servants.

15 ⁹The idols of the nations are silver and gold,

The work of men's hands.

16 They have mouths, but they speak not;
Eyes have they, but they see not;

17 They have ears, but they hear not;
Neither is there any breath in their mouths.

18 They that make them shall be like unto them;

Yea, every one that trusteth in them.

19 O house of Israel, bless ye the LORD:
O house of Aaron, bless ye the LORD:

20 O house of Levi, bless ye the LORD:
Ye that fear the LORD, bless ye the LORD.

21 Blessed be the LORD out of Zion,
Who dwelleth at Jerusalem.

⁶Praise ye the LORD.

By the rivers of Babylon,
There we sat down, yea, we wept,
When we remembered Zion.
2 Upon the willows in the midst thereof
We hanged up our harps,
3 For there they that led us captive required of us ²songs,
And ³they that wasted us required of
us mirth, saying,
Sing us one of the songs of Zion.
4 How shall we sing the LORD's song
In a strange land?
5 If I forget thee, O Jerusalem,
Let my right hand forget her cunning.
6 Let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth,
If I remember thee not;
If I prefer not Jerusalem
Above my chief joy.
7 Remember, O LORD, against the children of Edom

The day of Jerusalem;
Who said, Rase it, rase it,
Even to the foundation thereof.
8 O daughter of Babylon, ⁴that art to be destroyed;
Happy shall he be, that rewardeth thee
As thou hast served us.
9 Happy shall he be, that taketh and dasheth thy little ones Against the rock.

A Psalm of David.

- 1 I will give thee thanks with my whole heart:
Before the gods will I sing praises unto thee.
2 I will worship toward thy holy temple,
And give thanks unto thy name for thy lovingkindness and for thy truth:
For thou hast magnified thy word above all thy name.
3 In the day that I called thou answerdest me,
Thou didst encourage me with strength in my soul.
4 All the kings of the earth shall give thee thanks, O LORD,
For they have heard the words of thy mouth.
5 Yea, they shall sing of the ways of the LORD;
For great is the glory of the LORD.
6 For though the LORD be high, yet hath he respect unto the lowly:
But the haughty he knoweth from afar.
7 Though I walk in the midst of trouble, thou wilt revive me;
Thou shalt stretch forth thine hand against the wrath of mine enemies,
And thy right hand shall save me.
8 The LORD will perfect that which concerneth me:
Thy mercy, O LORD, endureth for ever;
Forsake not the works of thine own hands.

139 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

- 1 O LORD, thou hast searched me, and known me.
2 Thou knowest my downsitting and mine uprising,
Thou understandest my thought afar off.
3 Thou ⁵searchest out my path and my lying down,
And art acquainted with all my ways.
4 For there is not a word in my tongue,
But, lo, O LORD, thou knowest it altogether.
5 Thou hast beset me behind and before,
And laid thine hand upon me.
6 Such knowledge is too wonderful for me;
It is high, I cannot attain unto it.

10 Even there shall thy hand lead me,
And thy right hand shall hold me.

11 If I say, Surely the darkness shall ²And the light about me shall be night;

12 Even the darkness hideth not from
thee,

But the night shineth as the day:
The darkness and the light are both alike to thee.

13 For thou hast ³possessed my reins:
Thou hast ⁴covered me in my mother's womb.

14 I will give thanks unto thee; for I am fearfully and wonderfully made:

Wonderful are thy works;
And that my soul knoweth right well.

15 My frame was not hidden from thee,
When I was made in secret,
And curiously wrought in the lowest parts of the earth.

16 Thine eyes did see mine unperfect substance,

And in thy book ⁵were all my members written,

Which day by day were fashioned,
When as yet there was none of them.

17 How precious also are thy thoughts unto me, O God!

How great is the sum of them!

18 If I should count them, they are more
in number than the sand:

When I awake, I am still with thee.

19 ⁶Surely thou wilt slay the wicked,
O God:

Depart from me therefore, ye bloodthirsty men.

20 For they ⁷speak against thee wickedly,
And thine enemies ⁸take thy name in vain.

21 Do not I hate them, O LORD, that hate
thee?

And ⁹am not I grieved with those that rise up against thee?

22 I hate them with perfect hatred:

I count them mine enemies.

140 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

1 Deliver me, O LORD, from the evil
man;

Preserve me from the violent man:

2 Which imagine mischiefs in their heart;

Continually do they ¹¹gather themselves together for war.

3 They have sharpened their tongue like a serpent;

Adders' poison is under their lips. [Selah] 4 Keep me, O LORD, from the hands of
the wicked;

Preserve me from the violent man:
Who have purposed to thrust aside
my steps.

5 The proud have hid a snare for me,
and cords;

They have spread a net by the way side;

They have set gins for me. [Selah]

6 I said unto the LORD, Thou art my God:

Give ear unto the voice of my supplications, O LORD.

7 O God the LORD, the strength of my salvation,

Thou hast covered my head in the day of battle.

8 Grant not, O LORD, the desires of the wicked;

Further not his evil device; lest they exalt themselves. [Selah]

9 As for the head of those that compass me about,

Let the mischief of their own lips cover them.

10 Let burning coals fall upon them:

Let them be cast into the fire;
Into ¹²deep pits, that they rise not up again.

11 ¹³An evil speaker shall not be established in the earth:

Evil shall hunt the violent man to overthrow him.

12 I know that the LORD will maintain the cause of the afflicted,

And the right of the needy.

13 Surely the righteous shall give thanks unto thy name:

The upright shall dwell in thy presence.

141 A Psalm of David.

1 LORD, I have called upon thee; make haste unto me:

Give ear unto my voice, when I call unto thee.

2 Let my prayer be set forth as incense before thee;

The lifting up of my hands as the evening ¹⁴sacrifice.

3 Set a watch, O LORD, before my mouth;
Keep the door of my lips.

4 Incline not my heart to any evil thing,
To be occupied in deeds of wickedness

With men that work iniquity:

And let me not eat of their dainties.

5 Let the righteous smite me, it shall be a kindness;

And let him reprove me, it shall be as oil upon the head;

Let not my head refuse it:

And from the gins of the workers of iniquity.

142 Maschil of David, when he was in the cave; a Prayer.

I cry with my voice unto the Lord;
With my voice unto the Lord do I make supplication.

2 I pour out my complaint before him; I shew before him my trouble.

3 When my spirit ⁵was overwhelmed within me, thou knewest my path.
In the way wherein I walk have they hidden a snare for me.

4 Look on my right hand, and see; for there is no man that knoweth me:
Refuge hath failed me; no man careth for my soul.

5 I cried unto thee, O Lord;
I said, Thou art my refuge.
My portion in the land of the living.

6 Attend unto my cry; for I am brought very low:

Deliver me from my persecutors; for they are stronger than I.

7 Bring my soul out of prison, that I may give thanks unto thy name:

The righteous shall ⁷compass me about;

For thou shalt deal bountifully with me.

143 A Psalm of David.

1 Hear my prayer, O Lord; give ear to my supplications:

In thy faithfulness answer me, and in thy righteousness.

2 And enter not into judgement with thy servant;

For in thy sight shall no man living be justified.

3 For the enemy hath persecuted my soul;

He hath smitten my life down to the ground:

He hath made me to dwell in dark places, as those that have been long dead.

4 Therefore ⁸is my spirit overwhelmed within me;

My heart within me is desolate.

5 I remember the days of old;

I meditate on all thy doings:

I muse on the work of thy hands.

6 I spread forth my hands unto thee:

My soul thirsteth after thee, as a weary land.

7 Make haste to answer me, O Lord; my spirit faileth:

Hide not thy face from me;

Lest I become like them that go down into the pit.

8 Cause me to hear thy lovingkindness in the morning;

For in thee do I trust:

Cause me to know the way wherein I should walk;

For I lift up my soul unto thee.

9 Deliver me, O Lord, from mine enemies:

⁹I flee unto thee to hide me.

10 Teach me to do thy will; for thou art my God:

¹⁰Thy spirit is good; lead me in ¹¹the land of uprightness.

11 Quicken me, O Lord, for thy name's sake:

In thy righteousness bring my soul out of trouble.

12 And in thy lovingkindness cut off mine enemies,

And destroy all them that afflict my soul;
For I am thy servant.

144 A Psalm of David.

1 Blessed be the Lord my rock,
Which teacheth my hands to war,
And my fingers to fight:

2 My lovingkindness, and my fortress,
My high tower, and my deliverer;
My shield, and he in whom I trust;

Who subdueth my people under me.

3 Lord, what is man, that thou takest knowledge of him?

Or the son of man, that thou makest

account of him?

4 Man is like to ¹²vanity:

His days are as a shadow that passeth away.

5 Bow thy heavens, O Lord, and come down:

Touch the mountains, and they shall smoke.

6 Cast forth lightning, and scatter them;
Send out thine arrows, and discomfit them.

7 Stretch forth thine hand from above;
Rescue me, and deliver me out of great waters,

Out of the hand of strangers;

8 Whose mouth speaketh vanity.

And their right hand is a right hand of falsehood.

9 I will sing a new song unto thee, O God:
Upon a psaltery of ten strings will I sing praises unto thee.

10 It is he that giveth salvation unto kings:
Who rescueth David his servant from the hurtful sword.

11 Rescue me, and deliver me out of the hand of strangers,

Whose mouth speaketh vanity,

And shall declare thy mighty acts.
5 Of the glorious majesty of thine honour,
And of thy wondrous works, will I meditate.
6 And men shall speak of the might of thy terrible acts;
And I will declare thy greatness.
7 They shall utter the memory of thy great goodness,
And shall sing of thy righteousness.
8 The LORD is gracious, and full of compassion;
Slow to anger, and of great mercy.
9 The LORD is good to all;

THE PROVERBS.

1 THE proverbs of Solomon the son of David, king of Israel:

2 To know wisdom and instruction;
To discern the words of understanding;

3 To receive instruction in wise dealing,
In righteousness and judgement and equity;

4 To give ¹subtily to the simple,
To the young man knowledge and discretion:

5 That the wise man may hear, and increase in learning;
And that the man of understanding may attain unto sound counsels:

6 To understand a proverb, and ²a figure:
The words of the wise, and their ³dark sayings.

7 The fear of the LORD is: the ⁴beginning of knowledge:
But the foolish despise wisdom and instruction.

8 My son, hear the instruction of thy father,
And forsake not the ⁵law of thy mother:

9 For they shall be a chaplet of grace unto thy head,
And chains about thy neck.

10 My son, if sinners entice thee,
Consent thou not.

11 If they say, Come with us,
Let us lay wait for blood,
Let us lurk privily for the innocent without cause;

12 Let us swallow them up alive as ⁶Sheol,
⁷And whole, as those that go down into the pit;

13 We shall find all precious substance,
We shall fill our houses with spoil;

14 ⁸Thou shalt cast thy lot among us;
We will all have one purse:

15 My son, walk not thou in the way with them;
Refrain thy foot from their path:

16 For their feet run to evil,
And they make haste to shed blood.

17 For in vain ⁹is the net spread,
In the eyes of any bird:

18 And these lay wait for their own blood,
They lurk privily for their own lives.

19 So are the ways of every one that is greedy of gain;
It taketh away the life of the owners thereof.

20 Wisdom crieth aloud in the street;
She uttereth her voice in the broad places;

21 She crieth ¹⁰in the chief place of concourse;

At the entering in of the gates,
In the city, she uttereth her words:

22 How long, ye simple ones, will ye love simplicity?
And scorners delight them in scorning,
And fools hate knowledge?

23 Turn you at my reproof:
Behold, I will pour out my spirit unto you,
I will make known my words unto you.

24 Because I have called, and ye refused;
I have stretched out my hand, and no man regarded;

25 But ye have set at nought all my counsel,
And would none of my reproof:

26 I also will laugh in the day of your calamity;
I will mock when your fear cometh;

27 When your fear cometh as ¹¹a storm,
And your calamity cometh on as a whirlwind;
When distress and anguish come upon you.

28 Then shall they call upon me, but I will not answer;
They shall seek me ¹²diligently, but they shall not find me:

29 For that they hated knowledge,
And did not choose the fear of the LORD:

30 They would none of my counsel;
They despised all my reproof:

31 Therefore shall they eat of the fruit of their own way,
And be filled with their own devices.

32 For the backsliding of the simple shall slay them,
And the ¹³prosperity of fools shall destroy them.

33 But whoso hearkeneth unto me shall dwell securely,
And shall be quiet without fear of evil.

2 My son, if thou wilt receive my words,
And lay up my commandments with thee;

2 So that thou incline thine ear unto wisdom,
And apply thine heart to understanding;

3 Yea, if thou cry after discernment,
And lift up thy voice for understanding;

4 If thou seek her as silver,
And search for her as for hid treasures;

5 Then shalt thou understand the fear of the LORD,
And find the knowledge of God.

2 For length of days, and years of life, And peace, shall they add to thee.

3 Let not ¹¹ mercy and truth forsake thee: Bind them about thy neck;

Write them upon the table of thine heart:

4 So shalt thou find favour and ¹² good understanding

In the sight of God and man.

5 Trust in the LORD with all thine heart, And lean not upon thine own understanding:

6 In all thy ways acknowledge him, And he shall ¹³ direct thy paths.

7 Be not wise in thine own eyes;

Fear the LORD, and depart from evil:

8 It shall be health to thy navel,

And ¹⁴ marrow to thy bones.

9 Honour the LORD with thy substance, And with the firstfruits of all thine increase:

10 So shall thy barns be filled with plenty, And thy fats shall overflow with new wine.

11 My son, despise not the ¹⁵ chastening of the LORD;

Neither be weary of his reproof:

⁷ Or, she sinketh down unto death, which is her house

⁸ Or, the shades Heb. Rephaim.

⁹ Or, earth

¹⁰ Or, teaching

¹¹ Or, kindness

¹² Or, good repute

¹³ Or, make straight or plain

¹⁴ Or, refreshing Heb. moistening.

¹⁵ Or, instruction

¹⁶ Heb. draweth forth.

¹⁷ See Job xxviii. 18.

¹⁸ Heb. thou shalt not dash thy foot.

¹⁹ Or, storm

	29 Devise not evil against thy neighbour, Seeing he dwelleth securely by thee.	17 For they eat the bread of wickedness, And drink the wine of violence.
	30 Strive not with a man without cause, If he have done thee no harm.	18 But the path of the righteous is as ⁹ the shining light, That shineth more and more unto the perfect day.	⁹ Or, the light of dawn
	31 Envy thou not the man of violence, And choose none of his ways.	19 The way of the wicked is as darkness: They know not at what they stumble.
¹ Or, counsel Or, friend- ship	32 For the perverse is an abomination to the LORD: But his ¹ secret is with the upright.	20 My son, attend to my words; Incline thine ear unto my sayings.
	33 The curse of the LORD is in the house of the wicked; But he blesseth the habitation of the righteous.	21 Let them not depart from thine eyes; Keep them in the midst of thine heart.
² Or, Though ³ Or, Yet	34 ² Surely he scorneth the scorers, ³ But he giveth grace unto the lowly.	22 For they are life unto those that find them, And health to all their flesh.
⁴ Or, fools carry away shame	35 The wise shall inherit glory; But ⁴ shame shall be the promotion of fools.	23 Keep thy heart ¹⁰ with all diligence; For out of it are the issues of life.	¹⁰ Or, above all that thou guardest
	4 Hear, my sons, the instruction of a father, And attend to know understanding:	24 Put away from thee a froward mouth, And perverse lips put far from thee.
⁵ Or, teaching	2 For I give you good doctrine; Forsake ye not my ⁵ law.	25 Let thine eyes look right on, And let thine eyelids look straight before thee.
⁶ Heb, an only one.	3 For I was a son unto my father, Tender and ⁶ only beloved in the sight of my mother.	26 ¹¹ Make level the path of thy feet, And let all thy ways be ¹² established.	¹¹ Or, Weigh care- fully ¹² Or, ordered aright
	4 And he taught me, and said unto me, Let thine heart retain my words; Keep my commandments, and live:	27 Turn not to the right hand nor to the left: Remove thy foot from evil.
	5 Get wisdom, get understanding; Forget it not, neither decline from the words of my mouth:	5 My son, attend unto my wisdom; Incline thine ear to my understanding:
	6 Forsake her not, and she shall preserve thee; Love her, and she shall keep thee.	2 That thou mayest preserve discretion, And that thy lips may keep knowledge.
⁷ Or, The begin- ning of wisdom is, Get wisdom	7 ⁷ Wisdom is the principal thing; there- fore get wisdom: Yea, with all thou hast gotten get understanding.	3 For the lips of a strange woman drop honey, And her mouth is smoother than oil:
	8 Exalt her, and she shall promote thee: She shall bring thee to honour, when thou dost embrace her.	4 But her latter end is bitter as worm- wood, Sharp as a two-edged sword.
	9 She shall give to thine head a chaplet of grace: A crown of ⁸ beauty shall she deliver to thee.	5 Her feet go down to death; Her steps take hold on ¹³ Sheol;	¹³ Or, the grave ¹⁴ Or, Lest thou find the level &c. Or, Lest thou weigh care- fully the path of life ¹⁵ Or, thou canst not know them
⁸ Or, glory	10 Hear, O my son, and receive my say- ings; And the years of thy life shall be many.	6 ¹⁴ So that she findeth not the level path of life: Her years are unstable and ¹⁵ she know- eth it not.
	11 I have taught thee in the way of wisdom; I have led thee in paths of uprightness.	7 Now therefore, my sons, hearken unto me, And depart not from the words of my mouth.
	12 When thou goest, thy steps shall not be straitened; And if thou runnest, thou shalt not stumble.	8 Remove thy way far from her, And come not nigh the door of her house:
	13 Take fast hold of instruction; let her not go: Keep her; for she is thy life.	9 Lest thou give thine honour unto others, And thy years unto the cruel:
	14 Enter not into the path of the wicked, And walk not in the way of evil men.	10 Lest strangers be filled with thy ¹⁶ strength; And thy labours be in the house of an alien;	¹⁶ Or, wealth
	15 Avoid it, pass not by it; Turn from it, and pass on.	11 And thou ¹⁷ mourn at thy latter end, When thy flesh and thy body are con- sumed,	¹⁷ Or, groan
	16 For they sleep not, except they have done mischief; And their sleep is taken away, unless they cause some to fall.	12 And say, How have I hated instruction, And my heart despised reproof; 13 Neither have I obeyed the voice of my teachers, Nor inclined mine ear to them that instructed me! 14 I was well nigh in all evil

In the midst of the congregation and assembly.

15 Drink waters out of thine own cistern,
And running waters out of thine own well.

16¹ Should thy springs be dispersed abroad,

And rivers of water in the streets?

17 Let them be for thyself alone,
And not for strangers with thee.

18 Let thy fountain be blessed;
And rejoice in the wife of thy youth.

19 As a loving hind and a pleasant doe,
Let her breasts satisfy thee at all times;
And be thou ravished always with her love.

² Heb. go astray.

20 For why shouldest thou, my son, ²be ravished with a strange woman,
And embrace the bosom of a stranger?

21 For the ways of man are before the eyes of the LORD,

And he ³maketh level all his paths.

³ Or, weigheth care-fully

22 His own iniquities shall take the wicked,
And he shall be holden with the cords of his sin.

23 He shall die for lack of instruction;
And in the greatness of his folly he shall go astray.

6 My son, if thou art become surety for thy neighbour,

⁴ Or, thy hand with a stranger

If thou hast stricken ⁴thy hands for a stranger,

2 Thou art snared with the words of thy mouth,

Thou art taken with the words of thy mouth.

3 Do this now, my son, and deliver thyself,

Seeing thou art come into the hand of thy neighbour;

⁵ Or, bestir

Go, ⁵humble thyself, and importune thy neighbour.

4 Give not sleep to thine eyes,
Nor slumber to thine eyelids.

⁶ Or, gazelle

5 Deliver thyself as a ⁶roe from the hand of the hunter,

And as a bird from the hand of the fowler.

6 Go to the ant, thou sluggard;

Consider her ways, and be wise;

⁷ Or, judge

7 Which having no ⁷chief, Overseer, or ruler,

8 Provideth her meat in the summer,
And gathereth her food in the harvest.

⁸ Heb. lie down.

9 How long wilt thou ⁸sleep, O sluggard?

When wilt thou arise out of thy sleep?

10 Yet a little sleep, a little slumber,
A little folding of the hands to ⁸sleep:

⁹ Or, rover

¹⁰ Heb. a man with a shield.

11 So shall thy poverty come as a ⁹robber,
And thy want as ¹⁰an armed man.

12 A worthless person, a man of iniquity;
He walketh with a froward mouth;

¹¹ Or, shuffleth

¹² Or, teacheth

13 He winketh with his eyes, he ¹¹speaketh with his feet,
He ¹²maketh signs with his fingers;

14 Frowardness is in his heart, he deviseth evil continually;

He ¹³soweth discord.

¹³ Heb. letteth loose.

15 Therefore shall his calamity come suddenly;

On a sudden shall he be broken, and that without remedy.

16 There be six things which the LORD hateth;

Yea, seven which are an abomination ¹⁴unto him:

¹⁴ Heb. of his soul.

17 Haughty eyes, a lying tongue,
And hands that shed innocent blood;

18 An heart that deviseth wicked imaginations,

Feet that be swift in running to mischief;

¹⁵ Heb. breatheth out.

19 A false witness that ¹⁵uttereth lies,
And he that ¹⁸soweth discord among brethren.

20 My son, keep the commandment of thy father,

And forsake not the ¹⁶law of thy mother:

¹⁶ Or, teaching

21 Bind them continually upon thine heart,
Tie them about thy neck.

22 When thou walkest, it shall lead thee;
When thou ¹⁷ sleepest, it shall watch over thee;

¹⁷ Heb. liest down.

And when thou awakest, it shall talk with thee.

23 For ¹⁸the commandment is a lamp;

and ¹⁹the law is light;

¹⁸ Or, their commandment

And reproofs of instruction are the way of life:

¹⁹ Or, their teaching

24 To keep thee from the evil woman,
From the flattery of the stranger's tongue.

25 Lust not after her beauty in thine heart;

Neither let her take thee with her eyelids.

26 For on account of a whorish woman a man is brought to a piece of bread:

And ²⁰the adulteress hunteth for the precious life.

²⁰ Heb. a man's wife.

27 Can a man take fire in his bosom,
And his clothes not be burned?

28 Or can one walk upon hot coals,
And his feet not be scorched?

29 So he that goeth in to his neighbour's wife;

Whosoever toucheth her shall not be ²¹unpunished.

²¹ Heb. held innocent.

30 Men do not despise a thief, if he steal
To satisfy his soul when he is hungry:

31 But if he be found, he shall restore sevenfold;

He shall give all the substance of his house.

32 He that committeth adultery with a woman is void of ²²understanding:

²² Heb. heart.

He doeth it that would destroy his own soul.

33 Wounds and dishonour shall he get;
And his reproach shall not be wiped away.

34 For jealousy is the rage of a man;

1 Or, increase	19 My fruit is better than gold, yea, than fine gold; And my ¹ revenue than choice silver.	And drink of the wine which I have mingled. 6 ¹³ Leave off, ye simple ones, and live; And walk in the way of understanding.	13 Or, forsake the simple
2 Or, formed 3 Or, as 4 Or, The first of	20 I walk in the way of righteousness, In the midst of the paths of judgement: 21 That I may cause those that love me to inherit substance, And that I may fill their treasures. 22 The LORD ² possessed me ³ in the beginning of his way, ⁴ Before his works of old.	7 He that correcteth a scorner getteth to himself shame; And he that reproveth a wicked man getteth himself a blot. 8 Reprove not a scorner, lest he hate thee: Reprove a wise man, and he will love thee.
5 Or, sum	23 I was set up from everlasting, from the beginning, Or ever the earth was. 24 When there were no depths, I was brought forth; When there were no fountains abounding with water. 25 Before the mountains were settled, Before the hills was I brought forth: 26 While as yet he had not made the earth, nor the fields, Nor the ⁵ beginning of the dust of the world.	9 Give instruction to a wise man, and he will be yet wiser: Teach a righteous man, and he will increase in learning. 10 The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom: And the knowledge of the Holy One is understanding. 11 For by me thy days shall be multiplied, And the years of thy life shall be increased.
6 Or, prepared	27 When he ⁶ established the heavens, I was there: When he set a circle upon the face of the deep:	12 If thou art wise, thou art wise for thyself: And if thou scornest, thou alone shalt bear it.
7 Or, his decree	28 When he made firm the skies above: When the fountains of the deep became strong:	13 ¹⁴ The foolish woman is clamorous; She is ¹⁵ simple, and knoweth nothing.	11 Or, Folly 15 Heb. simplicity.
8 Or, appointed	29 When he gave to the sea ⁷ its bound, That the waters should not transgress his commandment: When he ⁸ marked out the foundations of the earth:	14 And she sitteth at the door of her house, On a seat in the high places of the city, 15 To call to them that pass by, Who go right on their ways,
9 Or, had delight continually 10 Or, Sporting	30 Then I was by him, as a master workman: And I ⁹ was daily his delight, ¹⁰ Rejoicing always before him;	16 Whoso is simple, let him turn in hither: And as for him that is void of understanding, she saith to him,
	31 ¹⁰ Rejoicing in his habitable earth; And my delight was with the sons of men.	17 Stolen waters are sweet, And bread eaten in secret is pleasant.
	32 Now therefore, my sons, hearken unto me: For blessed are they that keep my ways.	18 But he knoweth not that ¹⁶ the dead are there; That her guests are in the depths of Sheol.	16 Or, the shades Heb. Tophanin.
	33 Hear instruction, and be wise, And refuse it not.	10 The proverbs of Solomon.
	34 Blessed is the man that heareth me, Watching daily at my gates, Waiting at the posts of my doors.	A wise son maketh a glad father: But a foolish son is the heaviness of his mother.
	35 For whoso findeth me findeth life, And shall ¹¹ obtain favour of the LORD.	2 Treasures of wickedness profit nothing: But righteousness delivereth from death.
11 Heb. draw forth. 12 Or, misseeth me	36 But he that ¹² sinneth against me wrongeth his own soul: All they that hate me love death.	3 The LORD will not suffer the soul of the righteous to famish: But he thrusteth away the desire of the wicked.
	9 Wisdom hath builded her house, She hath hewn out her seven pillars:	4 He becometh poor that dealeth with a slack hand: But the hand of the diligent maketh rich.
	2 She hath killed her beasts; she hath mingled her wine; She hath also furnished her table.	5 He that gathereth in summer is ¹⁷ a wise son: But he that sleepeth in harvest is a son ¹⁸ that causeth shame.	17 Or, a son that doeth wisely 18 Or, that doth shamefully
	3 She hath sent forth her maidens, she crieth Upon the highest places of the city,	6 Blessings are upon the head of the righteous: But ¹⁹ violence covereth the mouth of the wicked.	19 Or, the mouth of the wicked
	4 Whoso is simple, let him turn in hither: As for him that is void of understanding, she saith to him,	7 The memory of the just is blessed: But the name of the wicked shall rot.	wick: d covereth violence

8 The wise in heart will receive commandments:

But ¹a prating fool ²shall fall.

9 He that walketh uprightly walketh surely:

But he that perverteth his ways shall be known.

10 He that winketh with the eye causeth
sorrow:

But ¹a prating fool ²shall fall.

11 The mouth of the righteous is a fountain of life:

But ⁴violence covereth the mouth of the wicked.

12 Hatred stirreth up strifes:

But love covereth all transgressions.

13 In the lips of him that hath discernment wisdom is found:

But a rod is for the back of him that is void of ⁵understanding.

14 Wise men lay up knowledge:

But the mouth of the foolish is a present destruction.

15 The rich man's wealth is his strong
city:

The destruction of the poor is their poverty.

16 The labour of the righteous tendeth to life;

The increase of the wicked to sin.

17 He ⁶is in the way of life that heedeth ⁷correction:

But he that forsaketh reproof ⁸erreth.

18 He that hideth hatred is of lying lips;

And he that uttereth a slander is a fool.

19 In the multitude of words there want-eth not transgression:

But he that refraineth his lips ⁹doeth wisely.

20 The tongue of the righteous is as choice silver:

The heart of the wicked is little worth.

21 The lips of the righteous feed many:

But the foolish die for lack of ⁵under-standing.

22 The blessing of the LORD, it maketh rich,

And ¹⁰he addeth no sorrow therewith.

23 It is as sport to a fool to do wickedness:

¹¹ And so is wisdom to a man of understanding.

24 The fear of the wicked, it shall come upon him:

And the desire of the righteous shall be granted.

25 ¹² When the whirlwind passeth, the wicked is no more:

But the righteous is an everlasting foundation.

26 As vinegar to the teeth, and as smoke
to the eyes,

So is the sluggard to them that send
him.

27 The fear of the LORD ¹³prolongeth days:

But the years of the wicked shall be shortened.

28 The hope of the righteous shall be gladness:

But the expectation of the wicked shall perish.

29 The way of the LORD is a strong hold to the upright;

But ¹⁴it is a destruction to the workers of iniquity.

30 The righteous shall never be removed:

But the wicked shall not dwell in the ¹⁵land.

31 The mouth of the righteous ¹⁶bringeth forth wisdom:

But the froward tongue shall be cut off.

32 The lips of the righteous know what is acceptable:

But the mouth of the wicked ¹⁷*speaketh* frowardness.

11 ¹⁸ A false balance is an abomination to
the LORD:

But a just weight is his delight.

2 When pride cometh, then cometh shame:

But with the lowly is wisdom.

3 The integrity of the upright shall guide
them:

But the perverseness of the treacherous shall destroy them.

4 Riches profit not in the day of wrath:

But righteousness delivereth from death.

5 The righteousness of the perfect shall ¹⁹direct his way:

But the wicked shall fall by his own wickedness.

6 The righteousness of the upright shall deliver them:

But they that deal treacherously shall be taken in their own mischief.

7 When a wicked man dieth, his expectation shall perish:

And the hope of ²⁰iniquity perisheth.

8 The righteous is delivered out of trouble,
And the wicked cometh in his stead.

9 With his mouth the godless man de-stroyeth his neighbour:

But through knowledge shall the righteous be delivered.

10 When it goeth well with the righteous,
the city rejoiceth:

And when the wicked perish, there is shouting.

11 By the blessing of the upright the city is exalted:

But it is overthrown by the mouth of the wicked.

12 He that despiseth his neighbour is void of ⁵wisdom:

But a man of understanding holdeth his peace.

13 He that goeth about as a talebearer
revealeth secrets:

But he that is of a faithful spirit con-cealeth the matter.

⁷ Or, arrogance

⁸ Or, what is justly due

⁹ Or, instruction

15 He that is surety for a stranger ¹shall smart for it:

But he that hateth ²suretiship is sure.

16 A gracious woman retaineth honour:
And violent men retain riches.

17 The merciful man doeth good to his own soul:

But he that is cruel troubleth his own flesh.

18 The wicked earneth deceitful wages:
But he that soweth righteousness hath a sure reward.

19 ³He that is stedfast in righteousness shall attain unto life:

And he that pursueth evil doeth it to his own death.

20 They that are perverse in heart are an abomination to the Lord:

But such as are perfect in their way are his delight.

21 ⁴Though hand join in hand, the evil man shall not be unpunished:

But the seed of the righteous shall be delivered.

22 As a ⁵jewel of gold in a swine's snout,
So is a fair woman which ⁶is without discretion.

23 The desire of the righteous is only good:
But the expectation of the wicked is ⁷wrath.

24 There is that scattereth, and increaseth yet more;

And there is that withholdeth ⁸more than is meet, but it tendeth only to want.

25 The liberal soul shall be made fat:
And he that watereth shall be watered also himself.

26 He that withholdeth corn, the people shall curse him:

But blessing shall be upon the head of him that selleth it.

27 He that diligently seeketh good seeketh favour:

But he that searcheth after mischief, it shall come unto him.

28 He that trusteth in his riches shall fall:
But the righteous shall flourish as the green leaf.

29 He that troubleth his own house shall inherit the wind:

And the foolish shall be servant to the wise of heart.

30 The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life;

And he that is wise winneth souls.

31 Behold, the righteous shall be recompensed in the earth:

How much more the wicked and the sinner!

12 Whoso loveth ⁹correction loveth knowledge:

But he that hateth reproof is brutish.

2 A good man shall obtain favour of the Lord:

But a man of wicked devices will he condemn.

3 A man shall not be established by wickedness:

But the root of the righteous shall never be moved.

4 A virtuous woman is a crown to her husband:

But she that ¹⁰maketh ashamed is as rottenness in his bones.

5 The thoughts of the righteous are ¹¹just:

But the counsels of the wicked are deceit.

6 The words of the wicked ¹²are of lying in wait for blood:

But the mouth of the upright shall deliver them.

7 ¹³The wicked are overthrown, and are not:

But the house of the righteous shall stand.

8 A man shall be commended according to his wisdom:

But he that is of a perverse heart shall be despised.

9 Better is he that is lightly esteemed, and hath a servant,

Than he that honoureth himself, and lacketh bread.

10 A righteous man regardeth the life of his beast:

But the tender mercies of the wicked are cruel.

11 He that tilleth his land shall have plenty of bread:

But he that followeth after ¹⁴vain persons is void of understanding.

12 The wicked desireth ¹⁵the net of evil men:

But the root of the righteous yieldeth fruit.

13 In the transgression of the lips is ¹⁶a snare to the evil man:

But the righteous shall come out of trouble.

14 A man shall be satisfied with good by the fruit of his mouth:

And the doings of a man's hands shall be rendered unto him.

15 The way of the foolish is right in his own eyes:

But he that is wise hearkeneth unto counsel.

16 A fool's vexation is ¹⁷presently known:

But a prudent man concealeth shame.

17 He that ¹⁸uttereth truth sheweth forth righteousness,

But a false witness deceit.

18 There is that speaketh rashly like the piercings of a sword:

But the tongue of the wise is health.

19 The lip of truth shall be established for ever:

But a lying tongue is but for a moment.

20 Deceit is in the heart of them that devise evil:

But to the counsellors of peace is joy.

21 There shall no mischief happen to the righteous:

But the wicked shall be filled with evil.

22 Lying lips are an abomination to the Lord:

¹⁰ Or, doeth shamefully

¹¹ Heb. judgement.

¹² Or, are a lying in wait

¹³ Or, Overthrow the wicked, and they are not

¹⁴ Or, vain things

¹⁵ Or, the prey

¹⁶ Or, an evil snare

¹⁷ Or, openly

¹⁸ Heb. in the day.

¹⁸ Heb. breatheth out.

But they that deal truly are his delight.
23 A prudent man concealeth knowledge:
But the heart of fools proclaimeth foolishness.

24 The hand of the diligent shall bear rule:
But ¹the slothful shall be put under taskwork.

25 ²Heaviness in the heart of a man maketh it stoop;
But a good word maketh it glad.

26 The righteous is a guide to his neighbour:
But the way of the wicked causeth them to err.

27 ¹The slothful man ³roasteth not that which he took in hunting:
But the precious substance of men ⁴is to the diligent.

28 In the way of righteousness is life;
And in the pathway thereof there is no death.

13 A wise son heareth his father's ⁵ instruction:

But a scorner heareth not rebuke.

2 A man shall eat good ⁶by the fruit of his mouth:
But ⁷the soul of the treacherous shall eat violence.

3 He that guardeth his mouth keepeth his life:
But he that openeth wide his lips shall have destruction.

4 The soul of the sluggard desireth, and hath nothing:
But the soul of the diligent shall be made fat.

5 A righteous man hateth lying:
But a wicked man ⁸is loathsome, and cometh to shame.

6 Righteousness guardeth ⁹him that is upright in the way:
But wickedness overthroweth ¹⁰the sinner.

7 There is that ¹¹maketh himself rich, yet hath nothing:
There is that ¹²maketh himself poor, yet hath great wealth.

8 The ransom of a man's life is his riches:
But the poor heareth no ¹³threatening.

9 The light of the righteous rejoiceth:
But the lamp of the wicked shall be put out.

10 By pride cometh only contention:
But with the well advised is wisdom.

11 Wealth gotten ¹⁴by vanity shall be diminished:
But he that gathereth ¹⁵by labour shall have increase.

12 Hope deferred maketh the heart sick:
But when the desire cometh, it is a tree of life.

13 Whoso despiseth ¹⁶the word ¹⁷bringeth destruction on himself:
But he that feareth the commandment shall be rewarded.

14 The ¹⁸law of the wise is a fountain of life,
To depart from the snares of death.

15 Good understanding ¹⁹giveth favour:

But the way of the treacherous is rugged.

16 Every prudent man worketh with knowledge:

But a fool spreadeth out folly.

17 A wicked messenger falleth into evil:
But a faithful ambassador is health.

18 Poverty and shame shall be to him that refuseth ²⁰correction:

But he that regardeth reproof shall be honoured.

19 The desire accomplished is sweet to the soul:

But it is an abomination to fools to depart from evil.

20 ²¹Walk with wise men, and thou shalt be wise:

But the companion of fools shall ²²be wise.

21 Evil pursueth sinners:
But the righteous shall be recompensed with good.

22 A good man leaveth an inheritance to his children's children;

And the wealth of the sinner is laid up for the righteous.

23 Much food is in the ²⁴tillage of the poor:

But there is that is destroyed by reason of injustice.

24 He that spareth his rod hateth his son:
But he that loveth him chasteneth him ²⁵betimes.

25 The righteous eateth to the satisfying of his soul:

But the belly of the wicked shall want.

14 Every wise woman buildeth her house:
But ²⁶the foolish plucketh it down with her own hands.

2 He that walketh in his uprightness feareth the LORD:

But he that is perverse in his ways despiseth him.

3 In the mouth of the foolish is a ²⁷rod ²⁸of pride:

But the lips of the wise shall preserve them.

4 Where no oxen are, the crib is clean:
But much increase is by the strength of the ox.

5 A faithful witness will not lie:
But a false witness ²⁹uttereth lies.

6 A scorner seeketh wisdom, and findeth it not:

But knowledge is easy unto him that hath understanding.

7 ³⁰Go into the presence of a foolish man,

And thou shalt not perceive in him the lips of knowledge.

8 The wisdom of the prudent is to understand his way:

But the folly of fools is deceit.

9 ³¹The foolish make a mock at ³²guilt:
But among the upright there is ³³good will.

10 The heart knoweth its own bitterness;
And a stranger doth not intermeddle with its joy.

³⁰ Or, the guilt offering

³¹ Or, the favour of God

	11 The house of the wicked shall be overthrown: But the tent of the upright shall flourish.	But the righteous ¹⁰ hath hope in his death.	¹⁰ Or, hath a refuge
¹ Or, as straight before	12 There is a way which ¹ seemeth right unto a man, But the end thereof are the ways of death.	33 Wisdom resteth in the heart of him that hath understanding: ¹¹ But that which is in the inward part of fools is made known.	¹¹ Or, And in the midst of fools it maketh itself known
	13 Even in laughter the heart is sorrowful; And the end of mirth is heaviness.	34 Righteousness exalteth a nation: But sin is a reproach to ¹² any people.	¹² Heb. people.
	14 The backslider in heart shall be filled with his own ways: And a good man shall be satisfied from himself.	35 The king's favour is toward a servant that dealeth wisely: But his wrath shall be against him that ¹³ causeth shame.	¹³ Or, doeth shamefully
	15 The simple believeth every word: But the prudent man looketh well to his going.	15 A soft answer turneth away wrath: But a grievous word stirreth up anger.
	16 A wise man feareth, and departeth from evil: But the fool beareth himself insolently, and is confident.	2 The tongue of the wise uttereth knowledge aright: But the mouth of fools poureth out folly.
	17 He that is soon angry will deal foolishly: And a man of wicked devices is hated.	3 The eyes of the Lord are in every place, Keeping watch upon the evil and the good.
	18 The simple inherit folly: But the prudent are crowned with knowledge.	4 ¹⁴ A wholesome tongue is a tree of life: But perverseness therein is a breaking of the spirit.	¹⁴ Heb. The healing of the tongue.
	19 The evil bow before the good; And the wicked at the gates of the righteous.	5 A fool despiseth his father's ¹⁵ correction: But he that regardeth reproof ¹⁶ getteth prudence.	¹⁵ Or, instruction ¹⁶ Or, doeth prudent-ly
	20 The poor is hated even of his own neighbour: But the rich hath many friends.	6 In the house of the righteous is much treasure: But in the revenues of the wicked is trouble.
	21 He that despiseth his neighbour sinneth: But he that hath pity on the poor, happy is he.	7 The lips of the wise disperse knowledge: But the heart of the foolish ¹⁷ doeth not so.	¹⁷ Or, is notstedfast or right
² Or, Shall they not go astray	22 Do they not err that devise evil? But mercy and truth shall be to them that devise good.	8 The sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination to the Lord: But the prayer of the upright is his delight.
	23 In all labour there is profit: But the talk of the lips tendeth only to penury.	9 The way of the wicked is an abomination to the Lord: But he loveth him that followeth after righteousness.
³ Or, Their riches is a crown unto the wise	24 The crown of the wise is their riches: But the folly of fools is only folly.	10 There is grievous correction for him that forsaketh the way: And he that hateth reproof shall die.
⁴ Heb. breatheth out.	25 A true witness delivereth souls: But he that ⁴ uttereth lies causeth deceit.	11 ¹⁸ Sheel and ¹⁹ Abaddon are before the Lord: How much more then the hearts of the children of men!	¹⁸ Or, The grave ¹⁹ Or, Destruction
⁵ Or, the children of him that hath it	26 In the fear of the Lord is strong confidence: And ⁵ his children shall have a place of refuge.	12 A scorner loveth not to be reproved: He will not go unto the wise.
	27 The fear of the Lord is a fountain of life, To depart from the snares of death.	13 A merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance: But by sorrow of heart the spirit is broken.
	28 In the multitude of people is the king's glory: But in the want of people is the destruction of the prince.	14 The heart of him that hath understanding seeketh knowledge: But the mouth of fools feedeth on folly.
⁶ Or, carrieth away	29 He that is slow to anger is of great understanding: But he that is hasty of spirit ⁶ exalteth folly.	15 All the days of the afflicted are evil: But he that is of a cheerful heart hath a continual feast.
⁷ Or, tranquill	30 A ⁷ sound heart is the life of the flesh: But ⁸ envy is the rottenness of the bones.	16 Better is little with the fear of the Lord, Than great treasure and trouble therewith.
⁸ Or, jealousy	31 He that oppresseth the poor reproacheth his Maker: But he that hath mercy on the needy honoureth him.	17 Better is a ²⁰ dinner of herbs where love is, Than a stalled ox and hatred therewith.	²⁰ Or, portion
⁹ Or, calamity	32 The wicked is thrust down in his ⁹ evil-doing:

18 A wrathful man stirreth up contention:
But he that is slow to anger appeaseth strife.

19 The way of the sluggard is as an hedge of thorns:
But the path of the upright is made an high way.

20 A wise son maketh a glad father:
But a foolish man despiseth his mother.

21 Folly is joy to him that is void of wisdom:
But a man of understanding maketh straight his going.

22 Where there is no counsel, purposes are disappointed:
But in the multitude of counsellors they are established.

23 A man hath joy in the answer of his mouth:
And a word in due season, how good is it!

24 To the wise the way of life goeth upward,
That he may depart from ²Sheol beneath.

25 The LORD will root up the house of the proud:
But he will establish the border of the widow.

26 Evil devices are an abomination to the LORD:
But ³pleasant words are pure.

27 He that is greedy of gain troubleth his own house:
But he that hateth gifts shall live.

28 The heart of the righteous studieth to answer:
But the mouth of the wicked poureth out evil things.

29 The LORD is far from the wicked:
But he heareth the prayer of the righteous.

30 The light of the eyes rejoiceth the heart:
And good tidings make the bones fat.

31 The ear that hearkeneth to the reproof of life
Shall abide among the wise.

32 He that refuseth ⁴correction despiseth his own soul:

But he that hearkeneth to reproof getteth ¹understanding.

33 The fear of the LORD is the instruction of wisdom;
And before honour goeth humility.

16 The ⁶preparations of the heart belong to man:

But the answer of the tongue is from the LORD.

2 All the ways of a man are clean in his own eyes:

But the LORD weigheth the spirits.

3 ⁶Commit thy works unto the LORD,
And thy ⁷thoughts shall be established.

4 The LORD hath made every thing for ⁸its own end:

Yea, even the wicked for the day of evil.

5 Every one that is proud in heart is an abomination to the LORD:

⁹Though hand join in hand, he shall not be unpunished.

6 By mercy and truth iniquity is ¹⁰purged:
And by the fear of the LORD men depart from evil.

7 When a man's ways please the LORD,
He maketh even his enemies to be at peace with him.

8 Better is a little with righteousness
Than great revenues with injustice.

9 A man's heart deviseth his way:
But the LORD directeth his steps.

10 ¹¹A divine sentence is in the lips of the king:
His mouth shall not transgress in judgement.

11 A just balance and scales are the LORD's:
All the weights of the bag are his work.

12 It is an abomination to kings to commit wickedness:

For the throne is established by righteousness.

13 Righteous lips are the delight of kings;
And they love him that speaketh right.

14 The wrath of a king is as messengers of death:

But a wise man will pacify it.

15 In the light of the king's countenance is life;

And his favour is as a cloud of the latter rain.

16 How much better is it to get wisdom than gold!

Yea, to get understanding is rather to be chosen than silver.

17 The high way of the upright is to depart from evil:

He that keepeth his way preserveth his soul.

18 Pride goeth before destruction,
And an haughty spirit before a fall.

19 Better it is to be of a lowly spirit with the ¹²poor,

Than to divide the spoil with the proud.

20 He that ¹³giveth heed unto ¹⁴the word shall find good:

And whoso trusteth in the LORD, happy is he.

21 The wise in heart shall be called prudent:

And the sweetness of the lips increaseth learning.

22 Understanding is a wellspring of life unto him that hath it:

But the correction of fools is their folly.

23 The heart of the wise instructeth his mouth,

And addeth learning to his lips.

24 Pleasant words are as an honeycomb,
Sweet to the soul, and health to the bones.

25 ¹⁵There is a way which ¹⁶seemeth right unto a man,

But the end thereof are the ways of death.

26 The appetite of the labouring man laboureth for him;

¹⁶ Or, is straight before

1 Or, urgeth him thereto 2 Heb. diggeth.	For his mouth ¹ craveth it of him. 27 A worthless man ² deviseth mischief: And in his lips there is as a scorching fire.	14 The beginning of strife is as when one letteth out water: Therefore leave off contention, before there be quarrelling.	15 He that justifieth the wicked, and he that condemneth the righteous, Both of them alike are an abomination to the LORD.	15 Heb. heart.
3 Or, alienateth his friend	28 A froward man scattereth abroad strife: And a whisperer ³ separateth chief friends. 29 A man of violence enticeth his neighbour, And leadeth him in a way that is not good.	16 Wherefore is there a price in the hand of a fool to buy wisdom, Seeing he hath no ¹⁵ understanding?	17 A friend loveth at all times, And ¹⁶ a brother is born for adversity.	16 Or, is born as a brother
4 Or, He that shutteth his eyes to devise froward things, that compasseth his lips, bringeth &c. 5 Or, beauty 6 Or, If it be found	30 ⁴ He that shutteth his eyes, it is to devise froward things: He that compasseth his lips bringeth evil to pass. 31 The hoary head is a crown of ⁵ glory, ⁶ It shall be found in the way of righteousness. 32 He that is slow to anger is better than the mighty; And he that ruleth his spirit than he that taketh a city.	17 He loveth transgression that loveth strife: He that raiseth high his gate seeketh destruction.	18 A man void of ¹⁵ understanding striketh hands, And becometh surety in the presence of his neighbour.	17 Or, He that loveth transgression loveth strife
7 Heb. the secret-ices of strife. 8 Or, doeth shame-fully	33 The lot is cast into the lap; But the whole disposing thereof is of the LORD. 17 Better is a dry morsel and quietness therewith, Than an house full of ⁷ feasting with strife.	20 He that hath a froward heart findeth no good: And he that hath a perverse tongue falleth into ¹⁸ mischief.	19 He that begetteth a fool doeth it to his sorrow: And the father of a fool hath no joy.	18 Or, calamity
9 Heb. fallacious hood,	2 A servant that dealeth wisely shall have rule over a son that ⁸ causeth shame, And shall have part in the inheritance among the brethren. 3 The fining pot is for silver, and the furnace for gold: But the LORD trieth the hearts.	21 He that hath a broken spirit drieth up the bones. 22 A wicked man taketh a gift out of the bosom, To pervert the ways of judgement.	20 He that hath a froward heart findeth no good: And he that hath a perverse tongue falleth into ¹⁸ mischief.	19 Heb. causeth good healing.
13 Or, Arrogant	4 An evil-doer giveth heed to wicked lips; And ⁹ a liar giveth ear to a mischievous tongue. 5 Whoso mocketh the poor reproacheth his Maker: And he that is glad at calamity shall not be unpunished.	23 A foolish son is a grief to his father, And bitterness to her that bare him. 24 Also to ²⁰ punish the righteous is not good, Nor to smite the noble for their uprightness.	21 He that begetteth a fool doeth it to his sorrow: And the father of a fool hath no joy.	20 Or, finis
11 Or, he 12 Or, dealeth wisely	6 Children's children are the crown of old men; And the glory of children are their fathers. 7 ¹⁰ Excellent speech becometh not a fool: Much less do lying lips a prince.	25 Wisdom is before the face of him that hath understanding: But the eyes of a fool are in the ends of the earth.	22 A merry heart ¹⁹ is a good medicine: But a broken spirit drieth up the bones.	21 Or, He that hath knowledge spareth his words: and a man of understanding is of a cool spirit
13 See ch. xvi. 28.	8 A gift is as a precious stone in the eyes of him that hath it: Whithersoever ¹¹ it turneth, ¹¹ it ¹² prospereth.	26 Even a fool, when he holdeth his peace, is counted wise: ²² When he shutteth his lips, he is esteemed as prudent.	23 A wicked man taketh a gift out of the bosom, To pervert the ways of judgement.	22 Or, He that shutteth his lips is &c.
14 Or, A rebellious man (Heb. Rebellion) seeketh only evil	9 He that covereth a transgression seeketh love: But he that harpeth on a matter ¹³ separateth chief friends. 10 A rebuke entereth deeper into one that hath understanding Than an hundred stripes into a fool.	27 ²¹ He that spareth his words hath knowledge: And he that is of a cool spirit is a man of understanding.	24 Also to ²⁰ punish the righteous is not good, Nor to smite the noble for their uprightness.	23 Or, He that shutteth his lips is &c.
	11 ¹⁴ An evil man seeketh only rebellion: Therefore a cruel messenger shall be sent against him.	28 Even a fool, when he holdeth his peace, is counted wise: ²² When he shutteth his lips, he is esteemed as prudent.	25 A foolish son is a grief to his father, And bitterness to her that bare him.	24 Or, quarrelteth with
	12 Let a bear robbed of her whelps meet a man, Rather than a fool in his folly.	29 A foolish son is a grief to his father, And bitterness to her that bare him.	26 Also to ²⁰ punish the righteous is not good, Nor to smite the noble for their uprightness.	25 Or, So as to turn aside
	13 Whoso rewardeth evil for good, Evil shall not depart from his house.	30 He that hath a froward heart findeth no good: And he that hath a perverse tongue falleth into ¹⁸ mischief.	31 The hoary head is a crown of ⁵ glory, ⁶ It shall be found in the way of righteousness.

¹ Or, bring contention

6 A fool's lips ¹enter into contention, And his mouth calleth for stripes.
7 A fool's mouth is his destruction, And his lips are the snare of his soul.
8 The words of a whisperer are as dainty morsels,

² Heb. chambers.

And they go down into the ²innermost parts of the belly.

9 He also that is slack in his work Is brother to him that is a destroyer.

³ Heb. is set on high.

10 The name of the LORD is a strong tower: The righteous runneth into it, and ³is safe.

11 The rich man's wealth is his strong city, And as an high wall in his own imagination.

12 Before destruction the heart of man is haughty,

And before honour goeth humility.

13 He that giveth answer before he heareth,

It is folly and shame unto him.

14 The spirit of a man will sustain his infirmity;

But a broken spirit who can ⁴bear?

⁴ Or, raise up

15 The heart of the prudent getteth knowledge; And the ear of the wise seeketh knowledge.

16 A man's gift maketh room for him, And bringeth him before great men.

17 He that pleadeth his cause first seemeth just;

But his neighbour cometh and searcheth him out.

18 The lot causeth contentions to cease, And parteth between the mighty.

⁵ Or, injured

19 A brother ⁵offended is harder to be won than a strong city: And such contentions are like the bars of a castle.

20 A man's belly shall be filled with the fruit of his mouth;

With the increase of his lips shall he be satisfied.

21 Death and life are in the power of the tongue;

And they that love it shall eat the fruit thereof.

22 Whoso findeth a wife findeth a good thing,

And obtaineth favour of the LORD.

23 The poor useth intreaties:

But the rich answereth roughly.

⁶ Heb. A man of friends.

24 ⁶He that maketh many friends doeth it to his own destruction:

⁷ Heb. lover.

But there is a ⁷friend that sticketh closer than a brother.

19 Better is the poor that walketh in his integrity

Than he that is perverse in his lips and is a fool.

⁸ Or, desire without knowledge is not good

2 Also, ⁸that the soul be without knowledge is not good; And he that hasteth with his feet ⁹sinneth.

⁹ Or, misseeth his way

3 The foolishness of man subverteth his way; And his heart fretteth against the LORD.

4 Wealth addeth many friends:

But ¹⁰the poor is separated from his friend.

5 A false witness shall not be unpunished; And he that ¹¹uttereth lies shall not escape.

6 Many will intreat the favour of ¹²the liberal man:

And every man is a friend to him that giveth gifts.

7 All the brethren of the poor do hate him: How much more do his friends go far from him!

¹³ He pursueth them with words, but they are gone.

8 He that getteth ¹⁴wisdom loveth his own soul:

He that keepeth understanding shall find good.

9 A false witness shall not be unpunished;

And he that ¹¹uttereth lies shall perish.

10 Delicate living is not seemly for a fool; Much less for a servant to have rule over princes.

11 The discretion of a man maketh him slow to anger;

And it is his glory to pass over a transgression.

12 The king's wrath is as the roaring of a lion;

But his favour is as dew upon the grass.

13 A foolish son is the calamity of his father:

And the contentions of a wife are a continual dropping.

14 House and riches are an inheritance from fathers:

But a prudent wife is from the LORD.

15 Slothfulness casteth into a deep sleep; And the idle soul shall suffer hunger.

16 He that keepeth the commandment keepeth his soul:

But he that ¹⁵is careless of his ways shall die.

17 He that hath pity upon the poor lendeth unto the LORD,

And his good deed will he pay him again.

18 Chasten thy son, seeing there is hope; And set not thy heart on ¹⁶his destruction.

19 A man of great wrath shall bear the penalty:

For if thou deliver him, thou must do it yet again.

20 Hear counsel, and receive ¹⁷instruction, That thou mayest be wise in thy latter end.

21 There are many devices in a man's heart;

But the counsel of the LORD, that shall stand.

22 ¹⁸The desire of a man is the measure of his kindness:

And a poor man is better than a liar.

23 The fear of the LORD tendeth to life: And he that hath it shall abide satisfied;

He shall not be visited with evil.

¹⁰ Or, the friend of the poor separateth himself from him

¹¹ Heb. breatheth out.

¹² Or, a prince

¹³ Or, He pursueth after words, which are nought

¹⁴ Heb. heart.

¹⁵ Heb. despiseth.

¹⁶ Heb. causing him to die.

¹⁷ Or, correction

¹⁸ Or, That which maketh a man to be desired in his kindness

	24 The sluggard burieth his hand in the dish, And will not so much as bring it to his mouth again.	But when he is gone his way, then he boasteth.
	25 Suite a scorner, and the simple will learn prudence: And reprove one that hath understanding, and he will understand knowledge.	15 There is gold, and abundance of ¹⁰ rubies: But the lips of knowledge are a precious jewel.	¹⁰ See Job xxviii. 18.
¹ Or, violently entreat-eth	26 He that ¹ spoileth his father, and chaseth away his mother, Is a son that causeth shame and bringeth reproach.	16 Take his garment that is surety for a stranger; And ¹¹ hold him in pledge that is surety for ¹² strangers.	¹¹ Or, take a pledge of him ¹² Another reading is, a strange woman
	27 Cease, my son, to hear instruction Only to err from the words of knowledge.	17 Bread of falsehood is sweet to a man; But afterwards his mouth shall be filled with gravel.
	28 A worthless witness mocketh at judgement: And the mouth of the wicked swalloweth iniquity.	18 Every purpose is established by counsel: And by wise guidance make thou war.
	29 Judgements are prepared for scorners, And stripes for the back of fools.	19 He that goeth about as a talebearer revealeth secrets: Therefore meddle not with him that openeth wide his lips.
² Or, recedeth	20 Wine is a mocker, strong drink a brawler; And whosoever ² erreth thereby is not wise.	20 Whoso curseth his father or his mother, His lamp shall be put out in the blackest darkness.
	2 The terror of a king is as the roaring of a lion: He that ³ provoketh him to anger sinneth against his own ⁴ life.	21 An inheritance may be gotten hastily at the beginning; But the end thereof shall not be blessed.
³ Or, angereth himself against him	3 It is an honour for a man to ⁵ keep aloof from strife: But every fool will be quarrelling.	22 Say not thou, I will recompense evil: Wait on the Lord, and he shall save thee.	¹³ Heb. a balance of deceit.
⁵ Or, cease	5 Counsel in the heart of man is like deep water; But a man of understanding will draw it out.	24 A man's goings are of the Lord; How then can man understand his way?	¹⁴ Or, rashly to utter holy words Or, to devour that which is holy
⁶ Or, Therefore when he seeketh in harvest, there shall be nothing	6 Most men will proclaim every one his own kindness: But a faithful man who can find?	25 It is a snare to a man ¹⁴ rashly to say, It is holy, And after vows to make inquiry.
⁷ Or, Many a man will meet one that is kind to him	7 A just man that walketh in his integrity, Blessed are his children after him.	26 A wise king winnoweth the wicked, And bringeth the threshing wheel over them.
	8 A king that sitteth on the throne of judgement ⁸ Scattereth away all evil with his eyes.	27 The spirit of man is the lamp of the Lord, Searching all the innermost parts of the belly.
⁸ Or, Winnoweth	9 Who can say, I have made my heart clean, I am pure from my sin?	28 Mercy and truth preserve the king: And ¹⁵ his throne is upholden by mercy.	¹⁵ Or, he upholdeth his throne
⁹ Heb. A stone and a stone, an ephah and an ephah.	10 ⁹ Divers weights, and divers measures, Both of them alike are an abomination to the Lord.	29 The glory of young men is their strength: And the beauty of old men is the hoary head.
	11 Even a child maketh himself known by his doings, Whether his work be pure, and whether it be right.	30 Stripes that wound cleanse away evil: And strokes reach the innermost parts of the belly.
	12 The hearing ear, and the seeing eye, The Lord hath made even both of them.	21 The king's heart is in the hand of the Lord as the watercourses: He turneth it whithersoever he will.
	13 Love not sleep, lest thou come to poverty; Open thine eyes, and thou shalt be satisfied with bread.	2 Every way of a man is right in his own eyes: But the Lord weigheth the hearts.
	14 It is naught, it is naught, saith the buyer:	3 To do justice and judgement Is more acceptable to the Lord than sacrifice.
		4 An high look, and a proud heart, ¹⁶ Even the lamp of the wicked, is sin.	¹⁶ Or, And the tillage
		5 The thoughts of the diligent tend only to plenteousness: But every one that is hasty hasteth only to want.
		6 The getting of treasures by a lying tongue

1 The word is doubtful. Another reading is, heretofore.
2 Or, In
3 Or, of a certainty the words do.
4 Or, for 5 Or, crush

6 Or, selfish
7 Heb. obscure.

8 Or, what

9 Or, For thou wilt put

10 Or, by reason of thine own understanding

11 Or, Wilt thou set thine eyes upon it? it is gone: Heb. Shall thine eyes fly upon it and it is not!
12 Or, as one that reckoneth

17 Incline thine ear, and hear the words of the wise,
And apply thine heart unto my knowledge.

18 For it is a pleasant thing if thou keep them within thee,
If they be established together upon thy lips.

19 That thy trust may be in the LORD,
I have made them known to thee this day, even to thee.

20 Have not I written unto thee ¹excellent things

²Of counsels and knowledge;

21 To make thee know ³the certainty of the words of truth,
That thou mayest carry back words of truth to them that send thee?

22 Rob not the poor, ⁴because he is poor,
Neither ⁵oppress the afflicted in the gate:

23 For the LORD will plead their cause,
And despoil of life those that despoil them.

24 Make no friendship with a man that is given to anger;
And with a wrathful man thou shalt not go:

25 Lest thou learn his ways,
And get a snare to thy soul.

26 Be thou not one of them that strike hands,

Or of them that are sureties for debts:

27 If thou hast not wherewith to pay,
Why should he take away thy bed from under thee?

28 Remove not the ancient landmark,
Which thy fathers have set.

29 Seest thou a man ⁶diligent in his business? he shall stand before kings;
He shall not stand before ⁷mean men.

23 When thou sittest to eat with a ruler,
Consider diligently ⁸him that is before thee;

2 ⁹And put a knife to thy throat,
If thou be a man given to appetite.

3 Be not desirous of his dainties;
Seeing they are deceitful meat.

4 Weary not thyself to be rich;
Cease ¹⁰from thine own wisdom.

5 ¹¹Wilt thou set thine eyes upon that which is not?

For riches certainly make themselves wings,

Like an eagle that flieth toward heaven.

6 Eat thou not the bread of him that hath an evil eye,

Neither desire thou his dainties:

7 For ¹²as he reckoneth within himself,

so is he:

Eat and drink, saith he to thee;

But his heart is not with thee.

8 The morsel which thou hast eaten shalt thou vomit up,

And lose thy sweet words.

9 Speak not in the hearing of a fool;

For he will despise the wisdom of thy words.

10 ¹³Remove not the ancient landmark;
And enter not into the fields of the fatherless:

11 For their redeemer is strong;
He shall plead their cause against thee.

12 Apply thine heart unto ¹⁴instruction,
And thine ears to the words of knowledge.

13 Withhold not correction from the child:
For ¹⁵if thou beat him with the rod, he shall not die.

14 Thou shalt beat him with the rod,
And shalt deliver his soul from ¹⁶Sheol.

15 My son, if thine heart be wise,
My heart shall be glad, even mine:

16 Yea, my reins shall rejoice,
When thy lips speak right things.

17 Let not thine heart envy sinners:
But be thou in the fear of the LORD all the day long:

18 For surely there is a ¹⁷reward;
And thy hope shall not be cut off.

19 Hear thou, my son, and be wise,
And guide thine heart in the way.

20 Be not among winebibbers;
Among gluttonous eaters of flesh:

21 For the drunkard and the glutton shall come to poverty:
And drowsiness shall clothe a man with rags.

22 Harken unto thy father that begat thee,
And despise not thy mother when she is old.

23 Buy the truth, and sell it not;
Yea, wisdom, and instruction, and understanding.

24 The father of the righteous shall greatly rejoice:
And he that begetteth a wise child shall have joy of him.

25 Let thy father and thy mother be glad,
And let her that bare thee rejoice.

26 My son, give me thine heart,
And let thine eyes ¹⁸delight in my ways.

27 For a whore is a deep ditch;
And a strange woman is a narrow pit.

28 Yea, she lieth in wait ¹⁹as a robber,
And increaseth the treacherous among men.

29 Who hath ²⁰woe? who hath ²¹sorrow?
Who hath contentions?
Who hath complaining? who hath wounds without cause?

Who hath ²²redness of eyes?

30 They that tarry long at the wine;
They that go to ²³seek out mixed wine.

31 Look not thou upon the wine when it is red,

When it giveth its colour in the cup,

When it ²⁴goeth down smoothly:

32 At the last it biteth like a serpent,
And stingeth like ²⁵an adder.

33 Thine eyes shall behold ²⁶strange things,

13 See ch. xxii. 25.

14 Or, correction

15 Or, though

16 Or, the graves

17 Or, sequel
Or, future
Heb. latter end.

18 Another reading is, observe.

19 Or, as for a prey

20 Heb. Oh!
21 Heb. Alas!

22 Or, darkness
23 Or, try

24 Or, moveth itself aright

25 Or, a basilisk

26 Or, strange women

And thine heart shall utter froward things.
 34 Yea, thou shalt be as he that lieth down in the midst of the sea,
 Or as he that lieth upon the top of a mast.
 35 They have stricken me, shalt thou say, and I was not hurt;
 They have beaten me, and I felt it not:
 When shall I awake? I will seek it yet again.
 24 Be not thou envious against evil men,
 Neither desire to be with them:
 2 For their heart studieth oppression,
 And their lips talk of mischief.
 3 Through wisdom is an house builded;
 And by understanding it is established:
 4 And by knowledge are the chambers filled
 With all precious and pleasant riches.
 5 A wise man ¹is strong;
 Yea, a man of knowledge ²increaseth might.
 6 For by wise guidance thou shalt make thy war:
 And in the multitude of counsellors there is ³safety.
 7 Wisdom is too high for a fool:
 He openeth not his mouth in the gate.
 8 He that deviseth to do evil,
 Men shall call him a mischievous person.
 9 The thought of ⁴the foolish is sin:
 And the scorner is an abomination to men.
 10 If thou faint in the day of adversity,
 Thy strength is small.
 11 Deliver them that are carried away unto death,
 And those that are ⁵ready to be slain ⁶see that thou hold back.
 12 If thou sayest, Behold, we knew not ⁷this:
 Doth not he that weigheth the hearts consider it?
 And he that keepeth thy soul, doth not he know it?
 And shall not he render to every man according to his work?
 13 My son, eat thou honey, for it is good;
 And the honeycomb, which is sweet to thy taste:
 14 So shalt thou know wisdom to be unto thy soul:
 If thou hast found it, then shall there be a ⁸reward,
 And thy hope shall not be cut off.
 15 Lay not wait, ⁹O wicked man, against the ¹⁰habitation of the righteous;
 Spoil not his ¹¹resting place:
 16 For a righteous man falleth seven times, and riseth up again:
 But the wicked are overthrown by calamity.
 17 Rejoice not when thine enemy falleth,
 And let not thine heart be glad when he is overthrown:
 18 Lest the Lord see it, and it displease him,

⁵ Heb. tottering to the slaughter.

⁶ Or, forbear thou not to deliver
⁷ Or, this man

⁸ See ch. xxiii. 13.

⁹ Or, as a wicked man

¹⁰ Or, pasture

¹¹ Or, fold

And he turn away his wrath from him.
 19 Fret not thyself because of evil-doers;
 Neither be thou envious at the wicked:
 20 For there will be no ⁸reward to the evil man;
 The lamp of the wicked shall be put out.
 21 My son, fear thou the Lord and the king:
 And meddle not with them that are given to change:
 22 For their calamity shall rise suddenly;
 And who knoweth the destruction ¹²of them both?

¹² Or, of their years

23 These also are sayings of the wise.
 To have respect of persons in judgment is not good.
 24 He that saith unto the wicked, Thou art righteous;
 Peoples shall curse him, nations shall abhor him:
 25 But to them that rebuke him shall be delight,
 And a good blessing shall come upon them.
 26 He ¹³kisseth the lips
 That giveth a right answer.
 27 Prepare thy work without,
 And make it ready for thee in the field;
 And afterwards build thine house.
 28 Be not a witness against thy neighbour without cause;
¹⁴And deceive not with thy lips.
 29 Say not, I will do so to him as he hath done to me;
 I will render to the man according to his work.
 30 I went by the field of the slothful,
 And by the vineyard of the man void of understanding;
 31 And, lo, it was all grown over with thorns,
 The face thereof was covered with ¹⁵nettles,
 And the stone wall thereof was broken down.
 32 Then I beheld, and considered well:
 I saw, and received instruction.
 33 ¹⁶*Yet* a little sleep, a little slumber,
 A little folding of the hands to sleep:
 34 So shall thy poverty come as a robber;
 And thy want as an armed man.

¹³ Or, kisseth with the lips

¹⁴ Heb. And wouldest thou deceive with thy lips?

¹⁵ Or, wild vetches

25 These also are proverbs of Solomon, which the men of Hezekiah king of Judah copied out.
 2 It is the glory of God to conceal a thing:
 But the glory of kings is to search out a matter.
 3 The heaven for height, and the earth for depth,
 And the heart of kings is unsearchable.
 4 Take away the dross from the silver,
 And there cometh forth a vessel for the finer:

	5 Take away the wicked from before the king, And his throne shall be established in righteousness.	23 The north wind bringeth forth rain: So doth a backbiting tongue an angry countenance.
¹ Heb. Glorify not thyself.	6 ¹ Put not thyself forward in the presence of the king, And stand not in the place of great men: 7 For better is it that it be said unto thee, Come up hither; Than that thou shouldst be put lower in the presence of the prince, Whom thine eyes have seen.	24 ¹² It is better to dwell in the corner of the housetop, Than with a contentious woman in a wide house.	¹² See ch. xxi. 9.
² Or, Lest I be said in the end thereof, What wilt thou do? when &c.	8 Go not forth hastily to strive, ² Lest thou know not what to do in the end thereof, When thy neighbour hath put thee to shame.	25 As cold waters to a ¹³ thirsty soul, So is good news from a far country.	¹³ Or, weary
³ Or, But	9 Debate thy cause with thy neighbour himself ; ³ And disclose not the secret of another:	26 As a ¹⁴ troubled fountain, and a corrupted spring, So is a righteous man that ¹⁵ giveth way before the wicked.	¹⁴ Heb. trans-gled. ¹⁵ Or, is moved
⁴ Or, in due season	10 Lest he that heareth it revile thee, And thine infamy turn not away.	27 It is not good to eat much honey: ¹⁶ So for men to search out their own glory is not glory.	¹⁶ Or, But for men to search out their own glory is glory
⁵ Or, filigree work	11 A word ⁴ fitly spoken Is like apples of gold in ⁵ baskets of silver.	28 ¹⁷ He whose spirit is without restraint Is like a city that is broken down and hath no wall.	¹⁷ Or, He that hath no rule over his spirit
⁶ Or, a nose-ring	12 As ⁶ an earring of gold, and an ornament of fine gold, So is a wise reprover upon an obedient ear.	29 As snow in summer, and as rain in harvest, So honour is not seemly for a fool.	¹⁸ Heb. text is obscure. ¹⁹ Or, He that hath no rule over his spirit
	13 As the cold of snow in the time of harvest, So is a faithful messenger to them that send him; For he refresheth the son of his masters.	30 As the sparrow in her wandering, as the swallow in her flying, So the curse that is causeless ¹⁸ lighteth not.	¹⁸ Or, He that hath no rule over his spirit
⁷ Heb. in a gift of falsehood.	14 As clouds and wind without rain, So is he that boasteth himself ⁷ of his gifts falsely.	31 A whip for the horse, a bridle for the ass, And a rod for the back of fools.	¹⁹ Heb. his own eyes.
⁸ Or, judge	15 By long forbearing is a ⁸ ruler persuaded, And a soft tongue breaketh the bone.	32 Answer not a fool according to his folly, Lest thou also be like unto him.
	16 Hast thou found honey? eat so much as is sufficient for thee; Lest thou be filled therewith, and vomit it.	33 Answer a fool according to his folly, Lest he be wise in ¹⁹ his own conceit.
⁹ Heb. full of thee.	17 Let thy foot be seldom in thy neighbour's house; Lest he be ⁹ weary of thee, and hate thee.	34 He that sendeth a message by the hand of a fool Cutteeth off his own feet, and drinketh in damage.
	18 A man that beareth false witness against his neighbour Is a maul, and a sword, and a sharp arrow.	35 The legs of the lame hang loose: So is a parable in the mouth of fools.	²⁰ Or, As one with birdeth fast a stone in a sling
¹⁰ Or, gods	19 Confidence in an unfaithful man in time of trouble Is like a broken tooth, and a foot out of joint.	36 As a bag of gems in a heap of stones, So is he that giveth honour to a fool.	²¹ Or, A master worker forceth all things; but he that hireth the fool is as one that hireth them that pass by
¹¹ Heb. he that hateth thee.	20 As one that taketh off a garment in cold weather, and as vinegar upon ¹⁰ nitre, So is he that singeth songs to an heavy heart.	37 As a dog that returneth to his vomit, So is a fool that repeateth his folly.	²² See ch. xxi. 13.
	21 If ¹¹ thine enemy be hungry, give him bread to eat; And if he be thirsty, give him water to drink:	38 Seest thou a man wise in ¹⁹ his own conceit? There is more hope of a fool than of him.	²³ See ch. xix. 24.
	22 For thou shalt heap coals of fire upon his head, And the Lord shall reward thee.	39 The sluggard saith, There is a lion in the way; A lion is in the streets.	²⁴ Or, answer discreetly
		40 As the door turneth upon its hinges, So doth the sluggard upon his bed.	²⁵ Or, He that useth himself as one that taketh a dog by the ears
		41 The sluggard burieth his hand in the dish; It wearyeth him to bring it again to his mouth.	²⁶ Or, He that useth himself as one that taketh a dog by the ears
		42 The sluggard is wiser in ¹⁹ his own conceit Than seven men that can ²⁴ render a reason.
		43 He that passeth by, and vexeth himself with strife belonging not to him, Is like one that taketh a dog by the ears.
		44 As a madman who casteth firebrands,

	Arrows, and death; 19 So is the man that deceiveth his neighbour, And saith, Am not I in sport? 20 For lack of wood the fire goeth out: And where there is no whisperer, contention ceaseth. 21 As coals are to hot embers, and wood to fire; So is a contentious man to inflame strife.	That I may answer him that reproacheth me. 12⁵ A prudent man seeth the evil, and hideth himself: But the simple pass on, and suffer for it. 13⁶ Take his garment that is surety for a stranger; And hold him in pledge that is surety for a strange woman. 14 He that blesseth his friend with a loud voice, rising early in the morning, It shall be counted a curse to him. 15 A continual dropping in a very rainy day And a contentious woman are alike: 16 He that would ⁷restrain her ⁸restraineth the wind, And ⁹his right hand encountereth oil. 17 Iron sharpeneth iron; So a man sharpeneth the countenance of his friend. 18 Whoso keepeth the fig tree shall eat the fruit thereof; And he that waiteth on his master shall be honoured.	⁵ See ch. xxii. 3. ⁶ See ch. xx. 16.

	4 They that forsake the law praise the wicked: But such as keep the law contend with them.	23 He that rebuketh a man shall afterward find more favour Than he that flattereth with the tongue.
	5 Evil men understand not judgement: But they that seek the LORD understand all things.	24 Whoso robbeth his father or his mother, and saith, It is no transgression; The same is the companion of a destroyer.
1 See ch. xix. 1.	6 ¹ Better is the poor that walketh in his integrity, Than he that is ² perverse in his ways, though he be rich.	25 He that is of a greedy spirit stirreth up strife: But he that putteth his trust in the LORD shall be made fat.
2 Heb. perverse of two ways.	7 Whoso keepeth the law is a wise son: But he that is a companion of gluttonous men shameth his father.	26 He that trusteth in his own heart is a fool: But whoso walketh wisely, he shall be delivered.
	8 He that augmenteth his substance by usury and increase, Gathereth it for him that hath pity on the poor.	27 He that giveth unto the poor shall not lack: But he that hideth his eyes shall have many a curse.
	9 He that turneth away his ear from hearing the law, Even his prayer is an abomination.	28 When the wicked rise, men hide themselves: But when they perish, the righteous increase.
	10 Whoso causeth the upright to go astray in an evil way, He shall fall himself into his own pit: But the perfect shall inherit good.	29 He that being often reproved hardeneth his neck Shall suddenly be broken, and that without remedy.
3 Heb. his own eyes.	11 The rich man is wise in ³ his own conceit; But the poor that hath understanding searcheth him out.	2 When the righteous ¹⁰ are increased, the people rejoice: But when a wicked man beareth rule, the people sigh.	10 Or, are authority
	12 When the righteous triumph, there is great glory: But when the wicked rise, men ⁴ hide themselves.	3 Whoso loveth wisdom rejoiceth his father: But he that keepeth company with harlots wasteth his substance.
4 Heb. must be searched for.	13 He that covereth his transgressions shall not prosper: But whoso confesseth and forsaketh them shall obtain mercy.	4 The king by judgement establisheth the land: But ¹¹ he that exacteth gifts overthroweth it.
	14 Happy is the man that feareth alway: But he that hardeneth his heart shall fall into ⁵ mischief.	5 A man that flattereth his neighbour Spreadeth a net for his steps.	11 Or, he that im- poses tribute Heb. a man of offerings
5 Or, calamity	15 As a roaring lion, and a ranging bear; So is a wicked ruler over a poor people.	6 In the transgression of an evil man there is a snare: But the righteous doth sing and rejoice.
	16 ⁶ The prince that lacketh understanding is also a great oppressor: But he that hateth covetousness shall prolong his days.	7 The righteous taketh knowledge of the cause of the poor: The wicked ¹² hath not understanding to know it.	12 Or, understandeth not knowledge
6 Or, O prince that lacketh understanding and art a great oppressor, he do.	17 A man that is laden with the blood of any person Shall flee unto the pit; let no man stay him.	8 Scornful men set a city in a flame: But wise men turn away wrath.
	18 Whoso walketh uprightly shall be delivered: But ⁷ he that is perverse in his ways shall fall at once.	9 If a wise man hath a controversy with a foolish man, ¹³ Whether he be angry or laugh, there will be no rest.	13 Or, He rageth and laugheth, and there is no rest
7 Or, he that walketh perversely in two ways	19 ⁸ He that tilleth his land shall have plenty of bread: But he that followeth after vain persons shall have poverty enough.	10 The bloodthirsty hate him that is perfect: ¹⁴ And as for the upright, they seek his life.	14 Or, But the upright care for his soul
8 See ch. xii. 11.	20 A faithful man shall abound with blessings: But he that maketh haste to be rich shall not be unpunished.	11 A fool uttereth all his ¹⁵ anger: But a wise man keepeth it back and stilleth it.	15 Heb. spirit.
	21 To have respect of persons is not good: ⁹ Neither that a man should transgress for a piece of bread.	12 If a ruler hearkeneth to falsehood, All his servants are wicked.
9 Or, For a piece of bread a man will transgress	22 He that hath an evil eye hasteth after riches, And knoweth not that want shall come upon him.	13 The poor man and the oppressor meet together: The LORD lighteneth the eyes of them both.
		14 The king that faithfully judgeth the poor,

His throne shall be established for ever.

15 The rod and reproof give wisdom:

But a child left to himself causeth shame to his mother.

16 When the wicked¹ are increased, transgression increaseth:

But the righteous shall look upon their fall.

17 Correct thy son, and he shall give thee rest;

Yea, he shall give delight unto thy soul.

18 Where there is no vision, the people cast off restraint:

But he that keepeth the law, happy is he.

19 A servant will not be corrected by words:

For though he understand he will not² give heed.

20 Seest thou a man that is hasty in his³ words?

There is more hope of a fool than of him.

21 He that delicately bringeth up his servant from a child

Shall have him become⁴ a son at the last.

22 An angry man stirreth up strife, And a wrathful man aboundeth in transgression.

23 A man's pride shall bring him low:

But he that is of a lowly spirit shall obtain honour.

24 Whoso is partner with a thief hateth his own soul:

⁵He heareth the adjuration and uttereth nothing.

25 The fear of man bringeth a snare:

But whoso putteth his trust in the Lord⁶ shall be safe.

26 Many seek the ruler's favour:

But a man's judgement⁷ cometh from the Lord.

27 An unjust man is an abomination to the righteous:

And he that is upright in the way is an abomination to the wicked.

30 The words of Agur the son of⁷ Jakeh; the⁸ oracle.

The man saith⁹ unto Ithiel, unto Ithiel and Ucal:

2 Surely I am more brutish than any man, And have not the understanding of a man:

3 And I have not learned wisdom,

¹⁰Neither have I the knowledge of the Holy One.

4 Who hath ascended up into heaven, and descended?

Who hath gathered the wind in his fists? Who hath bound the waters in his garment?

Who hath established all the ends of the earth?

What is his name, and what is his son's name, if thou knowest?

5¹¹ Every word of God is¹² tried:

He is a shield unto them that trust in him.

6 Add thou not unto his words, Lest he reprove thee, and thou be found a liar.

7 Two things have I asked of thee; Deny me^{them} not before I die:

8 Remove far from me vanity and lies: Give me neither poverty nor riches;

Feed me with¹³ the food that is needful for me:

9 Lest I be full, and deny^{thee}, and say, Who is the Lord?

Or lest I be poor, and steal,

And¹⁴ use profanely the name of my God.

10 Slander not a servant unto his master, Lest he curse thee, and thou be held guilty.

11 There is a generation that curseth their father,

And doth not bless their mother.

12 There is a generation that are pure in their own eyes,

And yet are not washed from their filthiness.

13 There is a generation, Oh how lofty are their eyes!

And their eyelids are lifted up.

14 There is a generation whose teeth are as swords, and their jaw teeth as knives,

To devour the poor from off the earth, and the needy from among men.

15 The¹⁵ horseleach hath two daughters,¹⁶ crying, Give, give.

There are three things that are never satisfied,

Yea, four that say not, Enough:

16¹⁷ The grave; and the barren womb; The earth that is not satisfied with water;

And the fire that saith not, Enough.

17 The eye that mocketh at his father, And despiseth to obey his mother,

The ravens of¹⁸ the valley shall pick it out,

And the¹⁹ young eagles shall eat it.

18 There be three things which are too wonderful for me,

Yea, four which I know not:

19 The way of an eagle in the air; The way of a serpent upon a rock;

The way of a ship in the midst of the sea;

And the way of a man with a maid.

20 So is the way of an adulterous woman; She eateth, and wipeth her mouth,

And saith, I have done no wickedness.

ECCLESIASTES;

OR, THE PREACHER.

Heb.
Kohelath.

1 THE words of ¹the Preacher, the son of David, king in Jerusalem.

2 Vanity of vanities, saith the Preacher; vanity of vanities, all is vanity.

3 What profit hath man of all his labour wherein he laboureth under the sun?

4 One generation goeth, and another generation cometh; and the earth a-

5 bideth for ever. The sun also ariseth, and the sun goeth down, and hasteth

6 to his place where he ariseth. The wind goeth toward the south, and turneth about unto the north; it turneth about continually in its course, and the wind returneth again to its cir-

7 cuits. All the ²rivers run into the sea, yet the sea is not full; unto the place whither the rivers go, thither

8 they go again. ³All things are full of weariness; man cannot utter it: the eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor 9 is the ear filled with hearing. That which hath been is that which shall be; and that which hath been done is that which shall be done: and there

10 is no new thing under the sun. Is there a thing whereof men say, See, this is new? it hath been already, in 11 the ages which were before us. There is no remembrance of the former generations; neither shall there be any remembrance of the latter generations that are to come, among those that shall come after.

12 I ⁴the Preacher was king over Israel

13 in Jerusalem. And I applied my heart to seek and to search out by wisdom concerning all that is done under heaven: it is a sore travail that God hath given to the sons of men to be 14 exercised therewith. I have seen all the works that are done under the sun; and, behold, all is vanity and ⁵a

15 striving after wind. That which is crooked cannot be made straight: and ⁶that which is wanting cannot be num-

16 bered. I commended with mine own heart, saying, Lo, I have gotten me great wisdom ⁷above all that were before me ⁸in Jerusalem: yea, my heart ⁹hath had great experience of wisdom and knowledge. And I applied

17 my heart to know wisdom, and to know madness and folly: I perceived that this also was a striving after wind.

18 For in much wisdom is much grief: and he that increaseth knowledge increaseth sorrow.

2 I said in mine heart, Go to now, I will prove thee with mirth; ¹⁰therefore enjoy ¹¹pleasure: and, behold, this

2 also was vanity. I said of laughter,

It is mad: and of mirth, What doeth

3 it? I searched in mine heart how to cheer my flesh with wine, mine heart

yet ¹²guiding me with wisdom, and how to lay hold on folly, till I might see what it was good for the sons of men that they should do under the 4 heaven ¹³all the days of their life. I made me great works; I builded me

5 houses; I planted me vineyards; I made me gardens and parks, and I planted trees in them of all kinds of 6 fruit: I made me pools of water, to water therefrom the forest where trees

7 were reared: I bought menservants and maidens, and had servants born in my house; also I had great possessions of herds and flocks, above all

8 that were before me in Jerusalem: I gathered me also silver and gold, and the peculiar treasure of kings and of the provinces: I gat me men singers and women singers, and the delights of the sons of men, ¹⁴concupiscences very

9 many. So I was great, and increased more than all that were before me in Jerusalem: also my wisdom ¹⁵remained

10 with me. And whatsoever mine eyes desired I kept not from them: I withheld not my heart from any joy, for my heart rejoiced because of all my labour; and this was my portion from 11 all my labour. Then I looked on all the works that my hands had wrought,

and on the labour that I had laboured to do: and, behold, all was vanity and a striving after wind, and there was no profit under the sun.

12 And I turned myself to behold wisdom, and madness and folly: for what can the man do that cometh ¹⁶after

the king? even that which hath been

13 already done. Then I saw that wisdom excelleth folly, as far as light

14 excelleth darkness. The wise man's eyes are in his head, and the fool

walketh in darkness: and yet I perceived that one event happeneth to 15 them all. Then said I in my heart,

As it happeneth to the fool, so will

it happen even to me; and why was

I then more wise? Then I said in my heart, that this also was vanity.

16 For of the wise man, even as of the fool, there is no remembrance for ever; seeing that in the days to come

all will have been already forgotten.

And how doth the wise man die even 17 as the fool! So I hated life; because the work that is wrought under the sun

¹¹ Or, and thou shalt enjoy

¹² Or, good

was grievous unto me: for all is vanity and a striving after wind.

18 And I hated all my labour wherein I laboured under the sun: seeing that I must leave it unto the man that shall be after me. And who knoweth whether he shall be a wise man or a fool? yet shall he have rule over all my labour wherein I have laboured, and wherein I have shewed wisdom under the sun.

20 This also is vanity. Therefore I turned about to cause my heart to despair concerning all the labour wherein I had laboured under the sun. For there is a man whose labour is with wisdom, and with knowledge, and with ¹skillfulness; yet to a man that hath not laboured therein shall he ²leave it for his portion. This also is vanity and a 22 great evil. For what hath a man of all his labour, and of the ³striving of his heart, wherein he laboureth under the 23 sun? For all his days are but sorrows, and his travail is grief; yea, even in the night his heart taketh no rest. This also is vanity.

24 There is nothing better for a man than that he should eat and drink, and make his soul enjoy good in his labour. This also I saw, that it is from the hand of 25 God. For who can eat, or who can

26 ⁴have enjoyment, ⁵more than I? For to the man that pleaseth him God giveth wisdom, and knowledge, and joy: but to the sinner he giveth travail, to gather and to heap up, that he may give to him that pleaseth God. This also is vanity and a striving after wind.

3 To every thing there is a season, and a time to every ⁶purpose under the 2 heaven: a time to be born, and a time to die; a time to plant, and a time to 3 pluck up that which is planted; a time to kill, and a time to heal; a time to 4 break down, and a time to build up; a time to weep, and a time to laugh; a time to mourn, and a time to dance; 5 a time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together; a time to embrace, and a time to refrain from 6 embracing; a time to seek, and a time to lose; a time to keep, and a time to 7 cast away; a time to rend, and a time to sew; a time to keep silence, and a 8 time to speak; a time to love, and a time to hate; a time for war, and a time 9 for peace. What profit hath he that worketh in that wherein he laboureth?

10 I have seen the travail which God hath given to the sons of men to be exercised therewith. He hath made every thing beautiful in its time: also he hath set ⁷the world in their heart, yet so that the man cannot find out the work that God hath done from the beginning 12 even to the end. I know that there is nothing better for them, than to rejoice, and ⁸to do good so long as 13 they live. And also that every man should eat and drink, and enjoy good 14 in all his labour, is the gift of God. I know that, whatsoever God doeth, it shall be for ever: nothing can be put to it, nor any thing taken from it: and God hath done it, that men should fear 15 before him. ⁹That which is hath been already; and that which is to be hath already been: and God seeketh again that which is ¹⁰passed away.

16 And moreover I saw under the sun, in the place of judgement, that wickedness was there; and in the place of righteousness, that wickedness was

17 there. I said in mine heart, God shall judge the righteous and the wicked: for there is a time there for every

18 ⁶purpose and for every work. ¹¹I said in mine heart, It is because of the sons of men, that God may prove them, and that they may see that they them-

19 selves are but as beasts. For ¹²that which befalleth the sons of men befall-eth beasts; even one thing befall-eth them: as the one dieth, so dieth the other; yea, they have all one ¹³breath; and man hath no preeminence above the 20 beasts: for all is vanity. All go unto one place; all are of the dust, and all

21 turn to dust again. Who knoweth the spirit ¹⁴of man ¹⁵whether it goeth upward, and the spirit of the beast

¹⁵whether it goeth downward to the 22 earth? Wherefore I saw that there is nothing better, than that a man should rejoice in his works; for that is his portion: for who shall bring him back to see what shall be after him?

4 Then I returned and saw all the oppressions that are done under the sun: and behold, the tears of such as were oppressed, and they had no comforter; and on the side of their oppressors there was power, but they 2 had no comforter. Wherefore I praised the dead which are already dead more than the living which are yet alive; 3 yea, ¹⁶better than them both did I esteem him which hath not yet been, who hath not seen the evil work that is done under the sun.

4 Then I saw all labour and every ¹⁷skilful work, that ¹⁸for this a man is envied of his neighbour. This also is

5 vanity and a striving after wind. The fool foldeth his hands together, and eat-eth his own flesh. Better is an hand-

6 ful ¹⁹with quietness, than two handf-ful ¹⁹with labour and striving after wind.

7 Then I returned and saw vanity under 8 the sun. There is one that is alone, and he hath not a second; yea, he hath neither son nor brother; yet is there no end of all his labour, neither are his eyes satisfied with riches. For whom then, saith he, do I labour, and de-priv-⁹ my soul of good? This also is 9 vanity, yea, it is a sore travail. Two are better than one; because they have

10 a good reward for their labour. For if they fall, the one will lift up his fellow: but woe to him that is alone when he falleth, and hath not another to lift him up. Again, if two lie together, then they have warmth: but how can one be warm alone? And if a man prevail against him that is alone, two shall withstand him; and a threefold cord is not quickly broken.

13 Better is a poor and wise youth than an old and foolish king, who knoweth not how to receive admonition any more.

14 For out of prison he came forth to be king; ¹yea, even in his kingdom he was born poor. I saw all the living which walk under the sun, that they were with the youth, the second, that stood up in his stead. ²There was no end of all the people, even of all them over whom he was: yet they that come after shall not rejoice in him. Surely this also is vanity and a striving after wind.

5 Keep thy foot when thou goest to the house of God; for to draw nigh to hear is better than to give the sacrifice of fools: for they know not that they do evil. Be not rash with thy mouth, and let not thine heart be hasty to utter ³anything before God; for God is in heaven, and thou upon earth: therefore let thy words be few. For a dream cometh with a multitude of ⁴business; and a fool's voice with a multitude of words. When thou vowest a vow unto God, defer not to pay it; for he hath no pleasure in fools: pay that which thou vowest. Better is it that thou shouldest not vow, than that thou shouldest vow and not pay. Suffer not thy mouth to cause thy flesh to sin; neither say thou before the ⁵angel, that it was an error: wherefore should God be angry at thy voice, and destroy the work of thine hands? ⁶For thus it cometh to pass through the multitude of dreams and vanities and many words: but fear thou God.

8 If thou seest the oppression of the poor, and the violent taking away of judgement and justice in ⁷a province, marvel not at the matter: for one higher than the high regardeth; and there be higher than they. ⁸Moreover the profit of the earth is for all: the king himself is served by the field.

10 He that loveth silver shall not be satisfied with silver; nor he that loveth abundance with increase: this also is vanity. When goods increase, they are increased that eat them: and what advantage is there to the owner thereof, saving the beholding of them with his eyes? The sleep of a labouring man is sweet, whether he eat little or much: but the fulness of the rich will not suffer him to sleep.

13 There is a grievous evil which I have seen under the sun, namely,

1 According to some ancient versions, whereas the other though born in his kingdom became poor.

riches kept by the owner thereof to his hurt: and those riches perish by evil ⁹adventure; and if he hath begotten a son, there is nothing in his hand. As he came forth of his mother's womb, naked shall he go again as he came, and shall take nothing for his labour, which he may carry away in his hand. And this also is a grievous evil, that in all points as he came, so shall he go: and what profit hath he that he laboureth for the wind?

17 ¹⁰All his days also he eateth in darkness, and he is sore vexed and hath sickness and wrath.

18 Behold, ¹¹that which I have seen to be good and to be comely is for one to eat and to drink, and to enjoy good in all his labour, wherein he laboureth under the sun, ¹²all the days of his life which God hath given him: for this is his portion. Every man also to whom God hath given riches and wealth, and hath given him power to eat thereof, and to take his portion, and to rejoice in his labour; this is the gift of God.

20 For he shall not much remember the days of his life; because God answereth him in the joy of his heart.

6 There is an evil which I have seen under the sun, and it is heavy upon 2 men: a man to whom God giveth riches, wealth, and honour, so that he lacketh nothing for his soul of all that he desireth, yet God giveth him not power to eat thereof, but a stranger eateth it; this is vanity, and it is an evil disease.

3 If a man beget an hundred children, and live many years, so that the days of his years be many, but his soul be not filled with good, and moreover he have no burial; I say, that an untimely birth is 4 better than he: for it cometh in vanity, and departeth in darkness, and the name thereof is covered with darkness; 5 moreover it hath not seen the sun ¹³nor known it; ¹⁴this hath rest rather than the other: yea, though he live a thousand years twice told, and yet enjoy 7 no good: do not all go to one place? All the labour of man is for his mouth, and 8 yet the appetite is not filled. For what advantage hath the wise more than the fool? ¹⁵or what hath the poor man, that knoweth to walk before the living?

9 Better is the sight of the eyes than the wandering of the desire: this also is vanity and a striving after wind.

10 ¹⁶Whatsoever hath been, the name thereof was given long ago, and it is known that it is ¹⁷man: neither can he contend with him that is mightier than he. Seeing there be many ¹⁸things that increase vanity, what is man the 12 better? For who knoweth what is good for man in his life, ¹²all the days of his vain life which he spendeth as a shadow? for who can tell a man what shall be after him under the sun?

7 A good name is better than precious ointment; and the day of death than 2 the day of one's birth. It is better to go to the house of mourning, than to go to the house of feasting: for that is the end of all men; and the living will 3 lay it to his heart. Sorrow is better than laughter: for by the sadness of the countenance the heart is made 4 glad. The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning; but the heart of 5 fools is in the house of mirth. It is better to hear the rebuke of the wise, than for a man to hear the song of fools. 6 For as the crackling of thorns under a pot, so is the laughter of the fool: this 7 also is vanity. ²Surely extortion maketh a wise man foolish; and a gift destroyeth the understanding. Better is the end of a thing than the beginning thereof: and the patient in spirit is 9 better than the proud in spirit. Be not hasty in thy spirit to be ³angry: for ⁴anger resteth in the bosom of fools. 10 Say not thou, What is the cause that the former days were better than these? for thou dost not inquire ⁵wisely concerning this. Wisdom ⁶is as good as an inheritance: yea, more excellent is it for 12 them that see the sun. For wisdom is a defence, even as money is a defence: but the excellency of knowledge is, that wisdom preserveth the life of him that 13 hath it. Consider the work of God: for who can make that straight, which he 14 hath made crooked? In the day of prosperity be joyful, and in the day of adversity consider: God hath even made the one side by side with the other, to the end that man should not find out any thing that shall be after him. 15 All this have I seen in the days of my vanity: there is a righteous man that perisheth in his righteousness, and there is a wicked man that longeth 16 his life in his evil-doing. Be not righteous over much; neither make thyself over wise: why shouldest thou 17 destroy thyself? Be not over much wicked, neither be thou foolish: why 18 shouldest thou die before thy time? It is good that thou shouldst take hold of this; yea, also from that withdraw not thine hand: for he that feareth God shall come forth of them all. 19 Wisdom is a strength to the wise man more than ten rulers which are 20 in a city. ²Surely there is not a righteous man upon earth, that doeth 21 good, and sinneth not. Also ⁷take not heed unto all words that are spoken; lest thou hear thy servant curse thee: 22 for oftentimes also thine own heart knoweth that thou thyself likewise hast cursed others. 23 All this have I ⁸proved in wisdom: I said, I will be wise; but it was far 24 from me. That which ⁹is is far off, and exceeding deep; who can find it

25 out? I turned about, and my heart was set to know and to search out, and to seek wisdom and the reason of things, and to know ¹⁰that wickedness is folly, and that foolishness is madness: and I find a thing more bitter than death, even the woman ¹¹whose heart is snares and nets, and her hands as bands: whoso pleaseth God shall escape from her; but the sinner shall 27 be taken by her. Behold, this have I found, saith the Preacher, ¹²laying one thing to another, to find out the account: 28 which my soul still seeketh, but I have not found: one man among a thousand have I found; but a woman among all 29 those have I not found. Behold, this only have I found, that God made man upright; but they have sought out many inventions. 8 Who is as the wise man? and who knoweth the interpretation of a thing? A man's wisdom maketh his face to shine, and the ¹³hardness of his face 2 is changed. I counsel thee, Keep the king's command, and that in regard of 3 the oath of God. Be not hasty to go out of his presence; persist not in an evil thing: for he doeth whatsoever pleaseth him. Because the king's word hath 4 power; and who may say unto him, 5 What doest thou? Whoso keepeth the commandment shall know no evil thing; and a wise man's heart discerneth time 6 and judgement: for to every ¹⁴purpose there is a time and judgement; because the ¹⁵misery of man is great upon him: 7 for he knoweth not that which shall be; ¹⁶for who can tell him how it shall 8 be? There is no man that hath power over the ¹⁷spirit to retain the ¹⁷spirit; neither hath he power over the day of death; and there is no discharge ¹⁸in that war: neither shall wickedness 9 liver him that is given to it. All this have I seen, and applied my heart unto every work that is done under the sun: ¹⁹there is a time wherein one man hath power over another ²⁰to his hurt. 10 And withal I saw the wicked buried, ²¹and they came to the grave; and they that had done right went away from the holy place, and were forgotten in 11 the city: this also is vanity. Because sentence against an evil work is not executed speedily, therefore the heart of the sons of men is ²²fully set in them to 12 do evil. Though a sinner do evil an hundred times, and prolong his days, yet surely I know that it shall be well with them that fear God, which fear before 13 him: but it shall not be well with the wicked, neither shall he prolong his days, which are as a shadow; because 14 he feareth not before God. There is a vanity which is done upon the earth; that there be righteous men, unto whom it happeneth according to the work of the wicked; again, there be wicked men, to whom it happeneth according to the work of the righteous:

15 I said that this also is vanity. Then I commended mirth, because a man hath no better thing under the sun, than to eat, and to drink, and to be merry: ¹for that shall abide with him in his labour all the days of his life which God hath given him under the sun.

16 When I applied mine heart to know wisdom, and to see the ²business that is done upon the earth: (³for also there is that neither day nor night seeth

17 sleep with his eyes:) then I beheld all the work of God, that man cannot find out the work that is done under the sun: because however much a man labour to seek it out, yet he shall not find it; yea moreover, though a wise man think to know it, yet shall he not

9 be able to find it. For all this I laid to my heart, even to explore all this; that the righteous, and the wise, and their works, are in the hand of God: whether it be love or hatred, man knoweth it

2 not; all is before them. All things come alike to all: there is one event to the righteous and to the wicked; to the good ⁴and to the clean and to the unclean; to him that sacrificeth and to him that sacrificeth not: as is the good, so is the sinner; and he that sweareth, as he that feareth an oath. This is an evil in all that is done under the sun,

3 that there is one event unto all: yea also, the heart of the sons of men is full of evil, and madness is in their heart while they live, and after that

4 they go to the dead. ⁵For to him that is joined with all the living there is hope: for a living dog is better than a

5 dead lion.* For the living know that they shall die: but the dead know not any thing, neither have they any more a reward; for the memory of them is 6 forgotten. As well their love, as their hatred and their envy, is now perished; neither have they any more a portion for ever in any thing that is done under the sun.

7 Go thy way, eat thy bread with joy, and drink thy wine with a merry heart; for God hath already accepted thy 8 works. Let thy garments be always white; and let not thy head lack ointment.

9 Live joyfully with the wife whom thou lovest all the days of the life of thy vanity, which he hath given thee under the sun, all the days of thy vanity: for that is thy portion in life, and in thy labour wherein thou labour-

10 est under the sun. Whatsoever thy hand ⁷findeth to do, do it with thy might; for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, in ⁸the grave, whither thou goest.

11 I returned, and saw under the sun, that the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, neither yet

bread to the wise, nor yet riches to men of understanding, nor yet favour to men of skill; but time and chance

12 happeneth to them all. For man also knoweth not his time: as the fishes that are taken in an evil net, and as the birds that are caught in the snare, even so are the sons of men snared in an evil time, when it falleth suddenly upon them.

13 I have also seen wisdom under the sun on this wise, and it seemed great unto

14 me: there was a little city, and few men within it; and there came a great king against it, and besieged it, and built

15 great bulwarks against it: now there was found in it a poor wise man, and he by his wisdom delivered the city; yet no man remembered that same poor man.

16 Then said I, Wisdom is better than strength: nevertheless the poor man's wisdom is despised, and his words are not heard.

17 The words of the wise ⁹*spoken* in quiet are heard more than the cry of him that

18 ruleth among fools. Wisdom is better than weapons of war: but one sinner

10 destroyeth much good. Dead flies cause the ointment of the perfumer

¹⁰to send forth a stinking savour: so doth a little folly ¹¹outweigh wisdom

2 and honour. A wise man's heart is at his right hand; but a fool's heart

3 at his left. Yea also, when the fool walketh by the way, his ¹²understanding faileth him, and he saith ¹³to every

4 one that he is a fool. If the spirit of the ruler rise up against thee, leave not thy place; for ¹⁴yielding allayeth 5 great offences. There is an evil which

I have seen under the sun, as it were an error which proceedeth from the ruler:

6 folly is set in great ¹⁵dignity, and the 7 rich sit in low place. I have seen servants upon horses, and princes walk-

8 ing as servants upon the earth. He that diggeth a pit shall fall into it; and whoso breaketh through a fence, a ser-

9 pent shall bite him. Whoso ¹⁶heweth out stones shall be hurt therewith; and he that cleaveth wood is endangered 10 thereby. If the iron be blunt, and one do not whet the edge, then must he put to more strength: but wisdom is profitable

11 to direct. ¹⁷If the serpent bite ¹⁸before it be charmed, then is there no advan-

12 age in ¹⁹the charmer. The words of a wise man's mouth are gracious; but the lips of a fool will swallow up him-

13 self. The beginning of the words of his mouth is foolishness: and the end of ²⁰his talk is mischievous madness. 14 A fool also multiplieth words: yet man

knoweth not what shall be; and that which shall be after him, who can tell 15 him? The labour of fools wearieth every one of them, for he knoweth not 16 how to go to the city. Woe to thee,

THE SONG OF SONGS.

1 THE Song of songs, which is Solomon's.

2 Let him kiss me with the kisses of his mouth:
For thy love is better than wine.

3 Thine ointments have a goodly fragrance;
Thy name is as ointment poured forth;
Therefore do the ¹virgins love thee.
4 Draw me; we will run after thee:

1 Or, maidens

	The king hath brought me into his chambers: We will be glad and rejoice in thee, We will make mention of thy love more than of wine: ¹ Rightly do they love thee.	¹⁴ I sat down under his shadow with great delight, And his fruit was sweet to my taste. ⁴ He brought me to the ¹⁵ banqueting house, And his banner over me was love. ⁵ Stay ye me with ¹⁶ raisins, comfort me with apples: For I am sick of love. ⁶ ¹⁷ His left hand is under my head, And his right hand doth embrace me.	¹⁴ Heb. I delight- ed and sat down &c. ¹⁵ Heb. house of wine. ¹⁶ Heb. cakes of raisins. ¹⁷ Or, Let his left hand be &c.
¹ Or, In up- rightness	⁵ I am black, but comely, O ye daughters of Jerusalem, As the tents of Kedar, As the curtains of Solomon. ⁶ Look not upon me, because I am swarthy, Because the sun hath ² scorched me. My mother's sons were incensed a- gainst me, They made me keeper of the vine- yards; But mine own vineyard have I not kept.	⁷ I adjure you, O daughters of Jeru- salem, By the ¹⁸ roes, and by the hinds of the field, That ye stir not up, nor awaken love, Until it please.	¹⁸ Or, gazelles
² Or, looked upon	Tell me, O thou whom my soul loveth, Where thou feedest thy flock , where thou makest it to rest at noon: For why should I be as one that ³ is veiled Beside the flocks of thy companions?	⁸ The voice of my beloved! behold, he cometh, Leaping upon the mountains, skipping upon the hills. ⁹ My beloved is like a ¹⁹ roe or a young hart: Behold, he standeth behind our wall, He looketh in at the windows, He ²⁰ sheweth himself through the lat- tice.	¹⁹ Or, gazelle ²⁰ Or, glanceth through
³ Most ancient versions have, wander- eth.	⁸ If thou know not, O thou fairest among women, Go thy way forth by the footsteps of the flock, And feed thy kids beside the shepherds' tents.	¹⁰ My beloved spake, and said unto me, Rise up, my love, my fair one, and come away. ¹¹ For, lo, the winter is past, The rain is over and gone; ¹² The flowers appear on the earth; The time of the ²¹ singing of birds is come, And the voice of the turtle is heard in our land;	²¹ Or, pruning of vines
⁴ Or, my friend (and so through- out)	⁹ I have compared thee, O ⁴ my love, ⁵ To a steed in Pharaoh's chariots.	¹³ The fig tree ripeneth her green figs, And the vines are in blossom, They give forth their fragrance. Arise, my love, my fair one, and come away.
⁵ Or, To the s'ceds Or, To my steed	¹⁰ Thy cheeks are comely with plaits of hair, Thy neck with strings of jewels. ¹¹ We will make thee plaits of gold With studs of silver.	¹⁴ O my dove, that art in the clefts of the rock, in the covert of the steep place, Let me see thy countenance, let me hear thy voice; For sweet is thy voice, and thy coun- tenance is comely.
⁶ Or, bag	¹² While the king sat at his table, My spikenard sent forth its fragrance.	¹⁵ Take us the foxes, the little foxes, that spoil the vineyards; For our vineyards are in blossom.
⁷ Heb. copher.	¹³ My beloved is unto me as a ⁶ bundle of myrrh, That lieth betwixt my breasts. ¹⁴ My beloved is unto me as a cluster of ⁷ henna-flowers In the vineyards of En-gedi.	¹⁶ My beloved is mine, and I am his: He feedeth his flock among the lilies.
⁸ Or, Thou hast done' eyes	¹⁵ Behold, thou art fair, my love; behold, thou art fair; ⁸ Thine eyes are as doves.	¹⁷ ²² Until the day ²³ be cool, and the shadows flee away, Turn, my beloved, and be thou like a ¹⁹ roe or a young hart Upon the ²⁴ mountains of ²⁵ Bether.	²² Or, When the day is cool ²³ Or, break Heb. breathe. ²⁴ Or, mount- ains of separa- tion ²⁵ Per- haps, the spice malo- bathron.
⁹ Or, houses	¹⁶ Behold, thou art fair, my beloved, yea, pleasant: Also our couch is green.	¹⁸ The beams of our ⁹ house are ¹⁰ cedars, And our rafters are ¹¹ firs.
¹⁰ Or, of cedar ... of fir	² I am a ¹² rose of ¹³ Sharon, A lily of the valleys.	³ By night on my bed I sought him whom my soul loveth: I sought him, but I found him not.
¹¹ Or, cypresses	² As a lily among thorns, So is my love among the daughters.	² I said, I will rise now, and go about the city, In the streets and in the broad ways, I will seek him whom my soul loveth: I sought him, but I found him not.
¹² Heb. kabaz- zeth, the au- tumn crocus.	³ As the apple tree among the trees of the wood, So is my beloved among the sons.
¹³ Or, the plain

3 The watchmen that go about the city found me:
To whom I said, Saw ye him whom my soul loveth?

4 It was but a little that I passed from them,
 When I found him whom my soul loveth:
 I held him, and would not let him go,
 Until I had brought him into my mother's house,
 And into the chamber of her that conceived me.

5¹ I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem,
 By the roes, and by the hinds of the field,
 That ye stir not up, nor awaken love,
 Until it please.

6 Who is this that cometh up out of the wilderness like pillars of smoke,
 Perfumed with myrrh and frankincense,

With all powders of the merchant?

7 Behold, it is the litter of Solomon;
 Threescore mighty men are about it,
 Of the mighty men of Israel.

8 They all handle the sword, and are expert in war;
 Every man hath his sword upon his thigh,
 Because of fear in the night.

9 King Solomon made himself a ²palanquin
 Of the wood of Lebanon.

10 He made the pillars thereof of silver,
 The bottom thereof of gold, the seat of it of purple,

The midst thereof being ³paved with love,
 From the daughters of Jerusalem.

11 Go forth, O ye daughters of Zion, and behold king Solomon,
 With the crown wherewith his mother hath crowned him in the day of his espousals,
 And in the day of the gladness of his heart.

4 Behold, thou art fair, my love; behold, thou art fair;

⁴Thine eyes are as doves behind thy ⁵veil:

Thy hair is as a flock of goats,
 That ⁶lie along the side of mount Gilead.

2 Thy teeth are like a flock of ewes that are newly shorn,
 Which are come up from the washing;

⁷Whereof every one hath twins,
 And none is bereaved among them.

3 Thy lips are like a thread of scarlet,
 And thy ⁸mouth is comely:
 Thy temples are like a piece of a pomegranate Behind thy ⁵veil.

4 Thy neck is like the tower of David builded ⁹for an armoury,
 Whereon there hang a thousand bucklers,
 All the shields of the mighty men.

5 Thy two breasts are like two fawns that are twins of a ¹⁰roe,
 Which feed among the lilies.

6¹¹ Until the day be cool, and the shadows flee away,
 I will get me to the mountain of myrrh,
 And to the hill of frankincense.

7 Thou art all fair, my love;
 And there is no spot in thee.

8 Come with me from Lebanon, my bride,
 With me from Lebanon:

¹²Look from the top of Amana,
 From the top of Senir and Hermon,
 From the lions' dens,
 From the mountains of the leopards.

9 Thou hast ¹³ravished my heart, my sister, my bride;

Thou hast ¹²ravished my heart with ¹⁴one of thine eyes,
 With one chain of thy neck.

10 How fair is thy love, my sister, my bride!
 How much better is thy love than wine!
 And the smell of thine ointments than all manner of spices!

11 Thy lips, O my bride, ¹⁵drop as the honeycomb:

Honey and milk are under thy tongue;
 And the smell of thy garments is like the smell of Lebanon.

12 A garden ¹⁶shut up is my sister, my bride;

A ¹⁷spring shut up, a fountain sealed.
 13 Thy shoots are ¹⁸an orchard of pomegranates, with precious fruits;

Henna with spikenard plants,

14 Spikenard and saffron,
 Calamus and cinnamon, with all trees of frankincense;
 Myrrh and aloes, with all the chief spices.

15 Thou art a fountain of gardens,
 A well of living waters,
 And flowing streams from Lebanon.

16 Awake, O north wind; and come, thou south;

Blow upon my garden, that the spices thereof may flow out.
 Let my beloved come into his garden,
 And eat his precious fruits.

5 I am come into my garden, my sister, my bride:

I have gathered my myrrh with my ¹⁹spice;

I have eaten my honeycomb with my honey;

I have drunk my wine with my milk.

Eat, O friends;

Drink, yea, drink abundantly, ²⁰O beloved.

Open to me, my sister, my love, my dove, my ¹undefiled:

For my head is filled with dew,
My locks with the drops of the night.
3 I have put off my coat; how shall I put it on?

I have washed my feet; how shall I defile them?

4 My beloved put in his hand by the hole of the door,

And my ²heart was moved ³for him.

5 I rose up to open to my beloved;
And my hands dropped with myrrh,
And my fingers with liquid myrrh,
Upon the handles of the bolt.

6 I opened to my beloved;
But my beloved had ⁴withdrawn himself, and was gone.

My soul ⁵had failed me when he spake:
I sought him, but I could not find him;
I called him, but he gave me no answer.

7 The watchmen that go about the city found me,

They smote me, they wounded me;
The keepers of the walls took away my ⁶mantle from me.

8 I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem, if ye find my beloved,

⁷That ye tell him, that I am sick of love.

9 What is thy beloved more than another beloved,

O thou fairest among women?
What is thy beloved more than another beloved,

That thou dost so adjure us?

10 My beloved is white and ruddy,

⁸The chiefest among ten thousand.

11 His head is as the most fine gold,
His locks are ⁹bushy, and black as a raven.

12 His eyes are like doves beside the water brooks;

Washed with milk, and ¹⁰fitly set.

13 His cheeks are as a bed of ¹¹spices, as ¹²banks of sweet herbs:

His lips are as lilies, dropping liquid myrrh.

14 His hands are as ¹³rings of gold set with ¹⁴beryl:

His body is as ¹⁵ivory work ¹⁶overlaid with sapphires.

15 His legs are as pillars of marble, set upon sockets of fine gold:

His aspect is like Lebanon, excellent as the cedars.

16 His ¹⁷mouth is most sweet: yea, he is altogether lovely.

This is my beloved, and this is my friend,

O daughters of Jerusalem.

6 Whither is thy beloved gone,
O thou fairest among women?

Whither hath thy beloved turned him,
That we may seek him with thee?

2 My beloved is gone down to his garden, to the beds of ¹¹spices,
To feed in the gardens, and to gather lilies.

3 ¹⁸I am my beloved's, and my beloved is mine:

He feedeth his flock among the lilies.

4 Thou art beautiful, O my love, as Tirzah,

Comely as Jerusalem,
Terrible as ¹⁹an army with banners.

5 Turn away thine eyes from me,
For they ²⁰have overcome me,

²¹Thy hair is as a flock of goats,
That lie along the side of Gilead.

6 ²²Thy teeth are like a flock of ewes,
Which are come up from the washing;
Whereof every one hath twins,
And none is bereaved among them.

7 ²³Thy temples are like a piece of a pomegranate Behind thy veil.

8 There are threescore queens, and fourscore concubines,

And ²⁴virgins without number.

9 My dove, my ¹undefiled, is but one;
She is the only one of her mother;
She is the ²⁵choice one of her that bare her.

The daughters saw her, and called her blessed;

Yea, the queens and the concubines,
and they praised her.

10 Who is she that looketh forth as the morning,

Fair as the moon,

²⁶Clear as the sun,

²⁷Terrible as an army with banners?

11 I went down into the garden of nuts,

To see the green plants of the valley,
To see whether the vine budded,

And the pomegranates were in flower.

12 Or ever I was aware, my ²⁸soul ²⁹set me

Among the chariots of my ³⁰princely people.

13 Return, return, O Shulammit;

Return, return, that we may look upon thee.

Why will ye look upon the Shulammit,

As upon the dance ³¹of Mahanaim?

7 How beautiful are thy ³²feet in sandals, O prince's daughter!

³³The joints of thy thighs are like jewels,

The work of the hands of a cunning workman.

2 Thy navel is like a round goblet,
Wherein no mingled wine is wanting:

Let us lodge in the villages.

12 Let us get up early to the vineyards;
Let us see whether the vine hath budded, and ⁷its blossom be open,

And the pomegranates be in flower:

There will I give thee my love.

13 The ⁸mandrakes give forth fragrance,
And ⁹at our doors are all manner of precious fruits, new and old,

Which I have laid up for thee, O my beloved.

8 Oh that thou wert as my brother,
That sucked the breasts of my mother!

When I should find thee without, I would kiss thee;

Yea, and none would despise me.

2 I would lead thee, and bring thee into my mother's house,

¹⁰Who would instruct me;

I would cause thee to drink of spiced

Of the ¹¹juice of my pomegranate.

Leaning upon her beloved?

Under the apple tree I awakened
thee:

There thy mother was in travail with
thee,

There was she in travail ¹⁴that brought thee forth.

6 Set me as a seal upon thine heart, as a seal upon thine arm:

For love is strong as death;

Jealousy is ¹⁵cruel as ¹⁶the grave:
The flashes thereof are flashes of fire,

¹⁷A very flame of ¹⁸the LORD.

7 Many waters cannot quench love,
Neither can the floods drown it:

If a man would give all the substance
of his house for love,

¹⁹He would utterly be contemned.

THE BOOK OF THE PROPHET

ISAIAH.

1 THE vision of Isaiah the son of Amoz, which he saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem, in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah.

2 Hear, O heavens, and give ear, O earth, for the LORD hath spoken: I have¹ nourished and brought up children, and they have rebelled against

3 me. The ox knoweth his owner, and the ass his master's crib: but Israel doth not know, my people doth not

4 consider. Ah sinful nation, a people laden with iniquity, a seed of evil-doers, children that deal corruptly: they have forsaken the LORD, they have despised the Holy One of Israel, they are estranged and gone backward.

5² Why will ye be still stricken, that ye revolt more and more? ³the whole head is sick, and ⁴the whole heart faint. From the sole of the foot even unto the head there is no soundness in it; but wounds, and bruises, and

6 festering sores: they have not been closed, neither bound up, neither mollified with oil. Your country is desolate; your cities are burned with fire; your land, strangers devour it in your presence, and it is desolate, ⁵as over-

8 thrown by strangers. And the daughter of Zion is left as a booth in a vineyard, as a lodge in a garden of cucumbers,

9 as a besieged city. Except the LORD of hosts had left unto us a very small remnant, we should have been as Sodom, we should have been like unto Gomorrah.

10 Hear the word of the LORD, ye ⁶rulers of Sodom; give ear unto the ⁷law of our God, ye people of Go-

11 morrah. To what purpose is the multitude of your sacrifices unto me? saith the LORD: I am full of the burnt offerings of rams, and the fat of fed beasts; and I delight not in the blood of bullocks, or of lambs, or of 12 he-goats. When ye come ⁸to appear before me, who hath required this at your hand, to trample my courts?

13 Bring no more ⁹vain oblations; incense is an abomination unto me; new moon and sabbath, the calling of assemblies,—¹⁰I cannot away with in-

14 iquity and the solemn meeting. Your new moons and your appointed feasts my soul hateth: they are a ¹¹trouble unto me; I am weary to bear them.

15 And when ye spread forth your hands, I will hide mine eyes from you: yea, when ye make many prayers, I will not hear: your hands are full of blood.

16 Wash you, make you clean; put away the evil of your doings from before

17 mine eyes; cease to do evil: learn to do well; seek judgement, ¹²relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow.

18 Come now, and let us reason together, saith the LORD: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they

19 shall be as wool. If ye be willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the 20 land: but if ye refuse and rebel, ye shall be devoured with the sword: for the mouth of the LORD hath spoken it.

21 How is the faithful city become an harlot! she that was full of judgement! righteousness lodged in her,

22 but now murderers. Thy silver is become dross, thy wine mixed with 23 water. Thy princes are rebellious, and companions of thieves; every one loveth gifts, and followeth after rewards: they judge not the fatherless, neither doth the cause of the widow come unto them.

24 Therefore saith the LORD, the LORD of hosts, the Mighty One of Israel, Ah, I will ease me of mine adversaries,

25 and avenge me of mine enemies: and I will ¹³turn my hand upon thee, and

¹⁴thoroughly purge away thy dross, and will take away all thy ¹⁵tin: and I will restore thy judges as at the first, and thy counsellors as at the beginning: afterward thou shalt be called The city of righteousness, the

27 faithful city. Zion shall be redeemed with judgement, and ¹⁶her converts

28 with righteousness. But the ¹⁷destruction of the transgressors and the sinners shall be together, and they that forsake the LORD shall be con-

29 sumed. For they shall be ashamed of the ¹⁸oaks which ye have desired, and ye shall be confounded for the 30 gardens that ye have chosen. For ye shall be as ¹⁹an oak whose leaf fadeth, and as a garden that hath no water.

31 And the strong shall be as tow, and his work as a spark; and they shall both burn together, and none shall quench them.

2 The word that Isaiah the son of Amoz saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem.

2 ¹ And it shall come to pass in the latter days, that the mountain of the Lord's house shall be established ² in the top of the mountains, and shall be exalted above the hills; and all nations shall flow unto it. And many peoples shall go and say, Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for out of Zion shall go forth ³ the law, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem. And he shall judge ⁴ between the nations, and shall ⁵ reprove many peoples: and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruninghooks: nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.

5 O house of Jacob, come ye, and let us walk in the light of the Lord. For thou hast forsaken thy people the house of Jacob, because they be filled with customs from the east, and are soothsayers like the Philistines, and they strike hands with the children of strangers.

7 Their land also is full of silver and gold, neither is there any end of their treasures; their land also is full of horses, neither is there any end of their

8 chariots. Their land also is full of idols; they worship the work of their own hands, that which their own fingers

9 have made. And the mean man ⁶ is bowed down, and the great man ⁷ is brought low: therefore forgive them

10 not. Enter into the rock, and hide thee in the dust, from before the terror of the Lord, and from the glory of his

11 majesty. The lofty looks of man shall be brought low, and the haughtiness of men shall be bowed down, and the Lord alone shall be exalted in that day.

12 For ⁸ there shall be a day of the Lord of hosts upon all that is proud and haughty, and upon all that is lifted up;

13 and it shall be brought low: and upon all the cedars of Lebanon, that are high and lifted up, and upon all the

14 oaks of Bashan; and upon all the high mountains, and upon all the hills that

15 are lifted up; and upon every lofty tower, and upon every fenced wall;

16 and upon all the ships of Tarshish, and upon all pleasant ⁹ imagery. And the loftiness of man shall be bowed down, and the haughtiness of men shall be brought low: and the Lord alone shall be exalted in that day.

18 And the idols shall utterly pass away. 19 And men shall go into the caves of the rocks, and into the holes of the

¹⁰ earth, from before the terror of the Lord, and from the glory of his majesty, when he ariseth to shake

20 mightily the earth. In that day a man shall cast away his idols of silver, and his idols of gold, which they made for him to worship, to the moles and to 21 the bats; to go into the caverns of the rocks, and into the clefts of the ragged rocks, from before the terror of the Lord, and from the glory of his majesty, when he ariseth to shake mightily the earth. ¹¹ Cease ye from man, whose breath is in his nostrils: for wherein is he to be accounted of?

3 For, behold, the Lord, the Lord of hosts, doth take away from Jerusalem and from Judah stay and staff, the whole stay of bread, and the whole stay of

2 water; the mighty man, and the man of war; the judge, and the prophet, and

3 the diviner, and the ¹² ancient; the captain of fifty, and the honourable man, and the counsellor, and the cunning

¹³ artificer, and the skilful enchanter. 4 And I will give children to be their princes, and ¹⁴ babes shall rule over them. And the people shall be oppressed, every one by another, and every one by his neighbour: the child shall behave himself proudly against the

¹² ancient, and the base against the 6 honourable. When a man shall take hold of his brother in the house of his father, saying, Thou hast clothing, be thou our ¹⁵ ruler, and let this ruin be under thy hand: in that day shall he lift up his voice, saying, I will not be ¹⁶ an healer; for in my house is neither bread nor clothing: ye shall not make

8 me ruler of the people. For Jerusalem is ruined, and Judah is fallen: because their tongue and their doings are against the Lord, to provoke the

9 eyes of his glory. ¹⁷ The shew of their countenance doth witness against them; and they declare their sin as Sodom, they hide it not. Woe unto their soul! for they have ¹⁸ rewarded

10 evil unto themselves. Say ye of the righteous, that it shall be well with him: for they shall eat the fruit of 11 their doings. Woe unto the wicked! it shall be ill with him: for the ¹⁹ reward

12 of his hands shall be ²⁰ given him. As for my people, children are their oppressors, and women rule over them.

O my people, they which lead thee cause thee to err, and ²¹ destroy the 13 way of thy paths. The Lord standeth up to plead, and standeth to judge the 14 ²² peoples. The Lord will enter into judgement with the elders of his people, and the princes thereof: It is ye that have eaten up the vineyard; the 15 spoil of the poor is in your houses: what mean ye that ye crush my people, and grind the face of the poor? saith the Lord, the Lord of hosts.

16 Moreover the Lord said, Because the daughters of Zion are haughty, and walk with stretched forth necks and wanton eyes, walking and to pass, that he that is left in Zion, that is written ⁸among the living in 4 Jerusalem: when the Lord shall have washed away the filth of the daughters of Zion, and shall have purged the blood of Jerusalem from the midst thereof, by the ⁹spirit of judgement, 5 and by the ⁹spirit of burning. And the LORD will create over ¹⁰the whole habi-and the shining of a flaming fire by night: for over all the glory shall be 6 spread a canopy. And there shall be a pavilion for a shadow in the day-time from the heat, and for a refuge and for a covert from storm and from rain.

5 Let me sing ¹¹for my wellbeloved a song of my beloved touching his vineyard. My wellbeloved had a vineyard 2 in ¹²a very fruitful hill: and he ¹³made
a trench about it, and gathered out the stones thereof, and planted it with the choicest vine, and built a tower in the midst of it, and also hewed out a ¹⁴winepress therein: and he looked that it should bring forth grapes, and it 3 brought forth wild grapes. And now,
O inhabitants of Jerusalem and men of Judah, judge, I pray you, betwixt

4 me and my vineyard. What could have been done more to my vineyard, that I have not done in it? wherefore, when I looked that it should bring forth grapes, brought it forth wild 5 grapes? And now go to; I will tell you what I will do to my vineyard: I will take away the hedge thereof, and it shall be ¹⁵eaten up; I will break down the fence thereof, and it shall 6 be trodden down: and I will lay it waste; it shall not be pruned nor hoed; but there shall come up briers and thorns: I will also command the clouds that they rain no rain upon 7 it. For the vineyard of the LORD of hosts is the house of Israel, and the men of Judah ¹⁶his pleasant plant:
and he looked for judgement, but behold ¹⁷oppression; for righteousness,
but beheld a cry.

8 Woe unto them that join house to house, that lay field to field, till there be no room, and ye be made to dwell 9 alone in the midst of the land! In mine ears saith the LORD of hosts, Of a truth many houses shall be desolate, even great and fair, without inhabit-10 ant. For ten acres of vineyard shall yield one bath, and a ¹⁸homer of seed shall yield but an ephah.

11 Woe unto them that rise up early in the morning, that they may follow strong drink; that tarry late into the 12 night, till wine inflame them! And the harp and the lute, the tabret and the pipe, and wine, are in their feasts:
but they regard not the work of the LORD, neither have they considered 13 the operation of his hands. Therefore my people are gone into captivity, for lack of knowledge: and ¹⁹their honourable men are famished, and their multitude are parched with thirst.
14 Therefore ²⁰hell hath enlarged her desire, and opened her mouth without measure: and their glory, and their multitude, and their ²¹pomp, and he that rejoiceth among them, descend 15 into it. And the mean man is bowed down, and the great man is humbled,
and the eyes of the lofty are humbled:
16 but the LORD of hosts is exalted in judgement, and God the Holy One is 17 sanctified in righteousness. Then shall the lambs feed as in their pasture, and the waste places of the fat ones shall 22 wanderers eat.

18 Woe unto them that draw iniquity with cords of vanity, and sin as if 19 were with a cart rope: that say, Let him make speed, let him hasten his work, that we may see it: and let the counsel of the Holy One of Israel draw nigh and come, that we may know it!

22 Woe unto them that are mighty to drink wine, and men of strength to mingle strong drink: which justify the wicked for a reward, and take away the righteousness of the righteous from him! Therefore as the tongue of fire devoureth the stubble, and as the dry grass sinketh down in the flame, so their root shall be as rottenness, and their blossom shall go up as dust: because they have rejected the ¹law of the Lord of hosts, and despised the word of the Holy One of Israel.

25 Therefore is the anger of the Lord kindled against his people, and he hath stretched forth his hand against them, and hath smitten them, and the hills did tremble, and their carcases were as refuse in the midst of the streets. For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

26 And he will lift up an ensign to the nations from far, and will hiss for them from the end of the earth: and, behold, ³they shall come with speed

27 swiftly: none shall be weary nor stumble among them; none shall slumber nor sleep; neither shall the girdle of their loins be loosed, nor the latchet of

28 their shoes be broken: whose arrows are sharp, and all their bows bent; their horses' hoofs shall be counted like flint,

29 and their wheels like a whirlwind: their roaring shall be like a lion, they shall roar like young lions: yea, they shall roar, and lay hold of the prey, and carry it away safe, and there shall be none to 30 deliver. And they shall roar ⁴against them in that day like the roaring of the sea: and if one look unto the land, ⁵behold darkness and distress, and the light is darkened in the clouds thereof.

6 In the year that king Uzziah died I saw the Lord sitting upon a throne, high and lifted up, and his ⁶train filled

2 the temple. Above him stood the seraphim: each one had six wings;

with twain he covered his face, and with twain he covered his feet, and with

3 twain he did fly. And one cried unto another, and said, Holy, holy, holy, is the Lord of hosts: ⁷the whole earth

4 is full of his glory. And the foundations of the thresholds were moved at the voice of him that cried, and the house was filled with smoke.

5 Then said I, Woe is me! for I am undone; because I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips: for mine eyes have seen the King, the Lord of hosts.

6 Then flew one of the seraphim unto me, having a ⁸live coal in his hand, which he had taken with the tongs

7 from off the altar: and he touched my mouth with it, and said, Lo, this hath touched thy lips; and thine iniquity is taken away, and thy sin ⁹purged.

8 And I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for us? Then I said, Here am

9 I; send me. And he said, Go, and tell this people, Hear ye ¹⁰indeed, but understand not; and see ye ¹⁰indeed,

10 but perceive not. Make the heart of this people fat, and make their ears heavy, and shut their eyes; lest they see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and ¹¹understand with their heart, and turn again, and be healed.

11 Then said I, Lord, how long? And he answered, Until cities be waste without inhabitant, and houses without man, and the land become utterly

12 waste, and the Lord have removed men far away, and the forsaken places

13 be many in the midst of the land. ¹²And if there be yet a tenth in it, it shall again be ¹³eaten up: as a terebinth, and as an oak, ¹⁴whose ¹⁵stock remaineth, when they ¹⁶are felled; so the holy seed is the ¹⁵stock thereof.

7 And it came to pass in the days of Ahaz the son of Jotham, the son of Uzziah, king of Judah, that Rezin the king of Syria, and Pekah the son of Remaliah, king of Israel, went up to Jerusalem to war against it; but could

2 not prevail against it. And it was told the house of David, saying, Syria ¹⁷is confederate with Ephraim. And his heart was moved, and the heart of his people, as the trees of the forest are moved with the wind.

3 Then said the Lord unto Isaiah, Go forth now to meet Ahaz, thou, and ¹⁸Shear-jashub thy son, at the end of the conduit of the upper pool, in the

4 high way of the fuller's field; and say unto him, Take heed, and be quiet; fear not, neither let thine heart be faint, because of these two tails of smoking firebrands, for the fierce anger of Rezin and Syria, and of the 5 son of Remaliah. Because Syria hath counselled evil against thee, Ephraim ^{also}, and the son of Remaliah, saying,

6 Let us go up against Judah, and vex it, and let us make a breach therein for us, and set up a king in the midst

7 of it, even the son of Tabeel: thus saith the Lord God, It shall not stand, neither shall it come to pass.

8 For the head of Syria is Damascus, and the head of Damascus is Rezin: and within threescore and five years shall Ephraim be broken in pieces,

9 that it be not a people: and the head of Ephraim is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is Remaliah's son. If ye will not believe, surely ye shall not be established.

11 Ahaz, saying, Ask thee a sign of the Lord thy God; ¹ask it either in the 12 depth, or in the height above. But Ahaz said, I will not ask, neither will 13 I tempt the LORD. And he said, Hear ye now, O house of David; is it a small thing for you to weary men, that ye 14 will weary my God also? Therefore the Lord himself shall give you a sign; behold, ²a ³virgin ⁴shall conceive, and bear a son, and shall call 15 his name ⁵Immanuel. ⁶Butter and honey shall he eat, ⁷when he knoweth to refuse the evil, and choose 16 the good. For before the child shall know to refuse the evil, and choose the good, the land whose two kings 17 thou abhorrest shall be forsaken. The Lord shall bring upon thee, and upon thy people, and upon thy father's house, days that have not come, from the day that Ephraim departed from Judah; even the king of Assyria. 18 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the LORD shall hiss for the fly that is in the uttermost part of the rivers of Egypt, and for the bee that 19 is in the land of Assyria. And they shall come, and shall rest all of them in the ⁸desolate valleys, and in the holes of the rocks, and upon all thorns, and upon all ⁹pastures. 20 In that day shall the Lord shave with a razor that is hired, which is in the parts beyond the River, even with the king of Assyria, the head and the hair of the feet: and it shall also consume the beard. 21 And it shall come to pass in that day, that a man shall nourish a young 22 cow, and two sheep; and it shall come to pass, for the abundance of milk that they shall give he shall eat butter: for butter and honey shall every one eat that is left in the midst of the land. 23 And it shall come to pass in that day, that every place, where there were a thousand vines at a thousand silverlings, shall even be for briers and 24 thorns. With arrows and with bow shall one come thither; because all the 25 land shall be briers and thorns. And all the hills that were digged with the mattock, ¹⁰thou shalt not come thither for fear of briers and thorns, but it shall be for the sending forth of oxen, and for the treading of sheep. 8 And the LORD said unto me, Take thee a great tablet, and write upon it ¹¹with the pen of a man, For ¹²Mahershalal-hash-baz; and I will take unto me faithful witnesses to record, Uriah the priest, and Zechariah the son of 3 Jeberechiah. And I went unto the prophetess; and she conceived, and bare a son. Then said the LORD unto me, Call his name Maher-shalal-hash-baz. For before the child shall have knowledge to cry, My father, and, My mother, the riches of Damascus shall be carried away before the king of Assyria.

5 And the LORD spake unto me yet 6 again, saying, Forasmuch as this people hath refused the waters of Shiloah that go softly, ¹³and rejoice ¹⁴in Rezin 7 and Remaliah's son; now therefore, behold, the Lord bringeth up upon them the waters of the River, strong and many, even the king of Assyria and all his glory; and he shall come up over all his channels, and go over all his 8 banks; and he shall sweep onward into Judah; he shall overflow and pass through; he shall reach even to the neck; and the stretching out of his wings shall fill the breadth of thy land, ¹⁵O Immanuel.

9 ¹⁶Make an uproar, O ye peoples, and ye shall be broken in pieces; and give ear, all ye of far countries: gird yourselves, and ye shall be broken in pieces; gird yourselves, and ye shall 10 be broken in pieces. Take counsel together, and it shall be brought to nought; speak the word, and it shall 11 not stand: for ¹⁷God is with us. For the LORD spake thus to me ¹⁸with a strong hand, and instructed me that I should not walk in the way of this people, saying, Say ye not, A conspiracy, concerning all whereof this people shall say, A conspiracy; neither fear ye their fear, nor be in dread thereof. ¹⁹The LORD of hosts, him shall ye sanctify; and let him be your fear, and let 14 him be your dread. And he shall be for a sanctuary; but for a stone of stumbling and for a rock of offence to both the houses of Israel, for a gin and for a snare to the inhabitants of 15 Jerusalem. And ¹⁹many shall stumble thereon, and fall, and be broken, and be snared, and be taken. 16 Bind thou up the testimony, seal the 17 ²⁰law among my disciples. And I will wait for the LORD, that hideth his face from the house of Jacob, and I will 18 look for him. Behold, I and the children whom the LORD hath given me are for signs and for wonders in Israel from the LORD of hosts, which dwell-eth in mount Zion.

19 And when they shall say unto you, Seek unto them that have familiar spirits and unto the wizards, that chirp and that mutter: should not a people seek unto their God? on behalf of the living should they seek unto the dead? 20 To the ²⁰law and to the testimony! ²¹if they speak not according to this word, surely there is no morning for them. 21 And they shall pass through it, hardly bestead and hungry: and it shall come to pass that, when they shall be hungry, they shall fret themselves, and ²²curse by their king and by their God, and turn

In the former time he brought into contempt the land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, but in the latter time hath he made it glorious, by the way of the sea, beyond Jordan, ⁴Galilee of the nations. The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light: they that dwelt in the land of the ⁵shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined. ³Thou hast multiplied the nation, ⁶thou hast increased their joy: they joy before thee according to the joy in harvest, as men rejoice when they divide the spoil. For the yoke of his burden, and the staff of his shoulder, the rod of his oppressor, thou hast broken as in the day of Midian. For ⁷all the armour of the armed man in the tumult, and the garments rolled in blood, shall even be for burning, for ⁶fuel of fire. For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given; and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called ⁸Wonderful, Counsellor, Mighty God, ⁹Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace. Of the increase of his government and of peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, to establish it, and to uphold it with judgement and with righteousness from henceforth even for ever. The zeal of the LORD of hosts shall perform this. ⁸The LORD sent a word into Jacob, ⁹and it hath lighted upon Israel. And all the people shall know, even Ephraim and the inhabitant of Samaria, that say in pride and in stoutness of heart, ¹⁰The bricks are fallen, but we will build with hewn stone: the sycamores are cut down, but we will change them into ¹¹cedars. Therefore the LORD ¹⁰shall set up on high against him the adversaries of Rezin, and ¹¹shall ¹²stir up his ¹²enemies; the Syrians ¹³before, and the Philistines ¹⁴behind; and they ¹⁵shall devour Israel with open mouth. For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still. ¹³Yet the people hath not turned unto him that smote them, neither have ¹⁴they sought the LORD of hosts. Therefore the LORD ¹⁶will cut off from Israel head and tail, palm-branch and rush, ¹⁵in one day. The ¹⁷ancient and the honourable man, he is the head; and the prophet that teacheth lies, he is ¹⁶the tail. For they that lead this people cause them to err; and they that are ¹⁷led of them are ¹⁸destroyed. Therefore the LORD shall not rejoice over their young men, neither shall he have compassion on their fatherless and widows:

for every one is profane and an evil-doer, and every month speaketh folly. For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still. ¹⁸For wickedness burneth as the fire; it devoureth the briers and thorns: yea, it kindleth in the thickets of the forest, and they roll upward in thick ¹⁹clouds of smoke. Through the wrath of the LORD of hosts is the land ¹⁹burnt up: the people also are as the fuel of ²⁰fire; no man spareth his brother. And one shall snatch on the right hand, and be hungry; and he shall eat on the left hand, and they shall not be satisfied: they shall eat every man ²¹the flesh of his own arm: Manasseh, Ephraim; and Ephraim, Manasseh: and they together shall be against Judah. For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still. ¹⁰Woe unto them that decree unrighteous decrees, and to the writers that write perverseness: to turn aside the needy from judgement, and to take away the right of the poor of my people, that widows may be their spoil, and that they may make the fatherless ³their prey! And what will ye do in the day of visitation, and in the desolation which shall come from far? to whom will ye flee for help? and where will ye ⁴leave your glory? ²⁰They shall only bow down under the prisoners, and shall fall under the slain. For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still. ⁵²¹Ho Assyrian, the rod of mine anger, the staff in whose hand is mine indignation! I will send him against a profane nation, and against the people of my wrath will I give him a charge, to take the spoil, and to take the prey, and ²²to tread them down like the mire ⁷of the streets. Howbeit he meaneth not so, neither doth his heart think so; but it is in his heart to destroy, and to ⁸cut off nations not a few. For he saith, Are not my princes all of them kings? ⁹Is not Calno as Carchemish? is not Hamath as Arpad? is not Samaria as Damascus? As my hand hath ²³found the kingdoms of the idols, whose graven images did excel them of Jerusalem ¹¹and of Samaria; shall I not, as I have done unto Samaria and her idols, so do to Jerusalem and her idols? ¹²Wherefore it shall come to pass, that when the LORD hath performed his whole work upon mount Zion and on Jerusalem, I will ²⁴punish the fruit of the stout heart of the king of Assyria, ¹³and the glory of his high looks. For he hath said, By the strength of my hand I have done it, and by my wisdom; for I am prudent: and I have removed the bounds of the peoples, and have 15 chirped. Shall the axe boast itself against him that heweth therewith? shall the saw magnify itself against him that shaketh it? as if a rod should shake them that lift it up, or as if a staff should lift up him that is not wood.

16 Therefore shall the Lord, the Lord of hosts, send among his fat ones leanness; and ²under his glory there shall be kindled a burning like the 17 burning of fire. And the light of Israel shall be for a fire, and his Holy One for a flame: and it shall burn and devour his thorns and his briers in one 18 day. And he shall consume the glory of his forest, and of his fruitful field, both soul and body: and it shall be ³as 19 when a standardbearer fainteth. And the remnant of the trees of his forest shall be few, that a child may write them.

20 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the remnant of Israel, and they that are escaped of the house of Jacob, shall no more again stay upon him that smote them; but shall stay upon the Lord, the Holy One of Israel, 21 in truth. ⁴A remnant shall return, even the remnant of Jacob, unto the 22 mighty God. For though ⁵thy people Israel be as the sand of the sea, only a remnant ⁶of them shall return: a consumption ⁷is determined, overflowing 23 with righteousness. For a consummation, and that determined, shall the Lord, the Lord of hosts, make in the midst of all the ⁷earth.

24 Therefore thus saith the Lord, the Lord of hosts, O my people that dwellest in Zion, be not afraid of ⁸the Assyrian: though he smite thee with the rod, and lift up his staff against 25 thee, after the manner of Egypt. For yet a very little while, and the indignation shall be accomplished, and ⁹mine 26 anger, in their destruction. And the Lord of hosts shall stir up against him a scourge, as in the slaughter of Midian at the rock of Oreb: and ¹⁰his rod shall be over the sea, and he shall lift it up after the manner of Egypt.

27 And it shall come to pass in that day, that his burden shall depart from off thy shoulder, and his yoke shall be destroyed ¹¹because of ¹²the anointing. 28 He is come to Aiath, he is passed through Migron; at Michmash he layeth up his baggage: they are gone over the pass; ¹³they have taken up their lodging at Geba: Ramah trembleth;

30 Gibeah of Saul is fled. Cry aloud with thy voice, O daughter of Gallim! hearken, O Laishah! ¹⁴O thou poor 31 Anathoth! Madmenah is a fugitive; the inhabitants of Gebim ¹⁵gather themselves to flee. This very day shall he halt at Nob: he shaketh his hand at the mount of the ¹⁶daughter of Zion, the hill of Jerusalem.

33 Behold, the Lord, the Lord of hosts, shall lop the boughs with terror: and the high ones of stature shall be hewn down, and the lofty shall be brought 34 low. And he shall cut down the thickets of the forest with iron, and Lebanon shall fall by a mighty one.

11 And there shall come forth a shoot out of the stock of Jesse, and a branch 2 out of his roots shall bear fruit: and the spirit of the Lord shall rest upon him, the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and might, the spirit of knowledge and of the fear 3 of the Lord; and ¹⁷his ¹⁸delight shall be in the fear of the Lord: and he shall not judge after the sight of his eyes, neither ¹⁹reprove after the hearing of his ears: but with righteousness shall he judge the poor, and reprove with equity for the meek of the ⁷earth: and he shall smite the ⁷earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lips shall he slay the wicked.

5 And righteousness shall be the girdle of his loins, and faithfulness the girdle 6 of his reins. And the wolf shall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down with the kid; and the calf and the young lion and the fatling together; and a little child shall lead 7 them. And the cow and the bear shall feed; their young ones shall lie down together: and the lion shall eat straw 8 like the ox. And the sucking child shall play on the hole of the asp, and the weaned child shall put his hand 9 on the ²⁰basilisk's den. They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain: for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea.

10 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the root of Jesse, which standeth for an ensign of the peoples, unto him shall the nations seek; and his resting place shall be ²¹glorious.

11 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the Lord ²²shall set his hand again the second time to ²³recover the remnant of his people, which shall remain, from Assyria, and from Egypt, and from Pathros, and from Cush, and from Elam, and from Shinar, and from Hamath, and from the ²⁴islands of the 12 sea. And the LORD shall utterly destroy the tongue of the Egyptian sea; and with his ⁸scorching wind shall he shake his hand over the River, and shall smite it into seven streams, and cause men to march over dryshod. And there shall be an high way for the remnant of his people, which shall remain, from Assyria; like as there was for Israel in the day that he came up out of the land of Egypt.

2 Set ye up an ensign upon the bare mountain, lift up the voice unto them, wave the hand, that they may go into the ³gates of the nobles. I have commanded my consecrated ones, yea, I have called my mighty men for mine anger, ⁴even ¹¹my proudly exulting ones. The noise of a multitude in the mountains, like as of a great people! the noise of a tumult of the kingdoms of the nations gathered together! the LORD of hosts ⁵mustereth the host for the battle. They come from a far country, from the uttermost part of heaven, even the LORD, and the weapons of his indignation, to ⁶destroy the whole land. Howl ye; for the day of the LORD is at hand; as destruction from ¹²the Almighty shall it ⁷come. Therefore shall all hands be feeble, and every heart of man shall ⁸melt: and they shall be dismayed; ¹³pangs and sorrows shall take hold of them; they shall be in pain as a woman in travail: they shall be amazed one at another; their faces shall be faces of 9 flame. Behold, the day of the LORD cometh, cruel, with wrath and fierce anger; to make the land a desolation, and to destroy the sinners thereof out of it. For the stars of heaven and the constellations thereof shall not give their light; the sun shall be darkened in his going forth, and the moon shall not ¹⁰cause her light to shine. And I will punish the world for their evil, and the wicked for their iniquity; and I will cause the arrogance of the proud to cease, and will lay low the haughtiness of the terrible. I will make a man more rare than fine gold, even a man ¹²than the pure gold of Ophir. Therefore I will make the heavens to tremble, and the earth shall be shaken out of her place, in the wrath of the LORD of hosts, and in the day of his fierce anger.

14 And it shall come to pass, that as the chased ¹⁴roe, and as sheep that no man gathereth, they shall turn every man to his own people, and shall flee every ¹⁵man to his own land. Every one that is found shall be thrust through; and every one that is ¹⁵taken shall fall by the sword. And Babylon, the glory of kingdoms, the beauty of the Chaldeans' pride, shall be as when God overthrew ¹⁹Sodom and Gomorrah. It shall never be inhabited, neither shall it be dwelt in from generation to generation: neither shall the Arabian pitch tent there; neither shall shepherds make their ²⁰flocks to lie down there. But wild beasts of the desert shall lie there; and their houses shall be full of doleful creatures; and ostriches shall dwell there, ²¹and ¹⁶satyrs shall dance there. And ¹⁷wolves shall ¹⁸cry in their castles, and jackals in the pleasant palaces: and her time is near to come, and her ¹⁴days shall not be prolonged. The LORD hath broken the staff of the wicked, the sceptre of the rulers: ² that smote the peoples in wrath with a continual stroke, that ruled the nations in anger, with a per-
7 secution that none restrained. The whole earth is at rest, and is quiet:
8 they break forth into singing. Yea, the fir trees rejoice at thee, and the cedars of Lebanon, saying, Since thou art laid down, no feller is come up 9 against us. ³ Hell from beneath is moved for thee to meet thee at thy coming: it stirreth up ⁴ the dead for thee, even all the ⁵ chief ones of the earth; it hath raised up from their thrones all the kings of the nations.
10 All they shall answer and say unto thee, Art thou also become weak as we? art thou become like unto us?
11 Thy pomp is brought down to ³ hell, and the noise of thy viols: the worm is spread under thee, and worms cover
12 thee. How art thou fallen from heaven, O day star, son of the morning! how art thou cut down to the ground, 13 which didst lay low the nations! And thou saidst in thine heart, I will ascend into heaven, I will exalt my throne above the stars of God; and I will sit upon the mount of congregation, in the 14 uttermost parts of the north: I will ascend above the heights of the clouds;
15 I will be like the Most High. Yet thou shalt be brought down to ³ hell, to the uttermost parts of the pit.
16 They that see thee shall narrowly look upon thee, they shall consider thee, saying, Is this the man that made the earth to tremble, that did shake king-17 doms; that made the world as a wilderness, and overthrew the cities there-
18 of; that let not loose his prisoners to their home? All the kings of the na-
19 tions, all of them, sleep in glory, every one in his own house. But thou art cast forth away from thy sepulchre like an abominable branch, ⁶ clothed with the slain, that are thrust through with the sword, that go down to the stones of the pit; as a carcase trodden 20 under foot. Thou shalt not be joined with them in burial, because thou hast destroyed thy land, thou hast slain thy people; the seed of evil-doers shall 21 not be named for ever. Prepare ye ⁷ slaughter for his children for the iniquity of their fathers; that they rise not up, and possess the earth, and fill 22 the face of the world with cities. And I will rise up against them, saith the LORD of hosts, and cut off from Babylon name and remnant, and son and 23 son's son, saith the LORD. I will also make it a possession for the porcupine, and pools of water: and I will sweep it with the besom of destruction, saith the LORD of hosts.

24 The LORD of hosts hath sworn, saying, Surely as I have thought, so shall it come to pass; and as I have purposed, so shall it stand: that I will break the Assyrian in my land, and upon my mountains tread him under foot: then shall his yoke depart from off them, and his burden depart from off their shoulders.
26 This is the purpose that is purposed upon the whole earth: and this is the hand that is stretched out upon all the nations. For the LORD of hosts hath purposed, and who shall disannul it? and his hand is stretched out, and who shall turn it back?

28 In the year that king Ahaz died was this ⁸ burden.

29 Rejoice not, O Philistia, all of thee, because the rod that smote thee is broken: for out of the serpent's root shall come forth a ⁹ basilisk, and his fruit shall be a fiery flying serpent.

30 And the firstborn of the poor shall feed, and the needy shall lie down in safety: and I will kill thy root with famine, and thy remnant shall be slain.

31 Howl, O gate; cry, O city; thou art melted away, O Philistia, all of thee; for there cometh a smoke out of the north, and ¹⁰ none standeth aloof at his appointed times. What then shall one answer the messengers of the nation? That the LORD hath founded Zion, and in her shall the afflicted of his people take refuge.

15 The ¹¹ burden of Moab.

For ¹² in a night Ar of Moab is laid waste, and brought to nought; for ¹² in a night Kir of Moab is laid waste, and brought to nought. ¹³ He is gone up to ¹⁴ Bayith, and to Dibon, to the high places, to weep: Moab howleth ¹⁵ over Nebo, and ¹⁵ over Medeba: on all their heads is baldness, every beard is cut 3 off. In their streets they gird themselves with sackcloth: on their house-tops, and in their broad places, every one howleth, weeping abundantly.
4 And Heshbon crieth out, and Elealeh; their voice is heard even unto Jahaz: therefore the armed men of Moab cry aloud; his soul trembleth within him.
5 My heart crieth out for Moab; her ¹⁶ nobles flee unto Zoar, ¹⁷ to Eglath-shelishiyah: for by the ascent of Luhith with weeping they go up; for in the way of Horonaim they raise up
6 a cry of destruction. For the waters of Nimrim shall be ¹⁸ desolate: for the grass is withered away, the tender grass faileth, there is no green thing.

Give counsel, execute judgement; make thy shadow as the night in the midst of the noon-day: hide the outcasts; bewray not the wanderer. ⁵Let mine outcasts dwell with thee; as for Moab, be thou a covert to him from the face of the spoiler: for ⁶the extortioner is brought to nought, spoiling ceaseth, ⁷the oppressors are consumed out of the land. ⁵And a throne shall be established in mercy, and one shall sit thereon in truth, in the tent of David; judging, and seeking judgement, and swift to do righteousness.

6¹ We have heard of the pride of Moab, that he is very proud; even of his arrogancy, and his pride, and his wrath; ⁷his boastings are nought. Therefore shall Moab howl for Moab, every one shall howl: for the raisin-cakes of Kir-hareseth shall ye mourn, utterly stricken. For the fields of Heshbon languish, and the vine of Sibmah; ⁹the lords of the nations have broken down the choice plants thereof; they reached even unto Jazer, they wandered into the wilderness; her branches were spread abroad, they passed over ⁹the sea. Therefore I will weep with the weeping of Jazer for the vine of Sibmah: I will water thee with my tears, O Heshbon, and Elealeh: for upon thy summer fruits and upon thy ¹⁰harvest the battle shout is fallen. And gladness is taken away, and joy out of the fruitful field; and in the vineyards there shall be no singing, neither joyful noise: no treader shall tread out wine in the presses; I have made the ¹¹rintage shout to cease. Wherefore my bowels sound like an harp for Moab, and mine inward parts for Kir-heres. And it shall come to pass, when Moab presenteth himself, when he wearyeth himself upon the high place, and shall come to his sanctuary to pray, that he shall not prevail.

13 This is the word that the LORD spake concerning Moab in time past. ¹⁴But now the LORD hath spoken, saying, Within three years, as the years of a hireling, and the glory of Moab shall be brought into contempt, with all his great multitude; and the remnant shall be very small and of no account.

19 The ⁸burden of Egypt.

Behold, the LORD rideth upon a swift cloud, and cometh unto Egypt: and the idols of Egypt shall be moved at his presence, and the heart of Egypt ² shall melt in the midst of it. And I will ⁹ stir up the Egyptians against the Egyptians: and they shall fight every one against his brother, and every one against his neighbour; city against city, and kingdom against ³ kingdom. And the spirit of Egypt shall be made void in the midst of it; and I will ¹⁰ destroy the counsel thereof; and they shall seek unto the idols, and to the ¹¹ charmers, and to them that have familiar spirits, and to the ⁴ wizards. And I will ¹² give over the Egyptians into the hand of a cruel lord; and a fierce king shall rule over them, saith the LORD, the LORD of hosts. And the waters shall fail from the sea, and the river shall be ⁶ wasted and become dry. And the rivers shall stink; the ¹³ streams of ¹⁴ Egypt shall be diminished and dried up: the reeds and flags shall wither away. The meadows by the Nile, by the brink of the Nile, and all that is sown by the Nile, shall become dry, be driven away, ⁸ and be no more. The fishers also shall lament, and all they that cast angle into the Nile shall mourn, and they

that spread nets upon the waters shall ⁹ languish. Moreover they that work in combed flax, and they that weave ¹⁰ ¹⁵ white cloth, shall be ashamed. And her ¹⁶ pillars shall be broken in pieces, all they ¹⁷ that work for hire shall be ¹¹ grieved in soul. The princes of Zoan are utterly foolish; the counsel of the wisest counsellors of Pharaoh is become brutish: how say ye unto Pharaoh, I am the son of the wise, the ¹² son of ancient kings? Where then are thy wise men? and let them tell thee now; and let them know what the LORD of hosts hath purposed concerning Egypt. The princes of Zoan are become fools, the princes of ¹⁸ Noph are deceived; they have caused Egypt to go astray, that are the corner ¹⁴ stone of her tribes. The LORD hath mingled a spirit of perverseness in the midst of her: and they have caused Egypt to go astray in every work thereof, as a drunken man ¹⁹ staggereth in his vomit. Neither shall there be for Egypt any work, which head or tail, palm-branch or rush, may do. ¹⁶ In that day shall Egypt be like unto women: and it shall tremble and fear because of the shaking of the hand of the LORD of hosts, which he shaketh ¹⁷ over it. And the land of Judah shall become a terror unto Egypt, ²⁰ every one to whom mention is made thereof shall be afraid, because of the purpose of the LORD of hosts, which he purposeth against it. ¹⁸ In that day there shall be five cities in the land of Egypt that speak the language of Canaan, and swear to the LORD of hosts; one shall be called The city of ²¹ destruction. ¹⁹ In that day shall there be an altar to the LORD in the midst of the land of Egypt, and a pillar at the border ²⁰ thereof to the LORD. And it shall be for a sign and for a witness unto the LORD of hosts in the land of Egypt: for they shall cry unto the LORD because of the oppressors, and he shall send them a saviour, and ²² a defender, ²¹ and he shall deliver them. And the LORD shall ²³ be known to Egypt, and the Egyptians shall know the LORD in that day; yea, they shall worship with sacrifice and oblation, and shall vow a vow unto the LORD, and shall ²² perform it. And the LORD shall smite Egypt, smiting and healing; and they shall return unto the LORD, and he shall be intreated of them, and shall heal them. ²³ In that day shall there be a high way out of Egypt to Assyria, and the Assyrian shall come into Egypt, and the Egyptian into Assyria; and the Egyptians shall worship with the Assyrians. ²⁴ In that day shall Israel be the 20 In the year that ¹Tartan came unto Ashdod, when Sargen the king of Assyria sent him, and he fought against 2 Ashdod and took it; at that time the Lord spake by Isaiah the son of Amoz, saying, Go, and loose the sackcloth from off thy loins, and put thy shoe from off thy foot. And he did so, walking naked and barefoot. And the Lord said, Like as my servant Isaiah hath walked naked and barefoot ²three years for a sign and a wonder upon 4 Egypt and upon ³Ethiopia; so shall the king of Assyria lead away the captives of Egypt, and the exiles of Ethiopia, young and old, naked and barefoot, and with buttocks uncovered, 5 to the shame of Egypt. And they shall be dismayed and ashamed, because of Ethiopia their expectation, 6 and of Egypt their glory. And the inhabitant of this coastland shall say in that day, Behold, such is our expectation, whither we fled for help to be delivered from the king of Assyria: and we, how shall we escape?

21 The ⁴burden of the wilderness of the sea.

As whirlwinds in the South sweep through, it cometh from the wilderness, from a terrible land. A ⁵grievous vision is declared unto me; the treacherous dealer dealeth treacherously, and the spoiler spoileth. Go up, O Elam; besiege, O Media; all the sighing thereof ⁶have I made to cease. 3 Therefore are my loins filled with anguish; pangs have taken hold upon me, as the pangs of a woman in travail: I am ⁷pained so that I cannot hear; I am dismayed so that I cannot see. My heart ⁸panteth, horror hath afflicted me: the twilight that I desired hath been turned into trembling 5 unto me. They prepare the table, they ⁹set the watch, they eat, they drink: rise up, ye princes, anoint the shield. 6 For thus hath the Lord said unto me, Go, set a watchman; let him declare 7 what he seeth: ¹⁰and when he seeth ¹¹a troop, ¹²horsemen in pairs, ¹¹a troop of asses, ¹¹a troop of camels, he shall hearken diligently with much heed. And he cried as a lion: O Lord, I stand continually upon the watch-tower in the day-time, and am set in 9 my ward ¹³whole nights: and, behold, here ¹⁴cometh a troop of men, ¹²horsemen in pairs. And he answered and said, Babylon is fallen, is fallen; and all the graven images of her gods are 10 broken unto the ground. O thou my threshing, and the ¹⁵corn of my floor: that which I have heard from the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, have I declared unto you.

11 The ⁴burden of Dumah.

One calleth unto me out of Scir, Watchman, ¹⁶what of the night? 12 Watchman, ¹⁶what of the night? The watchman said, The morning ¹⁷cometh, and also the night: if ye will inquire, inquire ye: ¹⁸turn ye, come.

13 The ¹⁹burden upon Arabia.

In the ²⁰forest ²¹in Arabia shall ye lodge, O ye travelling companies of Dedanites. Unto him that ²²was thirsty they brought water; ²³the inhabitants of the land of Tema did meet the 15 fugitives with their bread. For they fled away from the swords, from the drawn sword, and from the bent bow, and from the grievousness of war. 16 For thus hath the Lord said unto me, Within a year, according to the years of an hireling, and all the glory of 17 Kedar shall fail: and the residue of the number of the archers, the mighty men of the children of Kedar, shall be few: for the Lord, the God of Israel, hath spoken it.

22 The ⁴burden of the valley of vision.

What aileth thee now, that thou art 2 wholly gone up to the housetops? O thou that art full of shoutings, a tumultuous city, a joyous town; thy slain are not slain with the sword, 3 neither are they dead in battle. All thy rulers fled away together, they were bound ²⁴by the archers: all that were found of thee were bound together, ²⁵they fled afar off. Therefore said I, Look away from me, I will weep bitterly; ²⁶labour not to comfort me, for the spoiling of the daughter of my 5 people. For it is a day of discomfiture, and of treading down, and of perplexity, from the Lord, the Lord of hosts, in the valley of vision; a breaking down of the walls, and a crying to the ²⁷mount- 6 aims. And Elam bare the quiver, with ²⁸chariots of men and horsemen; and 7 Kir uncovered the shield. And it came to pass, that thy choicest valleys were full of chariots, and the horsemen set 8 themselves in array at the gate. And he took away the covering of Judah; and thou didst look in that day to the armour 9 in the house of the forest. And ye saw the breaches of the city of David, that they were many: and ye gathered together the waters of the lower pool. 10 And ye numbered the houses of Jerusalem, and ye brake down the houses to 11 fortify the wall. Ye made also a reservoir between the two walls for the water of the old pool: but ye looked not unto ²⁹him that had done this, neither had ye respect unto him that fashioned it long

Is this your joyous city, whose antiquity is ⁹of ancient days, whose feet carried her afar off to sojourn? 8 Who hath purposed this against Tyre, the crowning city, whose merchants are princes, whose traffickers are the 9 honourable of the earth? The Lord of hosts hath purposed it, to ¹¹stain the pride of all glory, to bring into contempt all the honourable of the earth. 10 ¹²Pass through thy land as the Nile, O daughter of Tarshish; there is no 11 girdle about thee any more. He hath stretched out his hand over the sea, he hath shaken the kingdoms: the Lord hath given commandment concerning ¹³Canaan, to destroy the strong holds 12 thereof. And he said, Thou shalt no more rejoice, O thou oppressed virgin daughter of Zidon: arise, pass over to Kittim; even there shalt thou have no 13 rest. 4 the LORD hath spoken this word. The earth mourneth and fadeth away, the world languisheth and fadeth away, 5 the lofty people of the earth do languish. The earth also is polluted under the inhabitants thereof; because they have transgressed the laws, changed the ordinance, broken the everlasting covenant. Therefore hath the curse devoured the earth, and they that dwell therein are found guilty: therefore the inhabitants of the earth are 7 burned, and few men left. The new wine mourneth, the vine languisheth, all the merryhearted do sigh. The mirth of tabrets ceaseth, the noise of them that rejoice endeth, the joy of 9 the harp ceaseth. They shall not drink wine with a song; strong drink shall 10 be bitter to them that drink it. The city of ²confusion is broken down: every house is shut up, that no man 11 may come in. There is a crying in the streets because of the wine; all joy is darkened, the mirth of the land is 12 ³gone. In the city is left desolation, and the gate is smitten with destruction. For thus shall it be in the 13 midst of the earth among the peoples, as the ⁴shaking of an olive tree, as the grape gleanings when the vintage
14 is done. These shall lift up their voice, they shall shout; for the majesty of the LORD they cry aloud 15 from the sea. Wherefore glorify ye the LORD in the ⁵east, even the name of the LORD, the God of Israel, in the 16 ⁶isles of the sea.
16 From the uttermost part of the earth have we heard songs, glory to the righteous. But I said, ⁷I pine away, I pine away, woe is me! the treacherous dealers have dealt treacherously; yea, the treacherous dealers have dealt 17 very treacherously. Fear, and the pit, and the snare, are upon thee, O inhabitant of the earth. And it shall 18 come to pass, that he who fleeth from the noise of the fear shall fall into the pit; and he that cometh up out of the midst of the pit shall be taken in the snare: for the windows on high are opened, and the foundations of the 19 earth do shake. The earth is utterly broken, the earth is clean dissolved, 20 the earth is moved exceedingly. The earth shall stagger like a drunken man, and shall be moved to and fro like a hut; and the transgression thereof shall be heavy upon it, and it shall fall, and not rise again.
21 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the LORD shall ⁸punish the host of the ⁹high ones on high, and the kings of the earth upon the earth.
22 And they shall be gathered together, as prisoners are gathered in the ¹⁰pit, and shall be shut up in the prison, and after many days shall they be ¹¹visited.

23 Then the moon shall be confounded, and the sun ashamed; for the LORD of hosts shall reign in mount Zion, and in Jerusalem, and ¹²before his ¹³ancients gloriously.
25 O LORD, thou art my God; I will exalt thee, I will praise thy name; for thou hast done wonderful things, even counsels of old, in faithfulness
2 and truth. For thou hast made of a city an heap; of a defenced city a ruin: a palace of strangers to be no city; it
3 shall never be built. Therefore shall the strong people glorify thee, the city of the terrible nations shall fear thee.
4 For thou hast been a strong hold to the poor, a strong hold to the needy in his distress, a refuge from the storm, a shadow from the heat, when the blast of the terrible ones is as a storm against
5 the wall. As the heat in a dry place shalt thou bring down the noise of strangers; as the heat by the shadow of a cloud, the song of the terrible ones
6 shall be brought low. And in this mountain shall the LORD of hosts make unto all peoples a feast of fat things, a feast of wines on the lees, of fat things full of marrow, of wines on the lees
7 well refined. And he will ¹⁴destroy in this mountain the face of the covering that is cast over all peoples, and the 8 veil that is spread over all nations. He hath swallowed up death for ever; and the LORD GOD will wipe away tears from off all faces; and the reproach of his people shall he take away from off all the earth: for the LORD hath spoken it.
9 And it shall be said in that day, Lo, this is our God; we have waited for him, and he will save us: this is the LORD; we have waited for him, we will be glad and rejoice in his salvation.
10 For in this mountain shall the hand of the LORD rest, and Moab shall be trodden down in his place, even as straw is trodden down ¹⁵in the water of 11 the dunghill. And he shall spread forth his hands in the midst ¹⁶thereof, as he that swimmeth spreadeth forth his hands to swim; ¹⁷and he shall lay low
18 his pride ¹⁹together with the craft of his hands. And the fortress of the high fort of thy walls ²⁰hath he brought down, laid low, and brought to the ground, even to the dust.
26 In that day shall this song be sung in the land of Judah: We have a strong city; salvation will he appoint for walls
2 and bulwarks. Open ye the gates, that the righteous nation which keepeth brought down them that dwell on high, the lofty city: he layeth it low, he layeth it low even to the ground; he bringeth it even to the dust. The foot shall tread it down; even the feet of the 7 poor, and the steps of the needy. The way of the just is ¹uprightness: thou that art upright dost ²direct the path of the just. Yea, in the way of thy judgements, O Lord, have we waited for thee; to thy name and to thy memorial 9 is the desire of our soul. With my soul have I desired thee in the night; yea, with my spirit within me will I seek thee ⁸early: for when thy judgements are in the earth, the inhabitants of the 10 world learn righteousness. Let favour be shewed to the wicked, yet will he not learn righteousness; in the land of uprightness will he deal wrongfully, and will not behold the majesty of the Lord. 11 Lord, thy hand is lifted up, yet they see not: but they shall see ⁴thy zeal for the people, and be ashamed; yea, ⁵fire shall devour thine adversaries. 12 Lord, thou wilt ordain peace for us: for thou hast also wrought all our 13 works for us. O Lord our God, other lords beside thee have had dominion over us; but by thee only will we make 14 mention of thy name. ⁶They are dead, they shall not live; ⁷they are ⁷deceased, they shall not rise: therefore hast thou visited and destroyed them, and made 15 all their memory to perish. Thou hast increased the nation, O Lord, thou hast increased the nation; thou art glorified: ⁸thou hast enlarged all the borders of the land. 16 Lord, in trouble have they ⁹visited thee, they poured out a ¹⁰prayer when thy chastening was upon them. Like as a woman with child, that draweth near the time of her delivery, is in pain and crieth out in her pangs; so have we been ¹¹before thee, O Lord. 18 We have been with child, we have been in pain, we have as it were brought forth wind; we have not wrought any deliverance in the earth; ¹²neither have the inhabitants of the world fallen. 19 Thy dead shall live; my dead bodies shall arise. Awake and sing, ye that dwell in the dust: for thy dew is as the dew of ¹³herbs, and the earth shall cast forth ¹⁴the dead. 20 Come, my people, enter thou into thy chambers, and shut thy doors about thee: hide thyself for a little moment, until the indignation be overpast. For, behold, the Lord cometh forth out of his place to punish the inhabitants of the earth for their iniquity: the earth also shall disclose her blood, and shall no more cover her slain. 27 In that day the Lord with his sore and great and strong sword shall punish leviathan the ¹⁵swift serpent, and leviathan the ¹⁶crooked serpent; and he shall slay the dragon that is in the sea.

2 In that day: ¹⁷A vineyard of wine, sing 3 ye ¹⁸unto it. I the Lord do keep it; I will water it every moment: lest any hurt it, I will keep it night and day. 4 Fury is not in me: would that the briers and thorns were against me in battle! I would march upon them, I 5 would burn them together. Or else let him take hold of my strength, that he may make peace with me; yea, let him 6 make peace with me. ¹⁹In days to come shall Jacob take root; Israel shall blossom and bud: and they shall fill the face of the world with fruit. 7 Hath he smitten him as he smote those that smote him? or is he slain according to the slaughter ²⁰of them 8 that were slain by him? ²¹In measure, ²²when thou sendest her away, thou dost contend with her; he hath removed her with his rough blast in the 9 day of the east wind. Therefore by this shall the iniquity of Jacob be ²³purged, and this is all the fruit ²⁴of taking away his sin; when he maketh all the stones of the altar as chalkstones that are beaten in sunder, so that the ²⁵Asherim and the sun-images shall rise no 10 more. For the defenced city is solitary, an habitation deserted and forsaken, like the wilderness: there shall the calf feed, and there shall he lie down, and 11 consume the branches thereof. When the boughs thereof are withered, they shall be broken off; the women shall come, and set them on fire: for it is a people of no understanding; therefore he that made them will not have compassion upon them, and he that formed them will shew them no favour. 12 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the Lord shall ²⁶beat off his fruit, from the flood of the River unto the brook of Egypt, and ye shall be ²⁷gathered ²⁸one by one, O ye children of Israel. 13 And it shall come to pass in that day, that a great trumpet shall be blown; and they shall come which were ²⁹ready to perish in the land of Assyria, and they that were outcasts in the land of Egypt; and they shall worship the Lord in the holy mountain at Jerusalem.

28 Woe to the crown of pride of the drunkards of Ephraim, and to the fading flower of his glorious beauty, which is on the head of the fat valley of them that are ³⁰overcome with wine! 2 Behold, the Lord hath a mighty and strong one; as a tempest of hail, a destroying storm, as a tempest of mighty waters overflowing, shall he cast down to the earth ³¹with the hand. 3 The crown of pride of the drunkards of Ephraim shall be trodden under foot: 4 and the fading flower of his glorious beauty, which is on the head of the fat valley, shall be as the firstripe fig before the summer; which when he that looketh upon it seeth, while it is yet in his hand he eateth it up. In that day shall the Lord of hosts be for a crown of glory, and for a diadem of beauty, unto the residue of his people: and for a spirit of judgement to him that sitteth in judgement, and for strength to them that turn back the battle at the gate.

7 But these also have erred through wine, and through strong drink are gone astray; the priest and the prophet have erred through strong drink, they are swallowed up of wine, they are gone astray through strong drink; they err in vision, they stumble in judgement. For all tables are full of vomit and filthiness, so that there is no place clean. ⁴Whom will he teach knowledge? and whom will he make to understand the message? them that are weaned from the milk, and drawn from the breasts? For it is precept upon precept, precept upon precept; line upon line, line upon line; here a little, there a little. ⁷Nay, but by men of strange lips and with another tongue will he speak to this people: to whom he said, This is the rest, give ye rest to him that is weary; and this is the refreshing; yet they would not hear.

13 Therefore shall the word of the Lord be unto them precept upon precept, precept upon precept; line upon line, line upon line; here a little, there a little; that they may go, and fall backward, and be broken, and snared, and taken.

14 Wherefore hear the word of the Lord, ye scornful men, that rule this people which is in Jerusalem: Because ye have said, We have made a covenant with death, and with hell are we at agreement; when the overflowing scourge shall pass through, it shall not come unto us; for we have made lies our refuge, and under falsehood have we hid ourselves: therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I lay in Zion for a foundation a stone, a tried stone, a precious corner stone of sure foundation: he that believeth shall not make haste. And I will make judgement the line, and righteousness the plummet: and the hail shall sweep away the refuge of lies, and the waters shall overflow the hiding place. And your covenant with death shall be disannulled, and your agreement with hell shall not stand; when the overflowing scourge shall pass through, then ye shall be trodden down by it. As often as it passeth through, it shall take you; for morning by morning shall it pass through, by day and by night: and it shall be nought but terror to understand the message. For the bed is shorter than that a man can stretch himself on it; and the covering narrower than that he can wrap himself in it.

21 For the Lord shall rise up as in mount Perazim, he shall be wroth as in the valley of Gibeon; that he may do his work, his strange work, and bring to pass his act, his strange act. Now therefore be ye not scornful, lest your hands be made strong: for a consummation, and that determined, have I heard from the Lord, the Lord of hosts, upon the whole earth.

23 Give ye ear, and hear my voice; ²⁴hearken, and hear my speech. Doth the plowman plow continually to sow? doth he continually open and break the clods of his ground? When he hath made plain the face thereof, doth he not cast abroad the fitches, and scatter the cummin, and put in the wheat in rows and the barley in the appointed place and the spelt in the border thereof? ¹³For his God doth instruct him aright, and doth teach him. For the fitches are not threshed with a sharp threshing instrument, neither is a cart wheel turned about upon the cummin; but the fitches are beaten out with a staff, and the cummin with a rod. ¹⁴Bread corn is ground; for he will not ever be threshing it: and though the wheel of his cart and his horses scatter it, he doth not grind it.

29 This also cometh forth from the Lord of hosts, which is wonderful in counsel, and excellent in wisdom.

29 ¹⁶Ho ¹⁷Ariel, Ariel, the city where David encamped! add ye year to 2 year; let the feasts come round: then will I distress Ariel, and there shall be mourning and lamentation: ¹⁸and she shall be unto me as Ariel. And I will camp against thee round about, and will lay siege against thee with a fort, and I will raise siege works against thee. And thou shalt be brought down, and shalt speak out of the ground, and thy speech shall be low out of the dust; and thy voice shall be as of one that hath a familiar spirit, out of the ground, and thy speech shall whisper out of the dust. But the multitude of thy foes shall be like small dust, and the multitude of the terrible ones as chaff that passeth away: yea, it shall be at once instant suddenly. ²¹She shall be visited of the Lord of hosts with thunder, and with earthquake, and great noise, with whirlwind and tempest, and the flame of a devouring fire.

7 And the multitude of all the nations that fight against Ariel, even all that fight against her and her strong hold, and that distress her, shall be as a dream, a vision of the night. And it shall be as when an hungry man dreameth, and, behold, he eateth; but he awaketh, and his soul is empty: or as when a thirsty man dreameth, and, behold, he drinketh; but he awaketh, and, behold, he is faint, and his soul hath appetite: so shall the multitude of all the nations be, that fight against mount Zion.

9 ¹Tarry ye and wonder; ²take your pleasure and be blind: they are drunken, but not with wine; they stagger, but not with strong drink. For the LORD hath poured out upon you the spirit of deep sleep, and hath closed ³your eyes, the prophets; and your heads, the seers, hath he covered. 11 And all vision is become unto you as the words of a ⁴book that is sealed, which men deliver to one that ⁵is learned, saying, Read this, I pray thee: and he saith, I cannot, for it is sealed: 12 and the book is delivered to him that is not learned, saying, Read this, I pray thee: and he saith, I am not learned.

13 And the Lord said, Forasmuch as this people draw nigh unto me, and with their mouth and with their lips do honour me, but have removed their heart far from me, and their fear of me is a commandment of men which 14 hath been ⁶taught them: therefore, behold, I will ⁷proceed to do a marvellous work among this people, even a marvellous work and a wonder: and the wisdom of their wise men shall perish, and the understanding of their prudent men shall be hid.

15 Woe unto them that seek deep to hide their counsel from the LORD, and their works are in the dark, and they say, Who seeth us? and who knoweth us?

16 ⁸Ye turn things upside down! Shall the potter be counted as clay; that the thing made should say of him that made it, He made me not; or the thing framed say of him that framed

17 it, He hath no understanding? Is it not yet a very little while, and Lebanon shall be turned into a fruitful field, and the fruitful field shall be counted

18 for a forest? And in that day shall the deaf hear the words of ⁹the book, and the eyes of the blind shall see out

19 of obscurity and out of darkness. The meek ¹⁰also shall increase their joy in the LORD, and the poor among men shall rejoice in the Holy One of Israel.

20 For the terrible one is brought to nought, and the scorner ceaseth, and all they that watch for iniquity are 21 cut off: that ¹¹make a man an offender in a cause, and lay a snare for him that reproveth in the gate, and turn aside the just with a thing of nought.

22 Therefore thus saith the LORD, who redeemed Abraham, concerning the house of Jacob: Jacob shall not now be ashamed, neither shall his face now

23 wax pale. ¹²But when he seeth his children, the work of mine hands, in the midst of him, they shall sanctify my name; yea, they shall sanctify the Holy One of Jacob, and shall stand in ¹³awe of the God of Israel. They also that err in spirit ¹⁴shall come to understanding, and they that murmur shall learn ¹⁵doctrine.

30 Woe to the rebellious children, saith the LORD, that take counsel, but not of me; and that ¹⁶cover with a covering, but not of my spirit, that they may ¹⁷add sin to sin: that walk to go down into Egypt, and have not asked at my mouth; to ¹⁸strengthen themselves in the strength of Pharaoh, and to trust ¹⁹in the shadow of Egypt! Therefore shall the strength of Pharaoh be your shame, and the trust in the shadow of ²⁰Egypt your confusion. For his princes are at Zoan, and his ambassadors are ²¹come to Hanes. They shall all be ashamed of a people that cannot profit them, that are not an help nor profit, but a shame, and also a reproach.

Through the land of trouble and anguish, from whence come the lioness and the lion, the viper and fiery flying serpent, they carry their riches upon the shoulders of young asses, and their treasures upon the bunches of camels, to a people that shall not profit them.

8 Rahab that sitteth still. Now go, write it before them on a tablet, and inscribe it in a book, that it may be for the time

9 to come ²⁴for ever and ever. For it is a rebellious people, lying children, children that will not hear the ²⁵law of the

10 LORD: which say to the seers, See not; and to the prophets, Prophecy not unto us right things, speak unto us smooth

11 things, prophesy deceits: get you out of the way, turn aside out of the path, cause the Holy One of Israel to cease

12 from before us. Wherefore thus saith the Holy One of Israel, Because ye despise this word, and trust in oppression and perverseness, and stay there-

13 on; therefore this iniquity shall be to you as a breach ready to fall, swelling out in a high wall, whose breaking

14 cometh suddenly at an instant. And he shall break it as a potter's vessel is broken, breaking it in pieces without sparing; so that there shall not be found among the pieces thereof a sherd to take fire from the hearth, or to take water withal out of the cistern.

15 For thus said the Lord God, the Holy One of Israel, In returning and rest shall ye be saved; in quietness and in confidence shall be your strength: and

 LORD is a God of judgement; blessed and the light of the sun shall be seven-fold, as the light of seven days, in the day that the LORD bindeth up the hurt of his people, and healeth the stroke of their wound.

 27 Behold, the name of the LORD cometh from far, burning with his anger, and in thick rising smoke: his lips are full of indignation, and his 28 tongue is as a devouring fire: and his breath is as an overflowing stream, that reacheth even unto the neck, to sift
 the nations with the sieve of ⁹vanity:
 and a bridle that causeth to err shall 29 be in the jaws of the peoples. Ye shall have a song as in the night ¹⁰when a holy feast is kept; and gladness of heart, as when one goeth with a pipe to come into the mountain of the 30 LORD, to the Rock of Israel. And the LORD shall cause his glorious voice to be heard, and shall shew the lighting down of his arm, with the indignation of his anger, and the flame of a de-31 vouring fire, with ^{11a} a blast, and tempest, and hailstones. For through the voice of the LORD shall the Assyrian be broken in pieces, ¹²which smote 32 with a rod. And every ¹³stroke of the ¹⁴appointed staff, which the LORD shall lay upon him, shall be with tabrets and harps: and in battles of shaking 33 will he fight with them. For ^{15a} a Topheth is prepared of old; yea, for the king it is made ready; he hath made it deep and large: the pile thereof is fire and much wood; the breath of the LORD, like a stream of brimstone, doth kindle it.

31 Woe to them that go down to Egypt for help, and stay on horses; and trust in chariots, because they are many,
 and in horsemen, because they are very strong; but they look not unto the Holy One of Israel, neither seek 2 the LORD! Yet he also is wise, and will bring evil, and will not call back his words: but will arise against the house of the evil-doers, and against the 3 help of them that work iniquity. Now the Egyptians are men, and not God;
 and their horses flesh, and not spirit:
 and when the LORD shall stretch out his hand, both he that helpeth shall stumble, and he that is holpen shall fall, and they all shall fall together.
 4 For thus saith the LORD unto me, Like as when the lion growleth and the young lion over his prey if a multitude of shepherds be called forth against him, he will not be dismayed at their voice, nor abase himself for the noise of them: so shall the LORD of hosts come down to fight 5 upon mount Zion, and ¹⁶upon the hill thereof. As birds flying, so will the LORD of hosts protect Jerusalem;
 he will protect and deliver it, he will 6 pass over and preserve it. Turn ye unto him ¹⁷from whom ¹⁸ye have deeply revolted, O children of Israel. For in that day they shall cast away every man his idols of silver, and his idols of gold, which your own hands have 8 made unto you for a sin. Then shall the Assyrian fall with the sword, not of man; and the sword, not of men, shall devour him: and he shall flee from the sword, and his young men 9 shall become tributary. And his rock shall pass away by reason of terror, and his princes shall be dismayed at the Zion, and his furnace in Jerusalem.

The heart also of the rash shall understand knowledge, and the tongue of the stammerers shall be ready to speak plainly. The vile person shall be no more called liberal, nor the churl said to be bountiful. For the vile person will speak villany, and his heart will work iniquity, to practise profaneness, and to utter error against the Lord, to make empty the soul of the hungry, and to cause the drink of the thirsty to fail. The instruments also of the churl are evil: he deviseth wicked devices to destroy the meek with lying words, even when the needy speaketh right. But the liberal deviseth liberal things; and in liberal things shall he continue.

9 Rise up, ye women that are at ease, and hear my voice; ye careless daughters, give ear unto my speech. For days beyond a year shall ye be troubled, ye careless women: for the vintage shall fail, the ingathering shall not come. Tremble, ye women that are at ease; be troubled, ye careless ones: strip you, and make you bare, and gird sackcloth upon your loins. They shall smite upon the breasts for the pleasant fields, for the fruitful vine. Upon the land of my people shall come up thorns and briers; yea, upon all the houses of joy in the joyous city: for the palace shall be forsaken; the populous city shall be deserted; the hill and the watch-tower shall be for dens for ever, a joy of wild asses, a pasture of flocks; until the spirit be poured upon us from on high, and the wilderness become a fruitful field, and the fruitful field be counted for a forest. Then judgement shall dwell in the wilderness, and righteousness shall abide in the fruitful field. And the work of righteousness shall be peace; and the effect of righteousness quietness and confidence for ever. And my people shall abide in a peaceable habitation, and in sure dwellings, and in quiet resting places. But it shall hail, in the downfall of the forest; and the city shall be utterly laid low. Blessed are ye that sow beside all waters, that send forth the feet of the ox and the ass.

33 Woe to thee that spoilest, and thou wast not spoiled; and dealest treacherously, and they dealt not treacherously with thee! When thou hast ceased to spoil, thou shalt be spoiled; and when thou hast made an end to deal treacherously, they shall deal treacherously with thee. O Lord, be gracious unto us; we have waited for thee: he thou their arm every morning, our salvation also in the time of trouble. At the noise of the tumult the peoples are fled; at the lifting up of thyself the nations are scattered. And your spoil shall be gathered as the caterpillar gathereth: as locusts leap shall they leap upon it. The Lord is exalted; for he dwelleth on high: he hath filled Zion with judgement and righteousness. And there shall be stability in thy times, abundance of salvation, wisdom and knowledge: the fear of the Lord is his treasure.

7 Behold, their valiant ones cry without: the ambassadors of peace weep bitterly. The high ways lie waste, the wayfaring man ceaseth: he hath broken the covenant, he hath despised the cities, he regardeth not man. The land mourneth and languisheth: Lebanon is ashamed and withereth away: Sharon is like a desert; and Bashan and Carmel shake off their leaves. Now will I arise, saith the Lord; now will I lift up myself; now will I be exalted. Ye shall conceive chaff, ye shall bring forth stubble: your breath is a fire that shall devour you. And the peoples shall be as the burnings of lime: as thorns cut down, that are burned in the fire.

13 Hear, ye that are far off, what I have done; and, ye that are near, acknowledge my might. The sinners in Zion are afraid; trembling hath surprised the godless ones. Who among us shall dwell with the devouring fire? who among us shall dwell with everlasting burnings? He that walketh righteously, and speaketh uprightly; he that despiseth the gain of oppressions, that shaketh his hands from holding of bribes, that stoppeth his ears from hearing of blood, and shutteth his eyes from looking upon evil; he shall dwell on high: his place of defence shall be the munitions of rocks: his bread shall be given him; his waters shall be sure. Thine eyes shall see the king in his beauty: they shall behold a far stretching land. Thine heart shall muse on the terror: where is he that counted, where is he that weighed the tribute? where is he that counted the towers? Thou shalt not see the fierce people, a people of a deep speech that thou canst not perceive; of a strange tongue that thou canst not understand. Look upon Zion, the city of our solemnities: thine eyes shall see Jerusalem a quiet habitation, a tent that shall not be removed, the stakes whereof shall never be plucked up, neither shall any of the cords thereof be broken. But there the Lord will be with us in majesty, a place of broad rivers and streams; wherein shall go no galley with oars, neither shall gallant ship pass thereby. For the Lord is

 23 Thy tacklings are loosed; they could not strengthen the foot of their mast, they could not spread the sail: then was the prey of a great spoil divided; 24 the lame took the prey. And the inhabitant shall not say, I am sick: the people that dwell therein shall be forgiven their iniquity.

34 Come near, ye nations, to hear; and hearken, ye peoples; let the earth hear, and the fulness thereof; the world, and all things that come forth of it.

2 For the LORD hath indignation against all the nations, and fury against all their host: he hath utterly destroyed them, he hath delivered them to the

3 slaughter. Their slain also shall be cast out, and the stink of their carcases shall come up, and the mountains shall be melted with their blood. And all the host of heaven shall be dissolved, and the heavens shall be rolled together as a scroll: and all their host shall fade away, as the leaf fadeth from off the vine, and as a fading leaf from

5 the fig tree. For my sword hath drunk its fill in heaven: behold, it shall come down upon Edom, and upon the people

6 of my curse, to judgement. The sword of the LORD is filled with blood, it is made fat with fatness, with the blood of lambs and goats, with the fat of the kidneys of rams: for the LORD hath a sacrifice in Bozrah, and a great slaughter in the land of Edom. And the wild-oxen shall come down with them, and the bullocks with the bulls; and their land shall be drunken with blood, and their dust made fat with fatness. For it is the day of the LORD's vengeance, the year of recompence in the con-

9 troversy of Zion. And the streams thereof shall be turned into pitch, and the dust thereof into brimstone, and the land thereof shall become

10 burning pitch. It shall not be quenched night nor day; the smoke thereof shall go up for ever: from generation to generation it shall lie waste; none shall pass through it for

11 ever and ever. But the pelican and the porcupine shall possess it; and the owl and the raven shall dwell therein: and he shall stretch over it the line of confusion, and the plummet of empti-

12 ness. 6 They shall call the nobles thereof to the kingdom, but none shall be there; and all her princes shall be

13 nothing. And thorns shall come up in her palaces, nettles and thistles in the fortresses thereof: and it shall be an habitation of jackals, a court for

14 ostriches. And the wild beasts of the desert shall meet with the wolves, and the satyr shall cry to his fellow; yea, the night-monster shall settle there,

15 and shall find her a place of rest. There shall the arrowsnake make her nest, and lay, and hatch, and gather under her shadow: yea, there shall the kites be gathered, every one with her mate.

16 Seek ye out of the book of the LORD, and read: no one of these shall be missing, none shall want her mate: for my mouth it hath commanded, and

17 his spirit it hath gathered them. And he hath cast the lot for them, and his hand hath divided it unto them by line: they shall possess it for ever, from generation to generation shall they dwell therein.

35 The wilderness and the solitary place shall be glad; and the desert shall rejoice, and blossom as the rose. 2 It shall blossom abundantly, and rejoice even with joy and singing; the glory of Lebanon shall be given unto it, the excellency of Carmel and Sharon: they shall see the glory of the LORD, the excellency of our God.

3 Strengthen ye the weak hands, and confirm the feeble knees. Say to them that are of a fearful heart, Be strong, fear not: 4 behold, your God will come with vengeance, with the recompence of God; he will come and save you.

5 Then the eyes of the blind shall be opened, and the ears of the deaf shall be unstopped. Then shall the lame man leap as an hart, and the tongue of the dumb shall sing: for in the wilderness shall waters break out, and streams

7 in the desert. And the glowing sand shall become a pool, and the thirsty ground springs of water: in the habitation of jackals, where they lay, shall

8 be grass with reeds and rushes. And an high way shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called The way of holiness; the unclean shall not pass over it; 17 but it shall be for those: the way-faring men, yea fools, shall not err there-

9 in. No lion shall be there, nor shall any ravenous beast go up thereon, they shall not be found there; but the re-

10 deemed shall walk there: and the ransomed of the LORD shall return, and come with singing unto Zion; and everlasting joy shall be upon their heads: they shall obtain gladness and joy, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away.

36 18 Now it came to pass in the fourteenth year of king Hezekiah, that 19 Sennacherib king of Assyria came up against all the fenced cities of Judah, and took them. And the king of Assyria sent 20 Rabshakeh from Lachish to Jerusalem unto king Hezekiah with a great army. And he stood by the conduit of the upper pool in the high

4 son of Asaph the ²recorder. And Rab-shakeh said unto them, Say ye now to Hezekiah, Thus saith the great king,
the king of Assyria, What confidence 5 is this wherein thou trustest? I say, thy counsel and strength for the war are but vain words: now on whom dost thou trust, that thou hast rebelled 6 against me? Behold, thou trustest upon the staff of this bruised reed, even upon Egypt; whereon if a man lean, it will go into his hand, and pierce it: so is Pharaoh king of Egypt to all that 7 trust on him. But if thou say unto me, We trust in the LORD our God: is not that he, whose high places and whose altars Hezekiah hath taken away, and hath said to Judah and to Jerusalem, Ye shall worship before this 8 altar? Now therefore, I pray thee, ³give pledges to my master the king of Assyria, and I will give thee two thousand horses, if thou be able on thy 9 part to set riders upon them. How then canst thou turn away the face of one captain of the least of my master's servants, and put thy trust on Egypt for chariots and for horse-10 men? And am I now come up without the LORD against this land to destroy it? The LORD said unto me, Go up 11 against this land, and destroy it. Then said Eliakim and Shebna and Joah unto Rabshakeh, Speak, I pray thee, unto thy servants in the ⁴Syrian language; for we understand it: and speak not to us in the Jews' language, in the ears of the people that are on the wall.
12 But Rabshakeh said, Hath my master sent me to thy master, and to thee, to speak these words? hath he not sent me to the men that sit upon the wall, to eat their own dung, and to drink 13 their own water with you? Then Rab-shakeh stood, and cried with a loud voice in the Jews' language, and said,
Hear ye the words of the great king, 14 the king of Assyria. Thus saith the king, Let not Hezekiah deceive you;
for he shall not be able to deliver you:
15 neither let Hezekiah make you trust in the LORD, saying, The LORD will surely deliver us; this city shall not be given into the hand of the king of As-16 syria. Harken not to Hezekiah; for thus saith the king of Assyria, ⁵Make your peace with me, and come out to me; and eat ye every one of his vine,
and every one of his fig tree, and drink
ye every one the waters of his own cis-17 tern: until I come and take you away to a land like your own land, a land of corn and wine, a land of bread and 18 vineyards. Beware lest Hezekiah persuade you, saying, The LORD will deliver us. Hath any of the gods of the 19 nations delivered his land out of the hand of the king of Assyria? Where are the gods of Hamath and Arpad?

where are the gods of Sepharvaim?
and have they delivered Samaria out 20 of my hand? Who are they among all the gods of these countries, that have delivered their country out of my hand, that the LORD should deliver Jerusalem 21 out of my hand? But they held their peace, and answered him not a word:
for the king's commandment was, say-22 ing, Answer him not. Then came Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, that was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and Joah the son of Asaph the recorder, to Hezekiah with their clothes rent, and told him the words of Rab-shakeh.

37 ⁶And it came to pass, when king Hezekiah heard it, that he rent his clothes, and covered himself with sackcloth, and went into the house of the 2 LORD. And he sent Eliakim, who was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and the elders of the priests, covered with sackcloth, unto Isaiah the 3 prophet the son of Amoz. And they said unto him, Thus saith Hezekiah,
This day is a day of trouble, and of rebuke, and of contumely: for the children are come to the birth, and there is not strength to bring forth.

4 It may be the LORD thy God will hear the words of Rabshakeh, ⁷whom the king of Assyria his master hath sent to reproach the living God, and will rebuke the words which the LORD thy God hath heard: wherefore lift up thy 5 prayer for the remnant that is left. So the servants of king Hezekiah came to 6 Isaiah. And Isaiah said unto them, Thus shall ye say to your master, Thus saith the LORD, Be not afraid of the words that thou hast heard, wherewith the servants of the king of Assyria 7 have blasphemed me. Behold, I will put a spirit in him, and he shall hear a rumour, and shall return unto his own land; and I will cause him to fall
by the sword in his own land.

8 So Rabshakeh returned, and found the king of Assyria warring against Libnah: for he had heard that he was 9 departed from Lachish. And he heard say concerning Tirhakah king of Ethiopia, He is come out to fight against thee. And when he heard it, he sent 10 messengers to Hezekiah, saying, Thus shall ye speak to Hezekiah king of Judah, saying, Let not thy God in whom thou trustest deceive thee, saying, Jerusalem shall not be given into 11 the hand of the king of Assyria. Behold, thou hast heard what the kings of Assyria have done to all lands, by ⁸destroying them utterly: and shalt 12 thou be delivered? Have the gods of the nations delivered them, which my

14 And Hezekiah received the letter from the hand of the messengers, and read it: and Hezekiah went up unto the house of the LORD, and spread it before the LORD. And Hezekiah prayed

15 unto the LORD, saying, O LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, that ²sittest upon the cherubim, thou art the God, even thou alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth; thou hast made heaven

16 and earth. Incline thine ear, O LORD, and hear; open thine eyes, O LORD, and see: and hear all the words of Sennacherib, which hath sent to reproach the living God. Of a truth, LORD, the kings of Assyria have laid waste all the countries, and their land,

17 and have cast their gods into the fire: for they were no gods, but the work of men's hands, wood and stone; therefore they have destroyed them. Now

18 therefore, O LORD our God, save us from his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that thou art the LORD, even thou only.

19 Then Isaiah the son of Amoz sent unto Hezekiah, saying, Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, Whereas thou hast prayed to me against Sennacherib

20 king of Assyria, this is the word which the LORD hath spoken concerning him: The virgin daughter of Zion hath despised thee and laughed thee to scorn; the daughter of Jerusalem hath shaken

21 her head ³at thee. Whom hast thou reproached and blasphemed? and against whom hast thou exalted thy voice and lifted up thine eyes on high? even against the Holy One of Israel.

22 By thy servants hast thou reproached the LORD, and hast said, With the multitude of my chariots am I come up to the height of the mountains, to the innermost parts of Lebanon; and I will cut down the tall cedars thereof, and the choice ⁴fir trees thereof: and I will enter into his farthest height, the forest of his fruitful field.

23 I have digged and drunk water, and with the sole of my feet will I dry up

24 all the rivers of ⁵Egypt. Hast thou not heard how I have done it long ago, and formed it of ancient times? now have I brought it to pass, that thou shouldest be to lay waste fenced cities

25 into ruins heaps. Therefore their inhabitants were of small power, they were dismayed and confounded; they were as the grass of the field, and as the green herb, as the grass on the house-tops, and as ⁶a field of corn before

26 it be grown up. But I know thy sitting down, and thy going out, and thy coming in, and thy raging against me.

27 Because of thy raging against me, and for that ⁷thine arrogance is come up into mine ears, therefore will I put my hook in thy nose, and my bridle in thy lips, and I will turn thee back by the way

28 by which thou camest. And this shall be the sign unto thee: ye shall eat this year that which groweth of itself, and in the second year that which springeth of the same; and in the third year sow ye, and reap, and plant vineyards,

29 and eat the fruit thereof. And ⁸the remnant that is escaped of the house of Judah shall again take root downward, and bear fruit upward. For out of Jerusalem shall go forth a remnant, and out of mount Zion they that shall escape: the zeal of the LORD of hosts

30 shall perform this. Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning the king of Assyria, He shall not come unto this city, nor shoot an arrow there, neither shall he come before it with shield, nor

31 cast a mount against it. By the way that he came, by the same shall he return, and he shall not come unto

32 this city, saith the LORD. For I will defend this city to save it, for mine own sake, and for my servant David's sake.

33 And the angel of the LORD went forth, and smote in the camp of the Assyrians a hundred and fourscore and five thousand: and when men arose early in the morning, behold, they

34 were all dead corpses. So Sennacherib king of Assyria departed, and went and returned, and dwelt at Nineveh.

35 And it came to pass, as he was worshipping in the house of Nisroch his god, that Adrammelech and Sharezer his sons smote him with the sword: and they escaped into the land of Ararat. And Esar-haddon his son reigned in his stead.

36 ⁹In those days was Hezekiah sick unto death. And Isaiah the prophet the son of Amoz came to him, and said unto him, Thus saith the LORD, Set thine house in order; for thou shalt die,

37 and not live. Then Hezekiah turned his face to the wall, and prayed unto 38 the LORD, and said, Remember now, O LORD, I beseech thee, how I have walked before thee in truth and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in thy sight. And

39 Hezekiah wept sore. Then came the word of the LORD to Isaiah, saying,

40 Go, and say to Hezekiah, Thus saith the LORD, the God of David thy father, I have heard thy prayer, I have seen thy tears: behold, I will add unto thy

41 days fifteen years. And I will deliver thee and this city out of the hand of the king of Assyria: and I will defend

42 this city. And this shall be the sign unto thee from the LORD, that the LORD will do this thing that he hath

¹⁰ I said, In the ⁴noontide of my days I shall go into the gates of ⁵the grave:

I am deprived of the residue of my years.

¹¹ I said, I shall not see ⁶the Lord, even ⁶the Lord in the land of the living:

I shall behold man no more ⁷with the inhabitants of the world.

¹² Mine ⁸age is removed, and is carried away from me as a shepherd's tent: I have rolled up like a weaver my life; he will cut me off from the ⁹loom: From day even to night wilt thou make an end of me.

¹³ ¹⁰I quieted myself until morning; as a lion, so he breaketh all my bones: From day even to night wilt thou make an end of me.

¹⁴ Like a swallow or a crane, so did I chatter;

I did mourn as a dove: mine eyes fail with looking upward;

O Lord, I am oppressed, be thou my surety.

¹⁵ What shall I say? he hath both spoken unto me, and himself hath done it:

I shall go ¹¹softly all my years because of the bitterness of my soul.

¹⁶ O Lord, by these things men live, And wholly therein is the life of my spirit:

¹² Wherefore recover thou me, and make me to live.

¹⁷ Behold, it was for my peace that I had great bitterness:

But ¹³thou hast in love to my soul delivered it from the pit of ¹⁴corruption;

For thou hast cast all my sins behind thy back.

¹⁸ For ⁵the grave cannot praise thee, death cannot celebrate thee: They that go down into the pit cannot hope for thy truth.

¹⁹ The living, the living, he shall praise thee, as I do this day:

The father to the children shall make known thy truth.

²⁰ The Lord is ready to save me: Therefore we will sing my songs to the stringed instruments

All the days of our life in the house of the Lord.

²¹ ¹⁵Now Isaiah had said, Let them take a cake of figs, and lay it for a plaister upon the boil, and he shall recover. Hezekiah also had said, What is the sign that I shall go up to the house of the Lord?

³⁹ ¹⁶At that time Merodach-baladan the son of Baladan, king of Babylon, sent letters and a present to Hezekiah: for he heard that he had been sick, and was recovered. And Hezekiah was glad of them, and shewed them the house of his ¹⁷precious things, the silver, and the gold, and the spices, and the precious oil, and all the house of his ¹⁸armour, and all that was found in his treasures: there was nothing in his house, nor in all his dominion, that ³Hezekiah shewed them not. Then came Isaiah the prophet unto king Hezekiah, and said unto him, What said these men? and from whence came they unto thee? And Hezekiah said, They are come from a far country unto me, even from Babylon. Then said he, What have they seen in thine house? And Hezekiah answered, All that is in mine house have they seen: there is nothing among my treasures that I have not shewed them. Then said Isaiah to Hezekiah, Hear the word of the Lord of hosts. Behold, the days come, that all that is in thine house, and that which thy fathers have laid up in store until this day, shall be carried to Babylon: nothing shall be left, saith the Lord. And of thy sons that shall issue from thee, which thou shalt beget, shall they take away; and they shall be eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babylon. Then said Hezekiah unto Isaiah, Good is the word of the Lord which thou hast spoken. He said moreover, For there shall be peace and truth in my days.

³ The voice of one ²²that crieth. Prepare ye in the wilderness the way of the Lord, make ²³straight in the desert a high way for our God. Every valley shall be exalted, and every mountain and hill shall be made low: and ²⁴the crooked shall be made straight, and ⁵the rough places ²⁵plain: and the glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together: for the month ⁶of the Lord hath spoken it. Behold, the Lord God will come as a mighty one, and his arm shall rule for him; behold, his reward is with him, and his recompence before him. He shall feed his flock like a shepherd, he shall gather the lambs in his arm, and carry them in his bosom, and shall gently lead those that give suck.

12 Who hath measured the waters in the hollow of his hand, and meted out heaven with the span, and comprehended the dust of the earth in a measure, and weighed the mountains in scales, and 13 the hills in a balance? Who hath ²directed the spirit of the Lord, or being 14 his counsellor hath taught him? With whom took he counsel, and who instructed him, and taught him in the path of judgement, and taught him knowledge, and shewed to him the way of understanding? Behold, the nations are as a drop of a bucket, and are counted as the small dust of the balance: behold, ³he taketh up the isles as a very little 16 thing. And Lebanon is not sufficient to burn, nor the beasts thereof sufficient for a burnt offering. All the nations are as nothing before him; they are counted to him ⁴less than nothing, 18 and ⁵vanity. To whom then will ye liken God? or what likeness will ye 19 compare unto him? The graven image, a workman melted ⁶it, and the goldsmith spreadeth it over with gold, and casteth ⁷for it silver chains. To whom then will ye liken me, that I should be equal to him? saith the Holy One.

26 Lift up your eyes on high, ¹¹and see who hath created these, that bringeth out their host by number: he calleth them all by name; by the greatness of his might, and for that he is strong in power, not one is lacking.

27 Why sayest thou, O Jacob, and speakest, O Israel, My way is hid from the Lord, and my judgement is passed 28 away from my God? Hast thou not known? hast thou not heard? ¹²the everlasting God, the Lord, the Creator of the ends of the earth, fainteth not, neither is weary; there is no searching 29 of his understanding. He giveth power to the faint; and to him that hath no 30 might he increaseth strength. Even the youths shall faint and be weary, and the young men shall utterly fail: 31 but they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; they shall walk, and not faint.

41 Keep silence before me, O islands; and let the peoples renew their strength: let them come near; then let them speak: let us come near together to judgement. Who hath raised up one from the east, ¹³whom he calleth in righteousness to his foot? he giveth nations before him, and maketh him rule over kings; ¹⁴he giveth them as the dust to his sword, as the driven 33 stubble to his bow. He pursueth them, and passeth on safely; even by a way that he had not gone with his feet.

4 Who hath wrought and done it, calling the generations from the beginning? I the Lord, the first, and with 5 the last, I am he. The isles saw, and feared; the ends of the earth trembled: they drew near, and came. They helped every one his neighbour; and every one said to his brother, Be of 7 good courage. So the carpenter encouraged the goldsmith, and he that smootheneth with the hammer him that smiteth the anvil, saying of the soldering, It is good: and he fastened it with nails, that it should not be moved.

8 But thou, Israel, my servant, Jacob whom I have chosen, the seed of Abraham my friend; thou whom I have taken hold of from the ends of the earth, and called thee from the corners thereof, and said unto thee, Thou art my servant, I have chosen thee and 10 not cast thee away; fear thou not, for I am with thee; ¹⁵be not dismayed, for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness. Behold, all they that are incensed against thee shall be ashamed and confounded: they that strive with thee shall be as nothing, and shall 12 perish. Thou shalt seek them, and shalt not find them, even them that contend with thee: they that war against thee shall be as nothing, and 13 as a thing of nought. For I the Lord thy God will hold thy right hand, saying unto thee, Fear not; I will help 14 thee. Fear not, thou worm Jacob, and ye men of Israel; I will help thee, saith the LORD, and ¹thy redeemer is 15 the Holy One of Israel. Behold, I will make thee a new sharp threshing instrument having teeth: thou shalt thresh the mountains, and beat them small, and shalt make the hills as 16 chaff. Thou shalt fan them, and the wind shall carry them away, and the whirlwind shall scatter them; and thou shalt rejoice in the LORD, thou shalt glory in the Holy One of Is- 17 rael. The poor and needy seek water and there is none, and their tongue faileth for thirst; I the LORD will answer them, I the God of Israel will 18 not forsake them. I will open rivers on the bare heights, and fountains in the midst of the valleys: I will make the wilderness a pool of water, and 19 the dry land springs of water. I will plant in the wilderness the cedar, the acacia tree, and the myrtle, and the ²oil tree; I will set in the desert the fir tree, the ³pine, and the ⁴box tree 20 together: that they may see, and know, and consider, and understand together, that the hand of the LORD hath done this, and the Holy One of Israel hath created it.

21 Produce your cause, saith the LORD; bring forth your strong reasons, saith 22 the King of Jacob. Let them bring them forth, and declare unto us what shall happen: declare ye the former things, what they be, that we may consider them, and know the latter end of them; or shew us things for to 23 come. Declare the things that are to come hereafter, that we may know that ye are gods: yea, do good, or do evil, that we may ⁵be dismayed, and 24 behold it together. Behold, ye are of nothing, and your work of nought: an abomination is he that chooseth you.

25 I have raised up one from the north, and he is come; from the rising of the sun one that calleth upon my name: and he shall come upon ⁶rulers as upon mortar, and as the potter treadeth 26 clay. Who hath declared it from the beginning, that we may know? and beforetime, that we may say, He is righteous? yea, there is none that declareth, yea, there is none that sheweth, yea, there is none that heareth your 27 words. I first will say unto Zion, Behold, behold them; and I will give to Jerusalem one that bringeth good 28 tidings. And when I look, there is no man; even among them there is no counsellor, that, when I ask of them, can 29 answer a word. ⁷Behold, all of them, their works are vanity and nought: their molten images are wind and confusion.

A bruised reed shall he not break, and the ⁹smoking flax shall he not quench: he shall bring forth judgement in truth. He shall not ¹⁰fail nor be ¹¹discouraged, till he have set judgement in the earth; and the isles shall 5 wait for his law. Thus saith God the LORD, he that created the heavens, and stretched them forth; he that spread abroad the earth and that which cometh out of it; he that giveth breath unto the people upon it, and spirit to them 6 that walk therein: I the LORD have called thee in righteousness, and will hold thine hand, and will ¹²keep thee, and give thee for a covenant of the 7 people, for a light of the Gentiles; to open the blind eyes, to bring out the prisoners from the dungeon, and them that sit in darkness out of the prison 8 house. I am the LORD; that is my name: and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise unto graven images.

9 Behold, the former things are come to pass, and new things do I declare: before they spring forth I tell you of them.

10 Sing unto the LORD a new song, and his praise from the end of the earth; ye that go down to the sea, and the in- 11 habitants thereof. Let the wilderness and the cities thereof lift up their voice, the villages that Kedar doth inhabit; let the inhabitants of ¹³Sela sing, let them shout from the top of 12 the mountains. Let them give glory unto the LORD, and declare his praise 13 in the islands. The LORD shall go forth as a mighty man; he shall stir up ¹⁴jealousy like a man of war: he shall cry, yea, he shall shout aloud; he shall do mightily against his enemies.

14 I have long time holden my peace; I have been still, and refrained myself: now will I cry out like a travailing woman; I will ¹⁵gasp and pant 15 together. I will make waste mountains and hills, and dry up all their herbs; and I will make the rivers islands, and will dry up the pools.

16 And I will bring the blind by a way that they know not; in paths that they know not will I lead them: I will make darkness light before them, and crooked places straight. These things will I do, 17 ¹⁶and I will not forsake them. They shall be turned back, they shall be greatly ashamed, that trust in graven images, that say unto molten images, Ye are our gods.

18 Hear, ye deaf; and look, ye blind, 19 that ye may see. Who is blind, but my servant? or deaf, as my messenger that I send? who is blind as he that is ¹⁷at peace with me, and blind as the 20 LORD's servant? Thou seest many things, but thou observest not; his ears

But this is a people robbed and spoiled; they are all of them snared in holes, and they are hid in prison houses: they are for a prey, and none delivereth; for a ²³spoil, and none saith, Restore. Who is there among you that will give ear to this? that will hearken and hear for ²⁴the time to come? Who gave Jacob for a spoil, and Israel to the robbers? did not the LORD? he against whom we have sinned, and in whose ways they would not walk, neither were they ²⁵obedient unto his ²¹law. Therefore he poured upon him the fury of his anger, and the strength of battle; and it set him on fire round about, yet he knew not; and it burned him, yet he laid it not to heart.

⁴³ But now thus saith the LORD that created thee, O Jacob, and he that formed thee, O Israel: Fear not, for I have redeemed thee; I have called thee by thy name, thou art mine.

² When thou passest through the waters, I will be with thee; and through the rivers, they shall not overflow thee: when thou walkest through the fire, thou shalt not be burned; neither shall

³ the flame kindle upon thee. For I am the LORD thy God, the Holy One of Israel, thy saviour; I have given Egypt as thy ransom, Ethiopia and Seba for

⁴ thee. Since thou hast been precious in my sight, ³and honourable, and I have loved thee; therefore will I give men for thee, and peoples for thy life.

⁵ Fear not; for I am with thee: I will bring thy seed from the east, and ⁶gather thee from the west; I will say to the north, Give up; and to the south, Keep not back; bring my sons from far, and my daughters from the end of

⁷ the earth; every one that is called by my name, and whom I have created for my glory; I have formed him; ⁸yea, I have made him. Bring forth the blind people that have eyes, and

⁹ the deaf that have ears. ⁴Let all the nations be gathered together, and let the peoples be assembled: who among them can declare this, and shew us former things? let them bring their witnesses, that they may be justified:

⁵ or let them hear, and say, It is truth.

¹⁰ Ye are my witnesses, saith the LORD, and my servant whom I have chosen: that ye may know and believe me, and understand that I am he; before me there was no God formed, neither shall ¹¹ there be after me. I, even I, am the LORD; and beside me there is no saviour.

¹² I have declared, and I have saved, and I have shewed, and there was no strange god among you: therefore ye are my witnesses, saith the LORD, and I am

¹³ God. Yea, ⁶since the day was I am he; and there is none that can deliver out of my hand: I will work, and who shall ⁷let it?

¹⁴ Thus saith the LORD, your redeemer, the Holy One of Israel: For your sake I have sent to Babylon, and I will bring down ⁸all of them as fugitives, even the Chaldeans, in the ships of

¹⁵ their rejoicing. I am the LORD, your Holy One, the Creator of Israel, your

¹⁶ King. Thus saith the LORD, which maketh a way in the sea, and a path

¹⁷ in the mighty waters; ⁹which bringeth forth the chariot and horse, the army and the power; they lie down together, they shall not rise; they are extinct,

¹⁸ they are quenched as ¹⁰flax: Remember ye not the former things, neither con-

¹⁹ sider the things of old. Behold, I will do a new thing; now shall it spring forth; shall ye not know it? I will even make a way in the wilderness, ²⁰and rivers in the desert. The beasts of the field shall honour me, the jackals and the ostriches: because I give waters in the wilderness, and rivers in the desert, to give drink to my people, my

²¹ chosen: the people which I formed for myself, ¹¹that they might set forth my

²² praise. Yet thou hast not called upon me, O Jacob; but thou hast been weary

²³ of me, O Israel. Thou hast not brought me the small cattle of thy burnt offerings; neither hast thou honoured me with thy sacrifices. I have not made thee to serve with ¹²offerings, nor

²⁴ wearied thee with frankincense. Thou hast bought me no ¹³sweet cane with money, neither hast thou ¹⁴filled me with the fat of thy sacrifices: but thou hast made me to serve with thy sins, thou hast wearied me with thine in-²⁵iquities. I, even I, am he that blotteth out thy transgressions for mine own sake; and I will not remember

²⁶ thy sins. Put me in remembrance; let us plead together: set thou forth

²⁷ thy cause, that thou mayest be justified. Thy first father sinned, and thine ¹⁵interpreters have transgressed

²⁸ against me. Therefore I ¹⁶will profane the ¹⁷princes of the sanctuary, and I

¹⁸will make Jacob a ¹⁹curse, and Israel

⁴⁴ a reviling. Yet now hear, O Jacob my servant; and Israel, whom I have

² chosen: thus saith the LORD that made thee, and formed thee from the womb, who will help thee: Fear not, O Jacob my servant; and thou, Jeshurun, whom I have chosen. For I will pour water upon ²⁰him that is thirsty, and streams upon the dry ground: I will pour my spirit upon thy seed, and my blessing upon thine offspring; and they shall

6 Thus saith the LORD, the King of Israel, and his redeemer the LORD of hosts: I am the first, and I am the last; and beside me there is no God.

7 ³And who, as I, shall call, and shall declare it, and set it in order for me, since I appointed the ancient people? and the things that are coming, and that shall come to pass, let them

8 ⁴declare. Fear ye not, neither be afraid: have I not declared unto thee of old, and shewed it? and ye are my witnesses. Is there a God beside me? yea, there is no Rock: I know

9 not any. They that fashion a graven image are all of them ⁵vanity; and their delectable things shall not profit: and their own witnesses see not, nor know; that they may be ashamed.

10 Who hath fashioned a god, or molten a graven image that is profitable for

11 nothing? Behold, ⁶all his fellows shall be ashamed; and the workmen, they are of men: let them all be gathered together, let them stand up; they shall fear, they shall be ashamed

12 together. The smith ⁷maketh an axe, and worketh in the coals, and fashioneth it with hammers, and worketh it with his strong arm: yea, he is hungry, and his strength faileth; he drinketh

13 no water, and is faint. The carpenter stretcheth out a line; he marketh it out with ⁸a pencil; he shapeth it with planes, and he marketh it out with the compasses, and shapeth it after the figure of a man, according to the beauty of a man, to dwell in the

14 house. He heweth him down cedars, and taketh the holm tree and the oak, and strengtheneth for himself one among the trees of the forest: he planteth ⁹a fir tree, and the rain doth

15 nourish it. Then shall it be for a man to burn; and he taketh thereof, and warmeth himself; yea, he kindleth it, and baketh bread: yea, he maketh a god, and worshippeth it; he maketh it a graven image, and falleth down there-

16 to. He burneth ¹⁰part thereof in the fire; with ¹⁰part thereof he eateth flesh; he roasteth roast, and is satisfied: yea, he warmeth himself, and saith, Aha, I am warm, I have seen the fire:

17 and the residue thereof he maketh a god, even his graven image: he falleth down unto it and worshippeth, and prayeth unto it, and saith, Deliver me;

18 for thou art my god. They know not, neither do they consider: for he hath ¹¹shut their eyes, that they cannot see; and their hearts, that they cannot

19 understand. And none calleth to mind, neither is there knowledge nor understanding to say, I have burned part of it in the fire; yea, also I have baked bread upon the coals thereof; I have roasted flesh and eaten it; and shall I make the residue thereof an abomination? shall I fall down to the stock of a tree? He feedeth on ashes: a deceived heart hath turned him aside, that he cannot deliver his soul, nor say, Is there not a lie in my right hand?

21 Remember these things, O Jacob; and Israel, for thou art my servant: I have formed thee; thou art my servant: O Israel, ¹²thou shalt not be for-

22 gotten of me. I have blotted out, as a thick cloud, thy transgressions, and, as a cloud, thy sins: return unto

23 me; for I have redeemed thee. Sing, O ye heavens, for the LORD hath done it; shout, ye lower parts of the earth; break forth into singing, ye mountains, O forest, and every tree therein: for the LORD hath redeemed Jacob, and will glorify himself in Israel.

24 Thus saith the LORD, thy redeemer, and he that formed thee from the womb: I am the LORD, that maketh all things; that stretcheth forth the heavens alone; that spreadeth abroad

25 the earth; ¹³who is with me? that frustrateth the tokens of the ¹⁴liars, and maketh diviners mad; that turneth wise men backward, and maketh

26 their knowledge foolish: that confirmeth the word of his servant, and performeth the counsel of his messengers; that saith of Jerusalem, She shall be inhabited; and of the cities of Judah, They shall be built, and I will raise up

27 the waste places thereof: that saith to the deep, Be dry, and I will dry up ¹⁵thy rivers: that saith of ¹⁵Cyrus, He is my shepherd, and shall perform all my pleasure: even saying of Jerusalem, She shall be built; ¹⁶and to the temple, Thy foundation shall be laid.

45 Thus saith the LORD to his anointed, to Cyrus, whose right hand I have holden, to subdue nations before him, and I will loose the loins of kings; to open the doors before him, and the

2 gates shall not be shut; I will go before thee, and make the rugged places plain: I will break in pieces the doors of brass, and cut in sunder the bars of

3 iron: and I will give thee the treasures of darkness, and hidden riches of secret places, that thou mayest know that I am the LORD, which call thee by thy name, even the God of Israel.

4 For Jacob my servant's sake, and Israel my chosen, I have called thee by thy name: I have surnamed thee, though

5 thou hast not known me. I am the LORD, and there is none else; beside me there is no God: I will gird thee, though thou hast not known me: that they may know from the rising of the sun, and from the west, that there is none beside me: I am the LORD, and

8 Drop down, ye heavens, from above, and let the skies pour down righteousness: let the earth open, that they may ¹bring forth salvation, and let her cause righteousness to spring up together; I the LORD have created it.

9 Woe unto him that striveth with his Maker! a potsherd among the potsherd of the earth! Shall the clay say to him that fashioneth it, What makest thou? or thy work, He hath no hands?

10 Woe unto him that saith unto a father, What begettest thou? or to a woman, With what travailest thou? Thus saith the LORD, the Holy One of Israel, and his Maker: Ask me of the things that are to come; concerning my sons, and concerning the work of my hands, command ye me. I have made the earth, and created man upon it: I, even my hands, have stretched out the heavens, and all their host have I commanded.

11 I have raised him up in righteousness, and I will make straight all his ways: he shall build my city, and he shall let my exiles go free, not for price nor reward, saith the LORD of hosts.

12 Thus saith the LORD, The labour of Egypt, and the merchandise of Ethiopia, and the Sabæans, men of stature, shall come over unto thee, and they shall be thine; they shall go after thee; in chains they shall come over: and they shall fall down unto thee, they shall make supplication unto thee, saying, Surely God is in thee; and there is none else, there is no God. Verily thou art a God that hidest thyself, O God of Israel, the Saviour. They shall be ashamed, yea, confounded, all of them: they shall go into confusion together

13 that are makers of idols. But Israel shall be saved by the LORD with an everlasting salvation: ye shall not be ashamed nor confounded world without end.

14 For thus saith the LORD that created the heavens; he is God; that formed the earth and made it; he established it, he created it not ²a waste, he formed it to be inhabited: I am the LORD;

15 and there is none else. I have not spoken in secret, in a place of the land of darkness; I said not unto the seed of Jacob, Seek ye me ³in vain: I the LORD speak righteousness, I declare

16 things that are right. Assemble yourselves and come; draw near together, ye that are escaped of the nations: they have no knowledge that carry the wood of their graven image, and pray unto a

17 god that cannot save. Declare ye, and ⁴bring it forth; yea, let them take counsel together: who hath shewed this from ancient time? who hath declared it of old? have not I the LORD? and there is no God else beside me; a just God and a saviour; there is none beside me. Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth: for I

23 am God, and there is none else. By myself have I sworn, ⁵the word is gone forth from my mouth in righteousness, and shall not return, that unto me every knee shall bow, every tongue

24 shall swear. Only in the LORD, ⁶shall one say ⁷unto me, is righteousness and strength: even to him shall men come, and all they that were incensed

25 against him shall be ashamed. In the LORD shall all the seed of Israel be justified, and shall glory.

46 Bel boweth down, Nebo stoopeth; their idols are upon the beasts, and upon the cattle: the things that ye carried about are made a load, a burden

2 to the weary beast. They stoop, they bow down together; they could not deliver the burden, but themselves are gone into captivity.

3 Harken unto me, O house of Jacob, and all the remnant of the house of Israel, which have been borne by me from the belly, which have been carried

4 from the womb: and even to old age I am he, and even to hoar hairs will I carry you: I have made, and I will bear; yea, I will carry, and will de-

5 liver. To whom will ye liken me, and make me equal, and compare me, that

6 we may be like? Such as lavish gold out of the bag, and weigh silver in the balance, they hire a goldsmith, and he maketh it a god; they fall down, yea,

7 they worship. They bear him upon the shoulder, they carry him, and set him in his place, and he standeth; from his place shall he not remove: yea, one shall cry unto him, yet can he not answer, nor save him out of his trouble.

8 Remember this, and ⁸shew yourselves men: bring it again to mind, O ye transgressors. Remember the former things of old: ⁹for I am God, and there is none else; I am God, and

10 there is none like me; declaring the end from the beginning, and from ancient times things that are not yet done; saying, My counsel shall stand,

11 and I will do all my pleasure; calling a ravenous bird from the east, the man of ¹⁰my counsel from a far country; yea, I have spoken, I will also bring it to pass; I have purposed, I will also shalt no more be called tender and delicate. Take the millstones, and grind meal: remove thy veil, strip off the train, uncover the leg, pass through the rivers. Thy nakedness shall be uncovered, yea, thy shame shall be seen: I will take vengeance, and will accept no man. Our redeemer, the LORD of hosts is his name, the Holy One of Israel.

12 do it. Harken unto me, ye stout-hearted, that are far from righteousness: I bring near my righteousness, it shall not be far off, and my salvation shall not tarry; and I will ¹¹place salvation in Zion for Israel my glory.

Sit thou silent, and get thee into darkness, O daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more be called The lady of kingdoms. I was wroth with my people, I profaned mine inheritance, and gave them into thine hand: thou didst shew them no mercy; upon the aged hast thou very heavily laid thy yoke. And thou saidst, I shall be a lady for ever: so that thou didst not lay these things to thy heart, neither didst remember the latter end thereof.

Now therefore hear this, thou that art given to pleasures, that dwellest carelessly, that sayest in thine heart, I am, and there is none else beside me; I shall not sit as a widow, neither shall I know the loss of children: but these two things shall come to thee in a moment in one day, the loss of children, and widowhood: in their full measure shall they come upon thee, despite of the multitude of thy sorceries, and the great abundance of thine enchantments. For thou hast trusted in thy wickedness; thou hast said, None seeth me; thy wisdom and thy knowledge, it hath perverted thee: and thou hast said in thine heart, I am, and there is none else beside me. Therefore shall evil come upon thee; thou shalt not know the dawning thereof: and mischief shall fall upon thee; thou shalt not be able to put it away: and desolation shall come upon thee suddenly, which thou knowest not. Stand now with thine enchantments, and with the multitude of thy sorceries, wherein thou hast laboured from thy youth; if so be thou shalt be able to profit, if so be thou mayest prevail.

Thou art wearied in the multitude of thy counsels: let now the astrologers, the stargazers, the monthly prognosticators, stand up, and save thee from the things that shall come upon thee. Behold, they shall be as stubble; the fire shall burn them; they shall not deliver themselves from the power of the flame: it shall not be a coal to warm at, nor a fire to sit before. Thus shall the things be unto thee wherein thou hast laboured: they that have trafficked with thee from thy youth shall wander every one to his quarter; there shall be none to save thee.

Hear ye this, O house of Jacob, which are called by the name of Israel, and are come forth out of the waters of Judah; which swear by the name of the LORD, and make mention of the God of Israel, but not in truth, nor in righteousness. For they call themselves of the holy city, and stay themselves upon the God of Israel; the LORD of hosts is his name. I have declared the former things from of old; yea, they went forth out of my mouth, and I shewed them: suddenly I did them, and they came to pass.

Because I knew that thou art obstinate, and thy neck is an iron sinew, and thy brow brass; therefore I have declared it to thee from of old; before it came to pass I shewed it thee: lest thou shouldest say, Mine idol hath done them, and my graven image, and my molten image, hath commanded them. Thou hast heard it; behold all this; and ye, will ye not declare it? I have shewed thee new things from this time, even hidden things, which thou hast not known. They are created now, and not from of old; and before this day thou heardest them not; lest thou shouldest say, Behold, I knew them. Yea, thou heardest not; yea, thou knewest not; yea, from of old thine ear was not opened: for I knew that thou didst deal very treacherously, and wast called a transgressor from the womb. For my name's sake will I defer mine anger, and for my praise will I refrain for thee, that I cut thee not off. Behold, I have refined thee, but not as silver; I have chosen thee in the furnace of affliction. For mine own sake, for mine own sake, will I do it; for how should my name be profaned? and my glory will I not give to another.

Hearken unto me, O Jacob, and Israel my called: I am he; I am the first, I also am the last. Yea, mine hand hath laid the foundation of the earth, and my right hand hath spread out the heavens: when I call unto them, they stand up together.

Assemble yourselves, all ye, and hear; which among them hath declared these things? The LORD hath loved him: he shall perform his pleasure on Babylon, and his arm shall be on the Chaldeans. I, even I, have spoken; yea, I have called him: I have brought him, and he shall make his way prosperous. Come ye near unto me, hear ye this; from the beginning I have not spoken in secret; from the time that it was, there am I: and now the LORD God hath sent me, and his spirit. Thus saith the LORD, thy redeemer, the Holy One of Israel: I am the LORD thy God, which teacheth thee to profit, which leadeth thee by the way that thou shouldest go. Oh that thou hadst hearkened to my commandments! then had thy peace been as a river, and thy righteousness as the waves of the sea: thy seed also had been as the sand, and the offspring of thy 20 Go ye forth of Babylon, flee ye from the Chaldeans; with a voice of singing declare ye, tell this, utter it even to the end of the earth: say ye, The Lord hath redeemed his servant Jacob.

21 And they thirsted not when he led them through the deserts: he caused the waters to flow out of the rock for them: he clave the rock also, and the 22 waters gushed out. There is no peace, saith the Lord, unto the wicked.

49 Listen, O isles, unto me; and hearken, ye peoples, from far: the Lord hath called me from the womb; from the bowels of my mother hath he made 2 mention of my name: and he hath made my mouth like a sharp sword, in the shadow of his hand hath he hid me; and he hath made me a polished shaft, in his quiver hath he kept me 3 close: and he said unto me, Thou art my servant; Israel, in whom I will be 4 glorified. But I said, I have laboured in vain, I have spent my strength for nought and vanity: yet surely my judgement is with the Lord, and my 5 recompence with my God. And now saith the Lord that formed me from the womb to be his servant, to bring Jacob again to him, ²and that Israel be gathered unto him: (for I am honourable in the eyes of the Lord, and my

7 end of the earth. Thus saith the Lord, the redeemer of Israel, and his Holy One, to him whom man despiseth, to a servant of rulers: Kings shall see and arise; princes, and they shall worship; because of the Lord that is faithful, even the Holy One of Israel, who hath 8 chosen thee. Thus saith the Lord; In an acceptable time have I answered thee, and in a day of salvation have I helped thee: and I will preserve thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, to ⁴raise up the land, to make them inherit the desolate heritages;

9 saying to them that are bound, Go forth; to them that are in darkness, Shew yourselves. They shall feed in the ways, and on all bare heights shall 10 be their pasture. They shall not hunger nor thirst; neither shall the ⁵heat nor sun smite them: for he that hath mercy on them shall lead them, even by the springs of water shall he guide 11 them. And I will make all my mountains a way, and my high ways shall be 12 exalted. Lo, these shall come from far:

and, lo, these from the north and from the west; and these from the land of 13 Sinim. Sing, O heavens; and be joyful, O earth; and break forth into singing, O mountains: for the Lord hath comforted his people, and will have compassion upon his afflicted.

14 But Zion said, Jehovah hath forsaken me, and the Lord hath forgotten

15 me. Can a woman forget her sucking child, that she should not have compassion on the son of her womb? yea, these may forget, yet will not I forget 16 thee. Behold, I have graven thee upon the palms of my hands; thy walls are

17 continually before me. ⁶Thy children make haste; thy destroyers and they that made thee waste shall go forth of 18 thee. Lift up thine eyes round about, and behold: all these gather themselves together, and come to thee. As I live, saith the Lord, thou shalt surely clothe thee with them all as with an ornament, and gird thyself with them,

19 like a bride. For, as for thy waste and thy desolate places and thy land that hath been destroyed, surely now shalt thou be too strait for the inhabitants, and they that swallowed thee up shall

20 be far away. The children of thy bereavement shall yet say in thine ears, The place is too strait for me: give

21 place to me that I may dwell. Then shalt thou say in thine heart, Who hath ⁷begotten me these, seeing I have been bereaved of my children, and am ⁸solitary, an exile, and wandering to and fro? and who hath brought up these? Behold, I was left alone; these, where were they?

22 Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will lift up mine hand to the nations, and set up my ensign to the peoples: and they shall bring thy sons in their bosom, and thy daughters shall be

23 carried upon their shoulders. And kings shall be thy nursing fathers, and their queens thy nursing mothers: they shall bow down to thee with their faces to the earth, and lick the dust of thy feet; and thou shalt know that I am the Lord, and they that wait for me

24 shall not be ashamed. Shall the prey be taken from the mighty, or ⁹the law-

But thus saith the Lord, Even the captives of the mighty shall be taken away, and the prey of the terrible shall be delivered: for I will contend with him that contendeth with thee, and I will save thy 26 children. And I will feed them that oppress thee with their own flesh; and they shall be drunken with their own blood, as with sweet wine: and all flesh shall know that I the Lord am thy saviour, and thy redeemer, the Mighty One of Jacob.

ment, wherewith I have put her away? or which of my creditors is it to whom I have sold you? Behold, for your iniquities were ye sold, and for your transgressions was your mother put away. Wherefore, when I came, was there no man? when I called, was there none to answer? Is my hand shortened at all, that it cannot redeem? or have I no power to deliver? Behold, at my rebuke I dry up the sea, I make the rivers a wilderness: their fish stinketh, because there is no water, and dieth for thirst. I clothe the heavens with blackness, and I make sackcloth their covering.

4 The Lord God hath given me the tongue of them that are taught, that I should know how to sustain with words him that is weary: he wakeneth morning by morning, he wakeneth mine ear to hear as they that are taught. The Lord God hath opened mine ear, and I was not rebellious, neither turned away backward. I gave my back to the smiters, and my cheeks to them that plucked off the hair: I hid not my face from shame and spitting. For the Lord God will help me; therefore have I not been confounded: therefore have I set my face like a flint, and I know that I shall not be ashamed. He is near that justifieth me; who will contend with me? let us stand up together: who is mine adversary? let him come near to me. Behold, the Lord God will help me; who is he that shall condemn me? behold, they all shall wax old as a garment; the moth shall eat them up.

10 Who is among you that feareth the Lord, that obeyeth the voice of his servant? he that walketh in darkness, and hath no light, let him trust in the name of the Lord, and stay upon his God. Behold, all ye that kindle a fire, that gird yourselves about with firebrands: walk ye in the flame of your fire, and among the brands that ye have kindled. This shall ye have of mine hand; ye shall lie down in sorrow.

51 Hearken to me, ye that follow after righteousness, ye that seek the Lord: look unto the rock whence ye were hewn, and to the hole of the pit whence ye were digged. Look unto Abraham your father, and unto Sarah that bare you: for when he was but one I called him, and I blessed him, and made him many. For the Lord hath comforted Zion: he hath comforted all her waste places, and hath made her wilderness like Eden, and her desert like the garden of the Lord; joy and gladness shall be found therein, thanksgiving, and the voice of melody.

4 Attend unto me, O my people; and give ear unto me, O my nation: for a law shall go forth from me, and I will make my judgement to rest for a light of the peoples. My righteousness is near, my salvation is gone forth, and mine arms shall judge the peoples; the isles shall wait for me, and on mine arm shall they trust.

6 Lift up your eyes to the heavens, and look upon the earth beneath: for the heavens shall vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall wax old like a garment, and they that dwell therein shall die in like manner: but my salvation shall be for ever, and my righteousness shall not be abolished.

7 Hearken unto me, ye that know righteousness, the people in whose heart is my law; fear ye not the reproach of men, neither be ye dismayed at their revilings. For the moth shall eat them up like a garment, and the worm shall eat them like wool: but my righteousness shall be for ever, and my salvation unto all generations.

9 Awake, awake, put on strength, O arm of the Lord; awake, as in the days of old, the generations of ancient times. Art thou not it that cut Rahab in pieces, that pierced the dragon?

10 Art thou not it which dried up the sea, the waters of the great deep; that made the depths of the sea a way for the redeemed to pass over? And the ransomed of the Lord shall return, and come with singing unto Zion; and everlasting joy shall be upon their heads: they shall obtain gladness and joy, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away.

12 I, even I, am he that comforteth you: who art thou, that thou art afraid of man that shall die, and of the son of man which shall be made as

13 grass; and hast forgotten the Lord thy Maker, that stretched forth the heavens, and laid the foundations of the earth; and fearest continually all the day because of the fury of the oppressor, when he maketh ready to destroy? and where is the fury of the 14 oppressor? The captive exile shall speedily be loosed; and he shall not die and go down into the pit, neither

15 shall his bread fail. For I am the Lord thy God, which stirreth up the sea, that the waves thereof roar: the 16 Lord of hosts is his name. And I have put my words in thy mouth, and have covered thee in the shadow of mine hand, that I may plant the heavens, and lay the foundations of the earth, and say unto Zion, Thou art my people.

17 Awake, awake, stand up, O Jerusalem, which hast drunk at the hand of the Lord the cup of his fury; thou hast drunken the bowl of the cup of staggering, and drained it. There is none to guide her among all the sons whom she hath brought forth; neither is there any that taketh her by the hand lie at the top of all the streets, as an antelope in a net; they are full of the fury of the LORD, the rebuke of 21 thy God. Therefore hear now this, thou afflicted, and drunken, but not 22 with wine: thus saith thy Lord the LORD, and thy God that pleadeth the cause of his people, Behold, I have taken out of thine hand the cup of staggering, even the bowl of the cup of my fury; thou shalt no more drink 23 it again: and I will put it into the hand of them that afflict thee; which have said to thy soul, Bow down, that we may go over: and thou hast laid thy back as the ground, and as the street, to them that go over.

52 Awake, awake, put on thy strength,
O Zion; put on thy beautiful garments, O Jerusalem, the holy city: for henceforth there shall no more come into thee the uncircumcised and the 2 unclean. Shake thyself from the dust;
arise, sit thee down, O Jerusalem:
3 loose thyself from the bands of thy neck, O captive daughter of Zion.

3 For thus saith the LORD, Ye were sold for nought; and ye shall be re-4 deemed without money. For thus saith the LORD God, My people went down at the first into Egypt to sojourn there: and the Assyrian oppressed 5 them without cause. Now therefore, what do I here, saith the LORD, seeing that my people is taken away for nought? they that rule over them do howl, saith the LORD, and my name continually all the day is blasphemed.
6 Therefore my people shall know my name: therefore they shall know in that day that I am he that doth speak;
behold, ²it is I.

arm in the eyes of all the nations; and all the ends of the earth shall see the 11 salvation of our God. Depart ye, depart ye, go ye out from thence, touch no unclean thing; go ye out of the midst of her; be ye clean, ye that 12 bear the vessels of the LORD. For ye shall not go out in haste, neither shall ye go by flight: for the LORD will go before you; and the God of Israel will be your rearward.

13 Behold, my servant shall ⁴deal wisely, he shall be exalted and lifted up, 14 and shall be very high. Like as many were astonished at thee, (his visage was so marred ⁵more than any man, and his form more than the sons of men,) 15 so shall he ⁶sprinkle many nations;
kings shall shut their mouths ⁷at him:
for that which had not been told them shall they see; and that which they had not heard shall they ⁸understand.

53 Who hath believed ⁹our report?
and to whom hath the arm of the 2 LORD been revealed? For he grew up before him as a tender plant, and as a root out of a dry ground: he hath no form nor comeliness; ¹⁰and when we see him, there is no beauty that we 3 should desire him. He was despised, and ¹¹rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with ¹²grief: and 13 as one from whom men hide their face he was despised, and we esteemed him not.

4 Surely he hath borne our ¹⁴griefs, and carried our sorrows: yet we did esteem him stricken, smitten of God, 5 and afflicted. But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his 6 stripes we are healed. All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way; and the LORD hath ¹⁵laid on him the iniquity of us all.

7 He was oppressed, yet he humbled himself and opened not his mouth;
as a lamb that is led to the slaughter,
and as a sheep that before her shearers is dumb; yea, he opened not his mouth.

8 ¹⁶By oppression and judgement he was taken away; ¹⁷and as for his generation, who among them considered that he was cut off out of the land of the living? for the transgression of my 9 people ¹⁸was he stricken. And they made his grave with the wicked, and with the rich in his ¹⁹death; ²⁰although he had done no violence, neither was any deceit in his mouth.

10 Yet it pleased the LORD to bruise him;
he hath ²¹put him to grief: ²²when thou

his days, and the pleasure of the LORD

For thus saith the LORD of the eunuchs that keep my sabbaths, and choose the things that please me, and hold fast by my covenant: Unto them will I give in mine house and within my walls a memorial and a name better than of sons and of daughters; I will give them an everlasting name, that shall not be cut off. Also the strangers, that join themselves to the LORD, to minister unto him, and to love the name of the LORD, to be his servants, every one that keepeth the sabbath from profaning it, and holdeth fast by my covenant; even then will I bring to my holy mountain, and make them joyful in my house of prayer; their burnt offerings and their sacrifices shall be accepted upon mine altar: for mine house shall be called an house of prayer for all peoples. The Lord God which gathereth the outcasts of Israel saith, Yet will I gather others to him, beside his own that are gathered.

9 All ye beasts of the field, come to devour, yea, all ye beasts in the forest.

10 His watchmen are blind, they are all without knowledge; they are all dumb dogs, they cannot bark; dreaming, lying down, loving to slumber. Yea, the dogs are greedy, they can never have enough; and these are shepherds that cannot understand: they have all turned to their own way, each one to his gain, from every quarter. Come ye, say they, I will fetch wine, and we will fill ourselves with strong drink; and to-morrow shall be as this day, a day great beyond measure.

57 The righteous perisheth, and no man layeth it to heart; and merciful men are taken away, none considering that the righteous is taken away from the evil to come. He entereth into peace; they rest in their beds, each one that walketh in his uprightness.

3 But draw near hither, ye sons of the sorceress, the seed of the adulterer and the whore. Against whom do ye sport yourselves? against whom make ye a wide mouth, and draw out the tongue? are ye not children of transgression, a seed of falsehood, ye that inflame yourselves among the oaks, under every green tree; that slay the children in the valleys, under the clefts of the rocks? Among the smooth stones of the valley is thy portion; they, they are thy lot: even to them hast thou poured a drink offering, thou hast offered an oblation. Shall I be

7 appeased for these things? Upon a high and lofty mountain hast thou set thy bed: thither also wentest thou up to offer sacrifice. And behind the doors and the posts hast thou set up thy memorial: for thou hast discovered thyself to another than me, and art gone up; thou hast enlarged thy bed, and made thee a covenant with them; thou lovedst their bed where thou sawest it. And thou wentest to the king with ointment, and didst increase thy perfumes, and didst send thine ambassadors far off, and didst debase thyself even unto hell. Thou wast wearied with the length of thy way; yet saidst thou not, There is no hope: thou didst find a quickening of thy strength; therefore thou wast not faint. And of whom hast thou been afraid and in fear, that thou liest, and hast not remembered me, nor laid it to thy heart? have not I held my peace even of long time, and thou fearest me not? I will declare thy righteousness; and as for thy works, they shall not profit thee. When thou criest, let them which thou hast gathered deliver thee; but the wind shall take them, a breath shall carry them all away: but he that putteth his trust in me shall possess the land, and shall inherit my holy mountain.

14 And he shall say, Cast ye up, cast ye up, prepare the way, take up the stumblingblock out of the way of my people.

15 For thus saith the high and lofty One that inhabiteth eternity, whose name is Holy: I dwell in the high and holy place, with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit, to revive the spirit of the humble, and to revive the heart of the contrite ones. For I will not contend for ever, neither will I be always wroth: for the spirit should fail before me, and the souls which I have made. For the iniquity of his covetousness was I wroth and smote him, I hid my face and was wroth: and he went on frowardly in the way of his heart. I have seen his ways, and will heal him: I will lead him also, and restore comforts unto him and to his mourners. I create the fruit of the lips: Peace, peace, to him that is far off and to him that is near, saith the LORD; and I will heal him. But the wicked are like the troubled sea; for it cannot rest, and its waters cast up mire and dirt. There is no peace, saith my God, to the wicked.

58 Cry aloud, spare not, lift up thy voice like a trumpet, and declare unto my people their transgression, and to the house of Jacob their sins. Yet they seek me daily, and delight to know my ways: as a nation that did righteousness, and forsook not the ordinance of their God, they ask of that I have chosen? the day for a man to afflict his soul? Is it to bow down his head as a rush, and to spread sackcloth and ashes under him? wilt thou call this a fast, and an acceptable 6day to the Lord? Is not this the fast that I have chosen? to loose the bonds of wickedness, to undo the bands of the yoke, and to let the oppressed go free, and that ye break every yoke?

 7Is it not to deal thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poor that are cast out to thy house? when thou seest the naked, that thou cover him; and that thou hide not thyself 8from thine own flesh? Then shall thy light break forth as the morning, and thy healing shall spring forth speedily:
 and thy righteousness shall go before thee; the glory of the Lord shall be 9thy rearward. Then shalt thou call, and the Lord shall answer; thou shalt cry, and he shall say, Here I am. If thou take away from the midst of thee
 the yoke, the putting forth of the 10finger, and speaking wickedly; and if thou ³draw out thy soul to the hungry, and satisfy the afflicted soul; then shall thy light rise in darkness, and 11thy obscurity be as the noonday: and the Lord shall guide thee continually, and satisfy thy soul in ⁴dry places, and make strong thy bones; and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters fail not.
 12And they that shall be of thee shall build the old waste places: thou shalt raise up the foundations of many generations; and thou shalt be called The repairer of the breach, The restorer 13of paths to dwell in. If thou turn away thy foot from the sabbath, from doing thy pleasure on my holy day;
 and call the sabbath a delight, and the holy of the Lord honourable; and shalt honour ⁵it, not doing thine own ways, nor finding thine own pleasure, 14nor speaking thine own words: then shalt thou delight thyself in the Lord;
 and I will make thee to ride upon the high places of the earth; and I will feed thee with the heritage of Jacob thy father: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.
 59 Behold, the Lord's hand is not shortened, that it cannot save; neither his 2ear heavy, that it cannot hear: but your iniquities have separated between you and your God, and your sins have hid his face from you, that he will not 3hear. For your hands are defiled with blood, and your fingers with iniquity;

 your lips have spoken lies, your tongue 4muttereth wickedness. None ⁶sueth in righteousness, and none pleadeth in truth: they trust in vanity, and speak lies; they conceive mischief, and bring 5forth iniquity. They hatch ⁷basilisks' eggs, and weave the spider's web: he that catcheth of their eggs dieth, and that which is crushed breaketh out 6into a viper. Their webs shall not become garments, neither shall they cover themselves with their works: their works are works of iniquity, and the 7act of violence is in their hands. Their feet run to evil, and they make haste to shed innocent blood: their thoughts are thoughts of iniquity; desolation and destruction are in their ⁸paths.
 8The way of peace they know not; and there is no ⁹judgement in their goings;
 they have made them crooked paths;
 whosoever goeth therein doth not know 9peace. Therefore is judgement far from us, neither doth righteousness overtake us: we look for light, but behold darkness; for brightness, but we 10walk in obscurity. We grope for the wall like the blind, yea, we grope as they that have no eyes: we stumble at noonday as in the twilight; ¹⁰among them that are lusty we are as dead 11men. We roar all like bears, and mourn sore like doves: we look for judgement, but there is none; for 12salvation, but it is far off from us. For our transgressions are multiplied before thee, and our sins testify against us: for our transgressions are with us, and as for our iniquities, we know 13them: in transgressing and denying the Lord, and turning away from following our God, speaking oppression and revolt, conceiving and uttering from the heart words of falsehood.
 14And judgement is turned away backward, and righteousness standeth afar off: for truth is fallen in the street, and 15uprightness cannot enter. Yea, truth is lacking; and he that departeth from evil maketh himself a prey: and the Lord saw it, and it displeased him that 16there was no judgement. And he saw that there was no man, and wondered that there was ¹¹no intercessor; therefore his own arm brought salvation unto him; and his righteousness, it upheld 17him. And he put on righteousness as a ¹²breastplate, and ¹³an helmet of salvation upon his head; and he put on garments of vengeance for clothing, and 18was clad with zeal as a cloke. According to their ¹⁴deeds, accordingly he will repay, fury to his adversaries, recom-

So shall they fear the name of the Lord from the west, and his glory from the rising of the sun: ¹for he shall come as ²a rushing stream, which the breath of the Lord driveth. And a redeemer shall come to Zion, and unto them that turn from transgression in Jacob, saith the Lord. And as for me, this is my covenant with them, saith the Lord: my spirit that is upon thee, and my words which I have put in thy mouth, shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seed, nor out of the mouth of thy seed's seed, saith the Lord, from henceforth and for ever.

60 Arise, shine; for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee. For, behold, darkness shall cover the earth, and gross darkness the peoples: but the Lord shall arise upon thee, and his glory shall be seen upon thee. And nations shall come to thy light, and kings to the brightness of thy rising. Lift up thine eyes round about, and see: they all gather themselves together, they come to thee: thy sons shall come from far, and thy daughters shall be ³carried in the arms. Then thou shalt see and ⁴be lightened, and thine heart shall tremble and be enlarged; because the abundance of the sea shall be turned unto thee, the wealth of the nations shall

Who are these that fly as a cloud, and as the doves to their windows? Surely the isles shall wait for me, and the ships of Tarshish first, to bring thy sons from far, their silver and their gold with them, for the name of the Lord thy God, and for the Holy One of Israel, because he hath

10 ⁹glorified thee. And strangers shall build up thy walls, and their kings shall minister unto thee: for in my wrath I smote thee, but in my favour have I had mercy on thee. Thy gates also shall be open continually; they shall not be shut day nor night; that men may bring unto thee the wealth of the nations, and their kings led with them.

12 For that nation and kingdom that will not serve thee shall perish; yea, those 13 nations shall be utterly wasted. The glory of Lebanon shall come unto thee, the fir tree, ¹⁰the pine, and the box tree together; to beautify the place of my sanctuary, and I will make the place

14 of my feet glorious. And the sons of them that afflicted thee shall come bending unto thee; and all they that despised thee shall bow themselves down at the soles of thy feet; and they shall call thee The city of the Lord, The Zion of the Holy One of Israel. Whereas thou hast been forsaken and hated, so that no man passed through thee, I will make thee an eternal excellency, a joy of many generations. Thou shalt also suck the milk of the nations, and shalt suck the breast of kings: and thou shalt know that I the Lord am thy saviour, and thy redeemer, the Mighty One of Jacob.

17 For brass I will bring gold, and for iron I will bring silver, and for wood brass, and for stones iron: I will also make thy officers peace, and ¹¹thine

19 Salvation, and thy gates Praise. The sun shall be no more thy light by day; neither for brightness shall the moon give light unto thee: but the Lord shall be unto thee an everlasting light,

20 and thy God thy ¹²glory. Thy sun shall no more go down, neither shall thy moon withdraw itself: for the Lord shall be thine everlasting light, and the days of thy mourning shall be

21 ended. Thy people also shall be all righteous, they shall inherit the land for ever; the branch of my planting, the work of my hands, that I may be 22 glorified. The little one shall become a thousand, and the small one a strong nation: I the Lord will hasten it in its time.

61 The spirit of the Lord God is upon me; because the Lord hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the ¹³meek; he hath sent me to bind up the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and ¹⁴the opening of

2 the prison to them that are bound; to proclaim ¹⁵the acceptable year of the Lord, and the day of vengeance of our God; to comfort all that mourn; to appoint unto them that mourn in Zion, to give unto them a garland for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness; that they might be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, that he might be glorified. And they shall build the old wastes, they shall raise up the former desolations, and they shall repair the waste cities, the desolations of many an everlasting covenant with them.

9 And their seed shall be known among the nations, and their offspring among the peoples: all that see them shall acknowledge them, that they are the 10 I will greatly rejoice in the LORD,

my soul shall be joyful in my God;
for he hath clothed me with the garments of salvation, he hath covered me with the robe of righteousness, as a bridegroom ³decketh himself with a garland, and as a bride adorneth herself with her jewels. For as the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth the things that are sown in it to spring forth; so the LORD God will cause righteousness and praise to spring forth before all the nations.

32 For Zion's sake will I not hold my peace, and for Jerusalem's sake I will not rest, until her righteousness go forth as brightness, and her salvation

tions shall see thy righteousness, and also be a crown of beauty in the hand of the LORD, and a royal diadem in the

be termed Forsaken; neither shall thy land any more be termed Desolate:
but thou shalt be called ⁴Hephzi-bah, and thy land ⁵Beulah: for the LORD delighteth in thee, and thy land shall 5 be married. For as a young man marrieth a virgin, so shall thy sons marry thee: and ⁶as the bridegroom rejoiceth over the bride, so shall thy God rejoice over thee.

6 I have set watchmen upon thy walls, O Jerusalem; they shall never hold their peace day nor night: ye that are the LORD's remembrancers,
7 take ye no rest, and give him no ⁸rest, till he establish, and till he make Jerusalem a praise in the 8 earth. The LORD hath sworn by his right hand, and by the arm of his strength, Surely I will no more give thy corn to be meat for thine enemies; and strangers shall not drink thy ⁹wine, for the which thou hast 9 laboured: but they that have garnered it shall eat it, and praise the LORD;
and they that have gathered it shall drink it in the courts of my sanctuary.

10 Go through, go through the gates;

prepare ye the way of the people;
cast up, cast up the high way; gather out the stones; lift up an ensign ¹⁰for 11 the peoples. Behold, the LORD hath proclaimed unto the end of the earth, Say ye to the daughter of Zion, Behold, thy salvation cometh; behold, his reward is with him, and his ¹¹recom-12 pence before him. And they shall call them The holy people, The redeemed of the LORD: and thou shalt be called Sought out, A city not forsaken.

63 Who is this that cometh from Edom, with ¹²dye'd garments from Bozrah?
this that is glorious in his apparel, marching in the greatness of his strength? I that speak in righteous-2 ness, mighty to save. Wherefore art thou red in thine apparel, and thy garments like him that treadeth in 3 the winefat? I have trodden the winepress alone; and of the peoples there was no man with me: yea, I ¹³trod them in mine anger, and trampled them in my fury; and their ¹⁴lifeblood
15 is sprinkled upon my garments, and I 4 have stained all my raiment. For the day of vengeance ¹⁷was in mine heart, and ¹⁸the year of my redeemed is come.
5 And I looked, and there was none to help; and I wondered that there was none to uphold: therefore mine own arm brought salvation unto me; and 6 my fury, it upheld me. And ¹⁹I trod down the peoples in mine anger, and 20 made them drunk in my fury, and I ²¹poured out their lifeblood on the earth.

7 I will make mention of the lovingkindnesses of the LORD, and the praises of the LORD, according to all that the LORD hath bestowed on us; and the great goodness toward the house of Israel, which he hath bestowed on them according to his mercies, and according to the multitude of his lov-8 ingkindnesses. For he said, Surely, they are my people, children that will not deal falsely: so he was their 9 saviour. ²²In all their affliction he was afflicted, and the angel of his presence saved them: in his love and in his pity he redeemed them; and he bare them, and carried them all the 10 days of old. But they rebelled, and grieved his holy spirit: therefore he was turned to be their enemy, and him-11 self fought against them. ²³Then he remembered the days of old, Moses, and his people, saying, Where is he that brought them up out of the sea with the 24 shepherds of his flock? where is he that put his holy spirit in the midst

to go at the right hand of Moses?

14 stumbled not? As the cattle that go down into the valley, the spirit of the LORD caused them to rest: so didst thou lead thy people, to make thyself
 15 a glorious name. Look down from heaven, and behold from the habitation of thy holiness and of thy glory: where is thy zeal and thy mighty acts? the yearning of thy bowels and thy compassions are restrained toward me.
 16 For thou art our father, though Abraham knoweth us not, and Israel doth not acknowledge us: thou, O LORD, art our father; our redeemer from 17 everlasting is thy name. O LORD, why dost thou make us to err from thy ways, and hardenest our heart from thy fear? Return for thy servants' sake, the tribes of thine inheritance.
 18 Thy holy people possessed it but a little while: our adversaries have trodden down thy sanctuary. We are become as they over whom thou never barest rule; as they that were not
 64 called by thy name. Oh that thou wouldst rend the heavens, that thou wouldst come down, that the mountains might ¹⁴flow down at thy presence; as when fire kindleth the brushwood, and the fire causeth the waters to boil: to make thy name known to thine adversaries, that the nations
 3 may tremble at thy presence! When thou didst terrible things which we looked not for, thou camest down, the mountains flowed down at thy presence. For from of old men have not heard, nor perceived by the ear, neither hath the eye ²seen a God beside thee, which worketh for him that waiteth
 5 for him. Thou ³meetest him that rejoiceth and worketh righteousness, those that remember thee in thy ways: behold, thou wast wroth, and we sinned: ⁴in them have we been of long
 6 time, and shall we be saved? For we are all become as one that is unclean, and all our righteousnesses are as a polluted garment: and we all do fade as a leaf; and our iniquities, like the 7 wind, take us away. And there is none that calleth upon thy name, that stirreth up himself to take hold of thee: for thou hast hid thy face from us, and ⁵hast ⁶consumed us by means
 8 of our iniquities. But now, O LORD, thou art our father; we are the clay, and thou our potter; and we all are 9 the work of thy hand. Be not wroth very sore, O LORD, neither remember iniquity for ever: behold, look, we beseech thee, we are all thy people. Thy holy cities are become a wilderness, Zion is become a wilderness, Jerusalem a desolation. Our holy and our beautiful house, where our fathers praised thee, is burned with fire; and all our pleasant things are laid waste.
 12 Wilt thou refrain thyself for these things, O LORD? wilt thou hold thy peace, and afflict us very sore?

65 I ⁷am inquired of by them that asked not for me; I ⁸am found of them that sought me not: I said, Behold me, behold me, unto a nation
 2 ⁹that was not called by my name. I have spread out my hands all the day unto a rebellious people, which walketh in a way that is not good, after
 3 their own thoughts; a people that provoketh me to my face continually, sacrificing in gardens, and burning incense upon bricks; which ¹⁰sit among the graves, and lodge in the ¹¹secret places; which eat swine's flesh, and broth of abominable things is in their
 5 vessels; which say, Stand by thyself, come not near to me, for I am holier than thou: these are a smoke in my nose, a fire that burneth all the day.
 6 Behold, it is written before me: I will not keep silence, but will recompense, yea, I will recompense into their bosom,
 7 your own iniquities, and the iniquities of your fathers together, saith the LORD, which have burned incense upon the mountains, and ¹²blasphemed me upon the hills: therefore will I ¹³first measure their work into their bosom.
 8 Thus saith the LORD, As the new wine is found in the cluster, and one saith, Destroy it not, for a blessing is in it: so will I do for my servants' sakes, that I may not destroy them
 9 all. And I will bring forth a seed out of Jacob, and out of Judah an inheritor of my mountains: and my chosen shall inherit it, and my servants shall dwell there. And Sharon shall be a ¹⁴fold of flocks, and the valley of Achor a place for herds to lie down in, for my people that have 11 sought me. But ye that forsake the LORD, that forget my holy mountain, that prepare a table for ¹⁵Fortune, and that fill up mingled wine unto ¹⁶Des-
 12 tiny; I will destine you to the sword, and ye shall all bow down to the slaughter: because when I called, ye did not answer; when I spake, ye did not hear; but ye did that which was evil in mine eyes, and chose that wherein I delighted not.
 13 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, my servants shall eat, but ye shall be hungry: behold, my servants shall drink, but ye shall be thirsty: behold, my servants shall rejoice, but 14 ye shall be ashamed: behold, my servants shall sing for joy of heart, but ye shall cry for sorrow of heart, and shall 15 howl for ¹⁷vexation of spirit. And ye shall leave your name for ¹⁸a curse unto my chosen, and the Lord God shall slay thee; and he shall call his 16 servants by another name: so that he who blesseth himself in the earth shall bless himself in the God of ¹⁹truth; and he that sweareth in the earth shall swear by the God of ¹truth; because the former troubles are forgotten, and because they are hid from mine eyes. For, behold, I create new heavens and a new earth: and the former things shall not be remembered, nor come into mind. But be ye glad and rejoice for ever in that which I create: for, behold, I create Jerusalem a rejoicing, and her people a joy. And I will rejoice in Jerusalem, and joy in my people: and the voice of weeping shall be no more heard in her, nor the voice of crying. There shall be no more thence an infant of days, nor an old man that hath not filled his days: for the child shall die an hundred years old, and the sinner being an hundred years old shall be accursed. And they shall build houses, and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and eat the fruit of them. They shall not build, and another inhabit; they shall not plant, and another eat: for as the days of a tree shall be the days of my people, and my chosen shall ²long enjoy the work of their hands. They shall not labour in vain, nor bring forth for ³calamity; for they are the seed of the blessed of the Lord, and their offspring ⁴with them. And it shall come to pass that, before they call, I will answer; and while they are yet speaking, I will hear. The wolf and the lamb shall feed together, and the lion shall eat straw like the ox: and dust shall be the serpent's meat. They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain, saith the Lord.

⁶⁶ Thus saith the Lord, The heaven is my throne, and the earth is my footstool: what manner of house will ye build unto me? and what place ²shall be my rest? For all these things hath mine hand made, and so all these things came to be, saith the Lord: but to this man will I look, even to him that is poor and of a contrite spirit, and that trembleth at my word. ³ He that killeth an ox is as he that slayeth a man; he that sacrificeth a lamb, as he that breaketh a dog's neck; he that offereth ⁵an oblation, as he that offereth swine's blood; he that ⁶burneth frankincense, as he that blesseth an idol: yea, they have chosen their own ways, and their soul delighteth in their abominations; I also will choose their ⁷delusions, and will bring their fears upon them; because when I called, none did answer; when I spake, they did not hear: but they did that which was evil in mine eyes, and chose that wherein I delighted not.

⁵ Hear the word of the Lord, ye that tremble at his word: Your brethren that hate you, that cast you out for my name's sake, have said, Let the Lord be glorified, that we may see your joy; but they shall be ashamed.

23 And it shall come to pass, that from one new moon to another, and from one sabbath to another, shall all flesh come to worship before me, saith the LORD. And they shall go forth, and look upon the carcases of the men that have transgressed against me: for their worm shall not die, neither shall their fire be quenched; and they shall be an abhorring unto all flesh.

JEREMIAH.

1 THE words of Jeremiah the son of Hilkiah, of the priests that were in 2 Anathoth in the land of Benjamin: to whom the word of the LORD came in the days of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah, in the thirteenth year 3 of his reign. It came also in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, unto the end of the eleventh year of Zedekiah the son of Josiah, king of Judah; unto the carrying away of Jerusalem captive in the fifth month. 4 Now the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, Before I formed thee in the belly I knew thee, and before thou camest forth out of the womb I sanctified thee; I have appointed thee a prophet unto the nations. Then said I, Ah, Lord God! behold, I cannot speak: for 7 I am a child. But the LORD said unto me, Say not, I am a child: for ¹to whomsoever I shall send thee thou shalt go, and whatsoever I shall command thee thou shalt speak. Be not afraid because of them: for I am with thee to deliver thee, saith the LORD. 9 Then the LORD put forth his hand, and touched my mouth; and the LORD said unto me, Behold, I have put my 10 words in thy mouth: see, I have this day set thee over the nations and over the kingdoms, to pluck up and to break down, and to destroy and to overthrow; to build, and to plant. 11 Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, Jeremiah, what seest thou? And I said, I see a rod of 12 ²an almond tree. Then said the LORD unto me, Thou hast well seen: for I ³watch over my word to perform it. 13 And the word of the LORD came unto me the second time, saying, What seest thou? And I said, I see a seething caldron; and the face thereof is from 14 the north. Then the LORD said unto me, Out of the north evil ⁴shall break forth upon all the inhabitants of the 15 land. For, lo, I will call all the families of the kingdoms of the north, saith the LORD; and they shall come, and they shall set every one his throne at the entering of the gates of Jerusalem, and against all the walls thereof round about, and against all the cities of Judah. And I will ⁵utter my judgements against them touching all their wickedness; in that they have forsaken me, and have burned incense unto other gods, and worshipped the works of 17 their own hands. Thou therefore gird up thy loins, and arise, and speak unto them all that I command thee: be not dismayed at them, lest I dismay 18 thee before them. For, behold, I have made thee this day a defended city, and an iron pillar, and brasen walls, against the whole land, against the kings of Judah, against the princes thereof, against the priests thereof, and against the people of the land. 19 And they shall fight against thee; but they shall not prevail against thee: for I am with thee, saith the LORD, to deliver thee.

2 And the word of the LORD came to me, saying, Go, and cry in the ears of Jerusalem, saying, Thus saith the LORD, I remember ⁶for thee the kindness of thy youth, the love of thine espousals; how thou wentest after me in the wilderness, in a land that was 3 not sown. Israel was holiness unto the LORD, the firstfruits of his increase: all that devour him shall be held guilty; evil shall come upon them, saith the LORD.

4 Hear ye the word of the LORD, O house of Jacob, and all the families of 5 the house of Israel: Thus saith the LORD, What unrighteousness have your fathers found in me, that they are gone far from me, and have walked after 6 vanity, and are become vain? Neither said they, Where is the LORD that brought us up out of the land of Egypt; that led us through the wilderness, through a land of deserts and of pits, through a land of drought and of ¹the shadow of death, through a land that none passed through, and where no man dwelt? And I brought you into a plentiful land, to eat the fruit thereof and the goodness thereof; but when ye entered, ye defiled my land, and made mine heritage an abomination. The priests said not, Where is the LORD? and they that handle the law knew me not: the ²rulers also transgressed against me, and the prophets prophesied by Baal, and walked after things that do not profit. Wherefore I will yet plead with you, saith the LORD, and with your children's children will I plead. For pass over to the isles of Kittim, and see; and send unto Kedar, and consider diligently; and see if there hath been such a thing. Hath a nation changed their gods, which yet are no gods? but my people have changed their glory for that which doth not profit. Be astonished, O ye heavens, at this, and be horribly afraid, be ye very desolate, saith the LORD. For my people have committed two evils; they have forsaken me the fountain of living waters, and hewed them out cisterns, broken cisterns, that can hold no water. Is Israel a servant? is he a homeborn slave? why is he become a prey? The young lions have roared upon him, and ³yelled: and they have made his land waste; his cities are burned up, without inhabitant. The children also of Noph and Tahpanhes have ⁴broken the crown of thy head. Hast thou not procured this unto thyself, in that thou hast forsaken the LORD thy God, when he led thee by the 18 way? And now what hast thou to do in the way to Egypt, to drink the waters of ⁵Shihor? or what hast thou to do in the way to Assyria, to drink 19 the waters of ⁶the River? Thine own wickedness shall correct thee, and thy backslidings shall reprove thee: know therefore and see that it is an evil thing and a bitter, that thou hast forsaken the LORD thy God, and that my fear is not in thee, saith the Lord, the LORD of 20 hosts. For of old time ⁷I have broken thy yoke, and burst thy bands; and thou saidst, I will not ⁸serve; for upon every high hill and under every green tree thou didst bow thyself, playing 21 the harlot. Yet I had planted thee a noble vine, wholly a right seed: how then art thou turned into the degenerate plant of a strange vine unto me? 22 For though thou wash thee with lye, and take thee much soap, yet thine iniquity is marked before me, saith the 23 Lord God. How canst thou say, I am not defiled, I have not gone after the Baalim? see thy way in the valley, know what thou hast done: thou art a swift ⁹dromedary traversing her ways; 24 a wild ass used to the wilderness, that snuffeth up the wind in her desire; in her occasion who can turn her away? all they that seek her will not weary themselves; in her month they shall 25 find her. Withhold thy foot from being unshod, and thy throat from thirst: but thou saidst, There is no hope; no; for I have loved strangers, and after 26 them will I go. As the thief is ashamed when he is found, so is the house of Israel ashamed; they, their kings, their princes, and their priests, and their 27 prophets; which say to a stock, Thou art my father; and to a stone, Thou hast ¹⁰brought ¹¹me forth: for they have turned their back unto me, and not their face: but in the time of their trouble they will say, Arise, and save 28 us. But where are thy gods that thou hast made thee? let them arise, if they can save thee in the time of thy trouble: for according to the number of thy cities are thy gods, O Judah. 29 Wherefore will ye plead with me? ye all have transgressed against me, 30 saith the LORD. In vain have I smitten your children; they received no ¹²correction: your own sword hath devoured your prophets, like a destroying 31 lion. O generation, see ye the word of the LORD. Have I been a wilderness unto Israel? or a land of ¹³thick darkness? wherefore say my people, We are broken loose; we will come no more 32 unto thee? Can a maid forget her ornaments, or a bride her attire? yet my people have forgotten me days without 33 number. How trimmest thou thy way to seek love! therefore even the wicked women hast thou taught thy ways. 34 Also in thy skirts is found the blood of the souls of the innocent poor: ¹⁴I have not found it at ¹⁵the place of 35 breaking in, but upon ¹⁶all these. Yet thou saidst, I am innocent; surely his anger is turned away from me. Behold, I will enter into judgement with thee, because thou sayest, I have not 36 sinned. Why gaddest thou about so much to change thy way? thou shalt be ashamed of Egypt also, as thou wast 37 ashamed of Assyria. From him also shalt thou go forth, with thine hands upon thine head: for the LORD hath rejected thy confidences, and thou shalt not prosper in them. 3 ¹⁷They say, ¹⁸If a man put away his wife, and she go from him, and become another man's, shall he return unto her again? shall not that land be greatly polluted? But thou hast played the harlot with many lovers; ¹⁹yet return 2 again to me, saith the LORD. Lift up thine eyes unto the bare heights, and see; where hast thou not been lien with? By the ways hast thou sat for them, as an Arabian in the wilderness; and thou hast polluted the land with thy whoredoms and with thy wickedness. Therefore the showers have been withholden, and there hath been no latter rain; yet thou hadst a whore's forehead, 4 thou refusedst to be ashamed. Wilt thou not from this time cry unto me, My father, thou art the ¹guide of my youth? Will he retain his anger for ever? will he keep it to the end? Behold, thou ²hast spoken and hast done evil things, and hast ³had thy way.

6 Moreover the LORD said unto me in the days of Josiah the king, Hast thou seen that which backsliding Israel hath done? she is gone up upon every high mountain and under every green tree, and there hath played the harlot.

7 ⁴And I said after she had done all these things, ⁵She will return unto me; but she returned not: and her treacherous sister Judah saw it. And ⁶I saw, when, for this very cause that backsliding Israel had committed adultery, I had put her away and given her a bill of divorcement, yet treacherous Judah her sister feared not; but she also went and played the harlot.

9 And it came to pass through the lightness of her whoredom, that the land was polluted, and she committed adultery with stones and with stocks. And yet for all this her treacherous sister Judah hath not returned unto me with her whole heart, but feignedly, 11 saith the LORD. And the LORD said unto me, Backsliding Israel hath shewn herself more righteous than treacherous Judah. Go, and proclaim these words toward the north, and say, Return, thou backsliding Israel, saith the LORD; I will not keep anger for ever. Only ⁸acknowledge thine iniquity, that thou hast transgressed against the LORD thy God, and hast scattered thy ways to the strangers under every green tree, and ye have not obeyed my ⁹voice, saith the LORD. Return, O backsliding children, saith the LORD; for I am a husband unto you; and I will take you one of a city, and two of a family, 15 and I will bring you to Zion: and I will give you shepherds according to mine heart, which shall feed you with knowledge and understanding. And it shall come to pass, when ye be multiplied and increased in the land, in those days, saith the LORD, they shall say no more, The ark of the covenant of the LORD; neither shall it come to mind: neither shall they remember it; neither shall they ⁹visit it; neither ¹⁰shall that be done any more. At that time they shall call Jerusalem the throne of the LORD;

and all the nations shall be gathered unto it, to the name of the LORD, to Jerusalem: neither shall they walk any more after the stubbornness of their evil heart. In those days the house of Judah shall walk ¹¹with the house of Israel, and they shall come together out of the land of the north to the land that I gave for an inheritance unto your fathers. But I said, How ¹²shall I put thee among the children, and give thee a pleasant land, ¹³a goodly heritage of the hosts of the nations? and I said, ¹⁴Ye shall call me My father; and shall not turn away from following me. Surely as a wife treacherously departeth from her husband, so have ye dealt treacherously with me, O house of Israel, saith the LORD. A voice is heard upon the bare heights, the weeping and the supplications of the children of Israel; for that they have perverted their way, they have ²²forgotten the LORD their God. Return, ye backsliding children, I will heal your backslidings. Behold, we are come unto thee; for thou art the LORD our God. Truly in vain is the help that is looked for from the hills, the ²⁵tumult on the mountains; truly in the LORD our God is the salvation of Israel.

24 But the ¹⁶shameful thing hath devoured the labour of our fathers from our youth; their flocks and their herds, ²⁵their sons and their daughters. Let us lie down in our shame, and let our confusion cover us: for we have sinned against the LORD our God, we and our fathers, from our youth even unto this day: and we have not obeyed the voice of the LORD our God.

4 If thou wilt return, O Israel, saith the LORD, unto me shalt thou return: and ¹⁷if thou wilt put away thine abominations out of my sight, then shalt thou not be removed; and thou shalt swear, As the LORD liveth, in truth, in judgement, and in righteousness; and the nations shall bless themselves in him, and in him shall they glory.

3 For thus saith the LORD to the men of Judah and to Jerusalem, Break up your fallow ground, and sow not among thorns. Circumcise yourselves to the LORD, and take away the foreskins of your heart, ye men of Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem: lest my fury go forth like fire, and burn that none can quench it, because of the evil of your doings. Declare ye in Judah, and publish in Jerusalem; and say, Blow ye the trumpet in the land: cry aloud and say, Assemble yourselves, and let us go into the fenced cities.

6 Set up a standard toward Zion: flee for safety, stay not: for I will bring evil from the north, and a great destruction. A lion is gone up from his thicket, and a destroyer of nations; he is on his way, he is gone forth from his place; to make thy land desolate, that thy cities be laid waste, without inhabitant. For this gird you with sackcloth, lament and howl: for the fierce anger of the LORD is not turned back from us. And it shall come to pass at that day, saith the LORD, that the heart of the king shall perish, and the heart of the princes; and the priests shall be astonished, and the prophets shall wonder. Then said I, Ah, Lord God! surely thou hast greatly deceived this people and Jerusalem, saying, Ye shall have peace; whereas the sword reacheth unto the soul. At that time shall it be said to this people and to Jerusalem, A hot wind from the bare heights in the wilderness toward the daughter of my people, not to fan, nor to cleanse; ¹a full wind from these shall come for me: now will I also ²utter judgements against them. Behold, he shall come up as clouds, and his chariots shall be as the whirlwind: his horses are swifter than eagles. Woe unto us! for we are spoiled.

14 O Jerusalem, wash thine heart from wickedness, that thou mayest be saved. How long shall thine evil thoughts lodge within thee? For ³a voice declareth from Dan, and publisheth evil from the hills of Ephraim: make ye mention to the nations; behold, publish against Jerusalem, that watchers come from a far country, and give out their voice against the cities of Judah. As keepers of a field are they against her round about; because she hath been rebellious against me, saith the LORD. Thy way and thy doings have procured these things unto thee; this is thy wickedness; ⁴for it is bitter, ⁴for it reacheth unto thine heart.

19 My bowels, my bowels! ⁵I am pained at ⁶my very heart; my heart is disquieted in me; I cannot hold my peace; because ⁷thou hast heard, O my soul, the sound of the trumpet, the alarm of war. Destruction upon destruction is cried; for the whole land is spoiled: suddenly are my tents spoiled, and my curtains in a moment. How long shall I see the standard, and hear the sound of the trumpet? For my people is foolish, they know me not; they are sottish children, and they have none understanding: they are wise to do evil, but to do good they have no knowledge.

23 I beheld the earth, and, lo, it was waste and void; and the heavens, and they had no light. I beheld the mountains, and, lo, they trembled, and all the hills ⁹moved to and fro. I beheld, and, lo, there was no man, and all the birds of the heavens were fled.

26 I beheld, and, lo, ¹⁰the fruitful field was a wilderness, and all the cities thereof were broken down at the presence of the LORD, and before his fierce anger. For thus saith the LORD, The whole land shall be a desolation; yet will I not make a full end. For this shall the earth mourn, and the heavens above be black: because I have spoken it, I have purposed it, and I have not repented, neither will I turn back from it. The whole city fleeth for the noise of the horsemen and bowmen; they go into the thickets, and climb up upon the rocks: every city is forsaken, and not a man dwelleth therein. And thou, when thou art spoiled, what wilt thou do? Though thou clothest thyself with scarlet, though thou deckest thee with ornaments of gold, though thou ¹¹enlargest thine eyes with paint, in vain dost thou make thyself fair; thy lovers despise thee, they seek thy life. For I have heard a voice as of a woman in travail, the anguish as of her that bringeth forth her first child, the voice of the daughter of Zion, that gaspeth for breath, that spreadeth her hands, saying, Woe is me now! for my soul fainteth before the murderers.

5 Run ye to and fro through the streets of Jerusalem, and see now, and know, and seek in the broad places thereof, if ye can find a man, if there be any that doeth justly, that seeketh ¹²truth; and I will pardon her. And though they say, As the LORD liveth; surely they swear falsely. O LORD, ¹³do not thine eyes look upon ¹²truth? thou hast stricken them, but they were not grieved; thou hast consumed them, but they have refused to receive ¹⁴correction: they have made their faces harder than a rock; they have refused to return. Then I said, Surely these are poor: they are foolish; for they know not the way of the LORD, nor the judgement of their God: I will get me unto the great men, and will speak unto them; for they know the way of the LORD, and the judgement of their God. But these with one accord have broken the yoke, and burst the bands. Wherefore a lion out of the forest shall slay them, a wolf of the ¹⁵evenings shall spoil them, a leopard shall watch over their cities, every one that goeth out thence shall be torn in pieces: because their transgressions are many, and their backslidings are increased. How can I pardon thee? thy children have forsaken me, and sworn by them that are no gods: when I had ¹⁶fed them to the full, they committed adultery, and assembled themselves in troops at the harlots' houses. They were as fed horses ¹⁷in the morning: every one neighed after his neighbour's wife. Shall I not visit for these things? saith the LORD: and shall

10 Go ye up upon her walls, and destroy; but make not a full end: take away her branches: for they are not
11 the Lord's. For the house of Israel and the house of Judah have dealt very treacherously against me, saith 12 the Lord. They have denied the Lord, and said, It is not he; neither shall evil come upon us; neither shall we 13 see sword nor famine: and the prophets shall become wind, and the word is not in them: thus shall it be done
14 unto them. Wherefore thus saith the Lord, the God of hosts, Because ye speak this word, behold, I will make my words in thy mouth fire, and this people wood, and it shall devour them. Lo, I will bring a nation upon you from far, O house of Israel, saith the Lord: it is ¹a mighty nation, it is an ancient nation, a nation whose language thou knowest not, neither understandest what they 16 say. Their quiver is an open sepulchre, they are all mighty men. And they shall eat up thine harvest, and thy bread, ^{which} thy sons and thy daughters should eat: they shall eat up thy flocks and thine herds: they shall eat up thy vines and thy fig trees: they shall ²beat down thy fenced cities, wherein thou trustest, 18 with the sword. But even in those days, saith the Lord, I will not make 19 a full end with you. And it shall come to pass, when ye shall say, Wherefore hath the Lord our God done all these things unto us? then shalt thou say unto them, Like as ye have forsaken me, and served strange gods in your land, so shall ye serve strangers in a land that is not yours.

20 Declare ye this in the house of Jacob, and publish it in Judah, saying,
21 Hear now this, O foolish people, and without ³understanding; which have eyes, and see not; which have ears,
22 and hear not: Fear ye not me? saith the Lord: will ye not tremble at my presence, which have placed the sand for the bound of the sea, ⁴by a perpetual decree, that it cannot pass it? and though the waves thereof toss themselves, yet can they not prevail; though they roar, yet can they not pass
23 over it. But this people hath a revolting and a rebellious heart; they 24 are revolted and gone. Neither say they in their heart, Let us now fear the Lord our God, that giveth rain, both the former and the latter, in its season; that reserveth unto us the 25 appointed weeks of the harvest. Your iniquities have turned away these things, and your sins have withholden 26 good from you. For among my people are found wicked men: they watch, as fowlers lie in wait; they set a trap, they catch men. As a cage is full of birds, so are their houses full of deceit: therefore they are become great, and waxen rich. They are waxen fat, they shine: yea, they overpass in deeds of wickedness: they plead not the cause, the cause of the fatherless, that they should prosper; and the right of the needy do they not judge. Shall I not visit for these things? saith the Lord: shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

30 ⁵A wonderful and horrible thing is come to pass in the land; the prophets prophesy falsely, and the priests bear rule ⁶by their means; and my people love to have it so: and what will ye do in the end thereof?

6 Flee for safety, ye children of Benjamin, out of the midst of Jerusalem, and blow the trumpet in Tekoa, and raise up a signal on Beth-haccherem: for evil looketh forth from the north, and 2a great destruction. The comely and delicate one, the daughter of Zion, will
3 I cut off. Shepherds with their flocks shall come unto her; they shall pitch their tents against her round about; they shall feed every one in his place.

47 Prepare ye war against her; arise, and let us go up at noon. Woe unto us! for the day declineth, for the shadows of the evening are stretched
5 out. Arise, and let us go up by night, and let us destroy her palaces. For thus hath the Lord of hosts said, Hew ye down ⁸trees, and cast up a mount against Jerusalem: this is the city to be visited; she is wholly oppression in 7 the midst of her. As a well ⁹casteth forth her waters, so she ⁹casteth forth her wickedness: violence and spoil is heard in her; before me continually
8 is sickness and wounds. Be thou instructed, O Jerusalem, lest my soul be alienated from thee; lest I make thee a desolation, a land not inhabited.

9 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, They shall thoroughly glean the remnant of Israel as a vine: turn again thine hand as a grapegatherer ¹⁰into the 10 baskets. To whom shall I speak and testify, that they may hear? behold, their ear is uncircumcised, and they cannot hearken: behold, the word of the Lord is become unto them a reproach; they have no delight in it.
11 Therefore I am full of the fury of the Lord; I am weary with holding in: pour it out upon the children in the street, and upon the assembly of young men together: for even the husband with the wife shall be taken, the aged 12 with him that is full of days. And their houses shall be turned unto others, their fields and their wives together: for I will stretch out my hand upon the inhabitants of the land, saith

14 They have healed also the ¹hurt of ²my people lightly, saying, Peace, ³peace; when there is no peace. ⁴Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not at all ashamed, neither could they blush: therefore they shall fall among them that fall: at the time that I visit them they shall ⁴be cast down, saith the LORD.

16 Thus saith the LORD, Stand ye in the ways and see, and ask for the old paths, where is the good way, and walk therein, and ye shall find rest for your souls: but they said, We will not walk

17 therein. And I set watchmen over you, saying, Harken to the sound of the trumpet; but they said, We will

18 not hearken. Therefore hear, ye nations, and know, O congregation, what

19 is among them. Hear, O earth: behold, I will bring evil upon this people, even the fruit of their thoughts, because they have not hearkened unto my words; and as for my law, they

20 have rejected it. To what purpose cometh there to me frankincense from Sheba, and the sweet ⁵cane from a far country? your burnt offerings are not acceptable, nor your sacrifices

21 pleasing unto me. Therefore thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will lay stumblingblocks before this people: and the fathers and the sons together shall stumble against them; the neighbour and his friend shall perish.

22 Thus saith the LORD, Behold, a people cometh from the north country; and a great nation shall be stirred up from the uttermost parts of the earth.

23 They lay hold on bow and spear; they are cruel, and have no mercy; their voice roareth like the sea, and they ride upon horses; every one set in array, as a man to the battle, against

24 thee, O daughter of Zion. We have heard the fame thereof; our hands wax feeble: anguish hath taken hold of us, and pangs as of a woman in

25 travail. Go not forth into the field, nor walk by the way; for there is the sword of the enemy, and terror on 26 every side. O daughter of my people, gird thee with sackcloth, and wallow thyself in ashes: make thee mourning, as for an only son, most bitter lamentation; for the spoiler shall sud-

27 denly come upon us. I have made thee a ⁶tower and a fortress among my people; that thou mayest know and try

28 their way. They are all grievous revolters, going about with slanders; they are brass and iron: they all of them

29 deal corruptly. The bellows ⁷blow fiercely; the lead is consumed of the fire: in vain do they go on refining; for the wicked are not plucked away. 30 Refuse silver shall men call them, because the LORD hath rejected them.

4 you to dwell in this place. Trust ye not in lying words, saying, The temple of the LORD, the temple of the LORD, are these.

5 For if ye thoroughly amend your ways and your doings; if ye thoroughly execute judgement between a man

6 and his neighbour; if ye oppress not the stranger, the fatherless, and the widow, and shed not innocent blood in this place, neither walk after other mit adultery, and swear falsely, and burn incense unto Baal, and walk after other gods whom ye have not known,

10 and come and stand before me in this house, ⁸which is called by my name, and say, We are delivered; that ye

11 may do all these abominations? Is this house, which is called by my name, become a den of robbers in your eyes? Behold, I, even I, have seen it,

12 saith the LORD. But go ye now unto my place which was in Shiloh, where I caused my name to dwell at the first, and see what I did to it for the 13 wickedness of my people Israel. And now, because ye have done all these works, saith the LORD, and I spake unto you, rising up early and speaking, but ye heard not; and I called

14 you, but ye answered not: therefore will I do unto the house, which is called by my name, wherein ye trust, and unto the place which I gave to you and to your fathers, as I have 15 done to Shiloh. And I will cast you out of my sight, as I have cast out all your brethren, even the whole seed of Ephraim.

16 Therefore pray not thou for this people, neither lift up cry nor prayer for them, neither make intercession to

17 me: for I will not hear thee. Seest thou not what they do in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusa-

18 lem? The children gather wood, and the fathers kindle the fire, and the women knead the dough, to make cakes to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto other gods, that they may provoke me to anger.

19 Do they provoke me to anger? saith the LORD; do they not provoke themselves, to the confusion of their own faces?

20 Therefore thus saith the LORD God: Behold, mine anger and my fury shall be poured out upon this place, upon man, and upon beast, and upon the trees of the field, and upon the fruit of the ground; and it shall burn, and shall not be quenched.

21 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Add your burnt offerings unto your sacrifices, and eat ye

22 flesh. For I spake not unto your fathers, nor commanded them in the day that I brought them out of the land of Egypt, concerning burnt offer-

23 ings or sacrifices: but this thing I commanded them, saying, Hearken unto my voice, and I will be your God, and ye shall be my people: and walk ye in all the way that I command you,

24 that it may be well with you. But they hearkened not, nor inclined their ear, but walked in their own counsels and in the stubbornness of their evil heart, and went backward and not forward.

25 Since the day that your fathers came forth out of the land of Egypt unto this day, I have sent unto you all my servants the prophets, daily rising up

26 early and sending them: yet they hearkened not unto me, nor inclined their ear, but made their neck stiff: they did worse than their fathers.

27 And thou shalt speak all these words unto them; but they will not hearken to thee: thou shalt also call unto them;

28 but they will not answer thee. And thou shalt say unto them, This is the nation that hath not hearkened to the voice of the LORD their God, nor received ¹instruction: ²truth is perished, and is cut off from their mouth.

29 Cut off ³thine hair, O Jerusalem, and cast it away, and take up a lamentation on the bare heights; for the LORD hath rejected and forsaken the

30 generation of his wrath. For the children of Judah have done that which is evil in my sight, saith the LORD: they have set their abominations in the house which is called by my name, to

31 defile it. And they have built the high places of Topheth, which is in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to burn their sons and their daughters in the fire; which I commanded not,

32 neither came it into my ⁴mind. Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that it shall no more be called Topheth, nor The valley of the son of Hinnom, but The valley of Slaughter: for they shall bury in Topheth, ⁵till

33 there be no place to bury. And the carcases of this people shall be meat for the fowls of the heaven, and for the beasts of the earth; and none

34 shall fray them away. Then will I cause to cease from the cities of Judah, and from the streets of Jerusalem, the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride: for the land shall become a waste.

8 At that time, saith the LORD, they shall bring out the bones of the kings of Judah, and the bones of his princes, and the bones of the priests, and the bones of the prophets, and the bones of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, out of

2 their graves: and they shall spread them before the sun, and the moon, and all the host of heaven, whom they have loved, and whom they have served, and after whom they have walked, and whom they have sought, and whom they have worshipped: they shall not be gathered, nor be buried; they shall be for dung upon

3 the face of the earth. And death shall be chosen rather than life by all the residue that remain of this evil family, which remain in all the places whither I have driven them, saith the LORD of hosts.

4 Moreover thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD: Shall men fall, and not rise up again? shall one turn

5 away, and not return? Why then is this people of Jerusalem slidden back by a perpetual backsliding? they hold fast deceit, they refuse to re-

6 turn. I hearkened and heard, but they spake not aright: no man repenteth him of his wickedness, saying,

What have I done? every one ⁶turneth to his course, as a horse that

7 rusheth headlong in the battle. Yea, the stork in the heaven knoweth her appointed times; and the turtle and the swallow and the crane observe the time of their coming; but my people know not the ⁷ordinance of the LORD.

8 How do ye say, We are wise, and the law of the LORD is with us? But, behold, the false pen of the scribes

9 hath ⁸wrought falsely. The wise men are ashamed, they are dismayed and taken: lo, they have rejected the word of the LORD; and what manner of

10 wisdom is in them? Therefore will I give their wives unto others, and their fields to them that shall possess them: for every one from the least even unto the greatest is given to covetousness, from the prophet even unto the priest

11 every one dealeth falsely. ⁹And they have healed the hurt of the daughter of my people lightly, saying, Peace, peace; when there is no peace. Were

them that fall: in the time of their visitation they shall be cast down, 13 saith the LORD. I will utterly consume them, saith the LORD: there shall be no grapes on the vine, nor figs on the fig tree, and the leaf shall fade; and ¹the things that I have given 14 them shall pass away from them. Why do we sit still? assemble yourselves, and let us enter into the defenced cities, and let us ²be silent there: for the LORD our God hath ³put us to silence, and given us water of ⁴gall to drink, because we have sinned a- 15 gainst the LORD. We looked for peace, but no good came; and for a time of 16 healing, and behold dismay! The snorting of his horses is heard from Dan: at the sound of the neighing of his strong ones the whole land trembleth; for they are come, and have devoured the land and all that is in it; the city and 17 those that dwell therein. For, behold, I will send serpents, ⁵basilisks, among you, which will not be charmed; and they shall bite you, saith the LORD. 18 Oh that I could comfort myself a- gainst sorrow! my heart is faint with- 19 in me. Behold, the voice of the cry of the daughter of my people ⁶from a land that is very far off: Is not the LORD in Zion? is not her King in her? Why have they provoked me to anger with their graven images, and with 20 strange vanities? The harvest is past, the ⁷summer is ended, and we are not 21 saved. For the hurt of the daughter of my people am I hurt: I am ⁸black; astonishment hath taken hold on me. 22 Is there no balm in Gilead? is there no physician there? why then is not the ⁹health of the daughter of my people ¹⁰recovered?

9 Oh that my head were waters, and mine eyes a fountain of tears, that I might weep day and night for the slain 2 of the daughter of my people! ¹¹Oh that I had in the wilderness a lodging place of wayfaring men; that I might leave my people, and go from them! for they be all adulterers, an assembly 3 of treacherous men. And they bend their tongue as it were their bow for falsehood; and they are grown strong in the land, but not for ¹²truth: for they proceed from evil to evil, and they know not me, saith the LORD. 4 Take ye heed every one of his neigh- bour, and trust ye not in any brother: for every brother will utterly supplant, and every neighbour will go about with 5 slanders. And they will ¹³deceive every one his neighbour, and will not speak the truth: they have taught their tongue to speak lies; they weary them- selves to commit iniquity. Thine habita- tion is in the midst of deceit; through deceit they refuse to know me, saith the LORD.

7 Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, I will melt them, and try them; for how else should I do, because of the daughter of my people? 8 Their tongue is a deadly arrow; it speaketh deceit: one speaketh peaceably to his neighbour with his mouth, but in his heart he layeth wait for 9 him. Shall I not visit them for these things? saith the LORD: shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

10 For the mountains will I take up a weeping and wailing, and for the pastures of the wilderness a lamenta- tion, because they are burned up, so that none passeth through; neither can men hear the voice of the cattle; both the fowl of the heavens and the 11 beast are fled, they are gone. And I will make Jerusalem heaps, a dwell- ing place of jackals; and I will make the cities of Judah a desolation, with- 12 out inhabitant. Who is the wise man, that may understand this? and who is he to whom the mouth of the LORD hath spoken, that he may de- clare it? wherefore is the land perished and burned up like a wilderness, so that none passeth through?

13 And the LORD saith, Because they have forsaken my law which I set before them, and have not obeyed my 14 voice, neither walked therein; but have walked after the stubbornness of their own heart, and after the Baalim, 15 which their fathers taught them: there- fore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will feed them, even this people, with wormwood, and give them water of ¹⁴gall to drink. 16 I will scatter them also among the nations, whom neither they nor their fathers have known: and I will send the sword after them, till I have con- sumed them.

17 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Con- sider ye, and call for the mourning women, that they may come; and send for the cunning women, that they may 18 come: and let them make haste, and take up a wailing for us, that our eyes may run down with tears, and 19 our eyelids gush out with waters. For a voice of wailing is heard out of Zion, How are we spoiled! we are greatly confounded, because we have forsaken the land, because ¹⁵they have cast 20 down our dwellings. Yet hear the word of the LORD, O ye women, and let your ear receive the word of his mouth, and teach your daughters wailing, and every one her neighbour lamentation. 21 For death is come up into our windows, it is entered into our palaces; to cut off the children from without, and the 22 young men from the streets. 24 but let him that glorieth glory in this, that he understandeth, and knoweth me, that I am the LORD which exercise lovingkindness, judgement, and righteousness, in the earth: for in these

25 things I delight, saith the LORD. Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will punish all them which are circumcised in their uncircumcision;

26 Egypt, and Judah, and Edom, and the children of Ammon, and Moab, and all that have the corners of their hair polled, that dwell in the wilderness: for all the nations are uncircumcised, and all the house of Israel are uncircumcised in heart.

10 Hear ye the word which the LORD speaketh unto you, O house

2 of Israel: thus saith the LORD, Learn not the way of the nations, and be not dismayed at the signs of heaven; for the nations are dismayed

3 at them. For the ¹customs of the peoples are vanity: for ²one cutteth a tree out of the forest, the work of the hands of the workman with the axe.

4 They deck it with silver and with gold; they fasten it with nails and with

5 hammers, that it move not. They are like a ³palm tree, of turned work, and speak not: they must needs be borne, because they cannot go. Be not afraid of them; for they cannot do evil, neither is it in them to do good.

6 There is none like unto thee, O LORD; thou art great, and thy name is great

7 in might. Who would not fear thee, O King of the nations? for ⁴to thee doth it appertain: forasmuch as among all the wise men of the nations, and in all their royal estate, there is

8 none like unto thee. But they are ⁵together brutish and foolish: ⁶the instruction of idols, it is but a stock.

9 There is silver beaten into plates which is brought from Tarshish, and gold from ⁷Uphaz, the work of the artificer and of the hands of the goldsmith; blue and purple for their clothing; they are all the work of cunning men.

10 But the LORD is ⁸the true God; he is the living God, and an everlasting king: at his wrath the earth trembleth, and the nations are not able to abide his indignation.

11 ⁹Thus shall ye say unto them, The gods that have not made the heavens and the earth, ¹⁰these shall perish from the earth, and from under the heavens.

12 He hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom, and by his understanding hath he stretched out the

13 heavens: ¹¹when he uttereth his voice, there is a tumult of waters in the heavens, and he causeth the vapours to ascend from the ends of the earth; he maketh lightnings for the rain, and bringeth forth the wind out of his

14 treasuries. Every man ¹²is become brutish and is without knowledge; every goldsmith is put to shame by his graven image: for his molten image is falsehood, and there is no

15 breath in them. They are vanity, a work of ¹³delusion: in the time of 16 their visitation they shall perish. The portion of Jacob is not like these; for he is the former of all things; and Israel is the tribe of his inheritance: the LORD of hosts is his name.

17 Gather up ¹⁴thy wares out of the land,

18 ¹⁵O thou that abidest in the siege. For thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will sling out the inhabitants of the land at this time, and will distress them,

19 that they may ¹⁶feel it. Woe is me for my hurt! my wound is grievous; but

I said, Truly this is my ¹⁷grief, and I ²⁰must bear it. My tent is spoiled, and all my cords are broken: my children are gone forth of me, and they are not: there is none to stretch forth my tent any more, and to set up my curtains.

21 For the shepherds are become brutish, and have not inquired of the LORD:

therefore they have not ¹⁸prospered, and all their flocks are scattered. The voice of a rumour, behold it cometh, and a great commotion out of the north country, to make the cities of Judah a desolation, a dwelling place

23 of jackals. O LORD, I know that the way of man is not in himself: it is not in man that walketh to direct his

24 steps. O LORD, correct me, but with judgement; not in thine anger, lest

25 thou ¹⁹bring me to nothing. ²⁰Pour out thy fury upon the heathen that know thee not, and upon the families that call not on thy name: for they have devoured Jacob, yea, they have devoured him and consumed him, and have laid waste his ²¹habitation.

6 And the LORD said unto me, Proclaim all these words in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, saying, Hear ye the words of this covenant, and do them. For I earnestly protested unto your fathers in the day that I brought them up out of the land of Egypt, even unto this day, rising early and protesting, saying, Obey my voice. Yet they obeyed not, nor inclined their ear, but walked every one in the stubbornness of their evil heart: therefore I brought upon them all the words of this covenant, which I commanded them to do, but they did them not.

9 And the LORD said unto me, A conspiracy is found among the men of Judah, and among the inhabitants of Jerusalem. They are turned back to the iniquities of their forefathers, which refused to hear my words; and they are gone after other gods to serve them: the house of Israel and the house of Judah have broken my covenant

11 which I made with their fathers. Therefore thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will bring evil upon them, which they shall not be able to escape; and they shall cry unto me, but I will not hearken unto them. Then shall the cities of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem go and cry unto the gods unto whom they offer incense: but they shall not save them at all in the time

13 of their trouble. For according to the number of thy cities are thy gods, O Judah; and according to the number of the streets of Jerusalem have ye set up altars to the ²shameful thing, even altars to burn incense unto Baal. Therefore pray not thou for this people, neither lift up cry nor prayer for them: for I will not hear them in the time that they cry unto me ³for their trouble.

15 ⁴What hath my beloved to do in mine house, seeing she hath wrought lewdness with many, and the holy flesh is passed from thee? ⁵when thou doest evil, then thou rejoicest. The LORD called thy name, A green olive tree, fair with goodly fruit: with the noise of a great tumult he hath kindled fire upon it, and the branches of it are

17 broken. For the LORD of hosts, that planted thee, hath pronounced evil against thee, because of the evil of the house of Israel and of the house of Judah, which they have wrought for themselves in provoking me to anger by offering incense unto Baal.

18 And the LORD gave me knowledge of it, and I knew it: then thou shewest me their doings. But I was like a gentle lamb that is led to the slaughter; and I knew not that they had devised devices against me, saying, Let us destroy the tree with the ⁶fruit thereof, and let us cut him off from the land of the living, that his name may be no more remembered.

20 But, O LORD of hosts, that judgest righteously, that triest the reins and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them: for unto thee have I revealed

21 my cause. Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning the men of Anathoth, that seek thy life, saying, Thou shalt not prophesy in the name of the LORD,

22 that thou die not by our hand: therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, I will ⁷punish them: the young men shall die by the sword; their sons and their daughters shall die by famine;

23 and there shall be no remnant unto them: for I will bring evil upon the men of Anathoth, ⁸even the year of their visitation.

12 Righteous art thou, O LORD, when I plead with thee: yet would I ⁹reason the cause with thee: wherefore doth the way of the wicked prosper? wherefore are all they at ease that deal

2 very treacherously? Thou hast planted them, yea, they have taken root; they grow, yea, they bring forth fruit: thou art near in their mouth, and far

3 from their reins. But thou, O LORD, knowest me; thou seest me, and triest mine heart toward thee: pull them out like sheep for the slaughter, and ¹⁰prepare them for the day of slaughter.

4 How long shall the land mourn, and the herbs of the whole country wither? for the wickedness of them that dwell therein, the beasts are consumed, and the birds; because they said, He shall

5 not see our latter end. If thou hast run with the footmen, and they have wearied thee, then how canst thou contend with horses? and though in a land of peace thou art secure, yet how wilt thou do in the ¹¹pride of Jordan? For even thy brethren, and the house of thy father, even they have dealt treacherously with thee; even they have cried aloud after thee: believe them not, though they speak

12 fair words unto thee.

7 I have forsaken mine house, I have cast off mine heritage; I have given the dearly beloved of my soul into the hand of her enemies. Mine heritage is become unto me as a lion in the forest: she hath uttered her voice against me; therefore I have hated

9 her. Is mine heritage unto me as a speckled bird of prey? are the birds of prey against her round about? go ye, assemble all the beasts of the field,

14 Thus saith the LORD against all mine evil neighbours, that touch the inheritance which I have caused my people Israel to inherit: Behold, I will pluck them up from off their land, and will pluck up the house of Judah from a-15 mong them. And it shall come to pass, after that I have plucked them up, I will return and have compassion on them;
and I will bring them again, every man to his heritage, and every man to his 16 land. And it shall come to pass, if they will diligently learn the ways of my people, to swear by my name, As my people to swear by Baal; then shall they be built up in the midst of 17 my people. But if they will not hear, then will I pluck up that nation, plucking up and destroying it, saith

the LORD.

13 Thus said the LORD unto me, Go, and buy thee a linen girdle, and put it upon thy loins, and put it not in water.

2 So I bought a girdle according to the word of the LORD, and put it upon my 3 loins. And the word of the LORD came 4 unto me the second time, saying, Take the girdle that thou hast bought, which is upon thy loins, and arise, go to Euphrates, and hide it there in a hole
5 of the rock. So I went, and hid it by Euphrates, as the LORD commanded

6 me. And it came to pass after many days, that the LORD said unto me, Arise, go to Euphrates, and take the girdle from thence, which I command-

7 thee to hide there. Then I went to Euphrates, and digged, and took the girdle from the place where I had hid it: and, behold, the girdle was marred,

8 it was profitable for nothing. Then the word of the LORD came unto me, 9 saying, Thus saith the LORD, After this manner will I mar the pride of Judah,
and the great pride of Jerusalem.

10 This evil people, which refuse to hear my words, which walk in the stubbornness of their heart, and are gone after other gods to serve them, and to worship them, shall even be as this girdle,

11 which is profitable for nothing. For as the girdle cleaveth to the loins of a man, so have I caused to cleave unto me the whole house of Israel and the whole house of Judah, saith the LORD; that they might be unto me for a people, and for a name, and for a praise, and for a glory: but they would

12 not hear. Therefore thou shalt speak unto them this word: Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, Every ²bottle shall be filled with wine: and they shall say unto thee, Do we not know that every ²bottle shall be filled with 13 wine? Then shalt thou say unto them, Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will fill all the inhabitants of this land,

even the kings that sit ³upon David's throne, and the priests, and the prophets, and all the inhabitants of Jeru-14 salem, with drunkenness. And I will dash them one against another, even the fathers and the sons together, saith the LORD: I will not pity, nor spare, nor have compassion, that I should not destroy them.

15 Hear ye, and give ear; be not proud:
16 for the LORD hath spoken. Give glory to the LORD your God, before ⁴he cause darkness, and before your feet stumble upon the ⁵dark mountains; and, while ye look for light, he turn it into ⁶the shadow of death, and make it gross

17 darkness. But if ye will not hear it, my soul shall weep in secret for your pride; and mine eye shall weep sore, and run down with tears, because the 18 LORD's flock is taken captive. Say thou unto the king and to the queen-mother, ⁷Humble yourselves, sit down: for your headties are come down, even

19 ⁸the crown of your glory. The cities of the South are shut up, and there is none to open them: Judah is carried away captive all of it; it is wholly carried away captive.

20 Lift up your eyes, and behold them that come from the north: where is the flock that was given thee, thy

21 beautiful flock? ⁹What wilt thou say, when he shall set thy friends over thee as head, seeing thou thyself hast instructed them against thee? shall not sorrows take hold of thee, as of a wo-

22 man in travail? And if thou say in thine heart, Wherefore are these things come upon me? for the ¹⁰greatness of thine iniquity are thy skirts discovered, and thy heels suffer violence.

14 The word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah concerning the drought.

2 Judah mourneth, and the gates thereof languish, they sit in black upon the ground; and the cry of Jerusalem is gone up. And their nobles send their

3 little ones ²to the waters: they come to the pits, and find no water; they return with their vessels empty: they are ashamed and confounded, and

4 cover their heads. Because of the ground which is ³chapt, for that no rain hath been in the land, the plowmen are ashamed, they cover their

5 heads. Yea, the hind also in the field calveth, and forsaketh her young, because there is no grass. And the wild

6 asses stand on the bare heights, they pant for air like ⁴jackals; their eyes fail, because there is no herbage.

7 Though our iniquities testify against us, work thou for thy name's sake, O LORD: for our backslidings are many; we have sinned against thee. O thou

8 hope of Israel, the saviour thereof in the time of trouble, why shouldst thou be as a sojourner in the land, and as a wayfaring man that ⁵turneth

9 aside to tarry for a night? Why shouldst thou be as a man astonished, as a mighty man that cannot save? yet thou, O LORD, art in the midst of us, and we are called by thy name; leave us not.

10 Thus saith the LORD unto this people, Even so have they loved to wander; they have not refrained their feet: therefore the LORD doth not accept them; now will he remember their iniquity, and visit their sins.

11 And the LORD said unto me, Pray not for this people for their good. When

12 they fast, I will not hear their cry; and when they offer burnt offering and ⁶oblation, I will not accept them: but I will consume them by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pest-

13 ilence. Then said I, Ah, Lord God! behold, the prophets say unto them, Ye shall not see the sword, neither shall ye have famine; but I will give

14 you ⁷assured peace in this place. Then the LORD said unto me, The prophets prophesy lies in my name: I sent them not, neither have I commanded them, neither spake I unto them: they prophesy unto you a lying vision, and divination, and a thing of nought, and

15 the deceit of their own heart. Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning the prophets that prophesy in my name, and I sent them not, yet they say, Sword and famine shall not be in this land: By sword and famine shall

16 those prophets be consumed. And the people to whom they prophesy shall be cast out in the streets of Jerusalem because of the famine and the sword; and they shall have none to bury them, them, their wives, nor their sons, nor their daughters: for I will pour their

17 wickedness upon them. And thou shalt say this word unto them, Let mine eyes run down with tears night and day, and let them not cease; for the virgin

18 daughter of my people is broken with a great breach, with a very grievous wound. If I go forth into the field, then behold the slain with the sword! and if

19 I enter into the city, then behold ⁸them that are sick with famine! for both the prophet and the priest ⁹go about ¹⁰in the land and have no knowledge.

19 Hast thou utterly rejected Judah? hath thy soul loathed Zion? why hast thou smitten us, and there is no healing for us? We looked for peace, but no good came; and for a time of heal-

20 ing, and behold dismay! We ¹¹acknowledge, O LORD, our wickedness, and the iniquity of our fathers: for we have

21 sinned against thee. Do not ¹²abhor us, for thy name's sake; do not disgrace the throne of thy glory: remember, break not thy covenant with us.

22 Are there any among the vanities of the heathen that can cause rain? or can the heavens give showers? art not thou he, O LORD our God? therefore we will wait upon thee; for thou hast ¹³made all these things.

15 Then said the LORD unto me, Though Moses and Samuel stood before me, yet my mind could not be toward this people: cast them out of

2 my sight, and let them go forth. And it shall come to pass, when they say unto thee, Whither shall we go forth? then thou shalt tell them, Thus saith the LORD: Such as are for death, to death; and such as are for the sword, to the sword; and such as are for the famine, to the famine; and such as are for captivity, to captivity. And

3 I will appoint over them four ¹⁴kinds, saith the LORD: the sword to slay, and the dogs to ¹⁵tear, and the fowls of the heaven, and the beasts of the

4 earth, to devour and to destroy. And I will cause them to be tossed to and fro among all the kingdoms of the earth, because of Manasseh the son of Hezekiah king of Judah, for that

5 which he did in Jerusalem. For who shall have pity upon thee, O Jerusalem? or who shall bemoan thee? or who shall turn aside to ask of thy

6 welfare? Thou hast rejected me, saith the LORD, thou art gone backward: therefore have I stretched out my hand against thee, and destroyed thee; I am weary with repenting.

7 And I have fanned them with a fan in the gates of the land; I have bereaved them of children, I have destroyed my people; they have not returned from 8 their ways. Their widows are increased to me above the sand of the seas: I have brought upon them ¹against the mother and the young men a spoiler at noonday: I have caused anguish and terrors to fall upon her 9 suddenly. She that hath borne seven languisheth; she hath given up the ghost; her sun is gone down while it was yet day; she hath been ashamed and confounded: and the residue of them will I deliver to the sword before their enemies, saith the Lord.

10 Woe is me, my mother, that thou hast borne me a man of strife and a man of contention to the whole earth! I have not lent on usury, neither have men lent to me on usury; ²yet every one of 11 them doth curse me. The Lord said, Verily ²I will ³strengthen thee for good; verily ⁴I will cause the enemy to make supplication unto thee in the time of evil and in the time of affliction.

12 ⁵Can one break iron, even iron 13 from the north, and brass? Thy substance and thy treasures will I give for a spoil without price, and that for all thy sins, even in all thy 14 borders. And ⁶I will make ⁷them to pass with thine enemies into a land which thou knowest not: for a fire is kindled in mine anger, which shall burn upon you.

15 O Lord, thou knowest: remember me, and visit me, and avenge me of my persecutors; take me not away in thy long suffering: know that for thy sake 16 I have suffered reproach. Thy words were found, and I did eat them; and thy words were unto me a joy and the rejoicing of mine heart: for I am called by thy name, O Lord God of 17 hosts. I sat not in the assembly of them that make merry, nor rejoiced: I sat alone because of thy hand; for thou hast filled me with indignation.

18 Why is my pain perpetual, and my wound incurable, which refuseth to be healed? wilt thou indeed be unto me as a deceitful brook, as waters that ⁷fail? 19 Therefore thus saith the Lord, If thou return, then will I bring thee again, that thou mayest stand before me; and if thou take forth the precious from the vile, thou shalt be as my mouth: they shall return unto thee, but thou shalt not return unto them.

20 And I will make thee unto this people a fenced brasen wall; and they shall fight against thee, but they shall not prevail against thee: for I am with thee to save thee and to deliver thee, saith

21 the Lord. And I will deliver thee out of the hand of the wicked, and I will redeem thee out of the hand of the terrible.

16 The word of the Lord came also 2 unto me, saying, Thou shalt not take thee a wife, neither shalt thou have 3 sons or daughters in this place. For thus saith the Lord concerning the sons and concerning the daughters that are born in this place, and concerning their mothers that bare them, and concerning their fathers that be- 4 gat them in this land: They shall die ⁸of grievous deaths; they shall not be lamented, neither shall they be buried; they shall be as dung upon the face of the ground: and they shall be consumed by the sword, and by famine; and their carcases shall be meat for the fowls of heaven, and for the beasts 5 of the earth. For thus saith the Lord, Enter not into the house of mourning, neither go to lament, neither bemoan them: for I have taken away my peace from this people, saith the Lord, even lovingkindness and tender mercies.

6 Both great and small shall die in this land: they shall not be buried, neither shall men lament for them, nor cut themselves, nor make themselves bald 7 for them: neither shall men ⁹break bread for them in mourning, to comfort them for the dead; neither shall men give them the cup of consolation to drink for their father or for their mother. And thou shalt not go into the house of feasting to sit with them, to eat 9 and to drink. For thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will cause to cease out of this place, before your eyes and in your days, the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and 10 the voice of the bride. And it shall come to pass, when thou shalt shew this people all these words, and they shall say unto thee, Wherefore hath the Lord pronounced all this great evil against us? or what is our iniquity? or what is our sin that we have committed against the Lord our God?

11 Then shalt thou say unto them, Because your fathers have forsaken me, saith the Lord, and have walked after other gods, and have served them, and have worshipped them, and have forsaken me, and have not kept my law; 12 and ye have done evil more than your fathers; for, behold, ye walk every one after the stubbornness of his evil heart, so that ye hearken not unto me: 13 therefore will I cast you forth out of this land into the land that ye have not known, neither ye nor your fathers; and there shall ye serve other gods day and night; ¹⁰for I will shew you no favour.

14 Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that it shall no more be said, As the Lord liveth, that brought up the children of Israel out of the land of 15 Egypt; but, As the Lord liveth, that brought up the children of Israel from 16 Behold, I will send for many fishers, saith the LORD, and they shall fish them; and afterward I will send for many hunters, and they shall hunt them from every mountain, and from every hill, and out of the holes of the rocks. For mine eyes are upon all their ways: they are not hid from my face, neither is their iniquity concealed from mine eyes. And first I will recompense their iniquity and their sin double; ¹because they have polluted my land with the carcasses of their detestable things, and have filled mine inheritance with their abominations. O LORD, my strength, and my strong hold, and my refuge in the day of affliction, unto thee shall the nations come from the ends of the earth, and shall say, Our fathers have inherited nought but lies, even vanity and things wherein there is no profit. Shall a man make unto himself gods, which yet are no gods? Therefore, behold, I will cause them to know, this once will I cause them to know mine hand and my might; and they shall know that my name is Jehovah.

17 The sin of Judah is written with a pen of iron, and with the point of a diamond: it is graven upon the table of their heart, and upon the horns of your altars; whilst their children remember their altars and their ³Asherim by the green trees upon the high hills. 18 O my mountain in the field, I will give thy substance and all thy treasures for a spoil, and thy high places, because of sin, throughout all thy borders. And thou, even of thyself, shalt discontinue from thine heritage that I gave thee; and I will cause thee to serve thine enemies in the land which thou knowest not: for ye have kindled a fire in mine anger which shall burn for ever.

5 Thus saith the LORD: Cursed is the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arm, and whose heart departeth from the LORD. For he shall be like ⁴the heath in the desert, and shall not see when good cometh; but shall inhabit the parched places in the wilderness, a salt land and not inhabited.

7 Blessed is the man that trusteth in the LORD, and whose ⁵hope the LORD is. For he shall be as a tree planted by the waters, and that spreadeth out his roots by the river, and shall not ⁶fear when heat cometh, but his leaf shall be green; and shall not be careful in the year of drought, neither shall cease from yielding fruit. The heart is deceitful above all things, and it is desperately sick: who can know

10 it? I the LORD search the heart, I try the reins, even to give every man according to his ways, according to the fruit of his doings. As the partridge

⁷that gathereth young which she hath not brought forth, so is he thatgetteth riches, and not by right; in the midst of his days ⁸they shall leave him, and at his end he shall be a fool.

12 A glorious throne, set on high from the beginning, is the place of our sanctuary. O LORD, the hope of Israel, all that forsake thee shall be ashamed; they that depart from me shall be written in the earth, because they have forsaken the LORD, the fountain of 14 living waters. Heal me, O LORD, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved: for thou art my praise.

15 Behold, they say unto me, Where is the word of the LORD? let it come now. As for me, I have not hastened from being a shepherd after thee; neither have I desired ⁹the woeful day; thou knowest: that which came out of my lips was before thy face. Be not a terror unto me: thou art my

18 refuge in the day of evil. Let them be ashamed that persecute me, but let not me be ashamed; let them be dismayed, but let not me be dismayed: bring upon them the day of evil, and ¹⁰destroy them with double destruction.

19 Thus said the LORD unto me: Go, and stand in the gate of ¹¹the children of the people, whereby the kings of Judah come in, and by the which they go out, and in all the gates of Jerusalem; and say unto them, Hear ye the word of the LORD, ye kings of Judah, and all Judah, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, that enter in

21 by these gates; thus saith the LORD: Take heed ¹²to yourselves, and bear no burden on the sabbath day, nor bring

22 it in by the gates of Jerusalem; neither carry forth a burden out of your houses on the sabbath day, neither do ye any work: but hallow ye the sabbath day,

23 as I commanded your fathers; but they hearkened not, neither inclined their ear, but made their neck stiff, that they might not hear, and might

24 not receive instruction. And it shall come to pass, if ye diligently hearken unto me, saith the LORD, to bring in no burden through the gates of this city on the sabbath day, but to hallow the sabbath day, to do no work therein; then shall there enter in by the gates of this city kings and princes sitting upon the throne of David, riding in chariots and on horses, they, and their princes, the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and this

18 The word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying, Arise, and go down to the potter's house, and there I will cause thee to hear my words.

3 Then I went down to the potter's house, and, behold, he wrought his work on the wheels. And when the vessel that he made of the clay was marred in the hand of the potter, he made it again another vessel, as seemed good to the potter to make it.

5 Then the word of the LORD came to me, saying, O house of Israel, cannot I do with you as this potter?

saith the LORD. Behold, as the clay in the potter's hand, so are ye in mine hand, O house of Israel. At what instant I shall speak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom, to pluck up and to break down

8 and to destroy it; if that nation, concerning which I have spoken, turn from their evil, I will repent of the evil that I thought to do unto them.

9 And at what instant I shall speak concerning a nation, and concerning a

10 kingdom, to build and to plant it; if it do evil in my sight, that it obey not my voice, then I will repent of the good, wherewith I said I would benefit

11 them. Now therefore go to, speak to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, saying, Thus saith the LORD: Behold, I frame evil against you, and devise a device against you: return ye now every one from his evil way, and amend your ways

12 and your doings. But they say, There is no hope: for we will walk after our own devices, and we will do every one after the stubbornness of his evil heart.

13 Therefore thus saith the LORD: Ask ye now among the nations, who hath heard such things; the virgin of Israel hath done a very horrible thing. Shall 14 the snow of Lebanon fall from the rock of the field? or shall the cold waters ²that flow down from afar be

15 ³dried up? For my people hath forgotten me, they have burned incense to vanity; and they have caused them to stumble in their ways, in the ancient paths, to walk in bypaths, in a way

16 not cast up; to make their land an astonishment, and a perpetual hissing; every one that passeth thereby shall be astonished, and shake his head. I will scatter them as with an east wind before the enemy; I will ⁴look upon their back, and not their face, in the day of their calamity.

18 Then said they, Come, and let us devise devices against Jeremiah; for the law shall not perish from the priest, nor counsel from the wise, nor the word from the prophet. Come, and let us smite him with the tongue, and let us not give heed to any of his words.

19 Give heed to me, O LORD, and hearken to the voice of them that contend with me. Shall evil be recompensed for good? for they have digged a pit for my soul. Remember how I stood before thee to speak good for them, to 21 turn away thy fury from them. Therefore deliver up their children to the famine, and give them over to the power of the sword; and let their wives become childless, and widows; and let their men be slain of death, and their young men smitten of the sword in battle. Let a cry be heard from their houses, when thou shalt bring a troop suddenly upon them: for they 22 have digged a pit to take me, and hid snares for my feet. Yet, LORD, thou knowest all their counsel against me to slay me; forgive not their iniquity, neither blot out their sin from thy sight: but let them be ⁵overthrown before thee; deal thou with them in the time of thine anger.

19 Thus said the LORD, Go, and buy a potter's earthen bottle, and take of the elders of the people, and of the elders of the priests; and go forth unto the valley of the son of Hinnom, which is by the entry of ⁶the gate Harsith, and proclaim there the words that I shall

3 tell thee: and say, Hear ye the word of the LORD, O kings of Judah, and inhabitants of Jerusalem; thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring evil upon this place, the which whosoever heareth, his ears shall tingle. Because they have forsaken me, and have estranged this place, and have burned incense in it unto other gods, whom they knew not, they and their fathers and the kings of Judah; and have filled this

5 place with the blood of innocents; and have built the high places of Baal, to burn their sons in the fire for burnt offerings unto Baal; which I commanded not, nor spake it, neither came it will ¹make void the counsel of Judah and Jerusalem in this place; and I will cause them to fall by the sword before their enemies, and by the hand of them that seek their life: and their carcases will I give to be meat for the fowls of the heaven, and for the beasts of the earth. And I will make this city an astonishment, and an hissing; every one that passeth thereby shall be astonished and hiss because of all the plagues thereof. And I will cause them to eat the flesh of their sons and the flesh of their daughters, and they shall eat every one the flesh of his friend, in the siege and in the straitness, wherewith their enemies, and they that seek their life, shall straiten them. Then shalt thou break the bottle in the sight of the men that go with thee, and shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Even so will I break this people and this city, as one breaketh a potter's vessel, that cannot be made whole again: and they shall bury in Topheth, ²till there be no place to bury. Thus will I do unto this place, saith the LORD, and to the inhabitants thereof, even making this city as Topheth: and the houses of Jerusalem, and the houses of the kings of Judah, which are defiled, shall be as the place of Topheth, even all the houses upon whose roofs they have burned incense unto all the host of heaven, and have poured out drink offerings unto other gods.

14 Then came Jeremiah from Topheth, whither the LORD had sent him to prophesy; and he stood in the court of the LORD's house, and said to all the people: Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring upon this city and upon all her towns all the evil that I have pronounced against it; because they have made their neck stiff, that they might not hear my words.

20 Now Pashhur the son of Immer the priest, who was chief officer in the house of the LORD, heard Jeremiah prophesying these things. Then Pashhur smote Jeremiah the prophet, and put him in the stocks that were in the upper gate of Benjamin, which was in the house of the LORD. And it came to pass on the morrow, that Pashhur brought forth Jeremiah out of the stocks. Then said Jeremiah unto him, The LORD hath not called thy name Pashhur, but ³Magor-missabib. For thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will make thee a terror to thyself, and to all thy friends: and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, and thine eyes shall behold it: and I will give all Judah into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall carry them captive to Babylon, and shall slay them with the sword. all the riches of this city, and all the gains thereof, and all the precious things thereof, yea, all the treasures of the kings of Judah will I give into the hand of their enemies, which shall spoil them, and take them, and carry them to Babylon. And thou, Pashhur, and all that dwell in thine house shall go into captivity: and thou shalt come to Babylon, and there thou shalt die, and there shalt thou be buried, thou, and all thy friends, to whom thou hast prophesied falsely.

7 O LORD, thou hast ⁴deceived me, and I was deceived: thou art stronger than I, and hast prevailed: I am become a laughingstock all the day, every one mocketh me. For as often as I speak, I cry out; I cry, Violence and spoil: because the word of the LORD is made a reproach unto me, and a derision, all the day. And if I say, I will not make mention of him, nor speak any more in his name, then there is in mine heart as it were a burning fire shut up in my bones, and I am weary with forbearing, and I cannot contain. For I have heard the defaming of many, terror on every side. Denounce, and we will denounce him, say all my familiar friends, they that watch for my halting; peradventure he will be enticed, and we shall prevail against him, and we shall take our revenge on him. But the LORD is with me as a mighty one and a terrible: therefore my persecutors shall stumble, and they shall not prevail: they shall be greatly ashamed, because they have not ⁵dealt wisely, even with an everlasting dishonour which shall never be forgotten. But, O LORD of hosts, that triest the righteous, that seest the reins and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them; for unto thee have I revealed my cause. Sing unto the LORD, praise ye the LORD: for he hath delivered the soul of the needy from the hand of evil-doers.

14 Cursed be the day wherein I was born: let not the day wherein my mother bare me be blessed. Cursed be the man who brought tidings to my father, saying, A man child is born unto thee; making him very glad. And let that man be as the cities which the LORD overthrew, and repented not: and let him hear a cry in the morning, and shouting at noontide; because he slew me not from the womb; and so my mother should have been my grave, and her womb always great. Wherefore came I forth out of the womb to see labour and sorrow, that my days should be consumed with shame?

the son of Malchiah, and Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah the priest, saying,
 2 Inquire, I pray thee, of the LORD for us; for Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon maketh war against us: peradventure the LORD will deal with us according to all his wondrous works, that he may go up from us.
 3 Then said Jeremiah unto them, Thus shall ye say to Zedekiah: Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, Behold, I will turn back the weapons of war that are in your hands, wherewith ye fight against the king of Babylon, and against the Chaldeans which besiege you, without the walls, and I will gather them into the midst of this city. And I myself will fight against you with an outstretched hand and with a strong arm, even in anger, and in fury, and in great wrath. And I will smite the inhabitants of this city, both man and beast: they shall die of a great pestilence. And afterward, saith the LORD, I will deliver Zedekiah king of Judah, and his servants, and the people, even such as are left in this city from the pestilence, from the sword, and from the famine, into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those that seek their life: and he shall smite them with the edge of the sword; he shall not spare them, neither have pity, nor have mercy.
 8 And unto this people thou shalt say, Thus saith the LORD: Behold, I set before you the way of life and the way of death. He that abideth in this city shall die by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence: but he that goeth out, and falleth away to the Chaldeans that besiege you, he shall live, and his life shall be unto him for a prey. For I have set my face upon this city for evil, and not for good, saith the LORD: it shall be given into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire.
 11 And touching the house of the king of Judah, hear ye the word of the LORD: O house of David, thus saith the LORD, Execute judgement in the morning, and deliver the spoiled out of the hand of the oppressor, lest my fury go forth like fire, and burn that none can quench it, because of the evil of your doings. Behold, I am against thee, O inhabitant of the valley,¹ and of the rock of the plain, saith the LORD; ye which say, Who shall come down against us? or who shall enter into our habitations? and I will punish you according to the fruit of your doings, saith the LORD: and I will kindle a fire in her forest, and it shall devour all that is round about her.
 22 Thus said the LORD: Go down to the house of the king of Judah, and speak there this word, and say, Hear the word of the LORD, O king of Judah, that sitteth upon the throne of David, thou, and thy servants, and thy people that enter in by these gates. Thus saith the LORD: Execute ye judgement and righteousness, and deliver the spoiled out of the hand of the oppressor: and do no wrong, do no violence, to the stranger, the fatherless, nor the widow, neither shed innocent blood in this place. For if ye do this thing indeed, then shall there enter in by the gates of this house kings sitting⁴ upon the throne of David, riding in chariots and on horses, he, and his servants, and his people. But if ye will not hear these words, I swear by myself, saith the LORD, that this house shall become a desolation. For thus saith the LORD⁵ concerning the house of the king of Judah: Thou art Gilead unto me, and the head of Lebanon: yet surely I will make thee a wilderness, and cities which are not inhabited.

 7 And I will⁶ prepare destroyers against thee, every one with his weapons: and they shall cut down thy choice cedars, and cast them into the fire. And many nations shall pass by this city, and they shall say every man to his neighbour, Wherefore hath the LORD done thus unto this great city?
 9 Then they shall answer, Because they forsook the covenant of the LORD their God, and worshipped other gods, and served them.
 10 Weep ye not for the dead, neither bemoan him: but weep sore for him that goeth away; for he shall return no more, nor see his native country.
 11 For thus saith the LORD touching Shallum the son of Josiah, king of Judah, which reigned instead of Josiah his father, which went forth out of this place: He shall not return thither any more; but in the place whither they have led him captive, there shall he die, and he shall see this land no more.
 13 Woe unto him that buildeth his house by unrighteousness, and his chambers by injustice; that useth his neighbour's service without wages, and giveth him not his hire; that saith, I will build me a wide house and spacious chambers, and cutteth him out windows; and it is cieled with cedar, and painted with vermilion. Shalt thou reign, because thou⁸ strivest to excel in cedar? did not thy father eat and drink, and do judgement and justice? then it was well with him. He judged the cause of the poor and needy; then it was well. Was not this to know me? saith the LORD. But thine eyes and thine heart are not but for thy⁹ covetousness, and for to shed innocent blood, and for oppression, and for violence, to do it. Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah: They shall not lament for him, saying, Ah my brother! or, Ah sister! they shall not lament for him, saying, Ah lord! or, Ah his glory! He shall be buried with the burial of an ass, drawn and cast forth beyond the gates of Jerusalem.

20 Go up to Lebanon, and cry; and lift up thy voice in Bashan: and cry from Abarim; for all thy lovers are destroyed. I spake unto thee in thy prosperity; but thou saidst, I will not hear. This hath been thy manner from thy youth, that thou obeyedst not my voice. The wind shall feed all thy shepherds, and thy lovers shall go into captivity: surely then shalt thou be ashamed and confounded for all thy wickedness. O inhabitant of Lebanon, that makest thy nest in the cedars, how greatly to be pitied shalt thou be when pangs come upon thee, the pain as of a woman in travail! As I live, saith the LORD, though Coniah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah were the signet upon my right hand, yet would I pluck thee thence; and I will give thee into the hand of them that seek thy life, and into the hand of them of whom thou art afraid, even into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of the 26 Chaldeans. And I will cast thee out, and thy mother that bare thee, into another country, where ye were not born; and there shall ye die. But to the land wherunto thy soul longeth to return, thither shall they not return. Is this man Coniah a despised broken vessel? is he a vessel wherein is no pleasure? wherefore are they cast out, he and his seed, and are cast into the 29 land which they know not? O earth, earth, earth, hear the word of the LORD.

30 Thus saith the LORD, Write ye this man childless, a man that shall not prosper in his days: for no man of his seed shall prosper, sitting upon the throne of David, and ruling any more in Judah.

23 Woe unto the shepherds that destroy and scatter the sheep of my 2 pasture! saith the LORD. Therefore thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, against the shepherds that feed my people: Ye have scattered my flock, and driven them away, and have not visited them; behold, I will visit upon you the evil of your doings, saith the 3 LORD. And I will gather the remnant of my flock out of all the countries whither I have driven them, and will bring them again to their folds; and they shall be fruitful and multiply.

4 And I will set up shepherds over them which shall feed them: and they shall fear no more, nor be dismayed, neither shall any be lacking, saith the LORD.

5 Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will raise unto David a righteous Branch, and he shall reign as king and deal wisely, and shall execute judgement and justice in the 6 land. In his days Judah shall be saved, and Israel shall dwell safely: and this is his name whereby he shall be called, The LORD is our righteousness.

11 Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that they shall no more say, As the LORD liveth, which brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt; but, As the LORD liveth, which brought up and which led the seed of the house of Israel out of the north country, and from all the countries whither I had driven them; and they shall dwell in their own land.

9 Concerning the prophets. Mine heart within me is broken, all my bones shake; I am like a drunken man, and like a man whom wine hath overcome; because of the LORD, and because of his holy words. For the land is full of adulterers; for because of swearing the land mourneth; the pastures of the wilderness are dried up; and their course is evil, and their 11 force is not right. For both prophet and priest are profane; yea, in my house have I found their wickedness, saith the LORD. Wherefore their way shall be unto them as slippery places in the darkness: they shall be driven on, and fall therein: for I will bring evil upon them, even the year of their visitation,

13 saith the LORD. And I have seen folly in the prophets of Samaria; they prophesied by Baal, and caused my people 14 Israel to err. In the prophets of Jerusalem also I have seen a horrible thing; they commit adultery, and walk in lies, and they strengthen the hands of evil-doers, that none doth return from his wickedness: they are all of them become unto me as Sodom, and the inhabitants thereof as Gomorrah.

15 Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts concerning the prophets: Behold, I will feed them with wormwood, and make them drink the water of gall: for from the prophets of Jerusalem is profaneness gone forth into all the land. Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Harken not unto the words of the prophets that prophesy unto you; they teach you vanity: they speak a vision of their own heart, and not out of the mouth of the LORD.

17 They say continually unto them that despise me, The LORD hath said, Ye shall have peace; and unto every one that walketh in the stubbornness of his own heart they say, No evil shall 18 come upon you. For who hath stood in the council of the LORD, that he should perceive and hear his word? who hath marked ¹my word, and heard it? 19 Behold, the tempest of the LORD, even his fury, is gone forth, yea, a whirling tempest: it shall burst upon the head 20 of the wicked. The anger of the LORD shall not return, until he have ²executed, and till he have performed the intents of his heart: in the latter days ye shall ³understand it perfectly. 21 I sent not these prophets, yet they ran: I spake not unto them, yet they 22 prophesied. But if they had stood in my council, then had they caused my people to hear my words, and had turned them from their evil way, and 23 from the evil of their doings. Am I a God at hand, saith the LORD, and not 24 a God afar off? Can any hide himself in secret places that I shall not see him? saith the LORD. Do not I fill heaven and earth? saith the LORD. 25 I have heard what the prophets have said, that prophesy lies in my name, saying, I have dreamed, I have 26 dreamed. How long shall this be in the heart of the prophets that prophesy lies; even the prophets of the deceit 27 of their own heart? which think to cause my people to forget my name by their dreams which they tell every man to his neighbour, as their fathers 28 forgot my name for Baal. The prophet that hath a dream, let him tell a dream; and he that hath my word, let him speak my word faithfully. What is the straw to the wheat? saith 29 the LORD. Is not my word like as fire? saith the LORD; and like a hammer that breaketh the rock in pieces? 30 Therefore, behold, I am against the prophets, saith the LORD, that steal my words every one from his neighbour. Behold, I am against the prophets, saith the LORD, that ⁴use their 32 tongues, and say, He saith. Behold, I am against them that prophesy lying dreams, saith the LORD, and do tell them, and cause my people to err by their lies, and by their vain boasting: yet I sent them not, nor commanded them; neither shall they profit this 33 people at all, saith the LORD. And when this people, or the prophet, or a priest, shall ask thee, saying, What is the burden of the LORD? then shalt thou ⁵say unto them, ⁶What burden! I will cast you off, saith the LORD. 34 And as for the prophet, and the priest, and the people, that shall say, The burden of the LORD, I will even punish 35 that man and his house. Thus shall ye say every one to his neighbour, and every one to his brother, What hath the LORD answered? and, What hath 36 the LORD spoken? And the burden of the LORD shall ye mention no more: for every man's own word ⁷shall be his burden; for ye have perverted the words of the living God, of the LORD of 37 hosts our God. Thus shalt thou say to the prophet, What hath the LORD answered thee? and, What hath the 38 LORD spoken? But if ye say, The burden of the LORD; therefore thus saith the LORD: Because ye say this word, The burden of the LORD, and I have sent unto you, saying, Ye shall not say, The 39 burden of the LORD; therefore, behold, I will ⁸utterly forget you, and I will cast you off, and the city that I gave unto you and to your fathers, away from my 40 presence: and I will bring an everlasting reproach upon you, and a perpetual shame, which shall not be forgotten.

24 The LORD shewed me, and, behold, two baskets of figs set before the temple of the LORD; after that Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon had carried away captive Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, and the princes of Judah, with the craftsmen and smiths, from Jerusalem, and had 2 brought them to Babylon. One basket had very good figs, like the figs that are first ripe: and the other basket had very bad figs, which could 3 not be eaten, they were so bad. Then said the LORD unto me, What seest thou, Jeremiah? And I said, Figs; the good figs, very good; and the bad, very bad, that cannot be eaten, they 4 are so bad. And the word of the LORD 5 came unto me, saying, Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel; Like these good figs, so will I regard the captives of Judah, whom I have sent out of this place into the land of the Chaldeans, 6 for good. For I will set mine eyes upon them for good, and I will bring them again to this land: and I will build them, and not pull them down; and I will plant them, and not pluck them up. 7 And I will give them an heart to know me, that I am the LORD: and they shall be my people, and I will be their God: for they shall return unto me with their 8 whole heart. And as the bad figs, which cannot be eaten, they are so bad; surely thus saith the LORD, So will I give up Zedekiah the king of Judah, and his princes, and the residue of Jerusalem, that remain in this land, and 9 them that dwell in the land of Egypt: I will even give them up to be ⁹tossed to and fro among all the kingdoms of the earth for evil; to be a reproach and a proverb, a taunt and a curse, in all 10 places whither I shall drive them. And I will send the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, among them, till they be consumed from off the land that I gave unto them and to their fathers.

akim the son of Josiah, king of Judah; the same was the first year of 2 Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon; the which Jeremiah the prophet spake unto all the people of Judah, and to all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, saying: 3 From the thirteenth year of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah, even unto this day, these three and twenty years, the word of the LORD hath come unto me, and I have spoken unto you, rising up early and speaking; but ye 4 have not hearkened. And the LORD hath sent unto you all his servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them; but ye have not hearkened, nor 5 inclined your ear to hear; saying, Return ye now every one from his evil way, and from the evil of your doings, and dwell in the land that the LORD hath given unto you and to your fathers, 6 from of old and even for evermore: and go not after other gods to serve them, and to worship them, and provoke me not to anger with the work of your 7 hands; and I will do you no hurt. Yet ye have not hearkened unto me, saith the LORD; that ye might provoke me to anger with the work of your hands to 8 your own hurt. Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts: Because ye have 9 not heard my words, behold, I will send and take all the families of the north, saith the LORD, and I will send unto Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon, my servant, and will bring them against this land, and against the inhabitants thereof, and against all these nations round about; and I will 1 utterly destroy them, and make them an astonishment, and an hissing, and 10 perpetual desolations. Moreover I will 2 take from them the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride, the sound of the millstones, and the 11 light of the candle. And this whole land shall be a desolation, and an astonishment; and these nations shall serve the 12 king of Babylon seventy years. And it shall come to pass, when seventy years are accomplished, that I will punish the king of Babylon, and that nation, saith the LORD, for their iniquity, and the land of the Chaldeans; and I will make 13 it 3 desolate for ever. And I will bring upon that land all my words which I have pronounced against it, even all that is written in this book, which Jeremiah hath prophesied against all the nations. 14 For many nations and great kings 4 shall serve themselves of them, even of them: and I will recompense them according to their deeds, and according to the work of their hands. 15 For thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, unto me: Take the cup of the wine of this fury at my hand, and cause all the nations, to whom I send

16 thee, to drink it. And they shall drink, and reel to and fro, and be mad, because of the sword that I will 17 send among them. Then took I the cup at the LORD's hand, and made all the nations to drink, unto whom the 18 LORD had sent me: to wit, Jerusalem, and the cities of Judah, and the kings thereof, and the princes thereof, to make them a desolation, an astonishment, an hissing, and a curse; as it is 19 this day; Pharaoh king of Egypt, and his servants, and his princes, and all 20 his people; and all the mingled people, and all the kings of the land of Uz, and all the kings of the land of the Philistines, and Ashkelon, and Gaza, and Ekron, and the remnant of Ash- 21 dod; Edom, and Moab, and the children of Ammon; and all the kings of Tyre, and all the kings of Zidon, and the kings of the 5 isle which is beyond 23 the sea; Dedan, and Tema, and Buz, and all that have the corners of their 24 hair polled; and all the kings of Arabia, and all the kings of the mingled people that dwell in the wilderness; 25 and all the kings of Zimri, and all the kings of Elam, and all the kings of 26 the Medes; and all the kings of the north, far and near, one with another; and all the kingdoms of the world, which are upon the face of the earth: and the king of 6 Sheshach shall drink 27 after them. And thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Drink ye, and be drunken, and spue, and fall, and rise no more, because of the sword which I will send 28 among you. And it shall be, if they refuse to take the cup at thine hand to drink, then shalt thou say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: 29 Ye shall surely drink. For, lo, I begin to work evil at the city which is called by my name, and should ye be utterly unpunished? Ye shall not be unpunished: for I will call for a sword upon all the inhabitants of the earth, 30 saith the LORD of hosts. Therefore prophesy thou against them all these words, and say unto them, The LORD shall roar from on high, and utter his voice from his holy habitation; he shall mightily roar against his 7 fold; he shall give a shout, as they that tread the grapes, against all the in- 31 habitants of the earth. A noise shall come even to the end of the earth; for the LORD hath a controversy with the nations, he will plead with all flesh; as for the wicked, he will give them to the sword, saith the LORD. 32 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, evil shall go forth from nation to nation, and a great tempest shall be raised up from the uttermost parts of 33 the earth.  37 And the peaceable folds are brought to silence because of the fierce anger
 38 of the Lord. He hath forsaken his covert, as the lion: for their land is become an astonishment because of ³the fierceness of the oppressing sword, and because of his fierce anger.

26 In the beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, came this word from the Lord, 2 saying, Thus saith the Lord: Stand in the court of the Lord's house, and speak unto all the cities of Judah, which come to worship in the Lord's house, all the words that I command thee to speak unto them; keep not
 3 back a word. It may be they will hearken, and turn every man from his evil way; that I may repent me of the evil, which I purpose to do unto them because of the evil of their 4 doings. And thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord: If ye will not hearken to me, to walk in my law,
 5 which I have set before you, to hearken to the words of my servants the prophets, whom I send unto you, even rising up early and sending them,
 6 but ye have not hearkened; then will I make this house like Shiloh, and will make this city a curse to all
 7 the nations of the earth. And the priests and the prophets and all the people heard Jeremiah speaking these 8 words in the house of the Lord. And it came to pass, when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking all that the Lord had commanded him to speak unto all the people, that the priests and the prophets and all the people laid hold on him, saying, Thou shalt surely 9 die. Why hast thou prophesied in the name of the Lord, saying, This house shall be like Shiloh, and this city shall be desolate, without inhabitant? And all the people were gathered unto Jeremiah in the house of the Lord.
 10 And when the princes of Judah heard these things, they came up from the king's house unto the house of the Lord; and they sat in the entry of the new gate of the Lord's house.
 11 Then spake the priests and the prophets unto the princes and to all the people, saying, This man is worthy of death; for he hath prophesied against this city, as ye have heard with your 12 ears. Then spake Jeremiah unto all the princes and to all the people, saying, The Lord sent me to prophesy against this house and against this city all the words that ye have heard.

 13 Therefore now amend your ways and your doings, and obey the voice of the Lord your God; and the Lord will repent him of the evil that he hath 14 pronounced against you. But as for me, behold, I am in your hand: do with me as is good and right in your 15 eyes. Only know ye for certain that, if ye put me to death, ye shall bring innocent blood upon yourselves, and upon this city, and upon the inhabitants thereof: for of a truth the Lord hath sent me unto you to speak all 16 these words in your ears. Then said the princes and all the people unto the priests and to the prophets: This man is not worthy of death; for he hath spoken to us in the name of the Lord 17 our God. Then rose up certain of the elders of the land, and spake to all the 18 assembly of the people, saying, ⁴Micaiah the Morastite prophesied in the days of Hezekiah king of Judah; and he spake to all the people of Judah, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hosts:
 19 ⁵Zion shall be plowed as a field, and Jerusalem shall become heaps, and the mountain of the house as the high
 19 places of a forest. Did Hezekiah king of Judah and all Judah put him at all to death? did he not fear the Lord, and intreat the favour of the Lord, and the Lord repented him of the evil which he had pronounced against them? Thus should we commit great 20 evil against our own souls. And there was also a man that prophesied in the name of the Lord, Uriah the son of Shemaiah of Kiriath-jearim; and he prophesied against this city and against this land according to all the words of 21 Jeremiah: and when Jehoiakim the king, with all his mighty men, and all the princes, heard his words, the king sought to put him to death; but when Uriah heard it, he was afraid, and 22 fled, and went into Egypt: and Jehoiakim the king sent men into Egypt, namely, Elnathan the son of Achbor, and certain men with him, into Egypt:
 23 and they fetched forth Uriah out of Egypt, and brought him unto Jehoiakim the king; who slew him with the sword, and cast his dead body into the 24 graves of the ⁶common people. But the hand of Ahikam the son of Shaphan was with Jeremiah, that they should not give him into the hand of the people to put him to death.

27 In the beginning of the reign of ¹Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, came this word unto Jeremiah
2 from the LORD, saying, Thus saith the LORD to me: Make thee bands and
3 bars, and put them upon thy neck; and send them to the king of Edom, and to the king of Moab, and to the king of the children of Ammon, and to the king of Tyre, and to the king of Zidon, by the hand of the messengers which come to Jerusalem unto Zedekiah king of 4 Judah; and give them a charge unto their masters, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Thus 5 shall ye say unto your masters; I have made the earth, the man and the beast that are upon the face of the earth, by my great power and by my outstretched arm; and I give it unto
6 whom it seemeth right unto me. And now have I given all these lands into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, my servant; and the beasts of the field also have I given
7 him to serve him. And all the nations shall serve him, and his son, and his son's son, until the time of his own land come: and then many nations and great kings shall serve themselves of him. And it shall come to pass, that the nation and the kingdom which will not serve the same Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and that will not put their neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, that nation will I punish, saith the LORD, with the sword, and with the famine, and with the pestilence, until I have 9 consumed them by his hand. But as for you, hearken ye not to your prophets, nor to your diviners, nor to your dreams, nor to your soothsayers, nor to your sorcerers, which speak unto you, saying, Ye shall not serve
10 the king of Babylon: for they prophesy a lie unto you, to remove you far from your land; and that I should drive
11 you out and ye should perish. But the nation that shall bring their neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serve him, that nation will I let remain in their own land, saith the LORD; and they shall till it, and dwell therein.
12 And I spake to Zedekiah king of Judah according to all these words, saying, Bring your necks under the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serve 13 him and his people, and live. Why will ye die, thou and thy people, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, as the LORD hath spoken concerning the nation that will not 14 serve the king of Babylon? And hearken not unto the words of the prophets that speak unto you, saying, Ye shall not serve the king of Babylon: for 15 they prophesy a lie unto you. For I have not sent them, saith the LORD, but they prophesy falsely in my name; that I might drive you out, and that ye might perish, ye, and the prophets 16 that prophesy unto you. Also I spake to the priests and to all this people, saying, Thus saith the LORD: Hearken not to the words of your prophets that prophesy unto you, saying, Behold, the vessels of the LORD's house shall now shortly be brought again from Babylon: for they prophesy a lie unto 17 you. Hearken not unto them; serve the king of Babylon, and live: wherefore should this city become a desolation? But if they be prophets, and if the word of the LORD be with them, let them now make intercession to the LORD of hosts, that the vessels which are left in the house of the LORD, and in the house of the king of Judah, and 18 at Jerusalem, go not to Babylon. For thus saith the LORD of hosts concerning the pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bases, and concerning the residue of the vessels that 19 are left in this city, which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon took not, when he carried away captive Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, from Jerusalem to Babylon, and all the 20 nobles of Judah and Jerusalem; yea, thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, concerning the vessels that are left in the house of the LORD, and in the house of the king of Judah, and 21 at Jerusalem: They shall be carried to Babylon, and there shall they be, until the day that I visit them, saith the LORD; then will I bring them up, and restore them to this place.

22 And it came to pass the same year, in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the fourth year, in the fifth month, that Hananiah the son of Azzur the prophet, which was of Gibeon, spake unto me in the house of the LORD, in the presence of the priests and of all the people, saying,
23 Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, I have broken
24 the yoke of the king of Babylon. Within two full years will I bring again into this place all the vessels of the LORD's house, that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon took away from this place, and 25 carried them to Babylon: and I will bring again to this place Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, with all the captives of Judah, that went to Babylon, saith the LORD: for I will break the yoke of the king of Babylon.
26 Then the prophet Jeremiah said unto the prophet Hananiah in the presence of the priests, and in the presence of all the people that stood in the house of the LORD, even the prophet Jeremiah said, Amen: the LORD do so: the LORD perform thy words which thou hast prophesied, to bring again the vessels of the Lord's house, and all them of the captivity, from Babylon unto this place. Nevertheless hear thou now this word that I speak in thine ears, and in the ears of all the people: The prophets that have been before me and before thee of old prophesied against many countries, and against great kingdoms, of war, and of evil, and of pestilence. The prophet which prophesieth of peace, when the word of the prophet shall come to pass, then shall the prophet be known,¹ that the Lord hath truly sent him. Then Hananiah the prophet took the bar from off the prophet Jeremiah's neck, and brake it. And Hananiah spake in the presence of all the people, saying, Thus saith the Lord: Even so will I break the yoke of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon within two full years from off the neck of all the nations. And the prophet Jeremiah went his way. Then the word of the Lord came unto Jeremiah, after that Hananiah the prophet had broken the bar from off the neck of the prophet Jeremiah, saying, Go, and tell Hananiah, saying, Thus saith the Lord: Thou hast broken the bars of wood; but thou shalt make in their stead bars of iron. For thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: I have put a yoke of iron upon the neck of all these nations, that they may serve Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon; and they shall serve him: and I have given him the beasts of the field also. Then said the prophet Jeremiah unto Hananiah the prophet, Hear now, Hananiah; the Lord hath not sent thee; but thou makest this people to trust in a lie. Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will send thee away from off the face of the earth: this year thou shalt die, because thou hast spoken rebellion against the Lord. So Hananiah the prophet died the same year in the seventh month.

29 Now these are the words of the letter that Jeremiah the prophet sent from Jerusalem unto the residue of the elders of the captivity, and to the priests, and to the prophets, and to all the people, whom Nebuchadnezzar had carried away captive from Jerusalem to Babylon: (after that Jeconiah the king, and the queen-mother, and the eunuchs, and the princes of Judah and Jerusalem, and the craftsmen, and the smiths, were departed from Jerusalem;) by the hand of Elasah the son of Shaphan, and Gemariah the son of Hilkiah, (whom Zedekiah king of Judah sent unto Babylon to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon,) saying, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, unto all the captivity, whom I have caused to be carried away captive from Jerusalem unto Babylon: Build ye houses, and dwell in them; and plant gardens, and eat the fruit of them; take ye wives, and beget sons and daughters; and take wives for your sons, and give your daughters to husbands, that they may bear sons and daughters; and multiply ye there, and be not diminished. And seek the peace of the city whither I have caused you to be carried away captive, and pray unto the Lord for it: for in the peace thereof shall ye have peace. For thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: Let not your prophets that be in the midst of you, and your diviners, deceive you, neither hearken ye to your dreams which ye cause to be dreamed. For they prophesy falsely unto you in my name: I have not sent them, saith the Lord. For thus saith the Lord, After seventy years be accomplished for Babylon, I will visit you, and perform my good word toward you, in causing you to return to this place. For I know the thoughts that I think toward you, saith the Lord, thoughts of peace, and not of evil, to give you hope in your latter end. And ye shall call upon me, and ye shall go and pray unto me, and I will hearken unto you. And ye shall seek me, and find me, when ye shall search for me with all your heart. And I will be found of you, saith the Lord, and I will turn again your captivity, and I will gather you from all the nations, and from all the places whither I have driven you, saith the Lord; and I will bring you again unto the place whence I caused you to be carried away captive. For ye have said, The Lord hath raised us up prophets in Babylon. For thus saith the Lord concerning the king that sitteth upon the throne of David, and concerning all the people that dwell in this city, your brethren that are not gone forth with you into captivity; thus saith the Lord of hosts: Behold, I will send upon them the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, and will make them like vile figs, that cannot be eaten, they are so bad. And I will pursue after them with the sword, with the famine, and with the pestilence, and will deliver them to be tossed to and fro among all the kingdoms of the earth, to be an execration, and an astonishment, and an hissing, and a reproach, among all the nations whither I have driven them: because they have not hearkened to my words, saith the Lord, wherewith I sent unto them my servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them; but ye would not hear, saith the Lord. Hear ye therefore the word of the Lord,

21 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, concerning Ahab the son of Kolaiah, and concerning Zedekiah the son of Maaseiah, which prophesy a lie unto you in my name: Behold, I will deliver them into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon; and he shall slay them before your eyes; and of them shall be taken up a curse by all the captives of Judah which are in Babylon, saying, The LORD make thee like Zedekiah and like Ahab, whom the king of Babylon 22 roasted in the fire: because they have wrought folly in Israel, and have committed adultery with their neighbours' wives, and have spoken words in my name falsely, which I commanded them not; and I am he that knoweth, and am witness, saith the LORD.

24 And ¹concerning Shemaiah the Nehelamite thou shalt speak, saying, Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, Because thou hast sent letters in thine own name unto all the people that are at Jerusalem, and to Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah the priest, and to all the priests, saying, The LORD hath made thee priest in the stead of Jehoiada the priest, that ye should be officers in the house of the LORD, for every man that is mad, and maketh himself a prophet, that thou shouldest put him in the stocks 26 and in ²shackles. Now therefore, why hast thou not rebuked Jeremiah of Anathoth, which maketh himself a prophet 28 to you, forasmuch as he hath sent unto us in Babylon, saying, The captivity is long: build ye houses, and dwell in them; and plant gardens, and eat 29 the fruit of them? And Zephaniah the priest read this letter in the ears of 30 Jeremiah the prophet. Then came the word of the LORD unto Jeremiah, saying, Send to all them of the captivity, saying, Thus saith the LORD concerning Shemaiah the Nehelamite: Because that Shemaiah hath prophesied unto you, and I sent him not, and he hath 32 caused you to trust in a lie; therefore thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will punish Shemaiah the Nehelamite, and his seed; he shall not have a man to dwell among this people, neither shall he behold the good that I will do unto my people, saith the LORD: because he hath spoken rebellion against the LORD.

30 The word that came to Jeremiah 2 from the LORD, saying, Thus speaketh the LORD, the God of Israel, saying, Write thee all the words that I have 3 spoken unto thee in a book. For, lo, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will ³turn again the captivity of my people Israel and Judah, saith the LORD: and I will cause them to return to the land that I gave to their fathers, and they shall possess it.

4 And these are the words that the LORD spake concerning Israel and 5 concerning Judah. For thus saith the LORD: We have heard a voice of trembling, ⁴of fear, and not of peace. Ask ye now, and see whether a man doth travail with child: wherefore do I see every man with his hands on his loins, as a woman in travail, and all faces 7 are turned into paleness? Alas! for that day is great, so that none is like it: it is even the time of Jacob's trouble; but he shall be saved out of 8 it. And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the LORD of hosts, that I will break his yoke from off thy neck, and will burst thy bands; and strangers shall no more serve themselves of him: 9 but they shall serve the LORD their God, and David their king, whom I 10 will raise up unto them. Therefore fear thou not, O Jacob my servant, saith the LORD; neither be dismayed, O Israel: for, lo, I will save thee from afar, and thy seed from the land of their captivity; and Jacob shall return, and shall be quiet and at ease, and 11 none shall make him afraid. For I am with thee, saith the LORD, to save thee; for I will make a full end of all the nations whither I have scattered thee, but I will not make a full end of thee; but I will correct thee with judgement, and will in no wise ⁵leave thee unpunished.

12 For thus saith the LORD, Thy hurt is incurable, and thy wound grievous. 13 There is none to plead ⁶thy cause, ⁷that thou mayest be bound up: thou 14 hast no healing medicines. All thy lovers have forgotten thee; they seek thee not: for I have wounded thee with the wound of an enemy, with the chastisement of a cruel one; for the ⁸greatness of thine iniquity, because 15 thy sins were increased. Why criest thou ⁹for thy hurt? thy pain is incurable: for the ⁸greatness of thine iniquity, because thy sins were increased, I have done these things 16 unto thee. Therefore all they that devour thee shall be devoured; and all thine adversaries, every one of them, shall go into captivity; and they that spoil thee shall be a spoil, and all that prey upon thee will I give for a 17 prey. For I will restore ¹⁰health unto thee, and I will heal thee of thy wounds, saith the LORD; because they have called thee an outcast, saying, It is Zion, whom no man ¹¹seeketh after. 18 Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will ⁸turn again the captivity of Jacob's tents, and have compassion on his dwelling places; and the city shall be 32 The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD in the tenth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, which was the eighteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar.

2 Now at that time the king of Babylon's army besieged Jerusalem: and Jeremiah the prophet was shut up in the court of the guard, which was in the 3 king of Judah's house. For Zedekiah king of Judah had shut him up, saying, Wherefore dost thou prophesy, and say, Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall
4 take it; and Zedekiah king of Judah shall not escape out of the hand of the Chaldeans, but shall surely be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon, and shall speak with him mouth to mouth, and his eyes shall behold
5 his eyes; and he shall lead Zedekiah to Babylon, and there shall he be until I visit him, saith the LORD: though ye fight with the Chaldeans, ye shall not prosper?

6 And Jeremiah said, The word of the LORD came unto me, saying, Behold, Hanamel the son of Shallum thine uncle shall come unto thee, saying, Buy thee my field that is in Anathoth: for the right of redemption is thine to buy it.
8 So Hanamel mine uncle's son came to me in the court of the guard according to the word of the LORD, and said unto me, Buy my field, I pray thee, that is in Anathoth, which is in the land of Benjamin: for the right of inheritance is thine, and the redemption is thine; buy it for thyself. Then I knew that this was the word of the 9 LORD. And I bought the field that was in Anathoth of Hanamel mine uncle's son, and weighed him the money, even 10 seventeen shekels of silver. And I subscribed the deed, and sealed it, and called witnesses, and weighed him the 11 money in the balances. So I took the deed of the purchase, both that which was sealed, ⁴according to the law and custom, and that which was open:
12 and I delivered the deed of the purchase unto Baruch the son of Neriah, the son of Mahseiah, in the presence of Hanamel mine uncle's son, and in the presence of the witnesses that subscribed the deed of the purchase, before all the Jews that sat in the court
13 of the guard. And I charged Baruch 14 before them, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Take these deeds, this deed of the purchase, both that which is sealed, and this deed which is open, and put them in an earthen vessel; that they may consume many days. For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Houses and fields and vineyards shall yet again be bought in this land.

16 Now after I had delivered the deed of the purchase unto Baruch the son of Neriah, I prayed unto the LORD,

17 saying, Ah Lord God! behold, thou hast made the heaven and the earth by thy great power and by thy stretched out arm; there is nothing too ¹hard

18 for thee: which shewest mercy unto thousands, and recompensest the iniquity of the fathers into the bosom of their children after them: the great, the mighty God, the LORD of hosts is

19 his name: great in counsel, and mighty in work: whose eyes are open upon all the ways of the sons of men; to give every one according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings:

20 which didst set signs and wonders in the land of Egypt, even unto this day,

²both in Israel and among other men; and madest thee a name, as at this

21 day; and didst bring forth thy people Israel out of the land of Egypt with signs, and with wonders, and with a strong hand, and with a stretched out

22 arm, and with great terror; and gavest them this land, which thou didst swear to their fathers to give them, a land

23 flowing with milk and honey; and they came in, and possessed it; but they obeyed not thy voice, neither walked in thy law; they have done nothing of all that thou commandedst them to do: therefore thou hast caused

24 all this evil to come upon them: behold the mounts, they are come unto the city to take it; and the city is given into the hand of the Chaldeans that fight against it, because of the sword, and of the famine, and of the pestilence: and what thou hast spoken is come to pass; and, behold, thou seest it. And thou hast said unto me, O Lord God, Buy thee the field for money, and call witnesses; whereas the city is given into the hand of the Chaldeans.

26 Then came the word of the LORD unto Jeremiah, saying, Behold, I am the LORD, the God of all flesh: is there any thing too hard for me?

28 Therefore thus saith the LORD: Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the Chaldeans, and into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and

29 he shall take it: and the Chaldeans, that fight against this city, shall come and set this city on fire, and burn it, with the houses, upon whose roofs they have offered incense unto Baal, and poured out drink offerings unto other gods, to provoke me to anger.

30 For the children of Israel and the children of Judah have only done that which was evil in my sight from their youth: for the children of Israel have only provoked me to anger with the work of their hands, saith the LORD.

31 For this city hath been to me a provocation of mine anger and of my fury from the day that they built it even unto this day; that I should remove

32 it from before my face: because of all the evil of the children of Israel and of the children of Judah, which they have done to provoke me to anger, they, their kings, their princes, their priests, and their prophets, and the men of Judah, and the inhabitants

33 of Jerusalem. And they have turned unto me the back, and not the face: and though I taught them, rising up early and teaching them, yet they have not hearkened to receive instruc-

34 tion. But they set their abominations in the house which is called by my

35 name, to defile it. And they built the high places of Baal, which are in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to cause their sons and their daughters to pass through the fire unto Molech; which I commanded them not, neither came it into my ³mind, that they should do this abomination; to cause Judah to sin.

36 And now therefore thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning this city, whereof ye say, It is given into the hand of the king of Babylon by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pesti-

37 lence: Behold, I will gather them out of all the countries, whither I have driven them in mine anger, and in my fury, and in great wrath; and I will bring them again unto this place, and

38 I will cause them to dwell safely: and they shall be my people, and I will be

39 their God: and I will give them one heart and one way, that they may fear me for ever; for the good of them, and

40 of their children after them: and I will make an everlasting covenant with them, that I will not turn away ⁴from them, to do them good; and I will put my fear in their hearts, that they shall

41 not depart from me. Yea, I will rejoice over them to do them good, and I will plant them in this land ⁵assuredly with my whole heart and with my

42 whole soul. For thus saith the LORD: Like as I have brought all this great evil upon this people, so will I bring upon them all the good that I have 43 promised them. And fields shall be bought in this land, whereof ye say, It is desolate, without man or beast; it is given into the hand of the Chaldeans.

44 Men shall buy fields for money, and subscribe the deeds, and seal them, and call witnesses, in the land of Benjamin, and in the places about Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, and in the cities of the hill country, and in the cities of the lowland, and in the cities of the South: for I will cause their captivity to return, saith the LORD.

- 33 Moreover the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah the second time, while he was yet shut up in the court of the guard, saying, Thus saith the LORD that doeth it, the LORD that formeth it to establish it; the LORD is his name: Call unto me, and I will answer thee, and will shew thee great things, and ¹difficult, which thou knowest not. For thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning the houses of this city, and concerning the houses of the kings of Judah, which are broken down to make a defence against the mounts, and against the sword: They come to fight with the Chaldeans, but it is to fill them with the dead bodies of men, whom I have slain in mine anger and in my fury, and for all whose wickedness I have hid my face from this city. Behold, I will bring it ²health and cure, and I will cure them; and I will reveal unto them abundance of peace and truth. And I will cause the captivity of Judah and the captivity of Israel to return, and will build them, as at the first. And I will cleanse them from all their iniquity, whereby they have sinned against me; and I will pardon all their iniquities, whereby they have sinned against me, and whereby they have transgressed against me. And this city shall be to me for a name of joy, for a praise and for a glory, before all the nations of the earth, which shall hear all the good that I do unto them, and shall fear and tremble for all the good and for all the peace that I procure unto it. Thus saith the LORD: Yet again there shall be heard in this place, whereof ye say, It is waste, without man and without beast, even in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, that are desolate, without man and without inhabitant and without beast, the voice of joy and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride, the voice of them that say, Give thanks to the LORD of hosts, for the LORD is good, for his mercy endureth for ever: and of them that bring sacrifices of thanksgiving into the house of the LORD. For I will cause the captivity of the land to return as at the first, saith the LORD. Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Yet again shall there be in this place, which is waste, without man and without beast, and in all the cities thereof, an habitation of shepherds causing their flocks to lie down. In the cities of the hill country, in the cities of the lowland, and in the cities of the South, and in the land of Benjamin, and in the places about Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, shall the flocks again pass under the hands of him that telleth them, saith the LORD.

- 14 Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will perform that good word which I have spoken concerning the house of Israel and concerning the house of Judah. In those days, and at that time, will I cause a ³Branch of righteousness to grow up unto David; and he shall execute judgement and righteousness in the land. In those days shall Judah be saved, and Jerusalem shall dwell safely: and this is the name whereby she shall be called, ⁴The LORD is our righteousness. For thus saith the LORD: ⁵David shall never want a man to sit upon the throne of the house of Israel; neither shall the priests the Levites want a man before me to offer burnt offerings, and to burn ⁶oblations, and to do sacrifice continually. And the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah, saying, Thus saith the LORD: If ye can break my covenant of the day, and my covenant of the night, so that there should not be day and night in their season; ⁷then may also my covenant be broken with David my servant, that he should not have a son to reign upon his throne; and with the Levites the priests, my ministers. As the host of heaven cannot be numbered, neither the sand of the sea measured; so will I multiply the seed of David my servant, and the Levites that minister unto me. And the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, saying, Considerest thou not what this people have spoken, saying, The two families which the LORD did choose, he hath cast them off? thus do they despise my people, that they should be no more a nation before them. Thus saith the LORD: If my covenant of day and night stand not, if I have not appointed the ordinances of heaven and earth; then will I also cast away the seed of Jacob, and of David my servant, so that I will not take of his seed to be rulers over the seed of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob: for I will ⁸cause their captivity to return, and will have mercy on them.
- 34 The word which came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and all his army, and all the kingdoms of the earth that were under his dominion, and all the peoples, fought against Jerusalem, and against all the cities thereof, saying: Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, Go, and speak to Zedekiah king of Judah, and tell him, Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire: and thou shalt not escape out of his hand, but shalt surely be taken, and delivered into his hand; and thine eyes shall behold the eyes of the king of Babylon, and he shall speak with thee mouth to mouth, and thou shalt go to Babylon. Yet hear the word of the LORD, O Zedekiah king of Judah: thus saith the LORD concerning thee, 5 Thou shalt not die by the sword; thou shalt die in peace; and with the burnings of thy fathers, the former kings which were before thee, so shall they make a burning for thee; and they shall lament thee, saying, Ah lord! for I have spoken the word, saith the LORD. Then Jeremiah the prophet spake all these words unto Zedekiah king of Judah in Jerusalem, when the king of Babylon's army fought against Jerusalem, and against all the cities of Judah that were left, against Lachish and against Azekah; for these alone remained of the cities of Judah as fenced cities.

8 The word that came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, after that the king Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people which were at Jerusalem, 9 to proclaim liberty unto them; that every man should let his manservant, and every man his maidservant, being an Hebrew or an Hebrewess, go free; that none should serve himself of them, 10 to wit, of a Jew his brother: and all the princes and all the people obeyed, which had entered into the covenant, that every one should let his manservant, and every one his maidservant, go free, that none should serve themselves of them any more; they obeyed, 11 and let them go: but afterwards they turned, and caused the servants and the handmaids, whom they had let go free, to return, and brought them into subjection for servants and for 12 handmaids: therefore the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying, Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel: I made a covenant with your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of ²bondage, 14 saying, At the end of seven years ye shall let go every man his brother that is an Hebrew, which ³hath been sold unto thee, and hath served thee six years, thou shalt let him go free from thee: but your fathers hearkened not unto me, neither inclined their ear. 15 And ye were now turned, and had done that which is right in mine eyes, in proclaiming liberty every man to his neighbour; and ye had made a covenant before me in the house which is 16 called by my name: but ye turned and profaned my name, and caused every man his servant, and every man his handmaid, whom ye had let go free at their pleasure, to return; and ye brought them into subjection, to be unto you for servants and for 17 handmaids. Therefore thus saith the LORD: Ye have not hearkened unto me, to proclaim liberty, every man to his brother, and every man to his neighbour: behold, I proclaim unto you a liberty, saith the LORD, to the sword, to the pestilence, and to the famine; and I will make you to be ⁴tossed to and fro among all the 18 kingdoms of the earth. And I will give the men that have transgressed my covenant, which have not performed the words of the covenant which they made before me, ⁵when they cut the calf in twain and passed between the 19 parts thereof; the princes of Judah, and the princes of Jerusalem, the eunuchs, and the priests, and all the people of the land, which passed between 20 the parts of the calf; I will even give them into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seek their life: and their dead bodies shall be for meat unto the fowls of the heaven, and to the beasts of the earth. 21 And Zedekiah king of Judah and his princes will I give into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seek their life, and into the hand of the king of Babylon's army, which are 22 gone up from you. Behold, I will command, saith the LORD, and cause them to return to this city; and they shall fight against it, and take it, and burn it with fire: and I will make the cities of Judah a desolation, without inhabitant.

35 The word which came unto Jeremiah from the LORD in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, 2 saying, Go unto the house of the Rechabites, and speak unto them, and bring them into the house of the LORD, into one of the chambers, and give them 3 wine to drink. Then I took Jazaniah the son of Jeremiah, the son of Habazziniah, and his brethren, and all his sons, and the whole house of the Rechabites; and I brought them into the house of the LORD, into the chamber of the sons of Hanan the son of Igddaliah, the man of God, which was by the chamber of the princes, which was above the chamber of Maaseiah the son of Shallum, the keeper of the 5 ⁶door: and I set before the sons of the house of the Rechabites bowls full of wine, and cups, and I said unto them, 6 Drink ye wine. But they said, We will drink no wine: for Jonadab the son of Rechab our father commanded us, saying, Ye shall drink no wine, neither 7 ye, nor your sons, for ever: neither shall ye build house, nor sow seed, nor plant vineyard, nor have any: but all your days ye shall dwell in tents; that ye may live many days in the land 8 wherein ye sojourn. And we have obeyed the voice of Jonadab the son of Rechab our father in all that he charged us, to drink no wine all our days, we, our wives, our sons, nor our daughters; nor to build houses for us to dwell in: neither have we vineyard, nor field, nor seed: but we have dwelt in tents, and have obeyed, and done according to all that Jonadab our father commanded us. But it came to pass, when Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon came up into the land, that we said, Come, and let us go to Jerusalem for fear of the army of the Chaldeans, and for fear of the army of the Syrians; so we dwell at Jerusalem.

12 Then came the word of the LORD unto Jeremiah, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Go, and say to the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, Will ye not receive instruction to hearken unto my words? saith the LORD. The words of Jonadab the son of Rechab, that he commanded his sons, not to drink wine, are performed, and unto this day they drink none, for they obey their father's commandment: but I have spoken unto you, rising up early and speaking; and ye have not hearkened unto me. I have sent also unto you all my servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them, saying, Return ye now every man from his evil way, and amend your doings, and go not after other gods to serve them, and ye shall dwell in the land which I have given to you and to your fathers: but ye have not inclined your ear, nor hearkened unto me. Forasmuch as the sons of Jonadab the son of Rechab have performed the commandment of their father which he commanded them, but this people hath not hearkened unto me; therefore thus saith the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will bring upon Judah and upon all the inhabitants of Jerusalem all the evil that I have pronounced against them: because I have spoken unto them, but they have not heard; and I have called unto them, but they have not answered. And Jeremiah said unto the house of the Rechabites, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Because ye have obeyed the commandment of Jonadab your father, and kept all his precepts, and done according unto all that he commanded you; therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Jonadab the son of Rechab shall not want a man to stand before me for ever.

36 And it came to pass in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, that this word came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, saying,

2 Take thee a roll of a book, and write therein all the words that I have spoken unto thee against Israel, and against Judah, and against all the nations, from the day I spake unto thee, from the days of Josiah, even unto this day.

3 It may be that the house of Judah will hear all the evil which I purpose to do unto them; that they may return every man from his evil way; that I may forgive their iniquity and their sin. Then Jeremiah called Baruch the son of Neriah; and Baruch wrote from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the LORD, which he had spoken unto him, upon a roll of a book.

5 And Jeremiah commanded Baruch, saying, I am ¹shut up; I cannot go into the house of the LORD: therefore go thou, and read in the roll, which thou hast written from my mouth, the words of the LORD in the ears of the people in the LORD's house upon ²the fast day: and also thou shalt read them in the ears of all Judah that come out of their cities. It may be ³they will present their supplication before the LORD, and will return every one from his evil way: for great is the anger and the fury that the LORD hath pronounced against this people. And Baruch the son of Neriah did according to all that Jeremiah the prophet commanded him, reading in the book the words of the LORD in the LORD's house.

9 Now it came to pass in the fifth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, in the ninth month, that all the people in Jerusalem, and all the people that came from the cities of Judah unto Jerusalem, proclaimed a fast before the LORD. Then read Baruch in the book the words of Jeremiah in the house of the LORD, in the chamber of Gemariah the son of Shaphan the scribe, in the upper court, at the entry of the new gate of the LORD's house, in the ears of all the people. And when Micaiah the son of Gemariah, the son of Shaphan, had heard out of the book all the words of the LORD, he went down into the king's house, into the scribe's chamber: and, lo, all the princes sat there, even Elishama the scribe, and Delaiah the son of Shemaiah, and Elnathan the son of Achbor, and Gemariah the son of Shaphan, and Zedekiah the son of Hananiah, and all the princes. Then Micaiah declared unto them all the words that he had heard, when Baruch read the book in the ears of the people. Therefore all the princes sent Jehudi the son of Nethaniah, the son of Shelemiah, the son of Cushi, unto Baruch, saying, Take in thine hand the roll wherein thou hast read in the ears of the people, and come. So Baruch the son of Neriah took the roll in his hand, and came 15 unto them. And they said unto him, Sit down now, and read it in our ears.

 16 So Baruch read it in their ears. Now it came to pass, when they had heard all the words, they turned in fear one toward another, and said unto Baruch, We will surely tell the king of all these 17 words. And they asked Baruch, saying, Tell us now, How didst thou write 18 all these words at his mouth? Then Baruch answered them, He pronounced all these words unto me with his mouth, and I wrote them with ink in the book.
 19 Then said the princes unto Baruch, Go, hide thee, thou and Jeremiah; and 20 let no man know where ye be. And they went in to the king into the court; but they had laid up the roll in the chamber of Elishama the scribe; and they told all the words in the ears
 21 of the king. So the king sent Jehudi to fetch the roll: and he took it out of the chamber of Elishama the scribe. And Jehudi read it in the ears of the king, and in the ears of all the princes 22 which stood beside the king. Now the king sat in the winter house in the ninth month: and there was a fire in 23 the brasier burning before him. And it came to pass, when Jehudi had read three or four ¹leaves, that the king cut it with the penknife, and cast it into the fire that was in the brasier, until all the roll was consumed in the fire 24 that was in the brasier. And they were not afraid, nor rent their garments, neither the king, nor any of his servants that heard all these words.
 25 Moreover Elnathan and Delaiah and Gemariah had made intercession to the king that he would not burn the roll: but he would not hear them. And the king commanded Jerahmeel ²the king's son, and Seraiah the son of Azriel, and Shelemiah the son of Abdeel, to take Baruch the scribe and Jeremiah the prophet: but the LORD hid them.
 27 Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, after that the king had burned the roll, and the words which Baruch wrote at the mouth of Jeremiah,
 28 saying, Take thee again another roll, and write in it all the former words that were in the first roll, which Jehoiakim the king of Judah hath 29 burned. And concerning Jehoiakim king of Judah thou shalt say, Thus saith the LORD: Thou hast burned this roll, saying, Why hast thou written therein, saying, The king of Babylon shall certainly come and destroy this land, and shall cause to cease from 30 thence man and beast? Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning Jehoiakim king of Judah: He shall have none to sit upon the throne of David: and his dead body shall be cast out in the day to the heat, and in the night to the 31 frost. And I will punish him and his seed and his servants for their iniquity; and I will bring upon them, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and upon the men of Judah, all the evil that I have pronounced against them, but 32 they hearkened not. Then took Jeremiah another roll, and gave it to Baruch the scribe, the son of Neriah; who wrote therein from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the book which Jehoiakim king of Judah had burned in the fire: and there were added besides unto them many like words.

37 And Zedekiah the son of Josiah reigned as king, instead of ³Coniah the son of Jehoiakim, whom Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon made king in the 2 land of Judah. But neither he, nor his servants, nor the people of the land, did hearken unto the words of the LORD, which he spake by the prophet Jeremiah.

3 And Zedekiah the king sent Jehucal the son of Shelemiah, and Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah the priest, to the prophet Jeremiah, saying, Pray now unto the LORD our God for us. Now Jeremiah came in and went out among the people: for they had not put him
 5 into prison. And Pharaoh's army was come forth out of Egypt: and when the Chaldeans that besieged Jerusalem heard tidings of them, they brake up 6 from Jerusalem. Then came the word of the LORD unto the prophet Jeremiah,
 7 saying, Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel: Thus shall ye say to the king of Judah, that sent ye unto me to inquire of me; Behold, Pharaoh's army, which is come forth to help you, shall return to Egypt into their own
 8 land. And the Chaldeans shall come again, and fight against this city; and they shall take it, and burn it with fire.
 9 Thus saith the LORD: Deceive not 4 yourselves, saying, The Chaldeans shall surely depart from us: for they shall 10 not depart. For though ye had smitten the whole army of the Chaldeans that fight against you, and there remained but ⁵wounded men among them, yet should they rise up every man in his tent, and burn this city with fire.

11 And it came to pass that when the army of the Chaldeans was broken up from Jerusalem for fear of Pharaoh's
 12 army, then Jeremiah went forth out of Jerusalem to go into the land of Benjamin, to receive his portion ⁶there, in 13 the midst of the people. And when he was in the gate of Benjamin, a captain of the ward was there, whose name was Irijah, the son of Shelemiah, the son of Hananiah; and he laid hold on Jeremiah the prophet, saying, Thou 14 fallest away to the Chaldeans. Then said Jeremiah, It is false; I fall not away to the Chaldeans; but he hearkened not to him: so Irijah laid hold on Jeremiah, and brought him to the 15 princes. And the princes were wroth with Jeremiah, and smote him, and put him in prison in the house of Jonathan the scribe; for they had 16 made that the prison. When Jeremiah was come into the ¹dungeon house, and into the cells, and Jeremiah had 17 remained there many days; then Zedekiah the king sent, and fetched him: and the king asked him secretly in his house, and said, Is there any word from the LORD? And Jeremiah said, There is. He said also, Thou shalt be delivered into the hand of the king 18 of Babylon. Moreover Jeremiah said unto king Zedekiah, Wherein have I sinned against thee, or against thy servants, or against this people, that ye 19 have put me in prison? Where now are your prophets which prophesied unto you, saying, The king of Babylon shall not come against you, nor against this 20 land? And now hear, I pray thee, O my lord the king: let my supplication, I pray thee, ²be accepted before thee; that thou cause me not to return to the house of Jonathan the scribe, lest 21 I die there. Then Zedekiah the king commanded, and they committed Jeremiah into the court of the guard, and they gave him daily a loaf of bread out of the bakers' street, until all the bread in the city was spent. Thus Jeremiah remained in the court of the guard.

38 And Shephatiah the son of Mattan, and Gedaliah the son of Pashhur, and Jucal the son of Shelemiah, and Pashhur the son of Malchiah, heard the words that Jeremiah spake unto all 2 the people, saying, Thus saith the LORD, He that abideth in this city shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence: but he that goeth forth to the Chaldeans shall live, and his life shall be unto him for 3 a prey, and he shall live. Thus saith the LORD, This city shall surely be given into the hand of the army of the king of Babylon, and he shall take it.

4 Then the princes said unto the king, Let this man, we pray thee, be put to death; forasmuch as he weakeneth the hands of the men of war that remain in this city, and the hands of all the people, in speaking such words unto them: for this man seeketh not the welfare of this people, but the 5 hurt. And Zedekiah the king said, Behold, he is in your hand: for the king is not he that can do any thing 6 against you. Then took they Jeremiah, and cast him into the ³dungeon of Malchiah ⁴the king's son, that was in the court of the guard: and they let down Jeremiah with cords. And in the dungeon there was no water, but mire: and Jeremiah sank in the 7 mire. Now when Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, an eunuch, which was in the king's house, heard that they had put Jeremiah in the dungeon; the king then sitting in the gate of Ben- 8 samin; Ebed-melech went forth out of the king's house, and spake to the 9 king, saying, My lord the king, these men have done evil in all that they have done to Jeremiah the prophet, whom they have cast into the dungeon; and ⁵he is like to die in the place where he is because of the famine: for there 10 is no more bread in the city. Then the king commanded Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, saying, Take from hence thirty men with thee, and take up Jeremiah the prophet out of the dun- 11 geon, before he die. So Ebed-melech took the men with him, and went into the house of the king under the treasury, and took thence old cast cloths and old rotten rags, and let them down by cords into the dungeon to Jeremiah.

12 And Ebed-melech the Ethiopian said unto Jeremiah, Put now these old cast cloths and rotten rags under thine armholes unto the cords. And Jerem- 13 iah did so. So they drew up Jeremiah with the cords, and took him up out of the dungeon: and Jeremiah remained in the court of the guard.

14 Then Zedekiah the king sent, and took Jeremiah the prophet unto him into the third entry that is in the house of the LORD: and the king said unto Jeremiah, I will ask thee a thing; 15 hide nothing from me. Then Jeremiah said unto Zedekiah, If I declare it unto thee, wilt thou not surely put me to death? and if I give thee counsel, thou 16 wilt not hearken unto me. So Zedekiah the king sware secretly unto Jeremiah, saying, As the LORD liveth, that made us this soul, I will not put thee to death, neither will I give thee into the hand 17 of these men that seek thy life. Then said Jeremiah unto Zedekiah, Thus saith the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: If thou wilt go forth unto the king of Babylon's princes, then thy soul shall live, and this city shall not be burned with fire; and 18 thou shalt live, and thine house: but if thou wilt not go forth to the king of Babylon's princes, then shall this city be given into the hand of the Chal- 19 deans, and they shall burn it with fire, and thou shalt not escape out of their hand. And Zedekiah the king said unto Jeremiah, I am afraid of the Jews that are fallen away to the Chal- 20 deans, lest they deliver me into their hand, and they mock me. But Jerem- iah said, They shall not deliver thee. Obey, I beseech thee, the voice of the LORD, in that which I speak unto thee: so it shall be well with thee, and thy

 22 LORD hath shewed me: Behold, all the women that are left in the king of Judah's house shall be brought forth to the king of Babylon's princes, and those women shall say, ¹Thy familiar friends have ²set thee on, and have prevailed over thee: now that thy feet are sunk in the mire, they are turned 23 away back. And they shall bring out all thy wives and thy children to the Chaldeans: and thou shalt not escape out of their hand, but shalt be taken by the hand of the king of Babylon: and ³thou shalt cause this city to be 24 burned with fire. Then said Zedekiah unto Jeremiah, Let no man know of these words, and thou shalt not die.
 25 But if the princes hear that I have talked with thee, and they come unto thee, and say unto thee, Declare unto us now what thou hast said unto the king; hide it not from us, and we will not put thee to death: also what the 26 king said unto thee: then thou shalt say unto them, I ⁴presented my supplication before the king, that he would not cause me to return to 27 Jonathan's house, to die there. Then came all the princes unto Jeremiah, and asked him: and he told them according to all these words that the king had commanded. So they left off speaking with him; for the matter
 28 was not ⁵perceived. So Jeremiah abode in the court of the guard until the day that Jerusalem was taken.

And it came to pass when Jerusalem was taken, ⁶(in the ninth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the tenth month, came Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon and all his army against
 2 Jerusalem, and besieged it; in the eleventh year of Zedekiah, in the fourth month, the ninth day of the month,
 3 a breach was made in the city:) that all the princes of the king of Babylon came in, and sat in the middle gate, even Nergal-sharezer, Samgar-nebo, Sarsechim, ⁷Rab-saris, Nergal-sharezer, ⁷Rab-mag, with all the rest of the princes of the king of Babylon.

4 And it came to pass that when Zedekiah the king of Judah and all the men of war saw them, then they fled, and went forth out of the city by night, by the way of the king's garden, by the gate betwixt the two walls: and he went out the way of the Arabah.
 5 But the army of the Chaldeans pursued after them, and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho: and when they had taken him, they brought him up to Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon to Riblah in the land of Hamath, and he

6 gave judgement upon him. Then the king of Babylon slew the sons of Zedekiah in Riblah before his eyes: also the king of Babylon slew all the nobles

 7 of Judah. Moreover he put out Zedekiah's eyes, and bound him in fetters,
 8 to carry him to Babylon. And the Chaldeans burned the king's house, and the houses of the people, with fire, and brake down the walls of Jerusalem.
 9 Then Nebuzaradan the ⁹captain of the guard carried away captive into Babylon the residue of the people that remained in the city, the deserters also, that fell away to him, and the residue of the people that remained.
 10 But Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard left of the poor of the people, which had nothing, in the land of Judah, and gave them vineyards and fields at the same time.
 11 Now Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon gave charge concerning Jeremiah to Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard, 12 saying, Take him, and look well to him, and do him no harm; but do unto him even as he shall say unto 13 thee. So Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard sent, and Nebushazban, Rab-saris, and Nergal-sharezer, Rab-mag, and all the chief officers of the 14 king of Babylon; they sent, and took Jeremiah out of the court of the guard, and committed him unto Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, that he should carry him home: so he dwelt among the people.

15 Now the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah, while he was shut up in the 16 court of the guard, saying, Go, and speak to Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will bring my words upon this city for evil, and not for good; and they ¹⁰shall be accomplished before 17 thee in that day. But I will deliver thee in that day, saith the LORD: and thou shalt not be given into the hand of the 18 men of whom thou art afraid. For I will surely save thee, and thou shalt not fall by the sword, but thy life shall be for a prey unto thee: because thou hast put thy trust in me, saith the LORD.

40 The word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD, after that Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had let him go from Ramah, when he had taken him being bound in chains among all the captives of Jerusalem and Judah, which were carried away
 2 captive unto Babylon. And the captain of the guard took Jeremiah, and said unto him, The LORD thy God pronounced this evil upon this place: and the LORD hath brought it, and done according as he spake; because ye have sinned against the LORD, and have not obeyed his voice, therefore 4 this thing is come upon you. And now, behold, I loose thee this day from the chains which are upon thine hand.

If it seem good unto thee to come with me into Babylon, come, and I will look well unto thee; but if it seem ill unto thee to come with me into Babylon, forbear: behold, all the land is before thee; whither it seemeth good and ¹convenient unto thee to go, thither ⁵go. Now while he was not yet gone back, Go back then, said he, to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, whom the king of Babylon hath made governor over the cities of Judah, and dwell with him among the people: or go wheresoever it seemeth ¹convenient unto thee to go. So the captain of the guard gave him ²virtuals ⁶and a present, and let him go. Then went Jeremiah unto Gedaliah the son of Ahikam to Mizpah, and dwelt with him among the people that were left in the land.

⁷ ³Now when all the captains of the forces which were in the fields, even they and their men, heard that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah the son of Ahikam governor in the land, and had committed unto him men, and women, and children, ⁴and of the poorest of the land, of them that were not carried away captive to ⁸Babylon; then they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, even Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and Johanan and Jonathan the sons of Kareah, and Seraiah the son of Tanhumeth, and the sons of Ephai the Netophathite, and Jezaniah the son of the Maacathite, they and ⁹their men. And Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan sware unto them and to their men, saying, Fear not to serve the Chaldeans: dwell in the land, and serve the king of Babylon, and it shall be well with you. As for me, behold, I will dwell at Mizpah, to stand before the Chaldeans, which shall come unto us: but ye, gather ye wine and summer fruits and oil, and put them in your vessels, and dwell in your cities that ye have taken.

¹¹ Likewise when all the Jews that were in Moab, and among the children of Ammon, and in Edom, and that were in all the countries, heard that the king of Babylon had left a remnant of Judah, and that he had set over them Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son ¹²of Shaphan; then all the Jews returned out of all places whither they were driven, and came to the land of Judah, to Gedaliah, unto Mizpah, and gathered wine and summer fruits very much.

¹³ Moreover Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were in the fields, came to Gedaliah to ¹⁴Mizpah, and said unto him, Dost thou know that Baalis the king of the children of Ammon hath sent Ishmael the son of Nethaniah to take thy life? But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam believed ¹⁵them not. Then Johanan the son of Kareah spake to Gedaliah in Mizpah secretly, saying, Let me go, I pray thee, and I will slay Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and no man shall know it: wherefore should he take thy life, that all the Jews which are gathered unto thee should be scattered, and the remnant of Judah perish? But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam said unto Johanan the son of Kareah, Thou shalt not do this thing: for thou speakest falsely of Ishmael.

⁴¹ ⁵Now it came to pass in the seventh month, that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, the son of Elishama, of the seed royal, and one of the chief officers of the king, and ten men with him, came unto Gedaliah the son of Ahikam to Mizpah; and there they did eat ²bread together in Mizpah. Then arose Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and the ten men that were with him, and smote Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan with the sword, and slew him, whom the king of Babylon had made ³governor over the land. Ishmael also slew all the Jews that were with him, even with Gedaliah, at Mizpah, and the Chaldeans that were found there, even ⁴the men of war. And it came to pass the second day after he had slain Gedaliah, and no man knew it, that there came certain from Shechem, from Shiloh, and from Samaria, even fourscore men, having their beards shaven and their clothes rent, and having cut themselves, with ⁶oblations and frankincense in their hand, to bring them to the house ⁶of the Lord. And Ishmael the son of Nethaniah went forth from Mizpah to meet them, weeping all along as he went: and it came to pass, as he met them, he said unto them, Come to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam. And it was so, when they came into the midst of the city, that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah slew them, and cast them into the midst of the pit, he, and the ⁸men that were with him. But ten men were found among them that said unto Ishmael, Slay us not: for we have stores hidden in the field, of wheat, and of barley, and of oil, and of honey. So he forbore, and slew them not among ⁹their brethren. Now the pit wherein Ishmael cast all the dead bodies of the men whom he had slain, by the side of Gedaliah, (the same was that which Asa the king had made for fear of Baasha king of Israel,) Ishmael the son of Nethaniah filled it with them ¹⁰that were slain. Then Ishmael carried away captive all the residue of the people that were in Mizpah, even the king's daughters, and all the people that remained in Mizpah, whom Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had committed

11 But when Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, heard of all the evil that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had done, then they took all the men, and went to fight with Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and found him by the great waters that are in Gibeon. Now it came to pass that when all the people which were with Ishmael saw Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, then they were glad. So all the people that Ishmael had carried away captive from Mizpah cast about and returned, and went unto Johanan the son of Kareah. But Ishmael the son of Nethaniah escaped from Johanan with eight men, and went to the children of Ammon. Then took Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, all the remnant of the people whom he had recovered from Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, from Mizpah, after that he had slain Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, even the men of war, and the women, and the children, and the eunuchs, whom he had brought again from Gibeon: and they departed, and dwelt in ¹Geruth Chimham, which is by Beth-lehem, to go to enter into Egypt, because of the Chaldeans: for they were afraid of them, because Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had slain Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, whom the king of Babylon made governor over the land.

42 Then all the captains of the forces, and Johanan the son of Kareah, and ²Jezaniah the son of Hoshaiah, and all the people from the least even unto the greatest, came near, and said unto Jeremiah the prophet, Let, we pray thee, our supplication ³be accepted before thee, and pray for us unto the LORD thy God, even for all this remnant: for we are left but a few of many, as thine eyes do behold ³us: that the LORD thy God may shew us the way wherein we should walk, and the thing that we should do. ⁴Then Jeremiah the prophet said unto them, I have heard you; behold, I will pray unto the LORD your God according to your words; and it shall come to pass that whatsoever thing the LORD shall answer you, I will declare it unto you; I will keep nothing back ⁵from you. Then they said to Jeremiah, The LORD be a true and faithful witness ⁴amongst us, if we do not even according to all the word wherewith the LORD thy God shall send thee to ⁶us. Whether it be good, or whether it be evil, we will obey the voice of the LORD our God, to whom we send thee; that it may be well with us, when we obey the voice of the LORD our God.

7 And it came to pass after ten days, that the word of the LORD came unto ⁸Jeremiah. Then called he Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces which were with him, and all the people from the least even to the greatest, and said unto them, Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, unto whom ye sent me to ⁵present ¹⁰your supplication before him: If ye will still abide in this land, then will I build you, and not pull you down, and I will plant you, and not pluck you up: for I repent me of the evil that I ¹¹have done unto you. Be not afraid of the king of Babylon, of whom ye are afraid; be not afraid of him, saith the LORD: for I am with you to save you, ¹²and to deliver you from his hand. And I will grant you mercy, that he may have mercy upon you, and cause you ¹³to return to your own land. But if ye say, We will not dwell in this land; so that ye obey not the voice of the LORD ¹⁴your God; saying, No; but we will go into the land of Egypt, where we shall see no war, nor hear the sound of the trumpet, nor have hunger of bread; ¹⁵and there will we dwell: now therefore hear ye the word of the LORD, O remnant of Judah: thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, If ye wholly set your faces to enter into Egypt, ¹⁶and go to sojourn there; then it shall come to pass, that the sword, which ye fear, shall overtake you there in the land of Egypt, and the famine, whereof ye are afraid, ⁶shall follow hard after you there in Egypt; and ¹⁷there ye shall die. So shall it be with all the men that set their faces to go into Egypt to sojourn there; they shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence: and none of them shall remain or escape from the evil ¹⁸that I will bring upon them. For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; As mine anger and my fury hath been poured forth upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, so shall my fury be poured forth upon you, when ye shall enter into Egypt: and ye shall be an execration, and an astonishment, and a curse, and a reproach; and ye ¹⁹shall see this place no more. The LORD hath spoken concerning you, O remnant of Judah, Go ye not into Egypt: know certainly that I have testified unto you this day. For ye have dealt deceitfully ⁷against your own souls; for ye sent me unto the LORD your God, saying, Pray for us unto the LORD our God; and according unto all that the LORD our God shall say, so

43 And it came to pass that when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking unto all the people all the words of the LORD their God, wherewith the LORD their God had sent him to them,
2 even all these words, then spake Azariah the son of Hoshaiiah, and Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the proud men, saying unto Jeremiah, Thou speakest falsely: the LORD our God hath not sent thee to say, Ye shall not
3 go into Egypt to sojourn there: but Baruch the son of Neriah setteth thee on against us, for to deliver us into the hand of the Chaldeans, that they may put us to death, and carry us away
4 captives to Babylon. So Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces, and all the people, obeyed not the voice of the LORD, to dwell in
5 the land of Judah. But Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces, took all the remnant of Judah, that were returned from all the nations whither they had been driven
6 to sojourn in the land of Judah; the men, and the women, and the children, and the king's daughters, and every person that Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had left with Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, and Jeremiah the prophet, and Baruch
7 the son of Neriah; and they came into the land of Egypt; for they obeyed not the voice of the LORD: and they came 8 seven to Tahpanhes. Then came the word of the LORD unto Jeremiah in 9 Tahpanhes, saying, Take great stones in thine hand, and ¹hide them in mortar in the brickwork, which is at the entry of Pharaoh's house in Tahpanhes, in the sight of the men of 10 Judah; and say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will send and take Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon, my servant, and will set his throne upon these stones that I have hid; and he shall spread his ²royal pavilion over 11 them. And he shall come, and shall smite the land of Egypt; such as are for death shall be given to death, and such as are for captivity to captivity, and such as are for the sword to the 12 sword. And I will kindle a fire in the houses of the gods of Egypt; and he shall burn them, and carry them away captives: and he shall array himself with the land of Egypt, as a shepherd putteth on his garment; and he shall

13 go forth from thence in peace. He shall also break the ³pillars of ⁴Bethshemesh, that is in the land of Egypt; and the houses of the gods of Egypt shall he burn with fire.

44 The word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the Jews which dwelt in the land of Egypt, which dwelt at Migdol, and at Tahpanhes, and at Noph, and in the country of Pathros,
2 saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Ye have seen all the evil that I have brought upon Jerusalem, and upon all the cities of Judah; and, behold, this day they are a desolation, and no man dwelleth therein;
3 because of their wickedness which they have committed to provoke me to anger, in that they went to burn incense, and to serve other gods, whom they knew not, neither they,
4 nor ye, nor your fathers. Howbeit I sent unto you all my servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them, saying, Oh, do not this abominable thing that I hate. But they hearkened not, nor inclined their ear to turn from their wickedness, to burn
6 no incense unto other gods. Wherefore my fury and mine anger was poured forth, and was kindled in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem; and they are wasted and
7 desolate, as it is this day. Therefore now thus saith the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: Wherefore commit ye this great evil against your own souls, to cut off from you man and woman, infant and suckling, out of the midst of Judah, to leave you none
8 remaining; in that ye provoke me unto anger with the works of your hands, burning incense unto other gods in the land of Egypt, whither ye be gone to sojourn; that ye may be cut off, and that ye may be a curse and a reproach among all the nations of the earth?
9 Have ye forgotten the wickedness of your fathers, and the wickedness of the kings of Judah, and the wickedness of their wives, and your own wickedness, and the wickedness of your wives, which they committed in the land of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem? They are not humbled even unto this day, neither have they feared, nor walked in my law, nor in my statutes, that I set before you and 11 before your fathers. Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will set my face against you for evil, even to cut off all 12 Judah. And I will take the remnant of Judah, that have set their faces to go into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, and they shall all be consumed; in the land of Egypt shall they fall; they shall be consumed by the sword and by the famine; they shall die, from the least even unto the greatest, by the sword and by the famine: and they shall be an execration, and an astonishment, and a curse, and a reproach.

13 For I will punish them that dwell in the land of Egypt, as I have punished Jerusalem, by the sword, by the famine, 14 and by the pestilence: so that none of the remnant of Judah, which are gone into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, shall escape or remain, that they should return into the land of Judah, to the which they¹ have a desire to return to dwell there: for none shall return save such as shall escape.

15 Then all the men which knew that their wives burned incense unto other gods, and all the women that stood by, a great assembly, even all the people that dwelt in the land of Egypt, in Pathros, answered Jeremiah, saying,

16 As for the word that thou hast spoken unto us in the name of the LORD, we

17 will not hearken unto thee. But we will certainly perform every word that is gone forth out of our mouth, to burn incense unto the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto her, as we have done, we and our fathers, our kings and our princes, in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem: for then had we plenty of² victuals, and were well, and saw no evil.

18 But since we left off to burn incense to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto her, we have wanted all things, and have been consumed by the sword and by the famine.

19 And when we burned incense to the queen of heaven, and poured out drink offerings unto her, did we make her cakes to³ worship her, and pour out drink offerings unto her, with-

20 out our husbands? Then Jeremiah said unto all the people, to the men, and to the women, even to all the people which had given him

21 that answer, saying, The incense that ye burned in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, ye and your fathers, your kings and your princes, and the people of the land, did not the LORD remember them, and came it not into his mind?

22 So that the LORD could no longer bear, because of the evil of your doings, and because of the abominations which ye have committed; therefore is your land become a desolation, and an astonishment, and a curse, without inhabitant, as it is this day.

23 Because ye have burned incense, and because ye have sinned against the LORD, and have not obeyed the voice of the LORD, nor walked in his law, nor in his statutes, nor in his testimonies; therefore this evil is happened unto you, as it is this day.

24 Moreover Jeremiah said unto all the people, and to all the women, Hear the word of the LORD, all Judah that are

25 in the land of Egypt: thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saying: Ye and your wives have both spoken with your mouths, and with your hands have fulfilled it, saying, We will surely perform our vows that we have vowed, to burn incense to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto her: establish then your vows, and

26 perform your vows. Therefore hear ye the word of the LORD, all Judah that dwell in the land of Egypt: Behold, I have sworn by my great name, saith the LORD, that my name shall no more be named in the mouth of any man of Judah in all the land of Egypt, saying, As

27 the LORD God liveth. Behold, I watch over them for evil, and not for good: and all the men of Judah that are in the land of Egypt shall be consumed by the sword and by the famine, until

28 there be an end of them. And they that escape the sword shall return out of the land of Egypt into the land of Judah, few in number; and all the remnant of Judah, that are gone into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, shall know whose word shall stand,

29 mine, or theirs. And this shall be the sign unto you, saith the LORD, that I will punish you in this place, that ye may know that my words shall surely stand against you for evil: thus saith the LORD: Behold, I will give Pharaoh Hophra king of Egypt into the hand of his enemies, and into the hand of them that seek his life; as I gave Zedekiah king of Judah into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, his enemy, and that sought his life.

45 The word that Jeremiah the prophet spake unto Baruch the son of Neriah, when he wrote these words in a book at the mouth of Jeremiah, in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah,

2 king of Judah, saying, Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel,⁴ unto thee, O

3 Baruch: Thou didst say, Woe is me now! for the LORD hath added sorrow to my pain; ⁵I am weary with my

4 groaning, and I find no rest. Thus shalt thou say unto him, Thus saith the LORD: Behold, that which I have built will I break down, and that which I have planted I will pluck

5 up; and this in the whole land. And seekest thou great things for thyself? seek them not: for, behold, I will bring evil upon all flesh, saith the LORD: but thy life will I give unto thee for a prey in all places whither thou goest.

2 Of Egypt: concerning the army of Pharaoh-neco king of Egypt, which was by the river Euphrates in Carmemish, which Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon smote in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah.

3 Order ye the buckler and shield, and draw near to battle. Harness the horses, and get up, ye horsemen, and stand forth with your helmets; furbish the spears, put on the coats of mail. 5 Wherefore have I seen it? they are dismayed and are turned backward; and their mighty ones are beaten down, and are fled apace, and look not back: terror is on every side, saith

6 the LORD. Let not the swift flee away, nor the mighty man escape; in the north by the river Euphrates have 7 they stumbled and fallen. 1 Who is this that riseth up like the Nile, whose waters toss themselves like the rivers?

8 Egypt riseth up like the Nile, and his waters toss themselves like the rivers: and he saith, I will rise up, I will cover the earth; I will destroy the city and 9 the inhabitants thereof. Go up, ye horses; and rage, ye chariots; and let the mighty men go forth: Cush and Put, that handle the shield; and the Ludim,

10 that handle and bend the bow. For that day is a day of the LORD, the LORD of hosts, a day of vengeance, that he may avenge him of his adversaries: and the sword shall devour and be satiate, and shall drink its fill of their blood: for the LORD, the LORD of hosts, hath a sacrifice in the north country

11 by the river Euphrates. Go up into Gilead, and take balm, O virgin daughter of Egypt: in vain dost thou use many medicines; there is no healing 12 for thee. The nations have heard of thy shame, and the earth is full of thy cry: for the mighty man hath stumbled against the mighty, they are fallen both of them together.

13 The word that the LORD spake to Jeremiah the prophet, how that Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon should come and smite the land of Egypt.

14 Declare ye in Egypt, and publish in Migdol, and publish in Noph and in Tahpanhes: say ye, Stand forth, and prepare thee; for the sword hath 15 devoured round about thee. 2 Why are thy strong ones swept away? they stood not, because the LORD did 3 drive 16 them. He made many to stumble, yea, they fell one upon another: and they said, Arise, and let us go again to our own people, and to the land of our nativity, from the oppressing

17 sword. They cried there, Pharaoh king of Egypt is but a noise; he hath 18 let the appointed time pass by. As I live, saith the King, whose name is the LORD of hosts, surely like Tabor among the mountains, and like Carmel by the sea, so shall he come. 4 O thou daughter that dwellest in Egypt, 5 furnish thyself to go into captivity: for Noph shall become a desolation, and shall be burnt up, without inhabit-

20 ant. Egypt is a very fair heifer; but 6 destruction out of the north is come, 21 7 it is come. Also her hired men in the midst of her are like calves of the stall; for they also are turned back, they are fled away together, they did not stand: for the day of their calamity is come upon them, the time of

22 their visitation. 8 The sound thereof shall go like the serpent; for they shall march with an army, and come against her with axes, as hewers of 23 wood. They shall cut down her forest, saith the LORD, 9 though it cannot be searched; because they are more than

24 the locusts, and are innumerable. The daughter of Egypt shall be put to shame; she shall be delivered into the 25 hand of the people of the north. The LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saith: Behold, I will punish Amon of No, and Pharaoh, and Egypt, with her gods, and her kings; even Pharaoh, and

26 them that trust in him: and I will deliver them into the hand of those that seek their lives, and into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of his servants: and afterwards it shall be inhabited, as in

27 the days of old, saith the LORD. 10 But fear not thou, O Jacob my servant, neither be dismayed, O Israel: for, lo, I will save thee from afar, and thy seed from the land of their captivity; and Jacob shall return, and shall be quiet and at ease, and none shall make

28 him afraid. Fear not thou, O Jacob my servant, saith the LORD; for I am with thee: for I will make a full end of all the nations whither I have driven thee, but I will not make a full end of thee; but I will correct thee with judgement, and will in no wise 11 leave thee unpunished.

47 The word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah the prophet concerning the Philistines, before that Pharaoh smote Gaza.

2 Thus saith the LORD: Behold, waters rise up out of the north, and shall become an overflowing stream, and shall overflow the land and all that is therein, the city and them that dwell therein: and the men shall cry, and all the inhabitants of the land shall howl.

3 At the noise of the stamping of the hoofs of his strong ones, at the rushing of his chariots, at the rumbling of his wheels, the fathers look not back to their children for feebleness of hands; because of the day that cometh to spoil all the Philistines, to cut off from Tyre and saith the LORD, him that offereth in the high place, and him that burneth incense to his gods. Therefore mine heart soundeth for Moab like pipes, and mine heart soundeth like pipes for the men of Kir-heres: therefore the abundance that he hath gotten is perished. For every head is bald, and every beard clipped; upon all the hands are cuttings, and upon the loins sackcloth. On all the house-tops of Moab and in the streets thereof there is lamentation every where: for I have broken Moab like a vessel wherein is no pleasure, saith the LORD.

39 How is it broken down! ¹How do they howl! how hath Moab turned the back with shame! so shall Moab become a derision and a dismaying to all that are round about him. For thus saith the LORD: Behold, he shall fly as an eagle, and shall spread out his wings against Moab. ²Kerioth is taken, and the strong holds are surprised, and the heart of the mighty men of Moab at that day shall be as the heart of a woman in her pangs.

42 And Moab shall be destroyed from being a people, because he hath magnified himself against the LORD. ³Fear, and the pit, and the snare, are upon thee, O inhabitant of Moab, saith the LORD. He that fleeth from the fear shall fall into the pit; and he that getteth up out of the pit shall be taken in the snare: for I will bring upon her, even upon Moab, the year of their

45 visitation, saith the LORD. ⁴They that fled stand without strength under the shadow of Heshbon: ⁵for a fire is gone forth out of Heshbon, and a flame from the midst of Sihon, and hath devoured the corner of Moab, and the crown of the head of the tumultuous ones. Woe unto thee, O Moab! the people of Chemosh is undone: for thy sons are taken away captive, and thy daughters into captivity. Yet will I ⁶bring again the captivity of Moab in the latter days, saith the LORD. Thus far is the judgement of Moab.

49 Of the children of Ammon. Thus saith the LORD: Hath Israel no sons? hath he no heir? why then doth ⁷Malcam ⁸possess Gad, and his people dwell in the cities thereof? Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will cause an alarm of war to be heard against Rabbah of the children of Ammon; and it shall become a desolate ⁹heap, and her daughters shall be burned with fire: then shall Israel ⁸possess them that did ⁸possess him, saith the LORD. Howl, O Heshbon, for Ai is spoiled; cry, ye daughters of Rabbah, gird you with sackcloth: lament, and run to and fro among the fences; for ⁷Malcam shall go into captivity, his priests and his princes together. ¹⁰Wherefore gloriest thou in the valleys, thy flowing valley, O backsliding daughter? that trusted in her treasures, saying, Who shall come unto me? Behold, I will bring a fear upon thee, saith the LORD, the LORD of hosts, from all that are round about thee; and ye shall be driven out every man right forth, and there shall be none to gather up him that wandereth. But afterward I will bring again the captivity of the children of Ammon, saith the LORD.

7 Of Edom. Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Is wisdom no more in Teman? is counsel perished from the prudent? is their wisdom vanished? Flee ye, turn back, dwell deep, O inhabitants of Dedan; for I will bring the calamity of Esau upon him, the time that I shall visit him. If grapegatherers came to thee, ¹¹would they not leave some gleanings? if thieves by night, would they not destroy till they had enough? But I have made Esau bare, I have uncovered his secret places, and he shall not be able to hide himself: his seed is spoiled, and his brethren, and his neighbours, and he is not. Leave thy fatherless children, I will preserve them alive; and let thy widows trust in me. For thus saith the LORD: Behold, they ¹²to whom it pertained not to drink of the cup shall assuredly drink; and art thou he that shall altogether go unpunished? thou shalt not go unpunished, but thou shalt surely drink.

13 For I have sworn by myself, saith the LORD, that Bozrah shall become an astonishment, a reproach, a waste, and a curse; and all the cities thereof shall be perpetual wastes. ¹³I have heard tidings from the LORD, and an ambassador is sent among the nations, saying, Gather yourselves together, and come against her, and rise up to the battle. For, behold, I have made thee small among the nations, and despised among men. As for thy terrible-ness, the pride of thine heart hath deceived thee, O thou that dwellest in the clefts of ¹⁴the rock, that holdest the height of the hill: though thou shouldst make thy nest as high as the eagle, I will bring thee down from thence, saith the LORD. And Edom shall become an astonishment: every one that passeth by it shall be astonished, and shall hiss at all the plagues thereof. As in the overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrah and the neighbour cities thereof, saith the LORD, no man shall dwell there, neither shall any son of man sojourn therein. Behold, he shall come up like a lion from the ¹⁵pride of Jordan ¹⁶against the strong habitation:

Thus saith the LORD: Arise ye, go up to Kedar, and spoil the children
29 of the east. Their tents and their flocks shall they take; they shall carry away for themselves their curtains, and all their vessels, and their camels: and they shall cry unto them, Terror
30 on every side. Flee ye, wander far off, dwell deep, O ye inhabitants of Hazor, saith the LORD; for Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon hath taken counsel against you, and hath conceived a purpose against you. Arise, get you up unto a nation that is at ease, that dwelleth without care, saith the LORD; which have neither gates 32 nor bars, which dwell alone. And their camels shall be a booty, and the multitude of their cattle a spoil: and I will scatter unto all winds them that have the corners of their hair polled; and I will bring their calamity from every side of them, saith the LORD.
33 And Hazor shall be a dwelling place of jackals, a desolation for ever: no man shall dwell there, neither shall any son of man sojourn therein.

37 outcasts of Elam shall not come. And I will cause Elam to be dismayed before their enemies, and before them that seek their life: and I will bring evil upon them, even my fierce anger, saith the LORD; and I will send the sword after them, till I have consumed 38 them: and I will set my throne in Elam, and will destroy from thence 39 king and princes, saith the LORD. But it shall come to pass in the latter days, that I will bring again the captivity of Elam, saith the LORD.

50 The word that the LORD spake concerning Babylon, concerning the land of the Chaldeans, by Jeremiah the prophet.

2 Declare ye among the nations and publish, and set up a standard; publish, and conceal not: say, Babylon is taken, Bel is put to shame, Merodach is⁷ dismayed; her images are put to
3 shame, her idols are⁷ dismayed. For out of the north there cometh up a nation against her, which shall make her land desolate, and none shall dwell therein: they are fled, they are gone,
4 both man and beast. In those days, and in that time, saith the LORD, the children of Israel shall come, they and the children of Judah together; they shall go on their way weeping, and 5 shall seek the LORD their God. They shall inquire concerning Zion with their faces⁸ thitherward, saying, Come ye, and⁹ join yourselves to the LORD in an everlasting covenant that shall not be forgotten.

6 My people hath been lost sheep: their shepherds have caused them to go astray, they have turned them away on the mountains: they have gone from mountain to hill, they have forgotten their resting place. All that found them have devoured them: and their adversaries said, We offend not, because they have sinned against the LORD, the habitation of justice, even the LORD,
8 the hope of their fathers. Flee out of the midst of Babylon, and go forth out of the land of the Chaldeans, and be as 9 the he-goats before the flocks. For, lo, I will stir up and cause to come up against Babylon an assembly of great nations from the north country: and they shall set themselves in array against her; from thence she shall be taken: their arrows shall be as of ¹an expert mighty man; ²none shall return in vain. And Chaldea shall be a spoil: all that spoil her shall be satisfied, saith the LORD. Because ye are glad, because ye rejoice, O ye that plunder mine heritage, because ye are wanton as an heifer ³that treadeth out the corn, and neigh as strong horses; your mother shall be sore ashamed; she that bare you shall be confounded: behold, she shall be the hindmost of the nations, a wilderness, a dry land, and a desert. Because of the wrath of the LORD it shall not be inhabited, but it shall be wholly desolate: every one that goeth by Babylon shall be astonished, and hiss at all her plagues. Set yourselves in array against Babylon round about, all ye that bend the bow; shoot at her, spare no arrows: for she hath sinned against the LORD. Shout against her round about; she hath ⁴submitted herself; her bulwarks are fallen, her walls are thrown down: for it is the vengeance of the LORD; take vengeance upon her; as she hath done, so do unto her. Cut off the sower from Babylon, and him that handleth the sickle in the time of harvest: for fear of the oppressing sword they shall turn every one to his people, and they shall flee every one to his own land.

17 Israel is a scattered sheep; the lions have driven him away: first the king of Assyria hath devoured him; and last this Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon hath broken his bones. Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will punish the king of Babylon and his land, as I have punished the king of Assyria. And I will bring Israel again to his ⁵pasture, and he shall feed on Carmel and Bashan, and his soul shall be satisfied upon the hills of Ephraim and in Gilead. In those days, and in that time, saith the LORD, the iniquity of Israel shall be sought for, and there shall be none; and the sins of Judah, and they shall not be found: for I will pardon them whom I leave as a remnant.

21 Go up against the land of ⁶Merathaim, even against it, and against the inhabitants of ⁷Pekod: slay and ⁸utterly destroy after them, saith the LORD, and do according to all that I have commanded thee. A sound of battle is in the land, and of great destruction. How is the hammer of the whole earth cut asunder and broken! how is Babylon become a desolation ⁹among the nations! I have laid a snare for thee, and thou art also taken, O Babylon, and thou wast not aware: thou art found, and also caught, because

25 thou hast striven against the LORD. The LORD hath opened his armoury, and hath brought forth the weapons of his indignation: for the LORD, the LORD of hosts, hath a work to do in the land of the Chaldeans. Come against her ⁹from the utmost border, open her ¹⁰storehouses: cast her up as heaps, and ¹¹destroy her utterly: let nothing of her be left. Slay all her bullocks; let them go down to the slaughter: woe unto them! for their day is come, the time of their visitation. The voice of them that flee and escape out of the land of Babylon, to declare in Zion the vengeance of the LORD our God, the vengeance of his temple. Call together ¹²the archers against Babylon, all them that bend the bow; camp against her round about; let none thereof escape: recompense her according to her work; according to all that she hath done, do unto her: for she hath been proud against the LORD, against the Holy One of Israel. Therefore shall her young men fall in her streets, and all her men of war shall be brought to silence in that day, saith the LORD. Behold, I am against thee, ¹³O thou proud one, saith the LORD, the LORD of hosts: for thy day is come, the time that I will visit thee. And ¹⁴the proud one shall stumble and fall, and none shall raise him up: and I will kindle a fire in his cities, and it shall devour all that are round about him.

33 Thus saith the LORD of hosts: The children of Israel and the children of Judah are oppressed together: and all that took them captives hold them fast; they refuse to let them go. Their redeemer is strong; the LORD of hosts is his name: he shall thoroughly plead their cause, that he may give rest to the earth, and disquiet the inhabitants of Babylon. A sword is upon the Chaldeans, saith the LORD, and upon the inhabitants of Babylon, and upon her princes, and upon her wise men.

36 A sword is upon the ¹⁵boasters, and they shall dote: a sword is upon her mighty men, and they shall be dismayed. A sword is upon their horses, and upon their chariots, and upon all the mingled people that are in the midst of her, and they shall become as women: a sword is upon her treasures, and they shall be robbed. A drought is upon her waters, and they shall be dried up: for it is a land of graven images, and they are mad upon ¹⁶idols.

39 ¹⁷Therefore the wild beasts of the desert with the ¹⁸wolves shall dwell there, and the ostriches shall dwell therein: and it shall be no more inhabited for ever; neither shall it be dwelt in from generation to generation.  29 land of his dominion. And the land trembleth and is in pain: for the purposes of the LORD against Babylon do stand, to make the land of Babylon a 30 desolation, without inhabitant. The mighty men of Babylon have forborne to fight, they remain in their strong holds; their might hath failed; they are become as women: her dwelling places are set on fire; her bars are 31 broken. One post shall run to meet another, and one messenger to meet another, to shew the king of Babylon that his city is taken on every quarter:
 32 and the ²passages are surprised, and the ³reeds they have burned with fire, and the men of war are affrighted.
 33 For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: The daughter of Babylon is like a threshing-floor at the time when it is trodden; yet a little while, and the time of harvest shall come
 34 for her. Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon hath devoured ⁴me, he hath crushed ⁴me, he hath made ⁴me an empty vessel, he hath swallowed ⁴me up like a dragon, he hath filled his maw with my delicates; he hath cast ⁴me
 35 out. ⁵The violence done to me and to my flesh be upon Babylon, shall the ⁶inhabitant of Zion say; and, My blood be upon the inhabitants of Chaldea, shall 36 Jerusalem say. Therefore thus saith the LORD: Behold, I will plead thy cause, and take vengeance for thee; and I will dry up her sea, and make her fountain 37 dry. And Babylon shall become heaps, a dwelling place for jackals, an astonishment, and an hissing, without in-38 habitant. They shall roar together like young lions; they shall growl as lions' ⁷whelps. When they are heated, I will make their feast, and I will make them drunken, that they may rejoice, and sleep a perpetual sleep, and not 40 wake, saith the LORD. I will bring them down like lambs to the slaughter, like rams with he-goats. How is 41 ⁷Sheshach taken! and the praise of the whole earth surprised! how is Babylon become ⁸a desolation among the

42 nations! The sea is come up upon Babylon: she is covered with the ⁹multitude of the waves thereof. Her cities are become ⁸a desolation, a dry land, and a desert, a land wherein no man dwelleth, neither doth any son of 44 man pass thereby. And I will ¹⁰do judgement upon Bel in Babylon, and I will bring forth out of his mouth that which he hath swallowed up; and the nations shall not flow together any more unto him: yea, the wall of Babylon shall fall.

45 My people, go ye out of the midst of her, and save yourselves every man from the fierce anger of the LORD. And let not your heart faint, neither fear ye for the rumour that shall be heard in the land; for a rumour shall come one year, and after that in another year shall come a rumour, and violence in the land, ruler against ruler.
 47 Therefore, behold, the days come, that I will do judgement upon the graven images of Babylon, and her whole land shall be ashamed; and all her slain shall fall in the midst of her.
 48 Then the heaven and the earth, and all that is therein, shall sing for joy over Babylon; for the spoilers shall come unto her from the north, saith
 49 the LORD. ¹¹As Babylon hath caused the slain of Israel to fall, so at Babylon shall fall the slain of all the ¹²land.
 50 Ye that have escaped the sword, go ye, stand not still; remember the LORD from afar, and let Jerusalem come into 51 your mind. We are ashamed, because we have heard reproach; confusion hath covered our faces: for strangers are come into the sanctuaries of the 52 LORD's house. Wherefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will do judgement upon her graven images; and through all her land the wounded
 53 shall groan. Though Babylon should mount up to heaven, and though she should fortify the height of her strength, yet from me shall spoilers 54 come unto her, saith the LORD. The sound of a cry from Babylon, and of great destruction from the land of 55 the Chaldeans! for the LORD spoileth Babylon, and destroyeth out of her the great voice; and their waves roar like many waters, the noise of their voice
 56 is uttered: for the spoiler is come upon her, even upon Babylon, and her mighty men are taken, their bows are broken in pieces: for the LORD is a God of recompences, he shall surely 57 requite. And I will make drunk her princes and her wise men, her governors and her deputies, and her mighty men; and they shall sleep a perpetual sleep, and not wake, saith the King,

[52 ⁶Zedekiah was one and twenty years old when he began to reign; and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Hamutal the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah. And he did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD, according to all that Jehoiakim had done. For through the anger of the LORD did it come to pass in Jerusalem and Judah, until he had cast them out from his presence: and Zedekiah rebelled against the king of 4 Babylon. And it came to pass in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, that Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon came, he and all his army, against Jerusalem, and encamped against it; and they built forts against it round 5 about. So the city was besieged unto the eleventh year of king Zedekiah. 6 In the fourth month, in the ninth day of the month, the famine was sore in the city, so that there was no bread for the people of the land. 7 Then a breach was made in the city, and all the men of war fled, and went forth out of the city by night by the way of the gate between the two walls, which was by the king's garden; (now the Chaldeans were against the city round about:) and they went by the 8 way of the Arabah. But the army of the Chaldeans pursued after the king, and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho; and all his army was scattered from him. Then they took the king, and carried him up unto the king of Babylon to Riblah in the land of Hamath; and he ⁷gave judgement upon him. And the king of Babylon slew the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes: he slew also all the princes of 11 Judah in Riblah. And he put out the eyes of Zedekiah; and the king of Babylon bound him in fetters, and carried him to Babylon, and put him in prison till the day of his death.

12 Now in the fifth month, in the tenth day of the month, which was the nineteenth year of king Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, came Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard, which stood before the king of Babylon, into Jerusalem: and he burned the house of the LORD, and the king's house; and all the houses of Jerusalem, even ⁸every 14 great house, burned he with fire. And all the army of the Chaldeans, that were with the captain of the guard, brake down all the walls of Jerusalem 15 round about. Then Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried away captive of the poorest sort of the people, and the residue of the people that were left in the city, and those that fell away, that fell to the king of Babylon, and the residue of the ⁹multitude.

The pots also, and the shovels, and the snuffers, and the basons, and the spoons, and all the vessels of brass wherewith they 19 ministered, took they away. And the cups, and the firepans, and the basons, and the pots, and the candlesticks, and the spoons, and the bowls; that which was of gold, in gold, and that which was of silver, in silver, the captain of 20 the guard took away. The two pillars, the one sea, and the twelve brasen bulls that were under the bases, which king Solomon had made for the house of the LORD: the brass of all these 21 vessels was without weight. And as for the pillars, the height of the one pillar was eighteen cubits; and a line of twelve cubits did compass it; and the thickness thereof was four fingers: 22 it was hollow. And a chapter of brass was upon it; and the height of the one chapter was five cubits, with network and pomegranates upon the chapter round about, all of brass: and the second pillar also had like unto these, 23 and pomegranates. And there were ninety and six pomegranates ¹⁰on the sides; all the pomegranates were an hundred upon the network round about.

29 Jews and three and twenty: in the eighteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar he carried away captive from Jerusalem eight hundred thirty and two persons;

30 in the three and twentieth year of Nebuchadrezzar Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried away captive of the Jews seven hundred forty and five persons: all the persons were four thousand and six hundred.

31 ³And it came to pass in the seven and thirtieth year of the captivity of Jehoiachin king of Judah, in the twelfth month, in the five and twentieth day of the month, that Evil-merodach king of Babylon, in the first year of his reign, lifted up the head of Jehoiachin king of Judah, and brought 32 him forth out of prison; and he spake kindly to him, and set his throne above the throne of the kings that were with 33 him in Babylon. And he changed his prison garments, and did eat bread before him continually all the days of 34 his life. And for his allowance, there was a continual allowance given him of the king of Babylon, every day a portion until the day of his death, all the days of his life.

THE LAMENTATIONS [OF JEREMIAH.]

1 How doth the city sit solitary, that was full of people!

How is she become as a widow!

She that was great among the nations,
and princess among the provinces,
How is she become tributary!

2 She weepeth sore in the night, and her tears are on her cheeks;

Among all her lovers she hath none to comfort her:

All her friends have dealt treacherously with her,
They are become her enemies.

3 Judah is gone into ¹captivity because of affliction, and because of great servitude;

She dwelleth among the heathen, she findeth no rest:

All her persecutors overtook her within the straits.

4 The ways of Zion do mourn, because none come to the ²solemn assembly; All her gates are desolate, her priests do sigh:

Her virgins are afflicted, and she herself is in bitterness.

5 Her adversaries are become the head, her enemies prosper;
For the Lord hath afflicted her for the multitude of her transgressions;

Her young children are gone into captivity before the adversary.

6 And from the daughter of Zion all her ³majesty is departed:

Her princes are become like harts that find no pasture,

And they are gone without strength before the pursuer.

7 Jerusalem remembereth in the days of her affliction and of her ⁴miseries

All her pleasant things that were from the days of old:

When her people fell into the hand of the adversary, and none did help her,

The adversaries saw her, they did mock at her ⁵desolations.

8 Jerusalem hath grievously sinned; therefore she ⁶is become as an unclean thing:

All that honoured her despise her, because they have seen her nakedness: Yea, she sigheth, and turneth backward.

9 Her filthiness was in her skirts; she remembered not her latter end;

Therefore is she come down wonderfully; she hath no comforter:

Behold, O Lord, my affliction; for the enemy hath magnified himself.

10 The adversary hath spread out his hand upon all her pleasant things: For she hath seen that the heathen are entered into her sanctuary, Concerning whom thou didst command that they should not enter into thy congregation.

11 All her people sigh, they seek bread; They have given their pleasant things for meat to refresh the soul:

See, O LORD, and behold; for I am become vile.

12 Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by?

Behold, and see if there be any sorrow like unto my sorrow, which is done unto me,

¹ Wherewith the LORD hath afflicted me in the day of his fierce anger.

13 From on high hath he sent fire into my bones, and it prevaileth against them:

He hath spread a net for my feet, he hath turned me back;

He hath made me desolate and faint all the day.

14 The yoke of my transgressions is bound by his hand;

They are knit together, they are come up upon my neck; he hath made my strength to ² fail:

The LORD hath delivered me into their hands, ³ against whom I am not able to stand.

15 The LORD hath set at nought all my mighty men in the midst of me;

He hath called a solemn assembly against me to crush my young men:

The LORD hath trodden as in a winepress the virgin daughter of Judah.

16 For these things I weep; mine eye, mine eye runneth down with water;

Because the comforter that should refresh my soul is far from me:

My children are desolate, because the enemy hath prevailed.

17 Zion spreadeth forth her hands; there is none to comfort her;

The LORD hath commanded concerning Jacob, that they that are round about him should be his adversaries: Jerusalem is among them as an unclean thing.

18 The LORD is righteous; for I have rebelled against his commandment:

Hear, I pray you, all ye peoples, and behold my sorrow:

My virgins and my young men are gone into captivity.

19 I called for my lovers, but they deceived me:

My priests and mine elders gave up the ghost in the city,

While they sought them meat to refresh their souls.

20 Behold, O LORD; for I am in distress; my bowels are troubled;

Mine heart is turned within me; for I have grievously rebelled:

Abroad the sword bereaveth, at home there is as death.

21 They have heard that I sigh; there is none to comfort me;

All mine enemies have heard of my trouble; they are glad that thou hast done it:

Thou wilt bring the day that thou hast proclaimed, and they shall be like unto me.

22 Let all their wickedness come before thee;

And do unto them, as thou hast done unto me for all my transgressions:

For my sighs are many, and my heart is faint.

2 How hath the LORD covered the daughter of Zion with a cloud in his anger!

He hath cast down from heaven unto the earth the beauty of Israel,

And hath not remembered his footstool in the day of his anger.

2 The LORD hath swallowed up all the habitations of Jacob, and hath not pitied;

He hath thrown down in his wrath the strong holds of the daughter of Judah;

He hath brought them down to the ground:

He hath profaned the kingdom and the princes thereof.

3 He hath cut off in fierce anger ⁴ all the horn of Israel;

He hath drawn back his right hand from before the enemy:

And he hath burned up Jacob like a flaming fire, which devoureth round about.

4 He hath bent his bow like an enemy, he hath stood with his right hand as an adversary,

And hath slain all that were pleasant to the eye:

⁵ In the tent of the daughter of Zion he hath poured out his fury like fire.

5 The LORD is become as an enemy, he hath swallowed up Israel;

He hath swallowed up all her palaces, he hath destroyed his strong holds:

And he hath multiplied in the daughter of Judah mourning and lamentation.

6 And he hath violently taken away his ⁶ tabernacle, as if it were of a garden;

He hath destroyed his place of assembly:

The LORD hath caused ⁷ solemn assembly and sabbath to be forgotten in Zion,

And hath despised in the indignation of his anger the king and the priest.

7 The LORD hath cast off his altar, he hath abhorred his sanctuary,

He hath given up into the hand of the enemy the walls of her palaces:

They have made a noise in the house of the LORD, as in the day of a solemn assembly.

8 The LORD hath purposed to destroy the wall of the daughter of Zion;
He hath stretched out the line, he hath not withdrawn his hand from ¹destroying:

But he hath made the rampart and wall to lament; they languish together.

9 Her gates are sunk into the ground; he hath destroyed and broken her bars:
Her king and her princes are among the nations where the law is not;
Yea, her prophets find no vision from the LORD.

10 The elders of the daughter of Zion sit upon the ground, they keep silence;
They have cast up dust upon their heads; they have girded themselves with sackcloth:

The virgins of Jerusalem hang down their heads to the ground.

11 Mine eyes do fail with tears, my bowels are troubled,

My liver is poured upon the earth, for the ²destruction of the daughter of my people;

Because the young children and the sucklings swoon in the streets of the city.

12 They say to their mothers, Where is corn and wine?

When they swoon as the wounded in the streets of the city,

When their soul is poured out into their mothers' bosom.

13 What shall I ³testify unto thee? what shall I liken to thee, O daughter of Jerusalem?

What shall I equal to thee, that I may comfort thee, O virgin daughter of Zion?

For thy breach is great like the sea: who can heal thee?

14 Thy prophets have seen visions for thee of vanity and foolishness;

And they have not discovered thine iniquity, to bring again thy captivity:

But have seen for thee ⁴burdens of vanity and ⁵causes of banishment.

15 All that pass by clap their hands at thee;

They hiss and wag their head at the daughter of Jerusalem, saying:

Is this the city that men called The perfection of beauty, The joy of the whole earth?

16 All thine enemies have opened their mouth wide against thee;

They hiss and gnash the teeth; they say, We have swallowed her up;

Certainly this is the day that we looked for; we have found, we have seen it.

17 The LORD hath done that which he devised;

He hath ⁶fulfilled his word that he commanded in the days of old;

He hath thrown down, and hath not pitied:

And he hath caused the enemy to rejoice over thee,

He hath exalted the horn of thine adversaries.

18 Their heart cried unto the Lord:

O wall of the daughter of Zion, let tears run down like a river day and night;

Give thyself no respite; let not the apple of thine eye cease.

19 Arise, cry out in the night, at the beginning of the watches;

Pour out thine heart like water before the face of the Lord:

Lift up thy hands toward him for the life of thy young children,

That faint for hunger at the top of every street.

20 See, O LORD, and behold, to whom thou hast done thus!

Shall the women eat their fruit, the children that are dandled in the hands?

Shall the priest and the prophet be slain in the sanctuary of the Lord?

21 The youth and the old man lie on the ground in the streets;

My virgins and my young men are fallen by the sword:

Thou hast slain them in the day of thine anger; thou hast slaughtered, and not pitied.

22 Thou hast called, as in the day of a solemn assembly, ⁷my terrors on every side,

And there was none that escaped or remained in the day of the LORD's anger:

Those that I have dandled and brought up hath mine enemy consumed.

3 I am the man that hath seen affliction by the rod of his wrath.

2 He hath led me and caused me to walk in darkness ⁸and not in light.

3 Surely against me he turneth his hand again and again all the day.

4 My flesh and my skin hath he ⁹made old; he hath broken my bones.

5 He hath builded against me, and compassed me with ¹⁰gall and travail.

6 ¹¹He hath made me to dwell in dark places, as those that have been long dead.

7 He hath fenced me about, that I cannot go forth; he hath made my chain heavy.

8 Yea, when I cry and call for help, he shutteth out my prayer.

9 He hath fenced up my ways with hewn stone, he hath made my paths crooked.

10 He is unto me as a bear lying in wait, as a lion in secret places.

59 O Lord, thou hast seen my wrong; judge thou my cause.

60 Thou hast seen all their vengeance and all their devices against me.

61 Thou hast heard their reproach, O Lord, and all their devices against me;

62 The lips of those that rose up against me, and their imagination against me all the day.

63 Behold thou their sitting down, and their rising up; I am their song.

4 How is the gold become dim! how is the most pure gold changed! The stones of the sanctuary are poured out at the top of every street.

2 The precious sons of Zion, ¹comparable to fine gold, How are they esteemed as earthen pitchers, the work of the hands of the potter!

3 Even the jackals draw out the breast, they give suck to their young ones: The daughter of my people is become cruel, like the ostriches in the wilderness.

4 The tongue of the sucking child cleaveth to the roof of his mouth for thirst: The young children ask bread, and no man breaketh it unto them.

5 They that did feed delicately are desolate in the streets: They that were brought up in scarlet embrace dung-hills.

6 For ²the iniquity of the daughter of my people is greater than ³the sin of Sodom,

That was overthrown as in a moment, and no hands ⁴were laid upon her.

7 Her ⁵nobles were purer than snow, they were whiter than milk, They were more ruddy in body than rubies, their polishing was as of sapphire:

8 Their visage is ⁷blacker than a coal; they are not known in the streets: Their skin cleaveth to their bones; it is withered, it is become like a stick.

9 They that be slain with the sword are better than they that be slain with hunger;

For these ⁸pine away, stricken through, for want of the fruits of the field.

10 The hands of the pitiful women have sodden their own children; They were their meat in the destruction of the daughter of my people.

11 The Lord hath accomplished his fury, he hath poured out his fierce anger; And he hath kindled a fire in Zion, which hath devoured the foundations thereof.

12 The kings of the earth believed not, neither all the inhabitants of the world, That the adversary and the enemy should enter into the gates of Jerusalem.

13 It is because of the sins of her prophets, and the iniquities of her priests, That have shed the blood of the just in the midst of her.

14 They wander as blind men in the streets, they are polluted with blood, So that men cannot touch their garments.

15 Depart ye, they cried unto them, Unclean! depart, depart, touch not:

⁹ When they fled away and wandered, men said among the nations, They shall no more sojourn here.

16 The ¹⁰anger of the Lord hath divided them; he will no more regard them: They respected not the persons of the priests, they favoured not the elders.

17 Our eyes do yet fail in looking for our vain help:

In our watching we have watched for a nation that could not save.

18 They hunt our steps, that we cannot go in our streets:

Our end is near, our days are fulfilled; for our end is come.

19 Our pursuers were swifter than the eagles of the heaven:

They chased us upon the mountains, they laid wait for us in the wilderness.

20 The breath of our nostrils, the anointed of the Lord, was taken in their pits; Of whom we said, Under his shadow we shall live among the nations.

21 Rejoice and be glad, O daughter of Edom, that dwellest in the land of Uz:

The cup shall pass through unto thee also; thou shalt be drunken, and shalt make thyself naked.

22 ¹¹ The punishment of thine iniquity is accomplished, O daughter of Zion; He will no more carry thee away into captivity:

He will visit thine iniquity, O daughter of Edom;

He will discover thy sins.

5 Remember, O Lord, what is come upon us:

Behold, and see our reproach.

2 Our inheritance is turned unto strangers,

Our houses unto aliens.

3 We are orphans and fatherless, Our mothers are as widows.

4 We have drunken our water for money; Our wood ¹²is sold unto us.

5 Our pursuers are upon our necks: We are weary, and have no rest.

6 We have given the hand to the Egyptians, And to the Assyrians, to be satisfied with bread.

7 Our fathers have sinned, and are not; And we have borne their iniquities.

8 Servants rule over us: There is none to deliver us out of their hand.

9 We get our bread with the peril of our lives

Because of the sword of the wilderness.

10 Our skin is ¹³black like an oven Because of the burning heat of famine.

THE BOOK OF THE PROPHET EZEKIEL.

- 1 Now it came to pass in the thirtieth year, in the fourth month, in the fifth day of the month, as I was among the ¹captives by the river
 Chebar, that the heavens were opened,
 2 and I saw visions of God. In the fifth day of the month, which was the fifth 3 year of king Jehoiachin's captivity, the word of the LORD came expressly unto Ezekiel the priest, the son of Buzi, in the land of the Chaldeans by the river Chebar; and the hand of the 4 LORD was there upon him. And I looked, and, behold, a stormy wind came out of the north, a great cloud, with a fire ²infoling itself, and a brightness round about it, and out of the midst thereof ³as the colour of 4 amber, out of the midst of the fire.
 5 And out of the midst thereof came the likeness of four living creatures. And this was their appearance; they had 6 the likeness of a man. And every one had four faces, and every one of them 7 had four wings. And their feet were straight feet; and the sole of their feet was like the sole of a calf's foot:
 and they sparkled like the colour of 8 burnished brass. And they had the hands of a man under their wings on their four sides: and they four had 9 their faces and their wings thus; their wings were joined one to another;
 they turned not when they went; they 10 went every one straight forward. As for the likeness of their faces, they had the face of a man; and they four had the face of a lion on the right side; and they four had the face of an ox on the left side; they four had also 11 the face of an eagle. ⁵And their faces and their wings were separate above;
 two wings of every one were joined one to another, and two covered their 12 bodies. And they went every one straight forward: whither the spirit

- was to go, they went; they turned 13 not when they went. ⁶As for the likeness of the living creatures, their appearance was like burning coals of fire, like the appearance of torches;
 it went up and down among the living creatures: and the fire was bright, and out of the fire went forth light-14 ning. And the living creatures ran and returned as the appearance of a 15 flash of lightning. Now as I beheld the living creatures, behold one wheel upon the earth beside the living creatures, for each of the four faces there-16 of. The appearance of the wheels and their work was like unto the colour of a beryl: and they four had one likeness: and their appearance and their work was as it were a wheel 17⁷ within a wheel. When they went, they went upon their four sides: they 18 turned not when they went. As for their ⁸rings, they were high and dreadful; and they four had their rings full 19 of eyes round about. And when the living creatures went, the wheels went beside them: and when the living creatures were lifted up from the earth, 20 the wheels were lifted up. Whitherso-ever the spirit was to go, they went;
 thither was the spirit to go: and the wheels were lifted up ⁹beside them;
 for the spirit ¹⁰of the living creature 21 was in the wheels. When those went, these went; and when those stood,
 these stood; and when those were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up ⁹beside them: for the spirit ¹⁰of the living creature was in 22 the wheels. And over the head of the living creature there was the likeness of a firmament, like the colour of the terrible ¹¹crystal, stretched 23 forth over their heads above. And under the firmament were their wings straight, the one toward the other:

24 And when they went, I heard the noise of their wings like the noise of great waters, like the voice of the Almighty, a noise of tumult like the noise of an host: when they stood, 25 they let down their wings. And there was a voice above the firmament that was over their heads: when they 26 stood, they let down their wings. And above the firmament that was over their heads was the likeness of a throne, as the appearance of a sapphire stone: and upon the likeness of the throne was a likeness as the appearance of a man upon it above. And

² See ver. 4.

I saw as the colour of ² amber, as the appearance of fire within it round about, from the appearance of his loins and upward; and from the appearance of his loins and downward I saw as it were the appearance of fire, and there was brightness round about 28 ³ him. As the appearance of the bow that is in the cloud in the day of rain, so was the appearance of the brightness round about. This was the appearance of the likeness of the glory of the Lord. And when I saw it, I fell upon my face, and I heard a voice of one that spake.

³ Or, it

2 And he said unto me, Son of man, stand upon thy feet, and I will speak 2 with thee. And the spirit entered into me when he spake unto me, and set me upon my feet; and I heard 3 him that spake unto me. And he said unto me, Son of man, I send thee to the children of Israel, to nations that are rebellious, which have rebelled against me: they and their fathers have transgressed against me, even unto 4 this very day. And the children are impudent and stiffhearted; ⁴ I do send thee unto them: and thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God.

⁴ Or, unto whom I send thee

5 And they, whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear, (for they are a rebellious house,) yet shall know that there hath been a prophet among them. 6 And thou, son of man, be not afraid of them, neither be afraid of their words, though briers and thorns be with thee, and thou dost dwell among scorpions: be not afraid of their words, nor be dismayed at their looks, though 7 they be a rebellious house. And thou shalt speak my words unto them, whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear: for they are most 8 rebellious. But thou, son of man, hear what I say unto thee; be not thou rebellious like that rebellious house: open thy mouth, and eat that I give 9 thee. And when I looked, behold, an hand was put forth unto me; and, 10 lo, a roll of a book was therein; and he spread it before me; and it was written within and without: and there was written therein lamentations, and 3 mourning, and woe. And he said unto me, Son of man, eat that thou findest; eat this roll, and go, speak unto the 2 house of Israel. So I opened my mouth, and he caused me to eat the roll. 3 And he said unto me, Son of man, cause thy belly to eat, and fill thy bowels with this roll that I give thee. Then did I eat it; and it was in my mouth as honey for sweetness.

4 And he said unto me, Son of man, go, get thee unto the house of Israel, and speak with my words unto them. 5 For thou art not sent to a people ⁵ of a strange speech and of an hard language, 6 but to the house of Israel; not to many peoples of a strange speech and of an hard language, whose words thou canst not understand. Surely, if I sent thee to them, they would hearken unto 7 thee. But the house of Israel will not hearken unto thee; for they will not hearken unto me: for all the house of Israel are of an hard forehead and of 8 a stiff heart. Behold, I have made thy face hard against their faces, and thy forehead hard against their foreheads. 9 As an adamant harder than flint have I made thy forehead: fear them not, neither be dismayed at their looks, though they be a rebellious house.

10 Moreover he said unto me, Son of man, all my words that I shall speak unto thee receive in thine heart, and 11 hear with thine ears. And go, get thee to them of the captivity, unto the children of thy people, and speak unto them, and tell them, Thus saith the Lord God; whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear.

12 Then the spirit lifted me up, and I heard behind me the voice of a great rushing, saying, Blessed be the glory of the Lord from his place. 13 And I heard the noise of the wings of the living creatures as they touched one another, and the noise of the wheels ⁶ beside them, even the noise of 14 a great rushing. So the spirit lifted me up, and took me away: and I went in bitterness, in the heat of my spirit, and the hand of the Lord was strong 15 upon me. Then I came to them of the captivity at Tel-abib, that ⁷ dwelt by the river Chebar, ⁸ and to where they ⁷ dwelt; and I sat there astonished among them seven days.

the wicked from his wicked way, to save his life; the same wicked man shall die in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at thine hand. Yet if thou warn the wicked, and he turn not from his wickedness, nor from his wicked way, he shall die in his iniquity; but thou hast delivered thy soul. Again, when a righteous man doth turn from his righteousness, and commit iniquity, and I lay a stumblingblock before him, he shall die; because thou hast not given him warning, he shall die in his sin, and his righteous deeds which he hath done shall not be remembered; but his blood will I require at thine hand.

21 Nevertheless if thou warn the righteous man, that the righteous sin not, and he doth not sin, he shall surely live, because he took warning; and thou hast delivered thy soul.

22 And the hand of the Lord was there upon me; and he said unto me, Arise, go forth into the ¹plain, and I will there talk with thee. Then I arose, and went forth into the ¹plain: and, behold, the glory of the Lord stood there, as the glory which I saw by the river Chebar: and I fell on my face. Then the spirit entered into me, and set me upon my feet; and he spake with me, and said unto me, Go, shut thyself within thine house. But thou, son of man, behold, they shall lay bands upon thee, and shall bind thee with them, and thou shalt not go out among them: and I will make thy tongue cleave to the roof of thy mouth, that thou shalt be dumb, and shalt not be to them a reprover: 27 for they are a rebellious house. But when I speak with thee, I will open thy mouth, and thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: He that heareth, let him hear; and he that forbeareth, let him forbear: for they are a rebellious house.

4 Thou also, son of man, take thee a tile, and lay it before thee, and pourtray upon it a city, even Jerusalem: and lay siege against it, and build forts against it, and cast up a mount against it; set camps also against it, and plant battering rams against it round about.

3 And take thou unto thee an iron ²pan, and set it for a wall of iron between thee and the city: and set thy face toward it, and it shall be besieged, and thou shalt lay siege against it. This shall be a sign to the house of Israel.

4 Moreover lie thou upon thy left side, and lay the iniquity of the house of Israel upon it: according to the number of the days that thou shalt lie upon it, thou shalt bear their iniquity.

5 For I have appointed the years of their iniquity to be unto thee a number of days, even three hundred and ninety days: so shalt thou bear the

6 iniquity of the house of Israel. And again, when thou hast accomplished these, thou shalt lie on thy right side, and shalt bear the iniquity of the house of Judah: forty days, each day for a year, have I appointed it unto thee. And thou shalt set thy face toward the siege of Jerusalem, with thine arm uncovered; and thou shalt prophesy against it. And, behold, I lay bands upon thee, and thou shalt not turn thee from one side to another, till thou hast accomplished the days of thy siege. Take thou also unto thee wheat, and barley, and beans, and lentils, and millet, and spelt, and put them in one vessel, and make thee bread thereof; according to the number of the days that thou shalt lie upon thy side, even three hundred and ninety 10 days, shalt thou eat thereof. And thy meat which thou shalt eat shall be by weight, twenty shekels a day: from 11 time to time shalt thou eat it. And thou shalt drink water by measure, the sixth part of an hin: from time to time 12 shalt thou drink. And thou shalt eat it as barley cakes, and thou shalt bake it in their sight with dung that cometh 13 out of man. And the Lord said, Even thus shall the children of Israel eat their bread unclean, among the nations whither I will drive them. Then said I, Ah Lord God! behold, my soul hath not been polluted: for from my youth up even till now have I not eaten of that which dieth of itself, or is torn of beasts; neither came there abominable flesh into my mouth. 15 Then he said unto me, See, I have given thee cow's dung for man's dung, and thou shalt prepare thy bread 16 thereon. Moreover he said unto me, Son of man, behold, I will break the staff of bread in Jerusalem: and they shall eat bread by weight, and with carefulness; and they shall drink water by measure, and with astonishment: 17 that they may want bread and water, and be astonished one with another, and pine away in their iniquity.

5 And thou, son of man, take thee a sharp sword, as a barber's razor shalt thou take it unto thee, and shalt cause it to pass upon thine head and upon thy beard: then take thee balances to weigh, and ³divide the hair. A third part shalt thou burn in the fire in the midst of the city, when the days of the siege are fulfilled; and thou shalt take a third part, and suite with the sword round about it; and a third part thou shalt scatter to the wind, and I will draw out a sword after 3 them. And thou shalt take ⁴thereof a few in number, and bind them in 4 thy skirts. And of these again shalt thou take, and cast them into the midst of the fire, and burn them in the fire;

5 Thus saith the Lord God: This is Jerusalem: I have set her in the midst of the nations, and countries are round about her. And she hath ¹rebelled against my judgements in doing wickedness more than the nations, and against my statutes more than the countries that are round about her: for they have rejected my judgements, and as for my statutes, they have

7 not walked in them. Therefore thus saith the Lord God: Because ye are turbulent more than the nations that are round about you, and have not walked in my statutes, neither have kept my judgements, neither have done

after the ²ordinances of the nations that are round about you; therefore thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I, even I, am against thee; and I will execute judgements in the midst of thee in

9 the sight of the nations. And I will do in thee that which I have not done, and whereunto I will not do any more the like, because of all thine abominations. Therefore the fathers shall eat

the sons in the midst of thee, and the sons shall eat their fathers; and I will execute judgements in thee, and the whole remnant of thee will I scatter

11 unto all the winds. Wherefore, as I live, saith the Lord God, surely, because thou hast defiled my sanctuary with all thy detestable things, and with all thine abominations, therefore will I also ³diminish thee; neither shall mine eye spare, and I also will have no pity.

12 A third part of thee shall die with the pestilence, and with famine shall they be consumed in the midst of thee; and a third part shall fall by the sword round about thee; and a third part I will scatter unto all the winds, and will draw out a sword after them.

13 Thus shall mine anger be accomplished, and I will ⁴satisfy my fury ⁵upon them, and I will be comforted: and they shall know that I the Lord have spoken in my zeal, when I have accomplished

14 my fury upon them. Moreover I will make thee a desolation and a reproach, among the nations that are round about thee, in the sight of all that pass

15 by. So it shall be a reproach and a taunt, an instruction and an astonishment, unto the nations that are round about thee, when I shall execute judgements in thee in anger and in fury, and in furious rebukes: I the Lord have

16 spoken it: when I shall send upon them the evil arrows of famine, that are for destruction, which I will send to destroy you; and I will increase the famine upon you, and will break

17 your staff of bread; and I will send upon you famine and evil beasts, and they shall bereave thee; and pestilence and blood shall pass through thee; and I will bring the sword upon thee: I the Lord have spoken it.

Ye mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord God: Thus saith the Lord God to the mountains and to the hills, to the ⁷watercourses and to the valleys: Behold, I, even I, will bring a sword upon you, and I will

7 And the slain shall fall in the midst of you, and ye shall know that I am the

9 be scattered through the countries. And they that escape of you shall remember me among the nations whither they shall be carried captives, how that ¹⁰I have been broken with their whorish heart, which hath departed from me, and with their eyes, which go a whoring after their idols: and they shall loathe themselves in their own sight for the evils which they have committed in all

10 their abominations. And they shall know that I am the Lord: I have not said in vain that I would do this evil unto them.

11 Thus saith the Lord God: Smite with thine hand, and stamp with thy foot, and say, Alas! because of all the evil abominations of the house of Israel: for they shall fall by the sword, by the 12 famine, and by the pestilence. He that is far off shall die of the pestilence; and he that is near shall fall by the sword; and he that remaineth and is

13 besieged shall die by the famine: thus will I accomplish my fury upon them.

14 And ye shall know that I am the Lord, when their slain men shall be among their idols round about their altars, upon every high hill, in all the tops of the mountains, and under every green tree, and under every thick ¹²oak, the place where they did offer sweet

Now is the end upon thee, and I will send mine anger upon thee, and will judge thee according to thy ways; and I will bring upon thee all thine abominations. And mine eye shall not spare thee, neither will I have pity: but I will bring thy ways upon thee, and thine abominations shall be in the midst of thee: and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

Violence is risen up into a rod of wickedness; ⁴none of them shall remain, nor of their multitude, nor of their wealth: neither shall there be ⁵eminency among them. The time is come, the day draweth near: let not the buyer rejoice, nor the seller mourn: for wrath is upon all the multi-

12 tude thereof. For the seller shall not return to that which is sold, ⁶although they be yet alive: for the vision is touching the whole multitude thereof, ⁷none shall return; neither shall any strengthen himself ⁸in the iniquity of his life. 14 They have blown the trumpet, and have made all ready; but none goeth to the battle: for my wrath is upon all the

15 multitude thereof. The sword is without, and the pestilence and the famine within: he that is in the field shall die with the sword; and he that is in the city, famine and pestilence shall devour

16 him. But they that escape of them shall escape, and shall be on the mountains like doves of the valleys, all of them mourning, every one in his in-

17 iquity. All hands shall be feeble, and all knees shall be weak as water. They shall also gird themselves with sackcloth, and horror shall cover them; and shame shall be upon all faces, and

22 profane it. My face will I turn also from them, and they shall profane my ¹¹secret place: and robbers shall

23 enter into it, and profane it. Make the chain: for the land is full of ¹²bloody crimes, and the city is full of violence. 24 Wherefore I will bring the worst of the heathen, and they shall possess their houses: I will also make the pride of the strong to cease; and ¹³their

25 holy places shall be profaned. ¹⁴De- struction cometh; and they shall seek

26 peace, and there shall be none. Mis- chief shall come upon mischief, and rumour shall be upon rumour; and they shall seek a vision of the prophet; but the law shall perish from the priest,

And he said unto me, Son of man, seest thou what they do? even the great abominations that the house of Israel do commit here, ¹that I should go far off from my sanctuary? but ²thou shalt again see yet other great abominations. And he brought me to the door of the court; and when I looked, behold a hole in ³the wall. Then said he unto me, Son of man, dig now in the wall: and when I had digged in the wall, behold a ⁴door. And he said unto me, Go in, and see the wicked abominations that ⁵they do here. So I went in and saw; and behold every form of creeping things, and abominable beasts, and all the idols of the house of Israel, poured upon the wall round about. And there stood before them seventy men of the elders of the house of Israel, and in the midst of them stood Jaazaniah the son of Shaphan, with every man his censor in his hand; and the odour ⁶of the cloud of incense went up. Then said he unto me, Son of man, hast thou seen what the elders of the house of Israel do in the dark, every man in his chambers of imagery? for they say, The LORD seeth us not; the LORD hath ⁷forsaken the ⁸earth. He said also unto me, Thou shalt again see yet other great abominations which they do. ⁹Then he brought me to the door of the gate of the LORD's house which was toward the north; and behold, there sat the women weeping for Tamuz. Then said he unto me, Hast thou seen this, O son of man? thou shalt again see yet greater abominations than these. And he brought me into the inner court of the LORD's house, and behold, at the door of the temple of the LORD, between the porch and the altar, were about five and twenty men, with their backs toward the temple of the LORD, and their faces toward the east; and they worshipped the sun toward the east. Then he said unto me, Hast thou seen this, O son of man? Is it a light thing to the house of Judah that they commit the abominations which they commit here? for they have filled the land with violence, and have turned again to provoke me to anger: and, lo, they put the ¹⁰branch to their nose. Therefore will I also deal in fury: mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity; and though they cry in mine ears with a loud voice, yet will I not hear them. ¹¹Then he cried in mine ears with a loud voice, saying, ¹²Cause ye them that have charge over the city to draw near, every man with his destroying weapon in his hand. And behold, six men came from the way of the upper gate, which lieth toward the north, every man with his ¹³slaughter weapon in his hand; and one man in the midst of them clothed in linen, with a writer's inkhorn ¹⁴by his side. And they went in, and stood beside the ¹⁵brass altar. And the glory of the God of Israel was gone up from the cherub, whereupon it was, to the threshold of the house; and he called to the man clothed in linen, which had the ¹⁶writer's inkhorn ¹⁷by his side. And the LORD said unto him, Go through the midst of the city, through the midst of Jerusalem, and set a mark upon the foreheads of the men that sigh and that cry for all the abominations ¹⁸that be done in the midst thereof. And to the others he said in mine hearing, Go ye through the city after him, and smite: let not your eye spare, neither ¹⁹have ye pity: slay ²⁰utterly the old man, the young man and the maiden, and little children and women: but come not near any man upon whom is the mark; and begin at my sanctuary. Then they began at the ²¹ancient men ²²which were before the house. And he said unto them, Defile the house, and fill the courts with the slain: go ye forth. And they went forth, and smote ²³in the city. And it came to pass, while they were smiting, and I was left, that I fell upon my face, and cried, and said, Ah LORD GOD! wilt thou destroy all the residue of Israel in thy pouring ²⁴out of thy fury upon Jerusalem? Then said he unto me, The iniquity of the house of Israel and Judah is exceeding great, and the land is full of blood, and the city full of ²⁵wresting of judgment: for they say, The LORD hath forsaken the ²⁶earth, and the LORD seeth ²⁷not. And as for me also, mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity, but I will bring their way upon ²⁸their head. And behold, the man clothed in linen, which had the inkhorn by his side, reported the matter, saying, I have done as thou hast commanded me. ²⁹Then I looked, and behold, in the firmament that was over the head of the cherubim, there appeared above them as it were a sapphire stone, as the appearance of the likeness of a ³⁰throne. And he spake unto the man clothed in linen, and said, Go in between the whirling ³¹wheels, even under the cherub, and fill both thine hands with coals of fire from between the cherubim, and ³²scatter them over the ³³city. And he went in in my sight. Now the cherubim stood on the right side of the house, when the man went in; and ³⁴the cloud filled the inner court. And the glory of the LORD mounted up from the cherub, and stood over the threshold of the house; and the house was filled with the cloud, and the court was full of the brightness of the LORD's glory.

5 And the sound of the wings of the cherubim was heard even to the outer court, as the voice of ¹God Almighty 6 when he speaketh. And it came to pass, when he commanded the man clothed in linen, saying, Take fire from between the whirling wheels, from between the cherubim, that he went in, and stood beside a wheel. 7 And the cherub stretched forth his hand from between the cherubim unto the fire that was between the cherubim, and took thereof, and put it into the hands of him that was clothed in linen, who took it and went out. 8 And there appeared in the cherubim the form of a man's hand under their 9 wings. And I looked, and behold, four wheels beside the cherubim, one wheel beside one cherub, and another wheel beside another cherub: and the appearance of the wheels was ²as the 10 colour of a ³beryl stone. And as for their appearance, they four had one likeness, as if a wheel had been ⁴with- 11 in a wheel. When they went, they went ⁵upon their four sides: they turned not as they went, but to the place whither the head looked they followed 12 it; they turned not as they went. And their whole body, and their backs, and their hands, and their wings, and the wheels, were full of eyes round about, even the wheels that they four had. 13 As for the wheels, they were called in 14 my hearing, the whirling wheels. And every one had four faces: the first face was the face of the cherub, and the second face was the face of a man, and the third the face of a lion, and the 15 fourth the face of an eagle. And the cherubim mounted up: this is the living creature that I saw by the river 16 Chebar. And when the cherubim went, the wheels went beside them: and when the cherubim lifted up their wings to mount up from the earth, the wheels also turned not from beside them. 17 When they stood, these stood; and when they mounted up, these mounted up with them: for the spirit ⁶of the 18 living creature was in them. And the glory of the LORD went forth from over the threshold of the house, and stood 19 over the cherubim. And the cherubim lifted up their wings, and mounted up from the earth in my sight when they went forth, and the wheels ⁷beside them: and they stood at the door of the east gate of the LORD's house; and the glory of the God of Israel was over 20 them above. This is the living creature that I saw under the God of Israel by the river Chebar; and I knew that 21 they were cherubim. Every one had four faces apiece, and every one four wings; and the likeness of the hands 22 of a man was under their wings. And as for the likeness of their faces, they were the faces which I saw by the river Chebar, their appearances and themselves; they went every one straight forward.

11 Moreover the spirit lifted me up, and brought me unto the east gate of the LORD's house, which looketh eastward: and behold, at the door of the gate five and twenty men; and I saw in the midst of them Jaazaniah the son of Azzur, and Pelatiah the son of 2 Benaiah, princes of the people. And he said unto me, Son of man, these are the men that devise iniquity, and that 3 give wicked counsel in this city: which say, ⁸*The time* is not near to build houses: this city is the caldron, and 4 we be the flesh. Therefore prophesy against them, prophesy, O son of man. 5 And the spirit of the LORD fell upon me, and he said unto me, Speak, Thus saith the LORD: Thus have ye said, O house of Israel; for I know the things 6 that come into your mind. Ye have multiplied your slain in this city, and ye have filled the streets thereof with 7 the slain. Therefore thus saith the LORD God: Your slain whom ye have laid in the midst of it, they are the flesh, and this city is the caldron: but ⁹ye shall be brought forth out of the midst 8 of it. Ye have feared the sword; and I will bring the sword upon you, saith 9 the LORD God. And I will bring you forth out of the midst thereof, and deliver you into the hands of strangers, and will execute judgements among 10 you. Ye shall fall by the sword; I will judge you in the border of Israel; and ye shall know that I am the LORD. 11 This city shall not be your caldron, neither shall ye be the flesh in the midst thereof; I will judge you in the 12 border of Israel; and ye shall know that I am the LORD: for ye have not walked in my statutes, neither have ye executed my judgements, but have done after the ¹⁰ordinances of the nations 13 that are round about you. And it came to pass, when I prophesied, that Pelatiah the son of Benaiah died. Then fell I down upon my face, and cried with a loud voice, and said, Ah Lord God! wilt thou make a full end of the remnant of Israel? 14 And the word of the LORD came unto 15 me, saying, Son of man, thy brethren, even thy brethren, the men of thy ¹¹kindred, and all the house of Israel, all of them, are they unto whom the inhabitants of Jerusalem have said, Get you far from the LORD; unto us is this land 16 given for a possession: therefore say, Thus saith the LORD God: Whereas I have removed them far off among the nations, and whereas I have scattered them among the countries, ¹²yet will I be to them a sanctuary for a little while in the countries where they are

And the spirit lifted me up, and brought me in the vision by the spirit of God into Chaldea, to them of the captivity. So the vision that I 25 had seen went up from me. Then I spake unto them of the captivity all the things that the Lord had shewed me.

12 The word of the Lord also came unto me, saying, Son of man, thou dwellest in the midst of the rebellious house, which have eyes to see, and see not, which have ears to hear, and hear not; for they are a rebellious house. 3 Therefore, thou son of man, prepare thee stuff for ²removing, and remove by day in their sight; and thou shalt remove from thy place to another place in their sight: it may be they will ³consider, though they be a rebellious house. And thou shalt bring forth thy stuff by day in their sight, as stuff for ²removing: and thou shalt go forth thyself at even in their sight, 5 as when men go forth into exile. Dig thou through the wall in their sight, 6 and carry out thereby. In their sight shalt thou bear it upon thy shoulder, and carry it forth in the dark; thou shalt cover thy face, that thou see not the ground: for I have set thee for a sign unto the house of Israel. 7 And I did so as I was commanded: I brought forth my stuff by day, as stuff for removing, and in the even I digged through the wall with mine hand; I brought it forth in the dark, and bare it upon my shoulder in 8 their sight. And in the morning came the word of the Lord unto me, saying, 9 Son of man, hath not the house of Israel, the rebellious house, said unto 10 thee, What doest thou? Say thou unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: This ⁴burden concerneth the prince in Jerusalem, and all the house of 11 Israel ⁵among whom they are. Say, I am your sign: like as I have done, so shall it be done unto them: they 12 shall go into exile, into captivity. And the prince that is among them shall bear upon his shoulder in the dark, and shall go forth: they shall dig through the wall to carry out thereby: he shall cover his face, because he shall not see 13 the ⁶ground with his eyes. My net also will I spread upon him, and he shall be taken in my snare: and I will bring him to Babylon to the land of the Chaldeans; yet shall he not see it. 14 though he shall die there. And I will scatter toward every wind all that are round about him to help him, and all his bands; and I will draw out the 15 sword after them. And they shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall disperse them among the nations, and scatter them through the countries. 16 But I will leave a few men of them from the sword, from the famine, and from the pestilence; that they may declare all their abominations among the nations whither they come; and they shall know that I am the Lord.

17 Moreover the word of the Lord came 18 to me, saying, Son of man, eat thy bread with quaking, and drink thy water with trembling and with carefulness; and say unto the people of the land, Thus saith the Lord God concerning the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and the land of Israel: They shall eat their bread with carefulness, and drink their water with astonishment, that her land may be desolate from ⁷all that is therein, because of the violence 20 of all them that dwell therein. And the cities that are inhabited shall be laid waste, and the land shall be a desolation; and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

21 And the word of the Lord came unto 22 me, saying, Son of man, what is this proverb that ye have in the land of Israel, saying, The days are prolonged, 23 and every vision faileth? Tell them therefore, Thus saith the Lord God: I will make this proverb to cease, and they shall no more use it as a proverb in Israel; but say unto them, The days are at hand, and the ⁸effect of every 24 vision. For there shall be no more any vain vision nor flattering divination within the house of Israel. For I am the Lord; I will speak, and the word that I shall speak shall be performed; it shall be no more deferred: for in your days, O rebellious house, will I speak the word, and will perform it, saith the Lord God.

27 to me, saying, Son of man, behold, they of the house of Israel say, The vision that he seeth is for many days to come, and he prophesieth of times that are 28 far off. Therefore say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: There shall none of my words be deferred any more, but the word which I shall speak shall be performed, saith the Lord God.

13 And the word of the Lord came unto 2 me, saying, Son of man, prophesy against the prophets of Israel that prophesy, and say thou unto them that prophesy out of their own heart, Hear 3 ye the word of the Lord; Thus saith the Lord God: Woe unto the foolish prophets, that follow their own spirit, 4 ¹and have seen nothing! O Israel, thy prophets have been like foxes in the 5 waste places. Ye have not gone up into the ²gaps, neither made up the fence for the house of Israel, to stand in the battle in the day of the Lord. 6 They have seen vanity and lying divination, that say, The Lord saith; and the Lord hath not sent them: and they ³have made men to hope that the 7 word should be confirmed. Have ye not seen a vain vision, and have ye not spoken a lying divination, whereas ye say, The Lord saith; albeit I have not spoken?

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord God: Because ye have spoken vanity, and seen lies, therefore, behold, I am against you, saith the Lord God. And mine hand shall be against the prophets that see vanity, and that divine lies: they shall not be in the ⁴council of my people, neither shall they be written in the ⁵writing of the house of Israel, neither shall they enter into the land of Israel; and ye shall know that I am the

10 Lord God. Because, even because they have seduced my people, saying, Peace; and there is no peace; and when one buildeth up ⁶a wall, behold, they daub 11 it with untempered mortar: say unto them which daub it with untempered mortar, that it shall fall: there shall be an overflowing shower; and ye, O great hailstones, shall fall; and a stormy 12 wind shall rend it. Lo, when the wall is fallen, shall it not be said unto you, Where is the daubing wherewith ye 13 have daubed it? Therefore thus saith the Lord God: I will even rend it with a stormy wind in my fury; and there shall be an overflowing shower in mine anger, and great hailstones in fury to 14 consume it. So will I break down the wall that ye have daubed with untempered mortar, and bring it down to the ground, so that the foundation thereof shall be discovered: and it shall fall, and ye shall be consumed in the midst thereof; and ye shall 15 know that I am the Lord. Thus will

I accomplish my fury upon the wall, and upon them that have daubed it with untempered mortar; and I will say unto you, The wall is no more, 16 neither they that daubed it; to wit, the prophets of Israel which prophesy concerning Jerusalem, and which see visions of peace for her, and there is no peace, saith the Lord God.

17 And thou, son of man, set thy face against the daughters of thy people, which prophesy out of their own heart: 18 and prophesy thou against them, and say, Thus saith the Lord God: Woe to the women that sew pillows upon all 7 elbows, and make kerchiefs for the head of persons of every stature to hunt souls! ⁸Will ye hunt the souls of my people, and save souls alive ⁹for yourselves? And ye have profaned me among my people for handfuls of barley and for pieces of bread, to slay the souls that should not die, and to save the souls alive that should not live, by your lying to my people that hearken 20 unto lies. Wherefore thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I am against your pillows, ¹⁰wherewith ye there hunt the souls ¹¹to make them fly, and I will tear them from your arms; and I will let the souls go, even the souls that ye hunt 21 ¹¹to make them fly. Your kerchiefs also will I tear, and deliver my people out of your hand, and they shall be no more in your hand to be hunted; and ye 22 shall know that I am the Lord. Because with lies ye have grieved the heart of the righteous, whom I have not made sad; and strengthened the hands of the wicked, that he should not return from his wicked way, ¹²and be saved alive: 23 therefore ye shall no more see vanity, nor divine divinations: and I will deliver my people out of your hand; and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

14 Then came certain of the elders of 2 Israel unto me, and sat before me. And the word of the Lord came unto me, 3 saying, Son of man, these men have ¹³taken their idols into their heart, and put the stumblingblock of their iniquity before their face: should I 4 be inquired of at all by them? Therefore speak unto them, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: Every man of the house of Israel that taketh his idols into his heart, and putteth the stumblingblock of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to the prophet; I the Lord will answer him ¹⁴therein according to the multitude of 5 his idols; that I may take the house of Israel in their own heart, because they are all estranged from me through 6 their idols. Therefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God: Return ye, and turn yourselves from your idols; and turn away your 7 faces from all your abominations. For every one of the house of Israel, or of the strangers that sojourn in Israel, which separateth himself from me, and taketh his idols into his heart, and putteth the stumblingblock of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to the prophet to inquire ¹for himself of me; I the LORD will answer him by myself: and I will set my face against that man, and will make him an astonishment, for a sign and a proverb, and I will cut him off from the midst of my people; and ye shall know that I am ²the LORD. And if the prophet be ³deceived and speaketh a word, I the LORD have deceived that prophet, and I will stretch out my hand upon him, and will destroy him from the midst of ¹⁰my people Israel. And they shall bear ³their iniquity: the iniquity of the prophet shall be even as the iniquity ¹¹of him that seeketh unto him; that the house of Israel may go no more astray from me, neither defile themselves any more with all their transgressions; but that they may be my people, and I may be their God, saith the Lord God.

¹⁷Or if I bring a sword upon that land, and say, ⁵Sword, go through the land; so that I cut off from it man and beast; ¹⁸though these three men were in it, as I live, saith the Lord God, they shall deliver neither sons nor daughters, but they only shall be delivered themselves. Or if I send a pestilence into that land, and pour out my fury upon it in blood, to cut off from it man ²⁰and beast: though Noah, Daniel, and Job, were in it, as I live, saith the Lord God, they shall deliver neither son nor daughter; they shall but deliver their own souls by their righteousness. For thus saith the Lord God: How much more when I send my four sore judgements upon Jerusalem, the sword, and the famine, and the noisome beasts, and the pestilence, to cut off from ²²it man and beast? Yet, behold, therein shall be left ⁶a remnant that shall be carried forth, both sons and daughters: behold, they shall come forth unto you, and ye shall see their way and their doings: and ye shall be comforted concerning the evil that I have brought upon Jerusalem, even concerning all that I have brought upon it.

²³And they shall comfort you, when ye see their way and their doings: and ye shall know that I have not done ⁷without cause all that I have done in it, saith the Lord God.

¹⁵And the word of the LORD came unto ²me, saying, Son of man, what is the vine tree more than any tree, the vine branch which ⁸is among the trees of the forest? ³Shall wood be taken thereof to make any work? or will men take a pin of it ⁴to hang any vessel thereon? Behold, it is cast into the fire for fuel: the fire hath devoured both the ends of it, and the midst of it is burned; is it profitable ⁵for any work? Behold, when it was whole, it was ⁹meet for no work: how much less, when the fire hath devoured it, and it is burned, shall it yet be ⁶meet for any work? Therefore thus saith the Lord God: As the vine tree among the trees of the forest, which I have given to the fire for fuel, so ¹⁰will I give the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

¹⁶Again the word of the LORD came ²unto me, saying, Son of man, cause Jerusalem to know her abominations, ³and say, Thus saith the Lord God unto Jerusalem: ¹²Thy birth and thy nativity is of the land of the Canaanite: the Amorite was thy father, and thy ⁴mother was an Hittite. And as for thy nativity, in the day thou wast born thy navel was not cut, neither wast thou washed in water to cleanse thee; thou wast not salted at all, nor swaddled at ⁵all. None eye pitied thee, to do any of these unto thee, to have compassion upon thee; but thou wast cast out in the open field, for that thy person was abhorred, in the day that thou wast ⁶born. And when I passed by thee, and saw thee weltering in thy blood, I said unto thee, Though thou art in thy blood, live; yea, I said unto thee, ⁷*Though thou art* in thy blood, live. I ¹³caused thee to multiply as the bud of the field, and thou didst increase and wax great, and thou attainedst to ¹⁴excellent ornament; thy breasts were fashioned, and thine hair was grown; ⁸yet thou wast naked and bare. thee, and covered thy nakedness: yea, I swore unto thee, and entered into a covenant with thee, saith the Lord God, and thou becamest mine. Then washed I thee with water; yea, I thoroughly washed away thy blood from thee, and I anointed thee with oil. I clothed thee also with brodered work, and shod thee with ¹scalskin, and I ²girded thee about with fine linen, and covered thee with silk. I decked thee also with ornaments, and I put bracelets upon thy hands, and a chain about thy neck. And I put a ring upon thy nose, and earrings in thine ears, and a beautiful crown upon thine head. Thus wast thou decked with gold and silver; and thy raiment was of fine linen, and silk, and brodered work; thou didst eat fine flour, and honey, and oil; and thou wast exceeding beautiful, and thou didst prosper unto royal estate. And thy renown went forth among the nations for thy beauty; for it was perfect, through my majesty which I had put upon thee, saith the Lord God. But thou didst trust in thy beauty, and playedst the harlot because of thy renown, and pouredst out thy whoredoms on every one that passed by; his it was. And thou didst take of thy garments, and madest for thee high places decked with divers colours, and playedst the harlot upon them: the like things shall not come, neither shall it be so. Thou didst also take thy ³fair jewels of my gold and of my silver, which I had given thee, and madest for thee ⁴images of men, and didst play the harlot with them; and thou tookest thy brodered garments, and coveredst them, and didst set mine oil and mine incense before them. My bread also which I gave thee, fine flour, and oil, and honey, wherewith I fed thee, thou didst even set it before them for a sweet savour, and thus it was; saith the Lord God. Moreover thou hast taken thy sons and thy daughters, whom thou hast borne unto me, and these hast thou sacrificed unto them to be devoured. Were thy whoredoms a small matter, that thou hast slain my children, and delivered them up, in ⁵causing them to pass through the fire unto them? And in all thine abominations and thy whoredoms thou hast not remembered the days of thy youth, when thou wast naked and bare, and wast weltering in thy blood. And it is come to pass after all thy wickedness, (woe, woe unto thee! saith the Lord God,) that thou hast built unto thee ⁶an eminent place, and hast made thee a lofty place in every street. Thou hast built thy lofty place at every head of the way, and hast made thy beauty an abomination, and hast opened thy feet to every one that passed by, and multiplied thy whore-

dom. Thou hast also committed fornication with the Egyptians, thy neighbours, great of flesh; and hast multiplied thy whoredom, to provoke me to anger. Behold therefore, I have stretched out my hand over thee, and have diminished thine ⁷ordinary food, and delivered thee unto the will of them that hate thee, the daughters of the Philistines, which are ashamed of thy lewd way. Thou hast played the harlot also with the Assyrians, because thou wast unsatiable; yea, thou hast played the harlot with them, and yet thou wast not satisfied. Thou hast moreover multiplied thy whoredom ⁸in the land of Canaan, unto Chaldea; and yet thou wast not satisfied herewith. How weak is thine heart, saith the Lord God, seeing thou doest all these things, the work of an imperious whorish woman; in that thou buildest thine eminent place in the head of every way, and makest thy lofty place in every street; and hast not been as an harlot, ⁹in that thou scornest hire. A wife that committeth adultery! that taketh strangers instead of her husband! They give gifts to all harlots: but thou givest thy gifts to all thy lovers, and bribest them, that they may come unto thee on every side for thy whoredoms. And the contrary is in thee from other women in thy whoredoms, in that none followeth thee to commit whoredom: and whereas thou givest hire, and no hire is given unto thee, therefore thou art contrary. Wherefore, O harlot, hear the word of the Lord: Thus saith the Lord God, Because thy ¹⁰filthiness was poured out, and thy nakedness discovered through thy whoredoms with thy lovers; and because of all the idols of thy abominations, and for the blood of thy children, which thou didst give unto them; therefore behold, I will gather all thy lovers, with whom thou hast taken pleasure, and all them that thou hast loved, with all them that thou hast hated; I will even gather them against thee on every side, and will discover thy nakedness unto them, that they may see all thy nakedness. And I will judge thee, as women that break wedlock and shed blood are judged; and I will bring upon thee the blood of fury and jealousy. I will also give thee into their hand, and they shall throw down thine eminent place, and break down thy lofty places; and they shall strip thee of thy clothes, and take thy fair jewels: and they shall leave thee naked and bare. They shall also bring up an assembly against thee, and they shall stone thee with stones, and thrust thee through with their swords. thee in the sight of many women; and I will cause thee to cease from playing the harlot, and thou shalt also 42 give no hire any more. So will I¹ satisfy my fury² upon thee, and my jealousy shall depart from thee, and I will be quiet, and will be no more 43 angry. Because thou hast not remembered the days of thy youth, but hast fretted me in all these things; therefore behold, I also will bring thy way upon thine head, saith the Lord God: and³ thou shalt not commit this lewdness above all thine abominations.
 44 Behold, every one that useth proverbs shall use this proverb against thee, saying, As is the mother, so is 45 her daughter. Thou art thy mother's daughter, that loatheth her husband and her children; and thou art the sister of thy sisters, which loathed their husbands and their children: your mother was an Hittite, and your 46 father an Amorite. And thine elder sister is Samaria, that dwelleth at thy left hand, she and her daughters: and thy younger sister, that dwelleth at thy right hand, is Sodom and her 47 daughters. Yet hast thou not walked in their ways, nor done after their abominations; but, as if that were a very little thing, thou wast more corrupt
 48 than they in all thy ways. As I live, saith the Lord God, Sodom thy sister hath not done, she nor her daughters, as thou hast done, thou and thy daughters.
 49 Behold, this was the iniquity of thy sister Sodom; pride, fulness of bread, and prosperous ease was in her and in her daughters; neither did she strengthen the hand of the poor and 50 needy. And they were haughty, and committed abomination before me: therefore I took them away⁴ as I saw 51 good. Neither hath Samaria committed half of thy sins; but thou hast multiplied thine abominations more than they, and hast justified thy sisters by all thine abominations which thou hast
 52 done. Thou also, bear thine own shame, in that thou hast given judgement for thy⁵ sisters; through thy sins that thou hast committed more abominable than they, they are more righteous than thou: yea, be thou also confounded, and bear thy shame, in that thou hast
 53 justified thy sisters. And I will⁶ turn again their captivity, the captivity of Sodom and her daughters, and the captivity of thy captives in 54 the midst of them: that thou mayest bear thine own shame, and mayest be ashamed because of all that thou hast done, in that thou art a comfort unto 55 them. And thy sisters, Sodom and her daughters, shall return to their former estate, and Samaria and her daughters shall return to their former estate, and thou and thy daughters shall re-56 turn to your former estate. For thy sister Sodom was not mentioned by thy mouth in the day of thy pride;

 57 before thy wickedness was discovered, as at the time of the reproach of the daughters of Syria, and of all that are round about her, the daughters of the Philistines, which do despite unto thee
 58 round about. Thou hast borne thy lewdness and thine abominations, saith 59 the Lord. For thus saith the Lord God: I will even deal with thee as thou hast done, which hast despised the oath in breaking the covenant.
 60 Nevertheless I will remember my covenant with thee in the days of thy youth, and I will establish unto thee an 61 everlasting covenant. Then shalt thou remember thy ways, and be ashamed, when thou shalt receive thy sisters, thine elders⁷ sisters and thy younger: and I will give them unto thee for daughters, 62 but not by thy covenant. And I will establish my covenant with thee; and thou shalt know that I am the 63 Lord: that thou mayest remember, and be confounded, and never open thy mouth any more, because of thy shame; when I have forgiven thee all that thou hast done, saith the Lord God.
 17 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, put forth a riddle, and speak a parable unto the
 3 house of Israel; and say, Thus saith the Lord God: A great eagle with great wings and long pinions, full of feathers, which had divers colours, came unto Lebanon, and took the top
 4 of the cedar: he cropped off the topmost of the young twigs thereof, and carried it into^{7a} a land of traffic; he
 5 set it in a city of merchants. He took also of the seed of the land, and planted it in⁸ a fruitful soil; he placed it beside⁹ many waters; he set it as
 6 a willow tree. And it grew, and became a spreading vine of low stature, whose branches turned toward him, and the roots thereof were under him: so it became a vine, and brought forth branches, and shot forth sprigs.
 7 There was also another great eagle with great wings and many feathers: and, behold, this vine did bend its roots toward him, and shot forth its branches toward him, from the beds of its plantation, that he might water
 8 it. It was planted in a good¹⁰ soil by⁹ many waters, that it might bring forth branches, and that it might bear fruit, that it might be a goodly vine.

11 Moreover the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Say now to the rebellious house, Know ye not what these things mean? tell them, Behold, the king of Babylon came to Jerusalem, and took the king thereof, and the princes thereof, and brought them to him to Babylon; and he took of the seed royal, and made a covenant with him; he also brought him under an oath, and took away the mighty of the land: that the kingdom might be ¹base, that it might not lift itself up, but that by keeping of his covenant it might stand. But he rebelled against him in sending his ambassadors into Egypt, that they might give him horses and much people. Shall he prosper? shall he escape that doeth such things? shall he break the covenant, and yet escape? As I live, saith the Lord God, surely in the place where the king dwelleth that made him king, whose oath he despised, and whose covenant he brake, even with him in the midst of Babylon he shall die. Neither shall Pharaoh with his mighty army and great company make for him in the war, when they cast up mounts and build forts, to cut off many persons. For he hath despised the oath by breaking the covenant; and behold, he had given his hand, and yet hath done all these things; he shall not escape. Therefore thus saith the Lord God: As I live, surely mine oath that he hath despised, and my covenant that he hath broken, I will even bring it upon his own head. And I will spread my net upon him, and he shall be taken in my snare, and I will bring him to Babylon, and will plead with him there for his trespass that he hath trespassed against me. And all his fugitives in all his bands shall fall by the sword, and they that remain shall be scattered toward every wind: and ye shall know that I the Lord have spoken it.

22 Thus saith the Lord God: I will also take of the lofty top of the cedar, and will set it; I will crop off from the topmost of his young twigs a tender one, and I will plant it upon an high mountain and eminent: in the mountain of the height of Israel will I plant it: and it shall bring forth boughs, and bear fruit, and be a goodly cedar: and under it shall dwell all fowl of every wing; in the shadow of the branches thereof shall they dwell. And all the trees of the field shall know that I the Lord have brought down the high tree, have exalted the low tree, have dried up the green tree, and have made the dry tree to flourish: I the Lord have spoken and have done it.

18 The word of the Lord came unto me again, saying, What mean ye, that ye use this proverb ²concerning the land of Israel, saying, The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge? As I live, saith the Lord God, ye shall not have occasion any more to use this proverb in Israel. Behold, all souls are mine; as the soul of the father, so also the soul of the son is mine: the soul that sinneth, it shall die. But if a man be just, and do ³that which is lawful and right, and hath not eaten upon the mountains, neither hath lifted up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, neither hath defiled his neighbour's wife, neither hath come near to a woman in her separation; and hath not wronged any, but hath restored to the debtor his pledge, hath spoiled none by violence, hath given his bread to the hungry, and hath covered the naked with a garment; he that hath not given forth upon usury, neither hath taken any increase, that hath withdrawn his hand from iniquity, hath executed true judgement between man and man, hath walked in my statutes, and hath kept my judgments, to deal truly; he is just, he shall surely live, saith the Lord God.

10 If he beget a son that is a robber, a shedder of blood, and ⁴that doeth any one of these things, and that doeth not any of those duties, but even hath eaten upon the mountains, and defiled his neighbour's wife, hath wronged the poor and needy, hath spoiled by violence, hath not restored the pledge, and hath lifted up his eyes to the idols, hath committed abomination, hath given forth upon usury, and hath taken increase: shall he then live? he shall not live: he hath done all these abominations: he shall surely ⁵die; his blood shall be upon him. Now, lo, if he beget a son, that seeth all his father's sins, which he hath done, and ⁶feareth, and doeth not such like, that hath not eaten upon the mountains, neither hath lifted up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, hath not defiled his neighbour's wife, neither hath wronged any, hath not taken ought to pledge, neither hath spoiled by violence, but hath given his bread to the hungry, and hath covered the naked with a garment, that hath withdrawn his hand from the poor, that hath not received usury nor increase, hath executed my judgements, hath walked in my statutes; he shall not die for the iniquity of his father, he shall surely live. good among his people, behold, he shall die ¹in his iniquity. Yet say ye, Wherefore doth not the son bear the iniquity of the father? When the son hath done that which is lawful and right, and hath kept all my statutes, and hath done ²⁰them, he shall surely live. The soul that sinneth, it shall die: the son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son; the righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be ²¹upon him. But if the wicked turn from all his sins that he hath committed, and keep all my statutes, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall ²²surely live, he shall not die. None of his transgressions that he hath committed shall be remembered against him: in his righteousness that he hath done he ²³shall live. Have I any pleasure in the death of the wicked? saith the Lord God: and not rather that he should ²⁴return from his way, and live? But when the righteous turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, and doeth according to all the abominations that the wicked man doeth, shall he live? None of his righteous deeds that he hath done shall be remembered: in his trespass that he hath transgressed, and in his sin that he ²⁵hath sinned, in them shall he die. Yet ye say, The way of the Lord is not equal. Hear now, O house of Israel: Is not my way equal? are not your ²⁶ways unequal? When the righteous man turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, ²and dieth ³therein; ¹in his iniquity ²⁷that he hath done shall he die. Again, when the wicked man turneth away from his wickedness that he hath committed, and doeth that which is lawful and right, he shall save his soul ²⁸alive. Because he considereth, and turneth away from all his transgressions that he hath committed, he shall ²⁹surely live, he shall not die. Yet saith the house of Israel, The way of the Lord is not equal. O house of Israel, are not my ways equal? are not your ³⁰ways unequal? Therefore I will judge you, O house of Israel, every one according to his ways, saith the Lord God. Return ye, and turn yourselves from all your transgressions; ⁴so iniquity ³¹shall not be your ⁵ruin. Cast away from you all your transgressions, wherein ye have transgressed; and make you a new heart and a new spirit: for why ³²will ye die, O house of Israel? For I have no pleasure in the death of him that dieth, saith the Lord God: wherefore turn yourselves, and live.

couched among lions, in the midst of the young lions she nourished her ³whelps. And she brought up one of her whelps; he became a young lion: and he learned to catch the prey, he ⁴devoured men. The nations also heard of him; he was taken in their pit: and they brought him with hooks unto ⁵the land of Egypt. Now when she saw that she had waited, and her hope was lost, then she took another of her whelps, and made him a young lion. ⁶And he went up and down among the lions, he became a young lion: and he learned to catch the prey, he devoured ⁷men. And he knew their ⁶palaces, and laid waste their cities; and the land was desolate, and the fulness thereof, because of the noise of his ⁸roaring. Then the nations set against him on every side from the provinces: and they spread their net over him; ⁹he was taken in their pit. And they put him in a cage with hooks, and brought him to the king of Babylon: they brought him into strong holds, that his voice should no more be heard upon the mountains of Israel.

¹⁰ Thy mother was like a vine, ⁷in thy blood, planted by the waters: she was fruitful and full of branches by reason ¹¹of many waters. And she had strong rods for the sceptres of them that bare rule, and ⁸their stature was exalted among the ⁹thick boughs, and ¹⁰they were seen in ⁸their height with the ¹²multitude of ⁸their branches. But she was plucked up in fury, she was cast down to the ground, and the east wind dried up her fruit: her strong rods were broken off and withered; the ¹³fire consumed them. And now she is planted in the wilderness, in a dry and ¹⁴thirsty land. And fire is gone out of ¹¹the rods of her branches, it hath devoured her fruit, so that there is in her no strong rod to be a sceptre to rule. This is a lamentation, and shall be for a lamentation.

²⁰ And it came to pass in the seventh year, in the fifth month, the tenth day of the month, that certain of the elders of Israel came to inquire of the Lord, and sat before me. And the word of ³the Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, speak unto the elders of Israel, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: Are ye come to inquire of me? As I live, saith the Lord God, ⁴I will not be inquired of by you. Wilt thou judge them, son of man, wilt thou judge them? cause them to know ⁵the abominations of their fathers; and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: In the day when I chose Israel, and lifted up mine hand unto the seed of the house of Jacob, and made myself known unto them in the land of Egypt, when I lifted up mine hand unto them, saying, I am the LORD your 6 God; in that day I lifted up mine hand unto them, to bring them forth out of the land of Egypt into a land that I had espied for them, flowing with milk and honey, which is the glory of 7 all lands: and I said unto them, Cast ye away every man the abominations of his eyes, and defile not yourselves with the idols of Egypt; I am the LORD 8 your God. But they rebelled against me, and would not hearken unto me;

 they did not every man cast away the abominations of their eyes, neither did they forsake the idols of Egypt: then I said I would pour out my fury upon them, to accomplish my anger against them in the midst of the land of 9 Egypt. But I wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be profaned in the sight of the nations, among whom they were, in whose sight I made myself known unto them, in bringing them forth out of the land of Egypt.
 10 So I caused them to go forth out of the land of Egypt, and brought them 11 into the wilderness. And I gave them my statutes, and ¹shewed them my judgements, which if a man do, he 12 shall live ²in them. Moreover also I gave them my sabbaths, to be a sign between me and them, that they might know that ³I am the LORD that 13 sanctify them. But the house of Israel rebelled against me in the wilderness:
 they walked not in my statutes, and they rejected my judgements, which if a man do, he shall live ²in them; and my sabbaths they greatly profaned:
 then I said I would pour out my fury upon them in the wilderness, to con-14 sume them. But I wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be profaned in the sight of the nations, in 15 whose sight I brought them out. Moreover also I lifted up my hand unto them in the wilderness, that I would not bring them into the land which I had given them, flowing with milk and honey, which is the glory of all lands; 16 because they rejected my judgements, and walked not in my statutes, and profaned my sabbaths: for their heart 17 went after their idols. Nevertheless mine eye spared them from destroying them, neither did I make a full end of 18 them in the wilderness. And I said unto their children in the wilderness, Walk ye not in the statutes of your fathers, neither observe their judgements, nor defile yourselves with their 19 idols: I am the LORD your God; walk in my statutes, and keep my judgements, 20 and do them: and hallow my sabbaths;
 and they shall be a sign between me
 and you, that ye may know that I am 21 the LORD your God. But the children rebelled against me; they walked not in my statutes, neither kept my judge-

 he shall live ²in them; they profaned my sabbaths: then I said I would pour out my fury upon them, to accomplish my anger against them in the 22 wilderness. Nevertheless I withdrew mine hand, and wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be profaned
 in the sight of the nations, in whose 23 sight I brought them forth. Moreover I lifted up mine hand unto them in the wilderness, that I would scatter them
 among the nations, and disperse them 24 through the countries; because they had not executed my judgements, but had rejected my statutes, and had profaned my sabbaths, and their eyes were 25 after their fathers' idols. Moreover also I gave them statutes that were not good, and judgements ⁴wherein they 26 should not live; and I polluted them in their own gifts, in that they ⁵caused to pass through the fire all that openeth the womb, that I might make them desolate, to the end that they might know that I am the LORD.

27 Therefore, son of man, speak unto the house of Israel, and say unto them, Thus saith the LORD God: In this moreover have your fathers blasphemed me, in that they have committed a 28 trespass against me. For when I had brought them into the land, which I lifted up mine hand to give unto them, then they ⁶saw every high hill, and every thick tree, and they offered there their sacrifices, and there they presented the provocation of their offering,
 there also they made their sweet savour, and they poured out there their 29 drink offerings. Then I said unto them,
 What meaneth the high place ⁷whereunto ye go? So the name thereof is 30 called ⁸Bamah unto this day. Wherefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the LORD God: Do ye pollute yourselves after the manner of your fathers?
 and go ye a whoring after their abomin-

31 ations? and when ye offer your gifts, when ye make your sons to pass through the fire, do ye pollute yourselves with all your idols, unto this day? and shall I be inquired of by you, O house of Israel? As I live, saith the LORD God, 32 I will not be inquired of by you: and that which cometh into your mind shall not be at all; in that ye say, We will be as the nations, as the families of the 33 countries, to serve wood and stone. As I live, saith the LORD God, surely with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arm, and with fury poured out, will 34 I be king over you: and I will bring you out from the peoples, and will gather you out of the countries wherein ye are scattered, with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arm, and with 35 fury poured out: and I will bring you

there will I plead with you face to face.
 36 Like as I pleaded with your fathers in the wilderness of the land of Egypt, so will I plead with you, saith the Lord 37 God. And I will cause you to pass under the rod, and I will bring you into 38 the bond of the covenant; and I will purge out from among you the rebels, and them that transgress against me; I will bring them forth out of the land where they sojourn, but they shall not enter into the land of Israel: and ye
 39 shall know that I am the LORD. As for you, O house of Israel, thus saith the Lord God: Go ye, serve every one his idols,¹ and hereafter also, if ye will not hearken unto me: but my holy name shall ye no more profane with your 40 gifts, and with your idols. For in mine holy mountain, in the mountain of the height of Israel, saith the Lord God, there shall all the house of Israel, all of them, serve me in the land: there will I accept them, and there will I require your offerings, and the² firstfruits of your³ oblations, with all your holy 41 things. ⁴As a sweet savour will I accept you, when I bring you out from the peoples, and gather you out of the countries wherein ye have been scattered; and I will be sanctified in you in the 42 sight of the nations. And ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall bring you into the land of Israel, into the country which I lifted up mine 43 hand to give unto your fathers. And there shall ye remember your ways, and all your doings, wherein ye have polluted yourselves; and ye shall loathe yourselves in your own sight for all your evils that ye have committed.
 44 And ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I have wrought with you for my name's sake, not according to your evil ways, nor according to your corrupt doings, O ye house of Israel, saith the Lord God.
 45 And the word of the LORD came unto
 46 me, saying, Son of man, set thy face toward the south, and drop thy word toward the south, and prophesy against 47 the forest of the field in the South; and say to the forest of the South, Hear the word of the LORD; Thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I will kindle a fire in thee, and it shall devour every green tree in thee, and every dry tree: the flaming flame shall not be quenched, and all faces from the south to the 48 north shall be burnt thereby. And all flesh shall see that I the LORD have kindled it: it shall not be quenched.
 49 Then said I, Ah Lord God! they say of me, Is he not a speaker of parables?
 21 And the word of the LORD came unto
 2 me, saying, Son of man, set thy face toward Jerusalem, and drop thy word toward the sanctuaries, and prophesy
 3 against the land of Israel; and say to the land of Israel, Thus saith the LORD: Behold, I am against thee, and will draw forth my sword out of its sheath, and will cut off from thee the righteous and 4 the wicked. Seeing then that I will cut off from thee the righteous and the wicked, therefore shall my sword go forth out of its sheath against all flesh

 5 from the south to the north: and all flesh shall know that I the LORD have drawn forth my sword out of its sheath;
 6 it shall not return any more. Sigh therefore, thou son of man; with the breaking of thy loins and with bitterness
 7 shalt thou sigh before their eyes. And it shall be, when they say unto thee, Wherefore sighest thou? that thou shalt say, Because of the tidings, for it cometh: and every heart shall melt, and all hands shall be feeble, and every spirit shall⁵ faint, and all knees shall be weak as water: behold, it cometh, and it shall be done, saith the Lord God.
 8 And the word of the LORD came unto
 9 me, saying, Son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus saith the LORD: Say, A sword, a sword, it is sharpened,
 10 and also furbished: it is sharpened that it may make a slaughter; it is furbished that it may be as lightning: shall we then make mirth? ⁶the rod of 11 my son, it contemneth every tree. And it is given to be furbished, that it may be handled: the sword, it is sharpened, yea, it is furbished, to give it into 12 the hand of the slayer. Cry and howl, son of man: for it is upon my people, it is upon all the princes of Israel: ⁷they are delivered over to the sword with my people: smite therefore upon thy 13 thigh. For there is a trial; and ⁸what if even the rod that contemneth shall 14 be no more? saith the Lord God. Thou therefore, son of man, prophesy, and smite thine hands together; and let the sword be doubled the third time, the sword of the deadly wounded: it is the sword of the great one that is deadly wounded, which ⁹entereth into their 15 chambers. I have set the ¹⁰point of the sword against all their gates, that their heart may melt, and their stumblings be multiplied: ah! it is made as lightning, it is pointed for slaughter.
 16 ¹¹Gather thee together, go to the right; set thyself in array, go to the left;
 17 ¹²whithersoever thy face is set. I will also smite mine hands together, and I will ¹³satisfy my fury: I the LORD have spoken it.
 18 The word of the LORD came unto me
 19 again, saying, Also, thou son of man, appoint thee two ways, that the sword of the king of Babylon may come; they twain shall come forth out of one land: and mark out a ¹⁴place, mark it out at 20 the head of the way to the city. Thou shalt appoint a way, for the sword to come to Rabbah of the children of

Ammon, and to Judah in Jerusalem
 21 that defenced. For the king of Babylon stood at the parting of the way, at the head of the two ways, to use divination:
 he shook the arrows to and fro, he consulted the teraphim, he looked in 22 the liver. In his right hand was the divination for Jerusalem, to set battering rams, to open the mouth ¹in the slaughter, to lift up the voice with shouting, to set battering rams against the gates, to 23 cast up mounds, to build forts. And it shall be unto them as a vain divination in their sight, which have sworn oaths unto them: but he bringeth iniquity to remembrance, that they may be taken.
 24 Therefore thus saith the Lord God:
 Because ye have made your iniquity to be remembered, in that your transgressions are discovered, so that in all your doings your sins do appear; because that ye are come to remembrance, ye 25 shall be taken with the hand. And thou, O deadly wounded wicked one,
 the prince of Israel, whose day is come,
 in the time of the ²iniquity of the end;
 26 thus saith the Lord God: ³Remove
 the mitre, and take off the crown:
 this shall be ⁴no more the same: exalt that which is low, and abase that which 27 is high. ⁵I will overturn, overturn, overturn it: this also shall be no more,
 until he come whose right it is; and I will give it him.
 28 And thou, son of man, prophesy,
 and say, Thus saith the Lord God concerning the children of Ammon, and concerning their reproach; and say thou, A sword, a sword is drawn, for the slaughter it is furnished, ⁶to cause it to devour, that it may be as lightning:
 29 whiles they see vanity unto thee, whiles
 they divine lies unto thee, to lay thee upon the necks of the wicked that are deadly wounded, whose day is come,
 in the time of the ²iniquity of the end.
 30 Cause it to return unto its sheath. In the place where thou wast created, in the land of ⁷thy birth, will I judge thee.
 31 And I will pour out mine indignation upon thee; I will blow upon thee with the fire of my wrath: and I will deliver thee into the hand of brutish men, skil-32 ful to destroy. Thou shalt be for fuel to the fire; thy blood shall be in the midst of the land; thou shalt be no more remembered: for I the Lord have spoken it.
 22 Moreover the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, And thou, son of man, wilt thou judge, wilt thou judge the bloody city? ⁸then cause her 3 to know all her abominations. And thou shalt say, Thus saith the Lord God: A city that sheddeth blood in the midst of her, that her time may come,
 and that maketh idols against herself
 4 to defile her! Thou art become guilty in thy blood that thou hast shed, and art defiled in thine idols which thou hast made; and thou hast caused thy days to draw near, and art come even unto thy years: therefore have I made thee a reproach unto the nations,

 and a mocking to all the countries.
 5 Those that be near, and those that be far from thee, shall mock thee, thou 6 infamous one and full of tumult. Behold, the princes of Israel, every one according to his ¹⁰power, have been in 7 thee to shed blood. In thee have they set light by father and mother; in the midst of thee have they dealt by oppression with the stranger: in thee have they wronged the fatherless and 8 the widow. Thou hast despised mine holy things, and hast profaned my sab-9 baths. Slanderous men have been in thee to shed blood: and in thee they have eaten upon the mountains: in the midst of thee they have commit-10 ted lewdness. In thee have they discovered their fathers' nakedness: in thee have they humbled her that was 11 unclean in her separation. And one hath committed abomination with his neighbour's wife; and another hath lewdly defiled his daughter in law; and another in thee hath humbled his sister, 12 his father's daughter. In thee have they taken bribes to shed blood; thou hast taken usury and increase, and thou hast greedily gained of thy neighbours
 by oppression, and hast forgotten me, 13 saith the Lord God. Behold, therefore,
 I have smitten mine hand at thy dishonest gain which thou hast made, and at thy blood which hath been in the midst 14 of thee. Can thine heart endure, or can thine hands be strong, in the days that I shall deal with thee? I the Lord have 15 spoken it, and will do it. And I will scatter thee among the nations, and disperse thee through the countries; and I will consume thy filthiness out of thee.
 16 And thou shalt be profaned in thyself, in the sight of the nations; and thou shalt know that I am the Lord.
 17 And the word of the Lord came unto 18 me, saying, Son of man, the house of Israel is become dross unto me: all of them are brass and tin and iron and lead, in the midst of the furnace; they 19 are the dross of silver. Therefore thus saith the Lord God: Because ye are all become dross, therefore behold, I will gather you into the midst of Jerusalem.
 20 As they gather silver and brass and iron and lead and tin into the midst of the furnace, to blow the fire upon it, to melt it; so will I gather you in mine anger and in my fury, and I will lay you there, 21 and melt you. Yea, I will gather you, and blow upon you with the fire of my wrath, and ye shall be melted in the 22 midst thereof. As silver is melted in the midst of the furnace, so shall ye be melted in the midst thereof; and ye shall know that I the LORD have poured out my fury upon you.

23 And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, Son of man, say unto her,

24 Thou art a land that is not cleansed, nor rained upon in the day of indignation. There is a conspiracy of her prophets in the midst thereof, like a roaring lion ravening the prey: they have devoured souls; they take treasure and precious things; they have made her widows many in the midst thereof.

26 Her priests have done violence to my law, and have profaned mine holy things: they have put no difference between the holy and the common, neither have they caused men to discern between the unclean and the clean, and have hid their eyes from my sabbaths, and I am profaned among them.

27 Her princes in the midst thereof are like wolves ravening the prey; to shed blood, and to destroy souls, that

28 they may get dishonest gain. And her prophets have daubed for them with untempered mortar, seeing vanity, and divining lies unto them, saying, Thus saith the Lord God, when the 29 LORD hath not spoken. The people of the land have used oppression, and exercised robbery; yea, they have vexed the poor and needy, and have oppressed the stranger wrongfully. And I sought for a man among them, that should make up the fence, and stand in the gap before me for the land, that I should not destroy it: but I found none. Therefore have I poured out mine indignation upon them; I have consumed them with the fire of my wrath: their own way have I brought upon their heads, saith the Lord God.

23 The word of the LORD came again unto me, saying, Son of man, there were two women, the daughters of one mother: and they committed whoredoms in Egypt; they committed whoredoms in their youth: there were their breasts pressed, and there they bruised the teats of their virginity.

4 And the names of them were Oholah the elder, and Oholibah her sister: and they became mine, and they bare sons and daughters. And as for their names, Samaria is ¹Oholah, and Jeru-

5 salem ²Oholibah. And Oholah played the harlot ³when she was mine; and she doted on her lovers, on the Assyrians

6 her neighbours, which were clothed with blue, governors and ⁴rulers, all of them desirable young men, horse-

7 men riding upon horses. And she bestowed her whoredoms upon them, the choicest men of Assyria all of them: and on whomsoever she doted, with all

8 her idols she defiled herself. Neither hath she left her whoredoms ⁵since the days of Egypt; for in her youth they lay with her, and they bruised the teats of her virginity: and they poured out their whoredom upon her. Wherefore I delivered her into the hand of her lovers, into the hand of the As-

10 syrians, upon whom she doted. These discovered her nakedness: they took her sons and her daughters, and her they slew with the sword: and she became a ⁶byword among women; for they executed judgements upon her.

11 And her sister Oholibah saw this, yet was she more corrupt in her doting than she, and in her whoredoms which were more than the whoredoms of

12 her sister. She doted upon the Assyrians, governors and rulers, her neighbours, clothed most gorgeously, horsemen riding upon horses, all of 13 them desirable young men. And I saw that she was defiled; they both took one way. And she increased her whoredoms; for she saw men pourtrayed upon the wall, the images of the 14 Chaldeans pourtrayed with vermilion, girded with girdles upon their loins,

15 exceeding in dyed attire upon their heads, all of them princes to look upon, after the likeness of the Babylonians ⁸in Chaldea, the land of their nativity.

16 And ⁹as soon as she saw them she doted upon them, and sent messengers

17 unto them into Chaldea. And the Babylonians came to her into the bed of love, and they defiled her with their whoredom, and she was polluted with them, and her soul was alienated from

18 them. So she discovered her whoredoms, and discovered her nakedness: then my soul was alienated from her, like as my soul was alienated from her

19 sister. Yet she multiplied her whoredoms, remembering the days of her youth, wherein she had played the

20 harlot in the land of Egypt. And she doted upon their paramours, whose flesh is as the flesh of asses, and whose

21 issue is like the issue of horses. Thus thou calledst to remembrance the lewdness of thy youth, in the bruising of thy teats by the Egyptians for the breasts of thy youth.

22 Therefore, O Oholibah, thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I will raise up thy lovers against thee, from whom thy soul is alienated, and I will bring

23 them against thee on every side; the Babylonians and all the Chaldeans, Pekod and Shoa and Koa, and all the Assyrians with them: desirable young men, governors and rulers all of them,

24 princes and ¹⁰men of renown, all of them riding upon horses. And they shall come against thee with weapons, chariots, and ¹¹wagons, and with an assembly of peoples; they shall set themselves against thee with buckler and shield and helmet round about: and I will commit the judgement unto them, and they shall judge thee accord-

Thus will I make thy lewdness to cease from thee, and thy whoredom ¹brought from the land of Egypt: so that thou shalt not lift up thine eyes unto them, nor remember Egypt any more. For thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I will deliver thee into the hand of them whom thou hatest, into the hand of them from whom thy soul is alienated: and they shall deal with thee in hatred, and shall take away all thy labour, and shall leave thee naked and bare: and the nakedness of thy whoredoms shall be discovered, both thy lewdness and thy whoredoms. Thus saith the Lord God: Thou shalt drink of thy sister's cup, which is deep and large: thou shalt be laughed to scorn and had in derision; ²it containeth much. Thou shalt be filled with drunkenness and sorrow, with the cup of astonishment and desolation, with the cup of thy sister Samaria. Thou shalt even drink it and drain it out, and thou shalt gnaw the sherds thereof, and shalt tear thy breasts: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord God. Therefore thus saith the Lord God: Because thou hast forgotten me, and cast me behind thy back, therefore bear thou also thy lewdness and thy whoredoms.

36 The Lord said moreover unto me: Son of man, wilt thou judge Oholah and Oholibah? then declare unto them their abominations. For they have committed adultery, and blood is in their hands, and with their idols have they committed adultery; and they have also ³caused their sons, whom they bare unto me, to pass through the fire unto them to be devoured. Moreover this they have done unto me: they have defiled my sanctuary in the same day, and have profaned my sabbaths.

39 For when they had slain their children to their idols, then they came the same day into my sanctuary to profane it; and, lo, thus have they done in the midst of mine house. And furthermore ye have sent for men ⁴that come from far: unto whom a messenger was sent, and, lo, they came; for whom thou didst wash thyself, paintedst thine eyes, and deckedst thyself with ornaments; and satest upon a stately bed, with a table prepared before it, whereupon thou didst set mine incense and mine oil. And the voice of a multitude being at ease was with her: and with men of the common sort were brought drunkards from the wilderness; and they put bracelets upon the hands of them ⁵twain, and beautiful crowns upon their heads. Then said I ⁶of her that was old in adulteries, Now will they commit ⁷whoredoms with her, ⁸and she with them. And they went in unto her, as they go in unto an harlot: so went they in unto Oholah and unto Oholibah, the lewd women. And righteous men, they shall judge them with the judgement of adulteresses, and with the judgement of women that shed blood; because they are adulteresses, and blood is in their hands. For thus saith the Lord God: I will bring up an assembly against them, and will give them to be tossed to and fro and spoiled. And the assembly shall stone them with stones, and despatch them with their swords; they shall slay their sons and their daughters, and burn up their houses with fire.

48 Thus will I cause lewdness to cease out of the land, that all women may be taught not to do after your lewdness. And they shall recompense your lewdness upon you, and ye shall bear the sins of your idols: and ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

24 Again, in the ninth year, in the tenth month, in the tenth ⁹day of the month, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, write thee the name of the day, ¹⁰even of this selfsame day: the king of Babylon ¹¹drew close unto Jerusalem this selfsame day.

3 And utter a parable unto the rebellious house, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Set on the caldron, set it on, and also pour water into it: gather the pieces thereof into it, even every good piece, the thigh, and the shoulder; fill it with the choice bones.

5 Take the choice of the flock, and pile also the bones under it: make it boil well; yea, let the bones thereof be seethed in the midst of it.

6 Wherefore thus saith the Lord God: Wee to the bloody city, to the caldron whose ¹²rust is therein, and whose ¹³rust is not gone out of it! bring it out piece by piece; no lot is fallen upon it. For her blood is in the midst of her; she set it upon the bare rock; she poured it not upon the ground, to cover it with dust; that it might cause fury to come up to take vengeance, I have set her blood upon the bare rock, that it should not be covered. Therefore thus saith the Lord God: Wee to the bloody city!

12 rust of it may be consumed. She hath wearied ¹herself with toil: yet her great rust goeth not forth out of her; her

13 rust ²goeth not forth by fire. ³In thy filthiness is lowliness: because I have purged thee and thou wast not purged, thou shalt not be purged from thy filthiness any more, till I have ⁴satisfied my fury ⁵upon thee. I the LORD have spoken it: it shall come to pass, and I will do it; I will not go back, neither will I spare, neither will I repent; according to thy ways, and according to thy doings, shall they judge thee, saith the LORD God.

15 Also the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, Son of man, behold, I take away from thee the desire of thine eyes with a stroke: yet neither shalt thou mourn nor weep, neither

17 shall thy tears run down. Sigh, ⁶but not aloud; make no mourning for the dead, bind thy headtire upon thee, and put thy shoes upon thy feet, and cover not thy lips, and ⁷eat not the bread of

18 men. So I spake unto the people in the morning; and at even my wife died: and I did in the morning as I was 24 and moan one toward another. Thus shall Ezekiel be unto you a sign; according to all that he hath done shall ye do: when this cometh, then shall ye know that I am the LORD God.

25 And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, Son of man, set thy face toward the children of Ammon, and prophesy ¹³against them: and say unto the children of Ammon, Hear the word of the LORD God; Thus saith the LORD God: Because thou saidst, Aha, against my sanctuary, when it was profaned; and against the land of Israel, when it was made desolate; and against the house of Judah, when

4 they went into captivity: therefore behold, I will deliver thee to the children of the east for a possession, and they shall set their encampments in thee, and make their dwellings in thee; they shall eat thy fruit, and

5 they shall drink thy milk. And I will make Rabbah a stable for camels, and the children of Ammon a couching place for flocks: and ye shall know

6 that I am the LORD. For thus saith the LORD God: Because thou hast clapped thine hands, and stamped with the feet, and rejoiced with all the despite of thy soul against the land

7 of Israel; therefore behold, I have stretched out mine hand upon thee, and will deliver thee for a spoil to the nations; and I will cut thee off from the peoples, and I will cause thee to perish out of the countries: I will destroy thee; and thou shalt know that I am the LORD.

8 Thus saith the LORD God: Because that Moab and Seir do say, Behold, the house of Judah is like unto all the nations; therefore behold, I will open the side of Moab from the cities, from his cities which are ¹⁴on his frontiers, the glory of the country, Beth-jeshimoth,

10 Baal-meon, and Kiriathaim, ¹⁵unto the children of the east, to go against the children of Ammon, and I will give them for a possession, that the children of Ammon may not be remembered

11 among the nations: and I will execute judgements upon Moab; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

And I will execute great vengeance upon them with furious rebukes; and they shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall lay my vengeance upon them.

26 And it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the first day of the month, that the word of the Lord came unto me,

2 saying, Son of man, because that Tyre hath said against Jerusalem, Aha, she is broken that was the gate of the peoples; she is turned unto me: I shall be replenished, now that she is laid

3 waste: therefore thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I am against thee, O Tyre, and will cause many nations to come up against thee, as the sea causeth his

4 waves to come up. And they shall destroy the walls of Tyre, and break down her towers: I will also scrape her dust from her, and make her a bare

5 rock. She shall be a place for the spreading of nets in the midst of the sea; for I have spoken it, saith the Lord God: and she shall become a

6 spoil to the nations. And her daughters which are in the field shall be slain with the sword: and they shall know

7 that I am the Lord. For thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I will bring upon Tyre Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, king of kings, from the north, with horses, and with chariots, and with horsemen, and a company, and much

8 people. He shall slay with the sword thy daughters in the field: and he shall make forts against thee, and cast up a mound against thee, and raise

9 up the buckler against thee. And he shall set his battering engines against thy walls, and with his axes he shall

10 break down thy towers. By reason of the abundance of his horses their dust shall cover thee: thy walls shall shake at the noise of the horsemen, and of the wagons, and of the chariots, when he shall enter into thy gates, as men enter into a city wherein is made a

11 breach. With the hoofs of his horses shall he tread down all thy streets: he shall slay thy people with the sword, and the pillars of thy strength shall go

12 down to the ground. And they shall make a spoil of thy riches, and make a prey of thy merchandise: and they shall break down thy walls, and destroy thy pleasant houses: and they shall lay thy stones and thy timber and thy dust in the midst of the waters. 13 And I will cause the noise of thy songs to cease; and the sound of thy harps 14 shall be no more heard. And I will make thee a bare rock: thou shalt be a place for the spreading of nets; thou shalt be built no more: for I the Lord have spoken it, saith the Lord God.

15 Thus saith the Lord God to Tyre: Shall not the isles shake at the sound of thy fall, when the wounded groan, when the slaughter is made in the midst

16 of thee? Then all the princes of the sea shall come down from their thrones, and lay aside their robes, and strip off their brodered garments: they shall clothe themselves with trembling; they shall sit upon the ground, and shall tremble every moment, and be

17 astonished at thee. And they shall take up a lamentation for thee, and say to thee, How art thou destroyed, that wast inhabited of seafaring men, the renowned city, which wast strong in the sea, she and her inhabitants, which caused their terror to be on all that

18 haunt it! Now shall the isles tremble in the day of thy fall; yea, the isles that are in the sea shall be dismayed

19 at thy departure. For thus saith the Lord God: When I shall make thee a desolate city, like the cities that are not inhabited; when I shall bring up the deep upon thee, and the great

20 waters shall cover thee; then will I bring thee down with them that descend into the pit, to the people of old time, and will make thee to dwell in the nether parts of the earth, in the places that are desolate of old, with them that go down to the pit, that thou be not inhabited; and I will set glory

21 in the land of the living: I will make thee a terror, and thou shalt be no more: though thou be sought for, yet shalt thou never be found again, saith the Lord God.

27 The word of the Lord came again 2 unto me, saying, And thou, son of man, 3 take up a lamentation for Tyre; and say unto Tyre, O thou that dwellest at the entry of the sea, which art the merchant of the peoples unto many isles, thus saith the Lord God: Thou,

O Tyre, hast said, I am perfect in beauty. 4 Thy borders are in the heart of the seas, thy builders have perfected thy beauty.

5 They have made all thy planks of fir trees from Senir: they have taken cedars from Lebanon to make a mast

6 for thee. Of the oaks of Bashan have they made thine oars; they have made thy benches of ivory inlaid in box-

The 1 ancients of Gebal and the wise men thereof were in thee thy calkers: all the ships of the sea with their mariners were in thee to 2 occupy thy merchandise. Persia and Lud and Put were in thine army, thy men of war: they hanged the shield and helmet in thee; they set forth thy comeliness. 11 The men of Arvad with thine army were upon thy walls round about, and 3 the Gammadim were in thy towers: they hanged their shields upon thy walls round about; they have perfected thy 12 beauty. Tarshish was thy merchant by reason of the multitude of all kinds of riches; with silver, iron, tin, and lead, 13 they traded for thy wares. Javan, Tubal, and Meshech, they were thy traffickers: they traded the persons of men and vessels of brass for thy merchandise. 14 They of the house of Togarmah traded for thy wares with horses and war- 15 horses and mules. The men of Dedan were thy traffickers: many isles were the mart of thine hand: they brought thee 4 in exchange horns of ivory and 16 ebony. Syria was thy merchant by reason of the multitude of thy handy- works: they traded for thy wares with 5 emeralds, purple, and brodered work, and fine linen, and coral, and rubies. 17 Judah, and the land of Israel, they were thy traffickers: they traded for thy merchandise wheat of Minnith, and 6 pannag, and honey, and oil, and 18 balm. Damascus was thy merchant for the multitude of thy handyworks, by reason of the multitude of all kinds of riches; with the wine of Helbon, and 19 white wool. Vedan and Javan traded 7 with yarn for thy wares: 8 bright iron, cassia, and calamus, were among 20 thy merchandise. Dedan was thy traf- ficker in precious cloths for riding. 21 Arabia, and all the princes of Kedar, they were the merchants of thy hand; in lambs, and rams, and goats, in these 22 were they thy merchants. The traf- fickers of Sheba and Raamah, they were thy traffickers: they traded for thy wares with chief of all spices, and with all precious stones, and gold. 23 Haran and Canneh and Eden, the traf- fickers of Sheba, Asshur and Chilmad, 24 were thy traffickers. These were thy traffickers in choice wares, in 9 wrap- pings of blue and brodered work, and in chests of rich apparel, bound with cords and made of cedar, among thy 25 merchandise. The ships of Tarshish were thy caravans for thy merchandise: and thou wast replenished, and made very glorious in the heart of the seas. 26 Thy rowers have brought thee into great waters: the east wind hath broken 27 thee in the heart of the seas. And in their wailing they shall take up a lamentation for thee, and lament over thee, saying, Who is there like Tyre, like her that is brought to silence in the midst of the sea? 33 When thy wares went forth out of the seas, thou filledst many peoples; thou didst enrich the kings of the earth with the multitude of thy riches and of thy 34 merchandise. 13 In the time that thou wast broken by the seas in the depths of the waters, thy merchandise and all thy company did fall in the midst of 35 thee. 29 In the tenth year, in the tenth month, in the twelfth day of the month, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, set thy face against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and prophesy against him, and against all Egypt:

For thus saith the Lord God: At the end of forty years will I gather the Egyptians from the peoples 14 whither they were scattered: and I will bring again the captivity of Egypt, and will cause them to return into the land of Pathros, into the land of their ¹birth; and they shall be there a ²base 15 kingdom. And it shall be no more the confidence of the house of Israel, bringing iniquity to remembrance, when they turn to look after them: and they shall know that I am the Lord God.

17 And it came to pass in the seven and twentieth year, in the first month, in the first day of the month, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, 18 Son of man, Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon caused his army to serve a great service against Tyre: every head was made bald, and every shoulder was peeled: yet had he no wages, nor his army, from Tyre, for the service that 19 he had served against it: therefore thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I will give the land of Egypt unto Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon; and he shall carry off her multitude, and take her spoil, and take her prey; and it shall be 20 the wages for his army. I have given him the land of Egypt ³as his recompence for which he served, because they wrought for me, saith the Lord God.

21 In that day will I cause an horn to bud forth unto the house of Israel, and I will give thee the opening of the mouth in the midst of them; and they shall know that I am the Lord.

30 The word of the Lord came again unto me, saying, Son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus saith the Lord God: 3 Howl ye, Woe worth the day! For the day is near, even the day of the Lord is near, a day of clouds; it shall 4 be the time of the heathen. And a sword shall come upon Egypt, and anguish shall be in ⁴Ethiopia, when the slain shall fall in Egypt; and they shall take away her multitude, and her foundations shall be broken down.

5 ⁴Ethiopia, and Put, and Lud, and all the mingled people, and Cub, and the children of ⁵the land that is in league, shall fall with them by the sword.

6 Thus saith the Lord: They also that uphold Egypt shall fall, and the pride of her power shall come down: ⁶from the tower of Sevench shall they fall in it by the sword, saith the Lord 7 God. And they shall be desolate in the midst of the countries that are desolate, and her cities shall be in the midst of the cities that are wasted. 8 And they shall know that I am the Lord, when I have set a fire in Egypt, and all her helpers are ⁷destroyed.

9 In that day shall messengers go forth from before me in ships to make the careless Ethiopians afraid; and there shall be anguish upon them, as in the day of Egypt; for, lo, it cometh.

10 Thus saith the Lord God: I will also make the multitude of Egypt to cease, by the hand of Nebuchadrezzar 11 king of Babylon. He and his people with him, the terrible of the nations, shall be brought in to destroy the land; and they shall draw their swords against Egypt, and fill the land with 12 the slain. And I will make the rivers dry, and will sell the land into the hand of evil men; and I will make the land desolate, and ⁸all that is therein, by the hand of strangers: I the Lord have spoken it.

13 Thus saith the Lord God: I will also destroy the idols, and I will cause the ⁹images to cease from Noph; and there shall be no more a prince out of the land of Egypt: and I will put a fear in the 14 land of Egypt. And I will make Pathros desolate, and will set a fire in Zoan, and will execute judgements in No.

15 And I will pour my fury upon Sin, the strong hold of Egypt; and I will 16 cut off the multitude of No. And I will set a fire in Egypt; Sin shall be in great anguish, and No shall be broken up; and Noph shall have ad-

17 versaries ¹⁰in the day-time. The young men of Aven and of Pi-beseth shall fall by the sword: and these cities 18 shall go into captivity. At Tehaphnebes also the day shall ¹¹withdraw itself, when I shall break there the yokes of Egypt, and the pride of her power shall cease in her: as for her, a cloud shall cover her, and her daughters shall go into captivity. Thus will I execute judgements in Egypt: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

20 And it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the first month, in the seventh day of the month, that the word of 21 the Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, I have broken the arm of Pharaoh king of Egypt; and, lo, it hath not been bound up to apply *heal-*ing medicines, to put a roller to bind it, that it be strong to hold the sword.

22 Therefore thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I am against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and will break his arms, the strong, and that which was broken; and I will cause the sword to fall out 23 of his hand. And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries. 24 And I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, and put my sword in his hand; but I will break the arms of

Pharaoh, and he shall groan before him with the groanings of a deadly 25 wounded man. And I will hold up the arms of the king of Babylon, and the arms of Pharaoh shall fall down; and they shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall put my sword into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall stretch it out upon the land of 26 Egypt. And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and disperse them through the countries; and they shall know that I am the Lord.

31 And it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the third month, in the first day of the month, that the word of the 2 Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, say unto Pharaoh king of Egypt, and to his multitude; Whom art thou
3 like in thy greatness? Behold, the Assyrian was a cedar in Lebanon with fair branches, and with a shadowing shroud, and of an high stature; and his top was among the ¹thick boughs.

4 The waters nourished him, the deep made him to grow: her rivers ran round about her plantation; and she sent out her channels unto all the trees of the 5 field. Therefore his stature was exalted above all the trees of the field; and his boughs were multiplied, and his branches became long by reason of
2 many waters, when he shot them forth.

6 All the fowls of heaven made their nests in his boughs, and under his branches did all the beasts of the field bring forth their young, and under his shadow dwelt all great nations. Thus was he fair in his greatness, in the length of his branches: for his root was by
8 2 many waters. The cedars in the garden of God could not hide him: the fir trees were not like his boughs, and the plane trees were not as his branches; nor was any tree in the garden of God
9 like unto him in his beauty. I made him fair by the multitude of his branches: so that all the trees of Eden, that were in the garden of God, envied him.

10 Therefore thus ³said the Lord God: Because thou art exalted in stature, and he hath set his top among the ¹thick boughs, and his heart is lifted
11 up in his height; I will even deliver him into the hand of the mighty one of the nations; he shall surely deal with him: I have driven him out for his 12 wickedness. And strangers, the terrible of the nations, have cut him off, and have left him: upon the mountains and in all the valleys his branches are fallen, and his boughs are broken by all the watercourses of the land; and all the peoples of the earth are gone down from his shadow, and have left him.

13 Upon his ruin all the fowls of the heaven shall dwell, and all the beasts of the field shall be upon his branches:
14 to the end that none of all the trees by the waters exalt themselves in their stature, neither set their top among the thick boughs, nor that their mighty ones stand up in their height, even all that drink water: for they are all delivered unto death, to the nether parts of the earth, in the midst of the children of men, with them that go down to the pit.

15 Thus saith the Lord God: In the day when he went down to ⁴hell I caused a mourning: I covered the deep for him, and I restrained the rivers thereof, and the great waters were stayed: and I caused Lebanon ⁵to mourn for him, and all the trees of the field faint-
16 ed for him. I made the nations to shake at the sound of his fall, when I cast him down to ⁴hell with them that descend into the pit: and all the trees of Eden, the choice and best of Lebanon, all that drink water, were comforted in the nether parts of the earth.
17 They also went down into ⁴hell with him unto them that be slain by the sword; yea, they that were his arm, that dwelt under his shadow in the midst of the nations.

18 To whom art thou thus like in glory and in greatness among the trees of Eden? yet shalt thou be brought down with the trees of Eden unto the nether parts of the earth: thou shalt lie in the midst of the uncircumcised, with them that be slain by the sword. This is Pharaoh and all his multitude, saith the Lord God.

32 And it came to pass in the twelfth year, in the twelfth month, in the first day of the month, that the word of the

2 Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, take up a lamentation for Pharaoh king of Egypt, and say unto him, Thou wast likened unto a young lion of the nations: yet art thou as a dragon in the seas; and thou brakest forth ⁶with thy rivers, and troubledst the waters with 3 thy feet, and foulest their rivers. Thus saith the Lord God: I will spread out my net over thee with a company of many peoples; and they shall bring 4 thee up in my net. And I will leave thee upon the land, I will cast thee forth upon the open field, and will cause all the fowls of the heaven to settle upon thee, and I will satisfy the beasts of 5 the whole earth with thee. And I will lay thy flesh upon the mountains, and 6 fill the valleys with thy ⁷height. I will also water with thy blood the land wherein thou swimmest, even to the mountains; and the watercourses shall 7 be full of thee. And when I shall extinguish thee, I will cover the heaven, and make the stars thereof ⁸dark; I will cover the sun with a cloud, and the 8 moon shall not give her light. All the bright lights of heaven will I make ⁸dark over thee, and set darkness upon thy 9 land, saith the Lord God. I will also vex the hearts of many peoples, when I shall bring thy destruction among the nations, into the countries which thou hast not known. Yea, I will make many peoples amazed at thee, and their kings shall be horribly afraid for thee, when I shall brandish my sword before them; and they shall tremble at every moment, every man for his own life, in the day of thy fall. For thus saith the Lord God: The sword of the king of Babylon shall come upon thee. By the swords of the mighty will I cause thy multitude to fall; the terrible of the nations are they all: and they shall spoil the pride of Egypt, and all the multitude thereof shall be destroyed. I will destroy also all the beasts thereof from beside ¹many waters; neither shall the foot of man trouble them any more, nor the hoofs of beasts trouble them. Then will I ²make their waters clear, and cause their rivers to run like oil, saith the Lord God. When I shall make the land of Egypt desolate and waste, a land destitute of ³that whereof it was full, when I shall smite all them that dwell therein, then shall they know that I am the Lord. This is the lamentation wherewith they shall lament; the daughters of the nations shall lament therewith: for Egypt, and for all her multitude, shall they lament therewith, saith the Lord God.

17 It came to pass also in the twelfth year, in the fifteenth day of the month, that the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, wail for the multitude of Egypt, and cast them down, even her, and the daughters of the famous nations, unto the nether parts of the earth, with them that go down into the pit. Whom dost thou pass in beauty? go down, and be thou laid down with the uncircumcised. They shall fall in the midst of them that are slain by the sword: ⁴she is delivered to the sword: draw her away and all her multitudes. The strong among the mighty shall speak to him out of the midst of hell with them that help him: they are gone down, they lie still, even the uncircumcised, slain by the sword. As-shur is there and all her company; his graves are round about him; all of them slain, fallen by the sword: whose graves are set in the uttermost parts of the pit, and her company is round about her grave: all of them slain, fallen by the sword, which caused terror in the land of the living. There is Elam and all her multitude round about her grave: all of them slain, fallen by the sword, which are gone down uncircumcised into the nether parts of the earth, which caused their terror in the land of the living, and have borne their shame with them that go down to the pit. They have set her a bed in the midst of the slain with all her multitude; her graves are round about her: all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword; for their terror was caused in the land of the living, and they have borne their shame with them that go down to the pit: he is put in the midst of them that be slain. There is Meshech, Tnbal, and all her multitude; her graves are round about her: all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword; for they caused their terror in the land of the living. ⁶And they shall not lie with the mighty that are fallen of the uncircumcised, which are gone down to ⁵hell with their weapons of war, and have laid their swords under their heads, and their iniquities are upon their bones; for they were the terror of the mighty in the land of the living. But thou shalt be broken in the midst of the uncircumcised, and shalt lie with them that are slain by the sword. There is Edom, her kings and all her princes, which ⁷in their might are laid with them that are slain by the sword: they shall lie with the uncircumcised, and with them that go down to the pit. There be the princes of the north, all of them, and all the Zidonians, which are gone down with the slain; ⁸in the terror which they caused by their might they are ashamed; and they lie uncircumcised with them that are slain by the sword, and bear their shame with them that go down to the pit. Pharaoh shall see them, and shall be comforted over all his multitude: ⁹even Pharaoh and all his army, slain by the sword, saith the Lord God. For I have put ¹⁰his terror in the land of the living: and he shall be laid in the midst of the uncircumcised, with them that are slain by the sword, even Pharaoh and all his multitude, saith the Lord God.

33 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, speak to the children of thy people, and say unto them, When I bring the sword upon a land, if the people of the land take a man from among them, and set him for their watchman: if, when he seeth the sword come upon the land, he blow the trumpet, and warn the people; then whosoever heareth the sound of the trumpet, and taketh not warning, if the sword come, and take him away, his blood shall be upon his own head. 5 He heard the sound of the trumpet, and took not warning; his blood shall be upon him: whereas if he had taken warning he should have delivered his soul. But if the watchman see the sword come, and blow not the trumpet, and the people be not warned, and the sword come, and take any person from among them; he is taken away ¹¹in his iniquity, but his blood will I

When I say unto the wicked, O wicked man, thou shalt surely die, and thou dost not speak to warn the wicked from his way; that wicked man shall die ¹ in his iniquity, but his blood will I require 9 at thine hand. Nevertheless, if thou warn the wicked of his way to turn from it, and he turn not from his way; he shall die ¹ in his iniquity, but thou hast delivered thy soul.

10 And thou, son of man, say unto the house of Israel: Thus ye speak, saying, ² Our transgressions and our sins are upon us, and we pine away ¹ in them; how 11 then should we live? Say unto them, As I live, saith the Lord God, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked; but that the wicked turn from his way and live: turn ye, turn ye from your evil ways; for why will ye die, O house of Israel?

12 And thou, son of man, say unto the children of thy people, The righteousness of the righteous shall not deliver him in the day of his transgression; and as for the wickedness of the wicked, he shall not fall thereby in the day that he turneth from his wickedness: neither shall he that is righteous be able to live thereby in the day that he

13 sinneth. When I say to the righteous, that he shall surely live; if he trust to his righteousness, and commit iniquity, none of his righteous deeds shall be remembered; but ¹ in his iniquity that he hath committed, ² therein shall he die.

14 Again, when I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die; if he turn from his sin, and do ⁴ that which is lawful

15 and right; if the wicked restore the pledge, give again that he had taken by robbery, walk in the statutes of life, committing no iniquity; he shall surely

16 live, he shall not die. None of his sins that he hath committed shall be remembered against him: he hath done that which is lawful and right; he shall

17 surely live. Yet the children of thy people say, The way of the Lord is not equal: but as for them, their way is 18 not equal. When the righteous turneth from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, he shall even die ⁵ therein.

19 And when the wicked turneth from his wickedness, and doeth that which is lawful and right, he shall live thereby. 20 Yet ye say, The way of the Lord is not equal. O house of Israel, I will judge you every one after his ways.

21 And it came to pass in the twelfth year of our captivity, in the tenth month, in the fifth day of the month, that one that had escaped out of Jerusalem came unto me, saying, The city is smitten.

22 Now the hand of the Lord had been upon me in the evening, afore he that was escaped came; and he had opened my mouth, until he came to me in the morning; and my mouth was opened,

23 and I was no more dumb. And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

24 Son of man, they that inhabit those waste places in the land of Israel speak, saying, Abraham was one, and he inherited the land: but we are many; the

25 land is given us for inheritance. Wherefore say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: Ye eat with the blood, and lift up your eyes unto your idols, and shed blood: and shall ye possess the

26 land? Ye stand upon your sword, ye work abomination, and ye defile every one his neighbour's wife: and shall ye

27 possess the land? Thus shalt thou say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: As I live, surely they that are in the waste places shall fall by the sword, and him that is in the open field will I give to the beasts to be devoured, and they that be in the strong holds and in the

28 caves shall die of the pestilence. And I will make the land a desolation and an astonishment, and the pride of her power shall cease; and the mountains of Israel shall be desolate, that none

29 shall pass through. Then shall they know that I am the Lord, when I have made the land a desolation and an astonishment, because of all their abominations which they have committed.

30 And as for thee, son of man, the children of thy people talk of thee by the walls and in the doors of the houses, and speak one to another, every one to his brother, saying, Come, I pray you, and hear what is the word that cometh

31 forth from the Lord. And they come unto thee as the people cometh, and they sit before thee as my people, and they hear thy words, but do them not: for with their mouth they shew much love, but their heart goeth after

32 their gain. And, lo, thou art unto them as ⁷ a very lovely song of one that hath a pleasant voice, and can play well on an instrument: for they hear thy words,

33 but they do them not. And when this cometh to pass, (behold, it cometh,) then shall they know that a prophet hath been among them.

34 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, prophesy against the shepherds of Israel, prophesy, and say unto them, even to the shepherds, Thus saith the Lord God: Woe unto the shepherds of Israel that do feed themselves! should not the shep-

35 herds feed the sheep? Ye eat the fat, and ye clothe you with the wool, ye kill the fatlings; but ye feed not the sheep.

ye brought again that which was driven away, neither have ye sought that which was lost; but with force and with rigour have ye ruled over them.

5 And they were scattered, because there was no shepherd; and they became meat to all the beasts of the field, and

6 were scattered. My sheep wandered through all the mountains, and upon every high hill: yea, my sheep were scattered upon all the face of the earth; and there was none that did search or

7 seek after them. Therefore, ye shepherds, hear the word of the LORD: As I live, saith the Lord God, surely forasmuch as my sheep became a prey, and my sheep became meat to all the beasts of the field, because there was no shepherd, neither did my shepherds search for my sheep, but the shepherds fed themselves, and fed not

9 my sheep; therefore, ye shepherds,

10 hear the word of the LORD; Thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I am against the shepherds; and I will require my sheep at their hand, and cause them to cease from feeding the sheep; neither shall the shepherds feed themselves any more; and I will deliver my sheep from their mouth, that they may not

11 be meat for them. For thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I myself, even I, will search for my sheep, and will seek

12 them out. As a shepherd seeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his sheep that are scattered abroad, so will I seek out my sheep; and I will deliver them out of all places whither they have been scattered in

13 ¹the cloudy and dark day. And I will bring them out from the peoples, and gather them from the countries, and will bring them into their own land; and I will feed them upon the mountains of Israel, by the watercourses, and in all the inhabited places of the 14 country. I will feed them with good pasture, and upon the mountains of the height of Israel shall their fold be: there shall they lie down in a good fold, and on fat pasture shall they feed

15 upon the mountains of Israel. I myself will feed my sheep, and I will cause them to lie down, saith the Lord God.

16 I will seek that which was lost, and will bring again that which was driven away, and will bind up that which was broken, and will strengthen that which was sick: and the fat and the strong I will destroy; I will feed them

17 in judgement. And as for you, O my flock, thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I judge between cattle and cattle, as well the rams as the he-goats.

18 Seemeth it a small thing unto you to have fed upon the good pasture, but ye must tread down with your feet the residue of your pasture? and to have drunk of the clear waters, but ye must

19 foul the residue with your feet? And as for my sheep, they eat that which ye have trodden with your feet, and they drink that which ye have fouled with your feet.

20 Therefore thus saith the Lord God unto them: Behold, I, even I, will judge between the fat cattle and the

21 lean cattle. Because ye thrust with side and with shoulder, and push all the diseased with your horns, till ye have

22 scattered them abroad; therefore will I save my flock, and they shall no more be a prey; and I will judge between

23 cattle and cattle. And I will set up one shepherd over them, and he shall feed them, even my servant David; he shall feed them, and he shall be their shep-

24 herd. And I the LORD will be their God, and my servant David prince among them; I the LORD have spoken

25 it. And I will make with them a covenant of peace, and will cause evil beasts to cease out of the land: and they shall dwell securely in the wild-

26 erness, and sleep in the woods. And I will make them and the places round about my hill a blessing; and I will cause the shower to come down in its season; there shall be showers of bless-

27 ing. And the tree of the field shall yield its fruit, and the earth shall yield her increase, and they shall be secure in their land; and they shall know that I am the LORD, when I have broken the bars of their yoke, and have delivered them out of the hand of those

28 that ²served themselves of them. And they shall no more be a prey to the heathen, neither shall the beast of the earth devour them; but they shall dwell securely, and none shall make

29 them afraid. And I will raise up unto them a ³plantation for renown, and they shall be no more ⁴consumed with famine in the land, neither bear the

30 shame of the heathen any more. And they shall know that I the LORD their God am with them, and that they, the house of Israel, are my people, saith

31 the Lord God. And ye my sheep, the sheep of my pasture, are men, and I am your God, saith the Lord God.

35 Moreover the word of the LORD came

2 unto me, saying, Son of man, set thy face against mount Seir, and proph-

3 sy against it, and say unto it, Thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I am against thee, O mount Seir, and I will stretch out mine hand against thee, and I will make thee a desolation

Thus will I make mount Seir an astonishment and a desolation; and I will cut off from it him that passeth through and him 8 that returneth. And I will fill his mountains with his slain: in thy hills and in thy valleys and in all thy water-courses shall they fall that are slain 9 with the sword. I will make thee perpetual desolations, and thy cities shall not ²be inhabited: and ye shall know 10 that I am the Lord. Because thou hast said, These two nations and these two countries shall be mine, and we will possess it; ³whereas the Lord 11 was there: therefore, as I live, saith the Lord God, I will do according to thine anger, and according to thine envy which thou hast shewed out of thy hatred against them; and I will make myself known among them, ⁴when I 12 shall judge thee. And thou shalt know ⁵that I the Lord have heard all thy blasphemies which thou hast spoken against the mountains of Israel, saying, ⁶They are laid desolate, they are 13 given us to devour. And ye have magnified yourselves against me with your mouth, and have multiplied your words against me: I have heard it. 14 Thus saith the Lord God: When the whole earth rejoiceth, I will make 15 thee desolate. As thou didst rejoice over the inheritance of the house of Israel, because it was desolate, so will I do unto thee: thou shalt be desolate, O mount Seir, and all Edom, even all of it: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

36 And thou, son of man, prophesy unto the mountains of Israel, and say, Ye mountains of Israel, hear the word of 2 the Lord. Thus saith the Lord God: Because the enemy hath said against you, Aha! and, The ancient high 3 places are ours in possession: therefore prophesy, and say, Thus saith the Lord God: Because, even because they have made you desolate, and swallowed you up on every side, that ye might be a possession unto the residue of the nations, and ye are taken up in the lips of talkers, and the evil report of the 4 people; therefore, ye mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord God; Thus saith the Lord God to the mountains and to the hills, to the water-courses and to the valleys, to the desolate wastes and to the cities that are forsaken, which are become a prey and derision to the residue of the nations 5 that are round about: therefore thus saith the Lord God: Surely in the fire of my jealousy have I spoken against the residue of the nations, and against all Edom, which have appointed my land unto themselves for a possession with the joy of all their heart, with despite of soul, to cast it out for 6 a prey: therefore prophesy concerning the land of Israel, and say unto the mountains and to the hills, to the watercourses and to the valleys, Thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I have spoken in my jealousy and in my fury, because ye have borne the shame of 7 the heathen: therefore thus saith the Lord God: I have lifted up mine hand, saying, Surely the heathen that are round about you, they shall bear their 8 shame. But ye, O mountains of Israel, ye shall shoot forth your branches, and yield your fruit to my people Israel; 9 for they are at hand to come. For, behold, I am for you, and I will turn unto you, and ye shall be tilled and 10 sown: and I will multiply men upon you, all the house of Israel, even all of it: and the cities shall be inhabited, and the waste places shall be builded: 11 and I will multiply upon you man and beast; and they shall increase and be fruitful: and I will cause you to be inhabited after your former estate, and will do better unto you than at your beginnings: and ye shall know 12 that I am the Lord. Yea, I will cause men to walk upon you, even my people Israel; and they shall possess thee, and thou shalt be their inheritance, and thou shalt no more hence- 13 forth bereave them of children. Thus saith the Lord God: Because they say unto you, Thou land art a devourer of men, and hast been a bereaver of thy 14 nation; therefore thou shalt devour men no more, neither ⁸bereave thy ⁷nation any more, saith the Lord 15 God; neither will I ⁹let thee hear any more the shame of the heathen, neither shalt thou bear the reproach of the peoples any more, neither shalt thou cause thy ⁷nation to stumble any more, saith the Lord God.

16 Moreover the word of the Lord came 17 unto me, saying, Son of man, when the house of Israel dwelt in their own land, they defiled it by their way and by their doings: their way before me was as the uncleanness of a woman 18 in her separation. Wherefore I poured out my fury upon them for the blood which they had poured out upon the land, and because they had defiled 19 it with their idols: and I scattered them among the nations, and they were dispersed through the countries: according to their way and according 20 to their doings I judged them.  will increase them with men like a

37 The hand of the LORD was upon me, and he carried me out in the spirit of the LORD, and set me down in the midst of the valley; and it was full of bones;
 2 and he caused me to pass by them round about: and behold, there were very many ⁵in the open valley; and 3 lo, they were very dry. And he said unto me, Son of man, can these bones live? And I answered, O Lord God, 4 thou knowest. Again he said unto me, Prophecy over these bones, and say unto them, O ye dry bones, hear the word
 5 of the LORD. Thus saith the Lord God unto these bones: Behold, I will cause ⁶breath to enter into you, and ye 6 shall live. And I will lay sinews upon you, and will bring up flesh upon you, and cover you with skin, and put breath in you, and ye shall live; and ye shall know that I am the LORD.
 7 So I prophesied as I was commanded:
 and as I prophesied, there was a ⁷noise, and behold an earthquake, and the bones came together, bone to his bone.

8 And I beheld, and lo, there were sinews upon them, and flesh came up, and skin covered them above: but there 9 was no breath in them. Then said he unto me, Prophecy unto the ⁸wind, prophesy, son of man, and say to the ⁸wind, Thus saith the Lord God: Come from the four winds, O ⁹breath, and breathe upon these slain, that they 10 may live. So I prophesied as he commanded me, and the breath came into them, and they lived, and stood up upon their feet, an exceeding great army.
 11 Then he said unto me, Son of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel: behold, they say, Our bones are dried up, and our hope is lost; we are 12 clean cut off. Therefore prophesy, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God:
 Behold, I will open your graves, and cause you to come up out of your graves,
 O my people; and I will bring you 13 into the land of Israel. And ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I have opened your graves, and caused you to come up out of your graves, O my 14 people. And I will put my ⁹spirit in you, and ye shall live, and I will place you in your own land: and ye shall know that I the LORD have spoken it,
 and performed it, saith the LORD.

15 The word of the LORD came again

For Joseph, the stick of Ephraim, and ¹for all the house of Israel his companions: and join them for thee one to another into one stick, that they may become one in thine hand. And when the children of thy people shall speak unto thee, saying, Wilt thou not shew us what thou meanest by these? say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I will take the stick of Joseph, which is in the hand of Ephraim, and the tribes of Israel his companions; and I will put them ²with it, even with the stick of Judah, and make them one stick, and they shall be one in mine hand. And the sticks whereon thou writest shall be in thine hand before their eyes. And say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I will take the children of Israel from among the nations, whither they be gone, and will gather them on every side, and bring them into their own land: and I will make them one nation in the land, upon the mountains of Israel; and one king shall be king to them all: and they shall be no more two nations, neither shall they be divided into two kingdoms any more at all: neither shall they defile themselves any more with their idols, nor with their detestable things, nor with any of their transgressions: but I will save them ³out of all their dwelling places, wherein they have sinned, and will cleanse them: so shall they be my people, and I will be their God. And my servant David shall be king over them; and they all shall have one shepherd: they shall also walk in my judgements, and observe my statutes, and do them. And they shall dwell in the land that I have given unto Jacob my servant, wherein your fathers dwelt; and they shall dwell therein, they, and their children, and their children's children, for ever: and David my servant shall be their prince for ever. Moreover I will make a covenant of peace with them: it shall be an everlasting covenant with them: and I will ⁴place them, and multiply them, and will set my sanctuary in the midst of them for evermore. My tabernacle also shall be ⁵with them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. And the nations shall know that ⁶I am the Lord that sanctify Israel, when my sanctuary shall be in the midst of them for evermore.

38 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, set thy face toward Gog, of the land of Magog, the ⁷prince of Rosh, Meshech, and Tubal, and prophesy against him, and say, Thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I am against thee, O Gog, ⁷prince of Rosh, Meshech, and Tubal: and I will turn thee about, and put hooks into thy jaws, and I will bring thee forth, and all thine army, horses and horsemen, all of them clothed in full armour, a great company with buckler and shield, all of them handling swords: Persia, Cush, and Put with them; all of them with shield and helmet: Gomer, and all his hordes; the house of Togarmah in the uttermost parts of the north, and all his hordes: even many peoples with thee. Be thou prepared, yea, prepare thyself, thou, and all thy companies that are assembled unto thee, and be thou a guard unto them. After many days thou shalt be visited: in the latter years thou shalt come into the land that is brought back from the sword, that is gathered out of many peoples, upon the mountains of Israel, which have been a continual waste: but it is brought forth out of the peoples, and they shall dwell securely, all of them. And thou shalt ascend, thou shalt come like a storm, thou shalt be like a cloud to cover the land, thou, and all thy herds, and many peoples with thee. Thus saith the Lord God: It shall come to pass in that day, that things shall come into thy mind, and thou shalt devise an evil device: and thou shalt say, I will go up to the land of unwallled villages; I will go to them that are at quiet, that dwell securely, all of them dwelling without walls, and having neither bars nor gates: to take the spoil and to take the prey; to turn thine hand against the waste places that are now inhabited, and against the people that are gathered out of the nations, which have gotten cattle and goods, that dwell in the ¹¹middle of the earth. Sheba, and Dedan, and the merchants of Tarshish, with all the young lions thereof, shall say unto thee, Art thou come to take the spoil? hast thou assembled thy company to take the prey? to carry away silver and gold, to take away cattle and goods, to take great spoil? Therefore, son of man, prophesy, and say unto Gog, Thus saith the Lord God: In that day when my people Israel dwelleth securely, shalt thou not know it? And thou shalt come from thy place out of the uttermost parts of the north, thou, and many peoples with thee, all of them riding upon horses, a great company and a mighty army: and thou shalt come up against my people Israel, as a cloud to cover the land; it shall come to pass in the latter days, that I will bring thee against my land, that the nations may know thee, when I shall be sanctified in thee, O Gog, before their eyes. for many years that I would bring thee 18 against them? And it shall come to pass in that day, when Gog shall come against the land of Israel, saith the Lord God, that my fury shall come up 19 into my nostrils. For in my jealousy and in the fire of my wrath have I spoken, Surely in that day there shall be a great shaking in the land of Israel; 20 so that the fishes of the sea, and the fowls of the heaven, and the beasts of the field, and all creeping things that creep upon the earth, and all the men that are upon the face of the earth, shall shake at my presence, and the mountains shall be thrown down, and the steep places shall fall, and every 21 wall shall fall to the ground. And I will call for a sword against him unto all my mountains, saith the Lord God:

every man's sword shall be against 22 his brother. And I will plead against him with pestilence and with blood;
and I will rain upon him, and upon his hordes, and upon the many peoples that are with him, an overflowing shower,
and great hailstones, fire, and brimstone.
23 And I will magnify myself, and sanctify myself, and I will make myself known in the eyes of many nations; and they shall know that I am the Lord.
39 And thou, son of man, prophesy against Gog, and say, Thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I am against thee, O Gog, ¹prince of Rosh, Meshech, and 2 Tubal: and I will turn thee about,
and will lead thee on, and will cause thee to come up from the uttermost parts of the north; and I will bring thee upon the mountains of Israel:
3 and I will smite thy bow out of thy left hand, and will cause thine arrows 4 to fall out of thy right hand. Thou shalt fall upon the mountains of Israel, thou, and all thy hordes, and the peoples that are with thee: I will give thee unto the ravenous birds of every sort, and to the beasts of the field 5 to be devoured. Thou shalt fall upon the open field: for I have spoken it, 6 saith the Lord God. And I will send a fire on Magog, and on them that dwell securely in the ²isles: and they 7 shall know that I am the Lord. And my holy name will I make known in the midst of my people Israel; neither will I suffer my holy name to be profaned any more: and the nations shall know that I am the Lord, the Holy One in 8 Israel. Behold, it cometh, and it shall be done, saith the Lord God; this is 9 the day whereof I have spoken. And they that dwell in the cities of Israel shall go forth, and shall make fires of the weapons and burn them, both the shields and the bucklers, the bows and the arrows, and the handstaves, and the spears, and they shall make fires 10 of them seven years: so that they shall take no wood out of the field,

neither cut down any out of the forests;
for they shall make fires of the weapons: and they shall spoil those that spoiled them, and rob those that robbed them, saith the Lord God.

11 And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will give unto Gog a place for burial in Israel, the valley of them that pass through ³on the east of the sea: and it shall stop them that pass through: and there shall they bury Gog and all his multitude: and they shall call it The valley of ⁴Hamon-12 gog. And seven months shall the house of Israel be burying of them, that 13 they may cleanse the land. Yea, all the people of the land shall bury them;
and it shall be to them a renown, in the day that I shall be glorified, saith the 14 Lord God. And they shall sever out men of continual employment, that shall pass through the land to bury 15 them ⁵that pass through, that remain upon the face of the land, to cleanse it:
after the end of seven months shall they 16 search. And they that pass through the land shall pass through; and when any seeth a man's bone, then shall he ⁶set up a sign by it, till the buriers have buried 17 it in the valley of Hamon-gog. And ⁶Hamonah shall also be the name of a city. Thus shall they cleanse the land.
17 And thou, son of man, thus saith the Lord God: Speak unto the birds of every sort, and to every beast of the field, Assemble yourselves, and come; gather yourselves on every side to my sacrifice that I do sacrifice for you, even a great sacrifice upon the mountains of Israel, that ye may eat 18 flesh and drink blood. Ye shall eat the flesh of the mighty, and drink the blood of the princes of the earth, of rams, of lambs, and of goats, of bullocks, all of them fatlings of Bashan.
19 And ye shall eat fat till ye be full, and drink blood till ye be drunken, of my sacrifice which I have sacrificed for 20 you. And ye shall be filled at my table with horses and chariots, with mighty men, and with all men of war, saith 21 the Lord God. And I will set my glory among the nations, and all the nations shall see my judgement that I have executed, and my hand that I 22 have laid upon them. So the house of Israel shall know that I am the Lord their God, from that day and forward.
23 And the nations shall know that the house of Israel went into captivity for their iniquity; because they trespassed against me, and I hid my face from them: so I gave them into the hand of their adversaries, and they fell all of 24 them by the sword. According to their uncleanness and according to their transgressions did I unto them; and I hid my face from them.

25 Therefore thus saith the Lord God.
Now will I bring again the captivity of Jacob, and have mercy upon the whole house of Israel; and I will be jealous
26 for my holy name. And they shall bear their shame, and all their trespasses whereby they have trespassed against me, when they shall dwell securely in their land, and none shall make them
27 afraid; when I have brought them again from the peoples, and gathered them out of their enemies' lands, and am sanctified in them in the sight of 28 many nations. And they shall know that I am the Lord their God, in that I caused them to go into captivity among the nations, and have gathered them unto their own land; and I will leave none of them any more there;
29 neither will I hide my face any more from them: for I have poured out my spirit upon the house of Israel, saith the Lord God.

40 In the five and twentieth year of our captivity, in the beginning of the year, in the tenth day of the month, in the fourteenth year after that the city was smitten, in the self-same day, the hand of the Lord was upon me, and he brought me thither.
2 In the visions of God brought he me into the land of Israel, and set me down upon a very high mountain, whercon was as it were the frame of 3 a city on the south. And he brought me thither, and behold, there was a man, whose appearance was like the appearance of brass, with a line of flax in his hand, and a measuring reed;
4 and he stood in the gate. And the man said unto me, Son of man, behold with thine eyes, and hear with thine ears, and set thine heart upon all that I shall shew thee; for to the intent that I might shew them unto thee art thou brought hither: declare all that thou seest to the house of Israel.
5 And behold, a wall on the outside of the house round about, and in the man's hand a measuring reed of six cubits long, of a cubit and an half-breadth each: so he measured the thickness of the building, one reed; and the
6 height, one reed. Then came he unto the gate which looketh toward the east, and went up the steps thereof; and he measured the threshold of the gate, one reed broad: ¹and the other threshold, 7 one reed broad. And every ²lodge was one reed long, and one reed broad; and the space between the lodges was five cubits; and the threshold of the gate by the porch of the gate toward the 8 house was one reed. ³He measured also the porch of the gate toward the 9 house, one reed. Then measured he the porch of the gate, eight cubits; and the ⁴posts thereof, two cubits;

and the porch of the gate was toward 10 the house. And the lodges of the gate eastward were three on this side, and three on that side; they three were of one measure: and the posts had one measure on this side and on that 11 side. And he measured the breadth of the opening of the gate, ten cubits; and the length of the gate, thirteen cubits;
12 and a border before the lodges, one cubit on this side, and a border, one cubit on that side; and the lodges, six cubits on this side, and six cubits on 13 that side. And he measured the gate from the roof of the one lodge to the roof of the other, a breadth of five and 14 twenty cubits; door against door. He made also posts, threescore cubits; and the court reached unto the post, the 15 gate being round about. And from the forefront of the gate at the entrance unto the forefront of the ⁵inner porch 16 of the gate were fifty cubits. And there were closed windows to the lodges, and to their posts within the gate round about, and likewise to the 17 arches: and windows were round about inward: and upon each post were palm trees.
17 Then brought he me into the outer court, and, lo, there were chambers and a pavement, made for the court round about: thirty chambers were upon 18 the pavement. And the pavement was by the ⁶side of the gates, answerable unto the length of the gates, even the 19 lower pavement. Then he measured the breadth from the forefront of the lower gate unto the forefront of the inner court without, an hundred cubits, both on the east and on the north.
20 And the gate of the outer court whose prospect is toward the north, he measured the length thereof and the 21 breadth thereof. And the lodges thereof were three on this side and three on that side; and the posts thereof and the arches thereof were after the measure of the first gate: the length thereof was fifty cubits, and the breadth
22 five and twenty cubits. And the windows thereof, and the arches thereof, and the palm trees thereof, were after the measure of the gate whose prospect is toward the east; and they went up unto it by seven steps; and the arches
23 thereof were before them. And there was a gate to the inner court over against the other gate, both on the north and on the east; and he measured from gate to gate an hundred 24 cubits. And he led me toward the south, and behold a gate toward the south: and he measured the posts thereof and the arches thereof accord-
25 ing to these measures. And there were windows in it and in the arches thereof round about, like those windows: the length was fifty cubits, and

 27 upon the posts thereof. And there was a gate to the inner court toward the south: and he measured from gate to gate toward the south an hundred cubits.
 28 Then he brought me to the inner court by the south gate: and he measured the south gate according to these 29 measures; and the lodges thereof, and the posts thereof, and the arches thereof, according to these measures: and there were windows in it and in the arches thereof round about: it was
 30 fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad. And there were arches round about, five and twenty cubits
 31 long, and five cubits broad. And the arches thereof were toward the outer court; and palm trees were upon the posts thereof: and the going up to it
 32 had eight steps. And he brought me into the inner court toward the east: and he measured the gate according to 33 these measures; and the lodges thereof, and the posts thereof, and the arches thereof, according to these measures: and there were windows therein and in the arches thereof round about: it was 34 fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad. And the arches thereof were toward the outer court; and palm trees were upon the posts thereof, on this side, and on that side: and the
 35 going up to it had eight steps. And he brought me to the north gate: and he measured it according to these measures; the lodges thereof, the posts thereof, and the arches thereof; and there were windows therein round about: the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.
 37 And the posts thereof were toward the outer court; and palm trees were upon the posts thereof, on this side, and on that side: and the going up to it had eight steps.
 38 And a chamber with the door thereof was by the posts at the gates; there 39 they washed the burnt offering. And ¹in the porch of the gate were two tables on this side, and two tables on that side, to slay thereon the burnt offering and the sin offering and the 40 guilt offering. And on the one side without, ²as one goeth up to the entry of the gate toward the north, were two tables; and on the other side, which belonged to the porch of the gate, were 41 two tables. Four tables were on this side, and four tables on that side, by the side of the gate; eight tables, whereupon they slew the sacrifices.
 42 And there were four tables for the burnt offering, of hewn stone, a cubit and an half long, and a cubit and an half broad, and one cubit high: whereupon they laid the instruments wherewith they slew the burnt offering and the 43 sacrifice. And the ³hooks, an hand-breadth long, were fastened ⁴within round about: and upon the tables was 44 the flesh of the oblation. ⁵And without the inner gate were chambers for the singers in the inner court, which was at the side of the north gate; and their prospect was toward the south: one at the side of the east gate having the 45 prospect toward the north. And he said unto me, This chamber, whose prospect is toward the south, is for the priests, the keepers of the charge of the 46 house. And the chamber whose prospect is toward the north is for the priests, the keepers of the charge of the altar: these are the sons of Zadok, which from among the sons of Levi come near to the LORD to minister unto 47 him. And he measured the court, an hundred cubits long, and an hundred cubits broad, foursquare; and the altar was before the house.

 48 Then he brought me to the porch of the house, and measured each post of the porch, five cubits on this side, and five cubits on that side: and the breadth of the gate was three cubits on this
 49 side, and three cubits on that side. The length of the porch was twenty cubits, and the breadth eleven cubits; ⁶even by the steps whereby they went up to it: and there were pillars by the posts, one on this side, and another on that side.
 41 And he brought me to the temple, and measured the posts, six cubits broad on the one side, and six cubits broad on the other side, which was the
 2 breadth of the ⁷tabernacle. And the breadth of the entrance was ten cubits; and the ⁸sides of the entrance were five cubits on the one side, and five cubits on the other side: and he measured the length thereof, forty cubits, and the breadth, twenty cubits.
 3 Then went he inward, and measured each post of the entrance, two cubits: and the entrance, six cubits; and the breadth of the entrance, seven cubits.
 4 And he measured the length thereof, twenty cubits, and the breadth, twenty cubits, before the ⁹temple: and he said unto me, This is the most holy
 5 place. Then he measured the wall of the house, six cubits; and the breadth of every side-chamber, four cubits, round about the house on every side.
 6 And the side-chambers were in three stories, one over another, and thirty in order; and they entered into the wall which belonged to the house for the side-chambers round about, that they might have hold therein, and not 7 have hold in the wall of the house. And ¹⁰the side-chambers were broader as they encompassed the house higher and higher; for the encompassing of the house went higher and higher round about the house: therefore the breadth of the house continued upward; and so one went up from the lowest chamber to the highest by the middle chamber.

8 I saw also¹ that the house had² a raised basement round about: the foundations of the side-chambers were a full 9 reed³ of six great cubits. The thickness of the wall, which was for the side-chambers, on the outside, was five cubits: ⁴ and that which was left was the place of the side-chambers that belonged to the house. And between the chambers was a breadth of twenty cubits round about the house on every 11 side. And the doors of the side-chambers were toward the place that was left, one door toward the north, and another door toward the south: and the breadth of the place that was left was five 12 cubits round about. And the building that was before the separate place at the side toward the west was seventy cubits broad; and the wall of the building was five cubits thick round about, and the length thereof ninety cubits. 13 So he measured the house, an hundred cubits long; and the separate place, and the building, with the walls thereof, an 14 hundred cubits long; also the breadth of the face of the house, and of the separate place toward the east, an hundred cubits. 15 And he measured the length of the building before the separate place which was at the back thereof, and the galleries thereof on the one side and on the other side, an hundred cubits; and the inner temple, and the 16 porches of the court; the thresholds, and the closed windows, and the galleries round about on their three stories, over against the threshold, cieled with wood round about, and from the ground up to the windows; now the windows 17 were covered; to the space above the door, even unto the inner house, and without, and by all the wall round about 18 within and without, ⁵ by measure. And it was made with cherubim and palm trees; and a palm tree was between cherub and cherub, and every cherub 19 had two faces; so that there was the face of a man toward the palm tree on the one side, and the face of a young lion toward the palm tree on the other side: thus was it made through all the 20 house round about. From the ground unto above the door were cherubim and palm trees made: ⁶ thus was the 21 wall of the temple. As for the temple, the door posts were squared; and as for the face of the sanctuary, the appearance thereof was ⁷ as the appearance 22 of the temple. The altar was of wood, three cubits high, and the length thereof two cubits; and ⁸ the corners thereof, and the ⁹ length thereof, and the walls thereof, were of wood: and he said unto me, This is the table that is before 23 the Lord. And the temple and the sanctuary had two doors. And the doors had two leaves apiece, two turning leaves; two leaves for the one door, and two 25 leaves for the other. And there were made on them, on the doors of the temple, chernim and palm trees, like as were made upon the walls; and there were thick beams of wood ¹⁰ upon 26 the face of the porch without. And there were closed windows and palm trees on the one side and on the other side, on the sides of the porch: thus were the side-chambers of the house, and the thick beams.

42 Then he brought me forth into the outer court, the way toward the north: and he brought me into the chamber that was over against the separate place, and which was over against the 2 building toward the north. Before the length of ¹¹ an hundred cubits was the north door, and the breadth was fifty 3 cubits. Over against the twenty cubits which belonged to the inner court, and over against the pavement which belonged to the outer court, was gallery 4 against gallery ¹² in the third story. And before the chambers was a walk of ten cubits breadth inward, a way of ¹³ one cubit; and their doors were toward the 5 north. Now the upper chambers were shorter: for the galleries took away from these, more than from the lower and the middlemost, in the building. 6 For they were in three stories, and they had not pillars as the pillars of the courts: therefore the uppermost was straitened more than the lowest and the 7 middlemost from the ground. And the ¹⁴ wall that was without by the side of the chambers, toward the outer court before the chambers, the length thereof 8 was fifty cubits. For the length of the chambers that were in the outer court was fifty cubits: and, lo, before the temple were an hundred cubits. And from under these chambers was the entry on the east side, as one goeth into them 10 from the outer court. In the thickness of the ¹⁴ wall of the court toward the east, before the separate place, and before the building, there were chambers. 11 And the way before them was like the appearance of the way of the chambers which were toward the north; ¹⁵ according to their length so was their breadth: and all their goings out were both according to their fashions, and according 12 to their doors. And according to the doors of the chambers that were toward the south was a door in the head of the way, even the way directly before the ¹⁴ wall toward the east, as one 13 entereth into them. me, The north chambers and the south chambers, which are before the separate place, they be the holy chambers, where the priests that are near unto the LORD shall eat the most holy things: there shall they lay the most holy things, and the meal offering, and the sin offering, and the guilt offering; ¹⁴for the place is holy. When the priests enter in, then shall they not go out of the holy place into the outer court, but there they shall lay their garments wherein they minister; for they are holy: and they shall put on other garments, and shall approach to that which pertaineth to the people.

¹⁵ Now when he had made an end of measuring the inner house, he brought me forth by the way of the gate whose prospect is toward the east, and measured it round about. He measured on the east ¹side with the measuring reed, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed round about.

¹⁷ suring reed round about. He measured on the north ¹side, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed round about.

¹⁸ He measured on the south ¹side, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed.

¹⁹ He turned about to the west ¹side, and measured five hundred reeds ²⁰with the measuring reed. He measured it ²on the four sides: it had a wall round about, the length five hundred, and the breadth five hundred, to make a separation between that which was holy and that which was common.

⁴ And the glory of the LORD came into the house by the way of the gate whose ⁵prospect is toward the east. And the spirit took me up, and brought me into the inner court; and behold, the glory ⁶of the LORD filled the house. And I heard one speaking unto me out of the ⁷house; and a man stood by me. And he said unto me, Son of man, this is the place of my throne, and the place of the soles of my feet, where I will dwell in the midst of the children of Israel for ever: and the house of Israel shall no more defile my holy name, neither they, nor their kings, by their whoredom, and by the carcasses of ⁸their kings ⁹in their high places; in their setting of their threshold by my threshold, and their door post beside my door post, and there was but the wall between me and them; and they have defiled my holy name by their abominations which they have committed: wherefore I have consumed them ⁹in mine anger. Now let them put away their whoredom, and the carcasses of their kings, far from me, and I will dwell in the midst of them for ever.

¹⁰ Thou, son of man, shew the house to the house of Israel, that they may be ashamed of their iniquities: and let them ¹¹measure the ¹pattern. And if they be ashamed of all that they have done, make known unto them the form of the house, and the fashion thereof, and the goings out thereof, and the comings in thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and all the laws thereof, and write it in their sight: that they may keep the whole form thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and do ¹²them. This is the law of the house: upon the top of the mountain the whole limit thereof round about shall be most holy. Behold, this is the law of the house.

¹⁶ And the altar hearth shall be twelve cubits long by twelve broad, square in ¹⁷the four sides thereof. And the settle shall be fourteen cubits long by fourteen broad in the four sides thereof; and the border about it shall be half a cubit; and the bottom thereof shall be a cubit about; and the steps thereof shall look toward the east.

¹⁸ And he said unto me, Son of man, thus saith the Lord God: These are the ordinances of the altar in the day when they shall make it, to offer burnt offerings thereon, and to sprinkle blood ¹⁹thereon. Thou shalt give to the priests the Levites that be of the seed of Zadok, which are near unto me, to minister unto me, saith the Lord God, a young ²⁰bullock for a sin offering. And thou shalt take of the blood thereof, and put it on the four horns of it, and on the four corners of the settle, and upon the border round about: thus shalt thou cleanse it and make atonement for it.

appointed place of the house, with-22 out the sanctuary. And on the second day thou shalt offer a he-goat without blemish for a sin offering; and they shall cleanse the altar, as they did cleanse 23 it with the bullock. When thou hast made an end of cleansing it, thou shalt offer a young bullock without blemish, and a ram out of the flock without 24 blemish. And thou shalt bring them near before the LORD, and the priests shall cast salt upon them, and they shall offer them up for a burnt offering unto 25 the LORD. Seven days shalt thou prepare every day a goat for a sin offering; they shall also prepare a young bullock, and a ram out of the flock, with-26 out blemish. Seven days shall they make atonement for the altar and purify

 when they have accomplished the days, it shall be that upon the eighth day, and forward, the priests shall make your burnt offerings upon the altar, and your peace offerings; and I will accept you, saith the Lord God.

44 Then he brought me back the way of the outer gate of the sanctuary, which looketh toward the east; and 2 it was shut. And the LORD said unto me, This gate shall be shut, it shall not be opened, neither shall any man enter in by it, for the LORD, the God of Israel, hath entered in by it; there-3 fore it shall be shut. As for the prince, he shall sit therein as prince to eat bread before the LORD; he shall enter by the way of the porch of the gate, and shall go out by the way of the 4 same. Then he brought me the way of the north gate before the house; and I looked, and behold, the glory of the LORD filled the house of the LORD: and 5 I fell upon my face. And the LORD said unto me, Son of man, ²mark well, and behold with thine eyes, and hear with thine ears all that I say unto thee concerning all the ordinances of the house of the LORD, and all the laws thereof; and ²mark well the entering in of the house, with every going forth of 6 the sanctuary. And thou shalt say to the rebellious, even to the house of Israel,
 Thus saith the Lord God: O ye house of Israel, let it suffice you of all your ab-7 ominations, in that ye have brought in aliens, uncircumcised in heart and uncircumcised in flesh, to be in my sanctuary, to profane it, even my house, when ye offer my bread, the fat and the blood, and ³they have broken my covenant, ⁴to add unto all your abominations.
 8 And ye have not kept the charge of mine holy things: but ye have set keepers of my charge in my sanctuary for your-9 selves. Thus saith the Lord God, No alien, uncircumcised in heart and uncircumcised in flesh, shall enter into my sanctuary, of any alien that is 10 among the children of Israel. But the Levites that went far from me, when Israel went astray, which went astray from me after their idols; they shall 11 bear their iniquity. Yet they shall be ministers in my sanctuary, having oversight at the gates of the house, and ministering in the house: they shall slay the burnt offering and the sacrifice for the people, and they shall stand before 12 them to minister unto them. Because they ministered unto them before their idols, and became a stumblingblock of iniquity unto the house of Israel; therefore have I lifted up mine hand against them, saith the Lord God, and they 13 shall bear their iniquity. And they shall not come near unto me, to execute the office of priest unto me, nor to come near to any of my holy things, unto the things that are most holy:

 but they shall bear their shame, and their abominations which they have 14 committed. Yet will I make them keepers of the charge of the house, for all the service thereof, and for all that shall be done therein.

15 But the priests the Levites, the sons of Zadok, that kept the charge of my sanctuary when the children of Israel went astray from me, they shall come near to me to minister unto me; and they shall stand before me to offer unto me the fat 16 and the blood, saith the Lord God: they shall enter into my sanctuary, and they shall come near to my table, to minister unto me, and they shall keep my charge.
 17 And it shall be that when they enter in at the gates of the inner court, they shall be clothed with linen garments;
 and no wool shall come upon them, whilst they minister in the gates of 18 the inner court, and ⁵within. They shall have linen tires upon their heads, and shall have linen breeches upon their loins; they shall not gird themselves 19 with any thing that causeth sweat. And when they go forth into the outer court, even into the outer court to the people, they shall put off their garments wherein they minister, and lay them in the holy chambers, and they shall put on other garments, that they sanctify not the people with their garments.
 20 Neither shall they shave their heads, nor suffer their locks to grow long; they 21 shall only poll their heads. Neither shall any priest drink wine, when they 22 enter into the inner court. Neither shall they take for their wives a widow, nor her that is put away: but they shall take virgins of the seed of the house of Israel, or a widow that is the widow of 23 a priest. And they shall teach my people the difference between the holy and the common, and cause them to discern between the unclean and the clean.
 24 And in a controversy they shall stand to judge; according to my judgements shall they judge it: and they shall keep my laws and my statutes in all my appointed feasts; and they shall

 26 they may defile themselves. And after he is cleansed, they shall reckon unto 27 him seven days. And in the day that he goeth into the sanctuary, into the inner court, to minister in the sanctuary, he shall offer his sin offering, saith the 28 Lord God. And they shall have an inheritance: I am their inheritance: and ye shall give them no possession 29 in Israel; I am their possession. They shall eat the meal offering, and the sin offering, and the guilt offering; and every devoted thing in Israel shall be 30 theirs. And the first of all the firstfruits of every thing, and every ¹oblation of every thing, of all your oblations, shall be for the priests: ye shall also give unto the priest the first of your ²dough, to cause a blessing to rest on thine
 31 house. The priests shall not eat of any thing that dieth of itself, or is torn, whether it be fowl or beast.
 45 Moreover, when ye shall divide by lot the land for inheritance, ye shall offer an oblation unto the Lord, ³an holy portion of the land: the length shall be the length of five and twenty thousand reeds, and the breadth shall be ⁴ten thousand: it shall be holy in all the border thereof round about.
 2 Of this there shall be for the holy place five hundred in length by five hundred in breadth, square round about; and fifty cubits for the ⁵suburbs thereof round about. And of this measure shalt thou measure, a length of five and twenty thousand, and a breadth of ten thousand: and in it shall be the sanctuary, which is most holy. It is an holy portion of the land; it shall be for the priests, the ministers of the sanctuary, which come near to minister unto the Lord; and it shall be a place for their houses, and an holy place for the
 5 sanctuary. And five and twenty thousand in length, and ten thousand in breadth, shall be unto the Levites, the ministers of the house, for a possession unto themselves, for ⁶twenty chambers.
 6 And ye shall appoint the possession of the city five thousand broad, and five and twenty thousand long, side by side with the oblation of the holy portion: it shall be for the whole house of Israel.
 7 And whatsoever is for the prince shall be on the one side and on the other side of the holy oblation and of the possession of the city, in front of the holy oblation and in front of the possession of the city, on the west side westward, and on the east side eastward: and in length answerable unto one of the portions, from the west border unto the east border. ⁷In the land it shall be to him for a possession in Israel: and my princes shall no more oppress my people; but they shall give the land to the house of Israel according to their tribes.

 10 Lord God. Ye shall have just balances, and a just ephah, and a just bath.
 11 The ephah and the bath shall be of one measure, that the bath may contain the tenth part of an homer, and the ephah the tenth part of an homer: the measure thereof shall be after the 12 homer. And the shekel shall be twenty gerahs: twenty shekels, five and twenty shekels, fifteen shekels, shall be your 13 maneh. This is the oblation that ye shall offer; the sixth part of an ephah from an homer of wheat, and ye shall give the sixth part of an ephah from an
 14 homer of barley: and the set portion of oil, of the bath of oil, shall be the tenth part of a bath out of the cor, which is ten baths, even an homer; for ten baths
 15 are an homer: and one lamb of the flock, out of two hundred, from the ⁹fat pastures of Israel; for a meal offering, and for a burnt offering, and for peace offerings, to make atonement for them,
 16 saith the Lord God. All the people of the land ¹⁰shall give unto this oblation
 17 for the prince in Israel. And it shall be the prince's part to give the burnt offerings, and the meal offerings, and the drink offerings, in the feasts, and in the new moons, and in the sabbaths, in all the appointed feasts of the house of Israel: he shall prepare the sin offering, and the meal offering, and the burnt offering, and the peace offerings, to make atonement for the house of Israel.

18 Thus saith the Lord God: In the first month, in the first day of the month, thou shalt take a young bullock without blemish; and thou shalt cleanse

 20 of the gate of the inner court. And so thou shalt do ¹²on the seventh day of the month for every one that erreth, and for him that is simple: so shall ye make
 21 atonement for the house. In the first month, in the fourteenth day of the month, ye shall have the passover, a feast of seven days; unleavened bread

25 oil to an ephah. In the seventh month, in the fifteenth day of the month, in the feast, shall he do the like the seven days; according to the sin offering, according to the burnt offering, and according to the meal offering, and according to the oil.

46 Thus saith the Lord God: The gate of the inner court that looketh toward the east shall be shut the six working days; but on the sabbath day it shall be opened, and in the day of
2 the new moon it shall be opened. And the prince shall enter by the way of the porch of the gate without, and shall stand by the post of the gate, and the priests shall prepare his burnt offering and his peace offerings, and he shall worship at the threshold of the gate; then he shall go forth: but the gate shall not be shut until the evening.

7 shall be without blemish: and he shall prepare a meal offering, an ephah for the bullock, and an ephah for the ram, and for the lambs according as ¹he is
8 able, and an hin of oil to an ephah. And when the prince shall enter, he shall go in by the way of the porch of the gate, and he shall go forth by the way
9 thereof. But when the people of the land shall come before the LORD in the appointed feasts, he that entereth by the way of the north gate to worship shall go forth by the way of the south gate; and he that entereth by the way of the south gate shall go forth by the way of the north gate: he shall not return by the way of the gate whereby he came in, but shall go forth straight
10 before him. And the prince, when they go in, shall go in in the midst of them; and when they go forth, ²they shall go
11 forth together. And in the feasts and in the ³solemnities the meal offering shall be an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram, and for the lambs as he is able to give, and an hin of oil

12 to an ephah. And when the prince shall prepare a freewill offering, a burnt offering or peace offerings as a freewill offering unto the LORD, one shall open for him the gate that looketh toward the east, and he shall prepare his burnt offering and his peace offerings, as he doth on the sabbath day: then he shall go forth; and after his going forth one 13 shall shut the gate. And thou shalt prepare a lamb of the first year without blemish for a burnt offering unto the LORD daily: morning by morning
14 shalt thou prepare it. And thou shalt prepare a meal offering with it morning by morning, the sixth part of an ephah, and the third part of an hin of oil, to 4 moisten the fine flour; a meal offering unto the LORD continually by a perpetual ordinance. Thus shall they prepare the lamb, and the meal offering, and the oil, morning by morning, for a continual burnt offering.

16 Thus saith the Lord God: If the prince give a gift unto any of his sons, it is his inheritance, it shall belong to his sons; it is their possession
17 by inheritance. But if he give of his inheritance a gift to one of his servants, it shall be his to the year of liberty; then it shall return to the prince; but as for his inheritance, it shall be for 18 his sons. Moreover the prince shall not take of the people's inheritance, to ⁵thrust them out of their possession; he shall give inheritance to his sons out of his own possession: that my people be not scattered every man from his possession.

19 Then he brought me through the entry, which was at the side of the gate, into the holy chambers for the priests, which looked toward the north: and behold, there was a place on the 20 hinder part westward. And he said unto me, This is the place where the priests shall boil the guilt offering and the sin offering, where they shall bake the meal offering; that they bring them not forth into the outer court, to 21 sanctify the people. Then he brought me forth into the outer court, and caused me to pass by the four corners of the court; and behold, in every corner of the court there was a court.
22 In the four corners of the court there were courts ⁶inclosed, forty cubits long and thirty broad: these four in the 23 corners were of one measure. And there was a row of building round about in them, round about the four, and it was made with boiling places
24 under the rows round about. Then said he unto me, These are the boiling houses, where the ministers of the house shall boil the sacrifice of the people.

threshold of the house eastward, for the forefront of the house was toward the east: and the waters came down from under, from the right side of the 2 house, on the south of the altar. Then brought he me out by the way of the gate northward, and led me round by the way without unto the outer gate, by the way of the gate that looketh toward the east; and behold, there ¹ran out 3 waters on the right side. When the man went forth eastward with the line in his hand, he measured a thousand cubits, and he caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the ankles. 4 Again he measured a thousand, and caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the knees. Again he measured a thousand, and caused me to pass through the waters, waters 5 that were to the loins. Afterward he measured a thousand; and it was a river that I could not pass through: for the waters were risen, waters to swim in, a river that could not be passed 6 through. And he said unto me, Son of man, hast thou seen this? Then he brought me, and caused me to return 7 to the bank of the river. Now when I had returned, behold, upon the bank of the river were very many trees on 8 the one side and on the other. Then said he unto me, These waters issue forth toward the eastern region, and shall go down into the Arabah: and they shall go toward the sea; into the sea shall the waters go which were made to issue forth; and the waters 9 shall be healed. And it shall come to pass, that every living creature which swarmeth, in every place whither the ²rivers come, shall live; and there shall be a very great multitude of fish: for these waters are come thither, ³and the waters of the sea shall be healed, and every thing shall live whitherso- 10 ever the river cometh. And it shall come to pass, that fishers shall stand by it: from Eng-edi even unto Eng-laim shall be a place for the spreading of nets; their fish shall be after their kinds, as the fish of the great sea, 11 exceeding many. But the miry places thereof, and the marishes thereof, shall not be healed; they shall be ⁴given up 12 to salt. And by the river upon the bank thereof, on this side and on that side, shall grow every tree for meat, whose leaf shall not wither, neither shall the fruit thereof fail: it shall bring forth ⁵new fruit every month, because the waters thereof issue out of the sanctuary: and the fruit thereof shall be for meat, and the leaf thereof for healing. 13 Thus saith the Lord God: This shall be the border, whereby ye shall divide the land for inheritance according to the twelve tribes of Israel: Joseph

14 shall have ⁶portions. And ye shall inherit it, one as well as another; ⁷concerning the which I lifted up mine hand to give it unto your fathers: and this land shall fall unto you for inheritance. And this shall be the border of the land: on the north side, from the great sea, by the way of Hethlon, 16 unto the entering in of Zedad; Hamath, Berothah, Sibraim, which is between the border of Damascus and the border of Hamath; ⁸Hazer-hatticon, 17 which is by the border of Hauran. And the border from the sea shall be Hazarenan at the border of Damascus, and on the north northward is the border of Hamath. This is the north side. 18 And the east side, between Hauran and Damascus and Gilead, and the land of Israel, shall be Jordan; from the north border unto the east sea shall ye 19 measure. This is the east side. And the south side southward shall be from Tamar as far as the waters of Meriboth-kadesh, to the brook of Egypt, unto the great sea. This is the south side southward. And the west side shall be the great sea, from the south border as far as over against the entering in of 21 Hamath. This is the west side. So shall ye divide this land unto you 22 according to the tribes of Israel. And it shall come to pass, that ye shall divide it by lot for an inheritance unto you and to the strangers that sojourn among you, which shall beget children among you; and they shall be unto you as the homeborn among the children of Israel; they shall have inheritance with you among the tribes 23 of Israel. And it shall come to pass, that in what tribe the stranger sojourneth, there shall ye give him his inheritance, saith the Lord God. 48 Now these are the names of the tribes: from the north end, beside the way of Hethlon to the entering in of Hamath, Hazar-enan at the border of Damascus, northward beside Hamath; and they shall have their sides east and west; Dan, one portion. 2 And by the border of Dan, from the east side unto the west side; Asher, 3 one portion. And by the border of Asher, from the east side even unto the 4 west side; Naphtali, one portion. And by the border of Naphtali, from the east side unto the west side; Manasseh, 5 one portion. And by the border of Manasseh, from the east side unto the 6 west side; Ephraim, one portion. And by the border of Ephraim, from the east side even unto the west side; 7 Reuben, one portion. And answerable unto the border of the priests, the Levites shall have five and twenty thousand in length, and ten thousand in breadth: all the length shall be five and twenty thousand, and the 14 breadth ² ten thousand. And they shall not sell of it, neither exchange it, nor shall the firstfruits of the land be alienated: for it is holy unto the LORD. 15 And the five thousand that are left in the breadth, in front of the five and twenty thousand, shall be for common use, for the city, for dwelling and for suburbs: and the city shall be in 16 the midst thereof. And these shall be the measures thereof; the north side four thousand and five hundred, and the south side four thousand and five hundred, and on the east side four thousand and five hundred, and the west side 17 four thousand and five hundred. And the city shall have suburbs; toward the north two hundred and fifty, and toward the south two hundred and fifty, and toward the east two hundred and fifty, and toward the west two hundred 18 and fifty. And the residue in the length, answerable unto the holy oblation, shall be ten thousand eastward, and ten thousand westward: and it shall be answerable unto the holy oblation; and the increase thereof shall be for food unto them that labour in the 19 city. And they that labour in the city, out of all the tribes of Israel, shall till it. 20 All the oblation shall be five and twenty thousand by five and twenty thousand: ye shall offer the holy oblation four-square, with the possession of the city.

Moreover from the possession of the Levites, and from the possession of the city, being in the midst of that which is the prince's, between the border of Judah and the border of Benjamin, shall be for the prince. 23 And as for the rest of the tribes: from the east side unto the west side; 24 Benjamin, one portion. And by the border of Benjamin, from the east side unto the west side; Simeon, one portion. 25 And by the border of Simeon, from the east side unto the west side; 26 Issachar, one portion. And by the border of Issachar, from the east side unto the west side; Zebulun, one portion. 27 And by the border of Zebulun, from the east side unto the west side; 28 Gad, one portion. And by the border of Gad, at the south side southward, the border shall be even from Tamar unto the waters of Meribath-kadesh, to the brook of Egypt, unto the great 29 sea. This is the land which ye shall divide by lot unto the tribes of Israel for inheritance, and these are their several portions, saith the Lord God. 30 And these are the goings out of the city; on the north side four thousand and five hundred reeds by measure: 31 and the gates of the city shall be after the names of the tribes of Israel; three gates northward: the gate of Reuben, one; the gate of Judah, one; 32 the gate of Levi, one: and at the east side four thousand and five hundred reeds; and three gates: even the gate of Joseph, one; the gate of Benjamin, one; the gate of Dan, 33 one: and at the south side four thousand and five hundred reeds by measure; and three gates: the gate of Simeon, one; the gate of Issachar, 34 one; the gate of Zebulun, one: at the west side four thousand and five hundred reeds, with their three gates: the gate of Gad, one; the gate of Asher, one; the gate of Naphtali, 35 one. It shall be eighteen thousand reeds round about: and the name of the city from that day shall be, ⁴ The LORD is there.

THE BOOK OF DANIEL.

1 In the third year of the reign of Jehoiakim king of Judah came Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon unto Jerusalem, and besieged it. And the Lord gave Jehoiakim king of Judah into his hand, with part of the vessels of the house of God; and he carried them into the land of Shinar to the house of his god: and he brought the vessels into the treasure house of his god. And the king spake unto Ashpenaz the master of his eunuchs, that he should bring in certain of the children of Israel, even of the seed royal and of the nobles; youths in whom was no blemish, but well favoured, and skilful in all wisdom, and cunning in knowledge, and understanding science, and such as had ability to stand in the king's palace; and that he should teach them the learning and the tongue of the Chaldeans.

5 And the king appointed for them a daily portion of the king's meat, and of the wine which he drank, and that they should be nourished three years; that at the end thereof they might stand before the king. Now among these were, of the children of Judah, Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah. And the prince of the eunuchs gave names unto them: unto Daniel he gave the name of Belteshazzar; and to Hananiah, of Shadrach; and to Mishael, of Meshach; and to Azariah, of Abednego. But Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself with the king's meat, nor with the wine which he drank: therefore he requested of the prince of the eunuchs that he might not defile himself.

9 Now God made Daniel to find favour and compassion in the sight of the prince of the eunuchs. And the prince of the eunuchs said unto Daniel, I fear my lord the king, who hath appointed your meat and your drink: for why should he see your faces worse liking than the youths which are of your own age? so should ye endanger my head with the king. Then said Daniel to ²the steward, whom the prince of the eunuchs had appointed over Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah: Prove thy servants, I beseech thee, ten days; and let them give us ³pulse to eat, and water to drink. Then let our countenances be looked upon before thee, and the countenance of the youths that eat of the king's meat; and as thou seest, deal with thy servants. So he hearkened unto them in this matter, and proved them ten days. And at the end of ten days their countenances appeared fairer, and they were fatter in flesh, than all the youths which did eat of the king's meat. So ²the steward took away their meat, and the wine that they should drink, and gave them pulse. Now as for these four youths, God gave them knowledge and skill in all learning and wisdom: and Daniel had understanding in all visions and dreams. And at the end of the days which the king had ⁴appointed for bringing them in, the prince of the eunuchs brought them in before Nebuchadnezzar. And the king communed with them; and among them all was found none like Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah: therefore stood they before the king. And in every matter of wisdom and understanding, concerning which the king inquired of them, he found them ten times better than all the magicians and enchanters that were in all his realm. And Daniel continued even unto the first year of king Cyrus.

2 And in the second year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar Nebuchadnezzar dreamed dreams; and his spirit was troubled, and his sleep brake from him. Then the king commanded to call the magicians, and the enchanters, and the sorcerers, and the Chaldeans, for to tell the king his dreams. So they came in and stood before the king.

3 And the king said unto them, I have dreamed a dream, and my spirit is troubled to know the dream. Then spake the Chaldeans to the king ⁵in the Syrian language, ⁶O king, live for ever: tell thy servants the dream, and we will shew the interpretation.

5 The king answered and said to the Chaldeans, ⁷The thing is gone from me: if ye make not known unto me the dream and the interpretation thereof, ye shall be cut in pieces, and your houses shall be made a dunghill. But if ye shew the dream and the interpretation thereof, ye shall receive of me gifts and rewards and great honour: therefore shew me the dream and the interpretation thereof. They answered the second time and said, Let the king tell his servants the dream, and we will shew the interpretation. The king answered and said, I know of a certainty that ye would ⁸gain time, because ye see ⁹the thing is gone from me.

9 But if ye make not known unto me the dream, there is but one law for you: for ye have prepared lying and corrupt words to speak before me, till the time be changed: therefore tell me the dream, and I shall know that ye can shew me the interpretation thereof. The Chaldeans answered before the king, and said, There is not a man upon the earth that can shew the king's matter: forasmuch as no king, ¹lord, nor ruler, hath asked such a thing of any magician, or enchanter, or Chaldean. And it is a rare thing that the king requireth, and there is none other that can shew it before the king, except the gods, whose dwelling is not with flesh. For this cause the king was angry and very furious, and commanded to destroy all the wise men of Babylon. So the decree went forth, and the wise men were to be slain; and they sought Daniel and his companions to be slain. Then Daniel returned answer with counsel and prudence to Arioch the captain of the king's guard, which was gone forth to slay the wise men of Babylon; he answered and said to Arioch the king's captain, Wherefore is the decree so urgent from the king? Then Arioch made the thing known to Daniel. And Daniel went in, and desired of the king that he would ²appoint him a time, ³and he would shew the king the interpretation.

17 Then Daniel went to his house, and made the thing known to Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, his companions: that they would desire mercies of the God of heaven concerning this secret; that Daniel and his companions should not perish with the rest of the wise men of Babylon.

19 Then was the secret revealed unto Daniel in a vision of the night. Then Daniel blessed the God of heaven.

20 Daniel answered and said, Blessed be the name of God for ever and ever: for wisdom and might are his: and he changeth the times and the seasons: he removeth kings, and setteth up kings: he giveth wisdom unto the wise, and knowledge to them that know understanding: he revealeth the deep and secret things: he knoweth what is in the darkness, and the light dwelleth with him. I thank thee, and praise thee, O thou God of my fathers, who hast given me wisdom and might, and hast now made known unto me what we desired of thee: for thou hast made known unto us the king's matter. Therefore Daniel went in unto Arioch, whom the king had appointed to destroy the wise men of Babylon: he went and said thus unto him; Destroy not the wise men of Babylon: bring me in before the king, and I will shew unto the king the interpretation.

25 Then Arioch brought in Daniel before the king in haste, and said thus unto him, I have found a man of the children of the captivity of Judah, that will make known unto the king the interpretation. The king answered and said to Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, Art thou able to make known unto me the dream which I have seen, and the interpretation thereof?

27 Daniel answered before the king, and said, The secret which the king hath demanded can neither wise men, enchanters, magicians, nor soothsayers, shew unto the king; but there is a God in heaven that revealeth secrets, and he hath made known to the king Nebuchadnezzar what shall be in the latter days. Thy dream, and the visions of thy head upon thy bed, are these: as for thee, O king, thy thoughts came into thy mind upon thy bed, what should come to pass hereafter: and he that revealeth secrets hath made known to thee what shall come to pass. But as for me, this secret is not revealed to me for any wisdom that I have more than any living, but to the intent that the interpretation may be made known to the king, and that thou mayest know the thoughts of thy heart. Thou, O king, sawest, and behold a great image. This image, which was mighty, and whose brightness was excellent, stood before thee; and the aspect thereof was terrible. As for this image, his head was of fine gold, his breast and his arms of silver, his belly and his thighs of brass, his legs of iron, his feet part of iron, and part of clay.

34 Thou sawest till that a stone was cut out without hands, which smote the image upon his feet that were of iron and clay, and brake them in pieces.

35 Then was the iron, the clay, the brass, the silver, and the gold, broken in pieces together, and became like the chaff of the summer threshing-floors; and the wind carried them away, that no place was found for them: and the stone that smote the image became a great ⁴mountain, and filled the whole earth. This is the dream; and we will tell the interpretation thereof before the king. Thou, O king, art king of kings, unto whom the God of heaven hath given the kingdom, the power, and the strength, and the glory; and wheresoever the children of men dwell, the beasts of the field and the fowls of the heaven hath he given into thine hand, and hath made thee to rule over them all: thou art the head of gold.

39 And after thee shall arise another kingdom inferior to thee; and another third kingdom of brass, which shall bear rule over all the earth. And the fourth kingdom shall be strong as iron: forasmuch as iron breaketh in pieces and subdueth all things: and as iron that crusheth all these, shall it break in pieces and crush. And whereas thou sawest the feet and toes, part of potters' clay, and part of iron, it shall be a divided kingdom; but there shall be in it of the strength of the iron, forasmuch as thou sawest the iron ⁴² mixed with ¹ miry clay. And as the toes of the feet were part of iron, and part of clay, so the kingdom shall be ⁴³ partly strong, and partly ² broken. And whereas thou sawest the iron mixed with ¹ miry clay, they shall mingle themselves ³ with the seed of men; but they shall not cleave one to another, even ⁴⁴ as iron doth not mingle with clay. And in the days of those kings shall the God of heaven set up a kingdom, which shall never be destroyed, nor shall the sovereignty thereof be left to another people; but it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand for ever. ⁴⁵ Forasmuch as thou sawest that a stone was cut out of the mountain without hands, and that it brake in pieces the iron, the brass, the clay, the silver, and the gold; the great God hath made known to the king what shall come to pass hereafter: and the dream is certain, and the interpretation ⁴⁶ thereof sure. Then the king Nebuchadnezzar fell upon his face, and worshipped Daniel, and commanded that they should offer an oblation and sweet ⁴⁷ odours unto him. The king answered unto Daniel, and said, Of a truth your God is the God of gods, and the Lord of kings, and a revealer of secrets, seeing thou hast been able to reveal ⁴⁸ this secret. Then the king made Daniel great, and gave him many great gifts, and made him to rule over the whole province of Babylon, and to be chief governor over all the wise men of Babylon. And Daniel requested of the king, and he appointed Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, over the affairs of the province of Babylon: but Daniel was ⁴ in the gate of the king. ³ Nebuchadnezzar the king made an image of gold, whose height was three-score cubits, and the breadth thereof six cubits: he set it up in the plain of Dura, ² in the province of Babylon. Then Nebuchadnezzar the king sent to gather together the satraps, the deputies, and the governors, the ⁵ judges, the treasurers, the counsellors, the ⁶ sheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces, to come to the dedication of the image which Nebuchadnezzar the king had ³ set up. Then the satraps, the deputies, and the governors, the ⁵ judges, the treasurers, the counsellors, the ⁶ sheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces, were gathered together unto the dedication of the image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up; and they stood before the image that Nebuchadnezzar had set up. Then the herald

cried aloud, To you it is commanded, O peoples, nations, and languages, that at what time ye hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, ⁷ dulcimer, and all kinds of music, ye fall down and worship the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king hath ⁶ set up: and whoso falleth not down and worshippeth shall the same hour be cast into the midst of a burning ⁷ fiery furnace. Therefore at that time, when all the peoples heard the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and all kinds of music, all the peoples, the nations, and the languages, fell down and worshipped the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king ⁸ had set up. Wherefore at that time certain Chaldeans came near, and brought accusation against the Jews. ⁹ They answered and said to Nebuchadnezzar the king, O king, live for ever. ¹⁰ Thou, O king, hast made a decree, that every man that shall hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and dulcimer, and all kinds of music, shall fall down and worship the ¹¹ golden image: and whoso falleth not down and worshippeth, shall be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace. ¹² There are certain Jews whom thou hast appointed over the affairs of the province of Babylon, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego; these men, O king, have not regarded thee: they serve not thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up. ¹³ Then Nebuchadnezzar in his rage and fury commanded to bring Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego. Then they ¹⁴ brought these men before the king. Nebuchadnezzar answered and said unto them, Is it of purpose, O Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, that ye serve not my god, nor worship the golden image ¹⁵ which I have set up? Now if ye be ready that at what time ye hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and dulcimer, and all kinds of music, ye fall down and worship the image which I have made, well: but if ye worship not, ye shall be cast the same hour into the midst of a burning fiery furnace; and who is that god that shall deliver you out of my hands? ¹⁶ Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, answered and said to the king, O Nebuchadnezzar, ⁶ we have no need to answer ¹⁷ thee in this matter. ⁹ If it be so, our God whom we serve is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace; and he will deliver us out of thine hand, O ¹⁸ king. But if not, be it known unto thee, O king, that we will not serve thy gods, nor worship the golden image ¹⁹ which thou hast set up. Then was Nebuchadnezzar full of fury, and the form of his visage was changed against Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego:

therefore he spake, and commanded that they should heat the furnace seven times more than it was wont to be heated.

- 20 And he commanded certain mighty men that were in his army to bind Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, and to cast them into the burning fiery furnace. Then these men were bound in their hosen, their ¹tunics, and their mantles, and their other garments, and were cast into the midst of the burning fiery furnace. Therefore because the king's commandment was urgent, and the furnace exceeding hot, the flame of the fire slew those men that took up Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego. And these three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, fell down bound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace. Then Nebuchadnezzar the king was astonished, and rose up in haste: he spake and said unto his counsellors, Did not we cast three men bound into the midst of the fire? They answered and said unto the king, True, O king. He answered and said, Lo, I see four men loose, walking in the midst of the fire, and they have no hurt; and the aspect of the fourth is like a son of the gods. Then Nebuchadnezzar came near to the ²mouth of the burning fiery furnace: he spake and said, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, ye servants of the Most High God, come forth, and come hither. Then Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, came forth out of the midst of the fire. 27 And the satraps, the deputies, and the governors, and the king's counsellors, being gathered together, saw these men, that the fire had no power upon their bodies, nor was the hair of their head singed, neither were their hosen changed, nor had the smell of fire passed on them. Nebuchadnezzar spake and said, Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, who hath sent his angel, and delivered his servants that trusted in him, and have changed the king's word, and have yielded their bodies, that they might not serve nor worship any god, except their own God. 29 Therefore I make a decree, that every people, nation, and language, which speak any thing amiss against the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, shall be cut in pieces, and their houses shall be made a dunghill: because there is no other god that is able to deliver after this sort. Then the king promoted Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, in the province of Babylon.

- 4 Nebuchadnezzar the king, unto all the peoples, nations, and languages, that dwell in all the earth; peace be multiplied unto you. It hath seemed good unto me to shew the signs and wonders that the Most High God hath wrought toward me. How great are his signs! and how mighty are his wonders! his kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and his dominion is from generation to generation.

- 4 I Nebuchadnezzar was at rest in mine house, and flourishing in my palace. I saw a dream which made me afraid; and the ³thoughts upon my bed and the visions of my head troubled me. Therefore made I a decree to bring in all the wise men of Babylon before me, that they might make known unto me the interpretation of the dream. Then came in the magicians, the enchanters, the Chaldeans, and the soothsayers: and I told the dream before them; but they did not make known unto me the interpretation thereof. But at the last Daniel came in before me, whose name was Belteshazzar, according to the name of my god, and in whom is the spirit of the holy gods: and I told the dream before him, saying, O Belteshazzar, master of the magicians, because I know that the spirit of the holy gods is in thee, and no secret troubleth thee, tell me the visions of my dream that I have seen, and the interpretation thereof. 10 Thus were the visions of my head upon my bed: I saw, and behold a tree in the midst of the earth, and the height thereof was great. The tree grew, and was strong, and the height thereof reached unto heaven, and the sight thereof to the end of all the earth. The leaves thereof were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all: the beasts of the field had shadow under it, and the fowls of the heaven dwelt in the branches thereof, and all flesh was fed of it. I saw in the visions of my head upon my bed, and, behold, a watcher and an holy one came down from heaven. He cried aloud, and said thus, Hew down the tree, and cut off his branches, shake off his leaves, and scatter his fruit: let the beasts get away from under it, and the fowls from his branches. Nevertheless leave the stump of his roots in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field; and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beasts in the grass of the earth: let his heart be changed from man's, and let a beast's heart be given unto him; and let seven times pass over him. The sentence is by the decree of the watchers, and the ⁴demand by the word of the holy ones: to the intent that the living may know that the Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will, and setteth up over it the lowest of men. This dream I king Nebuchadnezzar have seen: and thou,

O Belteshazzar, declare the interpretation, forasmuch as all the wise men of my kingdom are not able to make known unto me the interpretation; but thou art able, for the spirit of the holy gods is in thee.

19 Then Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, was astonished for a while, and his thoughts troubled him. The king answered and said, Belteshazzar, let not the dream, or the interpretation, trouble thee. Belteshazzar answered and said, My lord, the dream be to them that hate thee, and the interpretation thereof to thine adversaries. The tree that thou sawest, which grew, and was strong, whose height reached unto the heaven, and the sight thereof to all the earth; whose leaves were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all; under which the beasts of the field dwelt, and upon whose branches the fowls of the heaven had their habitation:

22 it is thou, O king, that art grown and become strong: for thy greatness is grown, and reacheth unto heaven, and thy dominion to the end of the earth.

23 And whereas the king saw a watcher and an holy one coming down from heaven, and saying, Hew down the tree, and destroy it; nevertheless leave the stump of the roots thereof in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field; and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beasts of the field, till seven times pass over

24 him; this is the interpretation, O king, and it is the decree of the Most High, which is come upon my lord the

25 king: that thou shalt be driven from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field, and thou shalt be made to eat grass as oxen, and shalt be wet with the dew of heaven, and seven times shall pass over thee; till thou know that the Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth

26 it to whomsoever he will. And whereas they commanded to leave the stump of the tree roots; thy kingdom shall be sure unto thee, after that thou shalt have known that the heavens do rule.

27 Wherefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable unto thee, and ¹break off thy sins by righteousness, and thine iniquities by shewing mercy to the poor; if there may be ²a lengthening of thy

28 tranquillity. All this came upon the 29 king Nebuchadnezzar. At the end of twelve months he was walking ³in the 30 royal palace of Babylon. The king spake and said, Is not this great Babylon, which I have built for the royal dwelling place, by the might of my power and for the glory of my majesty?

31 While the word was in the king's mouth, there fell a voice from heaven, saying, O king Nebuchadnezzar, to thee it is spoken: the kingdom is departed

32 from thee. And thou shalt be driven from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field; thou shalt be made to eat grass as oxen, and seven times shall pass over thee; until thou know that the Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth

33 it to whomsoever he will. The same hour was the thing fulfilled upon Nebuchadnezzar: and he was driven from men, and did eat grass as oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven, till his hair was grown like eagles' feathers, and his nails like birds' claws.

34 And at the end of the days I Nebuchadnezzar lifted up mine eyes unto heaven, and mine understanding returned unto me, and I blessed the Most High, and I praised and honoured him that liveth for ever; for his dominion is an everlasting dominion, and his kingdom from generation to generation:

35 and all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing: and he doeth according to his will in the army of heaven, and among the inhabitants of the earth: and none can ⁴stay his hand, or say unto him, What doest thou?

36 At the same time mine understanding returned unto me; and for the glory of my kingdom, my majesty and brightness returned unto me; and my counsellors and my lords sought unto me; and I was established in my kingdom, and excellent greatness was added

37 unto me. Now I Nebuchadnezzar praise and extol and honour the King of heaven; for all his works are truth, and his ways judgement: and those that walk in pride he is able to abase.

5 Belshazzar the king made a great feast to a thousand of his lords, and drank

2 wine before the thousand. Belshazzar, whilst he tasted the wine, commanded to bring the golden and silver vessels which Nebuchadnezzar his father had taken out of the temple which was in Jerusalem; that the king and his lords, his wives and his concubines, might drink therein. Then they brought the golden vessels that were taken out of the temple of the house of God which was at Jerusalem; and the king and his lords, his wives and his concubines, drank in them. They drank wine, and praised the gods of gold, and of silver, of brass, of iron, of wood, and of stone. In the same hour came forth the fingers of a man's hand, and wrote over against the candlestick upon the plaister of the wall of the king's palace: and the king saw the part of

6 the hand that wrote. Then the king's

5 countenance was changed in him, and his thoughts troubled him; and the joints of his loins were loosed, and his knees smote one against an-

The king spake and said to the wise men of Babylon, Whosoever shall read this writing, and shew me the interpretation thereof, shall be clothed with purple, and have a chain of gold about his neck, and shall ¹be the third ruler in the kingdom. Then came in all the king's wise men: but they could not read the writing, nor make known to the king the interpretation. Then was king Belshazzar greatly troubled, and his countenance was changed in him, and his lords were perplexed. Now the queen by reason of the words of the king and his lords came into the banquet house: the queen spake and said, O king, live for ever; let not thy thoughts trouble thee, nor let thy countenance be changed: there is a man in thy kingdom, in whom is the spirit of the holy gods; and in the days of thy father light and understanding and wisdom, like the wisdom of the gods, was found in him: and the king Nebuchadnezzar thy father, ²the king, I say, thy father, made him master of the magicians, enchanters, Chaldeans, and soothsayers; forasmuch as an excellent spirit, and knowledge, and understanding, interpreting of dreams, and shewing of dark sentences, and dissolving of doubts, were found in the same Daniel, whom the king named Belteshazzar. Now let Daniel be called, and he will shew the interpretation.

13 Then was Daniel brought in before the king. The king spake and said unto Daniel, Art thou that Daniel, which art of the children of the captivity of Judah, whom the king my father brought out of Judah? I have heard of thee, that the spirit of the gods is in thee, and that light and understanding and excellent wisdom is found in thee. And now the wise men, the enchanters, have been brought in before me, that they should read this writing, and make known unto me the interpretation thereof: but they could not shew the interpretation of the thing.

16 But I have heard of thee, that thou canst give interpretations, and dissolve doubts: now if thou canst read the writing, and make known to me the interpretation thereof, thou shalt be clothed with purple, and have a chain of gold about thy neck, and shalt ¹be the third ruler in the kingdom. Then Daniel answered and said before the king, Let thy gifts be to thyself, and give thy rewards to another; nevertheless I will read the writing unto the king, and make known to him the interpretation. O thou king, the Most High God gave Nebuchadnezzar thy father the kingdom, and greatness, and glory, and majesty: and because of the greatness that he gave him, all the peoples, nations, and languages trembled and feared before him: whom he would he slew, and whom he would he kept alive; and whom he would he raised up, and whom he would he put down. But when his heart was lifted up, and his spirit was hardened that he dealt proudly, he was deposed from his kingly throne, and they took his glory from him: and he was driven from the sons of men; and his heart was made like the beasts, and his dwelling was with the wild asses; he was fed with grass like oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven: until he knew that the Most High God ruleth in the kingdom of men, and that he setteth up over it whomsoever he will. And thou his son, O Belshazzar, hast not humbled thine heart, though thou knewest all this; but hast lifted up thyself against the Lord of heaven; and they have brought the vessels of his house before thee, and thou and thy lords, thy wives and thy concubines, have drunk wine in them; and thou hast praised the gods of silver, and gold, of brass, iron, wood, and stone, which see not, nor hear, nor know: and the God in whose hand thy breath is, and whose are all thy ways, hast thou not glorified: then was the part of the hand sent from before him, and this writing was inscribed. And this is the writing that was inscribed, ⁸MENE, MENE, TEHEL, ²⁶UPHARSIN. This is the interpretation of the thing: MENE; God hath numbered thy kingdom, and brought it to ²⁷an end. TEHEL; thou art weighed in the balances, and art found wanting. ²⁸⁴PERES; thy kingdom is divided, and given to the Medes and Persians.

29 Then commanded Belshazzar, and they clothed Daniel with purple, and put a chain of gold about his neck, and made proclamation concerning him, that he should ¹be the third ruler in the kingdom. In that night Belshazzar the Chaldean king was slain. And Darius the Mede received the kingdom, being about threescore and two years old.

6 It pleased Darius to set over the kingdom an hundred and twenty satraps, which should be throughout the whole kingdom; and over them three presidents, of whom Daniel was one; that these satraps might give account unto them, and that the king should have no damage. Then this Daniel was distinguished above the presidents and the satraps, because an excellent spirit was in him; and the king thought to set him over the whole realm. Then the presidents and the satraps sought to find occasion against

Daniel as touching the kingdom; but they could find none occasion nor fault; forasmuch as he was faithful, neither was there any error or fault found in him. Thensaid these men, Weshall not find any occasion against this Daniel, except we find it against him concerning the law of his God. Then these presidents and satraps ¹assembled together to the king, and said thus unto him, King Darius, live for ever. 7 All the presidents of the kingdom, the deputies and the satraps, the counselors and the governors, have consulted together ²to establish a royal statute, and to make a strong interdict, that whosoever shall ask a petition of any god or man for thirty days, save of thee, O king, he shall be cast into the den of lions. Now, O king, establish the interdict, and sign the writing, that it be not changed, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which ³altereth not. Wherefore king Darius signed the writing and the interdict. 10 And when Daniel knew that the writing was signed, he went into his house; (now his windows were open in his chamber toward Jerusalem;) and he kneeled upon his knees three times a day, and prayed, and gave thanks before his God, 11 as he did aforetime. Then these men assembled together, and found Daniel making petition and supplication before 12 his God. Then they came near, and spake before the king concerning the king's interdict; Hast thou not signed an interdict, that every man that shall make petition unto any god or man within thirty days, save unto thee, O king, shall be cast into the den of lions? The king answered and said, The thing is true, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which 13 ³altereth not. Then answered they and said before the king, That Daniel, which is of the children of the captivity of Judah, regardeth not thee, O king, nor the interdict that thou hast signed, but maketh his petition three times 14 a day. Then the king, when he heard these words, was sore displeased, and set his heart on Daniel to deliver him: and he laboured till the going down of 15 the sun to rescue him. Then these men assembled together unto the king, and said unto the king, Know, O king, that it is a law of the Medes and Persians, that no interdict nor statute which the king establisheth may be changed. 16 Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel, and cast him into the den of lions. Now the king spake and said unto Daniel, Thy God whom thou servest continually, he will deliver thee. And a stone was brought, and laid upon the mouth of the den; and the king sealed it with his own signet, and with the signet of his lords;

that nothing might be changed concerning Daniel. Then the king went to his palace, and passed the night fasting: neither were ⁵instruments of music brought before him: and his sleep fled from him. Then the king arose very early in the morning, and went in haste unto the den of lions. 20 And when he came near unto the den to Daniel, he cried with a lamentable voice: the king spake and said to Daniel, O Daniel, servant of the living God, is thy God, whom thou servest continually, able to deliver thee from the 21 lions? Then said Daniel unto the king, 22 O king, live for ever. My God hath sent his angel, and hath shut the lions' mouths, and they have not hurt me: forasmuch as before him innocency was found in me; and also before thee, O 23 king, have I done no hurt. Then was the king exceeding glad, and commanded that they should take Daniel up out of the den. So Daniel was taken up out of the den, and no manner of hurt was found upon him, because he had trusted 24 in his God. And the king commanded, and they brought those men which had accused Daniel, and they cast them into the den of lions, them, their children, and their wives; and the lions had the mastery of them, and brake all their bones in pieces, or ever they came at the bottom of the den. 25 Then king Darius wrote unto all the peoples, nations, and languages, that dwell in all the earth; Peace be multiplied unto you. I make a decree, that in all the dominion of my kingdom men tremble and fear before the God of Daniel: for he is the living God, and steadfast for ever, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed, and his dominion shall be even unto the end: he delivereth and rescueth, and he worketh signs and wonders in heaven and in earth; who hath delivered Daniel from 28 the power of the lions. So this Daniel prospered in the reign of Darius, and in the reign of Cyrus the Persian. 7 In the first year of Belshazzar king of Babylon Daniel ⁶had a dream and visions of his head upon his bed: then he wrote the dream and told the sum 2 of the matters. Daniel spake and said, I saw in my vision by night, and, behold, the four winds of the heaven 3 brake forth upon the great sea. And four great beasts came up from the 4 sea, diverse one from another. The first was like a lion, and had eagle's wings: I beheld till the wings thereof were plucked, and it was lifted up from the earth, and made to stand upon two feet as a man, and a man's heart was 5 given to it. And behold another beast, a second, like to a bear, and ⁷it was raised up on one side, and three ribs

were in his mouth between his teeth: and they said thus unto it, Arise, devour much flesh. After this I beheld, and lo another, like a leopard, which had upon the back of it four wings of a fowl; the beast had also four heads; and dominion was given to it. After this I saw in the night visions, and behold a fourth beast, terrible and powerful, and strong exceedingly; and it had great iron teeth: it devoured and brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with his feet: and it was diverse from all the beasts that were before it; and it had ten horns. I considered the horns, and, behold, there came up among them another horn, a little one, before which three of the first horns were plucked up by the roots: and, behold, in this horn were eyes like the eyes of a man, and a mouth speaking great things. I beheld till thrones were placed, and one that was ancient of days did sit: his raiment was white as snow, and the hair of his head like pure wool; his throne was fiery flames, and the wheels thereof burning fire. A fiery stream issued and came forth from before him: thousand thousands ministered unto him, and ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him: the judgement was set, and the books were opened. I beheld at that time because of the voice of the great words which the horn spake; I beheld even till the beast was slain, and his body destroyed, and he was given to be burned with fire. And as for the rest of the beasts, their dominion was taken away: yet their lives were prolonged for a season and a time. I saw in the night visions, and, behold, there came with the clouds of heaven one like unto a son of man, and he came even to the ancient of days, and they brought him near before him. And there was given him dominion, and glory, and a kingdom, that all the peoples, nations, and languages should serve him: his dominion is an everlasting dominion, which shall not pass away, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed.

15 As for me Daniel, my spirit was grieved in the midst of my body, and the visions of my head troubled me. I came near unto one of them that stood by, and asked him the truth concerning all this. So he told me, and made me know the interpretation of the things.

17 These great beasts, which are four, are four kings, which shall arise out of the earth. But the saints of the Most High shall receive the kingdom, and possess the kingdom for ever, even for ever and ever. Then I desired to know the truth concerning the fourth beast, which was diverse from all of them, exceeding terrible, whose teeth were of iron, and his nails of brass; which devoured, brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with his feet; and concerning the ten horns that were on his head, and the other horn which came up, and before which three fell; even that horn that had eyes, and a mouth that spake great things, whose look was more stout than his fellows. I beheld, and the same horn made war with the saints, and prevailed against them; until the ancient of days came, and judgement was given to the saints of the Most High; and the time came that the saints possessed the kingdom.

23 Thus he said, The fourth beast shall be a fourth kingdom upon earth, which shall be diverse from all the kingdoms, and shall devour the whole earth, and shall tread it down, and break it in pieces. And as for the ten horns, out of this kingdom shall ten kings arise: and another shall arise after them; and he shall be diverse from the former, and he shall put down three kings.

25 And he shall speak words against the Most High, and shall wear out the saints of the Most High: and he shall think to change the times and the law; and they shall be given into his hand until a time and times and half a time. But the judgement shall sit, and they shall take away his dominion, to consume and to destroy it unto the end. And the kingdom and the dominion, and the greatness of the kingdoms under the whole heaven, shall be given to the people of the saints of the Most High: his kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and all dominions shall serve and obey him. Here is the end of the matter. As for me Daniel, my thoughts much troubled me, and my countenance was changed in me: but I kept the matter in my heart.

8 In the third year of the reign of king Belshazzar a vision appeared unto me, even unto me Daniel, after that which appeared unto me at the first. And I saw in the vision; now it was so, that when I saw, I was in Shushan the palace, which is in the province of Elam; and I saw in the vision, and I was by the river Ulai. Then I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and, behold, there stood before the river a ram which had two horns: and the two horns were high; but one was higher than the other, and the higher came up last. I saw the ram pushing westward, and northward, and southward; and no beasts could stand before him, neither was there any that could deliver out of his hand; but he did according to his will, and magnified himself. And as I was considering, behold, an he-goat came from the west over the face of the whole earth, and touched not the ground:

and the goat had a notable horn between his eyes. And he came to the ram that had the two horns, which I saw standing before the river, and ran upon him in the fury of his power. 7 And I saw him come close unto the ram, and he was moved with choler against him, and smote the ram, and brake his two horns; and there was no power in the ram to stand before him: but he cast him down to the ground, and trampled upon him; and there was none that could deliver the ram out of his hand. And the he-goat magnified himself exceedingly: and when he was strong, the great horn was broken; and instead of it there came up four notable horns toward the four winds of heaven. And out of one of them came forth a little horn, which waxed exceeding great, toward the south, and toward the east, and toward the glorious land. 10 And it waxed great, even to the host of heaven; and some of the host and of the stars it cast down to the ground, 11 and trampled upon them. Yea, it magnified itself, even to the prince of the host; and ¹it took away from him the continual burnt offering, and the place 12 of his sanctuary was cast down. And ²the host was given over to it together with the continual burnt offering through transgression; and it cast down truth to the ground, and it did 13 its pleasure and prospered. Then I heard a holy one speaking; and another holy one said unto that certain one which spake, How long shall be the vision concerning the continual burnt offering, and the transgression that maketh desolate, to give both the sanctuary and the host to be trodden 14 under foot? And he said ³unto me, Unto two thousand and three hundred evenings and mornings; then shall the sanctuary be ⁴cleansed. 15 And it came to pass, when I, even I Daniel, had seen the vision, that I sought ⁵to understand it; and, behold, there stood before me as the appearance 16 of a man. And I heard a man's voice between the banks of Ulai, which called, and said, Gabriel, make this man to 17 understand the vision. So he came near where I stood; and when he came, I was affrighted, and fell upon my face: but he said unto me, Understand, O son of man; for the vision belongeth to 18 the time of the end. Now as he was speaking with me, I fell into a deep sleep with my face toward the ground: but he touched me, and set me ⁶up 19 right. And he said, Behold, I will make thee know what shall be in the latter time of the indignation: for it belongeth to the appointed time of 20 the end. The ram which thou sawest that had the two horns, they are the 21 kings of Media and Persia. And the rough he-goat is the king of ⁷Greece: and the great horn that is between his 22 eyes is the first king. And as for that which was broken, in the place whereof four stood up, four kingdoms shall stand up out of the nation, but not 23 with his power. And in the latter time of their kingdom, when the transgressors are come to the full, a king of fierce countenance, and understanding 24 dark sentences, shall stand up. And his power shall be mighty, but not ⁸by his own power; and he shall ⁹destroy wonderfully, and shall prosper and do his pleasure: and he shall ⁹destroy the mighty ones and ¹⁰the holy people. 25 And through his policy he shall cause craft to prosper in his hand; and he shall magnify himself in his heart, and in their security shall he ⁹destroy many: he shall also stand up against the prince of princes; but he shall be 26 broken without hand. And the vision of the evenings and mornings which hath been told is true: but shut thou up the vision; for it belongeth to many 27 days to come. And I Daniel fainted, and was sick certain days; then I rose up, and did the king's business: and I was astonished at the vision, ¹¹but none understood it. 9 In the first year of Darius the son of Ahasuerus, of the seed of the Medes, which was made king over the realm 2 of the Chaldeans; in the first year of his reign I Daniel understood by the books the number of the years, whereof the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah the prophet, for the accomplishing of the desolations of Jerusalem, even seventy years. And I set my face unto the Lord God, ¹²to seek by prayer and supplications, with fasting, and sackcloth, and ashes. And I prayed unto the Lord my God, and made confession, and said, O Lord, the great and dreadful God, which keepeth covenant and mercy with them that love him and keep his commandments; we have sinned, and have 5 dealt perversely, and have done wickedly, and have rebelled, even turning aside from thy precepts and from thy 6 judgements: neither have we hearkened unto thy servants the prophets, which spake in thy name to our kings, our princes, and our fathers, and to all 7 the people of the land. O Lord, righteousness belongeth unto thee, but unto us confusion of face, as at this day; to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and unto all Israel, that are near, and that are far off, through all the countries whither thou hast driven them, because of their trespass that they have trespassed against thee. O Lord, to us belongeth confusion of face, to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because

9 we have sinned against thee. To the Lord our God belong mercies and forgivenesses; ¹ for we have rebelled against him; neither have we obeyed the voice of the Lord our God, to walk in his laws, which he set before us by his servants the prophets. Yea, all Israel have transgressed thy law, even turning aside, that they should not obey thy voice; therefore hath the curse been poured out upon us, and the oath that is written in the law of Moses the servant of God; for we have sinned against him. And he hath confirmed his words, which he spake against us, and against our judges that judged us, by bringing upon us a great evil: for under the whole heaven hath not been done as hath been done upon Jerusalem. As it is written in the law of Moses, all this evil is come upon us: yet have we not intreated the favour of the Lord our God, that we should turn from our iniquities, and ² have discernment in thy truth. Therefore hath the Lord watched over the evil, and brought it upon us: for the Lord our God is righteous in all his works which he doeth, and we have not obeyed his voice. And now, O Lord our God, that hast brought thy people forth out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and hast gotten thee renown, as at this day; we have sinned, we have done wickedly. O Lord, according to all thy ³ righteousness, let thine anger and thy fury, I pray thee, be turned away from thy city Jerusalem, thy holy mountain: because for our sins, and for the iniquities of our fathers, Jerusalem and thy people are become a reproach to all that are round about us. Now therefore, O our God, hearken unto the prayer of thy servant, and to his supplications, and cause thy face to shine upon thy sanctuary that is desolate, for the Lord's sake. O my God, incline thine ear, and hear; open thine eyes, and behold our desolations, and the city which is called by thy name: for we do not ⁴ present our supplications before thee for our righteousnesses, but for thy great mercies. O Lord, hear; O Lord, forgive; O Lord, hearken and do; defer not; for thine own sake, O my God, because thy city and thy people are called by thy name.

24 and understand the vision. Seventy weeks are decreed upon thy people and upon thy holy city, ⁹ to finish ¹⁰ transgression, and ¹¹ to make an end of sins, and to ¹² make reconciliation for iniquity, and to bring in everlasting righteousness, and to seal up vision and ¹³ prophecy, and to anoint ¹⁴ the most holy. Know therefore and discern, that from the going forth of the commandment to restore and to build Jerusalem unto ¹⁵ the anointed one, the prince, shall be ¹⁶ seven weeks; and threescore and two weeks, it shall be built again, with street and moat, even in troublous times. And after the threescore and two weeks shall the anointed one be cut off, and ¹⁷ shall have nothing: and the people of the prince that shall come shall destroy the city and the sanctuary; and ¹⁸ his end shall be with a flood, and even unto the end shall be war; desolations are determined. And he shall make a firm covenant with many for one week: and ¹⁹ for the half of the week he shall cause the sacrifice and the ²⁰ oblation to cease; and ²¹ upon the wing of abominations shall come one that maketh desolate; and even unto the consummation, and that determined, shall wrath be poured out upon the ²² desolator.

10 In the third year of Cyrus king of Persia a thing was revealed unto Daniel, whose name was called Belteshazzar; and the thing was true, even a great warfare: and he understood the thing, and had understanding of the vision.

2 In those days I Daniel was mourning three whole weeks. I ate no pleasant bread, neither came flesh nor wine in my mouth, neither did I anoint myself at all, till three whole weeks were fulfilled.

4 And in the four and twentieth day of the first month, as I was by the side of the great river, which is ²³ Hiddekel, I lifted up mine eyes, and looked, and behold a man clothed in linen, whose loins were girded with pure gold of Uphaz: his body also was like the beryl, and his face as the appearance of lightning, and his eyes as lamps of fire, and his arms and his feet like in colour to burnished brass, and the voice of his words like the voice of a multitude.

7 And I Daniel alone saw the vision: for the men that were with me saw not the vision; but a great quaking fell upon them, and they fled to hide themselves.

8 So I was left alone, and saw this great vision, and there remained no strength in me: for my comeliness was turned in me into corruption, and I retained no

And, behold, a hand touched me, which ¹set me upon my knees and upon the palms 11 of my hands. And he said unto me, O Daniel, thou man greatly beloved, understand the words that I speak unto thee, and stand upright; for unto thee am I now sent: and when he had spoken this word unto me, I stood 12 trembling. Then said he unto me, Fear not, Daniel; for from the first day that thou didst set thine heart to understand, and to humble thyself before thy God, thy words were heard: and 13 I am come for thy words' sake. But the prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me one and twenty days; but, lo, Michael, one of the chief princes, came to help me: and I ²remained there 14 with the kings of Persia. Now I am come to make thee understand what shall befall thy people in the latter days: for the vision is yet for many 15 days. And when he had spoken unto me according to these words, I set my face toward the ground, and was dumb. 16 And, behold, one like the similitude of the sons of men touched my lips: then I opened my mouth, and spake and said unto him that stood before me, O my lord, by reason of the vision my sorrows are turned upon me, and I 17 retain no strength. For how can the servant of this my lord talk with this my lord? for as for me, straightway there remained no strength in me, neither was there breath left in me. 18 Then there touched me again one like the appearance of a man, and he 19 strengthened me. And he said, O man greatly beloved, fear not: peace be unto thee, be strong, yea, be strong. And when he spake unto me, I was strengthened, and said, Let my lord speak; for 20 thou hast strengthened me. Then said he, Knowest thou wherefore I am come unto thee? and now will I return to fight with the prince of Persia: and when I go forth, lo, the prince 21 of ³Greece shall come. But I will tell thee that which is inscribed in the writing of truth: and there is none that ⁴holdeth with me ⁵against these, but 11 Michael your prince. And as for me, in the first year of Darius the Mede, I stood up to confirm and strengthen him. 2 And now will I shew thee the truth. Behold, there shall stand up yet three kings in Persia; and the fourth shall be far richer than they all: and when he is waxed strong through his riches, ⁶he shall stir up all 3 against the realm of ⁸Greece. And a mighty king shall stand up, that shall rule with great dominion, and do ac-

4 cording to his will. And when he shall stand up, his kingdom shall be broken, and shall be divided toward the four winds of heaven; but not to his posterity, nor according to his dominion wherewith he ruled; for his kingdom shall be plucked up, even for others beside these. And the king of the south ⁷shall be strong, and one of his princes; and he shall be strong above him, and have dominion; his dominion shall be 6 a great dominion. And at the end of years they shall join themselves together; and the daughter of the king of the south shall come to the king of the north to make ⁸an agreement: but she shall not retain the strength of her arm; neither shall he stand, nor his arm; but she shall be given up, and they that brought her, and he that begat her, and he that strengthened 7 her in those times. But out of a shoot from her roots shall one stand up in his ⁹place, which shall come ¹⁰unto the army, and shall enter into the fortress of the king of the north, and shall deal against them, and shall prevail: 8 and also their gods, with their ¹¹molten images, and with their goodly vessels of silver and of gold, shall he carry captive into Egypt; and he shall ¹²restrain some years from the king of the 9 north. And he shall come into the realm of the king of the south, but he 10 shall return into his own land. And his sons shall war, and shall assemble a multitude of great forces, ¹³which shall come on, and overflow, and pass through: and ¹⁴they shall return and 11 war, even to his fortress. And the king of the south shall be moved with choler, and shall come forth and fight with him, even with the king of the north: and he shall set forth a great multitude, and the multitude shall be given into 12 his hand. And the multitude shall ¹⁵be lifted up, and his heart shall be exalted: and he shall cast down tens of thousands, but he shall not prevail. 13 And the king of the north shall return, and shall set forth a multitude greater than the former; and he shall come on at the end of the times, even ¹⁶of years, with a great army and with much sub- 14 stance. And in those times there shall many stand up against the king of the south: also the children of the violent among thy people shall lift themselves up to establish the vision; but they 15 shall fall. So the king of the north shall come, and cast up a mound, and take ¹⁷a well fenced city: and the arms of the south shall not withstand, neither his chosen people, neither shall there be any strength to withstand. 16 But he that cometh against him shall do according to his own will, and none shall stand before him: and he shall stand in the glorious land, and in his

Then he shall turn his face toward the fortresses of his own land: but he shall stumble and fall, and shall not be found. Then shall stand up in his ⁷place one that shall cause an exactor to pass through the glory of the kingdom: but within few days he shall be ⁸destroyed, neither in anger, ⁹nor in battle. And with the arms of a flood shall they be swept away from before him, and shall be broken; yea, also ¹¹the prince of ⁹the covenant. And after the league made with him he shall work deceitfully: for he shall come up, and shall become strong, with a small people. In time of security shall he come even upon the fattest places of the province; and he shall do that which his fathers have not done, nor his fathers' fathers; he shall scatter among them prey, and spoil, and substance: yea, he shall devise his devices against the strong holds, even for a time. And he shall stir up his power and his courage against the king of the south with a great army; and the king of the south shall war in battle with an exceeding great and mighty army: but he shall not stand, for they shall devise devices against him. Yea, they that eat of his ¹⁰meat shall ¹¹destroy him, and his army shall overflow: and many shall fall down slain. And as for both these kings, their hearts shall be to do mischief, and they shall speak lies at one table: but it shall not prosper; for yet the end shall be at the time appointed. Then shall he return into his land with great substance; and his heart shall be against the holy covenant; and he shall do his pleasure, and return to his own land. At the time appointed he shall return, and come into the south; but it shall not be in the latter time as it was in the former. For ships of Kittim shall come against him; therefore he shall be grieved, and shall return, and have indignation against the holy covenant, and shall do his pleasure: he shall even return, and have regard unto them that forsake the holy covenant. And arms shall stand on his part, and they shall profane the sanctuary, even the fortress, and shall take away the continual burnt offering, and they shall set up the abomination that maketh desolate. ¹²And such as do wickedly against the covenant shall he ¹³pervert by flatteries: but the people that know their God shall be strong, and do exploits. And ¹⁴they that be wise among the people shall instruct many: yet they shall fall by the sword and by flame, by captivity and by spoil, many days. Now when they shall fall, they shall be holpen with a little help: but many shall join themselves unto them with flatteries. And some of ¹⁵them that be wise shall fall, to refine them, and to purify, and to make them white, even to the time of the end: because it is yet for the time appointed. And the king shall do according to his will; and he shall exalt himself, and magnify himself above every god, and shall speak marvellous things against the God of gods: and he shall prosper till the indignation be accomplished; for that which is determined shall be done. Neither shall he regard the gods of his fathers, nor the desire of women, nor regard any god: for he shall magnify himself above all. But in his ⁷place shall he honour the god of fortresses: and a god whom his fathers knew not shall he honour with gold, and silver, and with precious stones, and pleasant things. And he shall deal with the strongest fortresses by the help of a strange god; ¹⁶whosoever acknowledgeth him he will increase with glory: and he shall cause them to rule over many, and shall divide the land for a price. And at the time of the end shall the king of the south contend with him: and the king of the north shall come against him like a whirlwind, with chariots, and with horsemen, and with many ships; and he shall enter into the countries, and shall overflow and pass through. He shall enter also into the glorious land, and many countries shall be overthrown: but these shall be delivered out of his hand, Edom, and Moab, and the chief of the children of Ammon. He shall stretch forth his hand also upon the countries: and the land of Egypt shall not escape. But he shall have power over the treasures of gold and of silver, and over all the precious things of Egypt: and the Libyans and the Ethiopians shall be at his steps. But tidings out of the east and out of the north shall trouble him: and he shall go forth with great fury to destroy and utterly to make away many. And he shall plant the tents of his palace between the sea and the glorious holy mountain; yet he shall come to his end, and none shall help him.

And ²they that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars 4 for ever and ever. But thou, O Daniel, shut up the words, and seal the book, even to the time of the end: many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased.
- 5 Then I Daniel looked, and, behold, there stood other two, the one on the brink of the river on this side, and the other on the brink of the river on that 6 side. And one said to the man clothed in linen, which was above the waters of the river, How long shall it be to 7 the end of these wonders? And I heard the man clothed in linen, which was

And I heard, but I understood not: then said I, O my lord, what shall be the ³issue 9 of these things? And he said, Go thy way, Daniel: for the words are shut up and sealed till the time of the end.

But go thou thy way till the end be: for thou shalt rest, and shalt stand in thy lot, at the end of the days.

HOSEA.

- 1 THE word of the LORD that came unto Hosea the son of Beeri, in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash, king of Israel.
- 2 When the LORD spake at the first ¹by Hosea, the LORD said unto Hosea, Go, take unto thee a wife of whoredom and children of whoredom: for the land doth commit great whoredom, departing from the LORD. So he went and took Gomer the daughter of Diblain; and she conceived, and bare 4 him a son. And the LORD said unto him, Call his name Jezreel; for yet a little while, and I will ²avenge the blood of Jezreel upon the house of Jehu, and will cause the kingdom of the house of Israel 5 to cease. And it shall come to pass at that day, that I will break the bow of 6 Israel in the valley of Jezreel. And she conceived again, and bare a daughter. And the LORD said unto him, Call her name ³Lo-ruhamah: for I will no more have mercy upon the house of Israel, that I should in any wise pardon them.
- 7 But I will have mercy upon the house of Judah, and will save them by the LORD their God, and will not save them by bow, nor by sword, nor by bat- tle, by horses, nor by horsemen. Now when she had weaned Lo-ruhamah, she 9 conceived, and bare a son. And the LORD said, Call his name ⁴Lo-ammi: for ye are not my people, and I will not be ⁵your God.

- 10 Yet the number of the children of Israel shall be as the sand of the sea, which cannot be measured nor numbered; and it shall come to pass that, ⁶in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people, it shall be said unto them, Ye are the sons of 11 the living God. And the children of Judah and the children of Israel shall be gathered together, and they shall appoint themselves one head, and shall go up from the land: for great shall be 12 the day of Jezreel. Say ye unto your brethren, ⁷Ammi, and to your sisters, ⁸Ruhamah.
- 2 Plead with your mother, plead; for she is not my wife, neither am I her husband: and let her put away her whoredoms from her face, and her adulteries 3 from between her breasts; lest I strip her naked, and set her as in the day that she was born, and make her as a wilderness, and set her like a dry 4 land, and slay her with thirst; yea, upon her children will I have no mercy; for 5 they be children of whoredom. For their mother hath played the harlot:

 she that conceived them hath done shamefully: for she said, I will go after my lovers, that give me my bread and my water, my wool and my flax, mine
 6 oil and my ¹drink. Therefore, behold,
 I will hedge up thy way with thorns,
 and I will make a fence against her, that 7 she shall not find her paths. And she shall follow after her lovers, but she shall not overtake them; and she shall seek them, but shall not find them:
 then shall she say, I will go and return to my first husband; for then was it 8 better with me than now. For she did not know that I gave her the corn, and the wine, and the oil, and multiplied unto her silver and gold, which they 9 ²used for Baal. Therefore will I ³take back my corn in the time thereof, and my wine in the season thereof, and will pluck away my wool and my flax which should have covered her nakedness.
 10 And now will I discover her ⁴lewdness in the sight of her lovers, and none 11 shall deliver her out of mine hand. I will also cause all her mirth to cease, her feasts, her new moons, and her sabbaths, and all her ⁵solemn assemblies.
 12 And I will lay waste her vines and her fig trees, whereof she hath said, These are my hire that my lovers have given me: and I will make them a forest, and the beasts of the field shall eat them.
 13 And I will visit upon her the days of the Baalim, ⁶unto which she burned incense; when she decked herself with her ⁷earrings and her jewels, and went after her lovers, and forgot me, 14 saith the LORD. Therefore, behold, I will allure her, and bring her into the wilderness, and speak ⁸comfortably 15 unto her. And I will give her her vineyards from thence, and the valley of ⁹Achor for a door of hope: and she shall ¹⁰make answer there, as in the days of her youth, and as in the day when she came up out of the land of E-16 gypt. And it shall be at that day, saith the LORD, that thou shalt call me ¹¹Isli; 17 and shalt call me no more ¹²Baali. For I will take away the names of the Baalim out of her mouth, and they shall no more 18 be ¹³mentioned by their name. And in that day will I make a covenant for them with the beasts of the field, and with the fowls of heaven, and with the creeping things of the ground: and I will break the bow and the sword and the battle out of the land, and will make them 19 to lie down safely. And I will betroth thee unto me for ever; yea, I will be-troth thee unto me in righteousness, and in judgement, and in lovingkind-20 ness, and in mercies. I will even be-troth thee unto me in faithfulness: and 21 thou shalt know the LORD. And it shall come to pass in that day, I will answer, saith the LORD, I will answer the heavens, and they shall answer the earth; 22 and the earth shall answer the corn, and the wine, and the oil; and they shall 23 answer ¹⁴Jezreel. And I will sow her unto me in the ¹⁵earth; and I will have mercy upon ¹⁶her that had not obtained mercy; and I will say to ¹⁷them which were not my people, Thou art my people;

 and they shall say, Thou art my God.
 3 And the LORD said unto me, Go yet, love a woman beloved ¹⁸of her friend and an adulteress, even as the LORD loveth the children of Israel, though they turn unto other gods, and 2 ¹⁹love cakes of raisins. So I bought her to me for fifteen ^{pieces} of silver, and an homer of barley, and an ²⁰half
 homer of barley: and I said unto her,
 Thou shalt abide for me many days;
 thou shalt not play the harlot, and thou shalt not be any man's wife: so will I 4 also be toward thee. For the children of Israel shall abide many days without king, and without prince, and without sacrifice, and without ²¹pillar, 5 and without ephod or teraphim: afterward shall the children of Israel return, and seek the LORD their God, and David their king; and shall come with fear unto the LORD and to his goodness in the latter days.

4 Hear the word of the LORD, ye children of Israel: for the LORD hath a controversy with the inhabitants of the land, because there is no truth, nor mercy, nor knowledge of God in 2 the land. There is nought but swearing and breaking faith, and killing, and stealing, and committing adultery; they break out, and blood toucheth blood.
 3 Therefore shall the land mourn, and every one that dwelleth therein shall languish, with the beasts of the field and the fowls of heaven; yea, the fishes of 4 the sea also shall be taken away. Yet let no man strive, neither let any man reprove; for thy people are as they 5 that strive with the priest. And thou shalt stumble in the day, and the prophet also shall stumble with thee in the night; and I will destroy thy mother.
 6 My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge: because thou hast rejected knowledge, ²²I will also reject thee, that thou shalt be no priest to me: seeing thou hast forgotten the law of thy God, 7 I also will forget thy children. As they were multiplied, so they sinned against me: I will change their glory into shame.
 8 They feed on the sin of my people, and 9 set their heart on their iniquity. And it shall be, like people, like priest: and I will punish them for their ways, and will 10 reward them their doings. And they shall eat, and not have enough; they shall commit whoredom, and shall not increase: because they have left off to 11 take heed to the LORD. Whoredom and wine and new wine take away the ¹un-12 derstanding. My people ask counsel at their stock, and their staff declareth unto them: for the spirit of whoredom hath caused them to err, and they have gone 13 a whoring from under their God. They sacrifice upon the tops of the mountains, and burn incense upon the hills, under oaks and poplars and terebinths, because the shadow thereof is good: therefore your daughters commit whoredom, and 14 your ²brides commit adultery. I will not punish your daughters when they commit whoredom, nor your ²brides when they commit adultery; for they themselves go apart with whores, and they sacrifice with the ³harlots: and the people that doth not understand 15 shall be overthrown. Though thou, Israel, play the harlot, yet let not Judah ⁴offend; and come not ye unto Gilgal, neither go ye up to Beth-aven, nor 16 swear, As the LORD liveth. For Israel hath behaved himself stubbornly, like a stubborn heifer: now will the LORD feed them as a lamb in a large place.

17 Ephraim is joined to idols; let him
18 alone. ⁵Their drink is become sour:
they commit whoredom continually; 19 ⁶her ⁷rulers dearly love shame. The wind hath wrapped her up in its ⁸wings;
and ⁹they shall be ashamed because of their sacrifices.

5 Hear this, O ye priests, and hearken, ye house of Israel, and give ear, O house of the king, for ¹⁰unto you pertaineth
the judgement; for ye have been a snare at Mizpah, and a net spread upon Ta-
2 bor. And the revolvers are gone deep 11 in making slaughter; but I am ¹²a re-3 buker of them all. I know Ephraim, and Israel is not hid from me: for now, O
Ephraim, thou hast committed whore-4 dom, Israel is defiled. ¹³Their doings will not suffer them to turn unto their God: for the spirit of whoredom is 14 within them, and they know not the 5 LORD. And the ¹⁵pride of Israel doth testify to his face: therefore Israel and Ephraim shall stumble in their iniquity;
Judah also shall stumble with them.
6 They shall go with their flocks and with their herds to seek the LORD: but they shall not find him: he hath withdrawn 7 himself from them. They have dealt treacherously against the LORD: for they have ¹⁶borne strange children:
now shall ¹⁷the new moon devour them with their ¹⁸fields.
8 Blow ye the cornet in Gibeah, and the trumpet in Ramah: sound an alarm at Beth-aven; ¹⁹behind thee, O 9 Benjamin. Ephraim shall become a desolation in the day of rebuke: among the tribes of Israel have I made known 10 that which shall surely be. The princes of Judah are like them that remove the

landmark: I will pour out my wrath 11 upon them like water. Ephraim is oppressed, he is crushed in judgement;
because he was content to walk after 12 ²⁰the command. ²¹Therefore am I unto Ephraim as a moth, and to the house 13 of Judah as rottenness. When Ephraim saw his sickness, and Judah saw his wound, then went Ephraim to Assyria, and sent to ²²king Jareb: but he is not able to heal you, neither shall he cure 14 you of your wound. For I will be unto Ephraim as a lion, and as a young lion to the house of Judah: I, even I, will tear and go away; I will carry off, and there shall be none to deliver.
15 I will go and return to my place, till they ²³acknowledge their offence, and seek my face: in their affliction they will seek me ²⁴earnestly.

6 Come, and let us return unto the LORD: for he hath torn, and he will heal us; he hath smitten, and he will 2 bind us up. After two days will he revive us: on the third day he will raise us up, and we shall live before 3 him. And let us know, let us follow on to know the LORD; his going forth is sure as the morning; and he shall come unto us as the rain, as the latter rain that watereth the earth.

4 O Ephraim, what shall I do unto thee? O Judah, what shall I do unto thee? for your ²⁵goodness is as a morning cloud, and as the dew that 5 goeth early away. Therefore have I hewed them by the prophets; I have slain them by the words of my mouth:
26 and thy judgements are as the light
6 that goeth forth. For I desire ²⁵mercy, and not sacrifice; and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings.
7 But they ²⁷like ²⁸Adam have transgressed the covenant: there have they 8 dealt treacherously against me. Gilead is a city of them that work iniqui-9 ty, it is stained with blood. ²⁹And as troops of robbers wait for a man, so the company of priests murder in the way toward Shechem: yea, they have 10 committed lewdness. In the house of Israel I have seen an horrible thing:
there whoredom is found in Ephraim, 11 Israel is defiled. Also, O Judah, there is an harvest appointed for thee, when I bring again the captivity of my people.

7 When I would heal Israel, then is the iniquity of Ephraim discovered, and the wickedness of Samaria; for they commit falsehood: and the thief entereth in, and the troop of robbers
2 ³⁰spoileth without. And they consider not in their hearts that I remember all their wickedness: now have their own doings beset them ab-

6 For they have ³made ready their heart like an oven, whilst they lie in wait: ⁴their baker sleepeth all the night; in the morning it burneth as a flaming fire.

7 They are all hot as an oven, and devour their judges; all their kings are fawn: there is none among them that calleth

9 not turned. Strangers have devoured his strength, and he knoweth it not: yea, gray hairs are ⁵here and there upon him,

10 and he knoweth it not. And the ⁶pride of Israel doth testify to his face; yet they have not returned unto the Lord their

11 God, nor sought him, for all this. And Ephraim is like a silly dove, without

12 understanding; they call unto Egypt, 12 they go to Assyria. When they shall go, I will spread my net upon them; I will bring them down as the fowls of the 13 heaven: I will chastise them, ⁸as their congregation hath heard. Woe unto them! for they have wandered from me; destruction unto them! for they have

14 trespassed against me: though I would redeem them, yet they have spoken lies

15 against me. And they have not cried unto me with their heart, but they howl upon their beds: ⁹they assemble themselves for corn and wine, they rebel a-

16 gainst me. Though I have ¹⁰taught and strengthened their arms, yet do they 16 imagine mischief against me. They return, but not to him that is on high; they are like a deceitful bow: their princes shall fall by the sword for the rage of their tongue: this shall be their derision in the land of Egypt.

8 ¹¹Set the trumpet to thy mouth. As an eagle he cometh against the house of the Lord: because they have transgressed my covenant, and trespassed a-

2 gainst my law. They shall cry unto me, 3 My God, we Israel know thee. Israel hath cast off that which is good: the enemy shall pursue him. They have set up kings, but not by me; ¹²they have made princes, and I knew it not: of their silver and their gold have they made them

5 idols, that they may be cut off. He hath cast off thy calf, O Samaria; mine anger is kindled against them: how long will

6 it be ere they attain to innocency? For from Israel is even this; the workman made it, and it is no God: yea, the calf of

7 Samaria shall be broken in pieces. For they sow the wind, and they shall reap the whirlwind: ¹³he hath no standing corn; the blade shall yield no meal; if so be it yield, strangers shall swallow

8 it up. Israel is swallowed up: now are they among the nations as a vessel 9 wherein is no pleasure. For they are gone up to Assyria, like a wild ass alone

by himself: Ephraim hath hired ¹⁴lov-

10 ers. Yea, though they hire among the nations, now will I gather them; and they ¹⁵begin to be diminished by reason of the burden of the ¹⁶king of princes. 11 Because Ephraim hath multiplied altars to sin, altars have been unto him 12 to sin. ¹⁷Though I write for him my law in ten thousand precepts, they are 13 counted as a strange thing. As for the sacrifices of mine offerings, they sacrifice flesh and eat it; but the Lord

accepteth them not: now will he remember their iniquity, and visit their

14 sins; they shall return to Egypt. For Israel hath forgotten his Maker, and builded ¹⁸palaces; and Judah hath multiplied fenced cities: but I will send a fire upon his cities, and it shall devour the ¹⁹castles thereof.

9 Rejoice not, O Israel, ²⁰for joy, like the peoples; ²¹for thou hast gone a whoring from thy God, thou hast loved hire

2 upon every cornfloor. The threshing-floor and the winepress shall not feed them, and the new wine shall fail her.

3 They shall not dwell in the Lord's land; but Ephraim shall return to Egypt, and they shall eat unclean food in Assyria.

4 They shall not pour out wine offerings to the Lord, ²²neither shall they be pleasing unto him: their sacrifices shall be unto them as the bread of mourners; all that eat thereof shall be polluted: for their bread shall be for their appetite; it shall not come into the

5 house of the Lord. What will ye do in the day of solemn assembly, and in the 6 day of the feast of the Lord? For, lo, they are gone away from destruction, yet

Egypt shall gather them up, Memphis shall bury them: their pleasant things of silver, nettles shall possess them: thorns shall be in their tents.

7 The days of visitation are come, the days of recompence are come; Israel shall know it: the prophet is a fool, the man that hath the spirit is mad, for the multitude of thine iniquity, and

8 because the enmity is great. Ephraim ²³was a watchman with my God: as for the prophet, a fowler's snare is in all his ways, and enmity in the house of 9 his God. They have deeply corrupted themselves, as in the days of Gibeah: he will remember their iniquity, he

10 will visit their sins. I found Israel like grapes in the wilderness; I saw your fathers as the firstripe in the fig tree at her first season: but they came to

Baal-peor, and ²⁴consecrated themselves unto the ²⁵shameful thing, and became abominable like that which

11 they loved. As for Ephraim, their glory shall fly away like a bird: there shall be no birth, and none with child, and

13 Ephraim, ¹like as I have seen Tyre, is planted in a pleasant place: but Ephraim shall bring out his children to

14 the slayer. Give them, O LORD: what wilt thou give? give them a miscarry-

15 ing womb and dry breasts. All their wickedness is in Gilgal; for there I hated them: because of the wickedness of their doings I will drive them out of mine house: I will love them no more; all their princes are revolt-

16 ers. Ephraim is smitten, their root is dried up, they shall bear no fruit: yea, though they bring forth, yet will I slay the beloved fruit of their womb.

17 My God will cast them away, because they did not hearken unto him: and they shall be wanderers among the nations.

18 Israel is a luxuriant vine, which putteth forth his fruit: according to the multitude of his fruit he hath multiplied his altars; according to the ²goodness of his land they have made goodly

23 pillars. ⁴Their heart is ⁵divided: now shall they be found guilty: he shall smite their altars, he shall spoil their

33 pillars. Surely now shall they say, We have no king: for we fear not the LORD; and the king, what can he do for us? They speak ⁶vain words, ⁶swearing falsely in making covenants: therefore judgement ⁷springeth up as ⁸hemlock in the furrows of the field. The inhabitants of Samaria shall be in terror for the calves of Beth-aven: for the people thereof shall mourn over it, and ⁹the priests thereof that rejoiced over it, for the glory thereof, because it is departed from it. It also shall be carried unto Assyria for a present to ¹⁰king Jareb: Ephraim shall receive shame, and Israel shall be ashamed of his own counsel. ¹¹As for Samaria, her king is cut off, as ¹²foam upon the water. The high places also of Aven, the sin of Israel, shall be destroyed: the thorn and the thistle shall come up on their altars; and they shall say to the mountains, Cover us; and to the hills, Fall on us. O Israel, thou hast sinned

¹³from the days of Gibeah: ¹⁴there they stood; ¹⁵that the battle against the children of iniquity should not overtake them in Gibeah. When it is my desire, I will chastise them; and the peoples shall be gathered against them, when they are ¹⁶bound to their two transgressions. And Ephraim is an heifer that is taught, that loveth to tread out the corn; but I have passed over upon her fair neck: I will set a rider on Ephraim; Judah shall plow, Jacob shall break his clods. Sow to yourselves in righteousness, reap according to mercy; break up your fallow ground: for it is time to seek the LORD, till he come and ¹⁸rain right-

13 conness upon you. Ye have plowed wickedness, ye have reaped iniquity; ye have eaten the fruit of ¹⁹lies: for thou didst trust in thy way, in the 14 multitude of thy mighty men. Therefore shall a tumult arise ²⁰among thy ²¹people, and all thy fortresses shall be spoiled, as Shalman spoiled Beth-arbel in the day of battle: the mother was dashed in pieces with her children.

15 ²²So shall Beth-el do unto you because of your great wickedness: at daybreak shall the king of Israel be utterly cut off.

11 When Israel was a child, then I loved him, and called my son out of Egypt. 2 As they called them, so they went from them: they sacrificed unto the Baalim, and burned incense to graven images.

3 Yet I taught Ephraim to go; ²³I took them on my arms; but they knew not that I healed them. I drew them with cords of a man, with bands of love; and I was to them as they that take off the yoke on their jaws, and I laid meat before them.

5 He shall not return into the land of Egypt; but the Assyrian shall be his king, because they refused to return.

6 And the sword shall ²⁴fall upon his cities, and shall consume his bars, and devour them, because of their own

7 counsels. And my people are bent to backsliding from me: though they call them to him that is on high, none at 8 all will ²⁵exalt him. How shall I give thee up, Ephraim? how shall I deliver thee, Israel? how shall I make thee as Admah? how shall I set thee as Zeboim? mine heart is turned within me, my

9 compassions are kindled together. I will not execute the fierceness of mine anger, I will not return to destroy Ephraim: for I am God, and not man; the Holy One in the midst of thee: and I will not ²⁶enter into the city.

10 They shall walk after the LORD, who shall roar like a lion: for he shall roar, and the children shall come trem-

11 bling from the west. They shall come trembling as a bird out of Egypt, and as a dove out of the land of Assyria: and I will make them to dwell in their houses, saith the LORD.

JOEL.

1 THE word of the LORD that came to Joel the son of Pethuel.

2 Hear this, ye old men, and give ear, all ye inhabitants of the land. Hath this been in your days, or in the days 3 of your fathers? Tell ye your children of it, and let your children tell their children, and their children another

5 Awake, ye drunkards, and weep; and howl, all ye drinkers of wine, because of the sweet wine; for it is cut off 6 from your mouth. For a nation is come up upon my land, strong, and without number; his teeth are the teeth of a lion, and he hath the jaw

7 teeth of a great lion. He hath laid my vine waste, and ²barked my fig tree: he hath made it clean bare, and cast it ³away; the branches thereof are made 8 white. Lament like a virgin girded with sackcloth for the husband of her youth.

9 The meal offering and the drink offering is cut off from the house of the LORD; the priests, the LORD's ministers, mourn. The field is wasted, the land mourneth; for the corn is wasted, the new wine is ⁴dried up, the oil languisheth.

⁵Be ashamed, O ye husbandmen, howl, O ye vinedressers, for the wheat and for the barley; for the 12 harvest of the field is perished. The vine is ⁴withered, and the fig tree languisheth; the pomegranate tree, the palm tree also, and the apple tree, even all the trees of the field are withered: for joy is ⁴withered away from the sons

13 of men. Gird yourselves with sackcloth, and lament, ye priests; howl, ye ministers of the altar; come, lie all night in sackcloth, ye ministers of my God: for the meal offering and the drink offering is withholden from the 14 house of your God. Sanctify a fast, call a solemn assembly, gather the ⁶old men and all the inhabitants of the land unto the house of the LORD your God,

15 and cry unto the LORD. Alas for the day! for the day of the LORD is at hand, and as destruction from ⁷the Almighty 16 shall it come. Is not the meat cut off before our eyes, yea, joy and gladness 17 from the house of our God? The seeds ⁸rot under their clods; the garners are laid desolate, the barns are broken 18 down; for the corn is ⁴withered. How do the beasts groan! the herds of cattle are perplexed, because they have no pasture; yea, the flocks of sheep ⁹are made desolate. O LORD, to thee do I cry: for the fire hath devoured the ¹⁰pastures of the wilderness, and the flame hath 20 burned all the trees of the field. Yea, the beasts of the field pant unto thee: for the water brooks are dried up, and the fire hath devoured the ¹⁰pastures of the wilderness.

2 Blow ye the trumpet in Zion, and sound an alarm in my holy mountain; let all the inhabitants of the land tremble: for the day of the LORD cometh, 2 for it is nigh at hand; a day of darkness and gloominess, a day of clouds and thick darkness, as the dawn spread upon the mountains; a great people and a strong, there hath not been ever the like, neither shall be any more after them, even to the years of many generations.

A fire devoureth before them; and behind them a flame burneth: the land is as the garden of Eden before them, and behind them a desolate wilderness; yea, and none hath escaped 4 them. The appearance of them is as the appearance of horses; and as ¹¹horsemen, so do they run. Like the noise of chariots on the tops of the mountains do they leap, like the noise of a flame of fire that devoureth the stubble, as a 6 strong people set in battle array. At their presence the peoples are in anguish: ⁴all faces are waxed pale. They run like mighty men; they climb the wall like men of war; and they march every one on his ways, and they break 8 not their ranks. Neither doth one thrust another; they march every one in his path: and ¹²they burst through the weapons, and ¹³break not off their 9 course. They leap upon the city; they run upon the wall; they climb up into the houses; they enter in at the wind-

10 ows like a thief. The earth quaketh before them; the heavens tremble: the sun and the moon are darkened, and 11 the stars withdraw their shining; and the LORD uttereth his voice before his army; for his camp is very great; for he is strong that executeth his word: for the day of the LORD is great and very terrible; and who can abide it? 12 Yet even now, saith the LORD, turn ye unto me with all your heart, and with fasting, and with weeping, and with 13 mourning: and rend your heart, and not your garments, and turn unto the LORD your God: for he is gracious and full of compassion, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy, and repenteth

15 Blow the trumpet in Zion, sanctify a 16 fast, call a solemn assembly; gather the people, sanctify the congregation. assemble the ¹old men, gather the children, and those that suck the breasts: let the bridegroom go forth of his chamber, and the bride out of her closet. Let the priests, the ministers of the LORD, weep between the porch and the altar, and let them say, Spare thy people, O LORD, and give not thine heritage to reproach, that the nations should ²rule over them: wherefore should they say among the peoples, Where is their God?

18 Then was the LORD jealous for his land, 19 and had pity on his people. And the LORD answered and said unto his people, Behold, I will send you corn, and wine, and oil, and ye shall be satisfied therewith: and I will no more make you 20 a reproach among the nations: but I will remove far off from you the northern army, and will drive him into a land barren and desolate, ³his forepart ⁴into the eastern sea, and his hinder part ⁴into the western sea; and his stink shall come up, and his ill savour shall come up, because he hath done great things. Fear not, O land, be glad and rejoice; for 22 the LORD hath done great things. Be not afraid, ye beasts of the field; for the pastures of the wilderness do spring, for the tree beareth her fruit, the fig tree and the vine do yield their 23 strength. Be glad then, ye children of Zion, and rejoice in the LORD your God: for he giveth you the former rain ⁵in just measure, and he causeth to come down for you the rain, the former rain and the latter rain, ⁶in the 24 first month. And the floors shall be full of wheat, and the fats shall overflow 25 with wine and oil. And I will restore to you the years that ⁷the locust hath eaten, the cankerworm, and the caterpillar, and the palmerworm, my great 26 army which I sent among you. And ye shall eat in plenty and be satisfied, and shall praise the name of the LORD your God, that hath dealt wondrously with you; and my people shall never be ashamed. And ye shall know that I am in the midst of Israel, and that I am the LORD your God, and there is none else; and my people shall never be ashamed.

28 And it shall come to pass afterward, that I will pour out my spirit upon all flesh; and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, your young 29 men shall see visions; and also upon the servants and upon the handmaids in those days will I pour out my spirit.

30 And I will shew wonders in the heavens and in the earth, blood, and fire, 31 and pillars of smoke. The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before the great and terrible 32 day of the LORD come. And it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall call on the name of the LORD shall be delivered: for in mount Zion and in Jerusalem there shall be those that escape, as the LORD hath said, and ⁸among the remnant those whom the LORD doth call. For, behold, in those days, and in that time, when I shall bring again the captivity of Judah and Jerusalem, 2 I will gather all nations, and will bring them down into ⁹the valley of Jehoshaphat; and I will plead with them there for my people and for my heritage Israel, whom they have scattered among the nations, and parted my land.

3 And they have cast lots for my people: and have given a boy for an harlot, and sold a girl for wine, that they 4 might drink. Yea, and what are ye to me, O Tyre, and Zidon, and all the regions of Philistia? ¹⁰will ye render me a recompence? and if ye recompense me, swiftly and speedily will I return your ¹¹recompence upon your own head. 5 Forasmuch as ye have taken my silver and my gold, and have carried into your temples my goodly pleasant things; 6 the children also of Judah and the children of Jerusalem have ye sold unto the sons of the Grecians, that ye might remove them far from their border: behold, I will stir them up out of the place whither ye have sold them, and will return your ¹²recompence upon your own head; and I will sell your sons and your daughters into the hand of the children of Judah, and they shall sell them to the men of Sheba, to a nation far off: for the LORD hath spoken it. 9 Proclaim ye this among the nations; ¹³prepare war: stir up the mighty men; let all the men of war draw near, let 10 them come up. Beat your plowshares into swords, and your pruninghooks into spears: let the weak say, I am strong. 11 ¹⁴Haste ye, and come, all ye nations round about, and gather yourselves together: thither cause thy mighty ones 12 to come down, O LORD. Let the nations bestir themselves, and come up to the valley of ¹⁵Jehoshaphat: for there will I sit to judge all the nations round about. Put ye in the sickle, for the ¹⁶harvest is ripe: come, ¹⁷tread ye; for the winepress is full, the fats overflow; for 14 their wickedness is great. Multitudes, multitudes in the valley of decision! for the day of the LORD is near in the 15 valley of decision. The sun and the moon are darkened, and the stars with- 16 draw their shining. AMOS.

1 THE words of Amos, who was among the herdmen of Tekoa, which he saw concerning Israel in the days of Uzziah king of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash king of Israel, two years before the ¹ earthquake.
 2 And he said, The LORD shall roar from Zion, and utter his voice from Jerusalem; and the ² pastures of the shepherds shall mourn, and the top of Carmel shall wither.
 3 Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of Damascus, yea, for four, I will not ³ turn away ⁴ the punishment thereof; because they have threshed Gilead with threshing instruments of iron: but I will send a fire into the house of Hazael, and it shall devour
 5 the palaces of Ben-hadad. And I will break the bar of Damascus, and cut off ⁵ the inhabitant from the valley of ⁶ Aven, and him that holdeth the sceptre from ⁷ the house of Eden: and the people of Syria shall go into captivity unto Kir, saith the LORD.
 6 Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of Gaza, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they carried away captive ⁸ the whole people, to deliver them up to 7 Edom: but I will send a fire on the wall of Gaza, and it shall devour the 8 palaces thereof: and I will cut off the inhabitant from Ashdod, and him that holdeth the sceptre from Ashkelon; and I will turn mine hand against Ekron, and the remnant of the Philistines shall perish, saith the Lord God.
 9 Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of Tyre, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they delivered up ⁸ the whole people to Edom, and remembered not 10 the brotherly covenant: but I will send a fire on the wall of Tyre, and it shall devour the palaces thereof.
 11 Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of Edom, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because he did pursue his brother with the sword, and ¹⁰ did cast off all pity, and his anger did tear perpetually, and he kept his wrath for ever:

 12 but I will send a fire upon Teman, and it shall devour the palaces of Bozrah.
 13 Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of the children of Ammon, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they have ripped up the women with child of Gilead, that they might enlarge
 14 their border: but I will kindle a fire in the wall of Rabbah, and it shall devour the palaces thereof, with shouting in the day of battle, with a tempest in the day of the whirlwind: and their king shall go into captivity, he and his princes together, saith the LORD.
 2 Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of Moab, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because he burned the bones of the
 2 king of Edom into lime: but I will send a fire upon Moab, and it shall devour the palaces of Kerioth; and Moab shall die with tumult, with shouting, and with
 3 the sound of the trumpet: and I will cut off the judge from the midst thereof, and will slay all the princes thereof with him, saith the LORD.
 4 Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of Judah, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they have rejected the law of the LORD, and have not kept his statutes, and their lies have caused them to err, after the which their fathers
 5 did walk: but I will send a fire upon Judah, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem.

The lion hath roared, who will not fear? the LORD God hath spoken, who can but prophesy? ⁹Publish ye ⁷in the palaces at Ashdod, and ⁷in the palaces in the land of Egypt, and say, Assemble yourselves upon the mountains of Samaria, and behold what great tumults are therein, and what oppressions in the midst ¹⁰thereof. For they know not to do right, saith the LORD, who store up violence and robbery in their palaces. ¹¹Therefore thus saith the Lord God: An adversary there shall be, even round about the land: and he shall bring down thy strength from thee, and thy ¹²palaces shall be spoiled. Thus saith the LORD: As the shepherd rescueth out of the mouth of the lion two legs, or a piece of an ear; so shall the children of Israel be rescued that sit in Samaria in the corner of a couch, and ⁸on the silken cushions of a ¹³bed. Hear ye, and testify against the house of Jacob, saith the Lord God, the ¹⁴God of hosts. For in the day that I shall visit the transgressions of Israel upon him, I will also visit the altars of Beth-el, and the horns of the altar shall ¹⁵be cut off, and fall to the ground. And I will smite ⁹the winter house with ¹⁰the summer house; and the houses of ivory shall perish, and ¹¹the great houses shall have an end, saith the LORD. ⁴ Hear this word, ye kine of Bashan, that are in the mountain of Samaria, which oppress the poor, which crush the needy, which say unto their lords, Bring, and ²let us drink. The Lord God hath sworn by his holiness, that, lo, the days shall come upon you, that they shall take you away with hooks, and your residue ³with fish hooks. And ye shall go out at the breaches, every one straight before her; ¹²and ye shall cast yourselves into Harmon, saith the LORD. ⁴ Come to Beth-el, and transgress; to Gilgal, and multiply transgression; and bring your sacrifices every morning, and ⁵your tithes every three days; and ¹³offer a sacrifice of thanksgiving of that which is leavened, and proclaim freewill offerings and publish them: for this liketh you, O ye children of Israel, saith the ⁶LORD God. And I also have given you cleanness of teeth in all your cities, and want of bread in all your places: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the ⁷LORD. And I also have withholden the rain from you, when there were yet three months to the harvest: and I caused it to rain upon one city, and caused it not to rain upon another city: one piece was rained upon, and the piece whereupon ⁸it rained not withered. So two or three cities wandered unto one city to drink water, and were not satisfied: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the ⁹LORD. I have smitten you with blasting and mildew: the multitude of your gardens and your vineyards and your fig trees and your olive trees hath the palmerworm devoured: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the ¹⁰LORD. I have sent among you the pestilence after the manner of Egypt: your young men have I slain with the sword, ¹⁴and have carried away your horses; and I have made the stink of your camp to come up even into your nostrils: yet have ye not returned un-11 to me, saith the LORD. I have overthrown some among you, as when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah, and ye were as a brand plucked out of the burning: yet have ye not returned un-12 to me, saith the LORD. Therefore thus will I do unto thee, O Israel: and because I will do this unto thee, prepare 13 to meet thy God, O Israel. For, lo, he that formeth the mountains, and createth

the wind, and declareth unto man what is his thought, that maketh the morning darkness, and treadeth upon the high places of the earth; the LORD,
the God of hosts, is his name.

5 Hear ye this word which I take up for a lamentation over you, O house of 2 Israel. The virgin of Israel is fallen;
she shall no more rise: she ¹is cast down upon her land; there is none 3 to raise her up. For thus saith the LORD God: The city that went forth a thousand shall have an hundred left,
and that which went forth an hundred shall have ten left, to the house of Is-4 rael. For thus saith the LORD unto the house of Israel, Seek ye me, and ye 5 shall live: but seek not Beth-el, nor enter into Gilgal, and pass not to Beersheba: for Gilgal shall surely go into captivity, and Beth-el shall ²come to 6 nought. Seek the LORD, and ye shall live; lest he break out like fire in the house of Joseph, and it devour and there 7 be none to quench it in Beth-el: ye who turn judgement to wormwood, and cast 8 down righteousness to the earth; seek him that maketh the Pleiades and Orion, and turneth ³the shadow of death into the morning, and maketh the day dark with night; that calleth for the waters of the sea, and poureth them out upon the face of the earth; the LORD is his name; 9 that ⁴bringeth sudden destruction upon the strong, so that destruction cometh 10 upon the fortress. They hate him that reproveth in the gate, and they abhor 11 him that speaketh uprightly. Foras-much therefore as ye trample upon the poor, and take exactions from him of wheat: ye have built houses of hewn stone, but ye shall not dwell in them;
ye have planted pleasant vineyards,
but ye shall not drink the wine thereof.
12 For I know how manifold are your transgressions and how mighty are your sins; ye that afflict the just, that take a bribe, and that turn aside the needy in the gate from their right.
13 Therefore he that is prudent shall keep silence in such a time; for it is an evil 14 time. Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live: and so the LORD, the God of hosts, shall be with you, as ye say.
15 Hate the evil, and love the good, and establish judgement in the gate: it may be that the LORD, the God of hosts, will be gracious unto the remnant of Joseph.

16 Therefore thus saith the LORD, the God of hosts, the LORD: Wailing shall be in all the broad ways; and they shall say in all the streets, Alas! alas! and they shall call the husbandman to mourning, ⁵and such as are skilful of lamentation, 17 to wailing. And in all vineyards shall be wailing: for I will pass through the 18 midst of thee, saith the LORD. Woe unto you that desire the day of the LORD! wherefore would ye have the day of the LORD? it is darkness, and not 19 light. As if a man did flee from a lion, and a bear met him; ⁶or went into the house and leaned his hand on the wall, 20 and a serpent bit him. Shall not the day of the LORD be darkness, and not light?
even very dark, and no brightness in 21 it? I hate, I despise your feasts, and I will take no delight in your solemn 22 assemblies. Yea, though ye offer me ⁷your burnt offerings and meal offerings, I will not accept them: neither will I regard the ⁸peace offerings of 23 your fat beasts. Take thou away from me the noise of thy songs; for I will 24 not hear the melody of thy viols. But let judgement roll down as waters, and righteousness as a ⁹mighty stream.
25 Did ye bring unto me sacrifices and ¹⁰offerings in the wilderness forty years,
26 O house of Israel? Yea, ye ¹¹have borne ¹²Sicuth your king and ¹³Chium your images, the star of your god, 27 which ye made to yourselves. Therefore will I cause you to go into captivity beyond Damascus, saith the LORD, whose name is the God of hosts.
6 Woe to them that are at ease in Zion, and to them that are secure in the mountain of Samaria, the notable men of the chief of the nations, to 2 whom the house of Israel come! Pass ye unto Calneh, and see; and from thence go ye to Hamath the great:
then go down to Gath of the Philistines:
be they better than these kingdoms?
or is their border greater than your 3 border? Ye that put far away the evil day, and cause the ¹⁴seat of violence to 4 come near; that lie upon beds of ivory, and stretch themselves upon their couches, and eat the lambs out of the flock, and the calves out of the midst 5 of the stall; that sing idle songs to the sound of the viol; that devise for themselves instruments of music, ¹⁵like 6 David; that drink ¹⁶wine in bowls, and anoint themselves with the chief ointments; but they are not grieved for 7 the affliction of Joseph. Therefore now shall they go captive with the first that go captive, and the revelry of them that stretched themselves shall pass 8 away. The Lord God hath sworn by himself, saith the LORD, the God of hosts:
I abhor the ¹⁷excellency of Jacob, and hate his palaces: therefore will I deliver up the city with all that is therein.

9 And it shall come to pass, if there remain ten men in one house, that they 10 shall die. And when a man's ¹uncle shall take him up, even he that burneth him, to bring out the bones out of the house, and shall say unto him that is in the innermost parts of the house, Is there yet any with thee? and he shall say, No; then shall he say, Hold thy peace; for we may not make mention 11 of the name of the LORD. For, behold, the LORD commandeth, and ²the great house shall be smitten with breaches, and the little house with clefts. 12 Shall horses run upon the rock? will one plow there with oxen? that ye have turned judgement into ³gall, and the fruit of righteousness into worm- 13 wood: ye which rejoice in a thing of nought, which say, Have we not taken to us horns by our own strength? 14 For, behold, I will raise up against you a nation, O house of Israel, saith the LORD, the God of hosts; and they shall afflict you from the ⁴entering in of Hamath unto the brook of the Arabah.

7 Thus the Lord God shewed me: and, behold, he formed locusts in the beginning of the shooting up of the latter growth; and, lo, it was the latter growth after the king's mowings. 2 And it came to pass that when they made an end of eating the grass of the land, then I said, O Lord God, forgive, I beseech thee: how shall Jacob 3 stand? for he is small. The LORD repented concerning this: It shall not be, saith the LORD. 4 Thus the Lord God shewed me: and, behold, the Lord God called to contend by fire; and it devoured the great deep, and would have eaten up the 5 ⁵land. Then said I, O Lord God, cease, I beseech thee: how shall Jacob stand? 6 For he is small. The LORD repented concerning this: This also shall not be, saith the Lord God.

7 Thus he shewed me: and, behold, the Lord stood ⁶beside a wall made by a plumbline, with a plumbline in 8 his hand. And the LORD said unto me, Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A plumbline. Then said the Lord, Behold, I will set a plumbline in the midst of my people Israel; I will not 9 again pass by them any more: and the high places of Isaac shall be desolate, and the sanctuaries of Israel shall be laid waste; and I will rise against the house of Jeroboam with the sword.

10 Then Amaziah the priest of Beth-el sent to Jeroboam king of Israel, saying, Amos hath conspired against thee in the midst of the house of Israel: the land is not able to bear all his words. 11 For thus Amos saith, Jeroboam shall die by the sword, and Israel shall surely be led away captive out of his land. 12 Also Amaziah said unto Amos, O thou seer, go, flee thee away into the land of Judah, and there eat bread, and 13 prophesy there: but prophesy not again any more at Beth-el: for it is the king's sanctuary, and it is a royal house. 14 Then answered Amos, and said to Amaziah, I ⁷was no prophet, neither ⁸was I ⁸a prophet's son; but I ⁷was an herdsman, and a dresser of sycamore 15 trees: and the LORD took me from following the flock, and the LORD said unto me, Go, prophesy unto my people 16 Israel. Now therefore hear thou the word of the LORD: Thou sayest, Prophecy not against Israel, and drop not thy word against the house of 17 Isaac; therefore thus saith the LORD: Thy wife shall be an harlot in the city, and thy sons and thy daughters shall fall by the sword, and thy land shall be divided by line; and thou thyself shalt die in a land that is unclean, and Israel shall surely be led away captive out of his land.

8 Thus the Lord God shewed me: and behold, a basket of summer fruit. 2 And he said, Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A basket of summer fruit. Then said the LORD unto me, The end is come upon my people Israel; I will not again pass by them any more. 3 And the songs of the ⁹temple shall be howlings in that day, saith the LORD God: the dead bodies shall be many; in every place ¹⁰shall they cast them 4 forth with silence. Hear this, O ye that would swallow up the needy, and cause the poor of the land to fail, 5 saying, When will the new moon be gone, that we may sell corn? and the sabbath, that we may ¹¹set forth wheat? making the ephah small, and the shekel great, and dealing falsely 6 with balances of deceit; that we may buy the poor for ¹²silver, and the needy for a pair of shoes, and sell 7 the refuse of the wheat. The LORD hath sworn by the excellency of Jacob, Surely I will never forget any of their 8 works. Shall not the land tremble for this, and every one mourn that dwelleth therein? yea, it shall rise up wholly like the River; and it shall be troubled and sink again, like the River 9 of Egypt. And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord God, that I will cause the sun to go down at noon, and I will darken the earth in 10 the clear day. And I will turn your feasts into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation; and I will bring up sackcloth upon all loins, and baldness upon every head; and I will make it as the mourning for an only son, and the end thereof as 11 a bitter day. Behold, the days come, saith the Lord God, that I will send a famine in the land, not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, but of 12 hearing the words of the LORD. And they shall wander from sea to sea, and from the north even to the east; they shall run to and fro to seek the word 13 of the LORD, and shall not find it. In that day shall the fair virgins and the 14 young men faint for thirst. They that swear by the sin of Samaria, and say, As thy God, O Dan, liveth; and, As the way of Beer-sheba liveth; even they shall fall, and never rise up again.

9 I saw the LORD standing ²beside the altar; and he said, Smite the chapiters, that the thresholds may shake: and break them in pieces on the head of all of them; and I will slay the last of them with the sword: ³there shall not one of them flee away, and there shall not one of them escape. Though they dig into ⁴hell, thence shall mine hand take them; and though they climb up to heaven, ⁵thence will I bring them down. And though they hide themselves in the top of Carmel, I will search and take them out thence; and though they be hid from my sight in the bottom of the sea, thence will I command the serpent, and he shall bite them. And though they go into captivity before their enemies, thence will I command the sword, and it shall slay them: and I will set mine eyes upon them for ⁶evil, and not for good. For the LORD, the God of hosts, ⁷is he that toucheth the land and it melteth, and all that dwell therein shall mourn; and it shall rise up wholly like the River; and shall sink again, like the River of Egypt; ⁸it is he that buildeth his chambers in the heaven, and hath founded his vault upon the earth; he that calleth for the waters of the sea and poureth them out upon the face of the earth; 7 the LORD is his name. Are ye not as the children of the Ethiopians unto me, O children of Israel? saith the LORD. Have not I brought up Israel out of the land of Egypt, and the Philistines from Caphtor, and the 8 Syrians from Kir? Behold, the eyes of the Lord God are upon the sinful kingdom, and I will destroy it from off the face of the earth; saving that I will not utterly destroy the house of 9 Jacob, saith the LORD. For, lo, I will command, and I will ⁵sift the house of Israel among all the nations, like as corn is sifted in a sieve, yet shall not the least grain fall upon the earth. 10 All the sinners of my people shall die by the sword, which say, The evil shall not overtake nor prevent us. 11 In that day will I raise up the tabernacle of David that is fallen, and close up the breaches thereof; and I will raise up his ruins, and I will build it 12 as in the days of old; that they may possess the remnant of Edom, and all the nations, which ⁶are called by my name, saith the LORD that doeth this. 13 Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that the plowman shall overtake the reaper, and the treader of grapes him that soweth seed; and the mountains shall drop sweet wine, and all the hills 14 shall melt. And I will bring again the captivity of my people Israel, and they shall build the waste cities, and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and drink the wine thereof; they shall also make gar- 15 dens, and eat the fruit of them. And I will plant them upon their land, and they shall no more be plucked up out of their land which I have given them, saith the LORD thy God.

1 THE vision of Obadiah.

Thus saith the Lord God concerning Edom: We have heard tidings from the LORD, and an ambassador is sent among the nations, saying, Arise ye, and let us rise up against her in battle. 2 Behold, I have made thee small among the nations: thou art greatly despised. 3 The pride of thine heart hath deceived thee, O thou that dwellest in the clefts of ²the rock, whose habitation is high; that saith in his heart, Who shall bring me down to the ground? Though thou mount on high as the eagle, and though thy nest be set among the stars, I will bring thee down from thence, 5 saith the LORD. If thieves came to thee, if robbers by night, (how art thou cut off!) would they not steal till they had enough? if grapegatherers came to thee, would they not leave some gleanings? How are ³the things of Esau searched out! how are his hidden treasures sought up! 7 All the men of thy confederacy have brought thee on thy way, even to the border: the men that were at peace with thee have deceived thee, and prevailed

JONAH.

- 1 Now the word of the LORD came unto
 2 Jonah the son of Amittai, saying, Arise, go to Nineveh, that great city, and cry against it; for their wickedness is
 3 come up before me. But Jonah rose up to flee unto Tarshish from the presence of the LORD; and he went down to Joppa, and found a ship going to Tarshish: so he paid the fare thereof, and went down into it, to go with them unto Tarshish from the presence
 4 of the LORD. But the LORD ¹sent out a great wind into the sea, and there was a mighty tempest in the sea, so that the 5 ship was like to be broken. Then the mariners were afraid, and cried every man unto his god; and they cast forth the wares that were in the ship into the sea, to lighten it unto them. But Jonah was gone down into the innermost parts of the ship; and he 6 lay, and was fast asleep. So the ship-master came to him, and said unto him, What meanest thou, O sleeper? arise, call upon thy God, if so be that God will think upon us, that we perish not.
 7 And they said every one to his fellow,

- Come, and let us cast lots, that we may know for whose cause this evil is upon us. So they cast lots, and 8 the lot fell upon Jonah. Then said they unto him, Tell us, we pray thee, for whose cause this evil is upon us; what is thine occupation? and whence comest thou? what is thy country? and 9 of what people art thou? And he said unto them, I am an Hebrew; and I fear the LORD, the God of heaven, which hath made the sea and the 10 dry land. Then were the men exceedingly afraid, and said unto him, What is this that thou hast done? For the men knew that he fled from the presence of the LORD, because he had 11 told them. Then said they unto him, What shall we do unto thee, that the sea may be calm unto us? for the sea grew more and more tempestuous.
 12 And he said unto them, Take me up, and cast me forth into the sea; so shall the sea be calm unto you: for I know that for my sake this great tem-13 pest is upon you. Nevertheless the men rowed hard to get them back to the land; but they could not: for the sea grew more and more tempestuous 14 against them. Wherefore they cried unto the LORD, and said, We beseech thee, O LORD, we beseech thee, let us not perish for this man's life, and lay not upon us innocent blood: for thou, O

 15 LORD, hast done as it pleased thee. So they took up Jonah, and east him forth into the sea: and the sea ceased from 16 her raging. Then the men feared the LORD exceedingly; and they offered a sacrifice unto the LORD, and made 17 vows. And the LORD prepared a great fish to swallow up Jonah; and Jonah was in the belly of the fish three days
 2 and three nights. Then Jonah prayed unto the LORD his God out of the 2 fish's belly. And he said,

I called ¹by reason of mine affliction unto the LORD,

And he answered me;
 Out of the belly of ²hell cried I,
 And thou heardest my voice.

3 For thou didst cast me into the depth, in the heart of the seas,
 And the flood was round about me;
 All thy waves and thy billows passed over me.

4 And I said, I am east out from before thine eyes;
 Yet I will look again toward thy holy temple.

5 The waters compassed me about, even to the soul;
 The deep was round about me;
 The weeds were wrapped about my head.

6 I went down to the bottoms of the mountains;
 The earth with her bars closed upon me for ever:

Yet hast thou brought up my life from ³the pit, O LORD my God.

7 When my soul fainted within me, I remembered the LORD:
 And my prayer came in unto thee, into thine holy temple.

8 They that regard lying vanities forsake their own mercy.

9 But I will sacrifice unto thee with the voice of thanksgiving;
 I will pay that which I have vowed. Salvation is of the LORD.

10 And the LORD spake unto the fish, and it vomited out Jonah upon the dry land.

3 And the word of the LORD came unto 2 Jonah the second time, saying, Arise, go unto Nineveh, that great city, and 4 preach unto it the preaching that I
 3 bid thee. So Jonah arose, and went unto Nineveh, according to the word of the LORD. Now Nineveh was ⁵an exceeding great city, of three days'

4 journey. And Jonah began to enter into the city a day's journey, and he cried, and said, Yet forty days, and 5 Nineveh shall be overthrown. And the people of Nineveh believed God; and they proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them even to 6 the least of them. ⁶And the tidings reached the king of Nineveh, and he arose from his throne, and laid his robe from him, and covered him with sack-

7 cloth, and sat in ashes. And he made proclamation and ⁷published through Nineveh by the decree of the king and his nobles, saying, Let neither man nor beast, herd nor flock, taste any thing:

8 let them not feed, nor drink water: but let them be covered with sackcloth, both man and beast, and let them cry mightily unto God: yea, let them turn every one from his evil way, and from

9 the violence that is in their hands. Who knoweth whether God will not turn and repent, and turn away from his fierce

10 anger, that we perish not? And God saw their works, that they turned from their evil way; and God repented of the evil, which he said he would do unto

4 them; and he did it not. But it displeased Jonah exceedingly, and he was

2 angry. And he prayed unto the LORD, and said, I pray thee, O LORD, was not this my saying, when I was yet in my country? Therefore I ⁸hasted to flee unto Tarshish: for I knew that thou art a gracious God, and full of compassion, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy, and repentest thee of the 3 evil. Therefore now, O LORD, take, I beseech thee, my life from me; for it is better for me to die than to live.

4 And the LORD said, ⁹Doest thou well to be angry? Then Jonah went out of the city, and sat on the east side of the city, and there made him a booth, and sat under it in the shadow, till he might

6 see what would become of the city. And the LORD God prepared a ¹⁰gourd, and made it to come up over Jonah, that it might be a shadow over his head, to deliver him from his evil ease. So Jonah was exceeding glad because of

7 the gourd. But God prepared a worm when the morning rose the next day, and it smote the gourd, that it withered.

8 And it came to pass, when the sun arose, that God prepared a sultry east wind; and the sun beat upon the head of Jonah, that he fainted, and requested for himself that he might die, and said, It is better for me to die than

9 to live. And God said to Jonah, Doest thou well to be angry for the gourd? And he said, I do well to be angry

10 even unto death. And the LORD said, Thou hast had pity on the gourd, for the which thou hast not laboured, neither madest it grow; which came up in a night, and perished in a night:

11 and should not I have pity on Nineveh, that great city; wherein are more than sixscore thousand persons that cannot discern between their right hand and their left hand; and also much cattle?

MICAH.

1 THE word of the LORD that came to Micah the Morastite in the days of Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, which he saw concerning Samaria and Jerusalem.

2 Hear, ye peoples, all of you; hearken. O earth, and ¹all that therein is: and let the Lord God be witness ²against you, the Lord from his holy temple.

3 For, behold, the LORD cometh forth out of his place, and will come down, and tread upon the high places of the earth.

4 And the mountains shall be molten under him, and the valleys shall be cleft, as wax before the fire, as waters that are poured down a steep place. For the transgression of Jacob is all this, and for the sins of the house of Israel. What is the transgression of Jacob? is it not Samaria? and what are the high places of Judah? are they not Jerusalem? Therefore I will make Samaria as an heap of the field, and as the plantings of a vineyard: and I will pour down the stones thereof into the valley, and I will discover the foundations thereof.

7 And all her graven images shall be beaten to pieces, and all her hires shall be burned with fire, and all her idols will I lay desolate: for of the hire of an harlot hath she gathered them, and unto the hire of an harlot shall they return.

8 For this will I wail and howl, I will go stripped and naked: I will make a wailing like the jackals, and a mourning like the ostriches. For her wounds are incurable: for it is come even unto Judah; it reacheth unto the gate of my people, 10 even to Jerusalem. Tell it not in Gath, weep not at all: at ³Beth-le-Aphrah

11 ⁴have I rolled myself in the dust. Pass ye away, O ⁵inhabitant of Shaphir, in nakedness and shame: the ⁶inhabitant of Zaanan is not come forth; the wailing of Beth-ezel shall take from you

12 the ⁶stay thereof. For the ⁵inhabitant of Maroth ⁷waiteth anxiously for good: because evil is come down from the LORD unto the gate of Jerusalem. Bind the chariot to the swift steed, O ⁵inhabitant of Lachish: she was the beginning of sin to the daughter of Zion; for the transgressions of Israel were

14 found in thee. Therefore shalt thou give a parting gift to Moresheth-gath: the houses of Achzib shall be ⁸a deceitful thing unto the kings of Israel. I will yet bring unto thee, O ⁵inhabitant of Maresbah, him that shall possess thee: the glory of Israel shall come even thee for the children of thy delight: enlarge thy baldness as the ⁹eagle; for they are gone into captivity from thee.

16 unto Adullam. Make thee bald, and poll

2 Woe to them that devise iniquity and work evil upon their beds! when the morning is light, they practise it, because it is in the power of their hand.

2 And they covet fields, and seize them; and houses, and take them away: and they oppress a man and his house, 3 even a man and his heritage. Therefore thus saith the LORD: Behold, against this family do I devise an evil, from which ye shall not remove your necks, neither shall ye walk haughtily; 4 for it is an evil time. In that day shall they take up a parable against you, and lament ¹⁰with a doleful lamentation, and say, We be utterly spoiled: he hath changed the portion of my people: how doth he ¹¹remove it from me! to the rebellious he divideth our fields.

5 Therefore thou shalt have none that shall cast the line by lot in the congregation of the LORD. ¹²Prophecy ye not, thus they prophesy. They shall not prophesy ¹³to these: reproaches shall

7 not depart. ¹⁴Shall it be said, O house of Jacob, Is the spirit of the LORD ¹⁵straitened? are these his doings? Do not my words do good to him that walketh uprightly? But ¹⁶of late my people is risen up as an enemy: ye strip the robe from off the garment from them that pass by securely as men averse from 9 war. The women of my people ye cast out from their pleasant houses; from their young children ye take away my

10 glory for ever. Arise ye, and depart; for this is not your rest: because of uncleanness ¹⁷that destroyeth, even

11 with a grievous destruction. If a man walking ¹⁸in wind and falsehood do lie, saying, I will prophesy unto thee of wine and of strong drink; he shall even be the prophet of this people.

12 I will surely assemble, O Jacob, all of thee; I will surely gather the remnant of Israel; I will put them together as the sheep of Bozrah: as a flock in the midst of their pasture, they shall make great noise by reason of the multitude

13 of men. The breaker is gone up before them: they have broken forth and passed on to the gate, and are gone out thereat; and their king is passed on before them, and the LORD at the head of them.

3 And I said, Hear, I pray you, ye heads of Jacob, and rulers of the house of Israel: is it not for you

 3 flesh from off their bones; who also eat the flesh of my people; and they flay their skin from off them, and break their bones: yea, they chop them in pieces, as for the pot, and as flesh with-
 4 in the caldron. Then shall they cry unto the LORD, but he will not answer them: yea, he will hide his face from them at that time, according as they have wrought evil in their doings.
 5 Thus saith the LORD concerning the prophets that make my people to err; that bite with their teeth and cry, Peace; and whose putteth not into their mouths, they even ¹prepare war a-
 6 gainst him: Therefore it shall be night unto you, that ye shall have no vision; and it shall be dark unto you, that ye shall not divine; and the sun shall go down upon the prophets, and the day
 7 shall be black over them. And the seers shall be ashamed, and the diviners confounded; yea, they shall all cover their lips: for there is no answer
 8 of God. But I truly am full of power ²by the spirit of the LORD, and of judgement, and of might, to declare unto Jacob his transgression, and to Israel
 9 his sin. Hear this, I pray you, ye heads of the house of Jacob, and rulers of the house of Israel, that abhor judgement, 10 and pervert all equity. They build up Zion with blood, and Jerusalem with 11 iniquity. The heads thereof judge for reward, and the priests thereof teach for hire, and the prophets thereof divine for money: yet will they lean upon the LORD, and say, Is not the LORD in the midst of us? no evil shall come upon us.
 12 Therefore shall Zion for your sake be plowed as a field, and Jerusalem shall become heaps, and the mountain of the house as the high places of a forest.
 4 ³But in the latter days it shall come to pass, that the mountain of the LORD's house shall be established ⁴in the top of the mountains, and it shall be exalted above the hills; and peoples
 2 shall flow unto it. And many nations shall go and say, Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the LORD, and to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for out of Zion shall go forth ⁵the law, and the word
 3 of the LORD from Jerusalem. And he shall judge ⁶between ⁷many peoples, and shall ⁸reprove strong nations afar off; and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruninghooks: nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall
 4 they learn war any more. But they shall sit every man under his vine and under his fig tree; and none shall make them afraid: for the mouth of the LORD

5 of hosts hath spoken it. For all the peoples ⁹will walk every one in the name of his god, and we will walk in the name of the LORD our God for ever and ever.
 6 In that day, saith the LORD, will I assemble her that hatheth, and I will gather her that is driven away, and her
 7 that I have afflicted; and I will make her that halted a remnant, and her that was cast far off a strong nation: and the LORD shall reign over them in mount Zion from henceforth even for ever.
 8 And thou, O tower of ¹⁰the flock, ¹¹the hill of the daughter of Zion, unto thee shall it come; yea, the former dominion shall come, the kingdom of the 9 daughter of Jerusalem. Now why dost thou cry out aloud? Is there no king in thee, is thy counsellor perished, that pangs have taken hold of thee as of a 10 woman in travail? Be in pain, and labour to bring forth, O daughter of Zion, like a woman in travail: for now shalt thou go forth out of the city, and shalt dwell in the field, and shalt come even unto Babylon; there shalt thou be rescued; there shall the LORD redeem thee from the hand of thine 11 enemies. And now many nations are assembled against thee, that say, Let her be defiled, and let our eye ¹²see its 12 desire upon Zion. But they know not the thoughts of the LORD, neither understand they his counsel: for he hath gathered them as the sheaves to the 13 threshing-floor. Arise and thresh, O daughter of Zion: for I will make thine horn iron, and I will make thy hoofs brass: and thou shalt beat in pieces many peoples: and ¹³thou shalt devote their gain unto the LORD, and their substance unto the LORD of the 5 whole earth. Now shalt thou gather thyself in troops, O daughter of troops: he hath laid siege against us: they shall smite the judge of Israel with a rod upon the cheek.
 2 But thou, Beth-lehem Ephrathah, which art little to be among the ¹⁴thousands of Judah, out of thee shall one come forth unto me that is to be ruler in Israel; whose goings forth are from
 3 of old, ¹⁵from everlasting. Therefore will he give them up, until the time that she which travaileth hath brought forth: then the residue of his brethren shall return ¹⁶unto the children of Israel. And he shall stand, and shall feed ¹⁷his flock in the strength of the LORD, in the majesty of the name of the LORD his God: and they shall abide; for now shall he be great unto
 5 the ends of the earth. And this ¹⁸man shall be our peace: when the Assyrian shall come into our land, and when he shall tread in our palaces, then shall we raise against him seven shepherds,

And the remnant of Jacob shall be in the midst of many peoples as dew from the LORD, as showers upon the grass; that tarrieth not for man, nor waiteth for the sons of men. And the remnant of Jacob shall be among the nations, in the midst of many peoples, as a lion among the beasts of the forest, as a young lion among the flocks of sheep: who, if he go through, treadeth down and teareth in pieces, and there is none to deliver. Let thine hand be lifted up above thine adversaries, and let all thine enemies be cut off.

10 And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the LORD, that I will cut off thy horses out of the midst of thee, and I will destroy thy chariots: and I will cut off the cities of thy land, and will throw down all thy strong holds: and I will cut off witchcrafts out of thine hand; and thou shalt have no more soothsayers: and I will cut off thy graven images and thy ¹pillars out of the midst of thee; and thou shalt no more worship the work of thine hands. 14 And I will pluck up thine ²Asherim out of the midst of thee: and I will destroy thy ³cities. And I will execute vengeance in anger and fury upon the nations ⁴which hearkened not.

6 Hear ye now what the LORD saith: Arise, contend thou before the mountains, and let the hills hear thy voice. 2 Hear, O ye mountains, the LORD's controversy, and ye enduring foundations of the earth: for the LORD hath a controversy with his people, and he will plead with Israel. O my people, what have I done unto thee? and wherein have I wearied thee? testify against me. For I brought thee up out of the land of Egypt, and redeemed thee out of the house of bondage; and I sent before thee Moses, Aaron, and Miriam. 5 O my people, remember now what Balak king of Moab consulted, and what Balaam the son of Beor answered him; remember from Shittim unto Gilgal, that ye may know the righteous acts of the LORD. Wherewith shall I come before the LORD, and bow myself before the high God? shall I come before him with burnt offerings, with calves of a year old? Will the LORD be pleased with thousands of rams, or with ten thousands of rivers of oil? shall I give my firstborn for my transgression, the fruit of my body for the sin of my soul? He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the LORD require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?

9 The voice of the LORD crieth unto the city, and the man of wisdom ⁵see thy name: hear ye the rod, and who hath appointed it. Are there yet the treasures of wickedness in the house of the wicked, and the scant ¹¹measure that is abominable? Shall I be pure with wicked balances, and with a bag of deceitful weights? For the rich men thereof are full of violence, and the inhabitants thereof have spoken lies, and their tongue is deceitful in their mouth. Therefore I also have smitten thee with a grievous wound; I have made thee desolate because of thy sins. Thou shalt eat, but not be satisfied; and thy ⁷humiliation shall be in the midst of thee: and thou shalt remove, but shalt not carry away safe; and that which thou carriest away will I give up to the sword. Thou shalt sow, but shalt not reap: thou shalt tread the olives, but shalt not anoint thee with oil; and the vintage, but shalt not drink the wine. For the statutes of Omri are kept, and all the works of the house of Ahab, and ye walk in their counsels: that I should make thee ⁸a desolation, and the inhabitants thereof an hissing; and ye shall bear the reproach of my people.

7 Woe is me! for I am as when they have gathered the summer fruits, as the grape gleanings of the vintage: there is no cluster to eat; ⁹my soul desireth the firstripe fig. The godly man is perished out of the earth, and there is none upright among men: they all lie in wait for blood; they hunt every man his brother with a net. ¹⁰Their hands are upon that which is evil to do it diligently: the prince asketh, and the judge is ready for a reward; and the great man, he uttereth the mischief of his soul: thus they weave it together. The best of them is as a brier: ¹¹the most upright is worse than a thorn hedge: the day of thy watchmen, even thy visitation, is come; now shall be their perplexity. Trust ye not in a friend, put ye not confidence in a ¹²guide: keep the doors of thy mouth from her that lieth in thy bosom. For the son dishonoureth the father, the daughter riseth up against her mother, the daughter in law against her mother in law; a man's enemies are the men of his own house.

7 But as for me, ¹³I will look unto the LORD; I will wait for the God of my salvation: my God will hear me. Rejoice not against me, O ¹⁴mine enemy: when I fall, I shall arise; when I sit in darkness, the LORD shall be a light unto me. I will bear the indignation of the LORD, because I have sinned against him; until he plead my cause, and execute judgement for me: he will bring me forth to the light, and I shall behold his righteousness. NAHUM.

1 Or, oracle concerning

1 THE ¹burden of Nineveh. The book of the vision of Nahum the Elkoshite.
2 The LORD is a jealous God and avengeth; the LORD avengeth and is full of wrath; the LORD taketh vengeance on his adversaries, and he re-
3 serveth wrath for his enemies. The LORD is slow to anger, and great in power, and will by no means clear the guilty: the LORD hath his way in the whirlwind and in the storm, and 4 the clouds are the dust of his feet. He rebuketh the sea, and maketh it dry, and drieth up all the rivers: Bashan languisheth, and Carmel, and the flower
5 of Lebanon languisheth. The mountains quake at him, and the hills melt; and the earth is upheaved at his presence, yea, the world, and all that dwell
6 therein. Who can stand before his indignation? and who can abide in the fierceness of his anger? his fury is poured out like fire, and the rocks are
7 broken asunder by him. The LORD is good, a strong hold in the day of trouble; and he knoweth them that put their 8 trust in him. But with an overrunning flood he will make a full end of the place thereof, and will pursue his enemies
9 into darkness. What do ye imagine against the LORD? he will make a full end: affliction shall not rise up the 10 second time. For though they be like tangled thorns, and be drenched as it were in their drink, they shall be de-
11 voured ²utterly as dry stubble. There is one gone forth out of thee, that imagineth evil against the LORD, ³that

12 counselleth ⁴wickedness. Thus saith the LORD: Though they be in full strength, and likewise many, even so shall they be cut down, and he shall pass away. ⁵Though I have afflicted thee, I 13 will afflict thee no more. And now will I break his yoke from off thee, and will 14 burst thy bonds in sunder. And the LORD hath given commandment concerning thee, that no more of thy name be sown: out of the house of thy gods will I cut off the graven image and the molten image; I will make thy grave; for thou 15 art vile. Behold, upon the mountains the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace! Keep thy feasts, O Judah, perform thy vows: for ⁶the wicked one shall no more pass through thee; he is utterly cut off.

2 He that dasheth in pieces is come up before thy face: keep the munition, watch the way, make thy loins strong, fortify
2 thy power mightily. For the LORD bringeth again the excellency of Jacob, as the excellency of Israel: for the emptiers have emptied them out, and marred
3 their vine branches. The shield of his mighty men is made red, the valiant men are in scarlet: the chariots ⁷flash with steel in the day of his preparation, and
4 the ⁸spears are shaken terribly. The chariots rage in the streets, they jostle one against another in the broad ways: the appearance of them is like torches,
5 they run like the lightnings. He remembereth his worthies: they stumble in their march; they make haste to the wall thereof, and the mantelet is prepared.

But Nineveh hath been ⁴ from of old like a pool of water: yet they flee away; Stand, stand, they cry; 9 but none ⁵ looketh back. Take ye the spoil of silver, take the spoil of gold: for there is none end of the store, the ¹⁰ glory of all pleasant furniture. She is empty, and void, and waste: and the heart melteth, and the knees smite together, and anguish is in all loins, and the faces of them all are waxed pale. 11 Where is the den of the lions, and the feeding place of the young lions, where the lion ⁷ and the lioness walked, the lion's whelp, and none made them afraid? The lion did tear in pieces enough for his whelps, and strangled for his lionesses, and filled his caves with prey, 13 and his dens with ravin. Behold, I am against thee, saith the Lord of hosts, and I will burn her chariots in the smoke, and the sword shall devour thy young lions: and I will cut off thy prey from the earth, and the voice of thy messengers shall no more be heard. 3 Woe to the bloody city! it is all full of lies and rapine; the prey departeth not. 2 The noise of the whip, and the noise of the rattling of wheels; and prancing horses, and jumping chariots; the horseman ⁸ mounting, and the flashing sword, and the glittering spear; and a multitude of slain, and a great heap of carcases: and there is none end of the corpses; they stumble upon their 4 corpses; because of the multitude of the whoredoms of the well favoured harlot, the mistress of witchcrafts, that selleth nations through her whoredoms, and 5 families through her witchcrafts. Behold, I am against thee, saith the Lord of hosts, and I will discover thy skirts ⁹ upon thy face; and I will shew the nations thy nakedness, 6 and the kingdoms thy shame. And I will cast abominable filth upon thee, and make thee vile, and will set thee

7 as a gazingstock. And it shall come to pass, that all they that look upon thee shall flee from thee, and say, Nineveh is laid waste; who will bemoan her? whence shall I seek comforters for thee? 8 Art thou better than No-amon, that was situate among the ¹⁰ rivers, that had the waters round about her; whose rampart was ¹¹ the sea, and her wall ¹² was of the sea? Thou also shalt be drunken, thou shalt be hid; thou also shalt seek ¹³ a strong hold because of the enemy. 12 All thy fortresses shall be like fig trees with the firstripe figs: if they be shaken, they fall into the mouth of the eater. 13 Behold, thy people in the midst of thee are women; the gates of thy land are set wide open unto thine enemies: the 14 fire hath devoured thy bars. Draw thee water for the siege, strengthen thy fortresses: go into the clay, and tread the mortar, ¹⁴ make strong the brickkiln. 15 There shall the fire devour thee; the sword shall cut thee off, it shall devour thee like the cankerworm: make thyself many as the cankerworm, make thyself 16 many as the locust. Thou hast multiplied thy merchants above the stars of heaven: the cankerworm ¹⁵ spoileth, 17 and dieth away. Thy crowned are as the locusts, and thy ¹⁶ marshals as the swarms of grasshoppers, which camp in the ¹⁷ hedges in the cold day, but when the sun ariseth they flee away, and their place is not known where they 18 are. and they gather captives as the sand.
¹⁰Yea, he scoffeth at kings, and princes are a derision unto him: he derideth every strong hold; for he heapeth up ¹¹dust, and taketh it. ⁷Then shall he sweep by as a wind, and shall ⁸pass over, and be guilty: even he whose ¹²might is his god. Art not thou from everlasting, O LORD my God, mine Holy One? ⁹We shall not die. O LORD, thou hast ordained him for judgement;
and thou, O ¹⁰Rock, hast established ¹³him for correction. Thou that art of purer eyes than to behold evil, and that canst not look on perverseness, wherefore lookest thou upon them that deal treacherously, and holdest thy peace when the wicked swalloweth up the man that is more righteous ¹⁴than he; and makest men as the fishes of the sea, as the creeping things, that ¹⁵have no ruler over them? He taketh up all of them with the angle, he catcheth them in his net, and gathereth them in his drag: therefore he rejoiceth and ¹⁶is glad. Therefore he sacrificeth unto his net, and burneth incense unto his drag; because by them his portion is ¹⁷fat, and his meat ¹¹plenteous. Shall he therefore empty his net, and not spare to slay the nations continually?

² I will stand upon my watch, and set me upon the ¹²tower, and will look forth to see what he will speak ¹³with me, and what I shall answer ²concerning my complaint. And the LORD answered me, and said, Write the vision, and make it plain upon tables, that he may run that readeth it.
³For the vision is yet for the appointed time, and it ¹⁴hasteth toward the end, and shall not lie: though it tarry, wait for it; because it will surely come, it ⁴will not delay. Behold, his soul is puffed up, it is not ¹⁵upright in him:
but the just shall live ¹⁶by his faith.

⁵Yea, moreover, wine is a treacherous dealer, a haughty man, and ¹⁸that keep-eth not at home; who enlargeth his desire as ¹⁹hell, and he is as death, and cannot be satisfied, but gathereth unto him all nations, and heapeth unto him ⁶all peoples. Shall not all these take up a parable against him, and a taunting ²⁰proverb against him, and say, Woe to him that increaseth that which is not his! how long? and that ladeth himself ⁷with pledges! Shall they not rise up suddenly that shall ²¹bite thee, and awake that shall ²²vex thee, and thou ⁸shalt be for booties unto them? Because thou hast spoiled many nations, all the remnant of the peoples shall spoil thee; because of men's blood, and for the violence done to the land, to the city and to all that dwell therein.

⁹ Woe to him that getteth an evil gain for his house, that he may set his nest on high, that he may be delivered from ¹⁰the hand of evil! Thou hast consulted shame to thy house, by cutting off many peoples, and hast sinned against ¹¹thy soul. For the stone shall cry out of the wall, and the beam out of the timber shall answer it.

¹² Woe to him that buildeth a town with blood, and stablisheth a city by in-¹³iquity! Behold, is it not of the LORD of hosts that the peoples labour for the fire, and the nations weary themselves ¹⁴for vanity? For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the LORD, as the waters cover the sea.

¹⁵ Woe unto him that giveth his neighbour drink, that ²³addeth thy ²⁴venom thereto, and makest him drunken also,
that thou mayest look on their naked-¹⁶ness! Thou art filled with shame for glory: drink thou also, and ²⁵be as one uncircumcised: the cup of the LORD's right hand shall be turned unto thee,
and foul shame shall be upon thy glory.

¹⁷For the violence done to Lebanon shall cover thee, and the destruction of the beasts, ²⁶which made them afraid; because of men's blood, and for the violence done to the land, to the city and to all that dwell therein.

¹⁸What profiteth the graven image, that the maker thereof hath graven
it; the molten image, and the teacher of lies, that the maker of ²⁷his work trusteth therein, to make dumb idols?

¹⁹Woe unto him that saith to the wood,
Awake; to the dumb stone, Arise!
Shall this teach? Behold, it is laid over with gold and silver, and there is no ²⁰breath at all in the midst of it. But the LORD is in his holy temple: ²⁸let
all the earth keep silence before him.

- 1 THE word of the LORD which came unto Zephaniah the son of Cushi, the son of Gedaliah, the son of Amariah, the son of Hezekiah, in the days of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah.
2 I will utterly consume all things from off the face of the ground, saith the LORD. I will consume man and beast; I will consume the fowls of the heaven, and the fishes of the sea, and the stumbling blocks with the wicked; and I will cut off man from off the face of the ground, saith the LORD. And I will stretch out mine hand upon Judah, and upon all the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and I will cut off the remnant of Baal from this place, and the name of the ¹Chemarim with the ⁵priests; and them that worship the host of heaven upon the housetops; and them that worship, which swear to the LORD and swear by ²Malcam; and them that are turned back from following the LORD; and those that have not sought the LORD, nor inquired after him.

And in that day I will² punish all those that leap over the threshold, which fill their master's house with violence and deceit. And in that day, saith the Lord, there shall be the noise of a cry from the fish gate, and an howling from the³ second quarter, and a great crashing from the hills. 11 Howl, ye inhabitants of⁴ Maktesh, for all⁵ the people of Canaan are undone: all they that were laden with silver are cut off. And it shall come to pass at that time, that I will search Jerusalem with⁶ candles; and I will² punish the men that are⁷ settled on their lees, that say in their heart, The Lord will not do good, neither will he do evil. And their wealth shall become a spoil, and their houses a desolation: yea, they shall build houses, but shall not inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, but shall not drink the wine thereof. 14 The great day of the Lord is near, it is near and hasteth greatly, even the voice of the day of the Lord: the mighty man crieth there bitterly. That day is a day of wrath, a day of trouble and distress, a day of wasteness and desolation, a day of darkness and gloominess, a day of clouds and thick darkness, a day of the trumpet and alarm, against the fenced cities, and against the high⁸ battlements. And I will bring distress upon men, that they shall walk like blind men, because they have sinned against the Lord: and their blood shall be poured out as dust, and their flesh as dung. Neither their silver nor their gold shall be able to deliver them in the day of the Lord's wrath; but the whole land shall be devoured by the fire of his jealousy: for he shall make an end, yea, a⁹ terrible end, of all them that dwell in the land. 2 Gather yourselves together, yea, gather together, O nation that hath no¹⁰ shame; before the decree bring forth, before the day pass as the chaff, before the fierce anger of the Lord come upon you, before the day of the Lord's anger come upon you. Seek ye the Lord, all ye meek of the earth, which have wrought his judgement; seek righteousness, seek meekness: it may be ye shall be hid in the day of the Lord's anger. For Gaza shall be forsaken, and Ashkelon a desolation: they shall drive out Ashdod at the noon-day, and Ekron shall be rooted up. 5 Woe unto the inhabitants of¹² the sea

And the sea coast shall be pastures, with¹³ cottages for shepherds and folds for flocks. And the coast shall be for the remnant of the house of Judah; they shall feed their flocks thereupon: in the houses of Ashkelon shall they lie down in the evening; for the Lord their God shall visit them, and bring again their captivity. I have heard the reproach of Moab, and the revilings of the children of Ammon, wherewith they have reproached my people, and magnified themselves against their border. Therefore as I live, saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Surely Moab shall be as Sodom, and the children of Ammon as Gomorrah, a possession of¹⁴ nettles, and saltpits, and a perpetual desolation: the residue of my people shall spoil them, and the remnant of my nation shall inherit them. This shall they have for their pride, because they have reproached and magnified themselves against the people of the Lord of hosts. The Lord will be terrible unto them: for he will famish all the gods of the earth; and men shall worship him, every one from his place, even all the¹⁵ isles of the nations. Ye Ethiopians also, ye shall be slain by my sword. And he will stretch out his hand against the north, and destroy Assyria; and will make Nineveh a desolation, and dry like the wilderness. And herds shall lie down in the midst of her,¹⁶ all the beasts of the nations: both the pelican and the porcupine shall lodge in the chapters thereof: their voice shall sing in the windows; ¹⁷desolation shall be in the thresholds: for he hath laid bare the cedar work. This is the joyous city that dwelt carelessly, that said in her heart, I am, and there is none else beside me: how is she become a desolation, a place for beasts to lie down in! every one that passeth by her shall hiss, and wag his hand. 3 Woe to her that is rebellious and polluted, to the oppressing city! She obeyed not the voice; she received not¹⁸ correction; she trusted not in the Lord; she drew not near to her God. I said, Surely thou wilt fear me, thou wilt receive ¹correction; so her dwelling should not be cut off, ²according to all that I have appointed concerning her: but they rose early and corrupted all their doings. Therefore wait ye for me, saith the LORD, until the day that I rise up to the prey: for my ³determination is to gather the nations, that I may assemble the kingdoms, to pour upon them mine indignation, even all my fierce anger; for all the earth shall be devoured with the fire of my jealousy. For then will I turn to the peoples a pure ⁴language, that they may all call upon the name of the LORD, to serve him with one ⁵consent. From beyond the rivers of Ethiopia ⁶my suppliants, even the daughter of my dispersed, shall bring mine offering. ¹¹In that day shalt thou not be ashamed for all thy doings, wherein thou hast transgressed against me: for then I will take away out of the midst of thee ⁷thy proudly exulting ones, and thou shalt no more be haughty in my holy mountain. But I will leave in the midst of thee an afflicted and poor people, and they shall trust in the name of the LORD. The remnant of Israel shall not do iniquity, nor speak lies; neither shall a deceitful tongue be found in their mouth: for they shall feed and lie down, and none shall make them afraid. Sing, O daughter of Zion; shout, O Israel; be glad and rejoice with all the heart, O daughter of Jerusalem. The LORD hath taken away thy judgements, he hath cast out thine enemy: the king of Israel, even the LORD, is in the midst of thee: thou shalt not ⁸fear evil any more. In that day it shall be said to Jerusalem, Fear thou not: ⁹O Zion, let not thine hands be slack. HAGGAI.

¹ In the second year of Darius the king, in the sixth month, in the first day of the month, came the word of the LORD by Haggai the prophet unto Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, saying, Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, saying, This people say, ¹It is not the time for us to come, the time for the LORD's house to be built. Then came the word of the LORD by Haggai the prophet, saying, Is it a time for you yourselves to dwell in your cieled houses, while this house lieth waste? Now therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts: ²Consider your ways. Ye have sown much, and bring in little; ye eat, but ye have not enough; ye drink, but ye are not filled with drink; ye clothe you, but there is none warm; and he that earneth wages earneth wages to put it into a bag with holes. Thus saith the LORD of hosts: ²Consider your ways. Go up to the ³mountain, and bring wood, and build the house; and I will take pleasure in it, and I will be glorified, saith the LORD. Ye looked for much, and, lo, it came to little; and when ye brought it home, I did ⁴blow upon it. Why? saith the LORD of hosts. Because of mine house that lieth waste, while ye run every man to his own house. Therefore ⁵for your sake the heaven is stayed from dew, and the earth is stayed from her fruit. And I called for a drought upon the land, and upon the mountains, and upon the corn, and upon the wine, and upon the oil, and upon that which the ground bringeth forth, and upon men, and upon cattle, and upon all the labour of the hands. ¹² Then Zernbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, with all the remnant of the people, obeyed the voice of the LORD their God, and the words of Haggai the prophet, as the LORD their God had sent him; and the people did fear before the LORD. 2 In the seventh month, in the one and twentieth day of the month, came the word of the LORD by Haggai the prophet, saying, Speak now to Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and to the remnant of the people, saying, Who is left among you that saw this house in its former glory? and how do ye see it now? is it not in your eyes as nothing? Yet now be strong, O Zerubbabel, saith the LORD; and be strong, O Joshua, son of Jehozadak, the high priest; and be strong, all ye people of the land, saith the LORD, and work: for I am with you,

5 saith the LORD of hosts, ¹according to the word that I covenanted with you when ye came out of Egypt, and my spirit ²abode among you: fear ye not.

6 For thus saith the LORD of hosts: Yet once, it is a little while, and I will shake the heavens, and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land; and I will shake all nations, and ³the desirable things of all nations shall come, and I will fill this house with glory, saith the LORD of hosts. The silver is mine, and the gold is mine, saith the LORD of hosts. The latter glory of this house shall be greater than the former, saith the LORD of hosts: and in this place will I give peace, saith the LORD of hosts.

10 In the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the LORD by Haggai the prophet, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Ask now the priests concerning the law, saying, If one bear holy flesh in the skirt of his garment, and with his skirt do touch bread, or pottage, or wine, or oil, or any meat, shall it become holy? And the priests answered and said, No.

13 Then said Haggai, If one that is unclean by a dead body touch any of these, shall it be unclean? And the priests answered and said, It shall be unclean.

14 Then answered Haggai and said, So is this people, and so is this nation before me, saith the LORD; and so is every work of their lands; and that which they offer there is unclean. And now, I pray you, consider from this day and upward, from before a stone was laid upon a stone in the temple

Consider, I pray you, from this day and upward, from the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, since the day that the foundation of the LORD's temple was laid, consider it. Is the seed yet in the barn? yea, the vine, and the fig tree, and the pomegranate, and the olive tree hath not brought forth; from this day will I bless you.

20 And the word of the LORD came the second time unto Haggai in the four and twentieth day of the month, saying, Speak to Zerubbabel, governor of Judah, saying, I will shake the heavens and the earth; and I will overthrow the throne of kingdoms, and I will destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the nations; and I will overthrow the chariots, and those that ride in them; and the horses and their riders shall come down, every one by the sword of his brother. ZECHARIAH.

1 In the eighth month, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the LORD unto Zechariah the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo, the prophet, saying, The LORD hath been sore displeased with your fathers. Therefore say thou unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Return unto me, saith the LORD of hosts, and I will return unto you, saith the LORD of hosts. Be ye not as your fathers, unto whom the former prophets cried, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Return ye now from your evil ways, and from your evil doings: but they did not hear, nor 5 hearken unto me, saith the LORD. Your fathers, where are they? and the pro-6 phets, do they live for ever? But my words and my statutes, which I commanded my servants the prophets,

did they not overtake your fathers?
and they turned and said, Like as the LORD of hosts thought to do unto us, according to our ways, and according to our doings, so hath he dealt with us.

7 Upon the four and twentieth day of the eleventh month, which is the month Shebat, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the LORD unto Zechariah the son of Berechiah, the son 8 of Iddo, the prophet, saying, I saw in the night, and behold a man riding upon a red horse, and he stood among the myrtle trees that were in the ¹ bottom; and behind him there were horses, 9 red, sorrel, and white. Then said I, O my lord, what are these? And the angel that talked with me said unto me, I will shew thee what these be.

10 And the man that stood among the myrtle trees answered and said, These are they whom the LORD hath sent to walk to and fro through the earth.
11 And they answered the angel of the LORD that stood among the myrtle trees, and said, We have walked to and fro through the earth, and, behold,
all the earth sitteth still, and is at rest.

12 Then the angel of the LORD answered and said, O LORD of hosts, how long wilt thou not have mercy on Jerusalem and on the cities of Judah, against which thou hast had indignation these 13 threescore and ten years? And the LORD answered the angel that talked with me with good words, even comfort-

14 able words. So the angel that talked with me said unto me, Cry thou, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: I am jealous for Jerusalem and for Zion

15 with a great jealousy. And I am very sore displeased with the nations that are at ease: for I was but a little displeased, and they ² helped forward the 16 affliction. Therefore thus saith the LORD: I am returned to Jerusalem with mercies; my house shall be built in it, saith the LORD of hosts, and a line shall 17 be stretched forth over Jerusalem. Cry yet again, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: My cities ³ through prosperity shall yet be spread abroad; and the LORD shall yet comfort Zion, and shall yet choose Jerusalem.

18 And I lifted up mine eyes, and saw.
19 and behold four horns. And I said unto the angel that talked with me, What be these? And he answered me, These are the horns which have scattered Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem.

20 And the LORD shewed me four smiths.

21 Then said I, What come these to do?

And he spake, saying, These are the horns which scattered Judah, so that no man did lift up his head: but these are come to fray them, to cast down
the horns of the nations, which lifted up their horn against the land of Judah to scatter it.

2 And I lifted up mine eyes, and saw,
and behold a man with a measuring 2 line in his hand. Then said I, Whither goest thou? And he said unto me, To measure Jerusalem, to see what is the breadth thereof, and what is the length 3 thereof. And, behold, the angel that talked with me went forth, and another 4 angel went out to meet him, and said unto him, Run, speak to this young man, saying, Jerusalem shall ⁴ be inhabited as villages without walls, by reason of the multitude of men and cattle therein.

5 For I, saith the LORD, will be unto her a wall of fire round about, and I will be 6 the glory in the midst of her. Ho, ho, flee from the land of the north, saith the LORD: for I have spread you abroad as the four winds of the heaven, saith the

7 LORD. Ho Zion, escape, thou that dwest with the daughter of Babylon.

8 For thus saith the LORD of hosts: ⁵ After glory hath he sent me unto the nations which spoiled you: for he that toucheth

9 you toucheth the apple of his eye. For, behold, I will shake mine hand over them, and they shall be a spoil to those that served them: and ye shall know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me.

10 Sing and rejoice, O daughter of Zion:
for, lo, I come, and I will dwell in the 11 midst of thee, saith the LORD. And many nations shall join themselves to the LORD in that day, and shall be my people: and I will dwell in the midst of thee, and thou shalt know that the LORD

12 of hosts hath sent me unto thee. And the LORD shall inherit Judah as his portion in the holy land, and shall

13 yet choose Jerusalem. Be silent, all flesh, before the LORD: for he is waked up out of his holy habitation.

3 And he shewed me Joshua the high priest standing before the angel of the LORD, and ⁶ Satan standing at his

2 right hand to be his adversary. And and the angel of the Lord stood by.

 6 And the angel of the Lord protested
 7 unto Joshua, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hosts: If thou wilt walk in my ways, and if thou wilt keep my charge, then thou also shalt judge my house, and shalt also keep my courts, and I will give thee ¹a place of access 8 among these that stand by. Hear now.
 O Joshua the high priest, thou and thy fellows that sit before thee; for they are men which are a ²sign: for, behold,
 I will bring forth my servant the 9 ³Branch. For behold, the stone that I have set before Joshua; upon one stone are seven eyes: behold, I will engrave the graving thereof, saith the Lord of hosts, and I will remove the 10 iniquity of that land in one day. In that day, saith the Lord of hosts, shall ye call every man his neighbour under the vine and under the fig tree.

4 And the angel that talked with me came again, and waked me, as a man 2 that is wakened out of his sleep. And he said unto me, What seest thou?
 And I said, I have seen, and behold,
 a candlestick all of gold, with its bowl upon the top of it, and its seven lamps thereon; ⁴there are seven pipes to each of the lamps, which are upon the top 3 thereof: and two olive trees by it, one upon the right side of the bowl, and the 4 other upon the left side thereof. And I answered and spake to the angel that talked with me, saying, What are these, 5 my lord? Then the angel that talked with me answered and said unto me, Knowest thou not what these be? And 6 I said, No, my lord. Then he answered and spake unto me, saying, This is the word of the Lord unto Zerubbabel, saying, Not by ⁵might, nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the Lord of 7 hosts. Who art thou, O great mountain? before Zerubbabel thou shalt become a plain: and he shall bring forth
 the head stone with shoutings of Grace, 8 grace, unto it. Moreover the word of the 9 Lord came unto me, saying, The hands of Zerubbabel have laid the foundation of this house; his hands shall also finish it; and thou shalt know that the Lord of hosts hath sent me unto 10 you. For who hath despised the day of small things? for they shall rejoice, and shall see the plummet in the hand of Zerubbabel, even these seven, which are the eyes of the Lord; they run to 11 and fro through the whole earth. Then answered I, and said unto him, What are these two olive trees upon the right side of the candlestick and upon 12 the left side thereof? And I answered the second time, and said unto him,
 What be these two olive branches, ⁶which are beside the two golden spouts, that empty ⁷the golden oil out 13 of themselves? And he answered me and said, Knowest thou not what these 14 be? And I said, No, my lord. Then said he, These are the two sons of oil, that stand by the Lord of the whole

 earth.

5 Then again I lifted up mine eyes, and 2 saw, and behold, a flying roll. And he said unto me, What seest thou? And I answered, I see a flying roll; the length thereof is twenty cubits, and 3 the breadth thereof ten cubits. Then said he unto me, This is the curse that goeth forth over the face of the whole land: for every one that stealeth shall be purged out ⁸on the one side according to it; and every one that sweareth shall be purged out ⁸on 4 the other side according to it. I will cause it to go forth, saith the Lord of hosts, and it shall enter into the house of the thief, and into the house of him that sweareth falsely by my name: and it shall abide in the midst of his house, and shall consume it with the timber thereof and the stones thereof.

5 Then the angel that talked with me went forth, and said unto me, Lift up now thine eyes, and see what is this that 6 goeth forth. And I said, What is it? And he said, This is the ephah that goeth forth. He said moreover, This is their 7 resemblance in all the land: (and behold, there was lifted up a ¹⁰talent of lead: and this is a woman sitting in 8 the midst of the ephah. And he said,
 This is Wickedness; and he cast her down into the midst of the ephah: and he cast the weight of lead upon the 9 mouth thereof. Then lifted I up mine eyes, and saw, and behold, there came forth two women, and the wind was in their wings; now they had wings like the wings of a stork: and they lifted up the ephah between the earth and 10 the heaven. Then said I to the angel that talked with me, Whither do these 11 bear the ephah? And he said unto me,
 To build her an house in the land of Shinar: and when it is ¹¹prepared, she shall be set there ¹²in her own place.

6 And again I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold, there came four chariots out from between ¹³two mountains; and the mountains were mount-2 ains of brass. In the first chariot were red horses; and in the second 3 chariot black horses; and in the third chariot white horses; and in the fourth 4 chariot grised ¹⁴bay horses. Then I answered and said unto the angel that talked with me, What are these, my 5 lord? And the angel answered and said unto me, These are the four ¹⁵winds of heaven, which go forth from ¹⁶standing 6 before the Lord of all the earth. *The eth forth toward the north country; and the white went forth after them; and

So they walked to and fro 8 through the earth. Then cried he upon me, and spake unto me, saying, Behold, they that go toward the north country have quieted my spirit in the north country.

9 And the word of the LORD came unto 10 me, saying, Take of them of the captivity, even of Heldai, of Tobijah, and of Jedaiah; and come thou the same day, and go into the house of Josiah the son of Zephaniah, whither they are

11 come from Babylon; yea, take of them silver and gold, and make ²crowns, and set them upon the head of Joshua the

12 son of Jehozadak, the high priest; and speak unto him, saying, Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, saying, Behold, the man ³whose name is the ⁴Branch; and he shall ⁵grow up out of his place, and he shall build the temple of the LORD:

13 even he shall build the temple of the LORD; and he shall bear the glory, and shall sit and rule upon his throne; and

⁶he shall be a priest upon his throne: and the counsel of peace shall be be-

14 tween them both. And the ⁷crowns shall be to Helem, and to Tobijah, and to Jedaiah, and ⁸to Hen the son of Zephaniah, for a memorial in the 15 temple of the LORD. And they that are far off shall come and build in the temple of the LORD, and ye shall know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto you. And this shall come to pass, if ye will diligently obey the voice of the LORD your God.

7 And it came to pass in the fourth year of king Darius, that the word of the LORD came unto Zechariah in the fourth day of the ninth month, even in

2 Chisleu. ⁹Now they of Beth-el had sent Sharezer and Regem-melech, and their men, to intreat the favour of the LORD,

3 and to speak unto the priests of the house of the LORD of hosts, and to the prophets, saying, Should I weep in the fifth month, separating myself, as I

4 have done these so many years? Then came the word of the LORD of hosts unto

5 me, saying, Speak unto all the people of the land, and to the priests, saying, When ye fasted and mourned in the fifth and in the seventh month, even these seventy years, did ye at all fast unto me, 6 even to me? And when ye eat, and when ye drink, ¹⁰do not ye eat for yourselves, 7 and drink for yourselves? Should ye not hear the words which the LORD hath cried by the former prophets, when Jerusalem was inhabited and in prosperity, and the cities thereof round about her, and the South and the lowland were inhabited?

8 And the word of the LORD came

9 unto Zechariah, saying, Thus hath the LORD of hosts spoken, saying, Execute true judgement, and shew mercy and compassion every man to

10 his brother: and oppress not the widow, nor the fatherless, the stranger, nor the poor; and let none of you imagine evil against his brother in your

11 heart. But they refused to hearken, and ¹¹pulled away the shoulder, and ¹²stopped their ears, that they should

12 not hear. Yea, they made their hearts as an adamant stone, lest they should hear the law, and the words which the LORD of hosts had sent by his spirit by the hand of the former prophets: therefore came there great wrath from

13 the LORD of hosts. And it came to pass that, as he cried, and they would not hear; so they shall cry, and I will

14 not hear, said the LORD of hosts; but I will scatter them with a whirlwind among all the nations whom they have not known. Thus the land was desolate after them, that no man passed through nor returned: for they laid the ¹³pleasant land desolate.

8 And the word of the LORD of hosts

2 came to me, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: I am jealous for Zion with great jealousy, and I am jealous for her

3 with great fury. Thus saith the LORD: I am returned unto Zion, and will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem: and Jerusalem shall be called The city of truth; and the mountain of the LORD of hosts

4 The holy mountain. Thus saith the LORD of hosts: There shall yet old men and old women ¹⁴dwell in the streets of Jerusalem, every man with his staff in

5 his hand ¹⁵for very age. And the streets of the city shall be full of boys and girls 6 playing in the streets thereof. Thus saith the LORD of hosts: If it be marvellous in the eyes of the remnant of this people in those days, should it also be marvellous in mine eyes? saith the

7 LORD of hosts. Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Behold, I will save my people from the east country, and from the

8 west country: and I will bring them, and they shall dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; and they shall be my people, and I will be their God, in truth and in

9 righteousness. Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Let your hands be strong, ye that hear in these days these words from the month of the prophets, which were in the day that the foundation of the house of the LORD of hosts was laid, even the

10 temple, that it might be built. For before those days there was no hire for man, nor any hire for beast; neither was there any peace to him that went out or came in because of the adversary: for I set all men every one against his neigh-

11 bour. But now I will not be unto the remnant of this people as in the former 12 days, saith the LORD of hosts. For there

5 the peoples with blindness. And the chieftains of Judah shall say in their heart, The inhabitants of Jerusalem are my strength in the LORD of hosts

6 their God. In that day will I make the chieftains of Judah like a pan of fire among wood, and like a torch of fire

among sheaves; and they shall devour all the peoples round about, on the right hand and on the left: and Jerusalem shall yet again dwell in her own place, ⁷even in Jerusalem. The LORD also shall save the tents of Judah first, that the glory of the house of David and the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem ⁸be not magnified above Judah. In that day shall the LORD defend the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and he ¹that is feeble among them at that day shall be as David; and the house of David shall be as God, as the angel of the LORD ⁹before them. And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will seek to destroy all the nations that come against Jerusalem. And I will pour upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the spirit of grace and of supplication; and they shall look unto ²me whom they have pierced: and they shall mourn for him, as one mourneth for his only son, and shall be in bitterness for him, as one that is in bitterness ¹¹for his firstborn. And the land shall mourn, every family apart; the family of the house of David apart, and their wives apart; the family of the house of Nathan apart, and their wives apart; ¹³the family of the house of Levi apart, and their wives apart; the family of the Shimeites apart, and their wives apart; ¹⁴all the families that remain, every family apart, and their wives apart. ¹³In that day there shall be a fountain opened to the house of David and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, for ²sin and for uncleanness. And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the LORD of hosts, that I will cut off the names of the idols out of the land, and they shall no more be remembered: and also I will cause the prophets and the unclean spirit to pass ³out of the land. And it shall come to pass that, when any shall yet prophesy, then his father and his mother that begat him shall say unto him, Thou shalt not live; for thou speakest lies in the name of the LORD: and his father and his mother that begat him shall thrust him through when he prophesieth. And it shall come to pass in that day, that the prophets shall be ashamed every one of his vision, when he prophesieth; neither shall they wear ⁵a hairy mantle to deceive: but he shall say, I am no prophet, I am a tiller of the ground; for I have been made a ⁶bondman from my youth. And one shall say unto him, What are these wounds between thine ³arms? Then he shall answer, Those with which I was wounded in the house of my ⁴friends. ⁷Awake, O sword, against my shepherd, and against the man that is my fellow, saith the LORD of hosts: smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered; and I will turn mine ⁸hand upon the little ones. And it shall come to pass, that in all the land, saith the LORD, two parts thereof shall be cut off and die; but the ⁹third shall be left therein. And I will bring the third part through the fire, and will refine them as silver is refined, and will try them as gold is tried: they shall call on my name, and I will hear them: I will say, It is my people; and they shall say, The LORD is my God.

¹⁴Behold, a day of the LORD cometh, when thy spoil shall be divided in the ²midst of thee. For I will gather all nations against Jerusalem to battle; and the city shall be taken, and the houses rifled, and the women ravished: and half of the city shall go forth into captivity, and the residue of the people shall not be cut off from the city. ³Then shall the LORD go forth, and fight against those nations, as when ⁴he fought in the day of battle. And his feet shall stand in that day upon the mount of Olives, which is before Jerusalem on the east, and the mount of Olives shall cleave in the midst thereof toward the east and toward the west, and there shall be a very great valley; and half of the mountain shall remove toward the north, and half of ⁵it toward the south. And ⁵ye shall flee ⁶by the valley of ⁷my mountains; for the valley of the mountains shall reach unto Azel: yea, ye shall flee, like as ye fled from before the earthquake in the days of Uzziah king of Judah: and the LORD my God shall come, and all the holy ones with thee. ⁶And it shall come to pass in that day, that ⁸the light shall not be ⁹with ⁷brightness and with gloom: but it shall be one day which is known unto the LORD; not day, and not night: but it shall come to pass, that at ⁸evening time there shall be light. And it shall come to pass in that day, that living waters shall go out from Jerusalem; half of them toward the eastern sea, and half of them toward the western sea: in summer and in winter ⁹shall it be. And the LORD shall be king over all the earth: in that day shall the LORD be one, and his name ¹⁰one. All the land shall be turned as the Arabah, from Geba to Rimmon south of Jerusalem; and she shall be lifted up, and shall dwell in her place, from Benjamin's gate unto the place of the first gate, unto the corner gate, and from the tower of Hananel ¹¹unto the king's winepresses. And this shall be the plague wherewith the LORD will smite all the peoples that have warred against Jerusalem: their flesh shall consume away while they stand upon their feet, and their eyes shall consume away in their sockets, and their tongue shall consume away in their mouth. And it shall come to pass in that day, that a great ¹tumult from the LORD shall be among them; and they shall lay hold every one on the hand of his neighbour, and his hand shall rise up against the hand of his neighbour. And Judah also shall fight ²against Jerusalem; and the wealth of all the nations round about shall be gathered together, gold, and silver, and apparel, in great abundance. And so shall be the plague of the horse, of the mule, of the camel, and of the ass, and of all the beasts that shall be in those camps, as this plague. MALACHI.

1 THE ¹burden of the word of the LORD to Israel by ²Malachi. 2 I have loved you, saith the LORD. Yet ye say, Wherein hast thou loved us? ³Was not Esau Jacob's brother? saith the LORD: yet I loved Jacob; but Esau I hated, and made his mountains a desolation, and gave his heritage to the jackals of the wilderness. ⁴Whereas Edom saith, We are ⁵beaten down, but we will return and build the waste places; thus saith the LORD of hosts, They shall build, but I will throw down: and men shall call them The border of wickedness, and The people against whom the LORD hath indignation for ever. And your eyes shall see, and ye shall say, The LORD ⁶is magnified beyond the border of Israel. 6 A son honoureth his father, and a servant his master: if then I be a father, where is mine honour? and if I be a master, where is my fear? saith the LORD of hosts unto you, O priests, that despise my name. And ye say, Wherein have we despised thy name? 7 Ye offer polluted bread upon mine altar. And ye say, Wherein have we polluted thee? In that ye say, The table of the LORD is contemptible. 8 And when ye offer the blind for sacrifice, it is no evil! and when ye offer

Present it now unto thy governor; will he be pleased with thee? or will he accept thy person? saith the LORD of hosts. 9 And now, I pray you, intreat the favour of God, that he may be gracious unto us: this hath been ⁸by your means: will he ⁹accept any of your persons? saith the LORD of hosts. Oh that there were one among you that would shut the doors, that ye might not kindle fire on mine altar in vain! I have no pleasure in you, saith the LORD of hosts, neither will I accept an offering 11 at your hand. For from the rising of the sun even unto the going down of the same my name ¹⁰is great among the Gentiles; and in every place ¹¹incense is offered unto my name, and a pure offering: for my name ¹⁰is great among the Gentiles, saith the LORD of hosts. 12 But ye profane it, in that ye say, The table of the LORD is polluted, and the fruit thereof, even his meat, is contemptible. Ye say also, Behold, what a weariness is it! and ye have snuffed at it, saith the LORD of hosts; and ye have brought that which was taken by violence, and the lame, and the sick; thus ye bring the offering: should I accept this of your hand? saith the LORD. But cursed be the deceiver, which hath in his flock a male, and voweth, and sacrificeth unto the Lord a blemished thing: for I am a great king, saith the Lord of hosts, and my name is terrible among the Gentiles.

2 And now, O ye priests, this commandment is for you. If ye will not hear, and if ye will not lay it to heart, to give glory unto my name, saith the Lord of hosts, then will I send the curse upon you, and I will curse your blessings: yea, I have cursed them already, because ye do not lay it to

3 heart. Behold, I will rebuke ¹the seed for your sake, and will spread dung upon your faces, even the dung of your ²sacrifices; and ye shall be taken away ³with it. And ye shall know that I have sent this commandment unto you, that my covenant might be with Levi, saith the Lord of hosts.

5 My covenant was with him of life and peace; and I gave them to him that he might fear, and he feared me, and stood in awe of my name. The law of truth was in his mouth, and unrighteousness was not found in his lips: he walked with me in peace and uprightness, and did turn many away from iniquity.

7 For the priest's lips should keep knowledge, and they should seek the law at his mouth: for he is the messenger of the Lord of hosts. But ye are turned aside out of the way; ye have caused many to stumble in the law; ye have corrupted the covenant of Levi, saith the Lord of hosts. Therefore have I also made you contemptible and base before all the people, according as ye have not kept my ways, but have had respect of persons in the law.

10 Have we not all one father? hath not one God created us? why do we deal treacherously every man against his brother, profaning the covenant of our fathers? Judah hath dealt treacherously, and an abomination is committed in Israel and in Jerusalem; for Judah hath profaned the ⁴holiness of the Lord which he loveth, and hath married the 12 daughter of a strange god. The Lord will cut off to the man that doeth this him that waketh and him that answereth, out of the tents of Jacob, and him that offereth an offering unto the Lord

13 of hosts. And this ⁵again ye do: ye cover the altar of the Lord with tears, with weeping, and with sighing, inasmuch that he regardeth not the offering any more, neither receiveth it with good

14 will at your hand. Yet ye say, Wherefore? Because the Lord hath been witness between thee and the wife of thy youth, against whom thou hast dealt treacherously, though she is thy companion, and the wife of thy covenant.

15 ⁶And did he not make one, although he had the residue of the spirit? And wherefore one? He sought a godly seed. Therefore take heed to your spirit, and let none deal treacherously against the wife of his youth. For ⁷I hate putting away, saith the Lord, the God of Israel, and him that covereth his garment with violence, saith the Lord of hosts: therefore take heed to your spirit, that ye deal not treacherously.

17 Ye have wearied the Lord with your words. Yet ye say, Wherein have we wearied him? In that ye say, Every one that doeth evil is good in the sight of the Lord, and he delighteth in them;

3 or where is the God of judgement? Behold, I send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me: and the Lord, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his temple; ⁸and the ⁹messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in, behold, he cometh, saith the Lord

2 of hosts. But who may abide the day of his coming? and who shall stand when he appeareth? for he is like a refiner's fire, and like fullers' soap: and he shall sit as a refiner and purifier of silver, and he shall purify the sons of Levi, and purge them as gold and silver; and they shall offer unto the Lord

4 offerings in righteousness. Then shall the offering of Judah and Jerusalem be pleasant unto the Lord, as in the days of old, and as in ancient years. And I will come near to you to judgement; and I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, and against the adulterers, and against false swearers; and against those that oppress the hireling in his wages, the widow, and the fatherless, and that turn aside the stranger from his right, and fear not me, saith the 6 Lord of hosts. For I the Lord change not; therefore ye, O sons of Jacob, are not consumed.

7 From the days of your fathers ye have turned aside from mine ordinances, and have not kept them. Return unto me, and I will return unto you, saith the Lord of hosts. But ye say, Wherein shall

8 we return? Will a man rob God? yet ye rob me. But ye say, Wherein have we robbed thee? In tithes and ¹⁰offerings.

9 Ye are cursed with the curse; for ye rob me, even this whole nation. Bring ye the whole tithe into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room

11 enough to receive it. And I will rebuke the devourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground; neither shall your vine cast her fruit before the time in the field, saith

APPENDIX.

The American Old Testament Revision Company, while recognizing the cordial acceptance given to many of their suggestions, present the following instances in which they differ from the English Company, as of sufficient importance to be appended to the Revision in accordance with the original agreement.

CLASSES OF PASSAGES.

- I. Substitute the Divine name "Jehovah" wherever it occurs in the Hebrew text, for "the LORD" and "GOD" and omit the marg. to "the LORD" at Gen. ii. 4, and "Heb. Jehovah" from the marg. at Ex. iii. 15; also substitute "Jehovah" for "the LORD" or "Jah" wherever the latter occurs in the Hebrew text, and retain or insert "Heb. Jah" in the marg.; where "Jehovah" immediately follows, viz. in Is. xii. 2, xxvi. 4, read "Jehovah, even Jehovah" and omit "Jehovah" from the marg.
- II. Substitute "Sheol" wherever it occurs in the Hebrew text, for the renderings "the grave" "the pit" and "hell" and omit these renderings from the marg.
- III. Substitute "a" for "an", "my" for "mine" and "thy" for "thine" wherever followed by "h" aspirated.
- IV. Substitute "who" or "that" for "which" when used of persons.
- V. Substitute "are" for "be" in the present indicative, and omit "for" before infinitives.
- VI. Omit from the margin all renderings from the LXX., Vulgate, and other ancient Versions or "authorities"
- VII. The following substitutions are preferred, with the necessary inflectional variations:
 - "adder" for "basilisk"
 - "annul" for "disannul"
 - "ascent" for "going up" when used as a noun.
 - "astonished" for "astondied"
 - "a year old" for "of the first year"
 - "base man" for "man of Belial" or "son of B."; "base woman" for "daughter of Belial"; "base men" for "men of Belial" "sons of B." or "children of B."
 - "before" for "afore"; also for "or ever" except in Ps. xc. 2; Eccl. xii. 1, 2, 6.
 - "blow the trumpet" for "blow with (or, "blow up") the trumpet"
 - "boil" "boiled" for "seethe" "sod" "sodden"
 - "bonds" for "hands" in Job xxxix. 5, and elsewhere uniformly for the same Hebrew word.
 - "capital" for "chapter"
 - "chiefs" for "dukes"
 - "contend" for "plead" in Judg. vi. 31 (three times) and so wherever the latter rendering represents the same Hebrew verb unless followed by "cause", except in Is. i. 17. But substitute "enter into judgment" for "plead" in Jer. xxv. 31; Ezek. xvii. 20; xx. 35, 36 (twice).
 - "courses" for "rows" of timber or stone.
 - "devise" for "imagine" in Ps. x. 2; xxi. 11; cxi. 2; Hos. vii. 15; Nah. i. 9, 11; Zech. vii. 10; viii. 17.
 - "diminish" for "minish"
 - "encamp" for "camp"; also, for "pitch" when used intransitively.

- "oil" for "ointment"
- "olive oil" for "oil olive"
- "perfumer" for "apothecary" and "confectionary"
- "perverse" ("perverseness") for "froward" ("frowardness") except in 2 Sam. xxii. 27; Job v. 13; Ps. xviii. 26; "wayward" for "perverse" in Prov. ii. 15; for "froward" in iv. 24; xvii. 20, and "cunning" for "froward" in Job v. 13.
- "put to shame" for "ashamed"
- "refine" for "fine" (metal). So "refiner" for "finer"
- "scoffer" for "scorner" and "scoffing" for "scornful" and "scorning"
- "settings" for "ouches"
- "since" for "sith"
- "sitteth above" (the cherubim) for "sitteth upon" with marg. Or, is enthroned
- "skill" for "cunning" (noun) and "skilful" for "cunning" (adj.) when either relates to workman or work.
- "stench" for "stink", when used as a noun.
- "stronghold" for "hold", when used as a noun.
- "take refuge" for "trust" (Deut. xxxii. 37) for "put . . . trust" (Ps. ii. 12), and so uniformly as the rendering of the same Hebrew verb.
- "therewith" for "withal" in Ex. xxv. 29; xxx. 4; xxxvii. 16; Lev. xi. 21.
- "trespass offering" for "guilt offering"
- "uncover" for "discover" except in 1 Sam. xiv. 8, 11, and xxii. 6.
- "wail" for "howl" where it is used of persons.
- "wait for" for "wait on" in Ps. xxv. 3, and so uniformly as the rendering of the same Hebrew verb, except in Ps. lii. 9.

PREFACE.

THE English Version of the New Testament here presented to the reader is a Revision of the Translation published in the year of Our Lord 1611, and commonly known by the name of the Authorised Version.

That Translation was the work of many hands and of several generations. The foundation was laid by William Tyndale. His translation of the New Testament was the true primary Version. The Versions that followed were either substantially reproductions of Tyndale's translation in its final shape, or revisions of Versions that had been themselves almost entirely based on it. Three successive stages may be recognised in this continuous work of authoritative revision: first, the publication of the Great Bible of 1539-41 in the reign of Henry VIII; next, the publication of the Bishops' Bible of 1568 and 1572 in the reign of Elizabeth; and lastly, the publication of the King's Bible of 1611 in the reign of James I. Besides these, the Genevan Version of 1560, itself founded on Tyndale's translation, must here be named; which, though not put forth by authority, was widely circulated in this country, and largely used by King James' Translators. Thus the form in which the English New Testament has now been read for 270 years was the result of various revisions made between 1525 and 1611; and the present Revision is an attempt, after a long interval, to follow the example set by a succession of honoured predecessors.

I. Of the many points of interest connected with the Translation of 1611, two require special notice; first, the Greek Text which it appears to have represented; and secondly, the character of the Translation itself.

1. With regard to the Greek Text, it would appear that, if to some extent the Translators exercised an independent judgement, it was mainly in choosing amongst readings contained in the principal editions of the Greek Text that had appeared in the sixteenth century. Wherever they seem to have followed a reading which is not found in any of those editions, their rendering may probably be traced to the Latin Vulgate. Their chief guides appear to have been the later editions of Stephanus and of Beza, and also, to a certain extent, the Complutensian Polyglott. All these were founded for the most part on manuscripts of late date, few in number, and used with little critical skill. But in those days it could hardly have been otherwise. Nearly all the more ancient of the documentary authorities have become known only within the last two centuries; some of the most important of them, indeed, within the last few years. Their publication has called forth not only improved editions of the Greek Text, but a succession of instructive discussions on the variations which have been brought to light, and on the best modes of distinguishing original readings from changes introduced in the course of transcription. While therefore it has long been the opinion of all scholars that the commonly received text needed thorough revision, it is but recently that materials have been acquired for executing such a work with even approximate completeness.

2. The character of the Translation itself will be best estimated by considering the leading rules under which it was made, and the extent to which these rules appear to have been observed.

The primary and fundamental rule was expressed in the following terms :—‘The ordinary Bible read in the Church, commonly called the Bishops’ Bible, to be followed, and as little altered as the truth of the Original will permit.’ There was, however, this subsequent provision :—‘These translations to be used, when they agree better with the text than the Bishops’ Bible : Tindale’s, Matthew’s, Coverdale’s, Whitechurch’s, Geneva.’ The first of these rules, which was substantially the same as that laid down at the revision of the Great Bible in the reign of Elizabeth, was strictly observed. The other rule was but partially followed. The Translators made much use of the Genevan Version. They do not however appear to have frequently returned to the renderings of the other Versions named in the rule, where those Versions differed from the Bishops’ Bible. On the other hand, their work shews evident traces of the influence of a Version not specified in the rules, the Rhemish, made from the Latin Vulgate, but by scholars conversant with the Greek Original.

Another rule, on which it is stated that those in authority laid great stress, related to the rendering of words that admitted of different interpretations. It was as follows :—‘When a word hath divers significations, that to be kept which hath been most commonly used by the most of the ancient fathers, being agreeable to the propriety of the place and the analogy of the faith.’ With this rule was associated the following, on which equal stress appears to have been laid :—‘The old ecclesiastical words to be kept, viz. the word Church not to be translated Congregation, &c.’ This latter rule was for the most part carefully observed ; but it may be doubted whether, in the case of words that admitted of different meanings, the instructions were at all closely followed. In dealing with the more difficult words of this class, the Translators appear to have paid much regard to traditional interpretations, and especially to the authority of the Vulgate ; but, as to the large residue of words which might properly fall under the rule, they used considerable freedom. Moreover they profess in their Preface to have studiously adopted a variety of expression which would now be deemed hardly consistent with the requirements of faithful translation. They seem to have been guided by the feeling that their Version would secure for the words they used a lasting place in the language ; and they express a fear lest they should ‘be charged (by scoffers) with some unequal dealing towards a great number of good English words,’ which, without this liberty on their part, would not have a place in the pages of the English Bible. Still it cannot be doubted that they carried this liberty too far, and that the studied avoidance of uniformity in the rendering of the same words, even when occurring in the same context, is one of the blemishes in their work.

A third leading rule was of a negative character, but was rendered necessary by the experience derived from former Versions. The words of the rule are as follows :—‘No marginal notes at all to be affixed, but only for the explanation of the Hebrew or Greek words which cannot without some circumlocution so briefly and fitly be expressed in the text.’ Here again the Translators used some liberty in their application of the rule. Out of more than 760 marginal notes originally appended to the Authorised Version of the New Testament, only a seventh part consists of explanations or literal renderings ; the great majority of the notes being devoted to the useful and indeed necessary purpose of placing before the reader alternative renderings which it was judged that the passage or the words would fairly admit. The notes referring to variations in the Greek Text amount to about thirty-five.

Of the remaining rules it may be sufficient to notice one, which was for the most part consistently followed:—‘The names of the prophets and the holy writers, with the other names of the text, to be retained, as nigh as may be, accordingly as they were vulgarly used.’ The Translators had also the liberty, in ‘any place of special obscurity,’ to consult those who might be qualified to give an opinion.

Passing from these fundamental rules, which should be borne in mind by any one who would rightly understand the nature and character of the Authorised Version, we must call attention to the manner in which the actual work of the translation was carried on. The New Testament was assigned to two separate Companies, the one consisting of eight members, sitting at Oxford, the other consisting of seven members, sitting at Westminster. There is no reason to believe that these Companies ever sat together. They communicated to each other, and likewise to the four Companies to which the Old Testament and the Apocrypha had been committed, the results of their labours; and perhaps afterwards reconsidered them: but the fact that the New Testament was divided between two separate bodies of men involved a grave inconvenience, and was beyond all doubt the cause of many inconsistencies. These probably would have been much more serious, had it not been provided that there should be a final supervision of the whole Bible, by selected members from Oxford, Cambridge, and Westminster, the three centres at which the work had been carried on. These supervisors are said by one authority to have been six in number, and by another twelve. When it is remembered that this supervision was completed in nine months, we may wonder that the incongruities which remain are not more numerous.

The Companies appear to have been occupied in the actual business of revision about two years and three quarters.

Such, so far as can be gathered from the rules and modes of procedure, is the character of the time-honoured Version which we have been called upon to revise. We have had to study this great Version carefully and minutely, line by line; and the longer we have been engaged upon it the more we have learned to admire its simplicity, its dignity, its power, its happy turns of expression, its general accuracy, and, we must not fail to add, the music of its cadences, and the felicities of its rhythm. To render a work that had reached this high standard of excellence still more excellent, to increase its fidelity without destroying its charm, was the task committed to us. Of that task, and of the conditions under which we have attempted its fulfilment, it will now be necessary for us to speak.

II. The present Revision had its origin in action taken by the Convocation of the Province of Canterbury in February 1870, and it has been conducted throughout on the plan laid down in Resolutions of both Houses of the Province, and, more particularly, in accordance with Principles and Rules drawn up by a special Committee of Convocation in the following May. Two Companies, the one for the revision of the Authorised Version of the Old Testament, and the other for the revision of the same Version of the New Testament, were formed in the manner specified in the Resolutions, and the work was commenced on the twenty-second day of June 1870. Shortly afterwards, steps were taken, under a resolution passed by both Houses of Convocation, for inviting the co-operation of American scholars; and eventually two Committees were formed in America, for the purpose of acting with the two English Companies, on the basis of the Principles and Rules drawn up by the Committee of Convocation.

The fundamental Resolutions adopted by the Convocation of Canterbury on the third and fifth days of May 1870 were as follows:—

'1. That it is desirable that a revision of the Authorised Version of the Holy Scriptures be undertaken.

'2. That the revision be so conducted as to comprise both marginal renderings and such emendations as it may be found necessary to insert in the text of the Authorised Version.

'3. That in the above resolutions we do not contemplate any new translation of the Bible, or any alteration of the language, except where in the judgement of the most competent scholars such change is necessary.

'4. That in such necessary changes, the style of the language employed in the existing Version be closely followed.

'5. That it is desirable that Convocation should nominate a body of its own members to undertake the work of revision, who shall be at liberty to invite the co-operation of any eminent for scholarship, to whatever nation or religious body they may belong.'

The Principles and Rules agreed to by the Committee of Convocation on the twenty-fifth day of May 1870 were as follows:—

'1. To introduce as few alterations as possible into the Text of the Authorised Version consistently with faithfulness.

'2. To limit, as far as possible, the expression of such alterations to the language of the Authorised and earlier English Versions.

'3. Each Company to go twice over the portion to be revised, once provisionally, the second time finally, and on principles of voting as hereinafter is provided.

'4. That the Text to be adopted be that for which the evidence is decidedly preponderating; and that when the Text so adopted differs from that from which the Authorised Version was made, the alteration be indicated in the margin.

'5. To make or retain no change in the Text on the second final revision by each Company, except two thirds of those present approve of the same, but on the first revision to decide by simple majorities.

'6. In every case of proposed alteration that may have given rise to discussion, to defer the voting thereupon till the next Meeting, whensoever the same shall be required by one third of those present at the Meeting, such intended vote to be announced in the notice for the next Meeting.

'7. To revise the headings of chapters and pages, paragraphs, italics, and punctuation.

'8. To refer, on the part of each Company, when considered desirable, to Divines, Scholars, and Literary Men, whether at home or abroad, for their opinions.'

These rules it has been our endeavour faithfully and consistently to follow. One only of them we found ourselves unable to observe in all particulars. In accordance with the seventh rule, we have carefully revised the paragraphs, italics, and punctuation. But the revision of the headings of chapters and pages would have involved so much of indirect, and indeed frequently of direct interpretation, that we judged it best to omit them altogether.

Our communications with the American Committee have been of the following nature. We transmitted to them from time to time each several portion of our First Revision, and received from them in return their criticisms and suggestions. These we considered with much care and attention during the time we were engaged on our Second Revision. We then sent over to them the various portions of the Second Revision as they were completed, and received further suggestions, which, like the former, were closely and carefully considered. Last of all, we forwarded to them the Revised Version in its final form; and a list of those passages in which they desire to place on record their preference of other readings and renderings will be found at the end of the volume. We gratefully acknowledge their care, vigilance, and accuracy; and we humbly pray that their labours and our own, thus happily united, may be permitted to bear a blessing to both countries, and to all English-speaking people throughout the world.

The whole time devoted to the work has been ten years and a half. The First Revision occupied about six years; the Second, about two years and a half. The remaining time has been spent in the consideration of the suggestions from America on the Second Revision, and of many details and reserved questions arising out of our own labours. As a rule, a session of four days has been held every month (with the exception of August and September) in each year from the commencement of the work in June 1870. The average attendance for the whole time has been sixteen each day; the whole Company consisting at first of twenty-seven, but for the greater part of the time of twenty-four members, many of them residing at great distances from London. Of the original number four have been removed from us by death.

At an early stage in our labours, we entered into an agreement with the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge for the conveyance to them of our copyright in the work. This arrangement provided for the necessary expenses of the undertaking; and procured for the Revised Version the advantage of being published by Bodies long connected with the publication of the Authorised Version.

III. We now pass onward to give a brief account of the particulars of the present work. This we propose to do under the four heads of Text, Translation, Language, and Marginal Notes.

1. A revision of the Greek text was the necessary foundation of our work; but it did not fall within our province to construct a continuous and complete Greek text. In many cases the English rendering was considered to represent correctly either of two competing readings in the Greek, and then the question of the text was usually not raised. A sufficiently laborious task remained in deciding between the rival claims of various readings which might properly affect the translation. When these were adjusted, our deviations from the text presumed to underlie the Authorised Version had next to be indicated, in accordance with the fourth rule; but it proved inconvenient to record them in the margin. A better mode however of giving them publicity has been found, as the University Presses have undertaken to print them in connexion with complete Greek texts of the New Testament.

In regard of the readings thus approved, it may be observed that the fourth rule, by requiring that 'the text to be adopted' should be 'that for which the evidence is decidedly preponderating,' was in effect an instruction to follow the authority of documentary evidence without deference to any printed text of modern times, and therefore to employ the best resources of criticism for estimating the value of evidence. Textual criticism, as applied to the Greek New Testament, forms a special study of much intricacy and difficulty, and even now leaves room for considerable variety of opinion among competent critics. Different schools of criticism have been represented among us, and have together contributed to the final result. In the early part of the work every various reading requiring consideration was discussed and voted on by the Company. After a time the precedents thus established enabled the process to be safely shortened; but it was still at the option of every one to raise a full discussion on any particular reading, and the option was freely used. On the first revision, in accordance with the fifth rule, the decisions were arrived at by simple majorities. On the second revision, at which a majority of two thirds was required to retain or introduce a reading at variance with the reading presumed to underlie the Authorised Version, many readings previously adopted were brought again into debate, and either re-affirmed or set aside.

Many places still remain in which, for the present, it would not be safe to accept one reading to the absolute exclusion of others. In these cases we have given alternative readings in the margin, wherever they seem to be of sufficient importance or interest to deserve notice. In the introductory formula, the phrases 'many ancient authorities,' 'some ancient authorities,' are used with some latitude to denote a greater or lesser proportion of those authorities which have a distinctive right to be called ancient. These ancient authorities comprise not only Greek manuscripts, some of which were written in the fourth and fifth centuries, but versions of a still earlier date in different languages, and also quotations by Christian writers of the second and following centuries.

2. We pass now from the Text to the Translation. The character of the Revision was determined for us from the outset by the first rule, 'to introduce as few alterations as possible, consistently with faithfulness.' Our task was revision, not re-translation.

In the application however of this principle to the many and intricate details of our work, we have found ourselves constrained by faithfulness to introduce changes which might not at first sight appear to be included under the rule.

The alterations which we have made in the Authorised Version may be roughly grouped in five principal classes. First, alterations positively required by change of reading in the Greek Text. Secondly, alterations made where the Authorised Version appeared either to be incorrect, or to have chosen the less probable of two possible renderings. Thirdly, alterations of obscure or ambiguous renderings into such as are clear and express in their import. For it has been our principle not to leave any translation, or any arrangement of words, which could adapt itself to one or other of two interpretations, but rather to express as plainly as was possible that interpretation which seemed best to deserve a place in the text, and to put the other in the margin.

There remain yet two other classes of alterations which we have felt to be required by the same principle of faithfulness. These are,—Fourthly, alterations of the Authorised Version in cases where it was inconsistent with itself in the rendering of two or more passages confessedly alike or parallel. Fifthly, alterations rendered necessary by consequence, that is, arising out of changes already made, though not in themselves required by the general rule of faithfulness. Both these classes of alterations call for some further explanation.

The frequent inconsistencies in the Authorised Version have caused us much embarrassment from the fact already referred to, namely, that a studied variety of rendering, even in the same chapter and context, was a kind of principle with our predecessors, and was defended by them on grounds that have been mentioned above. The problem we had to solve was to discriminate between varieties of rendering which were compatible with fidelity to the true meaning of the text, and varieties which involved inconsistency, and were suggestive of differences that had no existence in the Greek. This problem we have solved to the best of our power, and for the most part in the following way.

Where there was a doubt as to the exact shade of meaning, we have looked to the context for guidance. If the meaning was fairly expressed by the word or phrase that was before us in the Authorised Version, we made no change, even where rigid adherence to the rule of translating, as far as possible, the same Greek word by the same English word might have prescribed some modification.

There are however numerous passages in the Authorised Version in which, whether regard be had to the recurrence (as in the first three Gospels) of identical clauses and sentences, to the repetition of the same word in the same passage, or to the characteristic use of particular words by the same writer, the studied variety adopted by the Translators of 1611 has produced a degree of inconsistency that cannot be reconciled with the principle of faithfulness. In such cases we have not hesitated to introduce alterations, even though the sense might not seem to the general reader to be materially affected.

The last class of alterations is that which we have described as rendered necessary by consequence; that is, by reason of some foregoing alteration. The cases in which these consequential changes have been found necessary are numerous and of very different kinds. Sometimes the change has been made to avoid tautology; sometimes to obviate an unpleasing alliteration or some other infelicity of sound; sometimes, in the case of smaller words, to preserve the familiar rhythm; sometimes for a convergence of reasons which, when explained, would at once be accepted, but until so explained might never be surmised even by intelligent readers.

This may be made plain by an example. When a particular word is found to recur with characteristic frequency in any one of the Sacred Writers, it is obviously desirable to adopt for it some uniform rendering. Again, where, as in the case of the first three Evangelists, precisely the same clauses or sentences are found in more than one of the Gospels, it is no less necessary to translate them in every place in the same way. These two principles may be illustrated by reference to a word that perpetually recurs in St. Mark's Gospel, and that may be translated either 'straightway,' 'forthwith,' or 'immediately.' Let it be supposed that the first rendering is chosen, and that the word, in accordance with the first of the above principles, is in that Gospel uniformly translated 'straightway.' Let it be further supposed that one of the passages of St. Mark in which it is so translated is found, word for word, in one of the other Gospels, but that there the rendering of the Authorised Version happens to be 'forthwith' or 'immediately.' That rendering must be changed on the second of the above principles; and yet such a change would not have been made but for this concurrence of two sound principles, and the consequent necessity of making a change on grounds extraneous to the passage itself.

This is but one of many instances of consequential alterations which might at first sight appear unnecessary, but which nevertheless have been deliberately made, and are not at variance with the rule of introducing as few changes in the Authorised Version as faithfulness would allow.

There are some other points of detail which it may be here convenient to notice. One of these, and perhaps the most important, is the rendering of the Greek aorist. There are numerous cases, especially in connexion with particles ordinarily expressive of present time, in which the use of the indefinite past tense in Greek and English is altogether different; and in such instances we have not attempted to violate the idiom of our language by forms of expression which it could not bear. But we have often ventured to represent the Greek aorist by the English preterite, even where the reader may find some passing difficulty in such a rendering, because we have felt convinced that the true meaning of the original was obscured by the presence of the familiar auxiliary. A remarkable illustration may be found in the seventeenth chapter of St. John's Gospel, where the combination of the aorist and the perfect shews, beyond all reasonable doubt, that different relations of time were intended to be expressed.

Changes of translation will also be found in connexion with the aorist participle, arising from the fact that the usual periphrasis of this participle in the Vulgate, which was rendered necessary by Latin idiom, has been largely reproduced in the Authorised Version by 'when' with the past tense (as for example in the second chapter of St. Matthew's Gospel), even where the ordinary participial rendering would have been easier and more natural in English.

In reference to the perfect and the imperfect tenses but little needs to be said. The correct translation of the former has been for the most part, though with some striking exceptions, maintained in the Authorised Version: while with regard to the imperfect, clear as its meaning may be in the Greek, the power of expressing it is so limited in English, that we have been frequently compelled to leave the force of the tense to be inferred from the context. In a few instances, where faithfulness imperatively required it, and especially where, in the Greek, the significance of the imperfect tense seemed to be additionally marked by the use of the participle with the auxiliary verb, we have introduced the corresponding form in English. Still, in the great majority of cases we have been obliged to retain the English preterite, and to rely either on slight changes in the order of the words, or on prominence given to the accompanying temporal particles, for the indication of the meaning which, in the Greek, the imperfect tense was designed to convey.

On other points of grammar it may be sufficient to speak more briefly.

Many changes, as might be anticipated, have been made in the case of the definite article. Here again it was necessary to consider the peculiarities of English idiom, as well as the general tenor of each passage. Sometimes we have felt it enough to prefix the article to the first of a series of words to all of which it is prefixed in the Greek, and thus, as it were, to impart the idea of definiteness to the whole series, without running the risk of overloading the sentence. Sometimes, conversely, we have had to tolerate the presence of the definite article in our Version, when it is absent from the Greek, and perhaps not even grammatically latent; simply because English idiom would not allow the noun to stand alone, and because the introduction of the indefinite article might have introduced an idea of oneness or individuality, which was not in any degree traceable in the original. In a word, we have been careful to observe the use of the article wherever it seemed to be idiomatically possible: where it did not seem to be possible, we have yielded to necessity.

As to the pronouns and the place they occupy in the sentence, a subject often overlooked by our predecessors, we have been particularly careful; but here again we have frequently been baffled by structural or idiomatic peculiarities of the English language which precluded changes otherwise desirable.

In the case of the particles we have met with less difficulty, and have been able to maintain a reasonable amount of consistency. The particles in the Greek Testament are, as is well known, comparatively few, and they are commonly used with precision. It has therefore been the more necessary here to preserve a general uniformity of rendering, especially in the case of the particles of causality and inference, so far as English idiom would allow.

Lastly, many changes have been introduced in the rendering of the prepositions, especially where ideas of instrumentality or of mediate agency, distinctly marked in the original, had been confused or obscured in the translation. We have however borne in mind the comprehensive character of such prepositions as 'of' and 'by,' the one in reference to agency and the other in reference to means, especially in the English of the seventeenth century; and have rarely made any change where the true meaning of the original as expressed in the Authorised Version would be apparent to a reader of ordinary intelligence.

3. We now come to the subject of Language.

The second of the rules, by which the work has been governed, prescribed that the alterations to be introduced should be expressed, as far as possible, in the language of the Authorised Version or of the Versions that preceded it.

To this rule we have faithfully adhered. We have habitually consulted the earlier Versions; and in our sparing introduction of words not found in them or in the Authorised Version we have usually satisfied ourselves that such words were employed by standard writers of nearly the same date, and had also that general hue which justified their introduction into a Version which has held the highest place in the classical literature of our language. We have never removed any archaisms, whether in structure or in words, except where we were persuaded either that the meaning of the words was not generally understood, or that the nature of the expression led to some misconception of the true sense of the passage. The frequent inversions of the strict order of the words, which add much to the strength and variety of the Authorised Version, and give an archaic colour to many felicities of diction, have been seldom modified. Indeed, we have often adopted the same arrangement in our own alterations; and in this, as in other particulars, we have sought to assimilate the new work to the old.

In a few exceptional cases we have failed to find any word in the older stratum of our language that appeared to convey the precise meaning of the original. There, and there only, we have used words of a later date; but not without having first assured ourselves that they are to be found in the writings of the best authors of the period to which they belong.

In regard of Proper Names no rule was prescribed to us. In the case of names of frequent occurrence we have deemed it best to follow generally the rule laid down for our predecessors. That rule, it may be remembered, was to this effect, 'The names of the prophets and the holy writers, with the other names of the text, to be retained, as high as may be, accordingly as they were vulgarly used.' Some difficulty has been felt in dealing with names less familiarly known. Here our general practice has been to follow the Greek form of names, except in the case of persons and places mentioned in the Old Testament: in this case we have followed the Hebrew.

4. The subject of the Marginal Notes deserves special attention. They represent the results of a large amount of careful and elaborate discussion, and will, perhaps, by their very presence, indicate to some extent the intricacy of many of the questions that have almost daily come before us for decision. These Notes fall into four main groups: first, notes specifying such differences of reading as were judged to be of sufficient importance to require a particular notice; secondly, notes indicating the exact rendering of words to which, for the sake of English idiom, we were obliged to give a less exact rendering in the text; thirdly, notes, very few in number, affording some explanation which the original appeared to require; fourthly, alternative renderings in difficult or debateable passages. The notes of this last group are numerous, and largely in excess of those which were admitted by our predecessors. In the 270 years that have passed away since their labours were concluded, the Sacred Text has been minutely examined, discussed in every detail, and analysed with a grammatical precision unknown in the days of the last Revision. There has thus been accumulated a large amount of materials that have prepared the way for different renderings, which necessarily came under discussion. We have therefore placed before the reader in the margin other renderings than those which were adopted in the text, wherever such renderings seemed to deserve consideration. The rendering in the text, where it agrees with the Authorised Version, was supported by at least one third, and, where it differs from the Authorised Version, by at least two thirds of those who were present at the second revision of the passage in question.

A few supplementary matters have yet to be mentioned. These may be thus enumerated,—the use of Italics, the arrangement in Paragraphs, the mode of printing Quotations from the Poetical Books of the Old Testament, the Punctuation, and, last of all, the Titles of the different Books that make up the New Testament,—all of them particulars on which it seems desirable to add a few explanatory remarks.

has not been by any means easy; nor can we hope to be found in all cases perfectly consistent. In the earliest editions of the Authorised Version the use of a different type to indicate supplementary words not contained in the original was not very frequent, and cannot easily be reconciled with any settled principle. A review of the words so printed was made, after a lapse of some years, for the editions of the Authorised Version published at Cambridge in 1629 and 1638. Further, though slight, modifications were introduced at intervals between 1638 and the more systematic revisions undertaken respectively by Dr. Paris in the Cambridge Edition of 1762, and by Dr. Blayney in the Oxford Edition of 1769. None of them however rest on any higher authority than that of the persons who from time to time superintended the publication. The last attempt to bring the use of italics into uniformity and consistency was made by Dr. Scrivener in the Paragraph Bible published at Cambridge in 1870-73. In succeeding to these labours, we have acted on the general principle of printing in italics words which did not appear to be necessarily involved in the Greek. Our tendency has been to diminish rather than to increase the amount of italic printing; though, in the case of difference of readings, we have usually marked the absence of any words in the original which the sense might nevertheless require to be present in the Version; and again, in the case of inserted pronouns, where the reference did not appear to be perfectly certain, we have similarly had recourse to italics. Some of these cases, especially when there are slight differences of reading, are of singular intricacy, and make it impossible to maintain rigid uniformity.

(b) We have arranged the Sacred Text in paragraphs, after the precedent of the earliest English Versions, so as to assist the general reader in following the current of narrative or argument. The present arrangement will be found, we trust, to have preserved the due mean between a system of long portions which must often include several separate topics, and a system of frequent breaks which, though they may correctly indicate the separate movements of thought in the writer, often seriously impede a just perception of the true continuity of the passage. The traditional division into chapters, which the Authorised Version inherited from Latin Bibles of the later middle ages, is an illustration of the former method. These paragraphs, for such in fact they are, frequently include several distinct subjects. Moreover they sometimes, though rarely, end where there is no sufficient break in the sense. The division of chapters into verses, which was introduced into the New Testament for the first time in 1551, is an exaggeration of the latter method, with its accompanying inconveniences. The serious obstacles to the right understanding of Holy Scripture, which are interposed by minute subdivision, are often overlooked; but if any one will consider for a moment the injurious effect that would be produced by breaking up a portion of some great standard work into separate verses, he will at once perceive how necessary has been an alteration in this particular. The arrangement by chapters and verses undoubtedly affords facilities for reference; but this advantage we have been able to retain by placing the numerals on the inside margin of each page.

(c) A few words will suffice as to the mode of printing quotations from the Poetical Books of the Old Testament. Wherever the quotation extends to two or more lines, our practice has been to recognise the parallelism of their structure by arranging the lines in a manner that appears to agree with the metrical divisions of the Hebrew original. Such an arrangement will be found helpful to the reader; not only as directing his attention to the poetical character of the quotation, but as also tending to make its force and pertinence more fully felt. We have treated in the same way the hymns in the first two chapters of the Gospel according to St. Luke.

(d) Great care has been bestowed on the punctuation. Our practice has been to maintain what is sometimes called the heavier system of stopping, or, in other words, that system which, especially for convenience in reading aloud, suggests such pauses as will best ensure a clear and intelligent setting forth of the true meaning of the words. This course has rendered necessary, especially in the Epistles, a larger use of colons and semicolons than is customary in modern English printing.

(e) We may in the last place notice one particular to which we were not expressly directed to extend our revision, namely, the titles of the Books of the New Testament. These titles are no part of the original text; and the titles found in the most ancient manuscripts are of too short a form to be convenient for use. Under these circumstances, we have deemed it best to leave unchanged the titles which are given in the Authorised Version as printed in 1611.

We now conclude, humbly commending our labours to Almighty God, and praying that his favour and blessing may be vouchsafed to that which has been done in his name. We recognised from the first the responsibility of the undertaking; and through our manifold experience of its abounding difficulties we have felt more and more, as we went onward, that such a work can never be accomplished by organised efforts of scholarship and criticism, unless assisted by Divine help.

We know full well that defects must have their place in a work so long and so arduous as this which has now come to an end. Blemishes and imperfections there are in the noble Translation which we have been called upon to revise; blemishes and imperfections will assuredly be found in our own Revision. All endeavours to translate the Holy Scriptures into another tongue must fall short of their aim, when the obligation is imposed of producing a Version that shall be alike literal and idiomatic, faithful to each thought of the original, and yet, in the expression of it, harmonious and free. While we dare to hope that in places not a few of the New Testament the introduction of slight changes has cast a new light upon much that was difficult and obscure, we cannot forget how often we have failed in expressing some finer shade of meaning which we recognised in the original, how often idiom has stood in the way of a perfect rendering, and how often the attempt to preserve a familiar form of words, or even a familiar cadence, has only added another perplexity to those which already beset us.

Thus, in the review of the work which we have been permitted to complete, our closing words must be words of mingled thanksgiving, humility, and prayer. Of thanksgiving, for the many blessings vouchsafed to us throughout the unbroken progress of our corporate labours; of humility, for our failings and imperfections in the fulfilment of our task; and of prayer to Almighty God, that the Gospel of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ may be more clearly and more freshly shewn forth to all who shall be readers of this Book.

¹⁰ Or, Holy Spirit: and so throughout this book.

1 ¹THE book of the ²generation of Jesus Christ, the son of David, the son of Abraham.

2 Abraham begat Isaac; and Isaac begat Jacob; and Jacob begat Judah and 3 his brethren; and Judah begat Perez and Zerah of Tamar; and Perez begat 4 Hezron; and Hezron begat ⁵Ram; and ⁶Ram begat Amminadab; and Amminadab begat Nahshon; and Nahshon 5 begat Salmon; and Salmon begat Boaz of Rahab; and Boaz begat Obed of 6 Ruth; and Obed begat Jesse; and Jesse begat David the king.

And David begat Solomon of her that had been the wife of Uriah; and Solomon begat Rehoboam; and Rehoboam begat Abijah; and Abijah begat ⁴Asa; 8 and ⁴Asa begat Jehoshaphat; and Jehoshaphat begat Joram; and Joram begat Uzziah; and Uzziah begat Jotham; and Jotham begat Ahaz; and Ahaz 10 begat Hezekiah; and Hezekiah begat Manasseh; and Manasseh begat ⁵A- 11 mon; and ⁶Amon begat Josiah; and Josiah begat Jechoniah and his brethren, at the time of the ⁶carrying away to Babylon.

12 And after the ⁶carrying away to Babylon, Jechoniah begat ⁷Shealtiel; and 13 ⁷Shealtiel begat Zerubbabel; and Zerubbabel begat Abiud; and Abiud begat 14 Eliakim; and Eliakim begat Azor; and Azor begat Sadoc; and Sadoc begat 15 Achim; and Achim begat Eliud; and Eliud begat Eleazar; and Eleazar begat Matthan; and Matthan begat Jacob; 16 and Jacob begat Joseph the husband of Mary, of whom was born Jesus, who is called Christ.

17 So all the generations from Abraham unto David are fourteen generations; and from David unto the ⁶carrying away to Babylon fourteen generations; and from the ⁶carrying away to Babylon unto the Christ fourteen generations.

18 Now the ⁸birth ⁹of Jesus Christ was on this wise: When his mother Mary had been betrothed to Joseph, before they came together she was found with 19 child of the ¹⁰Holy Ghost. And Joseph her husband, being a righteous man, and not willing to make her a public example, was minded to put her away 20 privily. But when he thought on these things, behold, an angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Joseph, thou son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife: for that which is ¹¹conceived in her is of the 21 Holy Ghost. And she shall bring forth a son; and thou shalt call his name Jesus; for it is he that shall save his 22 people from their sins. Now all this is come to pass, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Lord through the prophet, saying, which is, being interpreted, God with 24 us. And Joseph arose from his sleep, and did as the angel of the Lord commanded him, and took unto him his 25 wife; and knew her not till she had brought forth a son: and he called his name Jesus.

2 Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judaea in the days of Herod the king, behold, ¹³wise men from the east 2 came to Jerusalem, saying, ¹⁴Where is he that is born King of the Jews? for we saw his star in the east, and are 3 come to worship him. And when Herod the king heard it, he was troubled, and 4 all Jerusalem with him. And gathering together all the chief priests and scribes of the people, he inquired of them where 5 the Christ should be born. And they said unto him, In Bethlehem of Judaea: for thus it is written ¹⁵by the prophet,

6 And thou Bethlehem, land of Judah, Art in no wise least among the princes of Judah:

For out of thee shall come forth a governor, Which shall be shepherd of my people Israel.

7 Then Herod privily called the ¹³wise men, and learned of them carefully 8 ¹⁶what time the star appeared. And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, Go and search out carefully concerning the young child; and when ye have found him, bring me word, that I also may 9 come and worship him. And they, having heard the king, went their way; and lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was.

10 And when they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy. And they came into the house and saw the young child with Mary his mother; and they fell down and worshipped him; and opening their treasures they offered unto him gifts, gold and

13 Now when they were departed, behold, an angel of the Lord appeareth to Joseph in a dream, saying, Arise and take the young child and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be thou there until I tell thee: for Herod will seek the young

14 child to destroy him. And he arose and took the young child and his mother by 15 night, and departed into Egypt; and was there until the death of Herod: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Lord through the prophet, saying,

16 Out of Egypt did I call my son. Then Herod, when he saw that he was mocked of the ¹wise men, was exceeding wroth, and sent forth, and slew all the male children that were in Bethlehem, and in all the borders thereof, from two years old and under, according to the time which he had carefully learned of the ¹wise men.

17 Then was fulfilled that which was spoken ²by Jeremiah the prophet, saying,

18 A voice was heard in Ramah, Weeping and great mourning, Rachel weeping for her children; And she would not be comforted, because they are not.

19 But when Herod was dead, behold, an angel of the Lord appeareth in a dream

20 to Joseph in Egypt, saying, Arise and take the young child and his mother, and go into the land of Israel: for they are dead that sought the young child's

21 life. And he arose and took the young child and his mother, and came into

22 the land of Israel. But when he heard that Archelaus was reigning over Judaea in the room of his father Herod, he was afraid to go thither; and being warned of God in a dream, he with-

23 drew into the parts of Galilee, and came and dwelt in a city called Nazareth: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken ²by the prophets, that he should be called a Nazarene.

3 And in those days cometh John the Baptist, preaching in the wilderness of Judaea, saying, Repent ye; for the 3 kingdom of heaven is at hand. For this is he that was spoken of ²by Isaiah the prophet, saying,

The voice of one crying in the wilderness,

Make ye ready the way of the Lord, Make his paths straight.

4 Now John himself had his raiment of camel's hair, and a leathern girdle about his loins; and his food was lo-

5 custs and wild honey. Then went out unto him Jerusalem, and all Judaea, and all the region round about Jordan; and they were baptized of him in the river Jordan, confessing their sins.

7 But when he saw many of the Pharisees and Sadducees coming to his baptism, he said unto them, Ye offspring of vipers, who warned you to flee from

8 the wrath to come? Bring forth therefore fruit worthy of ⁸repentance: and think not to say within yourselves, We have Abraham to our father: for I say unto you, that God is able of these stones to raise up children unto Abraham. And even now is the axe laid unto the root of the trees: every tree therefore that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire.

11 I indeed baptize you ⁴with water unto repentance: but he that cometh after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not ⁵worthy to bear: he shall baptize you ⁴with the Holy Ghost and 12 with fire: whose fan is in his hand, and he will thoroughly cleanse his threshing-floor; and he will gather his wheat into the garner, but the chaff he will burn up with unquenchable fire.

13 Then cometh Jesus from Galilee to the Jordan unto John, to be baptized

14 of him. But John would have hindered him, saying, I have need to be baptized of thee, and comest thou to me?

15 But Jesus answering said unto him, Suffer ⁶it now: for thus it becometh us to fulfil all righteousness. Then

16 he suffereth him. And Jesus, when he was baptized, went up straightway from the water: and lo, the heavens were opened ⁷unto him, and he saw the Spirit of God descending as a

17 dove, and coming upon him; and lo, a voice out of the heavens, saying,

⁸This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

4 Then was Jesus led up of the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted of the devil. And when he had fasted forty days and forty nights, he after-

3 ward hungered. And the tempter came and said unto him, If thou art the Son of God, command that these stones be-

4 come ⁹bread. But he answered and said, It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.

5 Then the devil taketh him into the holy city; and he set him on the ¹⁰ pinnacle of the temple, and saith unto him, If thou art the Son of God, cast thyself down: for it is written,

He shall give his angels charge concerning thee:

And on their hands they shall bear thee up,

Lest haply thou dash thy foot against a stone.

7 Jesus said unto him, Again it is written, Thou shalt not tempt the 11 serve. Then the devil leaveth him; and behold, angels came and ministered unto him.

12 Now when he heard that John was de-
13 livered up, he withdrew into Galilee; and leaving Nazareth, he came and dwelt in Capernaum, which is by the sea, in the borders of Zebulun and Naphtali:
14 that it might be fulfilled which was spoken ¹ by Isaiah the prophet, saying,
15 The land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali,

² Toward the sea, beyond Jordan, Galilee of the ³ Gentiles,

16 The people which sat in darkness Saw a great light,
And to them which sat in the region and shadow of death,
To them did light spring up.

17 From that time began Jesus to preach, and to say, Repent ye; for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

18 And walking by the sea of Galilee, he saw two brethren, Simon who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea; for they were fishers.

19 And he saith unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you fishers of men.

20 And they straightway left the nets, and 21 followed him. And going on from thence he saw other two brethren, ⁴ James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, in the boat with Zebedee their father, mending their nets; and he called 22 them. And they straightway left the boat and their father, and followed him.

23 And ⁵ Jesus went about in all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the ⁶ gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of disease and all manner of sickness among the 24 people. And the report of him went forth into all Syria: and they brought unto him all that were sick, holden with divers diseases and torments, ⁷ possessed with devils, and epileptic, and palsied; and he healed them. And there followed him great multitudes from Galilee and Decapolis and Jerusalem and Judæa and from beyond Jordan.

5 And seeing the multitudes, he went up into the mountain: and when he had sat down, his disciples came unto him:
2 and he opened his mouth and taught them, saying,

3 Blessed are the poor in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.
4 ⁸ Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted.

5 Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth.

6 Blessed are they that hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled.

7 Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy.

8 Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God.

9 Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called sons of God.

10 Blessed are they that have been persecuted for righteousness' sake: for 11 theirs is the kingdom of heaven. Blessed are ye when men shall reproach you, and persecute you, and say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake.

12 Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven: for so persecuted they the prophets which were before you.

13 Ye are the salt of the earth: but if the salt have lost its savour, wherewith shall it be salted? it is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out and trod-
14 den under foot of men. Ye are the light of the world. A city set on a hill cannot 15 be hid. Neither do men light a lamp, and put it under the bushel, but on the stand; and it shineth unto all that are 16 in the house. Even so let your light shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven.

17 Think not that I came to destroy the law or the prophets: I came not to de-
18 stroy, but to fulfil. For verily I say unto you, Till heaven and earth pass away, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass away from the law, till all things be ac-
19 complished. Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, shall be called least in the kingdom of heaven: but whosoever shall do and teach them, he shall be called great in the kingdom 20 of heaven. For I say unto you, that except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no wise enter into the kingdom of heaven.

21 Ye have heard that it was said to them of old time, Thou shalt not kill; and whosoever shall kill shall be in dan-
22 ger of the judgement: but I say unto you, that every one who is angry with his brother ⁹ shall be in danger of the judgement; and whosoever shall say to his brother, ¹⁰ Raca, shall be in danger of the council; and whosoever shall say, 11 Thou fool, shall be in danger ¹² of the 23 hell of fire. If therefore thou art offering thy gift at the altar, and there re-memberest that thy brother hath aught
24 against thee, leave there thy gift before the altar, and go thy way, first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come
25 and offer thy gift. Agree with thine adversary quickly, while thou art with him in the way; lest haply the adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge ¹⁴ deliver thee to the officer, and thou be cast 26 into prison. Verily I say unto thee, Thou shalt by no means come out thence, till thou have paid the last farthing.

27 Ye have heard that it was said, Thou shalt not commit adultery: but I say unto you, that every one that looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart. And if thy right eye causeth thee to stumble, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not

30 thy whole body be cast into ¹hell. And if thy right hand causeth thee to stumble, cut it off, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not thy whole body go into ¹hell. It was said also, Whosoever shall put away his wife, let him give her a writing of divorce: ²ment: but I say unto you, that every one that putteth away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, maketh her an adulteress: and whosoever shall marry her when she is put away committeth adultery.

33 Again, ye have heard that it was said to them of old time, Thou shalt not forswear thyself, but shalt perform unto the Lord thine oaths: but I say unto you, Swear not at all; neither by the heaven, for it is the throne of God; nor by the earth, for it is the footstool of his feet; nor ²by Jerusalem, for it is the city of the great King. Neither shalt thou swear by thy head, for thou canst not make one hair white or black. ³But let your speech be, Yea, yea; Nay, nay: and whatsoever is more than these is of ⁴the evil one.

38 Ye have heard that it was said, An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth: but I say unto you, Resist not ⁵him that is evil: but whosoever smiteth thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also.

40 And if any man would go to law with thee, and take away thy coat, let him have thy cloke also. And whosoever shall ⁶compel thee to go one mile, go with him twain. Give to him that asketh thee, and from him that would borrow of thee turn not thou away.

43 Ye have heard that it was said, Thou shalt love thy neighbour, and hate thine enemy: but I say unto you, Love your enemies, and pray for them that persecute you; that ye may be sons of your Father which is in heaven: for he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and the good, and sendeth rain on the just and the unjust. For if ye love them that love you, what reward have ye? do not even the ⁷publicans the same? And if ye salute your brethren only, what do ye more than others? do not even the Gentiles the same? Ye therefore shall be perfect, as your heavenly Father is perfect.

6 Take heed that ye do not your righteousness before men, to be seen of them: else ye have no reward with your Father which is in heaven.

2 When therefore thou doest alms, sound not a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may have glory of men. Verily I say unto you, They have received their reward. But when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth: that thine alms may be in secret: and thy Father which seeth in secret shall recompense thee.

5 And when ye pray, ye shall not be as the hypocrites: for they love to stand and pray in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, They have received their reward. But thou,

when thou prayest, enter into thine inner chamber, and having shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret, and thy Father which seeth in secret shall recompense thee. And in praying use not vain repetitions, as the Gentiles do: for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking.

8 Be not therefore like unto them: for ⁸your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him. After this manner therefore pray ye: Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, as in heaven, so on earth.

11 Give us this day ⁹our daily bread. And forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors. And bring us not into temptation, but deliver us from ¹⁰the evil one.

11 For if ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you. But if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

16 Moreover when ye fast, be not, as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance: for they disfigure their faces, that they may be seen of men to fast. Verily I say unto you, They have received their reward. But thou, when thou fastest, adorn not thy head, and wash thy face; that thou be not seen of men to fast, but of thy Father which is in secret: and thy Father, which seeth in secret, shall recompense thee.

19 Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon the earth, where moth and rust doth consume, and where thieves ¹²break through and steal: but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth consume, and where thieves do not ¹²break through nor steal: for where thy treasure is, there will thy heart be also. 24 No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God

25 and mammon. Therefore I say unto you, Be not anxious for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than the food, and

26 the body than the raiment? Behold the birds of the heaven, that they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; and your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are not ye of much more

27 value than they? And which of you by being anxious can add one cubit

28 unto his ¹ stature? And why are ye anxious concerning raiment? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin:

29 yet I say unto you, that even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed

30 like one of these. But if God doth so clothe the grass of the field, which to-day is, and to-morrow is cast into the oven, shall he not much more

31 clothe you, O ye of little faith? Be not therefore anxious, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, Wherewithal shall we be

32 clothed? For after all these things do the Gentiles seek; for your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have

33 need of all these things. But seek ye first his kingdom, and his righteousness; and all these things shall 34 be added unto you. Be not therefore anxious for the morrow: for the morrow will be anxious for itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof.

7 Judge not, that ye be not judged.

2 For with what judgement ye judge, ye shall be judged: and with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured

3 unto you. And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but considerest not the beam that is in

4 thine own eye? Or how wilt thou say to thy brother, Let me cast out the mote out of thine eye; and lo,

5 the beam is in thine own eye? Thou hypocrite, cast out first the beam out of thine own eye; and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brother's eye.

6 Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast your pearls before the swine, lest haply they trample them under their feet, and turn and rend you.

7 Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be

8 opened unto you: for every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened. Or what man is there of you, who, if his son shall ask him for a loaf, will give him a stone;

10 or if he shall ask for a fish, will

11 give him a serpent? If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your Father which is in heaven give good things to them that 12 ask him? All things therefore whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, even so do ye also unto them: for this is the law and the prophets.

13 Enter ye in by the narrow gate: for wide ² is the gate, and broad is the way,

14 that leadeth to destruction, and many be they that enter in thereby. ³ For narrow is the gate, and straitened the way, that leadeth unto life, and few be they that find it.

15 Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly

16 are ravening wolves. By their fruits ye shall know them. Do men gather grapes

17 of thorns, or figs of thistles? Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit; but the corrupt tree bringeth forth

18 evil fruit. A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree

19 bring forth good fruit. Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn

20 down, and cast into the fire. Therefore

21 by their fruits ye shall know them. Not every one that saith unto me, Lord,

Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my

22 Father which is in heaven. Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy by thy name, and by thy name cast out ⁴ devils, and by thy name do many ⁵ mighty works?

And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work

24 iniquity. Every one therefore which heareth these words of mine, and doeth them, shall be likened unto a wise man,

25 which built his house upon the rock: and the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded

26 upon the rock. And every one that heareth these words of mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man, which built his house upon the sand:

27 and the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and smote upon that house; and it fell: and great was the fall thereof.

28 And it came to pass, when Jesus ended these words, the multitudes were as-

29 tonished at his teaching: for he taught them as one having authority, and not as their scribes.

8 And when he was come down from the mountain, great multitudes followed

2 him. And behold, there came to him a leper and worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make

5 And when he was entered into Capernaum, there came unto him a cen-6 turion, beseeching him, and saying,
Lord, my ¹servant lieth in the house sick of the palsy, grievously tor-7 mented. And he saith unto him, I 8 will come and heal him. And the cen-turion answered and said, Lord, I am not ²worthy that thou shouldst come under my roof: but only say ³the word, and my ¹servant shall be 9 healed. For I also am a man ⁴under authority, having under myself soldiers: and I say to this one, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my ⁵servant, Do 10 this, and he doeth it. And when Jesus heard it, he marvelled, and said to them that followed, Verily I say unto you, ⁶I have not found so great faith,

11 no, not in Israel. And I say unto you, that many shall come from the east and the west, and shall ⁷sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, 12 in the kingdom of heaven: but the sons of the kingdom shall be cast forth into the outer darkness: there shall be 13 the weeping and gnashing of teeth. And Jesus said unto the centurion, Go thy way; as thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee. And the ¹servant was healed in that hour.

14 And when Jesus was come into Peter's house, he saw his wife's mother lying 15 sick of a fever. And he touched her hand, and the fever left her; and she arose, 16 and ministered unto him. And when even was come, they brought unto him many ⁸possessed with devils: and he cast out the spirits with a word, 17 and healed all that were sick: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken ⁹by Isaiah the prophet, saying, Himself took our infirmities, and bare our diseases.

18 Now when Jesus saw great multitudes about him, he gave commandment to de-19 part unto the other side. And there came ¹⁰a scribe, and said unto him, ¹¹Master,
I will follow thee whithersoever thou 20 goest. And Jesus saith unto him, The foxes have holes, and the birds of the heaven have ¹²nests; but the Son of man 21 hath not where to lay his head. And another of the disciples said unto him,
Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my 22 father. But Jesus saith unto him, Follow me; and leave the dead to bury their own dead.

23 And when he was entered into a boat,
24 his disciples followed him. And behold,
there arose a great tempest in the sea,

insomuch that the boat was covered 25 with the waves: but he was asleep. And they came to him, and awoke him, say-26 ing, Save, Lord; we perish. And he saith unto them, Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith? Then he arose, and rebuked the winds and the sea; and 27 there was a great calm. And the men marvelled, saying, What manner of man is this, that even the winds and the sea obey him?

28 And when he was come to the other side into the country of the Gadarenes, there met him two ⁶possessed with devils, coming forth out of the tombs, exceeding fierce, so that no man could pass by 29 that way. And behold, they cried out, saying, What have we to do with thee,
thou Son of God? art thou come hither 30 to torment us before the time? Now there was afar off from them a herd of 31 many swine feeding. And the ¹³devils besought him, saying, If thou cast us out, send us away into the herd of 32 swine. And he said unto them, Go.
And they came out, and went into the swine: and behold, the whole herd rushed down the steep into the sea, 33 and perished in the waters. And they that fed them fled, and went away into the city, and told everything, and what was befallen to them that were ⁶pos-34 sessed with devils. And behold, all the city came out to meet Jesus: and when they saw him, they besought him that he would depart from their borders.

9 And he entered into a boat, and crossed 2 over, and came into his own city. And behold, they brought to him a man sick of the palsy, lying on a bed: and Jesus seeing their faith said unto the sick of the palsy, ¹⁴Son, be of good cheer; thy 3 sins are forgiven. And behold, certain of the scribes said within themselves,
4 This man blasphemeth. And Jesus ¹⁵knowing their thoughts said, Where-5 fore think ye evil in your hearts? For whether is easier, to say, Thy sins are forgiven; or to say, Arise, and walk?
6 But that ye may know that the Son of man hath ¹⁶power on earth to forgive sins (then saith he to the sick of the palsy), Arise, and take up thy bed, and 7 go unto thy house. And he arose, and 8 departed to his house. But when the multitudes saw it, they were afraid, and glorified God, which had given such ¹⁶power unto men.

9 And as Jesus passed by from thence,
he saw a man, called Matthew, sitting at the place of toll: and he saith unto him, Follow me. And he arose, and followed
him.

10 And it came to pass, as he ¹⁷sat at meat in the house, behold, many publicans and sinners came and sat down with Jesus and his disciples.
11 And when the Pharisees saw it,
they said unto his disciples, Why

But when he heard it, he said, They that are ² whole have no need of a physician, but they that are sick. 13 But go ye and learn what this meaneth, I desire mercy, and not sacrifice: for I came not to call the righteous, but sinners. 14 Then come to him the disciples of John, saying, Why do we and the Pharisees fast ³ oft, but thy disciples 15 fast not? And Jesus said unto them, Can the sons of the bride-chamber mourn, as long as the bridegroom is with them? but the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and then will they 16 fast. And no man putteth a piece of mudded cloth upon an old garment; for that which should fill it up taketh from the garment, and a worse rent is 17 made. Neither do men put new wine into old wine-skins: else the skins burst, and the wine is spilled, and the skins perish: but they put new wine into fresh wine-skins, and both are preserved. 18 While he spake these things unto them, behold, there came ⁵ a ruler, and worshipped him, saying, My daughter is even now dead: but come and lay thy hand upon her, and she shall 19 live. And Jesus arose, and followed 20 him, and so did his disciples. And behold, a woman, who had an issue of blood twelve years, came behind him, and touched the border of his garment: for she said within herself, If I do but touch his garment, I shall be 22 ⁶ made whole. But Jesus turning and seeing her said, Daughter, be of good cheer; thy faith hath ⁷ made thee whole. And the woman was ⁶ made 23 whole from that hour. And when Jesus came into the ruler's house, and saw the flute-players, and the crowd 24 making a tumult, he said, Give place: for the damsel is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to scorn. 25 But when the crowd was put forth, he entered in, and took her by the 26 hand; and the damsel arose. And ⁸ the fame hereof went forth into all that land. 27 And as Jesus passed by from thence, two blind men followed him, crying out, and saying, Have mercy on us, 28 thou son of David. And when he was come into the house, the blind men came to him: and Jesus saith unto them, Believe ye that I am able to do this? They say unto him, Yea, 29 Lord. Then touched he their eyes, saying, According to your faith be it 30 done unto you. And their eyes were opened. And Jesus ⁹ strictly charged them, saying, See that no man know it. 31 But they went forth, and spread abroad his fame in all that land.

32 And as they went forth, behold, there was brought to him a dumb man possessed with a ¹⁰ devil. And when the ¹⁰ devil was cast out, the dumb man spake: and the multitudes marvelled, saying, It was never so seen in Israel. 34 But the Pharisees said, ¹¹ By the prince of the ¹² devils casteth he out ¹² devils. 35 And Jesus went about all the cities and the villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of disease and all manner of sickness. But when he saw the multitudes, he was moved with compassion for them, because they were distressed and scattered, as 37 sheep not having a shepherd. Then saith he unto his disciples, The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few. 38 Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he send forth labourers into 10 his harvest. And he called unto him his twelve disciples, and gave them authority over unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of disease and all manner of sickness.

2 Now the names of the twelve apostles are these: The first, Simon, who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother; James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother; Philip, and Bartholomew; Thomas, and Matthew the publican; James 4 the son of Alphaeus, and Thaddæus; Simon the ¹³ Cananean, and Judas Iscariot, who also ¹⁴ betrayed him. These twelve Jesus sent forth, and charged them, saying,

Go not into any way of the Gentiles, and enter not into any city of the Samaritans: but go rather to the lost sheep 7 of the house of Israel. And as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven 8 is at hand. Heal the sick, raise the dead, cleanse the lepers, cast out ¹⁵ devils: freely ye received, freely give. Get you no gold, nor silver, nor brass in your 10 ¹⁵ purses; no wallet for your journey, neither two coats, nor shoes, nor staff: for the labourer is worthy of his food. 11 And into whatsoever city or village ye shall enter, search out who in it is worthy; and there abide till ye go forth. And 13 as ye enter into the house, salute it. And if the house be worthy, let your peace come upon it: but if it be not worthy, let 14 your peace return to you. And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words, as ye go forth out of that house or that city, shake off the dust of your 15 feet. Verily I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of judgement, than for that city.

16 Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves: be ye therefore wise as 17 serpents, and ¹⁶ harmless as doves. But beware of men: for they will deliver you up to councils, and in their synagogues 18 they will scourge you; yea and before

 20 shall speak. For it is not ye that speak, but the Spirit of your Father 21 that speaketh in you. And brother shall deliver up brother to death, and the father his child: and children shall rise up against parents, and 22¹ cause them to be put to death. And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: but he that endureth to the end, the same shall be saved.
 23 But when they persecute you in this city, flee into the next: for verily I say unto you, Ye shall not have gone through the cities of Israel, till the Son of man be come.
 24 A disciple is not above his ²master, ²⁵nor a ³servant above his lord. It is enough for the disciple that he be as his ²master, and the ³servant as his lord. If they have called the master of the house ⁴Beelzebub, how much more shall they call them of 26 his household! Fear them not therefore: for there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; and hid, that shall not be known. What I tell you in the darkness, speak ye in the light: and what ye hear in the ear, 28 proclaim upon the housetops. And be not afraid of them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body

 30 Father: but the very hairs of your 31 head are all numbered. Fear not therefore; ye are of more value than many 32 sparrows. Every one therefore who shall confess ⁶me before men, ⁷him will I also confess before my Father which 33 is in heaven. But whosoever shall deny me before men, him will I also deny before my Father which is in heaven.
 34 Think not that I came to ⁸send peace on the earth: I came not to ⁸send
 35 peace, but a sword. For I came to set a man at variance against his father, and the daughter against her mother, and the daughter in law a-36 gainst her mother in law: and a man's foes shall be they of his own house-37 hold. He that loveth father or mother more than me is not worthy of me; and he that loveth son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me.
 38 And he that doth not take his cross and follow after me, is not worthy of me.
 39 He that ⁹findeth his ¹⁰life shall lose it; and he that ¹¹loseth his ¹⁰life for my sake shall find it.
 40 He that receiveth you receiveth me,

and he that receiveth me receiveth him
 41 that sent me. He that receiveth a prophet in the name of a prophet shall receive a prophet's reward; and he that receiveth a righteous man in the name of a righteous man shall receive a righte-
 42 ous man's reward. And whosoever shall give to drink unto one of these little ones a cup of cold water only, in the name of a disciple, verily I say unto you, he shall in no wise lose his reward.
 11 And it came to pass, when Jesus had made an end of commanding his twelve disciples, he departed thence to teach and preach in their cities.
 2 Now when John heard in the prison the works of the Christ, he sent by his
 3 disciples, and said unto him, Art thou he that cometh, or look we for another?
 4 And Jesus answered and said unto them, Go your way and tell John the things
 5 which ye do hear and see: the blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, and the dead are raised up, and the poor have ¹²good tidings preached to them.
 6 And blessed is he, whosoever shall find
 7 none occasion of stumbling in me. And as these went their way, Jesus began to say unto the multitudes concerning John, What went ye out into the wilderness to behold? a reed shaken with 8 the wind? But what went ye out for to see? a man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they that wear soft raiment are in 9 kings' houses. ¹³But wherefore went ye out? to see a prophet? Yea, I say unto you, and much more than a prophet. This is he, of whom it is written,
 10 Behold, I send my messenger before thy face,
 Who shall prepare thy way before thee.
 11 Verily I say unto you, Among them that are born of women there hath not arisen a greater than John the Baptist: yet he that is ¹⁴but little in the kingdom of hea-

25 At that season Jesus answered and said, I ³thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that thou didst hide these things from the wise and understanding, and didst reveal them unto 26 babes: yea, Father, ⁴for so it was 27 well-pleasing in thy sight. All things have been delivered unto me of my Father: and no one knoweth the Son, save the Father; neither doth any know the Father, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son willeth 28 to reveal him. Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and 29 I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls.
30 For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.

12 At that season Jesus went on the sabbath day through the cornfields; and his disciples were an hungred, and began to pluck ears of corn, and to eat.
2 But the Pharisees, when they saw it, said unto him, Behold, thy disciples do that which it is not lawful to do upon
3 the sabbath. But he said unto them, Have ye not read what David did, when he was an hungred, and they that were 4 with him; how he entered into the house of God, and ⁵did eat the shewbread, which it was not lawful for him to eat, neither for them that were with him,
5 but only for the priests? Or have ye not read in the law, how that on the sabbath day the priests in the temple profane the sabbath, and are

9 And he departed thence, and went into 10 their synagogue: and behold, a man having a withered hand. And they asked him, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath day? that they might 11 accuse him. And he said unto them, What man shall there be of you, that shall have one sheep, and if this fall into a pit on the sabbath day, will he not lay hold on it, and lift it out?

12 How much then is a man of more value than a sheep! Wherefore it is lawful 13 to do good on the sabbath day. Then saith he to the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he stretched it forth; and it was restored whole, as the 14 other. But the Pharisees went out, and took counsel against him, how 15 they might destroy him. And Jesus perceiving it withdrew from thence: and many followed him; and he healed 16 them all, and charged them that they 17 should not make him known: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken ⁷by Isaiah the prophet, saying,

⁷ Some ancient authorities omit ver. 47.

¹³ On that day went Jesus out of the ² house, and sat by the sea side. And there were gathered unto him great multitudes, so that he entered into a boat, and sat; and all the multitude ³ stood on the beach. And he spake to them many things in parables, saying, Behold, the sower went forth to sow; ⁴ and as he sowed, some seeds fell by the way side, and the birds came and devoured them: and others fell upon the rocky places, where they had not much earth: and straightway they sprang up, because they had no deepness of earth: ⁶ and when the sun was risen, they were scorched; and because they had no root, ⁷ they withered away. And others fell upon the thorns; and the thorns grew up, and choked them: and others fell upon the good ground, and yielded fruit, some a hundredfold, some sixty, some ⁹ thirty. He that hath ears ⁸, let him hear.

¹⁰ And the disciples came, and said unto him, Why speakest thou unto them in ¹¹ parables? And he answered and said unto them, Unto you it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, ¹² but to them it is not given. For whosoever hath, to him shall be given, and he shall have abundance: but whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken ¹³ away even that which he hath. Therefore speak I to them in parables; because seeing they see not, and hearing they hear not, neither do they understand. And unto them is fulfilled the prophecy of Isaiah, which saith,

By hearing ye shall hear, and shall in no wise understand;
And seeing ye shall see, and shall in no wise perceive:

¹⁵ For this people's heart is waxed gross, And their ears are dull of hearing, And their eyes they have closed; Lest haply they should perceive with their eyes,
And hear with their ears,
And understand with their heart,
And should turn again,
And I should heal them.

¹⁶ But blessed are your eyes, for they see; ¹⁷ and your ears, for they hear. For verily I say unto you, that many prophets and righteous men desired to see the things which ye see, and saw them not; and to hear the things which ye hear, and ¹⁸ heard them not. Hear then ye the parable of the sower. When any one heareth the word of the kingdom, and understandeth it not, then cometh the evil one, and snatcheth away that which hath been sown in his heart. This is he that was sown by the way side. ²⁰ And he that was sown upon the rocky places, this is he that heareth the word, and straightway with joy receiveth it; yet hath he not root in himself, but endureth for a while; and when tribulation or persecution ariseth because of the word, straightway he 22 stumbleth. And he that was sown among the thorns, this is he that heareth

the word; and the care of the ¹ world, and the deceitfulness of riches, choke
the word, and he becometh unfruitful.

23 And he that was sown upon the good ground, this is he that heareth the word, and understandeth it; who verily beareth fruit, and bringeth forth, some a hundredfold, some sixty, some thirty.

24 Another parable set he before them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a man that sowed good 25 seed in his field: but while men slept, his enemy came and sowed ²tares
also among the wheat, and went away.

26 But when the blade sprang up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared 27 the tares also. And the ³servants of the householder came and said unto him, Sir, didst thou not sow good seed in thy field? whence then

28 hath it tares? And he said unto them, ⁴An enemy hath done this. And the ³servants say unto him, Wilt thou then 29 that we go and gather them up? But he saith, Nay; lest haply while ye gather up the tares, ye root up the wheat with 30 them. Let both grow together until the harvest: and in the time of the harvest

I will say to the reapers, Gather up first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but gather the wheat into my barn.

31 Another parable set he before them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is like unto a grain of mustard seed, which a 32 man took, and sowed in his field: which indeed is less than all seeds; but when it is grown, it is greater than the herbs, and becometh a tree, so that the birds of the heaven come and lodge in the branches thereof.

33 Another parable spake he unto them;
The kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took, and hid in three ⁵measures of meal, till it was all leavened.

34 All these things spake Jesus in parables unto the multitudes; and without a parable spake he nothing unto them:
35 that it might be fulfilled which was spoken ⁶by the prophet, saying,

I will open my mouth in parables;
I will utter things hidden from the foundation ⁷of the world.

36 Then he left the multitudes, and went into the house; and his disciples came unto him, saying, Explain unto us the 37 parable of the tares of the field. And he answered and said, He that soweth

38 the good seed is the Son of man; and the field is the world; and the good seed, these are the sons of the kingdom; and the tares are the sons of the evil one; 39 and the enemy that sowed them is the devil: and the harvest is ⁸the end of the 40 world; and the reapers are angels. As therefore the tares are gathered up and burned with fire; so shall it be in ⁹the 41 end of the world. The Son of man shall send forth his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all things that cause stumbling, and them that do ini-42 quity, and shall cast them into the furnace of fire: there shall be the weeping 43 and gnashing of teeth. Then shall the righteous shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. He that hath ears, let him hear.

44 The kingdom of heaven is like unto a treasure hidden in the field; which a man found, and hid; and ⁹in his joy he goeth and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.

45 Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a merchant seeking 46 goodly pearls: and having found one pearl of great price, he went and sold all that he had, and bought it.

47 Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a ¹⁰net, that was cast into the sea, 48 and gathered of every kind: which,
when it was filled, they drew up on the beach; and they sat down, and gathered the good into vessels, but the bad they 49 cast away. So shall it be in ⁸the end of the world: the angels shall come forth, and sever the wicked from among the 50 righteous, and shall cast them into the furnace of fire: there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth.

51 Have ye understood all these things?
52 They say unto him, Yea. And he said unto them, Therefore every scribe who hath been made a disciple to the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a householder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure things new and old.

53 And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished these parables, he departed

54 thence. And coming into his own country he taught them in their synagogue, inasmuch that they were astonished,
and said, Whence hath this man this 55 wisdom, and these ¹¹mighty works? Is not this the carpenter's son? is not his

James, and Joseph, and Simon, and Ju-56 das? And his sisters, are they not all

57 all these things? And they were ¹²offended in him. But Jesus said unto them, A prophet is not without honour, save in his own country, and in 58 his own house. And he did not many ¹¹mighty works there because of their unbelief.

when he would have put him to death,
he feared the multitude, because they 6 counted him as a prophet. But when Herod's birthday came, the daughter of Herodias danced in the midst, and 7 pleased Herod. Whereupon he promised with an oath to give her what-8 soever she should ask. And she, being put forward by her mother, saith,
Give me here in a charger the head
9 of John the Baptist. And the king was grieved; but for the sake of his oaths, and of them which sat at meat with him, he commanded it to be given;
10 and he sent, and beheaded John in the 11 prison. And his head was brought in in a charger, and given to the damsel: 12 and she brought it to her mother. And his disciples came, and took up the corpse, and buried him; and they went and told Jesus.
13 Now when Jesus heard it, he withdrew from thence in a boat, to a desert place apart: and when the multitudes heard thereof, they followed him ¹on foot 14 from the cities. And he came forth, and saw a great multitude, and he had compassion on them, and healed their 15 sick. And when even was come, the disciples came to him, saying, The place is desert, and the time is already past;
send the multitudes away, that they may go into the villages, and buy them-16 selves food. But Jesus said unto them,
They have no need to go away; give ye 17 them to eat. And they say unto him,
We have here but five loaves, and two 18 fishes. And he said, Bring them hither 19 to me. And he commanded the multitudes to ²sit down on the grass; and he took the five loaves, and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed, and brake and gave the loaves to the disciples, and the disciples to 20 the multitudes. And they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up that which remained over of the bro-21 ken pieces, twelve baskets full. And they that did eat were about five thousand men, beside women and children.
22 And straightway he constrained the disciples to enter into the boat, and to go before him unto the other side, till he 23 should send the multitudes away. And after he had sent the multitudes away, he went up into the mountain apart to pray: and when even was come, he was 24 there alone. But the boat ³was now in the midst of the sea, distressed by the 25 waves; for the wind was contrary. And in the fourth watch of the night he came 26 unto them, walking upon the sea. And when the disciples saw him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, It is an apparition; and they cried out for 27 fear. But straightway Jesus spake unto them, saying, Be of good cheer; it is I; 28 be not afraid. And Peter answered him and said, Lord, if it be thou, bid me 29 come unto thee upon the waters. And he said, Come. And Peter went down from the boat, and walked upon the 30 waters, ⁴to come to Jesus. But when he saw the wind ⁵, he was afraid; and beginning to sink, he cried out, saying, 31 Lord, save me. And immediately Jesus stretched forth his hand, and took hold of him, and saith unto him, O thou of little faith, wherefore didst thou doubt?

32 And when they were gone up into the 33 boat, the wind ceased. And they that were in the boat worshipped him, saying, Of a truth thou art the Son of God.
34 And when they had crossed over, they 35 came to the land, unto Gennesaret. And when the men of that place knew him, they sent into all that region round about, and brought unto him all that 36 were sick; and they besought him that they might only touch the border of his garment: and as many as touched were made whole.
15 Then there came to Jesus from Jerusalem Pharisees and scribes, saying,
2 Why do thy disciples transgress the tradition of the elders? for they wash not 3 their hands when they eat bread. And he answered and said unto them, Why do ye also transgress the commandment 4 of God because of your tradition? For God said, Honour thy father and thy mother: and, He that speaketh evil of father or mother, let him ⁶die the death.
5 But ye say, Whosoever shall say to his father or his mother, That wherewith thou mightest have been profited by 6 me is given to God; he shall not honour his father ⁷. And ye have made void the ⁸word of God because of your tra-

But their heart is far from me.

But the things which proceed out of the mouth come forth out of the heart; and they 19 defile the man. For out of the heart come forth evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false 20 witness, railings: these are the things which defile the man: but to eat with unwashen hands defileth not the man.

21 And Jesus went out thence, and withdrew into the parts of Tyre and Sidon.

22 And behold, a Canaanitish woman came out from those borders, and cried, saying, Have mercy on me, O Lord, thou son of David; my daughter is grievously

23 vexed with a devil. But he answered her not a word. And his disciples came and besought him, saying, Send her

24 away; for she crieth after us. But he answered and said, I was not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of 25 Israel. But she came and worshipped 26 him, saying, Lord, help me. And he answered and said, It is not meet to 27 take the children's ² bread and cast it to the dogs. But she said, Yea, Lord: for even the dogs eat of the crumbs which 28 fall from their masters' table. Then

Jesus answered and said unto her, O woman, great is thy faith: be it done unto thee even as thou wilt. And her daughter was healed from that hour.

29 And Jesus departed thence, and came nigh unto the sea of Galilee; and he went up into the mountain, and sat 30 there. And there came unto him great multitudes, having with them the lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and they cast them down at his feet; and

31 he healed them: insomuch that the multitude wondered, when they saw the dumb speaking, the maimed whole, and the lame walking, and the blind seeing: and they glorified the God of Israel.

32 And Jesus called unto him his disciples, and said, I have compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now three days and have nothing to eat: and I would not send them away fasting, lest haply they faint in the way.

33 And the disciples say unto him, Whence should we have so many loaves in a desert place, as to fill so great a multitude? 34 And Jesus saith unto them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, Seven,

35 and a few small fishes. And he commanded the multitude to sit down on

36 the ground; and he took the seven loaves and the fishes; and he gave thanks and brake, and gave to the disciples, and the disciples to the multi-

37 tudes. And they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up that which remained over of the broken pieces, 38 seven baskets full. And they that did eat were four thousand men, beside 39 women and children. And he sent away the multitudes, and entered into the boat, and came into the borders of Magadan.

16 And the Pharisees and Sadducees came, and tempting him asked him to

2 shew them a sign from heaven. But he answered and said unto them, ³ When it is evening, ye say, It will be fair wea-

3 ther: for the heaven is red. And in the morning, It will be foul weather to-day:

heaven; but ye cannot discern the signs

5 of the times. An evil and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given unto it, but the sign of Jonah. And he left them, and departed.

5 And the disciples came to the other

6 side and forgot to take ⁴ bread. And Jesus said unto them, Take heed and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees

7 and Sadducees. And they reasoned among themselves, saying, ⁵ We took no

8 ⁴ bread. And Jesus perceiving it said, O ye of little faith, why reason ye among yourselves, because ye have no ⁴ bread? 9 Do ye not yet perceive, neither remember the five loaves of the five thousand, and how many ⁶ baskets ye took up?

10 Neither the seven loaves of the four thousand, and how many ⁶ baskets ye

11 took up? How is it that ye do not perceive that I spake not to you concerning ⁴ bread? But beware of the leaven

12 of the Pharisees and Sadducees. Then understood they how that he bade them not beware of the leaven of ⁴ bread, but of the teaching of the Pharisees and Sadducees.

13 Now when Jesus came into the parts of Cæsarea Philippi, he asked his disci-

14 ples, saying, Who do men say ⁷ that the Son of man is? And they said, Some say John the Baptist; some, Elijah: and others, Jeremiah, or one of the 15 prophets. He saith unto them, But who say ye that I am? And Simon Peter answered and said, Thou art the Christ,

17 the Son of the living God. And Jesus answered and said unto him, Blessed art thou, Simon Bar-Jonah: for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven.

18 And I also say unto thee, that thou art ⁸ Peter, and upon this ⁹ rock I will build

my church; and the gates of Hades

19 shall not prevail against it. I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth 20 shall be loosed in heaven. Then charged he the disciples that they should tell no man that he was the Christ.

21 From that time began ¹⁰ Jesus to shew unto his disciples, how that he must go unto Jerusalem, and suffer many things of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and 22 the third day be raised up. And Peter took him, and began to rebuke him, saying, ¹Be it far from thee, Lord: this shall 23 never be unto thee. But he turned, and said unto Peter, Get thee behind me, Satan: thou art a stumblingblock unto me: for thou mindest not the things of 24 God, but the things of men. Then said Jesus unto his disciples, If any man would come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow

 25 me. For whosoever would save his ²life shall lose it: and whosoever shall lose 26 his ²life for my sake shall find it. For what shall a man be profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and forfeit his 27 ²life? or what shall a man give in exchange for his ²life? For the Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father with his angels; and then shall he render unto every man according 28 to his ³deeds. Verily I say unto you, There be some of them that stand here, which shall in no wise taste of death, till they see the Son of man coming in his kingdom.
 17 And after six days Jesus taketh with him Peter, and James, and John his brother, and bringeth them up into a
 2 high mountain apart: and he was transfigured before them: and his face did shine as the sun, and his garments became white as the light. And behold, there appeared unto them Moses and
 4 Elijah talking with him. And Peter answered, and said unto Jesus, Lord, it is good for us to be here: if thou wilt, I will make here three ⁴tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for 5 Elijah. While he was yet speaking, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them: and behold, a voice out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased; hear ye him.
 6 And when the disciples heard it, they fell on their face, and were sore afraid.
 7 And Jesus came and touched them and 8 said, Arise, and be not afraid. And lifting up their eyes, they saw no one, save Jesus only.
 9 And as they were coming down from the mountain, Jesus commanded them, saying, Tell the vision to no man, until the Son of man be risen from the dead.
 10 And his disciples asked him, saying, Why then say the scribes that Elijah 11 must first come? And he answered and said, Elijah indeed cometh, and 12 shall restore all things: but I say unto you, that Elijah is come already, and they knew him not, but did unto him whatsoever they listed. Even so shall the Son of man also 13 suffer of them. Then understood the disciples that he spake unto them of John the Baptist.

14 And when they were come to the multitude, there came to him a man, kneeling to him, and saying, Lord, have mercy on my son: for he is epileptic, and suffereth grievously: for oft-times he falleth into the fire, and oft-times into 16 the water. And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not cure him.
 17 And Jesus answered and said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I bear with you? bring him hither to me.
 18 And Jesus rebuked him; and the ⁵devil went out from him: and the boy was 19 cured from that hour. Then came the disciples to Jesus apart, and said, Why
 20 could not we cast it out? And he saith unto them, Because of your little faith: for verily I say unto you, If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible unto you.⁶
 22 And while they ⁷abode in Galilee, Jesus said unto them, The Son of man shall be delivered up into the hands of 23 men; and they shall kill him, and the third day he shall be raised up. And they were exceeding sorry.
 24 And when they were come to Capernaum, they that received the ⁸half-shekel came to Peter, and said, Doth not 25 your ⁹master pay the ⁸half-shekel? He saith, Yea. And when he came into the house, Jesus spake first to him, saying, What thinkest thou, Simon? the kings of the earth, from whom do they receive toll or tribute? from their sons, or from 26 strangers? And when he said, From strangers, Jesus said unto him, Therefore the sons are free. But, lest we cause them to stumble, go thou to the sea, and cast a hook, and take up the fish that first cometh up; and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt find a ¹⁰shekel: that take, and give unto them for me and thee.
 18 In that hour came the disciples unto Jesus, saying, Who then is ¹¹greatest in the kingdom of heaven? And he called to him a little child, and set him in the 3 midst of them, and said, Verily I say unto you, Except ye turn, and become as little children, ye shall in no wise enter
 4 into the kingdom of heaven. Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is the ¹¹greatest in the kingdom of heaven. And whoso shall receive one such little child
 6 in my name receiveth me: but whoso shall cause one of these little ones which believe on me to stumble, it is profitable for him that ¹²a great millstone should be hanged about his neck, and that he should be sunk in the

8 And if thy hand or thy foot causeth thee to stumble, cut it off, and cast it from thee: it is good for thee to enter into life maimed or halt, rather than having two hands or two feet to be cast into the

9 eternal fire. And if thine eye causeth thee to stumble, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: it is good for thee to enter into life with one eye, rather than having two eyes to be cast into the ¹hell of

10 fire. See that ye despise not one of these little ones; for I say unto you, that in heaven their angels do always behold the face of my Father which is in heaven.

12 How think ye? if any man have a hundred sheep, and one of them be gone astray, doth he not leave the ninety and nine, and go unto the mountains, and

13 seek that which goeth astray? And if so be that he find it, verily I say unto you, he rejoiceth over it more than over the ninety and nine which

14 have not gone astray. Even so it is not ³the will of ⁴your Father which is in heaven, that one of these little ones should perish.

15 And if thy brother sin ⁵against thee, go, shew him his fault between thee and him alone: if he hear thee, thou hast

16 gained thy brother. But if he hear thee not, take with thee one or two more, that at the mouth of two witnesses or three

17 every word may be established. And if he refuse to hear them, tell it unto the ⁶church: and if he refuse to hear the ⁶church also, let him be unto thee as the Gentile and the publican.

18 Verily I say unto you, What things soever ye shall bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and what things soever ye shall loose on earth shall

19 be loosed in heaven. Again I say unto you, that if two of you shall agree on earth as touching anything that they shall ask, it shall be done for them of my

20 Father which is in heaven. For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them.

21 Then came Peter, and said to him, Lord, how oft shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? until

22 seven times? Jesus saith unto him, I say not unto thee, Until seven times; but, Until ⁷seventy times seven. Therefore is the kingdom of heaven likened

23 unto a certain king, which would make

24 a reckoning with his ⁸servants. And when he had begun to reckon, one was brought unto him, which owed him ten

25 thousand ⁹talents. But forasmuch as he had not wherewith to pay, his lord commanded him to be sold, and his wife, and children, and all that he had, and

26 payment to be made. The ¹⁰servant therefore fell down and worshipped him, saying, Lord, have patience with

27 me, and I will pay thee all. And the lord of that ¹⁰servant, being moved with compassion, released him, and forgave him the ¹¹debt. But that ¹⁰servant went out, and found one of his fellow-servants, which owed him a hundred ¹²pence: and he hid hold on him, and took him by the throat, saying, Pay what thou owest.

29 So his fellow-servant fell down and besought him, saying, Have patience with me, and I will pay thee. And he would not: but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay that which was due.

31 So when his fellow-servants saw what was done, they were exceeding sorry, and came and told unto their lord all that was done. Then his lord called him unto him, and saith to him, Thou wicked ¹⁰servant, I forgave thee all that debt, because thou besoughtest me: shouldst not thou also have had mercy on thy fellow-servant, even as I had mercy on thee? And his lord was wroth, and delivered him to the tormentors, till he should pay all that was due. So shall also my heavenly Father do unto you, if ye forgive not every one his brother from your hearts.

19 And it came to pass when Jesus had finished these words, he departed from Galilee, and came into the borders of 2 Judæa beyond Jordan; and great multitudes followed him; and he healed them there.

3 And there came unto him ¹³Pharisees, tempting him, and saying, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife for every

4 cause? And he answered and said, Have ye not read, that he which ¹⁴made them from the beginning made them male and female, and said, For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife; and

6 the twain shall become one flesh? So that they are no more twain, but one flesh. What therefore God hath joined

7 together, let not man put asunder. They say unto him, Why then did Moses command to give a bill of divorce, and

8 to put her away? He saith unto them, Moses for your hardness of heart suffered you to put away your wives: but from the beginning it hath not been so.

9 And I say unto you, Whosoever shall put away his wife, ¹⁵except for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery: ¹⁶and he that marrieth her when she is put away committeth

10 adultery. The disciples say unto him, If the case of the man is so with his wife,

11 it is not expedient to marry. But he said unto them, All men cannot receive this saying, but they to whom it is given.

12 For there are eunuchs, which were so born from their mother's womb: and there are eunuchs, which were made eunuchs by men: and there are eunuchs, which made themselves eunuchs for the kingdom of heaven's sake. He that is able to receive it, let him receive it.

13 Then were there brought unto him little children, that he should lay his hands on them, and pray: and the disciples rebuked them. But Jesus said, Suffer the little children, and forbid them not, to come unto me: for of such is the kingdom of heaven. And he laid his hands on them, and departed thence.

16 And behold, one came to him and said, 12 Master, what good thing shall I do, 17 that I may have eternal life? And he said unto him, 3 Why askest thou me concerning that which is good? One there is who is good: but if thou wouldst enter into life, keep the commandments. He saith unto him, Which? And Jesus said, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, Honour thy father and thy mother: and, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. The young man saith unto him, All these things have I observed: what lack I yet? Jesus said unto him, If thou wouldst be perfect, go, sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, 22 follow me. But when the young man heard the saying, he went away sorrowful: for he was one that had great possessions.

23 And Jesus said unto his disciples, Verily I say unto you, It is hard for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of 24 heaven. And again I say unto you, It is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to 25 enter into the kingdom of God. And when the disciples heard it, they were astonished exceedingly, saying, Who 26 then can be saved? And Jesus looking upon them said to them, With men this is impossible; but with God all things 27 are possible. Then answered Peter and said unto him, Lo, we have left all, and followed thee; what then shall we 28 have? And Jesus said unto them, Verily I say unto you, that ye which have followed me, in the regeneration when the Son of man shall sit on the throne of his glory, ye also shall sit upon twelve thrones, judging the twelve

29 tribes of Israel. And every one that hath left houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, 4 or children, or lands, for my name's sake, shall receive 5 a hundredfold, and shall inherit eternal life. But many shall be last that 30 are first; and first that are last. For the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a householder, which went out early in the morning to hire labourers into his vineyard. And when he had agreed with the labourers for a 6 penny a day, he sent them into his 3 vineyard. And he went out about the third hour, and saw others standing in 4 the marketplace idle; and to them he said, Go ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoever is right I will give you. And 5 they went their way. Again he went out about the sixth and the ninth hour, and 6 did likewise. And about the eleventh hour he went out, and found others standing; and he saith unto them, Why 7 stand ye here all the day idle? They say unto him, Because no man hath hired us. He saith unto them, Go ye also into the 8 vineyard. And when even was come, the lord of the vineyard saith unto his steward, Call the labourers, and pay them their hire, beginning from the last 9 unto the first. And when they came that were hired about the eleventh hour, they 10 received every man a 6 penny. And when the first came, they supposed that they would receive more; and they likewise 11 received every man a 6 penny. And when they received it, they murmured against 12 the householder, saying, These last have spent but one hour, and thou hast made them equal unto us, which have borne the burden of the day and the 7 scorching heat. But he answered and said to one of them, Friend, I do thee no wrong: didst not thou agree with me for a 14 6 penny? Take up that which is thine, and go thy way; it is my will to give unto 15 this last, even as unto thee. Is it not lawful for me to do what I will with mine own? or is thine eye evil, because 16 I am good? So the last shall be first, and the first last.

17 And as Jesus was going up to Jerusalem, he took the twelve disciples apart, 18 and in the way he said unto them, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man shall be delivered unto the chief priests and scribes; and they shall 19 condemn him to death, and shall deliver him unto the Gentiles to mock, and to scourge, and to crucify: and the third day he shall be raised up.

20 Then came to him the mother of the sons of Zebedee with her sons, worshipping him, and asking a certain thing of 21 him. And he said unto her, What wouldst thou? She saith unto him, Command that these my two sons may sit, one on thy right hand, and one on thy left hand, 22 in thy kingdom. But Jesus answered and said, Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able to drink the cup that I am about to drink? They say unto him, We are 23 able. He saith unto them, My cup indeed ye shall drink: but to sit on my right hand, and on my left hand, is not mine to give, but it is for them for whom it 24 hath been prepared of my Father. And when the ten heard it, they were moved with indignation concerning the two 25 brethren. But Jesus called them unto him, and said, Ye know that the rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them, and their great ones exercise authority over 26 them. Not so shall it be among you: but whosoever would become great among

27 you shall be your ¹minister; and whosoever would be first among you shall 28 be your ²servant: even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.

29 And as they went out from Jericho, 30 a great multitude followed him. And behold, two blind men sitting by the way side, when they heard that Jesus was passing by, cried out, saying, Lord, have mercy on us, thou son of 31 David. And the multitude rebuked them, that they should hold their peace: but they cried out the more, saying, Lord, have mercy on us, thou 32 son of David. And Jesus stood still, and called them, and said, What will 33 ye that I should do unto you? They say unto him, Lord, that our eyes may 34 be opened. And Jesus, being moved with compassion, touched their eyes: and straightway they received their sight, and followed him.

21 And when they drew nigh unto Jerusalem, and came unto Bethphage, unto the mount of Olives, then Jesus sent 2 two disciples, saying unto them, Go into the village that is over against you, and straightway ye shall find an ass tied, and a colt with her: loose them, 3 and bring them unto me. And if any one say aught unto you, ye shall say, The Lord hath need of them; and straight- 4 way he will send them. Now this is come to pass, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken ³by the prophet, saying,

5 Tell ye the daughter of Zion, Behold, thy King cometh unto thee, Meek, and riding upon an ass, And upon a colt the foal of an ass.

6 And the disciples went, and did even as 7 Jesus appointed them, and brought the ass, and the colt, and put on them their 8 garments; and he sat thereon. And the most part of the multitude spread their garments in the way; and others cut branches from the trees, and spread 9 them in the way. And the multitudes that went before him, and that followed, cried, saying, Hosanna to the son of David: Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord; Hosanna in the 10 highest. And when he was come into Jerusalem, all the city was stirred, saying, Who is this? And the multitudes said, This is the prophet, Jesus, from Nazareth of Galilee.

12 And Jesus entered into the temple ⁴of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the money-changers, and the 13 seats of them that sold the doves; and he saith unto them, It is written, My house shall be called a house of prayer: 14 but ye make it a den of robbers. And the blind and the lame came to him in 15 the temple: and he healed them. But when the chief priests and the scribes saw the wonderful things that he did, and the children that were crying in the temple and saying, Hosanna to the son of David; they were moved 16 with indignation, and said unto him, Hearest thou what these are saying? And Jesus saith unto them, Yea: did ye never read, Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast perfected praise? And he left them, and went forth out of the city to Bethany, and lodged there.

18 Now in the morning as he returned to 19 the city, he hungered. And seeing ⁵a fig tree by the way side, he came to it, and found nothing thereon, but leaves only; and he saith unto it, Let there be no fruit from thee henceforward for ever. And immediately the fig tree withered 20 away. And when the disciples saw it, they marvelled, saying, How did the fig 21 tree immediately wither away? And Jesus answered and said unto them, Verily I say unto you, If ye have faith, and doubt not, ye shall not only do what is done to the fig tree, but even if ye shall say unto this mountain, Be thou taken up and cast into the sea, it shall 22 be done. And all things, whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive.

23 And when he was come into the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people came unto him as he was teaching, and said, By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee 24 this authority? And Jesus answered and said unto them, I also will ask you one ⁶question, which if ye tell me, I likewise will tell you by what authority 25 I do these things. The baptism of John, whence was it? from heaven or from men? And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say unto us, Why then 26 did ye not believe him? But if we shall say, From men; we fear the multitude; 27 for all hold John as a prophet. And they answered Jesus, and said, We know not. He also said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I 28 do these things. But what think ye? A man had two sons; and he came to the first, and said, ⁷Son, go work to-day in 29 the vineyard. And he answered and said, I will not: but afterward he repented himself, and went. And he came to the second, and said likewise. And he answered and said, I go, sir: and 31 went not. Whether of the twain did the will of his father? They say, The first. Jesus saith unto them, Verily I say unto you, that the publicans and the harlots go into the kingdom of God before 32 you. For John came unto you in the way of righteousness, and ye believed him not: but the publicans and the harlots believed him: and ye, when ye saw it, did not even repent yourselves afterward, that ye might believe him.

- 33 Hear another parable: There was a man that was a householder, which planted a vineyard, and set a hedge about it, and digged a winepress in it, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into another country. And when the season of the fruits drew near, he sent his ¹servants to the husbandmen, to receive ²his fruits. And the husbandmen took his ¹servants, and beat one, and killed another, and stoned 36 another. Again, he sent other ¹servants more than the first: and they did unto 37 them in like manner. But afterward he sent unto them his son, saying, They 38 will reverence my son. But the husbandmen, when they saw the son, said among themselves, This is the heir; come, let us kill him, and take his inheritance. And they took him, and east him forth out of the vineyard, 40 and killed him. When therefore the lord of the vineyard shall come, what will he do unto those husbandmen? 41 They say unto him, He will miserably destroy those miserable men, and will let out the vineyard unto other husbandmen, which shall render him the 42 fruits in their seasons. Jesus saith unto them, Did ye never read in the scriptures,

The stone which the builders rejected,

The same was made the head of the corner:

This was from the Lord,

And it is marvellous in our eyes?

- 43 Therefore say I unto you, The kingdom of God shall be taken away from you, and shall be given to a nation bringing 44 forth the fruits thereof. ⁸And he that falleth on this stone shall be broken to pieces: but on whomsoever it shall fall, 45 it will scatter him as dust. And when the chief priests and the Pharisees heard his parables, they perceived that he 46 spake of them. And when they sought to lay hold on him, they feared the multitudes, because they took him for a prophet.
- 22 And Jesus answered and spake again 2 in parables unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a certain king, which made a marriage feast for 3 his son, and sent forth his ¹servants to call them that were bidden to the marriage feast: and they would not come. 4 Again he sent forth other ¹servants, saying, Tell them that are bidden, Behold, I have made ready my dinner: my oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come to the marriage 5 feast. But they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his own farm, 6 another to his merchandise: and the rest laid hold on his ¹servants, and entreated them shamefully, and killed

7 them. But the king was wroth; and he sent his armies, and destroyed those 8 murderers, and burned their city. Then saith he to his ¹servants, The wedding is ready, but they that were bidden were 9 not worthy. Go ye therefore unto the partings of the highways, and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage 10 feast. And those ¹servants went out into the highways, and gathered together all as many as they found, both bad and good: and the wedding was filled with 11 guests. But when the king came in to behold the guests, he saw there a man which had not on a wedding-garment: 12 and he saith unto him, Friend, how earnest thou in hither not having a wedding-garment? And he was speech- 13 less. Then the king said to the ⁴servants, Bind him hand and foot, and east him out into the outer darkness; there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth. For many are called, but few chosen.

15 Then went the Pharisees, and took counsel how they might ensnare him in 16 his talk. And they send to him their disciples, with the Herodians, saying, ⁵Master, we know that thou art true, and teachest the way of God in truth, and carest not for any one: for thou regardest not the person of men. Tell us therefore, What thinkest thou? Is it lawful to give tribute unto Caesar, or 18 not? But Jesus perceived their wickedness, and said, Why tempt ye me, ye 19 hypocrites? Shew me the tribute money. And they brought unto him a ⁶penny. 20 And he saith unto them, Whose is this 21 image and superscription? They say unto him, Caesar's. Then saith he unto them, Render therefore unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's; and unto God 22 the things that are God's. And when they heard it, they marvelled, and left him, and went their way.

23 On that day there came to him Sadducees, ⁷which say that there is no resurrection: and they asked him, saying, ⁵Master, Moses said, If a man die, having no children, his brother ⁸shall marry his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother. Now there were with us seven brethren: and the first married and deceased, and having no seed left his wife 26 unto his brother; in like manner the second also, and the third, unto the 27 ⁹seventh. And after them all the woman died. In the resurrection therefore whose wife shall she be of the seven? 29 for they all had her. But Jesus answered and said unto them, Ye do err, not knowing the scriptures, nor the power of God. 30 For in the resurrection they neither marry, nor are given in marriage, but 31 are as angels ¹⁰in heaven. But as touching the resurrection of the dead, have ye not read that which was spoken unto you by God, saying,

32 I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? God is not the God of the dead, but of the living. And when the multitudes heard it, they were astonished at his teaching.

34 But the Pharisees, when they heard that he had put the Sadducees to silence, 35 gathered themselves together. And one of them, a lawyer, asked him a question, 36 tempting him, ¹Master, which is the 37 great commandment in the law? And he said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind.

38 This is the great and first command- 39 ment. ²And a second like unto it is this, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thy- 40 self. On these two commandments hangeth the whole law, and the proph- ets.

11 Now while the Pharisees were gather- ed together, Jesus asked them a ques- 12 tion, saying, What think ye of the Christ? whose son is he? They say 13 unto him, The son of David. He saith unto them, How then doth David in the Spirit call him Lord, saying,

14 The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, Till I put thine enemies underneath thy feet?

15 If David then calleth him Lord, how is 16 he his son? And no one was able to answer him a word, neither durst any man from that day forth ask him any more questions.

23 Then spake Jesus to the multitudes 2 and to his disciples, saying, The scribes and the Pharisees sit on Moses' seat: 3 all things therefore whatsoever they bid you, these do and observe: but do not ye after their works; for they say, 4 and do not. Yea, they bind heavy burdens ³ and grievous to be borne, and lay them on men's shoulders; but they themselves will not move them with 5 their finger. But all their works they do for to be seen of men: for they make broad their phylacteries, and enlarge 6 the borders of their garments, and love the chief place at feasts, and the chief 7 seats in the synagogues, and the salu- tations in the marketplaces, and to be 8 called of men, Rabbi. But be not ye called Rabbi: for one is your teacher, 9 and all ye are brethren. And call no man your father on the earth: for one is your 10 Father, ⁴which is in heaven. Neither be ye called masters: for one is your 11 master, even the Christ. But he that is ⁵greatest among you shall be your 12 ⁶servant. And whosoever shall exalt himself shall be humbled; and who- soever shall humble himself shall be exalted.

13 But woe unto you, scribes and Phari- sees, hypocrites! because ye shut the kingdom of heaven ⁷against men: for ye enter not in yourselves, neither suffer ye them that are entering in to enter.⁸

15 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye compass sea and land to make one proselyte; and when he is become so, ye make him twofold more a son of ⁹hell than your- selves.

16 Woe unto you, ye blind guides, which say, Whosoever shall swear by the ¹⁰temple, it is nothing; but whosoever shall swear by the gold of the ¹⁰temple, 17 he is ¹¹a debtor. Ye fools and blind: for whether is greater, the gold, or the ¹⁰temple that hath sanctified the gold?

18 And, Whosoever shall swear by the altar, it is nothing; but whosoever shall swear by the gift that is upon it, he is 19 ¹¹a debtor. Ye blind: for whether is greater, the gift, or the altar that sanc- 20 tifieth the gift? He therefore that sweareth by the altar, sweareth by it,

21 and by all things thereon. And he that sweareth by the ¹⁰temple, sweareth by it, and by him that dwelleth therein.

22 And he that sweareth by the heaven, sweareth by the throne of God, and by him that sitteth thereon.

23 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye tithe mint and ¹²anise and cummin, and have left undone the weightier matters of the law, judge- ment, and mercy, and faith: but these ye ought to have done, and not to have 24 left the other undone. Ye blind guides, which strain out the gnat, and swallow the camel.

25 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye cleanse the outside of the cup and of the platter, but within they are full from extortion and excess.

26 Thou blind Pharisee, cleanse first the inside of the cup and of the platter, that the outside thereof may become clean also.

27 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye are like unto whitened sepulchres, which outwardly appear beautiful, but inwardly are full of dead men's bones, and of all uncleanness.

28 Even so ye also outwardly appear righte- ous unto men, but inwardly ye are full of hypocrisy and iniquity.

29 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye build the sepulchres of the prophets, and garnish the tombs of 30 the righteous, and say, If we had been in the days of our fathers, we should not have been partakers with them in 31 the blood of the prophets. Wherefore ye witness to yourselves, that ye are sons of them that slew the prophets.

32 Fill ye up then the measure of your fa- 33 thers. Ye serpents, ye offspring of vi- pers, how shall ye escape the judgement 34 of ⁹hell? Therefore, behold, I send unto you prophets, and wise men, and scribes: some of them shall ye kill and cru-

Verily I say unto you, All these things shall come upon this generation.

37 O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, which killeth the prophets, and stoneth them that are sent unto her! how often would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings, and ye would not! Behold, your house is left unto you ¹desolate. For I say unto you, Ye shall not see me henceforth, till ye shall say, Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

24 And Jesus went out from the temple, and was going on his way; and his disciples came to him to shew him the buildings of the temple. But he answered and said unto them, See ye not all these things? verily I say unto you, There shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.

3 And as he sat on the mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him privately, saying, Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy coming, and of ²the end of the world?

4 And Jesus answered and said unto them, Take heed that no man lead you astray. For many shall come in my name, saying, I am the Christ; and shall lead many astray. And ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars: see that ye be not troubled: for these things must needs come to pass; but the end is not yet. For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be famines and earthquakes in divers places. But all these things are the beginning of travail.

9 Then shall they deliver you up unto tribulation, and shall kill you: and ye shall be hated of all the nations for my name's sake. And then shall many stumble, and shall deliver up one another, and shall hate one another. And many false prophets shall arise, and shall lead many astray. And because iniquity shall be multiplied, the love of the many shall wax cold. But he that endureth to the end, the same shall be saved. And ⁴this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in the whole ⁵world for a testimony unto all the nations; and then shall the end come.

17 Judæa flee unto the mountains: let him that is on the housetop not go down to take out the things that are in his house: and let him that is in the field not return back to take his cloke. But woe unto them that are with child and to them that give suck in those days! 20 And pray ye that your flight be not in the winter, neither on a sabbath: for then shall be great tribulation, such as hath not been from the beginning of the world until now, no, nor ever shall be. 22 And except those days had been shortened, no flesh would have been saved: but for the elect's sake those days shall be shortened. Then if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is the Christ, or, Here; believe ⁸it not. For there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall shew great signs and wonders; so as to lead astray, if possible, even the elect. Behold, I have told you before- 26 hand. If therefore they shall say unto you, Behold, he is in the wilderness; go not forth: Behold, he is in the inner 27 chambers; believe ⁹it not. For as the lightning cometh forth from the east, and is seen even unto the west; so shall be the ¹⁰coming of the Son of man. Whosoever the carcass is, there will the ¹¹eagles be gathered together.

29 But immediately, after the tribulation of those days, the sun shall be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken: and then shall appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven: and then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn, and they shall see the Son of man coming on the clouds of heaven with power and great glory. And he shall send forth his angels ¹²with ¹³a great sound of a trumpet, and they shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other.

32 Now from the fig tree learn her parable: when her branch is now become tender, and putteth forth its leaves, ye know that the summer is nigh: even so ye also, when ye see all these things, know ye that ¹⁴he is nigh, even at the doors. Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass away, till all these things be accomplished. Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away. But of that day and hour knoweth no one, not even the angels of heaven, ¹⁵neither the Son, but the Father only. And as were the days of Noah, so shall be the ¹⁰coming of the Son of man. tarried, they all slumbered and slept.
6 But at midnight there is a cry, Behold,

14 For it is as when a man, going into another country, called his own ⁷serv-ants, and delivered unto them his 15 goods. And unto one he gave five talents, to another two, to another one;
to each according to his several ability; 16 and he went on his journey. Straightway he that received the five talents went and traded with them, and made 17 other five talents. In like manner he also that received the two gained other 18 two. But he that received the one went away and digged in the earth, and hid 19 his lord's money. Now after a long time the lord of those ⁷servants cometh, and 20 maketh a reckoning with them. And he that received the five talents came and brought other five talents, saying, Lord, thou deliverdest unto me five talents: lo, I have gained other five 21 talents. His lord said unto him, Well done, good and faithful ⁴servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will set thee over many things: enter 22 thou into the joy of thy lord. And he also that received the two talents came and said, Lord, thou deliverdest unto me two talents: lo, I have gained other 23 two talents. His lord said unto him,

Well done, good and faithful ⁴servant;
thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will set thee over many things: 24 enter thou into the joy of thy lord. And he also that had received the one talent came and said, Lord, I knew thee that thou art a hard man, reaping where thou didst not sow, and gathering where 25 thou didst not scatter: and I was afraid, and went away and hid thy talent in the 26 earth: lo, thou hast thine own. But his lord answered and said unto him, Thou wicked and slothful ⁴servant, thou knewest that I reap where I sowed not,
and gather where I did not scatter; 27 thou oughtest therefore to have put my money to the bankers, and at my coming I should have received back mine 28 own with interest. Take ye away therefore the talent from him, and give it unto him that hath the ten talents.
29 For unto every one that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance:
but from him that hath not, even that which he hath shall be taken away.

ant into the outer darkness: there shall be the weeping and gnashing of

Then shall he answer them, saying, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye did it not unto one of these least, ye did it not unto me.
 46 And these shall go away into eternal punishment: but the righteous into eternal life.
 26 And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished all these words, he said unto his
 2 disciples, Ye know that after two days the passover cometh, and the Son of man is delivered up to be crucified.
 3 Then were gathered together the chief priests, and the elders of the people, unto the court of the high priest, who was 4 called Caiaphas; and they took counsel together that they might take Jesus by 5 subtilty, and kill him. But they said, Not during the feast, lest a tumult arise among the people.
 6 Now when Jesus was in Bethany, in 7 the house of Simon the leper, there came unto him a woman having ²an alabaster cruse of exceeding precious ointment, and she poured it upon his head, as he 8 sat at meat. But when the disciples saw it, they had indignation, saying, To 9 what purpose is this waste? For this ointment might have been sold for much,
 10 and given to the poor. But Jesus perceiving it said unto them, Why trouble ye the woman? for she hath wrought 11 a good work upon me. For ye have the poor always with you; but me ye have 12 not always. For in that she ³poured this ointment upon my body, she did 13 it to prepare me for burial. Verily I say unto you, Whosoever ⁴this gospel shall be preached in the whole world, that also which this woman hath done shall be spoken of for a memorial of her.
 14 Then one of the twelve, who was called Judas Iscariot, went unto the chief 15 priests, and said, What are ye willing to give me, and I will deliver him unto you? And they weighed unto him

 16 thirty pieces of silver. And from that time he sought opportunity to deliver him unto them.
 17 Now on the first day of unleavened bread the disciples came to Jesus, saying, Where wilt thou that we make ready 18 for thee to eat the passover? And he said, Go into the city to such a man, and say unto him, The ⁵Master saith, My time is at hand; I keep the passover at 19 thy house with my disciples. And the disciples did as Jesus appointed them;
 20 and they made ready the passover. Now when even was come, he was sitting at 21 meat with the twelve ⁶disciples; and as they were eating, he said, Verily I say unto you, that one of you shall betray 22 me. And they were exceeding sorrowful, and began to say unto him every 23 one, Is it I, Lord? And he answered and said, He that dipped his hand with me in the dish, the same shall betray 24 me. The Son of man goeth, even as it is written of him: but woe unto that man through whom the Son of man is betrayed! good were it ⁷for that man
 25 if he had not been born. And Judas, which betrayed him, answered and said, Is it I, Rabbi? He saith unto him, Thou 26 hast said. And as they were eating, Jesus took ⁸bread, and blessed, and brake it; and he gave to the disciples, and 27 said, Take, eat; this is my body. And he took ⁹a cup, and gave thanks, and gave to them, saying, Drink ye all of 28 it; for this is my blood of ¹⁰the ¹¹covenant, which is shed for many unto redemption of sins. But I say unto you, I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new with you in my Father's kingdom.
 30 And when they had sung a hymn, they went out unto the mount of Olives.
 31 Then saith Jesus unto them, All ye shall be ¹²offended in me this night: for it is written, I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered abroad. But after I am raised up, 33 I will go before you into Galilee. But Peter answered and said unto him, If all shall be ¹³offended in thee, I will never 34 be ¹⁴offended. Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, that this night, before the cock crow, thou shalt deny 35 me thrice. Peter saith unto him, Even if I must die with thee, yet will I not deny thee. Likewise also said all the disciples.
 36 Then cometh Jesus with them unto 37 a place called Gethsemane, and saith unto his disciples, Sit ye here, while I go

And he went forward a little, and fell on his face, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass away from me: nevertheless, not as I will, but as thou wilt. And he cometh unto the disciples, and findeth them sleeping, and saith unto Peter, What, could ye not watch with me one 41 hour? ¹ Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit indeed is 42 willing, but the flesh is weak. Again a second time he went away, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if this cannot pass away, except I drink it, 43 thy will be done. And he came again and found them sleeping, for their 44 eyes were heavy. And he left them again, and went away, and prayed a third time, saying again the same 45 words. Then cometh he to the disciples, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: behold, the hour is at hand, and the Son of man is betrayed unto the hands of sinners. 46 Arise, let us be going: behold, he is at hand that betrayeth me.

47 And while he yet spake, lo, Judas, one of the twelve, came, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and elders 48 of the people. Now he that betrayed him gave them a sign, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that is he: take him. 49 And straightway he came to Jesus, and 50 said, Hail, Rabbi; and ² kissed him. And Jesus said unto him, Friend, do that for which thou art come. Then they came and laid hands on Jesus, and took him.

51 And behold, one of them that were with Jesus stretched out his hand, and drew his sword, and smote the ³ servant of the high priest, and struck off his ear. 52 Then saith Jesus unto him, Put up again thy sword into its place: for all they that take the sword shall perish 53 with the sword. Or thinkest thou that I cannot beseech my Father, and he shall even now send me more than 54 twelve legions of angels? How then should the scriptures be fulfilled, that 55 thus it must be? In that hour said Jesus to the multitudes, Are ye come out as against a robber with swords and staves to seize me? I sat daily in the temple teaching, and ye took me not.

56 But all this is come to pass, that the scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled. Then all the disciples left him, and fled.

57 And they that had taken Jesus led him away to the house of Caiaphas the high priest, where the scribes and the elders 58 were gathered together. But Peter followed him afar off, unto the court of the high priest, and entered in, and sat with 59 the officers, to see the end. Now the chief priests and the whole council sought false witness against Jesus, that 60 they might put him to death; and they found it not, though many false witnesses came. But afterward came two, 61 and said, This man said, I am able to destroy the ⁴ temple of God, and to build 62 it in three days. And the high priest stood up, and said unto him, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which these 63 witness against thee? But Jesus held his peace. And the high priest said unto him, I adjure thee by the living God, that thou tell us whether thou be the 64 Christ, the Son of God. Jesus saith unto him, Thou hast said: nevertheless I say unto you, Henceforth ye shall see the Son of man sitting at the right hand of power, and coming on the clouds of 65 heaven. Then the high priest rent his garments, saying, He hath spoken blasphemy: what further need have we of witnesses? behold, now ye have heard 66 the blasphemy: what think ye? They answered and said, He is ⁵ worthy of 67 death. Then did they spit in his face and buffet him: and some smote him 68 ⁶ with the palms of their hands, saying, Prophecy unto us, thou Christ: who is he that struck thee?

69 Now Peter was sitting without in the court: and a maid came unto him, saying, Thou also wast with Jesus the Galilean. But he denied before them all, saying, I know not what thou sayest.

71 And when he was gone out into the porch, another maid saw him, and saith unto them that were there, This man 72 also was with Jesus the Nazarene. And again he denied with an oath, I know 73 not the man. And after a little while they that stood by came and said to Peter, Of a truth thou also art one of them; for thy speech bewrayeth thee. 74 Then began he to curse and to swear, I know not the man. And straightway 75 the cock crew. And Peter remembered the word which Jesus had said, Before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice. And he went out, and wept bitterly.

27 Now when morning was come, all the chief priests and the elders of the people took counsel against Jesus to put 2 him to death: and they bound him, and led him away, and delivered him up to Pilate the governor.

3 Then Judas, which betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, repented himself, and brought back the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and 4 elders, saying, I have sinned in that I betrayed ⁷ innocent blood. But they said, What is that to us? see thou to 5 it. And he cast down the pieces of silver into the sanctuary, and departed; and he went away and hanged himself. not lawful to put them into the ¹treasury, since it is the price of blood. And they took counsel, and bought with them the potter's field, to bury strangers in. Wherefore that field was called, The field of blood, unto this day. Then was fulfilled that which was spoken ²by Jeremiah the prophet, saying, And ³they took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of him that was priced, ⁴whom certain 10 of the children of Israel did price; and ⁵they gave them for the potter's field, as the Lord appointed me.

11 Now Jesus stood before the governor: and the governor asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? And 12 Jesus said unto him, Thou sayest. And when he was accused by the chief priests 13 and elders, he answered nothing. Then saith Pilate unto him, Hearest thou not how many things they witness against 14 thee? And he gave him no answer, not even to one word: insomuch that the 15 governor marvelled greatly. Now at ⁶the feast the governor was wont to release unto the multitude one prisoner, 16 whom they would. And they had then a notable prisoner, called Barabbas. 17 When therefore they were gathered together, Pilate said unto them, Whom will ye that I release unto you? Barabbas, or Jesus which is called Christ? 18 For he knew that for envy they had 19 delivered him up. And while he was sitting on the judgement-seat, his wife sent unto him, saying, Have thou nothing to do with that righteous man: for I have suffered many things this day 20 in a dream because of him. Now the chief priests and the elders persuaded the multitudes that they should ask for 21 Barabbas, and destroy Jesus. But the governor answered and said unto them, Whether of the twain will ye that I release unto you? And they said, Barabbas. 22 Pilate saith unto them, What then shall I do unto Jesus which is called Christ? They all say, Let him be crucified. And he said, Why, what evil hath he done? But they cried out exceedingly, saying, Let him be crucified. 24 So when Pilate saw that he prevailed nothing, but rather that a tumult was arising, he took water, and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent ⁷of the blood of this righteous man: see ye to it. And all the people answered and said, His blood be 26 on us, and on our children. Then released he unto them Barabbas: but Jesus he scourged and delivered to be crucified.

27 Then the soldiers of the governor took Jesus into the ⁸palace, and gathered 28 unto him the whole ⁹band. And they ¹⁰stripped him, and put on him a scarlet 29 robe. And they plaited a crown of thorns and put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand; and they kneeled down before him, and mocked him, saying, Hail, King of the Jews! And they spat upon him, and took the reed and 31 smote him on the head. And when they had mocked him, they took off from him the robe, and put on him his garments, and led him away to crucify him.

32 And as they came out, they found a man of Cyrene, Simon by name: him they ¹¹compelled to go with them, that 33 he might bear his cross. And when they were come unto a place called Golgotha, that is to say, The place of a 34 skull, they gave him wine to drink mingled with gall: and when he had 35 tasted it, he would not drink. And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments among them, casting lots: 36 and they sat and watched him there. 37 And they set up over his head his accusation written, THIS IS JESUS THE 38 KING OF THE JEWS. Then are there crucified with him two robbers, one on the right hand, and one on the left. 39 And they that passed by railed on him, 40 wagging their heads, and saying, Thou that destroyest the ¹²temple, and buildest it in three days, save thyself: if thou art the Son of God, come down 41 from the cross. In like manner also the chief priests mocking him, with 42 the scribes and elders, said, He saved others: ¹³himself he cannot save. He is the King of Israel; let him now come down from the cross, and we will believe on him. He trusteth on God; let him deliver him now, if he desireth him: 44 for he said, I am the Son of God. And the robbers also that were crucified with him cast upon him the same reproach.

45 Now from the sixth hour there was darkness over all the ¹⁴land until the 46 ninth hour. And about the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani? that is, My God, my God, ¹⁵why hast thou forsaken me? And some of them that stood there, when they heard it, said, This man calleth Elijah. And straightway one of them ran, and took a sponge, and filled it with vinegar, and put it on a 49 reed, and gave him to drink. And the rest said, Let be; let us see whether 50 Elijah cometh to save him. ¹⁶And Jesus cried again with a loud voice, and 51 yielded up his spirit. And behold, the veil of the ¹²temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom; and the earth did quake; and the rocks were 52 rent; and the tombs were opened; and many bodies of the saints that had 53 fallen asleep were raised; and coming forth out of the tombs after his resurrection they entered into the holy city 54 and appeared unto many. Now the centurion, and they that were with him watching Jesus, when they saw the earthquake, and the things that were done, feared exceedingly, saying, 55 Truly this was ¹the Son of God. And many women were there beholding from afar, which had followed Jesus from 56 Galilee, ministering unto him: among whom was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James and Joses, and the mother of the sons of Zebedee.

57 And when even was come, there came a rich man from Arimathaea, named Joseph, who also himself was Jesus' 58 disciple: this man went to Pilate, and asked for the body of Jesus. Then Pilate commanded it to be given up. 59 And Joseph took the body, and wrapped 60 it in a clean linen cloth, and laid it in his own new tomb, which he had hewn out in the rock: and he rolled a great stone to the door of the tomb, and 61 departed. And Mary Magdalene was there, and the other Mary, sitting over against the sepulchre.

62 Now on the morrow, which is the day after the Preparation, the chief priests and the Pharisees were gathered together unto Pilate, saying, Sir, we remember that that deceiver said, while he was yet alive, After three days I 61 rise again. Command therefore that the sepulchre be made sure until the third day, lest haply his disciples come and steal him away, and say unto the people, He is risen from the dead: and the last error will be worse than the 65 first. Pilate said unto them, ²Ye have a guard: go your way, ³make it as sure 66 as ye can. So they went, and made the sepulchre sure, sealing the stone, the guard being with them.

28 Now late on the sabbath day, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre.

2 And behold, there was a great earthquake; for an angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled away the stone, and sat upon it.

3 His appearance was as lightning, and ⁴this raiment white as snow: and for fear of him the watchers did quake, and

5 became as dead men. And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek 6 Jesus, which hath been crucified. He is not here; for he is risen, even as he said. Come, see the place ⁴where the 7 Lord lay. And go quickly, and tell his disciples, He is risen from the dead; and lo, he goeth before you into Galilee; there shall ye see him: lo, I have 8 told you. And they departed quickly from the tomb with fear and great joy, and ran to bring his disciples word. 9 And behold, Jesus met them, saying, All hail. And they came and took hold of his feet, and worshipped him. 10 Then saith Jesus unto them, Fear not: go tell my brethren that they depart into Galilee, and there shall they see me.

11 Now while they were going, behold, some of the guard came into the city, and told unto the chief priests all the 12 things that were come to pass. And when they were assembled with the elders, and had taken counsel, they gave large money unto the soldiers, 13 saying, Say ye, His disciples came by night, and stole him away while we 14 slept. And if this ⁵come to the governor's ears, we will persuade him, 15 and rid you of care. So they took the money, and did as they were taught: and this saying was spread abroad among the Jews, and continmeth until this day.

16 But the eleven disciples went into Galilee, unto the mountain where Jesus 17 had appointed them. And when they saw him, they worshipped him: but 18 some doubted. And Jesus came to them and spake unto them, saying, All authority hath been given unto me in 19 heaven and on earth. Go ye therefore, and make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them into the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy 20 Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I commanded you: and lo, I am with you ⁶always, even unto ⁷the end of the world.

- 1 THE beginning of the gospel of Jesus Christ, ¹the Son of God.
- 2 Even as it is written ²in Isaiah the prophet,
Behold, I send my messenger before thy face,
Who shall prepare thy way;
- 3 The voice of one crying in the wilderness,
Make ye ready the way of the Lord,
Make his paths straight;
- 4 John came, who baptized in the wilderness and preached the baptism of repentance unto remission of sins. And there went out unto him all the country of Judaea, and all they of Jerusalem; and they were baptized of him in the river Jordan, confessing their sins.
- 6 And John was clothed with camel's hair, and had a leathern girdle about his loins, and did eat locusts and wild honey. And he preached, saying, There cometh after me he that is mightier than I, the latchet of whose shoes I am not ³worthy to stoop down and smulose. I baptized you ⁴with water; but he shall baptize you ⁴with the ⁵Holy Ghost.
- 9 And it came to pass in those days, that Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptized of John ⁶in the Jordan. And straightway coming up out of the water, he saw the heavens rent asunder, and the Spirit as a dove descending upon him: and a voice came out of the heavens, Thou art my beloved Son, in thee I am well pleased.
- 12 And straightway the Spirit driveth him forth into the wilderness. And he was in the wilderness forty days tempted of Satan; and he was with the wild beasts; and the angels ministered unto him.
- 14 Now after that John was delivered up, Jesus came into Galilee, preaching the gospel of God, and saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand: repent ye, and believe in the gospel.
- 16 And passing along by the sea of Galilee, he saw Simon and Andrew the brother of Simon casting a net in the sea: for they were fishers. And Jesus said unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you to become fishers of men. And straightway they left the nets, and followed him. And going on a little further, he saw James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, who also were in the boat mending the nets.
- 20 And straightway he called them: and they left their father Zebedee in the - boat with the hired servants, and went after him.

- 21 And they go into Capernaum; and straightway on the sabbath day he entered into the synagogue and taught.
- 22 And they were astonished at his teaching: for he taught them as having authority, and not as the scribes. And straightway there was in their synagogue a man with an unclean spirit;
- 24 and he cried out, saying, What have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? I know thee who thou art, the Holy One of God. And Jesus rebuked ⁷him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. And the unclean spirit, ⁸tearing him and crying with a loud voice, came out of him. And they were all amazed, insomuch that they questioned among themselves, saying, What is this? a new teaching! with authority he commandeth even the unclean spirits, and they obey him. And the report of him went out straightway everywhere into all the region of Galilee round about.
- 29 And straightway, ⁹when they were come out of the synagogue, they came into the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and John. Now Simon's wife's mother lay sick of a fever; and straightway they tell him of her: and he came and took her by the hand, and raised her up; and the fever left her, and she ministered unto them.
- 32 And at even, when the sun did set, they brought unto him all that were sick, and them that were ¹⁰possessed with devils. And all the city was gathered together at the door. And he healed many that were sick with divers diseases, and cast out many ¹¹devils; and he suffered not the ¹¹devils to speak, because they knew him ¹².
- 35 And in the morning, a great while before day, he rose up and went out, and departed into a desert place, and there prayed. And Simon and they that were with him followed after him; and they found him, and say unto him, All are seeking thee. And he saith unto them, Let us go elsewhere into the next towns, that I may preach there also; for to this end came I forth. And he went into their synagogues throughout all Galilee, preaching and casting out ¹³devils.
- 40 And there cometh to him a leper, beseeching him, ¹³and kneeling down to him, and saying unto him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me

And straightway the leprosy departed from him, and 43 he was made clean. And he ¹strictly charged him, and straightway sent him 44 out, and saith unto him, See thou say nothing to any man: but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing the things which Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.

45 But he went out, and began to publish it much, and to spread abroad the ²matter, insomuch that ³Jesus could no more openly enter into ⁴a city, but was without in desert places: and they came to him from every quarter.

² And when he entered again into Capernaum after some days, it was noised 2 that he was ⁵in the house. And many were gathered together, so that there was no longer room for them, no, not even about the door: and he spake the 3 word unto them. And they come, bringing unto him a man sick of the palsy, 4 borne of four. And when they could not ⁶come nigh unto him for the crowd, they uncovered the roof where he was: and when they had broken it up, they let down the bed whereon the sick of the 5 palsy lay. And Jesus seeing their faith saith unto the sick of the palsy, ⁷ Son, 6 thy sins are forgiven. But there were certain of the scribes sitting there, and 7 reasoning in their hearts, Why doth this man thus speak? he blasphemeth: who can forgive sins but one, even God?

8 And straightway Jesus, perceiving in his spirit that they so reasoned within themselves, saith unto them, Why reason ye these things in your hearts? 9 Whether is easier, to say to the sick of the palsy, Thy sins are forgiven; or to say, Arise, and take up thy bed, and 10 walk? But that ye may know that the Son of man hath ⁸power on earth to forgive sins (he saith to the sick of the 11 palsy), I say unto thee, Arise, take up 12 thy bed, and go unto thy house. And he arose, and straightway took up the bed, and went forth before them all; insomuch that they were all amazed, and glorified God, saying, We never saw it on this fashion.

13 And he went forth again by the sea side; and all the multitude resorted 14 unto him, and he taught them. And as he passed by, he saw Levi the son of Alphaeus sitting at the place of toll, and he saith unto him, Follow me. And 15 he arose and followed him. And it came to pass, that he was sitting at meat in his house, and many ⁹publicans and sinners sat down with Jesus and his disciples: for there were many, 16 and they followed him. And the scribes ¹⁰of the Pharisees, when they saw that he was eating with the sinners and publicans, said unto his disciples, ¹¹He eateth ¹²and drinketh with publicans 17 and sinners. And when Jesus heard it, he saith unto them, They that are ¹³whole have no need of a physician, but they that are sick: I came not to call the righteous, but sinners.

18 And John's disciples and the Pharisees were fasting: and they come and say unto him, Why do John's disciples and the disciples of the Pharisees fast, but 19 thy disciples fast not? And Jesus said unto them, Can the sons of the bride-chamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them? as long as they have the bridegroom with them, they cannot fast.

20 But the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, 21 and then will they fast in that day. No man seweth a piece of undressed cloth on an old garment: else that which should fill it up taketh from it, the new from the old, and a worse rent is made.

22 And no man putteth new wine into old ¹⁴wine-skins: else the wine will burst the skins, and the wine perisheth, and the skins: but they put new wine into fresh wine-skins.

23 And it came to pass, that he was going on the sabbath day through the cornfields; and his disciples ¹⁵began, as they went, to pluck the ears of corn.

24 And the Pharisees said unto him, Behold, why do they on the sabbath day 25 that which is not lawful? And he said unto them, Did ye never read what David did, when he had need, and was an hungred, he, and they that were with 26 him? How he entered into the house of God ¹⁶when Abiathar was high priest, and did eat the shewbread, which it is not lawful to eat save for the priests, and gave also to them that were with 27 him? And he said unto them, The sabbath was made for man, and not man 28 for the sabbath: so that the Son of man is lord even of the sabbath.

3 And he entered again into the synagogue; and there was a man there 2 which had his hand withered. And they watched him, whether he would heal him on the sabbath day; that they 3 might accuse him. And he saith unto the man that had his hand withered,

4 ¹⁷Stand forth. And he saith unto them, Is it lawful on the sabbath day to do good, or to do harm? to save a life, or 5 to kill? But they held their peace. And when he had looked round about on them with anger, being grieved at the hardening of their heart, he saith unto the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he stretched it forth: and his hand 6 was restored. And the Pharisees went out, and straightway with the Herodians took counsel against him, how they might destroy him.

titude from Galilee followed: and from 8 Judea, and from Jerusalem, and from Idumea, and beyond Jordan, and about Tyre and Sidon, a great multitude, hearing ¹ what great things he did, came un-9 to him. And he spake to his disciples, that a little boat should wait on him because of the crowd, lest they should 10 throng him: for he had healed many;
insomuch that as many as had ² plagues
³ pressed upon him that they might touch
11 him. And the unclean spirits, whenso-ever they beheld him, fell down before him, and cried, saying, Thou art the Son 12 of God. And he charged them much that they should not make him known.
13 And he goeth up into the mountain, and calleth unto him whom he himself 14 would: and they went unto him. And he appointed twelve,⁴ that they might be with him, and that he might send 15 them forth to preach, and to have au-
16 thority to cast out ⁵ devils: ⁶ and Simon
17 he surnamed Peter; and James the son of Zebedee, and John the brother of James; and them he surnamed Boa-18 nerges, which is, Sons of thunder: and Andrew, and Philip, and Bartholomew, and Matthew, and Thomas, and James the son of Alphaeus, and Thaddaens, and 19 Simon the ⁷ Cananean, and Judas Iscariot, which also betrayed him.
20 And he cometh ⁸ into a house. And the multitude cometh together again, so that they could not so much as eat bread.
21 And when his friends heard it, they went out to lay hold on him: for they said, He 22 is beside himself. And the scribes which came from Jerusalem said, He hath Beelzebub, and, ⁹ By the prince of the ⁵ devils casteth he out the ⁵ devils.
23 And he called them unto him, and said unto them in parables, How can Satan 24 cast out Satan? And if a kingdom be divided against itself, that kingdom can-25 not stand. And if a house be divided against itself, that house will not be able 26 to stand. And if Satan hath risen up against himself, and is divided, he can-27 not stand, but hath an end. But no one can enter into the house of the strong man, and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man; and then he will 28 spoil his house. Verily I say unto you,
All their sins shall be forgiven unto the sons of men, and their blasphemies wherewith soever they shall blas-29 pheme: but whosoever shall blaspheme against the Holy Spirit hath never forgiveness, but is guilty of an eternal sin:
30 because they said, He hath an unclean spirit.
31 And there come his mother and his brethren; and, standing without, they 32 sent unto him, calling him. And a multitude was sitting about him; and they say unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren without seek for thee.
33 And he answereth them, and saith,

Who is my mother and my brethren?
34 And looking round on them which sat round about him, he saith, Behold, my 35 mother and my brethren! For whosoever shall do the will of God, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother.
4 And again he began to teach by the sea side. And there is gathered unto him a very great multitude, so that he entered into a boat, and sat in the sea;
and all the multitude were by the sea on 2 the land. And he taught them many things in parables, and said unto them
3 in his teaching, Hearken: Behold, the 4 sower went forth to sow: and it came to pass, as he sowed, some seed fell by the way side, and the birds came and 5 devoured it. And other fell on the rocky ground, where it had not much earth;
and straightway it sprang up, because 6 it had no deepness of earth: and when the sun was risen, it was scorched; and because it had no root, it withered a-7 way. And other fell among the thorns, and the thorns grew up, and choked it, 8 and it yielded no fruit. And others fell into the good ground, and yielded fruit, growing up and increasing; and brought forth, thirtyfold, and sixtyfold, and a 9 hundredfold. And he said, Who hath ears to hear, let him hear.
10 And when he was alone, they that were about him with the twelve asked of him 11 the parables. And he said unto them, Unto you is given the mystery of the kingdom of God: but unto them that are without, all things are done in pa-12 rables: that seeing they may see, and not perceive; and hearing they may hear, and not understand; lest haply they should turn again, and it should 13 be forgiven them. And he saith unto them, Know ye not this parable? and how shall ye know all the parables?
14 The sower soweth the word. And these are they by the way side, where the word is sown; and when they have heard, straightway cometh Satan, and taketh away the word which hath been 15 sown in them. And these in like manner are they that are sown upon the rocky places, who, when they have heard the word, straightway receive it with 17 joy; and they have no root in themselves, but endure for a while; then,
when tribulation or persecution ariseth because of the word, straightway they 18 stumble. And others are they that are sown among the thorns; these are they 19 that have heard the word, and the cares of the ¹⁰ world, and the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts of other things entering in, choke the word, and it be-20 cometh unfruitful. And those are they that were sown upon the good ground;
such as hear the word, and accept it,
and bear fruit, thirtyfold, and sixty-fold, and a hundredfold.

For there is nothing hid, save that it should be manifested; neither was anything made secret, but that it should come to light. If any man hath ears to hear, let him hear. And he said unto them, Take heed what ye hear: with what measure ye mete it shall be measured unto you: and more shall be given unto you. For he that hath, to him shall be given: and he that hath not, from him shall be taken away even that which he hath.

26 And he said, So is the kingdom of God, as if a man should cast seed upon the earth; and should sleep and rise night and day, and the seed should spring up and grow, he knoweth not how. The earth ¹beareth fruit of herself; first the blade, then the ear, then the full corn in the ear. But when the fruit ²is ripe, straightway he ³putteth forth the sickle, because the harvest is come.

30 And he said, How shall we liken the kingdom of God? or in what parable shall we set it forth? ⁴It is like a grain of mustard seed, which, when it is sown upon the earth, though it be less than all the seeds that are upon the earth, yet when it is sown, groweth up, and becometh greater than all the herbs, and putteth out great branches; so that the birds of the heaven can lodge under the shadow thereof.

33 And with many such parables spake he the word unto them, as they were able to hear it: and without a parable spake he not unto them: but privately to his own disciples he expounded all things.

35 And on that day, when even was come, he saith unto them, Let us go over unto the other side. And leaving the multitude, they take him with them, even as he was, in the boat. And other boats were with him. And there ariseth a great storm of wind, and the waves beat into the boat, inasmuch that the boat was now filling. And he himself was in the stern, asleep on the cushion: and they awake him, and say unto him, ⁵Master, carest thou not that we perish?

39 And he awoke, and rebuked the wind, and said unto the sea, Peace, be still. And the wind ceased, and there was a great calm. And he said unto them, Why are ye fearful? have ye not yet faith? And they feared exceedingly, and said one to another, Who then is this, that even the wind and the sea obey him?

5 And they came to the other side of the sea, into the country of the Gerasenes.

2 And when he was come out of the boat, straightway there met him out of the 3 tombs a man with an unclean spirit, who had his dwelling in the tombs: and no man could any more bind him, no, not

5 And always, night and day, in the tombs and in the mountains, he was crying out, and cutting himself with stones.

6 And when he saw Jesus from afar, he ran and worshipped him; and crying out with a loud voice, he saith, What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of the Most High God? I adjure thee

8 by God, torment me not. For he said unto him, Come forth, thou unclean spirit, out of the man. And he asked him, What is thy name? And he saith unto him, My name is Legion; for we are

10 many. And he besought him much that he would not send them away out of the 11 country. Now there was there on the mountain side a great herd of swine

12 feeding. And they besought him, saying, Send us into the swine, that we may 13 enter into them. And he gave them leave. And the unclean spirits came out, and entered into the swine: and the herd rushed down the steep into the sea, in number about two thousand; and they

14 were choked in the sea. And they that fed them fled, and told it in the city, and in the country. And they came to see

15 what it was that had come to pass. And they come to Jesus, and behold ⁶him that was possessed with devils sitting, clothed and in his right mind, even him that had the legion: and they were

16 afraid. And they that saw it declared unto them how it befell ⁶him that was possessed with devils, and concerning

17 the swine. And they began to beseech 18 him to depart from their borders. And as he was entering into the boat, he that had been possessed with ⁷devils besought him that he might be with him.

19 And he suffered him not, but saith unto him, Go to thy house unto thy friends, and tell them how great things the Lord bath done for thee, and how he had 20 mercy on thee. And he went his way, and began to publish in Decapolis how great things Jesus had done for him: and all men did marvel.

21 And when Jesus had crossed over again in the boat unto the other side, a great multitude was gathered unto him: and 22 he was by the sea. And there cometh one of the rulers of the synagogue, Jaïrus by name; and seeing him, he in straightway with haste unto the king, and asked, saying, I will that thou forthwith give me in a charger the head of John¹ the Baptist. And the king was exceeding sorry; but for the sake of his oaths, and of them that sat at meat, he would not reject her. And straightway the king sent forth a soldier of his guard, and commanded to bring his head: and he went and beheaded him in the prison, and brought his head in a charger, and gave it to the damsel; and the damsel gave it to her mother. And when his disciples heard thereof, they came and took up his corpse, and laid it in a tomb.

30 And the apostles gather themselves together unto Jesus; and they told him all things, whatsoever they had done, 31 and whatsoever they had taught. And he saith unto them, Come ye yourselves apart into a desert place, and rest a while. For there were many coming and going, and they had no leisure so much 32 as to eat. And they went away in the 33 boat to a desert place apart. And the people saw them going, and many knew them, and they ran there together ²on foot from all the cities, and outwent 34 them. And he came forth and saw a great multitude, and he had compassion on them, because they were as sheep not having a shepherd: and he began to 35 teach them many things. And when the day was now far spent, his disciples came unto him, and said, The place is desert, and the day is now far spent: 36 send them away, that they may go into the country and villages round about, and buy themselves somewhat to eat. 37 But he answered and said unto them, Give ye them to eat. And they say unto him, Shall we go and buy two hundred ³pennyworth of bread, and give them to 38 eat? And he saith unto them, How many loaves have ye? go and see. And when they knew, they say, Five, and 39 two fishes. And he commanded them that all should ⁴sit down by companies 40 upon the green grass. And they sat down in ranks, by hundreds, and by fifties. 41 And he took the five loaves and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed, and brake the loaves; and he gave to the disciples to set before them; and the two fishes divided he among 42 them all. And they did all eat, and were 43 filled. And they took up broken pieces, twelve basketfuls, and also of the fishes. 44 And they that ate the loaves were five thousand men.

45 And straightway he constrained his disciples to enter into the boat, and to go before him unto the other side to Bethsaida, while he himself sendeth the 46 multitude away. And after he had taken leave of them, he departed into the 47 mountain to pray. And when even was come, the boat was in the midst of the 48 sea, and he alone on the land. And seeing them distressed in rowing, for the wind was contrary unto them, about the fourth watch of the night he cometh unto them, walking on the sea; and he 49 would have passed by them: but they, when they saw him walking on the sea, supposed that it was an apparition, and 50 cried out: for they all saw him, and were troubled. But he straightway spake with them, and saith unto them, Be of good cheer: it is I; be not 51 afraid. And he went up unto them into the boat; and the wind ceased: and they were sore amazed in them- 52 selves; for they understood not concerning the loaves, but their heart was hardened.

53 And when they had ⁵crossed over, they came to the land unto Gennesaret, and 54 moored to the shore. And when they were come out of the boat, straightway 55 the people knew him, and ran round about that whole region, and began to carry about on their beds those that were 56 sick, where they heard he was. And wheresoever he entered, into villages, or into cities, or into the country, they laid the sick in the marketplaces, and besought him that they might touch if it were but the border of his garment: and as many as touched ⁶him were made whole.

7 And there are gathered together unto him the Pharisees, and certain of the scribes, which had come from Jerusalem, and had seen that some of his disciples ate their bread with ⁷defiled, that is, unwashed, hands. For the Pharisees, and all the Jews, except they wash their hands ⁸diligently, eat not, holding the 4 tradition of the elders: and when they come from the marketplace, except they ⁹wash themselves, they eat not: and many other things there be, which they have received to hold, ¹⁰washings of cups, and pots, and brasen vessels¹¹. 5 And the Pharisees and the scribes ask him, Why walk not thy disciples according to the tradition of the elders, but eat 6 their bread with ⁷defiled hands? And he said unto them, Well did Isaiah prophesy of you hypocrites, as it is written, father or his mother, That wherewith thou mightest have been profited by me is Corban, that is to say, Given to 12 God; ye no longer suffer him to do aught for his father or his mother; 13 making void the word of God by your tradition, which ye have delivered: and 14 many such like things ye do. And he called to him the multitude again, and said unto them, Hear me all of you, 15 and understand: there is nothing from without the man, that going into him can defile him: but the things which 16 proceed out of the man are those that 17 defile the man.¹ And when he was entered into the house from the multi- 18 tude, his disciples asked of him the 19 parable. And he saith unto them, Are ye so without understanding also? Per- 20 ceive ye not, that whatsoever from without goeth into the man, it cannot 21 defile him; because it goeth not into his heart, but into his belly, and goeth out into the draught? This he said, 22 making all meats clean. And he said, That which proceedeth out of the man, 23 that defileth the man. For from within, out of the heart of men,² evil thoughts 24 proceed, fornications, thefts, murders, adulteries, covetings, wickednesses, de- 25 ceit, lasciviousness, an evil eye, railing, pride, foolishness: all these evil things 26 proceed from within, and defile the man. 27 And from thence he arose, and went away into the borders of Tyre³ and Sidon. And he entered into a house, and would have no man know it: and he 28 could not be hid. But straightway a woman, whose little daughter had an unclean spirit, having heard of him, 29 came and fell down at his feet. Now the woman was a⁴ Greek, a Syrophœ- 30 nician by race. And she besought him that he would cast forth the⁵ devil out 31 of her daughter. And he said unto her, Let the children first be filled: for it is not meet to take the children's⁶ bread 32 and cast it to the dogs. But she answered and saith unto him, Yea, Lord: even the dogs under the table eat of 33 the children's crumbs. And he said unto her, For this saying go thy way; the⁵ devil is gone out of thy daughter. 34 And she went away unto her house, and found the child laid upon the bed, and the⁵ devil gone out. 35 And again he went out from the bor- 36 ders of Tyre, and came through Sidon unto the sea of Galilee, through the 37 midst of the borders of Decapolis. And they bring unto him one that was deaf, and had an impediment in his speech; and they beseech him to lay his hand 38 upon him. And he took him aside from the multitude privately, and put his fingers into his ears, and he spat, and 39 touched his tongue; and looking up to heaven, he sighed, and saith unto him, 35 Ephphatha, that is, Be opened. And his ears were opened, and the bond of his tongue was loosed, and he spake 36 plain. And he charged them that they should tell no man: but the more he charged them, so much the more a great 37 deal they published it. And they were beyond measure astonished, saying, He hath done all things well: he maketh even the deaf to hear, and the dumb to speak.

8 In those days, when there was again a great multitude, and they had nothing to eat, he called unto him his disciples, 2 and saith unto them, I have compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now three days, and have no 3 thing to eat: and if I send them away fasting to their home, they will faint in the way; and some of them are come 4 from far. And his disciples answered him, Whence shall one be able to fill these men with⁷ bread here in a desert 5 place? And he asked them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, Seven. 6 And he commandeth the multitude to sit down on the ground: and he took the seven loaves, and having given thanks, he brake, and gave to his disciples, to set before them; and they set 7 them before the multitude. And they had a few small fishes: and having blessed them, he commanded to set 8 these also before them. And they did eat, and were filled: and they took up, of broken pieces that re- 9 mained over, seven baskets. And they were about four thousand: and he 10 sent them away. And straightway he entered into the boat with his disci- 11 ples, and came into the parts of Dal- manutha.

11 And the Pharisees came forth, and began to question with him, seeking of him a sign from heaven, tempting him. 12 And he sighed deeply in his spirit, and saith, Why doth this generation seek a sign? verily I say unto you, There shall no sign be given unto this generation. 13 And he left them, and again entering into the boat departed to the other side. 14 And they forgot to take bread; and they had not in the boat with them 15 more than one loaf. And he charged them, saying, Take heed, beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and the leaven 16 of Herod. And they reasoned one with another,⁸ saying,⁹ We have no bread. 17 And Jesus perceiving it saith unto them, Why reason ye, because ye have no bread? do ye not yet perceive, neither understand? have ye your heart har- 18 dened? Having eyes, see ye not? and having ears, hear ye not? and do ye 19 not remember? When I brake the five loaves among the five thousand, how many¹⁰ baskets full of broken pieces took ye up? They say unto him, Twelve.

25 as trees, walking. Then again he laid his hands upon his eyes; and he looked stedfastly, and was restored, and saw

27 And Jesus went forth, and his disciples, into the villages of Cæsarea Philippi: and in the way he asked his disciples, saying unto them, Who do 28 men say that I am? And they told him, saying, John the Baptist: and others, Elijah; but others, One of the prophets.
29 And he asked them, But who say ye that I am? Peter answereth and saith

31 man of him. And he began to teach them, that the Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected by the elders, and the chief priests, and the scribes, and be killed, and after three 32 days rise again. And he spake the saying openly. And Peter took him, and 33 began to rebuke him. But he turning about, and seeing his disciples, rebuked Peter, and saith, Get thee behind me, Satan: for thou mindest not the things 34 of God, but the things of men. And he called unto him the multitude with his disciples, and said unto them, If any man would come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and 35 follow me. For whosoever would save his ² life shall lose it; and whosoever shall lose his ² life for my sake and the 36 gospel's shall save it. For what doth it profit a man, to gain the whole world, 37 and forfeit his ² life? For what should a man give in exchange for his ² life?
38 For whosoever shall be ashamed of me and of my words in this adulterous and sinful generation, the Son of man also shall be ashamed of him, when he cometh in the glory of his Father with became glistering, exceeding white; so as no fuller on earth can whiten them.

4 And there appeared unto them Elijah with Moses: and they were talking 5 with Jesus. And Peter answereth and saith to Jesus, Rabbi, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three ³ tabernacles; one for thee, and one for 6 Moses, and one for Elijah. For he wist not what to answer; for they became 7 sore afraid. And there came a cloud overshadowing them: and there came a voice out of the cloud, This is my 8 beloved Son: hear ye him. And suddenly looking round about, they saw no one any more, save Jesus only with themselves.
9 And as they were coming down from the mountain, he charged them that they should tell no man what things they had seen, save when the Son of man should have risen again from the 10 dead. And they kept the saying, questioning among themselves what the rising again from the dead should mean.
11 And they asked him, saying, ⁴ The scribes say that Elijah must first come.
12 And he said unto them, Elijah indeed cometh first, and restoreth all things: and how is it written of the Son of man, that he should suffer many things and 13 be set at nought? But I say unto you, that Elijah is come, and they have also done unto him whatsoever they listed, even as it is written of him.
14 And when they came to the disciples, they saw a great multitude about them, 15 and scribes questioning with them. And straightway all the multitude, when they saw him, were greatly amazed, and 16 running to him saluted him. And he asked them, What question ye with tude came running together, he rebuked the unclean spirit, saying unto him, Thou dumb and deaf spirit, I command thee, come out of him, and enter no more into him. And having cried out, and ¹torn him much, he came out: and the child became as one dead; inasmuch that the more part said, He is dead. But Jesus took him by the hand, and raised him up; and he arose. And when he was come into the house, his disciples asked him privately, ²saying, We could not cast it out. And he said unto them, This kind can come out by nothing, save by prayer³.

30 And they went forth from thence, and passed through Galilee; and he would not that any man should know it. For he taught his disciples, and said unto them, The Son of man is delivered up into the hands of men, and they shall kill him; and when he is killed, after three days he shall rise again. But they understood not the saying, and were afraid to ask him.

33 And they came to Capernaum: and when he was in the house he asked them, What were ye reasoning in the way? But they held their peace: for they had disputed one with another in the way, ⁴who was the ⁴greatest. And he sat down, and called the twelve; and he saith unto them, If any man would be first, he shall be last of all, and minis- ter of all. And he took a little child, and set him in the midst of them: and taking him in his arms, he said unto them, Whosoever shall receive one of such little children in my name, receiveth me: and whosoever receiveth me, receiveth not me, but him that sent me.

38 John said unto him, ⁵Master, we saw one casting out ⁶devils in thy name: and we forbade him, because he followed not us. But Jesus said, Forbid him not: for there is no man which shall do a ⁷mighty work in my name, and be able quickly to speak evil of me. For he that is not against us is for us. For whosoever shall give you a cup of water to drink, ⁸because ye are Christ's, verily I say unto you, he shall in no wise lose his reward. And whosoever shall cause one of these little ones that believe ⁹on me to stumble, it were better for him if ¹⁰a great millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were cast into the sea.

43 And if thy hand cause thee to stumble, cut it off: it is good for thee to enter into life maimed, rather than having thy two hands to go into ¹¹hell, into the unquenchable fire.¹² And if thy foot cause thee to stumble, cut it off: it is good for thee to enter into life halt, rather than having thy two feet to be cast into ¹¹hell. And if thine eye cause thee to stumble, cast it out: it is good for thee to enter into the kingdom of God with one eye, rather than having

48 two eyes to be cast into ¹¹hell; where their worm dieth not, and the fire is ⁴⁹not quenched. For every one shall be ⁵⁰salted with fire¹³. Salt is good: but if the salt have lost its saltness, where- with will ye season it? Have salt in yourselves, and be at peace one with another.

10 And he arose from thence, and cometh into the borders of Judæa and beyond Jordan: and multitudes come together unto him again; and, as he was wont, he taught them again. And there came unto him Pharisees, and asked him, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife? tempting him. And he answered and said unto them, What did Moses com- mand you? And they said, Moses suffered to write a bill of divorcement, and to put her away. But Jesus said unto them, For your hardness of heart he wrote you this commandment. But from the beginning of the creation, Male and female made he them. For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, ¹⁴and shall cleave to his wife; and the twain shall become one flesh: so that they are no more twain, but one flesh. What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder. And in the house the disci- ples asked him again of this matter.

13 And they brought unto him little chil- dren, that he should touch them: and the disciples rebuked them. But when Jesus saw it, he was moved with indignation, and said unto them, Suffer the little children to come unto me; forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God. Verily I say unto you, Who- soever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall in no wise enter therein. And he took them in his arms, and blessed them, laying his hands upon them.

17 And as he was going forth ¹⁵into the way, there ran one to him, and kneeled to him, and asked him, Good ⁵Master, what shall I do that I may inherit eternal life? And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? none is good save one, even God. Thou knowest the commandments, Do not kill, Do not commit adultery, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Do not defraud, Honour thy father and mother. And he said unto him, ⁶Master, all these things have I observed from my youth. And Jesus looking upon him loved him, and said unto him, One thing thou lackest: go, sell whatsoever thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have saying, and he went away sorrowful: for he was one that had great possessions.

 23 And Jesus looked round about, and saith unto his disciples, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into 24 the kingdom of God! And the disciples were amazed at his words. But Jesus answereth again, and saith unto them, Children, how hard is it ¹ for them that trust in riches to enter into the king-25 dom of God! It is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of 26 God. And they were astonished exceedingly, saying ² unto him, Then who 27 can be saved? Jesus looking upon them saith, With men it is impossible, but not with God: for all things are 28 possible with God. Peter began to say unto him, Lo, we have left all, and have 29 followed thee. Jesus said, Verily I say unto you, There is no man that hath left house, or brethren, or sisters, or mother, or father, or children, or lands,
 for my sake, and for the gospel's sake.
 30 but he shall receive a hundredfold now in this time, houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands, with persecutions; and in the 31 ³ world to come eternal life. But many that are first shall be last; and the last first.
 32 And they were in the way, going up to Jerusalem; and Jesus was going before them: and they were amazed; ⁴ and they that followed were afraid. And he took again the twelve, and began to tell them the things that were to hap-33 pen unto him, saying, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man shall be delivered unto the chief priests and the scribes; and they shall condemn him to death, and shall deliver 34 him unto the Gentiles: and they shall mock him, and shall spit upon him, and shall scourge him, and shall kill him;
 and after three days he shall rise again.
 35 And there come near unto him James and John, the sons of Zebedee, saying unto him, ⁵ Master, we would that thou shouldst do for us whatsoever we shall

 What would ye that I should do for 37 you? And they said unto him, Grant unto us that we may sit, one on thy right hand, and one on thy left hand, 38 in thy glory. But Jesus said unto them, Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able to drink the cup that I drink? or to be baptized with the baptism that I am 39 baptized with? And they said unto him, We are able. And Jesus said unto them, The cup that I drink ye shall drink; and with the baptism that I am baptized withal shall ye be baptized:
 40 but to sit on my right hand or on my left hand is not mine to give: but it is for them for whom it hath been pre-41 pared. And when the ten heard it, they began to be moved with indigna-42 tion concerning James and John. And Jesus called them to him, and saith unto them, Ye know that they which are accounted to rule over the Gentiles lord

 it over them; and their great ones exer-43 cise authority over them. But it is not so among you: but whosoever would become great among you, shall be your 44 minister: and whosoever would be first among you, shall be ⁶ servant of 45 all. For verily the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.

 went out from Jericho, with his disciples and a great multitude, the son of Timeus, Barthæus, a blind beggar, 47 was sitting by the way side. And when he heard that it was Jesus of Nazareth,
 he began to cry out, and say, Jesus,
 thou son of David, have mercy on me.
 48 And many rebuked him, that he should hold his peace: but he cried out the more a great deal, Thou son of David, 49 have mercy on me. And Jesus stood still, and said, Call ye him. And they call the blind man, saying unto him,
 Be of good cheer: rise, he calleth

 ment, sprang up, and came to Jesus.

11 And he entered into Jerusalem, into the temple; and when he had looked round about upon all things, it being now eventide, he went out unto Bethany with the twelve.

12 And on the morrow, when they were come out from Bethany, he hungered.

13 And seeing a fig tree afar off having leaves, he came, if haply he might find anything thereon: and when he came to it, he found nothing but leaves; for 14 it was not the season of figs. And he answered and said unto it, No man eat fruit from thee henceforward for ever. And his disciples heard it.

15 And they come to Jerusalem; and he entered into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold and them that bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the money-changers, and the seats of them that sold the doves;

16 and he would not suffer that any man should carry a vessel through the temple. And he taught, and said unto them, Is it not written, My house shall be called a house of prayer for all the nations? but ye have made it a den of 18 robbers. And the chief priests and the scribes heard it, and sought how they might destroy him: for they feared him, for all the multitude was astonished at his teaching.

19 And ¹every evening ²he went forth out of the city.

20 And as they passed by in the morning, they saw the fig tree withered away

21 from the roots. And Peter calling to remembrance saith unto him, Rabbi, behold, the fig tree which thou cursedst

22 is withered away. And Jesus answering saith unto them, Have faith in God.

23 Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall say unto this mountain, Be thou taken up and cast into the sea; and shall not doubt in his heart, but shall believe that what he saith cometh to pass; he 24 shall have it. Therefore I say unto you, All things whatsoever ye pray and ask for, believe that ye have received 25 them, and ye shall have them. And whosoever ye stand praying, forgive, if ye have aught against any one; that your Father also which is in heaven may forgive you your trespasses.³

27 And they come again to Jerusalem: and as he was walking in the temple, there come to him the chief priests, and 28 the scribes, and the elders; and they said unto him, By what authority doest thou these things? or who gave thee 29 this authority to do these things? And Jesus said unto them, I will ask of you one ⁴question, and answer me, and I will tell you by what authority I do these 30 things. The baptism of John, was it from heaven, or from men? answer me.

31 And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven;

he will say, Why then did ye not believe? 32 him? ⁵ But should we say, From men—they feared the people: ⁶ for all verily 33 held John to be a prophet. And they answered Jesus and say, We know not. And Jesus saith unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.

12 And he began to speak unto them in parables. A man planted a vineyard, and set a hedge about it, and digged a pit for the winepress, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went

2 into another country. And at the season he sent to the husbandmen a ⁷servant, that he might receive from the husbandmen of the fruits of the vine-

3 yard. And they took him, and beat him, 4 and sent him away empty. And again he sent unto them another ⁷servant; and him they wounded in the head, and 5 handled shamefully. And he sent another; and him they killed: and many others; beating some, and killing some.

6 He had yet one, a beloved son: he sent him last unto them, saying, They will 7 reverence my son. But those husband-men said among themselves, This is the heir; come, let us kill him, and the inheritance shall be ours. And they took him, and killed him, and cast him forth

9 out of the vineyard. What therefore will the lord of the vineyard do? he will come and destroy the husbandmen, and will give the vineyard unto others.

jected, The same was made the head of the corner:

11 This was from the Lord, And it is marvellous in our eyes?

12 And they sought to lay hold on him: and they feared the multitude; for they perceived that he spake the parable against them: and they left him, and went away.

13 And they send unto him certain of the Pharisees and of the Herodians, that 14 they might catch him in talk. And when they were come, they say unto him, ⁸ Master, we know that thou art true, and carest not for any one: for thou regardest not the person of men, but of a truth teachest the way of God: Is it lawful to give tribute unto Cæsar,

15 or not? Shall we give, or shall we not give? But he, knowing their hypocrisy, said unto them, Why tempt ye me? bring me a ⁹penny, that I may see it.

16 And they brought it. And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and super-scription? And they said unto him, Cæsar's. And Jesus said unto them, Render unto Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's, and unto God the things that are God's. And they marvelled greatly at him.

18 And there come unto him Sadducees, which say that there is no resurrection; 19 and they asked him, saying, ¹Master, Moses wrote unto us, If a man's brother die, and leave a wife behind him, and leave no child, that his brother should take his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother. There were seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and 21 dying left no seed; and the second took her, and died, leaving no seed behind 22 him; and the third likewise: and the seven left no seed. Last of all the 23 woman also died. In the resurrection whose wife shall she be of them? for 24 the seven had her to wife. Jesus said unto them, Is it not for this cause that ye err, that ye know not the scriptures, 25 nor the power of God? For when they shall rise from the dead, they neither marry, nor are given in marriage; but 26 are as angels in heaven. But as touching the dead, that they are raised; have ye not read in the book of Moses, in the place concerning the Bush, how God spake unto him, saying, I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, 27 and the God of Jacob? He is not the God of the dead, but of the living: ye do greatly err.

28 And one of the scribes came, and heard them questioning together, and knowing that he had answered them well, asked him, What commandment 29 is the first of all? Jesus answered, The first is, Hear, O Israel: ²The Lord our 30 God, the Lord is one: and thou shalt love the Lord thy God ³with all thy heart, and ³with all thy soul, and ³with all thy mind, and ³with all thy strength. 31 The second is this, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than these. 32 And the scribe said unto him, Of a truth, ¹Master, thou hast well said that he is one; and there is none other but 33 he: and to love him with all the heart, and with all the understanding, and with all the strength, and to love his neighbour as himself, is much more than all whole burnt offerings and sacrifices. And when Jesus saw that he answered discreetly, he said unto him, Thou art not far from the kingdom of God. And no man after that durst ask him any question.

35 And Jesus answered and said, as he taught in the temple, How say the scribes that the Christ is the son of 36 David? David himself said in the Holy Spirit,

The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, Till I make thine enemies ⁴the footstool of thy feet.

41 And he sat down over against the treasury, and beheld how the multitude cast ⁷money into the treasury: and 42 many that were rich cast in much. And there came ⁸a poor widow, and she cast in two mites, which make a farthing. 43 And he called unto him his disciples, and said unto them, Verily I say unto you, This poor widow cast in more than all they which are casting into the treasury: for they all did cast in of their superfluity; but she of her want did cast in all that she had, even all her living.

13 And as he went forth out of the temple, one of his disciples saith unto him, ¹Master, behold, what manner of stones and what manner of 2 buildings! And Jesus said unto him, Seest thou these great buildings? there shall not be left here one stone upon another, which shall not be thrown down.

3 And as he sat on the mount of Olives over against the temple, Peter and James and John and Andrew asked him 4 privately, Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign when these things are all about to be 5 accomplished? And Jesus began to say unto them, Take heed that no man lead 6 you astray. Many shall come in my name, saying, I am he; and shall lead 7 many astray. And when ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars, be not troubled: these things must needs come 8 to pass; but the end is not yet. For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: there shall be earthquakes in divers places; there shall be famines: these things are the beginning of travail.

9 But take ye heed to yourselves: for they shall deliver you up to councils; and in synagogues shall ye be beaten; and before governors and kings shall ye stand for my sake, for a testimony 10 unto them. And the gospel must first 11 be preached unto all the nations. And when they lead you to judgement, and deliver you up, be not anxious beforehand what ye shall speak; but whatsoever shall be given you in that hour, that speak ye: for it is not ye that 12 speak, but the Holy Ghost. And brother shall deliver up brother to death, and the father his child; and children shall rise up against parents, and ⁹cause them to be put to death. 13 And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: but he that

16 and let him that is in the field not re-17 turn back to take his cloke. But woe unto them that are with child and to 18 them that give suck in those days! And pray ye that it be not in the winter.
19 For those days shall be tribulation, such as there hath not been the like from the beginning of the creation which God created until now, and never 20 shall be. And except the Lord had shortened the days, no flesh would have been saved: but for the elect's sake, whom he chose, he shortened the days.
21 And then if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is the Christ: or, Lo, 22 there; believe ¹*it* not: for there shall arise false Christs and false prophets, and shall shew signs and wonders, that they may lead astray, if 23 possible, the elect. But take ye heed: behold, I have told you all things beforehand.
24 But in those days, after that tribulation, the sun shall be darkened, and 25 the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall be falling from heaven, and the powers that are in the heavens
26 shall be shaken. And then shall they see the Son of man coming in clouds 27 with great power and glory. And then shall he send forth the angels, and shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from the uttermost part of the earth to the uttermost part of heaven.

4 cruse, and poured it over his head. But there were some that had indignation among themselves, saying, To what purpose hath this waste of the oint-
5 ment been made? For this ointment might have been sold for above three hundred ⁷pence, and given to the poor.
6 And they murmured against her. But Jesus said, Let her alone; why trouble ye her? she hath wrought a good work
7 on me. For ye have the poor always with you, and whensoever ye will ye can do them good: but me ye have not
8 always. She hath done what she could: she hath anointed my body aforehand

10 And Judas Iscariot, ⁸he that was one of the twelve, went away unto the chief priests, that he might deliver

31 crow twice, shalt deny me thrice. But he spake exceeding vehemently, If I must die with thee, I will not deny thee. And in like manner also said they all.

32 And they come unto ⁶a place which was named Gethsemane: and he saith unto his disciples, Sit ye here, while I

33 pray. And he taketh with him Peter and James and John, and began to be greatly amazed, and sore troubled.

34 And he saith unto them, My soul is exceeding sorrowful even unto death:

35 abide ye here, and watch. And he went forward a little, and fell on the ground, and prayed that, if it were possible, the

36 hour might pass away from him. And he said, Abba, Father, all things are possible unto thee; remove this cup from me: howbeit not what I will, but

37 what thou wilt. And he cometh, and findeth them sleeping, and saith unto Peter, Simon, sleepest thou? couldest

38 thou not watch one hour? ⁷Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit indeed is willing, but the 39 flesh is weak. And again he went away, and prayed, saying the same words.

40 And again he came, and found them sleeping, for their eyes were very heavy; and they wist not what to an-

41 swer him. And he cometh the third time, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: it is enough; the hour is come; behold, the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of 42 sinners. Arise, let us be going: behold, he that betrayeth me is at hand.

43 And straightway, while he yet spake, cometh Judas, one of the twelve, and with him a multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and the

44 scribes and the elders. Now he that betrayed him had given them a token, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that is he; take him, and lead him away 45 safely. And when he was come, straightway he came to him, and saith, Rabbi;

46 and ⁸kissed him. And they laid hands 47 on him, and took him. But a certain one of them that stood by drew his sword, and smote the ⁹servant of the 48 high priest, and struck off his ear. And Jesus answered and said unto them, Are ye come out, as against a robber, with swords and staves to seize me? 49 I was daily with you in the temple teaching, and ye took me not: but this is done that the scriptures might be 50 fulfilled. And they all left him, and fled.

51 And a certain young man followed with him, having a linen cloth cast about him, over his naked body: and 52 they lay hold on him; but he left the linen cloth, and fled naked.

53 And they led Jesus away to the high priest: and there come together with him all the chief priests and the elders

54 and the scribes. And Peter had followed him afar off, even within, into the court of the high priest; and he was sitting with the officers, and warn-

55 ing himself in the light of the fire. Now the chief priests and the whole council sought witness against Jesus to put 56 him to death; and found it not. For many bare false witness against him, and their witness agreed not together.

57 And there stood up certain, and bare 58 false witness against him, saying, We heard him say, I will destroy this

60 And the high priest stood up in the midst, and asked Jesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which

66 And as Peter was beneath in the court, there cometh one of the maids of the ⁶⁷ high priest; and seeing Peter warming himself, she looked upon him, and saith, Thou also wast with the Nazarene, even 68 Jesus. But he denied, saying, ² I neither know, nor understand what thou sayest: and he went out into the ³ porch; 69 ⁴ and the cock crew. And the maid saw him, and began again to say to them 70 that stood by, This is one of them. But he again denied it. And after a little while again they that stood by said to Peter, Of a truth thou art one of them; 71 for thou art a Galilean. But he began to curse, and to swear, I know not this 72 man of whom ye speak. And straightway the second time the cock crew. And Peter called to mind the word, how that Jesus said unto him, Before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice. ⁵ And when he thought thereon, he wept.

15 And straightway in the morning the chief priests with the elders and scribes, and the whole council, held a consultation, and bound Jesus, and carried him away, and delivered him up to Pilate.

2 And Pilate asked him, Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answering

3 saith unto him, Thou sayest. And the chief priests accused him of many 4 things. And Pilate again asked him, saying, Answerest thou nothing? behold how many things they accuse 5 thee of. But Jesus no more answered anything; inasmuch that Pilate marvelled.

6 Now at ⁶ the feast he used to release unto them one prisoner, whom they 7 asked of him. And there was one called Barabbas, lying bound with them that had made insurrection, men who in the insurrection had committed murder.

8 And the multitude went up and began to ask him to do as he was wont to do 9 unto them. And Pilate answered them, saying, Will ye that I release unto you 10 the King of the Jews? For he perceived that for envy the chief priests

11 had delivered him up. But the chief priests stirred up the multitude, that he should rather release Barabbas

12 to them. And Pilate again answered and said unto them, What then shall I do unto him whom ye call the King

13 of the Jews? And they cried out again, Crucify him. And Pilate said unto them, Why, what evil hath he done? But they cried out exceedingly,

15 Crucify him. And Pilate, wishing to content the multitude, released unto them Barabbas, and delivered Jesus, when he had scourged him, to be crucified.

16 And the soldiers led him away within the court, which is the ⁷ Prætorium; and they call together the whole ⁸ band.

17 And they clothe him with purple, and plaiting a crown of thorns, they put it

18 on him; and they began to salute him, 19 Hail, King of the Jews! And they smote his head with a reed, and did spit upon him, and bowing their knees

20 worshipped him. And when they had mocked him, they took off from him the purple, and put on him his garments.

And they lead him out to crucify him.

21 And they ⁹ compel one passing by, Simon of Cyrene, coming from the country, the father of Alexander and Rufus, to go with them, that he might 22 bear his cross. And they bring him unto the place Golgotha, which is, being interpreted, The place of a skull.

23 And they offered him wine mingled with myrrh: but he received it not.

24 And they crucify him, and part his garments among them, casting lots upon

25 them, what each should take. And it was the third hour, and they crucified

26 him. And the superscription of his accusation was written over, THE KING

27 OF THE JEWS. And with him they crucify two robbers; one on his right

29 hand, and one on his left.¹⁰ And they that passed by railed on him, wagging their heads, and saying, Ha! thou that destroyest the ¹¹ temple, and buildest

30 it in three days, save thyself, and come 31 down from the cross. In like manner also the chief priests mocking him among themselves with the scribes said, He saved others; ¹² himself he cannot 32 save. Let the Christ, the King of Israel, now come down from the cross, that we may see and believe. And they that were crucified with him reproached him.

33 And when the sixth hour was come, there was darkness over the whole

34 ¹³ land until the ninth hour. And at the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani? which is, being interpreted, My God, my God, ¹⁴ why hast thou forsaken

35 me? And some of them that stood by, when they heard it, said, Behold, 36 he calleth Elijah. And one ran, and filling a sponge full of vinegar, put it on a reed, and gave him to drink, saying, Let be; let us see whether

37 Elijah cometh to take him down. And Jesus uttered a loud voice, and gave

38 up the ghost. And the veil of the ¹¹ temple was rent in twain from the

39 top to the bottom. And when the centurion, which stood by over against him, saw that he ¹⁵ so gave up the ghost, he said, Truly this man was ¹⁶ the

he was in Galilee, followed him, and women which came up with him unto Jerusalem.

42 And when even was now come, because it was the Preparation, that is, the day

43 before the sabbath, there came Joseph of Arimathæa, a councillor of honourable estate, who also himself was looking for the kingdom of God; and he boldly went in unto Pilate, and asked for 44 the body of Jesus. And Pilate marvelled if he were already dead: and calling unto him the centurion, he asked him whether he ²had been any while dead.

45 And when he learned it of the centurion, 46 he granted the corpse to Joseph. And he bought a linen cloth, and taking him down, wound him in the linen cloth, and laid him in a tomb which had been hewn out of a rock; and he rolled a stone 47 against the door of the tomb. And Mary Magdalene and Mary the mother of Josès beheld where he was laid.

16 And when the sabbath was past,
Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother
of James, and Salome, bought spices, that they might come and anoint him.

2 And very early on the first day of the week, they come to the tomb when the 3 sun was risen. And they were saying among themselves, Who shall roll us away the stone from the door of the 4 tomb? and looking up, they see that the stone is rolled back: for it was exceed-

5 ing great. And entering into the tomb, they saw a young man sitting on the right side, arrayed in a white robe; and 6 they were amazed. And he saith unto them, Be not amazed; ye seek Jesus, the Nazarene, which hath been crucified: he is risen; he is not here: behold, 7 the place where they laid him! But go, tell his disciples and Peter, He goeth before you into Galilee: there shall ye

8 see him, as he said unto you. And they went out, and fled from the tomb; for trembling and astonishment had come upon them: and they said nothing to any one; for they were afraid.

9 ³ Now when he was risen early on the first day of the week, he appeared first to Mary Magdalene, from whom he 10 had cast out seven ⁴ devils. She went and told them that had been with him, 11 as they mourned and wept. And they,
when they heard that he was alive,
and had been seen of her, disbelieved.

12 And after these things he was manifested in another form unto two of them, as they walked, on their way 13 into the country. And they went away and told it unto the rest: neither believed they them.

14 And afterward he was manifested unto the eleven themselves as they sat at meat; and he upbraided them with their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they believed not them which had seen

15 him after he was risen. And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to the whole creation.
16 He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that disbelieveth shall 17 be condemned. And these signs shall follow them that believe: in my name shall they cast out ⁴ devils; they shall 18 speak with ⁵ new tongues; they shall take up serpents, and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall in no wise hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover.

19 So then the Lord Jesus, after he had spoken unto them, was received up into heaven, and sat down at the right hand 20 of God. And they went forth, and preached everywhere, the Lord working with them, and confirming the word by the signs that followed. Amen.

8 Now it came to pass, while he executed the priest's office before God in the order of his course, according to the custom of the priest's office, his lot was to enter into the ²temple of the Lord and burn incense. And the whole multitude of the people were praying without at the hour of incense. And there appeared unto him an angel of the Lord standing on the right side of the altar of incense. And Zacharias was troubled when he saw him, and fear fell upon him. But the angel said unto him, Fear not, Zacharias: because thy supplication is heard, and thy wife Elisabeth shall bear thee a son, and thou shalt call his name John. And thou shalt have joy and gladness; and many shall rejoice at his birth. For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord, and he shall drink no wine nor ³strong drink; and he shall be filled with the ⁴Holy Ghost, even from his mother's womb. And many of the children of Israel shall he turn unto the Lord their God. And he shall ⁵go before his face in the spirit and power of Elijah, to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to walk in the wisdom of the just; to make ready for the Lord a people prepared for him. And Zacharias said unto the angel, Whereby shall I know this? for I am an old man, and my wife ⁶well stricken in years. And the angel answering said unto him, I am Gabriel, that stand in the presence of God; and I was sent to speak unto thee, and to bring thee these good tidings. And behold, thou shalt be silent and not able to speak, until the day that these things shall come to pass, because thou believedst not my words, which shall be fulfilled in their season. And the people were waiting for Zacharias, and they marvelled ⁷while he tarried in the ²temple. And when he came out, he could not speak unto them; and they perceived that he had seen a vision in the ²temple: and he continued making signs unto them, and remained dumb. And it came to pass, when the days of his ministration were fulfilled, he departed unto his house. And after these days Elisabeth his wife conceived; and she hid herself five months, saying, Thus hath the Lord done unto me in the days wherein he looked upon me, to take away my reproach among men. Now in the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named Nazareth, to a virgin betrothed to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David; and the virgin's name was Mary. And he came in unto her, and said, Hail, thou that art ⁸highly favoured, the Lord is with thee ⁹. But she was greatly troubled at the saying, and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this might be. And the angel said unto her, Fear not, Mary: for thou hast found ¹⁰ favour with God. And behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and shalt call his name Jesus. He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of the Most High: and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father David: and he shall reign over the house of Jacob ¹¹for ever; and of his kingdom there shall be no end. And Mary said unto the angel, How shall this be, seeing I know not a man? And the angel answered and said unto her, The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Most High shall overshadow thee: wherefore also ¹²that which ¹³is to be born ¹⁴shall be called holy, the Son of God. And behold, Elisabeth thy kinswoman, she also hath conceived a son in her old age: and this is the sixth month with her that ¹⁵was called barren. For no word from God shall be void of power. And Mary said, Behold, the ¹⁶handmaid of the Lord; be it unto me according to thy word. And the angel departed from her. And Mary arose in these days and went into the hill country with haste, into a city of Judah; and entered into the house of Zacharias and saluted Elisabeth. And it came to pass, when Elisabeth heard the salutation of Mary, the babe leaped in her womb; and Elisabeth was filled with the Holy Ghost; and she lifted up her voice with a loud cry, and said, Blessed art thou among women, and blessed ¹⁷is the fruit of thy womb. And whence is this to me, that the mother of my Lord should come unto me? For behold, when the voice of thy salutation came into mine ears, the babe leaped in my womb for joy. And blessed ¹⁸is she that ¹⁹believed; for there shall be a fulfilment of the things which have been spoken to her from the Lord. And Mary said, My soul doth magnify the Lord, And my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour. For he hath looked upon the low estate of his ¹⁸handmaiden: For behold, from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed. For he that is mighty hath done to me great things; And holy is his name. And his mercy is unto generations and generations On them that fear him.  56 And Mary abode with her about three months, and returned unto her house.

 57 Now Elisabeth's time was fulfilled that she should be delivered; and she 58 brought forth a son. And her neighbours and her kinsfolk heard that the Lord had magnified his mercy towards 59 her; and they rejoiced with her. And it came to pass on the eighth day, that they came to circumcise the child; and they would have called him Zacharias, 60 after the name of his father. And his mother answered and said, Not so; but 61 he shall be called John. And they said unto her, There is none of thy kindred 62 that is called by this name. And they made signs to his father, what he would 63 have him called. And he asked for a writing tablet, and wrote, saying, His name is John. And they marvelled all.
 64 And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue loosed, and he spake,
 65 blessing God. And fear came on all that dwelt round about them: and all these sayings were noised abroad throughout 66 all the hill country of Judæa. And all that heard them laid them up in their heart, saying, What then shall this child be? For the hand of the Lord was with him.
 67 And his father Zacharias was filled with the Holy Ghost, and prophesied, saying,
 68 Blessed be the Lord, the God of Israel;
 For he hath visited and wrought redemption for his people,
 69 And hath raised up a horn of salvation for us
 In the house of his servant David

 80 And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, and was in the deserts till the day of his shewing unto Israel.
 2 Now it came to pass in those days, there went out a decree from Cæsar Augustus, that all ⁴the world should be enrolled. This was the first enrolment made when Quirinius was governor of 3 Syria. And all went to enrol themselves, every one to his own city. And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judæa, to the city of David, which is called Bethlehem, because he was of the house and 5 family of David; to enrol himself with Mary, who was betrothed to him, being 6 great with child. And it came to pass, while they were there, the days were fulfilled that she should be delivered.
 7 And she brought forth her firstborn son; and she wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn.
 8 And there were shepherds in the same country abiding in the field, and keeping ⁵watch by night over their flock.
 9 And an angel of the Lord stood by them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid.
 10 And the angel said unto them, Be not afraid; for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to 11 all the people: for there is born to you this day in the city of David a Saviour, 12 which is ⁶Christ the Lord. And this is the sign unto you; Ye shall find a babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, and 13 lying in a manger. And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, 14 Glory to God in the highest,
 And on earth ⁷peace among ⁸men in whom he is well pleased.
 15 And it came to pass, when the angels went away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this ⁹thing that is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.
 16 And they came with haste, and found both Mary and Joseph, and the babe 17 lying in the manger. And when they saw it, they made known concerning the saying which was spoken to them

21 And when eight days were fulfilled for circumcising him, his name was called JESUS, which was so called by the angel before he was conceived in the womb.

22 And when the days of their purification according to the law of Moses were fulfilled, they brought him up to Jerusalem, to present him to the Lord (as it is written in the law of the Lord, Every male that openeth the womb shall be

24 called holy to the Lord), and to offer a sacrifice according to that which is said in the law of the Lord, A pair of turtle-

25 doves, or two young pigeons. And behold, there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name was Simeon; and this man was righteous and devout, looking for the consolation of Israel: and the Holy

26 Spirit was upon him. And it had been revealed unto him by the Holy Spirit, that he should not see death, before he

27 had seen the Lord's Christ. And he came in the Spirit into the temple: and when the parents brought in the child Jesus, that they might do concerning

28 him after the custom of the law, then he received him into his arms, and blessed God, and said,

29 Now lettest thou thy ² servant depart, O ³ Lord,
According to thy word, in peace;

30 For mine eyes have seen thy salvation.
31 Which thou hast prepared before the face of all peoples;

32 A light for ⁴ revelation to the Gentiles, And the glory of thy people Israel.

33 And his father and his mother were marvelling at the things which were spoken concerning him; and Simeon blessed them, and said unto Mary his mother, Behold, this child is set for the falling and rising up of many in Israel; and for

35 a sign which is spoken against; yea and a sword shall pierce through thine own soul; that thoughts out of many hearts

36 may be revealed. And there was one Anna, a prophetess, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Asher (she was ⁵ of a great age, having lived with a husband seven years from her virginity, and she had been a widow even for fourscore and four years), which departed not from the temple, worshipping with fastings and supplications night and day.

38 And coming up at that very hour she gave thanks unto God, and spake of him to all them that were looking for the 39 redemption of Jerusalem. And when they had accomplished all things that were according to the law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee, to their own city Nazareth.

40 And the child grew, and waxed strong, filled with wisdom: and the grace of God was upon him.

41 And his parents went every year to Jerusalem at the feast of the passover.

42 And when he was twelve years old, they went up after the custom of the feast;

43 and when they had fulfilled the days, as they were returning, the boy Jesus tarried behind in Jerusalem; and his

44 parents knew it not; but supposing him to be in the company, they went a day's journey; and they sought for him among

45 their kinsfolk and acquaintance: and when they found him not, they returned

46 to Jerusalem, seeking for him. And it came to pass, after three days they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the ⁷ doctors, both hearing them,

47 and asking them questions: and all that heard him were amazed at his

48 understanding and his answers. And when they saw him, they were astonished: and his mother said unto him, ⁸ Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us? behold, thy father and I sought thee sorrowing. And he said unto them, How is it that ye sought me? wist ye not that I must be ⁹ in my Father's house? And they understood not the saying which 51 he spake unto them. And he went down with them, and came to Nazareth; and he was subject unto them; and his mother kept all these ¹ sayings in her heart.

52 And Jesus advanced in wisdom and ¹⁰ stature, and in ¹¹ favour with God and men.

3 Now in the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Cæsar, Pontius Pilate being governor of Judæa, and Herod being tetrarch of Galilee, and his brother Philip tetrarch of the region of Ituræa and Trachonitis, and Lysanias tetrarch

2 of Abilene, in the high-priesthood of Annas and Caiaphas, the word of God came unto John the son of Zacharias in

3 the wilderness. And he came into all the region round about Jordan, preaching the baptism of repentance unto remission of sins; as it is written in the book of the words of Isaiah the prophet,

The voice of one crying in the wilderness,
Make ye ready the way of the Lord,

Make his paths straight.

9 unto Abraham. And even now is the axe also laid unto the root of the trees: every tree therefore that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast
10 into the fire. And the multitudes asked him, saying, What then must we do?
11 And he answered and said unto them, He that hath two coats, let him impart to him that hath none; and he that hath food, let him do likewise. And there came also ²publicans to be baptized, and they said unto him, ³Master, what must we do? And he said unto them, Extort no more than that which 14 is appointed you. And ⁴soldiers also asked him, saying, And we, what must we do? And he said unto them, Do violence to no man, neither ⁵exact anything wrongfully; and be content with your wages.
15 And as the people were in expectation, and all men reasoned in their hearts concerning John, whether haply he were 16 the Christ; John answered, saying unto them all, I indeed baptize you with water; but there cometh he that is mightier than I, the latchet of whose shoes I am not ⁶worthy to unloose: he shall baptize you ⁷with the Holy Ghost
17 and with fire: whose fan is in his hand, thoroughly to cleanse his threshing-floor, and to gather the wheat into his garner; but the chaff he will burn up with unquenchable fire.
18 With many other exhortations therefore preached he ⁸good tidings unto the 19 people; but Herod the tetrarch, being reproved by him for Herodias his brother's wife, and for all the evil things 20 which Herod had done, added yet this above all, that he shut up John in prison.
21 Now it came to pass, when all the people were baptized, that Jesus also having been baptized, and praying, the 22 heaven was opened, and the Holy Ghost descended in a bodily form, as a dove, upon him, and a voice came out of heaven, Thou art my beloved Son; in thee I am well pleased.

4 And Jesus answered unto him, It is written, Man shall not live by bread

7 give it. If thou therefore wilt worship
8 before me, it shall all be thine. And Jesus answered and said unto him, It is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt

He shall give his angels charge concerning thee, to guard thee:

of the Spirit into Galilee: and a fame went out concerning him through all the 15 region round about. And he taught in their synagogues, being glorified of all.

16 And he came to Nazareth, where he had been brought up: and he entered, as his custom was, into the synagogue on the sabbath day, and stood up to read.
17 And there was delivered unto him ¹ the book of the prophet Isaiah. And he opened the ² book, and found the place where it was written,

18 The Spirit of the Lord is upon me,
³ Because he anointed me to preach
⁴ good tidings to the poor:
He hath sent me to proclaim release to the captives,
And recovering of sight to the blind,
To set at liberty them that are bruised,

19 To proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord.

20 And he closed the ² book, and gave it back to the attendant, and sat down: and the eyes of all in the synagogue were

21 fastened on him. And he began to say unto them, To-day hath this scripture

22 been fulfilled in your ears. And all bare him witness, and wondered at the words of grace which proceeded out of his mouth: and they said, Is not this

23 Joseph's son? And he said unto them, Doubtless ye will say unto me this parable, Physician, heal thyself: whatsoever we have heard done at Capernaum, do

24 also here in thine own country. And he said, Verily I say unto you, No prophet

25 is acceptable in his own country. But of a truth I say unto you, There were many widows in Israel in the days of Elijah, when the heaven was shut up three years and six months, when there came a great

26 famine over all the land; and unto none of them was Elijah sent, but only to

⁵ Zarephath, in the land of Sidon, unto

27 a woman that was a widow. And there were many lepers in Israel in the time of Elisha the prophet; and none of them was cleansed, but only Naaman the

28 Syrian. And they were all filled with wrath in the synagogue, as they heard

29 these things; and they rose up, and cast him forth out of the city, and led him unto the brow of the hill whercon their city was built, that they might throw

30 him down headlong. But he passing through the midst of them went his way.

31 And he came down to Capernaum, a city of Galilee. And he was teaching

32 them on the sabbath day: and they were astonished at his teaching; for

33 his word was with authority. And in the synagogue there was a man, which had a spirit of an unclean ⁶ devil; and he

34 cried out with a loud voice, ⁷ Ah! what have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us?

I know thee who thou art, the Holy One 35 of God. And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. And when the ⁶ devil had thrown him down in the midst, he came out of him.

36 having done him no hurt. And amazement came upon all, and they spake together, one with another, saying, What is ⁸ this word? for with authority and power he commandeth the unclean 37 spirits, and they come out. And there went forth a rumour concerning him into every place of the region round about.

38 And he rose up from the synagogue, and entered into the house of Simon. And Simon's wife's mother was holden with a great fever; and they besought 39 him for her. And he stood over her, and rebuked the fever; and it left her: and immediately she rose up and ministered unto them.

40 And when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto him; and he laid his hands on every one of them, and

41 healed them. And ⁹ devils also came out from many, crying out, and saying, Thou art the Son of God. And rebuking them, he suffered them not to speak, because they knew that he was the Christ.

42 And when it was day, he came out and went into a desert place: and the multitudes sought after him, and came unto him, and would have stayed him, that

43 he should not go from them. But he said unto them, I must preach the ¹⁰ good tidings of the kingdom of God to the other cities also: for therefore was I sent.

44 And he was preaching in the synagogues of ¹¹ Galilee.

5 Now it came to pass, while the multitude pressed upon him and heard the word of God, that he was standing by the lake of Gennesaret; and he saw two boats standing by the lake:

but the fishermen had gone out of them, and were washing their nets.

3 And he entered into one of the boats, which was Simon's, and asked him to put out a little from the land.

And he sat down and taught the multitudes out of the boat. And when he had left speaking, he said unto Simon, Put out into the deep, and let

5 down your nets for a draught. And Simon answered and said, Master, we toiled all night, and took nothing: but at thy word I will let down the 6 nets. And when they had this done, they inclosed a great multitude of fishes; and their nets were breaking; and they beckoned unto their partners in the other boat, that they should come and help them. And they came, and filled both the boats, 8 so that they began to sink. But Simon Peter, when he saw it, fell down at Jesus' knees, saying, Depart from me; for I am a sinful man, O Lord. 9 For he was amazed, and all that were with him, at the draught of the fishes 10 which they had taken; and so were also James and John, sons of Zebedee, which were partners with Simon. And Jesus said unto Simon, Fear not; from 11 henceforth thou shalt catch men. And when they had brought their boats to land, they left all, and followed him. 12 And it came to pass, while he was in one of the cities, behold, a man full of leprosy: and when he saw Jesus, he fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make 13 me clean. And he stretched forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will: be thou made clean. And straightway 14 the leprosy departed from him. And he charged him to tell no man: but go thy way, and shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing, according as Moses commanded, for 15 a testimony unto them. But so much the more went abroad the report concerning him: and great multitudes came together to hear, and to be healed 16 of their infirmities. But he withdrew himself in the deserts, and prayed. 17 And it came to pass on one of those days, that he was teaching: and there were Pharisees and doctors of the law sitting by, which were come out of every village of Galilee and Judæa and Jerusalem: and the power of the Lord 18 was with him ²to heal. And behold, men bring on a bed a man that was palsied: and they sought to bring him 19 in, and to lay him before him. And not finding by what way they might bring him in because of the multitude, they went up to the housetop, and let him down through the tiles with his 20 couch into the midst before Jesus. And seeing their faith, he said, Man, thy sins 21 are forgiven thee. And the scribes and the Pharisees began to reason, saying, Who is this that speaketh blasphemies? Who can forgive sins, but God alone? 22 But Jesus perceiving their reasonings, answered and said unto them, ³What 23 reason ye in your hearts? Whether is easier, to say, Thy sins are forgiven 24 thee; or to say, Arise and walk? But that ye may know that the Son of man hath ⁴power on earth to forgive sins (he said unto him that was palsied), I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy couch, 25 and go unto thy house. And immediately he rose up before them, and took up that whereon he lay, and departed 26 to his house, glorifying God. And amazement took hold on all, and they glorified God; and they were filled with fear, saying, We have seen strange things to-day. 27 And after these things he went forth.

and beheld a publican, named Levi, sitting at the place of toll, and said 28 unto him, Follow me. And he forsook 29 all, and rose up and followed him. And Levi made him a great feast in his house: and there was a great multitude of publicans and of others that 30 were sitting at meat with them. And ⁵the Pharisees and their scribes murmured against his disciples, saying, Why do ye eat and drink with the publicans and sinners? And Jesus answering said unto them, They that are whole have no need of a physician; but 32 they that are sick. I am not come to call the righteous but sinners to 33 repentance. And they said unto him, The disciples of John fast often, and make supplications; likewise also the 34 disciples of the Pharisees; but thine eat and drink. And Jesus said unto them, Can ye make the sons of the bride-chamber fast, while the bridegroom 35 is with them? But the days will come; and when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, then 36 will they fast in those days. And he spake also a parable unto them; No man rendeth a piece from a new garment and putteth it upon an old garment; else he will rend the new, and also the piece from the new will not 37 agree with the old. And no man putteth new wine into old ⁶wine-skins; else the new wine will burst the skins, and itself will be spilled, and the skins 38 will perish. But new wine must be put 39 into fresh wine-skins. And no man having drunk old wine desireth new: for he saith, The old is ⁷good. 6 Now it came to pass on a ⁸sabbath, that he was going through the cornfields; and his disciples plucked the ears of corn, and did eat, rubbing 2 them in their hands. But certain of the Pharisees said, Why do ye that which it is not lawful to do on the sabbath day? And Jesus answering them said, Have ye not read even this, what David did, when he was an hungred, 4 he, and they that were with him; how he entered into the house of God, and did take and eat the shewbread, and gave also to them that were with him; which it is not lawful to eat save for 5 the priests alone? And he said unto them, The Son of man is lord of the sabbath. 6 And it came to pass on another sabbath, that he entered into the synagogue and taught: and there was a man there, and his right hand was 7 withered. And the scribes and the Pharisees watched him, whether he would heal on the sabbath; that they 8 might find how to accuse him. But he knew their thoughts; and he said to the man that had his hand withered, Rise up, and stand forth in the midst.

9 And he arose and stood forth. And Jesus said unto them, I ask you, Is it lawful on the sabbath to do good, or to do harm? to save a life, or to destroy it? And he looked round about on them all, and said unto him, Stretch forth thy hand. And he did so: and his hand was restored.

11 But they were filled with madness; and communed one with another what they might do to Jesus.

12 And it came to pass in these days, that he went out into the mountain to pray; and he continued all night in prayer to God.

13 And when it was day, he called his disciples: and he chose from them twelve, whom also he named apostles;

14 Simon, whom he also named Peter, and Andrew his brother, and James and John, and Philip and Bartholomew, and Matthew and Thomas, and James the son of Alphaeus, and Simon which was called the Zealot, and Judas the son of James, and Judas Iscariot, which was the traitor; and he came down with them, and stood on a level place, and a great multitude of his disciples, and a great number of the people from all Judaea and Jerusalem, and the sea coast of Tyre and Sidon, which came to hear him, and to be healed of their diseases;

18 And they that were troubled with unclean spirits were healed. And all the multitude sought to touch him: for power came forth from him, and healed them all.

20 And he lifted up his eyes on his disciples, and said, Blessed are ye poor: for yours is the kingdom of God. Blessed are ye that hunger now: for ye shall be filled. Blessed are ye that weep now: for ye shall laugh. Blessed are ye, when men shall hate you, and when they shall separate you from their company, and reproach you, and cast out your name as evil, for the Son of man's sake.

23 Rejoice in that day, and leap for joy: for behold, your reward is great in heaven: for in the same manner did their fathers unto the prophets. But woe unto you that are rich! for ye have received your consolation. Woe unto you, ye that are full now! for ye shall hunger. Woe unto you, ye that laugh now! for ye shall mourn and weep.

26 Woe unto you, when all men shall speak well of you! for in the same manner did their fathers to the false prophets.

27 But I say unto you which hear, Love your enemies, do good to them that hate you, bless them that curse you, pray for them that despitefully use you. To him that smiteth thee on the one cheek offer also the other; and from him that taketh away thy cloke withhold not thy coat.

32 them likewise. And if ye love them that love you, what thank have ye? for even sinners love those that love them. And if ye do good to them that do good to you, what thank have ye? for even sinners do the same. And if ye lend to them of whom ye hope to receive, what thank have ye? even sinners lend to sinners, to receive again as much. But love your enemies, and do them good, and lend, never despairing; and your reward shall be great, and ye shall be sons of the Most High: for he is kind toward the unthankful and evil. Be ye merciful, even as your Father is merciful. And judge not, and ye shall not be judged: and condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned: release, and ye shall be released: give, and it shall be given unto you; good measure, pressed down, shaken together, running over, shall they give into your bosom. For with what measure ye mete it shall be measured to you again.

39 And he spake also a parable unto them, Can the blind guide the blind? shall they not both fall into a pit?

40 The disciple is not above his master: but every one when he is perfected shall be as his master. And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye? Or how canst thou say to thy brother, Brother, let me cast out the mote that is in thine eye, when thou thyself beholdest not the beam that is in thine own eye? Thou hypocrite, cast out first the beam out of thine own eye, and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote that is in thy brother's eye. For there is no good tree that bringeth forth corrupt fruit; nor again a corrupt tree that bringeth forth good fruit. For each tree is known by its own fruit. For of thorns men do not gather figs, nor of a bramble bush gather they grapes. The good man out of the good treasure of his heart bringeth forth that which is good; and the evil man out of the evil treasure bringeth forth that which is evil: for out of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaketh.

46 And why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say? Every one that cometh unto me, and heareth my words, and doeth them, I will shew you to whom he is like: he is like a man building a house, who digged and went deep, and laid a foundation upon the rock: and when a flood arose, the stream brake against that house, and could not shake it: because it had been well builded. But he that heareth, and doeth not, is like a man that built a house upon the earth without a foundation; against which the stream brake, and straightway it fell in; and the ruin of that house was great.

7 After he had ended all his sayings in the ears of the people, he entered into Capernaum.

2 And a certain centurion's ¹servant, who was ²dear unto him, was sick and ³at the point of death. And when he heard concerning Jesus, he sent unto him elders of the Jews, asking him that he would come and save his ¹servant. And they, when they came to Jesus, besought him earnestly, saying, He is worthy that thou shouldest do this for him: for he loveth our nation, and himself built us our synagogue.

6 And Jesus went with them. And when he was now not far from the house, the centurion sent friends to him, saying unto him, Lord, trouble not thyself: for I am not ³worthy that thou

7 shouldest come under my roof: wherefore neither thought I myself worthy to come unto thee: but ⁴say the word, and my ⁵servant shall be healed. For I also am a man set under authority, having under myself soldiers: and I say to this one, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my ¹servant, Do this, and he

9 doeth it. And when Jesus heard these things, he marvelled at him, and turned and said unto the multitude that followed him, I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel.

10 And they that were sent, returning to the house, found the ¹servant whole.

11 And it came to pass ⁶soon afterwards, that he went to a city called Nain; and his disciples went with him, and a

12 great multitude. Now when he drew near to the gate of the city, behold, there was carried out one that was dead, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow: and much people of the city

13 was with her. And when the Lord saw her, he had compassion on her, and said

14 unto her, Weep not. And he came nigh and touched the bier: and the bearers stood still. And he said, Young man, 15 I say unto thee, Arise. And he that was dead sat up, and began to speak.

16 And he gave him to his mother. And fear took hold on all: and they glorified God, saying, A great prophet is arisen among us: and, God hath visited his

17 people. And this report went forth concerning him in the whole of Judea, and all the region round about.

18 And the disciples of John told him

19 of all these things. And John calling unto him ⁷two of his disciples sent them to the Lord, saying, Art thou he that cometh, or look we for another?

20 And when the men were come unto him, they said, John the Baptist hath sent us unto thee, saying, Art thou he that cometh, or look we for another?

21 In that hour he cured many of diseases and ⁸plagues and evil spirits; and on many that were blind he bestowed sight.

22 And he answered and said unto them, Go your way, and tell John what things ye have seen and heard; the blind receive their sight, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, the poor have ⁹good tidings

23 preached to them. And blessed is he, whosoever shall find none occasion of stumbling in me.

24 And when the messengers of John were departed, he began to say unto the multitudes concerning John, What went ye out into the wilderness to behold? a

25 reed shaken with the wind? But what went ye out to see? a man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they which are gorgeously apparelled, and live delicately,

26 are in kings' courts. But what went ye out to see? a prophet? Yea, I say unto you, and much more than a prophet.

27 This is he of whom it is written, Behold, I send my messenger before thy face,

Who shall prepare thy way before thee.

28 I say unto you, Among them that are born of women there is none greater than John: yet he that is ¹⁰but little in the kingdom of God is greater than he.

29 And all the people when they heard, and the publicans, justified God, ¹¹being

30 baptized with the baptism of John. But the Pharisees and the lawyers rejected for themselves the counsel of God, ¹²being

31 not baptized of him. Whereunto then shall I liken the men of this generation, and to what are they like?

32 They are like unto children that sit in the marketplace, and call one to another; which say, We piped unto you, and ye did not dance; we wailed, and ye did

33 not weep. For John the Baptist is come eating no bread nor drinking wine; and

34 ye say, He hath a ¹³devil. The Son of man is come eating and drinking; and ye say, Behold, a gluttonous man, and a winebibber, a friend of publicans and 35 sinners! And wisdom ¹⁴is justified of all her children.

36 And one of the Pharisees desired him that he would eat with him. And he entered into the Pharisee's house,

37 and sat down to meat. And behold, a woman which was in the city, a sinner; and when she knew that he was sitting at meat in the Pharisee's house, she brought ¹⁵an alabaster cruse of ointment, and standing behind at his feet, weeping, she began to wet his feet with her tears, and wiped them with the hair of her head, and ¹⁶kissed his feet, and

39 anointed them with the ointment. Now when the Pharisee which had bidden him saw it, he spake within himself, saying, This man, if he were ¹⁷a prophet, would have perceived who and what manner of woman this is which toucheth sus answering said unto him, Simon, I have somewhat to say unto thee. And 41 he saith, ¹ Master, say on. A certain lender had two debtors: the one owed five hundred ² pence, and the other fifty.

42 When they had not wherewith to pay, he forgave them both. Which of them
43 therefore will love him most? Simon answered and said, He, I suppose, to whom he forgave the most. And he said unto him, Thou hast rightly judged. And turning to the woman, he said unto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entered into thine house, thou gavest me no water for my feet: but she hath wetted my feet with her tears, and wiped 45 them with her hair. Thou gavest me no kiss: but she, since the time I came in,
46 hath not ceased to ³ kiss my feet. My head with oil thou didst not anoint: but she hath anointed my feet with ointment. Wherefore I say unto thee, Her sins, which are many, are forgiven; for she loved much: but to whom little is 48 forgiven, the same loveth little. And he said unto her, Thy sins are forgiven.
49 And they that sat at meat with him began to say ⁴ within themselves, Who 50 is this that even forgiveth sins? And he said unto the woman, Thy faith hath saved thee; go in peace.
8 And it came to pass soon afterwards, that he went about through cities and villages, preaching and bringing the 5 good tidings of the kingdom of God. And with him the twelve, and certain women which had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities, Mary that was called Magdalene, from whom seven
3 devils had gone out, and Joanna the wife of Chuza Herod's steward, and Susanna, and many others, which ministered unto ⁷ them of their substance.
4 And when a great multitude came together, and they of every city resorted
5 unto him, he spake by a parable: The sower went forth to sow his seed: and as he sowed, some fell by the way side; and it was trodden under foot, and the
6 birds of the heaven devoured it. And other fell on the rock; and as soon as it grew, it withered away, because 7 it had no moisture. And other fell amidst the thorns; and the thorns grew with it, and choked it. And other fell into the good ground, and grew, and brought forth fruit a hundredfold. As he said these things, he cried, He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.
9 And his disciples asked him what this
10 parable might be. And he said, Unto you it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of God: but to the rest in parables; that seeing they may not see, and hearing they may not understand.
11 Now the parable is this: The seed is the 12 word of God. And those by the way side are they that have heard; then cometh the devil, and taketh away the word from their heart, that they may not believe and be saved. And those on the rock are they which, when they have heard, receive the word with joy; and these have no root, which for a while believe, and in time of temptation fall 14 away. And that which fell among the thorns, these are they that have heard, and as they go on their way they are choked with cares and riches and pleasures of this life, and bring no fruit

15 to perfection. And that in the good ground, these are such as in an honest and good heart, having heard the word, hold it fast, and bring forth fruit with patience.
16 And no man, when he hath lighted a lamp, covereth it with a vessel, or putteth it under a bed; but putteth it on a stand, that they which enter in may see
17 the light. For nothing is hid, that shall not be made manifest; nor anything secret, that shall not be known and come 18 to light. Take heed therefore how ye hear: for whosoever hath, to him shall be given; and whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken away even that which he ⁸ thinketh he hath.
19 And there came to him his mother and brethren, and they could not come
20 to him for the crowd. And it was told him, Thy mother and thy brethren
21 stand without, desiring to see thee. But he answered and said unto them, My mother and my brethren are these which hear the word of God, and do it.
22 Now it came to pass on one of those days, that he entered into a boat, himself and his disciples; and he said unto them, Let us go over unto the other side of the lake: and they launched forth.
23 But as they sailed he fell asleep: and there came down a storm of wind on the lake; and they were filling with water,
24 and were in jeopardy. And they came to him, and awoke him, saying, Master, master, we perish. And he awoke, and rebuked the wind and the raging of the water: and they ceased, and there was 25 a calm. And he said unto them, Where is your faith? And being afraid they marvelled, saying one to another, Who then is this, that he commandeth even the winds and the water, and they obey him?
26 And they arrived at the country of the ⁹ Gerasenes, which is over against 27 Galilee. And when he was come forth upon the land, there met him a certain man out of the city, who had ⁶ devils; and for a long time he had worn no clothes, and abode not in any house, 28 but in the tombs. And when he saw Jesus, he cried out, and fell down before him, and with a loud voice said, What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of the Most High God? I be-

29 seest thee, torment me not. For he commanded the unclean spirit to come out from the man. For ¹ oftentimes it had seized him: and he was kept under guard, and bound with chains and fetters; and breaking the bands asunder, he was driven of the ² devil into the deserts. And Jesus asked him, What is thy name? And he said, Legion; for many ³ devils were entered into him. 31 And they intreated him that he would not command them to depart into the 32 abyss. Now there was there a herd of many swine feeding on the mountain: and they intreated him that he would give them leave to enter into them. And 33 he gave them leave. And the ³ devils came out from the man, and entered into the swine: and the herd rushed down the steep into the lake, and were choked. 34 And when they that fed them saw what had come to pass, they fled, and told it 35 in the city and in the country. And they went out to see what had come to pass; and they came to Jesus, and found the man, from whom the ³ devils were gone out, sitting, clothed and in his right mind, at the feet of Jesus: and they 36 were afraid. And they that saw it told them how he that was possessed with 37 ³ devils was ⁴ made whole. And all the people of the country of the Gerasenes round about asked him to depart from them; for they were holden with great fear: and he entered into a boat, and re- 38 turned. But the man from whom the ³ devils were gone out prayed him that he might be with him: but he sent him 39 away, saying, Return to thy house, and declare how great things God hath done for thee. And he went his way, publishing throughout the whole city how great things Jesus had done for him. 40 And as Jesus returned, the multitude welcomed him; for they were all wait- 41 ing for him. And behold, there came a man named Jairus, and he was a ruler of the synagogue: and he fell down at Jesus' feet, and besought him to come 42 into his house; for he had an only daughter, about twelve years of age, and she lay a dying. But as he went the multitudes thronged him. 43 And a woman having an issue of blood twelve years, which ⁵ had spent all her living upon physicians, and could not be 44 healed of any, came behind him, and touched the border of his garment: and immediately the issue of her blood 45 stanch'd. And Jesus said, Who is it that touched me? And when all denied, Peter said, ⁶ and they that were with him, Master, the multitudes press 46 thee and crush thee. But Jesus said, Some one did touch me: for I perceived that power had gone forth from me. 47 And when the woman saw that she was not hid, she came trembling, and falling down before him declared in the presence of all the people for what cause she touched him, and how she was healed 48 immediately. And he said unto her, Daughter, thy faith hath ⁷ made thee whole; go in peace. 49 While he yet spake, there cometh one from the ruler of the synagogue's house, saying, Thy daughter is dead; trouble 50 not the ⁸ Master. But Jesus hearing it, answered him, Fear not: only believe, and she shall be ⁴ made whole. 51 And when he came to the house, he suffered not any man to enter in with him, save Peter, and John, and James, and the father of the maiden and her 52 mother. And all were weeping, and bewailing her: but he said, Weep not; 53 for she is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to scorn, knowing that 54 she was dead. But he, taking her by the hand, called, saying, Maiden, arise. 55 And her spirit returned, and she rose up immediately: and he commanded that 56 something be given her to eat. And her parents were amazed: but he charged them to tell no man what had been done. 9 And he called the twelve together, and gave them power and authority over 2 all ³ devils, and to cure diseases. And he sent them forth to preach the kingdom of God, and to heal ⁹ the sick. 3 And he said unto them, Take nothing for your journey, neither staff, nor wallet, nor bread, nor money; neither 4 have two coats. And into whatsoever house ye enter, there abide, and thence 5 depart. And as many as receive you not, when ye depart from that city, shake off the dust from your feet for a 6 testimony against them. And they departed, and went throughout the villages, preaching the gospel, and healing everywhere. 7 Now Herod the tetrarch heard of all that was done: and he was much perplexed, because that it was said by some, 8 that John was risen from the dead; and by some, that Elijah had appeared; and by others, that one of the old prophets 9 was risen again. And Herod said, John I beheaded: but who is this, about whom I hear such things? And he sought to see him. 10 And the apostles, when they were returned, declared unto him what things they had done. And he took them, and withdrew apart to a city called Beth- 11saida. But the multitudes perceiving it followed him: and he welcomed them, and spake to them of the kingdom of God, and them that had need of healing 12 he healed. And the day began to wear away; and the twelve came, and said unto him, Send the multitude away, that they may go into the villages and country round about, and lodge, and get victuals: for we

13 are here in a desert place. But he said unto them, Give ye them to eat. And they said, We have no more than five loaves and two fishes; except we should 14 go and buy food for all this people. For they were about five thousand men. And he said unto his disciples, Make them
 15 sit down in companies, about fifty each. And they did so, and made them all 16 sit down. And he took the five loaves and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed them, and brake; and gave to the disciples to set before the multitude.
 17 And they did eat, and were all filled: and there was taken up that which remained over to them of broken pieces, twelve baskets.
 18 And it came to pass, as he was praying alone, the disciples were with him: and he asked them, saying, Who do the multitudes say that I am? And they answering said, John the Baptist; but others say, Elijah; and others, that one of the 20 old prophets is risen again. And he said unto them, But who say ye that I am? And Peter answering said, The Christ of 21 God. But he charged them, and commanded them to tell this to no man; saying, The Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and the third day be raised up. And he said unto all, If any man would come after me, let him deny himself, and take 24 up his cross daily, and follow me. For whosoever would save his 2 life shall lose it; but whosoever shall lose his 2 life for my sake, the same shall save
 25 it. For what is a man profited, if he gain the whole world, and lose or forfeit
 26 his own self? For whosoever shall be ashamed of me and of my words, of him shall the Son of man be ashamed, when he cometh in his own glory, and the 27 glory of the Father, and of the holy angels. But I tell you of a truth, There be some of them that stand here, which shall in no wise taste of death, till they see the kingdom of God.
 28 And it came to pass about eight days after these sayings, he took with him Peter and John and James, and went 29 up into the mountain to pray. And as he was praying, the fashion of his countenance was altered, and his raiment be-30 came white and dazzling. And behold, there talked with him two men, which 31 were Moses and Elijah; who appeared in glory, and spake of his 3 decease which he was about to accomplish at 32 Jerusalem. Now Peter and they that were with him were heavy with sleep; but 4 when they were fully awake, they saw his glory, and the two men that 33 stood with him. And it came to pass, as they were parting from him, Peter said unto Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three 5 tabernacles; one for thee, and one for

Moses, and one for Elijah: not know-34 ing what he said. And while he said these things, there came a cloud, and overshadowed them: and they feared
 35 as they entered into the cloud. And a voice came out of the cloud, saying, This is 6 my Son, my chosen: hear ye 36 him. And when the voice 7 came, Jesus was found alone. And they held their peace, and told no man in those days any of the things which they had seen.
 37 And it came to pass, on the next day, when they were come down from the mountain, a great multitude met him.
 38 And behold, a man from the multitude cried, saying, 8 Master, I beseech thee to look upon my son; for he is mine only
 39 child: and behold, a spirit taketh him, and he suddenly crieth out; and it 9 teareth him that he foameth, and it hardly departeth from him, bruising
 40 him sorely. And I besought thy disciples to cast it out; and they could not.
 41 And Jesus answered and said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you, and bear with 42 you? bring hither thy son. And as he was yet a coming, the 10 devil 11 dashed him down, and 12 tare him grievously. But Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, and healed the boy, and gave him back 43 to his father. And they were all astonished at the majesty of God.

But while all were marvelling at all the things which he did, he said
 44 unto his disciples, Let these words sink into your ears: for the Son of man shall be delivered up into the 45 hands of men. But they understood not this saying, and it was concealed from them, that they should not perceive it: and they were afraid to ask him about this saying.

46 And there arose a reasoning among them, which of them should be 13 great-47 est. But when Jesus saw the reasoning of their heart, he took a little 48 child, and set him by his side, and said unto them, Whosoever shall receive this little child in my name receive me: and whosoever shall receive me receiveth him that sent me: for he that is 14 least among you all, the same is great.

49 And John answered and said, Master, we saw one casting out 15 devils in thy name; and we forbade him, because he followeth not with us. But Jesus said unto him, Forbid him not: for he that is not against you is for you.
 51 And it came to pass, when the days 16 were well-nigh come that he should be received up, he stedfastly set his face
 52 to go to Jerusalem, and sent messengers before his face: and they went, and entered into a village of the Samaritans, to 53 make ready for him. And they did not receive him, because his face was as though 54 he were going to Jerusalem. And when his disciples James and John saw this, they said, Lord, wilt thou that we bid fire to come down from heaven, and 55 consume them¹? But he turned, and 56 rebuked them². And they went to another village.

57 And as they went in the way, a certain man said unto him, I will follow 58 thee whithersoever thou goest. And Jesus said unto him, The foxes have holes, and the birds of the heaven have³ nests; but the Son of man hath not 59 where to lay his head. And he said unto another, Follow me. But he said, Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my father. 60 But he said unto him, Leave the dead to bury their own dead: but go thou and publish abroad the kingdom of God. 61 And another also said, I will follow thee, Lord; but first suffer me to bid farewell 62 to them that are at my house. But Jesus said unto him, No man, having put his hand to the plough, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God.

10 Now after these things the Lord appointed seventy⁴ others, and sent them two and two before his face into every city and place, whither he himself was 2 about to come. And he said unto them, The harvest is plenteous, but the labourers are few: pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he send forth labourers into his harvest. Go your ways: behold, I send you forth as lambs in the 4 midst of wolves. Carry no purse, no wallet, no shoes: and salute no man on the 5 way. And into whatsoever house ye shall⁵ enter, first say, Peace be to this 6 house. And if a son of peace be there, your peace shall rest upon⁶ him: but 7 if not, it shall turn to you again. And in that same house remain, eating and drinking such things as they give: for the labourer is worthy of his hire. Go 8 not from house to house. And into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you, eat such things as are set 9 before you: and heal the sick that are therein, and say unto them, The kingdom of God is come nigh unto you. But into whatsoever city ye shall enter, and they receive you not, go out into the 11 streets thereof and say, Even the dust from your city, that cleaveth to our feet, we do wipe off against you: howbeit know this, that the kingdom of God is 12 come nigh. I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable in that day for Sodom, 13 than for that city. Woe unto thee, Chorazin! woe unto thee, Bethsaida! for if the 7 mighty works had been done in Tyre and Sidon, which were done in you, they would have repented long ago, sitting in sackcloth and ashes. Howbeit it shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon in the judgement, than for you. 15 And thou, Capernaum, shalt thou be exalted unto heaven? thou shalt be 16 brought down unto Hades. He that heareth you heareth me; and he that rejecteth you rejecteth me; and he that rejecteth me rejecteth him that sent me.

17 And the seventy returned with joy, saying, Lord, even the⁸ devils are subject unto us in thy name. And he said unto them, I beheld Satan fallen as 19 lightning from heaven. Behold, I have given you authority to tread upon serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy: and nothing shall 20 in any wise hurt you. Howbeit in this rejoice not, that the spirits are subject unto you; but rejoice that your names are written in heaven.

21 In that same hour he rejoiced⁹ in the Holy Spirit, and said, I¹⁰ thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that thou didst hide these things from the wise and understanding, and didst reveal them unto babes: yea, Father; 22 for so it was well-pleasing in thy sight.

22 All things have been delivered unto me of my Father: and no one knoweth who the Son is, save the Father; and who the Father is, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son willeth to reveal 23 him. And turning to the disciples, he said privately, Blessed are the eyes 24 which see the things that ye see: for I say unto you, that many prophets and kings desired to see the things which ye see, and saw them not; and to hear the things which ye hear, and heard them not.

26 And he said unto him, What is written 27 in the law? how readest thou? And he answering said, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God¹³ with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and 28 thy neighbour as thyself. And he said unto him, Thou hast answered right:

29 this do, and thou shalt live. But he, desiring to justify himself, said unto Jesus, And who is my neighbour?

30 Jesus made answer and said, A certain man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho; and he fell among robbers, which both stripped him and beat him, and departed, leaving 31 him half dead. And by chance a certain priest was going down that way: and when he saw him, he passed by: 32 on the other side. And in like manner a Levite also, when he came to the place, and saw him, passed by on 33 the other side. But a certain Samaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was: and when he saw him, he was 34 moved with compassion, and came to him, and bound up his wounds, pouring on them oil and wine; and he set him on his own beast, and brought him 35 to an inn, and took care of him. 38 Now as they went on their way, he entered into a certain village: and a certain woman named Martha received 39 him into her house. And she had a sister called Mary, which also sat at the Lord's feet, and heard his word. 40 But Martha was ²cumbered about much serving; and she came up to him, and said, Lord, dost thou not care that my sister did leave me to serve alone? bid her therefore that she help me.

15 But some of them said, ¹²By Beelzebub the prince of the ¹³devils casteth he 16 out ¹³devils. And others, tempting him, 35 body also is full of darkness. Look therefore whether the light that is in

37 Now as he spake, a Pharisee asketh him to ¹dine with him: and he went in,

38 and sat down to meat. And when the Pharisee saw it, he marvelled that he had not first washed before ¹dinner.

22 And he said unto his disciples, Therefore I say unto you, Be not anxious for your ³life, what ye shall eat; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put

23 on. For the ³life is more than the food, and the body than the raiment. Consider the ravens, that they sow not, neither reap; which have no store-chamber nor barn; and God feedeth them: of how much more value are ye

25 than the birds! And which of you by being anxious can add a cubit unto his

26 ⁴stature? If then ye are not able to do even that which is least, why are ye

27 anxious concerning the rest? Consider the lilies, how they grow: they toil not, neither do they spin; yet I say unto you, Even Solomon in all his glory was

28 not arrayed like one of these. But if God doth so clothe the grass in the field, which to-day is, and to-morrow is cast into the oven; how much more shall he

29 clothe you, O ye of little faith? And seek not ye what ye shall eat, and what ye shall drink, neither be ye of doubtful

30 mind. For all these things do the nations of the world seek after: but your Father knoweth that ye have need of

31 these things. Howbeit seek ye ⁵his kingdom, and these things shall be added

32 unto you. Fear not, little flock; for it is your Father's good pleasure to give

33 you the kingdom. Sell that ye have, and give alms; make for yourselves purses which wax not old, a treasure in the heavens that faileth not, where no thief draweth near, neither moth de-

34 stroyeth. For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

35 Let your loins be girded about, and

36 your lamps burning; and be ye yourselves like unto men looking for their lord, when he shall return from the marriage feast; that, when he cometh and knocketh, they may straightway

37 open unto him. Blessed are those ⁶servants, whom the lord when he cometh shall find watching: verily I say unto you, that he shall gird himself, and make them sit down to meat, and shall come

38 and serve them. And if he shall come in the second watch, and if in the third, and find them so, blessed are those ser-

39 vants. ⁷But know this, that if the master of the house had known in what hour the thief was coming, he would have watched, and not have left his

40 house to be ⁸broken through. Be ye also ready: for in an hour that ye think not the Son of man cometh.

41 And Peter said, Lord, speakest thou this parable unto us, or even unto 42 all? And the Lord said, Who then is ⁹the faithful and wise steward, whom his lord shall set over his household, to give them their portion of food

43 in due season? Blessed is that ¹⁰servant, whom his lord when he cometh

44 shall find so doing. Of a truth I say unto you, that he will set him over all

45 that he hath. But if that ¹⁰servant shall say in his heart, My lord delayeth his coming; and shall begin to beat the menservants and the maidservants, and to eat and drink, and to be drunk-

46 en; the lord of that ¹⁰servant shall come in a day when he expecteth not, and in an hour when he knoweth not, and shall

47 cut him asunder, and appoint his portion with the unfaithful. And that

¹⁰servant, which knew his lord's will, and made not ready, nor did according to his will, shall be beaten with many

48 stripes; but he that knew not, and did things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few stripes. And to whomsoever much is given, of him shall much be required: and to whom they commit much, of him will they ask the more.

49 I came to cast fire upon the earth; and

50 what will I, if it is already kindled? But I have a baptism to be baptized with; and how am I straitened till it be accomplished! Think ye that I am come to give peace in the earth? I tell you,

52 Nay; but rather division: for there shall be from henceforth five in one house divided, three against two, and two

53 against three. They shall be divided, father against son, and son against father; mother against daughter, and daughter against her mother; mother in law against her daughter in law, and daughter in law against her mother in law.

54 And he said to the multitudes also, When ye see a cloud rising in the west, straightway ye say, There cometh a shower; and so it cometh

55 to pass. And when ye see a south wind blowing, ye say, There will be a ¹²scorching heat; and it cometh

56 to pass. Ye hypocrites, ye know how to ¹³interpret the face of the earth and the heaven; but how is it that ye know not how to ¹³interpret this

57 time? And why even of yourselves

58 judge ye not what is right? For as thou art going with thine adversary before the magistrate, on the way give diligence to be quit of him; lest haply he hale thee unto the judge, and the judge shall deliver thee to the ¹⁴officer, and the ¹⁴officer shall unto them, Think ye that these Galileans were sinners above all the Galileans, because they have suffered these things? I tell you, Nay; but, except ye repent, ye shall all in like manner perish. Or those eighteen, upon whom the tower in Siloam fell, and killed them, think ye that they were ¹offenders above all the men that dwell in Jerusalem? I tell you, Nay; but, except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish.

59 cast thee into prison. I say unto thee, Thou shalt by no means come out thence, till thou have paid the very last mite.

6 And he spake this parable; A certain man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard; and he came seeking fruit thereon, and found none. And he said unto the vinedresser, Behold, these three years I come seeking fruit on this fig tree, and find none: cut it down; why doth it also cumber the ground? And he answering saith unto him, Lord, let it alone this year also, till I shall dig about it, and dung it: and if it bear fruit thenceforth, well; but if not, thou shalt cut it down.

10 And he was teaching in one of the synagogues on the sabbath day. And behold, a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years; and she was bowed together, and could in no wise lift herself up. And when Jesus saw her, he called her, and said to her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity. And he laid his hands upon her; and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God. And the ruler of the synagogue, being moved with indignation because Jesus had healed on the sabbath, answered and said to the multitude, There are six days in which men ought to work: in them therefore come and be healed, and not on the day of the sabbath. But the Lord answered him, and said, Ye hypocrites, doth not each one of you on the sabbath loose his ox or his ass from the ²stall, and lead him away to water-³ing? And ought not this woman, being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan had bound, lo, these eighteen years, to have been loosed from this bond on the day of the sabbath? And as he said these things, all his adversaries were put to shame: and all the multitude rejoiced for all the glorious things that were done by him.

18 He said therefore, Unto what is the kingdom of God like? and whereunto shall I liken it? It is like unto a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and cast into his own garden; and it grew, and became a tree; and the birds of the heaven lodged in the branches thereof. And again he said, Whereunto shall I liken the kingdom of God? It is like unto leaven, which a woman took and hid in three ⁴measures of meal, till it was all leavened.

22 And he went on his way through cities and villages, teaching, and journeying on unto Jerusalem. And one said unto him, Lord, are they few that be saved? 24 And he said unto them, Strive to enter in by the narrow door: for many, I say unto you, shall seek to enter in, and shall not be ⁵able. When once the master of the house is risen up, and hath shut to the door, and ye begin to stand without, and to knock at the door, saying, Lord, open to us; and he shall answer and say to you, I know you not whence ye are; then shall ye begin to say, We did eat and drink in thy presence, and thou didst teach in our streets; and he shall say, I tell you, I know not whence ye are; depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity. There shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth, when ye shall see Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and all the prophets, in the kingdom of God, and yourselves cast forth without. And they shall come from the east and west, and from the north and south, and shall ⁶sit down in the kingdom of God. And behold, there are last which shall be first, and there are first which shall be last.

31 In that very hour there came certain Pharisees, saying to him, Get thee out, and go hence: for Herod would fain kill thee. And he said unto them, Go and say to that fox, Behold, I cast out ⁷devils and perform cures to-day and to-morrow, and the third day I am perfected. Howbeit I must go on my way to-day and to-morrow and the day following: for it cannot be that a prophet perish out of Jerusalem. O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, which killeth the prophets, and stoneth them that are sent unto her! how often would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her own brood under her wings, and ye would not! Behold, your house is left unto you desolate: and I say unto you, Ye shall not see me, until ye shall say, Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

14 And it came to pass, when he went into the house of one of the rulers of the Pharisees on a sabbath to eat bread, that they were watching him. 2 And behold, there was before him a certain man which had the dropsy. 3 And Jesus answering spake unto the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath, or not? 4 But they held their peace. And he took him, and healed him, and let him go. 5 And he said unto them, Which of you shall have ⁸an ass or an ox fallen into a well, and will not straightway draw him up on a sabbath day? 6 And they could not answer again unto these things.

those which were bidden, when he marked how they chose out the chief seats; saying unto them, When thou art bidden of any man to a marriage feast, ¹sit not down in the chief seat; lest haply a more honourable man than thou be bidden of him, and he that bade thee and him shall come and say to thee, Give this man place; and then thou shalt begin with shame to take the lowest place. But when thou art bidden, go and sit down in the lowest place; that when he that hath bidden thee cometh, he may say to thee, Friend, go up higher: then shalt thou have glory in the presence of all that sit at meat with thee. For every one that exalteth himself shall be humbled; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

12 And he said to him also that had bidden him, When thou makest a dinner or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, nor thy kinsmen, nor rich neighbours; lest haply they also bid thee again, and a recompense be made thee. But when thou makest a feast, bid the poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind: and thou shalt be blessed; because they have not wherewith to recompense thee: for thou shalt be recompensed in the resurrection of the just.

15 And when one of them that sat at meat with him heard these things, he said unto him, Blessed is he that shall eat bread in the kingdom of God.

16 But he said unto him, A certain man made a great supper; and he bade 17 many: and he sent forth his ²servant at supper time to say to them that were bidden, Come; for all things are now ready. And they all with one consent began to make excuse. The first said unto him, I have bought a field, and I must needs go out and see it: 19 I pray thee have me excused. And another said, I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to prove them: I 20 pray thee have me excused. And another said, I have married a wife, 21 and therefore I cannot come. And the ²servant came, and told his lord these things. Then the master of the house being angry said to his ²servant, Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in hither the poor and maimed and blind and lame. And the ²servant said, Lord, what thou didst command is done, and yet there is room. And the lord said unto the ²servant, Go out into the highways and hedges, and constrain them to come in, that my house may 24 be filled. For I say unto you, that none of those men which were bidden shall taste of my supper.

25 Now there went with him great multitudes: and he turned, and said

26 unto them, If any man cometh unto me, and hateth not his own father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, yea, and his own life also, he cannot be my disciple.

27 Whosoever doth not bear his own cross, and come after me, cannot be my disciple. For which of you, desiring to build a tower, doth not first sit down and count the cost, whether he 29 have wherewith to complete it? Lest haply, when he hath laid a foundation, and is not able to finish, all that behold 30 begin to mock him, saying, This man began to build, and was not able to 31 finish. Or what king, as he goeth to encounter another king in war, will not sit down first and take counsel whether he is able with ten thousand to meet him that cometh against him with 32 twenty thousand? Or else, while the other is yet a great way off, he sendeth an ambassage, and asketh conditions 33 of peace. So therefore whosoever he be of you that renounceth not all that he hath, he cannot be my disciple.

34 Salt therefore is good: but if even the salt have lost its savour, wherewith 35 shall it be seasoned? It is fit neither for the land nor for the dunghill: men cast it out. He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

15 Now all the publicans and sinners were drawing near unto him for to hear 2 him. And both the Pharisees and the scribes murmured, saying, This man receiveth sinners, and eateth with them.

3 And he spake unto them this parable, 4 saying, What man of you, having a hundred sheep, and having lost one of them, doth not leave the ninety and nine in the wilderness, and go after that which is lost, until he find it? 5 And when he hath found it, he layeth 6 it on his shoulders, rejoicing. And when he cometh home, he calleth together his friends and his neighbours, saying unto them, Rejoice with me, for I have found my sheep which was 7 lost. I say unto you, that even so there shall be joy in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine righteous persons, which need no repentance.

8 Or what woman having ten ³pieces of silver, if she lose one piece, doth not light a lamp, and sweep the house, and seek diligently until she find it? 9 And when she hath found it, she calleth together her friends and neighbours, saying, Rejoice with me, for I have found the piece which I had 10 lost. Even so, I say unto you, there is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth.

the portion of ¹thy substance that falleth to me. And he divided unto ¹³him his living. And not many days after the younger son gathered all together, and took his journey into a far country; and there he wasted his ¹⁴substance with riotous living. And when he had spent all, there arose a mighty famine in that country; and ¹⁵he began to be in want. And he went and joined himself to one of the citizens of that country; and he sent him into ¹⁶his fields to feed swine. And he would fain have been filled with ²the husks that the swine did eat: and no man ¹⁷gave unto him. But when he came to himself he said, How many hired servants of my father's have bread enough and to spare, and I perish here with ¹⁸hunger! I will arise and go to my father, and will say unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in ¹⁹thy sight: I am no more worthy to be called thy son: make me as one of ²⁰thy hired servants. And he arose, and came to his father. But while he was yet afar off, his father saw him, and was moved with compassion, and ran, and fell on his neck, and ³kissed him. ²¹And the son said unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in thy sight: I am no more worthy to be ²²called thy son. But the father said to his ⁵servants, Bring forth quickly the best robe, and put it on him; and put a ring on his hand, and shoes on ²³his feet: and bring the fatted calf, and kill it, and let us eat, and make merry: ²⁴for this my son was dead, and is alive again; he was lost, and is found. And ²⁵they began to be merry. Now his elder son was in the field: and as he came and drew nigh to the house, he heard ²⁶music and dancing. And he called to him one of the ⁵servants, and inquired ²⁷what these things might be. And he said unto him, Thy brother is come; and thy father hath killed the fatted calf, because he hath received him safe ²⁸and sound. But he was angry, and would not go in: and his father came ²⁹out, and intreated him. But he answered and said to his father, Lo, these many years do I serve thee, and I never transgressed a commandment of thine: and yet thou never gavest me a kid, that I might make merry with ³⁰my friends: but when this thy son came, which hath devoured thy living with harlots, thou killedst for him the ³¹fatted calf. And he said unto him, ⁶Son, thou art ever with me, and all ³²that is mine is thine. But it was meet to make merry and be glad: for this thy brother was dead, and is alive again; and was lost, and is found. ¹⁶And he said also unto the disciples, There was a certain rich man, which had a steward; and the same was accused unto him that he was wasting ²his goods. And he called him, and said unto him, What is this that I hear of thee? render the account of thy stewardship; for thou canst be no ³longer steward. And the steward said within himself, What shall I do, seeing that my lord taketh away the stewardship from me? I have not strength to dig; to beg I am ashamed. ⁴I am resolved what to do, that, when I am put out of the stewardship, they ⁵may receive me into their houses. And calling to him each one of his lord's debtors, he said to the first, How ⁶much owest thou unto my lord? And he said, A hundred ⁷measures of oil. And he said unto him, Take thy ⁸bond, and sit down quickly and write fifty. ⁷Then said he to another, And how much owest thou? And he said, A hundred ⁹measures of wheat. He saith unto him, Take thy ⁸bond, and write ⁸four-score. And his lord commended ¹⁰the unrighteous steward because he had done wisely: for the sons of this ¹¹world are for their own generation ⁹wiser than the sons of the light. And I say unto you, Make to yourselves friends ¹²by means of the mammon of unrighteousness; that, when it shall fail, they may receive you into the ¹⁰eternal tabernacles. He that is faithful in a very little is faithful also in much: and he that is unrighteous in a very ¹¹little is unrighteous also in much. If therefore ye have not been faithful in the unrighteous mammon, who will commit to your trust the true riches? ¹²And if ye have not been faithful in that which is another's, who will give you ¹³that which is ¹³your own? No ¹⁴servant can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon. ¹⁴And the Pharisees, who were lovers of money, heard all these things; and ¹⁵they scoffed at him. And he said unto them, Ye are they that justify yourselves in the sight of men; but God knoweth your hearts: for that which is exalted among men is an abomination in the ¹⁶sight of God. The law and the prophets were until John: from that time the gospel of the kingdom of God is preached, and every man entereth violently ¹⁷into it. But it is easier for heaven and earth to pass away, than for one ¹⁸little of the law to fall. Every one that putteth away his wife, and marieth another, committeth adultery: and he that marieth one that is put away from a husband committeth adultery. ¹⁹Now there was a certain rich man, and he was clothed in purple and fine linen, ¹⁵faring sumptuously every day: and a certain beggar named Lazarus was laid at his 21 gate, full of sores, and desiring to be fed with the crumbs that fell from the rich man's table; yea, even the dogs 22 came and licked his sores. And it came to pass, that the beggar died, and that he was carried away by the angels into Abraham's bosom:

 and the rich man also died, and was 23 buried. And in Hades he lifted up his eyes, being in torments, and seeth Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in 24 his bosom. And he cried and said, Father Abraham, have mercy on me,
 and send Lazarus, that he may dip
 the tip of his finger in water, and cool my tongue; for I am in anguish in 25 this flame. But Abraham said, ¹ Son, remember that thou in thy lifetime receivest thy good things, and Lazarus in like manner evil things: but now here he is comforted, and thou 26 art in anguish. And ² beside all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed, that they which would pass from hence to you may not be able, and that none may cross over from thence 27 to us. And he said, I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send 28 him to my father's house; for I have five brethren; that he may testify unto them, lest they also come into this 29 place of torment. But Abraham saith,
 They have Moses and the prophets;
 30 let them hear them. And he said, Nay, father Abraham: but if one go to them 31 from the dead, they will repent. And he said unto him, If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded, if one rise from the dead.
 17 And he said unto his disciples, It is impossible but that occasions of stumbling should come: but woe unto him, 2 through whom they come! It were well for him if a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were thrown into the sea, rather than that he should cause one of these little ones to stumble.
 3 Take heed to yourselves: if thy brother sin, rebuke him; and if he repent, for-4 give him. And if he sin against thee seven times in the day, and seven times turn again to thee, saying, I repent;
 thou shalt forgive him.
 5 And the apostles said unto the Lord,
 6 Increase our faith. And the Lord said,
 If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye would say unto this sycamine tree, Be thou rooted up, and be thou planted in the sea; and it would have 7 obeyed you. But who is there of you, having a ³ servant plowing or keeping sheep, that will say unto him, when he is come in from the field, Come 8 straightway and sit down to meat; and will not rather say unto him, Make ready wherewith I may sup, and gird

 and drunken; and afterward thou

9 shalt eat and drink? Doth he thank the ⁴ servant because he did the things that 10 were commanded? Even so ye also, when ye shall have done all the things that are commanded you, say, We are unprofitable ⁴ servants; we have done that which it was our duty to do.
 11 And it came to pass, ⁵ as they were on the way to Jerusalem, that he was passing ⁶ through the midst of Samaria 12 and Galilee. And as he entered into a certain village, there met him ten men that were lepers, which stood afar 13 off: and they lifted up their voices, saying, Jesus, Master, have mercy on 14 us. And when he saw them, he said unto them, Go and shew yourselves unto the priests. And it came to pass, as 15 they went, they were cleansed. And one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, with a loud voice 16 glorifying God; and he fell upon his face at his feet, giving him thanks: and 17 he was a Samaritan. And Jesus answering said, Were not the ten cleans-18 ed? but where are the nine? ⁷ Were there none found that returned to give 19 glory to God, save this ⁸ stranger? And he said unto him, Arise, and go thy way:
 thy faith hath ⁹ made thee whole.
 20 And being asked by the Pharisees, when the kingdom of God cometh, he answered them and said, The kingdom of God 21 cometh not with observation: neither shall they say, Lo, here! or, There! for lo, the kingdom of God is ¹⁰ within you.
 22 And he said unto the disciples, The days will come, when ye shall desire to see one of the days of the Son 23 of man, and ye shall not see it. And they shall say to you, Lo, there! Lo, here! go not away, nor follow after 24 them: for as the lightning, when it lighteneth out of the one part under the heaven, shineth unto the other part under heaven; so shall the Son 25 of man be ¹¹ in his day. But first must he suffer many things and be 26 rejected of this generation. And as it came to pass in the days of Noah, even so shall it be also in the days 27 of the Son of man. They ate, they drank, they married, they were given in marriage, until the day that Noah entered into the ark, and the flood came, 28 and destroyed them all. Likewise even as it came to pass in the days of Lot;
 they ate, they drank, they bought, they 29 sold, they planted, they builded; but in the day that Lot went out from Sodom it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, 30 and destroyed them all: after the same manner shall it be in the day that the 31 Son of man is revealed. In that day, he which shall be on the housetop, and his goods in the house, let him not go down to take them away: and let him that is in the field likewise not 32 return back. Remember Lot's wife.

¹⁸ And he spake a parable unto them to the end that they ought always to pray, ²and not to faint; saying, There was in a city a judge, which feared not God, ³and regarded not man: and there was a widow in that city; and she came oft unto him, saying, ⁵Avenge me of mine ⁴adversary. And he would not for a while: but afterward he said within himself, Though I fear not God, nor ⁵regard man; yet because this widow troubleth me, I will avenge her, lest she ⁶wear me out by her continual ⁶coming. And the Lord said, Hear what ⁷the unrighteous judge saith. And shall not God avenge his elect, which cry to him day and night, and he is ⁸longsuffering over them? I say unto you, that he will avenge them speedily. Howbeit when the Son of man cometh, shall he find ⁸faith on the earth?

⁹ And he spake also this parable unto certain which trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and set ⁹all ¹⁰others at nought: Two men went up into the temple to pray; the one a Pharisee, and the other a publican. ¹¹The Pharisee stood and prayed thus with himself, God, I thank thee, that I am not as the rest of men, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as ¹²this publican. I fast twice in the week; ¹³I give tithes of all that I get. But the publican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote his breast, saying, God, ¹⁰be merciful to me ¹¹a sinner.

¹⁴ I say unto you, This man went down to his house justified rather than the other: for every one that exalteth himself shall be humbled; but he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

¹⁵ And they brought unto him also their babes, that he should touch them: but when the disciples saw it, they rebuked ¹⁶them. But Jesus called them unto him, saying, Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for ¹⁷of such is the kingdom of God. Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall in no wise enter therein.

²⁰ none is good, save one, even God. Thou knowest the commandments. Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Honour ²¹thy father and mother. And he said, All these things have I observed from ²²my youth up. And when Jesus heard it, he said unto him, One thing thou lackest yet: sell all that thou hast, and distribute unto the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and ²³come, follow me. But when he heard these things, he became exceeding ²⁴sorrowful; for he was very rich. And Jesus seeing him said, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the ²⁵kingdom of God! For it is easier for a camel to enter in through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into ²⁶the kingdom of God. And they that ²⁷heard it said, Then who can be saved? But he said, The things which are impossible with men are possible with ²⁸God. And Peter said, Lo, we have left ²⁹our own, and followed thee. And he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, There is no man that hath left house, or wife, or brethren, or parents, or children, for the kingdom of God's sake, ³⁰who shall not receive manifold more in this time, and in the ¹⁴world to come eternal life.

³⁵ And it came to pass, as he drew nigh unto Jericho, a certain blind man sat ³⁶by the way side begging: and hearing a multitude going by, he inquired what ³⁷this meant. And they told him, that ³⁸Jesus of Nazareth passeth by. And he cried, saying, Jesus, thou son of David, ³⁹have mercy on me. And they that went before rebuked him, that he should hold his peace: but he cried out the more a great deal, Thou son of David, ⁴⁰have mercy on me. And Jesus stood, and commanded him to be brought unto him: and when he was come near, ⁴¹he asked him, What wilt thou that I should do unto thee? And he said, Lord, that I may receive my sight. ⁴² And Jesus said unto him, Receive thy sight: thy faith hath ¹⁶made thee ⁴³whole. And immediately he received his sight, and followed him, glorifying God: and all the people, when they saw it, gave praise unto God.

19 And he entered and was passing
2 through Jericho. And behold, a man
3 called by name Zacchæus; and he was 4 a chief publican, and he was rich. And 5 he sought to see Jesus who he was;
6 and could not for the crowd, because he 7 was little of stature. And he ran on 8 before, and climbed up into a sycamore
9 tree to see him: for he was to pass
10 that way. And when Jesus came to the 11 place, he looked up, and said unto him,
12 Zacchæus, make haste, and come down;
13 for to-day I must abide at thy house.
14 And he made haste, and came down, and 15 received him joyfully. And when they 16 saw it, they all murmured, saying, He 17 is gone in to lodge with a man that is a 18 sinner. And Zacchæus stood, and said
19 unto the Lord, Behold, Lord, the half 20 of my goods I give to the poor; and if I 21 have wrongfully exacted aught of any 22 man, I restore fourfold. And Jesus said 23 unto him, To-day is salvation come to 24 this house, forasmuch as he also is a son
25 of Abraham. For the Son of man came 26 to seek and to save that which was lost.
27 And as they heard these things, he 28 added and spake a parable, because he 29 was nigh to Jerusalem, and because they 30 supposed that the kingdom of God was 31 immediately to appear. He said there-32 fore, A certain nobleman went into a 33 far country, to receive for himself a 34 kingdom, and to return. And he called 35 ten ¹servants of his, and gave them ten 36 pounds, and said unto them, Trade ye
37 ²herewith till I come. But his citizens 38 hated him, and sent an ambassage after 39 him, saying, We will not that this man
40 reign over us. And it came to pass, 41 when he was come back again, having 42 received the kingdom, that he com-43 manded these ³servants, unto whom 44 he had given the money, to be called 45 to him, that he might know what they 46 had gained by trading. And the first 47 came before him, saying, Lord, thy 48 pound hath made ten pounds more.
49 And he said unto him, Well done, thou
50 good ⁴servant: because thou wast found 51 faithful in a very little, have thou 52 authority over ten cities. And the 53 second came, saying, Thy pound, Lord,
54 hath made five pounds. And he said
55 unto him also, Be thou also over five 56 cities. And ⁵another came, saying, 57 Lord, behold, ⁶here is thy pound, which 58 I kept laid up in a napkin: for I feared 59 thee, because thou art an austere man:
60 thou takest up that thou laydest not 61 down, and reapest that thou didst not 62 sow. He saith unto him, Out of thine
63 own mouth will I judge thee, thou 64 wicked ⁷servant. Thou knewest that 65 I am an austere man, taking up that 66 I laid not down, and reaping that I
67 did not sow; then wherefore gavest
68 thou not my money into the bank, 69 and ⁸I at my coming should have

70 required it with interest? And he said
71 unto them that stood by, Take away
72 from him the pound, and give it unto 73 him that hath the ten pounds. And 74 they said unto him, Lord, he hath ten 75 pounds. I say unto you, that unto 76 every one that hath shall be given; but 77 from him that hath not, even that which 78 he hath shall be taken away from him.
79 Howbeit these mine enemies, which 80 would not that I should reign over them,
81 bring hither, and slay them before me.
82 And when he had thus spoken, he
83 went on before, going up to Jerusalem.
84 And it came to pass, when he drew 85 nigh unto Bethphage and Bethany, at 86 the mount that is called the mount of 87 Olives, he sent two of the disciples, say-88 ing, Go your way into the village over 89 against you; in the which as ye enter 90 ye shall find a colt tied, whereon no
91 man ever yet sat: loose him, and bring 92 him. And if any one ask you, Why 93 do ye loose him? thus shall ye say, The 94 Lord hath need of him. And they that 95 were sent went away, and found even 96 as he had said unto them. And as they 97 were loosing the colt, the owners thereof
98 said unto them, Why loose ye the colt?
99 And they said, The Lord hath need of 100 him. And they brought him to Jesus:
101 and they threw their garments upon the 102 colt, and set Jesus thereon. And as he 103 went, they spread their garments in the 104 way. And as he was now drawing nigh, 105 even at the descent of the mount of 106 Olives, the whole multitude of the dis-
107 ciples began to rejoice and praise God
108 with a loud voice for all the ⁹mighty
109 works which they had seen; saying, 110 Blessed is the King that cometh in the 111 name of the Lord: peace in heaven, 112 and glory in the highest. And some of 113 the Pharisees from the multitude said
114 unto him, ¹⁰Master, rebuke thy disciples.
115 And he answered and said, I tell you 116 that, if these shall hold their peace, the 117 stones will cry out.
118 And when he drew nigh, he saw the 119 city and wept over it, saying, ¹¹If thou 120 hadst known in this day, even thou, the 121 things which belong unto peace! but 122 now they are hid from thine eyes. For 123 the days shall come upon thee, when 124 thine enemies shall cast up a ¹²bank
125 about thee, and compass thee round, 126 and keep thee in on every side, and 127 shall dash thee to the ground, and thy 128 children within thee; and they shall 129 not leave in thee one stone upon 130 another; because thou knewest not the 131 time of thy visitation.
132 And he entered into the temple, and 133 began to cast out them that sold, say-134 ing unto them, It is written, And my 135 house shall be a house of prayer: but 136 ye have made it a den of robbers.

the scribes and the principal men of the 48 people sought to destroy him : and they could not find what they might do ; for the people all hung upon him, listening.

20 And it came to pass, on one of the days, as he was teaching the people in the temple, and preaching the gospel, there came upon him the chief priests 2 and the scribes with the elders ; and they spake, saying unto him, Tell us : By what authority doest thou these things ? or who is he that gave thee this 3 authority ? And he answered and said unto them, I also will ask you a ¹ques- 4 tion ; and tell me : The baptism of John, 5 was it from heaven, or from men ? And they reasoned with themselves, saying,

If we shall say, From heaven ; he will 6 say, Why did ye not believe him ? But if we shall say, From men ; all the people will stone us : for they be per- 7 suaded that John was a prophet. And they answered, that they knew not 8 whence it was. And Jesus said unto them, Neither tell I you by what au- thority I do these things.

9 And he began to speak unto the people this parable : A man planted a vineyard, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into another country for a 10 long time. And at the season he sent unto the husbandmen a ²servant, that they should give him of the fruit of the vineyard : but the husbandmen beat 11 him, and sent him away empty. And he sent yet another ²servant : and him also they beat, and handled him shame- 12 fully, and sent him away empty. And he sent yet a third : and him also they 13 wounded, and cast him forth. And the lord of the vineyard said, What shall I do ? I will send my beloved son : it may 14 be they will reverence him. But when the husbandmen saw him, they reasoned one with another, saying, This is the heir : let us kill him, that the inheri- 15 tance may be ours. And they cast him forth out of the vineyard, and killed him. What therefore will the lord of 16 the vineyard do unto them ? He will come and destroy these husbandmen, and will give the vineyard unto others.

And when they heard it, they said, 17 ³God forbid. But he looked upon them, and said, What then is this that is written,

The stone which the builders rejected,
The same was made the head of the corner ?

18 Every one that falleth on that stone shall be broken to pieces ; but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will scatter him as dust.

19 And the scribes and the chief priests sought to lay hands on him in that very hour ; and they feared the people : for they perceived that he spake this 20 parable against them. And they watch- ed him, and sent forth spies, which feigned themselves to be righteous, that they might take hold of his speech, so as to deliver him up to the rule and 21 to the authority of the governor. And they asked him, saying, ⁴Master, we know that thou sayest and teachest rightly, and acceptest not the person of any, but of a truth teachest the way 22 of God : Is it lawful for us to give 23 tribute unto Cæsar, or not ? But he perceived their craftiness, and said unto 24 them, Shew me a ⁵penny. Whose image and superscription hath it ? And they 25 said, Cæsar's. And he said unto them, Then render unto Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's, and unto God the 26 things that are God's. And they were not able to take hold of the saying before the people : and they marvelled at his answer, and held their peace.

27 And there came to him certain of the Sadducees, they which say that there is no resurrection ; and they asked him, 28 saying, ⁴Master, Moses wrote unto us, that if a man's brother die, having a wife, and he be childless, his brother should take the wife, and raise up seed 29 unto his brother. There were therefore seven brethren : and the first took a 30 wife, and died childless ; and the second ; 31 and the third took her ; and likewise the seven also left no children, and 32 died. Afterward the woman also died.

33 In the resurrection therefore whose wife of them shall she be ? for the 34 seven had her to wife. And Jesus said unto them, The sons of this ⁶world 35 marry, and are given in marriage : but they that are accounted worthy to attain to that ⁶world, and the resur- rection from the dead, neither marry, 36 nor are given in marriage : for neither can they die any more : for they are equal unto the angels ; and are sons of God, being sons of the resurrection. 37 But that the dead are raised, even Moses shewed, in the place concerning the Bush, when he calleth the Lord the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, 38 and the God of Jacob. Now he is not the God of the dead, but of the living : 39 for all live unto him. And certain of the scribes answering said, ⁴Master,

40 thou hast well said. For they durst not any more ask him any question. 41 And he said unto them, How say they 42 that the Christ is David's son ? For David himself saith in the book of Psalms,

The Lord said unto my Lord,
Sit thou on my right hand,

43 Till I make thine enemies the foot- stool of thy feet.

44 David therefore calleth him Lord, and how is he his son ?

45 And in the hearing of all the people he said unto his disciples, 46 Beware of the scribes, which desire to walk in long robes, and love salutations in the marketplaces, and chief seats in the synagogues, and chief places at feasts; which devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayers: these shall receive greater condemnation.

21 And he looked up, ¹and saw the rich men that were casting their gifts into the treasury. And he saw a certain poor widow casting in thither two mites. 3 And he said, Of a truth I say unto you, This poor widow cast in more than 4 they all: for all these did of their superfluity cast in unto the gifts: but she of her want did cast in all the living that she had.

5 And as some spake of the temple, how it was adorned with goodly stones and offerings, he said, As for these things which ye behold, the days will come, in which there shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be 7 thrown down. And they asked him, saying, ²Master, when therefore shall these things be? and what shall be the sign when these things are about to 8 come to pass? And he said, Take heed that ye be not led astray: for many shall come in my name, saying, I am he; and, The time is at hand: go ye 9 not after them. And when ye shall hear of wars and tumults, be not terrified: for these things must needs come to pass first; but the end is not immediately.

10 Then said he unto them, Nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom 11 against kingdom: and there shall be great earthquakes, and in divers places famines and pestilences; and there shall be terrors and great signs from 12 heaven. But before all these things, they shall lay their hands on you, and shall persecute you, delivering you up to the synagogues and prisons, ³bringing you before kings and governors for 13 my name's sake. It shall turn unto you 14 for a testimony. Settle it therefore in your hearts, not to meditate beforehand 15 how to answer: for I will give you a mouth and wisdom, which all your adversaries shall not be able to with- 16 stand or to gainsay. But ye shall be delivered up even by parents, and brethren, and kinsfolk, and friends; and some of you ⁴shall they cause to 17 be put to death. And ye shall be hated 18 of all men for my name's sake. And 19 not a hair of your head shall perish. In your patience ye shall win your ⁵souls. 20 But when ye see Jerusalem compassed with armies, then know that her desolation is at hand. Then let them that are in Judea flee unto the mountains; and let them that are in the midst of her depart out; and let not them that are in the country enter therein. 22 For these are days of vengeance, that all things which are written may be

23 fulfilled. Woe unto them that are with child and to them that give suck in those days! for there shall be great distress upon the ⁶land, and wrath 24 unto this people. And they shall fall by the edge of the sword, and shall be led captive into all the nations: and Jerusalem shall be trodden down of the Gentiles, until the times of the Gentiles 25 be fulfilled. And there shall be signs in sun and moon and stars; and upon the earth distress of nations, in perplexity for the roaring of the sea and 26 the billows; men ⁷fainting for fear, and for expectation of the things which are coming on ⁸the world: for the powers of 27 the heavens shall be shaken. And then shall they see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great 28 glory. But when these things begin to come to pass, look up, and lift up your heads; because your redemption draweth nigh.

29 And he spake to them a parable: Be- 30 hold the fig tree, and all the trees: when they now shoot forth, ye see it and know of your own selves that the summer is 31 now nigh. Even so ye also, when ye see these things coming to pass, know ye that the kingdom of God is nigh. 32 Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass away, till all things be 33 accomplished. Heaven and earth shall pass away: but my words shall not pass away.

34 But take heed to yourselves, lest haply your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting, and drunkenness, and cares of this life, and that day come on you suddenly 35 as a snare: for so shall it come upon all them that dwell on the face of all the 36 earth. But watch ye at every season, making supplication, that ye may prevail to escape all these things that shall come to pass, and to stand before the Son of man.

37 And every day he was teaching in the temple; and every night he went out, and lodged in the mount that is called 38 the mount of Olives. And all the people came early in the morning to him in the temple, to hear him.

22 Now the feast of unleavened bread drew nigh, which is called the Passover. 2 And the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might put him to death; for they feared the people. 3 And Satan entered into Judas who was called Iscariot, being of the number of the twelve. And he went away, and communed with the chief priests and captains, how he might 5 deliver him unto them. And they were glad, and covenanted to give him 6 money. And he consented, and sought opportunity to deliver him unto them ⁹in the absence of the multitude.

And he said unto them, Behold, when ye are entered into the city, there shall meet you a man bearing a pitcher of water; follow him into the house whereinto he goeth. And ye shall say unto the goodman of the house, The ¹Master saith unto thee, Where is the guest-chamber, where I shall eat the passover with my 12 disciples? And he will shew you a large upper room furnished: there make 13 ready. And they went, and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.

14 And when the hour was come, he sat 15 down, and the apostles with him. And he said unto them, With desire I have desired to eat this passover with you 16 before I suffer: for I say unto you, I will not eat it, until it be fulfilled in the kingdom of God. And he received a cup, and when he had given thanks, he said, Take this, and divide it among yourselves: 18 for I say unto you, I will not drink from henceforth of the fruit of the vine, until 19 the kingdom of God shall come. And he took ²bread, and when he had given thanks, he brake it, and gave to them, saying, This is my body ³which is given for you: this do in remembrance of me.

20 And the cup in like manner after supper, saying, This cup is the new ⁴covenant in my blood, even that which is poured 21 out for you. But behold, the hand of him that betrayeth me is with me on 22 the table. For the Son of man indeed goeth, as it hath been determined: but woe unto that man through whom he is 23 betrayed! And they began to question among themselves, which of them it was that should do this thing.

24 And there arose also a contention among them, which of them is accounted to be ⁵greatest. And he said unto them, The kings of the Gentiles have lordship over them; and they that have authority over them are called Benefactors. But ye shall not be so: but he that is the greater among you, let him become as the younger; and he that 27 is chief, as he that doth serve. For whether is greater, he that ⁶sitteth at meat, or he that serveth? is not he that ⁶sitteth at meat? but I am in the 28 midst of you as he that serveth. But ye are they which have continued with 29 me in my temptations; and ⁷I appoint unto you a kingdom, even as ⁸my Father appointed unto me, that ye may eat and drink at my table in my kingdom; and ye shall sit on thrones judging the twelve tribes of Israel.

31 Simon, Simon, behold, Satan ⁸asked to have you, that he might sift you as 32 wheat: but I made supplication for thee, that thy faith fail not: and do thou, when once thou hast turned again, stablish thy brethren. And he said unto him, Lord, with thee I am ready to go both to prison and to 34 death. And he said, I tell thee, Peter, the cock shall not crow this day, until thou shalt thrice deny that thou knowest me.

35 And he said unto them, When I sent you forth without purse, and wallet, and shoes, lacked ye anything? And 36 they said, Nothing. And he said unto them, But now, he that hath a purse, let him take it, and likewise a wallet: ⁹and he that hath none, let him sell 37 his cloke, and buy a sword. For I say unto you, that this which is written must be fulfilled in me, And he was reckoned with transgressors: for that which concerneth me hath ¹⁰fulfilled. And they said, Lord, behold, here are two swords. And he said unto them, It is enough.

39 And he came out, and went, as his custom was, unto the mount of Olives; and the disciples also followed him.

40 And when he was at the place, he said unto them, Pray that ye enter not 41 into temptation. And he was parted from them about a stone's cast; and 42 he kneeled down and prayed, saying, Father, if thou be willing, remove this cup from me: nevertheless not my 43 will, but thine, be done. ¹¹And there appeared unto him an angel from 44 heaven, strengthening him. And being in an agony he prayed more earnestly: and his sweat became as it were great drops of blood falling down upon the 45 ground. And when he rose up from his prayer, he came unto the disciples, and found them sleeping for sorrow, 46 and said unto them, Why sleep ye? rise and pray, that ye enter not into temptation.

47 While he yet spake, behold, a multitude, and he that was called Judas, one of the twelve, went before them; and he drew near unto Jesus to kiss him. But Jesus said unto him, Judas, betrayest thou the Son of man with 49 a kiss? And when they that were about him saw what would follow, they said, Lord, shall we smite with 50 the sword? And a certain one of them smote the ¹²servant of the high priest, 51 and struck off his right ear. But Jesus answered and said, Suffer ye thus far. And he touched his ear, and 52 healed him. And Jesus said unto the chief priests, and captains of the temple, and elders, which were come against him, Are ye come out, as against a robber, with swords and 53 staves? When I was daily with you in the temple, ye stretched not forth your hands against me: but this is your hour. And the power of darkness.

And a certain maid seeing him as he sat in the light of the fire, and looking stedfastly upon him, said, This man also was 57 with him. But he denied, saying, 58 Woman, I know him not. And after a little while another saw him, and said, Thou also art one of them. 59 But Peter said, Man, I am not. And after the space of about one hour another confidently affirmed, saying, Of a truth this man also was with 60 him: for he is a Galilean. But Peter said, Man, I know not what thou sayest. And immediately, while he 61 yet spake, the cock crew. And the Lord turned, and looked upon Peter. And Peter remembered the word of the Lord, how that he said unto him, Before the cock crow this day, 62 thou shalt deny me thrice. And he went out, and wept bitterly.

63 And the men that held ¹Jesus mocked him, and beat him. And they blindfolded him, and asked him, saying, Prophecy: who is he that struck thee? 65 And many other things spake they against him, reviling him. 66 And as soon as it was day, the assembly of the elders of the people was gathered together, both chief priests and scribes; and they led him away 67 into their council, saying, If thou art the Christ, tell us. But he said unto them, If I tell you, ye will not believe: and if I ask you, ye will not 69 answer. But from henceforth shall the Son of man be seated at the right 70 hand of the power of God. 23 And the whole company of them rose up, and brought him before Pilate. 2 And they began to accuse him, saying, We found this man perverting our nation, and forbidding to give tribute to Cæsar, and saying that he himself is 3 ³Christ a king. And Pilate asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answered him and said, Thou 4 sayest. And Pilate said unto the chief priests and the multitudes, I find no 5 fault in this man. But they were the more urgent, saying, He stirreth up the people, teaching throughout all Judæa, and beginning from Galilee even unto 6 this place. But when Pilate heard it, he asked whether the man were a Galilean. And when he knew that he was of Herod's jurisdiction, he sent him unto Herod, who himself also was at Jerusalem in these days.

8 Now when Herod saw Jesus, he was exceeding glad: for he was of a long time desirous to see him, because he had heard concerning him; and he hoped to 9 see some ⁴miracle done by him. And he questioned him in many words; but 10 he answered him nothing. And the chief priests and the scribes stood, vehemently accusing him. And Herod with his soldiers set him at nought, and mocked him, and arraying him in gorgeous apparel sent him back to Pilate. 12 And Herod and Pilate became friends with each other that very day: for before they were at enmity between themselves.

⁴Cr. sign.

13 And Pilate called together the chief priests and the rulers and the people, 14 and said unto them, Ye brought unto me this man, as one that perverteth the people: and behold, I, having examined him before you, found no fault in this man touching those things whereof ye 15 accuse him: no, nor yet Herod: for he sent him back unto us; and behold, nothing worthy of death hath been done 16 by him. I will therefore chastise him, 18 and release him.⁵ But they cried out all together, saying, Away with this 19 man, and release unto us Barabbas: one who for a certain insurrection made in the city, and for murder, was cast into 20 prison. And Pilate spake unto them 21 again, desiring to release Jesus; but they shouted, saying, Crucify, crucify 22 him. And he said unto them the third time, Why, what evil hath this man done? I have found no cause of death in him: I will therefore chastise him 23 and release him. But they were instant with loud voices, asking that he might be crucified. And their voices prevailed. 24 And Pilate gave sentence that what 25 they asked for should be done. And he released him that for insurrection and murder had been cast into prison, whom they asked for; but Jesus he delivered up to their will.

⁵Many ancient authorities insert ver. 17 Now his must needs release him: them at the first one prisoner. Others add the same words after ver. 10.

26 And when they led him away, they laid hold upon one Simon of Cyrene, coming from the country, and laid on him the cross, to bear it after Jesus. 27 And there followed him a great multitude of the people, and of women who 28 bewailed and lamented him. But Jesus turning unto them said, Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves, and for your children. For behold, the days are coming, in which they shall say, Blessed are the barren, and the wombs that never bare, and the breasts that 30 never gave suck. Then shall they begin to say to the mountains, Fall on us; and to the hills, Cover us. 31 For if they do these things in the green tree, what shall be done in the dry?

32 And there were also two others, malefactors, led with him to be put to death.

33 And when they came unto the place which is called ¹The skull, there they crucified him, and the malefactors, one on the right hand and the other on the

34 left. ²And Jesus said, Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do. And parting his garments among them,

35 they cast lots. And the people stood beholding. And the rulers also scoffed at him, saying, He saved others; let him save himself, if this is the Christ ³of God, his chosen. And the soldiers also mocked him, coming to him, offering him vinegar, and saying, If thou art

36 the King of the Jews, save thyself. And there was also a superscription over him, THIS IS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

39 And one of the malefactors which were hanged railed on him, saying, Art not thou the Christ? save thyself and us.

40 But the other answered, and rebuking him said, Dost thou not even fear God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation?

41 And we indeed justly; for we receive the due reward of our deeds: but ⁴this man hath done nothing amiss. And he said, Jesus, remember me when thou

42 comest ⁵in thy kingdom. And he said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, To-day shalt thou be with me in Paradise.

44 And it was now about the sixth hour, and a darkness came over the whole

45 land until the ninth hour, ⁶the sun's light failing: and the veil of the ⁷temple was rent in the midst.

46 And when Jesus had cried with a loud voice, he said, Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit: and having said this, he gave

47 up the ghost. And when the centurion saw what was done, he glorified God, saying, Certainly this was a righteous

48 man. And all the multitudes that came together to this sight, when they beheld the things that were done, return-

49 ed smiting their breasts. And all his acquaintance, and the women that followed with him from Galilee, stood afar off, seeing these things.

50 And behold, a man named Joseph, who was a councillor, a good man and

51 a righteous (he had not consented to their counsel and deed), a man of Arimathæa, a city of the Jews, who was looking for the kingdom of God:

52 this man went to Pilate, and asked for the body of Jesus. And he took it down, and wrapped it in a linen cloth, and laid him in a tomb that was hewn in stone, where never man

53 had yet lain. And it was the day of the Preparation, and the sabbath

54 drew on. And the women, which had come with him out of Galilee, followed after, and beheld the tomb, and

55 how his body was laid. And they returned, and prepared spices and ointments.

And on the sabbath they rested according to the commandment. But on the first day of the week, at early dawn, they came unto the tomb, bringing the spices which they had

2 prepared. And they found the stone rolled away from the tomb. And they entered in, and found not the body

4 of the Lord Jesus. And it came to pass, while they were perplexed thereabout, behold, two men stood by them

5 in dazzling apparel: and as they were affrighted, and bowed down their faces to the earth, they said unto them, Why seek ye ¹⁰the living a-

6 mong the dead? ¹¹He is not here, but is risen: remember how he spake unto you when he was yet in Galilee,

7 saying that the Son of man must be delivered up into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and the third

8 day rise again. And they remembered

9 his words, and returned ¹²from the tomb, and told all these things to the 10 eleven, and to all the rest. Now they were Mary Magdalene, and Joanna, and Mary the mother of James: and the other women with them told these 11 things unto the apostles. And these words appeared in their sight as idle talk; and they disbelieved them.

12 ¹³But Peter arose, and ran unto the tomb; and stooping and looking in, he

13 saeth the linen cloths by themselves; and he ¹⁴departed to his home, wondering at that which was come to pass.

13 And behold, two of them were going that very day to a village named Emmaus, which was threescore furlongs

14 from Jerusalem. And they communed with each other of all these things

15 which had happened. And it came to pass, while they communed and questioned together, that Jesus himself

16 drew near, and went with them. But their eyes were holden that they

17 should not know him. And he said unto them, ¹⁵What communications are these that ye have one with another, as ye walk? And they stood

18 still, looking sad. And one of them, named Cleopas, answering said unto him, ¹⁶Dost thou alone sojourn in Jerusalem and not know the things which

19 are come to pass there in these days? And he said unto them, What things? And they said unto him, The things concerning Jesus of Nazareth, which was a prophet mighty in deed and word before God and all the people; and how the chief priests and our rulers delivered him up to be condemned to death,

21 and crucified him. But we hoped that it was he which should redeem Israel. Yea and beside all this, it is now the third day since these things came to

22 pass. Moreover certain women of our men, and slow of heart to believe ¹in 26 all that the prophets have spoken! Behoved it not the Christ to suffer these things, and to enter into his glory?

 27 And beginning from Moses and from all the prophets, he interpreted to them
 in all the scriptures the things con-28 cerning himself. And they drew nigh unto the village, whither they were going: and he made as though he would 29 go further. And they constrained him, saying, Abide with us: for it is toward evening, and the day is now far spent.
 And he went in to abide with them.

 down with them to meat, he took the 31 gave to them. And their eyes were opened, and they knew him; and he 32 vanished out of their sight. And they said one to another, Was not our heart burning within us, while he spake to very hour, and returned to Jerusalem, and found the eleven gathered to-

 34 saying, The Lord is risen indeed, and 35 hath appeared to Simon. And they rehearsed the things that happened in the way, and how he was known of them in the breaking of the bread.

 himself stood in the midst of them,
³ and saith unto them, Peace be unto

37 you. But they were terrified and af-frightened, and supposed that they be-38 held a spirit. And he said unto them,
 Why are ye troubled? and wherefore 39 do reasonings arise in your heart? See my hands and my feet, that it is I myself: handle me, and see; for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye beheld 40 me having. ⁴ And when he had said this, he shewed them his hands and his 41 feet. And while they still disbelieved for joy, and wondered, he said unto them, Have ye here anything to eat?
 42 And they gave him a piece of a broiled 43 fish ⁵. And he took it, and did eat before them.
 44 And he said unto them, These are my words which I spake unto you, while I was yet with you, how that all things must needs be fulfilled, which are written in the law of Moses, and the prophets, and the psalms, concerning me.
 45 Then opened he their mind, that they 46 might understand the scriptures; and he said unto them, Thus it is written,
 that the Christ should suffer, and rise 47 again from the dead the third day; and that repentance ⁶ and remission of sins should be preached in his name unto

THE GOSPEL

ACCORDING TO

S. J O H N.

1 In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word 2 was God. The same was in the beginning with God. All things were made ¹ by him; and without him ² was not anything made that hath been 4 made. In him was life; and the life
 5 was the light of men. And the light shineth in the darkness; and the dark-6 ness ³ apprehended it not. There came a man, sent from God, whose name 7 was John. The same came for witness, that he might bear witness of the light, that all might believe through 8 him. He was not the light, but came that he might bear witness of the light.
 9 ⁴ There was the true light, even the light which lighteth ⁵ every man, com-10 ing into the world. He was in the world, and the world was made ¹ by 11 him, and the world knew him not. He came unto ⁶ his own, and they that were 12 his own received him not. But as many as received him, to them gave he the right to become children of God, even to them that believe on his name: 13 which were ⁷ born, not of ⁸ blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will 14 of man, but of God. And the Word became flesh, and ⁹ dwelt among us (and we beheld his glory, glory as of ¹⁰ the only begotten from the Fa-15 ther), full of grace and truth. John saying, ¹This was he of whom I said, He that cometh after me is become before me: for he was ²before me. For of his fullness we all received, and grace for grace.

¹⁷ For the law was given ³by Moses; grace and truth came ⁴by Jesus Christ. No man hath seen God at any time; ⁴the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him.
¹⁹ And this is the witness of John, when the Jews sent unto him from Jerusalem priests and Levites to ask him, ²⁰ Who art thou? And he confessed, and denied not; and he confessed, I am not the Christ. And they asked him, What then? Art thou Elijah? And he saith, I am not. Art thou the prophet? And ²² he answered, No. They said therefore unto him, Who art thou? that we may give an answer to them that sent us.
²³ What sayest thou of thyself? He said, I am the voice of one crying in the wilderness, Make straight the way of the ²⁴ Lord, as said Isaiah the prophet. ⁵And they had been sent from the Pharisees.
²⁵ And they asked him, and said unto him, Why then baptizest thou, if thou art not the Christ, neither Elijah, neither the ²⁶ prophet? John answered them, saying, I baptize ⁶with water: in the midst of you standeth one whom ye know not,
²⁷ even he that cometh after me, the latchet of whose shoe I am not worthy to ²⁸ unloose. These things were done in ⁷Bethany beyond Jordan, where John was baptizing.
²⁹ On the morrow he seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, Behold, the Lamb of God, which ⁸taketh away the sin of ³⁰ the world! This is he of whom I said, After me cometh a man which is become ³¹ before me: for he was ²before me. And I knew him not; but that he should be made manifest to Israel, for this cause ³² came I baptizing ⁶with water. And John bare witness, saying, I have beheld the Spirit descending as a dove out of heaven; and it abode upon him.
³³ And I knew him not; but he that sent me to baptize ⁶with water, he said unto me, Upon whomsoever thou shalt see the Spirit descending, and abiding upon him, the same is he that baptizeth ⁶with ³⁴ the Holy Spirit. And I have seen, and have borne witness that this is the Son of God.
³⁵ Again on the morrow John was standing, and two of his disciples; and he looked upon Jesus as he walked, and ³⁷ saith, Behold, the Lamb of God! And the two disciples heard him speak, and ³⁸ they followed Jesus. And Jesus turned, and beheld them following, and saith unto them, What seek ye? And they said unto him, Rabbi (which is to say, being interpreted, ⁹Master), where ³⁹ abidest thou? He saith unto them, Come, and ye shall see. They came therefore and saw where he abode; and they abode with him that day: it was ⁴⁰ about the tenth hour. One of the two that heard John speak, and followed him, was Andrew, Simon Peter's brother.

⁴¹ ther. He findeth first his own brother Simon, and saith unto him, We have found the Messiah (which is, being ⁴² interpreted, ¹⁰Christ). He brought him unto Jesus. Jesus looked upon him, and said, Thou art Simon the son of ⁴³ ¹¹John: thou shalt be called Cephas (which is by interpretation, ¹²Peter).
⁴³ On the morrow he was minded to go forth into Galilee, and he findeth Philip: and Jesus saith unto him, Follow me.
⁴⁴ Now Philip was from Bethsaida, of the ⁴⁵ city of Andrew and Peter. Philip findeth Nathanael, and saith unto him, We have found him, of whom Moses in the law, and the prophets, did write, Jesus ⁴⁶ of Nazareth, the son of Joseph. And Nathanael said unto him, Can any good thing come out of Nazareth? Philip ⁴⁷ saith unto him, Come and see. Jesus saw Nathanael coming to him, and saith of him, Behold, an Israelite indeed, in ⁴⁸ whom is no guile! Nathanael saith unto him, Whence knowest thou me? Jesus answered and said unto him, Before ⁴⁹ Philip called thee, when thou wast under the fig tree, I saw thee. Nathanael answered him, Rabbi, thou art the Son ⁵⁰ of God; thou art King of Israel. Jesus answered and said unto him, Because I said unto thee, I saw thee underneath the fig tree, believest thou? thou shalt ⁵¹ see greater things than these. And he saith unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Ye shall see the heaven opened, and the angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of man.
² And the third day there was a marriage in Cana of Galilee; and the mother of Jesus was there: and Jesus also was bidden, and his disciples, to the ³ marriage. And when the wine failed, the mother of Jesus saith unto him, ⁴ They have no wine. And Jesus saith unto her, Woman, what have I to do with thee? mine hour is not yet come.
⁵ His mother saith unto the servants, Whatsoever he saith unto you, do it.
⁶ Now there were six waterpots of stone set there after the Jews' manner of purifying, containing two or three firkins apiece. Jesus saith unto them, Fill the waterpots with water. And ⁸ they filled them up to the brim. And he saith unto them, Draw out now, and bear unto the ¹³ruler of the feast. And ⁹ they bare it. And when the ruler of the feast tasted the water ¹¹now become wine, and knew not whence it was (but the servants which had drawn the water knew), the ruler of the feast
¹⁰ calleth the bridegroom, and saith unto him, Every man setteth on first the good wine; and when men have drunk freely, then that which is worse:

11 This beginning of his signs did Jesus in Cana of Galilee, and manifested his glory; and his disciples believed on him.

12 After this he went down to Capernaum, he, and his mother, and his brethren, and his disciples: and there they abode not many days.

13 And the passover of the Jews was at hand, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.

14 And he found in the temple those that sold oxen and sheep and doves, and the

15 changers of money sitting: and he made a scourge of cords, and cast all out of the temple, both the sheep and the oxen; and he poured out the changers' money,

16 and overthrew their tables; and to them that sold the doves he said, Take these things hence; make not my Father's

17 house a house of merchandise. His disciples remembered that it was written, The zeal of thine house shall eat me up.

18 The Jews therefore answered and said unto him, What sign shewest thou unto us, seeing that thou doest these things?

19 Jesus answered and said unto them, Destroy this ¹ temple, and in three days

20 I will raise it up. The Jews therefore said, Forty and six years was this ¹ temple in building, and wilt thou raise it up

21 in three days? But he spake of the ¹ temple of his body. When therefore he was 22 raised from the dead, his disciples remembered that he spake this; and they believed the scripture, and the word which Jesus had said.

23 Now when he was in Jerusalem at the passover, during the feast, many believed on his name, beholding his signs

24 which he did. But Jesus did not trust himself unto them, for that he knew all

25 men, and because he needed not that any one should bear witness concerning ² man; for he himself knew what was in man.

3 Now there was a man of the Pharisees, named Nicodemus, a ruler of the

2 Jews: the same came unto him by night, and said to him, Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man can do these signs that thou

3 doest, except God be with him. Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born ³ anew, he cannot see the kingdom of God. Nicodemus saith unto him, How can a man be born when he is old?

4 can he enter a second time into his mother's womb, and be born? Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter into the king-

5 dom of God. That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit. Marvel not that I

7 said unto thee, Ye must be born ³ anew. 8 ⁴ The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the voice thereof, but knowest not whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every one that is 9 born of the Spirit. Nicodemus answered and said unto him, How can these

10 things be? Jesus answered and said unto him, Art thou the teacher of Israel, and understandest not these things?

11 Verily, verily, I say unto thee, We speak that we do know, and bear witness of that we have seen; and ye receive not

12 our witness. If I told you earthly things, and ye believe not, how shall ye believe, if I tell you heavenly things?

13 And no man hath ascended into heaven, but he that descended out of heaven, even the Son of man, ⁶ which is in heaven.

14 And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the 15 Son of man be lifted up: that whosoever ⁶ believeth may in him have eternal life.

16 For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth on him should not per-

17 ish, but have eternal life. For God sent not the Son into the world to judge the world; but that the world should be

18 saved through him. He that believeth on him is not judged: he that believeth not hath been judged already, because he hath not believed on the name

19 of the only begotten Son of God. And this is the judgement, that the light is come into the world, and men loved the darkness rather than the light; for their

20 works were evil. For every one that ⁷ doeth ill hateth the light, and cometh not to the light, lest his works should be

21 ⁸ reproved. But he that doeth the truth cometh to the light, that his works may be made manifest, ⁹ that they have been wrought in God.

22 After these things came Jesus and his disciples into the land of Judæa; and there he tarried with them, and baptizeth. And John also was baptizing in

Ænon near to Salim, because there ¹⁰ was much water there: and they came, and 24 were baptized. For John was not yet

25 cast into prison. There arose therefore a questioning on the part of John's disciples with a Jew about purifying. And they came unto John, and said to him, Rabbi, he that was with thee beyond Jordan, to whom thou hast borne witness, behold, the same baptizeth, and all

27 men come to him. John answered and said, A man can receive nothing, except

28 it have been given him from heaven. Ye yourselves bear me witness, that I said, I am not the Christ, but, that I am sent

29 before him. He that hath the bride is the bridegroom: but the friend of the bridegroom, which standeth and heareth him, rejoiceth greatly because of the bridegroom's voice: this my joy

30 therefore is fulfilled. He must increase, but I must decrease.

He that hath received his witness hath set his seal to this, that God is true. For he whom God hath sent speaketh the words of God: for he giveth not the Spirit by measure. The Father loveth the Son, and hath given all things into his hand. He that believeth on the Son hath eternal life; but he that obeyeth not the Son shall not see life, but the wrath of God abideth on him.

4 When therefore the Lord knew how that the Pharisees had heard that Jesus was making and baptizing more disciples than John (although Jesus himself baptized not, but his disciples), he left Judea, and departed again into Galilee. And he must needs pass through Samaria. So he cometh to a city of Samaria, called Sychar, near to the parcel of ground that Jacob gave to his son Joseph: and Jacob's ⁵well was there. Jesus therefore, being wearied with his journey, sat ⁴thus by the ³well. 7 It was about the sixth hour. There cometh a woman of Samaria to draw water: Jesus saith unto her, Give me to drink. For his disciples were gone away into the city to buy food. The Samaritan woman therefore saith unto him, How is it that thou, being a Jew, askest drink of me, which am a Samaritan woman? (⁵For Jews have no dealings with Samaritans.) Jesus answered and said unto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink; thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would have given thee living water. 11 The woman saith unto him, ⁶Sir, thou hast nothing to draw with, and the well is deep: from whence then hast thou that living water? Art thou greater than our father Jacob, which gave us the well, and drank thereof himself, and his sons, and his cattle? Jesus answered and said unto her, Every one that drinketh of this water shall thirst again: but whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him shall become in him a well of water springing up unto eternal life. The woman saith unto him, ⁶Sir, give me this water, that I thirst not, neither come all the way hither to draw. Jesus saith unto her, Go, call thy husband, and come hither. The woman answered and said unto him, I have no husband. Jesus saith unto her, Thou saidst well, 18 I have no husband: for thou hast had five husbands; and he whom thou now hast is not thy husband: this hast thou said truly. The woman saith unto him, ⁶Sir, I perceive that thou art a prophet. 20 Our fathers worshipped in this mountain; and ye say, that in Jerusalem is the place where men ought to worship. 21 Jesus saith unto her, Woman, believe me, the hour cometh, when neither in this mountain, nor in Jerusalem, shall ye worship the Father. Ye worship that which ye know not: we worship that which we know: for salvation is from the Jews. But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and truth: ⁷for such doth the Father seek to be his worshippers. ⁸God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship in spirit and truth. The woman saith unto him, I know that Messiah cometh (which is called Christ): when he is come, he will declare unto us all things. Jesus saith unto her, I that speak unto thee am he.

27 And upon this came his disciples; and they marvelled that he was speaking with a woman; yet no man said, What seekest thou? or, Why speakest thou with her? So the woman left her waterpot, and went away into the city, and saith to the men, Come, see a man, which told me all things that ever I did: can this be the Christ? They went out of the city, and were coming to him. In the mean while the disciples prayed him, saying, Rabbi, eat. 32 But he said unto them, I have meat to eat that ye know not. The disciples therefore said one to another, Hath any man brought him ought to eat? Jesus saith unto them, My meat is to do the will of him that sent me, and to accomplish his work. Say not ye, There are yet four months, and then cometh the harvest? behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields, that they are ⁹white already unto harvest. 36 He that reapeth receiveth wages, and gathereth fruit unto life eternal; that he that soweth and he that reapeth may rejoice together. For herein is the saying true, One soweth, and another reapeth. I sent you to reap that whereon ye have not laboured: others have laboured, and ye are entered into their labour.

39 And from that city many of the Samaritans believed on him because of the word of the woman, who testified, He told me all things that ever I did. So when the Samaritans came unto him, they besought him to abide with them: 41 and he abode there two days. And many more believed because of his word; and they said to the woman, Now we believe, not because of thy speaking: for we have heard for ourselves, and know that this is indeed the Saviour of the world.

43 And after the two days he went forth from thence into Galilee. For Jesus himself testified, that a prophet 45 hath no honour in his own country. So when he came into Galilee, the Galileans received him, having seen all the things that he did in Jerusalem at the feast: for they also went unto the feast.

46 He came therefore again unto Cana of Galilee, where he made the water wine. And there was a certain ¹nobleman, whose son was sick at Capernaum.

47 When he heard that Jesus was come out of Judæa into Galilee, he went unto him, and besought him that he would come down, and heal his son; for he

48 was at the point of death. Jesus therefore said unto him, Except ye see signs and wonders, ye will in no wise believe.

49 The ¹nobleman saith unto him, ²Sir, come down ere my child die. Jesus saith unto him, Go thy way; thy son liveth. The man believed the word that Jesus spake unto him, and he went

51 his way. And as he was now going down, his ³servants met him, saying, 52 that his son lived. So he inquired of them the hour when he began to amend. They said therefore unto him, Yesterday at the seventh hour

53 the fever left him. So the father knew that it was at that hour in which Jesus said unto him, Thy son liveth: and himself believed, and his

54 whole house. This is again the second sign that Jesus did, having come out of Judæa into Galilee.

5 After these things there was ⁴a feast of the Jews; and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.

2 Now there is in Jerusalem by the sheep gate a pool, which is called in Hebrew

3 ⁵Bethesda, having five porches. In these lay a multitude of them that were

5 sick, blind, halt, withered⁶. And a certain man was there, which had been thirty and eight years in his infirmity.

6 When Jesus saw him lying, and knew that he had been now a long time in that case, he saith unto him, Wouldest thou

7 be made whole? The sick man answered him, ²Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool: but while I am coming, another

8 steppeth down before me. Jesus saith unto him, Arise, take up thy bed, and 9 walk. And straightway the man was made whole, and took up his bed and walked.

Now it was the sabbath on that day. 10 So the Jews said unto him that was cured, It is the sabbath, and it is not

11 lawful for thee to take up thy bed. But he answered them, He that made me whole, the same said unto me, Take up

12 thy bed, and walk. They asked him, Who is the man that said unto thee,

13 Take up thy bed, and walk? But he that was healed wist not who it was: for Jesus had conveyed himself away, a 14 multitude being in the place. Afterward Jesus findeth him in the temple, and said unto him, Behold, thou art made whole: sin no more, lest a worse

15 thing befall thee. The man went away, and told the Jews that it was Jesus

16 which had made him whole. And for this cause did the Jews persecute Jesus, because he did these things on the sab-

17 bath. But Jesus answered them, My Father worketh even until now, and I

18 work. For this cause therefore the Jews sought the more to kill him, because he not only brake the sabbath, but also called God his own Father, making himself equal with God.

19 Jesus therefore answered and said unto them,

Verily, verily, I say unto you, The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father doing: for what things soever he doeth, these the Son

20 also doeth in like manner. For the Father loveth the Son, and sheweth him all things that himself doeth: and greater works than these will he shew

21 him, that ye may marvel. For as the Father raiseth the dead and quickeneth them, even so the Son also quickeneth

22 whom he will. For neither doth the Father judge any man, but he hath

23 given all judgement unto the Son; that all may honour the Son, even as they honour the Father. He that honour-

24 eth not the Son honoureth not the Father which sent him. Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth him that sent me, hath eternal life, and cometh not into judgement, but hath passed out of 25 death into life. Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour cometh, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God; and they that hear

26 shall live. For as the Father hath life in himself, even so gave he to the Son

27 also to have life in himself: and he gave him authority to execute judgement, because he is ⁷the Son of man.

28 Marvel not at this: for the hour cometh, in which all that are in the tombs

29 shall hear his voice, and shall come forth; they that have done good, unto the resurrection of life; and they that have ⁸done ill, unto the resurrection of judgement.

30 I can of myself do nothing: as I hear, I judge: and my judgement is righteous; because I seek not mine own will, but the will of him that sent me.

31 If I bear witness of myself, my witness is not true. It is another that beareth witness of me; and I know that the witness which he witnesseth

33 of me is true. Ye have sent unto John, and he hath borne witness unto the 34 truth. But the witness which I receive is not from man: howbeit I say these 35 things, that ye may be saved. He which I have is greater than that of John : for the works which the Father hath given me to accomplish, the very works that I do, bear witness of me, 37 that the Father hath sent me. And the Father which sent me, he hath borne witness of me. Ye have neither heard his voice at any time, nor seen 38 his form. And ye have not his word abiding in you : for whom he sent, him 39 ye believe not. ¹ Ye search the scriptures, because ye think that in them ye have eternal life ; and these are they 40 which bear witness of me ; and ye will not come to me, that ye may have life.

 41 I receive not glory from men. But 42 I know you, that ye have not the love 43 of God in yourselves. I am come in my Father's name, and ye receive me not : if another shall come in his own 44 name, him ye will receive. How can ye believe, which receive glory one of another, and the glory that cometh from there is one that accuseth you, even

 46 For if ye believed Moses, ye would 47 believe me ; for he wrote of me. But if ye believe not his writings, how shall ye believe my words ?
 6 After these things Jesus went away
 to the other side of the sea of Galilee, 2 which is the sea of Tiberias. And a great multitude followed him, because they beheld the signs which he did on 3 them that were sick. And Jesus went up into the mountain, and there he sat 4 with his disciples. Now the passover, the feast of the Jews, was at hand.
 5 Jesus therefore lifting up his eyes, and seeing that a great multitude cometh unto him, saith unto Philip,
 Whence are we to buy ³ bread, that 6 these may eat ? And this he said to prove him : for he himself knew what 7 he would do. Philip answered him,
 Two hundred ⁴ pennyworth of bread is not sufficient for them, that every 8 one may take a little. One of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, 9 saith unto him, There is a lad here, which hath five barley loaves, and two fishes : but what are these among so 10 many ? Jesus said, Make the people sit down. Now there was much grass in the place. So the men sat down, in 11 number about five thousand. Jesus therefore took the loaves ; and having given thanks, he distributed to them that were set down ; likewise also of 12 the fishes as much as they would. And when they were filled, he saith unto his disciples, Gather up the broken pieces which remain over, that no-13 thing be lost. So they gathered them up, and filled twelve baskets with broken pieces from the five barley loaves, which remained over unto them 14 that had eaten. When therefore the people saw the ⁵ sign which he did, they said, This is of a truth the prophet that cometh into the world.

 15 Jesus therefore perceiving that they were about to come and take him by force, to make him king, withdrew again into the mountain himself alone.
 16 And when evening came, his disciples 17 went down unto the sea ; and they entered into a boat, and were going over the sea unto Capernaum. And it was now dark, and Jesus had not yet 18 come to them. And the sea was rising by reason of a great wind that blew.
 19 When therefore they had rowed about five and twenty or thirty furlongs, they behold Jesus walking on the sea, and drawing nigh unto the boat : and they 20 were afraid. But he saith unto them, 21 It is I ; be not afraid. They were willing therefore to receive him into the boat : and straightway the boat was at the land whither they were going.
 22 On the morrow the multitude which stood on the other side of the sea saw that there was none other ⁶ boat there, save one, and that Jesus entered not with his disciples into the boat, but that 23 his disciples went away alone (howbeit there came ⁷ boats from Tiberias nigh unto the place where they ate the bread after the Lord had given thanks) :
 24 when the multitude therefore saw that Jesus was not there, neither his disciples, they themselves got into the ⁷ boats, and came to Capernaum, seek-25 ing Jesus. And when they found him on the other side of the sea, they said unto him, Rabbi, when camest thou 26 hither ? Jesus answered them and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Ye seek me, not because ye saw signs, but because ye ate of the loaves, and 27 were filled. Work not for the meat which perisheth, but for the meat which abideth unto eternal life, which the Son of man shall give unto you :
 for him the Father, even God, hath 28 sealed. They said therefore unto him, What must we do, that we may 29 work the works of God ? Jesus answered and said unto them, This is the work of God, that ye believe on him 30 whom ⁸ he hath sent. They said therefore unto him, What then doest thou for a sign, that we may see, and be-31 lieve thee ? what workest thou ? Our fathers ate the manna in the wilderness ; as it is written, He gave them 32 bread out of heaven to eat. Jesus therefore said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, It was not Moses that gave you the bread out of heaven ; but

33 of heaven. For the bread of God is that which cometh down out of heaven, 34 and giveth life unto the world. They said therefore unto him, Lord, ever- 35 more give us this bread. Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me shall not hunger, and he that believeth on me shall never 36 thirst. But I said unto you, that ye 37 have seen me, and yet believe not. All that which the Father giveth me shall come unto me; and him that cometh 38 to me I will in no wise cast out. For I am come down from heaven, not to do mine own will, but the will of him 39 that sent me. And this is the will of him that sent me, that of all that which he hath given me I should lose nothing, but should raise it up at the 40 last day. For this is the will of my Father, that every one that beareth the Son, and believeth on him, should have eternal life; and ¹I will raise him up at the last day.

41 The Jews therefore murmured concerning him, because he said, I am the bread which came down out of heaven. 42 And they said, Is not this Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? how doth he now say, I am come down out of heaven? Jesus answered and said unto them, Murmur 43 not among yourselves. No man can come to me, except the Father which sent me draw him: and I will raise 45 him up in the last day. It is written in the prophets, And they shall all be taught of God. Every one that hath heard from the Father, and hath learn- 46 ed, cometh unto me. Not that any man hath seen the Father, save he which is from God, he hath seen the Father. 47 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that 48 believeth hath eternal life. I am the 49 bread of life. Your fathers did eat the manna in the wilderness, and they 50 died. This is the bread which cometh down out of heaven, that a man may 51 eat thereof, and not die. I am the living bread which came down out of heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live for ever: yea and the bread which I will give is my flesh, for the life of the world.

52 The Jews therefore strove one with another, saying, How can this man 53 give us his flesh to eat? Jesus therefore said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except ye eat the flesh of the Son of man and drink his blood, 54 ye have not life in yourselves. He that eateth my flesh and drinketh my blood hath eternal life; and I will 55 raise him up at the last day. For my flesh is ²meat indeed, and my 56 blood is ³drink indeed. He that eateth my flesh and drinketh my blood 57 abideth in me, and I in him. As the living Father sent me, and I live because of the Father; so he that eateth me, he also shall live because 58 of me. This is the bread which came down out of heaven: not as the fathers did eat, and died: he that eateth this bread shall live for ever. 59 These things said he in ⁴the synagogue, as he taught in Capernaum.

60 Many therefore of his disciples, when they heard this, said, This is a 61 hard saying; who can hear ⁵it? But Jesus knowing in himself that his disciples murmured at this, said unto them, Doth this cause you to stumble? What then if ye should behold the Son of man ascending where 63 he was before? It is the spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing: the words that I have spoken 64 unto you are spirit, and are life. But there are some of you that believe not. For Jesus knew from the beginning who they were that believed not, and who it was that should betray 65 him. And he said, For this cause have I said unto you, that no man can come unto me, except it be given unto him of the Father.

66 Upon this many of his disciples went back, and walked no more with him. 67 Jesus said therefore unto the twelve, 68 Would ye also go away? Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? thou ⁶hast the words of eternal 69 life. And we have believed and know that thou art the Holy One of God. 70 Jesus answered them, Did not I choose you the twelve, and one of you is a 71 devil? Now he spake of Judas the son of Simon Iscariot, for he it was that should betray him, being one of the twelve.

7 And after these things Jesus walked in Galilee: for he would not walk in Judaea, because the Jews sought to kill him. 2 Now the feast of the Jews, the feast of 3 tabernacles, was at hand. His brethren therefore said unto him, Depart hence, and go into Judaea, that thy disciples also may behold thy works which 4 thou doest. For no man doeth anything in secret, ⁷and himself seeketh to be known openly. If thou doest these things, manifest thyself to the 5 world. For even his brethren did not 6 believe on him. Jesus therefore saith unto them, My time is not yet come; 7 but your time is always ready. The world cannot hate you; but me it hateth, because I testify of it, that its works 8 are evil. Go ye up unto the feast: I go not up ⁸yet unto this feast; because 9 my time is not yet fulfilled. And having said these things unto them, he abode still in Galilee.

10 But when his brethren were gone up unto the feast, then went he also up, not publicly, but as it were in 11 secret. The Jews therefore sought him at the feast, and said, Where is 12 he? And there was much murmuring among the multitudes concerning him: some said, He is a good man: others said, Not so, but he leadeth the multitude astray. Howbeit no man spake openly of him for fear of the Jews.

14 But when it was now the midst of the feast Jesus went up into the temple, and taught. The Jews therefore marvelled, saying, How knoweth this man letters, having never learned? Jesus therefore answered them, and said, My teaching is not mine, but his that sent me. If any man willet to do his will, he shall know of the teaching, whether it be of God, or whether I speak from myself. He that speaketh from himself seeketh his own glory: but he that seeketh the glory of him that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him. Did not Moses give you the law, and yet none of you doeth the law? Why seek ye to kill me?

20 The multitude answered, Thou hast a devil: who seeketh to kill thee? Jesus answered and said unto them, I did one work, and ye all marvel. For this cause hath Moses given you circumcision (not that it is of Moses, but of the fathers); and on the sabbath ye circumsise a man. If a man receiveth circumcision on the sabbath, that the law of Moses may not be broken; are ye wrath with me, because I made a man every whit whole on the sabbath? Judge not according to appearance, but judge righteous judgement.

25 Some therefore of them of Jerusalem said, Is not this he whom they seek to kill? And lo, he speaketh openly, and they say nothing unto him. Can it be that the rulers indeed know that this is the Christ? Howbeit we know this man whence he is: but when the Christ cometh, no one knoweth whence he is. Jesus therefore cried in the temple, teaching and saying, Ye both know me, and know whence I am; and I am not come of myself, but he that sent me is true, whom ye know not.

29 I know him; because I am from him, and he sent me. They sought therefore to take him: and no man laid his hand on him, because his hour was not yet come. But of the multitude many believed on him; and they said, When the Christ shall come, will he do more signs than those which this man hath done? The Pharisees heard the multitude murmuring these things concerning him; and the chief priests and the Pharisees sent officers to take him.

33 Jesus therefore said, Yet a little while am I with you, and I go unto him that sent me. Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, ye cannot come. The Jews therefore said among themselves, Whither will this man go that we shall not find him? will he go unto the Dispersion³ among the Greeks, and teach the Greeks? What is this word that he said, Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, ye cannot come?

37 Now on the last day, the great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink. He that believeth on me, as the scripture hath said, out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water. But this spake he of the Spirit, which they that believed on him were to receive: ⁴for the Spirit was not yet given; because Jesus was not yet glorified. Some of the multitude therefore, when they heard these words, said, This is of a truth the prophet. Others said, This is the Christ. But some said, What, doth the Christ come out of Galilee? Hath not the scripture said that the Christ cometh of the seed of David, and from Bethlehem, the village where David was? So there arose a division in the multitude because of him. And some of them would have taken him; but no man laid hands on him.

45 The officers therefore came to the chief priests and Pharisees; and they said unto them, Why did ye not bring him? The officers answered, Never man so spake. The Pharisees therefore answered them, Are ye also led astray? Hath any of the rulers believed on him, or of the Pharisees? But this multitude which knoweth not the law are accused. Nicodemus saith unto them (he that came to him before, being one of them), Doth our law judge a man, except it first hear from himself and know what he doeth? They answered, and said unto him, Art thou also of Galilee? Search, and ⁵see that out of Galilee ariseth no prophet.

53 ⁶[And they went every man unto his own house: but Jesus went unto the mount of Olives. And early in the morning he came again into the temple, and all the people came unto him; and he sat down, and taught them. And the scribes and the Pharisees bring a woman taken in adultery; and having set her in the midst, they say unto him, Master, this woman hath been taken in adultery, in the very act. Now in the law Moses commanded us to stone such: what then sayest thou of her? And this they said, ⁸tempting him, that they might have whereof to accuse him. But Jesus stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground. But when they continued asking him, he lifted up himself, and said unto them, He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her. And again he stooped down, and with his finger wrote 9 on the ground. And they, when they heard it, went out one by one, beginning from the eldest, even unto the last:

and Jesus was left alone, and the woman, where she was, in the midst.
10 And Jesus lifted up himself, and said unto her, Woman, where are they? did 11 no man condemn thee? And she said,
No man, Lord. And Jesus said, Neither do I condemn thee: go thy way; from henceforth sin no more.]

12 Again therefore Jesus spake unto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in the darkness, but shall have the 13 light of life. The Pharisees therefore said unto him, Thou bearest witness of 14 thyself; thy witness is not true. Jesus answered and said unto them, Even if I bear witness of myself, my witness is true; for I know whence I came, and whither I go; but ye know not whence 15 I come, or whither I go. Ye judge 16 after the flesh; I judge no man. Yea and if I judge, my judgement is true;
for I am not alone, but I and the Father 17 that sent me. Yea and in your law it is written, that the witness of two men 18 is true. I am he that beareth witness of myself, and the Father that sent me 19 beareth witness of me. They said therefore unto him, Where is thy Father?
Jesus answered, Ye know neither me,
nor my Father: if ye knew me, ye 20 would know my Father also. These words spake he in the treasury, as he taught in the temple: and no man took him; because his hour was not yet come.
21 He said therefore again unto them,
I go away, and ye shall seek me, and shall die in your sin: whither I go, ye cannot 22 come. The Jews therefore said, Will he kill himself, that he saith, Whither 23 I go, ye cannot come? And he said unto them, Ye are from beneath; I am from above: ye are of this world; I 24 am not of this world. I said therefore unto you, that ye shall die in your sins:
for except ye believe that ¹I am he,
25 ye shall die in your sins. They said therefore unto him, Who art thou?
Jesus said unto them, ²Even that which I have also spoken unto you from the 26 beginning. I have many things to speak and to judge concerning you:
howbeit he that sent me is true; and the things which I heard from him, 27 these speak I ³unto the world. They perceived not that he spake to them of 28 the Father. Jesus therefore said, When ye have lifted up the Son of man, then shall ye know that ⁴I am he, and that I do nothing of myself, but as the Father taught me, I speak these things.
29 And he that sent me is with me;

he hath not left me alone; for I do always the things that are pleasing to 30 him. As he spake these things, many believed on him.

31 Jesus therefore said to those Jews which had believed him, If ye abide in my word, then are ye truly my disciples;
32 and ye shall know the truth, and the 33 truth shall make you free. They answered unto him, We be Abraham's seed, and have never yet been in bondage to any man: how sayest thou, Ye 34 shall be made free? Jesus answered them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Every one that committeth sin is the 35 bondservant of sin. And the bondservant abideth not in the house for ever:
36 the son abideth for ever. If therefore the Son shall make you free, ye shall be 37 free indeed. I know that ye are Abraham's seed; yet ye seek to kill me, because my word ⁵hath not free course in 38 you. I speak the things which I have seen with ⁶my Father: and ye also do the things which ye heard from your 39 father. They answered and said unto him, Our father is Abraham. Jesus saith unto them, If ye ⁷were Abraham's children, ⁸ye would do the works of 40 Abraham. But now ye seek to kill me, a man that hath told you the truth,
which I heard from God: this did not 41 Abraham. Ye do the works of your father. They said unto him, We were not born of fornication; we have one 42 Father, even God. Jesus said unto them, If God were your Father, ye would love me: for I came forth and am come from God; for neither have 43 I come of myself, but he sent me. Why do ye not ⁹understand my speech?
Even because ye cannot hear my word.
44 Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father it is your will to do. He was a murderer from the be-greater than our father Abraham, which is dead? and the prophets are dead: 54 whom makest thou thyself? Jesus answered, If I glorify myself, my glory is nothing: it is my Father that glorifieth me; of whom ye say, that he is 55 your God; and ye have not known him: but I know him; and if I should say, I know him not, I shall be like unto you, a liar: but I know him, and 56 keep his word. Your father Abraham rejoiced¹ to see my day; and he saw 57 it, and was glad. The Jews therefore said unto him, Thou art not yet fifty years old, and hast thou seen Abraham? 58 Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Before Abraham² was, I 59 am. They took up stones therefore to cast at him: but Jesus³ hid himself, and went out of the temple⁴.

9 And as he passed by, he saw a man⁵ blind from his birth. And his disciples asked him, saying, Rabbi, who did sin, this man, or his parents, that he should 3 be born blind? Jesus answered, Neither did this man sin, nor his parents: but that the works of God should be made 4 manifest in him. We must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man 5 can work. When I am in the world, 6 I am the light of the world. When he had thus spoken, he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, 7 and anointed his eyes with the clay, 7 and said unto him, Go, wash in the pool of Siloam (which is by interpretation, Sent). He went away therefore, and 8 washed, and came seeing. The neighbours therefore, and they which saw him aforetime, that he was a beggar, said, Is not this he that sat and begged? 9 Others said, It is he: others said, No, but he is like him. He said, I am he. 10 They said therefore unto him, How 11 then were thine eyes opened? He answered, The man that is called Jesus made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said unto me, Go to Siloam, and wash: so I went away and washed, 12 and I received sight. And they said unto him, Where is he? He saith, I know not.

13 They bring to the Pharisees him 14 that aforetime was blind. Now it was the sabbath on the day when Jesus made the clay, and opened his eyes. 15 Again therefore the Pharisees also asked him how he received his sight. And he said unto them, He put clay upon mine eyes, and I washed, and do 16 see. Some therefore of the Pharisees said, This man is not from God, because he keepeth not the sabbath. But others said, How can a man that is a sinner do such signs? And there was a 17 division among them. They say therefore unto the blind man again, What sayest thou of him, in that he opened thine eyes? And he said, He is a 18 prophet. The Jews therefore did not believe concerning him, that he had been blind, and had received his sight, until they called the parents of him that 19 had received his sight, and asked them, saying, Is this your son, who ye say was born blind? how then doth he 20 now see? His parents answered and said, We know that this is our son, and 21 that he was born blind: but how he now seeth, we know not; or who opened his eyes, we know not: ask him; he is of age; he shall speak for himself. 22 These things said his parents, because they feared the Jews: for the Jews had agreed already, that if any man should confess him to be Christ, he should be 23 put out of the synagogue. Therefore said his parents, He is of age; ask him. 24 So they called a second time the man that was blind, and said unto him, Give glory to God: we know that this man 25 is a sinner. He therefore answered, Whether he be a sinner, I know not: one thing I know, that, whereas I was 26 blind, now I see. They said therefore unto him, What did he to thee? how 27 opened he thine eyes? He answered them, I told you even now, and ye did not hear: wherefore would ye hear it again? would ye also become his dis- 28 ciples? And they reviled him, and said, Thou art his disciple; but we are dis- 29 ciples of Moses. We know that God hath spoken unto Moses: but as for this man, we know not whence he is. 30 The man answered and said unto them, Why, herein is the marvel, that ye know not whence he is, and yet he opened 31 mine eyes. We know that God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, and do his will, 32 him he heareth. Since the world began it was never heard that any one opened 33 the eyes of a man born blind. If this man were not from God, he could do 34 nothing. They answered and said unto him, Thou wast altogether born in sins, and dost thou teach us? And they cast him out.

35 Jesus heard that they had cast him out; and finding him, he said, Dost 36 thou believe on⁶ the Son of God? He answered and said, And who is he, Lord, that I may believe on him? 37 Jesus said unto him, Thou hast both seen him, and he it is that speaketh 38 with thee. And he said, Lord, I 39 believe. And he worshipped him. And Jesus said, For judgement came I into this world, that they which see not may see; and that they which see may 40 become blind. Those of the Pharisees which were with him heard these things, and said unto him, Are we also blind? 41 Jesus said unto them, If ye were blind, ye would have no sin: but now ye say, We see: your sin remaineth.

10 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that entereth not by the door into the fold of the sheep, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber. But he that entereth in by the door is ¹the shepherd of the sheep.

3 To him the porter openeth; and the sheep hear his voice: and he calleth his own sheep by name, and leadeth them out. When he hath put forth all his own, he goeth before them, and the sheep follow him: for they know his voice. And a stranger will they not follow, but will flee from him: for they know not the voice of strangers. This ²parable spake Jesus unto them: but they understood not what things they were which he spake unto them.

7 Jesus therefore said unto them again, Verily, verily, I say unto you, I am the door of the sheep. All that came before me are thieves and robbers: but the sheep did not hear them. I am the door: by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and go out, and shall find pasture. The thief cometh not, but that he may steal, and kill, and destroy: I came that they may have life, and may ³have it abundantly. I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd layeth down his life for the sheep. He that is a hireling, and not a shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, beholdeth the wolf coming, and leaveth the sheep, and fleeth, and the wolf snatcheth them, and scattereth them: he fleeth because he is a hireling, and careth not for the sheep. I am the good shepherd; and I know mine own, and mine own know me, even as the Father knoweth me, and I know the Father; and I lay down my life for the sheep. And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must ⁴bring, and they shall hear my voice; and ⁵they shall become one flock, one shepherd. Therefore doth the Father love me, because I lay down my life, that I may take it again. No one ⁶taketh it away from me, but I lay it down of myself. I have ⁷power to lay it down, and I have ⁷power to take it again. This commandment received I from my Father.

19 There arose a division again among the Jews because of these words. And many of them said, He hath a ⁸devil, and is mad; why hearye him? Others said, These are not the sayings of one possessed with a ⁸devil. Can a ⁸devil open the eyes of the blind?

22 ⁹And it was the feast of the dedication at Jerusalem: it was winter; and Jesus was walking in the temple in Solomon's porch. The Jews therefore came round about him, and said unto him, How long dost thou hold us in suspense? If thou art the 25 Christ, tell us plainly. Jesus answered them, I told you, and ye believe not: the works that I do in my Father's name, these bear witness of me. But ye believe not, because ye are not of my sheep. My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me: and I give unto them eternal life; and they shall never perish, and no one shall snatch them out of my hand.

29 ¹⁰My Father, which hath given them unto me, is greater than all; and no one is able to snatch ¹¹them out of the Father's hand. I and the Father are one. The Jews took up stones again to stone him: Jesus answered them, Many good works have I shewed you from the Father; for which of those works do ye stone me? The Jews answered him, For a good work we stone thee not, but for blasphemy; and because that thou, being a man, makest thyself God. Jesus answered them, Is it not written in your law, I said, Ye are gods? If he called them gods, unto whom the word of God came (and the scripture cannot be broken), say ye of him, whom the Father ¹²sanctified and sent into the world, Thou blasphemest; because I said, I am the Son of God? If I do not the works of my Father, believe me not. But if I do them, though ye believe not me, believe the works: that ye may know and understand that the Father is in me, and I in the Father. They sought again to take him: and he went forth out of their hand.

40 And he went away again beyond Jordan into the place where John was at the first baptizing; and there he abode. And many came unto him; and they said, John indeed did no sign: but all things whatsoever John spake of this man were true. And many believed on him there.

11 Now a certain man was sick, Lazarus of Bethany, of the village of Mary and her sister Martha. And it was that Mary which anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feet with her hair, whose brother Lazarus was sick.

3 The sisters therefore sent unto him, saying, Lord, behold, he whom thou lovest is sick. But when Jesus heard it, he said, This sickness is not unto death, but for the glory of God, that the Son of God may be glorified thereby. Now Jesus loved Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus. When therefore he heard that he was sick, he abode at that time two days in the place where he was.

7 Then after this he saith to the disciples, Let us go into Judæa again. The disciples say unto him, Rabbi, the Jews were but now seeking to stone thee; and goest thou thither again? Jesus answered, Are there not twelve hours in the day? If a man walk in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world. But if a man walk in the night, he stumbleth, be-

The disciples therefore said unto him, Lord, if he is fallen asleep, he will recover. Now Jesus had spoken of his death: but they thought that he spake of taking rest in sleep. Then Jesus therefore said unto them plainly, Lazarus is dead. And I am glad for your sakes that I was not there, to the intent ye may believe; nevertheless let us go unto him.

16 Thomas therefore, who is called ²Didymus, said unto his fellow-disciples, Let us also go, that we may die with him.

17 So when Jesus came, he found that he had been in the tomb four days already. Now Bethany was nigh unto Jerusalem, about fifteen furlongs off; and many of the Jews had come to Martha and Mary, to console them concerning their brother. Martha therefore, when she heard that Jesus was coming, went and met him: but Mary still sat in the house. Martha therefore said unto Jesus, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died. And even now I know that, whatsoever thou shalt ask of God, God will give thee. Jesus saith unto her, Thy brother shall rise again. Martha saith unto him, I know that he shall rise again in the resurrection at the last day. Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth on me, though he die, yet shall he live: and whosoever liveth and believeth on me shall never die. Believest thou this? She saith unto him, Yea, Lord: I have believed that thou art the Christ, the Son of God, even he that cometh into the world. And when she had said this, she went away, and called Mary ³her sister secretly, saying, The Master is here, and calleth thee.

29 And she, when she heard it, arose quickly, and went unto him. (Now Jesus was not yet come into the village, but was still in the place where Martha met him.) The Jews then which were with her in the house, and were comforting her, when they saw Mary, that she rose up quickly and went out, followed her, supposing that she was going unto the tomb to weep there. Mary therefore, when she came where Jesus was, and saw him, fell down at his feet, saying unto him, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.

33 When Jesus therefore saw her weeping, and the Jews also weeping which came with her, he groaned in the spirit, and was troubled, and said, Where have ye laid him? They say unto him, Lord, come and see. Jesus wept. The Jews therefore said, Behold how he loved him! But some of them said, Could not this man, which opened the eyes of him that was blind, have caused that this man also should not die? Jesus therefore again groaning in himself cometh to the tomb. Now it was a cave, and a stone lay against it. Jesus saith, Take ye away the stone. Martha, the sister of him that was dead, saith unto him, Lord, by this time he stinketh: for he hath been dead four days.

40 Jesus saith unto her, Said I not unto thee, that, if thou believedst, thou shouldst see the glory of God? So they took away the stone. And Jesus lifted up his eyes, and said, Father, I thank thee that thou heardest me. And I knew that thou hearest me always: but because of the multitude which standeth around I said it, that they may believe that thou didst send me.

43 And when he had thus spoken, he cried with a loud voice, Lazarus, come forth. He that was dead came forth, bound hand and foot with grave-clothes; and his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus saith unto them, Loose him, and let him go.

45 Many therefore of the Jews, which came to Mary and beheld that which he did, believed on him. But some of them went away to the Pharisees, and told them the things which Jesus had done.

47 The chief priests therefore and the Pharisees gathered a council, and said, What do we? for this man doeth many signs. If we let him thus alone, all men will believe on him: and the Romans will come and take away both our place and our nation. But a certain one of them, Caiaphas, being high priest that year, said unto them, Ye know nothing at all, nor do ye take account that it is expedient for you that one man should die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not. Now this he said not of himself: but being high priest that year, he prophesied that Jesus should die for the nation; and not for the nation only, but that he might also gather together into one the children of God that are scattered abroad. So from that day forth they took counsel that they might put him to death.

54 Jesus therefore walked no more openly among the Jews, but departed thence into the country near to the wilderness, into a city called Ephraim; and there he tarried with the disciples. Now the passover of the Jews was at hand: and many went up to Jerusalem out of the country before the passover, to purify themselves. They sought therefore for Jesus, and spake one with another, as they stood in the temple, What think ye? That he will not come to the feast?

57 Now the chief priests and the Pharisees had given commandment, that, if any man knew where he was, he should shew it, that they might take him.

12 Jesus therefore six days before the passover came to Bethany, where Lazarus was, whom Jesus raised from the dead. So they made him a supper there: and Martha served; but Lazarus was one of them that sat at meat with him. Mary therefore took a pound of ointment of ¹spikenard, very precious, and anointed the feet of Jesus, and wiped his feet with her hair: and the house was filled with the odour of the ointment. But Judas Iscariot, one of his disciples, which should betray him, saith, Why was not this ointment sold for three hundred ²pence, and given to the poor? Now this he said, not because he cared for the poor; but because he was a thief, and having the ³bag ⁴took away what was put therein.

7 Jesus therefore said, ⁵Suffer her to keep it against the day of my burying. For the poor ye have always with you; but me ye have not always.

9 The common people therefore of the Jews learned that he was there: and they came, not for Jesus' sake only, but that they might see Lazarus also, whom he had raised from the dead. But the chief priests took counsel that they might put Lazarus also to death; because that by reason of him many of the Jews went away, and believed on Jesus.

12 On the morrow ⁶a great multitude that had come to the feast, when they heard that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem, took the branches of the palm trees, and went forth to meet him, and cried out, Hosanna: Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord, even the King of Israel. And Jesus, having found a young ass, sat thereon; as it is written, Fear not, daughter of Zion: behold, thy King cometh, sitting on an ass's colt. These things understood not his disciples at the first: but when Jesus was glorified, then remembered they that these things were written of him, and that they had done these things unto him. The multitude therefore that was with him when he called Lazarus out of the tomb, and raised him from the dead, bare witness. For this cause also the multitude went and met him, for that they heard that he had done this sign. The Pharisees therefore said among themselves, ⁷Behold how ye prevail nothing: lo, the world is gone after him.

20 Now there were certain Greeks among those that went up to worship at the feast: these therefore came to Philip, which was of Bethsaida of Galilee, and asked him, saying, Sir, we would see Jesus. Philip cometh and telleth Andrew: Andrew cometh, and Philip, and they tell Jesus. And Jesus answereth them, saying, The hour is come, that the Son of man should be glorified.

21 Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except a grain of wheat fall into the earth and die, it abideth by itself alone; but if it die, it beareth much fruit. He that loveth his ⁸life loseth it; and he that hateth his ⁹life in this world shall keep it unto life eternal. If any man serve me, let him follow me; and where I am, there shall also my servant be: if any man serve me, him will the Father honour. Now is my soul troubled; and what shall I say? Father, save me from this ⁹hour. But for this cause came I unto this hour. Father, glorify thy name. There came therefore a voice out of heaven, saying, I have both glorified it, and will glorify it again.

29 The multitude therefore, that stood by, and heard it, said that it had thundered: others said, An angel hath spoken to him. Jesus answered and said, This voice hath not come for my sake, but for your sakes. Now is ¹⁰the judgement of this world: now shall the prince of this world be cast out. And I, if I be lifted up ¹¹from the earth, will draw all men unto myself. But this he said, signifying by what manner ¹¹of death he should die. The multitude therefore answered him, We have heard out of the law that the Christ abideth for ever: and how sayest thou, The Son of man must be lifted up? who is this Son of man? Jesus therefore said unto them, Yet a little while is the light ¹²among you. Walk while ye have the light, that darkness overtake you not: and he that walketh in the darkness knoweth not whither he goeth. While ye have the light, believe on the light, that ye may become sons of light.

These things spake Jesus, and he departed and ¹³hid himself from them.

37 But though he had done so many signs before them, yet they believed not on him: that the word of Isaiah the prophet might be fulfilled, which he spake,

Lord, who hath believed our report?
And to whom hath the arm of the Lord been revealed?

39 For this cause they could not believe, for that Isaiah said again,

40 He hath blinded their eyes, and he hardened their heart;
Lest they should see with their eyes, and perceive with their heart,
And should turn,
And I should heal them.

41 These things said Isaiah, because he saw his glory; and he spake of him.

42 Nevertheless even of the rulers many believed on him; but because of the Pharisees they did not confess ¹⁴it, lest they should be put out of the synagogue: for they loved the glory of men more than the glory of God.

 47 And if any man hear my sayings, and keep them not, I judge him not: for I came not to judge the world, but to save 48 the world. He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my sayings, hath one that judgeth him: the word that I spake, the 49 same shall judge him in the last day. For I spake not from myself; but the Father which sent me, he hath given me a commandment, what I should say, and what 50 I should speak. And I know that his commandment is life eternal: the things therefore which I speak, even as the Father hath said unto me, so I speak.

13 Now before the feast of the passover, Jesus knowing that his hour was come that he should depart out of this world unto the Father, having loved his own which were in the world, he loved them
 2¹ unto the end. And during supper, the devil having already put into the heart of Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, to betray
 3 him, Jesus, knowing that the Father had given all things into his hands, and that he came forth from God, and goeth unto 4 God, riseth from supper, and layeth aside his garments; and he took a towel,
 5 and girded himself. Then he poureth water into the bason, and began to wash the disciples' feet, and to wipe them with 6 the towel wherewith he was girded. So he cometh to Simon Peter. He saith unto him, Lord, dost thou wash my feet?
 7 Jesus answered and said unto him, What I do thou knowest not now; but 8 thou shalt understand hereafter. Peter saith unto him, Thou shalt never wash my feet. Jesus answered him, If I wash thee not, thou hast no part with me.
 9 Simon Peter saith unto him, Lord, not my feet only, but also my hands and 10 my head. Jesus saith to him, He that is bathed needeth not ² save to wash his feet, but is clean every whit: and ye 11 are clean, but not all. For he knew him that should betray him; therefore said he, Ye are not all clean.

12 So when he had washed their feet, and taken his garments, and ³ sat down again, he said unto them, Know ye
 13 what I have done to you? Ye call me, ⁴ Master, and Lord: and ye say well; for so I am. If I then, the Lord and the ⁴ Master, have washed your feet, ye also ought to wash one another's 15 feet. For I have given you an example, that ye also should do as I have done 16 to you. Verily, verily, I say unto you, A ⁵ servant is not greater than his lord; neither ⁶ one that is sent greater than 17 he that sent him. If ye know these things, blessed are ye if ye do them.
 18 I speak not of you all: I know whom I ⁷ have chosen: but that the scripture may be fulfilled, He that eateth ⁸ my bread lifted up his heel against me.

 19 From henceforth I tell you before it come to pass, that, when it is come to pass, ye may believe that ⁹ I am he.

20 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that receiveth whomsoever I send receiveth me; and he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me.

21 When Jesus had thus said, he was troubled in the spirit, and testified, and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, that 22 one of you shall betray me. The disciples looked one on another, doubting of whom 23 he spake. There was at the table reclining in Jesus' bosom one of his disciples, 24 whom Jesus loved. Simon Peter therefore beckoneth to him, and saith unto him, Tell us who it is of whom he speak-

 26 is it? Jesus therefore answereth, He it is, for whom I shall dip the sop, and give it him. So when he had dipped the sop, he taketh and giveth it to Judas, the 27 son of Simon Iscariot. And after the sop, then entered Satan into him. Jesus therefore saith unto him, That thou 28 doest, do quickly. Now no man at the table knew for what intent he spake this 29 unto him. For some thought, because Judas had the ¹⁰ bag, that Jesus said unto him, Buy what things we have need of for the feast; or, that he should give 30 something to the poor. He then having received the sop went out straightway: and it was night.

31 When therefore he was gone out, Jesus saith, Now ¹¹ is the Son of man glorified, and God ¹² is glorified in him; and God shall glorify him in himself, and straight-
 33 way shall he glorify him. Little children, yet a little while I am with you. Ye shall seek me: and as I said unto the Jews, Whither I go, ye cannot come;
 34 so now I say unto you. A new commandment I give unto you, that ye love one another; ¹² even as I have loved you,
 35 that ye also love one another. By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another.

36 Simon Peter saith unto him, Lord, whither goest thou? Jesus answered, Whither I go, thou canst not follow me now; but thou shalt follow afterwards.
 37 Peter saith unto him, Lord, why cannot I follow thee even now? I will lay down 38 my life for thee. Jesus answereth, Wilt thou lay down thy life for me? Verily, verily, I say unto thee, The cock shall not crow, till thou hast denied me thrice.

 him, I am the way, and the truth, and the life: no one cometh unto the Father, 7 but ²by me. If ye had known me, ye would have known my Father also: from henceforth ye know him, and have seen
 8 him. Philip saith unto him, Lord, shew
 9 us the Father, and it sufficeth us. Jesus saith unto him, Have I been so long time with you, and dost thou not know me, Philip? he that hath seen me hath seen the Father; how sayest thou, Shew 10 us the Father? Believest thou not that I am in the Father, and the Father in me? the words that I say unto you I speak not from myself: but the Father 11 abiding in me doeth his works. Believe me that I am in the Father, and the Father in me: or else believe me for the 12 very works' sake. Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; 13 because I go unto the Father. And whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do, that the Father may be glori-14 fied in the Son. If ye shall ask ³me any-15 thing in my name, that will I do. If ye love me, ye will keep my command-16 ments. And I will ⁴pray the Father, and he shall give you another ⁵Comforter, 17 that he may be with you for ever, even the Spirit of truth: whom the world cannot receive; for it beholdeth him not, neither knoweth him: ye know him; for he abideth with you, and shall be in you.
 18 I will not leave you ⁶desolate: I come 19 unto you. Yet a little while, and the world beholdeth me no more; but ye behold me: because I live, ⁷ye shall live 20 also. In that day ye shall know that I am in my Father, and ye in me, and I 21 in you. He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me: and he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself unto him.
 22 Judas (not Iscariot) saith unto him,
 Lord, what is come to pass that thou wilt manifest thyself unto us, and not 23 unto the world? Jesus answered and said unto him, If a man love me, he will keep my word: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, 24 and make our abode with him. He that loveth me not keepeth not my words: and the word which ye hear is not mine, but the Father's who sent me.
 25 These things have I spoken unto you, 26 while yet abiding with you. But the ⁸Comforter, even the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring to your remembrance all that I said unto 27 you. Peace I leave with you; my peace

I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be 28 troubled, neither let it be fearful. Ye heard how I said to you, I go away, and I come unto you. If ye loved me, ye would have rejoiced, because I go unto the Father: for the Father is greater 29 than I. And now I have told you before it come to pass, that, when it is come to 30 pass, ye may believe. I will no more speak much with you, for the prince of the world cometh: and he hath no-31 thing in me; but that the world may know that I love the Father, and as the Father gave me commandment, even so I do. Arise, let us go hence.
 15 I am the true vine, and my Father is the husbandman. Every branch in me that beareth not fruit, he taketh it away:
 and every branch that beareth fruit, he cleanseth it, that it may bear more 3 fruit. Already ye are clean because of the word which I have spoken unto you.
 4 Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; so neither can ye, 5 except ye abide in me. I am the vine, ye are the branches: He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same beareth much fruit: for apart from me ye can 6 do nothing. If a man abide not in me, he is cast forth as a branch, and is withered; and they gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they are 7 burned. If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ask whatsoever ye will, and it shall be done unto you.
 8 Herein ⁸is my Father glorified, ⁹that ye bear much fruit; and so shall ye be 9 my disciples. Even as the Father hath loved me, I also have loved you: abide 10 ye in my love. If ye keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love; even as I have kept my Father's command-11 ments, and abide in his love. These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy may be in you, and that your 12 joy may be fulfilled. This is my commandment, that ye love one another, 13 even as I have loved you. Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay 14 down his life for his friends. Ye are my friends, if ye do the things which I 15 command you. No longer do I call you ¹⁰servants; for the ¹¹servant knoweth not what his lord doeth: but I have called you friends; for all things that I heard from my Father I have made 16 known unto you. Ye did not choose me, but I chose you, and appointed you, that ye should go and bear fruit, and that your fruit should abide: that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father 17 in my name, he may give it you. These things I command you, that ye may 18 love one another. If the world hateth you, ¹²ye know that it hath hated 19 me before it hated you. If ye were of the world, the world would love its own: but because ye are not of the world, but I chose you out of the world, 20 therefore the world hateth you. Remember the word that I said unto you, A ¹servant is not greater than his lord. If they persecuted me, they will also persecute you; if they kept my word, they 21 will keep yours also. But all these things will they do unto you for my name's sake, because they know not him 22 that sent me. If I had not come and spoken unto them, they had not had sin: but now they have no excuse for their 23 sin. He that hateth me hateth my 24 Father also. If I had not done among them the works which none other did, they had not had sin: but now have they both seen and hated both me and my 25 Father. But this cometh to pass, that the word may be fulfilled that is written in their law, They hated me without a 26 cause. But when the ²Comforter is come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which ³proceedeth from the Father, he 27 shall bear witness of me: ⁴and ye also bear witness, because ye have been with me from the beginning.

16 These things have I spoken unto you, that ye should not be made to stumble. 2 They shall put you out of the synagogues: yea, the hour cometh, that whosoever killeth you shall think that 3 he offereth service unto God. And these things will they do, because they have 4 not known the Father, nor me. But these things have I spoken unto you, that when their hour is come, ye may remember them, how that I told you. And these things I said not unto you from the beginning, because I was with 5 you. But now I go unto him that sent me; and none of you asketh me, Whither 6 goest thou? But because I have spoken these things unto you, sorrow hath 7 filled your heart. Nevertheless I tell you the truth; It is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, the ²Comforter will not come unto you; but if I go, I will send him unto you. 8 And he, when he is come, will convict the world in respect of sin, and of right- 9 eousness, and of judgement: of sin, be- 10 cause they believe not on me; of right- 11 eousness, because I go to the Father, 12 and ye behold me no more; of judge- 13 ment, because the prince of this world hath been judged. I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot 13 bear them now. Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he shall guide you into all the truth: for he shall not speak from himself; but what things so- 14 ever he shall hear, these shall he speak: and he shall declare unto you the things 14 that are to come. He shall glorify me: for he shall take of mine, and shall de- 15 clare it unto you. All things whatsoever

the Father hath are mine: therefore said I, that he taketh of mine, and shall 16 declare it unto you. A little while, and ye behold me no more; and again a 17 little while, and ye shall see me. Some of his disciples therefore said one to an- other, What is this that he saith unto us, A little while, and ye behold me not; and again a little while, and ye shall see me: and, Because I go to the Father? 18 They said therefore, What is this that he saith, A little while? We know not 19 what he saith. Jesus perceived that they were desirous to ask him, and he said unto them, Do ye inquire among yourselves concerning this, that I said, A little while, and ye behold me not, and again a little while, and ye shall 20 see me? Verily, verily, I say unto you, that ye shall weep and lament, but the world shall rejoice: ye shall be sorrow- 21 ful, but your sorrow shall be turned in- 22 to joy. A woman when she is in tra- 23 vail hath sorrow, because her hour is come; but when she is delivered of the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for the joy that a man is born 22 into the world. And ye therefore now have sorrow: but I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice, and your joy no one taketh away from you. 23 And in that day ye shall ⁵ask me no- 24 thing. Verily, verily, I say unto you, If ye shall ask anything of the Father, 24 he will give it you in my name. Hith- 25 er to have ye asked nothing in my name: ask, and ye shall receive, that your joy may be fulfilled.

25 These things have I spoken unto you in ⁶proverbs: the hour cometh, when I shall no more speak unto you in ⁶proverbs, but shall tell you plainly of 26 the Father. In that day ye shall ask in my name: and I say not unto you, that I will ⁷pray the Father for you; 27 for the Father himself loveth you, be- 28 cause ye have loved me, and have be- 29 lieved that I came forth from the Fa- 30 ther. I came out from the Father, and am come into the world: again, I leave 29 the world, and go unto the Father. His disciples say, Lo, now speakest thou 30 plainly, and speakest no ⁸proverb. Now know we that thou knowest all things, and needest not that any man should ask thee: by this we believe that thou 31 camest forth from God. Jesus answer- 32 ed them, Do ye now believe? Behold, the hour cometh, yea, is come, that ye shall be scattered, every man to his own, and shall leave me alone: and yet I am not alone, because the Father is with 33 me. These things have I spoken unto you, that in me ye may have peace. In the world ye have tribulation: but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world.

17 These things spake Jesus; and lift- 17 ing up his eyes to heaven, he said, Father, the hour is come; glorify thy Son, that the Son may glorify thee:

 2 even as thou gavest him authority over all flesh, that whatsoever thou hast given him, to them he should give eter-3 nal life. And this is life eternal, that they should know thee the only true
 God, and him whom thou didst send,
 4 even Jesus Christ. I glorified thee on the earth, having accomplished the work which thou hast given me to do.
 5 And now, O Father, glorify thou me with thine own self with the glory which I 6 had with thee before the world was. I manifested thy name unto the men whom thou gavest me out of the world:
 thine they were, and thou gavest them
 to me; and they have kept thy word.
 7 Now they know that all things whatsoever thou hast given me are from thee:
 8 for the words which thou gavest me I have given unto them; and they received them, and knew of a truth that I came forth from thee, and they be-9 lieved that thou didst send me. I pray for them: I pray not for the world, but for those whom thou hast given 10 me; for they are thine: and all things that are mine are thine, and thine are mine: and I am glorified in them.
 11 And I am no more in the world, and these are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy Father, keep them in thy name which thou hast given me, that 12 they may be one, even as we are. While I was with them, I kept them in thy name which thou hast given me: and I guarded them, and not one of them perished, but the son of perdition; that 13 the scripture might be fulfilled. But now I come to thee; and these things
 I speak in the world, that they may 14 have my joy fulfilled in themselves. I have given them thy word; and the world hated them, because they are not of the world, even as I am not of the 15 world. I pray not that thou shouldest take them ²from the world, but that thou shouldest keep them ²from ³the 16 evil one. They are not of the world, 17 even as I am not of the world. Sanctify them in the truth: thy word is truth.
 18 As thou didst send me into the world, 19 even so send I them into the world. And for their sakes I sanctify myself, that they themselves also may be sanctified 20 in truth. Neither for these only do I pray, but for them also that believe on 21 me through their word; that they may all be one; even as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be in us: that the world may believe 22 that thou didst send me. And the glory which thou hast given me I have given unto them; that they may be one, even 23 as we are one; I in them, and thou in me, that they may be perfected into one; that the world may know that thou didst send me, and lovedst them, 24 even as thou lovedst me. Father, ⁵that which thou hast given me, I will that, where I am, they also may be with me; that they may behold my glory, which thou hast given me: for thou lovedst me before the foundation of the 25 world. O righteous Father, the world knew thee not, but I knew thee; and these knew that thou didst send me;

 26 and I made known unto them thy name,
 and will make it known; that the love wherewith thou lovedst me may be in them, and I in them.
 18 When Jesus had spoken these words, he went forth with his disciples over the ⁶brook ⁷Kidron, where was a garden, into the which he entered, himself 2 and his disciples. Now Judas also, which betrayed him, knew the place:
 for Jesus oft-times resorted thither 3 with his disciples. Judas then, having received the ⁸band of soldiers, and officers from the chief priests and the Pharisees, cometh thither with lanterns
 4 and torches and weapons. Jesus therefore, knowing all the things that were coming upon him, went forth, and saith 5 unto them, Whom seek ye? They answered him, Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus saith unto them, I am he. And Judas also, which betrayed him, was standing 6 with them. When therefore he said unto them, I am he, they went back-7 ward, and fell to the ground. Again therefore he asked them, Whom seek ye? And they said, Jesus of Nazareth.
 8 Jesus answered, I told you that I am he: if therefore ye seek me, let these 9 go their way: that the word might be fulfilled which he spake, Of those whom thou hast given me I lost not one.
 10 Simon Peter therefore having a sword drew it, and struck the high priest's 9 servant, and cut off his right ear. Now 11 the ⁹servant's name was Malchus. Jesus therefore said unto Peter, Put up the sword into the sheath: the cup which the Father hath given me, shall I not drink it?
 12 So the ⁸band and the ¹⁰chief captain, and the officers of the Jews, seized Jesus 13 and bound him, and led him to Annas first; for he was father in law to Caiaphas, which was high priest that year.
 14 Now Caiaphas was he which gave counsel to the Jews, that it was expedient that one man should die for
 the people.
 15 And Simon Peter followed Jesus, and so did another disciple. Now that disciple was known unto the high priest, and entered in with Jesus into the court of the high priest; 16 but Peter was standing at the door without. So the other disciple, which was known unto the high priest, went out and spake unto her that kept the door, and brought in 17 Peter. The maid therefore that kept the door saith unto Peter, Art thou

18 saith, I am not. Now the ¹servants and the officers were standing there, having made ²a fire of coals; for it was cold; and they were warming themselves; and Peter also was with them, standing and warming himself.

19 The high priest therefore asked Jesus of his disciples, and of his teaching.

20 Jesus answered him, I have spoken openly to the world; I ever taught in ³synagogues, and in the temple, where all the Jews come together; and in 21 secret spake I nothing. Why askest thou me? ask them that have heard me, what I spake unto them: behold, these 22 know the things which I said. And when he had said this, one of the officers standing by struck Jesus ⁴with his hand, saying, Answerest thou the high

23 priest so? Jesus answered him, If I have spoken evil, bear witness of the evil: but if well, why smitest thou me?

24 Annas therefore sent him bound unto Caiaphas the high priest.

25 Now Simon Peter was standing and warming himself. They said therefore unto him, Art thou also one of his disciples? He denied, and said, I am not.

26 One of the ¹servants of the high priest, being a kinsman of him whose ear
Peter cut off, saith, Did not I see thee

27 in the garden with him? Peter therefore denied again: and straightway the cock crew.

28 They lead Jesus therefore from Cai-phas into the ⁵palace: and it was early;
and they themselves entered not into the ⁵palace, that they might not be defiled, but might eat the passover.

29 Pilate therefore went out unto them,
and saith, What accusation bring ye 30 against this man? They answered and said unto him, If this man were not an evil-doer, we should not have delivered

31 him up unto thee. Pilate therefore said unto them, Take him yourselves, and judge him according to your law.

The Jews said unto him, It is not lawful for us to put any man to death:
32 that the word of Jesus might be fulfilled, which he spake, signifying by what manner of death he should die.

33 Pilate therefore entered again into the ⁵palace, and called Jesus, and said unto him, Art thou the King of the 34 Jews? Jesus answered, Sayest thou this of thyself, or did others tell it thee

35 concerning me? Pilate answered, Am I a Jew? Thine own nation and the chief priests delivered thee unto 36 me: what hast thou done? Jesus answered, My kingdom is not of this world: if my kingdom were of this world, then would my ⁶servants fight, that I should not be delivered to the Jews: but now is my kingdom

37 not from hence. Pilate therefore said unto him, Art thou a king then? Jesus answered, ⁷Thou sayest that I am a king. To this end have I been born, and to this end am I come into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth. Every one that is of the 38 truth heareth my voice. Pilate saith unto him, What is truth?

And when he had said this, he went out again unto the Jews, and saith unto them, I find no crime in him.

39 But ye have a custom, that I should release unto you one at the passover:
will ye therefore that I release unto 40 you the King of the Jews? They cried out therefore again, saying, Not this man, but Barabbas. Now Barabbas was a robber.

19 Then Pilate therefore took Jesus,
2 and scourged him. And the soldiers plaited a crown of thorns, and put it on his head, and arrayed him in a purple 3 garment; and they came unto him, and said, Hail, King of the Jews! and they 4 struck him ⁸with their hands. And Pilate went out again, and saith unto them, Behold, I bring him out to you, that ye may know that I find no crime

5 in him. Jesus therefore came out, wearing the crown of thorns and the purple garment. And Pilate saith unto 6 them, Behold, the man! When therefore the chief priests and the officers

saw him, they cried out, saying, Crucify him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto them, Take him yourselves, and crucify him: for I find no crime in him.

7 The Jews answered him, We have a law, and by that law he ought to die, because he made himself the Son of

8 God. When Pilate therefore heard this saying, he was the more afraid; 9 and he entered into the ⁵palace again,
and saith unto Jesus, Whence art

thou? But Jesus gave him no answer.

10 Pilate therefore saith unto him,
Speakest thou not unto me? knowest thou not that I have ⁹power to release thee, and have ⁹power to crucify thee?

11 Jesus answered him, Thou wouldest have no ⁹power against me, except it were given thee from above: therefore he that delivered me unto thee 12 hath greater sin. Upon this Pilate sought to release him: but the Jews cried out, saying, If thou release this man, thou art not Cæsar's friend:

every one that maketh himself a king 13 ¹⁰speaketh against Cæsar. When Pilate therefore heard these words, he brought

Jesus out, and sat down on the judgement-seat at a place called The Pave-14 ment, but in Hebrew, Gabbatha. Now it was the Preparation of the passover:

it was about the sixth hour. And he saith unto the Jews, Behold, your King!

15 They therefore cried out, Away with him, away with him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto them, Shall I crucify your King? The chief priests answered,

16 We have no king but Caesar. Then therefore he delivered him unto them to be crucified.

17 They took Jesus therefore: and he went out, bearing the cross for himself, unto the place called The place of a skull, which is called in Hebrew

18 Golgotha: where they crucified him, and with him two others, on either

19 side one, and Jesus in the midst. And Pilate wrote a title also, and put it on the cross. And there was written, JESUS OF NAZARETH, THE KING OF THE 20 JEWS. This title therefore read many of the Jews: ¹for the place where Jesus was crucified was nigh to the city: and it was written in Hebrew, and in 21 Latin, and in Greek. The chief priests of the Jews therefore said to Pilate, Write not, The King of the Jews; but, that he said, I am King of the Jews.

22 Pilate answered, What I have written I have written.

23 The soldiers therefore, when they had crucified Jesus, took his garments, and made four parts, to every soldier a part; and also the ²coat: now the ²coat was without seam, woven from the top

24 throughout. They said therefore one to another, Let us not rend it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be: that the scripture might be fulfilled, which saith, They parted my garments among them,

And upon my vesture did they cast lots.

25 These things therefore the soldiers did. But there were standing by the cross of Jesus his mother, and his mother's sister, Mary the wife of

26 Clopas, and Mary Magdalene. When Jesus therefore saw his mother, and the disciple standing by, whom he loved, he saith unto his mother, Wo-

27 man, behold, thy son! Then saith he to the disciple, Behold, thy mother! And from that hour the disciple took her unto his own home.

28 After this Jesus, knowing that all things are now finished, that the scripture might be accomplished, saith, I

29 thirst. There was set there a vessel full of vinegar: so they put a sponge full of the vinegar upon hyssop, and brought it

30 to his mouth. When Jesus therefore had received the vinegar, he said, It is finished: and he bowed his head, and gave up his spirit.

31 The Jews therefore, because it was the Preparation, that the bodies should not remain on the cross upon the sabbath (for the day of that sabbath was a high day), asked of Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might

32 be taken away. The soldiers therefore came, and brake the legs of the first, and of the other which was crucified

33 with him: but when they came to Jesus, and saw that he was dead

34 already, they brake not his legs: how-

beit one of the soldiers with a spear pierced his side, and straightway there

35 came out blood and water. And he that hath seen hath borne witness, and his witness is true: and he knoweth that he saith true, that ye also may be-

36 lieve. For these things came to pass, that the scripture might be fulfilled, A bone of him shall not be ³broken.

37 And again another scripture saith, They shall look on him whom they pierced.

38 And after these things Joseph of Arimathaea, being a disciple of Jesus, but secretly for fear of the Jews, asked of Pilate that he might take away the body of Jesus: and Pilate gave him leave. He came therefore, and took

39 away his body. And there came also Nicodemus, he who at the first came to him by night, bringing a ⁴mixture of myrrh and aloes, about a hundred pound

40 weight. So they took the body of Jesus, and bound it in linen cloths with the spices, as the custom of the Jews is to

41 bury. Now in the place where he was crucified there was a garden; and in the garden a new tomb wherein was never

42 man yet laid. There then because of the Jews' Preparation (for the tomb was nigh at hand) they laid Jesus.

20 Now on the first day of the week cometh Mary Magdalene early, while it was yet dark, unto the tomb, and seeth the stone taken away from the tomb.

2 She runneth therefore, and cometh to Simon Peter, and to the other disciple, whom Jesus loved, and saith unto them, They have taken away the Lord out of the tomb, and we know not where they

3 have laid him. Peter therefore went forth, and the other disciple, and they

4 went toward the tomb. And they ran both together: and the other disciple outran Peter, and came first to the

5 tomb; and stooping and looking in, he seeth the linen cloths lying; yet entered

6 he not in. Simon Peter therefore also cometh, following him, and entered into the tomb; and he beholdeth the linen

7 cloths lying, and the napkin, that was upon his head, not lying with the linen cloths, but rolled up in a place by itself.

8 Then entered in therefore the other disciple also, which came first to the tomb, and he saw, and believed. For as yet they knew not the scripture, that he

10 must rise again from the dead. So the disciples went away again unto their own home.

11 But Mary was standing without at the tomb weeping: so, as she wept, she

12 stooped and looked into the tomb; and she beholdeth two angels in white sitting, one at the head, and one at the feet, where the body of Jesus had lain.

13 And they say unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? She saith unto them, Because they have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they

14 have laid him. When she had thus said, she turned herself back, and beholdeth Jesus standing, and knew 15 not that it was Jesus. Jesus saith unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? whom seekest thou? She, supposing him to be the gardener, saith unto him, Sir, if thou hast borne him hence, tell me where thou hast laid him, and 16 I will take him away. Jesus saith unto her, Mary. She turneth herself, and saith unto him in Hebrew, Rabboni;
 17 which is to say, Master. Jesus saith to her, Touch me not; for I am not yet ascended unto the Father: but go unto my brethren, and say to them, I ascend unto my Father and your Father, and my God and your God. Mary Magdalene cometh and telleth the disciples, I have seen the Lord; and how that he had said these things unto her.
 19 When therefore it was evening, on that day, the first day of the week, and when the doors were shut where the disciples were, for fear of the Jews, Jesus came and stood in the midst, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you. And when he had said this, he shewed unto them his hands and his side. The disciples therefore were glad,
 21 when they saw the Lord. Jesus therefore said to them again, Peace be unto you: as the Father hath sent me, even so send I you. And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and saith unto them, Receive ye the Holy 23 Ghost: whose soever sins ye forgive, they are forgiven unto them; whose soever sins ye retain, they are retained.
 24 But Thomas, one of the twelve, called Didymus, was not with them when 25 Jesus came. The other disciples therefore said unto him, We have seen the Lord. But he said unto them, Except I shall see in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and put my hand into his side, I will not believe.
 26 And after eight days again his disciples were within, and Thomas with them. Jesus cometh, the doors being shut, and stood in the midst, and said, 27 Peace be unto you. Then saith he to Thomas, Reach hither thy finger, and see my hands; and reach hither thy hand, and put it into my side: and 28 be not faithless, but believing. Thomas answered and said unto him, My Lord and my God. Jesus saith unto him, Because thou hast seen me, thou hast believed: blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed.
 30 Many other signs therefore did Jesus in the presence of the disciples, which 31 are not written in this book: but these are written, that ye may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye may have life in his name.

21 After these things Jesus manifested himself again to the disciples at the sea of Tiberias; and he manifested himself
 2 on this wise. There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas called 4 Didymus, and Nathanael of Cana in Galilee, and the sons of Zebedee, and 3 two other of his disciples. Simon Peter saith unto them, I go a fishing. They say unto him, We also come with thee. They went forth, and entered into the boat; and that night they 4 took nothing. But when day was now breaking, Jesus stood on the beach: howbeit the disciples knew not that 5 it was Jesus. Jesus therefore saith unto them, Children, have ye aught to 6 eat? They answered him, No. And he said unto them, Cast the net on the right side of the boat, and ye shall find. They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it for the 7 multitude of fishes. That disciple therefore whom Jesus loved saith unto Peter, It is the Lord. So when Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he girt his coat about him (for he was naked),
 8 and cast himself into the sea. But the other disciples came in the little boat (for they were not far from the land, but about two hundred cubits off), 9 dragging the net full of fishes. So when they got out upon the land, they see
 6 a fire of coals there, and 7 fish
 10 laid thereon, and 8 bread. Jesus saith unto them, Bring of the fish which ye 11 have now taken. Simon Peter therefore went 9 up, and drew the net to land, full of great fishes, a hundred and fifty and three: and for all there were so 12 many, the net was not rent. Jesus saith unto them, Come and break your fast. And none of the disciples durst inquire of him, Who art thou? know-13 ing that it was the Lord. Jesus cometh, and taketh the 10 bread, and giveth them, and the fish likewise.
 14 This is now the third time that Jesus was manifested to the disciples, after that he was risen from the dead.
 15 So when they had broken their fast, Jesus saith to Simon Peter, Simon, son of 11 John, 12 lovest thou me more than these? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I 13 love thee. He 16 saith unto him, Feed my lambs. He saith to him again a second time, Simon, son of 11 John, 12 lovest thou me? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I 13 love thee. He saith unto him, 17 Tend my sheep. He saith unto him the third time, Simon, son of 11 John, 13 lovest thou me? Peter was grieved because he said unto him the third time, 13 Lovest thou me? And he said unto him, Lord, thou knowest all things; thou 14 knowest that I 13 love thee. Jesus saith unto him, 18 Feed my sheep. Verily, verily, I say unto thee, When thou wast young, thou gird-

Now this he spake, signifying by what manner of death he should glorify God. And when he had spoken this, he saith unto 20 him, Follow me. Peter, turning about, seeth the disciple whom Jesus loved following; which also leaned back on his breast at the supper, and said, Lord, who is he that betrayeth thee? 21 Peter therefore seeing him saith to Jesus, Lord, ¹and what shall this 22 man do? Jesus saith unto him, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that 23 to thee? follow thou me. This saying therefore went forth among the brethren, that that disciple should not die: yet Jesus said not unto him, that he should not die; but, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee? 24 This is the disciple which beareth witness of these things, and wrote these things: and we know that his witness is true. 25 And there are also many other things which Jesus did, the which if they should be written every one, I suppose that even the world itself would not contain the books that should be written.

THE ACTS OF THE APOSTLES.

1 THE ¹former treatise I made, O Theophilus, concerning all that Jesus 2 began both to do and to teach, until the day in which he was received up, after that he had given commandment through the ²Holy Ghost unto the 3 apostles whom he had chosen: to whom he also ³shewed himself alive after his passion by many proofs, appearing unto them by the space of forty days, and speaking the things 4 concerning the kingdom of God: and, ⁴being assembled together with them, he charged them not to depart from Jerusalem, but to wait for the promise of the Father, which, said he, ye heard 5 from me: for John indeed baptized with water; but ye shall be baptized ⁵with the Holy Ghost not many days hence. 6 They therefore, when they were come together, asked him, saying, Lord, dost thou at this time restore 7 the kingdom to Israel? And he said unto them, It is not for you to know times or seasons, which the Father hath ⁶set within his own authority. 8 But ye shall receive power, when the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be my witnesses both in Jerusalem, and in all Judæa and Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the 9 earth. And when he had said these things, as they were looking, he was taken up; and a cloud received him 10 out of their sight. And while they were looking stedfastly into heaven as he went, behold, two men stood by them 11 in white apparel; which also said, Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye looking into heaven? this Jesus, which was received up from you into heaven, shall so come in like manner as ye beheld him going into heaven. 12 Then returned they unto Jerusalem from the mount called Olivet, which is nigh unto Jerusalem, a 13 sabbath day's journey off. And when they were come in, they went up into the upper chamber, where they were abiding; both Peter and John and James and Andrew, Philip and Thomas, Bartholomew and Matthew, James the son of Alphæus, and Simon the Zealot, and Judas the ⁷son of 14 James. These all with one accord continued stedfastly in prayer, ⁸with the women, and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with his brethren. 15 And in these days Peter stood up in the midst of the brethren, and said (and there was a multitude of ⁹persons gathered together, about a hundred 16 and twenty), Brethren, it was needful that the scripture should be fulfilled, which the Holy Ghost spake before by the mouth of David concerning Judas, who was guide to them that took Jesus. 17 For he was numbered among us, and received his ¹⁰portion in this ministry. (Now this man obtained a field with the reward of his iniquity; and falling headlong, he burst asunder in the midst, and all his bowels 18 gushed out. And it became known to all the dwellers at Jerusalem; inasmuch that in their language that field was called Akeldama, that is, 20 The field of blood.) For it is written in the book of Psalms,

Let his habitation be made desolate,
And let no man dwell therein:
and,

His ¹¹office let another take.

And when this sound was heard, the multitude came together, and were confounded, because that every man heard them speaking in his own language. And they were all amazed and marvelled, saying, Behold, are not all these which ⁸speak Galileans? And how hear we, every man in our own language, wherein we were born? Parthians and Medes and Elamites, and the dwellers in Mesopotamia, in Judea and Cappadocia, in Pontus and Asia, in Phrygia and Pamphylia, in Egypt and the parts of Libya about Cyrene, and sojourners from Rome, both Jews and proselytes, Cretans and Arabians, we do hear them speaking in our tongues the mighty works of God. 37 Now when they heard this, they were pricked in their heart, and said unto Peter and the rest of the apostles, Bre-
 38 then, what shall we do? And Peter said unto them, Repent ye, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ unto the remission of your sins; and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy 39 Ghost. For to you is the promise, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God
 40 shall call unto him. And with many other words he testified, and exhorted them, saying, Save yourselves from this 41 crooked generation. They then ¹that received his word were baptized: and there were added unto them in that day 42 about three thousand souls. And they continued stedfastly in the apostles' teaching and ²fellowship, in the breaking of bread and the prayers.
 43 And fear came upon every soul: and many wonders and signs were done ³by
 44 the apostles ⁴. And all that believed were together, and had all things com-
 45 mon; and they sold their possessions and goods, and parted them to all, ac-
 46 cording as any man had need. And day by day, continuing stedfastly with one accord in the temple, and breaking bread at home, they did take their food with 47 gladness and singleness of heart, praising God, and having favour with all the people. And the Lord added ⁵to them day by day those that were being saved.
 3 Now Peter and John were going up into the temple at the hour of prayer, 2 being the ninth hour. And a certain man that was lame from his mother's womb was carried, whom they laid daily at the door of the temple which is called Beautiful, to ask alms of them that entered
 3 into the temple; who seeing Peter and John about to go into the temple, asked
 4 to receive an alms. And Peter, fastening his eyes upon him, with John, said,
 5 Look on us. And he gave heed unto them, expecting to receive something
 6 from them. But Peter said, Silver and gold have I none; but what I have, that give I thee. In the name of Jesus Christ
 7 of Nazareth, walk. And he took him by the right hand, and raised him up: and immediately his feet and his ankle-
 8 bones received strength. And leaping up, he stood, and began to walk; and he entered with them into the temple, walk-
 9 ing, and leaping, and praising God.
 9 And all the people saw him walking and 10 praising God: and they took knowledge of him, that it was he which sat for alms at the Beautiful Gate of the temple: and they were filled with wonder and amazement at that which had happened unto him.
 11 And as he held Peter and John, all the people ran together unto them in the 6 porch that is called Solomon's, great-

12ly wondering. And when Peter saw it, he answered unto the people, Ye men of Israel, why marvel ye at this 7 man? or why fasten ye your eyes on us, as though by our own power or godliness we had made him to walk?
 13 The God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob, the God of our fathers, hath glorified his ⁸ Servant Jesus; whom ye delivered up, and denied before the face of Pilate, when he had 14 determined to release him. But ye denied the Holy and Righteous One, and asked for a murderer to be grant-
 15 ed unto you, and killed the ⁹ Prince of life; whom God raised from the 16 dead; ¹⁰ whereof we are witnesses. And ¹¹ by faith in his name hath his name made this man strong, whom ye be- hold and know: yea, the faith which is through him hath given him this perfect soundness in the presence of 17 you all. And now, brethren, I wot that in ignorance ye did it, as did also 18 your rulers. But the things which God foresaw by the mouth of all the prophets, that his Christ should 19 suffer, he thus fulfilled. Repent ye therefore, and turn again, that your sins may be blotted out, that so there may come seasons of refreshing from 20 the presence of the Lord; and that he may send the Christ who hath been 21 appointed for you, even Jesus: whom the heaven must receive until the times of restoration of all things, whereof God spake by the mouth of his holy prophets which have been since the 22 world began. Moses indeed said, A prophet shall the Lord God raise up unto you from among your brethren, 13 like unto me; to him shall ye hearken in all things whatsoever he shall speak
 23 unto you. And it shall be, that every soul, which shall not hearken to that prophet, shall be utterly destroyed 24 from among the people. Yea and all the prophets from Samuel and them that followed after, as many as have spoken, they also told of these days.
 25 Ye are the sons of the prophets, and of the covenant which God ¹³ made with your fathers, saying unto Abraham, And in thy seed shall all the 26 families of the earth be blessed. Unto you first God, having raised up his Servant, sent him to bless you, in turning away every one of you from your iniquities.
 4 And as they spake unto the people, ¹⁴ the priests and the captain of the temple and the Sadducees came upon
 2 them, being sore troubled because they taught the people, and proclaimed in Jesus the resurrection from the dead.
 3 And they laid hands on them, and put them in ward unto the morrow:
 4 for it was now eventide. But many of them that heard the word be-

5 And it came to pass on the morrow, that their rulers and elders and scribes were gathered together in Jerusalem; and Annas the high priest was there, and Caiaphas, and John, and Alexander, and as many as were of the kindred of the high priest.

7 And when they had set them in the midst, they inquired, By what power, or in what name, have ye done this?

8 Then Peter, filled with the Holy Ghost, said unto them, Ye rulers of

9 the people, and elders, if we this day are examined concerning a good deed done to an impotent man, ¹by what

10 means this man is ²made whole; be it known unto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that in the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom God raised from the dead, even in ³him doth this man stand

11 here before you whole. He is the stone which was set at nought of you the builders, which was made the head of 12 the corner. And in none other is there salvation: for neither is there any other name under heaven, that is given among men, wherein we must be saved.

13 Now when they beheld the boldness of Peter and John, and had perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men, they marvelled; and they took knowledge of them, that they had been with

14 Jesus. And seeing the man which was healed standing with them, they could

15 say nothing against it. But when they had commanded them to go aside out of the council, they conferred among

16 themselves, saying, What shall we do to these men? for that indeed a notable

17 miracle hath been wrought through them, is manifest to all that dwell in Jerusalem; and we cannot deny it. But

18 that it spread no further among the people, let us threaten them, that they speak henceforth to no man in this

19 name. And they called them, and charged them not to speak at all nor

20 teach in the name of Jesus. But Peter and John answered and said unto them, Whether it be right in the sight of God

21 to hearken unto you rather than unto God, judge ye: for we cannot but speak the things which we saw and heard.

22 And they, when they had further threatened them, let them go, finding nothing how they might punish them, because of the people; for all men glorified

23 God for that which was done. For the man was more than forty years old, on whom this ⁴miracle of healing was wrought.

24 And being let go, they came to their own company, and reported all that the chief priests and the elders had said unto them. And they, when they heard it, lifted up their voice to God with one accord, and said, O ⁵Lord, ⁶thou that didst make the heaven and the earth and the sea, and all that in them is:

25 ⁷who by the Holy Ghost, by the mouth of our father David thy servant, didst say,

Why did the Gentiles rage,
And the peoples ⁸imagine vain things?

26 The kings of the earth set themselves in array,

And the rulers were gathered together,

Against the Lord, and against his ⁹Anointed:

27 for of a truth in this city against thy holy Servant Jesus, whom thou didst anoint, both Herod and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles and the peoples of Israel,

28 were gathered together, to do whatsoever thy hand and thy counsel foreor-

29 dained to come to pass. And now, Lord, look upon their threatenings: and grant

30 unto thy ¹⁰servants to speak thy word with all boldness, while thou stretchest forth thy hand to heal; and that signs and wonders may be done through the

31 name of thy holy Servant Jesus. And when they had prayed, the place was shaken wherein they were gathered together; and they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God with boldness.

32 And the multitude of them that believed were of one heart and soul: and not one of them said that aught of the things which he possessed was his own; but

33 they had all things common. And with great power gave the apostles their witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus ¹¹: and great grace was upon them

34 all. For neither was there among them any that lacked: for as many as were possessors of lands or houses sold them, and brought the prices of the things

35 that were sold, and laid them at the apostles' feet: and distribution was made unto each, according as any one had need.

7 And it was about the space of three hours after, when his wife, not knowing what was done, came in. And Peter answered unto her, Tell me whether ye sold the land for so much. And she 9 said, Yea, for so much. But Peter said unto her, How is it that ye have agreed together to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? behold, the feet of them which have buried thy husband are at the door, 10 and they shall carry thee out. And she fell down immediately at his feet, and gave up the ghost: and the young men came in and found her dead, and they carried her out and buried her by her 11 husband. And great fear came upon the whole church, and upon all that heard these things.

12 And by the hands of the apostles were many signs and wonders wrought among the people; and they were all with one accord in Solomon's porch. 13 But of the rest durst no man join himself to them: howbeit the people magnified them; ²and believers were the more added to the Lord, multitudes 15 both of men and women; insomuch that they even carried out the sick into the streets, and laid them on beds and couches, that, as Peter came by, at the least his shadow might overshadow 16 some one of them. And there also came together the multitude from the cities round about Jerusalem, bringing sick folk, and them that were vexed with unclean spirits: and they were healed every one.

17 But the high priest rose up, and all they that were with him (which is the sect of the Sadducees), and they were 18 filled with jealousy, and laid hands on the apostles, and put them in public 19 ward. But an angel of the Lord by night opened the prison doors, and 20 brought them out, and said, Go ye, and stand and speak in the temple to the 21 people all the words of this Life. And when they heard this, they entered into the temple about daybreak, and taught. But the high priest came, and they that were with him, and called the council together, and all the senate of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison-house to have them brought. 22 But the officers that came found them not in the prison; and they returned, 23 and told, saying, The prison-house we found shut in all safety, and the keepers standing at the doors: but when we had opened, we found no man 24 within. Now when the captain of the temple and the chief priests heard these words, they were much perplexed concerning them whereunto this would 25 grow. And there came one and told them, Behold, the men whom ye put in the prison are in the temple standing 26 and teaching the people. Then went the captain with the officers, and brought them, but without violence; for they feared the people, lest they 27 should be stoned. And when they had brought them, they set them before the council. And the high priest asked 28 them, saying, We straitly charged you not to teach in this name: and behold, ye have filled Jerusalem with your teaching, and intend to bring this man's 29 blood upon us. But Peter and the apostles answered and said, We must obey 30 God rather than men. The God of our fathers raised up Jesus, whom ye slew, 31 hanging him on a tree. Him did God exalt ³with his right hand to be a Prince and a Saviour, for to give repentance 32 to Israel, and remission of sins. And we are witnesses ⁴of these ⁵things; ⁶and so is the Holy Ghost, whom God hath given to them that obey him.

33 But they, when they heard this, were cut to the heart, and were minded to 34 slay them. But there stood up one in the council, a Pharisee, named Gamaliel, a doctor of the law, had in honour of all the people, and commanded to 35 put the men forth a little while. And he said unto them, Ye men of Israel, take heed to yourselves as touching these men, what ye are about to do. 36 For before these days rose up Theudas, giving himself out to be somebody; to whom a number of men, about four hundred, joined themselves: who was slain; and all, as many as obeyed him, were dispersed, and came to nought. 37 After this man rose up Judas of Galilee in the days of the enrolment, and drew away some of the people after him: he also perished; and all, as many as obeyed him, were scattered abroad. 38 And now I say unto you, Refrain from these men, and let them alone: for if this counsel or this work be of men, 39 it will be overthrown: but if it is of God, ye will not be able to overthrow them; lest haply ye be found even to be 40 fighting against God. And to him they agreed: and when they had called the apostles unto them, they beat them and charged them not to speak in the name 41 of Jesus, and let them go. They therefore departed from the presence of the council, rejoicing that they were counted worthy to suffer dishonour for the 42 Name. And every day, in the temple and at home, they ceased not to teach and to preach Jesus as the Christ.

of the ¹Grecian Jews against the Hebrews, because their widows were neglected in the daily ministration. 2 And the twelve called the multitude of the disciples unto them, and said, It is not ²fit that we should forsake the word of God, and ³serve tables. 3 ⁴Look ye out therefore, brethren, from among you seven men of good report, full of the Spirit and of wisdom, whom we may appoint over this business. But we will continue stedfastly in prayer, and in the ministry of the word. And the saying pleased the whole multitude: and they chose Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Spirit, and Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolas a proselyte of Antioch: whom they set before the apostles: and when they had prayed, they laid their hands on them. 7 And the word of God increased; and the number of the disciples multiplied in Jerusalem exceedingly; and a great company of the priests were obedient to the faith. 8 And Stephen, full of grace and power, wrought great wonders and signs among the people. But there arose certain of them that were of the synagogue called the synagogue of the Libertines, and of the Cyrenians, and of the Alexandrians, and of them of Cilicia and Asia, disputing with Stephen. And they were not able to withstand the wisdom and the Spirit by which he spake. Then they suborned men, which said, We have heard him speak blasphemous words against Moses, and against God. And they stirred up the people, and the elders, and the scribes, and came upon him, and seized him, and brought him into the council, and set up false witnesses, which said, This man ceaseth not to speak words against this holy place, and the law: for we have heard him say, that this Jesus of Nazareth shall destroy this place, and shall change the customs which Moses delivered unto us. And all that sat in the council, fastening their eyes on him, saw his face as it had been the face of an angel. 7 And the high priest said, Are these things so? And he said, Brethren and fathers, hearken. The God of glory appeared unto our father Abraham, when he was in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Haran, and said unto him, Get thee out of thy land, and from thy kindred, and come into the land which I shall shew thee. Then came he out of the land of the Chaldeans, and dwelt in Haran: and from thence, when his father was dead, God removed him into this land, wherein ye now dwell: and he gave him none inheritance in it, no, not so much as to set his foot on: and he promised that he would give it to him in possession, and to his seed after him,

6 when as yet he had no child. And God spake on this wise, that his seed should sojourn in a strange land, and that they should bring them into bondage, and entreat them evil, four hundred years. 7 And the nation to which they shall be in bondage will I judge, said God: and after that shall they come forth, and serve me in this place. And he gave him the covenant of circumcision: and so Abraham begat Isaac, and circumcised him the eighth day; and Isaac begat Jacob, and Jacob the twelve patriarchs. And the patriarchs, moved with jealousy against Joseph, sold him into Egypt: and God was with him, and delivered him out of all his afflictions, and gave him favour and wisdom before Pharaoh king of Egypt; and he made him governor over Egypt and all his house. Now there came a famine over all Egypt and Canaan, and great affliction: and our fathers found no sustenance. But when Jacob heard that there was corn in Egypt, he sent forth our fathers the first time. 13 And at the second time Joseph was made known to his brethren; and Joseph's race became manifest unto Pharaoh. And Joseph sent, and called to him Jacob his father, and all his kindred, threescore and fifteen souls. And Jacob went down into Egypt; and he died, himself, and our fathers; and they were carried over unto Shechem, and laid in the tomb that Abraham bought for a price in silver of the sons of Hamor in Shechem. But as the time of the promise drew nigh, which God vouchsafed unto Abraham, the people grew and multiplied in Egypt, till there arose another king over Egypt, which knew not Joseph. The same dealt subtilly with our race, and evil entreated our fathers, that ⁶they should cast out their babes to the end they might not ⁷live. At which season Moses was born, and was ⁸exceeding fair; and he was nourished three months in his father's house: and when he was cast out, Pharaoh's daughter took him up, and nourished him for her own son. And Moses was instructed in all the wisdom of the Egyptians; and he was mighty in his words and works. But when he was well-nigh forty years old, it came into his heart to visit his brethren the children of Israel. And seeing one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, and avenged him that was oppressed, and smiting the Egyptian: and he supposed that his brethren understood how that God by his hand was giving them ⁹deliverance; but they understood not. And the day following he appeared unto them as they strove, and would have set them at one again, saying, Sirs, ye are brethren; why do ye wrong one to another? But he that did his neighbour wrong thrust him away, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge over us? Wouldst thou kill me, as thou killedst the Egyptian yesterday? And Moses fled at this saying, and became a sojourner in the land of Midian, where he begat two sons. And when forty years were fulfilled, an angel appeared to him in the wilderness of mount Sinai, in a flame of fire in a bush. And when Moses saw it, he wondered at the sight; and as he drew near to behold, there came a voice of the Lord, I am the God of thy fathers, the God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob. And Moses trembled, and durst not behold. And the Lord said unto him, Loose the shoes from thy feet: for the place whereon thou standest is holy ground. I have surely seen the affliction of my people which is in Egypt, and have heard their groaning, and I am come down to deliver them: and now come, I will send thee into Egypt. This Moses whom they refused, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge? him hath God sent to be both a ruler and a deliverer with the hand of the angel which appeared to him in the bush. This man led them forth, having wrought wonders and signs in Egypt, and in the Red sea, and in the wilderness forty years. This is that Moses, which said unto the children of Israel, A prophet shall God raise up unto you from among your brethren, like unto me. This is he that was in the church in the wilderness with the angel which spake to him in the mount Sinai, and with our fathers: who received living oracles to give unto us: to whom our fathers would not be obedient, but thrust him from them, and turned back in their hearts unto Egypt, saying unto Aaron, Make us gods which shall go before us: for as for this Moses, which led us forth out of the land of Egypt, we wot not what is become of him. And they made a calf in those days, and brought a sacrifice unto the idol, and rejoiced in the works of their hands. But God turned, and gave them up to serve the host of heaven; as it is written in the book of the prophets,

Did ye offer unto me slain beasts and sacrifices

Forty years in the wilderness, O house of Israel?

And ye took up the tabernacle of Moloch, And the star of the god Rephan, The figures which ye made to worship them:

And I will carry you away beyond Babylon.

Our fathers had the tabernacle of the testimony in the wilderness, even as he appointed who spake unto Moses, that he should make it according to the figure that he had seen. Which also our fathers, in their turn, brought in with Joshua when they entered on the possession of the nations, which God thrust out before the face of our fathers, unto the days of David; who found favour in the sight of God, and asked to find a habitation for the God of Jacob. But Solomon built him a house. Howbeit the Most High dwelleth not in houses made with hands; as saith the prophet,

The heaven is my throne, And the earth the footstool of my feet: What manner of house will ye build me? saith the Lord:

Or what is the place of my rest?

Did not my hand make all these things?

Ye stiffnecked and uncircumcised in heart and ears, ye do always resist the Holy Ghost: as your fathers did, so do ye. Which of the prophets did not your fathers persecute? and they killed them which shewed before of the coming of the Righteous One; of whom ye have now become betrayers and murderers;

ye who received the law as it was ordained by angels, and kept it not. Now when they heard these things, they were cut to the heart, and they gnashed on him with their teeth. But he, being full of the Holy Ghost, looked up stedfastly into heaven, and saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing on the right hand of God, and said, Behold, I see the heavens opened, and the Son of man standing on the right hand of God. But they cried out with a loud voice, and stopped their ears, and rushed upon him with one accord; and they cast him out of the city, and stoned him: and the witnesses laid down their garments at the feet of a young man named Saul. And they stoned Stephen, calling upon the Lord, and saying,

Lord Jesus, receive my spirit. And he kneeled down, and cried with a loud voice, Lord, lay not this sin to their charge. And when he had said this, he fell asleep. And Saul was consenting unto his death.

And there arose on that day a great persecution against the church which was in Jerusalem; and they were all scattered abroad throughout the regions of Judea and Samaria, except the apostles. And devout men buried Stephen, and made great lamentation over him. But Saul laid waste the church, entering into every house, and haling men and women committed them to prison. They therefore that were scattered abroad went about preaching the word. And Philip went down to the city of Samaria, and proclaimed unto them the Christ. And the multitudes gave heed with one accord unto the things that were spoken by Philip, when they heard, and saw 7 the signs which he did. ¹ For from many of those which had unclean spirits, they came out, crying with a loud voice: and many that were palsied, and that 8 were lame, were healed. And there was much joy in that city.

9 But there was a certain man, Simon by name, which beforetime in the city used sorcery, and amazed the ² people of Samaria, giving out that himself was 10 some great one: to whom they all gave heed, from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is that power of God 11 which is called Great. And they gave heed to him, because that of long time he had amazed them with his sorceries. 12 But when they believed Philip preaching good tidings concerning the kingdom of God and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women. And Simon also himself believed: and being baptized, he continued with Philip; and beholding signs and great ³ miracles wrought, he was amazed.

14 Now when the apostles which were at Jerusalem heard that Samaria had received the word of God, they sent unto 15 them Peter and John: who, when they were come down, prayed for them, that 16 they might receive the Holy Ghost: for as yet he was fallen upon none of them: only they had been baptized into the 17 name of the Lord Jesus. Then laid they their hands on them, and they received the Holy Ghost. Now when Simon saw that through the laying on of the apostles' hands the ⁴ Holy Ghost 18 was given, he offered them money, saying, Give me also this power, that on whomsoever I lay my hands, he may receive the Holy Ghost. But Peter said unto him, Thy silver perish with thee, because thou hast thought to obtain the 19 gift of God with money. Thou hast neither part nor lot in this ⁵ matter: for 20 thy heart is not right before God. Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray the Lord, if perhaps the thought of thy heart shall be forgiven

21 thee. For I see that thou ⁶ art in the gall of bitterness and in the bond of ⁷ iniquity. And Simon answered and said, Pray ye for me to the Lord, that none of the things which ye have spoken come upon me.

25 They therefore, when they had testified and spoken the word of the Lord, returned to Jerusalem, and preached the gospel to many villages of the Samaritans.

26 But an angel of the Lord spake unto Philip, saying, Arise, and go ⁷ toward the south unto the way that goeth down from Jerusalem unto Gaza: the 27 same is desert. And he arose and went: and behold, a man of Ethiopia, a eunuch of great authority under Candace, queen of the Ethiopians, who was over all her treasure, who had come to Jerusalem for to worship; and he was returning and sitting in his chariot, and was reading the 28 prophet Isaiah. And the Spirit said unto Philip, Go near, and join thyself 29 to this chariot. And Philip ran to him, and heard him reading Isaiah the prophet, and said, Understandest thou 30 what thou readest? And he said, How can I, except some one shall guide me? And he besought Philip to come up 31 and sit with him. Now the place of the scripture which he was reading was this,

He was led as a sheep to the slaughter; And as a lamb before his shearer is dumb,

So he openeth not his mouth:

33 In his humiliation his judgement was taken away:

His generation who shall declare? For his life is taken from the earth.

34 And the eunuch answered Philip, and said, I pray thee, of whom speaketh the prophet this? of himself, or of 35 some other? And Philip opened his mouth, and beginning from this scripture, preached unto him Jesus.

36 And as they went on the way, they came unto a certain water; and the eunuch saith, Behold, here is water; what doth hinder me to be baptized? ⁸

38 And he commanded the chariot to stand still: and they both went down into the water, both Philip and the 39 eunuch; and he baptized him. And when they came up out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philip; and the eunuch saw him no more, for he went on his 40 way rejoicing. But Philip was found at Azotus: and passing through he preached the gospel to all the cities, till he came to Cæsarea.

9 But Saul, yet breathing threatening and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went unto the high priest, 2 and asked of him letters to Damascus unto the synagogues, that if he found any that were of the Way, whether men or women, he might bring them 3 bound to Jerusalem. And as he journeyed, it came to pass that he drew nigh unto Damascus: and suddenly there shone round about him a light out 4 of heaven: and he fell upon the earth, and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? 5 And he said, Who art thou, Lord?

And he said, I am Jesus whom thou 6 persecutest: but rise, and enter into the city, and it shall be 7 told thee what thou must do. And the men that journeyed with him stood speechless, hearing the 8 ⁹ voice, but beholding no man. And Saul arose from the earth; and when his eyes were opened, he saw nothing; and they led him by the 9 And he was three days without sight, and did neither eat nor drink.

 10 Now there was a certain disciple at Damascus, named Ananias; and the Lord said unto him in a vision, Ananias. And he said, Behold, I am here, Lord.
 11 And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go to the street which is called Straight, and inquire in the house of Judas for one named Saul, a man of Tarsus; for 12 behold, he prayeth; and he hath seen a man named Ananias coming in, and laying his hands on him, that he 13 might receive his sight. But Ananias answered, Lord, I have heard from many of this man, how much evil he 14 did to thy saints at Jerusalem: and here he hath authority from the chief priests to bind all that call upon thy name.
 15 But the Lord said unto him, Go thy way: for he is a ¹chosen vessel unto me, to bear my name before the Gentiles and kings, and the children of 16 Israel: for I will shew him how many things he must suffer for my name's
 17 sake. And Ananias departed, and entered into the house; and laying his hands on him said, Brother Saul, the Lord, even Jesus, who appeared unto thee in the way which thou camest, hath sent me, that thou mayest receive thy sight, 18 and be filled with the Holy Ghost. And straightway there fell from his eyes as it were scales, and he received his sight;
 19 and he arose and was baptized; and he took food and was strengthened.
 And he was certain days with the 20 disciples which were at Damascus. And straightway in the synagogues he proclaimed Jesus, that he is the Son of God.
 21 And all that heard him were amazed, and said, Is not this he that in Jerusalem made havock of them which called on this name? and he had come hither for this intent, that he might bring them bound before the chief 22 priests. But Saul increased the more in strength, and confounded the Jews which dwelt at Damascus, proving that this is the Christ.
 23 And when many days were fulfilled, the Jews took counsel together to kill 24 him: but their plot became known to Saul. And they watched the gates also day and night that they might kill him:
 25 but his disciples took him by night, and let him down through the wall, lowering him in a basket.
 26 And when he was come to Jerusalem, he assayed to join himself to the disciples: and they were all afraid of him, not believing that he was a disciple.
 27 But Barnabas took him, and brought him to the apostles, and declared unto them how he had seen the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken to him, and how at Damascus he had preached boldly in the name of Jesus.

²Grecian Jews; but they went about 30 to kill him. And when the brethren knew it, they brought him down to Cesarea, and sent him forth to Tarsus.
 31 So the church throughout all Judæa and Galilee and Samaria had peace, being ³edified; and, walking ⁴in the fear of the Lord and ⁴in the comfort of the Holy Ghost, was multiplied.
 32 And it came to pass, as Peter went throughout all parts, he came down also to the saints which dwelt at Lydda.
 33 And there he found a certain man named Æneas, which had kept his bed eight years; for he was palsied.
 34 And Peter said unto him, Æneas, Jesus Christ healeth thee: arise, and make thy 35 bed. And straightway he arose. And all that dwelt at Lydda and in Sharon saw him, and they turned to the Lord.
 36 Now there was at Joppa a certain disciple named Tabitha, which by interpretation is called ⁵Dorcas: this woman was full of good works and 37 almsdeeds which she did. And it came to pass in those days, that she fell sick, and died: and when they had washed her, they laid her in an 38 upper chamber. And as Lydda was nigh unto Joppa, the disciples, hearing that Peter was there, sent two men unto him, intreating him, Delay not to 39 come on unto us. And Peter arose and went with them. And when he was come, they brought him into the upper chamber: and all the widows stood by him weeping, and shewing the coats and garments which Dorcas made, while she was with 40 them. But Peter put them all forth, and kneeled down, and prayed; and turning to the body, he said, Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes; and when she saw Peter, she sat up.
 41 And he gave her his hand, and raised her up; and calling the saints and widows, he presented her alive.
 42 And it became known throughout all Joppa: and many believed on the Lord.
 43 And it came to pass, that he abode many days in Joppa with one Simon a tanner.
 10 Now there was a certain man in Cesarea, Cornelius by name, a centurion of the band called the Italian ²band, a devout man, and one that feared God with all his house, who gave much alms to the people, and prayed to 3 God alway. He saw in a vision openly, as it were about the ninth hour of the day, an angel of God coming in unto him,

And when the angel that spake unto him was departed, he called two of his household-servants, and a devout soldier of them that waited on him continually; and having rehearsed all things unto them, he sent them to Joppa.

9 Now on the morrow, as they were on their journey, and drew nigh unto the city, Peter went up upon the housetop 10 to pray, about the sixth hour: and he became hungry, and desired to eat: but while they made ready, he fell into a 11 trance; and he beholdeth the heaven opened, and a certain vessel descending, as it were a great sheet, let down by four 12 corners upon the earth: wherein were all manner of fourfooted beasts and creeping things of the earth and fowls of 13 the heaven. And there came a voice to 14 him, Rise, Peter; kill and eat. But Peter said, Not so, Lord; for I have never eaten any thing that is common and un- 15 clean. And a voice came unto him again the second time, What God hath cleans- 16 ed, make not thou common. And this was done thrice: and straightway the vessel was received up into heaven.

17 Now while Peter was much perplexed in himself what the vision which he had seen might mean, behold, the men that were sent by Cornelius, having made inquiry for Simon's house, stood before 18 the gate, and called and asked whether Simon, which was surnamed Peter, 19 were lodging there. And while Peter thought on the vision, the Spirit said unto him, Behold, three men seek thee. 20 But arise, and get thee down, and go with them, nothing doubting: for I 21 have sent them. And Peter went down to the men, and said, Behold, I am he whom ye seek: what is the cause 22 wherefore ye are come? And they said, Cornelius a centurion, a righteous man and one that feareth God, and well reported of by all the nation of the Jews, was warned of God by a holy angel to send for thee into his house, and to hear 23 words from thee. So he called them in and lodged them.

And on the morrow he arose and went forth with them, and certain of the brethren from Joppa accompanied him.

24 And on the morrow ¹they entered into Cæsarea. And Cornelius was waiting for them, having called together his 25 kinsmen and his near friends. And when it came to pass that Peter entered, Cornelius met him, and fell down at his feet, and worshipped him. 26 But Peter raised him up, saying, Stand up; I myself also am a man. 27 And as he talked with him, he went in, 28 and findeth many come together: and he said unto them, Ye yourselves know ²how that it is an unlawful thing for a man that is a Jew to join himself or come unto one of another nation; and yet unto me hath God shewed that I should not call any man com- 29 mon or unclean: wherefore also I came without gainsaying, when I was sent for. I ask therefore with what intent 30 ye sent for me. And Cornelius said, Four days ago, until this hour, I was keeping the ninth hour of prayer in my house; and behold, a man stood before me in 31 bright apparel, and saith, Cornelius, thy prayer is heard, and thine alms are had in remembrance in the sight of God. 32 Send therefore to Joppa, and call unto thee Simon, who is surnamed Peter; he lodgeth in the house of Simon a tanner, 33 by the sea side. Forthwith therefore I sent to thee; and thou hast well done that thou art come. Now therefore we are all here present in the sight of God, to hear all things that have been com- 34 manded thee of the Lord. And Peter opened his mouth, and said,

Of a truth I perceive that God is no 35 respecter of persons: but in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is acceptable to him. 36 ³The word which he sent unto the children of Israel, preaching ⁴good tidings of peace by Jesus Christ (he is 37 Lord of all)—that saying ye yourselves know, which was published throughout all Judæa, beginning from Galilee, after the baptism which John preached; even 38 Jesus of Nazareth, how that God anointed him with the Holy Ghost and with power: who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the devil; for God was with him. 39 And we are witnesses of all things which he did both in the country of the Jews, and in Jerusalem; whom also they slew, 40 hanging him on a tree. Him God raised up the third day, and gave him to be 41 made manifest, not to all the people, but unto witnesses that were chosen before of God, even to us, who did eat and drink with him after he rose from 42 the dead. And he charged us to preach unto the people, and to testify that this is he which is ordained of God to be the 43 Judge of quick and dead. To him bear all the prophets witness, that through his name every one that believeth on him shall receive remission of sins.

44 While Peter yet spake these words, the Holy Ghost fell on all them which 45 heard the word. And they of the circumcision which believed were amazed, as many as came with Peter, because that on the Gentiles also was poured out 46 the gift of the Holy Ghost. For they heard them speak with tongues, and 47 magnify God. Then answered Peter, Can any man forbid the water, that these should not be baptized, which have

ing, as it were a great sheet let down from heaven by four corners; and it came

6 even unto me: upon the which when I had fastened mine eyes, I considered, and saw the fourfooted beasts of the earth and wild beasts and creeping 7 things and fowls of the heaven. And I heard also a voice saying unto me,
8 Rise, Peter; kill and eat. But I said,
Not so, Lord: for nothing common or unclean hath ever entered into my 9 mouth. But a voice answered the second time out of heaven, What God hath cleansed, make not thou common.

10 And this was done thrice: and all were 11 drawn up again into heaven. And behold, forthwith three men stood before the house in which we were, having 12 been sent from Caesarea unto me. And the Spirit bade me go with them, making no distinction. And these six brethren also accompanied me; and we 13 entered into the man's house: and he told us how he had seen the angel standing in his house, and saying, Send to Joppa, and fetch Simon, whose sur-14 name is Peter; who shall speak unto thee words, whereby thou shalt be 15 saved, thou and all thy house. And as I began to speak, the Holy Ghost fell on them, even as on us at the beginning.

16 And I remembered the word of the Lord,
how that he said, John indeed baptized with water; but ye shall be baptized 17 with the Holy Ghost. If then God gave unto them the like gift as he did also unto us, when we believed on the Lord Jesus Christ, who was I, that I 18 could withstand God? And when they heard these things, they held their peace, and glorified God, saying, Then to the Gentiles also hath God granted repentance unto life.

19 They therefore that were scattered abroad upon the tribulation that arose about Stephen travelled as far as Phœ-nicia, and Cyprus, and Antioch, speaking the word to none save only to Jews.

20 But there were some of them, men of Cyprus and Cyrene, who, when they were come to Antioch, spake unto the 2 Greeks also, preaching the Lord Jesus.

21 And the hand of the Lord was with them: and a great number that believ-22 ed turned unto the Lord. And the report concerning them came to the ears of the church which was in Jerusalem:
and they sent forth Barnabas as far as 23 Antioch: who, when he was come, and had seen the grace of God, was glad;
and he exhorted them all, ³ that with purpose of heart they would cleave un-24 to the Lord: for he was a good man, and full of the Holy Ghost and of faith:
and much people was added unto the 25 Lord. And he went forth to Tarsus to 26 seek for Saul: and when he had found him, he brought him unto Antioch. And it came to pass, that even for a whole year they were gathered together ⁴ with the church, and taught much people;
and that the disciples were called Christians first in Antioch.

27 Now in these days there came down prophets from Jerusalem unto Antioch.
28 And there stood up one of them named Agabus, and signified by the Spirit that there should be a great famine over all ⁵ the world: which came to pass in the 29 days of Claudius. And the disciples, every man according to his ability, determined to send ⁶ relief unto the bre-30 thren that dwelt in Judea: which also they did, sending it to the elders by the hand of Barnabas and Saul.

12 Now about that time Herod the king put forth his hands to afflict certain of 2 the church. And he killed James the bro-3 ther of John with the sword. And when he saw that it pleased the Jews, he proceeded to seize Peter also. And those 4 were the days of unleavened bread. And when he had taken him, he put him in prison, and delivered him to four qua-ternions of soldiers to guard him; intending after the Passover to bring him 5 forth to the people. Peter therefore was kept in the prison: but prayer was made earnestly of the church unto God for 6 him. And when Herod was about to bring him forth, the same night Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains: and guards be-7 fore the door kept the prison. And behold, an angel of the Lord stood by him, and a light shined in the cell: and he smote Peter on the side, and awoke him, saying, Rise up quickly. And his chains 8 fell off from his hands. And the angel said unto him, Gird thyself, and bind on thy sandals. And he did so. And he saith unto him, Cast thy garment about 9 thee, and follow me. And he went out, and followed; and he wist not that it was true which was done ⁷ by the angel, but thought he saw a vision.

10 And when they were past the first and the second ward, they came unto the iron gate that leadeth into the city; which opened to them of its own accord: and they went out, and passed on through one street; and straightway the angel departed from him. And when Peter was come to himself, he said, Now I know of a truth, that the Lord hath sent forth his angel and delivered me out of the hand of Herod, and from all the expectation of the people of the Jews. And when he had considered the thing, he came to the house of Mary the mother of John whose surname was Mark; where many were gathered together and were praying. And when he knocked at the door of the gate, a maid came to answer, named Rhoda. And when she knew Peter's voice, she opened not the gate for joy, but ran in, and told that Peter stood before the gate. And they said unto her, Thou art mad. But she confidently affirmed that it was even so. And they said, It is his angel. But Peter continued knocking: and when they had opened, they saw him, and were amazed. But he, beckoning unto them with the hand to hold their peace, declared unto them how the Lord had brought him forth out of the prison. And he said, Tell these things unto James, and to the brethren. And he departed, and went to another place. Now as soon as it was day, there was no small stir among the soldiers, what was become of Peter. And when Herod had sought for him, and found him not, he examined the guards, and commanded that they should be ¹put to death. And he went down from Judæa to Cæsarea, and tarried there.

20 Now he was highly displeased with them of Tyre and Sidon: and they came with one accord to him, and, having made Blastus the king's chamberlain their friend, they asked for peace, because their country was fed from the king's country. And upon a set day Herod arrayed himself in royal apparel, and sat on the ²throne, and made an oration unto them. And the people shouted, saying, The voice of a god, and not of a man. And immediately an angel of the Lord smote him, because he gave not God the glory: and he was eaten of worms, and gave up the ghost.

24 But the word of God grew and multiplied.

25 And Barnabas and Saul returned ³from Jerusalem, when they had fulfilled their ministrations, taking with them John whose surname was Mark.

13 Now there were at Antioch, in the church that was there, prophets and teachers, Barnabas, and Symeon that was called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene, and Manaen the foster-brother of Herod the tetrarch, and Saul. And as they ministered to the Lord, and fasted, the Holy Ghost said, Separate me Barnabas and Saul for the work whereunto I have called them. Then, when they had fasted and prayed and laid their hands on them, they sent them away.

4 So they, being sent forth by the Holy Ghost, went down to Seleucia; and from thence they sailed to Cyprus.

5 And when they were at Salamis, they proclaimed the word of God in the synagogues of the Jews: and they had also John as their attendant. And when they had gone through the whole island unto Paphos, they found a certain

⁴sorcerer, a false prophet, a Jew, whose name was Bar-Jesus; which was with the proconsul, Sergius Paulus, a man of understanding. The same called unto him Barnabas and Saul, and sought to hear the word of God. But Elymas the ⁴sorcerer (for so is his name by interpretation) withstood them, seeking to turn aside the pro-

9 consul from the faith. But Saul, who is also called Paul, filled with the Holy Ghost, fastened his eyes on him, and said, O full of all guile and all villany, thou son of the devil, thou enemy of all righteousness, wilt thou not cease to pervert the right ways of the Lord?

11 And now, behold, the hand of the Lord is upon thee, and thou shalt be blind, not seeing the sun ⁵for a season. And immediately there fell on him a mist and a darkness; and he went about seeking some to lead him by the hand.

12 Then the proconsul, when he saw what was done, believed, being astonished at the teaching of the Lord.

13 Now Paul and his company set sail from Paphos, and came to Perga in Pamphylia: and John departed from them and returned to Jerusalem. But they, passing through from Perga, came to Antioch of Pisidia; and they went into the synagogue on the sabbath day, and sat down. And after the reading of the law and the prophets the rulers of the synagogue sent unto them, saying, Brethren, if ye have any word of exhortation for the people, say

16 on. And Paul stood up, and beckoning with the hand said, Men of Israel, and ye that fear God, hearken. The God of this people Israel chose our fathers, and exalted the people when they sojourned in the land of Egypt, and with a high arm led he them forth out of it. And for about the time of forty years ⁶suffered he their manners in the wilderness. And when he had destroyed seven nations in the land of Canaan, he gave them their land for an inheritance, for about four hundred and fifty years:

20 and after these things he gave them judges until Samuel the prophet. 21 And afterward they asked for a king: and God gave unto them Saul the son of Kish, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, for the space of moved him, he raised up David to be their king; to whom also he bare witness, and said, I have found David the son of Jesse, a man after my heart, who shall do all my ¹will. Of this man's seed hath God according to promise brought unto Israel a Saviour, Jesus; 24 when John had first preached ²before his coming the baptism of repentance to all the people of Israel. And as John was fulfilling his course, he said, What suppose ye that I am? I am not he. But behold, there cometh one after me, the shoes of whose feet I am not worthy to unloose. Brethren, children of the stock of Abraham, and those among you that fear God, to us is the word of this salvation sent forth. For they that dwell in Jerusalem, and their rulers, because they knew him not, nor the voices of the prophets which are read every sabbath, fulfilled them by condemning him. And though they found no cause of death in him, yet asked they of Pilate that he should be slain. 29 And when they had fulfilled all things that were written of him, they took him down from the tree, and laid him in a tomb. But God raised him from the dead: and he was seen for many days of them that came up with him from Galilee to Jerusalem, who are now his 32 witnesses unto the people. And we bring you good tidings of the promise made unto the fathers, how that God hath fulfilled the same unto our children, in that he raised up Jesus; as also it is written in the second psalm, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee. And as concerning that he raised him up from the dead, now no more to return to corruption, he hath spoken on this wise, I will give you the holy and 35 sure blessings of David. Because he saith also in another psalm, Thou wilt not give thy Holy One to see corruption. 36 For David, after he had ³in his own generation served the counsel of God, fell on sleep, and was laid unto his 37 fathers, and saw corruption: but he whom God raised up saw no corruption. 38 Be it known unto you therefore, brethren, that through this man is proclaimed unto you remission of sins: 39 and by him every one that believeth is justified from all things, from which ye could not be justified by the law of 40 Moses. Beware therefore, lest that come upon you, which is spoken in the prophets; 41 Behold, ye despisers, and wonder, and ⁴perish; For I work a work in your days, A work which ye shall in no wise believe, if one declare it unto you. 42 And as they went out, they besought that these words might be spoken to 43 them the next sabbath. Now when the synagogue broke up, many of the Jews and of the devout proselytes followed Paul and Barnabas: who, speaking to them, urged them to continue in the grace of God.

44 And the next sabbath almost the whole city was gathered together to hear the 45 word of ⁵God. But when the Jews saw the multitudes, they were filled with jealousy, and contradicted the things which were spoken by Paul, and ⁶blasphemed. And Paul and Barnabas spake out boldly, and said, It was necessary that the word of God should first be spoken to you. Seeing ye thrust it from you, and judge yourselves unworthy of eternal life, lo, we turn to the Gentiles. 47 For so hath the Lord commanded us, saying,

I have set thee for a light of the Gentiles,

That thou shouldest be for salvation unto the uttermost part of the earth.

48 And as the Gentiles heard this, they were glad, and glorified the word of ⁵God: and as many as were ordained to 49 eternal life believed. And the word of the Lord was spread abroad throughout 50 all the region. But the Jews urged on the devout women of honourable estate, and the chief men of the city, and stirred up a persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and cast them out of their borders. But they shook off the dust of their feet against them, and came unto 52 Iconium. And the disciples were filled with joy and with the Holy Ghost.

14 And it came to pass in Iconium, that they entered together into the synagogue of the Jews, and so spake, that a great multitude both of Jews and of 2 Greeks believed. But the Jews that were disobedient stirred up the souls of the Gentiles, and made them evil affected against the brethren. Long time therefore they tarried there speaking boldly in the Lord, which bare witness unto the word of his grace, granting signs and wonders to be done by their 4 hands. But the multitude of the city was divided; and part held with the 5 Jews, and part with the apostles. And when there was made an onset both of the Gentiles and of the Jews with their rulers, to treat them shamefully, 6 and to stone them, they became aware of it, and fled unto the cities of Lycaonia, Lystra and Derbe, and the 7 region round about: and there they preached the gospel.

8 And at Lystra there sat a certain man, impotent in his feet, a cripple from his mother's womb, who never had walked. 9 The same heard Paul speaking: who, fastening his eyes upon him, and seeing that he had faith to be ⁷made whole, 10 said with a loud voice, Stand upright on thy feet. And he leaped up and walked. 11 And when the multitudes saw what

Paul had done, they lifted up their voice, saying in the speech of Lycaonia, The gods are come down to us in the likeness of men. And they called Barnabas, ¹Jupiter; and Paul, ²Mercury, because he was the chief speaker.

13 And the priest of ¹Jupiter whose temple was before the city, brought oxen and garlands unto the gates, and would have done sacrifice with the

14 multitudes. But when the apostles, Barnabas and Paul, heard of it, they rent their garments, and sprang forth

15 among the multitude, crying out and saying, Sirs, why do ye these things? We also are men of like ³passions with you, and bring you good tidings, that ye should turn from these vain things unto the living God, who made the heaven and the earth and the sea, and

16 all that in them is: who in the generations gone by suffered all the nations

17 to walk in their own ways. And yet he left not himself without witness, in that he did good, and gave you from heaven rains and fruitful seasons, filling your hearts with food and glad-

18 ness. And with these sayings scarce restrained they the multitudes from doing sacrifice unto them.

19 But there came Jews thither from Antioch and Iconium: and having persuaded the multitudes, they stoned Paul, and dragged him out of the city,

20 supposing that he was dead. But as the disciples stood round about him, he rose up, and entered into the city: and on the morrow he went forth with Bar-

21 nabas to Derbe. And when they had preached the gospel to that city, and had made many disciples, they returned to Lystra, and to Iconium, and to

22 Antioch, confirming the souls of the disciples, exhorting them to continue in the faith, and that through many tribulations we must enter into the 23 kingdom of God. And when they had appointed for them elders in every church, and had prayed with fasting, they commended them to the Lord,

24 on whom they had believed. And they passed through Pisidia, and came

25 to Pamphylia. And when they had spoken the word in Perga, they went

26 down to Attalia; and thence they sailed to Antioch, from whence they had been committed to the grace of God for the work which they had

27 fulfilled. And when they were come, and had gathered the church together, they rehearsed all things that God had done with them, and how that he had opened a door of faith unto the 28 Gentiles. And they tarried no little time with the disciples.

15 And certain men came down from Judea and taught the brethren, saying, Except ye be circumcised after the custom of Moses, ye cannot be saved.

2 And when Paul and Barnabas had no small dissension and questioning with them, the brethren appointed that Paul and Barnabas, and certain other of them, should go up to Jerusalem unto the apostles and elders about this question. They therefore, being brought on their way by the church, passed through both Phœnicia and Samaria, declaring the conversion of the Gentiles: and they caused great joy unto

4 all the brethren. And when they were come to Jerusalem, they were received of the church and the apostles and the elders, and they rehearsed all things

5 that God had done with them. But there rose up certain of the sect of the Pharisees who believed, saying, It is needful to circumcise them, and to charge them to keep the law of Moses.

6 And the apostles and the elders were gathered together to consider of this

7 matter. And when there had been much questioning, Peter rose up, and said unto them,

Brethren, ye know how that ⁴a good while ago God made choice among you, that by my mouth the Gentiles should hear the word of the gospel, and believe. And God, which knoweth the heart, bare them witness, giving them the Holy Ghost, even as he did unto us; and he made no distinction between us and them, cleansing their hearts by 10 faith. Now therefore why tempt ye God, that ye should put a yoke upon the neck of the disciples, which neither our fathers nor we were able to bear?

11 But we believe that we shall be saved through the grace of the Lord Jesus, in like manner as they.

12 And all the multitude kept silence; and they hearkened unto Barnabas and Paul rehearsing what signs and wonders God had wrought among the Gentiles

13 by them. And after they had held their peace, James answered, saying,

14 Brethren, hearken unto me: Symeon hath rehearsed how first God did visit the Gentiles, to take out of them a 15 people for his name. And to this agree the words of the prophets; as it is written,

16 After these things I will return, And I will build again the tabernacle of David, which is fallen; And I will build again the ruins thereof, And I will set it up:

17 That the residue of men may seek after the Lord, And all the Gentiles, upon whom my name is called,

18 Saith the Lord, ⁵who maketh these things known from the beginning of the world.

22 Then it seemed good to the apostles and the elders, with the whole church, to choose men out of their company, and send them to Antioch with Paul and Barnabas; namely, Judas called Barsabbas, and Silas, chief men among 23 the brethren: and they wrote thus by them, The apostles and the elder brethren unto the brethren which are of the Gentiles in Antioch and Syria and 24 Cilicia, greeting: Forasmuch as we have heard that certain ²which went out from us have troubled you with words, subverting your souls; to whom 25 we gave no commandment; it seemed good unto us, having come to one accord, to choose out men and send them unto you with our beloved Barna-
26 bas and Paul, men that have hazarded their lives for the name of our Lord
27 Jesus Christ. We have sent therefore Judas and Silas, who themselves also shall tell you the same things by word
28 of mouth. For it seemed good to the Holy Ghost, and to us, to lay upon you no greater burden than these necessary 29 things; that ye abstain from things sacrificed to idols, and from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication; from which if ye keep yourselves, it shall be well with you. Fare ye well.

30 So they, when they were dismissed, came down to Antioch; and having gathered the multitude together, they 31 delivered the epistle. And when they had read it, they rejoiced for the ³con-32 solation. And Judas and Silas, being themselves also prophets, ⁴exhorted the brethren with many words, and 33 confirmed them. And after they had spent some time there, they were dismissed in peace from the brethren unto 35 those that had sent them forth. ⁵ But Paul and Barnabas tarried in Antioch, teaching and preaching the word of the Lord, with many others also.

⁵ Some ancient authorities insert, with variations, ver. 34 But it seemed good unto Silas to abide there

36 And after some days Paul said unto Barnabas, Let us return now and visit the brethren in every city wherein we proclaimed the word of the Lord, 37 and see how they fare. And Barnabas was minded to take with them John 38 also, who was called Mark. But Paul thought not good to take with them him who withdrew from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them
39 to the work. And there arose a sharp contention, so that they parted asunder one from the other, and Barnabas took Mark with him, and sailed away 40 unto Cyprus; but Paul chose Silas, and went forth, being commended by the brethren to the grace of the Lord.

41 And he went through Syria and Cilicia, confirming the churches.

16 And he came also to Derbe and to Lystra: and behold, a certain disciple was there, named Timothy, the son of a Jewess which believed; but his
2 father was a Greek. The same was well reported of by the brethren that
3 were at Lystra and Iconium. Him would Paul have to go forth with him; and he took and circumcised him because of the Jews that were in those parts: for they all knew that his father
4 was a Greek. And as they went on their way through the cities, they delivered them the decrees for to keep, which had been ordained of the apostles
5 and elders that were at Jerusalem. So the churches were strengthened in the faith, and increased in number daily.

6 And they went through the region of Phrygia and Galatia, having been forbidden of the Holy Ghost to speak
7 the word in Asia; and when they were come over against Mysia, they assayed to go into Bithynia; and the Spirit of 8 Jesus suffered them not; and passing by Mysia, they came down to Troas.
9 And a vision appeared to Paul in the night; There was a man of Macedonia standing, beseeching him, and saying, Come over into Macedonia, and help us.
10 And when he had seen the vision, straightway we sought to go forth into Macedonia, concluding that God had called us for to preach the gospel unto them.

11 Setting sail therefore from Troas, we made a straight course to Samothrace, 12 and the day following to Neapolis; and from thence to Philippi, which is a city of Macedonia, the first of the district, a Roman colony: and we were in this 13 city tarrying certain days. And on the sabbath day we went forth without the gate by a river side, where we supposed there was a place of prayer; and we sat down, and spake unto the women
14 which were come together. And a certain woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the city of Thyatira, one that worshipped God, heard us: whose heart the Lord opened, to give heed unto the things which were spoken by 15 Paul. And when she was baptized, and her household, she besought us, saying, If ye have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into my house, and abide there. And she constrained us.

16 And it came to pass, as we were going to the place of prayer, that a certain maid having ⁶a spirit of divination met us, which brought her masters much gain by sooth-
17 saying. The same following after Paul and us cried out, saying, These men are ⁷servants of the Most High

21 our city, and set forth customs which it is not lawful for us to receive, or

22 to observe, being Romans. And the multitude rose up together against them: and the ³ magistrates rent their garments off them, and commanded to 23 beat them with rods. And when they had laid many stripes upon them, they cast them into prison, charging the 24 jailor to keep them safely: who, having received such a charge, cast them into the inner prison, and made their feet 25 fast in the stocks. But about midnight

Paul and Silas were praying and singing hymns unto God, and the prisoners

26 were listening to them; and suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison-house were shaken: and immediately all the doors were opened; and every one's 27 bands were loosed. And the jailor being roused out of sleep, and seeing the prison doors open, drew his sword, and was about to kill himself, supposing 28 that the prisoners had escaped. But Paul cried with a loud voice, saying, Do thyself no harm: for we are all here.

29 And he called for lights, and sprang in, and, trembling for fear, fell down

30 before Paul and Silas, and brought them out, and said, Sirs, what must

31 I do to be saved? And they said, Believe on the Lord Jesus, and thou shalt be saved, thou and thy house. 32 And they spake the word of ⁴ the Lord unto him, with all that were in his 33 house. And he took them the same hour of the night, and washed their stripes; and was baptized, he and all

34 his, immediately. And he brought them up into his house, and set ⁵ meat before them, and rejoiced greatly, with all his house, ⁶ having believed in God.

35 But when it was day, the ³ magistrates sent the ⁷ serjeants, saying, Let those

36 men go. And the jailor reported the words to Paul, saying, The ³ magistrates have sent to let you go: now therefore come forth, and go in peace.

37 But Paul said unto them, They have beaten us publicly, uncondemned, men that are Romans, and have cast us into prison; and do they now cast us out privily? nay verily; but let them come themselves and bring us

38 out. And the ⁷ serjeants reported these words unto the ³ magistrates: and they feared, when they heard that they were

39 Romans; and they came and besought them; and when they had brought them out, they asked them to go away from 40 the city. And they went out of the prison, and entered into the house of Lydia: and when they had seen the brethren, they ⁸ comforted them, and departed.

⁸ Or,

17 Now when they had passed through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where was a syna-

2 gogue of the Jews: and Paul, as his custom was, went in unto them, and for three ⁹ sabbath days reasoned with

3 them from the scriptures, opening and alleging, that it behoved the Christ to suffer, and to rise again from the dead; and that this Jesus, whom, said he, I

4 proclaim unto you, is the Christ. And some of them were persuaded, and consorted with Paul and Silas; and of the devout Greeks a great multitude, and of the chief women not a few.

5 But the Jews, being moved with jealousy, took unto them certain vile fellows of the rabble, and gathering a crowd, set the city on an uproar; and assaulting the house of Jason, they sought to bring them forth to the

6 people. And when they found them not, they dragged Jason and certain brethren before the rulers of the city, crying, These that have turned ¹⁰ the world upside down are come hither 7 also; whom Jason hath received: and these all act contrary to the decrees of Cæsar, saying that there is another

8 king, one Jesus. And they troubled the multitude and the rulers of the city, when they heard these things.

9 And when they had taken security from Jason and the rest, they let them go.

10 And the brethren immediately sent away Paul and Silas by night unto Berea: who when they were come thither went into the synagogue of 11 the Jews. Now these were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, examining the scriptures daily, whether these things were so.

12 Many of them therefore believed; also of the Greek women of honourable estate, and of men, not a few.

13 But when the Jews of Thessalonica had knowledge that the word of God was proclaimed of Paul at Berea also, they came thither likewise, stirring up and troubling the mul-

14 titudes. And then immediately the brethren sent forth Paul to go as far as to the sea: and Silas and 15 Timothy abode there still. But they that conducted Paul brought him as far as Athens: and receiving a commandment unto Silas and Timo-

thly that they should come to him with all speed, they departed.

16 Now while Paul waited for them at Athens, his spirit was provoked within him, as he beheld the city full of idols.

17 So he reasoned in the synagogue with the Jews and the devout persons, and in the marketplace every day with 18 them that met with him. And certain also of the Epicurean and Stoic philosophers encountered him. And some said, What would this babblers say? other some, He seemeth to be a setter forth of strange ¹gods: because he preached Jesus and the resurrection.

19 And they took hold of him, and brought him ²unto ³the Areopagus, saying, May we know what this new teaching

20 is, which is spoken by thee? For thou bringest certain strange things to our ears: we would know therefore what 21 these things mean. (Now all the Athenians and the strangers sojourning there ⁴spent their time in nothing else, but either to tell or to hear some new 22 thing.) And Paul stood in the midst of the Areopagus, and said,

Ye men of Athens, in all things I perceive that ye are somewhat ⁵superstitious. For as I passed along, and observed the objects of your worship, I found also an altar with this inscription, ⁶TO AN UNKNOWN GOD. What therefore ye worship in ignorance, this

24 set I forth unto you. The God that made the world and all things therein, he, being Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in ⁷temples made with

25 hands; neither is he served by men's hands, as though he needed anything, seeing he himself giveth to all life,

26 and breath, and all things; and he made of one every nation of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, having determined their appointed seasons, and the bounds of their habi-

27 tation; that they should seek God, if haply they might feel after him, and find him, though he is not far from 28 each one of us: for in him we live, and move, and have our being; as certain even of your own poets have said, For we are also his offspring.

29 Being then the offspring of God, we ought not to think that ⁸the Godhead is like unto gold, or silver, or stone, 30 graven by art and device of man. The times of ignorance therefore God overlooked; but now he ⁹commandeth men that they should all everywhere repent: 31 inasmuch as he hath appointed a day, in the which he will judge ¹⁰the world in righteousness ¹¹by ¹²the man whom he hath ordained; whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead.

32 Now when they heard of the resurrection of the dead, some mocked; but others said, We will hear thee

33 concerning this yet again. Thus Paul 34 went out from among them. But certain men clave unto him, and believed: among whom also was Dionysius the Areopagite, and a woman named Damaris, and others with them.

18 After these things he departed from 2 Athens, and came to Corinth. And he found a certain Jew named Aquila, a man of Pontus by race, lately come from Italy, with his wife Priscilla, because Claudius had commanded all the Jews to depart from Rome: and

3 he came unto them; and because he was of the same trade, he abode with them, and they wrought; for by their 4 trade they were tentmakers. And he reasoned in the synagogue every sabbath, and ¹³persuaded Jews and Greeks.

5 But when Silas and Timothy came down from Macedonia, Paul was constrained by the word, testifying to the 6 Jews that Jesus was the Christ. And when they opposed themselves, and ¹⁴blasphemed, he shook out his raiment, and said unto them, Your blood be upon your own heads; I am clean: from henceforth I will go unto the

7 Gentiles. And he departed thence, and went into the house of a certain man named Titus Justus, one that worshipped God, whose house joined 8 hard to the synagogue. And Crispus, the ruler of the synagogue, ¹⁵believed in the Lord with all his house; and many of the Corinthians hearing believed,

9 and were baptized. And the Lord said unto Paul in the night by a vision, Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy 10 peace: for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to harm thee: for I 11 have much people in this city. And he dwelt there a year and six months, teaching the word of God among them.

12 But when Gallio was proconsul of Achaia, the Jews with one accord rose up against Paul, and brought him before the judgement-seat, saying, This man persuadeth men to worship God 14 contrary to the law. But when Paul was about to open his mouth, Gallio said unto the Jews, If indeed it were a matter of wrong or of wicked villany, O ye Jews, reason would that I should

15 be in with you: but if they are questions about words and names and your own law, look to it yourselves; I am not minded to be a judge of these matters. 16 And he drave them from the judge-

17 ment-seat. And they all laid hold on Sosthenes, the ruler of the synagogue, and beat him before the judgement-seat. And Gallio cared for none of these things.

18 And Paul, having tarried after this yet many days, took his leave of the brethren, and sailed thence for Syria, and with him Priscilla and Aquila; having shorn his head

19 in Cenchreæ: for he had a vow. And they came to Ephesus, and he left them there: but he himself entered into the synagogue, and reasoned with the Jews. 20 And when they asked him to abide a longer time, he consented not; but taking his leave of them, and saying, I will return again unto you, if God will, he set sail from Ephesus. And when he had landed at Cæsarea, he went up and saluted the church, and went down to Antioch. And having spent some time there, he departed, and went through the region of Galatia and Phrygia in order, establishing all the disciples.

24 Now a certain Jew named Apollos, an Alexandrian by race, ¹a learned man, came to Ephesus; and he was mighty in the scriptures. This man had been ²instructed in the way of the Lord; and being fervent in spirit, he spake and taught carefully the things concerning Jesus, knowing only the baptism of 26 John: and he began to speak boldly in the synagogue. But when Priscilla and Aquila heard him, they took him unto them, and expounded unto him the way of God more carefully. And when he was minded to pass over into Achaia, the brethren encouraged him, and wrote to the disciples to receive him: and when he was come, he ³helped them much which had believed through 28 grace: for he powerfully confuted the Jews, ⁴and that publicly, shewing by the scriptures that Jesus was the Christ.

19 And it came to pass, that, while Apollos was at Corinth, Paul having passed through the upper country came to Ephesus, and found certain disciples: 2 and he said unto them, Did ye receive the Holy Ghost when ye believed? And they said unto him, Nay, we did not so much as hear whether ⁵the Holy Ghost 3 was given. And he said, Into what then were ye baptized? And they said, Into 4 John's baptism. And Paul said, John baptized with the baptism of repentance, saying unto the people, that they should believe on him which should 5 come after him, that is, on Jesus. And when they heard this, they were baptized into the name of the Lord Jesus. 6 And when Paul had laid his hands upon them, the Holy Ghost came on them; and they spake with tongues, and prophesied. And they were in all about twelve men.

8 And he entered into the synagogue, and spake boldly for the space of three months, reasoning and persuading as to the things concerning the kingdom of 9 God. But when some were hardened and disobedient, speaking evil of the Way before the multitude, he departed from them, and separated the disciples, reasoning daily in the school of Tyrannus.

10 And this continued for the space of two years; so that all they which dwelt in Asia heard the word of the 11 Lord, both Jews and Greeks. And God wrought special ⁶miracles by the hands 12 of Paul: inasmuch that unto the sick were carried away from his body handkerchiefs or aprons, and the diseases departed from them, and the evil spirits went out. But certain also of the strolling Jews, exorcists, took upon them to name over them which had the evil spirits the name of the Lord Jesus, saying, I adjure you by Jesus whom Paul 14 preacheth. And there were seven sons of one Sceva, a Jew, a chief priest, 15 which did this. And the evil spirit answered and said unto them, Jesus I know, and Paul I know; but who are 16 ye? And the man in whom the evil spirit was leaped on them, and mastered both of them, and prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked 17 and wounded. And this became known to all, both Jews and Greeks, that dwelt at Ephesus; and fear fell upon them all, and the name of the Lord Jesus was 18 magnified. Many also of them that had believed came, confessing, and declaring their deeds. And not a few of them that practised ⁸curious arts brought their books together, and burned them in the sight of all: and they counted the price of them, and found it fifty thousand pieces of silver. So mightily grew the word of the Lord and prevailed. 21 Now after these things were ended, Paul purposed in the spirit, when he had passed through Macedonia and Achaia, to go to Jerusalem, saying, After I have 22 been there, I must also see Rome. And having sent into Macedonia two of them that ministered unto him, Timothy and Erastus, he himself stayed in Asia for a while.

23 And about that time there arose no small stir concerning the Way. For a certain man named Demetrius, a silversmith, which made silver shrines of ⁹Diana, brought no little business unto the 25 craftsmen; whom he gathered together, with the workmen of like occupation, and said, Sirs, ye know that by this 26 business we have our wealth. And ye see and hear, that not alone at Ephesus, but almost throughout all Asia, this Paul hath persuaded and turned away much people, saying that they be no gods, which are made with 27 hands: and not only is there danger that this our trade come into disrepute; but also that the temple of the great goddess ⁹Diana be made of no account, and that she should even be deposed from her magnificence, whom all Asia and ¹⁰the world worship- 28 peth. And when they heard this, they were filled with wrath, and cried out, saying, Great is ⁹Diana of the

And when Paul was minded to enter in unto the people, the disciples suffered him not. And certain also of the ¹chief officers of Asia, being his friends, sent unto him, and besought him not to adventure himself into the theatre. Some therefore cried one thing, and some another: for the assembly was in confusion; and the more part knew not wherefore they were brought together. ²And they brought Alexander out of the multitude, the Jews putting him forward. And Alexander beckoned with the hand, and would have made a defence unto the people. But when they perceived that he was a Jew, all with one voice about the space of two hours cried out, Great is ³Diana of the Ephesians. And when the townclerk had quieted the multitude, he saith, Ye men of Ephesus, what man is there who knoweth not how that the city of the Ephesians is temple-keeper of the great ⁴Diana, and of the image which fell down from ⁴Jupiter? 36 Seeing then that these things cannot be gainsaid, ye ought to be quiet, and to do nothing rash. For ye have brought hither these men, which are neither robbers of temples nor blasphemers of our goddess. If therefore Demetrius, and the craftsmen that are with him, have a matter against any man, ⁵the courts are open, and there are proconsuls: let them accuse one another. But if ye seek anything about other matters, it shall be settled in the regular assembly. 40 For indeed we are in danger to be ⁶accused concerning this day's riot, there being no cause for it: and as touching it we shall not be able to give account of this concourse. And when he had gone through those parts, and had given them much exhortation, he came into Greece. And when he had spent three months there, and a plot was laid against him by the Jews, as he was about to set sail for Syria, he determined to return through Macedonia. And there accompanied him ⁷as far as Asia Sopater of Berea, the son of Pyrrhus; and of the Thessalonians, Aristarchus and Secundus; and Gaius of Derbe, and Timothy; and of Asia, Tychicus and Trophimus. from among your own selves shall men arise, speaking perverse things, to draw 31 away the disciples after them. Wherefore watch ye, remembering that by the space of three years I ceased not to admonish every one night and day with 32 tears. And now I commend you to ⁴God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you the inheritance among all them that are 33 sanctified. I coveted no man's silver, 34 or gold, or apparel. Ye yourselves know that these hands ministered unto my necessities, and to them that were with 35 me. In all things I gave you an example, how that so labouring ye ought to help the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he himself said, It is more blessed to give than to receive.
36 And when he had thus spoken, he kneeled down, and prayed with them all.
37 And they all wept sore, and fell on Paul's 38 neck, and kissed him, sorrowing most of all for the word which he had spoken, that they should behold his face no more. And they brought him on his way unto the ship.
21 And when it came to pass that we were parted from them, and had set sail, we came with a straight course unto Cos, and the next day unto Rhodes, and from 2 thence unto Patara: and having found a ship crossing over unto Phœnicia, we 3 went aboard, and set sail. And when we had come in sight of Cyprus, leaving it on the left hand, we sailed unto Syria,
and landed at Tyre: for there the ship 4 was to unlade her burden. And having found the disciples, we tarried there seven days: and these said to Paul through the Spirit, that he should not 5 set foot in Jerusalem. And when it came to pass that we had accomplished the days, we departed and went on our journey; and they all, with wives and children, brought us on our way, till we were out of the city: and kneeling 6 down on the beach, we prayed, and bade each other farewell; and we went on board the ship, but they returned home
again.
7 And when we had finished the voyage from Tyre, we arrived at Ptolemais;
and we saluted the brethren, and abode
8 with them one day. And on the morrow we departed, and came unto Cæsarea: and entering into the house of Philip the evangelist, who was one of 9 the seven, we abode with him. Now this man had four daughters, virgins, which 10 did prophesy. And as we tarried there ⁵many days, there came down from Judea a certain prophet, named Aga-11 bus. And coming to us, and taking Paul's girdle, he bound his own feet and hands, and said, Thus saith the Holy Ghost, So shall the Jews at Jerusalem bind the man that owneth this girdle, and shall deliver him into the hands of 12 the Gentiles. And when we heard these things, both we and they of that place besought him not to go up to 13 Jerusalem. Then Paul answered, What do ye, weeping and breaking my heart?

for I am ready not to be bound only,
but also to die at Jerusalem for the 14 name of the Lord Jesus. And when he would not be persuaded, we ceased, saying, The will of the Lord be done.
15 And after these days we ⁶took up our baggage, and went up to Jerusalem.
16 And there went with us also certain of the disciples from Cæsarea, bringing with them one Mnason of Cyprus, an early disciple, with whom we should lodge.
17 And when we were come to Jerusalem, 18 the brethren received us gladly. And the day following Paul went in with us unto James; and all the elders were 19 present. And when he had saluted them, he rehearsed one by one the things which God had wrought among 20 the Gentiles by his ministry. And they, when they heard it, glorified God;
and they said unto him, Thou seest, brother, how many ⁷thousands there are among the Jews of them which have believed; and they are all zealous for 21 the law: and they have been informed concerning thee, that thou teachest all the Jews which are among the Gentiles to forsake Moses, telling them not to circumcise their children, neither to 22 walk after the customs. What is it therefore? they will certainly hear that 23 thou art come. Do therefore this that we say to thee: We have four men 24 which have a vow on them; these take,
and purify thyself with them, and be at charges for them, that they may shave their heads: and all shall know that there is no truth in the things whereof they have been informed concerning thee; but that thou thyself also walkest orderly, keeping the law.
25 But as touching the Gentiles which have believed, we ⁸wrote, giving judgment that they should keep themselves from things sacrificed to idols, and from blood, and from what is strangled, 26 and from fornication. Then Paul ⁹took the men, and the next day purifying himself with them went into the temple, declaring the fulfilment of the days of purification,

27 And when the seven days were almost completed, the Jews from Asia, when they saw him in the temple, stirred up all the multitude, and laid hands on him, 28 crying out, Men of Israel, help: This is the man, that teacheth all men everywhere against the people, and the law, and this place: and moreover he brought 29 Greeks also into the temple, and hath defiled this holy place. For they had before seen with him in the city Trophimus the Ephesian, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the 30 temple. And all the city was moved, and the people ran together: and they laid hold on Paul, and dragged him out of the temple: and straightway the 31 doors were shut. And as they were seeking to kill him, tidings came up to the ¹chief captain of the ²band, that 32 all Jerusalem was in confusion. And forthwith he took soldiers and centurions, and ran down upon them: and they, when they saw the chief captain and the soldiers, left off beating Paul. 33 Then the chief captain came near, and laid hold on him, and commanded him to be bound with two chains; and inquired who he was, and what he had 34 done. And some shouted one thing, some another, among the crowd: and when he could not know the certainty for the uproar, he commanded him to 35 be brought into the castle. And when he came upon the stairs, so it was, that he was borne of the soldiers for the 36 violence of the crowd; for the multitude of the people followed after, crying out, Away with him.

37 And as Paul was about to be brought into the castle, he saith unto the chief captain, May I say something unto thee? And he said, Dost thou know 38 Greek? Art thou not then the Egyptian, which before these days stirred up to sedition and led out into the wilderness the four thousand men of the Assassins? 39 But Paul said, I am a Jew, of Tarsus in Cilicia, a citizen of no mean city: and I beseech thee, give me leave to 40 speak unto the people. And when he had given him leave, Paul, standing on the stairs, beckoned with the hand unto the people; and when there was made a great silence, he spake unto them in the Hebrew language, saying,

22 Brethren and fathers, hear ye the defence which I now make unto you.

2 And when they heard that he spake unto them in the Hebrew language, they were the more quiet: and he saith,

3 I am a Jew, born in Tarsus of Cilicia, but brought up in this city, at the feet of Gamaliel, instructed according to the strict manner of the law of our fathers, being zealous for God,

4 even as ye all are this day: and I persecuted this Way unto the death, binding and delivering into prisons both 5 men and women. As also the high priest doth bear me witness, and all the estate of the elders: from whom also I received letters unto the brethren, and journeyed to Damascus, to bring them also which were there unto Jerusalem in 6 bonds, for to be punished. And it came to pass, that, as I made my journey, and drew nigh unto Damascus, about noon, suddenly there shone from heaven a great light round about me. 7 And I fell unto the ground, and heard a voice saying unto me, Saul, Saul, 8 why persecutest thou me? And I answered, Who art thou, Lord? And he said unto me, I am Jesus of Nazareth, 9 whom thou persecutest. And they that were with me beheld indeed the light, but they heard not the voice of 10 him that spake to me. And I said, What shall I do, Lord? And the Lord said unto me, Arise, and go into Damascus; and there it shall be told thee of all things which are appointed 11 for thee to do. And when I could not see for the glory of that light, being led by the hand of them that were 12 with me, I came into Damascus. And one Ananias, a devout man according to the law, well reported of by all the 13 Jews that dwell there, came unto me, and standing by me said unto me, Brother Saul, receive thy sight. And in that very hour I ³looked up on him. 14 And he said, The God of our fathers hath appointed thee to know his will, and to see the Righteous One, and to 15 hear a voice from his mouth. For thou shalt be a witness for him unto all men of what thou hast seen and heard. 16 And now why tarriest thou? arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, 17 calling on his name. And it came to pass, that, when I had returned to Jerusalem, and while I prayed in the 18 temple, I fell into a trance, and saw him saying unto me, Make haste, and get thee quickly out of Jerusalem: because they will not receive of thee 19 testimony concerning me. And I said, Lord, they themselves know that I imprisoned and beat in every synagogue 20 them that believed on thee: and when the blood of Stephen thy witness was shed, I also was standing by, and consenting, and keeping the garments 21 of them that slew him. And he said unto me, Depart: for I will send thee forth far hence unto the Gentiles.

22 And they gave him audience unto this word; and they lifted up their voice, and said, Away with such a fellow from the earth: for it is not 23 fit that he should live. And as they cried out, and threw off their gar-

24 ments, and cast dust into the air, the chief captain commanded him to be brought into the castle, bidding that he should be examined by scourging, that he might know for what cause they 25 so shouted against him. And when they had tied him up¹ with the thongs, Paul said unto the centurion that stood by, Is it lawful for you to scourge a man that is a Roman, and uncondemned? And when the centurion heard it, he went to the chief captain, and told him, saying, What art thou about to 27 do? for this man is a Roman. And the chief captain came, and said unto him, Tell me, art thou a Roman? And 28 he said, Yea. And the chief captain answered, With a great sum obtained I this citizenship. And Paul said, But I 29 am a Roman born. They then which were about to examine him straightway departed from him: and the chief captain also was afraid, when he knew that he was a Roman, and because he had bound him.

30 But on the morrow, desiring to know the certainty, wherfore he was accused of the Jews, he loosed him, and commanded the chief priests and all the council to come together, and brought Paul down, and set him before them.

23 And Paul, looking stedfastly on the council, said, Brethren, I have lived before God in all good conscience until

2 this day. And the high priest Ananias commanded them that stood by him

3 to smite him on the mouth. Then said Paul unto him, God shall smite thee, thou whited wall: and sittest thou to judge me according to the law, and commandest me to be smitten contrary

4 to the law? And they that stood by said, Revilest thou God's high priest?

5 And Paul said, I wist not, brethren, that he was high priest: for it is written, Thou shalt not speak evil of a ruler

6 of thy people. But when Paul perceived that the one part were Sadducees, and the other Pharisees, he cried out in the council, Brethren, I am a Pharisee, a son of Pharisees: touching the hope and resurrection of the dead I am

7 called in question. And when he had so said, there arose a dissension between the Pharisees and Sadducees:

8 and the assembly was divided. For the Sadducees say that there is no resurrection, neither angel, nor spirit:

9 but the Pharisees confess both. And there arose a great clamour: and some of the scribes of the Pharisees' part stood up, and strove, saying, We find no evil in this man: and what if a spirit hath spoken to him, or an angel?

10 And when there arose a great dissension, the chief captain, fearing lest Paul should be torn in pieces by them, commanded the soldiers to go down and take him by force from among them, and bring him into the castle.

11 And the night following the Lord stood by him, and said, Be of good cheer: for as thou hast testified concerning me at Jerusalem, so must thou bear witness also at Rome.

12 And when it was day, the Jews banded together, and bound themselves under a curse, saying that they would neither eat nor drink till they had killed Paul. And they were more than 13 40 which made this conspiracy. And they came to the chief priests and the elders, and said, We have bound ourselves under a great curse, to taste no

14 thing until we have killed Paul. Now therefore do ye with the council signify to the chief captain that he bring him down unto you, as though ye would judge of his case more exactly: and we, or ever he come near, are ready to

15 slay him. But Paul's sister's son heard of their lying in wait,² and he came and entered into the castle, and told

16 Paul. And Paul called unto him one of the centurions, and said, Bring this young man unto the chief captain: for

17 he hath something to tell him. So he took him, and brought him to the chief captain, and saith, Paul the prisoner called me unto him, and asked me to bring this young man unto thee, who

18 hath something to say to thee. And the chief captain took him by the hand, and going aside asked him privately, What is that thou hast to tell me?

20 And he said, The Jews have agreed to ask thee to bring down Paul to-morrow unto the council, as though thou wouldest inquire somewhat more ex-

21 actly concerning him. Do not thou therefore yield unto them: for there lie in wait for him of them more than

22 forty men, which have bound themselves under a curse, neither to eat nor to drink till they have slain him: and now are they ready, looking for the

23 promise from thee. So the chief captain let the young man go, charging him, Tell no man that thou hast signi-

24 fied these things to me. And he called unto him two of the centurions, and said, Make ready two hundred soldiers to go as far as Caesarea, and horsemen

25 threescore and ten, and spearmen two hundred, at the third hour of the

26 night: and he bade them provide beasts, that they might set Paul thereon, and bring him safe unto Felix the go-

27 vernor. And he wrote a letter after this form:

28 Claudius Lysias unto the most excellent governor Felix, greeting. This man was seized by the Jews, and was about to be slain of them, when I came upon them with the soldiers, and rescued him, having learned that he was a Roman.

28 And desiring to know the cause wherefore they accused him, ¹I brought him down unto their council: whom I found to be accused about questions of their law, but to have nothing laid to his charge worthy of death or of bonds.

30 And when it was shewn to me that there would be a plot against the man, I sent him to thee forthwith, charging his accusers also to speak against him before thee.²

31 So the soldiers, as it was commanded them, took Paul, and brought him by 32 night to Antipatris. But on the morrow they left the horsemen to go with 33 him, and returned to the castle: and they, when they came to Cæsarea, and delivered the letter to the governor, 34 presented Paul also before him. And when he had read it, he asked of what province he was; and when he understood that he was of Cilicia, I will hear thy cause, said he, when thine accusers also are come: and he commanded him to be kept in Herod's ³palace.

24 And after five days the high priest Ananias came down with certain elders, and with an orator, one Tertullus; and they informed the governor 2 against Paul. And when he was called, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying,

Seeing that by thee we enjoy much peace, and that by thy providence evils 3 are corrected for this nation, we accept it in all ways and in all places, most excellent Felix, with all thankfulness.

4 But, that I be not further tedious unto thee, I intreat thee to hear us of thy 5 clemency a few words. For we have found this man a pestilent fellow, and a mover of insurrections among all the Jews throughout ⁴the world, and a ring-leader of the sect of the Nazarenes: who moreover assayed to profane the temple: on whom also we laid hold: ⁵from whom thou wilt be able, by examining him thyself, to take knowledge of all these things, whereof we accuse 9 him. And the Jews also joined in the charge, affirming that these things were so.

10 And when the governor had beckoned unto him to speak, Paul answered,

Forasmuch as I know that thou hast been of many years a judge unto this nation, I do cheerfully make my defence: seeing that thou canst take knowledge, that it is not more than twelve days since I went up to worship 12 at Jerusalem: and neither in the temple did they find me disputing with any man or stirring up a crowd, nor in the 13 synagogues, nor in the city. Neither can they prove to thee the things 14 whereof they now accuse me. But this I confess unto thee, that after the Way which they call ⁶a sect, so serve I the God of our fathers, believing all things which are according to the law, and which are written in the prophets:

15 having hope toward God, which these also themselves look for, that there shall be a resurrection both of the just 16 and unjust. Herein do I also exercise myself to have a conscience void of offence toward God and men alway. Now after ⁸many years I came to bring alms 18 to my nation, and offerings: ⁹amidst which they found me purified in the temple, with no crowd, nor yet with tumult: but there were certain Jews 19 from Asia—who ought to have been here before thee, and to make accusation, if they had aught against me. 20 Or else let these men themselves say what wrong-doing they found, when I 21 stood before the council, except it be for this one voice, that I cried standing among them, Touching the resurrection of the dead I am called in question before you this day.

22 But Felix, having more exact knowledge concerning the Way, deferred them, saying, When Lysias the chief captain shall come down, I will determine your matter. And he gave order to the centurion that he should be kept in charge, and should have indulgence; and not to forbid any of his friends to minister unto him.

24 But after certain days, Felix came with Drusilla, ¹⁰his wife, which was a Jewess, and sent for Paul, and heard him concerning the faith in Christ

25 Jesus. And as he reasoned of righteousness, and ¹¹temperance, and the judgement to come, Felix was terrified, and answered, Go thy way for this time; and when I have a convenient 26 season, I will call thee unto me. He hoped withal that money would be given him of Paul: wherefore also he sent for him the oftener, and communicated with him. But when two years were fulfilled, Felix was succeeded by Porcius Festus; and desiring to gain favour with the Jews, Felix left Paul in bonds.

25 Festus therefore, ¹²having come into the province, after three days went up 2 to Jerusalem from Cæsarea. And the chief priests and the principal men of the Jews informed him against Paul; and they besought him, asking favour against him, that he would send for him to Jerusalem; laying wait to kill 4 him on the way. Howbeit Festus answered, that Paul was kept in charge at Cæsarea, and that he himself was 5 about to depart thither shortly. Let them therefore, saith he, which are of power among you, go down with me, and if there is anything amiss in the man, let them accuse him.

6 And when he had tarried among them not more than eight or ten days, he went down unto Cæsarea; and on the morrow he sat on the judgement-seat, and commanded

7 Paul to be brought. And when he was come, the Jews which had come down from Jerusalem stood round about him, bringing against him many and grievous charges, which they could not
8 prove; while Paul said in his defence, Neither against the law of the Jews, nor against the temple, nor against 9 Caesar, have I sinned at all. But Festus, desiring to gain favour with the Jews, answered Paul, and said, Wilt thou go up to Jerusalem, and there be 10 judged of these things before me? But Paul said, I am standing before Cæsar's judgement-seat, where I ought to be judged: to the Jews have I done no wrong, as thou also very well
11 knowest. If then I am a wrong-doer, and have committed anything worthy of death, I refuse not to die: but if none of those things is true, whereof these accuse me, no man can ¹give me up unto 12 them. I appeal unto Cæsar. Then Festus, when he had conferred with the council, answered, Thou hast appealed unto Cæsar: unto Cæsar shalt thou go.
13 Now when certain days were passed, Agrippa the king and Bernice arrived
14 at Cæsarea, ²and saluted Festus. And as they tarried there many days, Festus laid Paul's case before the king, saying, There is a certain man left a 15 prisoner by Felix: about whom, when I was at Jerusalem, the chief priests and the elders of the Jews informed me, asking for sentence against him.
16 To whom I answered, that it is not the custom of the Romans to give up any man, before that the accused have the accusers face to face, and have had opportunity to make his defence concerning the matter laid against him.
17 When therefore they were come together here, I made no delay, but on the next day sat down on the judgement-seat, and commanded the man to be 18 brought. Concerning whom, when the accusers stood up, they brought no charge of such evil things as I supposed;
19 but had certain questions against him of their own ³religion, and of one Jesus, who was dead, whom Paul 20 affirmed to be alive. And I, being perplexed how to inquire concerning these things, asked whether he would go to Jerusalem, and there be judged 21 of these matters. But when Paul had appealed to be kept for the decision of ⁴the emperor, I commanded him to be kept till I should send him to Cæsar.
22 And Agrippa said unto Festus, I also ⁵would wish to hear the man myself. Tomorrow, saith he, thou shalt hear him.
23 So on the morrow, when Agrippa was come, and Bernice, with great pomp, and they were entered into the place of hearing, with the chief captains, and the principal men of the city, at the command of Festus Paul was

24 brought in. And Festus saith, King Agrippa, and all men which are here present with us, ye behold this man, about whom all the multitude of the Jews made suit to me, both at Jerusalem and here, crying that he ought not to live
25 any longer. But I found that he had committed nothing worthy of death: and as he himself appealed to ⁴the emperor I determined to send him. Of whom I have no certain thing to write unto my lord. Wherefore I have brought him forth before you, and specially before thee, king Agrippa, that, after examination had, I may have somewhat 27 to write. For it seemeth to me unreasonable, in sending a prisoner, not withal to signify the charges against him.
26 And Agrippa said unto Paul, Thou art permitted to speak for thyself. Then Paul stretched forth his hand, and made his defence:
2 I think myself happy, king Agrippa, that I am to make my defence before thee this day touching all the things
3 whereof I am accused by the Jews: ⁶especially because thou art expert in all customs and questions which are among the Jews: wherefore I beseech thee to 4 hear me patiently. My manner of life then from my youth up, which was from the beginning among mine own nation, and at Jerusalem, know all the Jews;
5 having knowledge of me from the first, if they be willing to testify, how that after the straitest sect of our religion I
6 lived a Pharisee. And now I stand here to be judged for the hope of the promise
7 made of God unto our fathers; unto which promise our twelve tribes, earnestly serving God night and day, hope to attain. And concerning this hope I
8 am accused by the Jews, O king! Why is it judged incredible with you, if God
9 doth raise the dead? I verily thought with myself, that I ought to do many things contrary to the name of Jesus of 10 Nazareth. And this I also did in Jerusalem: and I both shut up many of the saints in prisons, having received authority from the chief priests, and when they were put to death, I gave my vote
11 against them. And punishing them oftentimes in all the synagogues, I strove to make them blaspheme; and being exceedingly mad against them, I persecuted them even unto foreign cities.
12 ⁷Whereupon as I journeyed to Damascus with the authority and commission
13 of the chief priests, at midday, O king, I saw on the way a light from heaven, above the brightness of the sun, shining round about me and them that 14 journeyed with me. And when we were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voice saying unto me in the Hebrew language, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? it is hard for thee
15 to kick against ⁸the goad. And I said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest. But arise, and stand upon thy feet: for to this end have I appeared unto thee, to appoint thee a minister and a witness both of the things¹ wherein thou hast seen me, and of the things wherein I will appear unto thee; delivering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, unto whom I send thee, to open their eyes,² that they may turn from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive remission of sins and an inheritance among them that are sanctified by faith in me. Wherefore, O king Agrippa, I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision: but declared both to them of Damascus first, and at Jerusalem, and throughout all the country of Judea, and also to the Gentiles, that they should repent and turn to God, doing works worthy of³ repentance. For this cause the Jews seized me in the temple, and assayed to kill me. Having therefore obtained the help that is from God, I stand unto this day testifying both to small and great, saying nothing but what the prophets and Moses did say should come; ⁴how that the Christ must suffer, and ⁵how that he first by the resurrection of the dead should proclaim light both to the people and to the Gentiles.

24 And as he thus made his defence, Festus saith with a loud voice, Paul, thou art mad; thy much learning doth turn thee to madness. But Paul saith, I am not mad, most excellent Festus; but speak forth words of truth and soberness. For the king knoweth of these things, unto whom also I speak freely: for I am persuaded that none of these things is hidden from him; for this hath not been done in a corner. King Agrippa, believest thou the prophets? I know that thou believest. And Agrippa said unto Paul, With but little persuasion thou wouldest fain make me a Christian. And Paul said, I would to God, that whether with little or with much, not thou only, but also all that hear me this day, might become such as I am, except these bonds.

30 And the king rose up, and the governor, and Bernice, and they that sat with them: and when they had withdrawn, they spake one to another, saying, This man doeth nothing worthy of death or of bonds. And Agrippa said unto Festus, This man might have been set at liberty, if he had not appealed unto Cæsar.

27 And when it was determined that we should sail for Italy, they delivered Paul and certain other prisoners to a centurion named Julius, of the Augustan band. And embarking in a ship of Adramyttium, which was about to sail unto the places on the coast of Asia, we put to sea, Aristarchus, a Macedonian of Thessalonica, being with us.

3 And the next day we touched at Sidon: and Julius treated Paul kindly, and gave him leave to go unto his friends and ⁴refresh himself. And putting to sea from thence, we sailed under the lee of Cyprus, because the winds were contrary. And when we had sailed across the sea which is off Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Myra, a city of Lycia. And there the centurion found a ship of Alexandria sailing for Italy; and he put us therein. And when we had sailed slowly many days, and were come with difficulty over against Cnidus, the wind not ⁸further suffering us, we sailed under the lee of Crete, over against Salmone; and with difficulty coasting along it we came unto a certain place called Fair Havens; nigh whereunto was the city of Lasea.

9 And when much time was spent, and the voyage was now dangerous, because the Fast was now already gone by, Paul admonished them, and said unto them, Sirs, I perceive that the voyage will be with injury and much loss, not only of the lading and the ship, but also of our lives. But the centurion gave more heed to the master and to the owner of the ship, than to those things which were spoken by Paul. And because the haven was not commodious to winter in, the more part advised to put to sea from thence, if by any means they could reach Phoenix, and winter there; which is a haven of Crete, looking ⁹north-east and south-east. And when the south wind blew softly, supposing that they had obtained their purpose, they weighed anchor and sailed along Crete, close in shore. But after no long time there beat down from it a tempestuous wind, which is called Euraquilo: and when the ship was caught, and could not face the wind, we gave way to it, and were driven. And running under the lee of a small island called ¹⁰Cauda, we were able, with difficulty, to secure the boat: and when they had hoisted it up, they used helps, under-girding the ship; and, fearing lest they should be cast upon the Syrtis, they lowered the gear, and so were driven. And as we laboured exceedingly with the storm, the next day they began to throw the freight overboard; and the third day they cast out with their own hands the ¹¹tackling of the ship. And when neither sun nor stars shone upon us for many days, and no small tempest lay on us, all hope that we should be saved was now taken away.

21 And when they had been long without food, then Paul stood forth in the midst of them, and said, Sirs, ye should have hearkened unto me, and not have set sail from Crete, and have 22 gotten this injury and loss. And now I exhort you to be of good cheer: for there shall be no loss of life among 23 you, but only of the ship. For there stood by me this night an angel of the God whose I am, whom also I serve, 24 saying, Fear not, Paul; thou must stand before Cæsar: and lo, God hath granted thee all them that sail with 25 thee. Wherefore, sirs, be of good cheer: for I believe God, that it shall be even so as it hath been spoken 26 unto me. Howbeit we must be cast upon a certain island.

 27 But when the fourteenth night was come, as we were driven to and fro in the sea of Adria, about midnight the sailors surmised that they were draw-28 ing near to some country; and they sounded, and found twenty fathoms:
 and after a little space, they sounded 29 again, and found fifteen fathoms. And fearing lest haply we should be cast ashore on rocky ground, they let go four anchors from the stern, and ¹ wish-30 ed for the day. And as the sailors were seeking to flee out of the ship, and had lowered the boat into the sea, under colour as though they would lay 31 out anchors from the foreship, Paul said to the centurion and to the soldiers, Except these abide in the ship, ye can-32 not be saved. Then the soldiers cut away the ropes of the boat, and let her 33 fall off. And while the day was coming on, Paul besought them all to take some food, saying, This day is the fourteenth day that ye wait and continue 34 fasting, having taken nothing. Wherefore I beseech you to take some food:
 for this is for your safety: for there shall not a hair perish from the head 35 of any of you. And when he had said this, and had taken bread, he gave thanks to God in the presence of all:
 36 and he brake it, and began to eat. Then were they all of good cheer, and them-37 selves also took food. And we were in all in the ship ² two hundred threescore 38 and sixteen souls. And when they had eaten enough, they lightened the ship.
 39 throwing out the wheat into the sea. And when it was day, they knew not the land:
 but they perceived a certain bay with a beach, and they took counsel whether 40 they could ³ drive the ship upon it. And casting off the anchors, they left them in the sea, at the same time loosing the bands of the rudders; and hoisting up the foresail to the wind, they made for 41 the beach. But lighting upon a place where two seas met, they ran the vessel aground; and the foreship struck and remained unmoveable, but the stern began to break up by the violence of the waves.
 42 And the soldiers' counsel was to kill the prisoners, lest any of them should swim 43 out, and escape. But the centurion, desiring to save Paul, stayed them from their purpose; and commanded that they which could swim should cast themselves overboard, and get first to 44 the land: and the rest, some on planks, and some on other things from the ship.

 And so it came to pass, that they all escaped safe to the land.

28 And when we were escaped, then we knew that the island was called ⁴ Melita.

2 And the barbarians shewed us no common kindness: for they kindled a fire, and received us all, because of the present rain, and because of the cold.

3 But when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks, and laid them on the fire, a viper came out ⁵ by reason of the heat, 4 and fastened on his hand. And when the barbarians saw the beast hanging from his hand, they said one to another,
 No doubt this man is a murderer, whom,
 though he hath escaped from the sea,
 yet Justice hath not suffered to live.

5 Howbeit he shook off the beast into the 6 fire, and took no harm. But they expected that he would have swollen, or fallen down dead suddenly: but when they were long in expectation, and beheld nothing amiss come to him, they changed their minds, and said that he was a god.

7 Now in the neighbourhood of that place were lands belonging to the chief man of the island, named Publius; who received us, and entertained us three 8 days courteously. And it was so, that the father of Publius lay sick of fever and dysentery: unto whom Paul entered in, and prayed, and laying his hands 9 on him healed him. And when this was done, the rest also which had diseases in the island came, and were cured:
 10 who also honoured us with many honours; and when we sailed, they put on board such things as we needed.

11 And after three months we set sail in a ship of Alexandria, which had wintered in the island, whose sign was ⁶ The 12 Twin Brothers. And touching at Syracuse, we tarried there three days.

13 And from thence we ⁷ made a circuit, and arrived at Rhegium: and after one day a south wind sprang up, and on the 14 second day we came to Puteoli: where we found brethren, and were intreated to tarry with them seven days: and so 15 we came to Rome. And from thence the brethren, when they heard of us, came to meet us as far as The Market of Appius, and The Three Taverns: whom when Paul saw, he thanked God, and took courage.

16 And when we entered into Rome,
⁸ Paul was suffered to abide by himself with the soldier that guarded him.

17 And it came to pass, that after three days he called together ⁹ those that were the chief of the Jews: and when they were come together, he said unto them, I, brethren, though

I had done nothing against the people, or the customs of our fathers, yet was delivered prisoner from Jerusalem into 18 the hands of the Romans: who, when they had examined me, desired to set me at liberty, because there was no
19 cause of death in me. But when the Jews spake against it, I was constrained to appeal unto Caesar; not that 20 I had aught to accuse my nation of. For this cause therefore did I ¹intreat you to see and to speak with me: for because of the hope of Israel I am bound 21 with this chain. And they said unto him, We neither received letters from Judea concerning thee, nor did any of the brethren come hither and report or 22 speak any harm of thee. But we desire to hear of thee what thou thinkest: for as concerning this sect, it is known to us that everywhere it is spoken against.
23 And when they had appointed him a day, they came to him into his lodging in great number; to whom he expounded the matter, testifying the kingdom of God, and persuading them concerning Jesus, both from the law of Moses and from the prophets, from morning
24 till evening. And some believed the things which were spoken, and some

25 disbelieved. And when they agreed not among themselves, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one word, Well spake the Holy Ghost ²by Isaiah

And seeing ye shall see, and shall in no wise perceive:
27 For this people's heart is waxed gross, And their ears are dull of hearing, And their eyes they have closed; Lest haply they should perceive with their eyes, And hear with their ears, And understand with their heart, And should turn again, And I should heal them.

3 scriptures, concerning his Son, who was born of the seed of David according to 4 the flesh, who was ³declared to be the Son of God ⁴with power, according to the spirit of holiness, by the resurrection of the dead; even Jesus Christ our 5 Lord, through whom we received grace and apostleship, unto obedience ⁵of faith among all the nations, for his 6 name's sake: among whom are ye
7 also, called to be Jesus Christ's: to all that are in Rome, beloved of God, called to be saints: Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.
8 First, I thank my God through Jesus Christ for you all, ⁶that your faith is proclaimed throughout the whole
9 world. For God is my witness, whom I serve in my spirit in the gospel of his Son, how unceasingly I make mention 10 of you, always in my prayers making request, if by any means now at length I may be prospered ⁷by the will of 11 God to come unto you. For I long to see you, that I may impart unto you some spiritual gift, to the end ye may 12 be established; that is, that I with you may be comforted in you, each of us by the other's faith, both yours and mine.

13 And I would not have you ignorant, brethren, that oftentimes I purposed to come unto you (and was hindered hitherto), that I might have some fruit in you also, even as in the rest of the Gentiles.
14 I am debtor both to Greeks and to Barbarians, both to the wise and to the 15 foolish. So, as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the gospel to you 16 also that are in Rome. For I am not ashamed of the gospel: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and 17 also to the Greek. For therein is revealed a righteousness of God ⁸by faith unto faith: as it is written, But the righteous shall live ⁸by faith.

are clearly seen, being perceived through the things that are made, even his everlasting power and divinity;

21¹ that they may be without excuse: because that, knowing God, they glorified him not as God, neither gave thanks; but became vain in their reasonings, and their senseless heart was darkened.
22 Professing themselves to be wise, they 23 became fools, and changed the glory of the incorruptible God for the likeness of an image of corruptible man, and of birds, and fourfooted beasts, and creeping things.

24 Wherefore God gave them up in the lusts of their hearts unto uncleanness, that their bodies should be dishonoured
25 among themselves: for that they exchanged the truth of God for a lie, and worshipped and served the creature rather than the Creator, who is blessed 26 for ever. Amen.

26 For this cause God gave them up unto 27 vile passions: for their women changed the natural use into that which is against nature: and likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust one toward another, men with men working unseemliness, and receiving in themselves that recompense of their error which was due.

28 And even as they⁴ refused to have God in their knowledge, God gave them up unto a reprobate mind, to do those 29 things which are not fitting; being filled with all unrighteousness, wickedness, covetousness, maliciousness; full of envy, murder, strife, deceit, malignity;
30 whisperers, backbiters,⁵ hateful to God, insolent, haughty, boastful, inventors of evil things, disobedient to parents,
31 without understanding, covenant-breakers, without natural affection, un-
32 merciful: who, knowing the ordinance of God, that they which practise such things are worthy of death, not only do the same, but also consent with them that practise them.

2 Wherefore thou art without excuse, O man, whosoever thou art that judgest: for wherein thou judgest⁶ another, thou condemnest thyself; for thou that judgest dost practise the same things.

2⁷ And we know that the judgement of God is according to truth against them
3 that practise such things. And reckonest thou this, O man, who judgest them that practise such things, and doest the same, that thou shalt escape the judgement of God? Or despisest thou the riches of his goodness and forbearance and longsuffering, not knowing that the goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance? but after thy hardness and impenitent heart treasurest up for thyself wrath in the day of wrath and revelation of the righteous judgement of 6 God; who will render to every man ac-

7 cording to his works: to them that by patience in well-doing seek for glory and honour and incorruption, eternal
8 life: but unto them that are factious, and obey not the truth, but obey unrighteousness, shall be wrath and indignation, tribulation and anguish, upon every soul of man that worketh evil, of the Jew first, and also of the Greek;
10 but glory and honour and peace to every man that worketh good, to the Jew first, and also to the Greek: for there is no
12 respect of persons with God. For as many as have sinned without law shall also perish without law: and as many as have sinned under law shall be 13 judged by law; for not the hearers of a law are⁸ just before God, but the doers
14 of a law shall be⁹ justified: for when Gentiles which have no law do by nature the things of the law, these, having no law, are a law unto themselves;
15 in that they shew the work of the law written in their hearts, their conscience bearing witness therewith, and their 16 thoughts one with another accusing or else excusing them; in the day when God¹¹ shall judge the secrets of men, according to my gospel, by Jesus Christ.

17 But if thou bearest the name of a Jew, and retest upon¹² the law, and gloriest in God, and knowest¹³ his will, and 18 approvest the things that are excellent, being instructed out of the law, and art confident that thou thyself art a guide of the blind, a light of them that
19 are in darkness,¹⁴ a corrector of the foolish, a teacher of babes, having in the law the form of knowledge and of the 20 truth; thou therefore that teachest another, teachest thou not thyself? thou that preachest a man should not steal, dost thou steal? thou that sayest a man should not commit adultery, dost thou commit adultery? thou that abhorrest
21 idols, dost thou¹⁵ rob temples? thou who gloriest in¹⁶ the law, through thy transgression of the law dishonourest thou
22 God? For the name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles because of you, even as it is written. For circumcision indeed profiteth, if thou be a doer of the law: but if thou be a transgressor of the law, thy circumcision
23 is become uncircumcision. If therefore the uncircumcision keep the ordinances of the law, shall not his uncircumcision be reckoned for circumcision? and shall not the uncircumcision which is by nature, if it fulfil the law, judge thee, who with the letter and circumcision art a transgressor
24 of the law? For he is not a Jew, which is one outwardly; neither is that circumcision, which is outward in the flesh:
25 but he is a Jew, which is one inwardly; and circumcision is that of the heart, in the spirit, not in the letter; whose praise is not of men, but of God.

3 What advantage then hath the Jew? or what is the profit of circumcision?
 2 Much every way: first of all, that they were intrusted with the oracles of God.
 3 For what if some were without faith? shall their want of faith make of none effect the faithfulness of God? ¹God forbid: yea, let God be found true, but every man a liar; as it is written,

That thou mightest be justified in thy words,

And mightest prevail when thou comest into judgement.

5 But if our unrighteousness commendeth the righteousness of God, what shall we say? Is God unrighteous who visiteth with wrath? (I speak after the 6 manner of men.) God forbid: for then 7 how shall God judge the world? ²But if the truth of God through my lie abounded unto his glory, why am I 8 also still judged as a sinner? and why not (as we be slanderously reported, and as some affirm that we say), Let us do evil, that good may come? whose condemnation is just.

9 What then? ³are we in worse case than they? No, in no wise: for we before laid to the charge both of Jews and Greeks, that they are all under 10 sin; as it is written,

There is none righteous, no, not one;

11 There is none that understandeth, There is none that seeketh after God;

12 They have all turned aside, they are together become unprofitable; There is none that doeth good, no, not so much as one:

13 Their throat is an open sepulchre; With their tongues they have used deceit:

The poison of asps is under their lips:

14 Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness:

15 Their feet are swift to shed blood;

16 Destruction and misery are in their ways;

17 And the way of peace have they not known:

18 There is no fear of God before their eyes.

19 Now we know that what things soever the law saith, it speaketh to them that are under the law; that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world may be brought under the 20 judgement of God: because ⁴by the works of the law shall no flesh be ⁵justified in his sight: for ⁶through the law cometh the knowledge of sin.

21 But now apart from the law a righteousness of God hath been manifested, being witnessed by the law

22 and the prophets; even the righteousness of God through faith ⁸in

Jesus Christ unto all ⁹them that believe; for there is no distinction; for all have sinned, and fall short of the 24 glory of God; being justified freely

by his grace through the redemption 25 that is in Christ Jesus: whom God

¹⁰set forth ¹¹to be a propitiation, through ¹²faith, by his blood, to shew his righteousness, because of the passing over of the sins done aforetime,

26 in the forbearance of God; for the shewing, I say, of his righteousness at this present season: that he might himself be ¹³just, and the ¹³justifier of him that ¹⁴hath faith ⁸in Jesus.

27 Where then is the glorying? It is excluded. By what manner of law? of works? Nay: but by a law of faith.

28 ¹⁵We reckon therefore that a man is justified by faith apart from ⁵the works

29 of the law. Or is God the God of Jews only? is he not the God of Gentiles

30 also? Yea, of Gentiles also: if so be that God is one, and he shall justify the circumcision ⁴by faith, and the un-

31 circumcision ¹⁶through faith. Do we then make ¹⁷the law of none effect ¹⁶through faith? God forbid: nay, we establish ¹⁷the law.

4 What then shall we say ¹⁸that Abraham, our forefather according to the

2 flesh, hath found? For if Abraham was justified ⁴by works, he hath where-

3 of to glory; but not toward God. For what saith the scripture? And Abraham believed God, and it was reckon-

4 ed unto him for righteousness. Now to him that worketh, the reward is not reckoned as of grace, but as of debt.

5 But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justificth the un-godly, his faith is reckoned for right-

6 eousness. Even as David also pronounceth blessing upon the man, unto whom God reckoneth righteousness 7 apart from works, saying,

Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven,

And whose sins are covered.

8 Blessed is the man to whom the Lord will not reckon sin.

9 Is this blessing then pronounced upon the circumcision, or upon the uncircumcision also? for we say, To Abraham his faith was reckoned for righteousness. How then was it reckoned? when he was in circumcision, or in uncircumcision? Not in circumcision, but in un-

11 circumcision: and he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had while he was in uncircumcision: that he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be in uncircumcision, that righteousness might be reckoned unto 12 them; and the father of circumcision to them who not only are of the circumcision, but who also walk in the steps of that faith of our father Abraham which 13 he had in uncircumcision. For not

11 eousness of faith. For if they which are of the law be heirs, faith is made void, and the promise is made of none effect: for the law worketh wrath; but where there is no law, neither is there transgression. For this cause it is of faith, that it may be according to grace; to the end that the promise may be sure to all the seed; not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham, who is the father of us all (as it is written, A father of many nations have I made thee) before him whom he believed, even God, who quickeneth the dead, and calleth the things that are not, as though they were. Who in hope believed against hope, to the end that he might become a father of many nations, according to that which had been spoken, So shall thy seed be. And without being weakened in faith he considered his own body now as good as dead (he being about a hundred years old), and the deadness of Sarah's womb: yea, looking unto the promise of God, he wavered not through unbelief, but waxed strong through faith, giving glory to God, and being fully assured that, what he had promised, he was able also to perform. Wherefore also it was reckoned unto him for righteousness.

23 Now it was not written for his sake alone, that it was reckoned unto him; but for our sake also, unto whom it shall be reckoned, who believe on him that raised Jesus our Lord from the dead, and who was delivered up for our trespasses, and was raised for our justification.

5 Being therefore justified ²by faith, ³let us have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ; through whom also we have had our access ⁴by faith into this grace wherein we stand; and ⁵let us ⁶rejoice in hope of the glory of God. And not only so, but ⁷let us also ⁸rejoice in our tribulations: knowing that tribulation worketh patience; and patience, probation; and probation, hope: and hope putteth not to shame; because the love of God hath been shed abroad in our hearts through the ⁹Holy Ghost which was given unto us. For while we were yet weak, in due season Christ died for the ungodly. For scarcely for a righteous man will one die: for peradventure for ⁹the good man some one would even dare to die. But God commendeth his own love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us. Much more then, being now justified ¹⁰by his blood, shall we be saved from the wrath of God through him. For if, while we were enemies, we were reconciled to God through the death of his Son, much more, being reconciled, shall we be saved ¹⁰by his life; and not only so, ¹¹but we also rejoice in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom we have now received the reconciliation.

12 Therefore, as through one man sin entered into the world, and death passed unto all men, for that all sinned:—for until the law sin was in the world: but sin is not imputed when there is no law.

14 Nevertheless death reigned from Adam until Moses, even over them that had not sinned after the likeness of Adam's transgression, who is a figure of him that was to come. But not as the trespass, so also is the free gift. For if by the trespass of the one the many died, much more did the grace of God, and the gift by the grace of the one man, Jesus Christ, abound unto the many.

16 And not as through one that sinned, so is the gift: for the judgement came of one unto condemnation, but the free gift came of many trespasses unto ¹²justification. For if, by the trespass of the one, death reigned through the one; much more shall they that receive the abundance of grace and ¹³of the gift of righteousness reign in life through the one, even Jesus Christ. So then as through one trespass the judgement came unto all men to condemnation; even so through one act of righteousness the free gift came unto all men to justification of life. For as through the one man's disobedience the many were made sinners, even so through the obedience of the one shall the many be made righteous. And ¹⁴the law came in beside, that the trespass might abound; but where sin abounded, grace did ¹⁵abound more exceedingly: that, as sin reigned in death, even so might grace reign through righteousness unto eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

6 What shall we say then? Shall we continue in sin, that grace may abound? God forbid. We who died to sin, how shall we any longer live therein? Or are ye ignorant that all we who were baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into his death? We were buried therefore with him through baptism into death: that like as Christ was raised from the dead through the glory of the Father, so we also might walk in newness of life. For if we have become ¹⁵united with him by the likeness of his death, we shall be also by the likeness of his resurrection; knowing this, that our old man was crucified with him, that the body of sin might be done away, that so we should no longer be in bondage to sin; for he that hath died is justified from sin. But if we died with Christ, we believe that we shall also live with him; knowing that Christ being raised from the dead dieth no more; death no more hath dominion over him. For ¹⁶the death that he died, he died unto sin ¹⁷once: but ¹⁶the life that he liveth, he liveth

12 Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body, that ye should obey the lusts thereof: neither present your members unto sin as ¹instruments of unrighteousness; but present yourselves unto God, as alive from the dead, and your members as ¹instruments of righteousness unto God. For sin shall not have dominion over you: for ye are not under law, but under grace.

15 What then? shall we sin, because we are not under law, but under grace? God forbid. Know ye not, that to whom ye present yourselves as ²servants unto obedience, his ²servants ye are whom ye obey; whether of sin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness? But thanks be to God, ³that, whereas ye were ²servants of sin, ye became obedient from the heart to that ⁴form of teaching whereunto ye were delivered;

18 and being made free from sin, ye became ²servants of righteousness. I speak after the manner of men because of the infirmity of your flesh: for as ye presented your members as servants to uncleanness and to iniquity unto iniquity, even so now present your members as servants to righteousness unto

20 sanctification. For when ye were ²servants of sin, ye were free in regard of righteousness. What fruit then had ye at that time in the things whereof ye are now ashamed? for the end of those things is death. But now being made free from sin, and become servants to God, ye have your fruit unto sanctification, and the end eternal life. For the wages of sin is death; but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord.

7 Or are ye ignorant, brethren (for I speak to men that know ⁵the law), how that the law hath dominion over a man for so long time as he liveth?

2 For the woman that hath a husband is bound by law to the husband while he liveth; but if the husband die, she is discharged from the law of the husband.

3 So then if, while the husband liveth, she be joined to another man, she shall be called an adulteress: but if the husband die, she is free from the law, so that she is no adulteress, though she be joined to another man. Wherefore, my brethren, ye also were made dead to the law through the body of Christ; that ye should be joined to another, even to him who was raised from the dead, that we might bring

5 forth fruit unto God. For when we were in the flesh, the ⁶sinful passions, which were through the law, wrought in our members to bring forth fruit unto death. But now we have been discharged from the law, having died to that wherein we were holden; so that we serve in newness of the spirit, and not in oldness of the letter.

7 What shall we say then? Is the law sin? God forbid. Howbeit, I had not known sin, except through ⁵the law: for I had not known ⁷coveting, except the law had said, Thou shalt not ⁷covet: 8 but sin, finding occasion, wrought in me through the commandment all manner of ⁷coveting: for apart from ⁵the law sin is dead. And I was alive apart from ⁵the law once: but when the commandment came, sin revived, and I died; 10 and the commandment, which was unto life, this I found to be unto death: for sin, finding occasion, through the commandment beguiled me, and through it slew me. So that the law is holy, and the commandment holy, and righteous, 13 and good. Did then that which is good become death unto me? God forbid. But sin, that it might be shewn to be sin, by working death to me through that which is good;—that through the commandment sin might become exceeding sinful. For we know that the law is spiritual: but I am carnal, sold under sin. For that which I ⁸do I know not: for not what I would, that do I practise; but what I hate, that I do. 16 But if what I would not, that I do, I consent unto the law that it is good. So now it is no more I that ⁸do it, but sin which dwelleth in me. For I know that in me, that is, in my flesh, dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with me, but to ⁸do that which is good is not.

19 For the good which I would I do not: but the evil which I would not, that I do, it is no more I that ⁸do it, but sin which dwelleth in me. I find then ⁹the law, that, to me who would do good, evil is present. For I delight ¹⁰in the law of God after the inward man: but I see a different law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity ¹¹under the law of sin which is in my members. O wretched man that I am! who shall deliver me out of ¹²the body of this death? ¹³I thank God through Jesus Christ our Lord. So then I myself with the mind serve the law of God; but with the flesh the law of sin.

8 There is therefore now no condemnation to them that are in Christ Jesus. 2 For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus made me free from the law of sin and of death. For what the law could not do, ¹⁴in that it was weak through the flesh, God, sending his own Son in the likeness of ¹⁵sinful flesh ¹⁶and as an offering for sin, condemned sin in the flesh: 4 that the ¹⁷ordinance of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not after the flesh, but after the spirit. of the flesh; but they that are after the 6 spirit the things of the spirit. For the mind of the flesh is death; but the mind 7 of the spirit is life and peace: because the mind of the flesh is enmity against God; for it is not subject to the law of 8 God, neither indeed can it be: and they that are in the flesh cannot please God. 9 But ye are not in the flesh, but in the spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you. But if any man hath not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of 10 his. And if Christ is in you, the body is dead because of sin; but the spirit is 11 life because of righteousness. But if the Spirit of him that raised up Jesus from the dead dwelleth in you, he that raised up Christ Jesus from the dead shall quicken also your mortal bodies 12 through his Spirit that dwelleth in you. 13 So then, brethren, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live after the flesh: for if ye live after the flesh, ye must die; but if by the spirit ye 2 mortify the 14 deeds of the body, ye shall live. For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, 15 these are sons of God. For ye received not the spirit of bondage again unto fear; but ye received the spirit of adoption, whereby we cry, Abba, Father. 16 The Spirit himself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are children of God: 17 and if children, then heirs; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ; if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified with him. 18 For I reckon that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall 19 be revealed to us-ward. For the earnest expectation of the creation waiteth for the revealing of the sons of God. 20 For the creation was subjected to vanity, not of its own will, but by reason 21 of him who subjected it, 4 in hope that the creation itself also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the liberty of the glory of the children 22 of God. For we know that the whole creation groaneth and travaileth in 23 pain 5 together until now. And not only so, but ourselves also, which have the firstfruits of the Spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for our adoption, to wit, the 24 redemption of our body. For by hope were we saved: but hope that is seen is not hope: 6 for who 7 hopeth for 25 that which he seeth? But if we hope for that which we see not, then do we with patience wait for it. 26 And in like manner the Spirit also helpeth our infirmity: for we know not how to pray as we ought; but the Spirit himself maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered; and he that searcheth the hearts knoweth what is the mind of the Spirit, 8 because he maketh intercession for the saints according to the 28 will of God. And we know that to them that love God 9 all things work together for good, even to them that are called according to his purpose. 29 For whom he foreknew, he also fore-ordained to be conformed to the image of his Son, that he might be the first- 30 born among many brethren: and whom he foreordained, them he also called: and whom he called, them he also justified: and whom he justified, them he also glorified. 31 What then shall we say to these things? If God is for us, who is against 32 us? He that spared not his own Son, but delivered him up for us all, how shall he not also with him freely give us all 33 things? Who shall lay anything to the charge of God's elect? 10 It is God that 34 justifieth; who is he that shall condemn? 11 It is Christ Jesus that died, yea rather, that was raised from the dead, who is at the right hand of God, who 35 also maketh intercession for us. Who shall separate us from the love 12 of Christ? shall tribulation, or anguish, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or 36 peril, or sword? Even as it is written, For thy sake we are killed all the day long;

We were accounted as sheep for the slaughter.

37 Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerors through him that 38 loved us. For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor things present, nor 39 things to come, nor powers, nor height, nor depth, nor any other 13 creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord. 9 I say the truth in Christ, I lie not, my conscience bearing witness with me in 2 the Holy Ghost, that I have great sorrow and unceasing pain in my heart. 3 For I could 14 wish that I myself were anathema from Christ for my brethren's sake, my kinsmen according to the flesh: 4 who are Israelites; whose is the adoption, and the glory, and the covenants, and the giving of the law, and the service 5 of God, and the promises; whose are the fathers, and of whom is Christ as concerning the flesh, 15 who is over all, God 6 blessed 16 for ever. Amen. But it is not as though the word of God hath come to nought. For they are not all Israel, 7 which are of Israel: neither, because they are Abraham's seed, are they all children: but, In Isaac shall thy seed 8 be called. That is, it is not the children of the flesh that are children of God; but the children of the promise are 9 reckoned for a seed. For this is a word of promise, According to this season will I come, and Sarah shall have 10 a son. And not only so; but Rebecca also having conceived by one, even 25 Gentiles? As he saith also in Hosea,

I will call that my people, which was not my people;
And her beloved, which was not beloved.
26 And it shall be, that in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people,
There shall they be called sons of the living God.
27 And Isaiah crieth concerning Israel, If the number of the children of Israel be as the sand of the sea, it is the remnant that shall be saved: for the Lord will execute his word upon the earth,
29 finishing it and cutting it short. And, as Isaiah hath said before,
Except the Lord of Sabaoth had left us a seed,
We had become as Sodom, and had been made like unto Gomorrah.
30 What shall we say then? That the Gentiles, which followed not after righteousness, attained to righteousness, even the righteousness which is 31 of faith: but Israel, following after a law of righteousness, did not arrive at 32 that law. Wherefore? ²Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by works. They stumbled at the stone 33 of stumbling; even as it is written,

Behold, I lay in Zion a stone of stumbling and a rock of offence:
And he that believeth on ³him shall not be put to shame.
10 Brethren, my heart's ⁴desire and my supplication to God is for them, that
2 they may be saved. For I bear them witness that they have a zeal for God, 3 but not according to knowledge. For being ignorant of God's righteousness, and seeking to establish their own, they did not subject themselves to the righteousness of God. For Christ is the end of the law unto righteousness to every 5 one that believeth. For Moses writeth that the man that doeth the righteousness which is of the law shall live
6 thereby. But the righteousness which is of faith saith thus, Say not in thy heart, Who shall ascend into heaven?
7 (that is, to bring Christ down: or, Who shall descend into the abyss? (that is, to bring Christ up from the dead.)
8 But what saith it? The word is nigh thee, in thy mouth, and in thy heart: that is, the word of faith, which we 9 preach: ⁵because if thou shalt ⁶confess with thy mouth Jesus as Lord, and shalt believe in thy heart that God raised him from the dead, thou shalt be 10 saved: for with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth
11 confession is made unto salvation. For the scripture saith, Whosoever believeth on him shall not be put to shame.
12 For there is no distinction between Jew and Greek: for the same Lord is Lord of all, and is rich unto all that call upon 13 him: for, Whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved.
14 How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe in him whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear without a preacher? and how shall they preach, except they be sent? even as it is written, How beautiful are the feet of them that bring ⁷glad tidings of good things!
16 But they did not all hearken to the ⁸glad tidings. For Isaiah saith, Lord, who hath believed our report? So belief cometh of hearing, and hearing 18 by the word of Christ. But I say, Did they not hear? Yea, verily, Their sound went out into all the earth,
And their words unto the ends of 9 the world.
19 But I say, Did Israel not know? First Moses saith,
I will provoke you to jealousy with that which is no nation,
With a nation void of understanding will I anger you.
20 And Isaiah is very bold, and saith,
I was found of them that sought me not;

9 Gr, the inhabit- ed earth.

1 Some ancient authorities omit and.

2 Or, Because, doing it not by faith, but as it were by works, they stumbled

I became manifest unto them that asked not of me.

21 But as to Israel he saith, All the day long did I spread out my hands unto a disobedient and gainsaying people.

11 I say then, Did God cast off his people? God forbid. For I also am an Israelite, of the seed of Abraham, of

2 the tribe of Benjamin. God did not cast off his people which he foreknew.

Or wot ye not what the scripture saith ¹ of Elijah? how he pleadeth with God

3 against Israel, Lord, they have killed thy prophets, they have digged down thine altars: and I am left alone, and

4 they seek my life. But what saith the answer of God unto him? I have left for myself seven thousand men, who have not bowed the knee to Baal.

5 Even so then at this present time also there is a remnant according to the

6 election of grace. But if it is by grace, it is no more of works: otherwise grace

7 is no more grace. What then? That which Israel seeketh for, that he obtained not; but the election obtained it,

8 and the rest were hardened: according as it is written, God gave them a spirit of stupor, eyes that they should not see, and ears that they should not hear, un-

9 to this very day. And David saith, Let their table be made a snare, and a trap, And a stumblingblock, and a recompense unto them:

10 Let their eyes be darkened, that they may not see,

And bow thou down their back alway.

11 I say then, Did they stumble that they might fall? God forbid: but by their ²fall salvation is come unto the Gentiles, for to provoke them to jealousy.

12 Now if their fall is the riches of the world, and their loss the riches of the Gentiles; how much more their fullness?

13 But I speak to you that are Gentiles. Inasmuch then as I am an apostle of 14 Gentiles, I glorify my ministry: if by any means I may provoke to jealousy them that are my flesh, and may save some of them. For if the casting away

15 of them is the reconciling of the world, what shall the receiving of them be, and

16 life from the dead? And if the first-fruit is holy, so is the lump: and if the 17 root is holy, so are the branches. But if some of the branches were broken off, and thou, being a wild olive, wast grafted in among them, and didst be-

18 come partaker with them ³ of the root of the fatness of the olive tree; glory not over the branches: but if thou gloriest, it is not thou that bearest the 19 root, but the root thee. Thou wilt say then, Branches were broken off, that 20 I might be grafted in. Well; by their unbelief they were broken off, and thou standest by thy faith. Be not high-

21 minded, but fear: for if God spared not the natural branches, neither will he

22 spare thee. Behold then the goodness and severity of God: toward them that fell, severity; but toward thee, God's goodness, if thou continue in his goodness: otherwise thou also shalt be cut

23 off. And they also, if they continue not in their unbelief, shall be grafted in: for God is able to graft them in 24 again. For if thou wast cut out of that which is by nature a wild olive tree, and wast grafted contrary to nature into a good olive tree: how much more shall these, which are the natural branches, be grafted into their own olive tree?

25 For I would not, brethren, have you ignorant of this mystery, lest ye be wise in your own conceits, that a hardening in part hath befallen Israel, until the fullness of the Gentiles be come

26 in; and so all Israel shall be saved: even as it is written,

There shall come out of Zion the Deliverer;

He shall turn away ⁴ ungodliness from Jacob:

27 And this is ⁵ my covenant unto them, When I shall take away their sins.

28 As touching the gospel, they are enemies for your sake: but as touching the election, they are beloved for the 29 fathers' sake. For the gifts and the calling of God are ⁶ without repentance.

30 For as ye in time past were disobedient to God, but now have obtained mercy

31 by their disobedience, even so have these also now been disobedient, that by the mercy shewn to you they also 32 may now obtain mercy. For God hath shut up all unto disobedience, that he might have mercy upon all.

33 O the depth ⁷ of the riches ⁸ both of the wisdom and the knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgements,

34 and his ways past tracing out! For who hath known the mind of the Lord?

35 or who hath been his counsellor? or who hath first given to him, and it shall be recompensed unto him again?

36 For of him, and through him, and unto him, are all things. To him be the glory ⁹ for ever. Amen.

12 I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, to present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, ¹⁰ acceptable to God, which is your ¹¹ reason-

2 able ¹² service. And be not fashioned according to this ¹³ world; but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is ¹⁴ the good and ¹⁰ acceptable and perfect will of God.

among you, not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think; but so to think as to think soberly,

4 man a measure of faith. For even as we have many members in one body,
and all the members have not the same 5 office: so we, who are many, are one body in Christ, and severally members 6 one of another. And having gifts differing according to the grace that was given to us, whether prophecy, let us

8 eth, to his teaching; or he that exhort-eth, to his exhorting: he that giveth, let him do it with ²liberality; he that ruleth, with diligence; he that sheweth 9 mercy, with cheerfulness. Let love be without hypocrisy. Abhor that which is evil; cleave to that which is good.

10 In love of the brethren be tenderly affectioned one to another; in honour 11 preferring one another; in diligence not slothful; fervent in spirit; serving ³the 12 Lord; rejoicing in hope; patient in tribulation; continuing stedfastly in 13 prayer; communicating to the necessities of the saints; ⁴given to hospitality.

14 Bless them that persecute you; bless,
15 and curse not. Rejoice with them that 16 rejoice; weep with them that weep. Be of the same mind one toward another.
Set not your mind on high things, but ⁵condescend to ⁶things that are lowly.

Be not wise in your own conceits.
17 Render to no man evil for evil. Take thought for things honourable in the 18 sight of all men. If it be possible, as much as in you lieth, be at peace with 19 all men. Avenge not yourselves, beloved, but give place unto ⁷wrath: for it is written, Vengeance belongeth unto me; I will recompense, saith the 20 Lord. But if thine enemy hunger, feed him; if he thirst, give him to drink: for in so doing thou shalt heap coals of fire 21 upon his head. Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good.

13 Let every soul be in subjection to the higher powers: for there is no power but of God; and the powers that be are 2 ordained of God. Therefore he that resisteth the power, withstandeth the ordinance of God; and they that withstand shall receive to themselves judge-3 ment. For rulers are not a terror to the good work, but to the evil. And wouldst thou have no fear of the power? do that which is good, and thou shalt have praise from the same:

4 for ⁸he is a minister of God to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid; for ⁸he beareth not the sword in vain: for ⁸he is a minister of God, an avenger for wrath to him that 5 doeth evil. Wherefore ye must needs be in subjection, not only because of the wrath, but also for conscience sake.
6 For this cause ye pay tribute also;
for they are ministers of God's service, attending continually upon this very 7 thing. Render to all their dues: tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom; fear to whom fear;

honour to whom honour.

8 Owe no man anything, save to love one another: for he that loveth ⁹his neighbour hath fulfilled ¹⁰the law. For this,
Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not covet, and if there be any other commandment, it is summed up in this word, namely, Thou shalt love thy 10 neighbour as thyself. Love worketh no ill to his neighbour: love therefore is the fulfilment of ¹⁰the law.

11 And this, knowing the season, that now it is high time for you to awake out of sleep: for now is ¹¹salvation nearer to us than when we first believed.

12 The night is far spent, and the day is at hand: let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the 13 armour of light. Let us walk honestly, as in the day; not in revelling and drunkenness, not in chambering and wantonness, not in strife and jealousy.
14 But put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make not provision for the flesh, to fulfil the lusts thereof.

14 But him that is weak in faith receive ye, yet not ¹²to doubtful disputations.

2 One man hath faith to eat all things:
3 but he that is weak eateth herbs. Let not him that eateth set at nought him that eateth not; and let not him that eateth not judge him that eateth:

4 for God hath received him. Who art thou that judgest the ¹³servant of another? to his own lord he standeth or falleth. Yea, he shall be made to stand; for the Lord hath power to 5 make him stand. One man esteemeth one day above another: another esteem-eth every day alike. Let each man be 6 fully assured in his own mind. He that regardeth the day, regardeth it unto the Lord: and he that eateth, eateth unto the Lord, for he giveth God thanks; and he that eateth not, unto the Lord he eateth not, and giveth God 7 thanks. For none of us liveth to himself, and none dieth to himself. For whether we live, we live unto the Lord;

or whether we die, we die unto the Lord: whether we live therefore, or 9 die, we are the Lord's. For to this end Christ died, and lived again, that he might be Lord of both the dead and 10 the living. But thou, why dost thou judge thy brother? or thou again, why dost thou set at nought thy brother?
for we shall all stand before the 11 judgement-seat of God. For it is written,

As I live, saith the Lord, to me

12 So then each one of us shall give account of himself to God.
 13 Let us not therefore judge one another any more: but judge ye this rather, that no man put a stumbling-block in his brother's way, or an occasion of falling. I know, and am persuaded in the Lord Jesus, that nothing is unclean of itself: save that to him who accounteth anything to be unclean, 15 to him it is unclean. For if because of meat thy brother is grieved, thou walkest no longer in love. Destroy not with thy meat him for whom Christ died.
 16 Let not then your good be evil spoken of: for the kingdom of God is not eating and drinking, but righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Ghost.
 18 For he that herein serveth Christ is well-pleasing to God, and approved 19 of men. So then ¹let us follow after things which make for peace, and things whereby we may edify one another. Overthrow not for meat's sake the work of God. All things indeed are clean; howbeit it is evil for that man 21 who eateth with offence. It is good not to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor to do anything whereby thy brother stumbleth². The faith which thou hast, have thou to thyself before God. Happy is he that judgeth not himself in that which he ³approveth.
 23 But he that doubteth is condemned if he eat, because he eateth not of faith; and whatsoever is not of faith is sin.⁴
 15 Now we that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and 2 not to please ourselves. Let each one of us please his neighbour for that 3 which is good, unto edifying. For Christ also pleased not himself; but, as it is written, The reproaches of them 4 that reproached thee fell upon me. For whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that through patience and through comfort of the scriptures we might 5 have hope. Now the God of patience and of comfort grant you to be of the same mind one with another according 6 to Christ Jesus: that with one accord ye may with one mouth glorify the God and Father of our Lord Jesus 7 Christ. Wherefore receive ye one another, even as Christ also received 8⁵ you, to the glory of God. For I say that Christ hath been made a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, that he might confirm the promises given unto the fathers, and that the Gentiles might glorify God for his mercy; as it is written, Therefore will I ⁶give praise unto thee among the Gentiles,
 And sing unto thy name.
 10 And again he saith,
 Rejoice, ye Gentiles, with his people

11 And again,
 Praise the Lord, all ye Gentiles;
 And let all the peoples praise him.
 12 And again, Isaiah saith,
 There shall be the root of Jesse,
 And he that ariseth to rule over the Gentiles;
 On him shall the Gentiles hope.
 13 Now the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, that ye may abound in hope, in the power of the Holy Ghost.
 14 And I myself also am persuaded of you, my brethren, that ye yourselves are full of goodness, filled with all knowledge, 15 able also to admonish one another. But I write the more boldly unto you in some measure, as putting you again in remembrance, because of the grace that 16 was given me of God, that I should be a minister of Christ Jesus unto the Gentiles, ⁷ministering the gospel of God, that the offering up of the Gentiles might be made acceptable, being sanctified by the Holy Ghost. I have therefore my glorying in Christ Jesus in things 18 pertaining to God. For I will not dare to speak of any ⁸things save those which Christ wrought through me, for the obedience of the Gentiles, by word and 19 deed, in the power of signs and wonders, in the power of ⁹the Holy Ghost; so that from Jerusalem, and round about even unto Illyricum, I have ¹⁰fully preached the gospel of Christ; yea, ¹¹making it my aim so to preach the gospel, not where Christ was already named, that I might not build upon another 21 man's foundation; but, as it is written,
 They shall see, to whom no tidings of him came,
 And they who have not heard shall understand.
 22 Wherefore also I was hindered these 23 many times from coming to you: but now, having no more any place in these regions, and having these many years 24 a longing to come unto you, whensoever I go unto Spain (for I hope to see you in my journey, and to be brought on my way thitherward by you, if first in some measure I shall have been satisfied with your company)—but now, I say, I go unto Jerusalem, ministering 26 unto the saints. For it hath been the good pleasure of Macedonia and Achaia to make a certain contribution for the poor among the saints that are at Jerusalem. Yea, it hath been their good pleasure; and their debtors they are. For if the Gentiles have been made partakers of their spiritual things, they owe it to them also to minister unto them in 28 carnal things. When therefore I have accomplished this, and have sealed to them this fruit, I will go on by you unto 29 Spain. And I know that, when I come unto you, I shall come in the fulness of the blessing of Christ.

CORINTHIANS.

1 PAUL, called to be an apostle of Jesus Christ through the will of God, and
 2 Sosthenes ³our brother, unto the church of God which is at Corinth, even them that are sanctified in Christ Jesus, called to be saints, with all that call upon the name of our Lord Jesus Christ in every place, their Lord
 3 and ours: Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.
 4 I thank ²my God always concerning you, for the grace of God which was 5 given you in Christ Jesus; that in everything ye were enriched in him, in all ³utterance and all knowledge; even as the testimony of Christ was 7 confirmed in you: so that ye come behind in no gift; waiting for the revelation of our Lord Jesus Christ; who shall also confirm you unto the end, that ye be unreprouvable in the day of 9 our Lord Jesus Christ. God is faithful, through whom ye were called into the fellowship of his Son Jesus Christ our Lord.

10 Now I beseech you, brethren, through the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you; but that ye be perfected together in the same mind and in the same judgement.

11 For it hath been signified unto me concerning you, my brethren, by them which are of the household of Chloë, that

12 there are contentions among you. Now this I mean, that each one of you saith, I am of Paul; and I of Apollos; and I

13 of Cephas; and I of Christ. ¹Is Christ divided? was Paul crucified for you?

or were ye baptized into the name of 14 Paul? ²I thank God that I baptized none of you, save Crispus and Gaius;

15 lest any man should say that ye were

16 baptized into my name. And I baptized also the household of Stephanas: besides, I know not whether I baptized

17 any other. For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the gospel: not in wisdom of words, lest the cross of Christ should be made void.

18 For the word of the cross is to them that are perishing foolishness; but unto us which are being saved it is the 19 power of God. For it is written,

I will destroy the wisdom of the wise,
And the prudence of the prudent will I reject.

20 Where is the wise? where is the scribe? where is the disputer of this ³world?

hath not God made foolish the wisdom

21 of the world? For seeing that in the wisdom of God the world through its wisdom knew not God, it was God's good pleasure through the foolishness of the ⁴preaching to save them that 22 believe. Seeing that Jews ask for signs, and Greeks seek after wisdom:

23 but we preach ⁵Christ crucified, unto Jews a stumblingblock, and unto Gen-

24 tiles foolishness; but unto ⁶them that are called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ the power of God, and the wisdom of 25 God. Because the foolishness of God is wiser than men; and the weakness of God is stronger than men.

26 For ⁷behold your calling, brethren, how that not many wise after the flesh, not many mighty, not many noble, ⁸are

27 called: but God chose the foolish things of the world, that he might put to shame them that are wise; and God chose the weak things of the world, that he might put to shame the things that are strong;

28 and the base things of the world, and the things that are despised, did God choose, yea ⁹and the things that are not, that he might bring to nought

29 the things that are: that no flesh

30 should glory before God. But of him are ye in Christ Jesus, who was made unto us wisdom from God, ¹⁰and righteousness and sanctification, and re-

31 demption: that, according as it is written, He that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord.

2 And I, brethren, when I came unto you, came not with excellency of ¹¹speech or of wisdom, proclaiming

2 to you the ¹²mystery of God. For I determined not to know anything

among you, save Jesus Christ, and him

3 crucified. And I was with you in weakness, and in fear, and in much

4 trembling. And my ¹¹speech and my ⁴preaching were not in persuasive words of wisdom, but in demonstra-

5 tion of the Spirit and of power: that your faith should not ¹³stand in the wisdom of men, but in the power of God.

6 Howbeit we speak wisdom among the ¹⁴perfect: yet a wisdom not of this

¹⁵world, nor of the rulers of this

¹⁵world, which are coming to nought:

7 but we speak God's wisdom in a mystery, even the wisdom that hath been hidden, which God foreordained before

8 the worlds unto our glory: which none of the rulers of this world knoweth:

for had they known it, they would not

9 have crucified the Lord of glory: but as it is written,

Things which eye saw not, and ear

heard not,

And which entered not into the heart of man,

Whatsoever things God prepared for them that love him.

10 ¹⁶But unto us God revealed ¹⁷*them* through the Spirit: for the Spirit

searcheth all things, yea, the deep

11 things of God. For who among men knoweth the things of a man, save the spirit of the man, which is in him? even so the things of God none know-

12 eth, save the Spirit of God. But we received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are 13 freely given to us by God. Which things also we speak, not in words which man's wisdom teacheth, but which the Spirit teacheth; ¹⁸ ¹⁹comparing spiritual things with spiritual.

14 Now the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him; and he cannot know them, because they are

15 spiritually ²⁰judged. But he that is spiritual ²¹judgeth all things, and he

16 himself is ²⁰judged of no man. For who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he should instruct him? But we have the mind of Christ.

3 And I, brethren, could not speak unto you as unto spiritual, but as unto carnal, as unto babes in Christ. I fed you with milk, not with meat; for ye were not yet able to bear it: nay, not

3 even now are ye able; for ye are yet carnal: for whereas there is among you jealousy and strife, are

ye not carnal, and walk after the manner of men? For when one saith, I am of Paul; and another, I am of Apollos; 5 are ye not men? What then is Apollos? and what is Paul? Ministers through whom ye believed; and each as the 6 Lord gave to him. I planted, Apollos watered; but God gave the increase. 7 So then neither is he that planteth anything, neither he that watereth; but 8 God that giveth the increase. Now he that planteth and he that watereth are one; but each shall receive his own reward according to his own labour. For we are God's fellow-workers: ye are God's husbandry, God's building.

10 According to the grace of God which was given unto me, as a wise master-builder I laid a foundation; and another buildeth thereon. But let each man take heed how he buildeth thereon. For other foundation can no man lay than that which is laid, which is 12 Jesus Christ. But if any man buildeth on the foundation gold, silver, costly 13 stones, wood, hay, stubble; each man's work shall be made manifest: for the day shall declare it, because it is revealed in fire; ²and the fire itself shall prove each man's work of what sort it 14 is. If any man's work shall abide which he built thereon, he shall receive a reward. If any man's work shall be burned, he shall suffer loss: but he himself shall be saved; yet so as through fire.

16 Know ye not that ye are a ³temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth 17 in you? If any man destroyeth the ³temple of God, him shall God destroy; for the ³temple of God is holy, ⁴which temple ye are.

18 Let no man deceive himself. If any man thinketh that he is wise among you in this ⁵world, let him become a 19 fool, that he may become wise. For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God. For it is written, He that taketh 20 the wise in their craftiness: and again, The Lord knoweth the reasonings of the 21 wise, that they are vain. Wherefore let no one glory in men. For all things are 22 yours; whether Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the world, or life, or death, or things present, or things to come; all are 23 yours; and ye are Christ's; and Christ is God's.

4 Let a man so account of us, as of ministers of Christ, and stewards of the 2 mysteries of God. Here, moreover, it is required in stewards, that a man be 3 found faithful. But with me it is a very small thing that I should be ⁶judged of you, or of man's ⁷judgement: yea, I ⁴judge not mine own self. For I know nothing against myself; yet am I not hereby justified: but he that ⁹judgeth 5 me is the Lord. Wherefore judge nothing before the time, until the Lord come, who will both bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and make manifest the counsels of the hearts; and then shall each man have his praise from God.

6 Now these things, brethren, I have in a figure transferred to myself and Apollos for your sakes; that in us ye might learn not to go beyond the things which are written; that no one of you be puffed up for the one against the other. For who maketh thee to differ? and what hast thou that thou didst not receive? but if thou didst receive it, why dost thou glory, as if thou hadst not received it? Already are ye filled, already ye are become rich, ye have reigned without us: yea and I would that ye did reign, 9 that we also might reign with you. For, I think, God hath set forth us the apostles last of all, as men doomed to death: for we are made a spectacle unto the world, ¹⁰and to angels, and to men. 10 We are fools for Christ's sake, but ye are wise in Christ; we are weak, but ye are strong; ye have glory, but we have 11 dishonour. Even unto this present hour we both hunger, and thirst, and are naked, and are buffeted, and have no 12 certain dwellingplace; and we toil, working with our own hands: being reviled, we bless; being persecuted, we 13 endure; being defamed, we intreat: we are made as the ¹¹filth of the world, the offscouring of all things, even until now.

14 I write not these things to shame you, but to admonish you as my beloved 15 children. For though ye should have ten thousand tutors in Christ, yet have ye not many fathers: for in Christ Jesus I begat you through the gospel. 16 I beseech you therefore, be ye imitators 17 of me. For this cause have I sent unto you Timothy, who is my beloved and faithful child in the Lord, who shall put you in remembrance of my ways which be in Christ, even as I teach everywhere in every church. 18 Now some are puffed up, as though I 19 were not coming to you. But I will come to you shortly, if the Lord will; and I will know, not the word of them which are puffed up, but the power. 20 For the kingdom of God is not in 21 word, but in power. What will ye? shall I come unto you with a rod, or in love and a spirit of meekness?

5 It is actually reported that there is fornication among you, and such fornication as is not even among the Gentiles, that one of you hath his father's 2 wife. And ¹²ye are puffed up, and ¹³did not rather mourn, that he that had done this deed might be taken 3 away from among you. For I verily, being absent in body but present in spirit, have already, as though I were present, judged him that hath so 4 wrought this thing, in the name of our Lord Jesus, ye being gathered together, and my spirit, with the power

5 of our Lord Jesus, to deliver such a one unto Satan for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved
6 in the day of the Lord¹ Jesus. Your glorying is not good. Know ye not that a little leaven leaveneth the whole
7 lump? Purge out the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, even as ye are unleavened. For our passover also hath 8 been sacrificed, even Christ: wherefore let us² keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness, but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.

9 I wrote unto you in my epistle to have 10 no company with fornicators; ³not altogether with the fornicators of this world, or with the covetous and extortioners, or with idolaters; for then must 11 ye needs go out of the world: but ⁴now I write unto you not to keep company, if any man that is named a brother be a fornicator, or covetous, or an idolater, or a reviler, or a drunkard, or an extortioner; with such a one no, not to 12 eat. For what have I to do with judging them that are without? Do not ye 13 judge them that are within, whereas them that are without God judgeth? Put away the wicked man from among yourselves.

6 Dare any of you, having a matter against⁵ his neighbour, go to law before the unrighteous, and not before the
2 saints? Or know ye not that the saints shall judge the world? and if the world is judged by you, are ye unworthy⁶ to 3 judge the smallest matters? Know ye not that we shall judge angels? how much more, things that pertain to this 4 life? If then ye have⁷ to judge things pertaining to this life, ⁸do ye set them to judge who are of no account in the 5 church? I say this to move you to shame. Is it so, that there cannot be found among you one wise man, who shall be able to decide between his brethren, 6 then, but brother goeth to law with brother, and that before unbelievers?

7 Nay, already it is altogether⁹ a defect in you, that ye have lawsuits one with another. Why not rather take wrong?
8 why not rather be defrauded? Nay, but ye yourselves do wrong, and defraud, and that your brethren. Or know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived: neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with men, 10 nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners, shall 11 inherit the kingdom of God. And such were some of you: but ye¹⁰ were washed, but ye were sanctified, but ye were justified in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, and in the Spirit of our God.

12 All things are lawful for me; but not all things are expedient. All things are lawful for me; but I will not be brought 13 under the power of any. Meats for the belly, and the belly for meats: but God shall bring to nought both it and them. But the body is not for fornication, but for the Lord; and the Lord for the body:
14 and God both raised the Lord, and will 15 raise up us through his power. Know ye not that your bodies are members of Christ? shall I then take away the members of Christ, and make them
16 members of a harlot? God forbid. Or know ye not that he that is joined to a harlot is one body? for, The twain, saith 17 he, shall become one flesh. But he that is joined unto the Lord is one spirit.
18 Flee fornication. Every sin that a man doeth is without the body; but he that committeth fornication sinneth against 19 his own body. Or know ye not that your body is a¹¹ temple of the¹² Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have from God? and ye are not your own;
20 for ye were bought with a price: glorify God therefore in your body.

7 Now concerning the things whereof ye wrote: It is good for a man not to 2 touch a woman. But, because of fornications, let each man have his own wife, and let each woman have her own husband.
3 Let the husband render unto the wife her due: and likewise also the wife
4 unto the husband. The wife hath not power over her own body, but the husband: and likewise also the husband hath not power over his own body, 5 but the wife. Defraud ye not one the other, except it be by consent for a season, that ye may give yourselves unto prayer, and may be together again, that Satan tempt you not because
6 of your incontinency. But this I say by way of permission, not of command-
7 ment. ¹³Yet I would that all men were even as I myself. Howbeit each man hath his own gift from God, one after this manner, and another after that.

8 But I say to the unmarried and to widows, It is good for them if they 9 abide even as I. But if they have not continency, let them marry: for it is better to marry than to burn.
10 But unto the married I give charge, yea not I, but the Lord, That the wife
11 depart not from her husband (but and if she depart, let her remain unmarried, or else be reconciled to her husband); and that the husband leave 12 not his wife. But to the rest say I, not the Lord: If any brother hath an unbelieving wife, and she is content to dwell with him, let him not 13 leave her. And the woman which hath an unbelieving husband, and he is content to dwell with her, let her not 14 leave her husband. For the unbelieving husband is sanctified in the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified

 in the brother: else were your children 15 unclean; but now are they holy. Yet if the unbelieving departeth, let him depart: the brother or the sister is not under bondage in such cases: but 16 God hath called ¹us in peace. For how knowest thou, O wife, whether thou shalt save thy husband? or how know-est thou, O husband, whether thou 17 shalt save thy wife? Only, as the Lord hath distributed to each man, as God hath called each, so let him walk. And 18 so ordain I in all the churches. Was any man called being circumcised? let him not become uncircumcised. Hath any been called in uncircumcision?
 19 let him not be circumcised. Circumcision is nothing, and uncircumcision is nothing; but the keeping of the 20 commandments of God. Let each man abide in that calling wherein he 21 was called. Wast thou called being a bondservant? care not for it: ²but
 if thou canst become free, use it rather.
 22 For he that was called in the Lord, being a bondservant, is the Lord's freedman: likewise he that was called,
 being free, is Christ's bondservant.
 23 Ye were bought with a price; become 24 not bondservants of men. Brethren, let each man, wherein he was called,
 therein abide with God.
 25 Now concerning virgins I have no commandment of the Lord: but I give my judgement, as one that hath obtain-26 ed mercy of the Lord to be faithful. I think therefore that this is good by reason of the present distress, namely, that it is good for a man ³to be as he 27 is. Art thou bound unto a wife? seek not to be loosed. Art thou loosed from 28 a wife? seek not a wife. But and if thou marry, thou hast not sinned; and if a virgin marry, she hath not sinned.
 Yet such shall have tribulation in the 29 flesh: and I would spare you. But this I say, brethren, the time ⁴is shortened, that henceforth both those that have wives may be as though they had none; 30 and those that weep, as though they wept not; and those that rejoice, as though they rejoiced not; and those that buy, as though they possessed not;
 31 and those that use the world, as not ⁵abusing it: for the fashion of this 32 world passeth away. But I would have you to be free from cares. He that is unmarried is careful for the things of the Lord, how he may please the 33 Lord: but he that is married is careful for the things of the world, how he may 34 please his ⁶wife. And there is a difference also between the wife and the virgin. She that is unmarried is careful for the things of the Lord, that she may be holy both in body and in spirit:

 but she that is married is careful for the things of the world, how she may 35 please her husband. And this I say for your own profit; not that I may east a ⁷snare upon you, but for that which is seemly, and that ye may attend upon the Lord without distrac-36 tion. But if any man thinketh that he behaveth himself unseemly toward his ⁸virgin daughter, if she be past the flower of her age, and if need so requireth, let him do what he will; he 37 sinneth not; let them marry. But he that standeth stedfast in his heart, having no necessity, but hath power as touching his own will, and hath determined this in his own heart, to keep his own ⁸virgin daughter, shall do well.
 38 So then both he that giveth his own ⁸virgin daughter in marriage doeth well; and he that giveth her not in mar-39 riage shall do better. A wife is bound for so long time as her husband liveth;
 but if the husband be ⁹dead, she is free to be married to whom she will; only 40 in the Lord. But she is happier if she abide as she is, after my judgement:
 and I think that I also have the Spirit of God.
 8 Now concerning things sacrificed to idols: We know that we all have knowledge. Knowledge puffeth up, but love 2 ¹⁰edifieth. If any man thinketh that he knoweth anything, he knoweth not 3 yet as he ought to know; but if any man loveth God, the same is known of 4 him. Concerning therefore the eating of things sacrificed to idols, we know that no idol is anything in the world, 5 and that there is no God but one. For though there be that are called gods, whether in heaven or on earth; as there 6 are gods many, and lords many; yet to us there is one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we unto him; and one Lord, Jesus Christ, through whom are all things, and we through him.
 7 Howbeit in all men there is not that knowledge: but some, being used until now to the idol, eat as of a thing sacrificed to an idol; and their conscience 8 being weak is defiled. But meat will not commend us to God: neither, if we eat not, ¹¹are we the worse; nor, if we 9 eat, ¹²are we the better. But take heed lest by any means this ¹³liberty of yours become a stumblingblock to the 10 weak. For if a man see thee which hast knowledge sitting at meat in an idol's temple, will not his conscience, if he is weak, ¹⁴be emboldened to eat things sac-11 rificed to idols? For ¹⁵through thy knowledge he that is weak perisheth, the bro-12 ther for whose sake Christ died. And thus, sinning against the brethren, and wounding their conscience when it is 13 weak, ye sin against Christ. Wherefore, if meat maketh my brother to stumble, I will eat no flesh for evermore, that I make not my brother to stumble.

9 Am I not free? am I not an apostle? have I not seen Jesus our Lord? are not 2 ye my work in the Lord? If to others I am not an apostle, yet at least I am to you: for the seal of mine apostleship 3 are ye in the Lord. My defence to them 4 that examine me is this. Have we no 5 right to eat and to drink? Have we no right to lead about a wife that is a ¹believer, even as the rest of the apostles, and the brethren of the Lord, and 6 Cephas? Or I only and Barnabas, have we not a right to forbear working? 7 What soldier ever serveth at his own charges? who planteth a vineyard, and eateth not the fruit thereof? or who feedeth a flock, and eateth not of the 8 milk of the flock? Do I speak these things after the manner of men? or 9 saith not the law also the same? For it is written in the law of Moses, Thou shalt not muzzle the ox when he treadeth out the corn. Is it for the oxen 10 that God careth, or ²saith he it altogether for our sake? Yea, for our sake it was written: because he that ploweth ought to plow in hope, and he that thresheth, to thresh in hope of partake 11 ing. If we sowed unto you spiritual things, is it a great matter if we shall 12 reap your carnal things? If others partake of this right over you, do not we yet more? Nevertheless we did not use this right; but we hear all things, that we may cause no hindrance to the 13 gospel of Christ. Know ye not that they which minister about sacred things eat of the things of the temple, and they which wait upon the altar have their 14 portion with the altar? Even so did the Lord ordain that they which proclaim the gospel should live of the gospel. 15 But I have used none of these things: and I write not these things that it may be so done in my case: for it were good for me rather to die, than that any man 16 should make my glorying void. For if I preach the gospel, I have nothing to glory of; for necessity is laid upon me; for woe is unto me, if I preach not 17 the gospel. For if I do this of mine own will, I have a reward: but if not of mine own will, I have a stewardship intrusted 18 to me. What then is my reward? That, when I preach the gospel, I may make the gospel without charge, so as not to use to the full my right in the gospel. 19 For though I was free from all men, I brought myself under bondage to all, 20 that I might gain the more. And to the Jews I became as a Jew, that I might gain Jews; to them that are under the law, as under the law, not being myself under the law, that I might gain them that are under the 21 law; to them that are without law, as without law, not being without law to God, but under law to Christ, that I might gain them that are without 22 law. To the weak I became weak, that I might gain the weak: I am become all things to all men, that I may by all 23 means save some. And I do all things for the gospel's sake, that I may be a 24 joint partaker thereof. Know ye not that they which run in a ³race run all, but one receiveth the prize? Even so 25 run, that ye may attain. And every man that striveth in the games is temperate in all things. Now they do it to receive a corruptible crown; but 26 we an incorruptible. I therefore so run, as not uncertainly; so ⁴fight I, 27 as not beating the air: but I ⁵buffet my body, and bring it into bondage: lest by any means, after that I have preached to others, I myself should be rejected.

10 For I would not, brethren, have you ignorant, how that our fathers were all under the cloud, and all passed 2 through the sea; and were all baptized ⁶unto Moses in the cloud and in 3 the sea; and did all eat the same 4 spiritual meat; and did all drink the same spiritual drink: for they drank of a spiritual rock that followed them: and 5 the rock was Christ. Howbeit with most of them God was not well pleased: for they were overthrown in the wilderness. 6 Now ⁷these things were our examples, to the intent we should not lust after 7 evil things, as they also lusted. Neither be ye idolaters, as were some of them; as it is written, The people sat down to eat and drink, and rose up to play. 8 Neither let us commit fornication, as some of them committed, and fell in one day three and twenty thousand. 9 Neither let us tempt the ⁸Lord, as some of them tempted, and perished by the 10 serpents. Neither murmur ye, as some of them murmured, and perished 11 by the destroyer. Now these things happened unto them ⁹by way of example; and they were written for our admonition, upon whom the ends 12 of the ages are come. Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth 13 take heed lest he fall. There hath no temptation taken you but such as man can bear: but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation make also the way of escape, that ye may be able to endure it.

14 Wherefore, my beloved, flee from 15 idolatry. I speak as to wise men; 16 judge ye what I say. The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not a ¹⁰communion of the blood of Christ? The ¹¹bread which we break, is it not a ¹⁰communion of the body of Christ? 17 ¹²seeing that we, who are many, are one ¹¹bread, one body: for we all partake ¹³of

But I say, that the things which the Gentiles sacrifice, they sacrifice to ² devils, and not to God : and I would not that ye should have communion with ² devils. Ye cannot drink the cup of the Lord, and the cup of ² devils : ye cannot partake of the table of the Lord, and of the table of ² devils.

28 But if any man say unto you, This hath been offered in sacrifice, eat not, for his sake that shewed it, and for conscience sake : conscience, I say, not thine own, but the other's ; for why is my liberty judged by another conscience ? ⁴ If I by grace partake, why am I evil spoken of for that for which I give thanks ? Whether therefore ye eat, or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God. Give no occasion of stumbling, either to Jews, or to Greeks, or to the church of God : even as I also please all men in all things, not seeking mine own profit, but the profit of the many, that they may be saved. 3 But I would have you know, that the head of every man is Christ ; and the head of the woman is the man ; and the head of Christ is God. Every man praying or prophesying, having his head covered, dishonoureth his head.

5 But every woman praying or prophesying with her head unveiled dishonoureth her head : for it is one and the same thing as if she were shaven. For if a woman is not veiled, let her also be shorn : but if it is a shame to a woman to be shorn or shaven, let her be veiled.

7 For a man indeed ought not to have his head veiled, forasmuch as he is the image and glory of God : but the woman is the glory of the man. For the man is not of the woman ; but the woman of the man : for neither was the man created for the woman ; but the woman for the man : for this cause ought the woman to ⁵ have a sign of authority on her head, because of the angels. Howbeit neither is the woman without the man, nor the man without the woman, in the Lord. For as the woman is of the man, so is the man also by the woman ; but all things are of God. Judge ye ⁶ in yourselves : is it seemly that a woman pray unto God unveiled ? Doth not even nature itself teach you, that, if a man have long hair, it is a dishonour to him ? But if a woman have long hair, it is a glory to her : for her hair is given her for a covering. But if any man seemeth to be contentious, we have no such custom, neither the churches of God.

17 But in giving you this charge, I praise you not, that ye come together not for the better but for the worse. For first of all, when ye come together ⁷ in the church, I hear that ⁸ divisions exist among you ; and I partly believe it.

19 For there must be also ⁹ heresies among you, that they which are approved may be made manifest among you. When therefore ye assemble yourselves together, it is not possible to eat the Lord's supper : for in your eating each one taketh before other his own supper ; and one is hungry, and another is drunken.

22 What ? have ye not houses to eat and to drink in ? or despise ye the ¹⁰ church of God, and put them to shame that ¹¹ have not ? What shall I say to you ? ¹² shall I praise you in this ? I praise you not. For I received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, how that the Lord Jesus in the night in which he was betrayed took bread ; and when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, This is my body, which ¹³ is for you : this do in remembrance of me.

25 In like manner also the cup, after supper, saying, This cup is the new ¹⁴ covenant in my blood : this do, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me. For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink the cup, ye proclaim the Lord's death till he come. Wherefore whosoever shall eat the bread or drink the cup of the Lord unworthily, shall be guilty of the body and the blood of the Lord.

28 But let a man prove himself, and so let him eat of the bread, and drink of the cup. For he that eateth and drinketh, eateth and drinketh judgement unto himself, if he ¹⁵ discern not the body.

30 For this cause many among you are weak and sickly, and not a few sleep.

31 But if we ¹⁶ discerned ourselves, we should not be judged. But ¹⁷ when we are judged, we are chastened of the Lord, that we may not be condemned with the world. Wherefore, my brethren, when ye come together to eat, wait one for another. If any man is hungry, let him eat at home ; that your coming together be not unto judgement. And 12 Now concerning spiritual gifts, brethren, I would not have you ignorant.

2 Ye know that when ye were Gentiles ye were led away unto those dumb idols, howsoever ye might be led.

3 Wherefore I give you to understand, that no man speaking in the Spirit of God saith, Jesus is anathema; and no man can say, Jesus is Lord, but in the Holy Spirit.

4 Now there are diversities of gifts, but 5 the same Spirit. And there are diversities of ministrations, and the same

6 Lord. And there are diversities of workings, but the same God, who work-

7 eth all things in all. But to each one is given the manifestation of the Spirit

8 to profit withal. For to one is given through the Spirit the word of wisdom; and to another the word of knowledge,

9 according to the same Spirit: to another faith, in the same Spirit; and to another

10 gifts of healings, in the one Spirit; and to another workings of ¹miracles; and to another prophecy; and to another

discernings of spirits: to another divers kinds of tongues; and to another the 11 interpretation of tongues: but all these worketh the one and the same Spirit, dividing to each one severally even as he will.

12 For as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of the body, being many, are one body; so also 13 is Christ. For in one Spirit were we all baptized into one body, whether Jews or Greeks, whether bond or free; and were all made to drink of one Spirit.

14 For the body is not one member, but 15 many. If the foot shall say, Because I am not the hand, I am not of the body; it is not therefore not of the body.

16 And if the ear shall say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body; it

17 is not therefore not of the body. If the whole body were an eye, where were the hearing? If the whole were hearing, 18 where were the smelling? But now hath God set the members each one of them in the body, even as it pleased him.

19 And if they were all one member, where 20 were the body? But now they are 21 many members, but one body. And the eye cannot say to the hand, I have no need of thee: or again the head to the

22 feet, I have no need of you. Nay, much rather, those members of the body which seem to be more feeble are ne-

23 cessary: and those parts of the body, which we think to be less honourable, upon these we ²bestow more abundant honour; and our uncomely parts have

24 more abundant comeliness; whereas our comely parts have no need: but God tempered the body together, giving more abundant honour to that part

25 which lacked; that there should be no

schism in the body; but that the members should have the same care one for 26 another. And whether one member suffereth, all the members suffer with it; or one member is ³honoured, all the 27 members rejoice with it. Now ye are the body of Christ, and ⁴severally mem-

28 bers thereof. And God hath set some in the church, first apostles, secondly prophets, thirdly teachers, then ¹mi-

29 racles, then gifts of healings, helps, ⁵governments, divers kinds of tongues.

29 Are all apostles? are all prophets? are all teachers? are all workers of ¹mi-

30 racles? have all gifts of healings? do all speak with tongues? do all interpret?

31 But desire earnestly the greater gifts. And a still more excellent way shew I unto you.

13 If I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, but have not love, I am become sounding brass, or a clanging

2 cymbal. And if I have the gift of prophecy, and know all mysteries and all knowledge; and if I have all faith, so as to remove mountains, but have not

3 love, I am nothing. And if I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and if I give my body ⁶to be burned, but have not

4 love, it profiteth me nothing. Love suffereth long, and is kind; love envieth not; love vaunteth not itself, is not

5 puffed up, doth not behave itself unseemly, seeketh not its own, is not provoked, taketh not account of evil;

6 rejoiceth not in unrighteousness, but 7 rejoiceth with the truth; ⁷beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all

8 things, endureth all things. Love never faileth: but whether there be prophecies, they shall be done away; whether there be tongues, they shall cease; whether there be knowledge, it

9 shall be done away. For we know in 10 part, and we prophesy in part: but when that which is perfect is come, that which

11 is in part shall be done away. When I was a child, I spake as a child, I felt as a child, I thought as a child: now that I am become a man, I have put away

12 childish things. For now we see in a mirror, ⁸darkly; but then face to face: now I know in part; but then shall I ⁹know even as also I have been

13 ¹⁰known. But now abideth faith, hope, love, these three; ¹¹and the ¹²greatest of these is love.

14 Follow after love; yet desire earnestly spiritual gifts, but rather that ye may 2 prophesy. For he that speaketh in a tongue speaketh not unto men, but unto God; for no man ¹³understandeth; but in 3 the spirit he speaketh mysteries. But he that prophesieth speaketh unto men edification, and comfort, and consolation.

4 He that speaketh in a tongue ¹⁴edifieth himself; but he that prophesieth ¹⁵edifieth the church. Now I would have you all speak with tongues, but rather that ye should prophesy: and greater is he that prophesieth than he that speaketh with tongues, except he interpret, that the church may receive edifying. But now, brethren, if I come unto you speaking with tongues, what shall I profit you, unless I speak to you either by way of revelation, or of knowledge, or of prophesying, or of teaching? Even things without life, giving a voice, whether pipe or harp, if they give not a distinction in the sounds, how shall it be known what is piped or harped? For if the trumpet give an uncertain voice, who shall prepare himself for war? So also ye, unless ye utter by the tongue speech easy to be understood, how shall it be known what is spoken? for ye will be speaking into the air. There are, it may be, so many kinds of voices in the world, and ¹no kind is without signification. If then I know not the meaning of the voice, I shall be to him that speaketh a barbarian, and he that speaketh will be a barbarian unto me. So also ye, since ye are zealous of ²spiritual gifts, seek that ye may abound unto the edifying of the church. Wherefore let him that speaketh in a tongue pray that he may interpret. For if I pray in a tongue, my spirit prayeth, but my understanding is unfruitful. What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, and I will pray with the understanding also: I will sing with the spirit, and I will sing with the understanding also. Else if thou bless with the spirit, how shall he that filleth the place of ³the unlearned say the Amen at thy giving of thanks, seeing he knoweth not what thou sayest? For thou verily givest thanks well, but the other is not ⁵edified. I thank God, I speak with tongues more than you all: howbeit in the church I had rather speak five words with my understanding, than I might instruct others also, than ten thousand words in a tongue.

Brethren, be not children in mind: howbeit in malice be ye babes, but in mind be ⁶men. In the law it is written, By men of strange tongues and by the lips of strangers will I speak unto this people; and not even thus will they hear me, saith the Lord. Wherefore tongues are for a sign, not to them that believe, but to the unbelieving: but prophesying is for a sign, not to the unbelieving, but to them that believe. If therefore the whole church be assembled together, and all speak with tongues, and there come in men unlearned or unbelieving, will they not say that ye are mad? But if all prophesy, and there come in one unbelieving or unlearned, he is ⁷reproved by all, he is judged by all; the secrets of his heart are made manifest; and so he will fall down on his face and worship God, declaring that God is ⁸among you indeed.

What is it then, brethren? When ye come together, each one hath a psalm, hath a teaching, hath a revelation, hath a tongue, hath an interpretation. Let all things be done unto edifying. If any man speaketh in a tongue, let it be by two, or at the most three, and that in turn; and let one interpret: but if there be no interpreter, let him keep silence in the church; and let him speak unto himself, and to God. And let the prophets speak by two or three, and let the others ⁹discern. But if a revelation be made to another sitting by, let the first keep silence. For ye all can prophesy one by one, that all may learn, and all may be ¹⁰comforted; and the spirits of the prophets are subject to the prophets; for God is not a God of confusion, but of peace; as in all the churches of the saints.

Let the women keep silence in the churches: for it is not permitted unto them to speak; but let them be in subjection, as also saith the law. And if they would learn anything, let them ask their own husbands at home: for it is shameful for a woman to speak in the church. What? was it from you that the word of God went forth? or came it unto you alone?

If any man thinketh himself to be a prophet, or spiritual, let him take knowledge of the things which I write unto you, that they are the commandment of the Lord. ¹¹But if any man is ignorant, let him be ignorant.

Wherefore, my brethren, desire earnestly to prophesy, and forbid not to speak with tongues. But let all things be done decently and in order.

Now I make known unto you, brethren, the gospel which I preached unto you, which also ye received, wherein also ye stand, by which also ye are ¹²saved; I make known, I say, ¹³in what words I preached it unto you, if ye hold it fast, except ye believed ¹⁴in vain.

For I delivered unto you first of all that which also I received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures; and that he was buried; and that he hath been raised on the third day according to the scriptures; and that he appeared to Cephas; then to the twelve; then he appeared to above five hundred brethren at once, of whom the greater part remain until now, but some are fallen asleep; then he appeared to James; then to all the apostles; and last of all, as unto one born out of due time, he appeared to me also. For I am the least of the apostles, that am not meet to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God. But by the grace of God I am what ²⁸ And when all things have been subjected unto him, then shall the Son also himself be subjected to him that did subject all things unto him, that God may be all in all.

²⁹ Else what shall they do which are baptized for the dead? If the dead are not raised at all, why then are they baptized

³⁰ed for them? why do we also stand in jeopardy every hour? I protest by ⁸that glorying in you, brethren, which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, I die daily.

³² If after the manner of men I fought with beasts at Ephesus, ⁹what doth it profit me? If the dead are not raised, let us eat and drink, for to-morrow we die.

³³ Be not deceived: Evil company doth corrupt good manners. ¹⁰Awake up righteously, and sin not; for some have no knowledge of God: I speak this to move you to shame.

³⁵ But some one will say, How are the dead raised? and with what manner of body do they come? Thou foolish one, that which thou thyself sowest is not ³⁷ quickened, except it die: and that which thou sowest, thou sowest not the body that shall be, but a bare grain, it may chance of wheat, or of some other kind;

³⁸ but God giveth it a body even as it pleased him, and to each seed a body of its ³⁹own. All flesh is not the same flesh: but there is one flesh of men, and another flesh of beasts, and another flesh of ⁴⁰birds, and another of fishes. There are also celestial bodies, and bodies terrestrial: but the glory of the celestial is one, and the glory of the terrestrial is

⁴¹ another. There is one glory of the sun, and another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars; for one star

⁴² differeth from another star in glory. So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption; it is raised in in-

⁴³ corruption: it is sown in dishonour; it is raised in glory: it is sown in weak-

⁴⁴ ness; it is raised in power: it is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body. If there is a natural body, there

⁴⁵ is also a spiritual body. So also it is written, The first man Adam became a living soul. The last Adam became a ⁴⁶ life-giving spirit. Howbeit that is not first which is spiritual, but that which is natural; then that which is spiritual.

⁴⁷ The first man is of the earth, earthy: the ⁴⁸second man is of heaven. As is the earthy, such are they also that are earthy: and as is the heavenly, such are ⁴⁹ they also that are heavenly. And as we have borne the image of the earthy, ¹¹we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.

⁵⁰ Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption

⁵¹ inherit incorruption. Behold, I tell you a mystery: We shall not all sleep,

⁵² but we shall all be changed, in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump: for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed.

⁵³ ^{ed}. For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must

⁵⁴ put on immortality. But when ¹²this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall come to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory. O death, where is thy victory? O death, where is ⁵⁵ thy sting? The sting of death is sin; and the power of sin is the law: but thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

Upon the first day of the week let each one of you lay by him in store, as he may prosper, that no collections be made when I come. 3 And when I arrive, ¹whomsoever ye shall approve by letters, them will I send to carry your bounty unto Jerusalem: and if it be meet for me to go also, 5 they shall go with me. But I will come unto you, when I shall have passed through Macedonia; for I do pass 6 through Macedonia; but with you it may be that I shall abide, or even winter, that ye may set me forward on my 7 journey whithersoever I go. For I do not wish to see you now by the way; for I hope to tarry a while with you, if the 8 Lord permit. But I will tarry at Ephesus until Pentecost; for a great door and effectual is opened unto me, and there are many adversaries. 10 Now if Timothy come, see that he be with you without fear; for he worketh 11 the work of the Lord, as I also do: let no man therefore despise him. But set him forward on his journey in peace, that he may come unto me: for I expect him 12 with the brethren. But as touching Apollos the brother, I besought him much to come unto you with the brethren: and it was not at all ²his will to come now; but he will come when he shall have opportunity.

13 Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit 14 you like men, be strong. Let all that ye do be done in love.

15 Now I beseech you, brethren (ye know the house of Stephanas, that it is the firstfruits of Achaia, and that they have set themselves to minister unto the 16 saints), that ye also be in subjection unto such, and to every one that helpeth 17 in the work and laboureth. THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE CORINTHIANS.

1 PAUL, an apostle of Christ Jesus through the will of God, and Timothy ¹our brother, unto the church of God which is at Corinth, with all the saints 2 which are in the whole of Achaia: Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. 3 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies and God of all comfort; who comforteth us in all our affliction, that we may be able to comfort them that are in any affliction, through the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted 5 of God. For as the sufferings of Christ abound unto us, even so our comfort 6 also aboundeth through Christ. But whether we be afflicted, it is for your comfort and salvation; or whether we be comforted, it is for your comfort, which worketh in the patient enduring of the same sufferings which we also 7 suffer: and our hope for you is stedfast; knowing that, as ye are partakers of the sufferings, so also are ye of the comfort. 8 For we would not have you ignorant, brethren, concerning our affliction which befell us in Asia, that we were weighed down exceedingly, beyond our power, insomuch that we despaired 9 even of life: ²yea, we ourselves have had the ³answer of death within ourselves, that we should not trust in ourselves, but in God which raiseth the 10 dead: who delivered us out of so great a death, and will deliver: on whom we have ⁴set our hope that he will also 11 still deliver us; ye also helping together on our behalf by your supplication; that, for the gift bestowed upon us by means of many, thanks may be given by many persons on our behalf.

12 For our glorying is this, the testimony of our conscience, that in holiness and sincerity of God, not in fleshly wisdom but in the grace of God, we behaved ourselves in the world, and more abundantly 13 to you-ward. For we write none other things unto you, than what ye read or even acknowledge, and I hope ye 14 will acknowledge unto the end: as also ye did acknowledge us in part, that we are your glorying, even as

² Or, but we ourselves
³ Or, sentence

⁴ Some ancient authorities read set our hope; and still will he deliver us.

ye also are ours, in the day of our Lord Jesus.

15 And in this confidence I was minded to come before unto you, that ye might

16 have a second ¹benefit; and by you to pass into Macedonia, and again from Macedonia to come unto you, and of you to be set forward on my journey unto

17 Judaea. When I therefore was thus minded, did I shew fickleness? or the things that I purpose, do I purpose according to the flesh, that with me there should be the yea yea and the nay nay?

18 But as God is faithful, our word toward you is not yea and nay. For the Son of God, Jesus Christ, who was preached among you ²by us, even ²by me and Silvanus and Timothy, was not yea

20 and nay, but in him is yea. For how many soever be the promises of God, in him is the yea: wherefore also through him is the Amen, unto the glory of God

21 through us. Now he that stablisheth us with you ³in Christ, and anointed

22 us, is God; ⁴who also sealed us, and gave us the earnest of the Spirit in our hearts.

23 But I call God for a witness upon my soul, that to spare you I forbore to come

24 unto Corinth. Not that we have lordship over your faith, but are helpers of

2 your joy: for by ⁵your faith ye stand. ⁶But I determined this for myself, that I would not come again to you with sorrow.

2 row. For if I make you sorry, who then is he that maketh me glad, but he that

3 is made sorry by me? And I wrote this very thing, lest, when I came, I should have sorrow from them of whom I ought to rejoice; having confidence in you all,

4 that my joy is the joy of you all. For out of much affliction and anguish of heart I wrote unto you with many tears; not that ye should be made sorry, but that ye might know the love which I have more abundantly unto you.

5 But if any hath caused sorrow, he hath caused sorrow, not to me, but in part (that I press not too heavily) to you all.

6 Sufficient to such a one is this punishment which was inflicted by ⁷the many;

7 so that contrariwise ye should ⁸rather forgive him and comfort him, lest by any means such a one should be swallowed

8 up with his overmuch sorrow. Wherefore I beseech you to confirm your love

9 toward him. For to this end also did I write, that I might know the proof of you, ⁹whether ye are obedient in all

10 things. But to whom ye forgive anything, I forgive also: for what I also have forgiven, if I have forgiven anything, for your sakes have I forgiven it

11 in the ¹⁰person of Christ; that no advantage may be gained over us by Satan: for we are not ignorant of his devices.

12 Now when I came to Troas for the gospel of Christ, and when a door was 13 opened unto me in the Lord, I had no relief for my spirit, because I found not Titus my brother: but taking my leave of them, I went forth into Macedonia.

14 But thanks be unto God, which always leadeth us in triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest through us the savour

15 of his knowledge in every place. For we are a sweet savour of Christ unto God, in them that are being saved, and

16 in them that are perishing; to the one a savour from death unto death; to the other a savour from life unto life. And

17 who is sufficient for these things? For we are not as the many, ¹¹corrupting the word of God: but as of sincerity, but as of God, in the sight of God, speak we in Christ.

3 Are we beginning again to commend ourselves? or need we, as do some, epistles of commendation to you or from

2 you? Ye are our epistle, written in our hearts, known and read of all men;

3 being made manifest that ye are an epistle of Christ, ministered by us, written not with ink, but with the Spirit of the living God; not in tables of stone, but in tables that are hearts of

4 flesh. And such confidence have we

5 through Christ to God-ward: not that we are sufficient of ourselves, to account anything as from ourselves; but our

6 sufficiency is from God; who also made us sufficient as ministers of a new

12 covenant; not of the letter, but of the spirit: for the letter killeth, but the

7 spirit giveth life. But if the ministration of death, ¹³written, and engraven on stones, came ¹⁴with glory, so that the children of Israel could not look stedfastly upon the face of Moses for the glory of his face; which glory ¹⁵was

8 passing away: how shall not rather the ministration of the spirit be with glory?

9 ¹⁶For if the ministration of condemnation is glory, much rather doth the ministration of righteousness exceed in

10 glory. For verily that which hath been made glorious hath not been made glorious in this respect, by reason of the 11 glory that surpasseth. For if that which ¹⁷passeth away was ¹⁸with glory, much more that which remaineth is in glory.

12 Having therefore such a hope, we use

13 great boldness of speech, and are not as Moses, who put a veil upon his face, that the children of Israel should not look stedfastly ¹⁹on the end of that

14 which ¹⁵was passing away: but their

20 minds were hardened: for until this very day at the reading of the old

12 covenant the same veil ²¹remaineth unlifted; which veil is done away in 15 Christ. But until this day, whosoever Moses is read, a veil lieth upon

16 their heart. But whosoever ²²it shall turn to the Lord, the veil is

Spirit: and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty. But we all, with unveiled face reflecting as a mirror the glory of the Lord, are transformed into the same image from glory to glory, even as from ²the Lord the Spirit.

4 Therefore seeing we have this ministry, even as we obtained mercy, we faint not: but we have renounced the hidden things of shame, not walking in craftiness, nor handling the word of God deceitfully; but by the manifestation of the truth commending ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of God. But and if our gospel is veiled, it is veiled in them that are perishing: in whom the god of this ³world hath blinded the ⁴minds of the unbelieving, ⁵that the ⁶light of the gospel of the glory of Christ, who is the image of God, should ⁵not dawn upon them. For we preach not ourselves, but Christ Jesus as Lord, and ourselves as your ⁷servants ⁸for Jesus' sake. Seeing it is God, that said, Light shall shine out of darkness, who shined in our hearts, to give the ⁶light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ.

7 But we have this treasure in earthen vessels, that the exceeding greatness of the power may be of God, and not from ourselves; we are pressed on every side, yet not straitened; perplexed, yet not unto despair; pursued, yet not forsaken; smitten down, yet not destroyed; always bearing about in the body the ¹⁰dying of Jesus, that the life also of Jesus may be manifested in our body. 11 For we which live are always delivered unto death for Jesus' sake, that the life also of Jesus may be manifested in our mortal flesh. So then death worketh 13 in us, but life in you. But having the same spirit of faith, according to that which is written, I believed, and therefore did I speak; we also believe, and 14 therefore also we speak; knowing that he which raised up ¹¹the Lord Jesus shall raise up us also with Jesus, and 15 shall present us with you. For all things are for your sakes, that the grace, being multiplied through ¹²the many, may cause the thanksgiving to abound unto the glory of God.

16 Wherefore we faint not; but though our outward man is decaying, yet our inward man is renewed day by day. 17 For our light affliction, which is for the moment, worketh for us more and more exceedingly an eternal weight of glory; 18 while we look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen: for the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal.

5 For we know that if the earthly house of our ¹³tabernacle be dissolved, we have a building from God, a house not made with hands, eternal, in the hea-

2 vens. For verily in this we groan, longing to be clothed upon with our habitation which is from heaven: if so be that being clothed we shall not be 4 found naked. For indeed we that are in this ¹³tabernacle do groan, ¹¹being burdened; not for that we would be unclothed, but that we would be clothed upon, that what is mortal may be 5 swallowed up of life. Now he that wrought us for this very thing is God, who gave unto us the earnest of the 6 Spirit. Being therefore always of good courage, and knowing that, whilst we are at home in the body, we are absent 7 from the Lord (for we walk by faith, 8 not by ¹⁵sight); we are of good courage, I say, and are willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be at home 9 with the Lord. Wherefore also we ¹⁶make it our aim, whether at home or absent, to be well-pleasing unto him. 10 For we must all be made manifest before the judgement-seat of Christ; that each one may receive the things done ¹⁷in the body, according to what he hath done, whether it be good or bad.

11 Knowing therefore the fear of the Lord, we persuade men, but we are made manifest unto God; and I hope that we are made manifest also in 12 your consciences. We are not again commending ourselves unto you, but speak as giving you occasion of glorying on our behalf, that ye may have wherewith to answer them that glory 13 in appearance, and not in heart. For whether we ¹⁸are beside ourselves, it is unto God; or whether we are of sober 14 mind, it is unto you. For the love of Christ constraineth us; because we thus judge, that one died for all, 15 therefore all died; and he died for all, that they which live should no longer live unto themselves, but unto him who for their sakes died and rose 16 again. Wherefore we henceforth know no man after the flesh; even though we have known Christ after the flesh, yet now we know him so no more.

17 Wherefore if any man is in Christ, ¹⁹*he is* a new creature: the old things are passed away; behold, they are 18 become new. But all things are of God, who reconciled us to himself through Christ, and gave unto us the 19 ministry of reconciliation; to wit, that God was in Christ reconciling the world unto himself, not reckoning unto them their trespasses, and having 20 committed unto us the word of reconciliation.

20 We are ambassadors therefore on behalf of Christ, as though God were intreating by us: we beseech you on behalf of Christ, be ye reconciled to God. Him who knew no sin he made to be sin on our behalf; that we might become the 16 unbeliever? And what agreement hath a ⁴ temple of God with idols? for we are a ⁴ temple of the living God; even as

God said, I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and 17 they shall be my people. Wherefore Come ye out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord,

And touch no unclean thing; And I will receive you,

18 And will be to you a Father. And ye shall be to me sons and daughters,

7 saith the Lord Almighty. Having therefore these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all defilement of flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God.

2 ⁵ Open your hearts to us: we wronged no man, we corrupted no man, we took

3 advantage of no man. I say it not to condemn you: for I have said before, that ye are in our hearts to die together and

4 live together. Great is my boldness of speech toward you, great is my glorying on your behalf: I am filled with comfort, I overflow with joy in all our affliction.

5 For even when we were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no relief, but we were afflicted on every side; without

6 we were fightings, within were fears. Nevertheless he that comforteth the lowly, even God, comforted us by the ⁶ coming

7 of Titus, and not by his ⁶ coming only, but also by the comfort wherewith he was comforted in you, while he told us your longing, your mourning, your zeal

8 for me; so that I rejoiced yet more. For though I made you sorry with my epistle,

I do not regret it, though I did regret;

7 for I see that that epistle made you

9 sorry, though but for a season. Now I rejoice, not that ye were made sorry, but that ye were made sorry unto repentance: for ye were made sorry after a godly sort, that ye might suffer loss by 10 us in nothing. For godly sorrow worketh repentance ⁸ unto salvation, a repentance which bringeth no regret: but the 11 sorrow of the world worketh death. For behold, this selfsame thing, that ye were made sorry after a godly sort, what earnest care it wrought in you, yea, what clearing of yourselves, yea, what indignation, yea, what fear, yea, what longing, yea, what zeal, yea, what avenging! In everything ye approved your-

12 selves to be pure in the matter. So although I wrote unto you, I wrote not for his cause that did the wrong, nor for his cause that suffered the wrong, but that your earnest care for us might be made manifest unto you in the sight

13 of God. Therefore we have been comforted: and in our comfort we joyed the more exceedingly for the joy of Titus, because his spirit hath been refreshed

14 by you all. For if in anything I have gloried to him on your behalf, I was not put to shame; but as we spake all things to you in truth, so our glorying

also, which I made before Titus,

15 was found to be truth. And his inward affection is more abundantly toward you, whilst he remembereth the obedience of you all, how with fear and 16 trembling ye received him. I rejoice that in everything I am of good courage concerning you.

8 Moreover, brethren, we make known to you the grace of God which hath been given in the churches of Macedonia; how that in much proof of affliction the abundance of their joy and their deep poverty abounded unto the riches of their ⁹ liberality.

3 For according to their power, I bear witness, yea and beyond their power,

4 they gave of their own accord, beseeching us with much intreaty in regard of this grace and the fellowship in the ministering to the saints:

he would also complete in you this grace 7 also. But as ye abound in everything, in faith, and utterance, and knowledge,
and in all earnestness, and in ¹ your love
to us, see that ye abound in this grace 8 also. I speak not by way of commandment, but as proving through the earnestness of others the sincerity also of 9 your love. For ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that, though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, that ye through his poverty might 10 become rich. And herein I give my judgement: for this is expedient for you, who were the first to make a beginning a year ago, not only to do, 11 but also to will. But now complete the doing also; that as there was the readiness to will, so there may be the com-12 pletion also out of your ability. For if the readiness is there, it is acceptable according as a man hath, not according 13 as he hath not. For I say not this, that others may be eased, and ye dis-14 tressed: but by equality; your abundant being a supply at this present time for their want, that their abundance also may become a supply for your 15 want; that there may be equality: as it is written, He that gathered much had nothing over; and he that gathered little had no lack.
16 But thanks be to God, which putteth the same earnest care for you into the 17 heart of Titus. For indeed he accepted our exhortation; but being himself very earnest, he went forth unto you of 18 his own accord. And we have sent together with him the brother whose praise in the gospel is spread through 19 all the churches; and not only so, but who was also appointed by the churches to travel with us in the matter of this grace, which is ministered by us to the glory of the Lord, and to shew our 20 readiness: avoiding this, that any man should blame us in the matter of this 21 bounty which is ministered by us: for we take thought for things honourable, not only in the sight of the Lord, but 22 also in the sight of men. And we have sent with them our brother, whom we have many times proved earnest in many things, but now much more earnest, by reason of the great confidence 23 which he hath in you. Whether any inquire about Titus, he is my partner and my fellow-worker to you-ward; or our brethren, they are the ² messengers of the churches, they are the glory of 24 Christ. ³ Shew ye therefore unto them in the face of the churches the proof of your love, and of our glorying on your behalf.

³ Or, Shew ye therefore in the face . . . on your behalf unto them

2 to write to you: for I know your readiness, of which I glory on your behalf to them of Macedonia, that Achaia hath been prepared for a year past; and ⁴ your zeal hath stirred up 3 ⁵ very many of them. But I have sent the brethren, that our glorying on your behalf may not be made void in this respect; that, even as I said, ye may 4 be prepared: lest by any means, if there come with me any of Macedonia, and find you unprepared, we (that we say not, ye) should be put to shame in 5 this confidence. I thought it necessary therefore to intreat the brethren, that they would go before unto you, and make up beforehand your aforeprom-ised ⁶ bounty, that the same might be ready, as a matter of bounty, and not of ⁷ extortion.

6 But this I say, He that soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he that soweth ⁸ bountifully shall reap also 7 ⁹ bountifully. Let each man do according as he hath purposed in his heart;
not ¹⁰ grudgingly, or of necessity: for 8 God loveth a cheerful giver. And God is able to make all grace abound unto you; that ye, having always all sufficiency in everything, may abound unto 9 every good work: as it is written,

He hath scattered abroad, he hath given to the poor;

His righteousness abideth for ever.

10 And he that supplieth seed to the sower and bread for food, shall supply and multiply your seed for sowing, and increase the fruits of your righteousness:
11 ye being enriched in everything unto all ¹² liberality, which worketh through 12 us thanksgiving to God. For the ministration of this service not only filleth up the measure of the wants of the saints, but aboundeth also through 13 many thanksgivings unto God; seeing that through the proving of you by this ministration they glorify God for the obedience of your confession unto the gospel of Christ, and for the 14 ¹⁵ liberality of your contribution unto 14 them and unto all; while they themselves also, with supplication on your behalf, long after you by reason of the exceeding grace of God in speakable gift.

10 Now I Paul myself intreat you by the meekness and gentleness of Christ, I who in your presence am lowly among you, but being absent am of good courage toward you:
2 yea, I beseech you, that I may not when present shew courage with the confidence wherewith I count to be bold against some, which count of us as if we walked

pons of our warfare are not of the flesh, but mighty before God to the casting down of strong holds; casting down ¹imaginations, and every high thing that is exalted against the knowledge of God, and bringing every thought into captivity to the obedience of Christ; and being in readiness to avenge all disobedience, when your obedience shall be fulfilled. ²Ye look at the things that are before your face. If any man trusteth in himself that he is Christ's, let him consider this again with himself, that, even as he is Christ's, so also are we. For though I should glory somewhat abundantly concerning our authority (which the Lord gave for building you up, and not for casting you down), I shall not be put to shame: ⁹that I may not seem as if I would ¹⁰terrify you by my letters. For, His letters, they say, are weighty and strong; but his bodily presence is weak, ¹¹and his speech of no account. Let such a one reckon this, that, what we are in word by letters when we are absent, such are we also in deed when ¹²we are present. For we are not bold ³to number or compare ourselves with certain of them that commend themselves: but they themselves, measuring themselves by themselves, and comparing themselves with themselves, are ¹³without understanding. But we will not glory beyond our measure, but according to the measure of the ⁴province which God apportioned to us as a ¹⁴measure, to reach even unto you. For we stretch not ourselves overmuch, as though we reached not unto you: for we ⁵came even as far as unto you in ¹⁵the gospel of Christ: not glorying beyond our measure, that is, in other men's labours; but having hope that, as your faith groweth, we shall be magnified in you according to our ⁴province unto further abundance, so as to preach the gospel even unto the parts beyond you, and not to glory in another's ⁴province in regard of things ¹⁷ready to our hand. But he that ¹⁸glorieth, let him glory in the Lord. For not he that commendeth himself is approved, but whom the Lord commendeth.

¹¹ Would that ye could bear with me in a little foolishness: ⁶may indeed bear ²with me. For I am jealous over you with ⁷a godly jealousy: for I espoused you to one husband, that I might present you as a pure virgin to Christ. ³ But I fear, lest by any means, as the serpent beguiled Eve in his craftiness, your ⁸minds should be corrupted from the simplicity and the purity that is ⁴toward Christ. For if he that cometh preacheth another Jesus, whom we did not preach, or if ye receive a different spirit, which ye did not receive, or a different gospel, which ye did not accept, ye do well to bear with him. For I reckon that I am not a whit behind ⁹the ⁶very chiefest apostles. But though I be rude in speech, yet am I not in knowledge; nay, in everything we have made it manifest among all men to you-ward. ⁷ Or did I commit a sin in abasing myself that ye might be exalted, because I preached to you the gospel of God for ⁸nought? I robbed other churches, taking wages of them that I might minister unto you; and when I was present with you and was in want, I was not a burden on any man; for the brethren, when they came from Macedonia, supplied the measure of my want; and in everything I kept myself from being burdensome unto you, and so will I keep myself.

¹⁰ As the truth of Christ is in me, no man shall stop me of this glorying in the ¹¹regions of Achaia. Wherefore? because ¹²I love you not? God knoweth. But what I do, that I will do, that I may cut off ¹⁰occasion from them which desire an occasion; that wherein they glory, ¹³they may be found even as we. For such men are false apostles, deceitful workers, fashioning themselves into apostles of Christ. And no marvel; for even Satan fashioneth himself into an angel of light. It is no great thing therefore if his ministers also fashion themselves as ministers of righteousness; whose end shall be according to their works.

¹⁶ I say again, Let no man think me foolish; but if ye do, yet as foolish receive ¹⁷me, that I also may glory a little. That which I speak, I speak not after the Lord, but as in foolishness, in this confidence of glorying. Seeing that many glory after the flesh, I will glory also. ¹⁹ For ye bear with the foolish gladly, ²⁰being wise yourselves. For ye bear with a man, if he bringeth you into bondage, if he devoureth you, if he taketh you captive, if he exalteth himself, if he smiteth you on the face. I speak by way of disparagement, as though we had been weak. Yet whereinsoever ever is bold (I speak in foolishness), I am bold also.

²² Are they Hebrews? so am I. Are they Israelites? so am I. Are they the seed of Abraham? so am I. Are they ministers of Christ? (I speak as one beside himself) I more; in labours more abundantly, in prisons more abundantly, in stripes above measure, in deaths oft. ²⁴ Of the Jews five times received I ²⁵forty stripes save one. Thrice was I beaten with rods, once was I stoned, thrice I suffered shipwreck, a night ²⁶and a day have I been in the deep; in journeyings often, in perils of rivers, in perils of robbers, in perils from my ¹¹countrymen, in perils from the Gentiles, in perils in the city, in perils in the wilderness, in perils in the sea, in perils among false

28¹ Beside those things that are without, there is that which presseth upon me 29 daily, anxiety for all the churches. Who is weak, and I am not weak? who is 30 made to stumble, and I burn not? If I must needs glory, I will glory of the 31 things that concern my weakness. The God and Father of the Lord Jesus, he who is blessed ² for evermore, knoweth 32 that I lie not. In Damascus the governor under Aretas the king guarded the city of the Damascenes, in order to take me;
33 and through a window was I let down in a basket by the wall, and escaped his hands.
12³ I must needs glory, though it is not expedient; but I will come to visions
2 and revelations of the Lord. I know a man in Christ, fourteen years ago (whether in the body, I know not; or whether out of the body, I know not; God knoweth), such a one caught up
3 even to the third heaven. And I know such a man (whether in the body, or apart from the body, I know not; God
4 knoweth), how that he was caught up into Paradise, and heard unspeakable words, which it is not lawful for a man
5 to utter. On behalf of such a one will I glory: but on mine own behalf I will
6 not glory, save in my weaknesses. For if I should desire to glory, I shall not be foolish; for I shall speak the truth: but I forbear, lest any man should account of me above that which he seeth
7 me to be, or heareth from me. And by reason of the exceeding greatness of the revelations—wherefore, that I should not be exalted overmuch, there was given to me a ⁴ thorn in the flesh, a messenger of Satan to buffet me, that
8 I should not be exalted overmuch. Concerning this thing I besought the Lord thrice, that it might depart from me.
9 And he hath said unto me, My grace is sufficient for thee: for my power is made perfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my weaknesses, that the strength of Christ
10 may ⁵ rest upon me. Wherefore I take pleasure in weaknesses, in injuries, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses, for Christ's sake: for when I am weak, then am I strong.
11 I am become foolish: ye compelled me; for I ought to have been commended of you: for in nothing was I behind
⁶ the very chiefest apostles, though I 12 am nothing. Truly the signs of an apostle were wrought among you in all places, by signs and wonders and 13⁷ mighty works. For what is there wherein ye were made inferior to the rest of the churches, except it be that I myself was not a burden to you? forgive me this wrong.

14 Behold, this is the third time I am ready to come to you; and I will not be a burden to you: for I seek not yours, but you: for the children ought not to lay up for the parents, but the parents
15 for the children. And I will most gladly spend and be ⁸ spent for your souls. If I love you more abundantly, 16 am I loved the less? But be it so, I did not myself burden you; but, being 17 crafty, I caught you with guile. Did I take advantage of you by any one of 18 them whom I have sent unto you? I exhorted Titus, and I sent the brother with him. Did Titus take any advantage of you? walked we not by the same Spirit? walked we not in the same steps?
19⁹ Ye think all this time that we are excusing ourselves unto you. In the sight of God speak we in Christ. But all things, beloved, are for your edifying.
20 For I fear, lest by any means, when I come, I should find you not such as I would, and should myself be found of you such as ye would not; lest by any means there should be strife, jealousy, wraths, factions, backbitings, whisperings, swellings, ¹⁰ tumults; lest, when I come again, my God should humble me before you, and I should mourn for many of them that have sinned heretofore, and repented not of the uncleanness and fornication and lasciviousness which they committed.
13 This is the third time I am coming to you. At the mouth of two witnesses or three shall every word be established.
2 I have said ¹¹ beforehand, and I do say ¹¹ beforehand, ¹² as when I was present the second time, so now, being absent, to them that have sinned heretofore, and to all the rest, that, if I come again,
3 I will not spare; seeing that ye seek a proof of Christ that speaketh in me; who to you-ward is not weak, but is 4 powerful in you: for he was crucified through weakness, yet he liveth through the power of God. For we also are weak
¹³ in him, but we shall live with him through the power of God toward you.
5 Try your own selves, whether ye be in the faith; prove your own selves. Or know ye not as to your own selves, that Jesus Christ is in you? unless indeed
6 ye be reprobate. But I hope that ye shall know that we are not reprobate.
7 Now we pray to God that ye do no evil; not that we may appear approved, but that ye may do that which is honourable, ¹⁴ though we be as reprobate. For we can do nothing against the truth, but 9 for the truth. For we rejoice, when we are weak, and ye are strong: this we 10 also pray for, even your perfecting. For this cause I write these things while absent, that I may not when present deal sharply, according to the authority which the Lord gave me for building up, and not for casting down.

moving from him that called you in the grace of Christ unto a different gospel; which is not another gospel:
only there are some that trouble you,
and would pervert the gospel of Christ.

8 But though we, or an angel from heaven, should preach ⁵unto you any gospel ⁶other than that which we preached unto you, let him be anathema.

9 As we have said before, so say I now again, If any man preacheth unto you any gospel other than that which ye received, let him be anathema. For am
I now persuading men, or God? or am I seeking to please men? if I were still pleasing men, I should not be a ⁷servant of Christ.

11 For I make known to you, brethren, as touching the gospel which was preached 12 by me, that it is not after man. For neither did I receive it from ¹man, nor was I taught it, but it came to me through revelation of Jesus Christ.

13 For ye have heard of my manner of life in time past in the Jews' religion, how that beyond measure I persecuted the church of God, and made havoc of it:

14 and I advanced in the Jews' religion beyond many of mine own age ⁸among my countrymen, being more exceedingly zealous for the traditions of my fathers. But when it was the good pleasure of God, who separated me, even from my mother's womb, and 16 called me through his grace, to reveal his Son in me, that I might preach him among the Gentiles; immediately
I conferred not with flesh and blood:

17 neither went I up to Jerusalem to them which were apostles before me: but I went away into Arabia; and again I returned unto Damascus.

18 Then after three years I went up to Jerusalem to ⁹visit Cephas, and tarried 19 with him fifteen days. But other of the apostles saw I none, ¹⁰save James the 20 Lord's brother. Now touching the things which I write unto you, behold, 21 before God, I lie not. Then I came into 22 the regions of Syria and Cilicia. And I was still unknown by face unto the churches of Judaea which were in 23 Christ: but they only heard say, He that once persecuted us now preacheth
the faith of which he once made havoc;
24 and they glorified God in me.

2 Then ¹¹after the space of fourteen years I went up again to Jerusalem with Barnabas, taking Titus also with 2 me. And I went up by revelation; and I laid before them the gospel which I preach among the Gentiles, but privately before them who ¹²were of repute, lest by any means I should be 3 running, or had run, in vain. But not even Titus who was with me, being a Greek, was compelled to be circum-
4 cised: ¹³and that because of the false brethren privily brought in, who came in privily to spy out our liberty which we have in Christ Jesus, that they 5 might bring us into bondage: to whom we gave place in the way of subjection, no, not for an hour; that the truth of the gospel might continue with you.

6 But from those who ¹²were reputed to be somewhat (¹⁴whatsoever they were,
it maketh no matter to me: God accepteth not man's person)—they, I say, who were of repute imparted nothing to me:

7 but contrariwise, when they saw that I had been intrusted with the gospel of the uncircumcision, even as Peter with 8 the gospel of the circumcision (for he that wrought for Peter unto the apostleship of the circumcision wrought for me 9 also unto the Gentiles); and when they perceived the grace that was given unto me, James and Cephas and John,
they who ¹²were reputed to be pillars, gave to me and Barnabas the right hands of fellowship, that we should go unto the Gentiles, and they unto 10 the circumcision; only they would that we should remember the poor;
which very thing I was also zealous to do.

I resisted him to the face, because he 12 stood condemned. For before that certain came from James, he did eat with the Gentiles: but when they came,
 he drew back and separated himself,
 fearing them that were of the circum-13 cision. And the rest of the Jews dissembled likewise with him; insomuch that even Barnabas was carried away 14 with their dissimulation. But when I saw that they walked not uprightly according to the truth of the gospel, I said unto Cephas before them all, If thou, being a Jew, livest as do the Gentiles, and not as do the Jews, how compellest thou the Gentiles to live as 15 do the Jews? We being Jews by nature, 16 and not sinners of the Gentiles, yet knowing that a man is not justified by 1 the works of the law, 2 save through faith in Jesus Christ, even we believed on Christ Jesus, that we might be justified by faith in Christ, and not by the works of the law: because by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified.
 17 But if, while we sought to be justified in Christ, we ourselves also were found sinners, is Christ a minister of sin?
 18 God forbid. For if I build up again those things which I destroyed, I prove 19 myself a transgressor. For I through
 3 the law died unto 3 the law, that I 20 might live unto God. I have been crucified with Christ; 4 yet I live; and yet no longer I, but Christ liveth in me: and that life which I now live in the flesh I live in faith, the faith which is in the Son of God, who loved me, and 21 gave himself up for me. I do not make void the grace of God: for if righteousness is through 3 the law,
 then Christ died for nought.
 3 O foolish Galatians, who did bewitch
 you, before whose eyes Jesus Christ 2 was openly set forth crucified? This only would I learn from you, Received ye the Spirit by 1 the works of the law, 3 or by the 5 hearing of faith? Are ye so foolish? having begun in the Spirit,
 6 are ye now perfected in the flesh?
 4 Did ye suffer so many things in vain?
 5 if it be indeed in vain. He therefore that supplieth to you the Spirit, and worketh 7 miracles 8 among you, doeth he it by 1 the works of the law, or by the 6 5 hearing of faith? Even as Abraham believed God, and it was reckoned unto 7 him for righteousness. 9 Know therefore that they which be of faith, the 8 same are sons of Abraham. And the scripture, foreseeing that God 10 would justify the 11 Gentiles by faith, preached the gospel beforehand unto Abraham, saying, In thee shall all the nations be 9 blessed. So then they which be of faith are blessed with the faithful Abraham.
 10 For as many as are of 1 the works of the law are under a curse: for it is written, Cursed is every one which continueth not in all things that are written in the 11 book of the law, to do them. Now that no man is justified 12 by the law in the sight of God, is evident: for, The right-12 eous shall live by faith; and the law is not of faith; but, He that doeth them 13 shall live in them. Christ redeemed us from the curse of the law, having become a curse for us: for it is written,

 Cursed is every one that hangeth on a 14 tree: that upon the Gentiles might come the blessing of Abraham in Christ Jesus; that we might receive the promise of the Spirit through faith.
 15 Brethren, I speak after the manner of men: Though it be but a man's 13 covenant, yet when it hath been confirmed,
 no one maketh it void, or addeth there-16 to. Now to Abraham were the promises spoken, and to his seed. He saith not,
 And to seeds, as of many; but as of one,
 17 And to thy seed, which is Christ. Now this I say; A 13 covenant confirmed beforehand by God, the law, which came four hundred and thirty years after, doth not disannul, so as to make 18 the promise of none effect. For if the inheritance is of the law, it is no more of promise: but God hath granted it to 19 Abraham by promise. What then is the law? It was added because of transgressions, till the seed should come to whom the promise hath been made;
 and it was ordained through angels by 20 the hand of a mediator. Now a mediator is not a mediator of one; but God is 21 one. Is the law then against the promises of God? God forbid: for if there had been a law given which could make alive, verily righteousness would have 22 been of the law. Howbeit the scripture hath shut up all things under sin, that the promise by faith in Jesus Christ might be given to them that believe.
 23 But before 14 faith came, we were kept in ward under the law, shut up unto the faith which should afterwards be re-24 vealed. So that the law hath been our tutor to bring us unto Christ, that we 25 might be justified by faith. But now that faith is come, we are no longer 26 under a tutor. For ye are all sons of God, through faith, in Christ Jesus.
 27 For as many of you as were baptized
 28 into Christ did put on Christ. There can be neither Jew nor Greek, there can be neither bond nor free, there can be no male and female: for ye all are one 29 man in Christ Jesus. And if ye are Christ's, then are ye Abraham's seed, heirs according to promise.
 4 But I say that so long as the heir is a child, he differeth nothing from a bondservant, though he is lord of 2 all; but is under guardians and stewards until the term appointed 3 of the father. So we also, when we were children, were held in bondage under the 15 rudiments of the world:

4 but when the fulness of the time came, God sent forth his Son, born of a woman, 5 born under the law, that he might redeem them which were under the law, that we might receive the adoption of 6 sons. And because ye are sons, God sent forth the Spirit of his Son into our 7 hearts, crying, Abba, Father. So that thou art no longer a bondservant, but a son; and if a son, then an heir through God.

8 Howbeit at that time, not knowing God, ye were in bondage to them which 9 by nature are no gods: but now that ye have come to know God, or rather to be known of God, how turn ye back again to the weak and beggarly rudiments, whereunto ye desire to be in bondage 10 over again? Ye observe days, and 11 months, and seasons, and years. I am afraid of you, lest by any means I have bestowed labour upon you in vain.

12 I beseech you, brethren, be as I am, for I am as ye are. Ye did me no wrong: 13 but ye know that because of an infirmity of the flesh I preached the 14 gospel unto you the 2nd first time: and that which was a temptation to you in my flesh ye despised not, nor 3rd rejected; but ye received me as an angel of God, 15 even as Christ Jesus. Where then is that gratulation 4th of yourselves? for I bear you witness, that, if possible, ye would have plucked out your eyes and 16 given them to me. So then am I become your enemy, because I 5th tell you the 17 truth? They zealously seek you in no good way; nay, they desire to shut you 18 out, that ye may seek them. But it is good to be zealously sought in a good matter at all times, and not only when 19 I am present with you. My little children, of whom I am again in travail 20 until Christ be formed in you, yea, I could wish to be present with you now, and to change my voice; for I am perplexed about you.

21 Tell me, ye that desire to be under the 22 law, do ye not hear the law? For it is written, that Abraham had two sons, one by the handmaid, and one by the 23 freewoman. Howbeit the son by the handmaid is born after the flesh; but the son by the freewoman is born through 24 promise. Which things contain an allegory: for these women are two covenants; one from mount Sinai, bearing children unto bondage, which is Hagar. 25 6 Now this Hagar is mount Sinai in Arabia, and answereth to the Jerusalem that now is: for she is in bondage 26 with her children. But the Jerusalem that is above is free, which is our mother. For it is written,

Rejoice, thou barren that bearest not;

Break forth and cry, thou that travailest not:

For more are the children of the desolate than of her which hath the husband.

28 Now 7 we, brethren, as Isaac was, are 29 children of promise. But as then he that was born after the flesh persecuted him that was born after the Spirit, even 30 so it is now. Howbeit what saith the scripture? Cast out the handmaid and her son: for the son of the handmaid shall not inherit with the son of the 31 freewoman. Wherefore, brethren, we are not children of a handmaid, but of 5 the freewoman. 8 With freedom did Christ set us free: stand fast therefore, and be not entangled again in a yoke of bondage.

2 Behold, I Paul say unto you, that, if ye receive circumcision, Christ will 3 profit you nothing. Yea, I testify against to every man that receiveth circumcision, that he is a debtor to do 4 the whole law. Ye are 9 severed from Christ, ye who would be justified by the law; ye are fallen away from grace.

5 For we through the Spirit by faith wait for the hope of righteousness. 6 For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision availeth anything, nor uncircumcision; but faith 10 working through 7 love. Ye were running well; who did hinder you that ye should not obey the 8 truth? This persuasion came not of 9 him that calleth you. A little leaven leaveneth the whole lump. I have confidence to you-ward in the Lord, that ye will be none otherwise minded: but he that troubleth you shall bear 11 his judgement, whosoever he be. But I, brethren, if I still preach circumcision, why am I still persecuted? then hath the stumblingblock of the cross 12 been done away. I would that they which unsettle you would even 11 cut themselves off.

13 For ye, brethren, were called for freedom; only use not your freedom for an occasion to the flesh, but through 14 love be servants one to another. For the whole law is fulfilled in one word, even in this; Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. But if ye bite and devour one another, take heed that ye be not consumed one of another.

16 But I say, Walk by the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfil the lust of the flesh. 17 For the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh; for these are contrary the one to the other; that ye may not do the things 18 that ye would. But if ye are led by the Spirit, ye are not under the law. 19 Now the works of the flesh are manifest, which are these, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness, idolatry, sorcery, enmities, strife, jealousies, wraths, factions, divisions, 12 heresies, envyings, drunkenness, revellings, and such like: of the which I 13 forewarn you, even as I did 13 forewarn you, that they which practise such things shall 22 not inherit the kingdom of God. But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, longsuffering, kindness, goodness, faith-23 fulness, meekness, ¹temperance: a-24 gainst such there is no law. And they that are of Christ Jesus have crucified the flesh with the passions and the lusts thereof.

25 If we live by the Spirit, by the Spirit
26 let us also walk. Let us not be vain-glorious, provoking one another, envying one another.

6 Brethren, even if a man be overtaken in any trespass, ye which are spiritual, restore such a one in a spirit of meekness; looking to thyself, lest thou also 2 be tempted. Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ.

3 For if a man thinketh himself to be something, when he is nothing, he de-4 ceiveth himself. But let each man prove his own work, and then shall he have his glorying in regard of himself alone, and not of ²his neighbour.

5 For each man shall bear his own ³burden.

6 But let him that is taught in the word communicate unto him that teacheth in 7 all good things. Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man 8 soweth, that shall he also reap. For he that soweth unto his own flesh shall

of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth unto the Spirit shall of the 9 Spirit reap eternal life. And let us not be weary in well-doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not.
10 So then, as we have opportunity, let us work that which is good toward all men, and especially toward them that are of the household of the faith.

11 See with how large letters I ⁴have written unto you with mine own hand.

12 As many as desire to make a fair show in the flesh, they compel you to be circumcised; only that they may not be persecuted ⁵for the cross of Christ.

13 For not even they who ⁶receive circumcision do themselves keep ⁷the law; but they desire to have you circumcised,

14 that they may glory in your flesh. But far be it from me to glory, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, through 8 which the world hath been crucified

15 unto me, and I unto the world. For neither is circumcision anything, nor uncircumcision, but a new ⁹creature.

16 And as many as shall walk by this rule, peace be upon them, and mercy,
and upon the Israel of God.

17 From henceforth let no man trouble
me: for I bear branded on my body

God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, may give unto you a spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of him; having the eyes of your heart enlightened, that ye may know what is the hope of his calling, what the riches of the glory of his inheritance in the saints, and what the exceeding greatness of his power to us-ward who believe, according to that working of the strength of his might which he wrought in Christ, when he raised him from the dead, and made him to sit at his right hand in the heavenly places, far above all rule, and authority, and power, and dominion, and every name that is named, not only in this world, but also in that which is to come: and he put all things in subjection under his feet, and gave him to be head over all things to the church, which is his body, the fulness of him that filleth all in all.

2 And you did he quicken, when ye were dead through your trespasses and sins, wherein aforetime ye walked according to the course of this world, according to the prince of the power of the air, of the spirit that now worketh in the sons of disobedience; among whom we also all once lived in the lusts of our flesh, doing the desires of the flesh and of the mind, and were by nature children of wrath, even as the rest:—but God, being rich in mercy, for his great love wherewith he loved us, even when we were dead through our trespasses, quickened us together with Christ (by grace have ye been saved), and raised us up with him, and made us to sit with him in the heavenly places, in Christ Jesus: that in the ages to come he might shew the exceeding riches of his grace in kindness toward us in Christ Jesus: for by grace have ye been saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God: not of works, that no man should glory.

10 For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus for good works, which God afore prepared that we should walk in them.

11 Wherefore remember, that aforetime ye, the Gentiles in the flesh, who are called Uncircumcision by that which is called Circumcision, in the flesh, made by hands; that ye were at that time separate from Christ, alienated from the commonwealth of Israel, and strangers from the covenants of the promise, having no hope and without God in the world. But now in Christ Jesus ye that once were far off are made nigh in the blood of Christ. For he is our peace, who made both one, and brake down the middle wall of partition, having abolished in his flesh the enmity, even the law of commandments contained in ordinances; that he might create in himself of the twain one new man, so making peace; and might reconcile them both in one body unto God through the cross, having slain the enmity thereby: and he came and preached peace to you that were far off, and peace to them that were nigh: for through him we both have our access in one Spirit unto the Father. So then ye are no more strangers and sojourners, but ye are fellow-citizens with the saints, and of the household of God, being built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Christ Jesus himself being the chief corner stone; in whom each several building, fitly framed together, groweth into a holy temple in the Lord; in whom ye also are build together for a habitation of God in the Spirit.

3 For this cause I Paul, the prisoner of Christ Jesus in behalf of you Gentiles,—2 if so be that ye have heard of the dispensation of that grace of God which was given me to you-ward; how that by revelation was made known unto me the mystery, as I wrote afore in few words, 4 whereby, when ye read, ye can perceive my understanding in the mystery of Christ; which in other generations was not made known unto the sons of men, as it hath now been revealed unto his holy apostles and prophets in the Spirit; 6 to wit, that the Gentiles are fellow-heirs, and fellow-members of the body, and fellow-partakers of the promise in Christ Jesus through the gospel, whereof I was made a minister, according to the gift of that grace of God which was given me according to the working of his power. 8 Unto me, who am less than the least of all saints, was this grace given, to preach unto the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ; and to make all men see what is the dispensation of the mystery which from all ages hath been hid in God who created all things; to the intent that now unto the principalities and the powers in the heavenly places might be made known through the church the manifold wisdom of God, according to the eternal purpose which he purposed in Christ Jesus our Lord: in whom we have boldness and access in confidence through our faith in him. Wherefore I ask that ye faint not at my tribulations for you, which are your glory.

14 For this cause I bow my knees unto the Father, from whom every family in heaven and on earth is named, that he would grant you, according to the riches of his glory, that ye may be strengthened with power through his Spirit in the inward man; that Christ may dwell in your hearts through faith; to the end that ye, being rooted and grounded in love, may be strong to apprehend with all the saints what is the breadth and length and height and depth, and to know the love of Christ which passeth knowledge, that ye may be filled unto all the fulness of God.

20 Now unto him that is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that worketh in us, unto him be the glory in the church and in Christ Jesus unto all generations for ever and ever. Amen.

4 I therefore, the prisoner in the Lord, beseech you to walk worthily of the calling wherewith ye were called, with all lowliness and meekness, with long-suffering, forbearing one another in love; giving diligence to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace. There is one body, and one Spirit, even as also ye were called in one hope of your calling; one Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and Father of all, who is over all, and through all, and in all. But unto each one of us was the grace given according to the measure of the gift of Christ. Wherefore he saith,

When he ascended on high, he led captivity captive,

And gave gifts unto men.

9 (Now this, He ascended, what is it but that he also descended ²into the lower parts of the earth? He that descended is the same also that ascended far above all the heavens, that he might fill all things.) And he gave some to be apostles; and some, prophets; and some, evangelists; and some, pastors and teachers; for the perfecting of the saints, unto the work of ministering, unto the building up of the body of Christ: till we all attain unto the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a fullgrown man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ: that we may be no longer children, tossed to and fro and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, in craftiness, after the wiles of error; but ³speaking truth in love, may grow up in all things into him, which is the head, even Christ; from whom all the body fitly framed and knit together ⁴through that which every joint supplieth, according to the working in due measure of each several part, maketh the increase of the body unto the building up of itself in love.

17 This I say therefore, and testify in the Lord, that ye no longer walk as the Gentiles also walk, in the vanity of their mind, being darkened in their understanding, alienated from the life of God because of the ignorance that is in them, because of the hardening of their heart; who being past feeling gave themselves up to lasciviousness, ⁵to work all uncleanness with ⁶greediness. But ye did not so learn Christ;

21 if so be that ye heard him, and were taught in him, even as truth is in Jesus: that ye put away, as concerning your former manner of life, the old man, which waxeth corrupt after the lusts of deceit; and that ye be renewed in the spirit of your mind, and put on the new man, ⁷which after God hath been created in righteousness and holiness of truth.

25 Wherefore, putting away falsehood, speak ye truth each one with his neighbour: for we are members one of another.

26 Be ye angry, and sin not: let not the sun go down upon your ⁸wrath: neither give place to the devil. Let him that stole steal no more: but rather let him labour, working with his hands the thing that is good, that he may have whereof to give to him that hath need. Let no corrupt speech proceed out of your mouth, but such as is good for ⁹edifying as the need may be, that it may give grace to them that hear. And grieve not the Holy Spirit of God, in whom ye were sealed unto the day of redemption. Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and railing, be put away from you, with all malice: and be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving each other, even as God also in Christ forgave ¹⁰you.

5 Be ye therefore imitators of God, as beloved children; and walk in love, even as Christ also loved you, and gave himself up for ¹¹us, an offering and a sacrifice to God for an odour of a sweet smell.

3 But fornication, and all uncleanness, or covetousness, let it not even be named among you, as becometh saints; nor filthiness, nor foolish talking, or jesting, which are not befitting: but rather giving of thanks. For this ye know of a surety, that no fornicator, nor unclean person, nor covetous man, which is an idolater, hath any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and God. Let no man deceive you with empty words: for because of these things cometh the wrath of God upon the sons of disobedience.

7 Be not ye therefore partakers with them; for ye were once darkness, but are now light in the Lord: walk as children of light (for the fruit of the light is in all goodness and righteousness and truth), proving what is well-pleasing unto the Lord; and have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather even ¹²reprove them; for the things which are done by them in secret it is a shame even to speak of. But all things when they are ¹³reproved are made manifest by the light: for everything that is made manifest is light. Wherefore he saith, Awake, thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall shine upon thee.

15 Look therefore carefully how ye walk,
16 not as unwise, but as wise; ¹redeeming
the time, because the days are evil.
17 Wherefore be ye not foolish, but under-18 stand what the will of the Lord is. And be not drunken with wine, wherein is riot, but be filled ²with the Spirit; 19 speaking ³one to another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody with your heart to the 20 Lord; giving thanks always for all things in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ to ⁴God, even the Father; 21 subjecting yourselves one to another in the fear of Christ.

22 Wives, be in subjection unto your own 23 husbands, as unto the Lord. For the husband is the head of the wife, as Christ also is the head of the church, being himself the saviour of the body.

24 But as the church is subject to Christ,
⁵*so let the wives also be to their* 25 husbands in everything. Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church, and gave himself up 26 for it; that he might sanctify it, having cleansed it by the ⁶washing of water

27 with the word, that he might present
the church to himself a glorious church, not having spot or wrinkle or any such thing; but that it should be holy 28 and without blemish. Even so ought husbands also to love their own wives as their own bodies. He that loveth

29 his own wife loveth himself: for no man ever hated his own flesh; but nourisheth and cherisheth it, even

30 as Christ also the church; because we 31 are members of his body. For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife;

and the twain shall become one flesh.

32 This mystery is great: but I speak in regard of Christ and of the church.

33 Nevertheless do ye also severally love
each one his own wife even as himself;

and let the wife see that she fear her husband.

6 Children, obey your parents in the 2 Lord: for this is right. Honour thy father and mother (which is the first

3 commandment with promise), that it may be well with thee, and thou

4 ⁷mayest live long on the ⁸earth. And, ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath: but nurture them in the chastening and admonition of the Lord.

5 ⁹Servants, be obedient unto them that according to the flesh are your ¹⁰masters, with fear and trembling, in singleness of your heart, as unto

6 Christ; not in the way of eyeservice, as men-pleasers; but as ⁹servants of Christ, doing the will of God from 7 the ¹¹heart; with good will doing service, as unto the Lord, and not unto 8 men: knowing that whatsoever good thing each one doeth, the same shall he receive again from the Lord, whether ⁹*he be* bond or free. And, ye ¹⁰masters, do the same things unto them, and forbear threatening: knowing that both their Master and yours is in heaven, and there is no respect of persons with him.

10 ¹²Finally, ¹³be strong in the Lord,
and in the strength of his might.

11 Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against

12 the wiles of the devil. For our wrestling is not against flesh and blood, but against the principalities, against the powers, against the world-rulers of this darkness, against the spiritual hosts of wickedness in the heavenly

13 places. Wherefore take up the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and,

14 having done all, to stand. Stand therefore, having girded your loins with truth, and having put on the breast-

15 plate of righteousness, and having shod your feet with the preparation of the 16 gospel of peace; withal taking up the shield of faith, wherewith ye shall be able to quench all the fiery darts of 17 the evil one. And take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God:

18 with all prayer and supplication praying at all seasons in the Spirit,

verance and supplication for all the ance may be given unto me ¹⁴in opening

my mouth, to make known with bold-20 ness the mystery of the gospel, for which I am an ambassador in ¹⁵chains;

that in it I may speak boldly, as I

1 PAUL and Timothy, ¹servants of Christ Jesus, to all the saints in Christ Jesus which are at Philippi, with the

2 ²bishops and deacons: Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.
3 I thank my God upon all my remembrance of you, always in every supplication of mine on behalf of you all making my supplication with joy,

4 for your fellowship in furtherance of the gospel from the first day until now; being confident of this very thing, that he which began a good work in you will perfect it until the day of

5 Jesus Christ: even as it is right for me to be thus minded on behalf of you all, because ³I have you in my heart, inasmuch as, both in my bonds and in the defence and confirmation of the gospel, ye all are partakers with me
6 of grace. For God is my witness, how I long after you all in the tender mercies of Christ Jesus. And this I pray, that your love may abound yet more and more in knowledge and all

7 discernment; so that ye may ⁴approve the things that are excellent; that ye may be sincere and void of offence
8 unto the day of Christ; being filled with the ⁵fruits of righteousness, which are through Jesus Christ, unto the glory and praise of God.

9 Now I would have you know, brethren, that the things which happened unto me have fallen out rather unto 10 the progress of the gospel; so that my bonds became manifest in Christ
11 throughout the whole praetorian guard, and to all the rest; and that most of the brethren in the Lord,

12 being confident through my bonds, are more abundantly bold to speak
13 the word of God without fear. Some indeed preach Christ even of envy and strife; and some also of good will: the one do it of love, knowing that I am set for the defence 14 of the gospel: but the other proclaim Christ of faction, not sincerely, thinking to raise up affliction for me in my 15 bonds. What then? only that in every way, whether in pretence or in truth, Christ is proclaimed; and therein I 16 rejoice, yea, and will rejoice. For I know that this shall turn to my salvation, through your supplication and the supply of the Spirit of Jesus

17 Christ, according to my earnest expectation and hope, that in nothing shall I be put to shame, but that with all boldness, as always, so now also Christ shall be magnified in my body, whether by life, or by death.

18 For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain. ⁸But if to live in the flesh,—if this is the fruit of my work, then ⁹what I shall choose ¹⁰I wot not.

19 But I am in a strait betwixt the two, having the desire to depart and be with Christ; for it is very far better:

20 yet to abide in the flesh is more needful for your sake. And having this confidence, I know that I shall abide, yea,

21 and abide with you all, for your progress and joy ¹¹in the faith; that your glorying may abound in Christ Jesus in me through my presence with you

22 again. Only ¹²let your manner of life be worthy of the gospel of Christ: that, whether I come and see you or be absent, I may hear of your state, that ye stand fast in one spirit, with one soul striving ¹³for the faith of the 23 gospel; and in nothing affrighted by the adversaries: which is for them an evident token of perdition, but of your salvation, and that from God; because to you it hath been granted in the behalf of Christ, not only to believe on him, but also to suffer in his behalf:

24 having the same conflict which ye saw in me, and now hear to be in me.
25 If there is therefore any comfort in Christ, if any consolation of love, if any fellowship of the Spirit, if any tender mercies and compassions, fulfil ye my joy, that ye be of the same mind, having the same love, being of one accord, ¹⁴of one mind; doing nothing through faction or through vainglory, but in lowliness of mind each counting other 26 better than himself; not looking each of you to his own things, but each of you also to the things of others. Have this mind in you, which was also in

27 Christ Jesus: who, ¹⁵being in the form of God, counted it not ¹⁶a prize to be 28 on an equality with God, but emptied himself, taking the form of a ¹⁷servant, ¹⁸being made in the likeness of men; and being found in fashion as a man, he humbled himself, becoming obedient 29 even unto death, yea, the death of the cross. Wherefore also God highly exalted him, and gave unto him the name

30 which is above every name; that in the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven and things on earth 31 and ¹⁹things under the earth, and that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

- 12 So then, my beloved, even as ye have always obeyed, not ¹as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling; for it is God which worketh in you both to will and to work, for his good pleasure. Do all things without murmurings and disputings; that ye may be blameless and harmless, children of God without blemish in the midst of a crooked and perverse generation, among whom ye are seen as ²lights in the world, holding forth the word of life; that I may have whereof to glory in the day of Christ, that I did not run in vain neither labour in vain. Yea, and if I am ³offered upon the sacrifice and service of your faith, I joy, and rejoice with you all: and in the same manner do ye also joy, and rejoice with me.

- 19 But I hope in the Lord Jesus to send Timothy shortly unto you, that I also may be of good comfort, when I know your state. For I have no man like-minded, who will care ⁴truly for your state. For they all seek their own, not the things of Jesus Christ. But ye know the proof of him, that, as a child serveth a father, so he served with me in furtherance of the gospel. Him therefore I hope to send forthwith, so soon as I shall see how it will go with me: but I trust in the Lord that I myself also shall come shortly. But I counted it necessary to send to you Epaphroditus, my brother and fellow-worker and fellow-soldier, and your ⁵messenger and minister to my need; since he longed ⁶after you all, and was sore troubled, because ye had heard that he was sick: ⁷for indeed he was sick nigh unto death: but God had mercy on him; and not on him only, but on me also, that I might not have sorrow upon sorrow. I have sent him therefore the more diligently, that, when ye see him again, ye may rejoice, and that I may be the less sorrowful. Receive him therefore in the Lord with all joy; and hold such in honour: because for the work of ⁷Christ he came nigh unto death, hazarding his life to supply that which was lacking in your service toward me.

- 3 Finally, my brethren, ⁸rejoice in the Lord. To write the same things to you, to me indeed is not irksome, but for you it is safe. Beware of the dogs, beware of the evil workers, beware of the circumcision: for we are the circumcision, who worship by the Spirit of God, and glory in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the flesh: though I myself might have confidence even in the flesh: if any other man ⁹thinketh to have confidence in the flesh, I yet more: circumcised the eighth day, of the stock of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, a Hebrew of Hebrews; as touching the law, a Pharisee; as touching zeal, persecuting the church; as touching the righteousness which is in the law, found blameless. Howbeit what things were ¹⁰gain to me, these have I counted loss for Christ. Yea verily, and I count all things to be loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord: for whom I suffered the loss of all things, and do count them but ¹¹dung, that I may gain Christ, and be found in him, ¹²not having a righteousness of mine own, even that which is of the law, but that which is through faith in Christ, the righteousness which is of God ¹³by faith: that I may know him, and the power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his sufferings, becoming conformed unto his death; if by any means I may attain unto the resurrection from the dead. Not that I have already obtained, or am already made perfect: but I press on, if so be that I may ¹⁴apprehend that for which also I was apprehended by Christ Jesus. Brethren, I count not myself ¹⁵yet to have apprehended: but one thing I do, forgetting the things which are behind, and stretching forward to the things which are before, I press on toward the goal unto the prize of the ¹⁶high calling of God in Christ Jesus. Let us therefore, as many as be perfect, be thus minded: and if in anything ye are otherwise minded, even this shall God reveal unto you: only, whereunto we have already attained, by that same rule let us walk.

- 17 Brethren, be ye imitators together of me, and mark them which so walk even as ye have us for an ensample. For many walk, of whom I told you often, and now tell you even weeping, that they are the enemies of the cross of 19 Christ: whose end is perdition, whose god is the belly, and whose glory is in their shame, who mind earthly things. 20 For our ¹⁷citizenship is in heaven; from whence also we wait for a Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ: who shall fashion anew the body of our humiliation, that it may be conformed to the body of his glory, according to the working whereby he is able even to subject all things unto himself.

- 4 Wherefore, my brethren beloved and longed for, my joy and crown, so stand fast in the Lord, my beloved.

2 I exhort Euodia, and I exhort Syntyche, to be of the same mind in the Lord. Yea, I beseech thee also, true yokefellow, help these women, for they laboured with me in the gospel, with Clement also, and the rest of my fellow-workers, whose names are in the book of life.

8 Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are ³ honourable, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are ⁴ of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, ⁵ think on ⁹ these things. The things which ye both learned and received and heard and saw in me, these things do: and the God of peace shall be with you.

I know how to be abased, and I know also how to abound: in everything and in all things have I learned the secret both to be filled and to be hungry, both to ¹³ abound and to be in want. I can do all things in him that strengtheneth me. ¹⁴ Howbeit ye did well, that ye had fellowship with my affliction. And ye yourselves also know, ye Philippians, that in the beginning of the gospel, when I departed from Macedonia, no church had fellowship with me in the matter of ¹⁶ giving and receiving, but ye only; for even in Thessalonica ye sent once and ¹⁷ again unto my need. Not that I seek for the gift; but I seek for the fruit that ¹⁸ increaseth to your account. But I have all things, and abound: I am filled, having received from Epaphroditus the things that came from you, an odour of a sweet smell, a sacrifice acceptable, ¹⁹ well-pleasing to God. And my God shall fulfil every need of yours according to his riches in glory in Christ Jesus.

⁴ Or, unto all pleasing, in every good work, bearing fruit and increasing &c.

1 PAUL, an apostle of Christ Jesus through the will of God, and Timothy ² our brother, ³ to the saints and faithful brethren in Christ which are at Colosse: Grace to you and peace from God our Father.

3 We give thanks to God the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, praying always ⁴ for you, having heard of your faith in Christ Jesus, and of the love which ye ⁵ have toward all the saints, because of the hope which is laid up for you in the heavens, whereof ye heard before in the ⁶ word of the truth of the gospel, which is come unto you; even as it is also in all the world bearing fruit and increasing, as it doth in you also, since the day ye heard and knew the grace of God in ⁷ truth; even as ye learned of Epaphras our beloved fellow-servant, who is a faithful minister of Christ on ⁸ our behalf, who also declared unto us your love in the Spirit.

9 For this cause we also, since the day we heard it, do not cease to pray and make request for you, that ye may be filled with the knowledge of his will in all spiritual wisdom and understanding, ¹⁰ to walk worthily of the Lord ⁴ unto all pleasing, bearing fruit in every good work, and increasing ⁵ in the knowledge of God; ⁶ strengthened ⁷ with all power, according to the might of his glory, unto all patience and longsuffering with joy; giving thanks unto the Father, who made ⁸ us meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the saints in light; ¹³ who delivered us out of the power of darkness, and translated us into the ¹⁴ kingdom of the Son of his love; in whom we have our redemption, the forgiveness of our sins: who is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn of all ¹⁶ creation; for in him were all things created, in the heavens and upon the earth, things visible and things invisible, whether thrones or dominions or principalities or powers; all things have been created through him, and ¹⁷ unto him; and he is before all things, ¹⁸ and in him all things ⁹ consist. you, being in time past alienated and enemies in your mind in your evil works, 22 yet now ³hath he reconciled in the body of his flesh through death, to present

you holy and without blemish and unre-

continue in the faith, grounded and sted-fast, and not moved away from the hope of the gospel which ye heard, which was preached in all creation under heaven; whereof I Paul was made a minister.

24 Now I rejoice in my sufferings for your sake, and fill up on my part that which is lacking of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh for his body's sake, which is 25 the church; whereof I was made a minister, according to the ⁴dispensation of God which was given me to you-26 ward, to fulfil the word of God, even the mystery which hath been hid ⁵from all ages and generations: but now hath it 27 been manifested to his saints, to whom God was pleased to make known what is the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gentiles, which is Christ in 28 you, the hope of glory: whom we proclaim, admonishing every man and teaching every man in all wisdom, that we may present every man perfect in 29 Christ; wherunto I labour also, striving according to his working, which worketh in me ⁶mightily.

2 For I would have you know how greatly I strive for you, and for them at Laodicea, and for as many as have not 2 seen my face in the flesh; that their hearts may be comforted, they being knit together in love, and unto all riches of the ⁷full assurance of understanding, that they may know the mystery of God,
3 even Christ, in whom are all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge hidden.
4 This I say, that no one may delude you 5 with persuasiveness of speech. For though I am absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit, joying and beholding your order, and the steadfastness of your faith in Christ.

6 As therefore ye received Christ Jesus 7 the Lord, so walk in him, rooted and builded up in him, and established ⁹in your faith, even as ye were taught, abounding ¹⁰in thanksgiving.

8 ¹¹Take heed lest there shall be any one that maketh spoil of you through his philosophy and vain deceit, after the tradition of men, after the ¹²rudiments 9 of the world, and not after Christ: for in him dwelleth all the fulness of the 10 Godhead bodily, and in him ye are made full, who is the head of all principality 11 and power: in whom ye were also circumcised with a circumcision not made with hands, in the putting off of the body of the flesh, in the circumcision of 12 Christ; having been buried with him in baptism, wherein ye were also raised with him through faith in the working of God, who raised him from the dead.

13 And you, being dead through your trespasses and the uncircumcision of your flesh, you, I say, did he quicken together with him, having forgiven us all our 14 trespasses; having blotted out ¹⁵the bond written in ordinances that was against us, which was contrary to us:
and he hath taken it out of the 15 way, nailing it to the cross; ¹⁶having put off from himself the principalities and the powers, he made a show of them openly, triumphing over them in it.

16 Let no man therefore judge you in meat, or in drink, or in respect of a feast day or a new moon or a sabbath
17 day: which are a shadow of the things 18 to come; but the body is Christ's. Let no man rob you of your prize ¹⁹by a voluntary humility and worshipping of the angels, ²⁰dwelling in the things which he hath ²¹seen, vainly puffed up 19 by his fleshly mind, and not holding fast the Head, from whom all the body, being supplied and knit together through the joints and bands, increaseth with the increase of God.

20 If ye died with Christ from the ²²rudiments of the world, why, as though living in the world, do ye subject 21 yourselves to ordinances, Handle not, 22 nor taste, nor touch (all which things are to perish with the using), after the 23 precepts and doctrines of men? Which things have indeed a show of wisdom in will-worship, and humility, and severity to the body; but are not of any ²⁴value against the indulgence of the flesh.

3 If then ye were raised together with Christ, seek the things that are above,
where Christ is, seated on the right 2 hand of God. Set your mind on the things that are above, not on the things 3 that are upon the earth. For ye died, and your life is hid with Christ in God.

4 When Christ, who is ¹⁹our life, shall be manifested, then shall ye also with him be manifested in glory.

man, which is being renewed unto knowledge after the image of him that ¹¹created him: where there cannot be Greek and Jew, circumcision and uncircumcision, barbarian, Scythian, bondman, freeman: but Christ is all, and in all.

¹² Put on therefore, as God's elect, holy and beloved, a heart of compassion, kindness, humility, meekness, long-¹³suffering; forbearing one another, and forgiving each other, if any man have a complaint against any; even as ¹the

¹⁴Lord forgave you, so also do ye: and above all these things put on love, which ¹⁵is the bond of perfectness. And let the peace of Christ ²rule in your hearts, to the which also ye were called in one ¹⁶body; and be ye thankful. Let the word of ³Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; teaching and admonishing ⁴one another with psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing with grace in ¹⁷your hearts unto God. And whatsoever ye do, in word or in deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father through him.

¹⁸ Wives, be in subjection to your husbands, as is fitting in the Lord. Husbands, love your wives, and be not bitter against them. Children, obey your parents in all things, for this is well-²¹pleasing in the Lord. Fathers, provoke not your children, that they be not ²²discouraged. ⁵Servants, obey in all things them that are your ⁶masters according to the flesh; not with eyeser-

vice, as men-pleasers, but in singleness ²³of heart, fearing the Lord: whatsoever ye do, work ⁷heartily, as unto the Lord, and not unto men; knowing that from the Lord ye shall receive the recompense of the inheritance: ye serve the ²⁵Lord Christ. For he that doeth wrong shall ⁸receive again for the wrong that he hath done: and there is no respect of ⁴persons. ⁶Masters, render unto your ⁵servants that which is just and ⁹equal; knowing that ye also have a Master in heaven.

² Continue stedfastly in prayer, watching therein with thanksgiving; withal praying for us also, that God may open unto us a door for the word, to speak the mystery of Christ, for which I am ⁴also in bonds; that I may make it manifest, as I ought to speak. Walk in wisdom toward them that are without, ⁶¹⁰redeeming the time. Let your speech be always with grace, seasoned with salt, that ye may know how ye ought to answer each one.

⁷ All my affairs shall Tychicus make known unto you, the beloved brother and faithful minister and fellow-servant

⁸in the Lord: whom I have sent unto you for this very purpose, that ye may know our estate, and that he may com-

⁹fort your hearts; together with Onesimus, the faithful and beloved brother, who is one of you. They shall make known unto you all things that are done here.

¹⁰ Aristarchus my fellow-prisoner saluteth you, and Mark, the cousin of Barnabas (touching whom ye received commandments; if he come unto you, ¹¹receive him), and Jesus, which is called Justus, who are of the circumcision: these only are my fellow-workers unto the kingdom of God, men that have

¹²been a comfort unto me. Epaphras, who is one of you, a ¹³servant of Christ Jesus, saluteth you, always striving for you in his prayers, that ye may stand perfect and fully assured in all the will

¹³of God. For I bear him witness, that he hath much labour for you, and for them in Laodicea, and for them in ¹⁴Hierapolis. Luke, the beloved physician, and Demas salute you. Salute the brethren that are in Laodicea, and

¹²Nymphas, and the church that is in ¹³their house. And when ¹⁴this epistle hath been read among you, cause that it be read also in the church of the Laodiceans; and that ye also read

¹⁷the epistle from Laodicea. And say to Archippus, Take heed to the ministry which thou hast received in the Lord, that thou fulfil it.

¹ PAUL, and Silvanus, and Timothy, unto the church of the Thessalonians in God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ: Grace to you and peace.

² We give thanks to God always for you all, making mention of you in our ³prayers; remembering without ceasing your work of faith and labour of love and patience of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ, before our God and Father;

⁴ knowing, brethren beloved of God, ⁵your election, ¹how that our gospel came not unto you in word only, but also in power, and in the ²Holy Ghost, and in much ³assurance; even as ye know what manner of men we shewed ourselves toward you for your 6 sake. And ye became imitators of us, and of the Lord, having received the word in much affliction, with joy of the 7 ¹ Holy Ghost; so that ye became an example to all that believe in Macedonia 8 and in Achaia. For from you hath sounded forth the word of the Lord, not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but in every place your faith to God-ward is gone forth; so that we need not to speak 9 anything. For they themselves report concerning us what manner of entering in we had unto you; and how ye turned unto God from idols, to serve a living 10 and true God, and to wait for his Son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead, even Jesus, which delivereth us from the wrath to come.

2 For yourselves, brethren, know our entering in unto you, that it hath not been 2 found vain: but having suffered before, and been shamefully untreated, as ye know, at Philippi, we waxed bold in our God to speak unto you the gospel of God
3 in much conflict. For our exhortation is not of error, nor of uncleanness, nor 4 in guile: but even as we have been approved of God to be intrusted with the gospel, so we speak; not as pleasing men, but God which proveth our hearts.
5 For neither at any time were we found using words of flattery, as ye know, nor a cloke of covetousness, God is wit-6 ness; nor seeking glory of men, neither from you, nor from others, when we might have ² been burdensome, as apo-7 stles of Christ. But we were ³ gentle in the midst of you, as when a nurse 8 cherisheth her own children: even so, being affectionately desirous of you, we were well pleased to impart unto you, not the gospel of God only, but also our own souls, because ye were become very 9 dear to us. For ye remember, brethren, our labour and travail: working night and day, that we might not burden any of you, we preached unto you the gos-10 pel of God. Ye are witnesses, and God also, how holily and righteously and unblameably we behaved ourselves toward you that believe: as ye know how we dealt with each one of you,
as a father with his own children, exhorting you, and encouraging you, 12 and testifying, to the end that ye should walk worthily of God, who 13 calleth you into his own kingdom and glory.

13 And for this cause we also thank God without ceasing, that, when ye received from us ⁴ the word of the message, even the word of God, ye accepted it not as the word of men, but, as it is in truth,
the word of God, which also worketh 14 in you that believe. For ye, brethren, became imitators of the churches of God which are in Judæa in Christ Jesus: for ye also suffered the same things of your own countrymen, even 15 as they did of the Jews; who both killed the Lord Jesus and the prophets, and drave out us, and please not God, 16 and are contrary to all men; forbidding us to speak to the Gentiles that they may be saved; to fill up their sins al-way: but the wrath is come upon them to the uttermost.

17 But we, brethren, being bereaved of you for ⁵ a short season, in presence, not in heart, endeavoured the more exceedingly to see your face with great de-18 sire: because we would fain have come unto you, I Paul once and again; and 19 Satan hindered us. For what is our hope, or joy, or crown of glorying? Are not even ye, before our Lord Jesus at 20 his ⁶ coming? For ye are our glory and our joy.

3 Wherefore when we could no longer forbear, we thought it good to be left 2 behind at Athens alone; and sent Timothy, our brother and ⁸ God's minister in the gospel of Christ, to establish you, and to comfort you concerning your 3 faith; that no man be moved by these afflictions; for yourselves know that 4 hereunto we are appointed. For verily, when we were with you, we told you 9 beforehand that we are to suffer afflic-tion; even as it came to pass, and ye 5 know. For this cause I also, when I could no longer forbear, sent that I might know your faith, lest by any means the tempter had tempted you, 6 and our labour should be in vain. But when Timothy came even now unto us from you, and brought us glad tidings of your faith and love, and that ye have good remembrance of us always, longing to see us, even as we also to see 7 you; for this cause, brethren, we were comforted over you in all our distress 8 and affliction through your faith: for now we live, if ye stand fast in the 9 Lord. For what thanksgiving can we render again unto God for you, for all the joy wherewith we joy for your 10 sakes before our God; night and day praying exceedingly that we may see your face, and may perfect that which is lacking in your faith?

11 Now may our God and Father himself, and our Lord Jesus, direct our 12 way unto you: and the Lord make you to increase and abound in love one toward another, and toward all men, 13 even as we also do toward you; to the end he may establish your hearts unblameable in holiness before our God and Father, at the ⁷ coming of our Lord Jesus with all his saints.¹⁰

4 Finally then, brethren, we beseech and exhort you in the Lord Jesus, that, as ye received of us how ye ought to walk and to please God, even as ye do walk,—that ye abound
2 more and more. For ye know what

³ Jesus. For this is the will of God, even your sanctification, that ye abstain from fornication; that each one of you know how to possess himself of his own vessel in sanctification and ⁵ honour, not in the passion of lust, even as the Gentiles which know not ⁶ God; that no man ² transgress, and wrong his brother in the matter: because the Lord is an avenger in all these things, as also we ³ forewarned ⁷ you and testified. For God called us not for uncleanness, but in sanctification. Therefore he that rejecteth, rejecteth not man, but God, who giveth his Holy Spirit unto you.

⁹ But concerning love of the brethren ye have no need that one write unto you: for ye yourselves are taught of ¹⁰ God to love one another; for indeed ye do it toward all the brethren which are in all Macedonia. But we exhort you, brethren, that ye abound more ¹¹ and more; and that ye ⁴ study to be quiet, and to do your own business, and to work with your hands, even as ¹² we charged you; that ye may walk honestly toward them that are without, and may have need of nothing.

¹³ But we would not have you ignorant, brethren, concerning them that fall asleep; that ye sorrow not, even as ¹⁴ the rest, which have no hope. For if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so them also that are fallen asleep ⁵ in Jesus will God bring ¹⁵ with him. For this we say unto you by the word of the Lord, that we that are alive, that are left unto the ⁶ coming of the Lord, shall in no wise precede them that are fallen asleep. For ¹⁶ the Lord himself shall descend from heaven, with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God: and the dead in Christ shall ¹⁷ rise first: then we that are alive, that are left, shall together with them be caught up in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so shall we ever ¹⁸ be with the Lord. Wherefore ⁷ comfort one another with these words.

⁵ But concerning the times and the seasons, brethren, ye have no need ² that ought be written unto you. For yourselves know perfectly that the day of the Lord so cometh as a ³ thief in the night. When they are saying, Peace and safety, then sudden destruction cometh upon them, as travail upon a woman with child; and ⁴ they shall in no wise escape. But ye, brethren, are not in darkness, that that day should overtake you ⁸ as a ⁵ thief: for ye are all sons of light, and sons of the day: we are not of the ⁶ night, nor of darkness; so then let us not sleep, as do the rest, but let us ⁷ watch and be sober. For they that sleep sleep in the night; and they that be drunken are drunken in the night.

⁸ But let us, since we are of the day, be sober, putting on the breastplate of faith and love; and for a helmet, the ⁹ hope of salvation. For God appointed us not unto wrath, but unto the obtaining of salvation through our Lord Jesus ¹⁰ Christ, who died for us, that, whether we ⁹ wake or sleep, we should live to-¹¹ gether with him. Wherefore ¹⁰ exhort one another, and build each other up, even as also ye do.

¹² But we beseech you, brethren, to know them that labour among you,
and are over you in the Lord, and ad-¹³ monish you; and to esteem them exceeding highly in love for their work's sake. Be at peace among yourselves.
¹⁴ And we exhort you, brethren, admonish the disorderly, encourage the fainthearted, support the weak, be ¹⁵ longsuffering toward all. See that none render unto any one evil for evil; but always follow after that which is good, ¹⁶ one toward another, and toward all. Re-
¹⁷ joice always; pray without ceasing; ¹⁸ in everything give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus to you-¹⁹ ward. Quench not the Spirit; despise
²⁰ not prophesyings; ¹¹ prove all things;
²² hold fast that which is good; abstain from every ¹² form of evil.

²³ And the God of peace himself sanc-tify you wholly; and may your spirit and soul and body be preserved entire, without blame at the ⁶ coming ²⁴ of our Lord Jesus Christ. Faithful is he that calleth you, who will also do it.

²⁵ Brethren, pray for us ¹³.

²⁶ Salute all the brethren with a holy

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE

TO THE THESSALONIANS.

1 PAUL, and Silvanus, and Timothy, unto the church of the Thessalonians in God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ; Grace to you and peace from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 We are bound to give thanks to God alway for you, brethren, even as it is meet, for that your faith groweth exceedingly, and the love of each one of you all toward one another aboundeth;

4 so that we ourselves glory in you in the churches of God for your patience and faith in all your persecutions and in the afflictions which ye endure; which is a manifest token of the righteous judgement of God; to the end that ye may be counted worthy of the kingdom

6 of God, for which ye also suffer: if so be that it is a righteous thing with God to recompense affliction to them

7 that afflict you, and to you that are afflicted rest with us, at the revelation of the Lord Jesus from heaven with the angels of his power in flaming fire, rendering vengeance to them that know not God, and to them that obey not the

9 gospel of our Lord Jesus: who shall suffer punishment, even eternal destruction from the face of the Lord and

10 from the glory of his might, when he shall come to be glorified in his saints, and to be marvelled at in all them that believed (because our testimony unto

11 you was believed) in that day. To which end we also pray alway for you, that our God may count you worthy of your calling, and fulfil every ¹ desire of goodness and every work of faith, with 12 power; that the name of our Lord Jesus may be glorified in you, and ye in him, according to the grace of our God and the Lord Jesus Christ.

2 Now we beseech you, brethren, ² touching the ³ coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, and our gathering together unto him;

2 to the end that ye be not quickly shaken from your mind, nor yet be troubled, either by spirit, or by word, or by epistle as from us, as that the day

3 of the Lord is now present; let no man beguile you in any wise: for it will not be, except the falling away come first, and the man of ⁴ sin be revealed,

4 the son of perdition, he that opposeth and exalteth himself against all that is called God or ⁵ that is worshipped; so that he sitteth in the ⁶ temple of God, setting himself forth as God.

5 Remember ye not, that, when I was yet with you, I told you these things? 6 And now ye know that which restraineth, to the end that he may be re-

7 vealed in his own season. For the mystery of lawlessness doth already work: ⁷ only there is one that restraineth now, until he be taken out of the 8 way. And then shall be revealed the lawless one, whom the Lord ⁸ Jesus shall ⁹ slay with the breath of his mouth, and bring to nought by the mani-

9 festation of his ³ coming; even he, whose ³ coming is according to the working of Satan with all ¹⁰ power

10 and signs and lying wonders, and with all deceit of unrighteousness for them that are perishing; because they received not the love of the truth, that

11 they might be saved. And for this cause God sendeth them a working of error, that they should believe a lie:

12 that they all might be judged who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness.

13 But we are bound to give thanks to God alway for you, brethren beloved of the Lord, for that God chose you ¹¹ from the beginning unto salvation in sanctification of the Spirit and ¹⁴ ¹² belief of the truth: whereunto he called you through our gospel, to the obtaining of the glory of our Lord Jesus

15 Christ. So then, brethren, stand fast, and hold the traditions which ye were taught, whether by word, or by epistle of ours.

16 Now our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God our Father which loved us and gave us eternal comfort and good

17 hope through grace, comfort your hearts and stablish them in every good work and word.

3 Finally, brethren, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may run and be glorified, even as also it is with you;

2 and that we may be delivered from unreasonable and evil men; for all have

3 not ¹³ faith. But the Lord is faithful, who shall stablish you, and guard you

4 from ¹⁴ the evil one. And we have confidence in the Lord touching you, that ye both do and will do the

5 things which we command. And the Lord direct your hearts into the love of God, and into the patience of Christ.

6 Now we command you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye withdraw yourselves from every brother that walketh

9 burden any of you: not because we have not the right, but to make ourselves an ensample unto you, that 10 ye should imitate us. For even when we were with you, this we commanded you, If any will not work, neither let 11 him eat. For we hear of some that walk among you disorderly, that work 12 not at all, but are busybodies. Now them that are such we command and exhort in the Lord Jesus Christ, that with quietness they work, and eat their 14 weary in well-doing. And if any man obeyeth not our word by this epistle, note that man, that ye have no company with him, to the end that he

1 PAUL, an apostle of Christ Jesus according to the commandment of God our Saviour, and Christ Jesus our hope:
2 unto Timothy, my true child in faith: Grace, mercy, peace, from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.
3 As I exhorted thee to tarry at Ephesus, when I was going into Macedonia, that thou mightest charge certain men
4 not to teach a different doctrine, neither to give heed to fables and endless genealogies, the which minister questionings, rather than a ¹dispensation of God
5 which is in faith; so do I now. But the end of the charge is love out of a pure heart and a good conscience and 6 faith unfeigned: from which things some having ²swerved have turned 7 aside unto vain talking; desiring to be teachers of the law, though they understand neither what they say, nor where-
8 of they confidently affirm. But we know that the law is good, if a man use it 9 lawfully, as knowing this, that law is not made for a righteous man, but for the lawless and unruly, for the ungodly and sinners, for the unholy and profane, for ³murderers of fathers and murderers of mothers, for manslayers, 10 for fornicators, for abusers of themselves with men, for men-stealers, for liars, for false swearers, and if there be any other thing contrary to the 11 ⁴sound ⁵doctrine; according to the gospel of the glory of the blessed God, which was committed to my trust.
12 I thank him that ⁶enabled me, even Christ Jesus our Lord, for that he counted me faithful, appointing me
13 to his service; though I was before a blasphemer, and a persecutor, and injurious; howbeit I obtained mercy, because I did it ignorantly in unbelief;

14 and the grace of our Lord abounded exceedingly with faith and love which 15 is in Christ Jesus. Faithful is the saying, and worthy of all acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to 16 save sinners; of whom I am chief: howbeit for this cause I obtained mercy, that in me as chief might Jesus Christ shew forth all his longsuffering, for an ensample of them which should hereafter believe on him unto eternal life.
17 Now unto the King ⁷eternal, incorruptible, invisible, the only God, be honour and glory ⁸for ever and ever. Amen.
18 This charge I commit unto thee, my child Timothy, according to the prophecies which ⁹went before on thee, that by them thou mayest war the good
19 warfare; holding faith and a good conscience; which some having thrust from them made shipwreck concerning
20 the faith: of whom is Hymenæus and Alexander; whom I delivered unto Satan, that they might be taught not to blaspheme.
2 I exhort therefore, first of all, ¹⁰that supplications, prayers, intercessions, thanksgivings, be made for all men; for kings and all that are in high place; that we may lead a tranquil and quiet life in all godliness and gravity.
3 This is good and acceptable in the 4 sight of God our Saviour; who will eth that all men should be saved, and come to the knowledge of the truth.
5 For there is one God, one mediator also between God and men, himself 6 man, Christ Jesus, who gave himself a ransom for all; the testimony to 7 be borne in its own times; whereunto I was appointed a ¹¹preacher and an apostle (I speak the truth, I lie not), a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and truth.

8 I desire therefore that the men pray in every place, lifting up holy hands,

9 without wrath and ¹disputing. In like manner, that women adorn themselves in modest apparel, with shamefastness and sobriety; not with braided hair, and gold or pearls or costly raiment;

10 but (which becometh women professing

11 godliness) through good works. Let a woman learn in quietness with all sub-

12 jection. But I permit not a woman to teach, nor to have dominion over a man,

13 but to be in quietness. For Adam was 14 first formed, then Eve; and Adam was not beguiled, but the woman being

15 beguiled hath fallen into transgression: but she shall be saved through ²the childbearing, if they continue in faith and love and sanctification with sobriety.

3 ³Faithful is the saying, If a man seeketh the office of a ⁴bishop, he desireth

2 a good work. The ⁴bishop therefore must be without reproach, the husband of one wife, temperate, soberminded, orderly, given to hospitality, apt to

3 teach; ⁵no brawler, no striker; but gentle, not contentious, no lover of

4 money; one that ruleth well his own house, having his children in subjection

5 with all gravity; (but if a man knoweth not how to rule his own house, how shall

6 he take care of the church of God?) not a novice, lest being puffed up he fall into the ⁶condemnation of the devil.

7 Moreover he must have good testimony from them that are without; lest he fall into reproach and the snare of the devil.

8 Deacons in like manner must be grave, not doubletongued, not given to much

9 wine, not greedy of filthy lucre; holding the mystery of the faith in a pure con-

10 science. And let these also first be proved; then let them serve as deacons,

11 if they be blameless. Women in like manner must be grave, not slanderers,

12 temperate, faithful in all things. Let deacons be husbands of one wife, ruling their children and their own houses

13 well. For they that have served well as deacons gain to themselves a good standing, and great boldness in the faith which is in Christ Jesus.

14 These things write I unto thee, hoping

15 to come unto thee shortly; but if I tarry long, that thou mayest know ⁷how men ought to behave themselves in the house of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and ⁸ground of 16 the truth. And without controversy great is the mystery of godliness; ⁹He who was manifested in the flesh, justified in the spirit, seen of angels, preached among the nations, believed on in the world, received up in glory.

4 But the Spirit saith expressly, that in later times some shall fall away from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits

2 and doctrines of ¹⁰devils, through the hypocrisy of men that speak lies,

¹¹branded in their own conscience as with a hot iron; forbidding to marry, and commanding to abstain from meats, which God created to be received with thanksgiving by them that believe and 4 know the truth. For every creature of God is good, and nothing is to be rejected, if it be received with thanksgiving: 5 for it is sanctified through the word of God and prayer.

6 If thou put the brethren in mind of these things, thou shalt be a good minister of Christ Jesus, nourished in the words of the faith, and of the good doctrine which thou hast followed until

7 now: but refuse profane and old wives' fables. And exercise thyself unto god-

8 liness: for bodily exercise is profitable ¹²for a little; but godliness is profitable for all things, having promise of the life which now is, and of that which 9 is to come. Faithful is the saying, and 10 worthy of all acceptance. For to this end we labour and strive, because we have our hope set on the living God, who is the Saviour of all men, specially 11 of them that believe. These things

12 command and teach. Let no man despise thy youth; but be thou an example to them that believe, in word, in manner of life, in love, in faith, in 13 purity. Till I come, give heed to reading, to exhortation, to teaching.

14 Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee by prophecy, with the laying on of the hands of the presby-

15 tery. Be diligent in these things; give thyself wholly to them; that thy pro-

16 gress may be manifest unto all. Take heed to thyself, and to thy teaching.

Continue in these things; for in doing this thou shalt save both thyself and them that hear thee.

5 Rebuke not an elder, but exhort him as a father; the younger men as bre-

2 thren: the elder women as mothers; the younger as sisters, in all purity.

3 Honour widows that are widows indeed.

4 But if any widow hath children or grandchildren, let them learn first to shew piety towards their own family, and to requite their parents: for this is ac-

5 ceptable in the sight of God. Now she that is a widow indeed, and desolate, hath her hope set on God, and continu-eth in supplications and prayers night 6 and day. But she that giveth herself to pleasure is dead while she liveth.

7 These things also command, that they 8 may be without reproach. But if any provideth not for his own, and specially his own household, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an

a widow under threescore years old, ¹⁰*having been* the wife of one man, well reported of for good works; if she hath brought up children, if she hath used hospitality to strangers, if she hath washed the saints' feet, if she hath relieved the afflicted, if she hath diligently followed every good work. But younger widows refuse: for when they have waxed wanton against Christ, they desire to marry; having condemnation, because they have rejected their first faith. And withal they learn also to be idle, going about from house to house; and not only idle, but tattlers also and busybodies, speaking things which they ought not. I desire therefore that the younger ¹*widows* marry, bear children, rule the household, give none occasion to the adversary for reviling: for already some are turned aside after Satan. If any woman that believeth hath widows, let her relieve them, and let not the church be burdened; that it may relieve them that are widows indeed.

Let the elders that rule well be counted worthy of double honour, especially those who labour in the word and in teaching. For the scripture saith, Thou shalt not muzzle the ox when he treadeth out the corn. And, The labourer is worthy of his hire. Against an elder receive not an accusation, except at ²*the mouth of two or three witnesses*. Them that sin reprove in the sight of all, that the rest also may be in fear. I charge thee in the sight of God, and Christ Jesus, and the elect angels, that thou observe these things without ³*prejudice*, doing nothing by partiality. Lay hands hastily on no man, neither be partaker of other men's sins: keep thyself pure. Be no longer a drinker of water, but use a little wine for thy stomach's sake and thine often infirmities. Some men's sins are evident, going before unto judgement; and some men also they follow after. In like manner also ⁴*there* are good works that are evident; and such as are otherwise cannot be hid.

Let as many as are ⁵*servants* under the yoke count their own masters worthy of all honour, that the name of God and the doctrine be not blasphemed. And they that have believing masters, let them not despise them, because they are brethren; but let them serve them the rather, because they that ⁶*partake* of the benefit are believing and beloved. These things teach and exhort.

If any man teacheth a different doctrine, and consenteth not to ⁷*sound* words, ⁸*even* the words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to the doctrine which is according to godliness; he is puffed up, knowing nothing, but ⁹*dotting* about questionings and disputes of words, whereof cometh envy, strife, railings, evil surmisings, wranglings of men corrupted in mind and bereft of the truth, supposing that godliness is a way of gain. But godliness with contentment is great gain: for we brought nothing into the world, for neither can we carry anything out; but having food and covering ¹⁰*we shall be therewith content*. But they that desire to be rich fall into a temptation and a snare and many foolish and hurtful lusts, such as drown men in destruction and perdition. For the love of money is a root of all ¹¹*kinds* of evil: which some reaching after have been led astray from the faith, and have pierced themselves through with many sorrows.

But thou, O man of God, flee these things; and follow after righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, meekness. Fight the good fight of the faith, lay hold on the life eternal, whereunto thou wast called, and didst confess the good confession in the sight of many witnesses. I charge thee in the sight of God, who ¹²*quickeneth* all things, and of Christ Jesus, who before Pontius Pilate witnessed the good confession; that thou keep the commandment, without spot, without reproach, until the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ: which in ¹³*its own times* he shall shew, who is the blessed and only Potentate, the King of ¹⁴*kings*, and Lord of ¹⁵*lords*; who only hath immortality, dwelling in light unapproachable; whom no man hath seen, nor can see: to whom be honour and power eternal. Amen. Charge them that are rich in this present ¹⁶*world*, that they be not high-minded, nor have their hope set on the uncertainty of riches, but on God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy; that they do good, that they be rich in good works, that they be ready to distribute, ¹⁷*willing to communicate*; laying up in store for themselves a good foundation against the time to come, that they may lay hold on the life which is ¹⁸*life* indeed.

O Timothy, guard ¹⁹*that which is committed unto thee*, turning away from the profane babblings and oppositions of the knowledge which is falsely so called; which some professing have ²⁰*erred* concerning the faith. Grace be with you.

9 Or, Holy Spirit

1 PAUL, an apostle of Christ Jesus ¹by the will of God, according to the promise of the life which is in Christ Jesus, 2 to Timothy, my beloved child: Grace, mercy, peace, from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord. 3 I thank God, whom I serve from my forefathers in a pure conscience, how unceasing is my remembrance of thee 4 in my supplications, night and day longing to see thee, remembering thy tears, 5 that I may be filled with ²joy; having been reminded of the unfeigned faith that is in thee; which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and thy mother Eunice; and, I am persuaded, in thee 6 also. For the which cause I put thee in remembrance that thou ³stir up the gift of God, which is in thee through the 7 laying on of my hands. For God gave us not a spirit of fearfulness; but of 8 power and love and ⁴discipline. Be not ashamed therefore of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner: but suffer hardship with the gospel according to the power of God; who saved us, and called us with a holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus before 10 times eternal, but hath now been manifested by the appearing of our Saviour Christ Jesus, who abolished death, and brought life and incorruption to light 11 through the gospel, whereunto I was appointed a ⁵preacher, and an apostle, 12 and a teacher. For the which cause I suffer also these things: yet I am not ashamed; for I know him whom I have believed, and I am persuaded that he is able to guard ⁶that which I have committed unto him against that day. 13 Hold the pattern of ⁷sound words which thou hast heard from me, in faith and 14 love which is in Christ Jesus. ⁸That good thing which was committed unto thee guard through the ⁹Holy Ghost which dwelleth in us. 15 This thou knowest, that all that are in Asia turned away from me; of whom 16 are Phygelus and Hermogenes. The Lord grant mercy unto the house of Onesiphorus: for he oft refreshed me, 17 and was not ashamed of my chain; but, when he was in Rome, he sought me 18 diligently, and found me (the Lord grant unto him to find mercy of the Lord in that day); and in how many things he ministered at Ephesus, thou knowest very well.

2 Thou therefore, my child, be strengthened in the grace that is in Christ Jesus. 2 And the things which thou hast heard from me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also. 3 ¹⁰Suffer hardship with me, as a good 4 soldier of Christ Jesus. No soldier on service entangleth himself in the affairs of this life; that he may please him who 5 enrolled him as a soldier. And if also a man contend in the games, he is not crowned, except he have contended law- 6 fully. The husbandman that laboureth must be the first to partake of the fruits. 7 Consider what I say; for the Lord shall give thee understanding in all things. 8 Remember Jesus Christ, risen from the dead, of the seed of David, according to 9 my gospel: wherein I suffer hardship unto bonds, as a malefactor; but the 10 word of God is not bound. Therefore I endure all things for the elect's sake, that they also may obtain the salvation which is in Christ Jesus with eternal 11 glory. Faithful is the ¹¹saying: For if we died with him, we shall also live 12 with him: if we endure, we shall also reign with him: if we shall deny him, 13 he also will deny us: if we are faithless, he abideth faithful; for he cannot deny himself. 14 Of these things put them in remembrance, charging ¹²them in the sight of the Lord, that they strive not about words, to no profit, to the subverting 15 of them that hear. Give diligence to present thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, ¹³handling aright the word of truth. 16 But shun profane babblings: for they 17 will proceed further in ungodliness, and their word will ¹⁴eat as doth a gangrene: of whom is Hymenæus and Philetus; 18 men who concerning the truth have ¹⁵erred, saying that ¹⁶the resurrection is past already, and overthrow the faith 19 of some. Howbeit the firm foundation of God standeth, having this seal, The Lord knoweth them that are his: and, Let every one that nameth the name of the Lord depart from unrighteousness. 20 Now in a great house there are not only vessels of gold and of silver, but also of wood and of earth; and some unto honour, and some unto

21 dishonour. If a man therefore purge himself from these, he shall be a vessel unto honour, sanctified, meet for the master's use, prepared unto every good 22 work. But flee youthful lusts, and follow after righteousness, faith, love, peace, with them that call on the Lord
23 out of a pure heart. But foolish and ignorant questionings refuse, knowing 24 that they gender strifes. And the Lord's ¹servant must not strive, but be gentle towards all, apt to teach, for-25 bearing, in meekness ²correcting them that oppose themselves; if peradventure God may give them repentance
26 unto the knowledge of the truth, and they may ³recover themselves out of the snare of the devil, having been ⁴taken captive ⁵by the Lord's servant unto the will of God.

3 But know this, that in the last days
2 grievous times shall come. For men shall be lovers of self, lovers of money, boastful, haughty, railers, disobedient
3 to parents, unthankful, unholy, without natural affection, implacable, slanderers, without self-control, fierce, no
4 lovers of good, traitors, headstrong, puffed up, lovers of pleasure rather 5 than lovers of God; holding a form of godliness, but having denied the power thereof: from these also turn 6 away. For of these are they that creep into houses, and take captive silly women laden with sins, led away by 7 divers lusts, ever learning, and never able to come to the knowledge of the 8 truth. And like as Jannes and Jambres withstood Moses, so do these also withstand the truth; men corrupted in mind, 9 reprobate concerning the faith. But they shall proceed no further: for their folly shall be evident unto all men, as 10 theirs also came to be. But thou didst follow my teaching, conduct, purpose, 11 faith, longsuffering, love, patience, persecutions, sufferings; what things befell me at Antioch, at Iconium, at Lystra; what persecutions I endured: and out of them all the Lord delivered 12 me. Yea, and all that would live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution.
13 But evil men and impostors shall wax worse and worse, deceiving and being 14 deceived. But abide thou in the things which thou hast learned and hast been assured of, knowing of ⁶whom thou 15 hast learned them; and that from a babe thou hast known the sacred writings which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is 16 in Christ Jesus. ⁷Every scripture inspired of God is also profitable for teaching, for reproof, for correction, for ⁸instruction which is in righteousness:

17 that the man of God may be complete, furnished completely unto every good work.

4 ⁹I charge thee in the sight of God, and of Christ Jesus, who shall judge the quick and the dead, and by his appearing and his kingdom; preach the word; be instant in season, out of season; ¹⁰reprove, rebuke, exhort, with all
3 longsuffering and teaching. For the time will come when they will not endure the ¹¹sound ¹²doctrine; but, having itching ears, will heap to themselves teachers after their own lusts;
4 and will turn away their ears from the 5 truth, and turn aside unto fables. But be thou sober in all things, suffer hardship, do the work of an evangelist, fulfil thy ministry. For I am already being ¹³offered, and the time of my 7 departure is come. I have fought the good fight, I have finished the course,
8 I have kept the faith: henceforth there is laid up for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, shall give to me at that day: and not only to me, but also to all them that have loved his appearing.
9 Do thy diligence to come shortly unto
10 me: for Demas forsook me, having loved this present ¹⁴world, and went to Thessalonica; Crescens to ¹⁵Galatia, 11 Titus to Dalmatia. Only Luke is with me. Take Mark, and bring him with thee: for he is useful to me for minister-12 ing. But Tychicus I sent to Ephesus.
13 The cloak that I left at Troas with Carpus, bring when thou comest, and the books, especially the parchments.
14 Alexander the coppersmith ¹⁶did me much evil: the Lord will render to him 15 according to his works: of whom be thou ware also; for he greatly with-
16 stood our words. At my first defence no one took my part, but all forsook me: may it not be laid to their ac-
17 count. But the Lord stood by me, and ¹⁷strengthened me; that through me the ¹⁸message might be fully proclaimed, and that all the Gentiles might hear: and I was delivered out of the 18 mouth of the lion. The Lord will deliver me from every evil work, and will save me unto his heavenly kingdom: to whom be the glory ¹⁹for ever and ever. Amen.
19 Salute Prisca and Aquila, and the 20 house of Onesiphorus. Erastus abode at Corinth: but Trophimus I left at

1 PAUL, a ¹servant of God, and an apostle of Jesus Christ, according to the faith of God's elect, and the knowledge of the truth which is according to
2 godliness, in hope of eternal life, which God, who cannot lie, promised before
3 times eternal; but in ²his own seasons manifested his word in the ³message, wherewith I was intrusted according to the commandment of God our 4 Saviour; to Titus, my true child after a common faith: Grace and peace from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Saviour.

5 For this cause left I thee in Crete, that thou shouldest set in order the things that were wanting, and appoint elders in every city, as I gave thee
6 charge; if any man is blameless, the husband of one wife, having children that believe, who are not accused of 7 riot or unruly. For the ⁴bishop must be blameless, as God's steward; not selfwilled, not soon angry, ⁵no brawler, no striker, not greedy of filthy lucre; but given to hospitality, a lover of good, soberminded, just, holy, temperate; holding to the faithful word which is according to the teaching, that he may be able both to exhort in the 6 sound ⁷doctrine, and to convict the gainsayers.

10 For there are many unruly men, vain talkers and deceivers, specially they of 11 the circumcision, whose mouths must be stopped; men who overthrow whole houses, teaching things which they
12 ought not, for filthy lucre's sake. One of themselves, a prophet of their own, said, Cretans are always liars, evil 13 beasts, idle ⁸gluttons. This testimony is true. For which cause reprove them sharply, that they may be ⁹sound in the 14 faith, not giving heed to Jewish fables, and commandments of men who turn 15 away from the truth. To the pure all things are pure: but to them that are defiled and unbelieving nothing is pure; but both their mind and their 16 conscience are defiled. They profess that they know God; but by their works they deny him, being abominable, and disobedient, and unto every good work reprobate.

2 But speak thou the things which
2 befit the ⁶sound ⁷doctrine: that aged men be temperate, grave, soberminded, ⁹sound in faith, in love, in patience:
3 that aged women likewise be reverent in demeanour, not slanderers nor enslaved to much wine, teachers of that 4 which is good; that they may train

the young women to love their husbands, to love their children, to be soberminded, chaste, workers at home, kind, being in subjection to their own husbands, that the word of God be 6 not blasphemed: the younger men
7 likewise exhort to be soberminded: in all things shewing thyself an ensample of good works; in thy doctrine showing
8 uncorruptness, gravity, sound speech, that cannot be condemned; that he that is of the contrary part may be ashamed, having no evil thing to say
9 of us. Exhort ¹⁰servants to be in subjection to their own masters, and to be well-pleasing to them in all things;
10 not gausaying; not purloining, but shewing all good fidelity; that they may adorn the doctrine of God our 11 Saviour in all things. For the grace of God ¹¹hath appeared, bringing salvation to all men, instructing us, to the intent that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly and righteously and godly in this 12 present ¹²world; looking for the blessed hope and appearing of the glory
13 of our great God and Saviour Jesus
14 Christ; who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto himself a people for his own possession, zealous of good works.

15 These things speak and exhort and reprove with all ¹⁴authority. Let no man despise thee.

3 Put them in mind to be in subjection to rulers, to authorities, to be obedient, to be ready unto every good
2 work, to speak evil of no man, not to be contentious, to be gentle, shewing all meekness toward all men. For we also were aforetime foolish, disobedient, deceived, serving divers lusts and pleasures, living in malice and envy,
4 hateful, hating one another. But when the kindness of God our Saviour, and 5 his love toward man, appeared, not by works done in righteousness, which we did ourselves, but according to his mercy he saved us, through the 15 washing of regeneration ¹⁶and renewing of the ¹⁷Holy Ghost, which he poured out upon us richly, through 7 Jesus Christ our Saviour; that, being justified by his grace, we might be made ¹⁸heirs according to the hope of 8 eternal life. Faithful is the saying, and concerning these things I will that thou affirm confidently, to the end that they which have believed God may be careful to ¹⁹maintain good works. These things

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO PHILEMON.

1 PAUL, a prisoner of Christ Jesus, and Timothy ¹our brother, to Philemon
 2 our beloved and fellow-worker, and to Apphia ²our sister, and to Archippus
 our fellow-soldier, and to the church
 3 in thy house: Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.
 4 I thank my God always, making men-5 tion of thee in my prayers, hearing of ³thy love, and of the faith which thou hast toward the Lord Jesus.
 6 and toward all the saints; that the fellowship of thy faith may become effectual, in the knowledge of every good thing which is in ⁴you, unto 7 Christ. For I had much joy and comfort in thy love, because the hearts of the saints have been refreshed through thee, brother.
 8 Wherefore, though I have all boldness in Christ to enjoin thee that which 9 is befitting, yet for love's sake I rather beseech, being such a one as Paul ⁵the aged, and now a prisoner also of Christ 10 Jesus: I beseech thee for my child, whom I have begotten in my bonds, 11 ⁶Onesimus, who was aforetime unprofitable to thee, but now is profitable 12 to thee and to me: whom I have sent back to thee in his own person, that 13 is, my very heart: whom I would fain have kept with me, that in thy behalf

he might minister unto me in the bonds 14 of the gospel: but without thy mind I would do nothing; that thy goodness should not be as of necessity, but of 15 free will. For perhaps he was therefore parted from thee for a season, that thou 16 shouldst have him for ever; no longer as a ⁷servant, but more than a ⁷servant, a brother beloved, specially to me, but how much rather to thee, both in the 17 flesh and in the Lord. If then thou countest me a partner, receive him as 18 myself. But if he hath wronged thee at all, or oweth thee ought, put that to 19 mine account; I Paul write it with mine own hand, I will repay it: that I say not unto thee how that thou owest to me even thine own self besides.
 20 Yea, brother, let me have ⁸joy of thee
 in the Lord: refresh my heart in Christ.
 21 Having confidence in thine obedience
 I write unto thee, knowing that thou 22 wilt do even beyond what I say. But withal prepare me also a lodging: for I hope that through your prayers I shall be granted unto you.
 23 Epaphras, my fellow-prisoner in Christ

5 excellent name than they. For unto which of the angels said he at any time, Thou art my Son,
This day have I begotten thee?
and again,

I will be to him a Father,
And he shall be to me a Son?

6¹ And when he again² bringeth in the firstborn into³ the world he saith, And let all the angels of God worship him.

7 And of the angels he saith,
Who maketh his angels⁴ winds,
And his ministers a flame of fire:

8 But of the Son he saith,
Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever;
And the sceptre of uprightness is the sceptre of⁵ thy kingdom.

9 Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated iniquity;
Therefore God, thy God, hath appointed thee
With the oil of gladness above thy fellows.

10 And,
Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth,
And the heavens are the works of thy hands:

11 They shall perish; but thou continuest:
And they all shall wax old as doth a garment;

12 And as a mantle shalt thou roll them up,
As a garment, and they shall be changed:
But thou art the same,
And thy years shall not fail.

13 But of which of the angels hath he said at any time,
Sit thou on my right hand,
Till I make thine enemies the footstool of thy feet?

14 Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to do service for the sake of them that shall inherit salvation?

2 Therefore we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things that were heard, lest haply we drift away from² them. For if the word spoken through angels proved steadfast, and every transgression and disobedience received a just recompense of reward; how shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation? which having at the first been spoken through the Lord, was confirmed unto us by them that heard; God also bearing witness with them, both by signs and wonders, and by manifold powers, and by⁶ gifts of the⁷ Holy Ghost, according to his own will.

5 For not unto angels did he subject³ the world to come, whereof we speak. But one hath somewhere testified, saying,
What is man, that thou art mindful of him?

Or the son of man, that thou visitest him?

7 Thou madest him⁸ a little lower than the angels;

Thou crownedst him with glory and honour,

⁹ And didst set him over the works of thy hands:

8 Thou didst put all things in subjection under his feet.

For in that he subjected all things unto him, he left nothing that is not subject to him. But now we see not

⁹ yet all things subjected to him. But we behold him who hath been made

⁸ a little lower than the angels, even Jesus, because of the suffering of death crowned with glory and honour, that by the grace of God he should taste death for every man. For it became him, for whom are all things, and through whom are all things, ¹⁰ in bringing many sons unto glory, to make the ¹¹ author of their salvation perfect through sufferings. For both he that sanctifieth and they that are sanctified are all of one:

for which cause he is not ashamed to call them brethren, saying,

I will declare thy name unto my brethren,

In the midst of the ¹² congregation will I sing thy praise.

13 And again, I will put my trust in him.

And again, Behold, I and the children

14 which God hath given me. Since then the children are sharers in ¹³ flesh and blood, he also himself in like manner partook of the same; that through death he ¹⁴ might bring to nought him that ¹⁵ had the power of death, that is,

15 the devil; and ¹⁴ might deliver all them who through fear of death were all

16 their lifetime subject to bondage. For verily not of angels doth he take hold, but he taketh hold of the seed of Abra-

17 ham. Wherefore it behoved him in all things to be made like unto his brethren, that he might be a merciful and faithful high priest in things pertaining to God, to make propitiation for the sins of the 18 people. ¹⁶ For ¹⁷ in that he himself hath suffered being tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted.

3 Wherefore, holy brethren, partakers of a heavenly calling, consider the Apostle and High Priest of our confession, even Jesus; who was faithful to him that ¹⁸ appointed him, as also was

3 Moses in all ¹⁹ his house. For he hath been counted worthy of more glory than

Moses, by so much as he that ²⁰ built the house hath more honour than the house.

4 For every house is ²⁰ builded by some one; but he that ²⁰ built all things is

5 God. And Moses indeed was faithful in all ¹⁹ his house as a servant, for a testimony of those things which were afterward to be spoken; but Christ as a son, over ¹⁹ his house; whose house are we, if we hold fast our boldness and the glorying of our hope firm

To-day if ye shall hear his voice,

8 Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation,
Like as in the day of the temptation in the wilderness,

9 ¹Wherewith your fathers tempted me by proving me,

And saw my works forty years.

10 Wherefore I was displeased with this generation,

And said, They do alway err in their heart:

But they did not know my ways;

11 As I sware in my wrath,

²They shall not enter into my rest.

12 Take heed, brethren, lest haply there shall be in any one of you an evil heart of unbelief, in falling away from the 13 living God: but exhort one another day by day, so long as it is called To-day;

lest any one of you be hardened by the 14 deceitfulness of sin: for we are become partakers ³of Christ, if we hold fast the beginning of our confidence firm unto

15 the end: while it is said,

To-day if ye shall hear his voice,

Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation.

16 For who, when they heard, did provoke? nay, did not all they that came

17 out of Egypt by Moses? And with whom was he displeased forty years? was it not with them that sinned, whose

18 carcasses fell in the wilderness? And to whom sware he that they should not enter into his rest, but to them that

19 were disobedient? And we see that they were not able to enter in because of unbelief.

4 Let us fear therefore, lest haply, a promise being left of entering into his rest, any one of you should seem to have

2 come short of it. For indeed we have had ⁵good tidings preached unto us, even as also they: but the word of hearing did not profit them, because ⁶they were not united by faith with them

3 that heard. ⁷For we which have believed do enter into that rest; even as he hath said,

As I sware in my wrath,

²They shall not enter into my rest:

although the works were finished from 4 the foundation of the world. For he hath said somewhere of the seventh day on this wise, And God rested on the seventh day from all his works;

5 and in this place again,

²They shall not enter into my rest.

6 Seeing therefore it remaineth that some should enter therein, and they to whom ⁸the good tidings were before

7 preached failed to enter in because of disobedience, he again defineth a certain day, ⁹saying in David, after so long a time, To-day, as it hath been before said,

To-day if ye shall hear his voice,
Harden not your hearts.

8 For if ¹⁰Joshua had given them rest, he would not have spoken afterward of 9 another day. There remaineth therefore a sabbath rest for the people of God.

10 For he that is entered into his rest hath himself also rested from his works,

11 as God did from his. Let us therefore give diligence to enter into that rest, that no man fall ¹¹after the same example of disobedience. For the word of 12 God is living, and active, and sharper than any two-edged sword, and piercing even to the dividing of soul and spirit, of both joints and marrow, and quick to discern the thoughts and intents of the 13 heart. And there is no creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are naked and laid open before the eyes of him with whom we have to do.

14 Having then a great high priest, who hath passed through the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold fast our

15 confession. For we have not a high priest that cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but one that hath been in all points tempted like as

16 we are, yet without sin. Let us therefore draw near with boldness unto the throne of grace, that we may receive mercy, and may find grace to help us in time of need.

5 For every high priest, being taken from among men, is appointed for men in things pertaining to God, that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for

2 sins: who can bear gently with the ignorant and erring, for that he himself

3 also is compassed with infirmity; and by reason thereof is bound, as for the people, so also for himself, to offer for

4 sins. And no man taketh the honour unto himself, but when he is called of

5 God, even as was Aaron. So Christ also glorified not himself to be made a high priest, but he that spake unto him,

Thou art my Son,

This day have I begotten thee:

6 as he saith also in another place,

Thou art a priest for ever

After the order of Melchizedek.

7 Who in the days of his flesh, having offered up prayers and supplications with strong crying and tears unto him that was able to save him ¹²from death, and having been heard for his godly

have need again ¹that some one teach you the rudiments of the ²first principles of the oracles of God; and are become such as have need of milk, and ¹³not of solid food. For every one that partaketh of milk is without experience of the word of righteousness; for he is ¹⁴a babe. But solid food is for ³fullgrown men, even those who by reason of use have their senses exercised to discern good and evil.

6 Wherefore let us ⁴cease to speak of the first principles of Christ, and press on unto ⁵perfection; not laying again a foundation of repentance from dead works, and of faith toward God, ⁶of the teaching of ⁷baptisms, and of laying on of hands, and of resurrection of the dead, and of eternal judgement. ³And this will we do, if God permit. ⁴For as touching those who were once enlightened ⁸and tasted of the heavenly gift, and were made partakers of the ⁵Holy Ghost, and ⁹tasted the good word of God, and the powers of the age to come, and then fell away, it is impossible to renew them again unto repentance; ¹⁰seeing they crucify to themselves the Son of God afresh, and put ⁷him to an open shame. For the land which hath drunk the rain that cometh oft upon it, and bringeth forth herbs meet for them for whose sake it is also ⁸tilled, receiveth blessing from God: but if it beareth thorns and thistles, it is rejected and nigh unto a curse; whose end is to be burned.

9 But, beloved, we are persuaded better things of you, and things that ¹¹accompany salvation, though we thus speak: ¹⁰for God is not unrighteous to forget your work and the love which ye shewed toward his name, in that ye ministered unto the saints, and still do minister. ¹And we desire that each one of you may shew the same diligence unto the ¹²fulness of hope even to the end: that ye be not sluggish, but imitators of them who through faith and patience inherit the promises.

13 For when God made promise to Abraham, since he could swear by none ¹⁴greater, he sware by himself, saying, Surely blessing I will bless thee, and ¹⁵multiplying I will multiply thee. And thus, having patiently endured, he obtained the promise. For men swear by the greater: and in every dispute of theirs the oath is final for confirmation. ¹⁷Wherein God, being minded to shew more abundantly unto the heirs of the promise the immutability of his counsel, ¹³interposed with an oath: that by two immutable things, in which it is impossible for God to lie, we may have a strong encouragement, who have fled for refuge to lay hold of the ¹⁹hope set before us; which we have as an anchor of the soul, a hope both sure and stedfast and entering into ²⁰that which is within the veil; whither as a forerunner Jesus entered for us, having become a high priest for ever after the order of Melchizedek.

7 For this Melchizedek, king of Salem, priest of God Most High, who met Abraham returning from the slaughter ²of the kings, and blessed him, to whom also Abraham divided a tenth part of all (being first, by interpretation, King of righteousness, and then also King of Salem, which is, King of peace; ³without father, without mother, without genealogy, having neither beginning of days nor end of life, but made like unto the Son of God), abideth a priest continually.

4 Now consider how great this man was, unto whom Abraham, the patriarch, gave a tenth out of the chief ⁵spoils. And they indeed of the sons of Levi that receive the priest's office have commandment to take tithes of the people according to the law, that is, of their brethren, though these have come ⁶out of the loins of Abraham: but he whose genealogy is not counted from them hath taken tithes of Abraham, and hath blessed him that hath the ⁷promises. But without any dispute the ⁸less is blessed of the better. And here men that die receive tithes; but there one, of whom it is witnessed that he ⁹liveth. And, so to say, through Abraham even Levi, who receiveth tithes, ¹⁰hath paid tithes; for he was yet in the loins of his father, when Melchizedek met him.

11 Now if there was perfection through the Levitical priesthood (for under it hath the people received the law), what further need was there that another priest should arise after the order of Melchizedek, and not be reckoned after ¹²the order of Aaron? For the priesthood being changed, there is made of necessity a change also ¹⁴of the law. For he of whom these things are said ¹⁵belongeth to another tribe, from which no man hath given attendance at the altar. For it is evident that our Lord hath sprung out of Judah; as to which tribe Moses ¹⁵spake nothing concerning priests. And what we say is yet more abundantly evident, if after the likeness of Melchizedek ¹⁶there ariseth another priest, who hath been made, not after the law of a carnal commandment, but after the power of an ¹⁷endless life: for it is witnessed of him, Thou art a priest for ever After the order of Melchizedek.

18 For there is a disannulling of a foregoing commandment because of its ¹⁹weakness and unprofitableness (for the law made nothing perfect), and a bringing in thereupon of a better hope, through which we draw ²⁰nigh unto God. And inasmuch as it

14 Or, of law

16 Gr. invis-sible.

is not without the taking of an oath 21 (for they indeed have been made priests without an oath; but he with an oath ¹by him that saith ²of him,

The Lord sware and will not repent himself,

Thou art a priest for ever;);

22 by so much also hath Jesus become 23 the surety of a better ³covenant. And they indeed have been made priests
many in number, because that by death 24 they are hindered from continuing: but he, because he abideth for ever, ⁴hath 25 his priesthood ⁵unchangeable. Wherefore also he is able to save ⁶to the utmost them that draw near unto God through him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them.

26 For such a high priest became us, holy, guileless, undefiled, separated from sinners, and made higher than the 27 heavens; who needeth not daily, like those high priests, to offer up sacrifices, first for his own sins, and then for the sins of the people: for this he did once 28 for all, when he offered up himself. For the law appointeth men high priests, having infirmity; but the word of the oath, which was after the law, ap- pointeth a Son, perfected for evermore.

8 ⁷Now ⁸in the things which we are saying the chief point is this: We have such a high priest, who sat down on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty 2 in the heavens, a minister of ⁹the sanctuary, and of the true tabernacle, which 3 the Lord pitched, not man. For every high priest is appointed to offer both gifts and sacrifices: wherefore it is necessary that this high priest also have 4 somewhat to offer. Now if he were on earth, he would not be a priest at all, seeing there are those who offer the 5 gifts according to the law; who serve that which is a copy and shadow of the heavenly things, even as Moses is warned of God when he is about to 10 make the tabernacle: for, See, saith he, that thou make all things according to the pattern that was shewed thee in 6 the mount. But now hath he obtained a ministry the more excellent, by how much also he is the mediator of a better ³covenant, which hath been enacted

7 upon better promises. For if that first covenant had been faultless, then would no place have been sought for a second.

8 For finding fault with them, he saith,
Behold, the days come, saith the Lord.
That I will ¹¹make a new ³covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah;

9 Not according to the ³covenant that I made with their fathers
In the day that I took them by the hand to lead them forth out of the land of Egypt;
For they continued not in my ³covenant,

And I regarded them not, saith the Lord.

10 For this is the ³covenant that ¹²I will make with the house of Israel
After those days, saith the Lord;
I will put my laws into their mind,
And on their heart also will I write
them:

And I will be to them a God,

And they shall be to me a people:

11 And they shall not teach every man
his fellow-citizen,
And every man his brother, saying,
Know the Lord:

For all shall know me,

From the least to the greatest of them.

12 For I will be merciful to their iniquities,

And their sins will I remember no
more.

13 In that he saith, A new covenant, he hath made the first old. But that which is becoming old and waxeth aged is nigh unto vanishing away.

9 Now even the first covenant had ordinances of divine service, and its sanctuary, a sanctuary of this world.

2 For there was a tabernacle prepared,
the first, wherein ¹³were the candlestick, and the table, and ¹⁴the shewbread;

3 which is called the Holy place. And after the second veil, the tabernacle which is called the Holy of holies;

4 having a golden ¹⁵censer, and the ark of the covenant overlaid round about with gold, wherein ¹⁶was a golden pot holding the manna, and Aaron's rod that budded, and the tables of the cove-

5 nant; and above it cherubim of glory overshadowing ¹⁷the mercy-seat; of which things we cannot now speak

6 severally. Now these things having been thus prepared, the priests go in continually into the first tabernacle,

7 accomplishing the services; but into the second the high priest alone, once in the year, not without blood, which he offereth for himself, and for the 8 ¹⁸errors of the people: the Holy Ghost this signifying, that the way into the holy place hath not yet been made manifest, while as the first tabernacle

9 is yet standing; which is a parable for the time now present; according to which are offered both gifts and sacrifices that cannot, as touching the conscience, make the worshipper per-

10 fect, being only (with meats and drinks and divers washings) carnal ordinances, imposed until a time of reformation.

11 But Christ having come a high priest of ¹⁹the good things to come, through the greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this

12 creation, nor yet through the blood of goats and calves, but through his 13 ed eternal redemption. For if the blood of goats and bulls, and the ashes of a heifer sprinkling them that have been defiled, sanctify unto the cleanness of 14 the flesh: how much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without blemish unto God, cleanse ¹your conscience from dead works to serve the 15 living God? And for this cause he is the mediator of a new ²covenant, that a death having taken place for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first ²covenant, they that have been called may receive the 16 promise of the eternal inheritance. For where a ²testament is, there must of necessity ³be the death of him that 17 made it. For a ²testament is of force ⁴where there hath been death: ⁵for doth it ever avail while he that made 18 it liveth? Wherefore even the first ⁶covenant hath not been dedicated with-19 out blood. For when every commandment had been spoken by Moses unto all the people according to the law, he took the blood of the calves and the goats, with water and scarlet wool and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book 20 itself, and all the people, saying, This is the blood of the ²covenant which 21 God commanded to you-ward. More- over the tabernacle and all the vessels of the ministry he sprinkled in like 22 manner with the blood. And according to the law, I may almost say, all things are cleansed with blood, and apart from shedding of blood there is no remission.

 23 It was necessary therefore that the copies of the things in the heavens should be cleansed with these; but the heavenly things themselves with better
 24 sacrifices than these. For Christ entered not into a holy place made with hands, like in pattern to the true; but into heaven itself, now to appear before
 25 the face of God for us: nor yet that he should offer himself often; as the high priest entereth into the holy place year
 26 by year with blood not his own; else must he often have suffered since the foundation of the world: but now once at the ⁶end of the ages hath he been manifested to put away sin ⁷by the 27 sacrifice of himself. And inasmuch as it is ⁸appointed unto men once to die, 28 and after this ⁹cometh judgement; so Christ also, having been once offered to bear the sins of many, shall appear a second time, apart from sin, to them that wait for him, unto salvation.
 10 For the law having a shadow of the good things to come, not the very image of the things, ⁹they can never with the same sacrifices year by year, which they offer continually, make perfect
 2 them that draw nigh. Else would they not have ceased to be offered, because the worshippers, having been once cleansed, would have had no more con- science of sins? But in those sacrifices there is a remembrance made of sins 4 year by year. For it is impossible that the blood of bulls and goats should take 5 away sins. Wherefore when he cometh into the world, he saith,

Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not,

But a body didst thou prepare for me;

6 In whole burnt offerings and sacri- fices for sin thou hadst no pleasure:

7 Then said I, Lo, I am come

(In the roll of the book it is written of me)

To do thy will, O God.

8 Saying above, Sacrifices and offerings and whole burnt offerings and sacri- fices for sin thou wouldest not, neither hadst pleasure therein (the which are 9 offered according to the law), then hath he said, Lo, I am come to do thy will. He taketh away the first, that he may 10 establish the second. ¹⁰By which will we have been sanctified through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ 11 once for all. And every ¹¹priest indeed standeth day by day ministering and offering oftentimes the same sacrifices, the which can never take away sins:
 12 but he, when he had offered one sacrifice for ¹²sins for ever, sat down on the 13 right hand of God; from henceforth expecting till his enemies be made the 14 footstool of his feet. For by one offering he hath perfected for ever them that 15 are sanctified. And the Holy Ghost also beareth witness to us: for after he hath said,

16 This is the ¹³covenant that ¹⁴I will make with them

After those days, saith the Lord;

I will put my laws on their heart,

And upon their mind also will I write them;

then saith he,

17 And their sins and their iniquities will I remember no more.

18 Now where remission of these is, there is no more offering for sin.

19 Having therefore, brethren, boldness to enter into the holy place by the 20 blood of Jesus, by the way which he dedicated for us, a new and living way, through the veil, that is to say, his flesh;

21 and having a great priest over the house
 22 of God; let us draw near with a true heart in ¹⁵fulness of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil ¹⁶con- science, and our body washed with pure 23 water: let us hold fast the confession of our hope that it waver not; for he 24 is faithful that promised: and let us consider one another to provoke unto 25 love and good works; not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the custom of some is, but exhorting one another; and so much the more, as ye see the day drawing nigh.

26 For if we sin wilfully after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more a sacrifice for sins, but a certain fearful expectation of judgement, and a fierceness of fire which shall devour the adversaries. A man that hath set at nought Moses' law dieth without compassion on the word of two or three witnesses: of how much sorer punishment, think ye, shall he be judged worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted the blood of the covenant, wherewith he was sanctified, ²an unholy thing, and hath done despite unto the Spirit of grace? For we know him that said, Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense. And again, The Lord shall judge his people. It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God. 32 But call to remembrance the former days, in which, after ye were enlightened, ye endured a great conflict of 33 sufferings; partly, being made a gazing-stock both by reproaches and afflictions; and partly, becoming partakers with 34 them that were so used. For ye both had compassion on them that were in bonds, and took joyfully the spoiling of your possessions, knowing ⁸that ³ye yourselves have a better possession and 35 an abiding one. Cast not away therefore your boldness, which hath great 36 recompense of reward. For ye have need of patience, that, having done the will of God, ye may receive the promise. 37 For yet a very little while, He that cometh shall come, and shall not tarry. 38 But ⁵my righteous one shall live by faith: And if he shrink back, my soul hath no pleasure in him. 39 But we are not ⁶of them that shrink back unto perdition; but of them that have faith unto the ⁷saving of the soul. 11 Now faith is ⁸the assurance of things hoped for, the ⁹proving of things not seen. For therein the elders had 3 witness borne to them. By faith we understand that the ¹⁰worlds have been framed by the word of God, so that what is seen hath not been made out 4 of things which do appear. By faith Abel offered unto God a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, through which he had witness borne to him that he was righteous, ¹¹God bearing witness ¹²in respect of his gifts: and through it he 5 being dead yet speaketh. By faith Enoch was translated that he should not see death; and he was not found, because God translated him: for before his translation he hath had witness borne to him that he had been well- 6 pleasing unto God: and without faith it is impossible to be well-pleasing unto him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that seek after him. 7 By faith Noah, being warned of God concerning things not seen as yet, moved with godly fear, prepared an ark to the saving of his house; through which he condemned the world, and became heir of the righteousness which is according 8 to faith. By faith Abraham, when he was called, obeyed to go out unto a place which he was to receive for an inheritance; and he went out, not knowing whither he went. By faith he became a sojourner in the land of promise, as in a land not his own, ¹³dwelling in tents, with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with him of the same promise: for he looked for the city which hath the foundations, whose 11 ¹⁴builder and maker is God. By faith even Sarah herself received power to conceive seed when she was past age, since she counted him faithful who 12 had promised: wherefore also there sprang of one, and him as good as dead, so many as the stars of heaven in multitude, and as the sand, which is by the sea shore, innumerable. 13 These all died ¹⁵in faith, not having received the promises, but having seen them and greeted them from afar, and having confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth. For they that say such things make it manifest that they are seeking after a 15 country of their own. And if indeed they had been mindful of that country from which they went out, they would 16 have had opportunity to return. But now they desire a better country, that is, a heavenly: wherefore God is not ashamed of them, to be called their God: for he hath prepared for them a city. 17 By faith Abraham, being tried, ¹⁶offered up Isaac: yea, he that had gladly received the promises was offering up 18 his only begotten son; even he ¹⁷to whom it was said, In Isaac shall thy 19 seed be called: accounting that God is able to raise up, even from the dead; from whence he did also in a parable 20 receive him back. By faith Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau, even concerning 21 things to come. By faith Jacob, when he was a dying, blessed each of the sons of Joseph; and worshipped, 22 leaning upon the top of his staff. By faith Joseph, when his end was nigh, made mention of the departure of the children of Israel; and gave commandment concerning his bones. By faith Moses, when he was born, was hid three months by his parents, because they saw he was a goodly child; and they were not afraid of the king's commandment. By faith Moses, when he was grown up, refused to be called the 25 son of Pharaoh's daughter; choosing rather to be evil entreated with the people of God, than to enjoy the 26 pleasures of sin for a season; accounting the reproach of ¹Christ greater riches than the treasures of Egypt: for he looked ²ed unto the recompense of reward. By faith he forsook Egypt, not fearing the wrath of the king: for he endured, as ³seeing him who is invisible. By faith he ⁴kept the passover, and the sprinkling of the blood, that the destroyer of the ⁵firstborn should not touch them. By faith they passed through the Red sea as by dry land: which the Egyptians ⁶assaying to do were swallowed up. By faith the walls of Jericho fell down, after they had been compassed about for ⁷seven days. By faith Rahab the harlot perished not with them that were disobedient, having received the spies with ⁸peace. And what shall I more say? for the time will fail me if I tell of Gideon, Barak, Samson, Jephthah; of David and ⁹Samuel and the prophets: who through faith subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousness, obtained promises, stopped ¹⁰the mouths of lions, quenched the power of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, from weakness were made strong, waxed mighty in war, turned to flight armies ¹¹of aliens. Women received their dead by a resurrection: and others were ¹²tortured, not accepting ¹³their deliverance; that they might obtain a better resurrection: and others had trial of mockings and scourgings, yea, moreover of bonds ¹⁴and imprisonment: they were stoned, they were sawn asunder, they were tempted, they were slain with the sword: they went about in sheepskins, in goatskins; being destitute, afflicted, evil entreated (of whom the world was not worthy), wandering in deserts and mountains and caves, and the holes of ¹⁵the earth. And these all, having had witness borne to them through their ¹⁶faith, received not the promise, God having ¹⁷provided some better thing concerning us, that apart from us they should not be made perfect.

¹² Therefore let us also, seeing we are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, lay aside ¹³every weight, and the sin which ¹⁴doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that ¹⁵is set before us, looking unto Jesus the ¹⁶author and perfecter of our faith, who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising shame, and hath sat down at the right hand of the ¹⁷throne of God. For consider him that hath endured such gainsaying of sinners against ¹⁸themselves, that ye wax not ¹⁹weary, fainting in your souls. Ye have not yet resisted unto blood, striving ²⁰against sin: and ye have forgotten the exhortation, which reasoneth with you as with sons,

My son, regard not lightly the chastening of the Lord,
Nor faint when thou art reproved

of him;

⁶ For whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth,
And scourgeth every son whom he receiveth.

⁷ ¹⁰ It is for chastening that ye endure; God dealeth with you as with sons; for what son is there whom his father ⁸chasteneth not? But if ye are without chastening, whereof all have been made partakers, then are ye bastards, ⁹and not sons. Furthermore, we had the fathers of our flesh to chasten us, and we gave them reverence: shall we not much rather be in subjection unto the Father of ¹¹spirits, and live? ¹⁰ For they verily for a few days chastened us as seemed good to them; but he for our profit, that we may be ¹¹partakers of his holiness. All chastening seemeth for the present to be not joyous, but grievous: yet afterward it yieldeth peaceable fruit unto them that have been exercised thereby, even the ¹²fruit of righteousness. Wherefore ¹³lift up the hands that hang down, and the ¹⁴palsied knees; and make straight paths for your feet, that that which is lame be not ¹⁵turned out of the way, but rather be healed.

¹⁴ Follow after peace with all men, and the sanctification without which no ¹⁵man shall see the Lord: looking carefully ¹⁶lest there be any man that ¹⁷fall-eth short of the grace of God; lest any root of bitterness springing up trouble you, and thereby the many be defiled; ¹⁸lest there be any fornicator, or profane person, as Esau, who for one mess ¹⁹of meat sold his own birthright. For ye know that even when he afterward desired to inherit the blessing, he was rejected (for he found no place of repentance), though he sought it diligently with tears.

¹⁸ For ye are not come unto ¹⁶a mount that might be touched, and that burned with fire, and unto blackness, and darkness, and tempest, and the sound of a trumpet, and the voice of words; which voice they that heard intreated that no word more should be spoken unto them: ²⁰ for they could not endure that which was enjoined, If even a beast touch the ²¹mountain, it shall be stoned; and so fearful was the appearance, that Moses ²²said, I exceedingly fear and quake: but ye are come unto mount Zion, and unto the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, ²³and to ²⁴innumerable hosts of angels, to the general assembly and church of the firstborn who are enrolled in heaven, and to God the Judge of all, and to the spirits of ²⁵just men made perfect, and to Jesus the mediator of a new ²⁶covenant, and to the blood of sprinkling that speaketh ²⁷better ²⁸than that of Abel. Remember them that are in bonds, as bound with them; them that are evil entreated, as being yourselves also in the body. Let marriage be had in honour among all, and let the bed be undefiled: for fornicators and adulterers God will judge. ⁴Be ye free from the love of money; content with such things as ye have: for himself hath said, I will in no wise fail thee, neither will I in any wise forsake thee. 6 So that with good courage we say,

all liberally and upbraideth not; and 6 it shall be given him. But let him ask in faith, nothing doubting: for he that doubteth is like the surge of the sea 7 driven by the wind and tossed. For let not that man think ⁴that he shall 8 receive anything of the Lord; a doubleminded man, unstable in all his ways. 9 But let the brother of low degree glory in his high estate: and the rich, in that he is made low: because as the flower of the grass he 12 Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he hath been approved, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord promised to 13 them that love him. Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted ¹ of God: for God ² cannot be tempted with ³ evil, and he himself tempteth no man: 14 but each man is ⁴ tempted, when he is drawn away by his own lust, and en- 15 ticed. Then the lust, when it hath conceived, beareth sin: and the sin, when it is fullgrown, bringeth forth 16 death. Be not deceived, my beloved 17 brethren. Every good ⁵ gift and every perfect boon is from above, coming down from the Father of lights, with whom can be no variation, neither 18 shadow that is cast by turning. Of his own will he brought us forth by the word of truth, that we should be a kind of firstfruits of his creatures.

19 ⁶ Ye know this, my beloved brethren. But let every man be swift to hear, 20 slow to speak, slow to wrath: for the wrath of man worketh not the right- 21 eousness of God. Wherefore putting away all filthiness and overflowing of ⁷ wickedness, receive with meekness the ⁸ implanted word, which is able to save 22 your souls. But be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deluding your own 23 selves. For if any one is a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he is like unto a man beholding ⁹ his natural face in a 24 mirror: for he beholdeth himself, and goeth away, and straightway forgetteth 25 what manner of man he was. But he that looketh into the perfect law, the law of liberty, and so continueth, being not a hearer that forgetteth, but a doer that worketh, this man shall be blessed 26 in his doing. If any man ¹⁰ thinketh himself to be religious, while he bridleth not his tongue but deceiveth his heart, 27 this man's religion is vain. Pure religion and undefiled before our God and Father is this, to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world.

2 My brethren, ¹¹ hold not the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Lord of 2 glory, with respect of persons. For if there come into your ¹² synagogue a man with a gold ring, in fine clothing, and there come in also a poor man 3 in vile clothing; and ye have regard to him that weareth the fine cloth- ing, and say, Sit thou here in a good place; and ye say to the poor man, Stand thou there, or sit under my 4 footstool; ¹³ are ye not divided ¹⁴ in your own mind, and become judges

5 with evil thoughts? Hearken, my be- loved brethren; did not God choose them that are poor as to the world to be rich in faith, and heirs of the king- dom which he promised to them that 6 love him? But ye have dishonoured the poor man. Do not the rich oppress you, and themselves drag you before 7 the judgement-seats? Do not they blas- pheme the honourable name ¹⁵ by the 8 which ye are called? Howbeit if ye fulfil the royal law, according to the scripture, Thou shalt love thy neigh- 9 bour as thyself, ye do well: but if ye have respect of persons, ye commit sin, being convicted by the law as transgres- 10 sors. For whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet stumble in one point, 11 he is become guilty of all. For he that said, Do not commit adultery, said also, Do not kill. Now if thou dost not com- mit adultery, but killest, thou art be- 12 come a transgressor of the law. So speak ye, and so do, as men that are to 13 be judged by a law of liberty. For judge- ment is without mercy to him that hath shewed no mercy: mercy glorieth against judgement.

14 What doth it profit, my brethren, if a man say he hath faith, but have not 15 works? can that faith save him? If a brother or sister be naked, and in lack of 16 daily food, and one of you say unto them, Go in peace, be ye warmed and filled; and yet ye give them not the things need- ful to the body; what doth it profit? 17 Even so faith, if it have not works, is 18 dead in itself. ¹⁶ Yea, a man will say, Thou hast faith, and I have works: shew me thy faith apart from thy works, and I by my works will shew thee my faith. 19 Thou believest that ¹⁷ God is one; thou doest well: the ¹⁸ devils also believe, and 20 shudder. But wilt thou know, O vain man, that faith apart from works is 21 barren? Was not Abraham our father justified by works, in that he offered up 22 Isaac his son upon the altar? ¹⁹ Thou seest that faith wrought with his works, and by works was faith made per- 23 fect; and the scripture was fulfilled which saith, And Abraham believed God, and it was reckoned unto him for righteousness; and he was called the 24 friend of God. Ye see that by works a man is justified, and not only by faith. 25 And in like manner was not also Ra- hab the harlot justified by works, in that she received the messengers, and 26 sent them out another way? For as the body apart from the spirit is dead, even so faith apart from works is dead.

3 Be not many teachers, my brethren, knowing that we shall receive 2 ²⁰ heavier judgement. For in many things we all stumble. If any stumbleth not in word, the same is a perfect man, able to bridle the

Behold, the ships also, though they are so great, and are driven by rough winds, are yet turned about by a very small rudder, whither the impulse of the steersman willet. So the tongue also is a little member, and boasteth great things. Behold, ¹how much 6 wood is kindled by how small a fire! And the tongue is ²a fire: ³the world of iniquity among our members is the tongue, which defileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the wheel of ⁴nature, 7 and is set on fire by hell. For every ⁵kind of beasts and birds, of creeping things and things in the sea, is tamed, and 8 hath been tamed ⁶by ⁷mankind: but the tongue can no man tame; it is a restless evil, it is full of deadly poison. 9 Therewith bless we the Lord and Father; and therewith curse we men, which are made after the likeness of 10 God: out of the same mouth cometh forth blessing and cursing. My brethren, these things ought not so to be. 11 Doth the fountain send forth from the same opening sweet water and bitter? 12 can a fig tree, my brethren, yield olives, or a vine figs? neither can salt water yield sweet. 13 Who is wise and understanding among you? let him shew by his good life his 14 works in meekness of wisdom. But if ye have bitter jealousy and faction in your heart, glory not and lie not against 15 the truth. This wisdom is not a wisdom that cometh down from above, but is 16 earthly, ⁸sensual, ⁹devilish. For where jealousy and faction are, there is confusion and every vile deed. But the wisdom that is from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, easy to be intreated, full of mercy and good fruits, without ¹⁰variance, without hypocrisy. 18 And the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace ¹¹for them that make peace.

4 Whence come wars and whence come fightings among you? come they not hence, even of your pleasures that war 2 in your members? Ye lust, and have not; ye kill, and ¹²covet, and cannot obtain; ye fight and war; ye have not, because ye ask not. Ye ask, and receive not, because ye ask amiss, that ye may 4 spend it in your pleasures. Ye adulteresses, know ye not that the friendship of the world is enmity with God? Whosoever therefore would be a friend of the world maketh himself an enemy 5 of God. Or think ye that the scripture ¹³speaketh in vain? ¹⁴Doth the spirit which ¹⁵he made to dwell in us long unto 6 envying? But he giveth ¹⁶more grace. Wherefore the scripture saith, God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace 7 to the humble. Be subject therefore unto God; but resist the devil,

8 and he will flee from you. Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you. Cleanse your hands, ye sinners; and purify your hearts, ye doubleminded. 9 Be afflicted, and mourn, and weep: let your laughter be turned to mourning, 10 and your joy to heaviness. Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall exalt you.

11 Speak not one against another, brethren. He that speaketh against a brother, or judgeth his brother, speaketh against the law, and judgeth the law: but if thou judgest the law, thou art not a doer of the law, but a judge. 12 One only is the lawgiver and judge, even he who is able to save and to destroy: but who art thou that judgest thy neighbour?

13 Go to now, ye that say, To-day or tomorrow we will go into this city, and spend a year there, and trade, and get 14 gain: whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow. What is your life? For ye are a vapour, that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away. 15 ¹⁷For that ye ought to say, If the Lord will, we shall both live, and do this or 16 that. But now ye glory in your vanities: all such glorying is evil. To him therefore that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin.

5 Go to now, ye rich, weep and howl for your miseries that are coming upon 2 you. Your riches are corrupted, and 3 your garments are moth-eaten. Your gold and your silver are rusted; and their rust shall be for a testimony ¹⁸against you, and shall eat your flesh as fire. Ye have laid up your treasure in 4 the last days. Behold, the hire of the labourers who mowed your fields, which is of you kept back by fraud, crieth out: and the cries of them that reaped have entered into the ears of the Lord of Sabaoth. Ye have lived delicately on the earth, and taken your pleasure; ye have nourished your hearts in a day of 6 slaughter. Ye have condemned, ye have killed the righteous one; he doth not resist you.

7 Be patient therefore, brethren, until the ¹⁹coming of the Lord. Behold, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, being patient over it, until ²⁰it receive the early and latter 8 rain. Be ye also patient; stablish your hearts: for the ¹⁹coming of the Lord is 9 at hand. Murmur not, brethren, one against another, that ye be not judged: behold, the judge standeth before the 10 doors. Take, brethren, for an example of suffering and of patience, the prophets 11 who spake in the name of the Lord. Behold, we call them blessed which endured: ye have heard of the ²¹patience of Job, and have seen the end of the Lord, how that the Lord is full of pity, and merciful.

THE FIRST EPISTLE GENERAL OF PETER.

1 PETER, an apostle of Jesus Christ, to the elect who are sojourners of the Dispersion in Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia, according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, in sanctification of the Spirit, unto obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ: Grace to you and peace be multiplied.

3 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who according to his great mercy begat us again unto a living hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, unto an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you, who by the power of God are guarded through faith unto a salvation ready to be revealed in the last time. Wherein ye greatly rejoice, though now for a little while, if need be, ye have been put to grief in manifold ¹temptations, that the proof of your faith, being more precious than gold that perisheth though it is proved by fire, might be found unto praise and glory and honour at the revelation of Jesus Christ: whom not having seen ye love; on whom, though now ye see him not, yet believing, ye rejoice greatly with joy unspeakable and ²full of glory: receiving the end of your faith, even the salvation of your souls. Concerning which salvation the prophets sought and searched diligently, who prophesied of the grace that should come unto you: searching what time or what manner of time the Spirit of Christ which was in them did point unto, when it testified beforehand the sufferings ³of Christ, and the glories that should follow them. To whom it was revealed,

⁶ Gr. is being brought.

⁷ Or, like the Holy One which called you.

13 Wherefore girding up the loins of your mind, be sober and set your hope perfectly on the grace that ⁶is to be brought unto you at the revelation of Jesus Christ; as children of obedience, not fashioning yourselves according to your former lusts in the time of your ignorance: but ⁷like as he which called you is holy, be ye yourselves also holy in all manner of living; because it is written, Ye shall be holy; for I am holy. And if ye call on him as Father, who without respect of persons judgeth according to each man's work, pass the time of your sojourning in fear: knowing that ye were redeemed, not with corruptible things, with silver or gold, from your vain manner of life handed down from your fathers; but with precious blood, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot, even the blood of Christ: who was foreknown indeed before the foundation of the world, but was manifested at the end of the times for your sake, who through him are believers in God, which raised him from the dead, and gave him glory; so that your faith and hope might be in God. Seeing ye have purified your souls in your obedience to the truth unto unfeigned love of the brethren, love one another ⁸from the heart fervently: having been begotten again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, through the word of ⁹God, which liveth and abideth.

⁸ Many ancient authorities read from a clean heart.

⁹ Or, God who liveth.

24 For,
All flesh is as grass,
And all the glory thereof as the flower of grass.
The grass withereth, and the flower
falleth:

25 But the ¹word of the Lord abideth
for ever.

And this is the ¹word of good tidings which was preached unto you.

2 Putting away therefore all ²wickedness, and all guile, and hypocrisies, 2 and envies, and all evil speakings, as newborn babes, long for the ³spiritual milk which is without guile, that ye 3 may grow thereby unto salvation; if ye have tasted that the Lord is gracious:
4 unto whom coming, a living stone, rejected indeed of men, but with God 5 elect, ⁴precious, ye also, as living stones, are built up ⁵a spiritual house, to be a holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God through 6 Jesus Christ. Because it is contained in ⁶scripture,

Behold, I lay in Zion a chief corner stone, elect, ⁴precious:

And he that believeth on ⁷him shall not be put to shame.

7 ⁸For you therefore which believe is the ⁹preciousness: but for such as disbelieve,

The stone which the builders rejected,
The same was made the head of the corner;

8 and,

A stone of stumbling, and a rock of offence;

10 for they ¹¹stumble at the word, being disobedient: whereunto also they were 9 appointed. But ye are an elect race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a people for God's own possession, that ye may shew forth the excellencies of him who called you out of darkness into his marvellous light: which in time past were no people, but now are the people of God: which had not obtained mercy,

but now have obtained mercy.

11 Beloved, I beseech you as sojourners and pilgrims, to abstain from fleshly 12 lusts, which war against the soul; having your behaviour seemly among the Gentiles; that, wherein they speak against you as evil-doers, they may by your good works, which they behold, glorify God in the day of visitation.

13 Be subject to every ¹²ordinance of man for the Lord's sake: whether it be to the 14 king, as supreme; or unto governors, as sent ¹³by him for vengeance on evil-doers and for praise to them that do

15 well. For so is the will of God, that by well-doing ye should put to silence the 16 ignorance of foolish men: as free, and not ¹⁴using your freedom for a cloke of ²wickedness, but as bondservants of 17 God. Honour all men. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honour the king.

18 ¹⁵Servants, be in subjection to your masters with all fear; not only to the good and gentle, but also to the fro-

19 ward. For this is ¹⁶acceptable, if for conscience ¹⁷toward God a man endur-20 eth griefs, suffering wrongfully. For what glory is it, if, when ye sin, and are buffeted for it, ye shall take it patiently? but if, when ye do well, and suffer for it, ye shall take it patiently, this is ¹⁶acceptable with God.

21 For hereunto were ye called: because Christ also suffered for you, leaving you an example, that ye should follow his 22 steps: who did no sin, neither was 23 guile found in his mouth: who, when he was reviled, reviled not again; when he suffered, threatened not; but committed ¹⁸himself to him that judgeth

24 righteously: who his own self ¹⁹bare our sins in his body upon the tree, that we, having died unto sins, might live unto righteousness; by whose 25 ²⁰stripes ye were healed. For ye were going astray like sheep; but are now returned unto the Shepherd and 21 Bishop of your souls.

3 In like manner, ye wives, be in subjection to your own husbands; that, even if any obey not the world, they may without the word be gained by 2 the ²²behaviour of their wives; beholding your chastie ²²behaviour coupled

3 with fear. Whose adorning let it not be the outward adorning of plaiting
the hair, and of wearing jewels of gold,

4 or of putting on apparel; but let it be the hidden man of the heart, in the incorruptible apparel of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of 5 great price. For after this manner aforetime the holy women also, who hoped in God, adorned themselves, being in subjection to their own ²³hus-

6 bands: as Sarah obeyed Abraham, calling him lord: whose children ye now are, if ye do well, and are not ²⁴put
in fear by any terror.

7 Ye husbands, in like manner, dwell with your wives according to knowledge, giving honour ²⁵unto the woman, as unto the weaker vessel, as being also joint-heirs of the grace of life; to the end that your prayers be not hindered.

8 Finally, be ye all likeminded, ²⁶com-passionate, loving as brethren, tender-9 hearted, humbleminded: not rendering evil for evil, or reviling for reviling; but contrariwise blessing; for hereunto were ye called, that ye should inherit a 10 blessing. For,

He that would love life,

And see good days,

Let him refrain his tongue from evil,

And his lips that they speak no guile:

11 And let him turn away from evil,
and do good;

Let him seek peace, and pursue it.

12 For the eyes of the Lord are upon the righteous,
And his ears unto their supplication:

But the face of the Lord is upon them that do evil.

13 And who is he that will harm you, if ye be zealous of that which is good?

14 But and if ye should suffer for righteousness' sake, blessed are ye: and fear not their fear, neither be troubled;

15 but sanctify in your hearts Christ as Lord: being ready always to give answer to every man that asketh you a reason concerning the hope that is in

16 you, yet with meekness and fear: having a good conscience; that, wherein ye are spoken against, they may be put to shame who revile your good manner of

17 life in Christ. For it is better, if the will of God should so will, that ye suffer for well-doing than for evil-doing.

18 Because Christ also ¹suffered for sins once, the righteous for the unrighteous, that he might bring us to God; being put to death in the flesh, but quickened

19 in the spirit; in which also he went and preached unto the spirits in prison,

20 which aforetime were disobedient, when the longsuffering of God waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was a preparing, ²wherein few, that is, eight

21 souls, were saved through water: which also ³after a true likeness doth now save you, even baptism, not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but the

⁴interrogation of a good conscience toward God, through the resurrection

22 of Jesus Christ; who is on the right hand of God, having gone into heaven; angels and authorities and powers being made subject unto him.

4 Forasmuch then as Christ suffered in the flesh, arm ye yourselves also with the same ⁵mind; for he that hath suffered in the flesh hath ceased ⁶from sin;

2 that ⁷ye no longer should live the rest of your time in the flesh to the lusts of 3 men, but to the will of God. For the time past may suffice to have wrought the desire of the Gentiles, and to have walked in lasciviousness, lusts, wine-bibblings, revellings, carousings, and

4 abominable idolatries: wherein they think it strange that ye run not with them into the same ⁸excess of riot,

5 speaking evil of you: who shall give account to him that is ready to judge 6 the quick and the dead. For unto this end ⁹was the gospel preached even to the dead, that they might be judged according to men in the flesh, but live according to God in the spirit.

7 But the end of all things is at hand: be ye therefore of sound mind, and be 8 sober unto ¹⁰prayer: above all things being fervent in your love among yourselves; for love covereth a multitude of

9 sins: using hospitality one to another

10 without murmuring: according as each hath received a gift, ministering it among yourselves, as good stewards

11 of the manifold grace of God; if any man speaketh, speaking as it were oracles of God; if any man ministereth, ministering as of the strength which God supplieth: that in all things God may be glorified through Jesus Christ, whose is the glory and the dominion ¹¹for ever and ever. Amen.

12 Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial among you, which cometh upon you to prove you, as though a strange thing happened unto

13 you: but inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ's sufferings, rejoice; that at the revelation of his glory also ye may

14 rejoice with exceeding joy. If ye are reproached ¹²for the name of Christ, blessed are ye; because the Spirit of glory and the Spirit of God resteth upon

15 you. For let none of you suffer as a murderer, or a thief, or an evil-doer, or as a meddler in other men's matters: 16 but if a man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed; but let him glorify

17 God in this name. For the time is come for judgement to begin at the house of God: and if it begin first at us, what shall be the end of them that obey not

18 the gospel of God? And if the righteous is scarcely saved, where shall the 19 ungodly and sinner appear? Wherefore let them also that suffer according to the will of God commit their souls in well-doing unto a faithful Creator.

5 The elders therefore among you I exhort, who am a fellow-elder, and a witness of the sufferings of Christ, who am also a partaker of the glory that shall be

2 revealed: Tend the flock of God which is among you, ¹³exercising the oversight, not of constraint, but willingly, ¹⁴according unto God; nor yet for filthy

3 lucre, but of a ready mind; neither as lording it over the charge allotted to you, but making yourselves ensamples

4 to the flock. And when the chief Shepherd shall be manifested, ye shall receive the crown of glory that fadeth not

5 away. ¹⁵Likewise, ye younger, be subject unto the elder. Yea, all of you gird yourselves with humility, to serve one another: for God resisteth the proud,

6 but giveth grace to the humble. Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may

7 exalt you in due time; casting all your anxiety upon him, because

8 he careth for you. Be sober, be watchful: your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking

9 whom he may devour: whom withstand stedfast in ¹⁶your faith, knowing that the same sufferings are ¹⁷accomplished in your ¹⁸brethren who

10 are in the world. And the God of all grace, who called you unto his

among them, in seeing and hearing, vexed his righteous soul from day to day with their lawless deeds): the Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptation, and to keep the unrighteous under punishment unto the day of judgement; but chiefly them that walk after the flesh in the lust of defilement, and despise dominion. Daring, selfwilled, they tremble not to rail at dignities: whereas angels, though greater in might and power, bring not a railing judgement against them before the Lord. But these, as creatures without reason, born mere animals to be taken and destroyed, railing in matters whereof they are ignorant, shall in their destroying surely be destroyed, suffering wrong as the hire of wrongdoing; men that count it pleasure to revel in the day-time, spots and blemishes, revelling in their love-feasts while they feast with you; having eyes full of adultery, and that cannot cease from sin; enticing unstedfast souls; having a heart exercised in covetousness; children of cursing; forsaking the right way, they went astray, having followed the way of Balaam the son of Beor, who loved the hire of wrongdoing; but he was rebuked for his own transgression: a dumb ass spake with man's voice and stayed the madness of the prophet. These are springs without water, and mists driven by a storm; for whom the blackness of darkness hath been reserved. For, uttering great swelling words of vanity, they entice in the lusts of the flesh, by lasciviousness, those who are just escaping from them that live in error; promising them liberty, while they themselves are bondservants of corruption; for of whom a man is overcome, of the same is he also brought into bondage. For if, after they have escaped the defilements of the world through the knowledge of the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they are again entangled therein and overcome, the last state is become worse with them than the first. For it were better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than, after knowing it, to turn back from the holy commandment delivered unto them. It has happened unto them according to the true proverb. The dog turning to his own vomit again, and the sow that had washed to wallowing in the mire.

3 This is now, beloved, the second epistle that I write unto you; and in both of them I stir up your sincere mind by putting you in remembrance; that ye should remember the words which were spoken before by the holy prophets, and the commandment of the Lord and Saviour through your apostles: knowing this first, that in the last days mockers shall come with mockery, walking after their own lusts, and saying, Where is the promise of his coming? for, from the day that the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were from the beginning of the creation. For this they wilfully forget, that there were heavens from of old, and an earth compacted out of water and amidst water, by the word of God; by which means the world that then was, being overflowed with water, perished: but the heavens that now are, and the earth, by the same word have been stored up for fire, being reserved against the day of judgement and destruction of ungodly men.

8 But forget not this one thing, beloved, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day. The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some count slackness; but is longsuffering to you-ward, not wishing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance. But the day of the Lord will come as a thief; in the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall be dissolved with fervent heat, and the earth and the works that are therein shall be burned up. Seeing that these things are thus all to be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy living and godliness, looking for and earnestly desiring the coming of the day of God, by reason of which the heavens being on fire shall be dissolved, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat? But, according to his promise, we look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness.

14 Wherefore, beloved, seeing that ye look for these things, give diligence that ye may be found in peace, without spot and blameless in his sight. And account that the longsuffering of our Lord is salvation; even as our beloved brother Paul also, according to the wisdom given to him, wrote unto you; as also in all his epistles, speaking in them of these things; wherein are some things hard to be understood, which the ignorant and unstedfast wrest, as they do also the other scriptures, unto their own destruction. Ye therefore, beloved, knowing these things beforehand, beware lest, being carried away with the error of the wicked, ye fall from your own steadfastness. But grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. To him be the glory both now and for ever. Amen.

THE FIRST EPISTLE GENERAL OF JOHN.

1 THAT which was from the beginning, that which we have heard, that which we have seen with our eyes, that which we beheld, and our hands handled, concerning the ¹ Word of life (and the life was manifested, and we have seen, and bear witness, and declare unto you the life, the eternal life, which was with the Father, and was manifested unto us); that which we have seen and heard declare we unto you also, that ye also may have fellowship with us: yea, and our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ: and these things we write, that ²our joy may be fulfilled.

5 And this is the message which we have heard from him, and announce unto you, that God is light, and in him is no darkness at all. If we say that we have fellowship with him, and walk in the darkness, we lie, and do not the truth: 7 but if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanseth us from all sin. If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. If we confess our sins, he is faithful and righteous to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

10 If we say that we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

2 My little children, these things write I unto you, that ye may not sin. And if any man sin, we have an ³ Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous: and he is the propitiation for our sins; and not for ours only, but also for the whole world. And hereby know we that we know him, if we keep 4 his commandments. He that saith, I know him, and keepeth not his commandments, is a liar, and the truth is 5 not in him: but whoso keepeth his word, in him verily hath the love of God been perfected. Hereby know we that we 6 are in him: he that saith he abideth in him ought himself also to walk even as he walked.

7 Beloved, no new commandment write I unto you, but an old commandment which ye had from the beginning: the old commandment is the word 8 which ye heard. Again, a new commandment write I unto you, which thing is true in him and in you; because the darkness is passing away, and the true 9 light already shineth. He that saith he is in the light, and hateth his brother, is in the darkness even until now.

10 He that loveth his brother abideth in the light, and there is none occasion 11 of stumbling in him. But he that hateth his brother is in the darkness, and walketh in the darkness, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because the darkness hath blinded his eyes.

12 I write unto you, my little children, because your sins are forgiven you for 13 his name's sake. I write unto you, fathers, because ye know him which is from the beginning. I write unto you, young men, because ye have overcome the evil one. ⁴I have written unto you, little children, because ye know the 14 Father. ⁴I have written unto you, fathers, because ye know him which is from the beginning. ⁴I have written unto you, young men, because ye are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye have overcome the evil 15 one. Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the 16 Father is not in him. For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the vainglory of life, is not of the Father, but is of 17 the world. And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever.

18 Little children, it is the last hour: and as ye heard that antichrist cometh, even now have there arisen many antichrists; whereby we know that it 19 is the last hour. They went out from us, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, they would have continued with us: but they went out, that they might be made manifest ⁵how 20 that they all are not of us. And ye have an anointing from the Holy One, 21 ⁶and ye know all things. I have not written unto you because ye know not the truth, but because ye know it, and 22 ⁷because no lie is of the truth. Who is the liar but he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ? This is the antichrist, even he that denieth the Father 23 and the Son. Whosoever denieth the Son, the same hath not the Father: he that confesseth the Son hath the Father 24 also. As for you, let that abide in you which ye heard from the beginning. If that which ye heard from the beginning abide in you, ye also shall abide in the Son, and in the 25 Father. And this is the promise which he promised ⁸us, even the life eternal.

26 These things have I written unto you concerning them that would lead you astray. And as for you, the anointing which ye received of him abideth in you, and ye need not that any one teach you; but as his anointing teacheth you concerning all things, ¹and is true, and is no lie, and even as it taught you, ²ye abide in him. And now, ³my little children, abide in him; that, if he shall be manifested, we may have boldness, and not be ashamed ⁴before him at his ⁵coming. If ye know that he is righteous, ⁶ye know that every one also that doeth righteousness is begotten of him.

³ Behold what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called children of God: and such we are. For this cause the world knoweth us not, because it knew him not. Beloved, now are we children of God, and it is not yet made manifest what we shall be. We know that, if ⁶he shall be manifested, we shall be like him; for we shall see him even as he is.

³ And every one that hath this hope ⁷set on him purifieth himself, even as he is ⁴pure. Every one that doeth sin doeth also lawlessness: and sin is lawlessness. And ye know that he was manifested to ⁷take away sins; and in him ⁶is no sin. Whosoever abideth in him sinneth not: whosoever sinneth hath not

¹³ Marvel not, brethren, if the world ¹⁴hateth you. We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brethren. He that loveth ¹⁵not abideth in death. Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer: and ye know that no murderer hath eternal life ¹⁶abiding in him. Hereby know we love, because he laid down his life for us: and we ought to lay down our lives ¹⁷for the brethren. But whoso hath the world's goods, and beholdeth his brother in need, and shutteth up his compassion from him, how doth the ¹⁸love of God abide in him? My little children, let us not love in word, neither with the tongue; but in deed and ¹⁹truth. Hereby shall we know that we are of the truth, and shall ⁹assure our ²⁰heart before him, whereinsoever our heart condemn us; because God is greater than our heart, and knoweth all ²¹things. Beloved, if our heart condemn us not, we have boldness toward God; ²²and whatsoever we ask, we receive of him, because we keep his commandments, and do the things that are pleasing in his sight. And this is his commandment, that we should ¹⁰believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and love one another, even as he gave us ²⁴commandment. And he that keepeth his commandments abideth in him, and he in him. And hereby we know that he abideth in us, by the Spirit which he gave us.

⁴ Beloved, believe not every spirit, but prove the spirits, whether they are of God: because many false prophets ²are gone out into the world. Hereby know ye the Spirit of God: every spirit which confesseth that Jesus Christ is ³come in the flesh is of God: and every spirit which ¹¹confesseth not Jesus is not of God: and this is the spirit of the antichrist, whereof ye have heard that it cometh; and now it is in the world ⁴already. Ye are of God, my little children, and have overcome them: because greater is he that is in you than he that is in the world. They are of the world: therefore speak they as of the world, ⁶and the world heareth them. We are of God: he that knoweth God heareth us; he who is not of God heareth us not. By this we know the spirit of truth, and the spirit of error.

⁷ Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is begotten of God, and knoweth God. ⁸He that loveth not knoweth not God; ⁹for God is love. Herein was the love of God manifested ¹²in us, that God hath sent his only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him. ¹⁰Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to ¹¹be the propitiation for our sins. Beloved, if God so loved us, we also ought ¹²to love one another. No man hath beheld God at any time: if we love one another, God abideth in us, and his ¹³love is perfected in us: hereby know we that we abide in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit. ¹⁴And we have beheld and bear witness that the Father hath sent the Son to be ¹⁵the Saviour of the world. Whosoever shall confess that Jesus is the Son of God, God abideth in him, and he in God. ¹⁶And we know and have believed the love which God hath ¹³in us. God is ⁹ Gr. persuade.

¹⁰ Gr. believe the name.

¹¹ Some ancient authorities read annulleth Jesus.

¹² Or, in our case

love; and he that abideth in love abideth in God, and God abideth in him.

17 Herein is love made perfect with us, that we may have boldness in the day of judgement; because as he is, even so

18 are we in this world. There is no fear in love: but perfect love casteth out fear, because fear hath punishment; and he that feareth is not made perfect

19 in love. We love, because he first loved us. If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar: for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, ¹cannot love God whom he hath 21 not seen. And this commandment have we from him, that he who loveth God love his brother also.

5 Whosoever believeth that Jesus is the Christ is begotten of God: and whosoever loveth him that begat loveth him

2 also that is begotten of him. Hereby we know that we love the children of God, when we love God, and do his

3 commandments. For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments: and his commandments are not grievous.

4 For whatsoever is begotten of God overcometh the world: and this is the victory that hath overcome the world,

5 even our faith. And who is he that overcometh the world, but he that believeth

6 that Jesus is the Son of God? This is he that came by water and blood, ^{even} Jesus Christ; not ²with the water only, but ²with the water and ²with the

7 blood. And it is the Spirit that beareth witness, because the Spirit is the 8 truth. For there are three who bear witness, the Spirit, and the water, and the blood: and the three agree in one.

9 If we receive the witness of men, the witness of God is greater: for the witness of God is this, that he hath borne

10 witness concerning his Son. He that believeth on the Son of God hath the witness in him: he that believeth not God hath made him a liar; because he hath not believed in the witness that God hath borne concerning his Son.

11 And the witness is this, that God gave unto us eternal life, and this life is 12 in his Son. He that hath the Son hath the life; he that hath not the Son of God hath not the life.

13 These things have I written unto you, that ye may know that ye have eternal life, ^{even} unto you that believe

14 on the name of the Son of God. And this is the boldness which we have toward him, that, if we ask anything according to his will, he heareth us:

15 and if we know that he heareth us whatsoever we ask, we know that we have the petitions which we have asked of 16 him. If any man see his brother sinning a sin not unto death, ³he shall ask, and God will give him life for them that sin not unto death. There is ⁴a sin unto death: not concerning this do I say that he should make 17 request. All unrighteousness is sin: and there is ⁴a sin not unto death.

18 We know that whosoever is begotten of God sinneth not; but he that was begotten of God keepeth ⁵him, and the

19 evil one toucheth him not. We know that we are of God, and the whole

20 world lieth in the evil one. And we know that the Son of God is come, and hath given us an understanding, that we know him that is true, and we are in him that is true, ^{even} in his Son Jesus Christ. This 21 is the true God, and eternal life. My little children, guard yourselves from idols.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF JOHN.

1 THE elder unto the elect lady and her children, whom I love in truth; and not I only, but also all they that know the

2 truth; for the truth's sake which abideth in us, and it shall be with us for ever:

3 Grace, mercy, peace shall be with us, from God the Father, and from Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father, in truth and love.

4 I rejoice greatly that I have found certain of thy children walking in truth, even as we received commandment

5 from the Father. And now I beseech thee, lady, not as though I wrote to thee a new commandment, but that which we had from the beginning,

6 that we love one another. And this is love, that we should walk after his commandments. This is the commandment, even as ye heard from the beginning, that ye should walk in it.

7 For many deceivers are gone forth into the world, ^{even} they that confess not that Jesus Christ cometh in the flesh. This is the deceiver and the

8 antichrist. Look to yourselves, that ye ¹lose not the things which ²we have wrought, but that ye receive a full reward. Whosoever ³goeth onward and abideth not in the teaching of Christ, hath not God: he that abideth in the teaching, the same hath both the 10 Father and the Son. If any one cometh unto you, and bringeth not this teaching, receive him not into your house, and

THE THIRD EPISTLE OF JOHN.

- 1 THE elder unto Gains the beloved, whom I love in truth.
 2 Beloved, I pray that in all things thou mayest prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospereth. For I¹ rejoiced greatly, when brethren came and bare witness unto thy truth, even as thou walkest in truth. Greater² joy have I none than³ this, to hear of my children walking in the truth.
 5 Beloved, thou doest a faithful work in whatsoever thou doest toward them that are brethren and strangers withal; who bare witness to thy love before the church: whom thou wilt do well to set forward on their journey worthily of God: because that for the sake of the Name they went forth, taking nothing of the Gentiles. We therefore ought to welcome such, that we may be fellow-workers with the truth.
 9 I wrote somewhat unto the church: but Diotrephes, who loveth to have the preeminence among them, receiveth us not. Therefore, if I come, I will bring to remembrance his works which he doeth, prating against us with wicked words: and not content therewith, neither doth he himself receive the brethren, and them that would he forbiddeth, and casteth them out of the church. Beloved, imitate not that which is evil, but that which is good. He that doeth good is of God: he that doeth evil hath not seen God. Demetrius hath the witness of all men, and of the truth itself: yea, we also bear witness; and thou knowest that our witness is true.

 13 I had many things to write unto thee, but I am unwilling to write them to thee with ink and pen: but I hope shortly to see thee, and we shall speak face to face. Peace be unto thee. The friends salute thee. Salute the friends by name.

THE GENERAL EPISTLE OF JUDE.

- 1 JUDAS, a¹ servant of Jesus Christ, and brother of James,² to them that are called, beloved in God the Father, and kept for Jesus Christ: Mercy unto you and peace and love be multiplied.
 3 Beloved, while I was giving all diligence to write unto you of our common salvation, I was constrained to write unto you exhorting you to contend earnestly for the faith which was once for all delivered unto the saints. For there are certain men crept in privily, even they who were of old set forth unto this condemnation, ungodly men, turning the grace of our God into lasciviousness, and denying³ our only Master and Lord, Jesus Christ.
 5 Now I desire to put you in remembrance, though ye know all things once for all, how that⁴ the Lord, having saved a people out of the land of Egypt, ⁵ afterward destroyed them that believed not. And angels which kept not their own principality, but left their proper habitation, he hath kept in everlasting bonds under darkness unto the judgement of the great day. Even as Sodom and Gomorrah, and the cities about them, having in like manner with these given themselves over to fornication, and gone after strange flesh, are set forth⁶ as an example, suffering the punishment of eternal fire. Yet in like manner these also in their dreamings defile the flesh, and set at nought dominion, and rail at⁷ dignities. But Michael the archangel, when contending with the devil he disputed about the body of Moses, durst not bring against him a railing judgement, but said, The Lord rebuke thee. But these rail at whatsoever things they know not: and what they understand naturally, like the creatures without reason, in these things are they⁸ destroyed.

 11 Woe unto them! for they went in the way of Cain, and⁹ ran riotously in the error of Balaam for hire, and perished in the gainsaying of Korah.

13 by the roots; wild waves of the sea, foaming out their own ²shame; wandering stars, for whom the blackness of darkness hath been reserved for ever.
14 And to these also Enoch, the seventh from Adam, prophesied, saying, Behold, the Lord came with ³ten thousands of 15 his holy ones, to execute judgement upon all, and to convict all the ungodly of all their works of ungodliness which they have ungodly wrought, and of all the hard things which ungodly sinners
16 have spoken against him. These are murmurers, complainers, walking after their lusts (and their mouth speaketh great swelling words), shewing respect of persons for the sake of advantage.
17 But ye, beloved, remember ye the words which have been spoken before

by the apostles of our Lord Jesus
18 Christ; how that they said to you, In the last time there shall be mockers, walking after ⁴their own ungodly lusts.
19 These are they who make separations,
20 ⁵sensual, having not the Spirit. But ye, beloved, building up yourselves on your most holy faith, praying in the 21 Holy Spirit, keep yourselves in the love of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto eternal
22 life. ⁶And on some have mercy, ⁷who
23 are in doubt; and some save, snatching them out of the fire; and on some have mercy with fear; hating even the garment spotted by the flesh.
24 Now unto him that is able to guard you from stumbling, and to set you before the presence of his glory without blemish in exceeding joy,
25 to the only God our Saviour, through Jesus Christ our Lord, be glory, majesty, dominion and power, before all time, and now, and ⁸for evermore. Amen.

9 I John, your brother and partaker with you in the tribulation and kingdom and patience which are in Jesus, was in the isle that is called Patmos, for the word of God and the testimony of Jesus. I was in the Spirit on the Lord's day, and I heard behind me a great
11 voice, as of a trumpet saying, What thou seest, write in a book, and send ¹⁰it to the seven churches; unto Ephesus, and unto Smyrna, and unto Pergamum, and unto Thyatira, and unto Sardis, and unto Philadelphia, 12 and unto Laodicea. And I turned to see the voice which spake with me. And having turned I saw seven golden
13 ¹⁰candlesticks; and in the midst of the ¹⁰candlesticks one like unto ¹¹a son of man, clothed with a garment down to the foot, and girt about at the breasts
14 with a golden girdle. And his head and his hair were white as white wool, white as snow; and his eyes were 15 as a flame of fire; and his feet like unto burnished brass, as if it had been refined in a furnace; and his voice 16 as the voice of many waters. And he had in his right hand seven stars: and out of his mouth proceeded a sharp two-edged sword: and his countenance was as the sun shineth in 17 his strength. And when I saw him, I fell at his feet as one dead. And he laid his right hand upon me, saying, Fear not; I am the first and the last,

18 and the Living one; and I ¹ was dead, and behold, I am alive ² for evermore, and I have the keys of death and of 19 Hades. Write therefore the things which thou sawest, and the things which are, and the things which shall 20 come to pass hereafter; the mystery of the seven stars which thou sawest

³ in my right hand, and the seven golden ⁴ candlesticks. The seven stars are the angels of the seven churches: and the seven ⁴ candlesticks are seven churches.

2 To the angel of the church in Ephesus write;

These things saith he that holdeth the seven stars in his right hand, he that walketh in the midst of the seven golden

2 ⁴ candlesticks: I know thy works, and thy toil and patience, and that thou canst not bear evil men, and didst try them which call themselves apostles, and they are not, and didst find them

3 false; and thou hast patience and didst bear for my name's sake, and hast not 4 grown weary. But I have this against thee, that thou didst leave thy first

5 love. Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first works; or else I come to thee, and will move thy ⁵ candlestick out of 6 its place, except thou repent. But this thou hast, that thou hatest the works of the Nicolaitans, which I also hate.

7 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches. To him that overcometh, to him will I give to eat of the tree of life, which is in the ⁶ Paradise of God.

8 And to the angel of the church in Smyrna write;

These things saith the first and the last, which ¹ was dead, and lived again:

9 I know thy tribulation, and thy poverty (but thou art rich), and the ⁷ blasphemy of them which say they are Jews, and they are not, but are a synagogue of

10 Satan. Fear not the things which thou art about to suffer: behold, the devil is about to cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried; ⁸ and ye shall have ⁹ tribulation ten days. Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee

11 the crown of life. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches. He that overcometh shall not be hurt of the second death.

12 And to the angel of the church in Pergamum write;

These things saith he that hath the 13 sharp two-edged sword: I know where thou dwellest, even where Satan's throne is: and thou holdest fast my name, and didst not deny my faith, even in the days ¹⁰ of Antipas my witness, my faithful one, who was killed among you, where Satan dwelleth.

14 But I have a few things against thee, because thou hast there some that hold the teaching of Balaam, who taught Balak to cast a stumblingblock before the children of Israel, to eat things sacrificed to idols, and to commit for-

15 nication. So hast thou also some that hold the teaching of the Nicolaitans in 16 like manner. Repent therefore; or else I come to thee quickly, and I will make war against them with the sword of my

17 mouth. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches. To him that overcometh, to him will I give of the hidden manna, and I will give him a white stone, and upon the stone a new name written, which no one knoweth but he that receiveth it.

18 And to the angel of the church in Thyatira write;

These things saith the Son of God, who hath his eyes like a flame of fire, and his feet are like unto burnished

19 brass: I know thy works, and thy love and faith and ministry and patience, and that thy last works are more than 20 the first. But I have this against thee, that thou sufferest ¹¹ the woman Jezebel, which calleth herself a prophetess; and she teacheth and seduceth my servants to commit fornication, and to eat

21 things sacrificed to idols. And I gave her time that she should repent; and she willeth not to repent of her fornication. Behold, I do cast her into a bed, and them that commit adultery with her into great tribulation, except they

22 repent of ¹² her works. And I will kill her children with ¹³ death; and all the churches shall know that I am he which searcheth the reins and hearts: and I will give unto each one of you

24 according to your works. But to you I say, to the rest that are in Thyatira, as many as have not this teaching, which know not the deep things of Satan, as they say; I cast upon you

25 none other burden. Howbeit that which ye have, hold fast till I come. And he that overcometh, and he that keepeth my works unto the end, to him will

27 I give authority over the nations: and he shall rule them with a rod of ¹⁴ iron, as the vessels of the potter are broken to shivers; as I also have received of my

28 Father: and I will give him the morning star. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches.

3 And to the angel of the church in Sardis write;

These things saith he that hath the seven Spirits of God, and the seven stars: I know thy works, that thou hast a name

2 that thou livest, and thou art dead. Be thou watchful, and stablish the things that remain, which were ready to die: for I have ¹⁵ found no works of thine

But thou hast a few names in Sardis which did not defile their garments; and they shall walk with me in white; for they are worthy. He that overcometh shall thus be arrayed in white garments; and I will in no wise blot his name out of the book of life, and I will confess his name before my Father, and before his angels. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches. And to the angel of the church in Philadelphia write;

These things saith he that is holy, he that is true, he that hath the key of David, he that openeth, and none shall shut, and that shutteth, and none openeth: I know thy works (behold, I have ¹set before thee a door opened, which none can shut), that thou hast a little power, and didst keep my word, and didst not deny my name. Behold, I give of the synagogue of Satan, of them which say they are Jews, and they are not, but do lie; behold, I will make them to come and worship before thy feet, and to know that I have loved thee. Because thou didst keep the word of my patience, I also will keep thee from the hour of ²trial, that hour which is to come upon the whole ³world, to ⁴try them that dwell upon the earth. I come quickly: hold fast that which thou hast, that no one take thy crown. He that overcometh, I will make him a pillar in the ⁵temple of my God, and he shall go out thence no more: and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, the new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God, and mine own new name. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches.

And to the angel of the church in Laodicea write;

These things saith the Amen, the faithful and true witness, the beginning of the creation of God: I know thy works, that thou art neither cold nor hot: I would thou wert cold or hot. So because thou art lukewarm, and neither hot nor cold, I will spew thee out of my mouth. Because thou sayest, I am rich, and have gotten riches, and have need of nothing; and knowest not that thou art the wretched one and miserable and poor and blind and naked: I counsel thee to buy of me gold refined by fire, that thou mayest become rich; and white garments, that thou mayest clothe thyself, and that the shame of thy nakedness be not made manifest; and eyesalve to anoint thine eyes, that thou mayest see. As many as I love, I reprove and chasten: be zealous therefore, and repent. Behold, I stand at the door and knock: if any man hear my voice and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me. He that overcometh, I will give to him to sit down with me in my throne, as I also overcame, and sat down with my Father in his throne. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches.

After these things I saw, and behold, a door opened in heaven, and the first voice which I heard, a voice as of a trumpet speaking with me, one saying, Come up hither, and I will shew thee the things which must come to pass hereafter. Straightway I was in the Spirit: and behold, there was a throne set in heaven, and one sitting upon the throne; and he that sat was to look upon like a jasper stone and a sardius: and there was a rainbow round about the throne, like an emerald to look upon.

And round about the throne were four and twenty thrones: and upon the thrones I saw four and twenty elders sitting, arrayed in white garments; and on their heads crowns of gold.

And out of the throne proceed lightnings and voices and thunders. And there were seven lamps of fire burning before the throne, which are the seven Spirits of God; and before the throne, as it were a glassy sea like unto crystal: and in the midst of the throne, and round about the throne, four living creatures full of eyes before and behind. And the first creature was like a lion, and the second creature like a calf, and the third creature had a face as of a man, and the fourth creature was like a flying eagle. And the four living creatures, having each one of them six wings, are full of eyes round about and within: and they have no rest day and night, saying, Holy, holy, holy, is the Lord God, the Almighty, which was and which is and which is to come. And when the living creatures shall give glory and honour and thanks to him that sitteth on the throne, to him that liveth ⁸for ever and ever, the four and twenty elders shall fall down before him that sitteth on the throne, and shall worship him that liveth ⁸for ever and ever, and shall cast their crowns before the throne, saying, Worthy art thou, our Lord and our God, to receive the glory and the honour and the power: for thou didst create all things, and because of thy will they were, and were created.

And I saw ⁹in the right hand of him that sat on the throne a book written within and on the back, close sealed with seven seals. And I saw a strong angel proclaiming with a great voice, Who is worthy to open the book, and to loose the seals thereof? And no one in the heaven, or on the earth, or under the earth, was able to open the book, or to 4 look thereon. And I wept much, because no one was found worthy to open

 5 the book, or to look thereon: and one of the elders saith unto me, Weep not: behold, the Lion that is of the tribe of Judah, the Root of David, hath overcome, to open the book and the seven 6 seals thereof. And I saw in the midst of the throne and of the four living creatures, and in the midst of the elders, a Lamb standing, as though it had been slain, having seven horns, and seven eyes, which are the ¹seven Spirits of 7 God, sent forth into all the earth. And he came, and he ²taketh it out of the right hand of him that sat on the 8 throne. And when he had taken the book, the four living creatures and the four and twenty elders fell down before the Lamb, having each one a harp, and golden bowls full of incense, which are 9 the prayers of the saints. And they sing a new song, saying, Worthy art thou to take the book, and to open the seals thereof: for thou wast slain, and didst purchase unto God with thy blood
 10 men of every tribe, and tongue, and people, and nation, and madest them to 11 be unto our God a kingdom and priests; and they reign upon the earth. And I saw, and I heard a voice of many angels round about the throne and the living creatures and the elders; and the number of them was ten thousand times ten thousand, and thousands of thousands;
 12 saying with a great voice, Worthy is the Lamb that hath been slain to receive the power, and riches, and glory, and blessing. And every created thing which is in the heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth, and on the sea, and all things that are in them, heard I saying, Unto him that sitteth on the throne, and unto the Lamb, be the blessing, and the honour, and the glory, and the dominion, ³for ever and ever.
 14 And the four living creatures said, Amen. And the elders fell down and worshipped.
 6 And I saw when the Lamb opened one of the seven seals, and I heard one of the four living creatures saying as with a
 2 voice of thunder, Come⁴. And I saw, and behold, a white horse, and he that sat thereon had a bow; and there was given unto him a crown: and he came forth conquering, and to conquer.
 3 And when he opened the second seal, I heard the second living creature saying, Come⁴. And another horse came forth, a red horse: and to him that sat thereon it was given to take ⁵peace from the earth, and that they should slay one another: and there was given unto him a great sword.
 5 And when he opened the third seal, I heard the third living creature saying, Come⁴. And I saw, and behold, a black horse; and he that sat thereon had a 6 balance in his hand. And I heard as it were a voice in the midst of the four living creatures saying, A ⁶measure of wheat for a ⁷penny, and three measures of barley for a ⁷penny; and the oil and the wine hurt thou not.

7 And when he opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth living
 8 creature saying, Come⁴. And I saw, and behold, a pale horse: and he that sat upon him, his name was Death; and Hades followed with him. And there was given unto them authority over the fourth part of the earth, to kill with sword, and with famine, and with ⁸death, and by the wild beasts of the earth.

9 And when he opened the fifth seal, I saw underneath the altar the souls of them that had been slain for the word of God, and for the testimony which
 10 they held: and they cried with a great voice, saying, How long, O Master, the holy and true, dost thou not judge and avenge our blood on them that dwell
 11 on the earth? And there was given them to each one a white robe; and it was said unto them, that they should rest yet for a little time, until their fellow-servants also and their brethren, which should be killed even as they were, should ⁹be fulfilled.

12 And I saw when he opened the sixth seal, and there was a great earthquake; and the sun became black as sackcloth of hair, and the whole moon became as 13 blood; and the stars of the heaven fell unto the earth, as a fig tree casteth her unripe figs, when she is shaken of a 14 great wind. And the heaven was removed as a scroll when it is rolled up; and every mountain and island were 15 moved out of their places. And the kings of the earth, and the princes, and the 16 chief captains, and the rich, and the strong, and every bondman and freeman, hid themselves in the caves and in 17 the rocks of the mountains; and they say to the mountains and to the rocks, Fall on us, and hide us from the face of him that sitteth on the throne, and from the 18 wrath of the Lamb: for the great day of their wrath is come; and who is able to stand?

7 After this I saw four angels standing at the four corners of the earth, holding the four winds of the earth, that no wind should blow on the earth, or on the sea, or upon any tree. And I saw another angel ascend from the sunrising, having the seal of the living God: and he cried with a great voice to the four angels, to whom it was given to hurt the earth and 3 the sea, saying, Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we shall have sealed the servants of our God on 4 their foreheads. And I heard the num-

9 After these things I saw, and behold, a great multitude, which no man could number, out of every nation, and of all tribes and peoples and tongues, standing before the throne and before the Lamb, arrayed in white robes, and palms

10 in their hands; and they cry with a great voice, saying, Salvation unto our God which sitteth on the throne, and unto

11 the Lamb. And all the angels were standing round about the throne, and about the elders and the four living creatures; and they fell before the throne on their faces, and worshipped God, 12 saying, Amen: ¹ Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honour, and power, and might, be unto our God ² for ever and ever. Amen.

13 And one of the elders answered, saying unto me, These which are arrayed in the white robes, who are they, and

14 whence came they? And I ³ say unto him, My lord, thou knowest. And he said to me, These are they which come out of the great tribulation, and they washed their robes, and made them

15 white in the blood of the Lamb. Therefore are they before the throne of God; and they serve him day and night in his temple; and he that sitteth on the throne shall spread his tabernacle over

16 them. They shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more; neither shall the sun strike upon them, nor any heat: for the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall be their shepherd, and shall guide them unto fountains of waters of life: and God shall wipe away every tear from their eyes.

8 And when he opened the seventh seal, there followed a silence in heaven about ² the space of half an hour. And I saw the seven angels which stand before

God; and there were given unto them seven trumpets.

3 And another angel came and stood ⁴ over the altar, having a golden censer;

and there was given unto him much incense, that he should ⁵ add it unto the prayers of all the saints upon the golden

⁴ altar which was before the throne. And the smoke of the incense, ⁶ with the prayers of the saints, went up before

⁵ God out of the angel's hand. And the angel ⁷ taketh the censer; and he filled it with the fire of the altar, and cast it ⁸ upon the earth: and there followed thunders, and voices, and lightnings, and an earthquake.

6 And the seven angels which had the seven trumpets prepared themselves to sound.

7 And the first sounded, and there followed hail and fire, mingled with blood, and they were cast ⁸ upon the earth: and the third part of the earth was burnt up, and the third part of the trees was burnt up, and all green grass was burnt up.

8 And the second angel sounded, and as it were a great mountain burning with fire was cast into the sea: and the third

9 part of the sea became blood; and there died the third part of the creatures which were in the sea, even they that had life; and the third part of the ships was destroyed.

10 And the third angel sounded, and there fell from heaven a great star, burning as a torch, and it fell upon the third part of the rivers, and upon the fountains of

11 the waters; and the name of the star is called Wormwood: and the third part of the waters became wormwood; and many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.

12 And the fourth angel sounded, and the third part of the sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars; that the third part of them should be darkened, and the day should not shine for the third part of it, and the night in like manner.

13 And I saw, and I heard ⁹ an eagle, flying in mid heaven, saying with a great voice, Woe, woe, woe, for them that dwell on the earth, by reason of the other voices of the trumpet of the three angels, who are yet to sound.

9 And the fifth angel sounded, and I saw a star from heaven fallen unto the earth: and there was given to him the ² key of the pit of the abyss. And he opened the pit of the abyss; and there went up a smoke out of the pit, as the smoke of a great furnace; and the sun and the air were darkened by reason

3 of the smoke of the pit. And out of the smoke came forth locusts upon the earth; and power was given them, as the scorpions of the earth have ⁴ power. And it was said unto them that they should not hurt the grass of the earth, neither any green thing, neither any tree, but only such men as have not the seal of God on their fore-5 heads. And it was given them that they should not kill them, but that they should be tormented five months: and their torment was as the torment of a scorpion, when it striketh a man.

 6 And in those days men shall seek death, and shall in no wise find it; and they shall desire to die, and death fleeth from 7 them. And the ¹shapes of the locusts were like unto horses prepared for war; and upon their heads as it were crowns like unto gold, and their faces were as 8 men's faces. And they had hair as the hair of women, and their teeth were as 9 the teeth of lions. And they had breastplates, as it were breastplates of iron; and the sound of their wings was as the sound of chariots, of many horses rushing 10 to war. And they have tails like unto scorpions, and stings; and in their tails is their power to hurt men five 11 months. They have over them as king the angel of the abyss: his name in Hebrew is Abaddon, and in the Greek 12 tongue he hath the name ²Apollyon.
 13 The first Woe is past: behold, there come yet two Woeful hereafter.
 14 And the sixth angel sounded, and I heard ³a voice from the horns of the 15 golden altar which is before God, one saying to the sixth angel, which had the trumpet, Loose the four angels which are bound at the great river
 16 Euphrates. And the four angels were loosed, which had been prepared for the hour and day and month and year, that they should kill the third part of men.
 17 And the number of the armies of the horsemen was twice ten thousand times ten thousand: I heard the number of 18 them. And thus I saw the horses in the vision, and them that sat on them, having breastplates as of fire and of hyacinth and of brimstone: and the heads of the horses are as the heads of lions; and out of their mouths proceedeth fire 19 and smoke and brimstone. By these three plagues was the third part of men killed, by the fire and the smoke and the brimstone, which proceeded out of 20 their mouths. For the power of the horses is in their mouth, and in their tails: for their tails are like unto serpents, and have heads; and with them
 21 they do hurt. And the rest of mankind, which were not killed with these plagues, repented not of the works of their hands, that they should not worship ⁴devils, and the idols of gold, and of silver, and of brass, and of stone, and of wood; which can neither see, nor hear,
 22 nor walk: and they repented not of their murders, nor of their sorceries, nor of their fornication, nor of their thefts.

10 And I saw another strong angel coming down out of heaven, arrayed with a cloud; and the rainbow was upon his head, and his face was as the sun, and
 2 his feet as pillars of fire; and he had in his hand a little book open: and he set his right foot upon the sea, and his
 3 left upon the earth; and he cried with a great voice, as a lion roareth: and when he cried, the seven thunders ut-4 tered their voices. And when the seven thunders uttered their voices, I was about to write: and I heard a voice from 5 heaven saying, Seal up the things which the seven thunders uttered, and write
 6 them not. And the angel which I saw standing upon the sea and upon the earth lifted up his right hand to heaven,
 7 and sware by him that liveth ⁵for ever and ever, who created the heaven and the things that are therein, and the earth and the things that are therein,
 8 and the sea and the things that are therein, that there shall be ⁷time no longer: but in the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he is about to sound, then is finished the mystery of God, according to the good tidings which he declared to his servants the prophets.
 9 And the voice which I heard from heaven, I heard it again speaking with me, and saying, Go, take the book which is open in the hand of the angel that standeth upon the sea and upon the earth.
 10 And I went unto the angel, saying unto him that he should give me the little book. And he saith unto me, Take it, and eat it up; and it shall make thy belly bitter, but in thy mouth it shall 11 be sweet as honey. And I took the little book out of the angel's hand, and ate it up; and it was in my mouth sweet as honey: and when I had eaten it, my 12 belly was made bitter. And they say unto me, Thou must prophesy again their prophecy: and they have power over the waters to turn them into blood, and to smite the earth with every plague, as often as they shall desire. And when they shall have finished their testimony, the beast that cometh up out of the abyss shall make war with them, and overcome them, and kill them. And their ¹dead bodies lie in the street of the great city, which spiritually is called Sodom and Egypt, where also their Lord was crucified. And from among the peoples and tribes and tongues and nations do men look upon their ¹dead bodies three days and a half, and suffer not their dead bodies to be laid in a tomb. And they that dwell on the earth rejoice over them, and make merry; and they shall send gifts one to another; because these two prophets tormented them that dwell on the earth. And after the three days and a half the breath of life from God entered into them, and they stood upon their feet; and great fear fell upon them which beheld them. And they heard a great voice from heaven saying unto them, Come up hither. And they went up into heaven in the cloud; and their enemies beheld them. And in that hour there was a great earthquake, and the tenth part of the city fell; and there were killed in the earthquake ²seven thousand persons: and the rest were affrighted, and gave glory to the God of heaven.

14 The second Woe is past: behold, the third Woe cometh quickly.

15 And the seventh angel sounded; and there followed great voices in heaven, and they said, The kingdom of the world is become the kingdom of our Lord, and of his Christ: and he shall reign ³for ever and ever. And the four and twenty elders, which sit before God on their thrones, fell upon their faces, and worshipped God, saying, We give thee thanks, O Lord God, the Almighty, which art and which wast; because thou hast taken thy great power, and didst reign. And the nations were wroth, and thy wrath came, and the time of the dead to be judged, and the time to give their reward to thy servants the prophets, and to the saints, and to them that fear thy name, the small and the great; and to destroy them that destroy the earth.

19 And there was opened the temple of God that is in heaven; and there was seen in his temple the ark of his ⁴covenant; and there followed lightnings, and voices, and thunders, and an earthquake, and great hail.

12 And a great sign was seen in heaven; a woman arrayed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and upon her head a crown of twelve stars; and she was with child: and she crieth out, travelling in birth, and in pain to be delivered.

3 And there was seen another sign in heaven; and behold, a great red dragon, having seven heads and ten horns, and upon his heads seven diadems. And his tail draweth the third part of the stars of heaven, and did cast them to the earth: and the dragon stood before the woman which was about to be delivered, that when she was delivered, he might devour her child. And she was delivered of a son, a man child, who is to rule all the nations with a rod of iron: and her child was caught up unto God, and unto his throne. And the woman fled into the wilderness, where she hath a place prepared of God, that there they may nourish her a thousand two hundred and threescore days.

7 And there was war in heaven: Michael and his angels going forth to war with the dragon; and the dragon warred and his angels; and they prevailed not, neither was their place found any more in heaven. And the great dragon was cast down, the old serpent, he that is called the Devil and Satan, the deceiver of the whole ⁵world; he was cast down to the earth, and his angels were cast down with him. And I heard a great voice in heaven, saying, ⁶Now is come the salvation, and the power, and the kingdom of our God, and the authority of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, which accuseth them before our God day and night. And they overcame him because of the blood of the Lamb, and because of the word of their testimony; and they loved not their life even unto death. Therefore rejoice, O heavens, and ye that dwell in them. Woe for the earth and for the sea: because the devil is gone down unto you, having great wrath, knowing that he hath but a short time.

13 And when the dragon saw that he was cast down to the earth, he persecuted the woman which brought forth the man child. And there were given to the woman the two wings of the great eagle, that she might fly into the wilderness unto her place, where she is nourished for a time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent.

15 And the serpent cast out of his mouth after the woman water as a river, that he might cause her to be carried away by the stream. And the earth helped the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed up the river which the dragon cast out of his mouth. And the dragon waxed wroth with the woman, and went away to make war with the rest of her seed, which keep the commandments of God, and hold the testimony of Jesus: and he stood upon the sand of the sea.

3 great authority. And I saw one of his heads as though it had been ¹smitten unto death; and his death-stroke was healed: and the whole earth wondered

4 after the beast; and they worshipped the dragon, because he gave his authority unto the beast; and they worshipped the beast, saying, Who is like unto the beast? and who is able to war

6 two months. And he opened his mouth for blasphemies against God, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, even them that ³dwell in the heaven.

7 ⁴And it was given unto him to make war with the saints, and to overcome them: and there was given to him authority over every tribe and people

11 And I saw another beast coming up out of the earth; and he had two horns like unto a lamb, and he spake as a dragon.

12 And he exerciseth all the authority of the first beast in his sight. And he maketh the earth and them that dwell therein to worship the first beast, whose

13 death-stroke was healed. And he doeth great signs, that he should even make fire to come down out of heaven upon

14 the earth in the sight of men. And he deceiveth them that dwell on the earth by reason of the signs which it was given him to do in the sight of the beast; saying to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make an image to the beast, who hath the stroke of the sword,

15 and lived. And it was given unto him to give breath to it, even to the image of the beast, ⁸that the image of the beast should both speak, and cause that as many as should not worship the image

16 of the beast should be killed. And he causeth all, the small and the great, and the rich and the poor, and the free and the bond, that there be given them a mark on their right hand, or

17 upon their forehead; and that no man should be able to buy or to sell, save he that hath the mark, even the name of the beast or the number of his name.

18 Here is wisdom. He that hath understanding, let him count the number of the beast; for it is the number of a man: and his number is ⁹Six hundred and sixty and six.

14 And I saw, and behold, the Lamb standing on the mount Zion, and with him a hundred and forty and four thousand, having his name, and the name of his Father, written on their foreheads.

2 And I heard a voice from heaven, as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of a great thunder: and the voice which I heard was as the voice of harpers harping with their harps: and they sing as it were a new song before the throne, and before the four living creatures and the elders: and no man could learn the song save the hundred and forty and four thousand, even they that had been

4 purchased out of the earth. These are they which were not defiled with women; for they are virgins. These are they which follow the Lamb whithersoever he goeth. These were purchased from among men, to be the firstfruits unto

5 God and unto the Lamb. And in their mouth was found no lie: they are without blemish.

6 And I saw another angel flying in mid heaven, having an eternal gospel to proclaim unto them that ¹⁰dwell on the earth, and unto every nation and tribe

7 and tongue and people; and he saith with a great voice, Fear God, and give him glory; for the hour of his judgment is come: and worship him that made the heaven and the earth and sea and fountains of waters.

8 And another, a second angel, followed, saying, Fallen, fallen is Babylon the great, which hath made all the nations to drink of the wine of the wrath of her fornication.

9 And another angel, a third, followed them, saying with a great voice, If any man worshippeth the beast and his image, and receiveth a mark on

10 his forehead, or upon his hand, he also shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is ¹¹prepared unmixed in the cup of his anger; and he shall be tormented with fire and brimstone in the presence of the holy angels, and

11 in the presence of the Lamb: and the smoke of their torment goeth up ¹²for ever and ever; and they have no rest day and night, they that worship the beast and his image, and whoso receiveth the mark of his name. which die ¹ in the Lord from henceforth: yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours; for their works follow with them.

14 And I saw, and behold, a white cloud; and on the cloud I saw one sitting like unto ² a son of man, having on his head a golden crown, and in his hand a sharp sickle. And another angel came out from the temple, crying with a great voice to him that sat on the cloud, Send forth thy sickle, and reap: for the hour to reap is come; for the harvest of the 16 earth is ³ over-ripe. And he that sat on the cloud cast his sickle upon the earth; and the earth was reaped.

17 And another angel came out from the temple which is in heaven, he also having a sharp sickle. And another angel came out from the altar, he that hath power over fire; and he called with a great voice to him that had the sharp sickle, saying, Send forth thy sharp sickle, and gather the clusters of the vine of the earth; for her grapes are ¹⁹ fully ripe. And the angel cast his sickle into the earth, and gathered the ⁴ vintage of the earth, and cast it into the winepress, the great winepress, of the ²⁰ wrath of God. And the winepress was trodden without the city, and there came out blood from the winepress, even unto the bridles of the horses, as far as a thousand and six hundred furlongs.

15 And I saw another sign in heaven, great and marvellous, seven angels having seven plagues, which are the last, for in them is finished the wrath of God.

2 And I saw as it were a glassy sea mingled with fire; and them that come victorious from the beast, and from his image, and from the number of his name, standing ⁵ by the glassy sea, having harps of God. And they sing the song of Moses the servant of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying, Great and marvellous are thy works, O Lord God, the Almighty; righteous and true are thy ways, thou King of the ⁶ ages.

4 Who shall not fear, O Lord, and glorify thy name? for thou only art holy; for all the nations shall come and worship before thee; for thy righteous acts have been made manifest.

5 And after these things I saw, and the temple of the tabernacle of the testimony in heaven was opened: and there came out from the temple the seven angels that had the seven plagues, arrayed ⁷ with precious stone, pure and bright, and girt about their breasts with

7 golden girdles. And one of the four living creatures gave unto the seven angels seven golden bowls full of the wrath of God, who liveth ⁸ for ever and ever. And the temple was filled with smoke from the glory of God, and from his power; and none was able to enter into the temple, till the seven plagues of the seven angels should be finished.

13 And I heard a great voice out of the temple, saying to the seven angels, Go ye, and pour out the seven bowls of the wrath of God into the earth.

2 And the first went, and poured out his bowl into the earth; and ⁹ it became a noisome and grievous sore upon the men which had the mark of the beast, and which worshipped his image.

3 And the second poured out his bowl into the sea; and ⁹ it became blood as of a dead man; and every ¹⁰ living soul died, even the things that were in the sea.

4 And the third poured out his bowl into the rivers and the fountains of the ⁵ waters; ¹¹ and ⁹ it became blood. And I heard the angel of the waters saying, Righteous art thou, which art and which wast, thou Holy One, because thou didst

6 thus ¹² judge: for they poured out the blood of saints and prophets, and blood hast thou given them to drink: they are ⁷ worthy. And I heard the altar saying, Yea, O Lord God, the Almighty, true and righteous are thy judgements.

8 And the fourth poured out his bowl upon the sun; and it was given unto ⁹ ¹³ it to scorch men with fire. And men were scorched with great heat: and they blasphemed the name of the God which hath the power over these plagues; and they repented not to give him glory.

10 And the fifth poured out his bowl upon the throne of the beast; and his kingdom was darkened; and they

11 gnawed their tongues for pain, and they blasphemed the God of heaven because of their pains and their sores; and they repented not of their works.

12 And the sixth poured out his bowl upon the great river, the river Euphrates; and the water thereof was dried up, that the way might be made ready for the kings that come from the sunrising.

13 And I saw coming out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet, three unclean spirits,

14 as it were frogs: for they are spirits of ¹⁴ devils, working signs; which go forth ¹⁵ unto the kings of the whole ¹⁶ world, to gather them together unto the war of the great day of God, the Almighty.

15 (Behold, I come as a thief. Blessed is he that watcheth, and keepeth his garments, lest he walk naked, and they ¹⁶ see his shame.) And they gathered them together unto the place which is called in Hebrew Har-Magedon.

17 And the seventh poured out his bowl upon the air; and there came forth a great voice out of the temple, from the throne, saying, It is ¹⁸ done: and there were lightnings, and voices, and thunders; and there was a great earthquake, such as was not since ¹there were men upon the earth, ¹⁹so great an earthquake, so mighty. And the great city was divided into three parts, and the cities of the nations fell: and Babylon the great was remembered in the sight of God, to give unto her the cup of the wine of the fierceness of his ²⁰wrath. And every island fled away, and ²¹the mountains were not found. And great hail, every stone about the weight of a talent, cometh down out of heaven upon men: and men blasphemed God because of the plague of the hail; for the plague thereof is exceeding great.

¹⁷ And there came one of the seven angels that had the seven bowls, and spake with me, saying, Come hither, I will shew thee the judgement of the great harlot that sitteth upon many ²waters; with whom the kings of the earth committed fornication, and they that dwell in the earth were made drunken with the wine of her fornication. And he carried me away in the Spirit into a wilderness: and I saw a woman sitting upon a scarlet-coloured beast, ²full of names of blasphemy, having seven heads and ten horns. And the woman was arrayed in purple and scarlet, and ³decked with gold and precious stone and pearls, having in her hand a golden cup full of abominations, ⁴even the unclean things of her fornication, and upon her forehead a name written, ⁵MYSTERY, BABYLON THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF THE HARLOTS AND OF ⁶THE ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH. And I saw the woman drunken with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of the ⁶martyrs of Jesus. And when I saw her, I wondered with a great ⁷wonder. And the angel said unto me, Wherefore didst thou wonder? I will tell thee the mystery of the woman, and of the beast that carrieth her, which hath the seven heads and the ten horns.

⁸ The beast that thou sawest was, and is not; and is about to come up out of the abyss, ⁷and to go into perdition. And they that dwell on the earth shall wonder, they whose name hath not been written ⁸in the book of life from the foundation of the world, when they behold the beast, how that he was, and ⁹is not, and ⁹shall come. Here is the ¹⁰mind which hath wisdom. The seven heads are seven mountains, on which ¹⁰the woman sitteth: and ¹¹they are seven kings; the five are fallen, the one is, the other is not yet come; and when he cometh, he must continue a little ¹¹while. And the beast that was, and is not, is himself also an eighth, and is of the seven; and he goeth into perdition. And the ten horns that thou sawest are ten kings, which have received no kingdom as yet; but they receive authority as kings, with the ¹³beast, for one hour. These have one mind, and they give their power and ¹⁴authority unto the beast. These shall war against the Lamb, and the Lamb shall overcome them, for he is Lord of lords, and King of kings; and they also shall overcome that are with him, called ¹⁵and chosen and faithful. And he saith unto me, The waters which thou sawest, where the harlot sitteth, are peoples, and multitudes, and nations, and ¹⁶tongues. And the ten horns which thou sawest, and the beast, these shall hate the harlot, and shall make her desolate and naked, and shall eat her flesh, and ¹⁷shall burn her utterly with fire. For God did put in their hearts to do his mind, and to come to one mind, and to give their kingdom unto the beast, until the words of God should be accomplished. ¹⁸ And the woman whom thou sawest is the great city, which ¹²reigneth over the kings of the earth.

¹⁸ After these things I saw another angel coming down out of heaven, having great authority; and the earth was lightened with his glory. And he cried with a mighty voice, saying, Fallen, fallen is Babylon the great, and is become a habitation of ¹³devils, and a ¹⁴hold of every unclean spirit, and a ¹⁴hold of every ⁵unclean and hateful bird. For ¹⁵by ¹⁶the wine of the wrath of her fornication all the nations are fallen; and the kings of the earth committed fornication with her, and the merchants of the earth waxed rich by the power of her ¹⁷wantonness.

⁴ And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, Come forth, my people, out of her, that ye have no fellowship with her sins, and that ye receive not of her ⁵plagues: for her sins ¹⁸have reached even unto heaven, and God hath remembered her iniquities. Render unto her even as she rendered, and double unto her the double according to her works: in the cup which she mingled, mingle ⁷unto her double. How much soever she glorified herself, and waxed ¹⁹wanton, so much give her of torment and mourning: for she saith in her heart, I sit a queen, and am no widow, and shall in ⁸no wise see mourning. Therefore in one day shall her plagues come, death, and mourning, and famine; and she shall be utterly burned with fire; for strong is ²⁰the Lord God which judged ⁹her. And the kings of the earth, who committed fornication and lived ²¹wantonly with her, shall weep and wail over her, when they look upon the ¹⁰smoke of her burning, standing afar off for the fear of her torment, saying, Woe, woe, the great city, Babylon, the strong city! for in one hour is thy ¹¹judgement come. 8 And it was given unto her that she should array herself in fine linen, bright and pure: for the fine linen is the right-

And the beast was taken, and with him the false prophet that wrought the signs in his sight, wherewith he deceived them that had received the mark of the beast, and them that worshipped his image: they twain were cast alive into the lake of fire that burneth with brimstone: and the rest were killed with the sword of him that sat upon the horse, even the sword which came forth out of his mouth: and all the birds were filled with their flesh.

20 And I saw an angel coming down out of heaven, having the key of the abyss

2 and a great chain ¹in his hand. And he laid hold on the dragon, the old serpent, which is the Devil and Satan, and bound him for a thousand years, and cast him into the abyss, and shut it, and sealed it over him, that he should deceive the nations no more, until the thousand years should be finished: after this he must be loosed for a little time.

4 And I saw thrones, and they sat upon them, and judgement was given unto them: and I saw the souls of them that had been beheaded for the testimony of Jesus, and for the word of God, and such as worshipped not the beast, neither his image, and received not the mark upon their forehead and upon their hand; and they lived, and reigned with Christ a thousand years. The rest of the dead lived not until the thousand years should be finished. This is the first resurrection. Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection: over these the second death hath no power; but they shall be priests of God and of Christ, and shall reign with him ³a thousand years.

7 And when the thousand years are finished, Satan shall be loosed out of his prison, and shall come forth to deceive the nations which are in the four corners of the earth, Gog and Magog, to gather them together to the war: the number of whom is as the sand of the sea. And they went up over the breadth of the earth, and compassed the camp of the saints about, and the beloved city: and fire came down ⁴out of heaven, and devoured them. And the devil that deceived them was cast into the lake of fire and brimstone, where are also the beast and the false prophet; and they shall be tormented day and night ⁵for ever and ever.

11 And I saw a great white throne, and him that sat upon it, from whose face the earth and the heaven fled away; and there was found no place for them. And I saw the dead, the great and the small, standing before the throne; and books were opened: and another book was opened, which is the book of life: and the dead were judged out of the things which were written in the books, according to their works.

13 And the sea gave up the dead which were in it; and death and Hades gave up the dead which were in them: and they were judged every man according to their works. And death and Hades were cast into the lake of fire. This is the second death, even the lake of fire. And if any was not found written in the book of life, he was cast into the lake of fire.

21 And I saw a new heaven and a new earth: for the first heaven and the first earth are passed away; and the sea is no more. And I saw ⁶the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, made ready as a bride adorned for her husband. And I heard a great voice out of the throne saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he shall dwell with them, and they shall be his peoples, and God himself shall be with them, ⁸and be their God: and he shall wipe away every tear from their eyes; and death shall be no more; neither shall there be mourning, nor crying, nor pain, any more: the first things are passed away. And he that sitteth on the throne said, Behold, I make all things new. And he saith, ⁹Write: for these words are faithful and true. And he said unto me, They are come to pass. I am the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the end. I will give unto him that is athirst of the fountain of the water of life freely. He that overcometh shall inherit these things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son. But for the fearful, and unbelieving, and abominable, and murderers, and fornicators, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, their part shall be in the lake that burneth with fire and brimstone; which is the second death.

9 And there came one of the seven angels who had the seven bowls, who were laden with the seven last plagues; and he spake with me, saying, Come hither, I will shew thee the bride, the wife of the Lamb. And he carried me away in the Spirit to a mountain great and high, and shewed me the holy city Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, having the glory of God: her light was like unto a stone most precious, as it were a jasper stone, clear as crystal: having a wall great and high; having twelve gates, and at the gates twelve angels; and names written thereon, which are the names of the twelve tribes of the children of Israel: on the east were three gates; and on the north three gates; and on the

CLASSES OF PASSAGES.

- I. Strike out "S." (i.e. Saint) from the title of the Gospels and from the heading of the pages.
- II. Strike out "the Apostle" from the title of the Pauline Epistles, and "of Paul the Apostle" from the title of the Epistle to the Hebrews; strike out the word "General" from the title of the Epistles of James, Peter, 1 John, and Jude; and let the title of the Revelation run "The Revelation of John."
- III. For "Holy Ghost" adopt uniformly the rendering "Holy Spirit."
- IV. At the word "worship" in Matt. ii. 2, etc., add the marginal note "The Greek word denotes an act of reverence, whether paid to man (see chap. xviii. 23) or to God (see chap. iv. 10)."
- V. Put into the text uniformly the marginal rendering "through" in place of "by" when it relates to prophecy, viz. in Matt. ii. 5, 17, 23; iii. 3; iv. 14; viii. 17; xii. 17; xlii. 35; xxi. 4; xxiv. 15; xxvii. 9; Luke xviii. 31; Acts ii. 16; xxviii. 25.
